In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful

1. Al Fatiha (The Opening Chapter)

1. In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful (19).

19 The Arabic words 'Rahman and Rahim,' translated 'Most Gracious' and 'Most Merciful' are both intensive forms referring to different aspects of Allah's attribute of Mercy. The Arabic intensive is more suited to express Allah's attributes than the superlative degree in English. The latter implies a comparison with other beings, or with other times or places, while there is no being like unto Allah, and He is independent of Time and Place. Mercy may imply pity, long-suffering, patience, and forgiveness, all of which the sinner needs and Allah Most Merciful bestows in abundant measure. But there is a Mercy that goes before even the need arises, the Grace which is ever watchful, and flows from Allah Most Gracious to all His creatures, protecting them, preserving them, guiding them, and leading them to clearer light and higher life. For this reason the attribute Rahim (Most Merciful) is not applied to any but Allah, but the attribute Rahim (Merciful), a general term, and may also be applied to Men. To make us contemplate these boundless gifts of Allah, the formula: 'In the name of Allah Most Gracious, Most Merciful,' is placed before every Surah of the Qur'an (except the ninth), and treated as an introduction or headline, and therefore not numbered.

2. Praise be to Allah, the Cherisher and Sustainer (20) of the worlds;

20 The Arabic word Rabb, usually translated Lord, has also the meaning of cherishing, sustaining, bringing to maturity. Allah cares for all the worlds He has created (see n. 1787 and n. 4355).

There are many worlds - astronomical and physical worlds, worlds of thought, spiritual world, and so on. In every one of them, Allah is all-in-all. We express only one aspect of it when we say: 'In Him we live, and move, and have our being.' The mystical division between (1) Nasut, the human world knowable by the senses, (2) Malakut, the invisible world of angels, and (3) Lahut, the divine world of Reality, requires a whole volume to explain it.

3. Most Gracious, Most Merciful;

5. Thee do we worship (21), and Thine aid we seek.

21 On realizing in our souls Allah's love and care, His grace and mercy, and His power and justice (as Ruler of the Day of Judgement), the immediate result is that we bend in the act of worship, and see both our shortcomings and His all-sufficient power. The emphatic form means that not only do we reach the position of worshipping Allah and asking for His help, but we worship Him alone and ask for His aid only. For there is none other than He worthy of our devotion and able to help us. Then plural 'we' indicates that we associate ourselves with all who seek Allah, thus strengthening ourselves and strengthening them in a fellowship of faith (see n. 586).

6. Show (22) us the straight way,

22 If we translate by the English word 'guide,' we shall have to say: 'Guide us to and in the straight Way.' For we may be wandering aimlessly, and the first step is to find the Way; and the second need is to keep in the Way: Our own wisdom may fail in either case. The straight Way is often the narrow Way, or the steep Way, which many people shun (90:11). By the world's perversity the straight Way is sometimes stigmatized and the crooked Way praised. How are we to judge? We must ask for Allah's guidance. With a little spiritual insight we shall see which are the people who walk in the light of Allah's grace, and which are those that walk in the darkness of Wrath. This also would help our judgement.

7. The way of those on whom Thou hast bestowed Thy Grace, those whose (portion) is not wrath (23), and who go not astray (24).

23 Note that the words relating to Grace are connected actively with Allah; those relating to Wrath are impersonal. In the one case Allah's Mercy encompasses us beyond our deserts. In the other case our own actions are responsible for the Wrath - the negative of Grace, Peace, or Harmony.

24 Are there two categories? - those who are in the darkness of Wrath and those who stray? The first are those who deliberately break Allah's law; the second those who stray out of carelessness or negligence. Both are responsible for their own acts or omissions. In opposition to both are the people who are in the light of Allah's Grace; for His Grace not only protects them from active wrong if they will only submit their will to Him but also from straying into paths of temptation or carelessness. The negative ghayr should be construed as applying not to the way, but as describing men protected from two dangers by Allah's Grace.
2. Al Baqara (The Heifer)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

These are abbreviated letters, the Muqatta‘at, on which a general discussion will be found in Appendix I (at the end of this Surah).

The particular letters, Alif, Lam, Mim, are found prefixed to this Surah, and Surahs 3, 29, 30, 31 and 32 (six in all). In 2 and the argument is about the rise and fall of nations, their past, and their future in history, with ordinances for the new universal people of Islam. In 29 a similar argument about nations leads off to the mystery of Life and Death, Failure and Triumph, Past and Future, in the history of individual souls. The burden of 30 is that Allah is the source of all things and all things return to Him. In 31 and 32 the same lesson is enforced: Allah is the Creator and He will be the Judge on the Last Day. There is therefore a common thread, the mystery of Life and Death, Beginning and End.

Much has been written about the meaning of these letters, but most of it is pure conjecture. Some commentators are content to recognize them as some mystic symbols of which it is unprofitable to discuss the meaning by more verbal logic. (Ri).

2. This is the Book; in it is guidance sure, without doubt, to those who fear(26) Allah.

This is another phase of the hypocrite and the cynic. “Faith,” he says, “is good for nothing, only a rosy counterfeited dream.” So that our overwhelming power of thought may be utilised to our own ends.

3. Who believe in the Unseen, are steadfast in prayer, and spend out of what We have provided for them(27):

All bounties proceed from Allah. They may be physical gifts, e.g., food, clothing, houses, gardens, wealth, etc. or intangible gifts, e.g., influence, power, birth and the opportunities flowing from it, health, talents, etc. or spiritual gifts, e.g., insight into good and evil, understanding of men, the capacity for love, etc.

We are to use all in humility and moderation. But we are also to give out of every one of them something that contributes to the wellbeing of others. We are to be neither ascetics nor luxurious sybarites, neither selfish misers nor thoughtless prodigals.

4. And who believe in the Revelation sent to thee, and sent before thy time, and (in their hearts) have the assurance of the Hereafter(28):

Righteousness comes from a secure faith, from sincere devotion to Allah, and from unselfish service to humankind.

5. They are on (true) guidance, from their Lord, and it is these who will prosper(29).

Prosperity must be taken as referring to all the kinds of bounty which we discussed in the note to 2:5 above. The right use of one kind leads to an increase in that and other kinds, and that is prosperity.

6. As to those who reject Faith(30), it is the same to them whether thou warn them or do not warn them; they will not believe.

Kafara, kafr, Kaif, and derivative forms of the word, imply a deliberate rejection of Faith as opposed to a mistaken idea of Allah or faith, which is not inconsistent with an earnest desire to see the truth. Where there is such desire, the Grace and Mercy of Allah gives guidance. But that guidance is not efficacious when it is deliberately rejected, and the possibility of rejection follows from the grant of free will. The consequence of the rejection is that the spiritual faculties become dead or impervious to better influences. See also n. 93, n. 3537, and n. 3644.

7. Allah hath set a seal(31) on their hearts and on their hearing, and on their eyes is a veil; great is the penalty they (incur)(32).

31 All actions are referred to Allah. Therefore when we get the penalty of our deliberate sin, and our senses become impervious to good, the penalty is referred to the justice of Allah (Cf. v. 460, n. 2146, and n. 3577).

32 The penalty here is the opposite of the prosperity referred to in 2:5. As we go down the path of sin, our penalty gathers momentum, just as goodness brings its own capacity for greater goodness.

8. Of the people there are some who say(33): “We believe in Allah and the Last Day;” but they do not (really) believe.

33 We now come to a third class of people, the hypocrites. They are untrue to themselves, and therefore their hearts are diseased (2:10). The disease tends to spread, like all evil. They are curable but if they harden their hearts, they soon pass into the category of those who deliberately reject light.

9. Fain would they deceive Allah and those who believe, but they only deceive themselves, and realise (it) not!

10. In their hearts is a disease; and Allah has increased their disease(34): And grievous is the penalty they (incur), because they are false (to themselves).

34 The insincere man who thinks he can get the best of both worlds by compromising with good and evil only increases the disease of his heart, because he is not true to himself. Even the good which comes to him he can pervert to evil. So the rain which falls out the ear of corn or lends fragrance to the rose also lends strength to the thorn or adds strength to the poison of the deadly nightshade. (Cf. 9:118 and n. 1376).

11. When it is said to them: "Make not mischief on the earth," they say: "Why, we only Want to make peace!"

12. Of a surety, they are the ones who make mischief, but they realise (it) not(35).

35 Much mischief is caused (sometimes unwittingly) by people who think that they have a mission of peace, when they have not even a true perception of right and wrong. By their blind arrogance they depress the good and encourage the evil.

13. When it is said to them: "Believe as the others believe:" They say: "Shall we believe as the fools believe?" Nay, of a surety they are the fools, but they do not know(36).

36 This is another phase of the hypocrite and the cynic, “Faith,” he says, “is good enough for fools.” But his cynicism may be the greatest folly in the eyes of Allah.

14. When they meet those who believe(37), they say: "We believe;" but when they are alone with their evil ones, they say: "We are really with you: We (were) only jesting."

37 A deeper phase of insincerity is actual duplicity. But it never pays in the end. If we compare such a man to a trader, he loses in the bargain.

15. Allah will throw back their mockery on them, and give them rope in their trespasses; so they will wander like blind ones (To and fro).

16. These are they who have bartered Guidance for error: But their traffic is profitless, and they have lost true direction,

17. Their similitude is that of a man(38) who kindled a fire; when it lighted all around him, Allah took away their light and left them in utter darkness. So they could not see.

21. The man wanted light; he only kindled a fire. It produced a blaze, and won the applause of all around. But it did not last long. When the flame went out as was inevitable, the darkness was worse than before. And they all lost their way. So hypocrisy, deception, arrogant compromise with evil, cynicism, or duplicity may win temporary applause. But the true light of faith and sincerity is wanting, and therefore it must miscarry and ruin all concerned. In the constellation they cannot speak or hear each other, and of course they cannot see; so they end like the deliberate rejecters of Faith (2:27), wildly groping about, dumb, deaf and blind. (Cf. in 11:135).

20. Deaf, dumb, and blind, they will not return (to the path).

19. Or (another similitude) (39) is that of a rain-laden cloud from the sky: In it are zones of darkness, and thunder and lightning; They press their fingers in their ears to keep out the stunning thunder-clap, the while they are in terror of death. But Allah is ever round the rejecters of Faith!

18. A wonderfully graphic and powerful simile applying to those who reject Faith. To the worldly self-sufficiency they are undisturbed normally. But what happens when a great storm breaks over them? They cover their ears against thunder-claps, and the lightning nearly blinds them. They are in mortal fear, but Allah encompasses them around — even them, for He at all times encompasses all. He gives them raves. In the intervals of deafening noise and blinding flashes, there are moments of steady light, and these creatures take advantage of them, but again they are plunged into darkness. Perhaps they curse; perhaps they think that the few moments of effective light are due to their own intelligence. How much wiser would they be if they humbled themselves and sought the light of Allah?

20. The lightning all but snatches away their sight; every time the light (Helps) them, they walk therein, and when the darkness grows on them, they stand still. And if Allah willed, He could take away their faculty of hearing and seeing; for Allah hath power over all things.

21. O ye people! Adore your Guardian-Lord, who created you and those who came before you, that ye may have the chance to learn righteous(40); for Tawra see 2:2, n. 36, I connect this dependent clause with “adore,” etc.; above, though it could be connected with “created.” According to my construction the argument will be as follows. Adoration is the act of the highest and humblest reverence and worship. When you get into that relationship with Allah, Who is your Creator and Guardian, your faith produces works of righteousness. It is a chance given you: will you exercise your free will and take it? If you do, your whole nature will be transformed.

22. Who has made the earth your couch, and the heavens your canopy; and sent down rain from the heavens; and brought forth therewith Fruits for your sustenance; then set not up rivals(41) unto Allah when ye know (the truth).

23. And if ye are in doubt as to what We have revealed from time to time to Our servant, then produce a Sura like therunto; and call your witnesses or helpers (If there are any) besides Allah, if your (doubts) are true(42).

24. But if ye cannot- and of a surety ye cannot- then fear the Fire whose fuel is men and stones,- which is prepared for those who reject Faith(43).

25. But give glad tidings to those who believe and work righteousness, that their portion is Gardens, beneath which rivers flow. Every time they are fed with fruits therefrom, they say: "Why, this is what we were fed with before," for they are given things in similitude; and they have therein companions pure (and holy) (44); and they abide therein forever.

26. Allah disdains not to use the similitude of things, lowest(45) as well as highest. Those who believe know that it is truth from their Lord; but those who reject Faith say: "What means Allah by this similitude?" By it He causes many to stray, and many He leads into the right path; but He causes not to stray, except those who forsake (the path),-

27. Those who break Allah.s Covenant(45-A) after it is ratified, and who sunder what Allah Has ordered to be joined, and do mischief on earth: These cause loss (only) to themselves.

45-A The mention of the Covenant has a particular and a general signification. The particular one has reference to the Jewish tradition that a Covenant was entered into with 'Father Abraham' that in return for Allah's favours the seed of Abraham would serve Allah faithfully. But as a matter of fact a great part of Abraham's progeny were in constant spiritual rebellion against Allah, as is testified by their own Prophets and Praisers ans such as Muhammad al-Mustaf a. The general signification is that a similar Covenant is entered into by every creature of Allah: for Allah's loving care, we at least owe Him the fullest gratitude and willing obedience. The Sinner, before he darkens his own conscience, knows this, and yet he not only "forsakes the path" but resists the Grace of Allah which comes to save him. That is why his case becomes hopeless. But the loss is his own. He cannot spoil Allah's design. The good man is glad to retrace his steps from any lapses of which he may have been guilty, and in his case Allah's Message reconciles him with complete understanding. (R).

46. How can ye reject(46) the faith in Allah.- seeing that ye were without life, and He gave you life; then will He cause you to die, and will again bring you to life; and again to Him will ye return.
arise from a deliberate rejection of the light and breath of the Covenant (2:26 - 27). Now (2:28 -29) He pleads with His creatures and appeals to their own subjective feelings. He brought you into being. The mysteries of life and death are in His hands. When you die on this earth, that is not the end. You were of Him and you must return to Him. (Cf. n.4387 and n. 4371). Look around you and realize your own dignity; it is from Him, The immeasurable depths of space above and around you may stagger you. They are part of His plan. What you have imagined as the seven firmaments (and any other scheme you may construct) bears witness to His design of order and perfection, for His knowledge (unlike yours) is all-comprehending. And yet will you deliberately reject or obscure or deaden the faculty of Faith which has been put into you?

29. It is He Who hath created for you all things that are on earth; Moreover His design comprehended the heavens, for He gave order and perfection to the seven firmaments; and of all things He hath perfect knowledge.

30. Behold, thy Lord said to the angels: "I will create a vicegerent on earth." They said: "Wilt Thou place therein one who will make mischief therein and shed blood? whilst we do celebrate Thy praises and glorify Thy holy (name)?" He said: "I know what ye know not(47)."

47 It would seem that the angels, though holy and pure, and endued with power from Allah, yet represented only one side of creation. We may imagine them without passion or emotion, of which the highest flower is love. If man was to be endued with emotions, those emotions could lead him to the highest and drag him to the lowest. The power of will or choosing would have to go with them, in order that man might steer his own back. This power of will (when used aright) gave him to some extent a mastery over his own fortunes and over nature, thus bringing him nearer to the God-like nature, which has supreme mastery and will. (Cf. n.3781).

We, may suppose the angels had no independent wills of their own: their perfection in other ways reflected Allah's perfection but could not raise them to the dignity of vicegerency. The perfect vicegerent is he who has the power of initiative himself, but whose independent action always reflects perfectly the will of his Principal. The distinction is expressed by Shakespeare (Sonnet 94) in those fine lines: "They are the lords and owners of their faces. Others but stewards of their excellence." The angels in their one-sidedness saw only the mischief consequent on the misuse of the emotional nature by man; perhaps they also, being without emotions, did not understand the whole of Allah's nature, which gives and asks for love. In humility and true devotion to Allah, they remonstrate: we must not imagine the least tinge of jealousy, as they are without emotion. This mystery of love being above them, they are told that they do not know, and they acknowledge (in 2:32 below) not their fault (for there is no question of fault) but their imperfection of knowledge. At the same time, the matter is brought home to them when the actual capacities of man are shown to them (2:31,33).

31. And He taught Adam the names(48) of all things; then He placed them before the angels, and said: "Tell me the nature of these if ye are right." 48 The names of things; according to commentators means the inner nature and qualities of things, and things here would include feelings. The particular qualities for feelings which were outside the nature of angels were put by Allah into the nature of man. Man was thus able to love and understand love, and thus plan and initiate, as becomes the office of vicegerent. The angels acknowledged this. These things they could only know from the outside, but they had faith, or belief in the Unseen. And they knew that Allah saw all - what others see, what others do not see, what others may even wish to conceal. Man has many qualities which are latent or which he may wish to suppress or conceal, to his own detriment. (B).

32. They said: "Glory to Thee, of knowledge We have none, save what Thou Hast taught us: In truth it is Thou Who art perfect in knowledge and wisdom."

33. He said: "O Adam! Tell them their natures." When he had told them, Allah said: "Did I not tell you that I know the secrets of heaven and earth, and I know what ye reveal and what ye conceal?"

34. And behold, We said to the angels: "Bow down to Adam" and they bowed down. Not so Iblis(49): he refused and was haughty: He was of those who reject Faith. 49 The Arabic may also be translated: "They bowed down, except Iblis." In that case Iblis (Satan) would be one of the angels. But the theory of fallen angels is not accepted in Muslim theology. In 18:50: Iblis is spoken of as a Jinn. We shall discuss later the meaning of this word. (B). (Cf. n.2292, n. 2293, and n. 929).

35. We said: "O Adam! dwell thou and thy wife in the Garden(50); and eat of the bountiful things therein as (where and when) ye will; but approach not this tree, or ye run into harm and transgression(51)."

50 Was the Garden of Eden a place on this earth? Obviously not. For, in verse 36 below, it was after the Fall that the sentence was pronounced: "On earth will be your dwelling-place." Before the Fall, we must suppose Man to be on another plane altogether — of felicity, innocence, trust, a spiritual existence, with the negation of enmity, want of faith, and all evil. (B).

51 Ziyah in Arabic implies harm, wrong, injustice, or transgression, and may have reference to oneself; when the wrong is done to others it implies tyranny and oppression; the idea of wrong naturally connects itself with darkness, which is another shade of meaning carried with the root word.

36. Then did Satan(52) make them slip from the (garden), and get them out of the state (of felicity) in which they had been. We said: "Get ye down, all (ye people(53)), with enmity between yourselves. On earth will be your dwelling-place and your means of livelihood(34) - for a time."

52 The word Iblis in the verse 34 above is derived from the root idea of departure, revolt or rebellion whereas ‘Satan’ conveys the idea of enmity or enmity. Note the appropriateness of the term on each occasion. Also, ‘slipping’ from the Garden denotes the idea of Evil gradually tempting man from a higher to a lower state. (R). (Cf.7:28).

53 Allah's decree is the result of man's action. Note the transition in Arabic from the singular number in 2:33 , to the dual in 2:35 , and the plural here, which I have indicated in English by "All ye people." Evidently Adam is the type of all mankind, and the sexes go together in all spiritual matters. Moreover, the expulsion applied to Adam, Eve, and Satan, and the Arabic plural is appropriate for any number greater than two. (Cf.n.989).

54 Man's sojourn in this lower state, where he is partly an animal of this earth, is for a time. But he must fulfill his lower duties also, for they too are a part of his spiritual training. (Cf. n.1007).

37. Then learnt Adam from his Lord words of inspiration(55), and his Lord Turned towards him; for He is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful.

55 As 'names' in verse 31 above is used for the "nature of things", so 'words' here mean "inspiration, "spiritual knowledge." The Arabic word used for 'learn' here implies some effort on his part, to which Allah's Grace responded. The Arabic word for 'Repentance' (tawbah) means 'turning,' and the intensive word (tawbib) for Allah's forgiveness ('Oft-Returning' or 'Ever-Returning') is from the same root. For repentance, three things are necessary: the sinner must acknowledge his wrong; he must give it up; and he must resolve to eschew it for the future. Man's nature is weak, and he may have to return again and again for mercy. So long as he does it sincerely, Allah is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful. For His grace helps out the sinner's shortcomings.

38. We said: "Get ye down all from here; and if, as is sure, there comes to you Guidance from me(56), whosoever follows My guidance, on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve."

56 Note the transition from the plural 'We' at the beginning of the verse to the singular 'Me' later in the same verse, Allah speaks of Himself usually in the first person plural 'We'; it is the plural of respect and honour and is used in human language in Royal proclamations and decrees. But where a special personal relationship is expressed the singular, 'I' or 'Me' is used (Cf. 26:32, etc. In spite of Man's fall, and in consequence of it, assurance of guidance is given. In case man follows the guidance he is free from any fear for the present or the future, and any grief or sorrow for the past. The soul thus freed grows nearer to Allah (Cf. n.4788).

39. "But those who reject Faith and belie Our Signs, they shall be companions of the Fire; they shall abide therein(57)."

57 As their rejection of faith was deliberate and definite, so the consequences must be of an abiding character. (B).
40. O Children of Israel! call to mind the (special) favour which I bestowed upon you, and fulfil your covenant (58) with Me as I fulfill My Covenant with you, and fear none but Me.

58. The appeal is made to Israel subjectively in terms of their own tradition. You claim to be a favoured nation: have you forgotten My favours? You claim a special Covenant with Me: I have fulfilled My part of the Covenant by bringing you out of the land of bondage and giving you Canaan, the land flowing with milk and honey; how have you fulfilled your part of the Covenant? Do you fear for your national existence? If you fear Me, nothing else will matter.

41. And believe in what I reveal (59), confirming the revelation which is with you, and be not the first to reject Faith therein, nor sell My Signs for a small price; and fear Me, and Me alone.

59. You received revelations before: now comes one confirming it: its first appeal should be to you—are you to be the first to reject it? And reject it for what? Allah’s Signs are worth more than all your paltry considerations. And the standard of duty and righteousness is to be taken from Allah, and not from priests and customs.

42. And cover not Truth with falsehood, nor conceal the Truth when ye know (what it is).

43. And be steadfast in prayer; practise regular charity; and bow down your heads (60) with those who bow down (in worship).

60. The argument is still primarily addressed to the Jews, but is of universal application, as in all the teachings of the Qur’an. The chief feature of Jewish worship was and is the bowing of the head.

44. Do ye enjoin right conduct on the people, and forget (To practise it) yourselves, and yet ye study the Scripture? Will ye not understand?

45. Nay, seek ((Allah’s) help with patient perseverance (61) and prayer: It is indeed hard, except to those who bring a lowly spirit,—

61. The Arabic word Sahr implies many shades of meaning, which it is impossible to comprehend in one English word. It implies (1) patience in the sense of being thorough, not hasty; (2) patient perseverance, constancy, steadfastness, firmness of purpose; (3) systematic as opposed to spasmodic or chance action; (4) a cheerful attitude: of resignation and understanding in sorrow, defeat, or suffering, as opposed to murmuring or rebellion, but saved from mere passivity or futilitylessness, by the element of constancy or steadfastness. (Cf. 2:155-154 and nn. 157-158).

46. Who bear in mind the certainty that they are to meet their Lord, and that they are to return to Him.

47. Children of Israel! call to mind the (special) favour which I bestowed upon you (62), and that I preferred you to all other (for My Message).

62. These words are recapitulated from 2:10, which introduced a general account of Allah’s favours to Israel; now we are introduced to a particular account of incidents in Israel’s history. Each incident is introduced by the Arabic words fall which is indicated in the translation by ‘Remember.’

48. Then guard yourselves against a day when one soul shall not avail another nor shall intercession be accepted for her, nor shall compensation be taken from her, nor shall anyone be helped (from outside) (63).

63. Before passing to particular incidents, the conclusion is stated. Be on your guard: do not think that special favours exempt you from the personal responsibility of each soul. (Cf. 2:123 and 2:254).

49. And remember, We delivered you from the people of Pharaoh: They set you hard tasks and punishments, slaughtered your sons and let your women-folk live (64); therein was a tremendous trial from your Lord.

64. The bondage of Egypt was indeed a tremendous trial. Even the Egyptians’ wish to spare the lives of Israel’s females when the males were slaughtered, added to the harshness of Israel’s punishment. Their hatred was cruel, but their love was still more cruel. (Cf. 1:60). About the hard tasks, see Exod. 1:14: ‘They made their lives bitter with hard bondage, in mortar and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field; all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigor.’ Pharaoh’s taskmasters gave no straw, yet ordered the Israelites to make bricks without straw: Exod. 5:5-19. Pharaoh’s decree was ‘Every son that is born ye shall cast into the river, and every daughter ye shall save alive’: Exod. 1:22. It was in consequence of this decree that Moses was hidden three months after he was born, and when he could be hidden no longer, he was put into an ark of bulrushes and cast into the Nile, where he was found by Pharaoh’s daughter and wife (28:59), and adopted into the family: Exod. 2:25-40. Thus Moses was brought up by the enemies of his people. He was chosen by Allah to deliver his people, and Allah’s wisdom made the learning and experience and even cruelties of the Egyptian enemies themselves to contribute to the salvation of his people.

50. And remember We divided the sea for you and saved you and drowned Pharaoh’s people within your very sight (65).

65. When the Israelites at last escaped from Egypt, they were pursued by Pharaoh and his host. By a miracle the Israelites crossed the Red Sea, but the host of Pharaoh was drowned: Exod. 14:30-31. (Cf. n. 1094).

51. And remember We appointed forty nights for Moses (66), and in his absence ye took the calf (for worship), and ye did grievous wrong.

66. This was after the Ten Commandments and the Laws and Ordinances had been given on Mount Sinai. Moses was asked up into the Mount, and he was there forty days and forty nights: Exod. 24:18. (Cf. n. 1112). But the people got impatient of the delay, made a calf of molten gold, and offered worship and sacrifice to it: Exod. 32:1-8.

52. Even then We did forgive you (67); there was a chance for you to be grateful.

67. Moses prayed for his people, and Allah forgave them. This is the language of the Qur’an. The Old Testament version is rougher: ‘The Lord repented of the evil which He thought to do unto His people’: Exod. 32:14. The Muslim position has always been that the Jewish (and Christian) scriptures as they stand cannot be traced direct to Moses or Jesus, but are later compilations. Modern scholarship and Higher Criticism has left no doubt on the subject. But the stories in these traditional books may be used in an appeal to those who use them: only they should be spiritualized, as they are here, and especially in 2:54 below.

53. And remember We gave Moses the Scripture and the Criterion (68) (Between right and wrong): There was a chance for you to be guided aright.

68. (Cf. 8:20) Allah’s revelation, the expression of Allah’s Will, is the true standard of right and wrong. It may be in a Book or in Allah’s dealings in history. All these may be called His Signs or Miracles. In this passage some commentators take the Scripture and the Criterion (Furqan) to be identical. Others take them to be two distinct things: Scripture being the written Book and the Criterion being other Signs. I agree with the latter view. The word Furqan also occurs in 2:248 in connection with Moses and Aaron and in the first verse of Sura 25, as well as in its title, in connection with Muhammad. As Aaron received no Book, Furqan must mean the other Signs. Al-Mustafa had both the Book and the other Signs; perhaps here too we take the other Signs as supplementing the Book. Cf. Wordsworth’s ‘Arbitre undisturbed of right and wrong.’ (Preface, Book 4).

54. And remember Moses said to his people: “O my people! Ye have indeed wronged yourselves by your worship of the calf: So turn (in repentance) to your Maker, and slay yourselves (the wrongdoers) (69); that will be better for you in the sight of your Maker.” Then He turned towards you (in forgiveness): For He is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful.

69. Moses’ speech may be construed literally, as translated, in which case it reproduces Exod. 32:27-28 but in a much softened form, for the Old Testament says: ‘Go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour, . . . and there fell of the people that day 5,000 men.’ (B). The word here translated Maker (Bar) has also in it a touch of the root-meaning of ‘liberator’—an apt word as referring to the Israelites, who had just been liberated from bondage in Egypt.
And remember ye said(70): "O Moses! We shall never believe in thee until we see Allah manifestly," but ye were dazed with thunder and lightning even as ye looked on.

We have likewise had instances from the Jewish tradition (Tannah for Pentateuch). Now we have some instances from Jewish tradition in the Talmud, or body of exposition in the Jewish theological schools. They are based on the Jewish scriptures, but add many marvellous details and homilies. As to seeing Allah, we have in Exod. 33:20: 'And He said, Thou canst not see My face: for there shall no man see Me and live.' The punishment for insisting on seeing Allah was therefore death; but those who rejected faith were forgiven, and yet they were ungrateful. (Cf. im. 1211-1212, n. 3078).

56. Then We raised you up after your death: Ye had the chance to be grateful.

And We gave you the shade of clouds and sent down to you Manna(71) and quails, saying: "Eat of the good things We have provided for you:" (But they rebelled); to us they did no harm, but they harmed their own souls.

Manna—Hebrew, Man lu; Arabic, Mahawwa—What is it? In Exod. 16:14 it is described as 'a small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground'. (Cf. 7:160). It usually rotted if left over till next day; it melted in the hot sun; the amount necessary for each man was about an Omer, a Hebrew measure of capacity equal to about 2 1/2 quarts. This is the Hebrew account, probably distorted by traditional exaggeration. The actual Manna found to this day in the Sinai region is a gummy saccharine secretion found on a species of Tamarisk. It is produced by the puncture of a species of insect like the cochineal, just as lac is produced by the puncture of the lac insect on certain trees in India. As to quails, large flights of them are driven by winds in the Eastern Mediterranean in certain seasons of the year, as was witnessed during the Great War of 1914-1918. (Cf. n. 2095, Qb).

And remember We said: "Enter this town(72), and eat of the plenty therein as ye wish; but enter the gate with humility, in posture and in words, and We shall forgive you your faults and increase (the portion of) those who do good."

This probably refers to Shittim, It was the 'town of acacias,' just east of the Jordan , where the Israelites were guilty of debauchery and the worship of and sacrifices to false gods (Num. 25:1-2, also 8-9); a terrible punishment ensued, including the plague, of which 24,000 died. The word which the transgressors changed may have been a password. In the Arabic text it is Hitnun which implies humility and a prayer of forgiveness, a fitting emblem to distinguish dienas from their enemies. From this particular incident a more general maxim for all times in the hour of triumph we are to behave humbly as in Allah's sight, and our conduct should be exemplary according to Allah's word: otherwise our arrogance will draw its own punishment. These verses 38-39, may be compared with 7:161-162.

There are two verbal differences. Here (5:58) we have 'enter the town' and in 7:161 we have 'dwell in this town.' Again in 2:59 here we have 'infringed (Our command), and in 7:162, we have 'transgressed.' The verbal differences make no difference to the sense.

But the transgressors changed the word from that which had been given them; so We sent on the transgressors a plague from heaven, for that they infringed (Our command) repeatedly.

And remember Moses prayed for water for his people; We said: "Strike the rock with thy staff." Then gushed forth therefrom twelve springs. Each group(73) knew its own place for water. So eat and drink of the sustenance provided by Allah, and do no evil nor mischief on the (face of the) earth.

Here we have a reference to the tribal organization of the Jews, which played a great part in their forty-years' march through the Arabian deserts (Num. 1 and 2) and their subsequent settlement in the land of Canaan (Josh, 13 and 14). The twelve tribes were derived from the sons of Jacob, whose name was changed to Israel (soldier of Allah) after he had wrestled, says Jewish tradition, with Allah. (Genesis 32:28). Israel had twelve sons. (Gen. 35:22-26), including Levi and Joseph. The descendants of these twelve sons were the 'Children of Israel.' Levi's family got the priesthood and the care of the Tabernacle; they were exempted from military duties, for which the census was taken (Num. 1:47-53), and therefore from the distribution of Land in Canaan (Josh. 14:8); they were distributed among all the Tribes, and were a privileged caste and not numbered among the Tribes; Moses and Aaron belonged to the house of Levi. On the other hand Joseph is the ancestor to whom the rose in Egypt as the Pharaoth's minister, was the progenitor of two tribes, one in the name of each of his two sons Ephraims and Manasseh. Thus there were twelve Tribes in all, as Levi was cut out and Joseph represented two tribes. Their having fixed stations and watering places in camp and fixed territorial areas later in the Promised Land previous obligations is pointed to as an evidence of the Providence of Allah acting through His Prophet Moses. Cf. also 7:160. The gushing of twelve springs from a rock evidently refers to a local tradition well known to Jews and Arabs in Al Mustafa's time. Near Horeb close to Mount Sinai, where the Law was given to Moses, is a huge mass of red granite, twelve feet high and about fifty feet in circumference, where European travellers (e.g., Breymenhusch in the 15th Century after Christ saw abundant springs of water gushed on number of times on this passageway in Al Mustafa's time and may still exist to the present day, for anything we know to the contrary. The Jewish tradition would be based on Exod. 17:6: 'Thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it that the people may drink.' The story is used as a parable, as is clear from the latter part of the verse. In the desolation and among the rocks of this life people grumble. But they will not be left starving or thirsty of spiritual life. Allah's Messenger can provide abundant spiritual sustenance even from such unprepossessing things as the hard rocks of life. And all the nations can be grouped round it, each different, yet each in perfect order and discipline. We are to use with gratitude all spiritual food and drink provided by Allah, and He sometimes provides from unexpected places. We must restrain ourselves from mischief, pride, and every kind of evil, for our higher life is based on our probation on this very earth.

And remember ye said: "O Moses! we cannot endure one kind of food (always); so beseech thy Lord for us to produce for us of what the earth groweth, -its pot- herbs, and cucumbers, Its garlic, lentils, and onions." He said: "Will ye exchange the better for the worse? Go ye down to any town(74), and ye shall find what ye want!" They were covered with humiliation(75) and misery; they drew on themselves the wrath of Allah. This because they went on rejecting the Signs of Allah and slaying His Messengers without just cause. This because they rebelled and went on transgressing.

This declaration of the word Misr in the Arabic text here shows that it is treated as a common noun meaning any town, but this is not conclusive, and the reference may be to the Egypt of Pharaoh. The Tannah expressing indefiniteness may mean 'any Egypt,' i.e., any country as fertile as Egypt. There is here a subtle reminiscence as well as a severe reproach. The rebellious children of Israel murmured at the sameness of the food they got in the desert. They were evidently hankering after the delicacies of the Egypt which they had left, although they should have known that the only thing certain for them in Egypt was their bondage and harsh treatment. Moses's reproach to them was twofold: (1) Such variety of food (all you can get in Egypt; would you, for your sake, sell your freedom? Is not freedom better than delicate food? (2) In front of the rich Promised Land, which you are reluctant to march to; behind is Egypt, the land of bondage. Which is better? Would you exchange the better for the worse?

From here the argument becomes more general. They got the Promised Land. But they continued to rebel against Allah. And their humiliation and misery became a national disaster. They were carried away captive to Assyria. They were restored under the Persians, but still remained under the Persian yoke, and they were under the yoke of the Greeks, the Romans, and Arabs. They were scattered all over the earth, and have been a wandering people ever since, because they rejected faith, slew Allah's messengers, and went on transgressing. The Slaying of the Prophets begins with the murder of Abel, who was in the ancestry of Israel. The elder sons of Jacob attempted the murder of Joseph when they dropped him into the well, and if he was afterwards rescued by strangers, their blood-guilt was none the less. In later history they attempted to slay Jesus, in as much as they got the Roman Governor to crucify one in his likeness, and they attempted to take the life of Mustafa. But the moral goes wider than the Children of Israel. It applies to all nations and all individuals. If they are still-looked, if they set a greater value on perishable goods than on freedom and eternal salvation, if they break the law of Allah and resist His grace, their portion must be humiliation and misery in the spiritual world and probably even on this earth if a long view is taken.

Those who believe (in the Qur'an), and those who follow the Jewish (scriptures), and the Christians and the Sabians(75),- any who believe in Allah and the Last Day, and work righteousness, shall have their reward with their Lord; on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve(77).
Mandaeans, or Christians of St. John. They claim to be Gnostics, or Knowers of the Great Life. They dress in white, and believe in frequent immersions in water. Their book Gnosis is an alphabet of Aramaic. They have theories of Darkness and Light as in Zoroastrism. They use the name Zoro (Zarathustra) for any river. They live in peace and harmony among their Muslim neighbours. They resemble the Sabaeans mentioned in the Qur’an, but are not probably identical with them. The conclusion of the Sabaeans of Harran, who attracted the attention of Khalilah’s maternal relatives in the 8th A.C. by their long hair and beauty, was the name as it was mentioned in the Qur’an, in order to claim the privileges of the People of the Book. They were Syriac Star-worshippers with Hellenistic tendencies, like the Jews contemporary with Jesus. There was another people called the Sabaeans, who played an important part in the history of early Arabia, and are known through their inscriptions in an alphabet allied to the Phoenician and Babylonian. They had a flourishing kingdom in the Yemen tract in South Arabia about 800-700 B.C., though their origin may have been in North Arabia. They worshipped the planets and stars (Moon, Sun, Venus), and probably the Queen of Sheba is connected with them. They succumbed to Abyssinia about 350 A.C. Their capital was near Sana. They had beautiful stone buildings, in which the pointed arch is noticeable. Cf. 5:69 and n. 779. (See Et.B. on Sabaeans). 27.

27. Cf. 2:28, where the same phrase occurs. And it recurs again and again afterwards. The point of the verse is that Islam does not teach an exclusive doctrine, and is not meant exclusively for one people. The Jews claimed this for themselves, and the Christians in their origin were a sect of the Jews. Even the modern organized Christian churches, though they have been, consciously or unconsciously, influenced by the Time Spirit, including the historical fact of Islam, yet cling to the idea of Vicarious Atonement, which means that all who do not believe in it or who lied previously to the death of Christ are at a disadvantage spiritually before the Throne of Allah. The attitude of Islam is entirely different. Islam existed before the preaching of Muhammad on this earth; the Qur’an expressly calls Abraham a Muslim (5:67). Its teaching (submission to Allah’s will) has been and will be the teaching of Religion for all time and for all peoples.

63. And remember We took your covenant and We raised above you (The towering height) of Mount (Sinai)(78) : (Saying): “Hold firmly to what We have given you and bring (ever) to remembrance what is therein: Perchance ye may fear Allah.”

78. The Mountain of Sinai (Tirid Sinam), a prominent mountain in the Arabian desert, in the peninsula between the two arms of the Red Sea. Here the Ten Commandments and the Law were given to Moses. Hence it is now called the Mountain of Moses (Jabal Musa). The Israelites encamped at the foot of it for nearly a year. The Covenant was taken from them under many protest (Exods, 19:5, 8, 16, 18), which are described in Jewish tradition in great detail. Under thunder and lightning the mountain must indeed have appeared an awe-inspiring sight above to the Camp at its foot. And the people solemnly entered into the Covenant: all the people answered together and said, “All that the Lord hath spoken we will do” (Exod. 17:1, n. 705, and n. 97).

64. But ye turned back thereafter: Had it not been for the Grace and Mercy of Allah to you, ye had surely been among the lost.

65. And well ye knew those amongst you who transgressed in the matter of the Sabbath: We said to them: “Be ye apes, despised and rejected(79).”

79. The punishment for breach of the Sabbath under the Mosaic law was death. Every one that defileth it shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people” (Exod. 31:14). There must have been a Jewish tradition about a whole fishing community in a seaside town, which persisted in breaking the Sabbath and were turned into apes: (Cf. 7:163:166).

66. So We made it an example to their own time and to their posterity, and a lesson to those who fear Allah.

67. And remember Moses said to his people: “(Allah) commands that ye sacrifice a heifer(80).” They said: “Makest thou a laughing-stock of us?” He said: “(Allah) save me from being an ignorant (fool)!”

80. This story or parable of the heifer in 2:66-71 should be read with the parable of the dead man brought to life in 2:72-73. The argument is developed in the following traditions, which are themselves based on certain sacrificial directions in the Old Testament. The heifer story of Jewish tradition is based on Num. 19:1-10, in which Moses and Aaron ordered the Israelites to sacrifice a red heifer without spot or blemish; her body was to be burnt and the ashes were to be kept for the purification of the congregation from sin. The parable of the dead man we shall refer to later.

The lesson of the heifer parable is plain, Moses announced the sacrifice to the Israelites, and they treated it as a jest. When Moses continued solemnly to ask for the sacrifice, they put him off on one pretext and another, asking a number of questions which they could have answered themselves if they had listened to Moses’s directions. Their questions were bearing criticisms rather than the result of a desire for information. It was a mere thin pretence that they were genuinely seeking for guidance. When at last they were driven into a corner, they made the sacrifice, but the will was wanting, which would have made the sacrifice efficacious for purification from sin. The real reason for their prevarications was their guilty conscience, as we see in the parable of the dead man (2:72-73).

68. They said: “Beseech on our behalf Thy Lord to make plain to us what (heifer) it is!” He said; “He says: The heifer should be neither too old nor too young, but of middling age. Now do what ye are commanded!”

69. They said: “Beseech on our behalf Thy Lord to make plain to us Her colour.” He said: “He says: A fawn-coloured heifer, pure and rich in tone, the admiration of beholders!”

70. They said: “Beseech on our behalf Thy Lord to make plain to us what she is: To us are all heifers alike: We wish indeed for guidance, if Allah wills.”

71. He said: “He says: A heifer not trained to till the soil or water the fields; sound and without blemish.” They said: “Now hast thou brought the truth.” Then they offered her in sacrifice, but not with good-will.

72. Remember ye slew a man(81) and fell into a dispute among yourselves as to the crime: But Allah was to bring forth what ye did hide.

81. In Deut. 21:1-9 it is ordained that if the body of a slain man be found in a field and the slayer is not known, a heifer shall be beheaded, and the elders of the city next to the slain man’s domicile shall wash their hands over the heifer and say that they neither did the deed nor saw it done, thus clearing themselves from the blood-guilt.

The Jewish story based on this was that in a certain case of this kind, every one tried to clear himself of guilt and lay the blame at the door of others. In the first place they tried to prevaricate and prevent a heifer being slain as in the last parable. When she was slain, Allah by a miracle disposed the real person. A portion of the sacrificed heifer was ordered to be placed on the corpse, which came to life and disclosed the whole story of the crime.

The lesson of this parable is that men may try to hide their crime individually or collectively, but Allah will bring them to light in unexpected ways. Applying this further to Jewish national history, the argument is developed in the following verses which the Children of Israel played fast and loose with their own rites and traditions, and they could not thus evade the consequences of their own sin.

73. So We said: “Strike the (body) with a piece of the (heifer).” Thus Allah bringeth the dead to life and sheweth you His Signs: Perchance ye may understand.

74. Thenceforth were your hearts hardened: They became like a rock and even worse in hardness. For among rocks there are some from which rivers gush forth; others there are which when split asunder send forth water; and others which sink for fear of Allah. And Allah is not unmindful of what ye do(82).

82. The sinner’s heart gets harder and harder. It is even harder than rocks, of which a beautiful poetical allegory is placed before us. In nature we think there is nothing harder than rocks. But there are rocks that weep voluntarily, like repentant hearts that come to Allah of their own accord. Such are the rocks from which rivers and springs flow spontaneously, sometimes in small trickles, sometimes in big volumes. Then there are rocks which have to be split or dug into or blown up with dynamite, and underneath we find abundant waters, as in wells beneath rocky soil. Such are the hearts of a less degree of fineness, which yet meet into tears when some great blow or calamity calls the mind so higher things. (R).
76. Behold! when they meet(83) the men of Faith, they say: "We believe": But when they meet each other in private, they say: "Shall you tell them what Allah hath revealed to you, that they may engage you in argument about it before your Lord?"- Do ye not understand (their aim)?

83 The immediate argument applies so the Jews of Madînah, but the more general argument applies to the people of Faith and the people without Faith, as we shall see below. If the Muslims of Madînah ever entertained the hope that the Jews in their city would, as a body, welcome Muhammad Mustafa as the Prophet prophesied in their own books, they were mistaken. In 18:18, they read: "I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee," i.e., like unto Moses; which was interpreted by some of their doctors as referring to Muhammad, and they came into Islam. The Arabs are a kindred branch of the Semitic family, and are correctly described in relation to so the Jews as, 'their brethren'; and there is no question that there was not another Prophet 'like unto Moses' until Muhammad came; in fact the postscript of Deuteronomy, which was written many centuries after Moses, says: 'There arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face,' But the Jews as a body were jealous of Muhammad, and played a double part. When the Muslim community began to grow stronger they pretended to be of them, but really tried to keep back any knowledge of their own Scriptures from them, lest they should be led by their own arguments.

The more general interpretation holds good in all ages, Faith and Unbelief are pitted against each other. Faith has to struggle against power, position, organization, and privilege. When it gains ground, Unbelief comes forward insincerely and claims fellowship. But in its own mind it is jealous of the armoury of science and knowledge which Faith brings into the service of Allah, But Allah knows all, and if the people of Faith will only seek knowledge sincerely wherever they can find it-even as far afield as China-as Muhammad said, they can defeat Unbelief on its own ground. [Even though the directive that Muslims should derive knowledge regardless of its location is so acceptable proposition from the Islamic viewpoint, the tradition to which the author refers here is not authentic. (Eds.)]

77. Know they not that Allah knoweth what they conceal and what they reveal?

78. And there are among them(84) illitcrates, who know not the Book, but (see therein their own) desires, and they do nothing but conjecture.

84 The argument of 2:76 is continued. The Jews wanted to keep back knowledge, but what knowledge had they? Many of them, even if they could read, were no better than illiterates, for they knew not their own true Scriptures, but read into them what they wanted, or at best their own conjectures. They palpied off their own writings for the Message of Allah. Perhaps it brought them profit for the time being, but it was a miserable profit if they 'gained the whole world and lost their own souls' (Matt. 16:26). 'Writing with their own hands' means inventing books themselves, which had 83 no divine authority.

The general argument is similar. Unbelief erects its own false gods. It attributes things to causes which only exist in its own imagination. Sometimes it even indulges in actual dishonest traffic in the ignorance of the multitude. It may pay for a time, but the bubble abrais bursts.

79. Then woe to those who write the Book with their own hands, and then say:"This is from Allah," to traffic with it for miserable price! Woe to them for what their hands do write, and for the gain they make thereby.

80. And they say: "The Fire(85) shall not touch us but for a few numbered days:" Say: "Have ye taken a promise from Allah, for He never breaks His promise? or is it that ye say of Allah what ye do not know?"

85 The Jews, in their arrogance might say: Whatever the terror of Hell may be for other people, our sins will be forgiven, because we are the children of Abraham; at worst, we shall suffer a short definite punishment and then be restored to the ‘bosome of Abraham.’ This bubble is pricked here. Read this verse with 2:81-82.

The general application is also clear. If Unfaith claims some special prerogative, such as race, ‘civilization,’ political power, historical experience, and so on, these will not avail in Allah’s sight. His promise is sure, but His promise is for those who seek Allah in Faith, and show it in their conduct. (Cf. 3:24 and n. 1142).

81. Nay, those who seek gain(86) in evil, and are gilt round by their sins,- they are companions of the Fire: Therein shall they abide (For ever).

86 This is many degrees worse than merely falling into evil; it is going out to ‘earn evil,’ as the Arabic text has it, i.e., to seek gain in evil. Such a perverse attitude means that the moral and spiritual fortress erected around us by the Grace of Allah is voluntarily surrendered by us and demolished by Evil, which erects its own fortress, so that access to Good may be more and more difficult.

82. But those who have faith and work righteousness, they are companions of the Garden: Therein shall they abide (For ever).

83. And remember We took(87) a covenant from the Children of Israel (to this effect): Worship none but Allah. treat with kindness your parents and kindred, and orphans and those in need; speak fair to the people; be steadfast in prayer; and practise regular charity. Then did ye turn back, except a few among you, and ye backslide (even now).

87 So far from the Covenant being of the kind suggested in 2:80, the real Covenant is about the moral law, which is set out in 2:83. This moral law is universal, and if you break it, no privileges will lighten your punishment or help you in any way (2:90). Speak fair to the people” not only means outward courtesy from the leaders to the meanest among the people, but the protection of the people from being exploited, defrauded, or duped with things to hurt their intelligence.

84. And remember We took(88) your covenant (to this effect): Shed no blood amongst you, nor turn out your own people from your homes: and this ye solemnly ratified, and to this ye can bear witness.

88 Verse 83 referred to the universal moral law. This verse 84 refers to its application under a special Covenant entered into with the Jews of Madînah by the newborn Muslim Commonwealth under its Guide and teacher Muhammad. This Covenant is given in Ibn Hisham’s Sirat al-Rasul, and comments on it will be found in Ameer ‘Ali’s Spirit of Islam. (London, 1922), pp. 57-61. It was entered into in the second year of the Hijrah, and was treacherously broken by the Jews almost immediately afterwards.

85. After this it is ye, the same people, who slay among yourselves, and banish a party of you from their homes; assist (Their enemies) against them, in guilt and rancour; and if they come to you as captives, ye ransom(89) them, though it was not lawful for you to ransom them, though it was not lawful for you to banish them. Then is it only a part of the Book that ye believe in, and do ye reject the rest? but what is the reward for those among you who behave like this but eternal banishment in this life?- and in the Day of Judgment they shall be consigned to the most grievous penalty. For Allah is not unmindful of what ye do.

89 I understand ‘ransom them’ here to mean ‘take ransom for them,’ though most of the Commentators take it to mean ‘give ransom for them.’ Al Mustafa had made a Pact which, if it had been faithfully observed by all parties, would have brought a reign of law and order for Madînah. But some of the treacherous Jews never intended to observe its terms. They fought and slew each other and not only banished those who were obnoxious to them but intrigued with their enemies. If by any chance they came back into their hands as captives, they demanded ransom for them to return to their homes although they had no right to banish them at all. If we understand by ‘ransom them’ pay ransom for them to release them from the hands of their enemies; it would mean that they did this pious act for show, although they were themselves the authors of their unlawful banishment. I think the former makes better sense.

86 These are the people who buy the life of this world at the price of the Hereafter: their penalty shall not be lightened nor shall they be helped.

87. We gave Moses the Book and followed him up with a succession of messengers; We gave Jesus the son of Mary(90) Clear (Signs) and strengthened him with the holy spirit. Is it that whenever there comes to you a messenger with what ye yourselves desire not, ye are puffed up with pride?—Some ye called impostors, and others ye slay(91)!

90. As to the birth of Jesus, Cf. 19:16-34. Why is he called the "Son of Mary"? What are his clear signs? What is the "Bholy spirit" by which he was strengthened? We reserve to a later stage a discussion of the Qur'anic teaching on these questions. See 3:82 n. 491. (Cf. 2:233).

91. Notice the sudden transition from the past tense in "some ye called impostors" to the present tense in "others ye slay." There is a double significance. First, reviewing the long course of Jewish history, we have come to the time of Jesus: they have often given the lie to Allah's Prophets, and even now they are trying to slay Jesus. Secondly, extending the review of that history to the time of Muhammad, they are even now trying to take the life of that Prophet. This would be literally true at the time the words were promulgated to the people. And this transition leads on naturally to the next verse, which refer to the actual conditions before Muhammad in Mad i nah in the second war of the Hijrah. (Cf. 5:70).

Sections 11-13 (2:87-121) refer to the People of the Book generally, Jews and Christians. Even when Moses and the Law of Sinai are referred to, those traditions are common to both Jews and Christians. The argument is about the people who ought to have learnt from previous Revelations and welcomed. Muhammad's teaching, and yet they both took up an attitude of arrogant rejection.

88. They say, "Our hearts are the wrappings(92) (which preserve Allah's Word: we need no more)." Nay, Allah's curse is on them for their blasphemy(93): Little is it they believe.

92. The Jews in their arrogance claimed that all wisdom and all knowledge of Allah were encased in their hearts. But there were more things in heaven and earth than were dreamt of in their philosophies. Their claim was not only arrogance but blasphemy. In reality they were men without Faith. If I take \[\text{Ghulfi}n\] here to be the plural of \[\text{Ghulfa}\] the wrapping or cover of a book, in which the book is preserved. (Cf. n.1142). As usual, there is a much wider meaning. How many people at all times and among all nations close their hearts to any extension of knowledge or spiritual influence because of some little fragment which they have got and which they influence because of some little fragment which they have got and which they think is the whole of Allah's Truth? Such an attitude shows really want of faith and is a blasphemous limitation of Allah's unlimited spiritual gifts to His creatures. (According to another view, the verse refers to the Jewish claim that a covering had been placed over their hearts which prevented them from grasping the message of the Prophet (peace be on him). See Ibn Kathir's commentary on the verse. See also verse 4:155, [Eds.].)

93. The root
\[\text{kafara}\] has many shades of meaning: (1) to deny Allah's goodness, to be ungrateful, (2) to reject Faith, deny His revelation, (3) to blaspheme, to ascribe some limitation or attribute to Allah which is derogatory to His nature. In a translation, one shade or another must be put forward according to the context, but all are implied. (Cf. n.39).

89. And when there comes to them a Book(94) from Allah, confirming what is with them,—although from of old they had prayed for victory against those without Faith,—when there comes to them that which they (should) have recognised, they refuse to believe in it but the curse of Allah is on those without Faith.

94. The Jews, who pretended to be so superior to the people without Faith—the Genuile—should have been the first to recognize the new Truth—or the Truth renewed—which it was Muh ammad's mission to bring because it was so similar in form and language to what they had already received. But they had more arrogance than faith. It is this want of faith that brings on the curse, i.e., deprives us (if we adopt such an attitude) of the blessings of Allah.

Again the lesson applies to a much wider circle than the Jews. We are all apt, in our perverseness, to reject an appeal from our brother even more summarily than one from an outsider. If we have a glimmering of the truth, we are apt to make ourselves impervious to further truth, and thus lose the benefit of Allah's Grace.

90. Miserable is the price for which they have sold their souls, in that they deny (the revelation) which Allah has sent down, in insolent envy that Allah of His Grace should send it to any of His servants He pleases(95): Thus have they drawn on themselves Wrath upon Wrath. And humiliating is the punishment of those who reject Faith.

95. Racial arrogance made the Jews adverse to the reception of Truth when it came through a servant of Allah, not of their own race. Again the lesson is wider. Is that adverseness unknown in our own times, and among other races? Yet how can a race or a people set bounds to Allah's choice? Allah is the Creator and Cherisher of all races and all worlds. (Cf. n.359)

91. When it is said to them, "Believe in what Allah Hath sent down," they say, "We believe in what was sent down to us:" yet they reject all besides, even if it be Truth confirming what is with them. Say: "Why then have ye slain the prophets of Allah in times gone by, if ye did indeed believe(96)?"

96. Even the race argument is often a thinly and hollow pretext Did not the Jews reject Prophets of their own race who told them unpleasant truths? And do not other nations do likewise? The real trouble is selfishness, narrowness, a mean dislike of anything which runs counter to habits, customs or inclinations.

92. There came to you Moses with clear (Signs); yet ye worshipped the calf (Even) after that, and ye did behave wrongfully.

93. And remember We took your covenant and We raised above you (the towering height) of Mount (Sinai): (Saying): "Hold firmly to what We have given you, and hearken, to the Law." They said, "We hear and we disobey(98):" And they had to drink(99) into their hearts (the taint) of the calf because of their Faithlessness. Say: "Vile indeed are the behests of your Faith if ye have any faith!"

97. Cf. the introductory words of 2:63, which are the same as the introductory words here, but the argument is developed in a different direction in the two places. In 2:63, after they are reminded of the solemn Covenant under the towering height of Mount Sinai they are told how they broke the Covenant in after ages. Here, after they are reminded of the same solemn Covenant, they are told that even then they never meant to observe it. Their thought is expressed in biting words of sarcasm. They said in words: "All that the Lord hath spoken, we will do:" But they said in their hearts: "We shall disobey."

98. What they should have said was: "We hear and we obey:" this is the attitude of the true men of Faith (2:283), (Cf. 2:283, 8:21, and 24:31).

99. After the Commandments and the Law had been given at Mount Sinai, and the people had solemnly given their Covenant,. Moses went up to the Mount, and in his absence, the people made the golden calf. [The word \[\text{adhruba}\] which occurs in the verse seems to suggest, as the noted Tahiri Qutabah is reported to have said, that their hearts were saturated with the love for the calf. See Ibn Kathir, Commentary on the verse 2:253, [Eds.].]

94. Say: "If the last Home, with Allah, be for you specially, and not for anyone else, then seek ye for death, if ye are sincere."

95. But they will never seek for death, on account of the (sins) which their hands have sent on before them(100). and Allah is well-acquainted with the wrong-doers.

100. The phrase "What their hands have sent on before them" frequently occurs in the Qur'an. Here and in many places, it refers to sins. In such passages as 78:40 or 81:14, it is implied that both good and bad deeds go before us to the Judgement Seat of Allah before we do ourselves. In 2:110, it is the good that goes before us. Our deeds are personified. They are witnesses for or against us, and they always go before us. Their good or bad influence begins to operate before we even know it. This is more general than the New Testament idea in the First Epistle of St. Paul to Timothy, 5:24: "Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgement; and some men they follow after." (Cf. 3:182 and n. 225)

96. Thou wilt indeed find them, of all people, most greedy of life,—even more than the idolaters: Each one of them wishes He could be given a life of a thousand years: But the grant of such life will not save him from (due) punishment. For Allah sees well all that they do.

97. Say: Whoever is an enemy(101) to Gabriel—for he brings down the (revelation) to thy heart by Allah's will, a confirmation of what went before, and guidance and glad tidings for those who believe,-
101. A party of the Jews in the time of Muhammad ridiculed the Muslim belief that Gabriel brought down revelations to Muhammad Al Mustafa. Michael was called in their books "the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people" (Daniel, 12:1). The vision of Gabriel inspired fear (Daniel, 13:16-17). But this pretence—that Michael was their friend and Gabriel their enemy—was merely a manifestation of their unbelief in angels, Prophets and Allah Himself; and such unbelief could not win the love of Allah. In any case it was dishonorable to say that they believed in one angel and not in another. Muhammad's inspiration was through visions of Gabriel. Muhammad had been helped to the highest spiritual light, and the message which he delivered and his spotless integrity and exemplary life were manifest Signs which every one could understand except those who were obstinate and perverse. Besides, the verses of the Quran were in themselves reasonable and clear.

98. Whoever is an enemy to Allah and His angels and messengers, to Gabriel and Michael,—Lo! Allah is an enemy to those who reject Faith.

99. We have sent down to thee Manifest Signs (ayat); and none reject them but those who are perverse.

100. Is it not (the case) that every time they make a covenant, some party among them throw it aside?—Nay, Most of them are faithless.

101. And when there came to them a messenger from Allah, confirming what was with them, a party of the people of the Book threw away the Book of Allah(102) behind their backs, as if (it had been something) they did not know!

102. I think that by 'the Book of Allah' here is meant, not the Qur'an, but the Book which the People of the Book had been given, viz., the previous Revelations. The argument is that Muhammad's Message was similar to Revelations which they had already received, and if they had looked into their own Books honestly and sincerely, they would have found proofs in them to show that the new Message was true and from Allah. But they ignored their own Books or twisted or distorted them according to their own fancies. Worse, they followed something which was actually false and mischievous and inspired by the evil one. Such was the belief in magic and sorcery. These are described in the next verse in terms referring to the beliefs and practices of the 'People of the Book.' (Cf. 3:187).

103. They followed what the evil ones(103) gave out (falsely) against the power of Solomon: the blasphemers Were, not Solomon, but the evil ones, teaching men Magic, and such things as came down at babylon to the angels Harut and Marut(104). But neither of these taught anyone (Such things) without saying: "We are only for trial; so do not blaspheme." They learned from them(105) the means to sow discord between man and wife. But they could not thus harm anyone except by Allah's permission. And they learned what harmed them, not what profited them. And they knew that the buyers of (magic) would have no share in the happiness of the Hereafter. And vile was the price for which they did sell their souls, if they but knew!

104. O ye of Faith! Say not (to the Messenger, words of ambiguous import(106), but words of respect; and hearken (to him): To those without Faith is a grievous punishment.

105. It is never the wish of those without Faith among the People of the Book, nor of the Pagans, that anything good should come down to you from your Lord. But Allah will choose for His special Mercy whom He will—for Allah is Lord of grace abounding.

106. None of Our revelations(107) do We abrogate or cause to be forgotten, but We substitute something better or similar: Knowest thou not that Allah hath power over all things?

107. The word which I have translated by the word 'revelations' is Ayat. See C. 42 and n. 15. It is not only used for verses of the Qur'an, but in a general sense for Allah's revelations, and signifies that for other revelations by angels on behalf of Allah in history or nature, or miracles, as in 2:251. It has even been used for human signs and tokens of wonder, as, for example, monuments or landmarks built by the ancient people of 'Ad (26:120). What is the meaning here? If we take it in a general sense, it means that Allah's Message from age to age is always the same, but that its form may differ according to the needs and exigencies of the time. That form was different as given to Moses and then to Jesus and then to Muhammad. Some commentators apply it also to the Ayat of the Qur'an. There is nothing derogatory in this if we believe in progressive revelation. In 3:27 we are told distinctly about the Qur'an, that some of its verses are clear (and of established meaning), and others are not entirely clear, and it is mischievous to treat the verses that are not entirely clear and to follow them literally. On the other hand, it is absurd to treat such a verse as 2:115 as if it were abrogated by 2:144 about Qiblah.

There may be express abrogation, or there may be "causing or permitting to forget." How many gradual and new institutions have become obscure by exilf of time? Then there is the gradual process of disuse or forgetting in evolution.

This does not mean that eternal principles change. It is only a sign of Allah's infinite power that His creation should take so many forms and shapes not only in the material world but in the world of man's thought and expression.

107. Knowest thou not that to Allah belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth? And besides Him ye have neither patron nor helper.
108. Would ye question your Messenger as Moses(108) was questioned of old? but whoever changeth from Faith to Unbelief, Hath strayed without doubt from the even way(109).

109. Moses was constantly harassed with foolish, imperitent, or disingenuous questions by his own people. We must not follow that bad example. In spiritual matters, pose no good; questions should be asked only for real instruction.

110. Even way:" the Arabic word saw a.' signifies smoothness as opposed to roughness; symmetry as opposed to want of plan; equality or proportion as opposed to want of design; rectitude as opposed to crookedness; a mean as opposed to extremes; and fitness for the object held in view as opposed to faithlessness. (Cf. n. 711).

110. Quite a number of the People of the Book wish they could Turn you (people) back to infidelity after ye have believed, from selfish envy, after the Truth hath become Manifest unto them: But forgive and overlook(110), Till Allah accomplish His purpose; for Allah Hath power over all things(112).

111. Three words are used in the Qur'an, with a meaning akin to 'forgive', but each with a different shade of meaning. 'Afa there translated 'overlook' means to turn away from, to ignore, to treat a matter as if it did not affect one. Glafara (which does not occur in this verse) means to cover up something as Allah does to our sins with His grace: this is particularly appropriate in Allah's attribute to Glalalr, the One who forgives again and again.

112. Note how this phrase, seemingly repeated from 2:106 and occurring in many other places, has an appropriate signification in each place. In 2:106 we were told about progressive revelation, how the same thing may take different forms, and seeming human infirmity contribute to the fulfillment of Allah's designs, for Allah's power is unlimited. Here we are told to be patient and forgiving against envy and injustice; this too may be fulfilling Allah's purpose, for His power is infinite.

110. And be steadfast in prayer and regular in charity: And whatever good ye send forth for your souls(113) before you, ye shall find it with Allah. for Allah sees Well all that ye do.

113. Cf. 2:93sn. 100.

111. And they say: "None shall enter Paradise unless he be a Jew or a Christian." Those are their (vain) desires. Say: "Produce your proof if ye are truthful."

112. Nay,-whoever submits His whole self(114) to Allah and is a doer of good,- He will get his reward with His Lord; on such shall be no fear, nor shall they have to be applied later, as when one prepares dough but leaves the leavening to do its work itself. (R).

113. This phrase comes aptly in its own context many times. In this Surah it occurs in 2:38, 62, 112, 262:274, and 277. (R).

114. The Jews say: "The Christians have taught (to stand) upon; and the Christians say: "The Jews have taught (To stand) upon." Yet they (Profess to) study the (same) Book. Like unto its word is what those say who know not(116); but Allah will judge between them in their quarrel on the Day of Judgment.

115. To Allah belong the east and the West: Whithersoever ye turn, there is Allah's countenance(118). For Allah is all-Embracing, all-Knowing.

116. They say: "(Allah) hath begotten a son" :Glory be to Him.-Nay, to Him belongs all that is in the heavens and on earth: everything renders worship to Him(119).

117. It is a derogation from the glory of Allah-in fact it is blasphemy — to say that Allah begets sons, like a man or an animal. The Christian doctrine is here emphatically repudiated. If words have any meaning, it would mean an attribution to Allah of a material nature, and of the lower animal functions of sex. (R). (Cf. 3:9).

118. That is, you will face Allah whosoever direction you turn your face. See note 2:112 above, (R).

119. Then, as Moses was constantly harassed with foolish, impertinent, or disingenuous questions by his own people. We must not follow that bad example. In spiritual matters, pose no good; questions should be asked only for real instruction.

120. The previous verse told us that everything in heaven and earth celebrates the glory of Allah. Lest anyone should think that the heavens and the earth were themselves primeval and eternal, we are now told that they themselves are creations of Allah's will and design. Cf. 6:149, where the word lada'a is used as here for the creation of the heavens and the earth, and lada'a a laqa is used for the creation of all things. lada'a goes back to the very primal beginning, as far as we can conceive it. The materialists might say that primeval matter was eternal; other things, i.e., the forms and shapes as we see them now, were called into being at some time or other, and will perish. When they perish, they dissolve into primeval matter again, which stands at the base of all existence. We go further back. We say that if we postulate such primeval matter, it owes its origin itself to Allah, Who is the final basis of existence, the Cause of all Causes. If this is conceded, we proceed to argue that the process of Creation is not then completed. 'All things in the heavens and on the earth' are created by gradual processes. 'In things' we include abstract as well as material things. We see the abstract ideas and things actually growing before us. But that also is Allah's creation, to which we can apply the word alaha, for in it is involved the idea of measuring, fitting it into a scheme of other things. Cf. 34:49; also 25:50. Here comes in what we know as the process of evolution. On the other hand, the 'a'ar (Command, Direction) is a single thing, unrelated to Time, 'like the twinkling of an eye' (54:30). Another word to note in this connection is 'ala'a making' which seems to imply new shapes and forms, new dispositions, as the making of the Signs of the Zodiac in the heavens, or the setting out of the sun and moon for light, or the establishment of the succession of day and night (63:61-62). A further process with regard to the soul is described in the word sawa', bringing it to perfection (91:7) but this we shall discuss in its place. Fatara (42:11) implies, like lada'a, 'the creating of a thing out of nothing and after no pre-existing similitude, but perhaps fatara implies the creation of primeval matter to which further processes have to be applied later, as when one prepares dough but leaves the leavening to do its work itself. (R).
119. Verily We have sent thee in truth as a bearer of glad tidings and a warner: But of thee no question shall be asked of the Companions of the Blazing Fire.

120. Never will the Jews or the Christians be satisfied with thee unless thou follow their form of religion. Say: "The Guidance of Allah,-that is the (Only) Guidance." Wert thou to follow their desires after the knowledge which hath reached thee, then wouldst thou find neither Protector nor helper against Allah.

121. Those to whom We have sent the Book study it as it should be studied: They are the ones that believe therein: Those who reject faith therein,- the loss is their own.

122. O Children of Israel! call to mind the special favour which I bestowed upon you, and that I preferred you to all others (for My Message).

123. Then guard yourselves against a-Day when one soul shall not avail another, nor shall compensation be accepted from her nor shall intercession profit her nor shall anyone be helped (from outside)(122).

124. And remember that Abraham was tried by his Lord with certain commands(123), which he fulfilled: He said: "I will make thee an Imam(124) to the Nations." He pleaded: "And also (Imams) from my offspring!"

125. Remember We made the House(125) a place of prayer, or use it as a retreat, or bow, or prostrate round, or use it as a spiritual retreat, for contemplation and prayer: Tawaf.

126. Four rites are here enumerated, which have now acquired a technical meaning. (1) Compassing the sacred territory, or going round the Ka'bah: Tawar I. (2) Retiring to the place as a spiritual retreat, for contemplation and prayer: I'tikaf. (3) The posture of bending the back in prayer: Ruku'. (4) The posture of prostrating oneself on the ground in prayer: Sujud. The protection of the holy territory is for all, but special cleanliness and purity is required for the sake of the devotees who undertake these rites. (R).

127. And remember Abraham said: "My Lord, make this a City of Peace,(127), and feed its people with fruits,(128)-such of them as believe in Allah and the Last Day." He said: "(Yea), and such as reject Faith,- for a while will I grant them their pleasure, but will soon drive them to the torment of Fire,- an evil destination (indeed)!"

128. The root salah in the word Islam implies (among other ideas) the idea of Peace and therefore when Makkah is the city of Islam , it is also the City of Peace. The same root occurs in the latter part of the name Jerusalem, the Jewish City of Peace. When the day of Jerusalem passed (see verse 134 or 141 below), Makkah became the "New Jerusalem" - or rather the old and original 'City of Peace' restored and made universal.

129. The territory of Makkah is barren and rocky, compared with, say, Ta'if, a city to the east of Makkah. A prayer for the prosperity of Makkah therefore includes a prayer for the good things of material life. (R).

130. And remember Abraham and Isma`il raised the foundations of the House (With this prayer): "Our Lord! Accept (this service) from us: For Thou art the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing.

131. "Our Lord! make of us Muslims, bowing to Thy (Will), and of our progeny a people Muslim, bowing to Thy (will); and show us our place for the celebration of (due) rites; and turn unto us (in Mercy); for Thou art the Oft-Returning, Most Merciful.

132. "Our Lord! send amongst them a Messenger of their own, who shall rehearse Thy Signs to them and instruct them in scripture and wisdom, and sanctify them: For Thou art the Exalted in Might, the Wise(129)."

133. How beautiful this prayer is, and how aptly it conies in here in the argument! Such Paganism or star-worship or planet-worship as there was in Abraham's time was first cleared out of Makkah by Abraham, This is the chief meaning of "sanctification" or "purification" in 2:124, although of course physical cleanliness is (in physical conditions) a necessary element of purification in the higher sense. Abraham and his elder son Isma'il then built the Ka'bah and established the rites and usages of the sacred city. He was thus the founder of the original Islam (which is as old as mankind) in Arabia. As becomes a devout man, he offers and dedicates the work to Allah in humble supplication, addressing Him as the All-Hearing and the All-Knowing. He then asks for a blessing on himself and progeny generally, both the children of his eldest-born Isma il and his younger son Isaac. With prophetic vision he foresees that there will be corruption and backsliding in both branches of his family: Makkah will house 360 idols, Jerusalem will become a harlot city (Ezekiel 16:15), a city of abomination. But the light of Islam will shine, and reclaim the lost people in both branches and indeed in all the world. So he prays for Allah's mercy, addressing Him as the Oft-Returning, Most Merciful. And finally he foresees in Makkah a Prophet teaching the people as one 'of their own,' and in their own beautiful Arabic language: he asks for a blessing on Muhammad's ministry, appealing to the Power and Wisdom of Allah.

134. And who turns away from the religion of Abraham but such as be deaf to their souls with folly? Him We chose(130) and rendered pure in this world: And he will be in the Hereafter in the ranks of the Righteous.

135. Istad: choose: because of purity; chose and purified. It is the same root from which Musta'la is derived, one of the titles of Muhammad.

136. Behold! his Lord said to him: "Bow (thy will to Me):" He said: "I bow (my will) to the Lord and Cherisher of the Universe."

137. And this was the legacy that Abraham left to his sons, and so did Jacob: "Oh my sons! Allah hath chosen the Faith for you; then die not except in the Faith of Islam."

133. Were ye witnesses(131) when death appeared before Jacob? Behold, he said to his sons: "What will ye worship after me?" They said: "We shall worship Thy Allah and the Allah of thy fathers(132), of Abraham, Isma'il and Isaac,- the one (True) Allah. To Him we bow (in Islam)."

134. That was a people that hath passed away. They shall reap the fruit of what they did, and ye of what ye do! Of their merits there is no question in your case(133)!

135. They say: "Become Jews or Christians if ye would be guided (To salvation)." Say thou: "Nay! (I would rather) the Religion of Abraham the True(134), and he joined not gods with Allah."

136. Say ye: "We believe in Allah, and the revelation given to us, and to Abraham, Isma'il, Isaac, Jacob, and the Tribes, and that given to Moses and Jesus, and that given to (all) prophets from their Lord: We make no difference between one and another of them: And we bow to Allah (in Islam)(135) ."

137. Sîghah: the root-meaning implies a dye or colour; apparently the Arab Christians mixed a dye or colour in the baptismal water, signifying that the baptized person got a new colour in life. We do not believe that it is necessary to be baptized to be saved. Eds.

138. Say: Will ye dispute with us about Allah, seeing that He is our Lord and your Lord; that we are responsible for our doings and ye for yours; and that we are sincere (in our faith) in Him?

139. Verse 134 began a certain argument, which is now rounded off in the same words in this verse. To use a musical term, the coda is now completed. The argument is that it is wrong to claim a monopoly for Allah's Message: it is the same peoples and in all ages: if it undergoes local variations or variations according to times and seasons those variations pass away. This leads to the argument in the remainder of the Sura that with the renewal of the Message and the birth of a new people, a new symbolism and new ordinances become appropriate, and they are now expounded.

140. The alternative is with the question in the last verse. Do you dispute with us although we worship the same God as you and claim that ours is the same religion as that of your ancestors? Or do you really assert that Abraham and his son and his sons' sons, who founded the Tribes long before Moses, followed your Jewish religion as you know it? History of course proves that claim absurd. If the Christians claim that these Patriarchs knew of and followed the teaching of Jesus, the claim is still more absurd — except in the sense of Islam that Allah's teaching is one in all ages.

141. That was a people that hath passed away. They shall reap the fruit of what they did, and ye of what ye do! Of their merits there is no question in your case(139):

142. The fools among the people(140) will say: "What hath turned them from the Qiblah(141) to which they were used?" Say: To Allah belong both east and West: He guideth whom He will to a Way that is straight.

143. Thus(142), have We made of you an Ummat justly balanced(143), that ye might be witnesses(144) over the nations, and the Messenger a witness over yourselves; and We appointed the Qibla to which thou wast used, only to test those who followed the Messenger from those who would turn on their heels(145) (From the Faith). Indeed it was (A change) momentous, except to those guided by Allah. And never would Allah Make your faith of no effect(146). For Allah is to all people Most surely full of kindness, Most Merciful.

145. Thus: By giving you a Qiblah of your own, most ancient in history, and most modern as a symbol of your organisation as a new nation (Ummah).

146. Jawf balanced: The essence of Islam is to avoid all extravagances on either side. It is a sober, practical religion. But the Arabic word (wasaat) also implies a touch of the literal meaning of Intermediary. Geographically, Arabia is in an intermediate position in the Old World, as was proved in history by the rapid expansion of Islam, north, south, west and east.

147. Witnesses. When two persons dispute, they advance extravagant claims. A just witness comes between them, and brings the light of reason to bear on them, pruning all their selfish extravagances. So the mission of Islam is to curb, the extreme formalism of the Mosaic law and the extreme "other-worldliness" professed by Christianity. The witness must be unsullied, equipped with first-hand knowledge, and ready to intervene in the cause of justice. Such is the position claimed by Islam among rival systems. Similarly, within Islam itself, the position of witness to whom disputants can appeal is held by Muhammad Al Mustafaa, (CC 3:335, 3:44, and 3:9).

148. The Qiblah of Jerusalem might itself have seemed strange to the Arabs, and the change from it to the Ka'bah might have seemed strange after they had become used to the other. In reality one direction or another, or east or west, in itself did not matter. What mattered was the sense of discipline, on which Islam lays so much stress; which of us is willing to follow the directions of the chosen Prophet of Allah? Mere quibblers about non-essential matters are tested by this. (R).

149. What became of prayer with the Jerusalem Qiblah? It was equally efficacious before the new Qiblah was ordained. Allah regards our faith: every act of true and genuine faith is efficacious with Him, even if formalists pick holes in such acts.

150. We see the turning of thy face (for guidance) To the heavens: now Shall We turn thee to a Qiblah that shall please thee. Turn then Thy face in the direction of the sacred Mosque; that is to say, face the Ka'bah, the Qiblah abrogates 2:115, where it is stated that East and West belong to the People of the Book; but some of them conceal the truth which they themselves know.

151. The People of the Book should have known all this as well as "they knew their own sons," as their past traditions and teaching should have made them receptive of the new Message. Some commentators construe the demonstrative pronoun 'this' to refer to the Prophet. In that case the interpretation would be: The People of the Book know Muhammad as well as they know their own sons; they know him to be true and upright, they know him to be in the line of Abraham: they know him to correspond to the description of the prophet foretold among themselves; but selfishness induces some of them to act against their own knowledge and conceal the truth.

152. The Truth is from thy Lord: so be not at all in doubt.

153. Wheresoever ye are, turn your faces to the Lord's Qiblah. This shows the sincere desire of Al Mustafaa to seek light from above in the matter of the Qiblah. Until the organisation of his own People into a well-knit community, with its distinctive laws and ordinances, he followed a practice based on the fact that the Jews and Christians looked upon Jerusalem as a sacred city. But there was no universal Qiblah among them. Some Jews turned towards Jerusalem, especially during the Captivity, as we shall see later. At the time of our Prophet, Jerusalem was in the hands of the Byzantine Empire, which was Christian. But the Christians oriented their churches to the East (hence the word 'orientation'), which is a point of the compass, and not the direction of any sacred place. The fact of the altar being in the East does not mean that every worshipper has his face to the east: for, according to at least to modern practice, the seats in a church are so placed that different worshippers may face in different directions. The teacher of Unity naturally wanted, in this as in other matters, a symbol of complete unity, and his heart was naturally delighted when the Qiblah towards the Ka'bah was settled. Its connection with Abraham gave it great antiquity: its laying so much stress: which of us is willing to follow the directions of the chosen Prophet of Allah? Mere quibblers about non-essential matters are tested by this.

154. The Sacred Mosque: i.e. the mosque wherein the Ka'bah is located, in the sacred city of Makkah. It is not correct to suggest that the command making the Ka'bah the Qiblah abrogates 2:115, where it is stated that East and West belong to Allah. This is perfectly true at all times, before and after the institution of the Qiblah. As it to emphasise this, the same words about East and West are repeated in this very passage, see 2:142 above. Where the Inqir mentions mansukh in this connection, I am sorry I cannot follow that opinion, unless mansukh is defined in a special way, as some of the commentators do. (R).

155. Glimmerings of such a Qiblah were already foreshadowed in Jewish and Christian practice but its universality was only perfected in Islam.

156. Even if thou wert to bring to the people of the Book all the Signs (together), they would not follow Thy Qiblah; nor art thou going to follow their Qiblah; nor indeed will they follow(150) each other's Qiblah. If thou after the knowledge hath reached thee, Wert to follow their (vain) desires, then wert thou Indeed (clearly) in the wrong.

See n. 147 to 2:144 above.

157. The Jews and Christians had a glimmering of the Qiblah idea, but in their attitude of self-sufficiency they were not likely to welcome the Qiblah idea as perfected in Islam. Nor is Islam, after the fuller knowledge which it has received, likely to revert to the uncertain, imperfect, and varying ideas of orientation held previously.

A very clear glimpse of the old Jewish practice in the matter of the Qiblah and the importance attached to it is found in the book of Daniel. 6:10. Daniel was a righteous man of primeval lineage and lived about 506-538 B.C. He was carried off to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar, the Assyrian, but was still living when Assyria was overthrown by the Medes and Persians. In spite of the "captivity" of the Jews, Daniel enjoyed the highest offices of state at Babylon, but he was ever true to Jerusalem. His enemies (under the Persian monarch) got a penal law passed against any one who "asked a petition of any god or man for 30 days" except the Persian King. But Daniel continued true to Jerusalem. His windows being open in his chamber to wards Jerusalem, he knelted upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime;”

158. The people of the Book know this as they know their own sons: but some of them conceal the truth which they themselves know.

159. The People of the Book should have known all this as well as "they knew their own sons," as their past traditions and teaching should have made them receptive of the new Message. Some commentators construe the demonstrative pronoun 'this' to refer to the Prophet. In that case the interpretation would be: The People of the Book know Muhammad as well as they know their own sons; they know him to be true and upright, they know him to be in the line of Abraham: they know him to correspond to the description of the prophet foretold among themselves; but selfishness induces some of them to act against their own knowledge and conceal the truth.

160. The Truth is from thy Lord: so be not at all in doubt.

161. Truth only comes from Allah, and it remains truth, however men might try to conceal it or throw doubts on it.

162. To each is a goal to which Allah turns him; then strive together (as in a race) Towards all that is good. Wheresoever ye are, Allah will bring you Together. For Allah Hath power over all things.

163. The question is how we are to construe the pronoun, hana, in the original. The alternative translation would be: "To each is a goal to which he turns."
The simile of life being a race in which we all zealously run forward to the one goal, viz. the goal of good, may be applied individually and nationally. This supplies another argument of the Ka'bah Qiblah, viz., the unity of goal, with diversity of races, traditions and temperaments.

164. From whencesoever Thou startest forth, turn Thy face in the direction of the sacred Mosque; that is indeed the truth from the Lord. And Allah is not unmindful of what ye do.

165. The simile of a race is continued, and so the Qiblah command is repeated from that point of view. In 2:141 it was mentioned as the new symbol of the new nation (Muslim); now it is shown as the symbol of Good, at which we should all aim, from whichever point we start, e.g. as Jews or Christians, or our individual point of view; the Qiblah will unite us as a symbol of the Goal of the Future. In 2:150 below, it is repeated; first for the individual, on the ground of uniformity and the removal of all occasions of dispute and argument; and secondly for the Muslim people, on the same ground, as a matter of discipline. There is another little harmony in the matter of the repetitions. Note that the race and starting point argument begins at 2:149 and is rounded off in the first part of 2:150; while the national and general argument beginning at 2:144 is rounded off in the latter part of 2:150. The latter argument includes the former, and is more widely worded: "wheresoever ye are" which in the Arabic expression would imply three things: in whatever circumstances ye are, or at whatever time ye are, or in whatever place ye are. I have spoken before of a sort of musical harmony in verbal repetitions: here there is a sort of pictorial harmony, as of a larger circle symmetrically including a smaller concentric circle.

166. So from whencesoever Thou startest forth, turn Thy face in the direction of the sacred Mosque; and wheresoever ye are, Turn your face thither: that there be no ground of dispute against you among the people, except those of them that are bent on wickedness; so fear them not, but fear Me; and that I may complete My favours on you, and ye May (consent to be) guided;
151. A similar (favour have ye already received) (155) in that We have sent among you a Messenger of your own, rehearsing to you Our Signs, and sanctifying you, and instructing you in Scripture and Wisdom, and in new knowledge.

152. Then do ye remember (156) Me; I will remember you. Be grateful to Me, and reject not Faith.

153. O ye who believe! seek help with patient perseverance (157) and prayer; for Allah is with those who patiently persevere.

154. And say not of those who are slain in the way (158) of Allah, "They are dead." Nay, they are living, though ye perceive (it) not.

155. The 'patient perseverance and prayer' mentioned in the last verse is not mere passivity. It is active striving in the way of Truth, which is the way of Allah. Such striving is the spending of one's self in Allah's way, either through our property or through our own lives, or the lives of those nearest and dearest to us, or it may be the loss of all the fruits of a lifetime's labour not only in material goods but in some intellectual or moral gain, some position which seemed in our eyes to be eminently desirable in itself, but which we must cheerfully sacrifice if necessary for the Cause. With such sacrifice, our apparent loss may be our real gain; he that loses his life may really gain it; and the rewards or 'fruits' that seem lost were mere impediments on our path to real inward progress. (R). (Cf. 2:31).

156. The word 'remember' is too pale a word for dhab kir, which has now acquired a large number of associations in our religious literature. In its verbal signification it implies; to remember; to praise by frequently mentioning; to rehearse; to celebrate or commemorate; to make much of; to cherish the memory of as a precious possession. (R). (Cf. 2:31).

157. See 2:65 and n. 61. An additional meaning implied in sahir is self-restrain. Hang a ni defines it in his Tafsir as following reason and restraining Fear, Anger, and Desire. What can be a higher reward for patience, perseverance, self-restraint and constancy than that Allah should be with us? For this promise opens the door to every kind of spiritual well-being. (Cf. n. 158 and n. 1877).

158. The patient perseverance of Salih was mentioned in the last verse is not mere passivity. It is active striving in the way of Truth, which is the way of Allah. Such striving is the spending of one's self in Allah's way, either through our property or through our own lives, or the lives of those nearest and dearest to us, or it may be the loss of all the fruits of a lifetime's labour not only in material goods but in some intellectual or moral gain, some position which seemed in our eyes to be eminently desirable in itself, but which we must cheerfully sacrifice if necessary for the Cause. With such sacrifice, our apparent loss may be our real gain; he that loses his life may really gain it; and the rewards or 'fruits' that seem lost were mere impediments on our path to real inward progress. (R). (Cf. 3:169).

159. The glad tidings are the blessings of Allah in 2:157 or (which is the same thing) the promise in 2:153 that Allah will be with them.

160. Who say, when afflicted with calamity: "To Allah We belong, and to Him is our return"?

161. They are those on whom (Descend) blessings from Allah, and Mercy, and they are the ones that receive guidance.

162. Behold! Safa and Marwa are among the Symbols (160) of Allah. So if those who visit the House (161) in the Season or at other times, should compass them round, it is no sin in them. And if any one obeyeth his own impulse to good (162), be sure that Allah is He Who recogniseth and knoweth.

163. The virtue of patient perseverance in faith leads to the mention of two symbolic monuments of that virtue. These are the two little hills of Safa and Marwah now absorbed in the city of Makka, and close to the well of Zamzam. Here, according to tradition, the lady Hajar, mother of the infant Ismail, prayed for water in the parched desert, and in her eager quest round these hills, she found her prayer answered and saw the Zamzam spring. Unfortunately the Pagan Arabs had placed a male and a female idol here, and their gross and superstitious rites caused offense to the early Muslims. They felt some hesitation in going round these places during the Pilgrimage. As a matter of fact they should have known that the Ka'bah (the House of Allah) had been itself defiled with idols, and was sanctified again by the purity of Muhammad's life and teaching. The lesson is that the most sacred things may be turned to the basest uses; that we are not therefore necessarily to ban a thing misused; that if our intentions and life are pure, Allah will recognise them even if the world cast stones at us because of some evil associations which they join with what we do, or with the people we associate with, or with the places which claim our reverence.

164. Behold! in the creation of the heavens and the earth; in the alternation of the night and the day; in the sailing of the ships through the ocean for the profit of mankind; in the rain which Allah Sends down from the sky, and the clouds which they Trail like their slaves through the ocean; in the storms and the winds; in the beasts of all kinds that He has created in the "best of moulds" (Q. 95:4). The terrible curses denounced in the Old Testament are set out in Deut. 28:15-68. There is one difference. Here it is for the deliberate rejection of Faith, a theological term for the denying of our Lord's existence. Those who reject Faith, and die rejecting,- on them is Allah's curse, and the curse of angels, and of all mankind;

165. And your Allah is One Allah. There is no god but He, Most Gracious, Most Merciful (165).

166. Where the terrible consequences of Evil, i.e., the rejection of Allah, are mentioned, there is always stress laid on Allah's attributes of Grace and Mercy. In this case Unity is also stressed, because we have just been told about the Qiblah symbol of unity and are about to pass the theme of unity in diversity, in Nature and in the social laws of human society.

167. Behold! in the creation of the heavens and the earth; in the alternation of the night and the day; in the sailing of the ships through the ocean for the profit of mankind; in the rain which Allah Sends down from the skies, and the life which He gives therewith to an earth that is dead; in the beasts of all kinds that He scatters through the earth; in the change of the winds, and the clouds which they Trail like their slaves between the sky and the earth: (Here) indeed are Signs for a people that are wise.

168. Yet there are men who take (for worship) others besides Allah, as equal (with Allah). They love them as they should love Allah. But those of Faith are overflowing in their love for Allah. If only the unrighteous could see, behold, they would see the penalty: that to Allah belongs all power, and Allah will strongly enforce the Punishment(167).

167 Everything around and within us points to unity of purpose and design — points to Allah. Yet there are foolish persons (unrighteous — those who deliberately use the choice given them to go wrong). They think something else is equal to Allah. Perhaps they even do lip service to Allah, but their heart is in their fetish — unlike the heart of the righteous, who are wholly devoted and absorbed in the love of Allah. If only the unrighteous could see the consequences, they would see the terrible Penalty, and that all Power is in Allah’s hands, not in those of any one else. Who are these others who are used as fetishes by the misguided? They may be: (1) creatures of their own imagination, or of their faculties misused; the idea lying behind idols is akin to this, for no intelligent idol-worshipper owns to worshipping stocks and stones; or (2) good leaders whose names have been misused out of perversity to erect them to a position of equality with Allah; or (3) powers of evil that deliberately mislead. When it comes to the inevitable consequences of blasphemy and the rejection of Allah, the eyes of all are opened and these false and artificial relations dissolve. The idea which was created into a fetish disowns its follower, i.e., is seen to have no reasonable basis in the life of the follower, and the follower is forced to renounce it as false. The good leaders whose names were misused would of course disown the misuse of their names, and the evil ones would take an unhappy delight in exposing the facts. The Reality is now irresistible, but alas! at what cost? (Cf. 3:30).

166 Then would those who are followed clear themselves of those who follow (them): They would see the penalty, and all relations between them would be cut off.

167 And those who followed would say: “If only We had one more chance, We would clear ourselves of them, as they have cleared themselves of us.” Thus will Allah show them (The fruits of) their deeds as (nothing but) regrets. Nor will there be a way for them out of the Fire(168).

168 O ye people! Eat of what is on earth, Lawful and good(169); and do not follow the footsteps of the evil one, for he is to you an avowed enemy.

169 We now come to the regulations about food. First (2:168-71) we have an appeal to all people, Muslims, Pagans, as well as the People of the Book; then (2:172-73) to the Muslims specially; then (2:174-470) to the sort of men who then (as some do now) either believe in too much formalism or believe in no restrictions at all. Islam follows the Golden Mean. All well-regulated societies lay down reasonable limitations. These become incumbent on all loyal members of any given society, and show what is “lawful” in that society. But if the limitations are reasonable, as they should be, the “lawful” will also coincide more and more with what is “good.”

170 For he commands you what is evil and shameful, and that ye should say of Allah that of which ye have no knowledge.

171 When it is said to them: “Follow what Allah hath revealed:” They say: “Nay! we shall follow the ways of our fathers.” What! even though their fathers Were void of wisdom and guidance?

172 O ye who believe! Eat of the good things that We have provided for you, and be grateful to Allah, if it is Him ye worship(172).

173 He hath only forbidden you dead meat(173), and blood, and the flesh of swine, and that on which any other name hath been invoked besides that of Allah. And those who followed would say: “If only We had another chance, We would clear ourselves of them, they would be obviously ruled out.

174 For prohibited foods, cf. also 5:4-5; 6:121, 138-146 etc. The teachers of Fiqh (Religious Law) work out the details with great elaboration. My purpose is to present general principles, not technical details. Carrion or dead meat and blood as articles of food would obviously cause disgust to any refined person. So would swine’s flesh where the swine lives on offal. Where swine are fed artifically on clean food, the objections remain:

(1) that they are filthy animals in other respects, and the flesh of filthy animals taken as food affects the eater;

(2) that swine’s flesh has more fat than muscle-building material and (3) that it is more liable to disease than other kinds of meat, e.g., trichinosis, characteized by hair-like worms in the muscular tissue. As to food dedicated to idols or false gods, it is obviously unseemly for the Children of Unity to partake of it.

174 Those who conceal Allah’s revelations in the Book, and purchase for them a miserable profit,—they shall swallow into themselves(175) naught but Fire; Allah will not address them on the Day of Resurrection. Nor purify them: Grievous will be their penalty.

175 They eat nothing but fire into their bellies’ is a literal translation that produces an effect of rude inelegance which is not in the Arabic words. Error on the one hand and extreme formalism on the other. It has laid down a few simple and very reasonable rules. Their infraction causes loss of health or physical poisons in an case. But if there is further a spirit of subjective rebellion or fraud — passing off in the name of religion something which is far from the purpose — the consequences become also moral and spiritual. Then it becomes a sin against Faith and Spirit. Continuine the physical simile, we actually swallow fire into our physical body! They would be infinitely worse in our spiritual state, and they would go on to the Day of Resurrection, when we shall be deprived even of the words which the Judge speaks to a reasonable culprit, and we shall certainly not win His Grace and Mercy.

175 They are the ones who buy Error in place of Guidance and Torment in place of Forgiveness. Ah! what boldness (They show) for the Fire!

176 (Their doom is) because Allah sent down the Book in truth but those who seek causes of dispute in the Book are in a schism(176) Far (from the purpose).

176 From the mere physical regulation we are at once lifted up into the sphere of morals and faith. For the one acts and reacts on the other. If we are constantly carping at wholesome regulations, we shall do nothing but cause division and schisms among the people, and ordered society would tend to break up. (Cf. 41:1-2).

177 It is not righteousness that ye turn your faces Towards east or West; but it is righteousness(177)- to believe in Allah(178) and the Last Day, and the Angels, and the Book, and the Messengers; to spend of your substance (179), out of love for Him, for your kin, for orphans, for the needy, for the wayfarer, for those who ask, and for the ransom of slaves; to be steadfast in prayer (180), and practice regular charity; to fulfill the contracts which ye have made; and to be firm and patient (181), in pain (or suffering) and adversity, and throughout all periods of panic. Such are the people of truth, the Allah fearing.

177 As if to emphasise again a warning against deadening formalism, we are given a beautiful description of the righteous and God fearing man. He should obey salutary regulations, but he should fix his gaze on the love of Allah and the love of His Angels, His Messengers and His Message are no longer remote from us, but come within our experience. (R).

178 Faith is not merely a matter of words. We must realise the presence and goodness of Allah. When we do so, the scales fall from our eyes; all the futilities and fleeting nature of the Present cease to enslave us, for we see the Last Day as if it were today. We also see Allah's working in His world and in us: His Angels, His Messengers and His Message are no longer remote from us, but come within our experience. (R).

179 Practical deeds of charity are of value when they proceed from love and from no other motive. In this respect, also, our duties take various forms, which are shown in reasonable gradation: our kith and kin: orphans (find no persons who are without support or help); people who are in real need but who never ask (it is our duty to find them out, and they come before those who ask): the stranger, who is entitled to laws of hospitality; the people who ask and are entitled to ask, i.e., not merely lazy beggars, but those who seek our assistance in some form or another (it is our duty to respond to them); and the slaves (we must do all we can to give or buy their freedom). Slavery has many insidious forms, and are all included.

180 Charity and piety in individual cases do not complete our duties. In prayer and charity we must also look to our organised effort. Where there is a Muslim State, these are made through the State in facilities for public prayer, and public assistance, and for the maintenance of contracts and fair dealing in all matters.

181 Then come the Muslim virtues of firmness and patience. They are to "preserve the dignity of man, with soul effect" (Burns). Three sets of circumstances are specially mentioned for the exercise of this virtue: (1) bodily pain or suffering, (2) adversities or injuries of all kinds, deserved and undeserved, and (3) periods of public panic, such as war, violence, pestilence, etc.

182 O ye who believe! the law of equality (182) is prescribed to you in cases of murder (183): the free for the free, the slave for the slave, the woman for the woman. But if any remission is made by the brother (184) of the slain, then grant any reasonable demand (185), and compensate him with handsome gratitude, this is a concession and a Mercy from your Lord. After this whoever exceeds the limits shall be in grave penalty.

183 The jurists have carefully laid down that the law of qisas refers to murder only. Qisas is not applicable to manslaughter, due to a mistake or an accident. Then, there would be no capital punishment.

184 The brother, the term is perfectly general; all men are brothers in Islam. In this, and in all questions of inheritance, females have similar rights to males, and therefore the masculine gender imports both sexes. Here we are considering the rights of the heirs in the light of the larger brotherhood. In 2:178-179 we have the rights of the heirs to life (as it were): in 2:180-182 we proceed to the heirs to property.

185 The demand should be such as can be met by the party concerned, i.e., within his means, and reasonable according to justice and good conscience. For example, a demand could not be made affecting the honour of a woman or a man. The whole penalty can be remitted if the aggrieved party agrees, out of brotherly love. In meeting that demand the culprit or his friends should equally be generous and recognise the good will of the other side. There should be no subterfuges, no bribes, no unseemly byplay: otherwise the whole intention of mercy and peace is lost.

179 In the Law of Equality there is (saving of) Life to you, o ye men of understanding; that ye may restrain yourselves.

180 It is prescribed, when death approaches any of you, if he leave any goods that he may bequeath to parents and next of kin (186), according to reasonable usage; this is due from the Allah fearing.

186 There are rules of course for the disposal of intestate property. But it is a good thing that a dying man or woman should, of his own free will, think of his parents and his next of kin, not in a spirit of injustice to others, but in a spirit of love and reverence for those who have cherished him. He must, however, do it "according to reasonable usage": the limitations will be seen further on.

181 If anyone changes the bequest after hearing it, the guilt shall be on those who make the change. For Allah hears and knows (All things).

182 But if anyone fears partiality or wrongdoing (187) on the part of the testator, and makes peace between (The parties concerned), there is no wrong in him: For Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

187 A verbal will is allowed but it is expected that the testator will be just to his heirs and not depart from what is considered equitable. For this reason definite shares were laid down for heirs later (see 4:11, etc.). These define or limit the testamentary power, but do not abrogate it. For example, amongst kin there are persons (e.g., an orphan grandson in the presence of surviving sons) who would not inherit under the intestate scheme, and the testator might like to provide for them. Again, there may be outsiders for whom he may wish to provide, and jurists have held that he has powers of disposition up to one-third of his property. But he must not be partial to one heir at the expense of another, or attempt to defeat lawful creditors. If he tries to do this, those who are witnesses to his oral disposition may interfere in two ways. One way would be to persuade the testator to change his bequest before he dies. The other way would be, after death, to get the interested parties together and ask them to agree to a more equitable arrangement. In such a case they are acting in good faith, and there is no fraud. They are doing nothing wrong. Islam approves of every lawful device for keeping brethren at peace, without litigation and quarrels. Except for this, the changing of the provisions of a Will is a crime, as it is under all Law.

183 O ye who believe! Fasting is prescribed to you as it was prescribed (188) to those before you, that ye may (learn) self-restraint.-

188 As it was prescribed: this does not mean that the Muslim fast is like the other fasts previously observed, in the number of days, in the time or manner of the fast, or in other incidents; it only means that the principle of self-denial by fasting is not a new one.

184 (Fasting) for a fixed (189) number of days; but if any of you is ill, or on a journey (190), the prescribed number (Should be made up) from days later. For those who can do it (191) (With hardship), is a ransom, the feeding of one that is indigent. But he that will give more, of his own free will, - it is better for him. And it is better for you that ye fast, if ye only knew.
The Noble Qur’an

187. This verse should be read with the following verses, 185-188, in order that the incidents of the physical fast may be fully understood with reference to its spiritual meaning.

The Muslim fast is not meant for self-torture. Although it is stricter than other fasts, it also provides alleviations for special circumstances. If it were merely a temporary abstention from food and drink, it would be satiety to many people, who habitually eat and drink to excess. The instincts for food, drink, and sex are strong in the animal nature, and temporary restraint from all these enables the attention to be directed to higher things. This is necessary through prayer, contemplation and acts of charity, not of the showy kind, but by seeking out those really in need. Certain standards are prescribed, but much higher standards are recommended.

190. For journeys, a minimum standard of three marches is prescribed by some Commentators; others make it more precise by naming a distance of 15 or 20 strokes, equivalent to 48 miles. A journey of 8 or 9 miles on foot is more tiring than a similar one by bullock cart. There are various degrees of fatigue in riding a given distance on horseback or by camel or in a comfortable train or by motor car or by steamer, aeroplane, or airship. In my opinion the standard must depend on the means of locomotion and on the relative resources of the traveller. It is better to determine it in each case according to circumstances, (B).

191. Those who can do it with hardship such as aged people, or persons specially circumstanced. The Shafi’i school would include a woman expecting a child, or one who is nursing a baby, but on this point opinion is not unanimous, some holding that they ought to put in the fasts later, when they can.

185. Ramadan is the (month) in which was sent down the Qur’an, as a guide to mankind, also clear (Signs) for guidance and judgment(192) (Between right and wrong). So every one of you who is present (at his home) during that month should spend it in fasting, but if any one is ill, or on a journey, the prescribed period (Should be made up) by days later. Allah intends every facility for you; He does not want to put to difficulties. (He wants you) to complete the prescribed period, and to glorify Him(193) in that He has guided you; and perchance ye shall be grateful.

193 The regulations are again and again coupled with an insistence on two things: (a) the facilities and concessions given, and (b) the spiritual significance of the fast, without which it is like an empty shell without a kernel. If we realise this, we shall look upon Ramadan, not as a burden, but as a blessing, and shall be duly grateful for the lead given to us in this matter.

186. When my servants ask thee concerning Me, I am indeed close (to them): I listen to the prayer of every suppliant when he calleth on Me: Let them also, with a will, Listen to My call, and believe in Me: That they may walk in the right way(194).

194 These verses 186 and 188 are not foreign to the subject of Ramadan, but emphasise its spiritual aspect. Here we are told of prayer and the nearness of Allah, and in 188 we are asked not to ‘eat up’ other people’s substance.

187. Permitted to you, on the night of the fasts, is the approach to your wives. They are your garments and ye are their garments(195). Allah knoweth what ye used to do secretly among yourselves; but He turned to you and forgave you; so now associate with them, and seek what Allah Hath ordained for you(196), and eat and drink, until the white thread of dawn appear to you distinct from its black thread(197); then complete your fast Till the night appears(198); but do not associate with your wives while ye are in retreat(199) in the mosques. Those are(200) Limits (set by) Allah. Approach not nigh thereto. Thus doth Allah make clear His Signs to men: that they may learn self-restraint.

195 Men and women are each other’s garments i.e., they are for mutual support, mutual comfort, and mutual protection, fitting into each other as a garment fits the body. A garment also is both for show and concealment. The question of sex is always delicate to handle here we are told that in such matters a clear, open, and honest course is better than fraud or self-deception. The sex instinct is classed with eating and drinking, an animal thing to be restrained, but not to be abjured of. The three things are prohibited during the fast by day, but permitted after the fast is broken at night till the next fast commences.

196 There is difference of opinion as to the exact meaning of this. I would connect this as a parallel clause with the clause ‘eat and drink’, which follows, all three being governed by ‘until the white thread’, etc. That is, all three things must stop when the fast begins again in the early morning. Or it may mean: What is permitted is well enough, but seek the higher things ordained for you.

197 Those in touch with Nature know the beautiful effects of early dawn. First appear thin white indescribable streaks of light in the east; then a dark zone supervenes; followed by a beautiful pinkish white zone clearly defined from the dark, after that the fast begins.

198 Till the night appears: From the actual practice of the Holy Prophet, this is rightly interpreted to mean ‘Till sunset’.

199 This verse refers to the known Islamic practice called ḥifāz which means retreating to mosques for devotion and worship. The Prophet (peace be on him) used to retreat to the mosque during the last ten days of Ramadan. [Eds.]

200 I construe these limits as applying to the whole of the regulations about fasts.

188. And do not eat up your property among yourselves for vanities, nor use it as bait for the judges, with intent that ye may eat up wrongfully and knowingly a little of (other) people’s property(201).

201 Besides the three primal physical needs of man, which are apt to make him greedy, there is a fourth greed in society, the greed of wealth and property. The purpose of fasts is not completed until this fourth greed is also restrained. Ordinarily honest men are content if they refrain from robbery, theft, or embezzlement Two more subtle forms of the greed are mentioned here. One is where one uses one’s own property for corrupting others –judges or those in authority so as to obtain some material gain even under the cover and protection of the law. The words translated ‘other people’s property’ may also mean ‘public property’. A still more subtle form is where we use our own property or property under our own control – among yourselves’ in the Text – for vain or frivolous uses. Under the Islamic standard this is also greed. Property carries with it its own responsibilities. If we fail to understand or fulfill them, we have not learnt the full lesson of self-denial by fasts.

189. They ask thee concerning the New Moons(202). Say: They are but signs to mark fixed periods of time in (the affairs of) men, and for Pilgrimage. It is no virtue if ye enter your houses from the back: It is virtue if ye fear Allah. Enter houses through the proper doors(203): And fear Allah. That ye may prosper.

202 There were many superstitions connected with the New Moon, as there are to the present day. We are told to disregard such superstitions. As a measure of time, where the lunar calendar is used, the New Moon is one great sign, for which people watch with eagerness. Muslim festivals, including the Pilgrimage are fixed by the appearance of the New Moon. The Arabs, among other superstitions, had one which made them enter their houses by the back door during or after the Pilgrimage. This is disapproved, for there is no virtue in any such artificial restrictions. All virtue proceeds from the love and fear of Allah.

203 This is a Muslim proverb now, and much might be written about its manifold meanings. A few may be noted here. (1) If you enter a society, respect its manners and customs. (2) If you want to achieve an object honourably, go about it openly and not ‘by a backdoor’. (3) Do not beat about the bush. (4) If you wish success in an undertaking, provide all the necessary instruments for it (CC. ii. 52).

The subject of the New Moon provides a good transition between the Ramadan fast, which begins and ends with the New Moon, the Pilgrimage, whose ten days commence with the New Moon, and the War which Islam had to wage in self-defence against the Pagans, who wanted to exclude them from the Pilgrimage after they had driven them out of house and home.

190. Fight in the cause of Allah those who fight you(204), but do not transgress limits; for Allah loveth not transgressors.

204 War is permissible in self-defence, and under well-defined limits. When undertaken, it must be pushed with vigour (but not recklessly), but only to restore peace and freedom for the worship of Allah. In any case strict limits must not be transgressed: women, children, old and infirm men should not be molested, nor trees and crops cut down, nor peace withheld when the enemy comes to terms. (R).

191. And slay them wherever ye catch them, and turn to the mosque during the last ten days of Ramadan. [Eds.]
tumult and oppression are worse than slaughter; but fight them not(205) at the Sacred Mosque, unless they (first) fight you there; but if they fight you, slay them. Such is the reward of those who suppress faith(206).

205 This passage is illustrated by the events that happened at Hudaybiyah in the sixth year of the Hijrah, though it is not clear that it was revealed on that occasion. The Muslims were by this time a strong and influential community. Many of them were exiles from Makkah, where the Pagans had established an intolerant autocracy, persecuting Muslims, preventing them from visiting their homes, and even keeping them out by force from performing the Pilgrimage during the universally recognized period of truce. This was intolerance, oppression, and autocracy to the last degree, and the mere readiness of the Muslims to enforce their rights as Arabs citizens resulted without bloodshed in an agreement which the Muslims faithfully observed. The Pagans, however, had no scruples in breaking faith, and it is unnecessary here to go into subsequent events. (Cf. 5:22).

In general, it may be said that Islam is the religion of peace, good will, mutual understanding, and good faith. But it will not acquiesce in wrongdoing, and its men will hold their lives cheap in defence of honour, justice, and the religion which they hold sacred. Their ideal is that of heroic virtue combined with unsullied gentleness and tenderness, such as is exemplified in the life of the Prophet. They believe in courage, obedience, discipline, duty, and a constant striving by all the means in their power, physical, moral, intellectual, and spiritual, for the establishment of truth and righteousness. They know that war is an evil, but they will not flinch from it if their honour demands it and a righteous cause. (Such as Muhammad par excellence) commands it, for then they know they are not serving carnal ends. In other cases, war has nothing to do with their faith, except that it will always be regulated by its humane precepts. (R). 206 Suppress faith: in the narrower as well as the larger sense. If they want forcibly to prevent you from exercising your sacred rites, they have declared war on your religion, and it would be cowardice to ignore the challenge or to fail in rooting out the tyranny.

192. But if they cease, Allah is Oft-forgiving, MostMerciful.

193. And fight them on until there is no more Tumult or oppression, and there prevail justice and faith in Allah(207). but if they cease(208), Let there be no hostility except to those who practise oppression.

207 Justice and Faith. The Arabic word is Din, which is comprehensive. It implies the ideas of indebtedness, duty, obedience, justice, faith, religion, customary rites, etc. The clause means: until there is Din for Allah.

If the opposite party ceases to persecute you, your hostility ends with them as a party, but it does not mean that you become friends to oppression. Your fight is against wrong; there should be no rancour against men.

194. The prohibited month for the prohibited month(209), and so for all things prohibited, there is the law of equality. If then any one transgresses the prohibition against you, Transgress ye likewise against him. But fear Allah, and know(210) that Allah is with those who restrain themselves.

209 Haran= prohibited, sacred. The month of Pilgrimage (Dhu al Hajjah) was a sacred month, in which warfare was prohibited by Arab custom. The month preceding (Dhu al Qa’dah) and the month following (Muharram) were included in the prohibition, and Muharram was specially called al Haram, Possibly Muharram is meant in the first line, and the other months and other prohibited things in "all things prohibited." In Rajah, also, war was prohibited, if the pagan enemies of Islam broke that custom and made war in the prohibited months, the Muslims were free also to break that custom but only to the same extent as the others broke it. Similarly the territory of Makkah was sacred, in which war was prohibited. If the enemies of Islam broke that custom, the Muslims were free to do so to that extent. Any convention is useless if one party does not respect it. There must be a law of equality. Or perhaps the word reciprocity may express it better. (Cf. 25).

10 At the same time the Muslims were commanded to exercise self-restraint as much as possible. Force is a dangerous weapon. It may have to be used for self-defence or self-preservation, but we must always remember that self-restraint is pleasing in the eyes of Allah. Even when we are fighting, it should be for a principle, not out of passion.

195. And spend of your substance in the cause of Allah, and make not your own hands contribute to (your) destruction(211); but do good; for Allah loveth those who do good.

211 Every fight requires the wherewithals for the fight, the "sinews of war." If the war is just and in the cause of Allah, all who have wealth must spend it freely. That may be their contribution to the Cause, in addition to their personal effort, or if for any reason they are unable to fight. If they lag their wealth, perhaps their own hands are helping in their own self-destruction. Or if their wealth is being spent, not in the cause of Allah, but in something which pleases their fancy, it may be that the advantage goes to the enemy, and they are by their action helping their own destruction. In this case, wealth is, not selflessness, but the good of their brethren, for such good is pleasing to Allah.

196. And complete the Hajj or Umrah(212) in the service of Allah. But if ye are prevented (From completing it), send an offering for sacrifice, such as ye may find, and do not have your hands be weighty in the cause of Allah.

212 See 2:125, n. 161. The Hajj is the complete pilgrimage, of which the chief rites are performed during the first twelve or thirteen days of the month of Dhu al Hijjah. The Umrah is a less formal pilgrimage at any time of the year. In either case, the intending pilgrim commences by putting on a simple garment of unsewn cloth in two pieces while he is some distance yet from Makkah. The putting on of the pielmut at al tawaf ( umrah symbolical of his remaining the vanities of the world. After this and until the end of the pilgrimage he must not wear other clothes, or ornaments, anoint his hair, use perfumes, hunt, or do other prohibited acts. The completion of the pilgrimage is symbolised by the shaving of the head for men and the cutting off of a few locks of the hair of the head for women, the putting off of the ihram and the resumption of the ordinary dress. Here we are told: (1) that having once undertaken the pilgrimage, we must complete it; (2) that we must do it not for worldly ends, but as a symbol of our service and worship to Allah; (3) that if we are prevented, for any reason, from completing the rites, a symbolical completion can be made by sending an offering for sacrifice; sacrifice would have been offered if we had been present personally; here we would send the sacrifice vicariously, and when it is likely to reach the place of sacrifice, we could then shave our heads and resume our ordinary dress and avocations. (R).

213 If any one is taken ill after putting on the ihram, so that he has to put on other clothes, or if he has trouble or skin disease in his head or insects in his hair, and he has to shave his head before completing, he should fast three days, say the Commentators), or feed the poor, or offer sacrifice.

214 When this was revealed, the city of Makkah was in the hands of the enemies of Islam, and the regulations about the fighting and the pilgrimage came together and were interconnected. But the revelation provides "as abways, for the particular occasion, and also for normal conditions. Makkah soon passed out of the hands of the enemies of Islam. People sometimes came long distances to Makkah before the Pilgrimage season began. Having performed the Umrah, they stayed on for the formal Hajj. In case the pilgrim had spent his money, he is shown what he can do, rich or poor, and yet hold his head high among his fellows, as having performed all rites as prescribed.

215 There is disagreement among jurists whether residents of Makkah are allowed to make tawaf or not. However, the four schools of law are agreed that sacrificial offering is not obligatory for the residents of Makkah. (Eds.).

216 This closes the section about the duties of fighting and introduces the connected question of pilgrimage in a sort of transition. Fighting is connected with fear, and while it is meritorious to obey Allah, we are warned that we must not allow our selfish passions to carry us away, because it is in such times of stress that our spirit is tested. Verse 155 ended with a benediction for those who do good. This verse ends with a warning to those who take advantage of Allah's cause to transgress the limits, for the punishment is equally sure. The next verse shows us the pitfalls we must avoid in a large concourse of people.

197. For Hajj are the months well-known(217). If any one undertakes that duty therein, Let there be no obscenity, nor wickedness, nor wrangling in the Hajj. And whatever good ye do, (be sure) Allah knoweth it.
And take a provision(218) (With you) for the journey, but the best of provisions is right conduct. So fear Me, o ye that are wise.

197. The months well known: the months of Shawwal, Dhuul Qa‘dah, and Dhuul Hijjah (up to the 10th or the 13th) are set apart for the rites of Hajj. That is to say, the first rites may begin as early as the beginning of Shawwal, with a definite approach to Makkah, but the chief rites are concentrated on the first ten days of Dhuul Hijjah, and specially on the 9th, 10th and 10th of that month, when the concourse of pilgrims reaches its height. The chief rites may be briefly enumerated: (1) The wearing of the pilgrim garment (thawâlî) from certain points definitely fixed on all the roads to Makkah; after this the pilgrimage ceremonies come into operation and the pilgrimage is dedicated to worship and prayer and the denial of vanities: (2) The going round the Ka‘bah seven times (tawâfa), typifying activity, with the kissing of the little Black Stone built into the wall, the symbol of concentration in the love of Allah; (3) A short prayer at the Station of Abraham (Q. 2:125), the pilgrimage goes to the hills Saf and Marwâf (Q. 2:128), the symbols of patience and perseverance; (4) The great Sermon (Khutbah) on the 9th of Dhuul Hijjah, when the whole assembly listens to an exposition of the meaning of Hajj; (5) The visit on the eighth, of the whole body of pilgrims to the Valley of Min‘a (about six miles north of Makkah), where the pilgrims halt and stay the night, proceeding on the ninth to the plain and hill of ‘Arafat, about five miles further north, which is also called the Mount of Mercy; (5) The tenth day, the ‘Id Day, the day of Sacrifice, when the sacrifice is offered in the Valley of Min‘a, the head is shaved or the hair trimmed, the ‘awâlî and ‘Eidah and the symbolic ceremony of casting seven stones at the Evil One is performed on the first occasion; it is continued on subsequent days; both rites are connected with the story of Abraham: this is the ‘Id ‘Aidh ‘Aidha; note that the ceremony is symbolically connected with the rejection of evil in thought, word, and deed. A stay of two or three days after this is prescribed; these days are called ‘Idhâr ash-dhâr, (6).

198. It is no crime in you if ye seek of the bounty of your Lord (during pilgrimage)(219). Then when ye pour praises as He has directed you, even though, before

201. And there are men who say: "Our Lord! Give us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and defend us from the torment of the Fire!"

202. To these will be allotted(225) what they have earned; and Allah is quick in account.

203. Celebrate the praises of Allah during the Appointed Days(226). But if any one hastens to leave in two days, there is no blame on him, and if any one stays on, there is no blame on him, if his aim is to do right. Then fear Allah, and know that ye will surely be gathered unto Him.

204. There is the type of man(227) whose speech about this world’s life May dazzle thee, and he calls Allah to witness about what is in his heart; yet is he the most contentious of enemies.

205. The Appointed Days: the three days after the tenth, when the Pilgrims stay on in the Valley of Min‘a for prayer and praise, They are the days of ‘Idhâr (see 2:200, n. 229). It is optional for pilgrims to leave on the second or third day.

206. When it is said to him, "Fear Allah., He is led by arrogance to (more) crime. Enough for him is Hell;-An evil bed indeed (To lie on)(228)!

207. The two contrasted types of men mentioned in 2:200 and 201 are here further personalised: the glib hypocrite who appears worldly-wise but plain harm, contrasted with the sincere believer who is prepared to suffer martyrdom for his faith. The Commentators give names of people who exemplified these types. The mischief-maker has a smooth tongue and indulges in plausible talk with many oaths. He appears to be worldly-wise, and though you may despise him for his worldliness, you may not realise his frauds. Behind your back he is an implacable enemy. He stirs up quarrels, and causes all sorts of mischief to you or your friends. He can never win Allah's love, and we are warned against his tricks.

208. When he turns his back, His aim everywhere is to spread mischief through the earth and destroy crops and cattle. But Allah loveth not mischief.

209. And there is the type of man who gives his life to earn the pleasure of Allah. And Allah is full of kindness to (His) devotees(229).

210. Legitimate trade is allowed, in the interests both of the honest trader, who can thus meet his own expenses, and of the generality of pilgrims, who otherwise would be greatly inconvenienced for the necessities of life. But the profit must not be compelled to resort to begging. But, as usual, our thought is directed at once from the physical to the spiritual. If provisions are required for a journey on earth, how much more important to provide for the final journey into the future world? The best of such provisions is right conduct, which is the same as the fear of Allah.

211. Certain arrogant tribes living in Makkah used not to go to ‘Arafat with the crowd but to stop short at Muzdalifah. They are rebuked for their arrogance and told that they must perform all the rites like the rest of the pilgrims. There is a mention of a place called Muzdalifah where the Holy Prophet offered up a long prayer. It has thus been gathered unto Him. Since the Prophet’s Pilgrimage was spiritualised in Islam, so this aftermath of the Pilgrimage was also spiritualised. It was required from pilgrims to stay on two or three days after the Day of Sacrifice, but they must use them in prayer and praise to Allah. See 2:200 below, (60).

212. If you hasten to get all the good things of the world, and only think of them and pray for them, you would lose the higher things of the future. The proper Muslim attitude is neither to renounce this world nor to be so engrossed in it as to forget the spiritual future.

213. About midway between ‘Arafat and Mina (see n. 217 to 2:197) is a place called Muzdalifah which has thus become a Sacred Monument and pilgrims are directed to follow that example on their return. A special reason for this is given in the note following.

214. Certain arrogant tribes living in Makkah used not to go to ‘Arafat with the crowd but to stop short at Muzdalifah. They are rebuked for their arrogance and told that they must perform all the rites like the rest of the pilgrims. There is equality in Islam.

215. This second type of man-firm, sincere, devoted, willing to give his life for the faith that is in him was common in early Islam. Such men were its pillars. Through persecution, obscurity, torture, threat to their own lives or the lives of those dear to them, they stood by their leader and many of them gave their lives. That is what established Islam. We are asked in the next verse to follow this type and shun the other or evil type. If we do that, our Cause is safe.

216. You who believe! Enter into Islam whole-heartedly; and follow not the footsteps of the evil one; for he is to you an avowed enemy.

217. After the Pilgrimage, in Pagan times, the pilgrims used to gather in assemblies in which the praises of ancestors were sung. As the whole of the pilgrim rites were spiritualised in Islam, so this aftermath of the Pilgrimage was also spiritualised. It was required from pilgrims to stay on two or three days after the Day of Sacrifice, but they must use them in prayer and praise to Allah. See 2:200 below, (80).
210. Will they wait until Allah comes to them in canopies of clouds, with angels (in His train) and the question is (thus) settled? but to Allah do all questions go back (for decision)(231).

231. If faith is wanting, all sorts of excuses are made to resist the appeal of Allah. They might and do say: “Oh yes! we shall believe if Allah appears to us with His angels in His glory!” In other words they want to settle the question their way, and not in Allah’s way. That will not do. The decision in all questions belongs to Allah. If we are true to Him, we wait for His times and seasons, and do not expect Him to wait on ours. (Cf. 6:67-8 and 11:120).

211. Ask the Children of Israel(232) how many clear (Signs) We have sent them. But if any one, after Allah’s favour has come to him, substitutes (something else), Allah is strict in punishment(233).

233. The Israelites under Moses were shown Allah’s glory and many clear Signs and yet they went after their own ways, and preferred their own whims and fancies. So do people in all ages. But let them not deceive themselves. Allah’s justice is sure, and when it comes, it will be strict and unmissable to those who reject His grace.

212. The life of this world is alluring to those who reject faith, and they scoff at those who believe. But the righteous will be above them on the Day of Resurrection; and Allah bestows His abundance without measure on whom He will(234).

234. Allah’s gifts in this world seem unequal, and sometimes those who get them seem to deserve them least. Allah’s bounty is unlimited to the just as well as the unjust. In His wisdom He may give to whomsoever He pleases. The account is not taken now, but will be taken in the end, when the balance will be redressed.

213. Mankind was one single nation, and Allah sent Messengers with glad tidings and warnings; and with them He sent the Book in truth, to judge between people in matters wherein they differed; but the People of the Book, after the clear Signs came to them, did not differ among themselves, except through selfish contumacy. Allah by His Grace Guided the believers to the Truth, concerning that wherein they differed. For Allah guided whom He will to a path that is straight.

214. Or do ye think that ye shall enter the Garden (of bliss) without such (trials) as came to those who passed away before you? they encountered suffering and adversity, and were so shaken in spirit that even the Messenger and those of faith who were with him cried: “When (will come) the help of Allah.” Ah! Verily, the help of Allah is (always) near!

215. They ask thee what they should spend (In charity). Say: Whatever ye spend that is good(235), is for parents and kindred and orphans and those in want and for wayfarers. And whatever ye do that is good, - (Allah) knoweth it well.

235. Three questions arise in charity: (1) What shall we give? (2) to whom shall we give? and (3) how shall we give? The answer is here. Give anything that is good, useful, helpful, valuable. It may be property or money; it may be a helping hand; it may be advice; it may be a kind word; “whatever ye do that is good” is charity. On the other hand, if you throw away what is useless, there is no charity in it. Or if you give something with a harmful intent, e.g., a sword to a madman, or a drug or sweets or even money to someone whom you want to entrap or corrupt, it is no charity but a gift of damnation. To whom shall you give? It may be tempting to earn the world’s praise by a gift that will be talked about, but are you meeting the needs of those who have the first claim on you? If you are not, you are like a person who defrauds creditors; it is no charity. Every gift is judged by its unselfish character: the degree of need or claim is a factor which you should consider; if you disregard it, there is something selfish behind it. How should it be given? As in the sight of Allah; this shuts out all pretense, show, and insincerity. (Cf. 2:263- 267).

216. Fighting is prescribed for you, and ye dislike it(236). But it is possible that ye dislike a thing which is good for you, and that ye love a thing which is bad for you. But Allah knoweth, and ye know not.

236. To fight in the cause of Truth is one of the highest forms of charity. What can you offer that is more precious than your own life? But here again the limitations come in. If you are a mere brawler, or a selfish aggressive person, or a vainglorious bully, you deserve the highest censure. Allah knows the value of things better than you do. (Cf. 2:243-244). (R).

217. They ask thee concerning fighting in the Prohibited Month(237). Say: “Fighting therein is a grave (offence); but graver is it in the sight of Allah to prevent access to the path of Allah, to deny Him, to prevent access to the Sacred Mosque, and drive out its members(238).” Tumult and oppression(239) are worse than slaughter. Nor will they cease fighting you until they turn you back from your faith if they can. And if any of you Turn back from their faith and die in unbelief, their works will bear no fruit in this life and in the Hereafter; they will be companions of the Fire and will abide therein.

237. Prohibited Month; See: 2:194, n. 209.

238. The intolerance and persecution of the Pagan clique at Makkah caused untold hardships to the Messenger of Islam and his early disciples. They bore all with meekness and long-suffering patience until the Holy One permitted them to take up arms in self-defence. Then they were twirled with breach of the custom about Prohibited Months, though they were driven to fight during that period against their own feeling in self defence. But their enemies not only forced them to engage in actual warfare, but interfered with their conscience, persecuted them and their families, openly insulted and denied Allah, kept out the Muslims from the Sacred Mosque, and exiled them. Such violence and intolerance are deservedly called worse than slaughter.

218. Those who believed and those who suffered exile and fought (and strove and struggled) in the path of Allah,- they have the hope of the Mercy of Allah. And Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

219. They ask thee concerning wine(240) and gambling(241). Say: “In them is great sin, and some profit, for men; but the sin is greater than the profit.” They ask thee how much they are to spend; Say: “What is beyond(242) your needs.” Thus doth Allah Make clear to you His Signs: In order that ye may consider-

240. Wine: Khamr. Literally understood to mean the fermented juice of the grape; applied by analogy to all fermented liquor, and by further analogy to any intoxicating liquor or drug. There may possibly be some benefit in it, but the harm is greater than the benefit, especially if we look at it from a social as well as an individual point of view. (C. 5:99-91).

241. Gambling: masir. Literally, a means of getting something too easily, getting a profit without working for it; hence gambling. That is the principle on which gambling is prohibited. The form most familiar to the Arabs was gambling by casting lots by means of arrows, on the principle of a lottery: the arrows were marked and served the same purpose as a modern lottery ticket. Something, e.g., the carcass of a slaughtered animal, was divided into unequal parts. The marked arrows were drawn from a bag. Some were blank and those who drew them got nothing. Others indicated prizes, which were big or small. Whether you got a big share or a small share, or nothing, depended on pure luck, unless there was fraud also on the part of some persons concerned. The principle on which the objection is based is: that, even if there is no fraud, you gain what you have not earned, or lose on a mere chance. Dice and wagering are rightly held to be within the definition of gambling. (R).

242. Hoarding is no use either to ourselves, or to any one else. We should use the wealth we need; any superfluities we must spend in good works or in charity.
220. (Their bearings) on this life and the Hereafter(243). They ask thee concerning orphans(244). Say: "The best thing to do is what is for their good; if ye mix their affairs with yours, they are your brethren; but Allah knows the man who means mischief from the man who means good. And if Allah had wished, He could have put you into difficulties: He is indeed Exalted in Power, Wise(245)."

244 Gambling and intemperance are social as well as individual sins. They may ruin us in our ordinary everyday worldly life, as well as our spiritual future. In case it is suggested that there is no harm in a little indulgence, we are asked to think over all its aspects, social and individual - worldly and spiritual.

245 For Orphans the best rule is to keep their property, household, and accounts separate, lest there should be any temptation to get a personal advantage to their guardian by mixing them with the guardian's property, household or accounts-also to keep clear of any ideas of marriage, where this fiduciary relation exists. Q. 6:152 may possibly suggest complete separation. But it may be an economy and an advantage to the orphan to have his property and accounts administered with the guardian's property and accounts and to have him live in the guardian's household, or to marry into the guardian's family, especially where the orphan's property is small and he or she has no other friend. The text is what is best in the orphan's interests? If the guardian does fall into temptation, even if human law does not detect him, he is told he is sinning in Allah's 246 The idea in Islam is not to make Allah's Law a burdensome fetter, but to ease mankind: That they may celebrate His praise.

221. Do not marry unbelieving(245-A) women (idolaters), until they believe: A slave woman who believes is better than an unbelieving woman, even though she allures you. Nor marry (your girls) to unbelievers until they believe: A man slave who believes is better than an unbeliever, even though he allures you. Unbelievers do (but) beckon you to the Fire. But Allah beckons by His Grace to the Garden (of bliss) and forgiveness, and makes His Signs clear to mankind: That they may celebrate His praise.

245A Literally "pagans".

222. They ask thee concerning women’s courses. Say: They are a hurt and a pollution(247): So keep away from women in their courses, and do not approach them until they are clean. But when they have purified themselves, ye may approach them in any manner, time, or place(248) ordained for you by Allah. For Allah loves those who turn to Him constantly and He loves those who keep themselves pure and clean.

247 Adliac: hurt, pollution. Both aspects must be remembered. Physical cleanliness and purity make for health, bodily and spiritual. But the matter should be looked at from the woman's point of view as well as the man's. To her there is danger of hurt, and she should have every consideration. In the animal world, instinct is a guide which is obeyed. Man should in this respect be better: he is often worse.

248 Hextra: A comprehensive word referring to manner, time, or place. The most delicate matters are here referred to in the most discreet and yet helpful terms. In sex morality, manner, time, and place are all important and the highest standards are set by social laws, by our own refined instinct of mutual consideration, and above all, by the light shed by the highest Teachers from the wisdom which they receive from our Maker, Who loves purity and cleanliness in all things.

223. Your wives are as a tilth(249) unto you; so approach your tilth when or how ye will; but do some good act for your souls beforehand; and fear Allah. And know that ye are to meet Him (in the Hereafter), and give (these) good tidings(250) to those who believe.

249 Sex is not a thing to be ashamed of, or to be treated lightly, or to be indulged to excess. It is as solemn a fact as any in life. It is compared to a husbandman's tilth; it is a serious affair to him; he sows the seed in order to reap the harvest. But he chooses his own time and mode of cultivation. He does not sow out of season nor cultivate in a manner which will injure or exhaust the soil. He is wise and considerate and does not run riot. Coming from the same to human beings, every kind of mutual consideration is required, but above all, we must remember that even in these matters there is a spiritual aspect. We must never forget our souls, and that we are responsible to Allah. It was carnal-minded men who invented the doctrine of original sin: "Behold," says the Psalmist, "I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me" (Psalms 51:5). This is entirely repudiated by Islam, in which the office of father and mother is held in the highest veneration. Every child of pure love is born pure. Celibacy is not necessarily a virtue, and may be a vice.

224. And make not Allah's (name) an excuse in your oaths against doing good, or acting rightly, or making peace between persons; for Allah is One Who heareth and knoweth(251) all things.

250 Our highest spiritual ambition should be the hope of meeting Allah, To uphold such a hope is to give glad tidings to people of faith. It would only be unrepentant sinners who would fear the meeting. Note how the most sensuous matters are discussed frankly, and immediately taken up into the loftiest regions of spiritual upliftment.

225. Allah will not call you to account for thoughtlessness in your oaths, but for the intention in your hearts(252); and He is Oft-forgiving, Most Forbearing.

251 The Arabs had many special kinds of oaths, for each of which they had a special name in their language. Some of them related to sex matters, and caused misunderstanding, alienation, division, or separation between husband and wife.

226. For those who take an oath for abstinence from their wives, a waiting for four months is ordained; if then they return, Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

227. But if their intention is firm for divorce, Allah heareth and knoweth all things(253).

252 It has been held that thoughtless oaths, if there is no intention behind them, can be expiated by an act of charity. (I. 59.9).

228. Divorced women shall wait concerning themselves for three monthly periods. Nor is it lawful for them to hide what Allah Hath created in their wombs, if they have faith in Allah and the Last Day. And their husbands have the better right to take them back in that period, if they wish for reconciliation(254). And women shall have rights similar to the rights against them, according to what is equitable; but men have a degree (of advantage) over them(255). And Allah is Exalted in Power, Wise.

253 Verses 225-227 should be read together with verse 224. The latter, though it is perfectly general, leads up to the other three.

254 Islam tries to maintain the married state as far as possible, especially where children are concerned, but it is against the restriction of the liberty of men and women in such vital matters as love and family life. It will check hasty action as far as possible, and leave the door to reconciliation open at many stages. Even after divorce a suggestion of reconciliation is made, subject to certain precautions (mentioned in the following verses) against thoughtless action. A period of waiting (Iddah) for three monthly courses is prescribed, in order to see if the marriage conditionally dissolved is likely to result in issue. But this is not necessary where the divorced woman is a virgin: 2:231. It is definitely declared that men and women shall have similar rights against each other.
265 The difference in economic position between the sexes makes the man's rights and liabilities a little greater than the woman's. Q. 4:34 refers to the duty of the man to maintain the woman, and to a certain difference in nature between the sexes. Subject to this, the sexes are on terms of equality in law, and in certain matters the weaker sex is entitled to special protection.

229. A divorce is only(256) permissible twice: after that, the parties should either hold Together on equitable terms, or separate with kindness.(257) It is not lawful for you, (Men), to take back any of your gifts (from your wives), except when both parties fear that they would be unable to keep the limits ordained by Allah.(258) If ye (judges) do indeed fear that they would be unable to keep the limits ordained by Allah, there is no blame on either of them if she give some (or all) for her freedom. These are the limits ordained by Allah, so do not transgress them if any do transgress the limits ordained by Allah, such persons wrong (Themselves as well as others).(259)

261 This in continuation of the first sentence of 2:229. Two divorces followed by reunion are permissible; the third time the divorce becomes irrevocable, until the woman marries some other man and he divorces her. This is to set an almost impossible condition. The lesson is: if a man loves a woman she should not allow a sudden gust of temper or anger to induce him to take hasty action. What happens after two divorces, if the man takes her back? See n. 261 to 2:229.

231. When ye divorce(261) women, and they are about to fulfill the term of their (Iddat), either retain them back or let them go; but do not retain them to injure them, (or) to take undue advantage;(262) if any one does that; He wrongs his own soul. Do not treat Allah's Signs as a jest,(263) but solemnly rehearse(264) Allah's favours on you, and the fact that He sent down to you the Book and Wisdom, for your instruction. And fear Allah, and know that Allah is well-acquainted with all things.

266 As this comes in the midst of regulations on divorce, it applies primarily to cases of divorce, where some definite rule is necessary, as the father and mother would not, on account of the divorce, probably be on good terms, and the interests of the children must be safeguarded. As, however, the wording is perfectly general, it has been held that the principle applies equally to the father and mother in wedlock: each must fulfill his or her part in the fostering of the child. On the other hand, it is provided that the child shall not be used as an excuse for driving a hard bargain on either side. By mutual consent they can agree to some course that is reasonable and equitable, both as regards the period before weaning (the maximum being two years) and the engagement of a wet-nurse, or (by analogy) for artificial feeding. But the mother's privileges must not be curtailed simply because by mutual consent she does not nurse the baby. In a matter of this kind the ultimate appeal must be to godliness, for all legal remedies are imperfect and may be misused. (C.F. 31:14).

267 When they have fulfilled their term, there is no blame on you if they dispose of themselves in a

235. There is no blame on you if ye make an offer of betrothal or hold it in your hearts.(268) Allah knows that ye cherish them in your hearts: But do not make a secret contract with them except that you speak to them in terms honourable, nor resolve on the tie of marriage till the term prescribed is fulfilled. And know that Allah knoweth what is in your hearts, and take heed of Him; and know that Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Forbearing.

236. There is no blame on you if ye divorce women before consummation or the fixation of their dower; but bestow on them (A suitable gift), the wealthy according to his means, and the poor according to his means - A gift of a reasonable amount is due from those who wish to do the right thing.

237. And if ye divorce them before consummation, but after the fixation of a dower for them, then the half of the dower (Is due to them), unless they remit it or (the man's half) is remitted(269) by him in whose hands is the marriage tie; (270) and the remission (of the man's half) is the nearest to righteousness. And do not forget Liberality between yourselves. For Allah sees well all that ye do.

238. Guard strictly your (habit of) prayers, especially the Middle Prayer; (271) and stand before Allah in a devout (frame of mind).

239. If ye fear (an enemy)(272), pray on foot, or riding, (as may be most convenient), but when ye are in security, celebrate Allah's praises in the manner He has taught you, which ye knew not (before).

240. Those of you who die and leave widows should bequeath for their widows a year's maintenance and residence;(273) but if they leave (The residence), there is no blame on you for what they do with themselves, provided it is reasonable. And Allah is Exalted in Power, Wise.

241. For divorced women (a one time provision should be paid) on a reasonable (scale). This is a duty on the righteous.

242. Thus doth Allah Make clear His Signs to you: In order that ye may understand.

243. Didst thou not Turn by vision to those who abandoned their homes, though they were thousands (In number), for fear of death? Allah said to them: "Die": Then He restored them to life.(274) For Allah is full of bounty to mankind, but Most of them are ungrateful.

244. Then fight in the cause of Allah, and know that Allah Heareth and knoweth all things.(275)

245. Who is he that will loan to Allah a beautiful loan,(276) which Allah will double unto his credit and multiply many times? It is Allah that giveth (you) Want or plenty, and to Him shall be your return.

246. Hast thou not Turned thy vision to the Chiefs of the Children of Israel after (the time of) Moses(277)? they said to a prophet (278)(That was) among them: "Appoint for us a king, that we May fight in the cause of Allah." He said: "Is it not possible(279), if ye were commanded to fight, that ye will not fight?" They said: "How could we refuse to fight in the cause of Allah, seeing that we were turned out of our homes and our families?" but when they were commanded to fight, they turned back, except a small band among them. But Allah Has full knowledge of those who do wrong.

276 Spending in the cause of Allah is called metaphorically "a beautiful loan." It is excellent in many ways: (1) it shows a beautiful spirit of self-denial; (2) in other loans there may be a doubt as to the safety of your capital or any return thereon; here you give to the Lord of All, in Whose hands are the keys of want or plenty; giving, you may have manifold blessings, and withholding, you may even lose what you have. If we remember that our goal is Allah, can we turn away from His cause? (AI 6:17 and 3:180-181).
the transition towards the line of Kings on the one hand and of the later Prophets on the other. He may be dated approximately about the 11th century B.C.

278 This was Samuel. In his time Israel had suffered from much corruption within and many reverses without. The Philistines had made a great attack and destroyed Israel with great slaughter. The Israelites, instead of relying on Faith and their own valour and cohesion, brought out their most sacred possession, the Ark of the Covenant, to help them in the fight. But the enemy captured it, carried it away, and retained it for seven months. The Israelites forgot that wickedness cannot screen itself behind a sacred relic. Nor can a sacred relic help the enemies of Faith. The enemy found that the Ark brought nothing but misfortune for themselves, and were glad to abandon it. It apparently remained twenty years in the village (yarpaz) of Yarim (Kirjath jearim): I. Samuel, 7:2. Meanwhile the people pressed Samuel to appoint them a king. They thought that a king would cure all their ills, whereas what was wanting was spirit of union and discipline and a readiness on their part to fight in the cause of Allah.

279 Samuel knew as a Prophet that the people were fickle and only wanted to cover their own want of union and true spirit by asking for a king. They replied with spirit in words, but when it came to action, they failed. They hid themselves in caves and rocks, or ran away, and even those who remained followed him trembling, I. Samuel, 13:7.

247. Their Prophet said to them: "(Allah) hath appointed Talut (280) as king over you." They said: "How can he exercise authority over us when we are better fitted than he to exercise authority, and he is not even gifted, with wealth in abundance?" He said: "(Allah) hath Chosen him above you, and hath gifted him abundantly with knowledge and bodily prowess: Allah Graceth with His authority to whom He pleaseth. Allah careth for all, and He knoweth all things."

280 Talut the Arabic name for Saul, who was tall and handsome, but belonged to the tribe of Benjamin, the smallest tribe in Israel. His worldly belongings were slender, and it was when he went out to search for some asses which had been lost from his father's house that he met Samuel and was appointed king by him. The people's fickleness appeared immediately after he was named. They raised all sorts of petty objections to him. The chief consideration in their minds was selfishness: each one wanted to be leader and king himself, instead of desiring sincerely the good of the people as a whole, as a leader should do.

248. And (further) their Prophet said to them: "A Sign of his authority is that there shall come to you the Ark of the covenant (281), with (an assurance) therein of security (282) from your Lord, and the relics left by the family of Moses and the family of Aaron, carried by angels (283). In this is a symbol for you if ye indeed have faith."

281 Ark of the Covenant: Tabut: a chest of acacia wood covered and lined with pure gold, about 5 ft. x 3 ft. x 3 ft. See Exod. 25:10-22. It was to contain the 'testimony of Allah', or the Ten Commandments engraved on stone, with relics of Moses and Aaron. Its Gold lid was to be the 'Mercy Seat.' This was a sacred symbol in Israel. It was kept in the early part of Solomon's ministry; see n. 278 to 2:246. When it came back, it remained in a village for twenty years, and was apparently taken to the capital when kingship was instituted. It thus became a symbol of unity and authority. (R).

282 Security: sakina = safety, tranquillity, peace. Later Jewish writings use the same word for a symbol of Allah's Glory in the Tabernacle or tent in which the Ark was kept, or in the Temple when it was built by Solomon. (CC 7:26.).

283 Carried by angels: these words refer to the Tabut or Ark. (R).

249. When Talut set forth with the armies, he said (284): "(Allah) will test you at the stream: if any drinks of its water, He goes not with my army: A mere sip out of the hand of Allah is this. Only he who has a firm step, and firm trust in Allah and His Prophet, and a firm trust in Allah, will have his wish granted by Allah.

284 A Commander is hampered by a large force if it is not in perfect discipline and does not wholeheartedly believe in its Commander. He must get rid of all the doubtful ones, as did Gideon before Saul, and Henry V, in Shakespeare's story long afterwards. Saul used the same text as Gideon: he gave a certain order when crossing a stream: the greater part disobeyed, and were sent back. Gideon's story will be found in Judges, 7:2-7.

285 Even in the small band that remained faithful, there were some who were appalled by the number of the enemy when they met him face to face, and saw the size and strength of the enemy Commander, the giant Goliath (Jalut). But there was a very small band who were determined to face all odds because they had perfect confidence in Allah and in the cause for which they were fighting. They were for making a firm stand and seeking Allah's help. Of that number was David: see next note.

250. When they advanced to meet Goliath and his forces, they prayed: "Our Lord! Pour out constancy on us and make our steps firm: Help us against those that reject faith."

251. By Allah's will they routed them; and David (286) slew Goliath; and Allah gave him power and wisdom and taught him whatever (else) He willed (287). And did not Allah Check one set of people by means of another, the earth would indeed be full of mischief: But Allah is full of bounty to all the worlds (288).

286 Note how the whole story is compressed into a few words as regards narration, but its spiritual lessons are dwelt upon from many points of view. The Old Testament is mainly interested in the narrative, which is full of detail, but says little about the universal truths of which every true story is a parable. The Qur'an assumes the story, but tells the parable.

David was a raw youth, with no arms or armour. He was not known even in the Israelite camp, and the giant Goliath mocked him. Even David's own elder brother chided him for deserting his sheep, for he was a poor shepherd laid to outward appearance, but his faith had made him more than a match for the Philistine hosts. When Saul offered his own armour and arms to David, the young hero declined, as he had not tried them, while his shepherd's sling and staff were his well-tried implements. He picked up five smooth pebbles on the spot from the stream, and used his sling to such effect that he knocked down Goliath. He then used Goliath's own sword to slay him. There was consternation in the Philistine army: they broke and fled, and were pursued and cut to pieces.

Apart from the main lesson that if we would preserve our national existence and our faith it is our duty to fight with courage and firmness, there are other lessons in David's story: (1) numbers do not count, but faith, determination and the blessing of Allah; (2) size and strength are of no avail against truth, courage, and careful planning; (3) the hero tries his own weapons, and those that are available to him at the time and place, even though people may laugh at him; (4) if Allah is with us, the enemy's weapons may become an instrument of his own destruction; (5) personality conquers all dangers, and puts heart into our own wavering friends; (6) pure faith brings Allah's reward, which may take many forms: in David's case it was Power, Wisdom, and other gifts; see next note.

287 David was not only a shepherd, a warrior, a king, a wise man, and a prophet, but was also endowed with the gifts of poetry and music. (R).

288 Allah's plan is universal. He loves and protects all His creatures and His bounties are for all worlds (1:2-4). To protect one He may have to check another, but we must never lose faith that His love is for all in boundless measure. (CC 22:60.)

252. These are the Signs of Allah. We rehearse them to thee in truth: verily Thou art one of the messengers.

253. Those messengers We endowed with gifts, some above others (289): To one of them Allah spoke (290); others He raised to degrees of honour (291); to Jesus the son of Mary We gave clear (Signs) (292), and strengthened him with the holy spirit (292-A). If Allah had so willed, succeeding generations would not have fought among each other, after clear (Signs) had come to them, but they (chose) to wrangle, some believing and others rejecting. If Allah had so willed, they would not have fought each other; but Allah fulfilled His plan (293).

289 Different gifts and different modes of procedure are prescribed to Allah's Messengers in different ages, and perhaps their degrees are different though it is not and mortals, with our imperfect knowledge, to make any difference between one and another of Allah's Messengers (2:136). As this winds up the argument about fighting, three illustrations are given from the past, how it affected Allah's Messengers. To Moses. Allah spoke directly: he led his men for forty years through the wilderness, mainly fighting against the unbelief of his own people; he organised them to fight with the sword for Palestine, but was raised to Allah's own person before his enterprise ripened, and it fell to Joshua to carry out his plan. David, though a mere shepherd boy, was chosen by Allah. He overthrew the greatest warrior of his time, became a king, and waged successful wars, being also a prophet, a poet, and musician. Jesus was 'strengthened with the Holy Spirit': he was given no weapons to fight, and his mission was of a more limited character. In Musilam's mission these and other characters were combined. Greater than Jesus, he is organised on a vaster scale than Moses, and from Mad i n al he is given and gave laws, and the Qur'an has a vaster scope than the Psalms of David. (Cf. 2:286).

290 Moses: see note above

291 There is a twofold sense: they were raised to high posts of honour, and they rose by degrees. I take the reference to be to David.

292 Cf. 2:287. See n. 401 to 3:62

292A "Holy Spirit," according to commentators signifiers Gabriel. [Eds.]

293 If some power of choice was to be given to man, his selfishness inevitably caused division. It must not be supposed that it frustrates Allah's Plan. He carries it out as He will.

254. O ye who believe! Spend out of (the bounties)(294)

We have provided for you, before the Day comes when no bargaining (Will avail), nor friendship nor intercession (295). Those who reject Faith they are the wrong-doers.

294 Spend, i.e., give away in charity, or employ in good works, but do not hoard. Good works would in Islam include everything that advances the good of one that is in need whether a neighbour or a stranger, or that advances the good of the community, or even the good of the person himself to whom Allah has given the bounty. But it must be real good and there should be no adventure of baser motives, such as vainglory, or false indulgence, or encouragement of idleness, or playing off one person against another. The bounties include mental and spiritual gifts as well as wealth and material gifts.

255. Allah. There is no god but He,-the Living, the Self-subsisting, Eternal (296).

No slumber can seize Him nor sleep. His are all things in the heavens and on earth. Who is there can intercede in His presence except as He permitteth? He knoweth what every soul uttereth. There is no god but He,-the Living, the Self-subsisting, Eternal. His are all things in the heavens and on earth. Who is there can intercede in His presence except as He permitteth? He knoweth what every soul uttereth.

296 This is Arat al Kursi, the "Verse of the Throne". Who can translate its glorious meaning, or reproduce the rhythm of its well-chosen and comprehensive words? Even in the original Arabic the meaning seems to be greater than can be expressed in words. The attributes of Allah are different from anything we know in our present world. He lives, but His life is self-subsisting and eternal; it does not depend upon other beings and is not limited to time and space. Perhaps the attribute of Qayyum includes not only the idea of Self-subsisting but also the idea of "Keeping up and maintaining all life." His life being the source and constant support of all derived forms of life. Perfect life is perfect activity, in contrast to imperfect life which we see around us, which is not only subject to death but to the need for rest or slowed-down activity, something which is between activity and sleep, or full sleep itself. But Allah has no need for rest or sleep. His activity, like His life, is perfect and self-subsisting. Contrast with this the expression used in Psalms 78:65: "Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and rose by degrees. I take the reference to be to David.

297 After we realise that His Life is absolute Life, His Being is absolute Being, while others are contingent and evanescent, our ideas of heaven and earth vanish like shadows. What is behind that shadow is He. Such reality as our heavens and our earth possess is a reflection of His absolute Reality. The pantheists place the wrong accent when they say that everything is His. The truth is better expressed when we say that everything is His, How then can any creatures stand before Him as of right, and claim to intercede for a fellow-creature? In the first place both are His, and He cares as much for one as for the other. In the second place, they are both dependent on His will and command. But He in His Wisdom and Plan may grade His creatures and give one superiority over another. Then by His will and permission such a one may intercede or help according to the laws and duties laid on him. Allah's knowledge is absolute, and is not conditioned by Time or Space. To us, His creatures, these conditions always apply. His knowledge and our knowledge are therefore in different categories, but Allah's knowledge only gets some reflection of Reality when it accords with His Will and Plan. (Cf. 20:110).

298 Throne seat, power, knowledge, symbol of authority. In our thoughts we explain everything as "the heavens and the earth". Well, then, in everything is the working of Allah's power, and will, and authority. Everything of course includes spiritual things as well as things of sense. (R).

299 A life of activity that is imperfect or relative would not only need rest for carrying on its own activities, but would be in need of double rest when it has to look after and guard, or cherish, or help other activities. In contrast with this is the Absolute Life, which is free from any such need or contingency. For it is supreme above anything that we can conceive.

256. Let there be no compulsion(300) in religion: Truth stands out clear from Error: whoever rejects evil and believes in Allah hath grasped the most trustworthy hand-hold, that never breaks(301). And Allah heareth and knoweth all things.

300 Compulsion is incompatible with religion: because (1) religion depends upon faith and will, and these would be meaningless if induced by force; (2) Truth and Error have been so clearly shown up by the mercy of Allah that there should be no doubt in the minds of any persons of good will as to the fundamentals of faith; (3) Allah's protection is continuous, and His Plan is always to lead us from the depths of darkness into the clearest light.

301 Handihold something which the hands can grasp for safety in a moment of danger. It may be a loop or a handle, or anchor. If it is without flaw, so that there is no danger of breaking, or the safety is absolutely so long as you hold fast to it. Our safety then depends on our own will and faith: Allah's help and protection will always be unfailing if we hold firmly to Allah and trust in Him. (Cf. 21:32).

257. Allah is the Protector of those who have faith: from the depths of darkness He will lead them forth into light. Of those who reject faith the patrons are the evil ones: from light they will lead them forth into the depths of darkness. They will be companions of the fire, to dwell therein (For ever).

258. Hast thou not Turned thy vision to one who disputed with Abraham(302) About his Lord, because Allah had granted him power? Abraham said: "My Lord is He Who Giveth life and death." He said: "I give life and death". Said Abraham: "But it is Allah that causeth the sun to rise from the east; and him to rise from the West." Thus was he confounded who (in arrogance) rejected faith. Nor doth Allah Give guidance to a people unjust(303).

302 The three verses 2:286-288 have been the subject of much controversy as to the exact meaning to be attached to the incidents and the precise persons alluded to, whose names are not mentioned. In such matters, where the Qur'an has given no names and the Prophet has himself given no indication, it seems to me useless to speculate, and still worse to put forward positive opinions. In questions of learning, speculations are often interesting. But it seems to me that the meaning of the Qur'an is so wide and universal that we are in danger of missing the real and eternal meaning if we go on disputing about minor points. All three incidents are such as may happen again and again in any prophet's lifetime, and be seen in impersonal vision at any time. Here they are connected with Al Mustafa's vision as shown by the opening words of verse 2:288. (R).

341 The first point illustrated is the pride of power, and the impotence of human power as against Allah's power. The person who disputed with Abraham may have been Nimrod or some ruler in Babylonia , or indeed elsewhere. I name Babylonia as it was the original home of Abraham (I use of the Chaldees), and Babylon prided herself on her arts and sciences in the ancient world. Science can do many wonderful things; it could then; it can now. But the mystery of Life baffled science then, as it continues to baffle science now, after many centuries of progress. Abraham had faith, and referred back everything to the true Cause of Causes, A sceptical ruler might jestingly say: "I have the power of life and death." A man of science might say: "We have investigated the laws of life and death." Different kinds of powers lie in the hands of kings and men of knowledge. The claim in both cases is true in a very limited sense. But Abraham confounded the claimer by going back to fundamentals. "If you had the ultimate power, why could you not make the sun rise from the West?"

259. Or (take) the similitude of one who passed by a hamlet, all in ruins(304) to its roofs. He said: "Oh!
how shall Allah bring it (ever) to life, after (this) its death?" but Allah caused him to die for a hundred years, then raised him up (again). He said: "How long didst thou tarry (thus)?" He said: (Perhaps) a day or part of a day." He said: "Nay, thou hast tarried thus a hundred years; but look at thy food and thy drink; they show no signs of age; and look at thy donkey: And that We may make of thee a sign unto the people, Look further at the bones, how We bring them together and clothe them with flesh(305)." When this was shown clearly to him, he said: "I know that Allah hath power over all things."

304. This incident is referred variously (1) to Ezekiel's vision of dry bones (Ezekiel, 37:1-10); (2) to Nehemiah's visit to Jerusalem in ruins after the Captivity, and to its rebuilding (Nehemiah, 2:11-20); and (3) to Uzayr, or Ezra, or Esdras, the scribe, priest, and reformer, who was sent by the Persian King after the Captivity to Jerusalem, and about whom there are many Jewish legends. As to (1), there are only four words in this verse about bones. As to (2) and (3), there is nothing specific to connect this verse with either. The wording is perfectly general, and we must understand it as general. I think it does refer not only to individual, but to national death and resurrection.

305. A man is in despair when he sees the destruction of a whole people, city, or civilization. But Allah can cause resurrection as He has done many times in history, and as He will do at the final Resurrection. Time is nothing before Allah. The doubter thinks that he has been dead or 'tarryed thus' a day or less when the period has been a century. On the other hand, the food and drink which he left behind is intact, and as fresh as it was when he left it. But the donkey is not only dead, but nothing but bones is left of it. And before the man's eyes, the bones are reunited, clothed with flesh and blood, and restored to life. Moral: (1) Time is nothing to Allah. (2) It affects different things in different ways; (3) The keys of life and death are in Allah's hands; (4) Man's power is nothing; his faith should be in Allah.

268. Behold! Abraham said: "My Lord! Show me how Thou givest life to the dead(306)." He said: "Dost thou not then believe?" He said: "Yea! but to satisfy My own understanding(307)." He said: "Take four birds; Tame them to turn to thee; put a portion(308) of them on every hill and call to them: They will come to thee (Flying) with speed. Then know that Allah is Exalted in Power, Wise."

306. Verse 258, we saw, illustrated Allah's power over Life and Death, contrasted with man's vain boasts or imaginings. Verse 259 illustrated how Time is immaterial to Allah's workings; things, individual and nations are subject to laws of life and death, which are under Allah's complete control, however much we may be misled by appearances. (R).

307. Abraham had complete faith in Allah's power, but he wanted, with Allah's permission, to give an explanation of that faith to his own heart and mind. Where I have translated "satisfy my own understanding," the literal translation would be "satisfy my own heart."

308. A portion of them: Juz' an. The Commentators understand this to mean that the birds were to be cut up and pieces of them were to be put on the hills. The cutting up or killing is not mentioned, but they say that it is implied by an ellipsis, as the question is how Allah gives life to the dead. (R).

261. The parable of those who spend their substance in the way of Allah is that of a grain of corn: it groweth seven ears, and each ear Hath a hundred grains. Allah giveth manifold increase to whom He pleaseth: And Allah careth for all and He knoweth all things.

262. Those who spend their substance in the cause of Allah, and follow not up their gifts with reminders of their generosity or with injury,—for them their reward is with their Lord: on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve.

263. Kind words(309) and the covering of faults are better than charity followed by injury. Allah is free of all wants, and He is Most-Forbearing.

309. A very high standard is set for charity. (1) It must be in the way of Allah. (2) It must expect no reward in this world. (3) It must not be followed by references or reminders to the act of charity. (4) Still less should any annoyance or injury be caused to the recipient, e.g., by boasting that the giver relieved the person in the hour of need. Indeed, the kindness and the spirit which turns a blind eye to other people's faults or shortcomings is the essence of charity; these things are better than charity if charity is spoiled by tricks that do harm. At the same time, while no reward is to be expected, there is abundant reward from Allah — material, moral, and spiritual — according to His own good pleasure and plan. If we spend in the way of Allah, it is not as if Allah was in need of our charity. On the contrary our shortcomings are so great that we require His utmost forbearance before any good that we can do can merit His praise or reward. Our motives are so mixed that our best may really be very poor if judged by a very strict standard. (Cf. 2:215 and 2:277-278).

264. O ye who believe! cancel not your charity by reminders of your generosity or by injury,—like those who spend their substance to be seen of men, but believe neither in Allah nor in the Last Day(310). They are in parable like a hard, barren rock, on which is a little soil: on it falls heavy rain, which leaves it (Just) a bare stone. They will be able to do nothing with aught they have earned. And Allah guideth not those who reject faith.

310. False charity, 'to be seen or men,' is really no charity. It is worse, for it betokens a disbelieved in Allah and the Hereafter. "Allah seeth well whatever ye do!" (2:280). It is compared to hard barren rock on which by chance a little soil has fallen. Good rain, which renders fertile soil more fruitful, washes away the little soil which this rock had, and exposes its nakedness. What good can hypocrites derive even from the little wealth they may have amassed?

265. And the likeness of those who spend their substance, seeking to please Allah and to strengthen their souls, is as a garden, high and fertile: heavy rain(311) falls on it but makes it yield a double increase of harvest, and if it receives not Heavy rain, light moisture sufficeth it. Allah seeth well whatever ye do.

311. True charity is like a field with good soil on a high situation. It catches good showers of rain, the moisture penetrates the soil, and yet its elevated situation keeps it well-drained, and healthy favourable conditions increase its output enormously. But supposing even that the rain is not abundant, it catches dew and makes the most of any little moisture it can get, and that is sufficient for it. So a man of true charity is spiritually healthy; he is best situated to attract the bounties of Allah, which he does not hoard selfishly but circulates freely. In lean times he still produces good works, and is content with what he has. He looks to Allah's pleasure and the strengthening of his own soul.

266. Does any of you wish that he should have a garden(312) with date-palms and vines and streams flowing underneathe, and all kinds of fruit, while he is stricken with old age, and his children are not strong (enough) to look after themselves) — that it should be caught in a whirlwind, with fire therein, and be burnt up? Thus doth Allah make clear to you (His) Signs; that ye may consider.
271. O ye who believe! Give of the good things which ye have (honourably) earned (314), and of the fruits of the earth which We have produced for you, and do not even aim (315) at getting anything which is bad, in order that out of it ye may give away something, when ye yourselves would not receive it except with closed eyes (316). And know that Allah is Free of all wants, and worthy of all praise (317).

314. According to the English proverb ‘Charity covers a multitude of sins’. Such a sentiment is strongly disapproved in Islam. Charity has value only if (1) something good and valuable is given, (2) which has been honourably earned or acquired by the giver, or (3) which is produced in nature and can be referred to as a bounty of Allah. (1) may include such things as are of use and value to others though they may be of less use to us or superfluous to us on account of our having acquired something more suitable for our station in life; for example, discarded clothes, or an old horse or a used motor car; but if the horse is vicious, or the car engine so far gone that it is dangerous to use, then the gift is worse than useless; it is positively harmful, and the giver is a wrongdoer. (2) applies to fraudulent company-promoters, who earn great credit by giving away in charity some of their ill-gotten gains, or to robbers (even if they call themselves by high-sounding names) who ‘rob Peter to pay Paul’. Islam will have nothing to do with tainted property. Its economic code requires that every gift should be honest and honourable. Even ‘charity’ would not cover or destroy the taint. (3) lays down a test in cases of a doubtful gift. Can we refer to it as a gift of Allah? Obviously the produce of honest labour or agriculture can be so referred to. In modern commerce and speculation there is much of quite the contrary character, and charity will not cover the taint. Some kinds of art, skill or talent are Godgiven: it is the highest kind of charity to teach them or share their product. Others are the contrary: they are bad or tainted. In the same way some professions or services may be tainted, if these tend to moral harm.

315. The preceding note tries to indicate some of the things which are bad or tainted. We should not even think of acquiring them for ourselves, soothing our conscience by the salve that we shall practise charity out of them.

316. Closed eyes imply disgust or connivance because of some feature which we would not openly acknowledge.

317. To dedicate tainted things to Allah is a dishonour to Allah. Who is independent of all wants, and who is worthy of all honour and praise. (Cf. 2:226-4).

272. It is not required of thee (O Messenger), to set them on the right path (320), but Allah sets on the right path whom He pleaseth. Whatever of good ye give benefits your own souls, and ye shall only do so seeking the ‘Face (321)’ of Allah. Whatever good ye give, shall be rendered back to you, and ye shall not be dealt with unjustly.

320. In connection with charity this means that we must relieve those really in need, whether they are good or bad, on the right path or not, Muslims or otherwise. It is not for us to judge in these matters. Allah will give light according to His wisdom. Incidentally it adds a further meaning to the command, “Let there be no compulsion in religion” (2:256). For compulsion may not only be by force, but by economic necessity. In matters of religion we must not even compel by a bit of charity. The chief motive in charity should be Allah’s pleasure and our own Spiritual good. This was addressed in the first instance to Al Mustafa in Madina, but it is of universal application.

321. See note to 2:112. Wajh means literally: face, countenance; hence, favour, glory, Self, Presence.

273. (Charity is) for those in need, who, in Allah’s cause (322) are restricted (from travel), and cannot move about in the land, seeking (For trade or work): the ignorant man thinks, because of their modesty, that they are free from want. Thou shalt know them by their (Unfailing) mark: They beg not importunately about in the land, seeking (For trade or work): the ignorant man thinks, because of their modesty, that they are free from want. Thou shalt know them by their (Unfailing) mark: They beg not importunately but if ye conceal them, and make them reach your eyes (321). And know that Allah is Free of all wants, and worthy of all praise (317).

322. (R).

274. Those who (in charity) (323) spend of their goods by night and by day, in secret and in public, have their conscience by the salve that we shall practise charity out of them. They will abide therein (for ever). Their case is for Allah (to judge); but those who are driven to madness (326), that is because they say: “Trade is like usury (326),” but Allah hath permitted trade and forbidden usury. Those who after receiving direction from their Lord, desist, shall be pardoned for the past; their case is for Allah (to judge); but those who repeat (The offence) are companions of the Fire: They will abide therein (for ever).

323. (R).

324. Usury is condemned and prohibited in the strongest possible terms. There can be no question about the prohibition. When we come to the definition of usury there is room for difference of opinion. Umar, according to Ibn Kathir, felt some difficulty in the matter, as the Prophet left this world before the details of the question were settled. This was one of the three questions on which he wished he had had more light from the Prophet, the other two being Kafalah and Khulafa (see 4:12, n. 518). Our ‘Ulama’, ancient and modern, have worked out a great body of literature on usury, based mainly on economic conditions as they existed at the rise of Islam. (Cf. 3:310). (R).

325. An apt simile; whereas legitimate trade or industry improves the prosperity and stability of men and nations, a dependence on usury would merely encourage a race of idlers, cruel blood-suckers, and worthless fellows who do not know their own good and therefore akin to madmen.
276. Allah will deprive usury of all blessing, but will give increase for deeds of charity: For He loveth not creatures ungrateful and wicked.

277. Those who believe, and do deeds of righteousness, and establish regular prayers and regular charity, will have their reward with their Lord: on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve (327).

278.  O ye who believe! Fear Allah, and give up what remains of your demand for usury, if ye are indeed believers.

279.  If ye do it not, Take notice of war (328) from Allah and His Messenger. But if ye turn back, ye shall have your capital sums: Deal not unjustly, and ye shall not be dealt with unjustly.

280.  If the debtor is in a difficulty, grant him time till it is easy for him to repay. But if ye remit it by way of charity, that is best for you if ye only knew.

281.  And fear the Day when ye shall be brought back to Allah. Then shall every soul be paid what it earned, and none shall be dealt with unjustly.

282.  O ye who believe! When ye deal with each other, in transactions involving future obligations in a fixed period of time, reduce them to writing (329) Let a scribe write down faithfully as between the parties: It is juster in the sight of Allah, More suitable as evidence, and more convenient to prevent doubts, etc., imply that it is not obligatory in law. Examples of the latter kind-cash payment and delivery on the spot—require no evidence in writing, but apparently oral witnesses to such transactions are recommended.

283.  If ye do not such harm, it would be wickedness in you. So fear Allah; For it is Allah that teaches you. And Allah is well acquainted with all things (333). If ye are on a journey, and cannot find a scribe, a pledge with possession (may serve the purpose) (334). And if one of you deposits a thing on trust with another (335), let the trustee (faithfully) discharge his trust, and let him fear his Lord conceal not evidence; for whoever conceals it, - his heart is tainted (336) with sin. And Allah knoweth all that ye do.
It sometimes happens that if some inconvenient piece of evidence is destroyed or concealed, we gain a great advantage materially. We are warned not to yield to such a temptation. The concealment of evidence has a serious effect on our own moral and spiritual life, for it taints the very source of higher life, as typified by the heart. The heart is also the seat of our secrets. We are told that the sin will reach our most secret being, though the sin may not be visible or open to the world. Further, the heart is the seat of our affections, and false dealing taints all our affections.

To Allah belongeth all that is in the heavens and on earth. Whether ye show what is in your minds or conceal it, Allah Calleth you to account for it. He forgiveth whom He pleaseth, and punisheth whom He pleaseth, for Allah hath power over all things.

The Messenger believeth in what hath been revealed to him from his Lord, as do the men of faith. Each one (of them) believeth in Allah, His angels, His books, and His Messengers. "We make no distinction (they say) between one and another of His messengers." And they say: "We hear, and we obey: (We seek) Thy forgiveness, our Lord, and to Thee is the end of all journeys.'"

This Surah started with the question of faith (2:3-4), showed us various aspects of faith and the denial of faith, gave us ordinances for the new people of Islam as a community, and now rounds off the argument again with a confession of faith and of its practical manifestation in conduct ("we hear and we obey"), and closes on a note of humility, so that we may confess our sins, ask for forgiveness, and pray for Allah's help and guidance. (Cf. 24:51).

It is not for us to make any distinction between one and another of Allah's Messengers; we must honour them all equally, though we know that Allah in His wisdom sent them with different kinds of mission and gave them different degrees of rank.

When our faith and conduct are sincere, we realise how far from perfection we are, and we humbly pray to Allah for the forgiveness of our sins. We feel that Allah imposes no burden on us that we cannot bear, and with this realisation in our hearts and in the confession of our lips, we go to Him and ask for His help and guidance. (Cf. 2:253, n. 289).

Cf. 2:233. In that verse the burden was in terms of material wealth; here it is in terms of spiritual duty. Assured by Allah that He will accept from each soul just such duty as it has the ability to offer, we pray further on for the fulfilment of that promise; (Cf. 23:62).

We must not be arrogant, and think that because Allah has granted us His favour and mercy we have no need to exert ourselves, or that we are ourselves superior to those before us. On the contrary, knowing how much they failed, we pray that our burdens should be lightened, and we confess our realisation that we have all the greater need for Allah's mercy and forgiveness. And so we end the whole argument of the Surah with a prayer for Allah's help, not in our own selfish ends, but in our resolve to uphold Allah's truth against all Unbelief.
3. Al 'Imran (The Family of 'Imran)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A. L. M (342).

See note to 2:1.

2. Allah. There is no god but He,-the Living, the Self-Subsisting, Eternal (343).

3. It is He Who sent down to thee (step by step), in truth, the Book, confirming what went before it; and He sent down the Law (of Moses) and the Gospel (344) (of Jesus) before this, as a guide to mankind, and He sent down the criterion (345) (of judgment between right and wrong).

4. Then those who reject Faith in the Signs of Allah will suffer the severest penalty, and Allah is Exalted in Might, Lord of Retribution.

5. From Allah, verily nothing is hidden on earth or in the heavens.

6. He it is Who shapes you in the wombs as He pleases (346). There is no god but He, the Exalted in Might, the Wise.

Who can penetrate the mystery of life when a new life is just being born, except Allah? The reference to the mystery of birth prepares us for the mystery of Allah, and to oppress the people of Moses. Allah saved the Israelites and punished their oppressors through many plagues and calamities.

7. He it is Who has sent down to thee the Book: In it are verses basic or fundamental (of established meaning); they are the foundation (347) of the Book: others are allegorical. But those in whose hearts is perversity follow the part thereof that is allegorical, seeking discord, and searching for its hidden meanings, but no one knows its hidden meanings except Allah. And those who are firmly grounded (348) in knowledge say: "We believe in the Book; the whole of it is from our Lord:" and none will grasp the Message except men of understanding.

8. "Our Lord!" (they say), "Let not our hearts deviate now after Thou hast guided us, but grant us mercy from Thine own Presence; for Thou art the Granter of bounties without measure.

9. "Our Lord! Thou wilt that which will gather mankind Together against a day about which there is no doubt; for Allah never fails in His promise (349)."

This is the prayer of those who are firmly grounded in knowledge. The more they know, the more they realise how little they know of all the depths of Truth in the spiritual worlds. But they have Faith. The glimpses they get of Truth they wish to hold fast in their hearts, and they pray to Allah to preserve them from deviating even from what light they have got. They are sure of their eventual return to Allah, when all doubts will be solved.

10. Those who reject Faith, neither their possessions nor their (numerous) progeny will avail them aught against Allah. They are themselves but fuel for the Fire.

11. (Their plight will be) no better than that of the people of Pharaoh (350), and their predecessors: They denied our Signs, and Allah called them to account for their sins. For Allah is strict in punishment.

From the beginning of the world, sin, oppression, arrogance, and want of Faith have gone together. The Pharaoh of the time of Moses relied upon his power, his territory, his armies, and his resources to mock at Moses the messenger of Allah and to oppress the people of Moses. Allah saved the Israelites and punished their oppressors through many plagues and calamities.

12. Say to those who reject Faith: "Soon will ye be vanquished (351) and gathered together to Hell,- an evil bed indeed (to lie on)!

As Moses warned the Egyptians, so the warning is here sounded to the Pagans, the Jews and the Christians, and all who resisted Faith, that their resistance would be in vain. Already the battle of Badr (referred to in the next verse) had been a warning how Faith must conquer with the help of Allah. The next few decades saw the Byzantine and the Persian Empires overthrown because of their arrogance and their resistance to the Law of Allah.

13. "There has already been for you a Sign in the two armies that met (in combat) (352): One was fighting in the cause of Allah, the other resisting Allah. These saw with their own eyes Twice their number (353). But Allah doth support with His aid whom He pleaseth. In this is a warning for such as have eyes to see."

This refers to the battle of Badr in Ramadan in the second year of the Hijrah. The little exiled community of Makkani Muslims, with their friends in Madinah, had organised themselves into a God-loving community, but were constantly in danger of being attacked by their Pagan enemies of Makkah, in alliance with some of the disaffected elements (Jews and Hypocrites) in or near Madinah itself. The design of the Makkans was to gather all the resources they could, and with an overwhelming force, to crush and annihilate Muhammad and his party. To this end Abu Sufyan was leading a richly-laden caravan from Syria to Makkah. He called for armed aid from Makkah. The battle was fought in the plain of Badr, about 20 miles southwest of Madinah. The Muslim force consisted of only 313 men, mostly ill-armed, but they were led by Muhammad, and they were fighting for their Faith. The Makkani army, well-armed and well-equipped, numbered over a thousand and had among its leaders some of the most experienced warriors of Arabia, including Abu Jahl, the inveterate foe and persecutor of Islam. Against all odds the Muslims won a brilliant victory, and many of the enemy leaders, including Abu Jahil, were killed (Cf. 30:40). (R).

353 It was impossible, without the miraculous aid of Allah, for such a small and ill-equipped force as was the Muslim band, to defeat the large and well-equipped force of the enemy. But their firmness, zeal, and discipline won them divine aid. Enemy prisoners stated that the enemy ranks saw the Muslim force to be many times larger than it was.

14. Fair in the eyes of men is the love of things they covet (354): Women and sons; Heaped-up hoards of gold and silver; horses branded (for blood and excellence); and (wealth of) cattle and well-tilled land. Such are the possessions of this world’s life; but in nearness to Allah is the best of the goals (To return to).

354 The pleasures of this world are first enumerated: women for love; sons for strength and pride; boarded riches, which procure all luxuries; the best and finest pedigree horses; cattle, the measure of wealth in the ancient world, as well as the means and symbols of good farming in the modern world; and broad acres of well-tended land. By analogy, we may include, for our mechanised age, machines of all kinds - tractors, motorcars, aeroplanes, the best internal-combustion engines, etc., etc. In "heaped-up hoards of gold and silver," the Arabic word translated hoards is qasatir plural of qasatir, which literally means a talent of 1,200 ounces of gold. (R).

15. Say: Shall I give you glad tidings of things Far better than those? For the righteous are Gardens in nearness to their Lord, with rivers flowing beneath; therein is their eternal home; with companions pure (and holy) (355); and the good pleasure of Allah. For in Allah’s sight are (all) His servants,-

355 Cf. 2:253 and n. 44.

16. (Namely), those who say: "Our Lord! we have indeed believed: forgive us, then, our sins, and save us from the agony of the Fire;"-

17. Those who show patience, Firmness and self-control (356); who are true (in word and deed); who worship devoutly; who spend (in the way of Allah; and who pray for forgiveness in the early hours of the morning (357).

356 Sâhîh (Nabûnî) includes many shades of meaning: I have specified three here, râz, patience, firmness, and self-control. See 2:45 and 2:153 and notes thereon.

357 True servants of Allah are described in 3:16 and 17. They have faith, humility, and hope (3:16); and they have certain virtues (3:17) râz, (1) patience, steadfastness, self-restraint, and all that goes under the full definition of Sâhîh: this shows a certain attitude of mind; (2) in all their dealings they are true and sincere as they are also in their promises and words; this marks them out in social conduct; (3) further, their spiritual worship is earnest and deep, an inner counterpart of their outward conduct; (4) their worship of Allah shows itself in their love of their fellow-men, for they are ready and liberal in charity; and (5) their self-discipline is so great that the first thing they do every morning is humbly to approach their God.

18. There is no god but He: That is the witness of Allah, His angels, and those endued with knowledge, standing firm (358) on justice. There is no god but He, the Exalted in Power, the Wise.

358 Allah Himself speaks to us through His revelations (through angels) and through His Creation, for all Nature glorifies Allah. No thinking mind, if it only judges the matter fairly, can fail to find the same witness in its own heart and conscience. All this points to the Unity of Allah, His exalted nature, and His wisdom.

19. The Religion before Allah is Islam (submission to His Will): Nor did the People of the Book dissent therefrom except through envy of each other (359), after knowledge had come to them. But if any deny the Signs of Allah, Allah is swift in calling to account.

359 Baghwan: through envy, through selfish contumacy or obstinacy, through sheer contrary-mindedness, or desire to resist or rebel. Cf. 2:250, and 2:213.

20. So if they dispute with thee, say: "I have submitted My whole self (360) to Allah and so have those who follow me." And say to the People of the Book and to those who are unlearned (361): "Do ye (also) submit yourselves?" If they do, they are in right guidance, but if they turn back, Thy duty is to convey the Message; and in Allah’s sight are (all) His servants (362).

360 Whole: self. See n. 114 to 2:112.

361 The People of the Book may be supposed to know something about the previous religious history of mankind. To them the appeal should be easy and intelligible, as religion is one, and it is only being renewed in Islam. But the appeal is also made to the pagan Arabs, who are unlearned, and who can well be expected to follow the example of one of their own, who received divine enlightenment, and was able to bring new knowledge to them. A great many of both these classes did so. But the few who resisted Allah’s grace, and actually threatened and persecuted those who believed, are told that Allah will look after His own.

362 Note the literary skill in the argument as it proceeds. The mystery of birth families suggests that we are coming to the story of Jesus. The exposition of the Book suggests that Islam is the same religion as that of the People of the Book. Next we are told that the People of the Book made their religion one-sided, and through the priesthood of the family of Imran, we are brought to the story of Jesus, who was rejected by a body of the Jews as Muhammad was rejected by a body of both Jews and Christians.

21. As to those who deny the Signs of Allah and in defiance of right (363), slay the prophets, and slay those who teach just dealing with mankind (364), announce to them a grievous penalty.

363 Right: haqq has many shades of meaning: (1) right, in the sense of having a right to something; (2) right, in the sense of straight conduct, as opposed to wrong; (3) truth; (4) justice. All these shades are implied here.

364 Examples of the Prophets slain were: "the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar" Matt. 23:35. Cf. 2:261, n. 75. Again, John the Baptist (Yahya, noble, chaste, a prophet, of the goodly company of the righteous, 3:39), was bound, imprisoned, and beheaded, and his head presented to a dancing harlot: Matt. 14:1-11 (Cf. 4:153).

22. They are those whose works will bear no fruit (365) in this world and in the Hereafter nor will they have anyone to help.

365 Cf. 2:217, end.

23. Hast thou not turned Thy vision to those who have been given a portion (366) of the Book? They are invited to the Book of Allah, to settle their dispute, but a party of them Turn back and decline (The arbitration) (367).

366 A portion of the Book. I conceive that Allah’s revelation as a whole throughout the ages is ‘The Book’. The Law of Moses, and the Gospel of Jesus were portions of the Book. The Qur’an completes the revelation and is par excellence the Book of Allah (Cf. 4:44).

367 The Commentators mention a particular incident when a dispute was submitted by the Jews for arbitration to the Prophet. He appealed to the authority of their own books, but they tried to conceal and prevaricate. The general lesson is that the People of the Book should have been the first to welcome in Muhammad the living exponent of the Message of Allah as a whole, and some of them did so; but others turned away from guilty arrogance, relying on corrupted texts and doctrines forged out of their own fancies, though they were not conformable to reason and good sense.

24. This because they say: "The Fire shall not touch us but for a few numbered days (368):" For their forgeries deceive them as to their own religion.

368 Cf. 2:280.
25. But how (will they fare) when we gather them together against a day about which there is no doubt, and each soul will be paid out just what it has earned, without (favour or) injustice?

26. Say: "O Allah. Lord of Power (And Rule), Thou givest power to whom Thou pleasest, and Thou strippest off power from whom Thou pleasest: Thou enduest with honour whom Thou pleasest, and Thou bringest low whom Thou pleasest: In Thy hand is all good(369). Verily, over all things Thou hast power.

27. "Thou causest the night to gain on the day, and thou causest the day to gain on the night(370); Thou bringest the Living out of the dead, and Thou bringest the dead out of the Living(371); and Thou givest sustenance to whom Thou pleasest, without measure(372)."

28. Let not the believers Take for friends or helpers Unbelievers rather than believers: if any do that, in nothing will there be help from Allah, except by way of precaution, that ye may Guard yourselves from them(373). But Allah cautions you (To remember) Himself; for the final goal is to Allah.

29. Say: "Whether ye hide what is in your hearts or reveal it, Allah knows it all: He knows what is in the heavens, and what is on earth. And Allah has power over all things.

30. "On the Day when every soul will be confronted with all the good it has done, and all the evil it has done, it will wish there were a great distance between it and its evil. But Allah cautions you (To remember) Himself. And Allah is full of kindness to those that serve Him."

31. Say: "If ye do love Allah, Follow me: Allah will love you and forgive you your sins: For Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful."

32. Say: "Obey Allah and His Messenger.: But if they turn back, Allah loveth not those who reject Faith.

33. Allah did choose Adam and Noah, the family of Abraham, and the family of `Imran above all people,-

34. Offspring, one of the other(374): And Allah heareth and knoweth all things.

35. Behold! a woman of `Imran(375) said: "O my Lord! I do dedicate unto Thee what is in my womb for Thy special service(376): So accept this of me: For Thou hearest and knowest all things."

36. When she was delivered, she said: "O my Lord! Behold! I am delivered of a female child!"- and Allah knew best what she brought forth(377)- "And no wise is the male Like the female(378). I have named her Mary, and I commend her and her offspring to Thy protection from the Evil One, the Rejected."

37. The mother of Mary expected a male child. Was she disappointed that it was a female child? No, for she had faith, and she knew that Allah's Plan was better than any wishes of hers. Mary was no ordinary girl: only Allah knew what it was that her mother brought forth.

38. Right graciously did her Lord accept her: He made her grow in purity and beauty: To the care of Zakariya she was assigned. Every time that he entered (Her) chamber to see her, He found her supplied with sustenance. He said: "O Mary! Whence (comes) this to you?" She said: "From Allah. for Allah Provides sustenance to whom He pleases without measure(379)."

39. Mary grew under Allah's special protection. Her sustenance, under which we may include both her physical needs and her spiritual food, came from Allah, and her growth was indeed a 'goodly growth' which I have tried to express in the text by the words "purity and beauty". Some apocryphal Christian writings say that she was brought up in the Temple so the age of twelve like a dove, and that she was fed by angels.

40. There did Zakariya pray to his Lord, saying: "O my Lord! Grant unto me from Thee a progeny that is pure: for Thou art He that heareth prayer(380)"
While he was standing in prayer in the chamber, the angels called unto him:

"(Allah) doth give thee glad tidings of a Word from Him: his name will be Yahya, witnessing the truth of a Word from Allah, and (be besides) noble, chaste, and a prophet,- of the (goodly) company of the righteous."

Notice: ‘a Word from Allah’, not ‘the Word of Allah’, the epithet that mystical Christianity uses for Jesus. As stated in 3:59 below, Jesus was created by a miracle, by Allah’s word ‘Be’, and he was.

He said: "O my Lord! How shall I have son, seeing I am very old, and my wife is barren?" "Thus," was the answer, "Doth God accomplish what He willeth."

"O my Lord! Give me a Sign!" "Thy Sign," was the answer, "Shall be that thou shalt speak to no man for three days but with signals. Then celebrate the praises of thy Lord again and again, and glorify Him in the evening and in the morning."

Behold! the angels said: "O Mary! Allah hath chosen thee and purified thee- chosen thee above the women of all nations.

Mary, the mother of Jesus, was unique, in that she gave birth to a son by a special miracle, without the intervention of the customary physical means. This of course does not mean that she was more than human, any more than that her son was more than human. She had as much need to pray to Allah as anyone else. The Christian dogma, in all sects except the Unitarian, holds that Jesus was God and the son of God. The worship of Mary became the practice in the Roman Catholic Church, which calls Mary the ‘Mother of God’. This seems to have been endorsed by the Council of Ephesus in 431 A.D., in the century before Muhammad was born to sweep away the corruptions of the Church of Christ. For ‘alamin as meaning all nations, see 3:96, n. 423.

"O Mary! worship Thy Lord devoutly: Prostrate thyself, and bow down (in prayer) with those who bow down."

This is part of the tidings of the things unseen, which We reveal unto thee (O Messenger,) by inspiration: Thou wast not with them when they cast lots with arrows, as to which of them should be charged with the care of Mary: Nor wast thou with them when they disputed (the point).

Things unseen belong to a realm beyond the reach of human perception and therefore it would be unseemly to dispute or speculate about them. (R).

Literally, raddas aghlan. For the Arab custom of casting lots with arrows, see 2:219, n. 241.

Christian apocryphal writings mention the contention between the priests as to the honour of taking charge of Mary, and how it was decided by means of rods and reeds in favour of Zakariya.

Behold! the angels said: "O Mary! Allah giveth thee glad tidings of a Word from Him: his name will be Christ Jesus, the son of Mary, held in honour in this world and the Hereafter and of (the company of) those nearest to Allah.

Christ: Greek, Christos = anointed: kings and priests were anointed to symbolise consecration to their office. The Hebrew and Arabic form is Masih.

Nearest to Allah: Muqarrabin, Cf. 3:87.

"He shall speak to the people in childhood and in maturity, and He shall be (of the company of) the righteous."

The ministry of Jesus lasted only about three years, from 30 to 33 years of his age, when in the eyes of his enemies he was crucified. But the Gospel of Luke (2:46) describes him as disputing with the doctors in the Temple at the age of 12, and even earlier, as a child, he was ‘strong in spirit, filled with wisdom’ (Luke 2:40). Some apocryphal Gospels describe him as preaching from infancy.

She said: "O my Lord! How shall I have a son when no man hath touched me?" He said: "Even so: Allah createth what He willeth: When He hath decreed a plan, He but saith to it, `Be,' and it is!

She was addressed by angels, who gave her Allah’s message. In reply she speaks as to Allah. In reply, apparently an angel again gives Allah’s message.

"And Allah will teach him the Book and Wisdom, the Law and the Gospel,

"And (appoint him) a messenger to the Children of Israel, (with this message): "'I have come to you, with a Sign from your Lord, in that I make for you out of clay, as it were, the figure of a bird, and breathe into it, and it becomes a bird by Allah’s leave: And I heal those born blind, and the lepers, and I quicken the dead, by Allah’s leave; and I declare to you what ye eat, and what ye store in your houses. Surely therein is a Sign for you if ye did believe;

This miracle of the clay birds is found in some of the apocryphal Gospels; those of curing the blind and the lepers and raising the dead are in the canonical Gospels. The original Gospel (see 3:48) was not the various stories written afterwards by disciples, but the real Message taught direct by Jesus.

I do not know whether this clause refers to a particular incident, or generally in a prophetic knowledge of what is not known to ordinary people.

"(I have come to you), to attest the Law which was before me. And to make lawful to you part of what was (Before) forbidden to you; I have come to you with a Sign from your Lord. So fear Allah, and obey me.

"It is Allah Who is my Lord and your Lord; then worship Him. This is a Way that is straight."

When Jesus found Unbelief on their part He said: "Who will be My helpers to (the work of) Allah." Said the disciples: "We are Allah’s helpers: We believe in Allah, and do thou bear witness that we are Muslims.

The story of Jesus is told with special application to the time of the Prophet Muhammad. Note the word helpers (Ansar) in this connection, and the reference to plotters in 3:54. It was the one Religion—the Religion of Allah, which was in essence the religion of Abraham, Moses, and Jesus. The argument runs: who do ye then now make divisions and reject the living Teacher? Islam is: bowing to the Will of Allah. All who have faith should bow to the Will of Allah and be Muslims.

"Our Lord! we believe in what Thou hast revealed, and we follow the Messenger. then write us down among those who bear witness."

And (the unbelievers) plotted and planned, and Allah too planned, and the best of planners is Allah.

The Arabic makara has both a bad and a good meaning, that of making an intricate plan to carry out some secret purpose. The enemies of Allah are constantly doing that. But Allah—in whose hands is all good—has His plans also, against which the evil ones will have no chance whatever (Cf. 8:50, 18:42, and 27:30).
55. Behold! Allah said: "O Jesus! I will take thee and raise thee to Myself and clear thee of the falsehoods! I will make those who blaspheme thee; I will make those who follow thee superior to those who reject faith, to the Day of Resurrection; Then shall ye all return unto me, and I will judge between you of the matters wherein ye dispute.

56. "As to those who reject faith, I will punish them with terrible agony in this world and in the Hereafter, nor will they have anyone to help.

57. "As to those who believe and work righteousness, Allah will pay them (in full) their reward; but Allah loveth not those who do wrong.

58. "This is what we rehearse unto thee of the Signs and the Message of Wisdom."

59. The similitude of Jesus before Allah is as that of Adam; He created him from dust, then said to him: "Be". And he was.

60. The Truth comes from Allah alone; so be not of those who doubt.

61. If any one disputes in this matter with thee, now after (full) knowledge Hath come to thee, say: "Come! let us gather together,- our sons and your sons, our women and your women, ourselves and yourselves: Then let us earnestly pray, and invoke the curse of Allah on those who lie!"

62. This is the true account: There is no god except Allah, and Allah. He is indeed the Exalted in Power, the Wise.

We are now in a position to deal with the questions which we left over at 2:87, Jesus is no more than a man. It is against reason and revelation to call him God or the son of God. He is called the son of Mary to emphasise this. He had no human father, as his birth was miraculous. But it was not this which raised him to his high spiritual position as a prophet, but because Allah called him to his office. The praise is due to Allah, Who by His word gave him spiritual strength — strengthened him with the holy spirit. The miracles which surround his story relate not only to his birth and his life and death, but also to his mother Mary and his precursor Yahya. These were the 'Clear Signs' which he brought. It was those who misunderstood him who obscured his clear Signs and surrounded him with mysteries of their own invention. (R).

63. But if they turn back, Allah hath full knowledge of those who do mischief.

64. Say: "O People of the Book! come to common terms as between us and you: That we worship none but Allah, that we associate no partners with him; that we erect not, from among ourselves, Lords and patrons other than Allah."

65. Ye People of the Book! Why dispute ye about Abraham, when the Law and the Gospel were not revealed till after him? Have ye no understanding?

66. Ah! Ye are those who fell to disputing (Even) in matters of which ye had some knowledge! but why dispute ye in matters of which ye have no knowledge? It is Allah Who knows, and ye who know not!

The number of sects among the Jews and Christians shows that they wrangled and disputed even about some of the matters of their own religion, of which they should have had some knowledge. But when they talk of Father Abraham, they are entirely out of court, as he lived before their peculiar systems were evolved.

Abraham was not a Jew nor yet a Christian; but he was true in Faith, and bowed his will to Allah's Will.

67. Abraham was not a Jew nor yet a Christian; but he was true in Faith, and bowed his will to Allah's Will, and he joined not gods with Allah.

68. Without doubt, among men, the nearest of kin to Abraham, are those who follow him, as are also this Messenger and those who believe: And Allah is the Protector of those who have faith.

69. It is the wish of a section of the People of the Book to lead you astray. But they shall lead astray (Not you), but themselves, and they do not perceive.

70. Ye People of the Book! Why reject ye the Signs of Allah, of which ye are (Yourselves) witnesses?

71. Ye People of the Book! Why do ye clothe Truth with falsehood, and conceal the Truth, while ye have knowledge?
72. A section of the People of the Book say: "Believe in the morning (406) what is revealed to the believers, but reject it at the end of the day; perchance they may (themselves) turn back;"
Wahh bari has the sense of "beginning", "early part". The cynics who plotted against Islam actually asked their accomplices to join the believers and then repudiate them.

73. "And believe no one unless he follows your religion." Say: "True guidance is the Guidance of Allah. (Fear ye) lest a revelation (407) be sent to someone (else) like unto that which was sent unto you? or that those (Receiving such revelation) should engage you in argument before your Lord (408)?" Say: "All bounties are in the hand of Allah. He granteth them to whom He pleaseth: And Allah careth for all, and He knoweth all things."

74. For His Mercy He specially chooseth whom He pleaseth; for Allah is the Lord of bounties unbounded.

75. Among the People of the Book are some who, if entrusted with a hoard of gold (409), will (readily) pay it back; others, who, if entrusted with a single silver coin (410), will not repay it unless they constantly feel that they are doing something very paltry as the price for selling our very souls.

76. Nay,- Those that keep their plighted faith and act aright,-verily Allah loves those who act aright.

77. As for those who sell the faith they owe to Allah and their own plighted word for a small price (412), they shall have no portion in the Hereafter: Nor will Allah (Deign to) speak to them or look at them on the Day of Judgment, nor will He clean them (413) (of sin): They shall have a grievous penalty.

403 There are many ways of preventing the access of people to the truth. One is to tamper with it, or trick it out in colours of falsehood; half-truths are often more dangerous than obvious falsehoods. Another is to conceal it altogether. Those who are jealous of a prophet of Allah, whom they actually see before them, do not allow his credentials or virtues to be known, or vilify him, or conceal facts which would attract people to him. When people do this of set purpose, against their own light (of which ye are yourselves witnesses), they are descending to the lowest depths of degradation, and they are doing more harm to themselves than to anyone else. (R).

404 This means setting a small price on their soul.

405 Cf. 2:26; 2:76. The People of the Book were doubly annoyed at the Muslims: (1) that they should be outside their ranks, (2) that having received such revelations, they should be able to convert them out of their own scriptures before their Lord!

406 Cf. 2:26; 2:76. The People of the Book were doubly annoyed at the Muslims: (1) that they should be outside their ranks, (2) that having received such revelations, they should be able to convert them out of their own scriptures before their Lord!

407 The two clauses following have been variously construed, and some translations leave the sense ambiguous. I have construed the conjunction "an" to mean "lest", as it undoubtedly does in 7:172, "an taqulu", etc.

408 Cf. 2:63; n. 78, and 33:5. The argument is: You (People of the Book) are bound by your own oaths, sworn solemnly in the presence of your own Prophets. In the Old Testament as it now exists, Muhammad is foretold in Deut. 18:18; and the name is used for the Arab nation in Isaiah 42:11, for Kedar was a son of Ismail and the name is used for the Arab nation. Also, in the New Testament as it now exists, Muhammad is foretold in the Gospel of St. John, 1:46; 1:52, and 16:7; the term Conforter cannot be the "Holy Spirit" as understood by Christians, because the Holy Spirit already was present, helping and guiding Jesus. The Greek word translated "Conforter" is "Paracletos", which is an easy corruption from "Pericles", which is almost a literal translation of "Muhammad" or "Ahnaf"; see 7:157 and 61:6. Further, there were other Gospels that have perished, but of which traces still remain, which were even more specific in their reference to Muhammad, e.g., the Gospel of St. Barabas, of which one translation is extant in the State Library at Vienna. It was edited in 1907 with an English translation by Mr. Lonsdale and Laura Ragg.

410 Silver coin: dinar: a small silver coin.

411 Every race imbued with race arrogance resorts to this kind of moral or religious subterfuge. Even if its members are usually honest or just among themselves, they are contemptuous of those outside their circle, and cheat and deceive them without any qualms of conscience. This is a "lie against Allah".

412 All our duties to our fellow creatures are referred to the service and faith we owe to Allah. But in the matter of truth an appeal is made to our own self-respect as responsible beings: is it becoming that we should be false to our own word, to ourselves? And then we are reminded that the utmost we can gain by falsifying Allah's word or being untrue to ourselves is but a miserable price. We get at best something very paltry as the price for selling our very souls.

413 Even on sinners—ordinary sinners—Allah will look with compassion and mercy: He will speak words of kindness and cleanse them of their sins. But those who are in active rebellion against Allah and sin against their own light—or what mercy can they expect?

78. There is among them a section who distort the Book with their tongues: (As they read) you would think it is a part of the Book, but it is no part of the Book; and they say, "That is from Allah," but it is not from Allah. It is they who tell a lie against Allah, and (well) they know it!

79. It is not (possible) that a man, to whom is given the Book, and Wisdom, and the prophetic office, should say to people: "Be ye my worshippers rather than Allah's (414)"; on the contrary (He would say) "Be ye worshippers of Him Who is truly the Cherisher of all: For ye have taught the Book and ye have studied it earnestly."

414 It is not in reason or in the nature of things that Allah's messenger should preach against Allah. Jesus came to preach and convey the true message of Allah. (R).

80. Nor would he instruct you to take angels and prophets (415) for Lords and patrons. What! would he bid you to unbelief after ye have bowed your will (To Allah in Islam)?

415 Jesus was a prophet, and the Holy Spirit 'with which he was strengthened' was the Angel who brought the revelations to him.

81. Behold! Allah took the covenant of the prophets (416), saying: "I give you a Book and Wisdom; then comes to you a messenger, confirming what is with you; do ye believe in him and render him help." Allah said: "Do ye agree, and take this my Covenant as binding on you?" They said: "We agree." He said: "Then bear witness, and I am with you among the witnesses."

416 Cf. 2:63, n. 78, and 33:5. The argument is: You (People of the Book) are bound by your own oaths, sworn solemnly in the presence of your own Prophets. In the Old Testament as it now exists, Muhammad is foretold in Deut. 18:18; and the name is used for the Arab nation in Isaiah 42:11, for Kedar was a son of Ismail and the name is used for the Arab nation. Also, in the New Testament as it now exists, Muhammad is foretold in the Gospel of St. John, 1:46; 1:52, and 16:7; the term Conforter cannot be the "Holy Spirit" as understood by Christians, because the Holy Spirit already was present, helping and guiding Jesus. The Greek word translated "Conforter" is "Paracletos", which is an easy corruption from "Pericles", which is almost a literal translation of "Muhammad" or "Ahnaf"; see 7:157 and 61:6. Further, there were other Gospels that have perished, but of which traces still remain, which were even more specific in their reference to Muhammad, e.g., the Gospel of St. Barabas, of which an Italian translation is extant in the State Library at Vienna. It was edited in 1907 with an English translation by Mr. Lonsdale and Laura Ragg.

82. If any turn back after this, they are perverted transgressors.

83. Do they seek for other than the Religion of Allah—while all creatures in the heavens and on earth have, willingly or unwillingly (417), bowed to His Will (Accepted Islam), and to Him shall they all be brought back.
84. Say: “We believe in Allah, and in what has been revealed to us and what was revealed to Abraham, Isma’il, Isaac, Jacob, and the Tribes, and in (the Books) given to Moses, Jesus, and the prophets, from their Lord: We make no distinction between one and another among them, and to Allah do we bow our will (in Islam).”

85. If anyone desires a religion other than Islam (submission to Allah) (418), never will it be accepted of him; and in the Hereafter He will be in the ranks of those who have lost (All spiritual good).

418 The Muslim position is clear. The Muslim does not claim to have a religion peculiar to himself. Islam is not a sect or an ethnic religion. In its view all Religion is one, for the Truth is one. It was the religion preached by all the earlier prophets. It was the truth taught by all the inspired Books. In essence it amounts to a consciousness of the Will and Plan of Allah and a joyful submission to that Will and Plan. If anyone wants a religion other than that, he is false to his own nature, as he is false to Allah’s Will and Plan. Such a one cannot expect guidance, for he has deliberately renounced guidance.

86. How shall Allah Guide those who reject Faith after they accepted it and bare witness that the Messenger was true and that Clear Signs had come unto them? but Allah guides not a people unjust.

87. Of such the reward is that on them (rests) the curse of Allah, of His angels, and of all mankind:—

88. In that will they dwell; nor will their penalty be lightened, nor respite be their (lot) (418-A);—

418-A Cf. 2:161-162.

89. Except for those that repent (Even) after that, and make amends; for verily Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

90. But those who reject Faith after they accepted it, and then go on adding to their defiance of Faith,— never will their repentance be accepted; for they are those who have (of set purpose) gone astray.

91. As to those who reject Faith, and die rejecting,— never would be accepted from any such as much gold as the earth contains, though they should offer it for ransom. For such is (in store) a penalty grievous, and they will find no helpers.

92. By no means shall ye attain righteousness unless ye give (freely) of that (419) which ye love; and whatever ye give, of a truth Allah knoweth it well.

419 The test of charity is: do you give something that you value greatly, something that you love? If you give your life in a Cause, that is the greatest gift you can give. If you give yourself, that is, your personal efforts, your talents, your skill, your learning, that comes next in degree. If you give your earnings, your property, your possessions, that is also a great gift; for many people love them even more than other things. And there are less tangible things, such as position, reputation, the well-being of those we love, the regard of those who can help us, etc. It is unsuitableness that Allah demands, and there is no act of unsuitableness, however small or ignoble, but is well within the knowledge of Allah.

93. All food was lawful to the Children of Israel, except what Israel (420) Made unlawful for itself, before the Law (of Moses) was revealed. Say: “Bring ye the Law and study it, if ye be men of truth.”

420 The Arabs ate the flesh of the camel, which is lawful in Islam, but it was prohibited by the Jewish Law of Moses (Leviticus 11:4). But that Law was very strict because of the “hardness of heart” of Israel, because of Israel’s insolence and iniquity (6:146). Before it was promulgated Israel was free to choose its own food. I take ‘Israel’ here to stand for the people of Israel.

94. If any, after this, invent a lie and attribute it to Allah, they are indeed unjust wrong-doers.

95. Say: "(Allah) speaketh the Truth: follow the religion of Abraham, the same in faith; he was not of the Pagans (421)."

421 The greater freedom of Islam in the matter of the ceremonial law, compared with the Mosaic Law, is not a reproach but a recommendation. We go back to an older source than Judaism—the institutions of Abraham. By common consent his Faith was sound, and he was certainly not a pagan, a term contemptuously applied to the Arabs by the Jews.

96. The first House (of worship) appointed for men was that at Bakkah (422): Full of blessing and of guidance for all kinds of beings (423):

422 Bakkah: same as Makkah; perhaps an older name. The foundation of the Karbah goes back to Abraham, but there are place associations in the sacred territory with the names of Adam and Eve. (R).

423 All beings: all the worlds (1:2); all kinds of beings; all nations (3:82); all creatures (3:57).

97. In it are Signs Manifest; (for example), the Station of Abraham (424); whoever enters it attains security (425); Pilgrimage thereto is a duty men owe to Allah,— those who can afford the journey; but if any deny faith, Allah stands not in need of any of His creatures.

424 Station of Abraham: see 2:125 and n. 125.

425 See reference in last note.

98. Say: "O People of the Book! Why reject ye the Signs of Allah, when Allah is Himself witness to all ye do?"

99. Say: "O ye People of the Book! Why obstruct ye those who believe, from the path of Allah, Seeking to make it crooked, while ye were yourselves witnesses (to Allah’s Covenant) (426)? but Allah is not unmindful of all that ye do."

426 Cf. 3:81.

100. O ye who believe! If ye listen to a faction among the People of the Book, they would (indeed) render you apostates after ye have believed!

101. And how would ye deny Faith while unto you are rehearsed the Signs of Allah, and among you Lives the Messenger. Whoever holds firmly to Allah will be shown a way that is straight.

102. O ye who believe! Fear Allah as He should be feared, and die not except in a state (428) of Islam.

427 Fear is of many kinds: (1) the abject fear of the coward; (2) the fear of a child or an inexperienced person in the face of an unknown danger; (3) the fear of a reasonable man who wishes to avoid harm to himself or to people whom he wishes to protect; (4) the reverence which is akin to love, for it fears to do anything which is not pleasing to the object of love. The first is unworthy of man; the second is necessary for one spiritually immature; the third is a manly precaution against evil as long as it is unperceived; and the fourth is the seed-bed of righteousness. Those mature in faith cultivate the fourth at earlier stages, the third or the second may be necessary; they are fears, but not the fear of Allah. The first is a feeling of which anyone should be ashamed.

428 Our whole being should be permeated with Islam; it is not a mere veneer or outward show.
103. And hold fast, all together, by the rope(429) which Allah (stretches out for you), and be not divided among yourselves; and remember with gratitude Allah’s favour on you; for ye were enemies(430) and He joined your hearts in love, so that by His Grace, ye became brethren; and ye were on the brink of the pit of Fire, and He saved you from it. Thus doth Allah make His Signs clear to you: That ye may be guided.

429 The simile is that of people struggling in deep water, to whom a benevolent Providence stretches out a strong and unbreakable rope of rescue. If all hold fast to it together, their mutual support adds to the chance of their safety.

430 Yathrib was torn with civil and tribal feuds and dissensions before the Messenger of Allah set his sacred feet on its soil. After that, it became the City of the Prophet, Madinah, and unmatched Brotherhood and the pivot of Islam. This poor quarrelsome world is a larger Yathrib: can we establish the sacred feet on its soil, and make it a new and larger Madinah?

104. Let there arise out of you a band of people inviting all that is good, enjoining what is right, and forbidding what is wrong: They are the ones to attain felicity(431).

431 Muflih, āllaḥ, fal a h: the root idea is attainment of desires; happiness, in this world and the next; success; prosperity; freedom from anxiety, care, or a disturbed state of mind—the opposite of ādāhā in the next verse, which includes: failure; misery; punishment or penalty; agony or anguish.

The ideal Muslim community is happy, untroubled by conflicts or doubts, sure of itself, strong, united, and prosperous; because it invites all that is good, enjoins the right; and forbids the wrong—a master-stroke of description in three clauses.

105. Be not like those who are divided amongst themselves and fall into disputations after receiving Clear Signs: For them is a dreadful penalty—

106. On the Day when some faces will be (lit up with) white, and some faces will be (in the gloom of) black(432): To those whose faces will be black, (will be said): "Did ye reject Faith after accepting it? Taste then the penalty for rejecting Faith."

432 The ‘face’ (nayrūh) expresses our personality, our inmost being. White is the colour of Light; to become white is to be illuminated with Light, which stands for felicity, the rays of the glorious Light of Allah. Black is the colour of darkness, sin, rebellion, misery; removal from the Grace and Light of Allah. These are the Signs of Heaven and Hell. The standard of decision in all questions is the justice of Allah.

107. But those whose faces will be (lit with) white,—they will be in (the light of) Allah’s mercy: therein to dwell (for ever).

108. These are the Signs of Allah. We rehearse them to thee in Truth: And Allah means no injustice to any of His creatures.

109. To Allah belongs all that is in the heavens and on earth: To Him do all questions go back (for decision)(433).

110. Ye are the best of peoples, evolved for mankind, enjoining what is right, forbidding what is wrong, and believing in Allah.(434) If only the People of the Book had faith, it were best for them: among them are some who have faith, but most of them are perverted transgressors.

434 The logical conclusion to the evolution of religious history is a non-sectarian, non-racial, non-doctrinal, universal religion, which Islam claims to be. For Islam is just submission to the Will of Allah. This implies (1) Faith, (2) doing right, being an example to others to do right, and having the power to see that the right prevails; (3) eschewing wrong, being an example to others to eschew wrong, and having the power to see that wrong and injustice are defeated. Islam therefore lives, not for itself, but for mankind. The People of the Book, if only they had faith, would be Muslims, for they have been prepared for Islam. Unfortunately there is Unbelief, but it can never harm those who carry the banner of Faith and Right, which must always be victorious.

111. They will do you no harm, barring a trifling annoyance; if they come out to fight you, they will show you their backs, and no help shall they get.

112. Shame is pitched over them(435) (Like a tent) wherever they are found, except when under a covenant (of protection) from Allah and from men; they draw on themselves wrath from Allah, and pitched over them is (the tent of) destitution. This because they rejected the Signs of Allah, and slew the prophets in defiance of right(436); this because they rebelled and transgressed beyond bounds.

435 Duḥṣa: I think there is a simile from the pitching of a tent. Ordinarily a man’s tent is a place of tranquillity and honour for him. The tent of the wicked wherever they are found is ignominy, shame, and humiliation. It is pitch from Allah or from men that gives them protection when their pride has a fall. Using the same simile of a tent in another way, their home will be destitution and misery.

436 Cf. 3:262. n. 363.

113. Not all of them are alike: Of the People of the Book are a portion that stand (For the right): They rehearse the Signs of Allah all night long, and they prostrate themselves(437) in adoration.

437 In Islam we respect sincere faith and true righteousness in whatever form they appear. This verse, according to Commentators, refers to those People of the Book who eventually embraced Islam. (R).

114. They believe in Allah and the Last Day; they enjoin what is right, and forbid what is wrong; and they hasten (in emulation) in (all) good works: They are in the ranks of the righteous.

115. Of the good that they do, nothing will be rejected of them; for Allah knoweth well those that do right.

116. Those who reject Faith,—neither their possessions nor their (numerous) progeny will avail them aught against Allah. They will be companions of the Fire,—dwelling therein (forever).(438)

438 Cf. 3:10.

117. What they spend in the life of this (material) world May be likened to a wind which brings a nipping frost: It strikes and destroys the harvest of men who have wronged their own souls: it is not Allah that hath wronged them, but they wrong themselves.(439)

439 False ‘spending’ may be either in false ‘charity’ or in having a ‘good time’. For the man who resists Allah’s purpose, neither of them is any good. The essence of charity is faith and love. Where these are wanting, charity is not charity. Some baser motive is there: ostentation, or even worse, getting a person into the giver’s power by a pretence of charity: something that is connected with the life of this grasping, material world. What happens? You expect a good harvest. But ‘while you think, good easy man, for surely your greatness is a-ripening,’ there comes a nipping frost, and destroys all your hopes. The frost is some calamity, or the fact that you are found out! Or perhaps it is ‘High blown pride,’ as in Shakespeare’s Henry VIII, 2:3. In your despair you may blame blind Fate or you may blame Allah! Blind Fate does not exist, for there is Allah’s Providence, which is just and good. The harm or injustice has come, not from Allah, but from your own soul. You wronged your soul, and it suffered the frost. Your base motive brought you no good: it may have reduced you to poverty, shame, and disgrace. All the brave show of the wicked in this life is but a wind charged with evil to themselves.

118. O ye who believe! Take not into your intimacy those outside your ranks: They will not fail to corrupt you. They only desire your ruin: Rank hatred has already appeared from their mouths: What their hearts conceal is far worse. We have made plain to you the Signs, if ye have wisdom.

119. Ah! ye are those who love them, but they love you not,—though ye believe in the whole of the Book.(440) When they meet you, they say, "We believe":(441) But when they are alone, they bite off the very tips of their fingers at you in their rage. Say: "Perish in you rage; Allah knoweth well all the secrets of the heart."

440 Islam gives you the complete revelation, ‘the whole of the Book,’ though partial revelations have come in all ages. (Cf. 3:253, and n. 366.)

441 Cf. 2:114.

120. If aught that is good befalls you, it grieves them; but if some misfortune overtakes you, they rejoice at it. But if ye are constant and do right, not the least harm will their cunning do to you; for Allah Compasseth round about all that they do.

121. Remember that morning Thou didst leave Thy household (early) to post the faithful at their stations for battle:(442) And Allah heareth and knoweth all things:

442 The Battle of Uhud was a great testing time for the young Muslim community. Their mettle and the wisdom and strength of their Leader were shown in the battle of Badr (3:131 and note), in which the Makkan Pagans suffered a crushing defeat. The Makkans were determined to wipe off their disgrace and to annihilate the Muslims in Madinah. To this end they collected a large force and marched to Madinah. They numbered some 3,000 fighting men under Abu Sufyan, and they were so confident of victory that they went in women-folk, came with them, and showed the most shameful savagery after the battle. To meet the threatened danger the Muslim Leader, Muhammad Mustafa , with his usual foresight, courage, and initiative, resolved to take his station at the foot of Mount Uhud, which dominates the city of Madinah some three miles to the north. Early in the morning, on the 7th of Shawwal, A.H. 3 (January, 625), he made his dispositions for battle. Madinah winters are notoriously rigorous, but the warriors were well provided and the pass in the hills at their back were filled with 50 archers to prevent the enemy attack from the rear. The enemy were not only fighting the walls of Madinah, with the Muslims at their rear. In the beginning the battle went well for the Muslims. The enemy wavered, but the Muslim archers, in disobedience of their orders, left their posts to join in the pursuit and share in the boons. There was also treachery on the part of the 300 ‘Hypocrites’ led by Abdullah ibn Ubai, who deserted. The enemy took advantage of the opening left by the archers, and there was severe hand-to-hand fighting, in which numbers told in favour of the enemy. Many of the Companions and Helpers were killed. But there was no rout. Among the Muslim martyrs was the gallant Hamza, a brother of the Prophet's father. The graves of the martyrs are still shown at Uhud. The Messenger himself was wounded in his head and face, and one of his front teeth was broken. Had it not been for his firmness, courage, and coolness, all would have been lost. As it was, the Prophet, in spite of his wound, and many of the wounded Muslims, inspired by his example, returned to the field the next day, and Abu Sufyan and his Makkah army thought it most prudent to withdraw. Madinah was saved, but a lesson in faith, constancy, firmness, and steadfastness was learnt by the Muslims. (R.)

122. Remember two of your parties(443) Meditated cowardice; but Allah was their protector, and in Allah should the faithful (Ever) put their trust.

443 The two parties waver ing in their minds were probably Banu Salamah of the Kainarj and Banu Hanithah, but they rallied under the Prophet’s inspiration. That incident shows that man may be weak, but if he allows his weak will, to be governed by the example of men of God, he may yet remedy his weakness. (Eds.)

123. Allah had helped you at Badr, when ye were a contemptible little force; then fear Allah. thus May ye show your gratitude.(444)

444 Gratitude to Allah is not to be measured by words. It should show itself in conduct and life. If all the Muslims had learnt the true lesson from the victory at Badr, their archers would not have left the posts appointed for them, nor the two tribes mentioned in the last note ever wavered in their faith.

124. Remember thou saidst to the Faithful: "Is it not enough for you that Allah should help you with three thousand angels (Specially) sent down?"(445)

445 Read verse 124 with the following five verses, to get its full signification (Cf. 5:80.)

125. “Yea, - if ye remain firm, and act aright, even if the enemy should rush here on you in hot haste, your Lord would help you with five thousand angels Making a terrific onslaught.(446)

446 Musawwim: this is the active voice of the verb, not to be confused with the passive voice in 3:4 of , which has a different signification.

126. Allah made it but a message of hope for you, and an assurance to your hearts: (in any case) there is no help except from Allah. The Exalted, the Wise:(447)

447 Whatever happens, whether there is a miracle or not, all help proceeds from Allah. Man should not be so arrogant as to suppose that his own resources will change the current of the world plan. Allah helps those who show constancy, courage, and discipline, and use all the human means at their disposal, not those who fold their hands and have no faith. But Allah's help is determined on considerations exalted far above our petty human motives, and by perfect wisdoms, of which we can have only faint glimpses.

127. That He might cut off a fringe of the Unbelievers(448) or expose them to infamy, and they should then be turned back, frustrated of their purpose.

448 A fringe of the Unbelievers: an extremity, an end, either upper or lower. Here it may mean that the chiefs of the Makkan Pagans, who had come to exterminate the Muslims with such confidence, went back frustrated in their purpose. The shameless cruelty with which they and their women mutilated the Muslim corpses on the battlefield will stand recorded to their eternal infamy. Perhaps it also exposed their real nature to some of those who fought for them, e.g., Khalid ibn al Wald, who not only accepted Islam afterwards, but became one of the most notable champions of Islam. He was with the Muslims in the conquest of Makkah, and later on, won distinguished honours in Syria and Iraq .

128. Not for thee, (but for Allah,) is the decision: Whether He turn in mercy to them, or punish them; for they are indeed wrong-doers.(449)

449 Uhud is as much a signpost for Islam as Badr. For us in these latter days it carries an ever greater lesson. Allah's help will come if we have faith, obedience, discipline, unity, and the spirit of acting in righteousness and justice. If we fail, His mercy is always open to us. But it is also open to our enemies, and those who see to us His enemies. His Plan may be to bring sinners to repentance, and to teach us righteousness and wisdom through those who seem in our eyes to be rebellious or even defiant. There may be good in them that He sees and we do not: a humbling thought that must lead to our own self-examination and self-improvement.

129. To Allah belongeth all that is in the heavens and on earth. He forgiveth whom He pleaseth and puniseth whom He pleaseth; but Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

130. O ye who believe! Devour not usury,(450) doubled and multiplied; but fear Allah. that ye may (really) prosper.(451)

450 Cf. 2:275 and note. The last verse spoke of forgiveness, even to enemies. If such mercy is granted by Allah to erring sinners, how much more is it incumbent on us, poor sinners to refrain from oppressing our fellow-beings in need, in matters of mere material and ephemeral wealth? Uzayr is the opposite extreme of charity, unselfishness, striving, and giving of ourselves in the service of Allah and of our fellow-men.

451 Real prosperity consists, not in greed, but in giving - the giving of ourselves and of our substance in the cause of Allah and Allah's truth and in the service of Allah's creatures.

131. Fear the Fire, which is repaired for those who reject Faith:
132. And obey Allah and the Messenger. that ye may obtain mercy.

133. Be quick in the race for forgiveness from your Lord, and for a Garden whose width is that (of the whole) of the heavens and of the earth,(452) prepared for the righteous,-

452 The Fire (3:131) is, as always, contrasted with the Garden -in other words, Hell contrasted with Heaven. We are told that its width alone is that of the whole of the heavens and the earth - all the creation we can imagine. In other words our spiritual felicity covers not merely this or that part of our being, but all life and all existence. Who can measure its width, or length, or depth? (R).

134. Those who spend (freely),(453) whether in prosperity, or in adversity; who restrain anger, and pardon (all) men; for Allah loves those who do good;-

453 Another definition of the righteous (v. 134-35). So far from grasping material wealth, they give freely, of themselves and their substance, not only when they are well-off and it is easy for them to do so, but also when they are in difficulties, for other people may be in difficulties at the same time. They do not get ruffled in adversity, or get angry when the other people behave badly, or their own good plans fail. On the contrary they redouble their efforts. For the charity or good deed is all the more necessary in adversity. And they do not throw the blame on others. Even where such blame is due and correction is necessary, their own mind is free from a sense of grievance, for they forgive and cover other men's faults. This as far as other people are concerned. But we may be ourselves at fault, and perhaps we brought some calamity on ourselves. The righteous man is not necessarily perfect. In such circumstances his behaviour is described in the next verse.

135. And those who,(454) having done something to be ashamed of, or wronged their own souls,(455) earnestly bring Allah to mind, and ask for forgiveness for their sins,- and who can forgive sins except Allah,- and are never obstinate in persisting knowingly in (the wrong) they have done.

454 The righteous man, when he finds he has fallen into sin or error, does not whine or despair, but asks for Allah's forgiveness, and his faith gives him hope. If he is sincere, that means that he abandons his wrong conduct and makes amends.

455 Sin is a sort of oppression of ourselves by ourselves. This follows from the doctrine of personal responsibility, as opposed to that of blind fate or of an angry God or gods lying in wait for revenge or injury on mankind.

136. For such the reward is forgiveness from their Lord, and Gardens with rivers flowing underneath,- an eternal dwelling: How excellent a recompense for those who work (and strive)!

137. Many were the Ways of Life(456) that have passed away before you: travel through the earth, and see what was the end of those who rejected Truth.

456 Cf. Tennyson (In Memoriam): 'Our little systems have their day, They have their day and cease to be: They are but broken lights of Thee, And Thou, O Lord, art more than they.' Only Allah's Truth will last, and it will gain the mastery if ye are true in Faith.

138. Here is a plain statement to men, a guidance and instruction to those who fear Allah.

139. So lose not heart, nor fall into despair: For ye must gain mastery if ye are true in Faith.

140. If a wound hath touched you,(457) be sure a similar wound hath touched the others. Such days (of varying fortunes) We give to men and men by turns: that Allah may know those that believe, and that He may take to Himself from your ranks Martyr-witnesses (to Truth). And Allah loveth not those that do wrong.

457 These general considerations apply in particular to the disaster in Uhud. (1) In a fight for truth, if you are hurt, be sure the adversary has suffered hurt also, the more so as he has no faith to sustain him. (2) Success or failure in this world comes to all at varying times: we must not grumble, as we do not see the whole of Allah's Plan. (3) Men's true mettle is known in adversity as gold is assayed in fire: Cf. also 3:134, n. 467. (4) Martyrdom is in itself an honour and a privilege; how glorious is the fame of Hamzah the Martyr? (5) If there is any dross in us, it will be purified by resistance and struggle. (6) When evil is given rope a little, it works out its own destruction: the urchings of cruelty indulged in by the Pagans after what they supposed to be their victory at Uhud filled up their cup of iniquity; it lost them the support and adherence of the best in their own ranks, and hastened the destruction of Paganism from Arabia. Cf. 3:127 and n. 148.

141. Allah. s object also is to purge(458) those that are true in Faith and to deprive of blessing Those that resist Faith.

458 The purge or purification was in two senses. (1) It cleared out the Hypocrites from the ranks of the Muslim warriors. (2) The testing-time strengthened the faith of the weak and wavering: for suffering has its own mission in life. The Prophet's example-soured but staunch, and firmer than ever put new life into the Community.

142. Did ye think that ye would enter Heaven(459) without Allah testing those of you who fought hard (In His Cause) and remained steadfast?

459 Cf. 2:214.

143. Ye did indeed wish for death before ye met him: Now ye have seen him with your own eyes, (And ye fliuch!) you will gain mastery if ye are true in Faith.

144. Muhammad is no more(460) than a messenger: many Were the messenger that passed away before him. If he died or were slain, will ye then Turn back on your heels? If any did turn back on his heels, not the least harm will he do to Allah. but Allah (on the other hand) will swiftly reward those who (serve Him) with gratitude.

460 This verse primarily applies to the battle of Uhud, in the course of which a cry was raised that the Messenger was slain. He had indeed been severely wounded, but Talhah, Abu Bake, and Ali were at his side, and his own unexampled bravery saved the Muslim army from a rout. This verse was recalled again by Abu Bake when the Messenger actually died a natural death eight years later, to remind people that Allah, Whose Message he brought, lives forever. And we have need to remember this now and often for two reasons: (1) when we feel inclined to pay more than human honour to one who was the truest, the purest, and the greatest of men, and thus in a sense to compound for our forgetting the spirit of his teaching, and (2) when we feel depressed at the chances and changes of time, and forget that the eternal Allah lives and watches over us and over all His creatures now as in all history in the past and in the future.

145. Nor can a soul die except by Allah. s leave, the term being fixed as by writing. If any do desire a reward in this life, We shall give it(461) to him; and if any do desire a reward in the Hereafter, We shall give it to him. And swiftly shall We reward those that (serve us with) gratitude.

461 There is a slight touch of irony in this. As applied to the archers at Uhud, who deserted their post for the sake of plunder, they might have got some plunder, but they put themselves and the whole of their army into jeopardy. For a little worldly gain, they nearly lost their souls. On the other hand, those who took the long view and fought with staunchness and discipline - their reward was swift and sure. If they died, they got the crown of martyrdom. If they lived, they were heroes honoured in this life and the next.

146. How many of the prophets fought (in Allah. s way), and with them (fought) Large bands of godly men? but they never lost heart if they met with disaster in Allah. s way, nor did they weaken (in will) nor give in. And Allah Loves those who are firm and steadfast.

147. All that they said was: "Our Lord! Forgive us our sins and anything We may have done that transgressed our duty: Establish our feet firmly, and help us against those that resist Faith."

148. And Allah gave them a reward in this world, and the excellent reward of the Hereafter. For Allah Loveth those who do good.

149. O ye who believe! If ye obey the Unbelievers, they will drive you back on your heels, and ye will turn back (from Faith) to your own loss.

150. Nay, Allah is your protector, and He is the best of helpers.

151. Soon shall We cast terror into the hearts of the Unbelievers, for that they joined companions with Allah, for which He had sent no authority: their abode will be the Fire: And evil is the home of the wrong-doers!

152. Allah did indeed fulfil His promise to you when ye with His permission Were about to annihilate your enemy,-until ye flinched and fell to disputing about the order,(462) and disobeyed it after He brought you in sight (of the booty) which ye covet. Among you are some that hanker after this world and some that desire the Hereafter. Then did He divert you from your foes in order to test you.(463) But He favours you: For Allah is full of grace to those who believe.

462 The order was: not to run after booty, but strictly to maintain discipline. Uhud was in the beginning a victory for the Muslims. Many of the enemy were slain, and they were retiring when a part of the Muslims, against orders, ran in pursuit, attracted by the prospects of booty. See note to 3:121.

463 The disobedience seemed at first pleasant: they were chasing the enemy, and there was the prospect of booty. But when the gap was noticed by the enemy, they turned the flank round the hill and, nearly overwhelming the Muslims. Had it not been for Allah’s grace, and the firmness of their Leader and his immediate Companions, they would have been finished.

153. Behold! ye were climbing up the high ground, without even casting a side glance at any one, and the Messenger in your rear was calling you back. There did Allah give you one distress after another by way of requital,(464) to teach you not to grieve for (the booty) that had escaped you and for (the ill) that had befallen you. For Allah is well aware of all that ye do.

464 It would seem that a party of horsemen led by the dashing Khalid ibn al Wai’id came through the gap in the passes where the Muslim archers should have been, and in the confusion that arose, the retreating foe rallied and turned back on the Muslims. From the low ground on the bank of the Nihlah, the Muslims retreated in their turn and tried to gain the hill. They had a double loss: (1) they were balked of the booty they had run after, and (2) their own lives and the lives of their whole army were in danger, and many lives were actually lost from their ranks. Their own lives being in danger, they had hardly time to grieve for the loss of booty or the general calamity. But it steadied them, and some of them stood the test.

154. After (the excitement) of the distress, He sent down calm on a band of you overcome with slumber,(465) while another band was stirred to anxiety by their own feelings, Moved by wrong suspicions of Allah’s suspicions due to ignorance. They said: "What affair is this of ours?"(466) Say thou: "Indeed, this affair is wholly Allah’s." They hide in their minds what they dare not reveal to thee. They say (to themselves): "If we had had anything to do with this affair, We should not have been in the slaughter here." Say: "Even if you had remained in your homes, those for whom death was decreed would certainly have gone forth to the place of their death"; but (all this was)(467) that Allah might test what is in your breasts and purge what is in your hearts. For Allah knoweth well the secrets of your hearts.

465 After the first surprise, when the enemy turned on them, a great part of the Muslims did their best, and seeing their mettle, the enemy withdrew to his camp. There was a hull; the wounded had rest; those who had fought the hard fight were visited by kindly Sleep, sweet Nature’s nurse. In contrast to them was the band of hypocrisies, whose behaviour is described in the next note.

466 The hypocrisies withdraw from the fighting. Apparently they had been among those who had been counselling the defence of Mudinah within the walls, instead of boldly coming out to meet the enemy. Their distress was caused by their own mental state: the sleep of the just was denied them; and they continued to murmur of what might have been. Only fools do so: wise men face actualities.

467 That testing by Allah is not in order that it may add to His knowledge, for He knows all. It is in order to help us subjectively, to mould our will, and purge us of any grosser motives, that will be searched out by calamity. If it is a hardened sinner, the test brings conviction out of his own self Cf. also 3:140, and 34:21.

155. Those of you(468) who turned back on the day the two hosts Met,—it was Satan who caused them to fail, because of some (evil) they had done. But Allah Has blotted out (their fault): For Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Forbearing.

468 It was the duty of all who were able to fight, to fight in the sacred cause at Uhud. But a small section were timid; they were not quite as bad as those who rebelled against Allah, or those who thoughtlessly disobeyed orders. But they still failed in their duty. It is our inner motives that Allah regards. These timorous people were forgiven by Allah. Perhaps they were given another chance: perhaps they rose to it and did their duty then.

156. O ye who believe! Be not like the Unbelievers, who say of their brethren, when they are travelling through the Earth or engaged in fighting: "If they had stayed with us, they would not have died, or been slain." This that Allah may make it a cause of sighs and regrets in their hearts. It is Allah that gives Life and Death,(469) and Allah sees well all that ye do.

469 It is want of faith that makes people afraid (1) of meeting death, (2) of doing their duty when it involves danger, as in travelling in order to earn an honest living, or fighting in a sacred cause. Such fear is part of the punishment for want of faith. If you have faith, there is no fear in meeting death, for it brings you nearer to your goal, nor in meeting danger for a sufficient cause, because you know that the keys of life and death are in Allah’s hands. Nothing can happen without Allah’s Will. If it is Allah’s Will that you should live, the danger you incur in a just cause brings you glory. Supposing it is His Will that you should lose your life in the danger, there are three considerations that would make you eager to meet it: (1) dying in doing your duty is the best means of reaching Allah’s Mercy; (2) the man of faith knows that he is going nearer to Allah, and (3) he is being ‘brought together’ unto Allah: i.e., he will meet all his dear ones in faith; instead of the separation which the souls without faith fear, he looks forward to a sweeter reunion than is possible in this life. Cf. 2:167.

157. And if ye are slain, or die, in the way of Allah, forgiveness and mercy from Allah are far better than all they could amass.(470)

470 Notice a beautiful little literary touch here. At first sight you would expect the second person here (‘you could amass?’), to match the second person in the earlier clause. But remember that the second person in the earlier clause refers to the man of faith, and the third person in the last line refers to the Unbelievers; as if it said: ‘Of course you as a man of faith would not be for hoarding riches: your wealth-duty and the mercy of Allah is far more precious than anything the Unbelievers can amass in their selfish lives.’

158. And if ye die, or are slain, Lo! it unto Allah that ye are brought together.

159. It is part of the Mercy of Allah that thou dost deal gently with them(471) Wert thou severe or harsh-hearted, they would have broken away from about thee: so pass over (Their faults), and ask for ((Allah’s)’ forgiveness for them; and consult them in affairs (of moment). Then, when thou hast Taken a decision put thy trust in Allah. For Allah loves those who put their trust (in Him).

471 The extremely gentle nature of Muhammad endeared him to all, and it is reckoned as one of the Mercies of Allah. One of the Prophet's titles is "A Mercy to all Creation." At no time was this gentleness, this mercy, this long-suffering with human weaknesses, more valuable than after a disaster like that at Uhud. It is a Godlike quality, which then, as always, bound and bounds the souls of countless men to him.

160. If Allah helps you, none can overcome you: If He forsakes you, who is there, after that, that can help you? in Allah, then, Let believers put their trust.

161. No prophet could (ever) be false to his trust. If any person is so false, He shall, on the Day of Judgment, restore what he misappropriated; then shall every soul receive its due,- whatever it earned,- and none shall be dealt with unjustly.

472 Besides the gentleness of his nature, Al Mustafa was known from his earliest life for his trustworthiness. Hence his title of al-Aman. Unscrupulous people often read their own low motives into other men, and their accusation, which is meant to injure, fastens on the various virtues for which the man they attack is well known. Some of the hypocrites after Uhud raised some doubts about the division of the spoils, thinking to sow the seeds of poison in the hearts of the men who had deserted their posts in their craving for booty. Those low suspicions were never believed in by any sensible people, and they have no interest for us now. But the general principles here declared are of eternal value, (1) Prophets of Allah do not act from unworthy motives. (2) Those who act from such motives are spiritually the lowest of creatures, and they will make no profit. (3) A Prophet of Allah is not to be judged by the same standard as a greedy creature. (4) In Allah's eyes there are various grades of men, and we must try to understand and appreciate such grades. If we trust our Leader, we shall not question his honesty without cause. If he is dishonest, he is not fit to be a leader. (R).

162. Is the man who follows the good pleasure of Allah Like the man who draws on himself the wrath of Allah, and whose abode is in Hell? - A woeful refuge!

163. They are in varying gardens in the sight of Allah, and Allah sees well all that they do.

164. Allah did confer a great favour on the believers(473) when He sent among them a messenger from among themselves, rehearsing unto them the Signs of Allah, sanctifying them, and instructing them in Scripture and Wisdom, while, before that, they had been in manifest error.

473 Cf. 2:151.

165. What! When a single disaster smites you, although ye smote (your enemies) with one twice as great, do ye say? - "Whence is this?" Say (to them): "It is from yourselves: For Allah hath power over all things."(474)

474 If Uhud was a reverse to the Muslims, they had inflicted a reverse twice as great on the Makkans at Badr. This reverse was not without Allah's permission, for He wanted to test and purify the faith of those who followed Islam, and to show them that they must strive and do all in their power to deserve Allah's help. If they disobeyed orders and neglected discipline, they must attribute the disaster to themselves and not to Allah.

166. What ye suffered on the day the two armies Met, was with the leave of Allah, in order that He might test(475) the believers,- 475 Text literally know. See n. 467 to 3:154.

167. And the Hypocrites also.(476) These were told: "Come, fight in the way of Allah, q (at least) drive (The foe from your city)." They said: "Had we known how to fight, we should certainly have followed you."

They were that day nearer to Unbelief than to Faith, saying with their lips what was not in their hearts but Allah hath full knowledge of all they conceal.

476 The testing of the hypocrites was the searching out, of their motives and exposing them to the sight of their brethren, who might otherwise have been taken in. In the first place they gave counsels of caution: in their minds it was nothing but cowardice. In the second place, what they wished was not the good of the community but its being placed in a contemptible position. When the others were for self-sacrifice, they were for ease and fair words. Pretending to be Muslims, they were nearer to unbelief. Ironically they pretended to know nothing of fighting, and left their devout brethren to defend their faith and ideas. If that devout spirit did not appeal to them, they might at least have defended their city of Madinah when it was threatened-defended their hearths and homes as good citizens.

168. (They are) the ones that say, (of their brethren slain), while they themselves sit (at ease): "If only they had listened to us they would not have been slain." Say: "Avert death from your own selves, if ye speak the truth."

169. Think not of those who are slain in Allah's way as dead. Nay, they live(477), finding their sustenance in the presence of their Lord;

477 A beautiful passage about the Martyrs in the cause of Truth. They are not dead: they live --and in a far higher and deeper sense than in the fife they have left. Even those who have no faith in the Hereafter honour those that die in their cause, with the crowns of immortality in the minds and memories of generations unborn. But in Faith we see a higher, truer, and less relative immortality. Perhaps "immortality" is not the right word in this connection, as it implies a continuation of this life. In their case, through the gateway of death, they enter, the true real Life, as opposed to its shadow here. Our carnal life is sustained with carred food, and its joys and pleasures at their best are those which are projected on the screen of this material world. Their real Life is sustained from the ineffable Presence and Nearness of Allah. Cf. Z. 2:154, and see how the idea is further developed here.

170. They rejoice in the bounty provided by Allah. And with regard to those left behind, who have not yet joined them (in their bliss), the (Martyrs) glory in the fact that on them is no fear, nor have they (cause to) grieve.(478)

478 The Martyrs not only rejoice at the bliss they have themselves attained. The dear ones left behind are in their thoughts: it is part of their glory that they have saved their dear ones from fear, sorrow, humiliation, and grief, in this life, even before they come to share in the glories of the Hereafter.

Note how the refrain: "on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve": comes in here with a new and appropriate meaning. Besides other things, it means that the dear ones have no cause to grieve at the death of the Martyrs; rather have they cause to rejoice.

171. They glory in the Grace and the bounty from Allah, and in the fact that Allah suffereth not the reward of the Faithful to be lost (in the least).

172. Of those who answered the call of Allah and the Messenger, even after being wounded,(479) those who do right and refrain from wrong have a great reward:-

479 After the confusion at Uhud, men rallied round the Prophet. He was wounded, and they were wounded, but they were all ready to fight again. Abu Sufyan with his Makkans withdrew, but left a challenge with them to meet him and his army again at the fair of Badr al Sughra next year. The challenge was accepted, and a picked band of Muslims under their intrepid Leader kept the tryst, but the enemy did not come. They returned, not only unharmed, but enriched by the trade at the fair, and (it may be presumed) strengthened by the accession of new adherents to their cause.

173. Men said to them: "A great army is gathering against you": And frightened them: But it (only) increased their Faith: They said: "For us Allah sufficeth, and He is the best disposer of affairs."
174. And they returned with Grace and bounty from Allah. no harm ever touched them: For they followed the good pleasure of Allah. And Allah is the Lord of bounties unbounded.

175. It is only the Evil One that suggests to you the fear of his votaries: Be ye not afraid of them, but fear Me, if ye have Faith.

176. Let not those grieve thee who rush headlong into Unbelief: Not the least harm will they do to Allah. Allah's plan is that He will give them no portion in the Hereafter, but a severe punishment.

177. Those who purchase Unbelief at the price of faith,-not the least harm will they do to Allah, but they will have a grievous punishment.

178. Let not the Unbelievers think that our respite to them is good for themselves: We grant them respite that they may grow(480) in their iniquity: But they will have a shameful punishment.

480 That the cup of their iniquity may be full. The appetite for sin grows with what it feeds on. The natural result is that the sinner sinks deeper into sin. If there is any freedom of will, this naturally follows, though Allah's Grace is always ready for the repentant. If the Grace is rejected, the increase of iniquity makes the nature of iniquity plainer to those who might otherwise be attracted by its glitter. The working of Allah's Law is therefore both just and merciful. See also the next verse and 9:55.

179. Allah will not leave the believers in the state in which ye are now, until He separates what is evil from what is good(481) nor will He disclose to you the secrets of the Unseen(482). But He chooses of His Messengers. (For the purpose) whom He pleases. So believe in Allah. And His messengers: And if ye believe and do right, ye have a reward without measure.

481 The testing of good men by calamities and evil men by leaving them in the environment of good things is part of the Universal Plan, in which some freedom of choice is left to man. The psychological and subjective test is unfailing, and the separation is effected partly by the operation of the human wills, to which some freedom is allowed. But it must be effected, if only in the interests of the good.

482 Man in his weak state would be most miserable if he could see the secrets of the future or the secrets of the Unseen. But things are revealed to him from time to time as may be expedient for him, by Messengers chosen for the purpose. Our duty is to hold fast by faith and lead a good life.

180. And let not those who covetously withhold the gifts which Allah Hath given them of His Grace(483), think that it is good for them: Nay, it will be the worse for them: soon shall the things which they covetously withhold be tied to their necks Like a twisted collar,(484) on the Day of Judgment. To Allah belongs the heritage(485) of the heavens and the earth; and Allah is well-acquainted with all that ye do.

483 Another metaphor is now introduced. Material wealth or property is only called ours during our short life here. So all gifts are ours in trust only; they ultimately revert to Allah, to Whom belongs all that is in the heavens or on earth (Cf. 6:165). (R).

181. Allah hath heard the taunt of those who say: "Truly, Allah(486) is indigent and we are rich!"- We shall certainly record their word and (their act) of slaying the prophets in defiance(487) of right, and We shall say: "Taste ye the penalty of the Scorching Fire!"

486 In 2:245 we read: "Who is he that will loan to Allah a beautiful loan?" In other places charity or spending in the way of Allah is metaphorically described as giving to Allah. The Prophet often used that expression in appealing for funds to be spent in the way of Allah. The scoffers mocked and said: "So Allah is indigent and we are rich!" This blasphemy was of a piece with all their conduct in history, in slaying the Prophets and men of God.

182. "This is because of the (unrighteous deeds) which your hands sent on before ye;(488) For Allah never harms those who serve Him."

183. They (also) said: "(Allah) took our promise not to believe in a messenger unless He showed us a sacrifice consumed by Fire(489) (From heaven)." Say: "There came to you messengers before me, with clear Signs and even with what ye ask for: why then did ye say them, if ye speak the truth?"

488 For burnt sacrifices figured in the Mosaic Law, and in the religious ceremonies long before Moses, but it is not true that the Mosaic Law laid down a fire from heavens on a burnt sacrifice as a test of the credentials of Prophets. Even if it had been so, did the Jews obey the Prophets who showed this Sign? In Leviticus 9:23-24, we are told a burnt offering prepared by Moses and Aaron: "and there came a fire out from before the Lord, and consumed upon the altar the burnt offering and the fat." Yet the people rebelled frequently against Moses, and rebellion against a Prophet is spiritually an attempt to kill him. Abel's offering (sacrifice) was probably a burnt offering it was accepted by Allah, and he was killed by Cain out of jealousy; Gen. 4:5-8. Mosaic sacrifices were no longer needed by the people of Jesus or the people of Muhammad.

184. Then if they reject thee, so were rejected messengers before thee, who came with Clear Signs, Books of dark prophecies, and the Book of Enlightenment.(490)

489 The three things mentioned in the Text are: (1) Clear Signs (Bayyinat); (2) Zabur, and (3) Al Kitab Al Munir. The signification of (1) I have explained in the note to 1:52, as far as they relate to Jesus. In a more general sense, it means the clear evidence which Allah's dealings furnish about a man of God having a true mission; e.g., Moses in relation to Pharaoh, (2) the word Zabur has been translated as scriptures. It comes from the root Zabur which implies something hard. The commentators are not agreed, but the prophetic writings which seemed to contemporaries difficult to understand may well be meant here. David's psalms (Zabur, 1:163 and 21:163) may also come under this description. As to (3), there is no doubt about the literal meaning of the words, "the Book of Enlightenment". But what does it precisely refer to? I take it to mean the fundamental guide to conduct-the clear rules laid down in all Dispersals to help men to lead good lives. (R).

185. Every soul shall have a taste of death;(491) And only on the Day of Judgment shall you be paid your full recompense. Only he who is saved far from the Fire and admitted to the Garden will have attained the object (of Life): For the life of this world is but goods and chattels of deception.(492)

491 The soul will not die: but the death of the body will give a taste of death to the soul when the soul separates from the body. The soul will then know that this life was but a probation, And seeming inequalities will be adjusted finally on the Day of Judgement (Cf. 21:35 and 29:57).

492 Cf. Longfellow's Psalm of Life: 'All this world's a fleeting show, For man's illusion given'. The only Reality will be when we have attained our final goal.
186. Ye shall certainly be tried and tested in your possessions and in your personal selves; (493) and ye shall certainly hear much that will grieve you, from those who received the Book before you and from those who worship many gods. But if ye persevere patiently, and guard against evil,—then that will be a determining factor in all affairs.

187. And remember Allah took a covenant from the People of the Book, (494) to make it known and clear to mankind, and not to hide it; but they threw it away behind their backs, (495) and purchased with it some miserable gain! And vile was the bargain they made!

188. Think not that those who exult in what they have brought about, and love to be praised for what they have not done,— (496) think escape the penalty. For them is a penalty grievous indeed.

189. To Allah belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth; and Allah hath power over all things.

190. Behold! in the creation of the heavens and the earth, and the alternation of night and day,— (497) there are indeed Signs for men of understanding,—

191. Men who celebrate the praises of Allah, standing, sitting, and lying down on their sides, (498) and contemplate the (wonders of) creation in the heavens and the earth, (With the thought): "Our Lord! not for naught hast Thou created (all) this! Glory to Thee! Give us (499) salvation from the penalty of the Fire.

192. "Our Lord! any whom Thou dost admit to the Fire, truly Thou coverest with shame, and never will wrong-doers find any helpers!

193. "Our Lord! we have heard the call of one calling (Us) to Faith, 'Believe ye in the Lord,' and we have believed. Our Lord! Forgive us our sins, blot out from us our iniquities, and take to Thyself our souls in the company of the righteous.

194. "Our Lord! Grant us what Thou didst promise unto us through Thine messengers, and save us from shame on the Day of Judgment: For Thou never breakest Thy promise."

195. And their Lord hath accepted of them, and answered them: "Never will I suffer to be lost the work of any of you, be he male or female: Ye are members, one of another: (500) Those who have left their homes, or been driven out therefrom, or suffered harm in My Cause, or fought or been slain,—verily, I will blot out from them their iniquities, and admit them into Gardens with rivers flowing beneath;— A reward from the Presence (501) of Allah, and from His presence is the best of rewards."

196. Let not the strutting about of the Unbelievers through the land deceive thee:

197. Little is it for enjoyment: Their ultimate abode is Hell! what an evil bed (To lie on)!

198. On the other hand, for those who fear their Lord, are Gardens, with rivers flowing beneath; therein are they to dwell (for ever),— a gift from the presence of Allah, and that which is in the presence of Allah is the best (bliss) for the righteous.

199. And there are, certainly, among the People of the Book, those who believe in Allah, in the revelation to you, and in the revelation to them, bowing in humility to Allah. They will not sell the Signs of Allah for a miserable gain! For them is a reward with their Lord, and Allah is swift in account.

200. O ye who believe! Persevere in patience (502) and constancy; vie in such perseverance; strengthen each other; and fear Allah. that ye may prosper. (503)

502 The full meaning of Sahah is to be understood here, viz.: patience, perseverance, constancy, self-restraint, refusing to be cowed down. These virtues we are to exercise for ourselves and in relation to others; we are to set an example, so that others may vie with us, and we are to vie with them, lest we fall short; in this way we strengthen each other and bind our mutual relations closer, in our common service to Allah.

503 Prosperity (falah) here and in other passages is to be understood in a wide sense, including prosperity in our mundane affairs as well as in spiritual progress. In both cases it implies happiness and the attainment of our wishes, purified by the love of Allah.
4. Al Nisa' (The Women)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O mankind! reverence your Guardian-Lord, who created you from a single person,(504) created, of like nature, His mate, and from them twain scattered (like seeds) countless men and women;— reverence Allah, through whom(505) ye demand your mutual (rights), and (reverence) the wombs(506) (That bore you): for Allah ever watches over you.

2. To orphans restore their property (When they reach the age),(507) with your own. For this is indeed a right of justice,(508) and (reverence) the wombs(506) (That bore you): for Allah ever watches over you.

3. If ye fear that ye shall not be able to deal justly with them,(508) then only one, or (a captive) that your right hands possess, that will be more suitable, to prevent you from doing injustice.(509)

4. And give the women (on marriage) their dower as a free gift; but if they, of their own good pleasure, remit any part of it to you, Take it and enjoy it with right good cheer.

5. To those weak of understanding(510) Make not over your property,(511) which Allah hath made a means of support for you, but feed and clothe them therewith, and speak to them words of kindness and justice.

6. Make trial of orphans until they reach the age(512) of marriage; if then ye find sound judgment in them, release their property to them; but consume it not wastefully, nor in haste against their growing up. If the guardian is well-off, Let him claim no remuneration, but if he is poor, let him have for himself what is just and reasonable. When ye release their property to them, take witnesses in their presence: But all-sufficient is Allah in taking account.(513)

7. From what is left by parents and those nearest related(514) there is a share for men and a share for women, whether the property be small or large,-a determinate share.

8. But if at the time of division other relatives, or orphans or poor, are present, feed them out of the (property), and speak to them words of kindness and justice.

9. Let those (disposing of an estate) have the same fear in their minds as they would have for their own if they had left a helpless family behind: Let them fear Allah, and speak words of appropriate (comfort). (515)
10. Those who unjustly eat up the property of orphans, eat up a Fire into their own bodies: They will soon be enduring a Blazing Fire!

11. Allah (thus) directs you as regards your Children’s (S16) (Inheritance): to the male, a portion equal to that of two females: if only daughters, two or more, (S17) their share is two-thirds of the inheritance; if only one, her share is a half. For parents, a sixth share of the inheritance to each, if the deceased left children; if no children, and the parents are the (only) heirs, the mother has a third; if the deceased Left brothers (or sisters) the mother has a sixth. (The distribution in all cases ‘(s)’ after the payment of legacies and debts. Ye know not whether your parents or your children are nearest to you in benefit. These are settled portions ordained (S18) by Allah, and Allah is All-knowing, All-wise.

516 The principles of inheritance law are laid down in broad outline in the Qur’an; the precise details have been worked out on the basis of the Prophet’s practice and that of his Companions, and by interpretation and analogy. Muslim jurists have collected a vast amount of learning on this subject, and this body of law is enough by itself to form the subject of life-long study. Here we shall deal only with the broad principles to be gathered from the Text, as interpreted by the Jurists.

(1) The power of testamentary disposition extends over only one-third of the Property; the remaining two-thirds are distributed among heirs as laid down. (2) All distribution takes place after the legacies and debts (including funeral expenses) have first been paid. (3) Legacies cannot be left to any of the heirs included in the scheme of distribution; or it will amount to upsetting the shares and undue preference of one heir to another. (4) Generally, but not always, the male takes a share double that of a female in his own category.

517 At first sight, the Arabic words seem to mean: ‘If more than two daughters.’ But the alternative in the next verse is: ‘If only daughters.’ Logically, therefore, the first clause must mean: ‘If daughters, two or more.’ This is the general interpretation, and is confirmed by the supplementary provision in 4:176 at the end of the Surah, which should be read along with this.

518 The verse deals with the portions allotted to (a) children, and (b) parents. The next verse deals with the portions allotted to (c) husband or wife of the deceased, and (d) collateral. The children’s shares are fixed, but their amount will depend upon what goes to the parents. If both parents are living, and there are also children, both father and mother take a sixth each; if only one parent is living, he or she takes his or her sixth; and the rest goes to the children. If the parents are living, and there is no child or other heir, the mother gets a third (and the father the remaining two-thirds); if there are no children, but there are brothers or sisters (this is interpreted strictly in the plural), the mother has a sixth, and the father apparently the residue, as the father excludes collaterals. This is far from being an exhaustive statement, but it establishes the proposition that children and parents have always some share if they survive, but their shares are affected by the existence and number of the heirs in these categories.

12. In what your wives leave, your share is a half, if they leave no child; but if they leave a child, ye get a fourth; after payment of legacies and debts. In what ye leave, their share is a fourth, (S19) if ye leave no child; but if ye leave a child, they get an eighth; after payment of legacies and debts. If the man or woman whose inheritance is in question, has left neither ascendants nor descendants,(S20) but has left a brother (S21) or a sister, each one of the two gets a sixth; but if more than two, they share in a third; after payment of legacies and debts; so that no loss is caused (to any one). Thus is it ordained by Allah. and Allah is All-knowing, Most Forbearing.

520 The word in Arabic is kalalah, which is so construed usually. But it was nowhere defined authoritatively in the lifetime of the Messenger. This was one of the three terms about which Umar wished that the Messenger had defined than in his lifetime, the other two being khidlah, and nila (inury). On the accepted definition, we are concerned with the inheritance of a person who has left no descendant or ascendant (however distant), but only collaterals, with or without a widow or widower. If there is a widow or widower surviving, she or he takes the share as already defined, before the collaterals come in.

521 A ‘brother or sister’ is here interpreted to mean a uterine brother or sister, i.e., a brother or sister by the same mother but not by the same father, as the case of full brothers and sisters or brothers and sisters by the same father but different mothers is understood to be dealt with later, in the last verse of this Surah. The uterine brother or sister, if only one survives, takes a sixth, if more than one survives, they take a third collectively, and divide among themselves; this on the supposition that there are no descendants or ascendants, however remote. There may, however, be a widow or widower surviving: she or he takes her or his share, as already specified.

The shares of collaterals generally are calculated on a complicated system which cannot be described in a brief note. For these, and the rules about Residuaries (‘kalalah) reference should be made to special legal treatises.

522 Debts (in which funeral expenses take first rank) and legacies are the first charge on the estate of a deceased person, before distribution takes place. But equity and fair dealing should be observed in all matters, so that no one’s interests are prejudiced. Thus funeral expenses should be reasonable; debts must be genuine and not reckless debts; and the shares must be calculated with fairness.

13. Those are limits set by Allah. those who obey Allah and His Messenger will be admitted to Gardens with rivers flowing beneath, to abide therein (for ever) and that will be the supreme achievement.(S22-A) 522A Cf. 44:57, n. 4733, (R).

14. But those who disobey Allah and His Messenger and transgress His limits will be admitted to a Fire, to abide therein: And they shall have a humiliating punishment.

15. If any of your women are guilty of lewdness,(S23) Take the evidence of four(S24) (Reliable) witnesses from amongst you against them; and if they testify, confine them to houses until death do claim them, or Allah ordain for them some (other) way.(S25)

523 Most commentators understand this to refer to adultery or fornication; in that case they consider that the punishment was altered to 100 stripes by the later verse, 24:2. But I think it refers to unnatural crime between women, analogous to unnatural crime between men in 4:16 below; because (1) no punishment is specified here for the man, as would be the case where a man was involved in the crime; (2) the word, at la, the purely feminine plural of al-lat, is used for the parties to the crime; (3) the punishment is indefinite; see the next note but one.

524 To protect the honour of women, stricter evidence is required, i.e., the evidence of four instead of the usual two witnesses. It is the same for adultery (see 24:4.)

525 Keep them in prison until some definite order is received. Those who take the crime to be adultery or fornication construe this definite order (‘some other way’) to mean some definite pronouncement by the Prophet under inspiration; this was the punishment of flagging under 24:2, for fornication, and stoning to death under the Prophet’s directive for adultery. If we understand the crime to be unnatural crime, we might presume, in the absence of any definite order (‘some other way’) that the punishment would be similar to that for men in the next verse.

16. If two men among you are guilty of lewdness, punish them both. If they repent and amend, Leave them alone; for Allah is Oft-returning, Most Merciful.

17. Allah accept the repentance of those who do evil in ignorance and repent soon afterwards; to them will Allah turn in mercy: For Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.

18. Of no effect is the repentance of those who continue(S26) to do evil, until death faces one of them, and he says, “Now have I repented indeed;” nor of those who die rejecting Faith; for them have We prepared a punishment most grievous.

526 Note the fine touch. A sin may be fashionable, and people may sin together without compunction. When one of them is faced with Death, he repents, but that sort of repentance is no good. For more detailed discussion, (cf. notes to 24:26 and 4:13 3 (Eds.)

19. O ye who believe! Ye are forbidden to inherit women against their will. (527) Nor should ye treat them with harshness, that ye may Take away part of the dower (528) ye have given them, except where they have been guilty of open lewdness; on the contrary live with them on a footing of kindness and equity. If ye take a dislike to them it may be that ye dislike a thing, and Allah brings about through it a great deal of good.

527 Among many nations, including Arabs in the Days of Ignorance, a stepson or brother took possession of a dead man's widow or widows along with his goods and chattels. This shameful custom is forbidden. See also 4:22 below.

528 Another trick, to detract from the freedom of married women was to treat them badly and force them to sue for a Khul'a divorce (see 2:229, n. 258 or its equivalent in pre-Islamic custom, when the dower could be claimed back. This is also forbidden. Or the harshness may be exercised in another way; a divorced woman may be prevented by those who have control of her, from re-marrying unless she remits her dower. All kinds of harshness are forbidden.

20. But if ye decide to take one wife in place of another, even if ye had given the latter a whole treasure (529) for dower, Take not the least bit of it back: Would ye take it by slander and manifest wrong?

529 Treasure: Quintan= a talent of gold: see 3:14 , first note.

21. And how could ye take it when ye have gone in unto each other, and they have Taken from you a solemn covenant?

22. And marry not women whom your fathers married, except what is past: It was shameful and odious, an abominable custom indeed. (530)

530 See above; 4:19 , n. 527.

23. Prohibited to you (For marriage) are:- (531) Your mothers, daughters, (532) sisters; father's sisters, Mother's sisters; brother's daughters, sister's daughters; foster-mothers (533) (Who gave you suck), foster-sisters; your wives' mothers; your stepdaughters under your (534) guardianship, born of your wives to whom ye have go in, no prohibition if ye have not gone in; (Those who have been) wives of your sons (535) proceeding from your loins; and two sisters in wedlock at one and the same time, (536) except for what is past; for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful;-

531 This Table of Prohibited Degrees agrees in the main with what is usually accepted among all nations, except in minor details. It begins in the last verse (with father's widows or divorced). The scheme is drawn upon the assumption that the person who proposes to marry is a man; if it is a woman, the same scheme will apply, mutatis mutandis; it will read: "your fathers, sons, brothers," etc.; or you can always read it from the husband's view of relationship, as there must always be a husband in a marriage.

532 'Mother' includes grandmother (through the father or mother), great-grandmother, etc.; 'daughter' includes granddaughter through son or daughter, great-granddaughter, etc.; 'sister,' includes full-sister and half-sister. 'Father's sister' includes grandfather's sister, etc. and 'mother's sister' includes grandmother's sister, etc.

533 Fosterage or milk-relationships play an important part in Muslim Law, and count like blood-relationships; it would therefore seem that not only foster-mothers and foster-sisters, but foster-mother's sister, etc., all come within the prohibited degrees.

534 It is generally held that 'under your guardianship' is a description, not a condition. (R).

535 'Sons' includes grandsons, but excludes adopted sons, or persons treated as such, on account of the words 'proceeding from your loins' (cf. 3:54).

536 The bar against two sisters in marriage together applies to aunt and niece together, but not to deceased wife's sister after the wife dies.

24. Also (prohibited are) women already married, except those whom your right hands possess: (537) Thus hath Allah ordained (Prohibitions) against you: Except for these, all others are lawful, provided ye seek (them in marriage) with gifts from your property,- desiring chastity, not lust, (538) seeing that ye derive benefit from them, give them their dowers (at least) (539) as prescribed; but if, after a dower is prescribed, agree Mutually (to vary it), there is no blame on you, and Allah is All-knowing, All-wise.

538 After defining the prohibited degrees, the verse proceeds to say that women other than those specified may be sought in marriage, but even so, not from motives of lust, but in order to promote chastity between the sexes. Marriage in the original Arabic is here described by a word which suggests a fortress (hisn); marriage is, therefore, the fortress of chastity.

539 As the woman in marriage surrenders her person, so the man also must surrender besides some part of his independence at least some of his property according to his means. And this gives rise to the law of dower. A minimum dower is prescribed, but it is not necessary to stick to the minimum, and in the new relationship created, the parties are recommended to act towards each other with the greatest confidence and liberality.

25. If any of you have not the means wherewith to wed free believing women, they may wed believing girls from among those whom your right hands possess: (540) And Allah hath full knowledge about your faith. Ye are one from another: Wed them with the leave of their owners, and give them their dowers, according to what is reasonable: They should be chaste, not lustful, nor taking paramours: when they are taken in wedlock, if they fall into shame, their punishment is half that for free women. This (permission) is for those among you who fear sin; but it is better for you that ye practise self-restraint. And Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

540 That is, captives taken Jihad. Your right hands does not mean necessarily that she has been assigned to you, or is your property. All captures in war belong to the community, they are 'yours' in that sense. If you seek such a person in marriage, do it from no base motives. Safeguard your faith, and see that she too does believe. In that case, after all, she is of the human brotherhood, and her condition is accidental and redeemable. If the slave bore a child to her master, she would become free. (R).

26. Allah doth wish to make clear to you and to show you the ordinances of those before you; and (He doth wish to) turn to you (In Mercy): And Allah is All-knowing, All-wise.

27. Allah doth wish to Turn to you, but the wish of those who follow their lusts is that ye should turn away (from Him), far, far away.

28. Allah doth wish to lighten your (difficulties): For man was created Weak (in flesh).
Let me paraphrase this verse, for there is profound meaning in it. (1) All your property you hold in trust, whether it is in your name, or belongs to the community or to a stranger, who has committed it to you. (2) To waste is wrong. (3) In 2:188 the same phrase occurred, to caution us against greed. Here it occurs, to encourage us to increase property by economic use (traffic and trade), recalling Christ's parable of the Talents (Matt. 25:14-30), where the servants who had increased their master's wealth were promoted and the servant who had hoarded was cast into darkness. (4) We are warned that our waste may mean our own destruction (not kill or destroy yourselves.) But there is a more general meaning also: we must be careful of our own and other people's lives. We must commit no violence. This is the opposite of 'traffic and trade by mutual good will.' (5) Our service rather than sentiment. For it includes duties to animals as our fellow-creatures, and emphasises practical understanding. Be just to all.

If any do that in rancour and injustice,- soon shall We cast them into the Fire: And easy it is for Allah.

If ye (but) eschew the most heinous of the things which ye are forbidden to do, We shall expel out of you all the evil in you, and admit you to a gate of great honour.

And in no wise covet those things in which Allah Hath bestowed His gifts more freely on some of you than on others: To men is allotted what they earn, and to women what they earn: But ask Allah of His bounty. For Allah hath full knowledge of all things.

Men and women have gifts from Allah-some greater than others. They seem unequal, but we are assured that Providence has allotted them by a scheme by which people receive what they earn. If this does not appear clear in our sight, let us remember that we have no full knowledge but Allah has. We must not be jealous if other people have more than we have-in wealth or position or strength or honour or talent or happiness. Probably things are equalized in the aggregate or in the long run, or equated to needs and merits on a scale which we cannot appraise. If we want more, instead of being jealous or covetous, we should pray to Allah and place before Him our needs. Though He knows all, and has no need of our prayer, our prayer may reveal to ourselves our shortcomings and enable us to deserve more of Allah's bounty or make ourselves fit for it.

To (benefit) every one, We have appointed shares and heirs to property left by parents and relatives. To those also, to whom your right hand was pledged, (444) give their due portion. For truly Allah is acquainted with all things.

Men are the protectors and maintainers of women, because Allah has given the one more (strength) than the other, and because they rejoice them from their means. Therefore the righteous women are devoutly obedient, and guard in (the husband's) absence what Allah would have them guard. (546) As to those women on whose part ye fear disloyalty and ill-conduct, admonish them (first), (547) (Next), refuse to share their beds, (And last) beat them (lightly); (547-A) but if they return to obedience, seek not against them (548) Means (of annoyance): For Allah is Most High, great (above you all).

Qawwam: one who stands firm in another's business, protects his interests, and looks after his affairs; or it may be, standing firm in his own business, managing affairs, with a steady purpose (Cf. 4:135 and 2:220).

Or the sentence may be rendered: 'and protect (the husband's interests) in his absence, as Allah has protected them. If we take the rendering as in the text, the meaning is: the good wife is obedient and harmonious in her husband's presence, and in his absence guards his reputation and property and her own virtue, as ordained by Allah. If we take the rendering as in the note, we reach the same result in a different way: the good wife, in her husband's absence, remembering how Allah has given her a sheltered position, does everything to justify that position by guarding her own virtue and his reputation and property. In case of family jars four steps are mentioned, to be taken in that order: (1) perhaps verbal advice or admonition may be sufficient; (2) if not, sex relations may be suspended; (3) if this is not sufficient, some slight physical correction may be administered; but Imam Shafi'i considers this inadvisable, though permissible, and all authorities are unanimous in depreciating any sort of cruelty, even of the nagging kind, as mentioned in the next clause; (4) if all this fails, a family council is recommended in 4:35 below.

The word 'daraba' is used in the Qur'an with about 17 different meanings including avoid, separate, leave, travel etc. The Qur'an is best interpreted through the deeds and sayings of the Prophet. The fact that the Prophet never battered or spanked any wife and detested any such action, gives credence that the meaning intended here by 'wadribuhunna' is to stay away from a discordant wife in the hope that this will let her realize an impending separation and divorce. (Eds.)

Temper, nagging, sarcasm, speaking at each other in other people's presence, reverting to past faults which should be forgiven and forgotten: all this is forbidden. And the reason given is characteristic of Islam. You must live all your life as in the presence of Allah, Who is high above us, but Who watches over us. How petty and contemptible will our little squabbles appear in His presence!

If ye fear a breach between them twain, appoint (two) arbiters, one from his family, and the other from hers; (549) if they wish for peace, Allah will cause their reconciliation: For Allah hath full knowledge, and is acquainted with all things.

An excellent plan for settling family disputes, without too much publicity or mud-throwing, or resort to the intricacies of the law. The Latin countries recognise this plan in their legal systems. It is a pity that Muslims do not resort to it universally, as they should. The arbiters from each family would know the idiosyncrasies of both parties, and would be able, with Allah's help to effect a real reconciliation.

Serve Allah, and join not (550) any partners with Him; and do good- to parents, kinsfolk, orphans, those in need, neighbours who are near,(551) neighbours who are strangers, the companion by your side,(552) the wayfarer (ye meet), and what your right hands possess:(553) For Allah loveth not the arrogant, the vainglorious:(554)

The essence of Islam is to serve Allah and do good to your fellow-creatures. This is wider and more comprehensive than 'Love God and love your neighbour.' For it includes duties to animals as our fellow-creatures, and emphasises practical service rather than sentiment.

Neighbours who are near: that is, in local situation as well as intimate relationships, just as neighbours who are strangers includes those whom we do not know or who live away from us or in a different sphere altogether.

The Companion by your side may be your intimate friends and associates, just as the wayfarer you meet may be a casual acquaintance on your travels. This last is much wider than the 'stranger within your gate.'

What your right hands possess: For the meaning of the phrase see n. 537 above. (R.)

Real deeds of service and kindness proceed, not from showing off or from a superior sort of condensation ( Cf. 'White Man's Burden'), but from a frank recognition of our own humility and the real claims, before Allah, of all our fellow-creatures. For in our mutual needs we are equal before Allah, or perhaps the best of us (as the world sees us) may be worse than the worst of us (from the same point of view).

(Nor) those who are niggardly or enjoin niggardliness on others, or hide the bounties which Allah hath bestowed (555) on them; for We have prepared, for those who resist Faith, a punishment that steeps (556) them in contempt;
555 Arrogance is one reason why our deeds of love and kindness do not thrive. Another is niggardliness or selfishness. Allah does not love either the one or the other, for they both proceed from want of love of Allah, or faith in Allah. Misery is the worldly-wise man who not only refuses to spend himself in service, but by example and precept prevents others from doing so, as otherwise he would be made odious by comparison, before his fellow-creatures. So he either makes a virtue of his caution, or hides the gifts which have been given him-wealth, position, talent, etc.

556 Note how the punishment fits the crime. The mixer holds other people in contempt, and in doing so, becomes himself contemptible.

38. Not those who spend of their substance, to be seen(557) of men, but have no faith in Allah and the Last Day: If any take the Evil One for their intimate, what a dreadful intimate he is!

557 A fault opposed to misersness, and equally opposed to true charity, is to spend lavishly to be seen of men. It is mere hypocrisy; there is no love in it, either for Allah or for man.

39. And what burden Were it on them if they had faith in Allah and in the Last Day, and they spent out of what Allah hath given them for sustenance?(558) For Allah hath full knowledge of them.

558 Sustenance: physical, intellectual, spiritual-every thing pertaining to life and growth. Our being is from Allah, and we must therefore spend ourselves freely for Allah. How can it be a burden? It is merely a response to the demand of our own healthy nature.

40. Allah is never unjust in the least degree: If there is any good (done), He doubleth it, and giveth from His own presence a great reward.(559)

559 Any little good of our own comes from the purity of our heart. Its results in the world are doubled and multiplied by Allah's grace and mercy; but an even greater reward comes from His own Presence, His good pleasure, which brings us nearer to Him (CF. 2:287 and 33:45).

41. How then if We brought from each people a witness, and We brought thee as a witness against these people!(560)

560 Each Prophet and Leader is a witness for his People and his contemporaries - for those who accept Allah, and against those who reject Him.

42. On that day those who reject Faith and disobey the messenger will wish that the earth Were made one with them:(561) But never will they hide a single fact from Allah.

561 Those who reject Allah's message will wish, when their eyes are opened, that they were reduced to dust, for existence itself will be agony to them. They might like to hide in the dust, but nothing is hidden from Allah. All their past will stand out clear before Him.

43. O ye who believe! Approach not prayers with a mind befogged,(562) until ye can understand all that ye say,- nor in a state of ceremonial impurity (Except when travelling on the road), until after washing your whole body. If ye are ill, or on a journey, or one of you is out sins and forgive again and again.

562 The reference is either to a state of intoxication or to a dazed state of mind on account of dullness or some other cause; or perhaps both are implied. Before the prohibition of intoxicants altogether was promulgated, it was at least unbecoming that people should come to prayers in such a state. For prayers it is only right that we should collect our whole minds and approach Allah in a spirit of reverence. 'Prayers' (Salat) here may mean 'a place of prayers,' a Mosque; the resulting meaning would be the same.

563 The strictest cleanliness and purity of mind and body are required, especially at the time of prayer. But there are circumstances when water for ablutions is not easily obtainable, especially in the dry conditions of Arabia, and then washing with dry sand or clean earth is recommended. Four such circumstances are mentioned: the two last when washing is specially required; the two first when washing may be necessary, but it may not be easy to get water. For a man, when he is ill, cannot walk out far to get water, and a man on journey has no full control over his supplies. In all four cases, where water cannot be got, cleaning with dry sand or dry earth is recommended. This is called Tazammum (CF. 4:139 and 5:6).

44. Hast thou not turned Thy vision to those who were given a portion(564) of the Book? they traffic in error, and wish that ye should lose the right path.

564 Cf. 3:22 and n. 366.

45. But Allah hath full knowledge of your enemies: Allah is enough for a protector, and Allah is enough for a Helper.

46. Of the Jews there are those who displace words from their (right) places, and say: "We hear and we obey"(565) and "Hear what is not Heard"; and "Ra´ina"(566) with a twist of their tongues and a slander to Faith. If only they had said: "What hear and we obey"; and "Do hear"; and "Do look at us"; it would have been better for them, and more proper; but Allah hath cursed them for their Unbelief; and but few of them will believe.

565 See 2:93, n. 98. A trick of the Jews was to twist words and expressions, so as to ridicule the most solemn teachings of Faith. Where they should have said, "We hear and we obey," they said aloud, "We hear," and whispered, "We disobey." Where they should have said respectfully, "We hear," they added in a whisper, "May you not hear," by way of ridicule. Where they claimed the attention of the Teacher, they used an ambiguous word apparently harmless, but in their intention disrespectful. (R).

566 See 2:104, n. 106, Ra`in if used respectfully in the Arabic way, would have meant 'Please attend to us.' With a twist of their tongue, they suggested an insulting meaning, such as 'O thou that takes us to pasture!' or in Hebrew, 'Our bad one!'

47. O ye People of the Book! believe in what We have (now) revealed, confirming what was (already) with you, before We change the face and fame(567) of some (of you) beyond all recognition, and turn them hindwards, or curse them as We cursed the Sabbath-breakers,(568) for the decision of Allah Must be carried out.

567 Literally, 'Before We obliterate some features (or faces) and turn them front to back (or back to front), an Arabic idiom, which must be translated freely to yield its proper meaning in English. The face is the chief expression of a man's own real essence; it is also the index of his fame and estimation. The People of the Book had been specially favoured by Allah with spiritual revelations. If they proved themselves unworthy, they lost their 'face'. Their ennuance, would, owing to their own conduct, be turned into degradation. Others would take their place. The first shall be last and the last shall be first: Matt. 19:30.

568 Cf. 2:255 and n 79.

48. Allah forgiveth not that partners should be set up with Him; but He forgiveth anything else, to whom He pleaseth; to set up partners with Allah is to devise a sin(569) Most heinous indeed.

569 Just as in an earthly kingdom the worst crime is that of treason, as it cuts at the very existence of the State, so in the spiritual kingdom, the unforgivable sin is that of continuations treason against Allah by putting up Allah's creatures in rivalry against Him. This is rebellion against the essence and source of spiritual Life. It is what Plato would call the 'lie in the soul.' But even here, if the rebellion is through ignorance, and is followed by sincere repentance and amendment, Allah's Mercy is always open (4:67.).

49. Hast thou not turned Thy vision to those who claim sanctity for themselves?(570) Nay-but Allah DOTH sanctify whom He pleaseth. But never will they fail to receive justice in the least little thing. (571)

570 The sanctimonious or self-sanctified people are the farthest from sanctity or purity, which can only proceed from Allah. They cannot play with Allah’s Truth and yet go on claiming to be guided and purified or justified by Allah. Their falsehood, which itself condemns them, no further proof is needed of their selfsickness and evil.

571 Literally, the small skin in the groove of a date stone, a thing of no value: fatila.

50. Behold! how they invent a lie against Allah. but that by itself is a manifest sin!

51. Hast thou not turned Thy vision to those who were given a portion (572) of the Book? they believe in sorcery and Evil, (573) and say to the Unbelievers that they are better guided in the (right) way Than the believers!

574 CT. 3:23 and n. 366. The phrase also occurs in 4:14.

575 The word I have translated Sorcery is iibah, which may mean divination, sorcery, magic, or any false object or belief or worship, such as an idol. The word I have translated Evil there and in 2:259 is Taghut, which means the evil one, the one who exceeds all bounds, Satan; or it may refer to some idol worshipped by the Pagans Arabs, with whom the Jews of Madinah were intriguing against the Prophet. The Jews had taken much to sorcery, magic, divination, and such superstitions, (CT. 16:1.)

52. They are (men) whom Allah hath cursed: And those whom Allah Hath cursed, thou wilt find, have no one to help. (574)

574 The Jews were then seeking the aid of the Makkah Pagans against Muhammad, but far from getting any help from them, they and the Pagans were both overthrown. That was the immediate occasion, but the words have a perfectly general - a universal - meaning.

53. Have they a share in dominion or power? Behold, they give not a farthing (575) to their fellow-men?

575 The word I have translated farthing is nazil, the groove in a date stone, a thing of no value whatever. Close-fistedness and envy are among the worst forms of selfishness, and appear specially incongruous in people of power, authority, or influence, from whom is expected generosity in giving and generosity in seeing other people’s prosperity or happiness, (CT. 35:43).

54. Or do they envy mankind for what Allah hath given them of his bounty? but We had already given the people of Abraham the Book and Wisdom, and conferred upon them a great kingdom. (576)

576 Such as the kingdoms of David and Solomon, for they had international fame.

55. Some of them believed, and some of them averted their faces from him: And enough is Hell for a burning fire. (577)

577 Envy is like the eternal fire, which is in itself a hell.

56. Those who reject our Signs, We shall soon cast into the Fire: as often as their skins are roasted through, We shall change them for fresh skins, that they may taste the penalty: for Allah is Exalted in Power, Wise.

57. But those who believe and do deeds of righteousness, We shall soon admit to Gardens, with rivers flowing beneath, their eternal home: Therein shall they have companions pure and holy: (578) We shall admit them to shades, cool and ever deepening. (579)

578 CT. 2:23 and n. 44.

579 The Garden is contrasted with the Fire: the shade is contrasted with the roasting; Evil grows with what it feeds on. So goodness and felicity grow with their practice. The good may be alone to start with, but (unlike evil ones) they get Holy Companions. Just as agony increases with what it suffers (typified by fresh skins growing as the old ones burn out), so felicity finds deeper and deeper meaning (typified by the shades in a garden, which grow deeper and cooler as you proceed into the interior), (CT. 13:35).

58. Allah doth command you to render back your Trusts to those to whom they are due; And when ye judge between man and man, that ye judge with justice: Verily how excellent is the teaching which He giveth you! For Allah is He Who heareth and seeth all things.

59. O ye who believe! Obey Allah, and obey the Messenger, and those charged with authority among you. (580) If ye differ in anything among yourselves, refer it to Allah and His Messenger, if ye do believe in Allah and the Last Day: That is best, and most suitable for final determination.

580 Uli al amr= those charged with authority or responsibility or decision, or the settlement of affairs. All ultimate authority rests in Allah. Prophets of Allah derive their authority from Him. As Islam makes no sharp division between sacred and secular affairs, it expects governments to be imbued with righteousness. Likewise Islam expects Muslims to respect the authority of such government for otherwise there can be no order or discipline. (R).

60. Hast thou not turned Thy vision to those (581) who declare that they believe in the revelations that have come to thee and to those before thee? Their (real) wish is to resort together for judgment (in their disputes) to the Evil One, though they were ordered to reject him. But Satan’s wish is to lead them astray far away (from the right).

581 The immediate reference was to the hypocrites (Munafiqin) of Madinah, but the words are general, and the evil of hypocrisy has to be dealt with in all ages.

61. When it is said to them: “Come to what Allah hath revealed, and to the Messenger.: Thou seest the Hypocrites avert their faces from thee in disgust.

62. How then, when they are seized by misfortune, because of the deeds which they hands have sent forth? Then their come to thee, swearing by Allah. “We meant no more than good-will and conciliation!”

63. Those men, (Allah) knows what is in their hearts; so keep clear of them, (582) but admonish them, and speak to them a word to reach their very souls.

582 How should hypocrites be treated? To take them into your confidence would of course be foolish. To wage unremitting war against them may destroy the hope of reforming them and purging diem of their hypocrisy. The Prophet of Allah keeps clear of their wiles, but at the same time, does not hesitate to show them the error of their ways, not to put in a word in season, to penetrate their hearts and win them back to Allah.

64. We sent not a messenger, but to be obeyed, in accordance with the will of Allah. If they had only, when they were unjust to themselves, come unto thee and asked Allah’s forgiveness, and the Messenger had asked forgiveness for them, they would have found Allah indeed Oft-returning, Most Merciful.

65. But no, by the Lord, they can have no (real) Faith, until they make thee judge in all disputes between them, and find in their souls no resistance against Thy decisions, but accept them with the fullest conviction. (583)
66. If We had ordered them to sacrifice their lives or to leave their homes, very few of them would have done it; (584) But if they had done what they were (actually) told, it would have been best for them, and would have gone farthest to strengthen their (faith);

67. And We should then have given them from our presence a great reward;

68. And We should have shown them the Straight Way. (585)

485 Four advantages of obedience to Allah are mentioned, in the order in which they will appeal to the beginner in faith: (1) his own benefit (“best for them”); (2) strengthening of his faith, as he becomes more and more at home in the spiritual world; (3) reward from Allah’s own Presence, such intense conviction that no further arguments are needed; (4) the Straight Way, in which there is no doubt or difficulty whatever in our practical conduct.

69. All who obey Allah and the messenger are in the company of those on whom is the Grace of Allah,- of the prophets (who teach), the sincere (lovers of Truth), the witnesses (who testify), and the Righteous (who do good): Ah! what a beautiful Fellowship! (586)

586 A passage of the deepest spiritual meaning. Even the humblest man who accepts Faith and does good becomes at once an accepted member of a great and beautiful spiritual Fellowship. It is a company which lives perpetually in the sunshine of Allah’s Grace. (This passage partly illustrates 1:5). It is a glorious hierarchy, of which four grades are specified: (1) The highest is that of the Prophets or Apostles, who get plenary inspiration from Allah, and who teach mankind by example and precept. That rank in Islam is held by Muhammad Mustafa. (2) The next are those whose badge is sincerity and truth; they love and support the truth with their person, their means, their influence, and all that is theirs. That rank was held by the special companions of Muhammad, among whom the type was that of Abu Bakr Siddiq. (3) The next are the noble army of Witnesses, who testify to the truth. The testimony may be by martyrdom. Or it may be by the tongue of the true preacher or the pen of the devoted scholar, or the life of the man devoted to service. (4) Lastly, there is the large company of righteous people, the ordinary folk who do their ordinary business, but always in a righteous way. They are the rank and file of the beautiful Fellowship, in which each has his place and yet all feel that they derive glory from the common association. (Cf. 2:29-30, (R).)

70. Such is the bounty from Allah. And sufficient is it that Allah knoweth all. (587)

587 If a generous General gives the private soldier the privilege of sitting with his comrades and officers, high and low, in one common Brotherhood, people may perhaps wonder: how may this be? If we are admitted to that Fellowship, we want to know no more. It is enough to us that Allah knows our humility and our unworthiness, and with His full knowledge admits us to that glorious Fellowship!

71. O ye who believe! Take your precautions, and either go forth in parties or go forth all together. (588)

588 No light should be undertaken without due preparations and precautions. When these are taken, we must go boldly forward. “Go forth” is therefore repeated for emphasis. But we must go forth in a collective spirit either in small parties or all together, as our Leader determines. We must not tarry like the doubter in the next two verses.

72. There are certainly among you men who would tarry behind: (589) If a misfortune befalls you, they say:

489 The test of true Faith is not mere lip profession, but bringing all our doubts and disputes to the one in whom we profess faith. Further, when a decision is given we are not only to accept it, but find in our inmost souls no difficulty and no resistance, but on the contrary a joyful acceptance springing from the conviction of our own faith.

73. But if good fortune comes to you from Allah, they would be sure to say - as if there had never been Ties of affection between you and them - “Oh! I wish I had been with them; a fine thing should I then have made of it!” (590)

590 Just a selfish man’s thought. Such men are far from being a source of strength to their community. They are no use in a fight, and the next verse by implication discards them.

74. Let those fight in the cause of Allah Who sell the life of this world for the Hereafter. (591) To him who fighteth in the cause of Allah,- whether he is slain or gets victory - Soon shall We give him a reward of great (value).

591 It is not everyone—least of all, poltroons and faint-hearted persons—who is fit to fight in the cause of Allah. To do so is a privilege, and those who understand the privilege are prepared to sacrifice all their interests in this life, and this life itself, for they know that it is the sacrifice of something fleeting and of little value, for the sake of something everlasting, and of immense value. Whether (in appearance) they win or lose, in reality they win the prize for which they are fighting —riz., honour and glory in the sight of Allah. Note that the only alternatives here are death or victory! The true fighter knows no defeat.

75. And why should ye not fight in the cause of Allah and of those who, being weak, (592) are ill-treated (and oppressed)?- Men, women, and children, whose cry is: “Our Lord! Rescue us from this town, whose people are oppressors; and raise for us from thee one who will protect; and raise for us from thee one who will help!” (593)

592 Mustad’af=one reckoned weak, and therefore ill-treated and oppressed. (Cf. 4:79, 8:127 and 7:159).

593 Even from the human point of view the cause of Allah is the cause of justice, the cause of the oppressed. In the great persecution, before Makkah was won again, what sorrows, threats, tortures, and oppressions, were suffered by those whose faith was unshaken? Muhammad’s life and that of his adherents was threatened: they were mocked, insulted and beaten; those within the power of the enemy were put into chains and cast into prison. Others were tortured, and cast out of trade, business, and social intercourse; they could not even buy the food they wanted, or perform their religious duties. The persecution was redoubled for the believing slaves, women, and children after the Hijrah. Their cry for a protector and helper from Allah was answered when Muhammad, the Chosen One, brought freedom and peace to Makkah again.

76. Those who believe fight in the cause of Allah, and those who reject Faith fight in the cause of Evil: So fight ye against the Friends (594) of Satan: feeble indeed is the cunning of Satan.

594 Awliya’ plural of wali, friend, supporter, protector, patron: from the same root as mawla, for which see 4:33, n. 543.

77. Hast thou not turned Thy vision to those who were told to hold back (595) their hands (from fight) but establish regular prayers and spend in regular charity? When (at length) the order for fighting was issued to them, behold! a section of them feared men as - or even more than - they should have feared Allah. They said: “Our Lord! Why hast Thou ordered us to fight? Wouldnst Thou not Grant us respite to our (natural) term?” (596) Say: “Short is the enjoyment of this world: the Hereafter is the best

595 Let those fight in the cause of Allah Who sell the life of this world for the Hereafter. (591) To him who fighteth in the cause of Allah,- whether he is slain or gets victory - Soon shall We give him a reward of great (value).

Further, when a decision is given we are not only to accept it, but find in our inmost souls no difficulty and no resistance, but on the contrary a joyful acceptance springing from the conviction of our own faith.

But we must go forth in a collective spirit either in small parties or all together, as our Leader determines. We must not tarry like the doubter in the next two verses.

602 If a generous General gives the private soldier the privilege of sitting with his comrades and officers, high and low, in one common Brotherhood, people may perhaps wonder: how may this be? If we are admitted to that Fellowship, we want to know no more. It is enough to us that Allah knows our humility and our unworthiness, and with His full knowledge admits us to that glorious Fellowship!

But we must go forth in a collective spirit either in small parties or all together, as our Leader determines. We must not tarry like the doubter in the next two verses.

605 There are certainly among you men who would tarry behind: (589) If a misfortune befalls you, they say:”(Allah) did favour us in that we were not present among them.”
for those who do right: Never will ye be dealt with unjustly in the very least!

Before the command for fighting was issued there were some who were impatient, and could scarcely be held back. They wanted fighting from human motives—pugnacity, the love of plunder, hatred against their enemies, the gaining of personal ends. Fighting from such motives is wrong at all times. When the testing time came, and they had to fight, not for their own land, but for a Sacred Cause, in which there was much suffering and little personal gain, the hypocrites held back and were afraid.

"Our natural term of life," they would say, "is short enough; why should we jeopardize it by fighting in which there is no personal gain?" The answer is begun in this verse and continued in the next.

Briefly, the answer is: (1) in any case the pleasures of this world are short; this life is fleeting; the first thing for a righteous man to do is to emancipate himself from its obsessions; (2) to do your duty is to do right; therefore turn your attention mainly to duty; (3) when duty calls for self-sacrifice, be sure that Allah's call is never unjust, and never such as to exceed your capacity; and (4) if you fear death, you will not by fear escape death; it will find you out wherever you are; why not face it boldly when duty calls?

87. "Wherever ye are, death will find you out, even if ye are in towers built up strong and high!" If some good befalls them, they say, "This is from Allah;" but if evil, they say, "This is from thee" (O Prophet). (597) Say: "All things are from Allah." But what hath come to these people, that they fail to understand a single fact?

The Hypocrites were inconsistent, and in this reflect ungenerate mankind. If a disaster happens, due to their own folly, they blame somebody else; but if they are fortunate, they claim reflected credit by pretending that Heaven has favoured them because of their own superior merits. The modern critic discards even this pretence, eliminates Heaven altogether, and claims all credit direct to himself, unless he brings in blind chance; but that he does mostly to 'explain' misfortune. If we look to the proximate cause of things, our own merit is so small, that we can hardly claim credit for good ourselves with any fairness. In Allah's hand is all good 3:26. On the other hand, the proximate cause of our evil is due to some wrong in our own inner selves; for never are we dealt with unjustly in the very least: 4:77.

Whatever good, (O man!) happens to thee, is from Allah. but whatever evil happens to thee, is from thy (own) soul. and We have sent thee as a Messenger (598) to (instruct) mankind. And enough is Allah for a witness.

To blame a man of God for our misfortunes is doubly unjust. For he comes to save us from misfortune, and it is because we thrust him or pay no heed to him, that our own rebellion, brings its own punishment. If we realise this truth we shall be saved from two sins: (1) the sin of injustice to Allah's Messengers, who come for our good, and not for our harm; (2) the sin of not realising our own shortcomings or rebellion, and thus living in spiritual darkness. If the message is from Allah, that carries its own authority: 'enough is Allah for a witness.'

He who obeys the Messenger, obeys Allah. But if any turn away, We have not sent thee to watch over their (evil deeds).(599)

The Messenger was sent to preach, guide, instruct, and show the Way—not to dive people to good. That is not Allah's Plan, which trains the human will. The Messenger's duty is therefore to convey the Message of Allah, in all the ways of persuasion that are open to him. If men perversely disobey that Message, they are not disobeying him but they are disobeying Allah. In the same way those who obey the Message are obeying Allah. They are not oblige the Messenger; they are merely doing their duty.

They have "Obedience" on their lips; but when they leave thee, a section of them Meditate all night on them, and put thy trust in Allah, and enough is Allah as a disposer of affairs.(600)

If we trust people who are not true, they are more likely to hinder than to help. But Allah is All-Good as well as All-Powerful, and all our affairs are best entrusted to His care. He is the best Guardian of all interests.

Therefore we should not trust the lip professions of hypocrites, but trust in Allah. Nor should our confidence in Allah be shaken by any secret plots that enemies hatch against us. We should take all human precautions against them, but having done so, we should put our trust in Allah. Who knows the inner working of events better than any human mind can conceive.

Do they not consider the Qur' an with care? Had it been from other Than Allah, they would surely have found therein Much discrepancy.(601)

The unity of the Qur'an is admittedly greater than that of any other sacred book. And yet how can we account for the unity of Allah's purpose and design? From a mere human point of view, we should have expected much discrepancy, because (1) the Messenger who promulgated it was not a learned man or philosopher, (2) it was promulgated at various times and in various circumstances, and (3) it is addressed to all grades of mankind. Yet, when properly understood, its various pieces fit together better than a jigsaw puzzle even when arranged without any regard to chronological order. There was just the One Inspired and the One Inspired.

When there comes to them some matter touching (Public) safety or fear, they divulge it. If they had only referred it to the Messenger, or to those charged with authority among them, the proper investigators would have Tested it from them (direct). Were it not for the Grace and Mercy of Allah unto you, all but a few of you would have fallen into the clutches of Satan.(602)

In times of war or public panic, thoughtless repetition of gossip is rightly restrained by all effective States. If false, such news may cause needless alarm: if true, it may frighten the timid and cause some misgiving even to the bravest, because the counterpart of the preparations made to meet the danger is not known. Thoughtless news, true or false, may also encourage the enemy. The proper course is quietly to hand all news direct to those who are in a position to investigate it. They can then sift it and take suitable measures to checkmate the enemy. Not to do so, but to deal with news either thoughtlessly or maliciously, is to fall directly into the snares of Evil.

Then fight in Allah's cause - Thou art held responsible only for thyself and - rouse the believers. It may be that Allah will restrain the fury of the Unbelievers; for Allah is the strongest in might and in punishment.(603)

The courage of Muhammad was as notable as his wisdom, his gentleness, and his trust in Allah. Facing fearful odds, he often stood alone, and took the whole responsibility on himself. But his example and visible trust in Allah inspired and roused the Muslims, and also-speaking purely from a human point of view—trained the fury of his enemies. When we consider that he was Allah's inspired Messenger to carry out His Plan, we can see that nothing can resist that Plan. If the enemy happens to have strength, power, or resources, Allah's strength, power, and resources are infinitely greater. If the enemy is meditating punishment on the righteous for their righteousness, Allah's punishment for such wickedness will be infinitely greater and more effective.

Whoever recommends and helps a good cause becomes a partner therein: And whoever recommends and helps an evil cause, shares in its burden: And Allah hath power(604) over all things.

In this fleeting world's chances, Allah's providence and justice may not always appear plain to our eyes. But we are asked to believe that if we help and support a good cause, we share in all its credit and in its eventual victory. And conversely, we cannot support a bad cause without sharing in all its evil consequences. If appearances seem against this faith, let us not be deceived by appearances. For Allah has power over all things.

When a (courteous) greeting is offered you, meet it with a greeting still more courteous, or (at least) of equal courtesy. Allah takes careful account(605) of all things.

The necessary correlative to the command to fight in a good cause is the command to cultivate sweetness and cordiality in our manners at all times. For fighting is an exceptional necessity while the sweetness of daily human intercourse is a normal need. Further, we give kindness and courtesy without asking, and return it if possible in even better terms than we received, or at least in equally courteous terms. For we are all creatures of One God, and shall be brought together before Him.

87. Allah. There is no god but He: of a surety He will gather you together against the Day of Judgment, about which there is no doubt. And whose word can be truer than Allah's?

88. Why should ye be divided into two parties about the Hypocrites?(606) Allah hath upset them for their (evil) deeds. Would ye guide those whom Allah hath thrown out of the Way? For those whom Allah hath thrown out of the Way, never shalt thou find the Way.

606 When the desertion of the hypocrites at Uhud nearly caused a disaster to the Muslim cause there was great feeling among the Muslims of Madinah against them. One party wanted to put them to the sword; another to leave them alone. The actual policy pursued avoided both extremes, and was determined by these verses. It was clear that they were a danger to the Muslim community if they were admitted into its counsels, and in any case they were a source of demoralisation. But while every caution was used, no extreme measures were taken against them. On the contrary, they were given a chance of making good. If they made a sacrifice for the cause (See from what is forbidden,” see next verse), their conduct purged their previous cowardice, and their sincerity entitled them to be taken back. But if they deserted the Muslim community again, they were treated as enemies, with the additional penalty of desertion which is enforced by all nations actually at war. Even so, a humane exception was made in the two cases specified in 490.

89. They but wish that ye should reject Faith, as they do, and thus be on the same footing (as they): But take not friends from their ranks until they flee(607) in the way of Allah (From what is forbidden). If they withdraw not from you nor give you (guarantees) of peace besides restraining their hands, seize them and slay them wherever ye get them: In their case We have provided you with a clear argument against them.

607 Flee: the verbal form from which the noun hijrah is derived. Bukhari interprets this rightly as fleeing from all that is forbidden. This would include hijrah in the technical sense of leaving a place in which the practice of religion is not allowed. But it is more general, in time of war, if a man is willing to submit to discipline and refrains from infringing orders issued, he has proved his fidelity and may be treated as a member of the community at war. On the other hand, if he by false pretences comes into the inner counsels merely to betray them, he may rightly be treated as a traitor or deserter and be punished for his treason or desertion; or if he escapes, he can be treated as an enemy and is entitled to no mercy. He is worse than an enemy; he has claimed to be one of you in order to spy on you, and been all the time helping the enemy.

90. Except those who join a group between whom and you there is a treaty(608) (Of peace), or those who approach(609) you with hearts restraining them from fighting you as well as fighting their own people. If Allah had pleased, He could have given them power over you, and they would have fought you: Therefore if they withdraw from you but fight you not, and (instead) send you (Guarantees of) peace, then Allah Hath opened no way for you (to war against them).

608 Except the exception refers to ‘seize them and slay them’, the death penalty for repeated desertion. Even after such desertion, exemption is granted in two cases. One is where the deserter took asylum with a tribe with whom there was a treaty of peace and amity. Presumably such a tribe (even though outside the pale of Islam) might be trusted to keep the man from fighting against the forces of Islam in the modern phrase, to disarm him and render him harmless. The second case for exemption is where the man from his own heart desires never to take up arms against Islam, though he does not wish to join the forces of Islam, to fight against a hostile tribe (perhaps his own) fighting against Islam. But he must make a real approach, giving guarantees of his sincerity. In the modern phase he would be ‘on parole’. But this provision is much milder than that in modern military codes, which grant the privilege only to enemy prisoners, not to those who have deserted from the army granting them parole. The hypocrites were in that position, but humanity as well as policy treated them with great leniency.

609 Approach or come: refers not to the physical act of coming, but to the mental attitude; the heart is mentioned for sincerity. When they sincerely promise not to fight against you, do not pursue them. Remember that if they had fought against you, your difficulties would have been increased. Their neutrality itself may be a great advantage to you, as long as you are satisfied that they are sincere and their acts support their declarations of peace with you, you should not consider yourself justified in pursuing them and warring against them.

91. Others you will find that wish to gain your confidence as well as that of their people: Every time they are sent back(610) to temptation, they succumb thereto: if they withdraw not from you nor give you (guarantees) of peace besides restraining their hands, seize them and slay them wherever ye get them: In their case We have provided you with a clear argument against them.

610 As opposed to the two classes of deserters to whom clemency may be shown, there is a class which is treacherous and dangerous and cannot be left alone. They try to win your confidence, and are all the time in the confidence of the enemy. Every time they get a chance, they succumb to the temptation of double-dealing. The best way of dealing with them is to treat them as open enemies. Keep them not in your midst. If they give you guarantees of peace and do not actually fight against you, well and good. If not, they are deserters actively fighting in the ranks of the enemy. They have openly given you proof, and you can fairly seize and slay them in war as deserters and enemies.

92. Never should a believer kill a believer; but (If it so happens) by mistake,(611) (Compensation is due): If one (so) kills a believer, it is ordained that he should free a believing slave, and pay compensation to the deceased’s family, unless they remit it freely. If the deceased belonged to a people at war with you, and he was a believer, the freeing of a believing slave is enough. If he belonged to a people with whom ye have a treaty of mutual alliance, he should be paid to his family, and a believing slave be freed. For those who find this beyond their means, (is prescribed) a fast for two months running: by way of repentance to Allah. For Allah hath all knowledge and all wisdom.

611 Life is absolutely sacred in the Islamic Brotherhood. But mistakes will sometimes happen, as did happen in the melee at Uhud, when some Muslims were killed (being mistaken for the enemy) by Muslims. There was no guilty intention therefore there was no murder. But all the same, the family of the deceased was entitled to compensation unless they freely remitted it, and in addition it was provided that the unfortunate man who made the mistake should free a believing slave. Thus a deplorable mistake was made the occasion for winning the liberty of a slave who was a Believer, for Islam discountenances slavery. The compensation could only be paid if the deceased belonged to a Muslim society or to some people at peace with the Muslim society. Obviously it could not be paid if, though the deceased was a Believer, his people were at war with the Muslim society; even if his people could be reached, it is not fair to increase the resources of the enemy. If the deceased was himself an enemy at war, obviously the laws of war justify his being killed in warfare unless he surrendered. If the man who took life unintentionally has no means from which to free a believing slave or to give compensation, he must still by an act of strict self-denial (fasting for two whole months running) show that he is cognizant of the grave nature of the deed he has done and sincerely repentant I take this to apply to all three cases mentioned: that is, where a Believer killed a Believer unintentionally and the deceased (1) belonged to the same community as you, or (2) belonged to a community at war with you, or (3) belonged to a community in alliance with you.

93. If a man kills a believer intentionally, his recompense(612) is Hell, to abide therein (For ever): And the wrath and the curse of Allah are upon him, and a dreadful penalty is prepared for him.

612 What is mentioned here is the punishment in the Hereafter, the spiritual consequences. The legal consequences, enforceable by human society, are mentioned in 2:178, under the rules of Qisas. That is, a life should be taken for a life destroyed, but this should be on a scale of equality; a single murder should not commit a whole tribe to a perpetual blood-feud, as in the days of ignorance. But if the heirs of the man slain accept reasonable compensation, this should be accepted, and the taking of a life for a life should be put to a stop. This course leads to the saving of life, and is commanded to men of understanding.
94. O ye who believe! When ye go abroad (613) in the cause of Allah, investigate carefully, and say not to any one who offers you a salutation: "Thou art none of a believer!" Coveting the perishable goods of this life: with Allah are profits and spoils abundant. Even thus were ye yourselves before, till Allah conferred on you His favours: Therefore carefully investigate. For Allah is well aware of all that ye do.

613 Go abroad: da'ala-to-travel, to go abroad, either for jihad, or for honest trade or other service, which if done with pure motives, counts as service in the cause of Allah. The immediate occasion was in connection with jihad, but the words are general, and can be applied to all circumstances in which a man fails through spiritual pride: he thinks he is not as other men are, but forgets that, but for the grace of Allah, he is himself a sinner. In war (or in peace) we are apt to catch some worldly advantage by planning ourselves on our superiority in Faith. In war perhaps we want to gain glory or booty by killing a supposed enemy! In peace we make light of other people in order to steal some advantage or material gain! This is wrong. The righteous man, if he is really out in Allah's service, has more abundant and richer gifts to think of in the spiritual world.

95. Not equal are those believers who sit (at home) and receive no hurt, and those who strive and fight in the cause of Allah with their goods and their persons. Allah hath granted a grade higher to those who strive and fight with their goods and their persons than to those who sit (at home). Unto all (in Faith) (614) Hath Allah promised good: But those who strive and fight Hath He distinguished above those who sit (at home) by a special reward,- 614 Allah's goodness is promised to all people of Faith. But there are degrees among men and women of Faith. There are people with natural inertia: they do the minimum that is required of them, but no more. There are people who are weak in will: they are easily frightened. There are people who are so strong in will and so firm in faith that they are determined to conquer every obstacle, whether in their own physical or other infirmities or in the external world around them. In a time of jihad, when people give their all, and even their lives, for the common cause, they must be accounted more glorious than those who sit at home, even though they have goodwill to the cause and carry out minor duties in aid. The special reward of such self-sacrifice is high spiritual rank, and special forgiveness and mercy, as proceeding from the direct approbation and love of Allah.

96. Ranks specially bestowed by Him, and Forgiveness and Mercy. For Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

97. When angels take the souls of those who die in sin against their souls (615) they say: "In what (plight) Were ye?" They reply: "Weak and oppressed Were we in life, and mercy, as proceeding from the direct approbation and love of Allah.

615 The immediate occasion for this passage was the question of migration (hijrah) from places where Islam was being persecuted and suppressed. Obviously the duty of Muslims was to leave such places, even if it involved forsaking their homes, and join and strengthen the Muslim community among whom they could live in peace and with whom they could help in fighting the evils around them. But the meaning is wider. Islam does not say, "Resist not evil." On the contrary it requires a constant, unceasing struggle against evil. For such struggle it may be necessary to forsake home and unite and organise and join our brethren in assaulting and overwhelming the fortress of evil. For the Muslim's duty is not only to enjoin good but to prohibit evil. To make our assault we must be prepared to put ourselves in a position from which such assault would be possible, and Allah's earth is spacious enough for the purpose. "Position" includes not only local position, but moral and material position. For example, we must shun evil company where we cannot put it down, but organize a position from which we can put it down.

98. Except those who are (really) weak and oppressed - men, women, and children - who have no means in their power, nor (a guide-post) (616) to their way.

616 If through physical, mental, or moral incapacity, we are unable to fight the good fight, we must nevertheless guard ourselves from it. Allah's gracious Mercy will recognise and forgive our weakness if it is real weakness, and not merely an excuse. (R).

99. For these, there is hope that Allah will forgive: For Allah doth blot out (sins) and forgive again and again.

100. He who forsakes his home in the cause of Allah, finds in the earth Many a refuge, wide and spacious: Should he die as a refugee from home for Allah and His Messenger, His reward becomes due and sure with Allah. And Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

101. When ye travel through the earth, there is no blame on you if ye shorten your prayers (617) for fear the Unbelievers May attack you: For the Unbelievers are unto you open enemies.

617 Verse 101 gives permission to shorten congregational prayers when people are on a journey; verses 102-104 deal with cases when they are in danger at war, in face of the enemy. The shortening of congregational prayers in both cases is further governed as to details by the practice of the Messenger and his companions. As to journeys, two questions arise: (1) what constitutes a journey for this purpose? (2) is the fear of an attack an essential condition for the shortening of the congregational prayers? As to (1), it is best to leave the matter to discretion, having regard to all the circumstances of the journey, as in the case of the journeys which excuse a fast see 2:84, n. 196. The text leaves it to discretion. As to (2), the practice of the Prophet shows that danger is a condition in it is merely mentioned as a possible incident. The Messenger usually shortened the prayers from four Rak'ahs to two Rak'ahs in Zuhur (midday prayer), 'Asr (afternoon prayer) and 'Idha (night prayer); the other two are in any case short, Fajr (morning prayer) having two Rak'ahs and Maghrib (evening prayer) having three. (R).

102. When thou (O Messenger, art with them, and standest to lead them in prayer, Let one party of them stand (in prayer) with thee, Taking their arms with them: When they finish their prostrations, let them Take their position in the rear. And let the other party come up which hath not yet prayed - and let them pray with thee, Taking all precaution, and bearing arms: the Unbelievers wish, if ye were negligent of your arms and your baggage, to assault you in a single rush. (618) But there is no blame on you if ye put away your arms because of the inconvenience of rain or because ye are ill; but take (every) precaution for yourselves. For the Unbelievers Allah hath prepared a humiliating punishment.

618 The congregational prayer in danger in face of the enemy rests on the principle that the congregation should be divided into two parties; one party prays while the other watches the enemy, and then the second party comes up to prayers while the first falls back to face the enemy; either party does only one or two Rak'ahs, or about half the congregational prayer; every precaution is taken to prevent a rush by the enemy; even while at prayers armour and arms need not be put off except when rain is likely to cause inconvenience to the wearer and damage to the arms, or when illness or fatigue causes the wearer's strength to fail. Details can be varied according to circumstances, as was actually done by the Prophet at different times.

103. When ye pass (619) (Congregational) prayers, celebrate Allah's praises, standing, sitting down, or lying down on your sides; when ye are free from danger, set up Regular Prayers: For such prayers are enjoined on believers at stated times.

619 Two interpretations are possible: (1) "when ye have finished congregational prayers", or (2) "when fear that danger is not an essential condition (you) y have to pass over congregational prayers altogether-even the shorter form indicated for times of danger." I prefer the latter, as it accords better with the following sentence, which allows you to remember Allah individually in any posture possible during the danger. But when the danger is past, the full prayers should be offered at the stated times.

104. And slacken not in following up the enemy: If ye are suffering hardships, they are suffering similar hardships; but ye have Hope from Allah, while they(620) have none. And Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.

620 Religion should be a source of strength and not of weakness in all our affairs. If we have to struggle hard and suffer hardships, those without faith have to do the same, with this difference, that the man of Faith is full of hope in Allah, whereas the man without faith has nothing to sustain him.

105. We have sent down to thee the Book in truth, that thou mightest judge between men, as guided by Allah. so be not (used) as an advocate by those who betray their trust;(621)

621 The Commentators explain this passage with reference to the case of Taimah ibn Ubayy, who was nominally a Muslim but really a hypocrite, and given to all sorts of wicked deeds. He was suspected of having stolen a set of armour, and when the trial was hot, he planted the stolen property in the house of a Jew, where it was found. The Jew denied the charge and accused Taimah, but the sympathies of the Muslim community were with Taimah on account of his nominal profession of Islam. The case was brought to the Prophet, who acquitted the Jew according to the strict principle of justice, as ‘guided by Allah’. Attempts were made to prejudice him and deceive him into using his authority to favour Taimah. When Taimah realized that his punishment was imminent he fled and turned apostate. (R).

The general lesson is that the righteous man is faced with all sorts of subtle snares: the wicked will try to appeal to his highest sympathies and most honourable motives to deceive him and use him as an instrument for defeating justice. He should be careful and cautious, and seek the help of Allah for protection against deception and for firmness in dealing the strictest justice without fear or favour.

To do otherwise is to betray a sacred trust; the trustee must defeat all attempts made to mislead him.

106. But seek the forgiveness of Allah. for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

107. Contend not on behalf of such as betray their own souls;(622) for Allah loveth not one given to perfidy and crime:

622 Our souls are a sort of trust with us. We have to guard them against all temptation. Those who surrender to crime or evil, betray that trust. We are warned against being deceived into taking their part, induced either by plausible appearances, or by such incentives to partiality as that they belong to our own people or that some link connects them with us, whereas when we are out to do justice, we must not allow any irrelevant considerations to sway us.

108. They may hide (Their crimes) from men, but they cannot hide (Them) from Allah, seeing that He is in their midst when they plot by night, in words that He cannot approve: And Allah Doth compass round(623) all that they do.

623 The plots of sinners are known fully to Allah, and He can fully circumvent them if necessary, according to the fullness of His wisdom. The words used are: Compass them round: muhit: not only does Allah know all about it, but He is all round it; if in His wisdom He allows it, it is not because He has not complete control over it, but because, having it as it were enclosed in a complete circle, He can use it to further His own Plan. Even out of evil He can bring good. (Ct. 4:126).

109. Ah! These are the sort of men on whose behalf ye may contend in this world; but who will contend with Allah on their behalf on the Day of Judgment, or who will carry their affairs through?

110. If any one does evil or wrongs his own soul but afterwards seeks Allah’s forgiveness, he will find Allah Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

111. And if any one earns(624) sin, he earns it against His own soul: for Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.

624 Kasałatu-ta, to earn, to gain, to work for something valuable, to lay up a provision for the future life. We do a day’s labor to earn our livelihood: so in a spiritual sense, whatever good or evil we do in this life, earns us good or evil in the life to come. Inverses 110-112 three cases are considered: (1) if we do ill, and repent, Allah will forgive: (2) if we do ill and do not repent, thinking that we can fide it, we are wrong; nothing is hidden from Allah, and we shall suffer the full consequences in the life to come, for we can never evade our personal responsibility: (3) if we do ill, great or small, and impute it to another, our original responsibility for the ill remains, but we add to it something else; for we tie round our necks the guilt of falsehood, which converts even our minor fault into a great sin, and in any case brands us even in this life with shame and ignominy.

112. But if any one earns a fault or a sin and throws it on to one that is innocent, He carries (on himself) (Both) a falsehood and a flagrant sin.

113. But for the Grace of Allah to thee and his Mercy, a party of them would certainly have plotted to lead thee astray. But (in fact) they will only Lead their own souls astray, and to thee they can do no harm in the least. For Allah hath sent down to thee the Book and wisdom and taught thee what thou Knewest not (before): And great is the Grace of Allah unto thee.

114. In most of their secret talks there is no good: But if one exhocts to a deed of charity or justice or conciliation between men,(625) (Secrecy is permissible): To him who does this, seeking the good pleasure of Allah, We shall soon give a reward of the highest (value).

625 Usually secrecy is for evil ends, or from questionable motives, or because the person seeking secrecy is ashamed of himself and knows that if his acts or motives became known, he would make himself odious. Islam therefore disapproves of secrecy and loves and enjoins openness in all consultations and doings. But there are three things in which secrecy is permissible, and indeed laudable, provided the motive be purely unselfish, to earn ‘the good pleasure of Allah’: (1) If you are doing a deed of charity or beneficence, whether in giving material things or in helping in moral, intellectual, or spiritual matters; here publicity may not be acceptable to the recipient of your beneficence, and you have to think of his feelings; (2) where an unpleasent act of justice or correction has to be done; this should be done, but there is no virtue in publishing it abroad and causing humiliation to some parties or adding to their humiliation by publicity; (3) where there is a delicate question of conciliating parties to a quarrel; they may be very touchy about publicity but quite amenable to the influence of a man acting in private.

115. If anyone contends with the Messenger even after guidance has been plainly conveyed to him, and follows a path other than that becoming to men of Faith, We shall leave him in the path he has chosen, and land him in Hell,— what an evil refuge!

116. Allah forgiveth not (The sin of) joining other gods(626) with Him; but He forgiveth whom He pleaseth other sins than this: one who joins other gods with Allah, Hath strayed far, far away (from the right).

626 Cf. 4:48 and u. 569. Blasphemy in the spiritual kingdom is like treason in the political kingdom.

117. (The Pagans), leaving Him, call but upon female deities:(627) They call but upon satan the persistent rebel!

627 The unity, power, and goodness of Allah are so manifest in nature and in the human mind when it is in accord with the universal spirit, that only the most abject perversion can account for the sin of spiritual treason. That sin arises from perverted ideas of sex or perverted ideas of self. The perversion of sex is to suppose that sex rules in spiritual matters. From it arise such horrible creations of the imagination as Kali, the bloodthirsty goddess of Hinduism, or Hecate, the goddess of revenge and hate in Greek mythology. Even in beautiful forms like Sarawati (the goddess of learning) or Minerva (the virgin goddess of sport and arts), to say nothing of Venus (the goddess of carnal pleasures), the emphasis laid on sex destroys a right view of spiritual nature. Perverted ideas of self are typified in the story of Satan, who was so puffed up with arrogance that he disobeyed Allah, and Allah cursed him. Both these perversions, if allowed lodgment, completely ruin our spiritual nature and deface Allah’s handiwork. Hence it is not merely an outer sin but one that corrupts us through and through.
18. Allah did curse him, but he said: "I will take of Thy servants a portion(628) Marked off;

628 Satan obtained Allah's permission to tempt man, and this was implied in such free will as was granted to man by Allah. Satan's boast is that the portion of mankind seduced by him will be so corrupted in their nature that they will bear a sort of brand that will mark them off as his own; or that they will be like a portion assigned to himself.

19. "I will mislead them,(629) and I will create in them false desires; I will order them to slit the ears(630) of cattle, and to deface the (fair) nature created(631) by Allah." Whoever, forsaking Allah, takes satan for a friend, hath of a surety suffered a loss that is manifest.

629 Satan's deceptions are with false desires, false superstitions, and false fears.

630 Slitting the ears of cattle is just one instance of the superstitions to which men become slaves when they run after false gods. Astrology, magic, and vain beliefs in things that do not exist lead men away from Allah, the one true God. (R).

631 To deface the (fair) nature created by Allah: there is both a physical and a spiritual meaning. We see many kinds of defacements practiced on men and animals, against their true nature as created by Allah, partly on account of superstition, partly on account of selfishness. Spiritually the case is even worse. How many natures are dwarfed or starved and turned from their original instincts by cruel superstitions or customs? Allah created man pure; the Evil One defaces the image.

120. Satan makes them promises, and creates in them false desires; but satan’s promises are nothing but deception.

121. They (his dupes) will have their dwelling in Hell, and from it they will find no way of escape.

122. But those who believe and do deeds of righteousness,- we shall soon admit them to gardens, with rivers flowing beneath,-to dwell therein for ever. Allah's promise is the truth, and whose word can be truer than Allah’s?

123. Not your desires, nor those(632) of the People of the Book (can prevail): whoever works evil, will be requited accordingly. Nor will he find, besides Allah, any protector or helper.

634 Personal responsibility is again and again insisted on as the keynote of Islam. In this is implied faith and right conduct. Faith is not an external thing; it begins with an act of will, but if true and sincere, it affects the whole being, and leads to right conduct. In this it is distinguished from the kind of faith which promises salvation because someone else in whom you are asked to believe has borne away the sins of men, or the kind of faith which says that because you are born of a certain race (‘Children of Abraham’) or a certain caste, you are privileged, and your conduct will be judged by a different standard from that of other men. Whatever you are, if you do evil, you must suffer the consequences, unless Allah's Mercy comes to your help.

124. If any do deeds of righteousness,- be they male or female - and have faith, they will enter Heaven, and not the least injustice(633) will be done to them.

635 Naqir=the groove in a date stone, a thing of no value whatever, (Cf. n. 575 to 4:75 and 35:13).

125. Who can be better in religion than one who submits his whole self to Allah, does good, and follows the way of Abraham the true in Faith? For Allah did take Abraham for a friend.(634)

636 Authentic tradition says that Ishmael was so distinguished as to warrant this claim. The same word for ‘friend’ is used in 61:6, 62:10 and 70:43. Abraham was the type of all who are inclined to lead a godly life by faith, and not sight. (R).

126. But to Allah belong all things in the heavens and on earth: And He it is that Encompasseth all things.(635)

127. They ask thy instruction concerning the women say: Allah doth instruct you about them: And (remember) what hath been rehearsed unto you(636) in the Book, concerning the orphans of women to whom ye give not the portions prescribed, and yet whom ye desire to marry, as also concerning the children who are weak and oppressed;(637) that ye stand firm for justice to orphans. There is not a good deed which ye do, but Allah is well-acquainted therewith.

636 Again and again it is impressed on the community of Islam to be just in their dealings with women, orphans, children, and all whose weakness requires special consideration. The law about widows and orphans, inheritance, dowry, and marriage had already been declared in 4:2-35, and further instructions are now given on a further reference. The words translated orphans of women mean, I think, the orphaned children of widows, of whom there were several alter the hand of Uthman, and whom it was the duty of the community to provide for. But some Commentators take them to mean female orphans. In any case, because women were orphans or widows, it was not right that anyone should take advantage of their helpless position to deprive them of dower or of their portion in inheritance.

637 Cf. 4:75, n. 392.

128. If a wife fears cruelty or desertion on her husband’s part, there is no blame on them if they arrange an amicable settlement between themselves; and such settlement is best; even though men’s souls are swayed by greed.(638) But if ye do good and practise self-restraint, Allah is well-acquainted with all that ye do.

638 To protect the woman's economic interests, various rules are prescribed for dowry in marriage. But the sanctity of marriage itself is greater than any economic interests. Divorce is, of all things permitted, most hateful to Allah. Therefore if a breach between husband and wife can be prevented by some economic consideration, it is better to make that concession than to imperil the future of the wife, the children, and probably the husband also. Such concessions are permissible, in view of the love of wealth ingrained in unregenerate man, but a recommendation is made that we should practise self-restraint, and do what we can to come to an amicable settlement without any economic sacrifice on the part of the woman.

129. Ye are never able to be fair and just as between women, even if it is your ardent desire: But turn not away (from a woman) altogether, so as to leave her (as it were) hanging (in the air).(639) If ye come to a friendly understanding, and practise self-restraint, Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

639 In this material world there are two principal causes of division between man and wife, money and ‘the other woman’ or ‘the other man’. Money was dealt with in the last verse. Here is the case of ‘the other woman’. Legally more than one wife (up to four) are permissible on the condition that the man can be perfectly fair and just to all. But this is a condition almost impossible to fulfill. If, in the hope that he might be able to fulfill it, a man puts himself in that impossible position, it is only right to insist that he should not discord one but at least fulfill all the outward duties that are incumbent on him in respect of her.
130. But if they disagree (and must part), Allah will provide abundance for all from His all-reaching bounty: for Allah is He that careth for all and is Wise.

131. To Allah belong all things in the heavens and on earth. (640) Verily we have directed the People of the Book before you, and you (o Muslims) to fear Allah. But if ye deny Him, lo! unto Allah belong all things in the heavens and on earth, and Allah is free of all wants, worthy (641) of all praise.

640 Notice the refrain: “To Allah belong all things in the heavens and on earth”: repeated three times, each time with a new application. In the first instance it follows the statement of Allah’s universal providence and love. If two persons, in spite of every sincere desire to love and comfort each other, fail to achieve that end, and have to separate, Allah’s all-reaching bounty never fails, for He is the Lord of all things. In the second instance it is connected with Allah’s Self-Existence, Self-Excellence, and independence of all creatures; all His commands are for our good, and they are given to all His creatures, according to their capacities. In the third instance, it is connected with His universal power; for He could destroy any individual or nation and create a new one without any loss to Himself; but He gives a chance to all again and again, and even rewards them beyond their own ambitions.

641 Allah’s existence is absolute existence. It does not depend on any other person or any other thing. And it is worthy of all praise, for it is all-good and comprises every possible excellence. It is necessary to stress this point in order to show that the moral law for man is not a mere matter of transcendental commands, but really rests on the essential needs of mankind itself. If therefore such schools of thought as Behaviourism proved their theories up to the hilt, they do not affect the position of Islam in the least. The highest ethical standards are enjoined by Islam, not as dogmatic imperatives, but because they can be shown to follow from the needs of man’s nature and the results of man’s experience.

132. Yea, unto Allah belong all things in the heavens and on earth, and enough is Allah to carry through (642) all affairs.

642 This refers to the next verse. He does not need us, but we need Him. Our hopes, our happiness, our success centre in Him; but He is Self-sufficient. He has the power to supersede us, but His goodness is ever seeking to give us every chance in this world as well as in the Hereafter.

133. If it were His will, He could destroy you, o mankind, and create another race; for He hath power this to do.

134. If any one desires a reward in this life, in Allah’s (gift) is the reward (both) of this life and of the Hereafter; (643) for Allah is He that heareth and seeth (all things).

643 Man in this life can only see up to the horizon of his life. The highest rewards which his wishes or ambitions can conceive of are conceived in the terms of this life. But Allah can give him not only these but something infinitely higher—the rewards of the Hereafter which he did not enter his heart to ask for or in his imagination to conceive.

135. O ye who believe! Stand out firmly for justice, as witnesses (644) to Allah, even as against yourselves, or your parents, or your kin, and whether it be (against) rich or poor (645) for Allah can best protect both. Follow not the lusts (of your hearts), lest ye swerve, and if ye distort (justice) or decline to do justice, verily Allah is well-acquainted with all that ye do.

644 Justice is Allah’s attribute, and to stand firm for justice is to be a witness to Allah, even if it is detrimental to our own interests (as we conceive them) or the interests of those who are near and dear to us. According to the Latin saying, ‘Let justice be done though heaven should fall.’

But Islamic justice is something higher than the formal justice of Roman law or any other human law. It is even more penetrative than the subtle justice in the speculations of the Greek philosophers. It searches out the innermost motives, because we are to act as in the presence of Allah, to whom all things, acts, and motives are known. (Cf. 5:58).

645 Some people may be inclined to favour the rich, because they expect something from them. Some people may be inclined to favour the poor because they are generally helpless. Partiality in either case is wrong. He just, without fear or favour. Both the rich and the poor are under Allah’s protection as far as their legitimate interests are concerned, but they cannot expect to be favoured at the expense of others. And He can protect their interests far better than any man.

136. O ye who believe! Believe in Allah and His Messenger, and the scripture which He hath sent to His Messenger and the scripture which He sent to those before (him). (646) Any who denieth Allah, His angels, His Books, His Messenger, and the Day of Judgment, hath gone far, far astray.

646 If your belief is by habit or birth or the example of those you love or respect or admire, make that belief more specific and personal to yourself. We must not only have faith, but realise that faith in our utmost being. The chief objects of our Faith are Allah, His Messenger, and His Revelations. To all these we must give a home in our hearts. The angels we do not see and realise as we realise Allah, who is nearer to us than the vehicle of our life-blood, and the Day of Judgement is for our future experience, but we must not deny them, or we cut off a part of spiritual view.

137. Those who believe, then reject faith, then believe (again) and (again) reject faith, and go on increasing in unbelief—Allah will not forgive them nor guide them nor guide them on the Way. (647)

647 Those who go on changing sides again and again can have no real Faith at any time. Their motives are mere worldly double-dealing. How can they expect Allah’s grace or forgiveness? Here is a clear warning against those who make their religion a mere matter of worldly convenience. True religion goes far deeper. It transforms the very nature of man. After that transformation it is as impossible for him to change as it is for light to become darkness.

138. To the Hypocrites give the glad tidings that there is for them (but) a grievous penalty—

139. Yea, to those who take for friends unbelievers rather than believers: is it honour they seek among them? Nay,- all honour is with Allah. (648)

648 If the motive is some advantage, some honour= the fountain of all good is Allah. How can it really be expected from those who deny Faith? And if there is some show of worldly honour, what is it worth against the contempt they earn in the spiritual world?

140. Already has He sent you (649) Word in the Book, that when ye hear the signs of Allah held in defiance and ridicule, ye are not to fit with them unless they turn to a different theme: if ye did, ye would be like them. For Allah will collect the hypocrites and those who defy Faith—all in Hell:-

649 Cf. 6:68, an earlier and Makkan verse. Where we see or hear Truth held in light esteem, we ought to make our protest and withdraw from such company, not out of arrogance, as if we thought ourselves superior to other people, but out of real humility, lest our own nature be corrupted in such society. But it is possible that our protest or our sincere remonstrance may change the theme of discourse. In that case we have done good to those who were inclined to hold Truth in light esteem, if we have saved them for ridiculing Truth.

141. (These are) the ones who wait and watch about you: if ye do gain a victory from Allah, they say: “Were we not with you?”—but if the unbelievers gain a success, then (to them it is): “Did we not warn you to be an advantage over you, and did we not guard you from the believers?” but Allah will judge betwixt you on the Day of Judgment. And never will Allah grant to the unbelievers a way (to triumphs) over the Believers. (650) with unctuous words, taking a great part of the credit to themselves. Perhaps the balance tips the other way later, and they have to make their peace with Evil. "Oft" they say, we were in the ranks of your enemy before, on purpose to protect you when they were too strong for you! This may suit the ways of the world. But the day of their account will come eventually. For the Good must ultimately triumph.

142. The Hypocrites - they think they are over-reaching Allah, but He will over-reach them: When they stand up to prayer, they stand without earnestness, to be seen of men, but little do they hold Allah in remembrance;

143. (They are) distracted in mind even in the midst of it,- being (sincerely) for neither one group nor for another whom Allah leaves straying,- never wilt thou find him for the Way.(651)

651 If we choose evil deliberately and double our guilt by fraud and deception, we do not deceive Allah, but we deceive ourselves. We deprive ourselves of the Grace of Allah, and are left straying away from the Path. In that condition who can guide us or show us the Way? Our true and right instincts become blunted; our fraud makes us unstable in character; when our fellow-men find out our fraud, any advantages we may have gained by the fraud are lost; and we become truly distracted in mind.

144. O ye who believe! Take not for friends unbelievers rather than believers: Do ye wish to offer Allah an open proof against yourselves?

145. The Hypocrites will be in the lowest depths of the Fire: no helper wilt thou find for them;-

146. Except for those who repent, mend (their lives) hold fast to Allah, and purify their religion as in Allah.s sight: if so they will be (numbered)(652) with the believers. And soon will Allah grant to the believers a fast to Allah, and purify their religion as in Allah.s reward of immense value.

652 Even Hypocrites can obtain forgiveness, on four conditions: (1) sincere repentance, which purifies their mind; (2) amendment of their conduct, which purifies their outer life; (3) steadfastness and devotion to Allah, which strengthens their faith and protects them from the assaults of evil; and (4) sincerity in their religion, or their whole inner being, which brings them as full members into the goodly Fellowship of Faith.

147. What can Allah gain by your punishment, if ye are grateful and ye believe? Nay, it is Allah that recogniseth(653) (all good), and knoweth all things.

653 There is no pleasure nor advantage to Allah in punishing His own creatures, over whom He watches with loving care. On the contrary He recognises any good—however little—which He finds in us, and delights to give us a reward beyond all measure. His recognition of us is compared by a bold metaphor to our gratitude for Him for His favours. The epithet Shakir: is applied to Allah, as here, in 2:158, and other passages. In 16:121 it is applied to Abrahim: "He showed his gratitude for the favours of Allah, who chose him and guided him to a Straight Way."

148. Allah loveth not that evil should be noised abroad(654) in public speech, except where injustice hath been done; for Allah is He who heareth and knoweth all things.

654 We can make a public scandal of evil in many ways. (1) It may be idle sensation-mongering: it often leads to more evil by imitation, as when criminal deeds are glorified in a cinema, or talked about shamelessly in a novel or drama. (2) It may be malicious gossip of a foolish, personal kind; it does no good, but it hurts people's feelings. (3) It may be malevolent slander or libel: it is intended deliberately to cause harm to people's reputation or injure them in other ways, and is rightly punishable under all laws. (4) It may be a public rebuke or correction or remonstrance, without malice, (1), (2) and (3) are absolutely forbidden. (4) may be by a person in authority; in which case the exception applies, for all wrong or injustice must be corrected openly, to prevent its recurrence. Or (4) may be by a person not vested with authority, but acting either from motives of public spirit, or in order to help some one who has been wronged; here again the exception will apply, but if the motive is different, the exception does not apply, (4) would also include a public complaint by a person who has suffered a wrong: he has every right to seek public redress.

149. Whether ye publish a good deed or conceal it or cover evil with pardon, verily Allah doth blot out (sins) and hath power (in the judgment of values).(655)

655 Qudr: I have translated it more fully than most translators. The root qadar not only implies power, ability, strength, but two other ideas which it is difficult to convey in a single word, riz, the act and power of estimating the true value of a thing or persons, as in 69:1; and the act and power of regulating something so as to bring it into correspondence with something. "Judgement of values" I think sums up these finer shades of meaning. Allah forgives what is wrong and is able to fully appreciate and judge the value of our good deeds whether we publish them or conceal them.

150. Those who deny Allah and His messengers, and (those who) wish to separate Allah from His messengers, saying: "We believe in some but reject others": And (those who) wish to take a course midway, -(656)

656 Unbelief takes various forms. Three are mentioned here: (1) denial of Allah and His revelation to mankind through inspired men; (2) a sort of nominal belief in Allah and His Prophets, but one which is partial, and mixed up with racial pride, which does not allow for the recognition of any Messengers beyond those of a particular race; and (3) a nominal belief in universal revelation, but so hedged around with peculiar doctrines of exclusive salvation, that it practically approaches to a denial of Allah's universal love for all mankind and all Creation. All three amount to Unbelief, for they really deny Allah's universal love and care.

151. They are in truth (equally) unbelievers; and we have prepared for unbelievers a humiliating punishment.

152. To those who believe in Allah and His messengers and make no distinction between any of the messengers, we shall soon give their (due) rewards: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

153. The people of the Book ask thee to cause a book to descend to them from heaven: Indeed they asked Moses for an even greater (miracle), for they said: "Show us Allah in public,"(657) but they were dazed for their presumption, with thunder and lightning. Yet they worshipped the calf even after clear signs had come to them; even so we forgave them; and gave Moses manifest proofs of authority.

657 CE 2:55 , for the thunder and lightning which dazed those who were presumptuous enough to ask that they should see Allah face to face, and 2:51 and n. 66, for the worship of the golden calf. The lesson is that it is presumptuous on the part of man to judge of spiritual things in terms of material things, or to ask to see Allah with their material eyes when Allah is above material forms and is independent of time and space.

154. And for their covenant we raised over them (the towering height) of Mount (Sinai);(658) and (on another occasion) we said: "Enter the gate with humility"; and (once again) we commanded them: "Transgress not in the matter of the sabbath." And we took from them a solemn covenant.

658 In this verse there is a recapitulation of three salient incidents of Jewish refractoriness already referred to in the second Surah: riz, (1) the Covenant under the towering height of Sinai, 2:63; (2) their arrogance where they were commanded humility in entering a town, 2:58; and (3) their transgression of the Sabbath, 2:65b.

155. (They have incurred divine(659) displeasure): In that they broke their covenant; that they rejected the signs of Allah. that they slew the Messengers in defiance(660) of right; that they said, "Our hearts are the wrappings(661) (which preserve Allah.s Word; We need no more)":- Nay, Allah hath set the seal on their hearts for their blasphemy, and little is it they believe;-
Note the crescendo (heightening effect) in the argument. Their iniquities were: (1) that they broke their Covenant; (2) that they rejected Allah's guidance as conveyed in His Signs; (3) that they killed Allah's Messenger and incurred a double guilt, viz., that of murder and that of a deliberate defiance of Allah's law; and (4) that they imagined themselves arrogantly self-sufficient, which means a blasphemous closing of their hearts forever against the admission of Allah's grace. Then begins another series of iniquities from a different point of view, (1) that they rejected Faith; (2) that they made false charges against a saintly woman like Mary, who was chosen by Allah to be the mother of Jesus; (3) that they boasted of having killed Jesus when they were victims of their own self-hallucination; (4) that they hindered people from Allah's way; and (5) that by means of usury and fraud they oppressed their fellowmen.

The false charge against Mary was that she was unchaste, cf. 19:27-28. Such a charge is bad enough to make against any woman, but to make it against Mary, the mother of Jesus, was to bring into ridicule Allah's power itself. Islam is specially strong in guarding the reputation of women. Shudderers of women are bound to bring four witnesses in support of their accusations, and if they fail to produce four witnesses, they are to be flogged with eighty stripes and debarred forever from being competent witnesses: 24:4.

There is a difference of opinion as to the exact interpretation of this verse. The Orthodox-Christian Churches make it a cardinal point of their doctrine that his life was taken on the Cross, that he died and was buried, that on the third day he rose in the body with his wounds intact, and walked about and conversed, and ate with his disciples, and was afterwards taken up bodily to heaven. This is necessary for the theological doctrine of blood sacrifice and vicarious atonement for sins, which is rejected by the Qur'an, and some not, cf. 4:164, 16:36, and 33:24.

First we have a general statement: that inspiration was sent to many Messengers, and the inspiration was of the same kind as that sent to the Prophet Muhammad, for Allah's Message is one. Note that what is spoken of here is Inspiration, not necessarily a Book. Every nation or group of people had a messenger: 10:47. Some of these messengers have been mentioned by name in the Qur'an, and some not, cf. 1:164, 16:36, and 33:24.

There are four differences of opinion as to the exact interpretation of this verse. The words are: The Jews did not kill Jesus, but Allah raised him up unto himself. One school holds that Jesus did not die the usual human death, but still lives in the body in heaven, which is the generally accepted Muslim view. Another holds that he did die (5:17) but not when he was supposed to be crucified, and that his being 'raised up' unto Allah means that instead of being disgraced as a malefactor, as the Jews intended, he was on the contrary honoured by Allah as His Messenger: see 4:139 and 3:55.

The end of the life of Jesus on earth is as much involved in mystery as his birth, and indeed the greater part of his private life, except the three main years of his ministry. It is not profitable to discuss the many doubts and conjectures among the early Christian sects and among Muslim theologians. The Orthodox-Christian Churches make it a cardinal point of their doctrine that his life was taken on the Cross, that he died and was buried, that on the third day he rose in the body with his wounds intact, and walked about and conversed, and ate with his disciples, and was afterwards taken up bodily to heaven. knowledge,(672) and the angels bear witness: But enough is Allah for a witness.

672 Inspiration, though it is clothed in human language, and shaped to the personality of the inspired one, proceeds from the knowledge of Allah. (R).

167. Those who reject Faith and keep off (men) from the way of Allah, have verily strayed far, far away from the Path.

168. Those who reject Faith and do wrong,- Allah will not forgive them nor guide them to any way-

169. Except the way of Hell, to dwell therein for ever. And this to Allah is easy.(673)

673 Easy-not in the sense that Allah takes any pleasure in any of His creatures going astray. The contrary is the case: for Allah's Grace recognises all good in us to such an extent that it is compared to gratitude in 4:147; see n. 653. We must understand easy in the sense that Allah is Supreme in knowledge and power; if any forces of rebellion foolishly think that they can evade punishment, they are mistaken. Punishment comes as a matter of course. It is not a matter of difficulty or exertion on the part of Allah.

170. O Mankind! The Messenger hath come to you in truth from Allah. believe in him: It is best for you.(674) But if ye reject Faith, to Allah belong all things in the heavens and on earth: And Allah is All-knowing, All-wise.

674 Allah's solicitude for us is for our own good, not because He gets any advantage from it. For He is independent of all things, and everything declares His glory and praise.

171. O People of the Book! Commit no excesses(675) in your religion: Nor say of Allah aught but the truth. Allah is one: His words: His messengers: Say not "Trinity" : nor "fourfold." And this is for fear of rebellion foolishly think that they can evade punishment, they are mistaken. Punishment comes as a matter of course. It is not a matter of difficulty or exertion on the part of Allah.

172. Christ disdaineth nor to serve and worship Allah,(677) nor do the angels, those nearest (to Allah): those who disdain His worship and are arrogant,-He will gather them all together unto Himself(678) to (answer).

677 Christ often watched and prayed, as a humble worshipper of Allah; and his agony in the Garden of Gethsemane was full of human dignity, suffering, and self-humiliation (see Matt. xxvi. 36-49).

678 The disdaining and the arrogant are the crew of Satan, who will be gathered together before the Supreme Throne for punishment.

173. But to those who believe and do deeds of righteousness, He will give their (due) rewards,- and make out His passages: But those who are disdainful and arrogant, He will punish with a grievous penalty; Nor will they find, besides Allah, any to protect or help them.

174. O mankind! verily there hath come to you a convincing proof from your Lord: For We have sent unto you a light (that is) manifest.(679) The Proof and the Light are the Qur'an and the Personality, life and teaching of Muhammad Al Mustafa.

175. Then those who believe in Allah, and hold fast to Him,- soon will He admit them to mercy and grace from Himself,(680) and guide them to Himself by a straight way.

680 From Himself – From His Presence; see 3:195 and n. 501. The Mercy and Grace are expressed here as specially flowing from Him.

176. They ask thee for a legal decision. Say: Allah directs (thus) about those who leave no descendants or ascendants as heirs. If it is a man(681) that dies, leaving a sister but no child, she shall have half the inheritance: If (such a deceased was) a woman, who left no child, her brother takes her inheritance: If there are two sisters, they shall have two-thirds of the inheritance (Between them): if there are Brothers and sisters, (they share). The male having twice the share of the female. Thus doth Allah make clear to you (His claw), lest ye err. And Allah hath knowledge of all things.

681 This verse supplements the rule of inheritance of the estate of a deceased person who has left as heir neither a descendant nor an ascendant. We shall call such a person A, who may be either a male or a female. In 4:12 (second half). A's case was considered where he had left uterine brothers or sisters. Here A's case is considered where he has left brothers and/or sisters by the father's side, whether the mother was the same or not. 'Brothers' and 'sisters' in this verse must be construed to be such brothers and sisters.

For the sake of clearness I have expanded the terse language of the original in the translation. Let me explain it more concretely in this note. A, and 'brother' and 'sister' being strictly defined as above, we proceed to consider how A's inheritance would be divided. If A left a widow or widower, the widow's or widower's share would first be calculated as in the first half of 4:12: if A left no spouse, this calculation would not be necessary. Then if A left a single 'sister,' she would have a half share, the remaining half (unasofar as it, or a part of it, does not fall to a spouse, if any) going to remoter heirs; if a single 'brother,' he would have the whole (subject to the spouse's right if there is a spouse); if more than one 'brother,' they divide the whole (subject to, etc.). If A left two or more 'sisters,' they get between them two-thirds, subject to the spouses right, if any. If A left a 'brother' and 'sister,' or 'brothers,' and 'sisters,' they divide on the basis that each 'brother's' share is twice that of the 'sister' (subject to, etc.). In all cases debts, funeral expenses, and legacies (to the amount allowed) have priority as in n. 522.
5. Al Ma'idah (The Repast)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O ye who believe! Fulfil (all) obligations. (682) Lawful unto you (for food) are all four-footed animals, with the exceptions named: (683) and of the chase are forbidden while ye are in the sacred precincts or in pilgrimage garb: (684) for Allah doth command according to His will and plan. (685)

688 This line has been judiciously admired for its terseness and comprehensiveness. Obligations: 'lifad: the Arabic word implies so many things that a whole chapter of Commentary can be written on it. First, there are the divine obligations that arise from our spiritual nature and our relation to Allah. He created us and implanted in us the faculty of knowledge and foresight: besides the intention and reason which He gave us, He made Nature responsive to our needs, and His Signs in Nature are so many lessons to us in our inner life: He further sent Messengers and Teachers, for the guidance of our conduct in individual, social, and public life. All these gifts create corresponding obligations which we must fulfil. (Cf. 30:30). But in our own human and material life we undertake mutual obligations express and implied. We make a promise; we enter into a commercial or social contract; we enter into a contract of marriage: we must faithfully fulfil all obligations in all these relationships. (Cf. 7:172 and 16:91). Our group of our State enters into a treaty; every individual in that group or State is bound to see that as far as lies in his power, such obligations are faithfully discharged. There are tacit obligations: living in civil society, we must respect its tacit conventions unless they are morally wrong, and in that case we must get out of such society. There are tacit obligations in the characters of host and guest, wayfarer or companion, employer or employed, etc., etc., which every man of Faith must discharge conscientiously. The man who deserts those who need him and goes to pray in a desert is a coward or employed, etc., etc., which every man of Faith must discharge conscientiously. The man who deserts those who need him and goes to pray in a desert is a coward.

689 This line has been judiciously admired for its terseness and comprehensiveness. Obligations: 'lifad: the Arabic word implies so many things that a whole chapter of Commentary can be written on it. First, there are the divine obligations that arise from our spiritual nature and our relation to Allah. He created us and implanted in us the faculty of knowledge and foresight: besides the intention and reason which He gave us, He made Nature responsive to our needs, and His Signs in Nature are so many lessons to us in our inner life: He further sent Messengers and Teachers, for the guidance of our conduct in individual, social, and public life. All these gifts create corresponding obligations which we must fulfil. (Cf. 30:30). But in our own human and material life we undertake mutual obligations express and implied. We make a promise; we enter into a commercial or social contract; we enter into a contract of marriage: we must faithfully fulfil all obligations in all these relationships. (Cf. 7:172 and 16:91). Our group of our State enters into a treaty; every individual in that group or State is bound to see that as far as lies in his power, such obligations are faithfully discharged. There are tacit obligations: living in civil society, we must respect its tacit conventions unless they are morally wrong, and in that case we must get out of such society. There are tacit obligations in the characters of host and guest, wayfarer or companion, employer or employed, etc., etc., which every man of Faith must discharge conscientiously. The man who deserts those who need him and goes to pray in a desert is a coward.

690 Allah's commands are not arbitrary. His Will is the perfect Archetype or Plan of the world. Everything He wills has regard to His Plan, in which are reflected His perfect wisdom and goodness.

2. O ye who believe! Violate not the sanctity of the symbols of Allah, (686) nor of the Sacred Month, (687) nor of the animals brought for sacrifice, nor the garlands that mark out such animals, nor the people resorted to the Sacred House, (688) seeking of the bounty and good pleasure of their Lord. But when ye are clear of the Sacred Precincts (689) and of pilgrimage garb, ye may hunt and let not the hatred of some people in (once) shutting you out of the Sacred Mosque and ye transgression (and hostility on your part). (690) Help ye one another in righteousness and piety, but help ye not one another in sin and rancour: fear Allah. for Allah is strict in punishment.

686 Cf. 2:138, where Safa and Marwa are called Symbols (Haajaj) of Allah. Here the Symbols are everything connected with the Pilgrimage, viz., (1) the places (like Safa and Marwa, or the Ka'bah or 'Arafah, etc.); (2) the rites and ceremonies prescribed; (3) prohibitions (such as that of hunting, etc.); (4) the times and seasons prescribed. There is spiritual and moral symbolism in all these. See notes on 2:138, 2:194-200.

687 The month of pilgrimage, or else, collectively, the four sacred months (9:36), viz., Rajab (7th), Dhu al Qa'dah (11th), Dhu al Hijah (12th), the month of Pilgrimage, and Muharram (the first of the year). In all these months War was prohibited. Exempting Rajab the other three months are consecutive.

688 The immunity from attack or interference extended to the animals brought as offerings for sacrifice and the garlands or fillets or distinguishing marks which gave them immunity. They were treated as sacred symbols. And of course every protection or immunity was enjoyed by the Pilgrims.

689 This is the state opposite to that described in n. 684, i.e., when ye have left the Sacred Precincts, and have doffed the special pilgrim garb, showing your return to ordinary life.

690 See n. 205 to 2191. In the sixth year of the Hijrah the Pagans, by way of hatred and persecution of the Muslims, had prevented them from access to the Sacred Mosque. When the Muslims were re-established in Makkah, some of them wanted to retaliate and exclude the Pagans or in some way to interfere with them in the Pilgrimage. This is condemned. Passing from the immediate event to the general principle, we must not retaliate or return evil for evil. The hatred of the wicked does not justify hostility on our part. We have to help each other in righteousness and purity, not in perpetuating feuds of hatred and enmity. We may have to fight and put down evil, but never in a spirit of malice or hatred, but always in a spirit of justice and righteousness.

3. Forbidden to you (for food) are: dead meat, blood, the flesh of swine, and that on which hath been invoked the name of other than Allah; (691) that which hath been killed by strangling, or by a violent blow, or by a headlong fall, or by being gored to death; that which hath been (partly) eaten by a wild animal; unless ye are able to slaughter it (in due form); (692) that which is sacrificed (693) on stone (altars); (forbidden) also is the division (694) (of meat) by raffling with arrows: that is impiety. This day have those who reject faith given up all hope of your religion; (695) yet fear them not but fear Me. This day have I perfected your religion (696) for you, completed My favour upon you, and have chosen for you Islam as your religion. But if any is forced by hunger, with no inclination to transgression, Allah is indeed Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

691 Cf. 2:173 and n. 173 and 174. The prohibition of dead meat, blood, the flesh of swine, and that on which other names than that of Allah have been invoked, has been there explained.

692 If an animal dies by strangling, or by a violent blow, or a headlong fall, or by being gored to death, or by being attacked by a wild animal, the presumption is that it becomes carrion, as the life-blood is congealed before being taken out of the body. But the presumption can be rebutted. If the life-blood still flows and the solemn mode of slaughter (dhabh), in the name of Allah as a sacrifice is carried out, it becomes lawful as food.

693 This was also an idolatrous rite, different from that in which a sacrifice was devoted to a particular idol or a false god.

694 Gambling of all kinds is forbidden: 2:219. A sort of lottery or raffle practised by Pagan Arabs has been described in n. 241. Division of meat in this way is here forbidden, as it becomes lawful as food.

695 So long as Islam was not organised, with its own community and its own laws, the Unbelievers had hoped to wear the Believers from the new Teaching. Now that hope was gone, with the complete organisation of Islam.

696 It is considered by many as the last verse revealed chronologically, marking the approaching end of al Mustafa's ministry in his earthly life.

4. They ask thee what is lawful to them (as food). (697) Say: lawful unto you are (all) things good and pure: and what ye have taught your trained hunting animals (to catch) in the manner directed to you by Allah. eat what they catch for you, (698) but pronounce the name of Allah over it: and fear Allah. for Allah is swift in taking account.

697 The previous verse was negative: it defined what was not lawful for food, viz., things gross, or disgusting, or dedicated to superstition. This verse is positive: it defines what lawful, viz., all things are good and pure.
6. In the matter of the killing for meat, the general rule is that the name of Allah, the true God should be pronounced as a rite in order to call our attention to the fact that we do not take life thoughtlessly but solely for food, with the permission of Allah, to whom we render the life back. The question of hunting is then raised. How can this solemn rite be performed when we send forth trained hawks, trained hounds, or trained chethirs or other animals trained for the chase? They must necessarily kill at some distance from their masters. Their game is legalized on these conditions: (1) that they are trained to kill, not merely for their own appetite, or out of mere wantonness, but for their master's food; the training implies that something of the solemnity which Allah has taught us in this matter goes into their action; and (2) if we are to pronounce the name of Allah over the quarry; this is interpreted to mean that the Takbir should be pronounced when the hawk or dog, etc., is released to the quarry. (R)

5. This day are (all) things good and pure made lawful unto you. The food of the People of the Book (699) is lawful unto you and yours is lawful unto them. (Lawful unto you in marriage) are (not only) chaste women who are believers, but chaste women among the People of the Book,(700) revealed before your time,—when ye give them their due dowers, and desire chastity, not lewdness, nor secret intrigues if any one rejects faith,(701) fruitless is his work, and in the Hereafter he will be in the ranks of those who have lost (all spiritual good).

6. Ye who believe! when(702) ye prepare for prayer, this day are (all) things good and pure made lawful to you, that ye may be grateful.

7. And call in remembrance the favour of Allah unto you, and His Covenant,(705) which He ratified with you, when ye said: 'We hear and we obey': And fear Allah, when ye are to render the life back to Him; (Allah) knoweth well the secrets of your hearts.

8. O ye who believe! stand out firmly for Allah, as witnesses(706) to fair dealing, and let not the hatred of others to you make you swerve(707) to wrong and depart from justice. Be just; that is next to piety: and fear Allah. For Allah is well-acquainted with all that ye do.

9. To those who believe and do deeds of righteousness hath Allah promised forgiveness and a great reward.

10. Those who reject faith and deny our signs will be companions of Hell-fire.

11. O ye who believe! Call in remembrance the favour of Allah unto you when certain men formed the design to stretch out their hands against you, but (Allah) held back their hands from you:(708) so fear Allah. And on Allah let believers put (all) their trust.

12. Allah did aforetime take a covenant from the Children of Israel,(709) and we appointed twelve captains among them. And Allah said: "I am with you: if ye do justice and act righteously in a favourable or neutral atmosphere is meritorious enough, but the real test comes when you have to do justice to people who hate you or to whom you have an aversion. But no less is required of you by the higher moral law.

699 The question is for food generally, such as is ordinarily 'good and pure': in the matter of meat it should be killed with some sort of solemnity analogous to that of the Takbir. The rules of Islam in this respect being analogous to those of the People of the Book, there is no objection to mutual recognition, as opposed to meat killed by Pagans with superstitious rites. (Cf. 6:139). In this respect the Christian rule is the same: 'That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.' (Acts. 15:29). Notice the bracketing of fornication with things unlawful to eat.

700 Islam is not exclusive. Social intercourse, including inter-marriage, is permitted with the People of the Book. A Muslim man may marry a woman from their ranks on the same terms as he would marry a Muslim woman, i.e., he must give her an economic and moral status, and must not be actuated merely by motives of lust or physical desire. A Muslim woman may not marry a non-Muslim man, because her Muslim status would be affected; the wife ordinarily takes the national status and status given by her husband's law. A non-Muslim woman marrying a Muslim husband would be expected eventually to accept Islam. Any man or woman, of any race or faith, may, on accepting Islam, freely marry any Muslim woman or man, provided it be from motives of purity and chastity and not of lewdness.

701 As always, food, cleanliness, social intercourse, marriage and other interests in life, are linked with our duty to Allah and faith in Him. Duty and faith are for our own benefit, here and in the Hereafter. (Cf. 3:96-63).

702 The rules of Islam in this respect are analogous to those of the People of the Book. Islam is not exclusive. Social intercourse, including inter-marriage, is permitted with the People of the Book. A Muslim man may marry a woman from their ranks on the same terms as he would marry a Muslim woman, i.e., he must give her an economic and moral status, and must not be actuated merely by motives of lust or physical desire. A Muslim woman may not marry a non-Muslim man, because her Muslim status would be affected; the wife ordinarily takes the national status and status given by her husband's law. A non-Muslim woman marrying a Muslim husband would be expected eventually to accept Islam. Any man or woman, of any race or faith, may, on accepting Islam, freely marry any Muslim woman or man, provided it be from motives of purity and chastity and not of lewdness.

703 O ye who believe! when(702) ye prepare for prayer, wash your faces, and your hands (and arms) to the elbows, and rub your heads (with water); and (wash) your feet to the ankles. If ye are in a state of ceremonial impurity,(703) bathe your whole body. But if ye are ill, or on a journey, or one of you cometh from the offices of nature, or ye have been in contact with women, and ye find no water, then take for yourselves clean sand or earth,(704) and rub therewith your faces and hands, Allah doth not wish to place you in a state of ceremonial impurity,(703) but bathes your whole body. But if ye are ill, or on a journey, or one of you cometh from the offices of nature, or ye have been in contact with women, and ye find no water, then take for yourselves clean sand or earth,(704) and rub therewith your faces and hands, Allah doth not wish to place you in a difficulty, but to make you clean, and to complete his favour to you, that ye may be grateful.

704 These are the essentials of Wudu', or ablutions preparatory to prayers, viz. (1) to bathe the whole face in water, and (2) both hands and arms to the elbows, with (3) a little rubbing of the head with water (as the head is usually protected and comparatively clean), and (4) the washing of the feet to the ankles. In addition, following the practice of the Prophet, it is usual first to wash the mouth, the throat, and the nose, before proceeding with the face, etc.

705 This is Tayyamum, or washing with clean sand or earth where water is not available. It take that this substitute is permissible both for Wudu' and for a full bath, in the circumstances mentioned.

706 Cf. 4:43 and n. 563. Ritual impurity arises from sex pollution.

707 To do justice and act righteously in a favourable or neutral atmosphere is meritorious enough, but the real test comes when you have to do justice to people who hate you or to whom you have an aversion. But no less is required of you by the higher moral law.

708 In the lifetime of the Prophet it happened again and again that the enemies of Islam stretched out their hands against him, his people, and his teaching. The odds were, from a worldly point of view, in their favour, but their hands were rendered inert and powerless because they were fighting against the truth of Allah. So does it happen always, now as it did then. True faith must take heart, and at the same time humbly recognise Allah's favour and mercy, and be grateful.

709 Cf. 2:63 and 78. "Moses . . . called for the elders of the people... and all the people answered together and said, 'All that the Lord hath spoken we will do.'" (Exod. 19:7-8.) This was under the towering height of Mount Sinai. The captains or elders or leaders of the people were selected, one from each of the twelve tribes, (see 2608 and n. 738. For census purposes the names of the elders of the tribes are given in Num. 1:4-16; they are called "every one the head of the house of his fathers". Later, twelve other 'heads of the Children of Israel' were selected to spy out of the land of Canaan : their names are mentioned in Num. 13:1-16. See also 2:22-29 and notes.

710 Cf. 2:245, n. 276. The phrase means "spending in the cause of Allah." Allah in His infinite grace looks upon this as a loan, for which He gives a recompense manifold.

711 The path of rectitude: or the even way: see 2:108, n. 109.
they change the words from their (right) places and forget a good part of the message that was sent them, nor wilt thou cease to find them barring a few - even bent on (new) deceits: (713) but forgive them, and overlook (714) (their misdeeds): for Allah loveth those who are kind.

17. The change from the First Person in the beginning of the verse to the Third person that means that because of the breach of their Covenant, Allah withdrew His overflowing Grace from them. The withdrawal of Grace made their hearts grow hard in two ways: (1) they were no longer protected from the assaults of evil, and (2) they became impervious even to the message of forgiveness and mercy which is open to all Allah's creatures.

18. (Both) the Jews and the Christians say: "We are sons of Allah, and his beloved." (718) Say: "Why then doth He punish you for your sins? Nay, ye are but men, of the men he hath created: He forgiveth whom He pleaseth, and He punisheth whom He pleaseth: and to Allah belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth, and all that is between: and unto Him is the final goal (of all)"

14. From those, too, who call themselves Christians, We did take a Covenant, (715) but they forgot a good part of the message that was sent them: so we estranged them, with enmity and hatred between the one and the other, to the day of judgment. And soon will Allah (715-A) show them what it is they have done.

17. Israel, when it lost Allah's grace as above, began to sin against truth and religion in three ways: (1) they began to misuse Scripture itself, by either taking words out of their right meaning, or applying them to things for which they were never meant, (Cr. 5:41); (2) in doing so, they conveniently forgot a part of the Message and purpose of Allah; and (3) they invented new deities to support the old ones.

15. From those, too, who call themselves Christians, We did take a Covenant, (715) but they forgot a good part of the message that was sent them: so we estranged them, with enmity and hatred between the one and the other, to the day of judgment. And soon will Allah (715-A) show them what it is they have done.

18. The Christian Covenant may be taken to be the charge which Jesus gave to his disciples, and which the disciples accepted, to welcome Ahmad (Q. 61:6). Glimpses of this are to be found in the Gospel of St. John even as it exists now (John 1:26, 167). It is those who call themselves 'Christians' who reject this. True Christians have accepted it. The enmity between those who call themselves Christians and the Jews will continue till the Last Day. (Cr. 7:164).

15 A The change from the First Person in the beginning of the verse to the Third Person here illustrates the change from the personal relationship of the Covenant, to the impersonal operation of Justice at Judgement. Cr. 35:9.

19. O people of the Book! Now hath come unto you, making (things) clear unto you, Our Messenger, after the break (720) in (the series of) our messengers, lest ye should say: "There came unto us no bringer of glad tidings and no Warner (from evil)" But now hath come unto you a bringer of glad tidings and a Warner (from evil) and Allah hath power over all things.

20. Remember Moses said to his people: "O my people! Call in remembrance the favour of Allah unto you, when He produced prophets among you, (721) made you kings, (722) and gave you what He had not given to any other among the peoples. (723)

21. O my people! Enter (724) the holy land which Allah hath assigned unto you, and turn not back ignominiously, for then will ye be overthrown, to your own ruin.

19. The six hundred years (in round figures) between Christ and Muhammad were truly the dark ages of the world. Religion was corrupted: the standard of morals fell low; many false systems and heresies arose; and there was a break in the succession of prophets until the advent of Muhammad.

20. A The change from the First Person in the beginning of the verse to the Third Person here illustrates the change from the personal relationship of the Covenant, to the impersonal operation of Justice at Judgement. Cr. 35:9.

21. We now come to the events detailed in the 15th and 14th chapters of the Book of Numbers in the Old Testament. Read these as a Commentary, and examine a good map of the Sinai Peninsula, showing its connections with Egypt on the west, Northwest Arabia on the east, and Palestine on the northeast. We may suppose that Israel crossed from Egypt into the Peninsula somewhere near the northern extremity of the Gulf of Suez. Moses organized and numbered the people, and instituted the Priests. They went south about 200 miles to Mount Sinai where the Law was received. Then, perhaps a hundred and fifty miles north, was the desert of Paran, close to the southern borders of Canaan. From the camp there, twelve men were sent to spy out the land, and they penetrated as far as Hebron, say about 150 miles north of their camp, about 20 miles south of the future Jerusalem. They saw a rich country, and brought from it pomegranates and figs and a bunch of grapes so heavy that it had to be carried by two men on a staff. They came back and reported that the land was rich, but the men there were too strong for them. The people of Israel had no courage and no faith, and Moses reproved them with them.

22. They said: O Moses! In this land are a people of exceeding strength: (725) Never shall we enter it until they leave it: if (once) they leave, then shall we enter."

725 The people were not willing to follow the lead of Moses, and were not willing to fight for their "inheritance." In effect they said: "Turn out the enemy first, and then we shall enter into possession." In Allah's Law we must work and strive for what we wish to enjoy.

23. (But) among (their) Allah-fearing men were two on whom Allah had bestowed His grace:(726) They said:
"Assault them at the (proper) Gate: when once ye are in, victory will be yours; But on Allah put your trust if ye have faith."

726 Among those who returned after spying out the land were two men who had faith and courage. They were Joshua and Caleb. Joshua afterwards succeeded Moses in the leadership after 40 years. These two men pleaded for an immediate entry through the proper Gate, which I understand to mean, "after taking all due precautions and making all due preparations." Cf. 2:189 and n. 203. But of course, said, they must put their trust in Allah for victory.

24. They said: "O Moses! while they remain there, never shall we be able to enter, to the end of time. Go thou, and thy Lord, and fight ye two, while we sit here
(and(727) watch)."

727 The advice of Joshua and Caleb, and the proposals of Moses under divine instructions were unpalatable to the crowd, whose prejudices were further inflamed by the other ten men who had gone with Joshua and Caleb. They made an "evil report," and were frightened by the great stature of the Canaanites. The crowd was in open rebellion, was prepared to stone Moses, Aaron, Joshua, and Caleb, and return to Egypt. Their reply to Moses was full of irony, insolence, blasphemy, and cowardice. In effect they said: "You talk of your God and all that:
go with your God and fight there if you like; we shall sit here and watch."

25. He said: "O my Lord! I have power only over myself and my brother:(728) so separate us from this rebellious people!"

728 "Moses and Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation." (Num. 14:5). According to the words in the Old Testament story, God said: "I will smite them with pestilence, and disinherit them." (Num. 14:12
5. Moses prayed and interceded. But as we are told here, (a spiritual touch not found in the Jewish story), Moses was careful to separate himself and his brother from the rebellion.

26. Allah said: "Therefore will the land be out of their reach for forty years:(729) In distraction will they wander through the land: But sorrow thou not over these rebellious people.

729 The punishment of the rebellion of these stiff-necked people, rebellion that was repeated 'these ten times', (Num. 14:22) and more, was that they were left to wander distractedly hither and thither, through the wilderness for forty years. That generation was not to see the Holy Land. All those that were twenty years old and upwards were to die in the wilderness: "your carcases shall fall in this wilderness."
(Num. 14:29). Only those who were then children would reach the promised land. And so it happened. From the desert of Paran they wandered south, north, and east for forty years. From the head of what is now the Gulf of 'Aqaba, they travelled north, keeping to the east side of the depression of which the Dead Sea and the river Jordan are portions. Forty years afterwards they crossed the Jordan opposite what is now Jericho , but by that time Moses, Aaron, and the whole of the elder generation had died, (Cf. 6:88).

27. Recite to them the truth(730) of the story of the two sons(731) of Adam. Behold! they each presented a sacrifice (to Allah.: It was accepted from one, but not from the other. Said the latter: "Be sure I will slay thee."
"Surely," said the former, "(Allah) doth accept of the sacrifice of those who are righteous.

730 Literally, 'recite to them in truth the story', etc. The point is that the story in
Gen. 4:15-16 is a bare narrative, not including the lessons now to be enforced. The Prophet is told now to supply the truth of the matter, the details that will enforce the lessons.

731 The two sons of Adam were Habil (in the English Bible, Abel) and Qabil (in English, Cain). Cain was the elder, and Abel the younger. The righteous and innocent one. Presuming on the right of the elder, Cain was puffed up with arrogance and jealousy, which led him to commit the crime of murder. Among the Christians, Cain was the type of the Jew as against Abel the Christian. The Jew tried to kill Jesus and exterminate the Christian. In the same way, as against Muhammad, the younger brother of the Scimitte family, Cain was the type of the Old Testament and New Testament people, who tried to resist and kill Muhammad and put down his people.

28. "If thou dost stretch thy hand against me, to slay me, it is not for me to stretch my hand against thee to slay thee: for I do fear Allah, the Cherisher of the Worlds.

29. "For me, I intend to let thee draw on thyself my sin as well as thine,(732) for thou wilt be among the companions of the fire, and that is the reward of those who do wrong."(733)

730 My sin as well as thine. There are two possible interpretations: (1) The obvious one is that the unjust murderer not only carried on himself the burden of his own sin, but also the burden of his victim's sins. The victim, in suffering a wrong or injustice, is forgiven his own sins, and the wrongdoer, having been warned, aggravates his own sin. (2) 'My sin' has also been interpreted as 'the sin against me, in that case 'thy sin' may mean either 'thy crime in committing a murder,' or 'thy sin against myself, for the crime causes real loss to thyself in the Hereafter.' See the last clause of the next verse.

733 Abel's speech is full of meaning. He is innocent and God-fearing. To the thirteen men death held out by the other, he returns a calm reply, aimed at reforming the other. 'Surely,' he pleads, 'if your sacrifice was not accepted, there was something wrong in you, for Allah is just and accepts the sacrifice of the righteous.
If this does not deter you, I am not going to retaliate, though there is as much power in me against you as you have against me. I fear my Maker, for I know He cherishes all His Creation. Let me warn you that you are doing wrong. I do not intend even to resist, but do you know what the consequences will be to you? You will be in spiritual torment.'

30. The (selfish) soul of the other led him to the murder of his brother: he murdered him, and became (himself) one of the lost ones.(734)

734 The innocent unselfish pleading of the younger brother had no effect, for the soul of the other was full of pride, selfishness and jealousy. He committed the murder, but in doing so, ruined his own self.

31. Then Allah sent a raven, who scratched the ground, to show him how to hide the shame of his brother.(735) "Woe is me!" said he; "Was I not even able to be as this raven, and to hide the shame of my brother?" then he became full of regrets-(736)

735 Saw 'ah may mean 'corps', with a suggestion of nakedness and shame in two senses: (1) the self being exposed without burial, and (2) the sense of being insulted by being violently deprived of the unwarranted murder, of the soul which inhabited it - the soul, too, of a brother.

736 The thought at last came home to the murderer. It was dreadful indeed to slay anyone-the more so as he was a brother, and an innocent righteous brother!
But worse still, the murderer had not even the decency to bury the corpse, and of this simple duty he was reminded by a raven-blackheaded usually held in contempt!
His regret was on that account That was no true repentance.

32. On that account: We ordained for the Children of Israel that if any one slew a person - unless it be for murder or for spreading mischief in the land - it would be as if he slew the whole people:(737) and if any one saved a life, it would be as if he saved the life of the whole people. Then although there came to them Our messengers with clear signs, yet, even after that, many of them continued to commit excesses in the land.

737 The story of Cain is referred to in a few graphic details in order to tell the story of Israel : Israel rebelled against Allah, slew and insulted righteous men who did them no harm but on the contrary came in all humility. When Allah withdrew His favour from Israel because of its sins and bestowed it on a brother nation, the jealousy of Israel plunged it deeper into sin. To kill or seek to kill an individual because he represents an ideal is to kill all who uphold the ideal. On the other hand, to save an individual life in the same circumstances is to save a whole community. What could be stronger condemnation of individual assassination and revenge? (Cf. 5:45).
33. The punishment of those who wage war against Allah and His Messenger, and strive with might and main for mischief through the land(738) is: execution, or crucifixion, or the cutting off of hands and feet from opposite sides,(739) or exile from the land: that is their disgrace in this world, and a heavy punishment is theirs in the Hereafter;

738 For the double crime of treason against the State, combined with treason against Allah, as shown by overt crimes, four alternative punishments are mentioned, any one of which is to be applied according to circumstances, viz., execution (cutting off of the head), crucifixion, maiming, or exile. These were features of the Criminal Law then and for centuries afterwards, except that tortures such as "hanging, drawing, and quartering" in English Law, and piercing of eyes and leaving the unfortunate victim exposed to a tropical sun, which was practised in Arabia, and all such tortures were abolished. In any case sincere repentance before it was too late was recognised as a round of mercy.

34. Except for those who repent before they fall into your power: in that case, know that Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

35. 0 ye who believe! Do your duty to Allah,(740) seek the means of approach unto Him, and strive with might and main in his cause: that ye may prosper.(741)

740 Tapra here too might be translated 'fear of Allah', but the very next clause shows that 'fear of Allah' does not mean 'fear' in the ordinary sense, which would make you avoid the object of fear. On the contrary the 'fear of Allah' is the intense desire to avoid everything that is against His Will and Law. It is in fact duty to Allah, for we are told to seek ardently the means by which we may approach Him, and that can only be done by striving with might and main for His cause.

741 'Prosper' in the spiritual sense, for that is all that matters, as the life of this world is brief and fleeting, and of small account as against Eternity.

36. As to those who reject Faith—if they had anything on earth, and twice repeated, to give as ransom for the penalty of the day of judgement, it would never be accepted of them. Theirs would be a grievous penalty.

37. Their wish will be to get out of the Fire, but never will they get out therefrom: their penalty will be one that endures.

38. As to the thief,(742) Male or female, cut off his or her hands: a punishment by way of example, from Allah, for their crime: and Allah is Exalted in power.

742 Here we touch upon jurisprudence. The Canon Law jurists are not unanimous as to the value of the property stolen, which would involve the penalty of the cutting off of the hand. The majority hold that petty thefts are exempt from this punishment. The general opinion is that only one hand should be cut off for the first theft, on the principle that "if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee", (Matt. 18:8). Apparently in the age of Jesus thieves were crucified, (Matt. 27:38).

39. But if the thief repents after his crime, and amends his conduct, Allah turneth to him in forgiveness; for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

40. Knowest thou not(743) that to Allah (alone) belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth? He punisheth whom He pleaseth, and He forgiveth whom He pleaseth: and Allah hath power over all things.

743 Punishment really does not belong to mortals, but to Allah alone. Only, in order to keep civil society together, and protect innocent people from crime, certain principles are laid down on which people can build up their criminal law. But we must always remember that Allah not only punishes but forgives, and forgiveness is the attribute which is more prominently placed before us. It is not our wisdom that can really define the bounds of forgiveness or punishment, but His Will or Plan, which is the true standard of righteousness and justice.

41. O Messenger. let not those grieve thee, who race each other into unbelievel(744) (whether it be) among those who say "We believe" with their lips but whose hearts have no faith; or it be among the Jews,- men who will listen to any lie,- will listen even to others who have never so much as come(745) to thee. They change the words from their (right) times(746) and places: they say, "If ye are given this, take it, but if not, beware!" If any one´s trial is intended by Allah, thou hast no authority in the least for him against Allah. For such - it is not Allah.s will to purify their hearts. For them there is disgrace in this world, and in the Hereafter a heavy punishment.

744 Two classes of men are meant, viz., the Hypocrites and the Jews. For both of them Mustafa laboured earnestly and assiduously, and it must have been a case of great grief and disappointment to him that some among them showed so much insincerity, cunning, and hardness of heart. These are types not yet extinct.

745 There were men among the Jews who were eager to catch up any lie against the Prophet. They had their ears open even to tales from people who had never so much as come near to the Prophet If we understand 'for' instead of 'to' before 'others' (for the Arabic word would bear both meanings), the sense will be: They are keen listeners or spies for any lies they can catch and they will act as spies for others (their Rabbis, etc.) who are in the background but to whom they carry false tales.

42. (They are fond of) listening to falsehood, of devouring(747) anything forbidden. If they do come to thee, either judge between them, or decline to interfere.(748) If thou decline, they cannot hurt thee in the least. If thou judge, judge in equity between them. For Allah loveth those who judge in equity.

747 Devouring anything forbidden: both in a literal and in a figurative sense. In the figurative sense, it would be: the taking of usury or bribes, or taking undue advantage of people's weak position or their own fiduciary powers to add to their own wealth.

748 Where it is merely a trick to catch out the unwary, a just man may honourably decline to interfere in a cause submitted to him, as also in a case where the parties are not honestly desirous of justice, but each hopes that some partiality will be shown to it.

43. But why do they come(749) to thee for decision, when they have (their own) law before them?—Therein is the (plain) command of Allah; yet even after that, they would turn away. For they are not (really) people of Faith.

749 This is a searching question as to the motive of the Jews in bringing their cases for decisions to the Prophet. They came either (1) to ridicule whatever he said, or (2) to deceive him as to facts and snatch a favourable decision which was against equity. If their own Law did not suit their selfish interests, they sometimes twisted it. But Muhammad was always inflexible in his justice.

44. It was We who revealed the law (to Moses): therein was guidance and light(750). By its standard have been judged the Jews, by the prophets who bowed (as in Islam) to Allah.s will, by the rabbis(751) and the doctors of law: for to them was entrusted the protection of Allah.s book, and they were witnesses thereto(752): therefore fear not men, but fear me, and sell not my signs for a miserable price(753). If any do fail to judge by (the light of) what Allah hath revealed, they are (no better than) Unbelievers.

750 Guidance, with reference to conduct; light, with reference to insight into the higher realms of the spirit.
The goal of you all is to Allah. It is He that will show you the truth of the matters in which ye dispute. (762) If Allah had so willed, He would have made you a single people, but (His plan is) to test you in what ye dispute. (761)

45. We ordained therein for them (754): "Life for life, eye for eye, nose or nose, ear for ear, tooth for tooth, and wounds equal for equal." But if any one remits the retaliation by way of charity, it is an act of atonement for himself. (755) And if any fail to judge by (the light of) what Allah hath revealed, they are (No better than) wrongdoers (756).

46. And in their footsteps We sent Jesus the son of Mary, confirming the Law that had come before him: We sent him the Gospel: therein was guidance and light, (757) and confirmation of the Law that had come before him: a guidance and an admonition to those who fear Allah.

47. Let the people of the Gospel judge by what Allah hath revealed therein. If any do fail to judge by (the light of) what Allah hath revealed, they are (No better than) those who rebel. (758)

48. To thee We sent the Scripture in truth, confirming the scripture that came before it, and guarding it (759) in safety: so judge between them by what Allah hath revealed, and follow not their vain desires, diverging from the truth that hath come to thee. To each among you have we prescribed a law and an open way. (760) If a man had so willed, He could have made every man a single people, but (His plan is) to test you in what He hath given you: so strive as in a race in all virtues. The goal of you all is to Allah. It is He that will show you the truth of the matters in which ye dispute; (762)

49. And this (He commands): Judge thou between them by what Allah hath revealed, and follow not their vain desires, but beware of them lest they beguile thee from any of that (teaching) which Allah hath sent down to thee. And if they turn away, be assured that among you that turns to them (for friendship) is of them. Verily Allah guideth not a people unjust. (764)

50. Do they then seek after a judgment of (the days) (763) of ignorance? But who, for a people whose faith is assured, can give better judgment than Allah.

51. O ye who believe! take not the Jews and the Christians for your friends and protectors (764): They are but friends and protectors to each other. And he amongst you that turns to them (for friendship) is of them. Verily Allah guideth not a people unjust.

52. Those in whose hearts (765) is a disease - thou seest how eagerly they run about amongst them, saying: "We do fear lest a change of fortune bring us disaster." Ah! perhaps Allah will give (thee) victory, or a decision according to His will. Then will they repent of the thoughts which they secretly harboured in their hearts.
54. O ye who believe! if any from among you turn back from his Faith, soon will Allah produce a people whom He will love as they will love Him, - lowly with the believers, mighty against the rejecters, fighting in the way of Allah, and never afraid of the reproaches of such as find fault. (767) That is the grace of Allah, which He will bestow on whom He pleareth. And Allah encompasseth all, and He knoweth all things.

767 As "most men are rebellious" (5:49), it is inevitable that there should be apostates even from such a religion of reason and common-sense as Islam. But here is a warning to the Muslim body that they should not repeat the history of the Jews, and become so self-satisfied or arrogant as to depart from the spirit of Allah's teaching. If they do, the loss will be their own. Allah's bounty is not confined to one group or section of humanity. He can always raise up people who will follow the true spirit of Islam. That spirit is defined in two ways: first in general terms; they will love Allah and Allah will love them; and secondly, by specific signs; amongst the Brethren, their attitude will be that of humility, but to wrongdoers they will offer no mealy-mouthed compromises; they will always strive and fight for truth and right; they will know no fear, either physical, or that more insidious form, which says: "What will people say if we act thus?" They are too great in mind to be haunted by any such thought. For, as the next verse says, their friends are Allah, His Prophet, and His people, the people who judge rightly, without fear or favour.

55. Your (real) friends are (no less than) Allah, His Messenger, and the (fellowship of) believers, - those who establish regular prayers and regular charity, and they bow down humbly (in worship).

56. As to those who turn (for friendship) to Allah, His Messenger, and the (fellowship of) believers, - it is the fellowship of Allah that must certainly triumph.

57. O ye who believe! take not for friends and protectors those who take your religion for a mockery or sport- (768) whether among those who received the Scripture before you, or among those who reject Faith; but fear ye Allah, if ye have faith (indeed).

768 It is not right that we should be in intimate association with those to whom religion is either a subject of mockery or at best is nothing but a playing. They may be amused, or they may have other motives for encouraging you. But your association with them will sap the earnestness of your faith, and make you cynical and insincere.

58. When ye proclaim your call to prayer they take it (but) as mockery and sport; that is because they are a people without understanding.

59. Say: "O people of the Book! Do ye disapprove of us for no other reason than that we believe in Allah, and the revelation that hath come to us and that which came before us, and (perhaps) that most of you are rebellious and disobedient? (769)"

769 There is the most biting irony in this and the next verse. You People of the Book! Do you hate us because we believe in Allah and not only our scripture, but yours also? Perhaps you hate us because we obey and you are in rebellion against Allah? Why hate us? There are worse things than our obedience and our faith, Shall I tell you some of them? Our test will be; what treatment Allah meted out to the things I mention. Who were the people who incurred the curse of Allah? See Deut. 11:28, and 28:15-68; and numerous passages like Hosea 8:14, and 9:1). Who provoked Allah's wrath? (See numerous passages like Deut. 1:34; Matt. 3:7.) Who forsook Allah, and worshipped evil? (See Jeremiah, 16:11-13). That is your record. Is that why you hate us?

60. Say: "Shall I point out to you something much worse than this, (as judged) by the treatment it received from Allah. those who incurred the curse of Allah and His wrath, those of whom some He transformed into apes and swine, (770) those who worshipped evil; these are (many times) worse in rank, and far more astray from the even path!"

770 For apes see 2:65. For men possessed by devils, and the devils being sent into swine, see Matt. 8:28-32. Or perhaps both apes and swine are allegorical: those who falsified Allah's scriptures became unbelievers, and those who succumbed to filth, glutony, or gross living became like swine.

61. When they come to thee, they say: "We believe": but in fact they enter with a mind against Faith, and they go out with the same but Allah knoweth fully all that they hide.

62. Many of them dost thou see, racing each other in sin and rancour, and their eating of things forbidden. Evil indeed are the things that they do.

63. Eating of things forbidden: maybe construed in a literal or a figurative sense. From its juxtaposition with sin and hatred, it is better to construe it in a figurative sense, as referring to their fraudulent misappropriations of other people's property or trust property. 'Eating' is used in 5:66 below in the general sense of enjoyment and happiness.

64. Why do not the rabbis and the doctors of Law forbid them from their (habit of) uttering sinful words and eating things forbidden? Evil indeed are their works.

65. The Jews say: "(Allah).fs hand(772) is tied up." Be their hands tied up and be they accused for the (blasphemy) they utter. Nay, both His hands are widely outstretched: He giveth and spendeth (of His bounty) as He pleaseth. But the revelation that cometh to thee from Allah increaseth in most of them their obstinate rebellion(773) and blasphemy. Amongst them we have placed enmity(774) and hatred till the Day of Judgment. Every time they kindle the fire of war, Allah doth extinguish it; but they (ever) strive to do mischief(775) on earth. And Allah loveth not those who do mischief.

66. The Jews say: "(Allah)fs hand is tied up." Be their hands tied up and be they accused for the (blasphemy) they utter. 774 The argument of the whole verse may be thus stated. The Jews blaspheme and mock, and because of their jealousy, the more they are taught, the more obstinate they become in their rebellion. But what good will it do to them? Their selfishness and spite sow quarrels among themselves, which will not be healed till the Day of Judgment. When they stir up wars, especially against the innocent, Allah's Mercy is poured down like a flood of water to extinguish them. But their wickedness continues to devise ever new mischief. And Allah loveth not mischief or those who do mischief.

775 Jas 5:14, where the eternal warning of the Christian sects, among themselves and against the Jews, is referred to. The reference is to the whole of the People of the Book, Jews and Christians- their internal squabbles and their external disputes, quarrels, and wars.

776 The argument of the whole verse may be thus stated. The Jews blaspheme and mock, and because of their jealousy, the more they are taught, the more obstinate they become in their rebellion. right course: but many of them follow a course that is evil.

726 The literal translation of the two lines would be: "They would have eaten from above them and from below their feet." To eat takadul is a very comprehensive word, and denotes enjoyment generally, physical, social, mental and moral, and spiritual. "To eat what is forbidden" in verses 63 and 66 referred to taking unlawful profit, from usury or trust funds or in other ways. Here 'eating' would seem to mean receiving satisfaction or happiness in this life as well as in the life to come. 'From above them' may refer to heavenly or spiritual satisfaction, and 'from below their feet' to earthly satisfaction. But it is better to take the words as the general idiom, and understand 'satisfaction or happiness from every side.' (CE 6:14 and 7:19). (R).

67. O Messenger. proclaim the (message) which hath been sent to thee from thy Lord.(777) If thou didst not, thou wouldst not have fulfilled and proclaimed His mission. And Allah will defend thee from men (who mean mischief). For Allah guideth not those who reject Faith.

777 Muhammad had many difficulties to contend with, many enemies and dangers to avoid. This is to assure him that his Message was true and from Allah. His mission must be fulfilled. And he must as he did go forward and proclaim that Message and fulfill his mission, trusting Allah for protection, and unconfined if people who had lost all sense of right rejected it or threatened him.

68. Say: "O People of the Book! ye have no ground to stand upon unless ye stand fast by the Law, the Gospel, and all the revelation that has come to you from your Lord." It is the revelation that cometh to thee from thy Lord, that increaseth in most of them their obstinate rebellion and blasphemy. But sorrow thou not over (these) people without Faith.(778)

778 In 5:26 Moses was told not to sorrow over a rebellious people. Here Muhammad is told not to sorrow over people without faith. The second situation is even more trying than the first. Rebellion may be a passing phase. Want of faith is an attitude of mind that is well-nigh hopeless. Yet the Prophet patiently reasoned with them and bore their taunts and insults. If, the argument runs, you do not believe in anything, even in the things that you may be expected to believe reasoned with them and bore their taunts and insults. If, the argument runs, you do not believe in anything, even in the things that you may be expected to believe, and not over (these) people without Faith.

69. Those who believe (in the Qur'an), those who follow the Jewish (scriptures), and the Sabians and the Christians,- any who believe in Allah and the Last Day, and work righteousness-(779) on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve.

779 Here, as in Surat al Baqarah (2:62), the Qur'an underscores the importance of true and genuine faith, which is to be judged by a sincere belief in Allah and man's accountability to Him backed by righteous conduct rather than by mere forms or labels. In both places it repudiates the false claims of the People of the Book that they had a special relationship with Allah for they were the children of Abraham; that they were a chosen people with special privileges, and no matter what they did, their high status would remain unaffected. Here this false notion is refuted and the People of the Book are being reminded that it is through sincere belief and righteous conduct rather than pretensions claims that man can win his Lord's pleasure and achieve ultimate success. The verse does not purport to lay down an exhaustive list of the articles of faith. Nor does it seek to spell out the essentials of a genuine belief in Allah, which has no meaning unless it is accompanied by belief in His Prophets for it is through their agency alone that we know Allah's Will and can abide by it in our practical lives. This is especially true of His final Prophet, Muhammad (peace be on him) whose message is universal, and not confined to any particular group or section of humanity. Belief in the Prophethood of Muhammad (peace be on him) is thus an integral part and a logical corollary of belief in Allah. Moreover, it is also an essential test of genuineness of such belief. This becomes clear when the verse is read in conjunction with other relevant verses of the Qur'an. See, for instance, 4:170, 5:16, 21, 7:157, 158, 21:107, 25:1, 33:40, 61:6. See also 2:40, 3:31-32, 4:130-151, 47 Eds.

70. We took the covenant of the Children of Israel and sent them messengers, every time, there came to them a messenger with what they themselves desired not - some (of these) they called impostors, and some they (go so far as to) slay.(780)

780 Cf. 2:87, and n. 91.

71. They thought there would be no trial (or punishment); so they became blind and deaf;(781) yet Allah (in mercy) turned to them; yet again many of them became blind and deaf. But Allah sees well all that they do.

781 That is, they turned away their eyes from Allah's Signs and they turned a deaf ear to Allah's Message.

72. They do blaspheme who say: "(Allah) is Christ the son of Mary." But said Christ;(782) O Children of Israel! worship Allah, my Lord and your Lord." Whoever joins other gods with Allah,- Allah will forbid him the garden, and the Fire will be his abode. There will for the wrong-doers be no one to help.

782 Cf. Matt. 4:10, where Christ rebukes Satan for desiring the worship of other than Allah; John 20:17, where Christ says to Mary Magdalene, 'Go unto my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father and your Father; and to my God and your God.' Cf. also Luke 18:19, where Christ rebukes a certain ruler for calling him Good Master: 'Why callest thou me good? None is good, save One, that is, God.' In Mark 12:28 Jesus says: 'The first of all the commandments is, Hear O Israel: the Lord our God is One Lord.' (CE 5:1-6-117).

73. They do blaspheme who say: Allah is one of three in a Trinity: for there is no god except One Allah. If they desist not from their word (of blasphemy), verily a grievous penalty will befall the blasphemers among them.

74. Why turn they not to Allah, and seek His forgiveness? For Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

75. Christ the son of Mary was no more than a messenger; many were the messengers that passed away before him. His mother was a woman of truth.(783) They had both to eat their (daily) food. See how Allah doth make His signs clear to them;(784) yet see in what ways they are deluded away from the truth!

783 She never claimed that she was a mother of God, or that her son was God. She was a pious and virtuous woman.

784 Note how logically the argument has led up from Jewish backslidings and want of faith, to blasphemies associated with the names of Jesus and Mary, and in the following verses to the worship of senseless sticks and stones. Allah is One; His Message is one; yet how people's perversity transforms truth into falsehood, religion into superstition!

76. Say: "Will ye worship, besides Allah, which hath no power either to harm or benefit you? But Allah,- He it is that heareth and knoweth all things."

77. Say: "O people of the Book! exceed not in your religion(785) the bounds (of what is proper), trespassing beyond the truth, nor follow the vain desires of people who went wrong in times gone by,- who misled many, and strayed (themselves) from the even way.

785 Excess, as opposed to moderation and reason, is the simplest test by which a hypocrite or a selfish man who 'trares' on religion, is known from a sincere, pious, and truly religious man. Excess means that truth is sometimes concealed or trampled upon, that the fashions of ancestors or contemporaries are copied or overdone, and Allah's name is dishonoured by blasphemies or the setting up of false gods or fetishes, or that good (or even bad) men are defiled and worshipped. The true path is the even path, the path of rectitude, (CE 2:1498; and 5:12).

78. Curses were pronounced on those among the Children of Israel who rejected Faith, by the tongue of David(786) and of Jesus the son of Mary(787): because they disobeyed and persisted in excesses.

786 The Psalms of David have several passages of imprecations against the wicked. Cf. Psalms 109:17-18; 78:21-22 ("Therefore the Lord heard this and was wrath: so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel ; because they believed not in God, and trusted not in His salvation"); Psalms 49:22-29; and Psalms 5:10.

787 Cf. Matt. 23:33 (Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of Hell?); also Matt. 12:34.

788 There are men in every community, but if leaders connive at the misdeeds of the community - and even worse, if leaders themselves share in the misdeeds, as happened with the Pharisees and Scribes against whom Jesus spoke out, then that community is doomed.

789 Nor did they (usually) forbid one another(788) the iniquities which they committed: evil indeed were the deeds which they did.

787 Qissis:

Cf. Matt. 23:33 (Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of Hell?

790 The meaning is not that they merely call themselves Christians, but that they are such sincere Christians that they appreciate Muslim virtues, as did the Abyssinians to whom Muslim refugees went during the persecution in Makkah. (R.)

791 Qissis: I have translated as "devoted to learning," following the Commentators. It seems to be a foreign word, possibly Abyssinian rather than Syriac, as the reference seems to be to the Abyssinian Christians. Their real devotion to learning and the renunciation of the world by the Monastic Orders are contrasted with the hypocrisy and arrogance of the Pharisees and Scribes.

792 Vows of penance or abstention may sometimes be futile, or even stand in the way of really good or virtuous acts. See 2:224-226, and notes. The general principles established are: (1) take no futile oaths; (2) use not Allah's name, literally or in intention, to fetter yourself against doing a lawful or good act; (3) keep to your solemn oaths to the utmost of your ability; (4) where you are unable to do so, expiate your failure by feeding or clothing the poor, or obtaining some one's freedom, or if you have not the means, by fasting. This is from a spiritual aspect. If any party suffers damage from your failure, compensation will be due, but that would be a question of law or equity.

793 These are condemned.

794 It is useful to note at this point certain points of law in connection with such acts.

795 O ye who believe! Intoxicants and gambling,(793) (dedication of) stones,(794) and (divination by) arrows,(795) are an abomination,- of Satan's handwork: eschew such (abomination), that ye may prosper.

796 We are asked to obey the commands of Allah (which are always reasonable), instead of following superstitions (which are irrational), or seeking undue stimulation in intoxicants or undue advantage in gambling. To some there may be temporary excitement or pleasure in such, but that is not the way either of prosperity or piety. (Cf. 6:42; 5:58).

797 Cf. 5:67. Both the worldly and the spiritual aspects of loss are pointed out. Can Allah's Messenger do more?

798 In pleasures that are good and lawful the crime is excess. There is no merit merely in abstention or asceticism, though the humility or selflessness that may go with asceticism may have its value. In 5:82 Christian monks are praised for particular virtues, though here and elsewhere monasticism is disapproved of. Use Allah's gifts of all kinds with gratitude, but excess is not approved of by Allah.

88. Eat of the things which Allah hath provided for you, lawful and good; but fear Allah, in Whom ye believe.

89. Allah will not call you to account for what is futile in your oaths,(792) but He will call you to account for your deliberate oaths: for expiation, feed ten indigent persons, on a scale of the average for the food of your families; or clothe them; or give a slave his freedom. If that is beyond your means, fast for three days. That is the expiation for the oaths ye have sworn. But keep to your oaths. Thus doth Allah make clear to you His signs, that ye may be grateful.

90. O ye who believe! Make not unlawful the good things which Allah hath made lawful for you, but commit no excess:(791) for Allah loveth not those given to excess.

91. Satan's plan is (but) to excite enmity and hatred between you, with intoxicants and gambling, and hinder you from the remembrance of Allah, and from prayer: will ye not then abstain?

92. Obey Allah, and obey the Messenger,(796) and beware (of evil): if ye do turn back, know ye that it is Our Messenger's duty to proclaim (the message)(797) in the clearest manner.

93. On those who believe and do deeds of righteousness there is no blame for what they ate (in the past), when they guard themselves from evil, and believe, and do deeds of righteousness,- (or) again, guard themselves from evil and believe,- (or) again, guard themselves from evil and do good. For Allah loveth those who do good.(798)
798 There is a subtle symphony in what appears at first sight to be a triple repetition. The relation of such simple regulations as those of food, or game, or the reverence due to a sacred place or sacred institution, has to be explained by the man’s higher duties. Baidawi is right in classifying such duties under three heads: those due to Allah, those due from a man to himself (his self-respect), and those due to other creatures of Allah. Or perhaps all duties have this threefold aspect. The first may be called ‘believing or faith; the second, guarding ourselves from evil, or conscience; and the third, doing good or righteousness. But the simplest physical rules, e.g., those about eating, cleanliness, etc., if they are good, refer also to the higher aspects. If we eat bad food, we hurt ourselves, we cause offence to our neighbours, and we disobey Allah. If we have faith and righteousness, are we likely to be wanting in conscience? If we have conscience and faith, are we likely to fail in righteousness? If we have conscience and righteousness, what can be their foundation but faith? All three manifest themselves in a willing obedience to Allah, and love for Him. We realise His love in loving and doing good to His creatures, and our love to Him is meaningless without such good.

799 Literally, ‘knowledge’, C. 3:106 and 3:154, n. 467. Game is forbidden in the Sacred Precincts. If we deliberately break that injunction, we have no faith and reverence.

800 See 2:1 and n. 684. The plural garb, Bīram, has been explained in n. 212, 2196.

801 For an inadvertent breach of the game rule there is apparently no penalty. Intentional breach will be prevented, if possible, by previous action. If in some case the preventive action is not effective, the penalty is prescribed. The penalty is in three alternatives: an equivalent animal should be brought to the Ka’ba, of a domestic animal equivalent to the one he killed, as adjudged by two just men among you; or by way of atonement, the feeding of the indigent; or its equivalent in fasts: that he may taste of the penalty of his deed. Allah forgives what is past: for repetition Allah will exact from him the penalty. For Allah is Exalted, and Lord of Retribution.

802 Many secrets are wisely hidden from us. If the future were known to us, we need not necessarily be happy. In many cases we should be miserable. If the inner meaning of some of the things we see before our eyes were disclosed to us, it might cause a lot of mischief. Allah’s Message, inso far as it is necessary for shaping our conduct, is plain and open to us. But there are many things too deep for us to understand, either individually or collectively. It would be foolish to pry into them, as some people tried to do in the time of the Prophet. Where a matter is mentioned in the Qur’an, we can reverently ask for its meaning. That is not forbidden. But we should never pass the bounds of (1) our own capacity to understand, (2) the time and occasion when we ask questions, and (3) the part of the Universal Plan which it is Allah’s purpose to reveal to us.

803 The alternatives about the penalty and its remission (Allah forgives what is past) or exaction explain the last two lines of the verse: being ‘Exalted and Lord of Retribution’, Allah can remit or regulate according to His just laws.

804 For example, the merely fractions questions asked of Moses by the Jews: 2:68-71. They showed that they had no faith. When foolish questions are asked, and there is no answer, it also shakes the faith of the foolish ones.

805 A number of Arab Pagan superstitions are referred to. The Pagan mind, not understanding the hidden secrets of nature, attributed certain phenomena to divine anger and were assailed by superstitious fears which haunted their lives. If a she-camel or other female domestic animal had a large number of young, she might be called a sa’ilah. Where an animal bore twins, certain sacrifices or dedications were made to idols; an animal so dedicated was a wasilah. A stallion-camel dedicated to the gods by certain rites was a jau. The particular examples lead to the general truth that superstition is due to ignorance, and is degrading to men and dishonouring to Allah. C. 6:139.

806 They must not think that they are strangers, that nobody knows them, and that they may behave as they like. It is the House of Allah, and He has supreme knowledge of all things, of all thoughts, and all motives. As the next verse says, while He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful, He is also strict in enforcing respect for His ordinances.

807 They showed that they had no faith. When foolish questions are asked, and there is no answer, it also shakes the faith of the foolish ones.

808 The alternative about the penalty and its remission (Allah forgives what is past) or exaction explain the last two lines of the verse: being ‘Exalted and Lord of Retribution’, Allah can remit or regulate according to His just laws.

809 Water game: i.e., game found in water, e.g., water fowl, fish, etc. ‘Water’ includes sea, river, lake, pond, etc.

810 A number of Arab Pagan superstitions are referred to. The Pagan mind, not understanding the hidden secrets of nature, attributed certain phenomena to divine anger and were assailed by superstitious fears which haunted their lives. If a she-camel or other female domestic animal had a large number of young, she one of her offspring had her ear slit and she was dedicated to a god; such an animal was a sabilah. On return in safety from a journey, or on recovery from an illness a she-camel was similarly dedicated and let loose for free pasture; she was called a sa’ilah. Where an animal bore twins, certain sacrifices or dedications were made to idols; an animal so dedicated was a wasilah. A stallion-camel dedicated to the gods by certain rites was a jau. The particular examples lead to the general truth that superstition is due to ignorance, and is degrading to men and dishonouring to Allah. C. 6:139.

811 O ye who believe! Kill not game while in the sacred precincts or in pilgrimage. (800) If any of you doth so intentionally, the compensation is an offering, brought to the Ka’ba, of a domestic animal equivalent to the one he killed, as adjudged by two just men among you; or by way of atonement, the feeding of the indigent; or its equivalent in fasts: that he may taste of the penalty of his deed. Allah forgives what is past: for repetition Allah will exact from him the penalty. For Allah is Exalted, and Lord of Retribution.

812 Water game: i.e., game found in water, e.g., water fowl, fish, etc. ‘Water’ includes sea, river, lake, pond, etc.

813 O ye who believe! Kill not game while in the sacred precincts or in pilgrimage. (800) If any of you doth so intentionally, the compensation is an offering, brought to the Ka’ba, of a domestic animal equivalent to the one he killed, as adjudged by two just men among you; or by way of atonement, the feeding of the indigent; or its equivalent in fasts: that he may taste of the penalty of his deed. Allah forgives what is past: for repetition Allah will exact from him the penalty. For Allah is Exalted, and Lord of Retribution.

814 O ye who believe! Ask not questions about things which, if made plain to you, might cause you trouble. But if ye ask about things when the Qur’an is being revealed, they will be made plain to you, Allah will forgive those: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Forbearing.

815 It was not Allah who instituted (superstitions) like those of a slit-ear she-camel, or a she-camel let loose for free pasture, or idol sacrifices for twin-births in animals, or stallion-camels freed from work: It is blasphemers who invent a lie against Allah. But most of them lack wisdom.

816 For example, the merely fractions questions asked of Moses by the Jews: 2:68-71. They showed that they had no faith. When foolish questions are asked, and there is no answer, it also shakes the faith of the foolish ones.

817 O ye who believe! Ask not questions about things which, if made plain to you, might cause you trouble. But if ye ask about things when the Qur’an is being revealed, they will be made plain to you, Allah will forgive those: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Forbearing.

818 They showed that they had no faith. When foolish questions are asked, and there is no answer, it also shakes the faith of the foolish ones.

819 It was not Allah who instituted (superstitions) like those of a slit-ear she-camel, or a she-camel let loose for free pasture, or idol sacrifices for twin-births in animals, or stallion-camels freed from work: It is blasphemers who invent a lie against Allah. But most of them lack wisdom.

820 O ye who believe! Ask not questions about things which, if made plain to you, might cause you trouble. But if ye ask about things when the Qur’an is being revealed, they will be made plain to you, Allah will forgive those: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Forbearing.

821 It was not Allah who instituted (superstitions) like those of a slit-ear she-camel, or a she-camel let loose for free pasture, or idol sacrifices for twin-births in animals, or stallion-camels freed from work: It is blasphemers who invent a lie against Allah. But most of them lack wisdom.
following." what! even though their fathers were void of knowledge and guidance?

910 Cf. 2:170. Where a Messenger of Truth comes to teach us the better way, it is foolish to say: "What our ancestors did is good enough for us."

105. O ye who believe! Guard your own souls: If ye follow (right) guidance, no hurt can come to you from those who stray. the goal of you all is to Allah. it is He that will show you the truth of all that ye do.(811)

911 Cf. 5:4:8. There the unity of Allah will reconcile different views. The unity of the one Judge will do perfect justice to each one's conduct, however different in form it may have appeared in this world.

106. O ye who believe! When death approaches any of you, (take) witnesses among yourselves when making bequests, two just men of your own (brotherhood) or others from outside if ye are journeying through the earth, and the chance of death befalls you (thus). If ye doubt (their truth), detain them both after prayer, and let them both swear by Allah. "We wish not in this for any worldly gain, even though the (beneficiary) be our near relation: we shall hide not the evidence before Allah. if we do, then behold! the sin be upon us!(812)"

107. But if it gets known that these two were guilty of the sin (of perjury), let two others stand forth in their places, nearest in kin from among those who claim a lawful right:(813) let them swear by Allah. "We affirm that our witness is truer than that of those two, and that we have not trespassed (beyond the truth): if we did, behold! the wrong be upon us!"

912 Ordinarily this oath should be decisive, and the matter must rest here. But if it gets known that the oath was false, other evidence may be taken as in the next verse.

108. That is most suitable: that they may give the evidence in its true nature and shape, or else they would fear that other oaths would be taken after their oaths. But fear Allah, and listen (to His counsel): for Allah guideth not a rebellious people: (R).

109. One day will Allah gather the messengers together, and ask: "What was the response ye received (from men to your teaching)?" They will say: "We have no knowledge: it is Thou Who knowest in full all that is hidden.(814)"

914 A scene of the Day of Reckoning is put before us in graphic words, showing the responsibility and the limitations of the Prophets of Allah, sent to preach His Message to men, with special reference to the Message of Jesus. The Messengers are sent to preach the Truth. What fantastic forms the Message takes in men's reactions to it was beyond their knowledge at the time, and beyond their responsibility. (R).

110. Then will Allah say: "O Jesus the son of Mary! Recount My favour(815) to thee and to thy mother. Behold! I strengthened thee(816) with the holy spirit, so that thou didst speak to the people in childhood and in maturity,(817) Behold! I taught thee the Book and Wisdom,(818) the Law and the Gospel and behold! thou didst make(819) out of clay, the figure of a bird, by My leave, and thou didst breathe into it and it becometh a bird by My leave, and thou didst heal those born blind, and the lepers, by My leave. And behold! thou didst bring forth the dead by My leave.(820) And behold! I did restrain the Children of Israel from (violence to) thee(821) when thou didst show them the clear Signs, and the unbelievers among them said: 'This is nothing but evident magic.(822)'

915 In a solemn scene before the Court of Judgment, Jesus is asked to recount all the miracles and favours shown to him, so that his followers should become ashamed of their ingratitude in corrupting that Message, when they could have done so much in profiting by it and spiritual truth. This argument continues to the end of the Surah.

111. “And behold! I inspired the disciples to have faith in Me and Mine Messenger. they said, 'We have faith, and do thou(823) bear witness that we bow to Allah as Muslims ‘".(824)

923 'Thou' refers to Jesus, who is being addressed by his Disciples. Cf. 3:52.

924 Before or after Muhammad's life on this earth, all who bowed to Allah's Will were Muslims, and their religion is Islam. Cf. 3:52 and n. 392.

112. Behold! the disciples, said: "O Jesus the son of Mary! can thy Lord send down to us a table set (with viands) from heaven?" Said Jesus: 'Fear Allah, if ye have faith.'(825)

925 The request of the Disciples savours a little of (1) want of faith, (2) too much attention to physical food, and (3) a childish desire for miracles or Signs. All these three can be proved from the Canonical Gospels; (1) Simon Peter, quite early in the story, asked Jesus to depart from him, as he (Simon) was a sinful man (Luke 5:8). The same Peter afterwards denied his 'Master' three times shamelessly when the Master was in the power of his enemies. And one of the Disciples (Judas) actually betrayed Jesus. (2) Even in the Canonical Gospels, so many of the miracles are concerned with food and drink, e.g., the turning of the water into wine (John 2:1-11); the conversion of five loaves and two small fishes into food for 5,000 men (John 6:6-13), this being the on miracle recorded in all the four Gospels; the miraculous number of fishes caught for food (Luke 5:4.11); the cursing of the fig tree because it had no fruit (Matt. 21:18-19); the allegory of eating Christ's flesh and drinking his blood (John 6:53-57). (3) Because the Samaritans would not receive Jesus into their village, the Disciples James and John wanted a fire to come down from heaven and consume them (Luke 9:54).
The words of the Prayer seem to suggest the Last Supper, cf. also the vision of Peter in 'The Acts of the Apostles,' 10:9-16.

As in Islam, so in Christ's Prayer, sustenance should be taken for both physical and spiritual strength, especially the latter. 'Give us this day our daily bread' seems the rendering of a literalist whose attention was fixed too much on bread.

115. Allah said: "I will send it down unto you: But if any of you after that resisteth faith, I will punish him with a penalty such as I have not inflicted on any one among all the peoples." (828)

It is a wicked generation that asks for Signs and Miracles. Usually they are not vouchsafed. But where they are, the responsibility of those who ask for them is increased. If, after that, they reject faith, invent lies, and go after false gods or false ideals, their penalty will be worse than that of other people. How this works out practically among those who call themselves Christians is exemplified in such books as the late Mr. W.T. Stead's 'If Christ Came to Chicago?' (R).

116. And behold! Allah will say: "O Jesus the son of Mary! Didst thou say unto men, worship me and my mother as gods in derogation of Allah?" He will say: "Glory to Thee! never could I say what I had no right (to say). Had I said such a thing, thou wouldst indeed have known it. Thou knowest what is in my heart, Thou I know not what is in Thine. For Thou knowest in full all that is hidden." (829)

Jesus disclaims here any knowledge of the sort of things that are attributed to him by those who take his name. The worship of Mary, though repudiated by the Protestants, was widely spread in the earlier Churches, both in the East and the West.

117. 'Never said I to them except what Thou didst command me to say, to wit, ´worship Allah, my Lord and your Lord´;(830) and I was a witness over them whilst I dwelt amongst them; when Thou didst take me up Thou wast the Watcher over them, and Thou art a witness to all things. (831)

118. "If Thou dost punish them, they are Thy servant: If Thou dost forgive them, Thou art the Exalted in power, the Wise." (832)

The Master can justly punish His servants for disobedience; no one can say to Him nay, for He is high above all. But if He chooses to forgive, He in His wisdom sees things that we mortals cannot see. This is the limit of intercession that men of God can make on behalf of sinners.

119. Allah will say: "This is a day on which the truthful will profit from their truth: theirs are gardens, with rivers flowing beneath,- their eternal Home: Allah well-pleased with them, and they with Allah. That is the great salvation, (the fulfilment of all desires). (833)

Jesus here acknowledges that he was mortal, and that his knowledge was limited like that of a mortal.

120. To Allah doth belong the dominion of the heavens and the earth, and all that is therein, and it is He Who hath power over all things.
6. Al An'am (The Cattle)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Praise be Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth, and made the darkness and the light. Yet those who reject Faith hold (others) as equal,(834) with their Guardian-Lord.(835)

834 Adha has various meanings: (1) to hold something as equal to something else, as here; to balance nicely; (2) to deal justly, as between one party and another, 42:15; (3) to give compensation or reparation, or something as equivalent to something else, 6:70; (4) to turn the balance the right way, to give a right disposition, to give a just bias or proportion, 8:27; (5) to turn the balance the wrong way, to swerve, to show bias, 4:135.

835 The argument is threefold: (1) Allah created everything you see and know: how can you then set up any of His own creatures as equal to Him? (2) He is your own Guardian-Lord; He cherishes and loves you, how can you be so ungrateful as to run after something else? (3) Darkness and Light are to help you to distinguish between the true from the false: how then can you confound the true God with your false ideas and superstitions? There may also be a repudiation of the Duality of old Persian theology: Light and Darkness are not conflicting Powers; they are both creatures of Allah (cf.6:130).

2. He it is created(836) you from clay, and then decreed a stated term(837) (for you). And there is in His presence another determined term; yet ye doubt within yourselves!

836 After the general argument, the argument comes to man personally. Can such a miserable creature, created from clay, put himself in opposition to his Creator? And can man forget or doubt that he is here only for a short term of probation? And then, after a period, comes the Day of Account before Allah.

837 This life is a period of probation. The other term leads up to Judgement.

3. And He is Allah in the heavens and on earth. He knoweth what ye hide, and what ye reveal, and He knoweth the (recompense) which ye earn (by your deeds).(838)

838 It is folly to suppose that Allah only reigns in the heavens. He also reigns on earth. He knows all our secret thoughts and motives, and the real worth of all that is behind what we care to show. It is by our deeds that He judges us; for our deeds, whether good or evil, we shall get due recompense in due time.

4. But never did a single one of the signs of their Lord reach them, but they turned away therefrom.

5. And now they reject the truth when it reaches them: but soon shall they learn the reality of what they used to mock at.

6. See they not how many of those before them We did destroy?-(839) generations We had established on the earth, in strength such as We have not given to you - for whom We poured out rain from the skies in abundance, and gave (fertile) streams flowing beneath their (feet): yet for their sins We destroyed them, and raised in their wake fresh generations (to succeed them).

839 Now comes the argument from history, looking backwards and forwards. If we are so short-sighted or arrogant as to suppose that we are firmly established on the earth, secure in our privileges, we are reminded of much greater nations in the past, who failed in their duty and were wiped out. In their fate we must read our own fate, if we fail likewise! But those without faith, instead of facing facts squarely ‘turn away therefrom.’

7. If We had sent unto thee a written (message) on parchment,(839-A) so that they could touch it with their hands, the Unbelievers would have been sure to say: “This is nothing but obvious magic!”(840)

839-A Qirtas, in the Prophet’s life, could only mean ‘parchment,’ which was commonly used as writing material in Western Asia from the 2nd century B.C. The word was derived from the Greek, Chartas (cf. Latin, ‘Charta’). Paper, as we know it, made from rags, was first used by the Arabs after the conquest of Smarqand in 751 A.C. The Chinese had used it by the 2nd century B.C. The Arabs introduced it into Europe; it was used in Greece in the 11th or 12th century, and in Spain through Sicily in the 12th century. The Papyrus, made from an Egyptian reed, was in Egypt as early as 2500 B.C. It gave place to paper in Egypt in the 18th century (cf.17:50).

840 The materialists want to see actual physical material things before them, but if such a thing came from an unusual source or expressed things they cannot understand, they give it some name like magic, or superstition, or whatever name is in fashion, and they are not helped at all in attaining faith, because their “hearts are diseased” (2:110).

8. They say: “Why is not an angel sent down to him?” If we did send down an angel, the matter would be settled at once, and no respite would be granted them.(841)

841 Cf. 2:210. An angel is a heavenly being, a manifestation of Allah’s glory, invisible to men who live gross material lives. Such men are given plenty of respite in which to turn in repentance to Allah and make themselves worthy of His light. But if their prayer to see an angel were granted, it would do them no good, for they would be destroyed as darkness is destroyed by light (see also 41:14).

9. If We had made it an angel, We should have sent him as a man, and We should certainly have caused them confusion in a matter which they have already covered with confusion.(842)

842 Supposing an angel should appear to their grosser senses, he could only do it in human form. In that case their present confused notions about spiritual life would be still more confounded. They would say: “We wanted to see an angel, and we have only seen a man” (cf.17:59).

10. Mocked were (many) messengers before thee; but their scoffers were hemmed in by the thing that they mocked.(843)

843 (cf. 13:32 and 36:30). “The scoffers were mocked by the thing that they mocked” would express epigrammatic ally part of the sense, but not the whole. ‘Hemmed in’ implies that the logic of events turned the tables, and as a man might be besieged and surrounded by an enemy in war, and would be forced to surrender, so these mockers will find that events would justify Truth, not them. The mockers of Jesus-where were they when Titus destroyed Jerusalem? The mockers who drove out Muhammad from Makkah-what was their plight when Muhammad came back in triumph and they used for mercy- and he gave it to them? According to the Latin proverb, Great is truth, and must prevail.

11. Say: “Travel through the earth and see what was the end of those who rejected Truth.”

12. Say: “To whom belongeth all that is in the heavens and on earth?” Say: “To Allah. He hath inscribed for Himself (the rule of) Mercy. (844) That He will gather you together for the Day of Judgment, there is no doubt whatever. It is they who have lost their own souls, that will not believe.

844 History, travel, human experience, all prove the Mercy of Allah and the law that without it those who reject Truth tend to lose their own souls and destroy themselves, (cf.6:64, 7:19, and 5:60).
13. To him belongeth all that dwelleth (or lurketh) (845) in the night and the day. For he is the one who heareth and knoweth all things.” (846)

845. Surah 56: 9—(1) to dwell; (2) to rest, to be still, to stop (moving), to lurk; (3) to be quiescent, as a letter which is not moved with a vowel.

846. Throughout this section we have a sort of implied dialogue, of which one part is understood from the other part, which is expressed. In verse 11, we might have an imaginary objector saying: "Why go back to the past?" The answer is: "Well travel through the world, and see whether it is not true that virtue and godliness exalt a nation, and the opposite are causes of ruin. Both the past and the present prove this." In verse 12 the objector may say: "But you speak of Allah's power!" The man of God replies: "Yes, but Mercy is Allah's own attribute, and knowledge and wisdom beyond what man can conceive.

14. Say: "Shall I take for my protector any other than Allah, the Maker of the heavens and the earth? And He it is that feedeth but is not fed. (847)

847. Feedeth but is not fed: true both literally and figuratively. To Allah we owe the satisfaction of all needs, but He is independent of all needs, (Cf. 7:19 and 5:66 and notes).

15. Say: "I would, if I disobeyed my Lord, indeed have fear of the penalty of a Mighty Day.

16. "On that day, if the penalty is averted from any, it is due to Allah's mercy; And that would be (Salvation), the obvious fulfilment of all desire. (848)

848. We continue the implied dialogue suggested in n. 846. In verse 14, the objector might say: "But we have other interests in life than religion and Allah." 'No," says the man of God, 'My Creator is the one and only Power whose protection I seek; and I strive to be first in the race." In verse 15, the objector suggests: "Enjoy the good things of this life; it is short." The answer is: "The Hereafter is more real to me, and promises the true fulfilment of all desire; happiness or affliction comes not from the fleeting pettiness or illusions of this life, but from the power and wisdom of Allah." In verse 19, the objector makes his final splash: "What evidence is there for all this?" The reply is: "I know it is true for Allah's voice is within me, and my living Teacher awakens that voice; and there is the Book of Inspiration. Allah is one, and there is none other besides.

17. "If Allah touch thee with affliction, none can remove it but He; if He touch thee with happiness, He hath power over all things. (849)

849. The vulgar worship false gods out of fear that they would harm them or hope that they would confer some benefit on them. These false gods can do neither. All power, all goodness is in the hands of Allah. All else is pretence or illusion.

18. "He is the irresistible, (watching) from above over His worshippers; and He is the Wise, acquainted with all things."

19. Say: "What thing is most weighty in evidence?" Say: "(Allah) is witness between me and you; This Qur'an hath been revealed to me by inspiration, that I may warn you and all whom it reaches. Can ye possibly bear witness that besides Allah there is another Allah." Say: "Nay! I cannot bear witness!" Say: "But in truth He is the one Allah, and I truly am innocent of (your blasphemy of) joining others with Him."

20. Those to whom We have given the Book know this as they know (850) their own sons. Those who have lost their own souls refuse therefore to believe.

850. Cf. 2:146 and n. 151. In both passages the pronoun translated 'his' may mean 'him' and refer to Muhammad the Messenger of Allah, as some Commentators think.

21. Who doth more wrong than he who inventeth a lie against Allah or rejecteth His sings? But verily the wrong-doers never shall prosper.

22. One day shall We gather them all together: We shall say to those who ascribed partners (to Us): "Where are the partners whom ye (invented and) talked about?"

23. There will then be (left) no subterfuge for them (851) but to say: "By Allah our Lord, we were not those who joined gods with Allah."

851. Fittah has various meanings, from the root idea of "to try, to test, to tempt" e.g., (1) a trial or temptation, as in 2:102; (2) trouble, tumult, oppression, persecution, as in 2:191, 193, 217; (3) discord, as in 3:37. (4) subterfuge, an answer that amounts to a sedition, and excuse founded on a falsehood, as here. Other shades of meaning will be noticed as they occur. Those who blasphemed Allah in imagining false gods will now see the vanity of their imaginations for themselves.

24. Behold! how they lie against their own souls! But the (lie) which they invented will leave them (852) in the lurch.

852. The lies which they used to tell have now "wandered" from the channels which they used to occupy, and left the liars in the lurch. In denying the indubitable fact that they took false gods, they admit the falsity of their notions and thus are practically convicted out of their own mouths. (Cf. 28:73).

25. Of them there are some who (pretend to) listen to thee; but We have thrown veils on their hearts, So they understand it not, (852-A) and deafness in their ears; if they saw every one of the signs, not they will believe in them; in so much that when they come to thee, they (but) dispute with thee; the Unbelievers say: "These are nothing but tales of the ancients."

26. Others they keep away from it, and themselves they keep away; but they only destroy their own souls, and they perceive it not.

27. If thou couldst but see when they are confronted with the Fire! They will say: "Would that we were but sent back! Then would we not reject the signs of our Lord, but would be amongst those who believe!"

28. Yea, in their own (eyes) will become manifest what before they concealed. But if they were returned, they would certainly relapse to the things they were forbidden, for they are indeed liars. (853)

853. Their falsity was not due to want of knowledge, but to perversity and selfishness. In their hearts was a disease ( 2:10) it therefore neither their understanding, nor their ears, nor their eyes do their proper work. They twist what they see, hear, or are taught, and go deeper and deeper into the mire. The deceptions which they used to practise on other people will, before the Seat of Judgement, become clear in their own eyes (Cf. 26:57 and 35:37).

29. And they (sometimes) say: "There is nothing except our life on this earth, and never shall we be raised up again."
30. If thou couldst but see when they are confronted with their Lord! He will say: "Is not this the truth?" They will say: "Yea, by our Lord!" He will say: "Taste ye then the penalty, because ye rejected Faith."

31. Lost indeed are they who treat it as a falsehood that they must meet Allah,- until on a sudden the hour is on them, and they say: "Ah! woe unto us that we took no thought of it!"; for they bear their burdens(854) on their backs, and evil indeed are the burdens that they bear?

854 Grievous is the burden of sins which the wicked will bear on their backs when they become conscious of them. Some commentators personally sins as ugly demons riding on the backs of men, while the men's good deeds become the strong and patient mounts which will carry the men on their backs. If the good deeds are few and the sins many, the man and his good deeds will be crushed under the load of the Evil which they carry (CC 7:101).

32. What is the life of this world but play and amusement?(855) But best is the home in the hereafter, for those who are righteous. Will ye not then understand?

855 Play and amusement are for preparing our minds for the serious things of life: in themselves they are not serious. So this life is a preparation for the Eternal Home to which we are going, which is far more important than the ephemeral pleasures which may possibly seduce us in this life (CC 2:296, 47:36, and 57:28).

33. We know indeed the grief which their words do cause thee: It is not thee they reject: it is the signs of Allah, which the wicked contemn.

34. Rejected were the messengers before thee: with patience and constancy they bore their rejection and their wrongs, until Our aid did reach them: there is none that can alter the words (and decrees) of Allah. Already hast thou received some account of those messengers.

35. If their spurning is hard on thy mind, yet if thou wert able to seek a tunnel in the ground or a ladder to the skies and bring them a sign-(856) (what good?) If it were Allah's will, He could gather them together unto true guidance: so be not thou amongst those who are swayed by ignorance (and impatience)!

856 There were many Signs of a divine mission in the Prophet's life and in the Message which he delivered. If these did not convince the unbelievers, was it not vain to seek a miraculous Sign from the bowls of the earth or by a visible ascent to the skies? If in the Prophet's eagerness to get all to accept his Message he was hurt at their callousness, active opposition, and persecution of him, he is told that a full knowledge of the working of Allah's Plan would convince him that impatience was misplaced. This was in the days of persecution before the Hijrah. The history in Madinah and after shows how Allah's truth was ultimately and inevitably bound to triumph. "The history in Madinah and after shows how Allah's truth is ascribing all life, activity, and existence to the Will and Plan of Allah."

36. Those who listen (in truth),(857) be sure, will accept: as to the dead, Allah will raise them up; then will they be turned unto Him.

857 There is a double meaning here. (1) If people listen to truth sincerely and earnestly, they must believe; even if the spiritual faculty is dead, Allah will by His grace revive it and they will come to Him, if they really try earnestly to understand. (2) The sincere will believe; but those whose hearts are dead will not listen, yet they cannot escape being brought to the Judgment Seat before Him.

37. They say: "Why is not a sign sent down to him from his Lord?" Say: "(Allah) hath certainly power to send down a sign: but most of them understand not.(858)

858 Signs are all around them, but they do not understand. If they want a particular Sign to suit their gross ignorance, they will not be humoured, for they can always pick holes in anything that descents to their level.

38. There is not an animal (that lives) on the earth, nor a being that flies on its wings, but (forms part of) communities like you.(859) Nothing have we omitted from the Book, and they (all) shall be gathered to their Lord in the end.

859 'Animals living on the earth' include those living in the water-fishes, reptiles, crustaceans, insects, as well as four-footed beasts. Life on the wing is separately mentioned. 'Tā'ir,' which is ordinarily translated as 'bird,' is anything that flies, including mammals like bats. In our pride we may exclude animals from our purview, but they all live a life, social and individual, like ourselves, and all life is subject to the Plan and Will of Allah. In 6:29 we are told that not a leaf falls but by His Will, and things dry and green are recorded in His Book. In other words they all obey His archetypal Plan, the Book which is also mentioned here. They are all answerable in their several degrees to His Plan (of) all be gathered to their Lord in the end. This is not Pantheism: it is ascribing all life, activity, and existence to the Will and Plan of Allah.

39. Those who reject our signs are deaf and dumb--(860) in the midst of darkness profound: whom Allah will leaveth to wander: whom He will leaveth on the way that is straight.

860 The limited free will of man makes a little difference. If he sees the Signs but shuns his ears to the true Message, and refuses (like a dumb thing) to speak out the Message which all Nature proclaims, then according to the Plan of his limited free will he must suffer and wander, just as, in the opposite case, he will receive race and salvation.

40. Say: "Think ye to yourselves, if there come upon you the wrath of Allah, or the Hour (that ye dread), would ye then call upon other than Allah.- (reply) if ye are truthful!

41. "Nay,- On Him would ye call, and if it be His will, He would remove (the distress) which occasioned your call upon Him, and ye would forget (the false gods) which ye join with Him!"

42. Before thee We sent (messengers) to many nations, and We afflicted the nations with suffering and adversity, that they might learn humility.

43. When the suffering reached them from us, why then did they not learn humility?(861) On the contrary their hearts became hardened, and Satan made their (sinful) acts seem alluring to them.

861 Sorrow and suffering may (if we take diem rightly) turn out to be the best gifts of Allah to us. According to the Psalm 69:1-2. "Blessed is the man whom Thou chastenest, O Lord!" Through suffering we learn humility, the antithesis to many vices and the fountain of many virtues. But if we take them the wrong way, we grumble and complain, we become faint-heartcd; and Satan gets his opportunity to exploit us by putting forward the alluring pleasures of his Vanity Fair.

44. But when they forgot the warning they had received, We opened to them the gates of all (good) things,(862) until, in the midst of their enjoyment of Our gifts, on a sudden, We called them to account, when lo! they were plunged in despair!

862 Learning the inner truth of ourselves and the world presupposes a certain advanced stage of sensitiveness and spiritual development. There is a shallower stage, at which prosperity and the good things of life may teach us sympathy and goodness and cheerfulness like that of Mr. Cheeriby les in Dickens. In such cases the Message takes root. But there is another type of character which is pulled up in prosperity. For them prosperity is a trial or even a punishment from the higher point of view. They go deeper and deeper into sin, until they are pulled up of a sudden and then instead of being contrite they merely become desperate.

45. Of the wrong-doers the last remnant was cut off. Praise be to Allah, the Cherisher of the worlds.(863)

863 Allah's punishment of wrongdoers is a measure of justice, to protect the true and righteous from their depredations and maintain His righteous decrees. It is an
46. Say: "Think ye, if Allah took away your hearing and your sight, and sealed up(864) your hearts, who - a god other than Allah - could restore them to you?" See how We explain the signs by various (symbols); yet they turn aside.

47. Say: "Think ye, if the punishment of Allah comes to you, whether suddenly or openly,(865) will any be destroyed except those who do wrong?

48. We send the messengers only to give good news(866) and to warn: so those who believe and mend (their lives),- upon them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve.

49. But those who reject our signs,- them shall punishment touch, for that they ceased not from transgressing.

50. Say: "I tell you not that with me are the treasures of Allah,(867) nor do I know what is hidden, nor do I tell you I am an angel. I but follow what is revealed to me." Say: "Can the blind be held equal to the seeing?"(868) Will ye then consider not?

51. Give this warning to those(869) in whose (hearts) is the fear that they will be brought (to judgment) before their Lord: except for Him they will have no protector nor intercessor: that they may guard (against evil).

52. Send not away those who call on their Lord morning and evening, seeking His face.(870) In naught art thou accountable for them, and in naught are they accountable for thee,(871) that thou shouldst turn them away, and thus be (one) of the unjust.

53. Thus did We try some of them by comparison(872) with others, that they should say: "Is it these then that Allah hath favoured from amongst us?" Doth not Allah know best those who are grateful?

54. When those come to thee who believe in Our signs, Say: "Peace be on you:(873) Your Lord hath inscribed for Himself (the rule(874) of) mercy: verily, if any of you did evil in ignorance, and thereafter repented, and amend (his conduct), lo! He is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

55. Thus do We explain the signs in detail: that the way of the sinners may be shown up.(875)

56. Say:(876) "I am forbidden to worship those - others than Allah - whom ye call upon." Say: "I will not follow your vain desires: If I did, I would stray from the path, and be not of the company of those who receive guidance."

57. Say: "For me, I (work) on a clear sign from my Lord, but ye reject Him. What ye would see hastened: Thus did We try some of them by comparison; and evening, seeking His face.(870) In naught art thou accountable for them, and in naught are they accountable for thee,(871) that thou shouldst turn them away, and thus be (one) of the unjust.

58. Say: "If what ye would see hastened were in my power, the matter would be settled at once between you and me.(878) But Allah knoweth best those who do wrong."

59. With Him are the keys(879) of the unseen, the treasures that none knoweth but He. He knoweth..."
60. It is He who doth take your souls by night, and hath knowledge of all that ye have done by day: by day doth He raise you up again; that a term appointed be for you, and a provision appointed (881) in advance ye shall show you the truth of all that ye did.

881 As the rest of His Creation is subject to His Law and Plan, so is man's life in every particular and at every moment, awake or asleep. The mystery of Sleep—the twin brother of death—is called the taking of our soul by Him, with the record of all we have done in our waking moments, and this record sometimes appears to us in confused glimpses in dreams. By day we awaken again to our activities, and so it goes on until we fulfill the term of our life appointed for this earth. Then comes the other Sleep (dearth), with the longer record of our Day (life); and then, in the end comes the Resurrection and J udgement, at which we see everything clearly and not as in dreams, for that is the final Reality (CT. 39:42).

61. He is the irresistible, (watching) from above over His worshippers, and He sets guardians (882) over you. At length, when death approaches one of you, Our angels (883) take his soul, and they never fail in their duty.

882 Guardians: most Commentators understand this to mean guardian angels. The idea of guardianship is expressed in a general term. Allah watches over us and guards us, and provides all kinds of agencies, material, moral, and spiritual, to help our growth and development, keep us from harm, and bring us nearer to our Destiny.

883 Angels the word used is rasul, the Sent Ones—the same word as for human Messengers sent by Allah to teach mankind. The agents who come to take our souls at death are accurate in the performance of their duty. They come neither before nor after their appointed time, nor do they do it in any manner other than that fixed by the Command of Allah.

62. Then are men returned unto Allah, their protector, the (only) reality: Is not His the command, (884) and He is the swiftest in taking account.

884 The Reality: Al Haqq, the Truth, the only True One. The point is that our illusions of the life of this lower world now vanish, when we are rendered back to Allah, from Whom we came. And now we find that far from the results of our actions being delayed, they follow more swiftly than we can express in terms of Time. Here is the answer to the taunt of those who were impatient of the working of Allah's Plans (6:37-38). (R).

63. Say: (885) "Who is it that delivereth you from the dark recesses (886) of land and sea, when ye call upon Him in humility and silent terror? (887) If He only delivers us from these (dangers), (we vow) we shall truly show our gratitude. "

885 In continuation of the four heads of argument referred to in n. 876, we have three more heads here in 6:63-65: (5) your calling upon Him in times of danger shows that in the depths of your hearts you feel His need; (6) Allah's Providence saves you, and yet you ungratefully run after false gods; (7) it is not only physical calamities that you have to fear; your mutual discord and vengeances are even more destructive, and only faith in Allah can save you from them (CT.6:71).

886 Zulmat: dark recesses, terrible lurking dangers, as in deserts or mountains, or forests, or seas.

887 There are two readings, but they both ultimately yield the same meaning. (1) Khufistan, silently, secretly, from the depth of your inner heart, suggesting unspeakable terror. (2) Khultatan, out of terror or fear or reverence, as in 7:205.

64. Say "It is Allah that delivereth you from these and all (other) distresses: and yet ye worship false gods!"

65. Say: "He hath power to send calamities (888) on you, from above and below, or to cover you with confusion in party strife, giving you a taste of mutual vengeance - each from the other. " See how We explain the signs by various (symbols); (889) that they may understand.

888 Calamities from above and below: such as storms and blizzards, torrential rain, etc., or earthquakes, floods, landslides, etc (CT.29:55).

889 CT. 6:46, where this refrain commences the argument now drawing to a close (see also 6:103).

66. But thy people reject this, though it is the truth. Say: "Not mine is the responsibility for arranging your affairs; (890)

890 At the date of this revelation, the Messenger's people had as a body not only rejected Allah's truth, but were persecuting it. The Messenger's duty was to deliver His Message, which he did. He was not responsible for their conduct. But he told them plainly that all warnings from Allah had their time limit, as they would soon find out. And they did find out within a very few years. For the leaders of the resistance came to an evil end, and their whole system of fraud and selfishness was destroyed, to make room for the purer Faith of Islam. Apart from that particular application, there is the more general application for the present time and for all time.

67. For every message is a limit of time, and soon shall ye know it."

68. When thou seest men engaged in vain discourse about Our signs, turn away from them unless they turn to a different (891) theme. If Satan ever makes thee forget, then after recollection, sit not thou in the company of those who do wrong.

891 CT. 4:140. If in any gathering truth is ridiculed, we must not sit in such company. If we find ourselves in it, as soon as we realise it, we must show our disapproval by leaving.

69. On their account no responsibility falls on the righteous, (892) but (their duty) is to remind them, that they may (learn to) fear Allah.

892 Every man is responsible for his own conduct But the righteous have two duties: (1) to protect themselves from infection, and (2) to proclaim Allah's truth, for even in the most unlikely circumstances, it is possible that it may have some effect. (R).

70. Leave alone those who take their religion to be mere play and amusement, (893) and are deceived by the life of this world. But proclaim (to them) this (truth): that every soul delivers itself to ruin by its own acts: (894) it will find for itself no protector or intercessor except Allah. If it offered every ransom, (or reparation), none will be accepted: such is (the end of) those who deliver themselves to ruin by their own acts: they will have for drink (only) boiling water, and for punishment, one most grievous: for they persisted in rejecting Allah.

893 CT. 6:32, where we are told that the life of this world is mere play and amusement, and Religion and the Hereafter are the serious things that require our attention. Worldly people reverse this, because they are deceived by the allurements of this life. But their own acts will find them out.

894 We must never forget our own personal responsibility for all we do, or deceive ourselves by the illusion of vicarious atonement.

71. Say: (895) "Shall we indeed call on others besides Allah,- things that can do us neither good nor harm,- and turn on our heels after receiving guidance from Allah. - like one whom the evil ones have made into a fear, wandering bewildered through the earth, his friends calling, come to us; (vainly) guiding him to the path." Say: "(Allah)’s guidance is the (only) guidance, and we have been directed to submit ourselves to the Lord of the worlds;"

72. "To establish regular prayers and to fear Allah. for it is to Him that we shall be gathered together."

73. It is He who created the heavens and the earth in true (proportions);(896) the day He saith, "Be," behold! it is. His word is the truth. His will be the true (proportions):(896) the day He saith, "Be," and everything in the heavens and on the earth will obey His will. Knowest thou what He meaneth by the appointed time? (900) It is what He wills to do, and He is the One in whose hands all things are. (891) The day when the Trumpet will be blown. He saith, "Be," and everything will be created in a moment. (901) His guidance is the only guidance, and we have been directed to submit ourselves to the Lord of the worlds;--

74. Lo! Abraham said to his father Azar: "Takest thou idols for gods? For I see thee and thy people in manifest error."

75. So also did We show(897) Abraham the power and the laws of the heavens and the earth, that he might (with understanding) have certitude.

897 Now comes the story of Abraham. He lived among the Chaldeans, who had great knowledge of the stars and heavenly bodies. But he got beyond that physical world and saw the spiritual world behind. His ancestral idols meant nothing to him. That was the first step. But Allah took him many degrees higher. Allah showed him with certitude the spiritual glories behind the magnificent powers and laws of the physical universe.

76. When the night covered him over, He saw a star; He said: "This is my Lord." But when it set, He said: "I love not those that set."(898)

898 This shows the stages of Abraham's spiritual enlightenment. It should not be supposed that he literally worshipped stars or heavenly bodies. Having seen through the folly of ancestral idol worship, he began to see the futility of worshipping distant beautiful things that shine, which the vulgar endue with a power which does not reside in them. A type of such is a star shining in the darkness of the night. Superstition might read fortunes in it, but true knowledge shows that it rises and sets according to laws whose author is Allah. And its light is extinguished in the broader light of day. Its worship is therefore futile. It is not a Power, much less the Supreme Power.

According to some commentators the whole thrust of Abraham's reasoning in verses 76-78 is directed against the superstitions beliefs of his people and demonstrates the folly of worshipping stars and other heavenly bodies. As such his statements may be seen as premises of his arguments against Polytheism rather than as stages in his spiritual enlightenment. (R).

77. When he saw the moon rising in splendour, he said: "This is my Lord." But when the moon set, He said: "unless my Lord guide me, I shall surely be among those who go astray."(899)

899 The moon, though it looks bigger and brighter than the star, turns out on closer knowledge, not only to set like the star, but to change its shape from hour to hour, and even to depend for its light on some other body! How deceptive are appearances! This is not Allah! At that stage you begin to search for something more reliable than appearances to the eye in the darkness of the night. You ask for guidance from Allah. (R).

78. When he saw the sun rising in splendour, he said: "This is my Lord; this is the greatest (of all)." But when the sun set, he said: "O my people! I am indeed free from your (guilt) of giving partners to Allah.(900)

900 The next stage in the allegory is the sun. You are in the open light of Day. Now you have the right clue. You see the biggest object in the heavens. But is it the biggest? There are thousands of stars in the universe bigger than the sun. And every day the sun appears and disappears from your sight. Such is not God who created you and all these wonderful works of His. What folly to worship creatures, when we might turn to the true God? Let us abjure all these follies and proclaim the one true God.

79. "For me, I have set my face, firmly and truly, towards Him Who created the heavens and the earth, and never shall I give partners to Allah."

80. His people disputed(901) with him. He said: "(Come) ye to dispute with me, about Allah, when He (Himself) hath guided me? I fear not (the beings) ye associate with Allah. Unless my Lord willeth, (nothing can happen). My Lord comprehendeth in His knowledge all things. Will ye not (yourselves) be admonished?

901 The story of Abraham is highly instructive for all men in quest of truth. If spiritual enlightenment goes so far as to take a man beyond his ancestral worship, people will come to dispute with him. They will strengthen him with the dire consequences of his dissent. What does he care? He has found the truth. He is free from superstitious fears, for has he not found the true God, without Whose Will nothing can happen? On the contrary, he knows that it is the godless who have just grounds for fear. And he offers admonition to them, and arguments that should bring them the clearness of truth instead of the vagueness and mystery of superstition—the security of Faith instead of the haunting fear of those who have no clear guidance. (R).

81. "How should I fear (the beings) ye associate with Allah, when ye fear not to give partners to Allah without any warrant having been given to you? Which of (us) two parties hath more right to security? (tell me) if ye know.

82. "It is those who believe and confuse not their beliefs with wrong(901-A) —that are (truly) in security, for they are on (right) guidance."

901-A The word "wrong" here refers to associating partners to Allah as has been stated by the Prophet (peace be on him) in his explanation of the verse. [Eds.]

83. That was the reasoning about Us, which We gave to Abraham (to use) against his people:(902) We raise whom We will, degree after degree: for thy Lord is full of wisdom and knowledge.

84. We gave him Isaac and Jacob: all (three) we guided:(903) and before him, We guided Noah,(904) and among his progeny, David, Solomon, Job, Joseph, Moses, and Aaron: thus do We reward those who do good:

903 We have now a list of eighteen Prophets in four groups, covering the great Teachers accepted among the three great religions based on Moses, Jesus, and Muhammad. The first group to be mentioned is that of Abraham, his son Isaac, and Isaac's son, Jacob. Abraham was the first to have a Book. His Book is mentioned in Q. 87:19, though it is now lost. They were therefore the first to receive Guidance in the sense of a Book.

904 In the second group, we have the great founders of families, apart from Abraham, viz., Noah, of the time of the Flood; David and Solomon, the real establishers of the Jewish monarchy; Job, who lived 140 years, saw four
85. And Zakariya and Yahya(905) and Jesus and Elias: all in the ranks of the righteous:

905 The third group consists not of men of action, but Preachers of Truth, who led solitary lives. Their epithet is: "the Righteous." They form a connected group round Jesus. Zakariya was the father of John the Baptist, the precursor of Jesus (3:57-41); and Jesus referred to John the Baptist as Elias: "this is Elias, which was to come" (Matt. 11:14); and Elias is said to have been present and talked to Jesus at the Transfiguration on the Mount (Matt. 17:3). Elias is the same as Elisha (C.F. 37:123-130) (R).

86. And Isma’il and Elisha,(906) and Jonas, and Lot: and to all We gave favour above the nations:

906 This is the last group, described as those "favoured above the nations." It consists of four men, who had all great misfortunes to contend with, and were concerned in the clash of nations, but they kept in the path of Allah, and came through above the clash of nations. Isma'il was the eldest son of Abraham when he was a baby, he and his mother had nearly died of thirst in the desert round Makkah; but they were saved by the well of Zamzam, and he became the founder of the new Arab nation. Elisha (I Zac) succeeded to the mantle of the Prophet Elijah; same as Elias, see last note; he lived in troublous times for both the Jewish kingdoms (of Judah and Israel); there were wicked kings, and other nations were pressing in on them; but he performed many miracles, and some check was given to the enemies under his advice. The story of Jonah (Yunus) is well-known: he was swallowed by a fish or whale, but was saved by Allah's mercy; through his preaching, his city (Nineveh) was saved (10:58). Lot was a contemporary and nephew of Abraham: when the city of Sodom was destroyed for its wickedness, he was saved as a just man (7:80-84).

87. (To them) and to their fathers,(907) and progeny and brethren: We chose them, and we guided them to a straight way.

907 Take verse 87 to refer back to all the four groups just mentioned.

88. This is the guidance of Allah. He giveth that guidance to whom He pleaseth, of His worshippers. If they were to join other gods with Him, all that they did would be vain for them.

89. These were the men to whom We gave the Book, and authority, and prophethood: if these (their descendants) reject them,(908) Behold! We shall entrust their charge to a new people who reject them not.

908 Them, i.e., the Book, and Authority and Prophethood. They were taken away from the other People of the Book and entrusted to the Holy Prophet Muhammad and his People.

90. Those were the (prophets) who received Allah's guidance: Copy the guidance they received; Say: "No reward for this do I ask of you: This is no less than a message for the nations."

91. No just estimate of Allah(909) do they make when they say: "Nothing doth Allah send down to man (by way of revelation)" Say: "Who then sent down the Book which Moses brought? a light and guidance to man:(910) But ye make it into (separate) sheets for show,(911) while ye conceal much (of its contents): therein were ye taught that which ye knew not—neither ye nor your fathers." Say: "(Allah) (sent it down)": Then leave them to plunge in vain discourse and trifling.

909 Qudrat: to weigh, judge, or estimate the value of capacity of anything; to have power so to do. Cf. Qidir in 4:149 and n. 655. The Jews who denied the inspiration of Muhammad had a good answer in their own books about the inspiration of Moses. To those who do not believe in Moses, the answer is more general: it is a just estimate of Allah to think either that He has not the power or the will to guide mankind, seeing that He is Omnipotent and the Source of all good? If you say that guidance comes, not through an inspired book or man, but through our general intelligence, we point to the spiritual ignorance of "you and your ancestors" the sad spiritual darkness of men and nations high in the intellectual scale.

910 CE 5:47 and n. 730, and 5:49. In those passages Guidance (in practical conduct) is put before Light (or spiritual insight), as they refer to ordinary or average men. Here Light (or spiritual insight) is put first as the question is does Allah send inspiration?

911 The Message to Moses had unity: it was one Book. The present Old Testament is a collection of odd books (sheets) of various kinds: see Appendix II, end of S. 5. In this way you can make a show, but there is no unity, and much of the spirit of the original is lost or concealed or overlaid. The same applies to the New Testament: see Appendix III, after Appendix II.

92. And this is a Book which We have sent down, bringing blessings,(912) and confirming (the revelations) which came before it: that thou mayest warn the mother(913) of cities and all around her. Those who believe in the Hereafter believe in this (Book), and they are constant in guarding their prayers.(914)

912 Muraqab, blessed, as having received Allah's blessing: bringer of blessings to others, as having been blessed by Allah. Allah's highest blessing is the Guidance and Light which the Book brings to us, and which brings us nearer to Him.

913 Mother of Cities: Makkah, now the Qiblah and Centre of Islam. If this verse was (like the greater part of the Chapter) revealed in Makkah before the Hijrah, and before Makkah was made the Qiblah of Islam, Makkah was nonetheless the Mother of Cities, being traditionally associated with Abraham and with Adam and Eve (see 2:125, and n. 217 to 2:197).

914 An earnest study of the Qur'an is true worship so is Prayer, and so are all deeds of goodness and charity.

93. Who can be more wicked than one who inventeth a lie against Allah, or saith, "I have received inspiration," when he hath received none, or (again) who saith, "I can reveal the like of what Allah hath revealed"? If thou couldst but see how the wicked (do fare) in the flood of confusion at death! — the angels stretch forth their hands, (saying),"Yield up your souls:(915) this day shall ye receive your reward,- a penalty of shame, for that ye used to tell lies against Allah, and scornfully to reject of His signs!"

915 Yield up your souls: or 'get your souls to come out of your bodies.' The wicked, we may suppose, are not anxious to part with the material existence in their bodies for the 'reward' which in irony is stated to be there to welcome them.

94. "And behold! ye come to us bare and alone as We created you for the first time:(916) ye have left behind you all (the favours) which We bestowed on you. We see not with you your intercessors whom ye thought to be partners in your affairs: so now all relations between you have been cut off, and your (pet) fancies have left you in the lurch!"(917)

916 Some of the various ideas connected with 'Creation' are noted in n. 129 to 2:117. In the creation of man there are various processes. If his body was created out of clay, i.e., earthly matter, there was an earlier process of the creation of such earthly matter. Here the body is left behind, and the soul is being addressed. The soul underwent various processes of fashioning and adapting to its various functions in its various surroundings (32:7-9). But each individual soul, after release from the body, comes back as it was created, with nothing more than its history, 'the deeds which it has earned,' which are really a part of it. Any exterior things given to help in its development, "the favours which We bestowed on you," it must necessarily leave behind, however it may have been proud of them. These exterior things may be material things, e.g., wealth, property, signs of power, influence and pride such as sons, relatives, and friends, etc., or they may be intangible things, like talents, intellect, social gifts, etc. (C.F. 7:29 and 6:98).
95. It is Allah Who causeth (918) the seed-grain and the date-stone to split and sprout. (919) He causeth the living to issue from the dead, and He is the one to cause the dead to issue from the living. (920) That is Allah, then how are ye deluded away from the truth?

96. It is He who causeth the day-break (from the dark): He makes the night for rest and tranquillity, and the day a signal for the living from death. It is He Who maketh the stars (as beacons) for you, He it is that cleaveth the day-break (from the dark): He makes the night for rest and tranquillity, and the day a signal for the living from death. (921) And Our Signs for people who understand.

97. And so we finish this wonderful allegory. Search through the world’s literature, and see if you can find another such song or hymn—so trite in its literary flavour, so profound in its spiritual meaning!

98. Read verse 97 again. It is: “We detail our Signs for people who understand.” Understanding is a higher faculty than knowledge, and is necessary for seeing the mystery and meaning of this life. At the end of verse 99 we have: “In these things there are signs for people who believe.”

98. It is He Who hath produced you (923) from a single person: here is a place of sojourn and a place of departure. (924) We detail Our signs for people who understand.

99. It is He Who sendeth down rain from the skies: (925) with it We produce vegetation of all kinds: from some We produce green (crops), out of which We produce grain, heaped up (at harvest); out of the date-palm and its sheaths (or spathes) (come) clusters of dates hanging low and near; and (then there are) gardens of grapes, and olives, and pomegranates, each similar (in kind) yet different (in variety): (926) when they begin to bear fruit, feast your eyes with the fruit and the ripeness thereof. (927) Behold, in these things there are signs for people who believe.

100. Yet they make the Jinns equals (929) with Allah, although Allah did create the Jinns; and they falsely, having no knowledge, attribute to Him sons and daughters. Praise and glory be to Him! (for He is) above what they attribute to Him!
101. To Him is due the primal origin of the heavens and the earth:(930) How can He have a son when He hath no consort? He created all things, and He hath full knowledge of all things.

930 C.F 2:117 and n. 120.

102. That is Allah, your Lord! there is no god but He, the Creator of all things: then worship ye Him: and He hath power to dispose of all affairs.

103. No vision can grasp Him, but His grasp is over all vision: He is above all comprehension,(931) yet is acquainted with all things.

931 Latif: fine, subtle, so fine and subtle as to be invisible to the physical eye; so fine as to be imperceptible to the senses; so pure as to be above the mental or spiritual vision of men. The active meaning should also be understood: one who understands the finest mysteries. Cx. 22:63, and n. 2844.

104. “Now have come to you, from your Lord, proofs (to open your eyes): if any will see, it will be for the (good of) his own soul; if any will be blind, it will be to his own (harm): I am not (here) to watch over your doings.”(932)

932 I understand ’Say’ to be understood in the beginning of this verse. The words would then be the words of the Prophet, as in fact is suggested in verse 107 below. That is why I have enclosed them in inverted commas.

105. Thus do we explain the signs by various (symbols):(933) that they may say, “Thou hast taught (us) diligently,” and that We may make the matter clear to those who know.(934)

933 Cf. 6:65 and n. 889.

934 The teaching in the Qur’an explains things by various symbols, parables, narratives, and appeals to nature. Each time, a new phase of the question is presented to our minds. This is what a diligent and earnest teacher would do, such as was Muhammad Mustafa. Those who were in search of knowledge and had thus acquired some knowledge of spiritual things were greatly helped to understand more clearly the things of which, before the varied explanations, they had only one-sided knowledge.

106. Follow what thou art taught by inspiration from thy Lord: there is no god but He: and turn aside from those who join gods with Allah.

107. If it had been Allah’s plan,(935) they would not have taken false gods: but We made thee not one to watch over their doings, nor art thou set over them to dispose of their affairs.

935 Allah’s Plan is to use the human will to cooperate in understanding Him and His relations to us. This is the answer to an objector who might say: “If He is All-Powerful, why does sin or evil exist in the world? Can He not destroy it?” He can, but His Plan is different, and in any case it is not for a Teacher to force anyone to accept the truths which he is inspired to preach and proclaim.

108. Revile not ye those whom they call upon besides Allah, lest they out of spite revile Allah in their ignorance. Thus have We made alluring to each people(936) its own doings. In the end will they return to their Lord, and We shall then tell them the truth of all that they did.

936 A man’s actual personal religion depends upon many things: his personal psychology, the background of his life, his hidden or repressed feelings, tendencies, or history (which psychoanalysis tries to unravel), his hereditary dispositions or antipathies, and all the subtle influences of his education and his environment. The task before the man of God is: (1) to use any of these which can subverde the higher ends; (2) to purify such as have been misused; (3) to introduce new ideas and modes of looking at things; and (4) to combat what is wrong and cannot be mended—all for the purpose of leading to the truth and gradually letting in spiritual light where there was darkness before. If that is not done with discretion and the skill of a spiritual Teacher, there may be not only a reaction of obstinacy, but an unseemly show of dishonour to the true God and His Truth, and doubts would spread among the weaker brethren whose faith is shallow and infirm. What happens to individuals is true collectively of nations or groups of people. They think in their self-obscuration that their own ideas are right. Allah in His infinite compassion bears with them, and asks those who have purer ideas of faith not to vilify the weaknesses of their neighbours, lest the neighbours in their turn vilify the real truth and make matters even worse than before. Insolent as there are mistakes, Allah will forgive and send His grace for helping ignorance and folly. Insolent as there is active evil, He will deal with it in His own way. Of course the righteous man must not hide his light under a bushel, or compromise with evil, or refuse to establish right living where he has the power to do so.

109. They swear their strongest oaths by Allah, that if a (special) sign came to them, by it they would believe. Say: “Certainly (all) signs are in the power of Allah. but what will make you (Muslims) realise that (even) if (special) signs came, they will not believe?”(937)

937 If the unbelievers are merely obstinate, nothing will convince them. There is no story more full of miracles than the story of Jesus. Yet in that same story we are told that Jesus said: “A wicked adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the Prophet Jonah”: Matt. 16:4. These are Signs given by Allah everyday-understood by those who believe. A mere insistence upon some particular or special Sign means mere continuance and misunderstanding of the spiritual world.

110. We (too) shall turn to (confusion) their hearts(938) and their eyes, even as they refused to believe in this in the first instance: We shall leave them in their trespasses, to wander in distraction.(939)

938 Where there is sheer obstinacy and ridicule of faith, the result will be that such a sinner’s heart will be hardened and his eyes will be sealed, so that he cannot even see the things visible to ordinary mortals. The sinner gains impetus in his descent towards wrong.

939 Cx. 2:15. Allah’s grace is always ready to help human weakness or ignorance, and to accept repentance and give forgiveness. But where the sinner is in actual rebellion, he will be given rope, and it will be his own fault if he wanders about distractedly, without any certain hope or refuge.

111. Even if We did send unto them angels, and the dead did speak unto them, and We gathered together all things before(940) their very eyes, they are not the ones to believe, unless it is in Allah’s plan. But most of them ignore (the truth).

940 The most stupendous miracles even according to their ideas would not have convinced them. If the whole pageant of the spiritual world were brought before them, they would not have believed, because they of their own choice and will refuse knowledge and faith.

112. Likewise did We make for every Messenger an enemy,- evil ones(941) among men and Jinns, inspiring each other with flowery discourses by way of deception. If thy Lord had so planned, they would not have done it: so leave them and their inventions alone.

941 What happened in the history of the Holy Prophet happens in the history of all righteous men who have a Message from Allah. The spirit of evil is ever active and uses men to practise deception by means of highly embellished words and plausible excuses and objections, Allah permits these things in His Plan. It is not for us to complain. Our faith is tested, and we must stand the test steadfastly.

113. To such (deceit) let the hearts of those incline, who have no faith in the hereafter: let them delight in it, and let them earn from it what they may.(942)

942 People who have no faith in the future destiny of man listen to and are taken in by the deceit of evil. If they take a delight in it, let them. See what they gain by it. Their gains will be as deceitful as their delight. For the end of evil must be evil.

114. Say: “Shall I seek for judge other than Allah. - when He it is Who hath sent unto you the Book, explained in
The righteous man seeks no other standard of judgement but Allah's Will. How can he, when Allah in His grace has explained His Will in the Qur'an, with details which men of every capacity can understand? The humblest can learn lessons of right conduct in daily life, and the most advanced can find the highest wisdom in its spiritual teaching, enriched as it is with all kinds of beautiful illustrations from nature and the story of man.

115. The word of thy Lord doth find its fulfilment in truth and in justice: None can change His words: for He is the one who heareth and knoweth all.

116. Wert thou to follow the common run of those on earth, they will lead thee away from the way of Allah. They follow nothing but conjecture: they do nothing but lie.

117. Thy Lord knoweth best who strayeth from His way: He knoweth best who they are that receive His guidance.

118. So eat of (meats) on which Allah's name hath been pronounced, if ye have faith in His signs.

119. Why should ye not eat of (meats) on which Allah's name hath been pronounced, when He hath explained to you in detail what is forbidden to you - except under compulsion(944) of necessity? But many do mislead (men) by their appetites unchecked by knowledge. Thy Lord knoweth best those who transgress.

944 Cf. 3:4. When a clear law has explained what is lawful and unlawful in food, it is wrong to raise fresh scruples and mislead the ignorant (Cf. see also 5:3 and 6:113).

120. Eschew all sin, open or secret: those who earn sin will get due recompense for their "earnings."

121. Eat not of (meats) on which Allah's name hath not been pronounced: That would be impiety. But the evil ones ever inspire their friends to contend with you if ye were to obey them, ye would indeed be Pagans.

122. Can he who was dead,(945) to whom We gave life, and a light whereby he can walk amongst men, be like him who is in the depths of darkness, from which he can never come out? Thus to those without faith their own deeds seem pleasing.

945 Cf. 29:50-51. It is common experience that the forces of evil make an alliance with each other, because of what they earn. Their friends amongst men will say: "Our Lord! We made profit(950) from each other: but (alas!) we reached our term - which thou didst appoint for us." He will say: "The Fire be your dwelling-place: you will dwell therein for ever, except as Allah will eth."(951) for thy Lord is full of wisdom and knowledge.

123. Thus have We placed leaders in every town, its wicked men, to plot (and burrow) therein: but they only plot against their own souls, and they perceive it not.

124. When there comes to them a sign (from Allah., They say: "We shall not believe until we receive one (exactly) like those received by Allah's messengers."(946) Allah knoweth best where (and how) to carry out His mission. Soon will the wicked be overtaken by humiliation before Allah, and a severe punishment, for all their plots.

125. Those whom Allah (in His plan) willeth to guide,- He openeth(947) their breast to Islam; those whom He willoth to leave straying,- He maketh their breast close and constricted, as if they had to climb up to the skies: thus doth Allah (heap) the penalty on those who refuse to believe.

947 Allah's Universal Plan is the Qada na Qadar, which is so much misunderstood. That Plan is unalterable, and that is His Will. It means that in the spiritual world, as in the physical world, there are laws of justice, mercy, grace, penalty, etc., which work as surely as anything we know. If, then, a man refuses Faith, becomes a rebel, with each step he goes further and further down, and his pace will be accelerated; he will scarcely be able to take spiritual breath, and his recovery-in spite of Allah's mercy which he has rejected-will be as difficult as if he had to climb up to the skies. On the other hand, the godly will find, with each step, the next step easier, Jesus expressed this truth paradoxically: 'He that hath, to him shall be given; but he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath': Mark. 4:25. John 6:65) makes Jesus say: "No man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father."

126. This is the way of thy Lord, leading straight: We have detailed the signs for those who receive admonition.

127. For them will be a home(948) of peace in the presence of their Lord: He will be their friend, because they practised (righteousness).

128. One day will He gather them all together, (and say): "O ye assembly of Jinns! Much (toll) did ye take of men." Their friends amongst men will say: "Our Lord! We made profit(950) from each other: but (alas!) we reached our term - which thou didst appoint for us." He will say: "The Fire be your dwelling-place: you will dwell therein for ever, except as Allah will eth."(951) for thy Lord is full of wisdom and knowledge.

948 Jinn are spirits-here evil spirits. See 6:100, n. 929.

950 It is common experience that the forces of evil make an alliance with each other, and seem thus to make a profit by their mutual log-rolling. But this is only in this material world. When the limited term expires, their unholy bargains will be exposed, and there will be nothing but regrets.

951 Eternity and infinity are abstract terms. They have no precise meaning in our human experience. The qualification, "except as Allah willeth," makes it more intelligible, as we can form some idea however inadequate-of a Will and Plan, and we know Allah by His attribute of Mercy as well as of justice.

129. Thus do we make the wrong-doers turn to each other, because of what they earn.(952)

130. "O ye assembly of Jinns and men! came there not unto you messengers from amongst you,(953) setting forth unto you My signs, and warning you of the meeting of this Day of yours?" They will say: "We bear witness against ourselves." It was the life of this world that deceived them. So against themselves will they bear witness that they rejected Faith.

133. All that hath been promised unto you will come to pass: nor can ye frustrate it (in the least bit).

134. All that hath been promised unto you will come to pass: nor can ye frustrate it (in the least bit).

135. Thy Lord is self-sufficient,(955) full of Mercy: if it were His will, He could destroy you, and in your place they would not destroy men´s successors, even as He raised you up from the posterity of other people.

136. Out of what Allah hath produced in abundance in the earth and in the sea, He provided for you (food) and things for yourselves to enjoy. And He has decreed for you what is lawful and forbidden to you. In the end Allah will judge. He is the best of judges.

137. Even so, in the eyes of most of the pagans,(959) their "partners" made alluring the slaughter of their children, in order to lead them to their own destruction, and cause confusion in their religion. If Allah had willed, they would not have done so: But leave alone them and their inventions.

138. They say: "What is in the wombs of such and such cattle is specially reserved (for food) for our men, and forbidden to our women; but if it is still-born, then all shares belong to Allah."

139. Say: "O my people! Do whatever ye cans:(957) I will do (my part): soon will ye know who it is whose end will be (best) in the Hereafter: certainly it is that the wrong-doers will not prosper."

140. Lost are those who slay their children, from folly, without knowledge, and forbid food which Allah hath provided for them, inventing (lies) against Allah. They have indeed gone astray and needcd no guidance.

141. It is He Who produceth(964) gardens, with trellises and without, and tilth with produce of all kinds: for He is full of wisdom and knowledge.

142. Of the cattle are some for burden and some for meat:(967) eat what Allah hath provided for you, and forbidden to our women; but if it is still-born, then all shares belong to Allah."

962 A beautiful passage, with music to match the meaning. Cf. 6:99 and notes.

963 A beautiful passage, with music to match the meaning. Cf. 6:99 and notes.

964 See 6:99, n. 923.

965 It is He Who produceth(964) gardens, with trellises and without, and tilth with produce of all kinds: for He is full of wisdom and knowledge.

966 A beautiful passage, with music to match the meaning. Cf. 6:99 and notes.

967 "Waste not, want not," says the English proverb. Here the same wisdom is preached from a higher motive. See what magnificent means Allah provides in nature for the sustenance of all His creatures, because He loves them all. Enjoy them in moderation and be grateful. But commit no excess, and commit no waste: the two things are the same from different angles of vision. If you do, you take away something from other creatures and Allah would not like your selfishness.

968 There is scathing sarcasm here, which some of the commentators have missed. The Pagans had commonly a general Pantheon, though above it they have a vague idea of a Supreme God. But the material benefits go to the godlings, the fancied "partner" of Allah; for they have temples, priests, dedications, etc., while the True and Supreme God has only lip-worship, or at best a share with numerous "partners." This was so in Arabia also. The shares assigned to the "partners" went to the priests and hangurs-on of the "partners", who were many and prominent for their rights. The share assigned to Allah possibly went to the poor, but more probably went to the priests who had the cult of the "partners", for the Supreme God had no separate priests of His own. It is also said that when heathens were thus laid out, if any portion of Allah's heap fell into the heaps of the "partners" the priests greedily and promptly appropriated it, while in the contrary case the "partners" priests were careful to reclaim any portion from what they called "Allah's heap." The absurdity of the whole thing is ridiculed. Allah created everything: how can He have a share?

969 The false gods and idols-among many nations, including the Arabs-were supposed to require human sacrifices. Ordinarily such sacrifices are revolting to man, but they are made in the name of Allah, and are usually revolting to itself the name of religion. Such customs, if allowed, would do nothing but destroy the people who practise them, and make their religion but a confused bundle of revolting superstitions.

970 A taboo of certain foods is sometimes a device of the priesthood to get special things for itself. It has to be enforced by pretending that the prohibition for others is the Will of Allah. It is a lie or invention against Allah's most superstitious are.

971 Cattle dedicated to heathen gods may be reserved from all useful work; in that case they are a dead loss to the community, and they may, besides, do a great deal of damage to fields and crops.

972 If meat is killed in the name of heathen gods, it would naturally not be killed by the solemn rite in Allah's name, by which alone the killing can be justified for food. See 6:158.

973 These are further pagan superstitions about cattle. Some have already been noted in 5:103, which may be consulted with the notes.

974 A beautiful passage, with music to match the meaning. Cf. 6:99 and notes.

975 "Waste not, want not," says the English proverb. Here the same wisdom is preached from a higher motive. See what magnificent means Allah provides in nature for the sustenance of all His creatures, because He loves them all. Enjoy them in moderation and be grateful. But commit no excess, and commit no waste: the two things are the same from different angles of vision. If you do, you take away something from other creatures and Allah would not like your selfishness.

976 Superstition kills true religion. We come back to the Arab Pagan superstitions about cattle for food. The horse is not mentioned, because horse flesh was not an article of diet and there were no superstitions about it. Sheep and goats, camels and oxen were the usual sources of meat. Sheep and goats were not used as beasts of burden, but camels (of both sexes) were used for carrying burdens, and oxen for the plough, though cows were mainly used for milk and meat. The words "some for burden and some for meat" do not differentiate whole species, except that they give you the first two and the last two as categories.
143. (Take) eight (head of cattle)(968) in (four) pairs: of sheep a pair, and of goats a pair; say, hath He forbidden the two males, or the two females, or (the young) which the wombs of the two females enclose? Tell me with knowledge if ye are truthful:

968 The superstitions referred to in 6:139 and 5:103 are further ridiculed in this verse and the next.

144. Of camels a pair, and oxen a pair; say, hath He forbidden the two males, or the two females, or (the young) which the wombs of the two females enclose? - Were ye present when Allah ordered you such a thing? But who doth more wrong than one who invents a lie against Allah, to lead astray men without knowledge? For Allah guideth not people who do wrong.

145. Say: "I find not in the message received by me by inspiration any (meat) forbidden to be eaten by one who wishes to eat it, unless it be dead meat, or blood poured forth,(969) or the flesh of swine,- for it is an abomination - or, what is impious, (meat) on which a name has been invoked, other than Allah." But (even so), if a person is forced by necessity, without wilful disobedience, nor transgressing due limits,- thy Lord is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

969 Blood poured forth: as distinguished from blood adhering to flesh, or the liver, or such other internal organs purifying the blood.

146. For those who followed the Jewish Law, We forbade every (animal) with undivided hoof,(970) and We forbade them that fat of the ox(971) and the sheep, except what adheres to their backs or their entrails, or is mixed up with a bone: this in recompense for their wilful disobedience: for We are true (in Our ordinances).

970 Zulur may mean claw or hoof; it is in the singular number; but as no animal has a single claw, and there is no point in a division of claws, we must look to a hoof for the correct interpretation. In the Jewish Law, (Leviticus, 11:36), 'whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is cloven footed, and cheweth the cud, among the beasts' was lawful as food, but the camel, the coney (rabbit), and the hare were not lawful, because they do not 'divide the hoof. Undivided hoof therefore is the correct interpretation. These three animals, unlawful to the Jews, are lawful in Islam. Cf. 4:169.

971 In Leviticus, (7:23) it is laid down that 'ye shall eat no manner of fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat.' As regards the exceptions, it is to be noticed that priests were exempted (Leviticus, 7:6) to eat of the fat in the trespass offering, which was considered holy, viz., 'the mump' (back and bone) 'and the fat that covetheth the inward entrails,' (Leviticus, 7:9).

147. If they accuse thee of falsehood, say: "Your Lord is full of mercy all-embracing; but from people in guilt never will His wrath be turned back.

148. Those who give partners (to Allah, will say: "If Allah had wished, we should not have given partners to Him nor would our fathers; nor should we have had(972) any taboos." So did their ancestors argue falsely, until they tasted of Our wrath. Say: "Have ye any (certain) knowledge? If so, produce it before us. Ye follow nothing but conjecture: ye do nothing but lie."

972 As used by the Pagans, the argument is false, for it implies (a) that men have no personal responsibility, (b) that they are the victims of a Determinism against which they are helpless, and (c) that they might therefore go on doing just what they liked. It is also inconsistent, for if (b) is true, (c) cannot be true. Nor is it meant to be taken seriously.

149. Say: "With Allah is the argument(973) that reaches home: if it had been His will, He could indeed have guided you all."

973 On the other hand, the argument cuts true and deep, as from Allah to His creatures, Allah is Omnipotent, and can do all that we can conceive. But He, in His Plan, has given man some responsibility, and some choice in order to train man's will. If man fails, he is helped in various ways by Allah's mercy and grace. But man cannot go on sinning, and in a state of sin, expect Allah to be pleased with him (6:47).

150. Say: "Bring forward your witnesses to prove that Allah did forbid so and so." If they bring such witnesses, be not thou amongst them(974): Nor follow thou the vain desires of such as treat our signs as falsehoods, and such as believe not in the Hereafter: for they hold others as equal with their Guardian-Lord.(975)

974 The Pagan superstitions were of course baseless, and in many cases harmful and debasing. If Allah's name was taken as supporting them, no true man of God could be taken in, or join in support simply because Allah's name was taken in vain.

975 Cf. 6:1. Allah, who created and who cherishes and cares for all, should have the first claim on our attention. Those who set up false gods fail to understand Allah's true governance or their own true destiny.

151. Say: "Come, I will rehearse what Allah hath (really)(976) prohibited you from": Join not anything as equal with Him; be good to your parents; kill not your children on a plea of want;- We provide sustenance for you and for them;- come not nigh to shameful deeds. Whether open or secret; take not life, which Allah hath made sacred, except by way of justice and law:(977) thus doth He command you, that ye may learn wisdom.

976 Instead of following Pagan superstitions, and being in constant terror of imaginary taboos and prohibitions, we should study the true moral law, whose sanction is Allah's Law. The first step is that we should recognise that He is the One and Only Lord and Cherisher. The mention of goodness to parents immediately afterwards suggests: (1) that Allah's love of us and care for us may—on an infinitely higher plane—be understood by our ideal of parental love, which is purely unselfish; (2) that our first duty among our fellow creatures is to our father and mother, whose love leads us to the conception of divine love. Arising from that is the conception of our converse duties to our children. Allah provides sustenance (material and spiritual) not only for us, but for them; hence any custom like the Pagan custom of sacrificing children to Moloch stands condemned. Then come the moral prohibitions against lewdness and all unseemly acts, relating to sex or otherwise, open or secret. This is followed by the prohibition of killing or fighting. All these things are conformable to our own interests, and therefore true wisdom from our own point of view.

977 For the comprehensive word, haqq, I have used the two words, 'justice and law'; other significations implied are: right, truth, what is becoming, etc. It is not only that human life is sacred, but all life is sacred. Even in killing animals for food, a dedicatory formula 'in the name of Allah' has to be employed, to make it lawful: see n. 698 to 5:4 and n. 962 to 6:138.

152. And come not nigh to the orphan's property, except to improve it, until he attain the age of full strength; give measure and weight with (full) justice;- no burden do We place on any soul, but that which it can bear;- whenever ye speak, speak justly, even if a near relative is concerned; and fulfil the covenant of Allah;(978) thus doth He command you, that ye may remember.

978 Cf. 5:1 and n. 692.

153. Verily, this is My way, leading straight: follow it: follow not (other) paths: they will scatter you about from His (great) path: thus doth He command you. that ye may be righteous.(979)
158. As for those who divide (985) their religion and break up into sects, thou hast no part in them in the least: their affair is with Allah. He will in the end tell them the truth of all that they did.

985. Divide their religions (farraqui), i.e., (1) make a distinction between one part of it and another, take the part which suits them and reject the rest; or (2) have religion one day of the week and the world the rest of the six days; or (3) keep religion in its right place, as it did not claim to govern the whole life, make a sharp distinction between the secular and the religious, or (4) show a sectarian bias, seek differences in views, so as to break up the unity of Islam.

160. He that doeth good shall have ten times as much to his credit: He that doeth evil shall only be recompensed according to his evil: (986) no wrong shall be done unto (any of) them.

986. Allah is just as well as generous. To the good, the reward is multiplied ten times (i.e., far above merits) on account of His generosity. To the evil, the punishment can be no more than commensurate with their sin, and even so the door of mercy is always open to those who sincerely repent and show it by their conduct (Cf. 7:38).

161. Say: "Verily, my Lord hath guided me to a way that is straight,- a religion of right,- the path (tród) by Abraham the true in Faith, and he (certainly) joined not gods with Allah."

162. Say: "Truly, my prayer and my service of sacrifice, my life and my death, are (all) for Allah, the Cherisher of the Worlds:

163. No partner hath He: this am I Commanded, and I am the first of those who bow to His will.

164. Say: "Shall I seek for (my) Cherisher other than Allah, when He is the Cherisher of all things (that exist)! Every soul draws the meed of its acts on none (987) but itself: no bearer of burdens can bear the burden of another. Your goal in the end is towards Allah. He will tell you the truth of the things wherein ye disputed."

987. The doctrine of personal responsibility again. We are fully responsible for our acts ourselves, we cannot transfer the consequences to someone else. Nor can anyone vicariously atone for our sins. If people have honest doubts or differences about important questions of religion, they should not start futile disputes. All will be clear in the end. Our duty here is to maintain unity and discipline, and to do the duty that comes to us (Cf. 16:15, 33:18, and 53:38-40)

165. It is He Who hath made you (His) agents, inheritors (988) of the earth: He hath raised you in ranks, some above others: to maintain unity and discipline, and do the duty that comes to us (Cf. 16:15, 33:18, and 53:38-40).

988. Cf. 2:30 and n., where I have translated 'Khalifah' as 'Vicegerent', it being Allah's Plan to make Adam (as representing mankind) His vicegerent on earth. In C. 1, I have construed the same word by the word 'Agent.' Another idea implied in 'Khalifah' is that of 'successor, heir, or inheritor,' i.e., one who has the ultimate ownership after the present possessors, to whom a life tenancy has been given by the owner, have passed away. In 1:28 occurs the striking word, 'heirs' (mazāhid), applied to Allah: 'We give life and death, and We are the Heirs (or Inheritors),' the same idea occurs in 3:180, where see n, 4:65, and 19:10. The translation here attempts to express both the ideas which I understand from the original.
7. Al A‘raf (The Heights)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Alif, Lam, Mim, Sad. (989)

   This is a combination of four Abbreviated Letters. For Abbreviated Letters generally, see Appendix I (at the end of Surah 2). The combination here includes the three letters Alif, Lam, Mim, which occurred at the beginning of Surah 2, and are discussed in n. 25 to 2:1.

   The additional letter Sad occurs in combination here and in Surah 19, and by itself at the beginning of S. 38, and nowhere else. The factor common to S. 1, S. 19, and S. 38 is that in each case the core of the Surah consists in the stories (qasas) of the Prophets. In this Surah we have the stories of Noah, Hud, Salih, Lot, Shu‘ayb, and Moses, heading up to Muhammad, and in S. 38, the stories of David, Solomon, and Job similarly lead up to Muhammad, occupying three out of the five sections. Surah 19 consists almost entirely of such stories. Can we understand Sad to stand for qasas, of which it is the most characteristic letter? In this Surah 7, we have also the spiritual history of mankind traced—the Beginning, the Middle, and the End, which, as explained in n. 25, might be represented symbolically by Alif, Lam, Mim. If so, this Surah, dealing with the Beginning, Middle, and End of man’s spiritual story, and illustrating it by the stories of the Prophets, might well be represented symbolically by the letters, Alif, Lam, Mim, Sad. But no one can be dogmatic about these symbols. (R).

2. A Book revealed unto thee,— So let thy heart be oppressed (990) no more by any difficulty on that account,— that with it thou mightest warn (the erring) and teach the Believers.

   Heart in the original, breast. I have used the word most appropriate to the English idiom. The meaning is that Al Mustafa is consoled for all the difficulties he encountered in his mission, with the fact that he had clear guidance in the Book for his preaching.

3. Follow (O men!) the revelation given unto you from your Lord, and follow not, as friends or protectors, other than Him. Little it is ye remember of admonition. (991)

   This is added in order that men might not be puffed up with such little knowledge as they possessed, for there are great heights to be scaled in the spiritual kingdom.

4. How many towns have We destroyed (for their sins)? Our punishment took them on a sudden by night or while they slept for their afternoon rest.

5. When (thus) Our punishment took them, no cry did they utter but this: “Indeed we did wrong.” (992)

   The spiritual story of man begins with a prelude. Think of the towns and nations ruined by their iniquity. Allah gave them many opportunities, and sent them warners and teachers. But they arrogantly went on in their evil ways, till some dreadful calamity came like a thief in the night and wiped out their traces. In a warm climate the disturbance in the heat of the midday rest is even more than the disturbance at night. It was when the catastrophe came that the people realised their sins, but it was too late.

6. Then shall we question those to whom Our message was sent and those by whom (993) We sent it.

   In the final reckoning, the warners and teachers will give evidence of their preaching the truth, and the wicked will themselves have to acknowledge the truth. We picture it like a court scene, when the story is related, but the Judge knows all, even more than the parties can tell.

7. And verily, We shall recount their whole story with knowledge, for We were never absent (at any time or place). (994)

   Allah (being All-Knowing) is never absent from any place or at any time, for time and place are relative conceptions for our limited natures, while He is the Absolute, independent of such relative conceptions. (R).

8. The balance that day will be true (to nicety): those whose scale (of good) will be heavy, will prosper:

9. Those whose scale will be light, will be their souls in perdition, for that they wrongfully treated Our signs.

10. It is We Who have placed you with authority on earth, and provided you therein with means for the fulfilment of your life; (995) small are the thanks that ye give!

11. It is We Who created you and gave you shape (996) then We bade the angels bow down to Adam, and they bowed down; not so Iblis; He refused to be of those (997) who bow down.

   Shape or form must be interpreted not only to refer to the physical form, which changes day by day, but also to the various forms or shapes which our ideal and spiritual existence may take from time to time according to our inner experiences; cf. 82:8. It was after Adam (as standing for all mankind) had been so taught that the angels were asked to bow down to him, for, by Allah’s grace, his status had actually been raised higher. Note the transition from ‘you’ (plural) in the first clause to ‘Adam’ in the second clause: Adam and mankind are synonymous: the plural is reverted to in 7:114, 16-18 (cf. 40:64). (R).

12. (Allah) said: “What prevented thee from bowing down when I commanded thee?” He said: “I am better than he: Thou didst create me from fire, and him from clay.” (998)

   Notice the subtle wiles of Iblis: his egotism in putting himself above men, and his falsehood in ignoring the fact that Allah had not merely made man’s body from clay, but had given him spiritual form—i.e., other words, had taught him the nature of things and raised him above the angels.

13. (Allah) said: “Get thee down from this (999) it is not for thee to be arrogant here: get out, for thou art of the meanest (of creatures).”

   This: the situation as it was then—a rebellious creature impertinent to His Creator. At every step Iblis falls lower: arrogance, jealousy, disobedience, egotism and untruth.

14. He said: “Give me respite till the day they are raised up.”

15. (Allah) said: “Be thou among those who have respite.” (1000)

   Are there others under respite? Yes, Iblis has a large army of wicked seducers, and those men who their dupes. For though degradation takes effect at once, its appearance may be long-delayed.

16. He said: “Because thou hast thrown me out (1001) of the way, lo! I will lie in wait for them on thy straight way.”

   *Allah has shown this to all men in the world: the material creation, nature, all that they possess, all that they have inherited from their fathers and from the men who preceded them. *
unto them: "Did I not forbid you that tree, and tell you the garden over their bodies. And their Lord called them, and they began to sew together the leaves of death; but from it shall ye be taken out (at last)." (1007)

souls: If thou forgive us not and bestow not upon us Lord only forbade you this tree, lest ye should become angels or such beings as live forever.

transgression."

Then began Satan(1005) to whisper suggestions to them, in order to reveal to them their shame(1006) that was hidden from them (before): he said: "Your Lord only forbade you this tree, lest ye should become angels or such beings as live forever."

The transition from the name "Iblis" to the name "Satan" is similar to that in 36:7 and 17:16.

First our parents as created by Allah (and this applies to all of us) were innocent in matters material as well as spiritual. They knew no evil. But the faculty of choice, which was given to them and which raised them above the angels, also implied that they had the capacity of evil, which by the training of their own will, they were to reject. They were warned of the danger. When they fell, they realised the evil. They were (and we are) still given the chance, in this life on a lower plane, to make good and recover the lost status of innocence and bliss.

And he swore to them both, that he was their sincere adviser.

So by deceit he brought about their fall: when they tasted of the tree, their shame became manifest to them, and they began to sew together the leaves of the garden over their bodies. And their Lord called unto them: "Did I not forbid you that tree, and tell you that Satan was an avowed enemy unto you?"

They said: "Our Lord! We have wronged our own souls: If thou forgive us not and bestow not upon us Thy Mercy, we shall certainly be lost."

((Allah)) said: "Get ye down. With enmity between yourselves. On earth will be your dwelling-place and your means of livelihood,—for a time."

He said: "Therein shall ye live, and therein shall ye die; but from it shall ye be taken out (at last)." (1007)

Cf. this whole passage about Adam with the passage in 2:30-39, and with other passages in subsequent Surahs. In places the words are precisely the same, and yet the whole argument is different. In each case it exactly fits the context. In S. 2, the argument was about the origin of man. Here the argument is a prelude to his history on earth, and so it continues logically in the next section to address the Children of Adam, and goes on afterwards with the story of the various prophets that came to guide mankind. Truth is one, but its apt presentation in human words shows a different facet in different contexts.

26. O ye Children of Adam! We have bestowed raiment(1008) upon you to cover your shame, as well as to be an adornment to you. But the raiment of righteousness,— that is the best. Such are among the Signs of Allah, that they may receive admonition!

There is a double philosophy of clothes here, to correspond with the double signification of verse 20 above, as explained in n. 1006. Spiritually, Allah created man "bare and alone" (6:90): the soul in its naked purity and beauty knew no shame because it knew no guilt; after it was touched by guilt and soiled by evil, its thoughts and deeds became its clothing and adornments, good or bad, honest or meretricious, according to the inner motives which gave them colour. So in the case of the body: it is pure and beautiful, as long as it is not defiled by misuse; its clothing and ornaments may be good or meretricious, according to the motives in the mind and character; if good, they are the symbols of purity and beauty; but the best clothing and ornament we could have comes from righteousness, which covers the nakedness of sin, and adorns us with virtues. (R).

27. O ye Children of Adam! Let not Satan seduce you, in the same manner as(1009) He got your parents out of the Garden, stripping them of their raiment, to expose their shame: for he and his tribe watch you from a position where ye cannot see them: We made the evil ones friends (only) to those without faith.

That is, by fraud and deceit: by putting you off your guard and telling lies. Adam's story here becomes an introduction to the later spiritual history of mankind: 7:20-22. In the Garden, Satan's deceit stripped off their raiment of honour and innocence. In this life, on a lower plane, he seeks to strip us of the raiment of righteousness. And he can take up positions on a vantage ground of worldly power or influence or riches, in which he and his confederates are not seen in their true colours. They may assume a fair-seeming disguise of disinterested friendship or high motives of patriotism or public spirit, or loyalty to ancestors, when beneath it there is nothing but spite and selfishness.

28. When they do aught that is shameful, they say: "We found our fathers doing so"; and "(Allah) commanded us thus": Say: "Nay, Allah never commands what is shameful: do ye say of Allah what ye know not?"

Say: "My Lord hath commanded justice; and that ye set your whole selves (to Him)(1010) at every time and place of prayer, and call upon Him, making your minds and hearts to profess its truth. When we return to Him, we shall be stripped of all pretence, even such self-deception as may satisfy us in this life (see also 2:85 and 31:32).

29. Some He hath guided: Others have (by their choice) deserved the loss of their way;(1012) in that they took the evil ones, in preference to Allah, for their friends and protectors, and think that they receive guidance.

Guidance is for all. But in some it takes effect; in others the doors are closed against it, because they have taken Evil for their friend. If they have lost their way, they have richly deserved it for they deliberately took their choice, even though, in their self-righteousness, they may think that their sin is their virtue, and that their Evil is their Good (Cf. 96:17 and 17:14).

31. O Children of Adam! wear your beautiful apparel(1013) at every time and place of prayer: eat and drink: But waste not by excess, for Allah loveth not the wasters.

32. Say: Who hath forbidden the beautiful (gifts) of Allah, (1014) which He hath produced for His servants, and the things, clean and pure, (which He hath provided for sustenance)? Say: They are, in the life of this world, for those who believe, and (purely)(1015) for them on the Day of Judgment. Thus do We explain the signs in detail for those who understand.

33. Say: the things that my Lord hath indeed forbidden are:(1016) shameful deeds, whether open or secret; sins and trespasses against truth or reason; assigning of partners to Allah, for which He hath given no portion(1018) appointed must reach them from the Book (of decrees): until, when our messengers (of death) arrive and take their souls, they say: "Where are the things that ye used to invoke besides Allah?" They will reply, "They have left us in the lurch," And they will bear witness against themselves, that they had rejected Allah.

34. To every people is a term(1017) appointed: when their term is reached, not an hour can they cause delay, nor (an hour) can they advance (it in their term of life). The earlier generations committed a double crime: (1) their own sins, (2) the bad example they set for those that followed. We are responsible not only for our own deeds, but for those which our example and our teaching to our juniors may induce them to commit. But it does not lie in the mouth of the juniors to ask for a double punishment for seniors: the motive is not justice, but pure spite, which is itself a sin. Further, the later generations have to answer for two things: (1) their own sins, and (2) their failure to learn from the past, from the experiences of those who preceded them. They should have an advantage in this respect, being "in the foremost files of Time," but they did not learn. Thus there was nothing to choose between the earlier and later generations in the matter of guilt. But how few people understand this! (Q. 6:1120, 25:69, 55:68, and 38:61).

35. O ye Children of Adam! whenever there come to you messengers from amongst you, rehearsing My signs unto you,- those who are righteous and mend (their lives),- on them shall be no fear nor shall they grieve.

36. But those who reject Our signs and treat them with arrogance,- they are companions of the Fire, to dwell therein (forever).(1017-A)

37. Who is more unjust than one who invents a lie against Allah or rejects His Signs? For such, their portion(1018) appointed must reach them from the Book (of decrees): until, when our messengers (of death) arrive and take their souls, they say: "Where are the things that ye used to invoke besides Allah?" They will reply, "They have left us in the lurch," And they will bear witness against themselves, that they had rejected Allah.

38. He will say: "Enter ye in the company of the peoples who passed away before you - men and jinns, - into the Fire." Every time a new people enters, it curses its sister-people (that went before), until they follow each other, all into the Fire. Saith the last about the first: "Our Lord! it is these that misled us: so give them a double penalty in the Fire." He will say: "Doubled(1019) for all": but this ye do not understand.

39. Then the first will say to the last: "See then! No advantage have ye over us; so taste ye of the penalty for all that ye did!" (1020)

40. To those who reject Our signs and treat them with arrogance, no opening will there be of the gates of heaven, nor will they enter the garden, until the camel can pass through the eye of the needle: Such is Our reward for those in sin.

41. For them there is Hell, as a couch (below) and folds of covering above: such is Our requital of the false things in which they put their trust, were false, and they will confess their sin, but it will be too late.

42. But those who believe and work righteousness,- no burden do We place on any soul, but that which it can bear,- they will be Companions of the Garden, therein to dwell (for ever).

43. And We shall remove from their hearts any lurking sense of injury;-(1021) beneath them will be rivers flowing;- and they shall say: "Praise be to Allah, who hath guided us to this ( Felicity): never could we have found guidance, had it not been for the guidance of Allah. indeed it was the truth, that the messengers of
48. The men on the heights will call to certain men whom they will know from their marks, saying: (1027) "Of what profit to you were your hoards and your arrogant ways?

This speech is in three parts: (1) the last lines of this verse are addressed to the Companions of the Fire, reminding them (as a bench of judges might speak to a prisoner) of the futility of their wealth and riches and arrogance in their earthly life; (2) the second part, in the first half of verse 49, recalls to their minds how false was their contempt of the good but lowly men who are now to be the inheritors of Heaven; and (3) the latter part of verse 49, "enter ye the Garden" is addressed to the Blessed, to give them a welcome to their state of felicity.

49. "Behold! are these not the men whom you swore that Allah with His Mercy would never bless? Enter ye the Garden: no fear shall be on you, nor shall ye grieve."

50. The Companions of the Fire will call to the Companions of the Garden: "Pour down to us water or anything that Allah doth provide for your sustenance."

They will say: "Both these things hath Allah forbidden to those who rejected Him." (1028)

51. "Such as took their religion to be mere amusement and play, and were deceived by the life of the world."

That day shall We forget them (1029) as they forgot the meeting of this day of theirs, and as they went to reject Our signs.

1028 The Companions of the Fire will thirst for water and not get it, and for sustenance which will not be theirs, while the Companions of the Garden will have the crystal waters of the springs and rivers and they will enjoy the bliss of Allah's Countenance, which will be their supreme nourishment and the fruit of their life of probation and seeking. These things will not be transferable. Cf. also 37:41-47, 37:44-47, 47:15, and 62:47-48.

52. For We had certainly sent unto them a Book, based on knowledge, which We explained in detail,—a guide and a mercy to all who believe.

53. Do they just wait for the final fulfilment (1030) of the event? On the day the event is finally fulfilled, those who disregarded it before will say: "The messengers of our Lord did indeed bring true (tidings). Have we no intercessors now to intercede on our behalf? Or could we be sent back? then should we behave differently from our behaviour in the past." In fact they will have lost their souls, and the things they invented will leave them in the lurch.

1030 If those without faith want to wait and see what happens in the Hereafter, they will indeed learn the truth, but it will be too late for them to profit by it then. All the false ideals and false gods which they put their trust upon will leave them in the lurch. If they thought that the goodness or greatness of others would help them, they will be undeceived on the day when their personal responsibility will be enforced. There will be no salvation except on their own record. How they will then wish that they had another chance! But their chance will be gone (Cf. 10:39 and 52:14).

54. Your Guardian-Lord is Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth (1031) in six days, and is firmly established on the throne (1032) (of authority): He draweth the night as a veil over the day, each seeking the other in rapid succession: He created the sun, the moon, and the stars, (all) governed by laws under His command. Is it not His to create and to govern?
Blessed be Allah, the Cherisher and Sustainer of the worlds!

1031 A sublime verse, comparable to the ‘Throne Verse, 2:255. The Creation in six Days is of course metaphorical. In 4:51, the ‘Days of Allah’ refer not so much to time as to the growth in us of a spiritual sense, a sense of sin and a sense of Allah’s Mercy. In 22:17, we are told that a Day in the sight of Allah is like a thousand years of our reckoning, and in 7:94, the comparison is with 50,000 of our years. In the history of our material earth, we may reckon six great epochs of evolution. The significance of the figure six will be discussed in connection with 4:11-12, where the matter is referred to in more detail.

1032 Here, we are told of the creation of the Heavens and the Earth in six days. But lest we should be obsessed with the Jewish idea that Allah rested on the seventh day, we are told that the Creation was but a prelude to Allah’s work; for His authority is exercised constantly by the laws which He establishes and enforces in all parts of His Creation. The beautiful imagery of night and day seeking out each other in rapid succession is still further enforced in the Arabic by the double accusative of the verbs yughshi, showing the mutual interactions of the day and the night, each covering the other in turn. The Heavenly bodies show an order which is evidence of His constancy and care and government. Not only that, but it is only He Who creates, maintains, and governs, and no one else. (R).

55. Call on your Lord with humility and in private:(1033) for Allah loveth not those who trespass beyond bounds.

1033 In prayer, we must avoid any arrogance or show or loudness, or vanity of requests or words. If excess is condemned in all things, it is specially worthy of condemnation when we go humbly before our Lord: we poor creatures before the Omnipotent, Whom knoweth all.

56. Do no mischief on the earth, after it hath been(1034) set in order, but call on Him with fear(1035) and longing (in your hearts): for the Mercy of Allah is (always) near to those who do good.

1034 The man who prays with humility and earnestness finds the ground prepared by Allah for His spiritual advancement. It is all set in order, and cleared of weeds. He does not, like the wicked, upset that order, to introduce evil or mischief into it.

1035 (J. 3:30-40). Fear and longing: the fear of Allah is really a fear lest we should diverge from His Will, or do anything which would not be pleasing to Him: unlike ordinary fear, it therefore brings us nearer to Allah, and in fact nourishes our longing and desire for Him.

57. It is He Who sendeth the winds like heralds of glad tidings, going before(1036) His mercy: when they have carried the heavy-laden clouds, We drive them to a land that is dead, make rain to descend thereon, and produce every kind of harvest therewith: thus shall We raise up the dead: perchance ye may remember.

1036 The Parable is complete in its triple significance. (1) In the physical world, the winds go like heralds of glad tidings; they are the advance guard, behind which is coming a great army of winds driving heavily laden clouds before it; the wise Providence of Allah is their General, who directs them towards a parched land, on which the clouds deliver their gladdening showers of mercy, which convert the dead land into a living, fertile, and beautiful land bearing a rich harvest. (2) In the spiritual world, the winds are the great motive forces in the mind of man, or in the world around him, that bring the clouds or instruments of Allah’s Mercy, which descend and fertilise soul hitherto spiritually dead. (3) If we can see or experience such things in our life here below, can we doubt the resurrection?

58. From the land that is clean and good, by the will of its Cherisher, springs up produce, (rich) after its kind:(1037) but from the land that is bad, springs up nothing but that which is niggardly: thus do we explain the signs by various (symbols) to those who are grateful.(1038)

1037 The triple parable explained in the last note is here continued. (1) In the physical world, the fertilising showers of rain yield a rich harvest on good soil, but bad soil yields little or nothing. (2) In the spiritual world, also, Allah’s Mercy evokes no response in some souls which have chosen evil. (3) In the final reckoning, though all will be raised, not all will achieve the fullness of their lives.

1038 Those who are grateful are those who joyfully receive Allah’s Message, and respond to it by deeds of holiness and righteousness.

59. We sent Noah to his people.(1039) He said: “O my people! worship Allah, ye have no other god but Him. I fear for you the punishment of a dreadful day!

1039 The story of Noah in greater detail will be found in 6:1-49. Here the scheme is to tell briefly the stories of some of the Prophets between Noah and Moses, and lead up thus to a lesson for the contemporaries of the Prophet Muhammad himself. When Noah attacked the wickedness of his generation, he was laughed at for a madman, for he mentioned the Great Day to come in the Hereafter, Allah’s retribution came soon afterwards: the great Flood, in which his unbelieving people were drowned, but he and those who believed in him and came into the Ark were saved.

60. The leaders of his people said: “Ah! we see thee evidently wandering (in mind).”

61. He said: “O my people! No wandering is there in my (mind): on the contrary I am a messenger from the Lord and Cherisher of the worlds!

62. “I but fulfil towards you the duties of my Lord’s mission: Sincere is my advice to you, and I know from Allah something that ye know not.

63. “Do ye wonder that there hath come to you a message from your Lord, through a man of your own people, to warn you,- so that ye may fear Allah and happily receive His Mercy?”

64. But they rejected him, and We delivered him, and those with him, in the Ark: but We overwhelmed in the flood those who rejected Our signs. They were indeed a blind people!

65. To the ‘Ad people,(1040) (We sent) Hud, one of their (own) brethren: He said: O my people! worship Allah. ye have no other god but Him will ye not fear (((Allah))?)

1040 The ‘Ad people, with their prophet Hud, are mentioned in many places. See especially 26:125-140, and 46:21-26. Their story belongs to Arabian tradition. Their eponymous ancestor ‘Ad was fourth in generation from Noah, having been a son of Aam, the son of Aram , the son of Sam, the son of Noah. They occupied a large tract of country in Southern Arabia, extending from ‘Uman at the mouth of the Persian Gulf to Hadramawt and Yemen at the southern end of the Red Sea. The people were tall in stature and were great builders. Probably the long, winding tracts of sands (ahqaf) in their dominions (46:21) were irrigated with canals. They forsok the true God, and oppressed their people. A three-year famine visited them, but yet they took no warning. At length a terrible blast of wind destroyed them and their land, but a remnant, known as the second ‘Ad or the Thamud (see below) were saved, and afterwards suffered a similar fate for their sins.

66. The tomb of the Prophet Hud (qabr Nabi Hud) is still traditionally shown in Hadramaut, latitude 15°N and longitude 49V£ °E, about 90 miles north of Mukalla. There are ruins and inscriptions in the neighbourhood. See Hadramum: Some of its Mysteries Unveiled, by D. van der Meulen and H. von Wissmann, Leyden , 1932. (R).

66. The leaders of the Unbelievers among his people said: “Ah! we see thou art an imbecile!” and “We think thou art a liar!”

67. He said: “O my people! I am no imbecile, but (I am) a messenger from the Lord and Cherisher of the worlds!

68. “I but fulfil towards you the duties of my Lord’s mission: I am to you a sincere and trustworthy adviser.

69. “Do ye wonder that there hath come to you a message from your Lord through a man of your own people, to warn you? call in remembrance that He made you inheritors after the people of Noah, and gave you a stature tall among the nations. Call in remembrance the benefits (ye have received) from Allah. that so ye may prosper.”

70. They said: “Comest thou to us, that we may worship Allah alone, and give up the cult of our fathers? bring us what thou threatenest us with, if so be that thou telllest the truth!”

71. He said: “Punishment and wrath have already come upon you from your Lord: dispute ye with me over names which ye(1042) have devised - ye and your fathers,- without authority from Allah. then wait: I am amongst you, also waiting.”

1041 The past tense may be understood in three ways. (1) A terrible famine had already afflicted the ’Ad as a warning before they were overwhelmed in the final blast of hot wind (see the last note). (2) The terrible insolence and sin into which they had fallen was itself a punishment. (3) The prophetic past is used, as much as to say: “Behold! I see a dreadful calamity; it is already on you”!

1042 Why dispute over names and imaginary gods, the inventions of your minds? Come to realities. If you ask for the punishment and are waiting in insolent defiance, what can I do but also wait?- in fear and trembling for you, for I know that Allah’s punishment is sure! (Cf. 53:23).

72. We saved him and those who adhered to him. By Our mercy, and We cut off the roots of those who rejected Our signs and did not believe.

73. To the Thamud people(1043) (We sent) Salih, one of their own brethren: He said: “O my people! worship Allah. ye have no other god but Him. Now hath come unto you a clear (Sign) from your Lord! This she-camel of Allah is a Sign unto you: So leave her to graze in your fathers’- without authority from Allah. then wait: I am amongst you, also waiting."

1043 The Thamud people were the successors to the culture and civilisation of the ’Ad people, for whom see n. 1040 and 765 above. They were cousins to the ’Ad, apparently a younger branch of the same race. Their story also belongs to Arabian tradition, according to which their eponymous ancestor Thamudd was a son of ‘Abir (a brother of Aram), the son of Sam, the son of Noah. Their seat was in the northwest corner of Arabia (Arabia Petraea), between Madman and Syria. It included both rocky country (jag), 1,500 ft., and the spacious fertile valley (Wadi) and plains country of Qura, which begins just north of the City of Madinah and was traversed by the Hijaz Railway. When the Prophet in the 5th year of the Hijrah led his expedition to Talib (about 400 miles north of Madinah) against the Roman forces, on a reported Roman invasion from Syria, he and his men came across the archaeological remains of Thamud. The recently excavated rocky city of Petra, near Ma’an, may go back to Thamud, though its architecture has many features connecting it with Egyptian and Graeco-Roman culture overlaying what is called by European writers Nabataean culture. Who were the Nabataeans? They were an old Arab tribe which played a considerable part in history after they came into conflict with Antigonus I in 312 B.C. Their capital was Petra, but they extended their territory right up to the Euphrates. In 57 B.C. they were lords of Damascus under their king Hadritha (Kretes of Roman history). For some time they were allies of the Roman Empire and held the Red Sea littoral. The Emperor Trajan reduced them and annexed their territory in A.C. 106. The Nabataeans succeeded Thamud of Arabian tradition. Thamud are mentioned by name in an inscription of the Assyrian King Sargon, dated 713 B.C., as a people of Eastern and Central Arabia (Eynkhipeda, of Isid). See also Appendix VII to S. 26.

With the advance of material civilisation, Thamud people became godless and arrogant, and were destroyed by an earthquake. Their prophet and warner was Salih, and the crisis in their history is connected with the story of a wonderful she-camel: see next note.

1044 The story of this wonderful she-camel, that was a sign Lo the Thamud, is variously told in tradition. We need not follow the various versions in the traditional story. What we are told in the Quran is: that 1) she was a Sign or Symbol, which the Prophet Salih, used for a warning to the haughty oppressors of the poor; (2) there was scarcity of water, and the arrogant or privileged classes tried to prevent the access of the poor or their cattle to the springs, while Salih intervened on their behalf (6:153, 24:28); (3) like water, pasture was considered a free gift of nature, in this spacious earth of Allah (7:73), but the arrogant ones tried to monopolise the pasture also; (4) this particular she-camel was made a test case (54:27) to see if the arrogant ones would come to reason; (5) the arrogant ones, instead of yielding to the reasonable rights of the people, humiliated the poor she-camel and slew her, probably secretly 91:14, 54:29; the cup of their iniquities was full, and the Thamud people were destroyed by a dreadful earthquake, which threw them prone on the ground and buried them with their houses and their fine buildings.

74. “And remember how He made you inheritors after the ’Ad people and gave you habitations in the land: ye build for yourselves palaces and castles in (open) plains, and carve outhomes in the mountains; so bring to remembrance the benefits (ye have received) from Allah, and refrain from evil and mischief on the earth.”

75. The leaders of the arrogant party among his people said to those who were reckoned powerless - those among them(1045) who believed: “know ye indeed that Salih is a messenger from his Lord?” They said: “We do indeed believe in the revelation(1046) which hath been sent through him.”

1044 As usually happens in such cases, the Believers were the lowly and the humble, and the oppressors were the arrogant, who in selfishly keeping back nature’s gifts (which are Allah’s gifts) from the people, were deaf to the dictates of justice and kindness. Salih took the side of the unprivileged, and was therefore himself attacked.

1046 Notice the relation between the question and the answer. The godless chiefs wanted to discredit Salih, and put a personal question, as much as to say, “Is he not a liar?” The Believers took back the issue to the higher plane, as much as to say, “We know he is a man of Allah, but look at the justice for which he is making a stand; to resist it is to resist Allah”. The answer of the godless was to reject Allah in words, and in action commit a further act of cruelty and injustice in hamstringing and killing the she-camel, at the same time hurling defiance at Salih and his God.

76. The Arrogant party said: “For our part, we reject what ye believe in.”

77. Then they ham-strung the she-camel, and insolently defied the order of their Lord, saying: “O Salih! bring about thy threats, if thou art a messenger (of Allah!)”

78. So the earthquake took them(1047) unwares, and they lay prostrate in their homes in the morning!

1047 The retribution was not long delayed. A terrible earthquake came and buried the people and destroyed their boastful civilisation. The calamity must have been fairly extensive in area and intense in the terror it inspired, as it is described (54:27) as a ‘single mighty blast’ (orsultatu tradalam), the sort of terror-inspiring noise which accompanies all big earthquakes.

79. So Salih left them,(1048) saying: “O my people! I did indeed convey to you the message for which I was sent by my Lord: I gave you good counsel, but ye love not good counsellors!”

1048 Salih was saved by Allah’s mercy as a just and righteous man. His speech here may be either a parting warning, or it may be a soliloquy lamenting the destruction of his people for their sin and folly.

80. We also (sent) Lut:(1049) He said to his people: “Do ye commit lewdness such as no people in creation (ever) committed before you?

1049 Lut is the Lot of the English Bible. His story is biblical, but freed from some shameful features which are a blot on the biblical narrative, (e.g., see Gen. 19:30-36 and n. 1573 to 11:78). He was a nephew of Abraham, and was sent as a Prophet and warner to the people of Sodom and Gomorrah, cities utterly destroyed for their unspeakable sins. They cannot be exactly located, but it may be supposed that they were somewhere in the plain east of the Dead Sea. The story of their destruction is told in the 19th chapter of Genesis. Two angels in the shape of handsome young men came to Lot in the evening and became his guests by night. The inhabitants of Sodom in their lust for unnatural crime invaded Lot’s house but were repulsed. In the morning, the angels warned Lot to escape with his family. "Then the Lord rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven; and He overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground. But his wife looked back from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt" (Gen. 19:24-26).

Note that Lot's people are the people to whom he is sent on a mission. He was not one of their brethren, as was Salih/Shu'ayb. But he looked upon his people as his brethren (6:13), as a man of God always does.

81. "For ye practise your lusts on men in preference to women: ye are indeed men who want to be clean and pure!" (1050)

1050 An instance of the withering sarcasm that hardened sinners use against the righteous. They abound with words, and follow up the insult with deeds of injustice, thinking that they would bring the righteous into disgrace. But Allah looks after His own, and in the end, the wicked are overthrown when the cup of their iniquity is full. (Cf. 29:29)

82. And his people gave no answer but this: they said, "Drive them out of your city: these are indeed men that will be best for you, if ye have Faith."

83. But we saved him and his family, except his wife: she was of those who lagged behind.(1051)

1051 In the biblical narrative she looks back, a physical act (see n. 1049): here she is a type of those who lag behind, i.e. whose mental and moral attitude, in spite of their association with the righteous, is back long to the glitter of wickedness and sin (Cf. 37:143). The righteous should have one sole objective, the Way of Allah. They should not look behind, nor yet to the right or the left.

84. And we rained down on them a shower (of brimstone):(1052) Then see what was the end of those who indulged in sin and crime!

1052 The shower is expressly stated in Q. 11:82 to have been of stones. In 15:73-74, we are told that there was a terrible blast or noise faṣyādī in addition to the shower of stones. Taking these passages into consideration along with Gen. 19:24 (seen, 1049 above), I think it is legitimate to translate: 'a shower of brimstone.'

85. To the Madyan people(1053) We sent Shu'ayb,(1054) one of their own brethren: he said: "O my people! worship Allah. Ye have no other god but Him. Now hath come unto you a clear (Sign) from your Lord! Give just measure and weight, nor withhold from the people the things that are due; and do no mischief on the earth after it has been set in order: that will be best for you, if ye have Faith.

1053 'Madyan' may be identified with 'Midian.' Midian and the Midianites are frequently mentioned in the Old Testament, though the particular incident here mentioned belongs to Arab rather than to Jewish tradition. The Midianites were of Arab race, though, as neighbours of the Canaanites, they probably intermixed with them. They were a wandering tribe; it was Midianite merchants to whom Joseph was sold into slavery, and who took him to Egypt. Their principal territory in the time of Moses was in the northeast of the Sinai Peninsula, and east of the Amalakites. Under Moses the Israelites waged a war of extermination against them: they slew the kings of Midian, slaughtered all the males, burnt their cities and castles, and captured their cattle (Num. 31:7-11). This sounds like total extermination. Yet a few generations afterwards, they were so powerful that the Israelites for their sins were delivered into the captivity of the Midianites for seven years; both the Midianites and their camels were without number and the Israelites had from them in 'dens . . . caves, and strongholds' (Judges 7:1-6). Gideon destroyed them again, (Judges 7:1-25), say about two centuries after Moses. As the decisive battle was near the hill of Moreh, not far south of Mount Tabor, we may localise the Midianites on this occasion in the northern part of the Jordan valley, at least 200 miles north of the Sinai Peninsula.

This and the previous destruction under Moses were local, and mention no town of Midian. In later times there was a town of Madain on the east side of the Gulf of 'Aqaba. It is mentioned in Josephus, Eusebius, and Ptolomy; (Encyclopedia of Islam). Then it disappears from geography. In Muslim times it was a revived town with quite a different kind of population, but it never flourished. The Midianites disappeared from history.

1054 Shu'ayb belongs to Arab rather than to Jewish tradition, to which he is unknown. His identification with Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, has no warrant, and I reject it. There is no similarity either in names or incidents, and there are chronological difficulties (see 1064 below). If, as the Commentators tell us, Shu'ayb was in the fourth generation from Abraham, being a great-grandson of Midian (a son of Abraham), he would be only about a century from the time of Abraham, whereas the Hebrew Bible would give us a period of four to six centuries between Abraham and Moses. The mere fact that Jethro was a Midianite and that another name, Jethro, is mentioned in the fifteenth chapter of the book of Exodus in Num. 10:29, is slender ground for identification. As the Midianites were mainly a nomad tribe, we need not be surprised that their destruction in one or two settlements did not affect their life in wandering sections of the tribe in other geographical regions. Shu'ayb's mission was apparently in one of the settled towns of this Midian, which was completely destroyed by an earthquake (7:91). If this happened in the century after Abraham, there is no difficulty in supposing that they were again a numerous tribe three or five centuries later, in the time of Moses (see last note). As they were a mixed wandering tribe, both their resilience and their eventual absorption can be easily understood. But the destruction of the settlement or settlements if the Wood or Ayka was a separate settlement, see n. 2000 to 15:78) to which Shu'ayb was sent to preach was complete, and no traces of it now remain.

The name of the highest mountain of Yemen, Nahi Shu'ayb (11,000 ft.) has probably no connection with the geographical territory of the nomad Midianites, unless we suppose that their wanderings extended far south from the territories mentioned in the last note.

86. "And squat not on every road, breathing threats, hindering from the path of Allah those who believe in Him, and seeking in it something crooked; But remember how ye were little, and He gave you increase. And hold in your minds what was the end of those who did mischief.(1055)

1055 The Midianites were in the path of a commercial highway of Asia, viz. that between two such opulent and highly organised nations as Egypt and the Mesopotamian group comprising Assyria and Babylonia. Their besetting sins are thus characterised here: (1) giving short measure or weight, whereas the strictest commercial probity is necessary for success, (2) a more general form of such fraud, depriving people of rightful dues, (3) producing mischief and disorder, whereas peace and order had been established (again in a literal as well as a metaphorical sense); (4) not content with upsetting settled life, taking to highway robbery, literally as well as in metaphorically, in two ways, viz., cutting off people from access to the worship of Allah, and abusing religion and piety for crooked purposes, i.e., exploiting religion itself for their crooked ends, as when a man builds houses of prayer out of unlawfully gained or ostentatiously gains charity out of money which he has obtained by force or fraud, etc. After setting out this catalogue of besetting sins Shu'ayb makes two appeals to the past: (1) You began as an insignificant tribe, and by Allah's favour you increased and multiplied in numbers and resources; do you not then owe a duty to Allah to fulfil His Law? (2) What was the result in the case of those who fell into sin? Will you not take warning by their example?

So Shu'ayb began his argument with faith in Allah as the source of all virtue, and ended it with destruction as the result of all sin. In the next verse he pleads with them to end their controversies and come to Allah.

87. "And if there is a party among you who believes in the message with which I have been sent, and a party which does not believe,(1056) hold yourselves in patience until Allah doth decide between us: for He is the best to decide.(1057)

1056 Midian is torn by internal conflict. Shu'ayb comes as a peacemaker, not in name of his own wisdom, but by an appeal to the truth, righteousness and justice of Allah. As we see later, the real motives of his opponents was selfishness, arrogance, violence, lawlessness, and injustice. But he appeals to their better nature, and is prepared to argue on the basis that the party which wants to suppress those who believe in Allah's Message and in righteousness, has some sincere mental difficulty in accepting Shu'ayb's mission. 'If he says to them, 'That is the case, do you think it justifies your intolerance, your violence, or your persecution? On the contrary, events will prove by themselves who is right and who is wrong.' To a small band who believe in his mission and follow his teaching, he would preach patience and perseverance. His argument to them would be: You have faith: surely your faith is strong enough to sustain you in the hope that Allah's truth will triumph in the end; there is no cause for despair or dejection.'

How exactly these past experiences fit the times of our Holy Guide Muhammad? And it is for that analogy and that lesson that the stories of Noah, Hud, Salih, Lot, and Shu'ayb are related to us all different, and yet all pointing to the great lessons in Muhammad's life.

1057 See the argument in the last note. Allah's decision may come partly in this very life, either for the same generation or for succeeding generations, by the logic of external events. But in any case it is bound to come spiritually on a higher plane. But in any case it is bound to come spiritually on a higher plane.
88. The leaders, the unruly party among his people, said: (1058) "O Shu’áib! we shall certainly drive thee out of our city - (thee) and those who believe with thee; or else ye (thou and they) shall have to return to our ways and religion." He said: "What! even though we do detest (them)?

1058 The gentle, all-persuasive arguments of Shu’áyb fell on hard hearts. Their only reply was: "Turn him out! - him and his people." When courtesy and a plea for toleration are pitted against bigotry, what room is there for logic? But bigotry and unrighteousness have their own crooked ways of pretending to be tolerant. "0 yes," they said, "We are very tolerant and long-suffering! But we are for our country and religion. Come back to the ways of our fathers, and we shall grudgingly forgive you!" "Ways of their fathers!" - they meant injustice and oppression, highhandedness to the poor and the weak, fraud under cover of religion, and so on! Perhaps they were the poor and the weak. We are not likely to love such ways! Perhaps there was implied a bribe as well as a threat. "If you come back and wink at our iniquities, you shall have scraps of prosperity thrown at you. If not, out you go in disgrace!"

89. "We should indeed invent (1059) a lie against Allah, if we returned to your ways after Allah hath rescued us therefrom; nor could we by any manner of means return thereto unless it be as in the will and plan of Allah, (1060) Our Lord. Our Lord can reach out to the utmost recesses of things by His knowledge. In the Allah is our trust. Our Lord! Decide thou (1061) between us and our people in truth, for Thou art the best to decide."

1059 The answer of the righteous is threefold. (1) "Coming back is all very well. But do you mean that we should practise the vices we detest?" (2) "You want us to lie against our consciences and our Lord, after we have seen the evil of your ways." (3) "Neither bribes nor threats, nor specious appeals to patriotism or ancestral religion can move us: the matter rests with Allah, Whose will and pleasure we depend on, and Whose decisions will, therefore, be free from the errors and imperfections of abstract or speculative things never end even where both sides are sincere in their beliefs. The decision must be taken to Allah, Who sits on the throne of Truth, and Whose decisions will, therefore, be free from the errors and imperfections of all human judgement. The sincere have nothing to fear in the appeal to Him, as their motives are pure.

1060 This of course, does not mean that anyone can ever return to evil ways with Allah's consent. Shu’áyb has already emphatically repudiated the idea of returning to your ways after Allah hath rescued us therefrom." But even if their ways had been good, the human will, he goes on to say, has no data to rely upon, and he and his followers would only be guided by Allah's Will and Plan.

1061 Having answered the insincere quibblers among the godless, the righteous turn to Allah in earnest prayer. The endless controversies in this world about abstract or speculative things never end even where both sides are sincere in their beliefs. The decision must be taken to Allah, Who sits on the throne of Truth, and Whose decisions will, therefore, be free from the errors and imperfections of all human judgement. The sincere have nothing to fear in the appeal to Him, as their motives are pure.

90. The leaders, the unbelievers among his people, said: "If ye follow Shu’áib, be sure then ye are ruined!" (1062)

1062 The answer of the Unbelievers is characteristic. As all their bribes and subterfuges have failed, they resort to threats, which are worse than the argument of the stick. "All right, they say, 'there is nothing but ruin before you!' That means that the Believers will be persecuted, held up to obloquy, ostracised, and prevented from access to all means of honorable livelihood; their families and dependants will be insulted, reviled, and tortured, if they could but be got into the enemy's power; their homes destroyed, and their names held up to ridicule and contempt even when they are gone. But, as verse 92 says, their wicked designs recoil on themselves: it was the wicked who were ruined and blotted out.

91. But the earthquake took them unawares, and they lay prostrate in their homes before the morning! (1063)

1063 The fate of the Madyan people is described in the same terms as that of the Thamúl in verse 78 above. An earthquake seized them by night, and they were buried in their own homes, no longer to vex Allah's earth. But a supplementary detail is mentioned in Q. 26:189, "the punishment of a day of overshadowing gloom," which may be understood to mean a shower of ashes and cinders accompanying a volcanic eruption. Thus a day of terror drove them into their homes, and the earthquake finished them. The lament of Shu’áib in verse 93 is almost the same as that of Salih in verse 79, with two differences: (1) Shu’áib’s messages attacked the many sins of his people (see n. 1055) and are, therefore, expressed in the plural, while Salih’s fight was chiefly against selfish arrogance, and his message is expressed in the singular; (2) the Thamúl were the more cultured people of the two, and impoverished in their own pride; as Salih said, 'ye love not good counsels!'; the Madyanites were a rougher people, and their minds were less receptive of argument or faith; as Shu’áyb said, they were a people who "refused to believe."

92. The men who reject Shu’áib became as if they had never been in the homes where they had flourished: the men who rejected Shu’áib - it was they who were ruined!

93. So Shu’áib left them, saying: "O my people! I did indeed convey to you the messages for which I was sent by my Lord: I gave you good counsel, but how shall I lament over a people who refuse to believe!" (1064)

1064 Can we get any idea of the chronological place of the destruction of the Madyanites? In n. 1065 (7:85) we have discussed the geographical aspects. The following considerations will help us in getting some idea of their period: (1) The stories of Noah, Hud, Salih, Lut, and Shu’áib seem to be in chronological order. Therefore Shu’áib came after Abraham, whose nephew Lut was; (2) If Shu’áib was in the fourth generation from Abraham, (see 11:89, n. 1390), it would be impossible for him to have been a contemporary of Moses, who came many centuries later - this difficulty is recognised by Bn Kathir and other classical commentators; (3) The identification of Shu’áib with Jethro the father-in-law of Moses is without warrant; see n. 1054 (7:85); (4) Shu’áib must have been before Moses; see 7:103; (5) The Madyanites who were destroyed by Moses and by Gideon after him (n. 1053) were local remnants, as we may speak of the Jews at the present day; but their existence as a nation in their original homelands seems to have ended before Moses; they became as if they had never been in the homes where they had flourished (7:92); (6) Josephus, Eusebius, and Ptolemy mention a town of Madyan, but it was not of any importance (n. 1053); (7) After the first centuries of the Christian era, Madyan as a town appears as an unimportant place resting on its past.

Whenever We sent a prophet to a town, We took up its people in suffering and adversity, in order that they might learn humility. (1065) 1065 Man was originally created pure. The need of a Prophet arises when there is some corruption and impiety, which he is sent to combat. His coming means much trial and suffering, especially to those who join him in his protest against evil. But does it? The answer of the Unbelievers is characteristic. A s all their bribes and subterfuges have failed, they resort to threats, which are worse than the argument of the stick. "All right, they say, 'there is nothing but ruin before you!' That means that the Believers will be persecuted, held up to obloquy, ostracised, and prevented from access to all means of honorable livelihood; their families and dependants will be insulted, reviled, and tortured, if they could but be got into the enemy's power; their homes destroyed, and their names held up to ridicule and contempt even when they are gone. But, as verse 92 says, their wicked designs recoil on themselves: it was the wicked who were ruined and blotted out.

Thus We have sent after the Unbelievers after them good guidance, and We are notiling humanity (1066) '" Behold! We called them to account of their misdeeds. Allah's goodness enough rope to the sinful. They grow and multiply, and become fearful. Neither suffering nor adversity teaches them the lessons which they are meant to learn, viz., patience and humility, gratitude and kindness to others. They take adversity and prosperity alike as a matter of chance. "O yes!" they say, 'Such things have happened in all ages! Our fathers had such experience before us, and our sons will have them after us. Thus goes on the world for all time!' But does it? What about the Plan of the Architect? They are found napping when Nemesis overtakes them in the midst of their impious tomfoolery?

Then We changed their suffering into prosperity, until they grew (1066) and multiplied, and began to say: "Our fathers (too) were touched by suffering and affluence" ... Behold! We called them to account of a sudden, while they realised not (their peril).

Allah gives enough rope to the sinful. They grow and multiply, and become fearful. Neither suffering nor adversity teaches them the lessons which they are meant to learn, viz., patience and humility, gratitude and kindness to others. They take adversity and prosperity alike as a matter of chance. "O yes!" they say, 'Such things have happened in all ages! Our fathers had such experience before us, and our sons will have them after us. Thus goes on the world for all time!' But does it? What about the Plan of the Architect? They are found napping when Nemesis overtakes them in the midst of their impious tomfoolery?

If the people of the towns had but believed and feared Allah, We should indeed have opened to them (All kinds of) blessings from heaven and earth; but they rejected (the truth), and We brought them to book for their misdeeds.

Did the people of the towns feel secure against the coming (1067) of Our wrath by night while they were asleep?

1067 This and the two following verses should be read together. They furnish a commentary on the story of the five Prophets that has already been related. Allah's wrath may come by night or by day, whether people are arrogantly defying Allah's laws or are sunk in lethargy or vain dreams of unreality. Who can escape Allah's laws, and who can feel themselves outside it except those who are seeking their own ruin? "

98. Or else did they feel secure against its coming in broad daylight while they played about (care-free)?

99. Did they then feel secure against the plan of Allah,—but no one can feel secure from the Plan of Allah, except those (doomed) to ruin!(1068)

100. To those who inherit the earth in succession to its (previous) possessors, is it not a guiding, (lesson) that, if We so willed, We could punish them (too) for their sins, and seal up their hearts so that they could not hear?(1069)

101. Such were the towns whose story We (thus) relate unto thee: There came indeed to them their messengers with clear (signs): But they would not believe what they had rejected before.(1070) Thus doth Allah seal up the hearts of those who reject faith.

102. Most of them We found not men (true) to their covenant: but most of them We found rebellious and disobedient.

103. Then after them We sent Moses with Our signs to Pharaoh and his chiefs, but they wrongfully rejected them: So see what was the end of those who made mischief.

104. Moses(1071) said: "O Pharaoh!(1072) I am a messenger from the Lord of the worlds,—

105. One for whom it is right to say nothing but truth about Allah. Now have I come unto you (people), from(1073) your Lord, with a clear (Sign): So let the Children of Israel depart along with me."

106. (Pharaoh) said: "If indeed thou hast come with a Sign, show it forth,- if thou tellst the truth."(1074)

107. The ensuing dialogue shows the psychology on the two sides. Pharaoh is sitting in his court, with his ministers and chiefs around him. In their arrogance they are only amused at the effrontery and apparent revolt of the Israelite leaders, and they rely upon their own superior worldly power, aided by the magic which was a part of the Egyptian religion. Confronting them stand two men, Moses with his mission from Allah, and his brother Aaron who was his lieutenant. They are confident, not in their own powers, but in the mission they had received. The first thing they have to do is to act on the subjective mind of the Egyptians, and by methods which by Allah's miracle show that Egyptian magic was nothing but the true power of Allah.

108. And he drew out his hand, and behold! it was white, plain for all to see!(1075)

109. Said the Chiefs of the people of Pharaoh: "This is indeed a sorcerer well-versed.

110. "His plan is to get you out of your land: then what is it ye counsel?"(1077) to fear for their own power and possessions. It was far from Moses's intention to drive out the Egyptians from their own land. He merely wanted to end the Egyptian oppression. But the Egyptians had a guilty conscience, and they judged other people's motives by their own. They discussed the matter in council on quite wrong premises.

111. They said: "Keep him and his brother in suspense (for a while); and send to the cities men to collect-

112. And bring up to thee all (our) sorcerers well-versed."(1078)

1078 The advice of the Council to Pharaoh shows a misreading of the situation. They were in a panic about what the magic of this evidently powerful sorcerer could do against them. So they advised the Pharaoh to summon their most powerful sorcerers from all over the country, and in the meantime to hold Moses and Aaron in suspense — neither to yield to them nor definitely to oppose them. The People of Allah could well afford to wait. Time is always in favor of Truth.

113. So there came the sorcerers to Pharaoh: They said, "of course we shall have a (suitable) reward if we win!"(1079)

1079 The most noted sorcerers of Pharaoh came. Their art was built up on trickery and imposture, and the first thing they could think of was to make a selfish bargain for themselves. The Pharaohs and his Council would, in their present state of panic, agree to anything. And so they did. Pharaoh not only promised them any rewards they desired if they foiled the strange power of these men, but he also promised them the highest dignities round his own person. And so the contest begins, with this observance of the amenities observed by combatants before they come to close grips.

114. He said: "Yea, (and more),- for ye shall in that case be (raised to posts) nearest (to my person)."

115. They said: "O Moses! wilt thou throw (first), or shall we have the (first) throw?"

116. Said Moses: "Throw ye (first)." So when they threw, they bewitched the eyes of the people, and struck terror into them: for they showed a great (feat of) magic.(1080)

1080 Moses and his brother Aaron were pitted against the most skillful magic-men of Egypt, but they were calm and confident and let the magic-men have their innings first. As is usual in this world, the magicians trickery made a great impression on the people, but when Moses threw his rod, the illusion was broken, and the falsehood was all shown up. In the Old Testament story (Exod. 7:10-12) it was Aaron that threw the rod, and he threw it before the magicians. Aaron's rod became a serpent. Then the magicians threw their rods, and they became serpents, but Aaron's rod swallowed up their rods. The story given to us is more dramatic and less literal. We are told in general terms that Moses first allowed the magic-men to play their tricks. The rod of Moses was the symbol of his authority. It must have been a simple shepherd's crook with which he used to feed his flocks. With Allah's grace behind him, he was able to expose all false trickery and establish the Truth.

117. We put it into Moses¿s mind by inspiration: "Throw (now) thy rod"—and behold! it swallows up straight away all the falsehoods which they fake!

118. Thus truth was confirmed, and all that they did was made of no effect.

119. So the (great ones) were vanquished there and then, and were made to look small.(1081)

1081 The proud ones of the Court - Pharaoh and his chiefs - were hard-hearted, and the exposure of the imposture only made them swear their rage on those whom they could reach. On the other hand the effect on the humbler ones - those who had been made the dupes and instruments of the imposture - was quite different. Their conscience was awakened. They fell down to the ground in adoration of the Lord of the Worlds, and confessed their faith.

120. But the sorcerers fell down prostrate in adoration.

121. Saying: "We believe in the Lord of the Worlds,-

122. "The Lord of Moses and Aaron."

123. Said Pharaoh: "Believe ye in Him before I give you permission? Surely this is a trick which ye have planned in the city to drive out its people: but soon shall ye know (The consequences).(1082)

1082 Pharaoh and his Court were doubly angry: first because they were made to look small when confronted by the power of Allah, and secondly, because their dupes and instruments were snatched away from them. These men, the sorcerers, at once recognised the Signs of Allah, and in their case the mission of Moses and Aaron was fulfilled. They turned back on their past life of imposture, make-believe, false worship, and oppression of the weak, and confessed the One true God. As usually happens, hardened sinners resist all the more the saving of any of their companions from sin and error. Judging other people's motives by their own, they accuse them of duplicity, and if they have the power, they take cruel revenge. Here the Pharaoh threatens the repentant sinners with the extreme punishments for treason and apostasy (cutting off of hands and feet, combined with an ignominious death on the cross, as, in the case of the worst malefactors). But they remained firm, and prayed to Allah for patience and constancy. Probably their influence spread quietly in the commonality. Ultimately it appeared on the Throne itself, in the person of Amenophis IV about five or six generations afterwards. See Appendix V, on Egyptian Religion, printed at the end of this Surah.

124. "Be sure I will cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and I will cause you all to die on the cross."

125. They said: "For us, We are but sent back unto our Lord:

126. "But thou dost wreak thy vengeance on us simply because we believed in the Signs of our Lord when they reached us! Our Lord! pour out on us patience and constancy, and take our souls unto thee as Muslims (who bow to Thy Will)!"(1083)

1083 These Egyptians, by their patience and constancy, show that their repentance was true. Thus in their case the mission of Moses was fulfilled directly, and their number must have amounted to a considerable figure. They were martyrs to their faith, and their martyrdom affected their nation in two ways. In the first place, as they were the pick of those who practised the false superstition in Egypt, their conversion and disappearance dealt a staggering blow to the whole system. Secondly, the indirect effect of their martyrdom on the commonality of Egypt must have been far greater than can be measured by numbers. The banner of Allah was planted, and the silent spiritual light must have gone on ever since, though history, in recording outward events, is silent on the slow and gradual processes of transformation undergone by Egyptian religion, from a chaotic pantheon of animals and animal gods, the worship of the sun and the heavenly bodies, and the worship of the Pharaoh as the embodiment of power, they gradually came to realise the oneness and mercy of the true God. After many glimpses of Monotheism on Egyptian soil itself, the Gospel of Jesus reached them, and eventually Islam.

127. Said the chiefs of Pharaoh´s people: "Wilt thou leave Moses and his people, to spread mischief in the land, and to abandon thee and thy gods?" He said: "Their male children will we slay; (only) their females will we save alive: and we have over them (power) irresistible."(1084)

1084 Pharaoh's order against the sorcerers was drastic enough. But his Council is not satisfied. What about Moses and the Israelites? They had a stunning victory, and will now be more miscible than ever. They appeal to Pharaoh's vanity and his superstition and sense of power. "If you leave them alone," they say, "where will be your authority? You and your gods will be defied!" Pharaoh has a ready answer. He was really in awe of the apparent power of Moses. He dared not openly act against him. But he had already, before the birth of Moses, passed a cunning order to destroy the whole people of Israel. Through the instrumentality of misdubs (Exod. 1:15), all the male children were to be destroyed, and the females would then be for the Egyptians: the race of Israel would thus be at an end. This order was still in force, and would remain in force until the despised race was absorbed. But Egyptian cunning and wickedness had no power against Allah's Plan for those who had faith. See verse 129.
128. Said Moses to his people: "Pray for help from Allah, and (wait) in patience and constancy: for the earth is Allah's, to give as a heritage to such of His servants as He pleareth; and the end is (best) for the righteous. (1085)

1085 Notice the contrast between the arrogant tone of Pharaoh and the humility and faith taught by Moses. In the end the arrogance was humbled, and humility and faith were protected and advanced.

129. They said: "We have had (nothing but) trouble, both before and after thou camest (1086) to us." He said: "It may be that your Lord will destroy your enemy and make you inheritors (1087) in the earth; that so He may try you by your deeds."

1086 There is a slight note of querulousness in the people's answer. But Moses allays it by his own example and courage, and his vision of the future: which was amply fulfilled in time. See verse 137.

1087 The Israelites, despised and enslaved, were to be rescued and made rulers in Palestine. David and Solomon were great kings and played a notable part in history. But the greatness of Israel was conditional; they were to be judged by their deeds. When they fell from grace, other people were given honour and power. And so it came to be the turn of the Arab race, and so on. Allah gives His gifts to those who are righteous and obey His Law.

130. We punished the people of Pharaoh with years (of drought) and shortness of crops; that they might receive admonition.

131. But when good (times) came, they said, "This is due to us." When gripped by calamity, they ascribed it to evil omens connected with Moses and those with him! Behold! in truth the omens of evil are theirs (1088) in Allah's sight, but most of them do not understand!

1088 Their superstition ascribed the punishment of their own wickedness to some evil omen. They thought Moses and his people brought them ill-luck. They did not look within themselves to see the root of evil, and the cause of their punishment! So it happens in all ages. People blame the righteous for something which they do, different from other men, instead of searching out their own lapses from rectitude, which are punished by Allah. (cf. 3:61:18-19).

132. They said (to Moses): "Whatever be the Signs thou bringest, to work therewith thy sorcery on us, (1089) we shall never believe in thee.

1089 A type of obstinacy and resistance to Allah's message. As they believed in sorcery and magic, they thought anything unusual was but sorcery and magic, and hardened their hearts against Truth.

133. So We sent (plagues) on them: Wholesale Death, (1090) Locusts, Lice, Frogs, And Blood: Signs openly (1091) self-explained: but they were steeped in arrogance, a people given to sin.

1090 Tīdār - a widespread calamity, causing wholesale death and destruction. It may be a flood, or a typhoon, or an epidemic, among men or cattle. Perhaps the last is meant, if we may interpret by the Old Testament story. See also Exodus 9:3, 9, 13; 12:29.

1091 In 17:101, the reference is to nine Clear Signs. These are: (1) the Rod (7:107), (2) the Radiant Hand (7:108), (3) the years of drought or shortage of water (7:130), (4) short crops (7:130), and the five mentioned in this verse, viz., (5) epidemics among men and beasts, (6) locusts, (7) lice, (8) frogs, and (9) the water turning to blood.

134. Every time the penalty fell on them, they said: "O Moses! on your behalf call on thy Lord in virtue of his promise to thee: If thou wilt remove the penalty from us, we shall truly believe in thee, and we shall send away the Children of Israel with thee." (1092)

1092 The demand of Moses was twofold: (1) come to Allah and cease from oppression, and (2) let me take Israel out of Egypt. At first it was laughed at and rejected with scorn. When the Plagues came for punishment, each time the Egyptians suffered, they promised amendment and begged Moses to intercede and cause the plague to cease. But every time it ceased, they went back to their evil attitude, until the final retribution came. This is a type of the sinner's attitude for all times.

135. But every time We removed the penalty from them according to a fixed term which they had to fulfill,- (1093) Behold! they broke their word!

1093 The intercession of Moses was limited to prayer. Each plague or penalty had its appointed term in Allah's decree. That term was duly fulfilled before the plague ceased. Allah's law is firm: it does not vacillate like the human will. The intercession only meant two things: (1) that Allah's name was invoked and His presence duly brought home to the mind and heart of the sinner who promised repentance, and (2) that the sinner was given a further chance if the prayer was accepted. This again is a universal truth.

136. So We exacted retribution from them: We drowned them (1094) in the sea, because they rejected Our Signs and failed to take warning from them. (1095)

1094 When first Israel left Egypt, they selected, not the highway to Canaan, along the Mediterranean and by Gaza, because they were unarmed and would have encountered immediate opposition there, but by way of the wilderness of Sinai. They crossed the Red Sea, while Pharaoh's host which came in pursuit was drowned. Cf. 2:59. (R).

1095 Where was the Council of Pharaoh held in which Moses addressed Pharaoh? Egypt's principal capital in the XVIIIth Dynasty was Thebes (= No-Anum, but that was more than 400 miles to the south of the Delta, in whose corner Israel dwelt. Memphis, on the apex of the Delta, a little south of where Cairo is now, was also over 100 miles from Israel's habitations. The interview must have been either in a Palace near Goshen, where the Israelites dwelt, or in Zoan (= Tanis), the Deltaic capital built by a former dynasty, which was of course still available for the reigning dynasty, and which was not far from the Israelite settlement.

137. And We made a people, considered weak (and of no account), inheritors of lands in both east and west, - lands whereon We sent down Our blessings. The fair promise of thy Lord was fulfilled for the Children of Israel, because they had patience and constancy, and We levelled to the ground the great works and fine buildings which Pharaoh and his people erected (with such pride). (1096)

1096 Israel, which was despised, became a great and glorious nation under Solomon. He had good territory, and was double-bliss. His land and people were prosperous, and he was blessed with wisdom from Allah. His sway and his fame spread east and west. And thus Allah's promise to Israel was fulfilled. Note that Syria and Palestine had once been under the sway of Egypt. At the same time the proud and rebellious Pharaoh and his people were brought low. The splendid monuments which they had erected with so much skill and pride were mingled with the dust Their great cities, Thebes (or No-Anum), Memphis (or No-Amon), Memphis, sacred to the Bull of Osiris, and the other splendid cities, became as if they had not existed, and archaeologists have had to dig up their ruins from the sands. Even monuments like the Great Sphinx, which seem to defy the ages, were partly buried in the sands, and owe their rescue to the comparatively recent researches of archaeologists. As late as 1743 Richard Pococke in his Travels in Egypt (p. 41), remarked: "Most of those pyramids are very much ruined." (R).

138. We took the Children of Israel (with safety) across the sea. They came upon a people devoted entirely to some idols (1097) they had. They said: "O Moses! fashion for us a god like unto the gods they have." He said: "Surely ye are a people without knowledge.

1097 Who were these people? We are now in the Sinai Peninsula. Two conjectures are possible: (1) The Aramelekeites of the Sinai Peninsula were at perpetual war with the Israelites. They were probably an idolatrous nation, but we have very little knowledge of their cult. (2) From Egyptian history we know that Egypt had worked from very ancient times some copper mines in Sinai. An Egyptian settlement may have been here. Like all mining camps it contained from the beginning the dregs of the population. When the mines ceased to be worked, the settlement, or what remained of it, must have degenerated further. Cut off from civilisation, its cult must have become still narrower, without the refining influences which a progressive nation applies even to its idolatry. Perhaps Apis, the sacred bull of Memphis, lost all its allegorical meaning for them, and only gross and superstitious rites remained among them. The text speaks of "some idols they had," implying that the Muslims found a fragment of a complete religion. This was a state in the path of the Israelites, whom many generations of slaves in Egypt had debased into ignorance and superstition.

139. "As to these folk,- the cult they are in (is but) a fragment of a ruin,(1098) and vain is the (worship) which they practise."

1098 If conjecture 2 in the last note is correct, this idolatrous worship was but the fragment of a ruin from Egypt, and Moses' reproach is biting: "You, who have been rescued from the bondage of living Egypt, do you hanker after the bondage of a dead cult debased even from that from which you have been rescued?"

Matalom-broken in pieces, smashed into fragments, destroyed.

140. He said: "Shall I seek for you a god other than the (true) Allah, when it is Allah Who hath endowed you with gifts above the nations?"

141. And remember We rescued you from Pharaoh's people, who afflicted you with the worst of penalties, who slew your male children and saved alive your females: in that was a momentous trial from your Lord.(1099)

1099 This is Allah's reminder to Israel through the mouth of Moses. There was a double trial: (1) while the bondage lasted, the people were to learn patience and constancy in the midst of affliction; (2) when they were rescued, they were to learn humility, justice, and righteous deeds of prosperity.

142. We appointed for Moses thirty nights, and completed (the period) with ten (more): thus was completed the term of communion (for worship) with his Lord,(1100) forty nights. And Moses had charged his brother Aaron (before he went up): "Act for me amongst my people: Do right, and follow not the way of those who do mischief."

1100 The forty nights' communion of Moses with Allah on the Mount may be compared with the forty-day fast of Jesus in the wilderness before he took up his ministry (Matt. 4:2), and with the forty years of Al Mustafa's preparation in life before he took up his Ministry. In each case the Prophets lived alone apart from their people, before they came into the full blaze of the events of their Ministry.

1101 When for any reason the man of God is absent from his people, his duty of leadership (ibtidai fi) should be taken up by his brother - not necessarily a blood-brother, but one of his society or brotherhood. The deputy should discharge it in all humility, remembering three things: (1) that he is only a deputy, and bound to follow the directions of his Principal; (2) that right and justice are the essence of prophecy, and (3) that mischief gets its best claim to existence in the absence of the Principal, and that the deputy should always guard against the traps laid for him in the Principal's absence.

143. When Moses came to the place appointed by Us, and his Lord addressed him, He said: "O my Lord! show (Thyself) to me, that I may look upon Thee."(1102) Moses said: "By no means canst thou see Me! But look upon the mount; if it abide in its place, then shalt thou see Me."(1103) When his Lord manifested His glory on the Mount, He made it as dust. And Moses fell down in a swoon. When he recovered his senses he said: "Glory be to Thee! to Thee I turn in repentance, and I am the first to believe."(1104)

1102 The Tablets of the Law contained the essential spiritual Truth, from which were derived the positive injunctions and prohibitions, explanations and interpretations, which it was the function of the prophetic office to hold up for the people to follow. The precepts would contain, as in the Shari 'ah, matters absolutely prohibited, matters not prohibited but disproved, matters about which there was no prohibition or injunction, but in which conduct was to be regulated by circumstances; matters of positive and universal duty, matters recommended for those whose zeal was sufficient to enable them to work on higher than minimum standards, and matters which were sought by persons of the highest spiritual eminence. No soul is burdened beyond its capacity; but we are asked to seek the best and highest possible for us in conduct.

1103 Notice the transition from the "We" of authority and honour and imperial dignity, to the 'I' of personal concern in specially guiding the righteous, (cf. 2:289).

1104 There are two meanings, one literal and the other figurative. Literally, the "homes of the wicked," both individuals and nations, lie desolate, as in the case of the ancient Egyptians, the 'Ad, and the Thamud. Figuratively, the "home" shows the inner and more intimate condition of people. If you are dazzled by the outward prosperity of the ungodly, examine their inner anguish and fear and insecurity, and you will thank Allah for His gracious guidance.

1105 The Tablets of the Law contained the essential spiritual Truth, from which were derived the positive injunctions and prohibitions, explanations and interpretations, which it was the function of the prophetic office to hold up for the people to follow. The precepts would contain, as in the Shari 'ah, matters absolutely prohibited, matters not prohibited but disproved, matters about which there was no prohibition or injunction, but in which conduct was to be regulated by circumstances; matters of positive and universal duty, matters recommended for those whose zeal was sufficient to enable them to work on higher than minimum standards, and matters which were sought by persons of the highest spiritual eminence. No soul is burdened beyond its capacity; but we are asked to seek the best and highest possible for us in conduct.

1106 Notice the transition from the "We" of authority and honour and imperial dignity, to the 'I' of personal concern in specially guiding the righteous, (cf. 2:289).

1107 When for any reason the man of God is absent from his people, his duty of leadership (ibtidai fi) should be taken up by his brother - not necessarily a blood-brother, but one of his society or brotherhood. The deputy should discharge it in all humility, remembering three things: (1) that he is only a deputy, and bound to follow the directions of his Principal; (2) that right and justice are the essence of prophecy, and (3) that mischief gets its best claim to existence in the absence of the Principal, and that the deputy should always guard against the traps laid for him in the Principal's absence.

1108 When for any reason the man of God is absent from his people, his duty of leadership (ibtidai fi) should be taken up by his brother - not necessarily a blood-brother, but one of his society or brotherhood. The deputy should discharge it in all humility, remembering three things: (1) that he is only a deputy, and bound to follow the directions of his Principal; (2) that right and justice are the essence of prophecy, and (3) that mischief gets its best claim to existence in the absence of the Principal, and that the deputy should always guard against the traps laid for him in the Principal's absence.

1109 Even the best of us may be betrayed into overweening confidence or spiritual ambition not yet justified by the stage we have reached. Moses had already seen part of the glory of Allah in his Radiant White Hand, that shone with the glory of Divine light (7:108, n. 1076). But he was still in the flesh, and the mission to his people was to begin after the Covenant of Sinai. It was premature of him to ask to see Allah.

1110 But Allah-the Cherisher of all His creatures-treats even our improper requests with mercy, compassion, and understanding. Even the reflected glory of Allah is too great for the grosser substance of matter. The peak on which it shone became as powder before the ineffable glory, and Moses could only live by being taken out of his bodily senses. When he recovered from his swoon, he saw the true position, and the distance between our grosser bodily senses and the true splendour of Allah's glory. He at once turned in penitence to Allah, and confessed his fault. Having been blinded by the excess of glory, he could not see with the physical eye. But he could get a glimpse of the reality through faith, and he hastened to proclaim his faith, (cf. 39:21). (R).

1111 Rejected Our Signs: again a return to the Plural of impersonal Dignity and Authority, from the singular of personal concern in granting grace and guidance to the righteous.

144. (Allah) said: "O Moses! I have chosen thee above (other) men,(1105) by the mission I have given thee and the words I have spoken to thee); take then the (revelation) which I give thee, and be of those who give thanks."(1106)

1104 'First to believe': Cf. the expression 'first of those who bow to Allah in Islam' in 6:14 and 6:163. 'First' means here not the first in time, but most zealous in faith. It has the intensive and not the comparative meaning.

1105 'Above (other) men': i.e. among his contemporaries. He had a high mission, and he had the honour of speaking to Allah.

1106 Allah's revelation is for the benefit of His creatures, who should receive it with reverence and gratitude. While Moses was having these great spiritual experiences on the Mount, his people below were ungrateful enough to forget Allah and make a golden call for worship (7:148).

145. And We ordained laws for him in the tablets in all matters, both commanding and explaining all things, (and said): "Take and hold these with firmness, and enjoin thy people to hold fast by the best in the precepts:(1107) soon shall I show you(1108) the homes of the wicked,-(1109) (How they lie desolate)."

1107 The Tablets of the Law contained the essential spiritual Truth, from which were derived the positive injunctions and prohibitions, explanations and interpretations, which it was the function of the prophetic office to hold up for the people to follow. The precepts would contain, as in the Shari 'ah, matters absolutely prohibited, matters not prohibited but disproved, matters about which there was no prohibition or injunction, but in which conduct was to be regulated by circumstances; matters of positive and universal duty, matters recommended for those whose zeal was sufficient to enable them to work on higher than minimum standards, and matters which were sought by persons of the highest spiritual eminence. No soul is burdened beyond its capacity; but we are asked to seek the best and highest possible for us in conduct.

146. Those who behave arrogantly on the earth in defiance of right - them will I turn away from My signs:(1110) Even if they see all the signs, they will not believe in them; and if they see the way of right conduct, they will not adopt it as the way; but if they see the way of error, that is the way they will adopt. For they have rejected(1111) our signs, and failed to take warning from them.

1110 The argument may be simplified thus in paraphrase. The right is established on the earth as Allah created it: Nature recognises and obeys Allah's law as fixed for each portion of Creation. But man, because of the gift of Will, sometimes upsets this balance. The root-cause is his arrogance, as it was in the case of B'd's. Allah's Signs are everywhere, but if they are rejected with scorn and blasphemy, Allah will withdraw His grace, for sin hardens the heart and makes it impervious to the truth. Want of faith produces a kind of blindness to spiritual facts, a kind of deafness to the warnings of a Day of Account. If we had continuously rejected faith, can we hope for anything but justice-the just punishment of our sins? (R).

1111 Rejected Our Signs: again a return to the Plural of impersonal Dignity and Authority, from the singular of personal concern in granting grace and guidance to the righteous.

147. Those who reject Our signs and the meeting in the Hereafter,- vain are their deeds: Can they expect to be rewarded except as they have wrought?
The making of the golden calf and its worship by the Israelites during the absence of Moses on the Mount were referred to in 2:51 and some further details are given in 20:83-97. Notice how in each case only those points are referred to which are necessary to the argument in hand. A narrator whose object is mere narration, tells the story in all its details, and is done with it. A consummate artist, whose object is to enforce lessons, brings out each point in its proper place. Master of all details, he does not ramble, but with supreme literary skills, just adds the touch that is necessary in each place to complete the spiritual picture. His object is not a story but a lesson. Here notice the contrast between the intense spiritual communion of Moses on the Mount and the simultaneous corruption of his people in his absence. We can understand his righteous indignation and bitter grief (7:158). The people had melted all their gold ornaments, and made the image of a calf like the bull of Osiris in the city of Memphis in the wicked Egypt that they had turned their backs upon.

Image of a Calf: Jasad is literally a body, especially the body of a man according to Khalil quoted by al Raghib. In 21:8 it is used obviously for the human body, as also in 38:34; but in the latter case, the idea of an image, without any real life or soul, is also suggested. In the present passage I understand many suggestions: (1) that it was a mere image, without life; (2) as such, it could not low, therefore the appearance of lowing, mentioned immediately afterwards, was a fraud; (3) unlike its prototype, the bull of Osiris, it had not even the symbolism of Osiris behind it; the Osiris myth, in the living religion of Egypt, had at least some ethical principles behind it.

The lowing of the golden calf was obviously a deception practised by the Egyptian promoters of the cult. Lytton in his "Last Days of Pompeii" exposes the deception practised by the priests of Isis. Men hidden behind images imposed on the credulity of the commonalty.

When they repented, and saw that they had erred, they said: "If our Lord have not mercy upon us and forgive us, we shall indeed be of those who perish."

When Moses came back to his people, angry and grieved, he said: "Evil it is that ye have done in my place in my absence: did ye(1115) make haste to bring on the judgment of your Lord?" He put down the Tablets, (1116) seized his brother by the (hair of) his head, and dragged him(1117) to him. Aaron said: "Son of my mother! the people did indeed reckon me as naught, and went near to slaying me! Make not the head of the people lighter in thy heart, nor count thou me amongst the people of sin." (1118)

Did ye make haste . . . ? "In your impatience, could you not wait for me? Your lapse into idolatry has only hastened Allah's wrath. If you had only waited, I was bringing to you in the Tablets the most excellent teaching in the commands of Allah. There is subtle irony in the speech of Moses. There is also a play upon words: jābdūn = to make haste: no translation can bring out these nuances.

Put down the Tablets: we are not told that the Tablets were broken; in fact 7:144 (below) shows that they were whole. They contained Allah's Message. There is a touch of disrespect (if not blasphemy) in supposing that Allah's Messenger broke the Tablets in his incontinent rage, as is stated in the Old Testament: 'Moses's anger waxed hot, and he cast the tablets out of his hands, and brake them beneath the Mount; (Exod. 32:19). On this point and also on the point that Aaron (in the Old Testament story) ordered the gold to be brought, made a molten calf, fashioned it with a graving tool, and built an altar before the calf, (Exod. 32:2-3), our version differs from that of the Old Testament. We cannot believe that Aaron, who was appointed by Allah to assist Moses as Allah's Messenger, could descend so low as to seduce the people into idolatry, whatever his human weaknesses might be.

Moses was but human. Remembering the charge he had given to Aaron (7:142) he had a just grievance at the turn events had taken. But he did not wreak his vengeance on the Tablets of Allah's Law by breaking them. He laid hands on his brother, and his brother at once explained, (CE 20:34).

Aaron's speech is full of tenderness and regret. He addresses Moses as 'son of my mother', an affectionate term. He explains how the turbulent people nearly killed him for resisting them. And he states in the clearest terms that the idolatry neither originated with him nor had his consent. In 20:85 we are told that a fellow described as the San'ār had led them astray. We shall discuss this when we come to that passage.

Moses prayed: "O my Lord! forgive me and my brother!(1119) admit us to Thy mercy! for Thou art the Most Merciful of those who show mercy!"

As Moses was convinced that his brother was guiltless, his wrath was turned to gentleness. He prayed for forgiveness for himself and his brother: for himself because of his wrath and for his brother because he had been unable to suppress idolatry among his people. And like a true leader that he is, he identifies himself with his lieutenant for all that has happened. Even more, he identifies himself with his whole people in his prayer in verse 155 below. Herein, again, is a type of what the Holy Prophet Muḥammad did for his people.

Those who took the calf (for worship) will indeed be overwhelmed with wrath from their Lord, and with shame in this life:(1120) thus do We recompense those who invent (falsehoods).

The consequences were twofold: (1) spiritual, in that Allah's grace is withheld, and (2) even in the present life of this world, in that godly men also shun the sinner's company, and he is isolated.

But those who do wrong but repent thereafter and (truly) believe,- verily thy Lord is thereafter Off-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

When the anger of Moses was appeased, he took up the tablets: in the writing thereon was guidance and Mercy for such as fear their Lord.

And Moses chose seventy(1121) of his people for Our place of meeting: when they were seized with violent quaking,(1122) he prayed: "O my Lord! if it had been Thy will Thou couldst have destroyed, long before, both them and me: wouldst Thou destroy us for the deeds of the foolish ones among us? This is no more than(1123) Thy trial: by it Thou causest whom Thou wilt to stray,(1124) and Thou leadest whom Thou wilt into the right path. Thou art our Protector: so forgive us and give us Thy mercy; for Thou art the best of those who forgive.

Seventy of the elders were taken up to the Mount, but left at some distance from the place where Allah spoke to Moses. They were to be silent witnesses, but their faith was not yet complete, and they dared to say to Moses: 'We shall never believe in thee until we see Allah in public' (2:55). They were dazed with thunder and lightning, and might have been destroyed but for Allah's mercy on the intercession of Moses.

Rajfah: violent quaking, earthquake. I take it to refer to the same event as is described by the word ḫaṣā'il in 2:255, the thunder and lightning that shook the mountainside.

Moses was guiltless, but he identifies himself with his whole people, and intercedes with Allah on their behalf. He recognises that it was a trial, in which some of his people failed to stand the test. Such failure was worthy of punishment. But he pleads for mercy for such as erred from weakness and not from contumacy, and were truly repentant, although all who erred were in their several degrees worthy of punishment.

 Cf. 2:26.

And ordain for us that which is good, in this life and in the Hereafter: for we have turned unto Thee. He said: "With My punishment I visit whom I will; but My mercy extendeth(1125) to all things. That (mercy) I shall ordain for those who do right, and practise regular charity, and those who believe in Our signs:- (1126)

Allah's mercy is in and for all things. All nature subserves a common purpose, which is for the good of all His creatures. Our faculties and our understandings are all instances of His grace and mercy. Each unit or factor among His creatures benefits from the others and receives them as Allah's mercy
157. "Those who follow the messenger, the unlettered Prophet, whom they find mentioned in their own (scriptures),—(1127) in the law and the Gospel,—for he commands them what is just and forbids them what is evil; he allows them as lawful what is good (and pure) and prohibits them from what is bad (and impure); he releases them from their heavy burdens and from the yokes(1128) that are upon them. So it is those who believe in him, honour him, help him, and follow the light which is sent down with him,—(1129) it is they who will prosper."(1130)

1196 The personal grace and mercy—and their opposite—are referred to the singular pronom 'T, while the impersonal diath 'Iman, which Allah's Signs operate in His universe, is referred to the plural pronouns of authority and dignity, "We".

158. day: "O men! I am sent(1131) unto you all, as the Messenger of Allah, to Whom belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth: there is no god but He: it is He That giveth both life and death. So believe in Allah and His Messenger, the Unlettered Prophet,(1132) who believeth in Allah and His words: follow him that (so) ye may be guided."

1197 In this verse is a prefiguring, to Moses, of the Arabian Messenger, the last and greatest of the Messengers of Allah. Prophecies about him will be found in the Tawrah and the Injil. In the reflex of the Tawrah as now accepted by the Jews, Moses says: 'The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me' (Deut. 18:15); the only Prophet who brought a Shari'ah like that of Moses was Muhammad al Mustafa, and he came of the house of Isma'il, the brother of Isaac, the father of Israel. In the reflex of the Gospel as now accepted by the Christians, Christ promised another Comforter,(1 John 14:16): the Greek word Parakletos which the Christians interpret as referring to the Holy Spirit is by our Doctors taken to be Periclyte, which would be the Greek form of 'Ahmad. See 6:16 and n. 416 to 381.

1132 "Unlettered," as applied to the Prophet here and inverse 157 above, has three special significations. (1) He was not versed in human learning; yet he was full of the highest wisdom, and had a most wonderful knowledge of the previous Scriptures. This was a proof of his inspiration. It was a miracle of the highest kind, a 'Sign,' which everyone could test then, and everyone can test now. (2) All organised human knowledge tends to be crystallised, to acquire a partial bias or 'Sign,' which everyone could test then, and everyone can test now. (2) All organised human knowledge tends to be crystallised, to acquire a partial bias or "school" of thought. The highest Teacher had to be free from any such taint, just as a clean slate is necessary if a perfectly clear and bold message has to be written on it. (3) It is said of any Personal Law, by which Allah's Signs operate in the Pagan Arabs, because, before the advent of Islam, they were unlearned. That the last and greatest of the Prophets should arise among them, and they and their language be made the vehicle of the new, full and universal light, has also a meaning, which is explained in C. 12:16.

159. Of the people of Moses there is a section who guide and do justice in the light of truth.

160. We divided them into twelve tribes(1133) or nations. We directed Moses by inspiration, when his (thirsty) people asked him for water: "Strike the rock with thy staff": out of it there gushed forth twelve springs: Each group knew its own place for water. We gave them the shade of clouds, and sent down to them manna and quails, (saying): "Eat of the good things We have provided for you": (but they rebelled); To Us they did no harm, but they harmed their own souls.(1134)

1133 We now come to some incidents in Jewish history, which have been referred to in 2:27-40: Here they have special reference to their hearing on the times when early Islam was preached. The Twelve Tribes and the parable drawn from them have been explained in n. 73 to 2:60.

1134 Cf. 2:37 and n. 71, and 20:81.

161. And remember it was said to them: "Dwell in this town and eat(1135) therein as ye wish, but say the word of humility and enter the gate in a posture of humility: We shall forgive you your faults; We shall increase (the portion of) those who do good." (1136)

1135 As in 7:19, we may construe 'eat' here to mean not only eating literally, but enjoying the good things of life.

162. But the transgressors among them changed the word from that which had been given them so we on them a plague from heaven. For that they repeatedly transgressed.(1136)

1136 Cf. 2:38-39, and n. 72. The story is here told by way of parable for the times of Islam. Hence we have a few verbal changes: e.g., 'dwell in this town' instead of 'enter this town,' etc.

163. Ask them concerning the town standing close by the sea. Behold! they transgressed in the matter of the Sabbath.(1137) For on the day of their Sabbath their fish did come to them, openly holding up their heads, but on the day they had no Sabbath, they came not: thus did We make a trial of them, for they were given to transgression.

1137 Cf. 2:65 and n. 79. Fishing, like every other activity, was prohibited to Israel on the Sabbath day. As this practice was usually observed, the fish used to come up with a sense of security to their water channels or pools openly on the Sabbath day, but not on other days when fishing was open. This was a great temptation to the law-breakers, which they could not resist. Some of their men of piety protested, but it had no effect. When their transgressions, which we may suppose, extended to other commandments, passed beyond bounds, the punishment came. (R).

164. When some of them said: "Why do ye preach to a people whom Allah will destroy or visit with a terrible punishment?"—(1138) said the preachers: To discharge our duty to your Lord, and perchance they may fear Him."

1138 There are always people who wonder, no doubt since rely, what good it is to preach to the wicked. The answer is given to them here: (1) every man who sees evil must speak out against it; it is his duty and responsibility to Allah; (2) there is always a chance that the warning may have effect and save a precious soul. This passage has a special meaning for the times when our Holy Prophet was preaching in Makkah, apparently without results. But it applies to all times.

165. When they disregarded the warnings that had been given them, We rescued those who forbade Evil; but We visited the wrong-doers with a grievous punishment because they were given to transgression.
166. When in their insolence they transgressed (all) prohibitions, We said to them: "Be ye apes, despised and rejected." (1139)

1139 Cf. 2:65, n. 79

167. Behold! thy Lord did declare (1140) that He would send against them, to the Day of Judgment, those who would afflict them with grievous penalty. Thy Lord is quick in retribution, but He is also Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

1140 See Deut. 1:28; "A curse if ye will not obey the commandments of the Lord your God but turn aside out of the way I command you this day"; also Deut. 28:49; "The Lord shall bring a nation against thee from afar, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand"; and many other passages.

168. We broke them up into sections on this earth. (1141) There are among them some that are the righteous, and some that are the opposite. We have tried them with both prosperity and adversity: In order that they might turn (to us).

1141 The dispersal of the Jews is a great fact in the world's history. Neither has their persecution ended yet, nor is it likely to end as far as we can foresee.

169. After them succeeded an (evil) generation: They inherited the Book, but they chose (for themselves) (1142) the vanities of this world, saying (for excuse): "(Everything) will be forgiven us." (Even so), if similar vanities came their way, they would (again) seize them. Was not the covenant (1143) of the Book taken from them, that they would not ascribe to Allah anything but the truth? and they study what is in the Book. But best for the righteous is the home in the Hereafter. Will ye not understand?

1142 Merely inheriting a Book, or doing lip service to it, does not make a nation righteous. If they succumb to the temptations of the world, their hypocrisy becomes all the more glaring. "High finance" is one of these temptations. Cf. also 28:20; 'the Fire shall not touch us except for a few numbered days"; and 2:88, about their blasphemous self-sufficiency.

1143 Cf. Exod. 19:5-8; 24:3; 39:27; and many other passages.

170. As to those who hold fast by the Book and establish regular prayer,- never shall We suffer the reward of the righteous to perish.

171. When We shook the Mount over them, as if it had been a canopy, and they thought it was going to fall on them (We said): "Hold firmly (1144) to what We have given you, and bring (ever) to remembrance what is therein; (1145) perchance ye may fear Allah."

1144 Cf. 2:63 and n. 78, 293, and 3:7.

1145 Therein - in the Book or Revelation, in "what We have given you."

172. When thy Lord drew forth (1146) from the Children of Adam - from their loins - their descendants, and made them testify concerning themselves, (saying): "Am I not your Lord (who cherishes and sustains you)?" - They said: "Yea! We do testify!" (1147) (This), lest ye should say on the Day of Judgment: "Of this we were never mindful"

1146 This passage has led to differences of opinion in interpretation. According to the dominant opinion of commentators each individual in the posterity of Adam had a separate existence from the time of Adam, and a Covenant was taken from all of them, which is binding accordingly on each individual. The words in the text refer to the descendants of the Children of Adam, i.e., to all humanity, born or unborn, without any limit of time. Adam's seed carries on the existence of Adam and succeeds to his spiritual heritage. Humanity has been given by Allah certain powers and faculties, whose possession creates on our side special spiritual obligations which we must faithfully discharge: see 5:1, and n. 682. These obligations may from a legal point of view be considered as arising from implied Covenants. In the preceding verse (7:171), a reference was made to the implied Covenant of the Jewish nation. Now we consider the implied Covenant of the whole of humanity, for the Holy Prophet's mission was worldwide. (R).

1147 The Covenant is completed in this way. We acknowledge that Allah is our Creator, Cherisher, and Sustainer: therefore we acknowledge our duty to Him: when we so testify concerning ourselves, the obligation is, as it were, assumed by us; for it follows from our very nature when it is pure and uncorrupted.

173. Or lest ye should say: "Our fathers before us may have taken false gods, but we are (their) descendants after them: wilt Thou then destroy us because of the deeds of men who were futile?" (1148)

1148 The latent faculties in man are enough to teach him the distinction between good and evil, to warn him of the dangers that beset his life. But to awaken and stimulate them, a personal appeal is made to each individual through the "still small voice" within him. This, in its uncorrupted state, acknowledges the truth and, as it were, swears its Covenant with Allah. There is, therefore, no excuse for any individual to say, either (1) that he was unmindful, or (2) that he should not be punished for the sins of his fathers, because his punishment (if any) comes from his personal responsibility and is for his own rejection of faith and the higher spiritual influences. (R).

174. Thus do We explain the signs in detail; and perchance they may turn (unto Us).

175. Relate to them the story (1149) of the man to whom We sent Our signs, but he passed them by: so Satan followed him up, and he went astray.

1149 Commentators differ whether this story or parable refers to a particular individual, and if so, to whom. The story of Balaam, the seer, who was called out by Israel's enemies to curse Israel, but who blessed Israel instead. (Num. 22, 23, 24) is quite different. It is better to take the parable in general sense. These are men, of talents and position, to whom great opportunities of spiritual insight come, but they perversely pass them by. Satan sees his opportunity and catches them up. Instead of rising higher in the spiritual world, their selfish and worldly desires and ambitions pull them down, and they are lost.

176. If it had been Our will, We should have elevated him with Our signs; but he inclined to the earth, and followed his own vain desires. (1150) His similitude is that of a dog: if you attack him, he lolls out his tongue, (1151) or if you leave him alone, he (still) lolls out his tongue. That is the similitude of those who reject Our signs; So relate the story; perchance they may reflect.

1150 Notice the contrast between the exalted spiritual honours which they would have received from Allah if they had followed His Will, and the earthly desires which eventually bring them low to the position of beasts and worse.

1151 The dog, especially in the hot weather, lolls out his tongue, whether he is attacked and pursued and is tired, or is left alone. It is part of his nature to slobber. So with the man who rejects Allah. Whether he is warned or left alone, he continues to throw out his dirty saliva. The injury he will do will be to his own soul. But there may be infection in his evil example. So we must protect others. And we must never give up hope of his own amendment. So we must continue to warn him and make him think.

177. Evil as an example are people who reject Our signs and wrong their own souls.

178. Whom Allah doth guide,- he is on the right path: whom He rejects from His guidance,- such are the persons who perish. (1152)

1152 Those who reject Allah will be deprived of Allah's grace and guidance. His Mercy is always open for sincere repentance. But with each step downwards, they come, but they perversely pass them by. Satan sees his opportunity and catches them up. Instead of rising higher in the spiritual world, their selfish and worldly desires and ambitions pull them down, and they are lost.
they hear not. They are like cattle—nay more misguided: for they are heedless (of warning).

1158 Cf. 2:18. Though they have apparently all the faculties of reason and perception, they have so deadened them that those faculties do not work, and they go headlong into Hell. They are, as it were, made for Hell.

180. The Most Beautiful Names(1154) belong to Allah. so call on him by them; but shun such men as use profanity in his names: for what they do, they will soon be requited.

1159 As we contemplate Allah's nature, we can use the most beautiful names we can think of, to express His attributes. There are ninety-nine of such attributes. In the opening Surah, we have these indicated in a few comprehensive words, such as al-Rahim (most Gracious), al-Rahim (most Merciful), Rabb i’al-‘alamin ( Cherisher and Sustainer of the worlds). Our bringing such names to remembrance is part of our Prayer and Puissance. But we must not associate with people who use Allah's names profanely, or so as to suggest anything derogatory to His dignity or His unity. Cf. 17:110.

181. Of those We have created are people who direct (others) with truth. And dispense justice therewith.

182. Those who reject Our signs, We shall gradually visit with punishment, in ways they perceive not;(1154-A) 1154A See also 68:44 and n. 5026.

183. Respite will I grant unto them: for My scheme is strong (and unfailing).

184. Do they not reflect? Their companion is not seized(1155) with madness: he is but a perspicacious warner.(1156)

1155 Their companion, i.e., the Holy Prophet, who lived with and amongst them. He was accused of madness because he behaved differently from them. He had no selfish ambitions: he was always true, in thought, words, and deed: he was kind and considerate to the weak, and was not dazzled by worldly power or wealth or position: he was undeterred by fear of the strong, the mockery of the cynics, the bitterness of the evil, or the indifference of the heedless. That is why he stood out boldly against wrong: he did not mince his words, and his warnings were not unnoticed. When she grows heavy, they both made his mate of like nature,(1162) in order that he 1156 Mubin: perspicuous. The reason why I have not used a simpler word, such as "plain" or "clear" is explained in n. 716 to 5:15. Al-Mustafa's sermons were not polite reminders, with an eye to the flattness of weaknesses in high places or national vanities or crowd passions. They brought out every foible into the glare of light, by a fiery eloquence fed by inspiration from Allah. Cf. 38:79.

185. Do they see nothing in the government of the heavens and the earth and all that Allah hath created?(1157) (Do they not see) that it may well be that their terms is nigh drawing to an end? In what message after this will they then believe?

1157 An appeal to Allah's most wonderful universe should at once convince a thinking mind of man's nothingness, and Allah's power, glory, and goodness. Man's term here is fleeting. If he is not warned by the great Signs, and the Messages which call his attention to them, is he capable of any faith at all?

186. To such as Allah rejects from His guidance, there can be no guide: He will leave them in their trespasses, wandering in distraction.(1158)

1158 Cf. 2:15. If Allah's light is removed, the best of them can only wander hither and thither, like blind men, in distraction (see also 10:111).

187. They ask thee about the (final) Hour - when will be its appointed time? Say: "The knowledge thereof is with Allah (alone), but most men know not."

1159 The fact of its coming is a certainty; the exact time appointed for it is not revealed by Allah. If it were it would be so momentous as to disturb our thoughts and life. It would be a heavy burden to us. Our duty is to be prepared for it at all times. It will come when we least expect it. In the present Gospels, Jesus says the same thing: he does not know the Hour, but it will come suddenly. "But of that day and that Hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father. Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is." (Mark. 13:32-33). (Cf. 35:63).

1160 Hādīy is usually construed to mean: 'eagerly or anxiously in search of; the preposition following here is 'an - concerning, about. Some commentators (including al-Raghib al-Asbahānī) understand it in this passage to mean 'well-acquainted.' In 19:47, with the preposition b following it, it signifies 'well-disposed to,' 'favourable to, good to, kind to.'

188. Say: "I have no power over any good or harm to myself except as Allah willeth. If I had knowledge of the unseen, I should have multiplied all good, and no evil should have touched me: I am but a warner, and a bringer of glad tidings to those who have faith."(1161)

1161 A warner to all, and a bringer of glad tidings to those who have faith, because they will profit by the glad tidings. As everyone is invited to faith, the glad tidings are offered to all, but they are not necessarily accepted by all.

189. It is He Who created you from a single person, and made his mate of like nature,(1162) in order that he might dwell with her (in love). When they are united, she bears a light burden and carries it about (unnoticed). When she grows heavy, they both pray(1163) to Allah their Lord, (saying): "If Thou givest us a goodly child,(1164) we vow we shall (ever) be grateful."

1160 Cf. 4:1. and n. 504, where the construction is explained, (see also 16:72).

1163 The mystery of the physical birth of man, as it affects the father and the mother, only touches the imagination of the parents in the later stages when the child is yet unborn and yet the life stirs within the body of the expectant mother. The coming of the new life is a solemn thing, and is fraught with much hope as well as much unknown risk to the mother herself. The parents in their anxiety turn to Allah. If this feeling of solemnity, hope, and looking towards Allah were maintained after birth, all would be well for the parents as well as for the rising generation. But the attitude changes, as the verses following show.

1164 Goody: sadh: includes the following ideas: sound in body and mind; healthy; righteous: of good moral disposition.

190. But when He giveth them a goodly child, they ascribe to others a share in the gift they have received: but Allah is exalted high above the partners they ascribe(1165) to Him.

1165 When the child is born, the parents forget that it is a precious gift of Allah—a miracle of Creation, which should lift their minds up to the higher things of Allah. Instead, their gradual familiarity with the new life makes them connect it with many superstitious ideas or rites and ceremonies, or they take it as a matter of course, as a little plaything of the material world. This leads to idolatry or false worship, or the setting up of false standards, in derogation of the dignity of Allah.

191. Do they indeed ascribe to Him as partners things that can create nothing, but are themselves created?

192. No aid can they give them, nor can they aid themselves!

193. If ye call them to guidance, they will not obey: For you it is the same whether ye call them or ye hold your peace!(1166)

1166 When false worship takes root, the teacher of Truth finds much to do. The mystery of the physical birth of man, as it affects the father and the mother, only touches the imagination of the parents in the later stages when the child is yet unborn and yet the life stirs within the body of the expectant mother. The coming of the new life is a solemn thing, and is fraught with much hope as well as much unknown risk to the mother herself. The parents in their anxiety turn to Allah. If this feeling of solemnity, hope, and looking towards Allah were maintained after birth, all would be well for the parents as well as for the rising generation. But the attitude changes, as the verses following show.
Verily those whom ye call upon besides Allah are servants like unto you:(1167) Call upon them, and let them listen to your prayer, if ye are (indeed) truthful!

1167 False gods, whether idols or deified men, or ideas and superstitions, have no existence of their own, independent of Allah's creation. They are Allah's creatures, and like servants are subject to His authority. Deified men are not real men, but false ideas of men. They cannot help themselves; how can they help others?

Have they feet to walk with? Or hands to lay hold with? Or eyes to see with? Or ears to hear with? Say: "Call your 'god-partners', (1168) scheme (your worst) against me, and give me no respite!

1168 Here is a test and a challenge. If the false gods had any power or even existence, collect them all together, and, says the Prophet of Allah, 'Let them do their worst against me.' They cannot; because the whole thing is based on a superstition and a chimera, (cf. 11:55).

For my Protector is Allah, Who revealed the Book (from time to time), and He will choose and befrend the righteous.

"But those ye call upon besides Him, are unable to help you, and indeed to help themselves."

If thou callest them to guidance, they hear not. Thou wilt see them looking at thee, but they see not.(1169)

1169 The beauty and righteousness of al Mustafa's life were acknowledged on all hands, until he received the mission to preach and to fight against evil. What happened then? Evil erected barricades for itself. It had eyes, but it refused to see. It had ears, but it refused to hear. It had intelligence, but it blocked up its channels of understanding. Even now, after fourteen centuries, a life of unexampled purity, probity, justice, and righteousness is seen in false lights by blind detractors!

Hold to forgiveness; command what is right; But turn away from the ignorant.(1170) 1170 Allah comforts the Prophet and directs his mind to three precepts: (1) to forgive injuries, insults, and persecutions; (2) to continue to declare the faith that was in him, and not only to declare it, but to act up to it in all his dealings with friends and foes; (3) to pay no attention to ignorant fools, who raised doubts or difficulties, hurled taunts or reproaches, or devised plots to defeat the truth: they were to be ignored and passed by, not to be engaged in lights and fruitless controversies, or conciliated by compromises.

If a suggestion from Satan assail thy (mind), (1171) seek refuge with Allah. for He heareth and knoweth (all things).

1171 Even a Prophet of Allah is but human. He might think that revenge or retaliation, or a little tactful silence when evil stalks abroad, or some compromise with ignorance, might be best for the cause. He is to reject such suggestions.

201. Those who fear Allah, when a thought of evil from Satan assaults them, bring Allah to remembrance, when lo! they see (aright)!(1172)

1172 Allah protects His own, as no one else can. He is the sure refuge and the only one-for men of faith. If we are confused or angry, being blinded by this world, He will open our eyes.

202. But their brethren (the evil ones) (1173) plunge them deeper into error, and never relax (their efforts).

1173 We go back to consider the ungodly, whom we left at verse 198, in order to be taught our behaviour towards evil. The forces of evil never relax their efforts to draw their 'brethren' (those who go into their family) deeper and deeper into the mire of sin and destruction.

203. If thou bring them not a revelation,(1174) they say: "Why hast thou not got it together?" Say: "I but follow what is revealed to me from my Lord: this is (nothing but) lights from your Lord,(1175) and Guidance, and mercy, for any who have faith."

1174 'Ayah' here, I think, means specially an Ayah of the Holy Qur'an. The infidels did not believe in revelation, and used to taunt the Holy Prophet, as much as to say that he used to put together words and promulgate them as revelation. The answer is contained in the sentence that follows. No human composition could contain the beauty, power, and spiritual insight of the Qur'an. Without inspiration it is impossible to suppose that a man, with or without literary and philosophic training could produce such a book as the Qur'an.

1175 'Lights': eyes, faculty of spiritual insight. The revelation is for us (1) spiritual eyes, (2) guidance, and (3) mercy. (1) is the highest in degree: just as a blind man, if he is given eyes and the faculty of sight, is at once removed into an entirely new world, so those who can reach the stage of spiritual insight pass into and become citizens of a wholly new spiritual World. (2) is next in degree: the man of the world can act up to the teaching about right conduct and prepare for the Hereafter. (3) is the Mercy of Allah, free to every one, saint and sinner, who sincerely believes and puts his trust in Allah.

204. When the Qur´an is read, listen to it with attention, and hold your peace: that ye may receive Mercy.

205. And do thou (O reader!) Bring thy Lord to remembrance in thy (very) soul, with humility and in reverence, without loudness in words, in the mornings and evenings; and be not thou of those who are unheedful.

206. Those who are near(1176) to thy Lord, dis disdain not to do Him worship: They celebrate His praises, and bow down before Him.(1177)

1176 The higher you are in spiritual attainment, the more is your desire and your opportunity to seize and worship your Lord and Cherisher and the Lord and Cherisher of all the worlds; and the greater is your pride in that service and that worship.

1177 At this stage a Sajdah or prostration is indicated, as symbolical of our humble acceptance of the privilege of serving and worshipping Allah— a fitting close to a Surah in which we are led, through a contemplation of the stories of the Messengers of Allah, to the meaning of revelation and its relation to our moral and spiritual progress.
8. Al Anfal (The Spoils of War)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. They ask thee (1178) concerning (things taken as) spoils of war. Say: "(such) spoils are at the disposal of Allah (1179) and the Messenger. So fear Allah, and keep straight the relations between yourselves: Obey Allah and His Messenger, if ye do believe."

1178 The occasion was the question of the division of the booty after the battle of Badr. See Introduction to this Surah.

1179 Booty taken in a lawful and just war does not belong to any individual. If he fought for such accessory rewards, he fought from wrong motives. It belongs to the Cause, in this case the Cause of Allah, as administered by His Messenger. Any portion given out to individuals are accessory gifts, windfalls from the bounty of the Commander. The chief thing is to remain staunch to the Cause of Allah, and have no differences among those who stand for the Cause. Our internal relations must be kept straight; they must not be disturbed by cupidity or worldly considerations of gain, for any windfalls of this kind should be outside our calculations.

2. For, believers are those who, when Allah is mentioned, feel a tremor in their hearts, and when they hear His signs rehearsed, find their faith strengthened, and put (all) their trust in their Lord;

3. Who establish regular prayers and spend (freely) out of the gifts We have given them for sustenance: (1180)

1180 Sustenance: again in both the literal and the metaphorical sense. The object is to warn off from the love of booty and worldly wealth. Why do we want these? To all true believers Allah gives generous sustenance in any case, in both senses, and for any windfalls of this kind should be outside our calculations.

4. Such in truth are the believers: they have grades of dignity with their Lord, and forgiveness, and generous sustenance:

5. Just as (1181) thy Lord ordered thee out of thy house in truth, even though a party among the believers disliked it, 1181 Just as : the comparison takes us back to the first clause in verse 4: "such in truth are the believers: "just as thy Lord also is just and true in ordering thee out to fight against heavy odds, when the alternative was to fight against the unarmed caravan which would have given thee abundant booty almost without a fight. To appreciate the full meaning, remember that the word "right" means also "rightfully." Just as, "what is becoming." The true believers believe in truth and do right in obedience to Allah's command. So Allah also, in asking them to fight against odds, is not asking them to rush to destruction, but is providing them with an opportunity of vindicating the truth in scorn of worldly advantage. And He made good His promise by giving them victory.

6. Disputing with thee concerning the truth after it was made manifest, as if they were being driven to death and they (actually) saw it. (1182)

1182 In verse 6 we have again the word "truth": some of the Believers disputed concerning the truth: they did not feel sure that the course recommended was the true and right course. They thought it would be certain destruction: they saw death almost staring them in the face. (Cf. 6:57).

7. Behold! Allah promised you one of the two (enemy) parties, (1183) that it should be yours: Ye wished that the one unarmed should be yours, but Allah willed to justify the Truth according to His words and to cut off the roots of the Unbelievers:-

1183 Just before Badr there were two alternatives before the Muslims in Madinah, to save themselves from being overwhelmed by the Makkah Quraysh with all their resources from the rich Syrian trade. One, which had least danger for the time being, and also promised much booty, was to fall upon the Quraysh caravan returning from Syria to Makkah richly laden, and led by Abu Sufyan with only 40 men unarmed. From a worldly point of view this was the safest and most lucrative course. The other alternative, which was actually adopted on the recommendation of the Prophet by the guidance of Allah, was to leave the booty alone and march out boldly against the well-armed and well-equipped Quraysh army of 1,000 men coming from Makkah. The Muslims had no more than 300 men, ill-armed, to oppose the force. But if they could defeat it, we would shake the selfish autocracy which was in possession of Makkah. By Allah's help they won a splendid victory, and the standard of Truth was established, never to be lowered again.

8. That He might justify Truth and prove Falsehood false, distasteful though it be to those in guilt.

9. Remember ye implored the assistance of your Lord, and He answered you: "I will assist you with a thousand of the angels, ranks on ranks." (1184)

1184 Cf. 3:123, 125, 126. The number of angels, a thousand at Badr and three thousand and five thousand at Uhud, is probably not to be taken literally, but to express a strength at least equal to the strength of the enemy.

10. Allah made it but a message of hope, and an assurance to your hearts: (in any case) (1185) there is no help except from Allah. and Allah is Exalted in Power, Wise.

1185 All help comes ultimately from Allah. In special cases it may take special forms to put heart into us, and to fit in with our feelings and our psychology.

11. Remember He covered you with a sort of drowsiness, (1186) to give you calm as from Himself, and he caused rain to descend on you (1187) from heaven, to clean you therewith, to remove from you the stain of Satan, (1188) to strengthen your hearts, and to plant your feet firmly therewith.

1186 Cf. 3:154 for Uhud. Calm (presence of mind) is essential in battle and in all acts of danger. If the mind is too much in a state of excitement, it cannot carry out a well-considered or well-concerned plan. This spirit of calm confidence on the part of the Muslims won against the blustering violence of the Quraysh. Cf. 3:123, 125, 126. The number of angels, a thousand at Badr and three thousand and five thousand at Uhud, is probably not to be taken literally, but to express a strength at least equal to the strength of the enemy.

1187 The rain was welcome for many reasons. (1) Water was scarce both for drinking and ablutions; (2) the Muslim band, without baggage or equipment or comforts, found that their thirst aggravated their fatigue; (3) the sand was loose, and the rain consolidated it and enabled them "to plant their feet firmly."" (1188) "Stain of Satan": both literally and figuratively. Dirt is physically a symbol of evil, and the Muslims were particular about ablutions before prayer. But the rain also refreshed their spirits and removed any lurking doubts in their minds (suggestions of the Evil One) that victory might be impossible in such adverse circumstances.

12. Remember thy Lord inspired the angels (with the message): "I am with you: give firmness to the believers: I will instil terror into the hearts of the Unbelievers: smite ye above their necks and smite all their finger-tips off them." (1189)

1189 The vulnerable parts of an armed man are above the neck. A blow on the neck, face, or head, finishes him off. If he has armour it is difficult to get at his heart. But if his hands are put out of action, he is unable to wield his sword or lance or other weapon, and easily becomes a prisoner.

13. This because they contended against Allah and His Messenger. If any contend against Allah and His Messenger, Allah is strict in punishment.
14. Thus (will it be said): "Taste ye then of the (punishment): for those who resist Allah, is the penalty of the Fire."

15. O ye who believe! when ye meet the Unbelievers in hostile array,(1190) never turn your backs to them.

190 The laws of spiritual light are exactly similar to those enforced by military virtue and discipline. Meet your enemy fairly and squarely, not rashly, but after due preparation. Zulha in the text (meeting in hostile array) implies a slow and well-planned proceeding towards a hostile army. When once in combat, carry it through: there is no room for second thoughts. Death or victory should be the motto of every soldier: it may be death for himself individually, but if he has faith, there is triumph in either case for his cause. Two exceptions are recognised: (1) render your nature saner, to go back in order to jump forward; or to deceive the enemy by a feint; (2) if an individual or body is, by the chances of battle, isolated from his own force, he can fall back on his force in order to fight the battle. There is no virtue in mere single-handedness. Each individual must use his life and his resources to the best advantage for the common cause.

16. If any do turn his back to them on such a day - unless it be in a stratagem of war, or to retreat to a troop (of his own)- he draws on himself the wrath of Allah, and his abode is Hell,- an evil refuge (indeed)!

17. It is not ye who slew them; it was Allah. when thou threwest (a handful(1191) of dust), it was not thy act, but Allah's: in order that He might test the Believers by a gracious trial(1192) from Himself: for Allah is He and declined (Faith).

191 When the battle began, the Prophet prayed, and threw a handful of dust or sand at the enemy, which, as described in Traditions, struck the eyes of the enemy. This had a great psychological effect. Every act in the battle is ascribed to Allah, as it was in His cause and it was not undertaken except by His command. (R).

192 Numerically the odds against the Muslims were three to one. In other ways they were at a disadvantage: of arms and equipment they had but little, while the enemy were well-found; they were inexperienced, while the Quraysh had brought their foremost warriors. In all this there was a test, but the test was accompanied by gracious favours of countless value: their Commander was one in whom they had perfect faith, and for whom they were ready to lay down their lives; the rain refreshed them; their spirit was unshaken; and they were fighting in Allah's cause.

Thus the trial or test became itself a blessing.

18. That, and also because Allah is He Who makes feeble the plans and stratagem of the Unbelievers.

19. (O Unbelievers!) if ye prayed for victory and judgment,(1193) now hath the judgment come to you: if ye desist (from wrong), it will be best for you: if ye return (to the attack), so shall We. Not the least good will your forces be to you even if they were multiplied: for verily Allah is with those who believe!

193 Path = victory, decision, judgement. The Quraysh in Makkah had prayed for victory; they were confident that their superior numbers, equipment, and experience would be decisive. With a play on the word, they are told that the decision had come, and the victory—but not in the sense they had hoped for!

20. O ye who believe! Obey Allah and His Messenger, and turn not away from him when ye hear (him speak).

21. Nor be like those who say, "We hear," but listen not:(1194)

214 CF 2:93.

22. For the worst of beasts in the sight of Allah are the deaf and the dumb,-(1195) those who understand not.

215 CF 2:18 and 8:55.

23. If Allah had found in them any good. He would indeed have made them listen: (As it is), if He had made them listen, they would but have turned back and declined (Faith).

24. O ye who believe! give your response to Allah and His Messenger, when He calleth you to that which will give you life;(1196) and know that Allah cometh in between a man(1197) and his heart, and that it is He to Whom ye shall (all) be gathered.

1196 There are two points to note. (1) Note that after Allah and His Messenger are mentioned, the pronoun and verb in the next clause are singular: everything that Allah's Messenger put forward as an injunction came by inspiration from Allah: the Messenger made his will coincide completely with Allah's will. (2) We are asked actively to give our response in deed and life to the call of duty and conscience, for that call leads to real life, the life eternal, even though it may apparently mean in this world the loss of things that make life dear or the loss of life itself. If we defer that Jilad, i.e., fighting in and for the Cause, both literally and metaphorically, the meaning becomes quite clear.

1197 If the human heart is refractory and refuses to obey the call of Allah, that is not the end of the matter. Allah has to be reckoned with. The refusal may be because there was some pet human scheme which the heart of man was not willing to give up for Allah's Cause. Will that scheme come to fruition by refusing to serve the higher Cause? By no means. Man proposes, but God disposes. If the scheme or motive was perfectly secret from men, it was not secret from Allah. The heart is the innermost seat of man's affections and desires; but Allah intervenes between man and his heart, (R).

25. And fear tumult or oppression,(1198) which affecteth not in particular (only) those of you who do wrong: and know that Allah is strict in punishment.

1198 Fitnah has many meanings: (1) the root meaning is trial or temptation, as in 2:192 and 8:28; (2) an analogous meaning is trial or punishment, as in 6:74; (3) tumult or oppression, as in 2:193; and here; and in 8:28; (4) there is here (8:25) the further shade of meaning suggested, discord, sedition, civil war.

This warning against internal discord or tumult was very necessary in the Civil Wars of early Islam, and was never more necessary than it is now, for it affects innocent and guilty alike, (see also 9:94).

26. Call to mind when ye were a small (band), despised through the land, and afraid that men might despoil and kidnap you;(1199) But He provided a safe asylum for you, strengthened you with His aid, and gave you Good things for sustenance: that ye might be grateful.

1199 On the immediate occasion the Muslims were reminded that they were a small band in Makkah; despoiled and rejected; living in a state of insecurity for their persons, their lives, their property, and those of their dependents; persecuted and exiled and how by the grace of Allah they found a safe asylum in Madinah, how they found friends and helpers, how their many needs were cared for, and how at length they gathered strength and numbers enough to defeat the forces of godlessness, injustice, and oppression.

But for every individual, in some form or other, the lesson applies. His spiritual life begins humbly; he is despised and laughed at, perhaps persecuted and shut out from ordinary privileges open to all; but Allah gives him strength; friends spring up for him; and he is sustained until his highest spiritual desires are gradually fulfilled.

27. O ye that believe! betray not the trust of Allah and the Messenger, nor misappropriate knowingly things entrusted to you.(1200)

1200 Trusts maybe of various kinds: (1) property, goods, credit, etc.; (2) plans, confidences, secrets, etc.; (3) knowledge, talents, opportunities, etc., which we are expected to use for our fellow men. Men may betray the trust of Allah and His Prophet by misusing property, or abusing the confidence reposed in them, or the knowledge or talents given to them. On that special occasion, when the plans for the protection of Allah's worshippers against annihilation were of special importance, the Prophet's trust and confidence had to be guarded with special care. Occasions for scrupulously respecting the trust and confidence of our fellow men occur every day in our life, and few of us can claim perfection in this respect. Hence the special distinction of the Prophet of Allah, who earned the title of AlAmin, the one who was true to every trust reposed in him.

28. And know ye that your possessions and your progeny are but a trial;(1201) and that it is Allah with Whom lies your highest reward.
ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate. So with property and possessions: they add to a man's dignity, power, and influence. But both possessions and a large family are a temptation and a trial. They may turn out to be a source of spiritual downfall, if they are mishandled, or if the love of them excludes the love of Allah.

29. O ye who believe! if ye fear Allah, He will grant you a Criterion(1202) (to judge between right and wrong), remove from you (all) evil (that may afflict) you, and forgive you: for Allah is the Lord of grace unbounded.

30. Remember how the Unbelievers plotted against thee, to keep thee in bonds, or slay thee, or get thee out of thy home).(1203) They plot and plan, and Allah too plans; but the best of planners(1203-A) is Allah.

31. When Our Signs are rehearsed to them, they say: "We have heard this (before): if we wished, we could say (words) like these: these are nothing but tales of the ancients."(1204)

32. Remember how they said: "O Allah if this is indeed the Truth from Thee, rain down on us a shower of stones form the sky, or send us a grievous Penalty."(1205)

33. But Allah was not going to send them a penalty whilst thou wast amongst them; nor was He going to send it whilst they could ask for pardon.

34. But what plea have they that Allah should not punish them, when they keep out (men) from the sacred Mosque - and they are not its guardians? No men can be its guardians except the righteouse; but most of them do not understand.

35. Their prayer at the House (of Allah. is nothing but whistling and clapping of hands: (Its only answer can be), "Taste ye the penalty because ye blasphemed."

36. The Unbelievers spend their wealth to hinder (man) from the path of Allah, and so will they continue to spend; but in the end they will have (only) regrets and sighs; at length they will be overcome: and the Unbelievers will be gathered together to Hell;-)

37. In order that Allah may separate(1206) the impure from the pure, put the impure, one on another, heap them together, and cast them into Hell. They will be the ones to have lost.

38. Say to the Unbelievers, if (now) they desist (from Unbelief), their past would be forgiven them; but if they persist, the punishment of those before them is already (a matter of warning for them).

39. And fight them on until there is no more tumult or oppression, and there prevail justice and faith in Allah(1207) altogether and everywhere; but if they cease, verily Allah doth see all that they do.(1208)

40. If they refuse, be sure that Allah is your Protector - the best to protect and the best to help.

41. And know that out of all the booty that ye may acquire (in war), a fifth share is assigned(1209) to Allah,- and to the Messenger, and to near relatives, orphans, the needy, and the wayfarer,- if ye do believe in Allah and in the revelation We sent down to Our servant on the Day of Testing,-(1210) the Day of the meeting of the two forces. For Allah hath power over all things.(1211)

42. Remember ye were on the hither side of the valley, and they on the farther side, and the caravan(1212) on lower ground than ye. Even if ye had made a mutual appointment to meet, ye would certainly have failed in the appointment:(1213) But (thus ye met), that Allah might accomplish a matter already enacted; and there will be of evil in each case. (1) They tried to hold the Prophet in subjection in Makkah by putting pressure on his uncles, relatives, and friends. But the more they persecuted, the more the little Muslim community grew in faith and numbers. (2) They tried to injure or arouse him. But the wonderful example of his humility, perseverance, and fearlessness furthered the cause of Islam. (3) They tried to get him and his followers out of their homes. But they found a new home in Madinah, from which they eventually reconquered not only Makkah, but Arabia and the world.

1202 Cf. 2:255 and 2:185. The battle of Badr is called the Furqan in Muslim theology, because it was the first trial of strength by battle, in Islam, between the powers of good and evil. Evil was defeated, and those who had real faith were tested and sorted out from those who had not faith enough to follow the banner of Faith. See also 8:41 and n. 1210.

1203 Cf. 2:255 and n. 1434 to 10:42.

1204 Cf. 2:625 and n. 1434 to 10:42.

1205 This was actually a challenge thrown out by the Infidels in Makkah, not seriously but as a taunt. The answer is in the two following verses. Allah punishes in His own good time, not according to the foolish and frivolous taunts of the unbelievers. While the Holy Prophet was with them, he-the Mercy for the Orphans, the needy, and the wayfarer,- if ye do believe in Allah and in the revelation We sent down to Our servant on the Day of Testing,-(1210) the Day of the meeting of the two forces. For Allah hath power over all things.(1211)

1206 It is only when matters are brought to an issue that evil is separated distinctly from the good. Then evil consorts with evil, and good with good. The evil will be piled into a heap. When the cup is full, the punishment will come. There will be no mistake about it: The good should not be discouraged, because in fighting against them, all forces of evil join together and pool their resources together. The more they do so, the easier is the final arbitration. It is all in Allah's Plan.

1208 Cf. 2:255 and n. 1434 to 10:42.

1209 The rule is that a fifth share is set apart for the Imam (the Commander) and the rest is divided among the forces. The fifth share reserved is expressed to be for Allah and the Prophet, and for charitable purposes for those to whom charity is due. Ultimately everything is at the disposal of Allah and His Prophet: 8:1; but four-fifths are divided, and only one-fifth is retained for the special purposes. The Imam has discretion as to the mode of division. In the Prophet's lifetime a certain portion was assigned to him and his near relatives.

1210 Testing': Furqan: Criterion between right and wrong, decision between the forces of faith and unbelief. The battle of Badr is called by this name. See 8:29 and n. 1202.

1211 Allah's power is shown in the events detailed in the three verses following (v. 42-44), leading to the complete victory of the Muslims over the pagan Quraysh.

1212 The little Islamic force from Madinah went out to meet the big Makkah army, and they met on the two sides of a valley at Badr, while the Quraysh caravan was on lower ground towards the sea, about 3 miles from Badr.

1213 They were all at cross purposes. The caravan was making for Makkah, but secretly thought it could get there. The Quraysh force was trying to save the caravan and then annihilate the Muslims. The Muslims had decided to let the caravan alone but attack the Quraysh army from Makkah, which they thought was going to be small, but which turned out to be big, more than three times their number. Yet the two forces met, precisely at the spot and at the time when a decisive battle should take place and the Muslims dispose of the pretensions of the Makkans. If they had carefully planned a mutual appointment, they could not have carried it out more precisely.

On the Muslim side the few martyrs knew that the victory was theirs and those who survived the battle enjoyed the fruits of the victory. On the pagan side, both those who died and those who lived knew fully the issue joined. Even psychologically both sides went in with full determination to decide the issue.

43. Remember in thy dream Allah showed them to thee as few: if He had shown them to thee as many, ye would surely have been discouraged, and ye would surely have disputed in (your) decision; but Allah saved (you): for He knoweth well the (secrets) of (all) hearts.

44. And remember when ye met, He showed them to you as few in your eyes, and He made you appear as contemptible in their eyes:(1214) that Allah might accomplish a matter already enacted. For to Allah do all questions go back (for decision).

1214 The Muslim army, though they knew their worldly disadvantage, did not realise the full odds against them, The Makkans came exulting in any case, and they despised the contemptible little force opposed to them. Even though they thought the Muslim force was twice as great as it was (315), still that number was contemptible, when taken with its poor equipment. Both these psychological mistakes subserved the Plan, which was to bring the matter to a decisive issue, whether the Pagans of Makkah were to continue their arrogant oppression, or the religion of Allah was to be established in freedom and honour.

45. O ye who believe! When ye meet a force, be firm, and call Allah in remembrance much (and often); that ye may prosper:

46. And obey Allah and His Messenger. and fall into no disputes, lest ye lose heart and your power depart; and be patient and persevering: For Allah is with those who patiently persevere:(1215)

1215 A fine description of the Muslim virtues which make for success and whose loss brings about humiliation and failure. Power literally, "wind"—the favourable wind for a sailing ship.

47. And be not like those who started from their homes insolently and to be seen of men, and to hinder (men) from the path of Allah.(1216) For Allah compasseth round about all that they do.

1216 A true description of the Makkkan army which met its doom.

48. Remember Satan made their (sinful) acts seem alluring to them, and said: "No one among men can overcome you this day, while I am near to you": But when the two forces came in sight of each other, he turned on his heels, and said: "Lo! I am clear of you; lo! I see what ye see not; Lo! I fear Allah. for Allah is strict in punishment."(1217)

1217 It is the way with the leaders of evil, when they find their cause lost, that they wash their hands of their followers and leave them in the lurch. They see more clearly then their dupes. They are not simpletons: they know the consequences of the wrath of Allah, Satan's "fear" of Allah is terror combined with hatred - the very opposite of the feeling which is described in Tafra, viz., the desire to avoid doing anything against Allah's will, such desire being founded on trust in Allah and the love of Allah.

49. Lo! the hypocrites say, and those in whose hearts is a disease:(1218) "These people,- their religion has misled them." But if any trust in Allah, behold! Allah is Exalted in might, Wise.

1218 Cf. 2:10, for "disease in the heart."

Trust in Allah brings its own reward: our eyes are opened, and we see how great, good, and wise is the Cherisher of the Worlds. Others may sneer and despise. But the blessing of Allah keeps our minds fresh and our hearts contented.

50. If thou couldst see, when the angels take the souls of the Unbelievers (at death),(1219) (How) they smite their faces and their backs, (saying): "Taste the penalty of the blazing Fire- (1219) In contrast to the taunt against those who trust in Allah, "that their religion has misled them," is shown the terrible punishment, after death, of those who laughed at Faith.

51. "Because of (the deeds which) (1220) you (own) hands sent forth; for Allah is never unjust to His servants:

1220 The punishment is shown to be due to their own deeds of wrong, because Allah is never unjust in the least to His servants.

52. "(Deeds) after the manner of the people of Pharaoh and of those before them: They rejected the Signs of Allah, and Allah punished them for their crimes: for Allah is Strong, and Strict in punishment:

53. "Because Allah will never change(1221) the grace which He hath bestowed on a people until they change what is in their (own) souls: and verily Allah is He Who heareth and knoweth (all things)."

1221 Allah bestows His grace freely, but He never withdraws it arbitrarily. Before He changes their state and circumstances, an actual state of rebellion and contumacy has arisen in their own souls, which brings about its inevitable punishment.

54. (Deeds) after the manner of the people of Pharaoh and those before them":(1222) They treated as false the Signs of their Lord: so We destroyed them for their crimes, and We drowned the people of Pharaoh: for they were all oppressors and wrong-doers.

1222 These words from the address of the angels are quoted again, in order to add the comment that follows. Note that in verse 52, the words were that they rejected the Signs of Allah and were punished: here the words are that they treated the Signs as false and were destroyed: a higher degree of guilt deserved a severer punishment.

55. For the worst of beasts in the sight of Allah(1223) are those who reject Him: They will not believe.

1223 In 8:22 we were warned against "the worst of beasts in the sight of Allah", who do not make use of their faculties of hearing, speaking and understanding, in the service of Allah, and in fact misuse their faculties to blaspheme Allah. The same brute creatures are shown here in another light: they are faithless both to Allah and man.

56. They are those with whom thou didst make a covenant,(1224) but they break their covenant every time, and they have not the fear of (Allah).

1224 The immediate occasion was the repeated treachery of the Banu Qurayyah after their treaties with the Muslims. But the general lesson remains, as noted in the two following verses. Treachery in war is doubly wrong, for it endangers so many lives. Such treachery should be punished in such a way that it gets no chance again. Not only the actual perpetrators but those who follow their standard should be rendered powerless. And the broken treaty should be denounced so that the innocent party can at least fight on equal terms. From actual physical warfare we can carry the same lesson to spiritual warfare. A truce or understanding is possible with those who respect definite principles, not with those who have no principles and are merely out for oppression and wickedness.

57. If ye gain the mastery over them in war, disperse, with them, those who follow them, that they may remember,(1224-A)

1224-A The purpose of the verse is to urge Muslims to act against their enemies described above with a severity and resoluteness which would serve as a deterrent to other enemies of Islam who might be inclined to follow their example and act treacherously towards Muslims. (Eds.)
58. If thou fearest treachery from any group, throw back (their covenant) to them, (so as to be) on equal terms: for Allah loveth not the treacherous.

59. Let not the unbelievers think that they can get the better (of the godly): they will never frustrate (them).

60. Against them make ready your strength to the utmost of your power, including(1225) steeds of war, to strike terror into (the hearts of) the enemies, of Allah and your enemies, and others besides, whom ye may not know, but whom(1226) Allah doth know. Whatever ye shall spend in the cause of Allah, shall be repaid unto you, and ye shall not be treated unjustly.(1227)

1225 The immediate occasion of this injunction was the weakness of cavalry and appointments of war in the early fights of Islam. But the general meaning follows. In every fight, physical, moral, or spiritual, arm yourself with the best weapons and the best arms against your enemy, so as to instil wholesome respect into him for you and the Cause you stand for.

1226 There are always lurking enemies whom you may not know, but whom Allah knows. It is your duty to be ready against all, for the sacred Cause under whose banner you are fighting.

1227 Be always ready and put all your resources into your Cause. You do not do so in vain. Allah's reward will come in various forms. He knows all, and His reward will always be more generous than you can possibly deserve.

61. But if the enemy incline towards peace, do thou (also) incline towards peace, and trust in Allah. for He is One that heareth and knoweth (All things).(1228)

1228 While we must always be ready for the good fight lest it be forced on us, even in the midst of the fight we must always be ready for peace if there is any inclination towards peace on the other side. There is no merit merely in a fight by itself. It should be a joyful duty not for itself, but to establish the reign of peace and righteousness and Allah's Law.

62. Should they intend to deceive thee,- verily Allah sufficeth thee: He it is That hath strengthened thee with His aid and with (the company of) the Believers;(1229)

1229 In working for peace there may be certain risk of treachery on the other side. We must take that risk; because the men of Faith have Allah's aid to count upon and the strength of the united body of the righteous. (R).

63. And (moreover) He hath put affection between their hearts: not if thou hast spent all that is in the earth, couldst thou have produced that affection, but Allah hath done it: for He is Exalted in might, Wise.(1230)

1230 On the immediate occasion, the greatest miracle and most wonderful working of Allah's grace was the union of hearts produced among the jarring, war-like, excitable elements of Arabia under the gentle, firm, and wise guidance of Muhammad, the Messenger of Allah. At all times we must pray to Allah for this. In the life of the Prophet we have an example of the working of Allah's grace. Nothing, except affection, can produce a union of hearts.

64. O Messenger. sufficient unto thee is Allah,- (unto thee) and unto those who follow thee among the Believers.(1231)

1231 The Believers: mere Up-profession of belief, or even the kind of belief that does not result in action, is not enough. To those whose belief is so sincere that it results in complete trust in Allah and in fearless action in His service, the consequences on this earth do not matter. Allah's good pleasure is enough for them.

65. O Messenger. rouse the Believers to the fight. If there are twenty amongst you, patient and persevering, they will vanquish two hundred: if a hundred, they will vanquish a thousand of the

Unbelievers: for these are a people without understanding.(1232)

1232 In a fight, odds of ten-to-one against anyone are appalling. But they do not daunt the men of faith. Whether they personally win or die, their Cause prevails. They are sure to win because (1) they have divine aid, and (2) even humanly speaking, those who take up arms against truth and righteousness are fools, and their seeming power is but a broken reed.

66. For the present, Allah hath lightened your (task), for He knoweth that there is a weak spot in you:(1233) But (even so), if there are a hundred of you, patient and persevering, they will vanquish two hundred, and if a thousand, they will vanquish two thousand, with the leave of Allah. for Allah is with those who patiently persevere.

1233 Given equal conditions, Muslims on account of their faith could win against odds of ten-to-one. But where their organisation and equipment are weak, as was the case about the time of Badr, they were set a lighter task, and asked to tackle no more than odds of two to one against them. As a matter of fact at Badr they won through against odds of more than three to one.

67. It is not fitting for a messenger that he should have prisoners of war until he hath thoroughly subdued(1234) the land. Ye look for the temporal goods of this world; but Allah looketh to the Hereafter: And Allah is Exalted in might, Wise.

1234 An ordinary war may be for territory or trade, revenge or military glory—all 'temporal goods of this world.' Such a war is condemned. But a Jihad is fought under strict conditions laid down by Islam, and solely for the cause of Allah. All baser motives, therefore are strictly excluded. The greed of gain in the shape of ransom from captives has no place in such warfare. (R).

At the same time, if there has been heavy loss of life already, captives may be taken, and it would be for the Imam to exercise his discretion as to the time when it was safe to release them, and whether the release should be free or on parole or on a fine by way of punishment. Destruction and slaughter, however repugnant to a gentle soul like that of Muhammad, were inevitable where evil tried to suppress the good. Even Jesus, whose mission was more limited, had to say, "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth; I came not to send peace but a sword." (Matt. 10:34), (Cf. 47:4).

Seventy captives were taken at Badr, and it was decided to take ransom for them. While the general principle of fighting for the purpose of taking captives in order to get their ransom is condemned, the particular action in this case was approved in vv. 68-71.

68. Had it not been for a previous ordinance(1235) from Allah, a severe penalty would have reached you for the (ransom) that ye took.

1235 Though any motive of worldly gain, which may have been in the minds of some among the victorious Muslim army, is condemned as worthy of a severe penalty, what actually happened is ascribed to the Plan of Allah, which was pre-ordained. Among the prisoners taken were the Prophet's uncle al'Abbas and 'Ali's brother Aqil, who afterwards became Muslims. Al 'Abbas was an ancestor of the founder of the celebrated 'Abbasi Dynasty which played such a notable part in Islamic history. In his case the promise made in verse 70 was amply fulfilled. In the case of all prisoners, if there was any good in their hearts, their very fight against Islam and their capture led to their being blessed with Islam. Thus does Allah's Plan work in a marvellous way, and evolve good out of seeming evil.

69. But (now) enjoy(1236) what ye took in war, lawful and good: but fear Allah. for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

70. O Messenger. say to those who are captives in your hands: "If Allah findeth any good(1237) in your hearts, He will give you something better than what has been taken from you, and He will forgive you: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful."

1237 This is a consolation to the prisoners of war. In spite of their previous hostility, Allah will forgive them in His mercy if there was any good in their hearts, and confer upon them a far higher gift than anything they have ever lost. This gift in its highest sense would be the blessing of Islam, but even in a material sense,
There was great fortune awaiting them, e.g., in the case of al 'Abbas, (see n. 1235).

Note how comprehensive is Allah's care. He encourages and strengthens the Muslims, at the same time condemning any baser motives that may have entered their minds. He consoles the prisoners of war and promises them better things if there is any good in them at all. And He offers comfort to those who have left their homes in His Cause, and knits them into closer fellowship with those who have helped them and sympathised with them.

71. But if they have treacherous designs against thee, (O Messenger.), they have already been in treason against Allah,(1238) and so hath He given (thee) power over them. And Allah so He Who hath (full) knowledge and wisdom.

1238 If the kindness shown to them is abused by the prisoners of war when they are released, it is not a matter of discouragement to those who showed the kindness. Such persons have in their treachery shown already their treason to Allah, in that they took up arms against Allah's Prophet, and sought to blot out the pure worship of Allah. The punishment of defeat, which opened the eyes of some of their comrades, evidently did not open their eyes. But Allah knows all, and in His wisdom will order all things for the best. The Believers have done their duty in showing such clemency as they could in the circumstances of war. For them "Allah sufficeth" (8:62).

72. Those who believed, and adopted exile, and fought for the Faith, with their property and their persons, in the cause of Allah, as well as those who gave (them) asylum(1239) and aid,- these are (all) friends and protectors, one of another. As to those who believed but came not into exile,(1240) ye owe no duty of protection to them until they come into exile; but if they seek your aid in religion, it is your duty to help them, except against a people with whom ye have a treaty of mutual alliance. And (remember) Allah seeth all that ye do.

1239 The reference is to the Mulqainin and Ansar, the Emigrants and the Helpers, the people who forebore their homes and adopted voluntary exile from Makkah company with their beloved Leader, and their good friends in Madinah, who gave them asylum and every kind of assistance, moral and material. Under the magnetic personality of the Holy Prophet these two groups became like blood-brothers, and they were so treated in matters of inheritance during the period when they were cut off from their kith and kin.

1240 The Believers (Muslims) were entitled to all assistance in matters of religion. But if they were not strong enough to suffer voluntary exile on behalf of the Cause and make the personal sacrifices which their more ardent brethren in faith made, they could not reasonably ask for political or military assistance or protection.

1241 If a community suffers voluntary exile on account of persecution and oppression, and some of its weaker brethren stay behind, holding fast to faith but not prepared for the higher sacrifice, the exiles have still a duty to help their weaker brethren in matters of religion. The exiles, being at open war against the state which oppressed them, would be free to fight against such state. But if the weaker brethren are in a state in mutual alliance with the community, the community cannot in honour interfere with that state, whether it is Muslim or not. Presumably the alliance implies that the grievances of the weaker brethren will be redressed by the state itself. But it is not honourable to embarrass your own ally.

73. The Unbelievers are protectors, one of another: Unless ye do this, (protect each other), there would be tumult and oppression on earth, and great mischief.(1242)

1242 Evil consorts with evil. The good have all the more reason for drawing together and not, only living in mutual harmony, but being ready at all times to protect each other. Otherwise the world will be given over to aggressions by unscrupulous people, and the good will fail in their duty to establish Allah's Peace and to strengthen all the forces of truth and righteousness.

74. Those who believe, and adopt exile, and fight for the Faith, in the cause of Allah as well as those who give (them) asylum and aid,- these are (all) in very truth the Believers: for them is the forgiveness of sins and a provision most generous.(1243)

1243 Believers who make all sacrifices in the cause of Allah have given the best possible proof of their Faith by their actions. They have loved Allah much, and much will be forgiven them. What they sacrificed was, perhaps, judged by universal standards, of small value, but its value will be estimated by the precious love behind it, and its reward will be of no ordinary kind. It will not be a reward in the ordinary sense at all, for a reward is given once and for all. It will be a provision which lasts forever, and is on the most generous scale.

75. And those who accept Faith subsequently,(1244) and adopt exile, and fight for the Faith in your company,- they are of you. But kindred by blood have prior rights against each other in the Book of Allah.(1245) Verily Allah is well-acquainted with all things.

1244 Those who come into the fold last are none the less brethren in the fullest acception of the term. But any special provisions made in the special circumstances of the first martyrs for the Cause will not of course apply to them as the special circumstances which made them necessary have ceased to exist. See next note.

1245 The Book of Allah, i.e., the Universal Plan, the Eternal Decree, the Preserved Tablet (8:522). Blood-relationship and its rights and duties do not depend on special circumstances of a temporary nature. Any temporary rights of mutual inheritance established between the early Emigrants and Helpers (n. 1239) would not apply to later recruits, who would come under entirely different circumstances.
9. Al Tawbah (The Repentance) or Bara’ah (The Disavowal)

1. A (declaration) of immunity(1246) from Allah and His Messenger, to those of the Pagans with whom ye have contracted mutual alliances:-

1246 Bismi ‘l-lahi (usually translated ‘immunity’). I do not think that word correctly represents the Arabic word in this context. The general sense is explained in the introduction to this Surah. In verse 3 below I use the periphrasis “dissolve treaty obligations,” which goes some way to explain the meaning. The Pagans and enemies of Islam frequently made treaties of mutual alliances with the Muslims. The Muslims scrupulously observed their part, but the Pagans violated their part again and again when it suited them. After some years’ experience it became imperative to denounce such treaties altogether. This was done in due form, with four months’ notice, and a chance was given to those who faithfully observed their pledges, to continue their alliance. (RJ).

2. Go ye, then, for four months,(1247) backwards and forwards, (as ye will), throughout the land, but know ye that ye cannot frustrate Allah (by your falsehood) but that Allah will cover with shame those who reject Him.

1247 Four Months. Some Commentators understand by this the four forbidden months in which warfare by ancient Arabian custom was unlawful, viz., Rajah, Dhu al-Qa’dah, Dhu al Hijjah, and Muharram: See 2:194 n. But it is better to take the signification of the four months immediately following the Declaration. Assuming that the Surah was promulgated early in Shawwal (see Introduction), the four months would be Shawwal, Dhu al-Qa’dah, Dhu al Hijjah, and Muharram, of which the last three would also be the customary Prohibited Months.

3. And an announcement from Allah and His Messenger, to the people (assembled) on the day of the Great Pilgrimage,- (1248) that Allah and His Messenger dissolve (treaty) obligations with the Pagans. If then, ye repent, it were best for you; but if ye turn away, know ye that ye cannot frustrate Allah. And proclaim a grievous penalty to those who reject Faith.

1248 The great day of Hajj is either the 9th of Dhu al Hijjah, (Arafa for the 10th day of Sacrifice).

4. (But the treaties are) not dissolved(1249) with those Pagans with whom ye have entered into alliance and who have not subsequently failed you in aught, nor aided any one against you. So fulfill your engagements with them to the end of their term: for Allah loveth the righteous.

1249 The sacred duty of fulfilling all obligations of every kind, to Muslims and non-Muslims, in public as well as private life, is a cardinal feature of Muslim ethics. The question of what is to be done with those who abuse this principle by failing in their duty but expect the Muslims to do their part is not to be solved in the case of treaties by a general denunciation of treaties but by a careful consideration of the cases where there has been fidelity and not treachery. There we are enjoined to give the strictest fidelity, as it is a part of righteousness and our duty to Allah.

5. But when the forbidden months(1250) are past, then fight and slay(1251) the Pagans wherever ye find them, an seize them, beleaguer them, and lie in wait for them in every stratagem (of war); but if they repent,(1252) and establish regular prayers and practise regular charity, then open the way for them: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

1250 The exceptions having been stated parenthetically in verse 7, the indictment of the general mass of Pagans tribes is now set out briefly but fully and convincingly. After that kind of behaviour how can a treaty be possible with them? The counts are: (1) that whenever they got a slight advantage, they disregarded the ties both of kinship and of covenant as against the Muslims because of their Faith, thus proving doubly treacherous; (2) that they spoke fair words, but hid venom in their hearts; (3) that their attitude was one of rebellion against their pledged word; (4) that they disregarded the solemn Signs of Allah for some miserable worldly gain; (5) that they tried to prevent other people from coming to the Way of Allah. The first clause is repeated again as the last clause, to emphasize their double treachery, and sound off the argument.

1251 Among the Arabs, the ties of kinship were so strong as to be almost unbreakable. The Pagans Arabs went out of their way to break them in the case of their designs by right conduct, that the state of war supervenes - between Faith and Unfaith.

6. If one amongst the Pagans(1253) ask thee for asylum, grant it to him, so that he may hear the word of Allah. and then escort him to where he can be secure.(1254) That is because they are men without knowledge.

1253 Even among the enemies of Islam, actively fighting against Islam, there may be individuals who may be in a position to require protection. Full asylum is to be given to them, and opportunities provided for hearing the Word of Allah. If they accept the Word, they become Muslims and brethren, and no further question arises. If they do not see their way to accept Islam, they will require double protection: (1) from the Islamic forces openly fighting against their people, and (2) from their own people, as they detached themselves from them. Both kinds of protection should be ensured for them, and they should be safely escorted to a place where they can be safe. Such persons only err through ignorance, and there may be much good in them.

1254 Ma’ruf: place or opportunity of being secure from all harm.

7. How can there be a league, before Allah and His Messenger, with the Pagans, except those(1255) with whom ye made a treaty near the sacred Mosque? As long as these stand true to you, stand ye true to them: for Allah doth love the righteous.

1255 In this section we have the reasons why the treaties with treacherous Pagan foes were denounced. The clause introducing the exception is a parenthetical clause. The word ‘Pagans’ must be connected with verse 8 which follows. In that verse the word kayfa resumes the clause introduced by the word kayfa at the beginning of verse 7. The exceptional Pagan tribes which remained true to their word were the Barri Hamzah and the Banu Kinana, who swore their treaty near the Sacred Mosque and faithfully observed it. They were to be given the full benefit of their fidelity even though their kindred tribes were treacherous.

8. How (can there be such a league),(1256) seeing that if they get an advantage over you, they respect not in you the ties either of kinship(1257) or of covenant? With (fair words from) their mouths they entice you, but their hearts are averse from you; and most of them are rebellious and wicked.

1256 The exceptions being stated parenthetically in verse 7, the indictment of the general mass of Pagans tribes is now set out briefly but fully and convincingly. After that kind of behaviour how can a treaty be possible with them? The counts are: (1) that whenever they got a slight advantage, they disregarded the ties both of kinship and of covenant as against the Muslims because of their Faith, thus proving doubly treacherous; (2) that they spoke fair words, but hid venom in their hearts; (3) that their attitude was one of rebellion against their pledged word; (4) that they disregarded the solemn Signs of Allah for some miserable worldly gain; (5) that they tried to prevent other people from coming to the Way of Allah. The first clause is repeated again as the last clause, to emphasize their double treachery, and sound off the argument.

9. The Signs of Allah have they sold for a miserable price, and (many) have they hindered from His way: evil indeed are the deeds they have done.
10. In a Believer they respect not the ties either of kinship or of covenant! It is they who have transgressed all bounds.(1258)

1928 The catalogue of their sins being set out, it is clear that they were aggressors in the worst possible ways; and war became inevitable.

11. But (even so), if they repent,(1259) establish regular prayers, and practise regular charity,- they are your brethren in Faith: (thus) do We explain the Signs in detail, for those who understand.

1929 The chance of repentance and mercy to the worst enemies is again emphasised, in order that people with any understanding may not be misled into thinking that war was an easy or light matter. This emphasis is balanced by the emphasis in the next verse on the causes which made war inevitable for those with any self respect

12. But if they violate their oaths after their covenant, and taunt you for your Faith,-(1260) fight ye the chiefs of Unfaith: for their oaths are nothing to them: that thus they may be restrained.

1930 Not only did the enemies break their oaths shamelessly, but they even taunted the Muslims on their Faith and the 'simple-minded' way in which they continued to respect their part of the treaty, as if they were afraid to fight! (Cf. 2:124 and 36:12).

13. Will ye not fight people who violated their oaths, plotted to expel the Messenger,(1261) and took the chiefs of Unfaith: for their oaths are nothing to them: that thus they may be restrained.

1931 The argument now takes a new turn. An appeal is made to the Muslims on various grounds: (1) the shameless disregard of treaties by the enemy, (2) the underhanded plots to discredit the Holy Prophet, and turn him out of Madinah as he had been turned out of Makkah, (3) the aggression taken by the Quraysh and their confederates in Madinah after the treaty to Hudaybiya (A. H. 6, Dhul al Qa'dah, Feb. 628), (4) the main attitude that fears Allah rather than men, and (5) the need to prove our sincere faith by test and trial and struggle and sacrifice (9:16).

14. Fight them, and Allah will punish them by your hands, cover them with shame, help you (to victory) over them, heal the breasts of Believers,(1262)

1932 Heal the breasts of believers, i.e., of wounds that they may have sustained from the assaults, taunts, and cruelty of the enemy.

15. And still the indignation of their hearts.(1263) For Allah will turn (in mercy)(1264) to whom He will; and Allah is All-Knowing, All-Wise.

1933 When the victory comes and the wounds are healed, a great peace comes to the hearts of those who have suffered, striven, and struggled. The fighting was an abnormal necessity forced by injustice and oppression. When Allah's Law is established, the fire of indignation is quelled, and the true Peace of Islam is attained.

1934 Allah's mercy is unlimited. When evil is destroyed, many of those who were enured by evil will come into the fold of truth and righteousness, and the cessation of war and conflict will bring peace, certainly to those who fought for the right, but also possibly to those whose eyes have been opened to the working of Allah's Law and who in healing reconciliation become members of the Brotherhood of Peace in Islam.

16. Or think ye that ye shall be abandoned, as though Allah did not know(1265) those among you who strive with might and main, and take none for friends and protectors except Allah, His Messenger, and the (community of) Believers? But Allah is well-acquainted with (all) that ye do.

1935 Some translators have taken a different verbal construction of this passage, but the ultimate effect in meaning is the same: we must all be tested and tried, but Allah knows our inmost hearts, and He will support those who strive in His way, out of sincere love for Him, His Prophet, and the body of the true men of faith.

17. It is not for such as join gods with Allah, to visit or maintain(1266) the mosques of Allah while they witness against their own souls to infidelity. The works of such bear no fruit: In Fire shall they dwell.

1936 Amara as applied to mosques implies the following ideas: (1) to build or repair; (2) to maintain in fitting dignity; (3) to visit for purposes of devotion; and (4) fill with light and life and activity. For brevity I have only used the two words 'visit and maintain' in the translation.

Before the preaching of Islam the Pagans built, repaired, and maintained the Mosque, and celebrated Pagan ceremonies in it, including naked circumambulation round the Ka'bah. They made an income out of it. Islam protested, and the Pagans ejected Muslims and their Leader from Makkah, and shut them out from the Ka'bah itself. When the Muslims were strong enough to retake Makkah (A. H. 8), they purified the Mosque and reestablished the worship of the true God. The families who previously held control could not alter this be allowed in a state of Pagans to control the Mosque any longer. If they became Muslims, it was a different matter. The further question arose: should they be allowed to visit it and practise their uncleanly Pagan rites? Obviously this would be derogatory to the dignity and honour of the Mosque, and was forbidden. This was the particular occasion to which the verse refers. The general deduction is clear. A house of Allah is a place of sincere devotion, not a theatre for vulgar rites nor a source of worldly income. Only sincere Believers have a right of entry. Who the sincere Believers are, is explained in the next verse.

18. The mosques of Allah shall be visited and maintained by such as believe in Allah and the Last Day, establish regular prayers, and practise regular charity, and fear none (at all) except Allah.(1267) It is they who are expected to be on true guidance.(1268)

1937 See the previous note. Sincere Believers are those who have faith in Allah and the future, and have a spirit of devotion and charity true and abiding spirit, not merely isolated acts now and then. Moreover they must not bow to worldly greed or ambition, which produces fear of worldly power.

1938 Others may call themselves by what names they like. True guidance is shown by the tests here indicated.

19. Do ye make the giving(1269) of drink to pilgrims, or the maintenance of the Sacred Mosque, equal to (the pious service of) those who believe in Allah and the Last Day, and strive with might and main in the cause of Allah. They are not comparable in the sight of Allah. and Allah guides not those who do wrong.

1940 Giving drinks of cold water to thirsty pilgrims, and doing material services to a mosque are meritorious acts, but they are only external. If they do not touch the soul, their value is slight. Far greater, in the sight of Allah, are Faith, Endeavour, which so fixes its gaze on Allah, that all selfish or worldly motives seem paltry and fade away, and (2) in earnest and ceaseless activity, involving the sacrifice (if need be) of life, person, or property, in the service of Allah. Mere brutal fighting is derogatory to the dignity and honour of the Mosque, and was forbidden. This was the particular occasion to which the verse refers. The general deduction is clear. A house of Allah is a place of sincere devotion, not a theatre for vulgar rites nor a source of worldly income. Only sincere Believers have a right of entry. Who the sincere Believers are, is explained in the next verse.

20. Those who believe, and suffer exile and strive with might and main, in Allah's cause,(1270) with their goods and their persons, have the highest rank in the sight of Allah. they are the people who will achieve the supreme reward, Allah's own Presence or nearness. These are in

21. Their Lord doth give them glad tidings of a Mercy from Himself, of His good pleasure, and of gardens for them, wherein are delights that endure:

21. Those who strive and suffer in Allah's cause are promised (1) a mercy specially from Himself, (2) His own good pleasure, (3) gardens of perpetual delight, (4) the supreme reward, Allah's own Presence or nearness. These are in

22. They will dwell therein for ever. Verily in Allah's presence is a reward, the greatest (of all).(1271) gratification: (1) is a special mercy, higher than flows out to all creatures; (2) is a consciousness of Allah's good pleasure, which raises the soul above itself; (3) is the state of permanent spiritual assurance, which is typified by gardens of perpetual delight, and (4) is the final bliss, which is the sight of Allah Himself. (R).

23. O ye who believe! take not for protectors your fathers and your brothers if they love infidelity above Faith: if any of you do so, they do wrong.

24. Say: If it be that your fathers, your sons, your brothers, your mates, or your kindred; the wealth that ye have gained; the commerce in which ye fear a decline: or the dwellings in which ye delight-(1272) are dearer to you than Allah, or His Messenger, or the striving in His cause:- then wait until Allah brings about(1273) His decision: and Allah guides not the rebellious.

1272 Man's heart clings to (1) his own kith and kin-parents, children, brothers and sisters, husbands or wives, or other relatives, (2) wealth and prosperity, (3) commerce or means of profit and gain, or (4) noble buildings, for dignity or comfort. If these are a hindrance in Allah's cause, we have to choose which we love most. We must love Allah even if it involves the sacrifice of all else.

1273 If we love our earthly ties and comforts, profits and pleasures, more than we love Allah, and therefore fail to respond to Allah's cause, it is not Allah's cause which will suffer. Allah's purpose will be accomplished, I with or without us. But our failure to respond to His will must leave us spiritually poorer, bereft of grace and guidance: 'for Allah guides not the rebellious'.

This is of universal application. But it was strikingly illustrated in the case of those faithful ones who obeyed the Prophet's call, left the comfort of their homes in Makkah and suffered exile in Madinah, gave up their trade and their possessions, and fought for Allah's cause, sometimes against their own kith and kin or their own tribesmen who were enemies of Islam. They won through. Others were not prepared for such sacrifice, but their failure did not stop the accomplishment of Allah's plan and purpose.

25. Assuredly Allah did help you in many battle-fields and on the day of Hunayn:(1274) Behold! your great numbers elated you, but they availed you naught: the land, for all that it is wide, did constrain you, and ye numbers elated you, but they availed you naught: the 1274 Hunayn is on the road to Ta'if from Makkah about fourteen miles to the east of Makkah. It is a valley in the mountainous country between Makkah and Ta'if. Immediately after the conquest of Makkah, (A.H. 8), the Pagan idolaters, who were surprised and charmed at the wonderful reception which Islam was receiving, organised a great gathering near Ta'if to concert plans for attacking the Prophet. The Hawazin and the Thaqif tribes took the lead and prepared a great expedition for Makkah, boasting of their strength and military skill. There was on the other hand a wave of confident enthusiasm among the Muslims at Makkah, in which the new Muslims joined. The enemy forces numbered about 4,000 but the Muslims had at Hunayn tremendous odds in their favour. But this itself constituted a danger. Many in their ranks had more enthusiasm than wisdom, more a spirit of elation than of faith and confidence in Allah. The Muslims were thus partly symbolic and partly a "token of willing submission." The Jizyah was thus partly symbolic and partly a "token of willingness." The Jizyah was thus partly symbolic and partly a

26. But Allah did pour His calm(1276) on the Messenger and on the Believers, and sent down forces which ye saw not: He punished the Unbelievers; thus doth He reward those without Faith.

1276 Sukhah: calm, peace, security, tranquillity. C.V. 2:248. The Prophet never approved of overweening confidence, or reliance merely upon human strength, or human resources or numbers. In the hour of danger and seeming disaster, he was perfectly calm, and with cool courage relied upon the help of Allah. Whose standard he carried. His calmness inspired all around him, and stopped the rout of those who had turned their backs. It was with Allah's help that they won, and their victory was complete. They followed it up with an energetic pursuit of the enemies, capturing their camps, their flocks and herds, and their families, whom they had noiseibly brought with them in expectation of an easy victory.

27. Again will Allah, after this,(1277) turn (in mercy) to whom He will: for Allah is Oft-for giving, Most Merciful.

1277 Examples of Allah's mercy and grace in difficult circumstances in one case illustrate His grace and mercy at all times to those who have faith.

28. O ye who believe! Truly the Pagans are unclean,(1278) so let them not, after this year of theirs,(1279) approach the Sacred Mosque. And if ye fear poverty,(1280) soon will Allah enrich you, if He wills, out of His bounty, for Allah is All-knowing, All-wise.

1278 Unclean: both literally and metaphorically: because Muslims are enjoined to be strict in abstinence and physical cleanliness, as well as in purity of mind and heart, so that their word can be relied upon.

1279 This year of theirs: this is a two-fold meaning: (1) now that you have complete control of Makkah, and are charged with the purity of worship there, shut out all impurity from this year; (2) you have seen how the Pagans have behaved this year; their year of power and misuse of that power may be called their "year"; it is, over, and now you, dear Muslims are responsible.

1280 The concourse in Makkah added to the profits of trade and commerce. "But fear not", we are told: "The Pagans are a waning power, bound to disappear, and you should strengthen your own community, that they may more than counterbalance the apparent loss of custom; and Allah has other means of improving your economic position." This actually happened. The Pagans were extinguished from Arabia, and the concourse of Pilgrims from all parts of the world increased the numbers more than a hundredfold. Here is common-sense, wisdom, and statesmanship, even if we look at it from a purely human point of view.

29. Fight those who believe not in Allah nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the religion of Truth, (even if they are) of the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizyah(1281) with willing submission,(1282) and feel themselves subdued.

1281 Jizyah: the root meaning is compensation. The derived meaning, which became the technical meaning, was a poll tax levied from those who did not accept Islam, but were willing to live under the protection of Islam, and were thus tacitly willing to submit to the laws enforced in the Muslim State. There was no amount permanently fixed for it, and in any case it was merely symbolic-as an acknowledgment that those whose religion was tolerated would in their turn not interfere with the preaching and progress of Islam. Imam Shafi' suggests one dinar per year, which would be the Arabian gold dinar of the Muslim State, equivalent in value to about half a sovereign, or about 5 or 7 rupees. See n. 410 to 3:75. The tax varied in amount, and there were exemptions for the poor, for females and children according to Aba Hansafih; for slaves, and for monks and hermits. Being a tax on able-bodied males of military age, it was in a sense a commutation for military service. But see the next note.

1282 'An 'Adl: literally, from the hand, has been variously interpreted. The hand being the symbol of power and authority, I accept the interpretation "in token of willing submission." The Jizyah was thus partly symbolic and partly a commutation for military service, but as the amount was insignificant and the exemptions numerous, its symbolic character predominated. See the last note.

30. The Jews call `Uzair a son(1283) of Allah, and the Christians call Christ the son of Allah. That is a saying which the Jews of old used to say. Allah.s curse be on them: how they are deluded away from the Truth!(1285) 1283 In n. 718 to 5:18. I have quoted passages from the Old Testament, showing how freely the expression 'sons of God' was used by the Jews. A sect of them called `Uzayr a son of God, according to al Baidawi. In Appendix II (Surah 5.) I have shown that the constitution of Judaism dates from `Uzayr (Ezra). The Christians still call Christ the Son of God.

31. They take their priests (1286) and their anchorites to be their lords in derogation of Allah, (1287) and (they take as their Lord) Christ the son of Mary; yet they were commanded to worship but One Allah. there is no god but He. Praise and glory to Him: (1288) (Far is He) from having the partners they associate (with Him).

33. It is He Who hath sent His Messenger with guidance and the Religion of Truth, to prevail it (1290) over all religion, even though the Pagans may detest (it).

34. O ye who believe! there are indeed many among the priests and anchorites, who in falsehood (1291) devour the substance of men and hinder (them) from the way of Allah, and there are those who bury gold and silver (1292) and spend it not in the way of Allah, and there are those who bury gold and silver (1292) and spend it not in the way of Allah.

35. On the Day when heat (1293) will be produced out of that (wealth) in the fire of Hell, and with it will be branded their foreheads, their flanks, and their backs, their flanks, and their backs,- "This is the (treasure) which ye buried for yourselves: (1294) taste ye, then, the (treasures) ye buried!"

36. The number of months (1295) in the sight of Allah is twelve (in a year)- so ordained by Him the day He created the heavens and the earth; of them are four sacred: that is the straight usage. So wrong not yourselves (1296) therein, and fight the Pagans all together as they fight you all together. But know that Allah is with those who restrain themselves.

37. Verily the transposing (1297) (of a prohibited month) is an addition to Unbelief: the Unbelievers are led to wrong thereby: for they make it lawful one year, and forbidden another year, in order to adjust the number of months forbidden by Allah and make such forbidden ones lawful. The evil of their course seems pleasing (1298) to them. But Allah guideth not those who reject Faith.

38. O ye who believe! what is the matter with you, (1299) that, when ye are asked to go forth in the cause of Allah, ye cling heavily to the earth? (1300) Do ye prefer the life of this world to the Hereafter? But little is the comfort of this life, as compared with the Hereafter.
39. Unless ye go forth,(1301) He will punish you with a grievous penalty, and put others in your place; but Him ye would not harm in the least. For Allah hath power over all things.

40. If ye help not (your leader), (it is no matter): for Allah did indeed help him,(1302) when the Unbelievers drove him out: he had no more than one companion;(1303) they two were in the cave, and he said to his companion, "Have no fear, for Allah is with us": then Allah sent down His peace upon him,(1304) and strengthened him with forces which ye saw not, and humbled(1305) to the depths the word of the Unbelievers. But the word of Allah is exalted to the heights: for Allah is Exalted in might, Wise.

41. Go ye forth, (whether equipped)(1306) lightly or heavily, and strive and struggle, with your goods and your persons, in the cause of Allah. That is best for you, if ye (but) knew.

42. If there had been immediate gain (in sight), and the journey easy, they would (all) without doubt have followed thee; but the distance was long and the people are suffering from a spiritual disease.

43. Allah give thee grace!(1308) why didst thou grant them until those who told the truth were seen by thee in a clear light, and thou hadst proved the liars?

44. Those who believe in Allah and the Last Day ask thee for no exemption from fighting with their goods and persons. And Allah knoweth well those who do their duty.

45. Only those ask thee for exemption who believe not in Allah and the Last Day, and whose hearts are in doubt, so that they are tossed(1309) in their doubts to and fro.

46. If they had intended to come out, they would certainly have made some preparation therefor; but Allah was averse to their being sent forth; so He made them lag behind, and they were told, "Sit ye among those who sit (inactive)."

47. If they had come out with you, they would not have added to your (strength) but only (made for) disorder, and strengthened the enemy against you, and there would have been some sowing of tumult, turmoil, or sedition. The Commentators here take the former.

48. Indeed they had plotted sedition before, and upset matters for thee, until,— the Truth arrived, and the Decree of Allah became manifest much to their disgust.(1311)

49. Among them is (many) a man who says: "Grant me exemption and draw me not(1312) into trial." Have they not fallen into trial already? and indeed Hell surrounds the Unbelievers (on all sides).

1301 "Taudir = go forth, march onward, be ready to strive and suffer. For this is the condition of all progress in the spiritual and moral, as well as in the physical, world. According to the homely English proverb, God helps those who help themselves. Inactivity and lethargy are fatal. No one can rest on his oars. Man is not necessary to Allah, but Allah is necessary to man. If a nation recedes favors and falls to deserve them, it will be replaced by another; as has so often happened in history. We may take this as a special warning to Islamic nations.

1302 The Tabuk expedition was not a failure. Though some hesitated, many more joined in. But a more striking example was when the Prophet was forced to leave Makkah and performed his famous Hijaz. His enemies plotted for his life. He had already sent his followers on to Madinah. Ali had volunteered to face his enemies in his house. His single companion was Abu Bakr. The two concealed themselves in the cave of Thawr, three miles from Makkah, for three nights, with the enemy prowling around in great numbers in fruitless search of them. "We are but two," said Abu Bakr. "No," said Muhammad, "for Allah is with us." Faith gave their minds peace, and Allah gave them safety. They reached Madinah, and a glorious chapter opened for Islam. The forces that helped them were not seen, but their power was irresistible. (R).

1303 Literally, 'the second of two,' which afterwards became Abu Bakr's proud title.

1305 The superlatives in the Arabic I have rendered by the periphrases, "humbled to the depths" and "exalted to the heights," as they accord better with the genius of the English language. The enemies of Islam had boasted that they would root it out; the result showed them up as ridiculous and despicable.

1306 Whether equipped lightly or heavily, to be taken both literally and metaphorically. All were invited, and they were to bring such resources as they had—lightly armed or heavily armed, on foot or mounted, experienced men for posts of danger, raw men for duties for which they were fit—all would and should help. Even those who were too old or feeble to go could contribute such money or resources as they had.

1307 The arts and excuses of the Hypocrites are here exposed. If there had been booths in sight or an easy walkover, they would have come. All their oaths are false, and in taking the false oaths they are destroying their spiritual life. Indeed the backsliders are jeopardising their own physical lives in hanging back. If the enemy succeeded, they would all suffer.

1308 Literally, "Allah give thee forgiveness!" But there is no question of fault here, and Imam Razi understands the expression to mean an exclamation—as one might say in English, "God bless you!" In Shakespeare "God save you!" is a simple friendly greeting, without any question of danger; e.g., in "Much Ado about Nothing," iii. 2, 82. Note that in 3:152, last clause, "forgiveness" is put in juxtaposition to "grace" as having closely allied meanings. What the Holy Prophet had done in the Tabuk expedition was that he had been granting exemptions which may appear from a military point of view too liberal. He was actuated by motives of kindness as well as policy-kindness, because, in the urgency of the moment he did not wish anyone who had a real excuse to be refused exemption; and policy, because, if any one did not come with hearty good will, he would be a burden instead of a help to the army. The policy was justified, because in fact 30,000 men or more followed him. But that did not in any way justify the slackers, and in a review of the position, the slackers and hypocrites are justly condemned.

1309 Doubt takes away all stability of conduct, while Faith makes a man firm in action and cool and collected in mind.

1310 "Khitatid" more than one meaning, but I follow the interpretation of Raghib and the majority of accepted Commentators, who take it to mean "in your midst".

1311 Evil plotters against Truth are only too glad to get an opportunity of meddling from within with affairs which they want to spoil or upset. They plot from outside, but they like to get into the inner circle, that their chances of intrigue may be all the greater. They are, however, unwilling to incur any danger or any self-sacrifice. The whole of their activities are directed to mischief. Great wisdom is required in a leader to deal with such a situation, and the best of such leaders must need divine guidance, as was forthcoming in this case.

1312 Filah, as explained in n. 1198, 8:25; may mean either trial or temptation, or the tumult, turmoil, or sedition. The Commentators here take the former.
meaning, and explain that some Hypocrites claimed exemption from service in the Tabuk expedition in the direction of Syria on the plea that they could not withstand the charms of Syrian women and ought best to stay at home. The answer is: "But you have already fallen into temptation here by refusing service and disobeying the call." But perhaps the other meaning of "turmoil" may also be permissible as a secondary echo: in that case they object to be drawn into the turmoil of war, but they are told that they are already in a moral turmoil in advancing a disingenuous plea. In using the English word "trick" in the translation, I have also had in my mind the two shades of meaning associated with that word in English.

50. If good befalls thee, it grieves them; but if a misfortune befalls thee, they say, "We took indeed our precautions beforehand," and they turn away rejoicing.

51. Say: "Nothing will happen to us except what Allah has decreed for us: He is our protector"; and on Allah let the Believers put their trust.

52. Say: "Can you expect for us (any fate) other than one of two glorious things- (Martyrdom or victory)? But we can expect for you either that Allah will send his punishment from Himself, or by our hands. So wait (expectant); we too will wait with you."(1313)

1313 The visiting of the Unbelievers and that of the Believers are in different senses. The Unbelievers wish for disaster to the Believers, but the Believers will either conquer or die as martyrs in the Cause, in either case happy in the issue. The Believers expect punishment for the Unbelievers for their infidelity, either through their own instrumentality, or in some other way in Allah's Plan, and the Unbelievers would not like it in either case. (CAS:6:158; 20:155; and 52:31).

53. Say: "Spend (for the cause) willingly or unwillingly:(1314) not from you will it be accepted: for ye are indeed a people rebellious and wicked."

1314 The Hypocrites, who secretly plotted against Islam, might sometimes (and they did) make a show of making some contribution to the Cause in order to keep up their pretence. Their contributions were not acceptable, whether they seemed to give willingly or unwillingly, because rebellion and disobedience were in their hearts. Three reasons are specifically given for their rejection, in the next verse: (1) they did not believe; (2) their prayers were not earnest, but for mere show; and (3) in reality their hearts were not behind the contributions which they offered. Nothing is acceptable to Allah which does not proceed from a pure and sincere heart.

54. The only reasons why their contributions are not accepted are: that they reject Allah and His Messenger, that they come to prayer without earnestness; and that they offer contributions unwillingly.

55. Let not their wealth nor their (following in) sons(1315) dazzle thee: in reality Allah's plan is to punish them with these things in this life,(1316) and that their souls may perish in their (very) denial of Allah.

1315 If they appeared to be prosperous, with their purses and their quivers full (metaphorically), they were not to be envied. In reality their wealth and their sons might themselves be a snare. (CAS: 8:28). On this particular occasion this was proved to the full. The wealth of the Pagans filled them with pride, darkened their understanding, and led to their destruction. Their sons and followers adopted the Faith which their fathers had fought against, much to the chagrin of the fathers, whose spiritual death was even worse than their discomfiture in this world.

56. They swear by Allah that they are indeed of you; but they are not of you: yet they are afraid (to appear in their true colours).

57. If they could find a place to flee to, or caves, or a place of concealment, they would turn straightaway thereto, with an obstinate rush.(1317)

1317 Janahal to be ungoevernable, to run like a runaway horse, to rush madly and obstinately.

58. And among them are men who slander thee in the matter of (the distribution of) the alms:(1318) if they are given part thereof, they are pleased, but if not, behold! they are indignant!

1318 Sadaqah - alms, that which is given in Allah's name, mainly to the poor and needy, and for the specific purposes specified in the next verse but one. Zakat is the regular and obligatory charity in an organised Muslim community, usually 2 1/2 per cent of merchandise and 10 percent on the fruits of the earth. There is a vast body of literature on this subject. The main points may be studied in Al-Hidaya li al-Faru, of Shibli Burhanul-din 'Ali. As against zakah the term sadaqah has a much wider connotation, and is inclusive of zakah as in the verse 60 of this Surah. (R).

59. If only they had been content with what Allah and His Messenger gave them, and had said, "Sufficient unto us is Allah. Allah and His Messenger will soon give us of His bounty: to Allah do we turn our hopes!" (that would have been the right course).(1319)

1319 Selfish men think that charitable funds are fair game for raids, but the Islamic standards on this subject are very high. The enforcement of such standards is always unpopular, and even the Holy Prophet was subjected to obloquy and slander for his strictness to principle. In doubtful cases, claimants who are disappointed should not blame the的原则s or those who enforce them, but put their trust in Allah, whose bounties are unbounded, and are given to all, whether rich or poor, according to their needs and their desserts. For everyone it is excellent advice to say: deserve before you desire.

60. Alms are for the poor and the needy, and those employed to administer the (funds); for those whose hearts have been (recently) reconciled (to Truth); for those in bondage and in debt; in the cause of Allah. and for the wayfarer:(1320) (thus is it) ordained by Allah, and Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.

1320 Zakah or charitable gifts are to be given to the poor and the needy and those who are employed in their service. That is, charitable funds are not to be diverted to other uses, but the genuine expenses of administering charity are properly chargeable to such funds. Who are the needy? Besides the ordinary indigent, there are certain classes of people whose need is great and should be relieved. Those mentioned here are: (1) men who have been weaned from hostility to Truth, who would probably be persecuted by their former associates, and require assistance until they establish new connections in their new environment; (2) those in bondage, literally and figuratively; captives of war must be redeemed; slaves should be helped to freedom; those in the bondage of ignorance or superstition or unfavourable environment should be helped to freedom to develop their own gifts; (3) those who are held in the grip of debt should be helped to economic freedom; (4) those who are struggling and striving in Allah's Cause by teaching or fighting or in duties assigned to them by the righteous Imam, who are thus unable to earn their ordinary living; and (5) strangers stranded on the way. All these have a claim to charity. They should be relieved by individual or organised effort, but in a responsible way. In this verse, the word sadaqah refers to obligatory charity (zakah). See n. 1318 above. (R).

61. Among them are men who molest the Prophet and say, "He is (all) ear."(1321) Say, "He listens to what is best for you: he believes in Allah, has faith in the Believers, and is a Mercy to those of you who believe. But those who molest the Messenger will have a grievous penalty.

1321 The assertion of the Arabic words 'ardhuma' and 'udhun' is of course lost in the Translation. But the sense remains. Detractors of the Prophet said: 'O he listens to everybody! Yes,' is the answer, 'he listens for their good; he is a mercy and a blessing to all men of Faith, but specially to you (who are addressed). The general statement is emphasised for the particular people addressed.

62. To you they swear by Allah. In order to please you: but it is more fitting that they should please Allah and His Messenger, if they are Believers.
63. Know they not that for those who oppose Allah and His Messenger, is the Fire of Hell?—wherein they shall dwell. That is the supreme disgrace.

64. The Hypocrites are afraid(1322) lest a Sura should be sent down about them, showing them what is (really passing) in their hearts. Say: "Mock ye! But verily Allah will bring to light all that ye fear (should be revealed).

1322 The dissection of the motives of the Hypocrites alarmed them. For it meant that they would fall in their policy of having the best of both worlds and undermining the loyalty of the weaker members of the Muslim community. So they turn it off as a jest. But they are sharply rebuked: "Can you make such solemn matters subjects of playful jokes? Fie upon you! You are found out, and your guile is of no effect." (R).

65. If thou dost question them, they declare (with emphasis): "We were only talking idly and in play," Say: "Was it at Allah, and His Signs, and His Messenger, that ye were mocking?"

66. Make ye no excuses: ye have rejected Faith after ye had accepted it. If We pardon some of you, We will punish others amongst you, for that they are in sin.(1323)

1323 See last note. Hypocrisy is a half-way house, a state of indecision in the choice between good and evil. Those who definitely range themselves with good obtain forgiveness; those who pass definitely to evil suffer the penalties of evil.

67. The Hypocrites, men and women, (have an understanding) with each other:(1324) They enjoin evil, and forbid what is just, and are close(1325) with their hands. They have forgotten Allah. so He(1326) hath forgotten them. Verily the Hypocrites are rebellious and perverse.

1324 Literally, 'the Hypocrites ... are of each other'. The forms of hypocrisy may vary, but they are all alike, and they understand each other's hypocrisy. They hold together.

1325 The English phrase 'close-fisted' would cover only a part of the meaning. The hand is the symbol of power, help, and assistance. They may be financial, or it may be in other ways. The Hypocrites pretend a great deal, but are of no use or real help to anyone.

1326 Cf. 7:51 and n. 1029. They ignore Allah; and Allah will ignore them.

68. Allah hath promised the Hypocrites men and women, and the rejecters, of Faith, the fire of Hell: Therein shall they dwell: Sufficient is it for them: for them is the supreme felicity.

69. As in the case of those before you: they were mightier than you in power, and more flourishing in wealth and children. They had their enjoyment of their portion: and ye have of yours, as did those before you; and ye indulge in idle talk as they did. They— their work are fruitless in this world and in the Hereafter, and they will lose (all spiritual good).

70. Hath not the story reached them of those before them?—the People of Noah, and 'Ad,(1328) and Thamud; the People of Abraham, the men(1329) of Midian, and the cities overthrown.(1330) To them came their messengers with clear signs. It is not Allah Who wrongs them, but they wrong their own souls.

1328 The story of Noah is told in 7:50-64; of 'Ad in 7:93-7; and of Thamud in 7:78-79; of Abraham in numerous places, but see specially 6:74-82; of Midianites in 7:85-93; and of Lot and the Cities of the Plain overthrown for their wickedness, in 7:80-84.

1329 In the case of Noah and Abraham, the word I have translated as 'people of...' is qawm; these prophets were messengers each to his own people or nation, as was also Hud to the 'Ad people and Salih to the Thamud people. The word used for the Midianites is Ashabi Madyan, which I have translated 'men of Midian' for want of a better word. The Midianites were for the greater part of their history nomads, with pasture grounds but no settled territory or town. The town of Madyan on the Gulf of Aqaba refers to much later times when the Midianites as a people had ceased to count. See n. 1053 to 7:85.

1330 The Cities of Plain, Sodom and Gomorrah, to whom Lot preached in vain to desist from their abominations 7:80-84.

71. The Believers, men and women, are protectors one of another: they enjoin what is just, and forbid what is evil: they observe regular prayers, practise regular charity, and obey Allah and His Messenger. On them will Allah pour His mercy: for Allah is Exalted in power, Wise.

72. Allah hath promised to Believers, men and women, gardens under which rivers flow, to dwell therein, and beautiful mansions in gardens of everlasting bliss. But the greatest bliss is the good pleasure of Allah. that is the supreme felicity.

73. O Prophet! strive hard against the unbelievers and the Hypocrites, and be firm against them. Their abode is Hell,—an evil refuge indeed.

74. They swear by Allah that they said nothing (evil), but indeed they uttered blasphemy, and they did it after accepting Islam; and they meditated(1331) a plot which they were unable to carry out: this revenge of theirs was (their) only return for the bounty with which Allah and His Messenger had enriched them! If they repent, it will be best for them; but if they turn back (to their evil ways), Allah will punish them with a grievous penalty in this life and in the Hereafter: They shall have none on earth to protect or help them.

1331 The reference is to a plot made by the Prophet's enemies to kill him when he was returning from Tabuk. The plot failed. It was all the more dastardly in that some of the conspirators were among the men of Midinah, who were enriched by the general prosperity that followed the peace and good government established through Islam in Madinah. Trade flourished; justice was firmly administered with an even hand. And the only return that these men could make was a return of evil for good. That was their revenge, because Islam aimed at suppressing selfishness, stood for the rights of the poorest and humblest, and judged worth by righteousness rather than by birth or position.

75. Amongst them are men who made a covenant with Allah, that if He bestowed on them of His bounty, they would give (largely) in charity, and be truly amongst those who are righteous.

76. But when He did bestow of His bounty, they became covetous, and turned back (from their covenant), averse (from its fulfilment).

77. So He hath put as a consequence(1332) hypocrisy into their hearts, (to last) till the Day, wherein they shall meet Him: because they broke their covenant with Allah, and because they lied (again and again).

1332 If men are false to their covenants and words, the natural consequence will be hypocrisy to cover their falsehood. All consequences of our own acts are in Qur'anic language ascribed to Allah. Such consequences will last till the Day of Judgement, when they will have to account for their deeds. They may think that they are deceiving men by their hypocrisy, but they cannot deceive Allah, to Whom all their most secret thoughts and plots and doings are known.

84. Dazzle thee: Allah’s plan is to punish them with these rebellion. His Messenger, and died in a state of perverse stand at his grave; (1337) for they rejected Allah and "The fire of Hell is fiercer in heat." If only they could Messenger of Allah. they hated to strive and fight, and Allah guideth not those who are perversely for their forgiveness, Allah will not forgive them: Allah will throw back their ridicule on them: and they their labour, and throw ridicule on them, (1333) for themselves freely to (deeds of) charity, as well as (thoughts) and their secret counsels, and that Allah knoweth well all things unseen?

85. Nor let their wealth nor their (following in) sons dazzle thee: Allah’s plan is to punish them with these things in this world, and that their souls may perish in their (very) denial of Allah. (1338) of motive would get Allah's grace and forgiveness, and we must not criticise even if we thought they might have done more.

92. Nor (is there blame) on those who came to thee to be provided with mounts(1344), and when thou saidst, "I can find no mounts for you," they turned back, their eyes streaming with tears of grief that they had no resources wherewith to provide the expenses.

1344 Hamala, yahmilu, here seems to mean: to provide means of transport, viz. mounts (horses, camels, etc.) for riding, and perhaps beasts of burden for carrying equipment and baggage, suitable to the rank of those concerned. It may possibly mean other facilities for getting about, such as boots and shoes, or provisions: for any army's march depends upon all these things. Where people fight as volunteers for a cause, without an extensive war fund, those who can afford it provide such things for themselves, but those without means, yet anxious to serve, have to be left behind. Their disappointment is in proportion to their eagerness to serve.

93. The ground (of complaint) is against such as claim exemption while they are rich. They prefer to stay with the (women) who remain behind: Allah hath sealed their hearts; so they know not (What they miss)(1345).

1345 Cf. 9:87, where similar phrases are used for similar shrinking of duty by townsfolk, while here we are considering the desert folk. It is not only a duty, but a precious privilege, to serve a great Cause by personal self-sacrifice. Those who shirk such an opportunity know not what they miss.

94. They will present their excuses to you when ye return to them. Say thou: "Present no excuses: we shall not believe you: Allah hath already informed us of the true state of matters concerning you: It is your actions that Allah and His Messenger will observe: in the end will ye be brought back to Him Who knoweth what is hidden and what is open: then will He show you the truth of all that ye did."

95. They will swear to you by Allah, when ye return to them, that ye may leave them alone. So leave them alone: For they are an abomination, and Hell is their dwelling-place, a fitting recompense for the (evil) that they did.

96. They will swear unto you, that ye may be pleased with them but if ye are pleased with them, Allah is not pleased with those who disobey.

97. The Arabs of the desert are the worst in Unbelief and hypocrisy, and most fitted to be in ignorance of the command which Allah hath sent down to His Messenger. But Allah is All-knowing, All-Wise.

98. Some of the desert Arabs look upon their payments(1346) as a fine, and watch for disasters for you: on them be the disaster of evil: for Allah is He That heareth and knoweth (all things).

1346 The payments refer to the regular Charity established by Islam—the obligatory alms. If you look upon them as a fine or a burden, their virtue is lost. If you rejoice that you have there an opportunity of helping the Community to maintain its standards of public assistance and to suppress the unseemly beggary and loathsome importunity whose relief is only governed by motives of getting rid of awkward obstacles on the way, then your outlook is entirely different. You wish for organised and effective efforts to solve the problems of human poverty and misery. In doing so, you get nearer to Allah, and you earn the good wishes and prayers of godly men, led by our Holy Leader, al Mustafa.

99. But some of the desert Arabs believe in Allah and the Last Day, and look on their payments as pious gifts bringing them nearer to Allah and obtaining the prayers of the Messenger. Aye, indeed they bring them nearer (to Him): soon will Allah admit them to His Mercy(1347): for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

1347 The Mercy of Allah is always present, as the sun is always shining. But when we have prepared ourselves to receive it, we come to the full enjoyment of it, as a man who was in a shade comes out by his effort into the open, and bask in sunshine.

100. The vanguard (of Islam)(1348) - the first of those who forsook (their homes) and of those who gave them aid, and (also) those who follow them in (all) good deeds,—well—pleased is Allah with them, as are they with Him: for them hath He prepared gardens under which rivers flow(1349), to dwell therein for ever: that is the supreme felicity.

1348 The vanguard of Islam—those in the first rank—are those who dare and suffer for the Cause and never flinch. The first historical examples are the Muhajirs and the Ansar. The Muhajirs—those who forsook their homes in Makkah and migrated to Madinah, the Holy Prophet being among the last to leave the post of danger, are mentioned first. Then come the Ansar, the Helpers, the citizens of Madinah who invited them, welcomed them, and gave them aid, and who formed the pivot of the new Community. Then are mentioned all who follow them in good deeds: not only the early heroes and ordinary men and women who had been Companions of the Prophet or had seen him, but men and women in all ages who have lived noble lives. In spite of all their sacrifices and suffering they rejoice in the precious gift of the Good Pleasure of Allah, and their Salvation is the Supreme Felicity which such Good Pleasure gives, symbolised by the Gardens of Heaven.

101. Certain of the desert Arabs round about you are hypocrites, as well as (desert Arabs) among the Medina folk(1350): they are obstinate in hypocrisy: thou knowest them not: We know them: twice shall We punish them(1351): and in addition shall they be sent to a grievous penalty.

1350 The desert Arabs were not all simple folk. There were cunning hypocrites among them: both among certain tribes encamped round about Madinah and certain others in Madinah itself. I understand that both groups are of the Arabs to whom the context refers, and not of the settled citizens of Madinah, whose Hypocrites were already referred to in previous sections. They might look simple, but they were, in their ignorance, all the more obstinate and hypocritical.

1351 Their punishment in this world was double, viz., not only in their discomfiture, but because in their obstinate ignorance, they failed to understand the accomplished facts, while cleverer men realised that their hostility to Islam was hopeless. In addition to their discomfiture in this life, they would have to meet the penalties to come.

102. Others (there are who) have acknowledged their wrong-doings: they have mixed an act that was good with another(1352) that was evil. Perhaps Allah will turn unto them (in Mercy): for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

1352 There were some whose will was weak and succumbed to evil, although there was much good in them. To them is held out the promise of forgiveness if they would repent and undertake all acts of Muslim charity, which would purify their souls, aided by the prayers of Allah's Messenger. Then would they get the Peace that comes from purity and right conduct.

103. Of their goods, take alms, that so thou mightest purify and sanctify them; and pray on their behalf. Verily thy prayers are a source of security for them: And Allah is One Who heareth and knoweth.

104. Know they not that Allah doth accept repentance from His votaries and receives their gifts of charity, and that Allah is verily He, the Oft-Returning, Most Merciful?

105. And say: "Work (righteousness)(1353): Soon will Allah observe your work, and His Messenger, and the Believers: Soon will ye be brought back to the knower
They will indeed swear that their intention is nothing but good; But Allah doth declare that they are pure. (1358)

And there are those who put up a mosque by way of mischief and infidelity - to disunite the believers-and in preparation for one who warred against Allah and His Messenger aforetime. They will indeed swear that their intention is nothing but good; But Allah doth declare that they are certainly liars. (1355)

The parable is continued further. The heart of man is the seat of his hopes and fears, the foundation of his moral and spiritual life. If that foundation is on an undermined sand-cliff already crumbling to pieces, what security or stability can he have? He is being shaken by alarms and suspicions and superstitions, until like the edge of a sand-cliff they are cut clean away and fall into a heap of ruin and his spiritual life and all its landmarks are destroyed.

Allah hath purchased of the believers their persons and their goods; for theirs (in return) is the garden (of Paradise): (1361) they fight in His cause, and slay and are slain: a promise binding on Him in truth, through the Law, the Gospel, and the Qur’an: (1362) and who is more faithful to his covenant than Allah. then rejoice in the bargain which ye have concluded: that is the achievement supreme.

In a human bargain both sides give something and receive some advantage. In the divine bargain, Allah will give us a world of wealth and goods, and gives him in return everlasting Felicity. Man fights in Allah's Cause and carries out His will. All that he has to give up is the ephemeral things of this world, while he gains eternal salvation, the fulfilment of his highest spiritual hopes-a supreme achievement indeed (C/. 61:10-12).

We offer our whole selves and our possessions to Allah, and Allah gives us Salvation. This is the true doctrine of redemption: and we are taught that this is the doctrine not only of the Qur'an but of the earlier Revelations-the original Law of Moses and the original Gospel of Jesus. Any other view of redemption is rejected by Islam, especially that of corrupted Christianity, which thanks that some other person suffered for our sins and we are redeemed by his blood. It is our self-surrender that counts, not other people’s merits. Our complete self-surrender may include fighting for the cause, both spiritually and physically. As regards actual fighting with the sword there has been some difference in theological theories at different times, but very little in the practice of those who framed those theories. The Jewish wars were ruthless wars of extermination. The Old Testament does not mince matters on the subject. In the New Testament St. Paul, in commending the worthy fruits of Faith, mentions Gideon, Barak, and other warriors of the Old Testament as his ideals, “Who through faith subdued kingdoms . . . waxed valiant in fight, turned to fight the armies of the aliens . . .” (Hebrews, 11:32-34). The monkish morality of the Gospels in their present form has never been followed by any self-respecting Christian or other nation in history.

Nor is it common sense to ignore lost of blood in unregenerate man as a form of evil which has to be combatted ‘within the limits set by Allah’ (9:112). (B).

Those that turn (to Allah) (1363) in repentance; that serve Him, and praise Him; that wander in devotion to the cause of Allah; that bow down and prostrate themselves in prayer; that enjoin good and forbid evil; and observe the limit set by Allah--(These do rejoice). So proclaim the glad tidings to the believers.

We are to rejoice that by giving up such small things as ourselves and our possessions we are to be rewarded with such a great thing as the eternal life of felicity. The truly righteous, whose lives in various aspects are described in this verse, do so rejoice. The good news is to be proclaimed to all Believers, including the weakest among us, so that they may profit by that example.

It is not fitting, for the Prophet and those who believe, that they should pray for forgiveness for Pagans, even though they be of kin, after it is clear to them that they are companions of the Fire. (1364)

This is usually understood to refer to the prayer for the dead, (1) if they died unrepentant after Islam was preached to them, (2) if they actively resisted or opposed the Faith to the last, and (3) if the person praying knows that on account of deliberate contumacy the deceased may be said to have had the doors of mercy closed to him. How is he to know? The knowledge must come from special commands as declared by the Holy Prophet in his lifetime regarding individuals. Where no light is available from this source we must follow the best judgement we can.

And Abraham prayed for his father’s forgiveness only because of a promise he had made to him. (1365) But when it became clear to him that he was an enemy to Allah, he dissociated himself from him: for Abraham was most tender-hearted, forbear.(1366) 1366 Abraham and his unbelieving father are referred to in 6:74. Apparently when Abraham was convinced that the conditions mentioned in the last note applied to his father, he gave up praying for him, as the physical bond was cut off by the spiritual hostility. For the promise to pray for his father, see 19:47, (see also n. 5413 to 6:80).

1367 Abraham was loyal and tender-hearted, and bore with much that he disapproved, being in this a prototype of al Mustafa, and it must have gone against his grain to cut off relations in that way. But it would obviously be wrong for a human being to entreat Allah for mercy on people who had finally rejected Allah.

115. And Allah will not mislead(1367) a people after He hath guided them, in order that He may make clear to them what to fear (and avoid)- for Allah hath knowledge of all things.

116. Unto Allah belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth. He giveth life and He taketh it. Except unto Allah belongeth the dominion of the heavens and the earth. He giveth life and He taketh it. Except Him ye have no protector nor helper.

117. Allah turned with favour to the Prophet, the Muḥajirs,(1368) and the Ansār,- who followed him in a time of distress, after that the hearts of a part (1369) of them had nearly swerved (from duty); but He turned to them, (also): for He is unto them Most Kind, Most Merciful.

1368 C.F. 9:410. The Muḥajirs were the people who originally forsook their homes in Makka and followed al Mustafa in exile to Madīnah. The Ansār were the Madīnah people who received them with honour and hospitality into their city. Both these groups were staunch supports of Islam, and proved their Faith by great sacrifices. But in the difficult days of the Tabuk expedition some of them, not perversely, but out of lethargy and human weakness, had failed to follow the standard. They were forgiven, and they afterwards acquitted themselves with zeal.

1369 Note that the “swerving from duty” was merely an inclination due to the weakness of human nature in the face of new difficulties; that it only affected a part of the men for a time; and that it was overcome even in their case by the grace of Allah, so that they all did their duty, and were freely forgiven their incipient weakness, which they conquered. There were three exceptions, which are referred to in the next verse.

118. (He turned in mercy also) to the three who were left behind; (they felt guilty)(1370) to such a degree that the earth seemed constrained to them, for all its spaciousness, and their (very) souls seemed straitened to them,- and they perceived that there is no fleeing from Allah (and no refuge) but to Himself. Then He turned to them, that they might repent: for Allah is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful.

1370 Among the Faithful, the largest number consisted of those who were perfectly staunch and ever ready to do their duty. They obtained the love and good pleasure of Allah. Next came a few who wavered because their will was weak and they were daunted by the dangers and difficulties that faced them; Allah’s saving grace protected them and they conquered their weakness, and did not fail in their duty; Allah forgave them and accepted their repentance. Lastly, in the illustration taken from the Tabuk affair, there were some who actually failed in their duty, not from contingency or ill will, but from thoughtlessness, slackness, and human weakness; they actually failed to obey the Holy Prophet’s summons, and were naturally called on to explain, and were excluded from the life of the Community. Their mental state is here described graphically. Though the earth is spacious, to them it was constrained. In their own souls they had a feeling of constraint. In worldly affluence they felt poor in spirit. They realised that they could not flee from Allah, but could only find solace and refuge in coming back to Him. They freely repented and showed it in their deeds, and Allah freely forgave them and took them to His grace. Though illustrated by the particular examples of the Ansār, vizz., Ka‘b, Māraẓāh, and Hīlāh, the lesson is perfectly general and is good for all times.

119. O ye who believe! Fear Allah and be with those who are true (in word and deed).

120. It was not fitting for the people of Medina and the Bedouin Arabs of the neighbourhood, to refuse to follow Allah’s Messenger, nor to prefer their own lives to his: because nothing could they suffer or do, but was reckoned to their credit as a deed of righteousness,- whether they suffered thirst, or fatigue, or hunger, in the cause of Allah, or trod paths to raise the ire of the Unbelievers, or received any injury(1371) whatever from an enemy: for Allah suffereth not the reward to be lost of those who do good:-

1371 Again, the illustration is that of Tabuk, but the lesson is general. We must not hold our own comfort or lives dearer than that of our Leader, nor desert him in the hour of danger. If we have true devotion, we shall hold our own lives or comfort cheap in comparison to his. But whatever service we render to the Cause of Allah, and whatever sufferings, hardships, or injuries we endure, or whatever resources we spend for the Cause— all goes to raise our degree in the spiritual world. Nothing is lost. Our reward is far greater in worth than any little service we can render, or any little hardship we can suffer, or any little contributions we can make to the Cause, We “painfully attain to joy”.

121. Nor could they spend anything (for the cause) - small or great- nor cut across a valley,(1372) but the deed is inscribed to their credit: that Allah may require their deed with the best (possible reward).

1372 Cut across a valley: this is specially mentioned in a symbolical way, as denoting an individual act of heroism, dash, or bravery. To march with the troops along valleys, or, spiritually, tread paths of danger along with our Comrades, is good and praiseworthy; but one that dashes across a stream, all alone, for some special deed of bravery where the edar of comradeship does not sustain him, needs special mention. Notice that both the things mentioned in this verse—the spending of resources and the dashing across a valley—are individual acts, while those mentioned in the last verse are collective acts, which are in some ways easier. The individual acts having been mentioned, the next verse follows naturally.

122. Nor should the Believers all go forth together: if a contingent from every expedition remained behind, they could devote themselves to studies in religion, and admonish the people when they return to them,-that thus they (may learn)(1373) to guard themselves (against evil).

1373 Fighting may be inevitable, and where a call is made by the (Anṣār al Miṣrīyīn), ruler of an Islamic State, it should be obeyed. But fighting is not to be glorified to the exclusion of all else: Even among those who are able to go forth, a party should remain behind—one in each township or city—for purposes of study; so that when the fighters return home, their minds may be attuned again to the more normal interests of religious life, under properly instructed teachers. The students and teachers are soldiers of the Jihad in their spirit of obedience and discipline. (00).

123. O ye who believe! fight the unbelievers who gird you about,(1374) and let them find firmness in you: and know that Allah is with those who fear Him.

1374 When conflict becomes inevitable, the first thing is to clear our surroundings of all evil, for it is only evil that we can rightly fight. To evil we must put up a stout and stiff resistance. Mealy-mouthed compromises are not right for soldiers of truth and righteousness. They are often a compound of cowardice, weariness, greed, and corruptibility.

124. Whenever there cometh down(1375) a sura, some of them say: “Which of you has had His faith increased by it?” Yea, those who believe,- their faith is increased and they do rejoice.

1375 The incomparability of Unfaith and Faith are contrasted in this section in respect of revelation and the divine teacher. The Unbelievers laugh at revelation, and say to each other mockingly: “Does this increase your faith?” To the Believer every new aspect of Allah’s truth as revealed increases his faith, and wonder, and gratitude. He rejoices, because he gets added strength for life and achievement.
125. But those in whose hearts(1376) is a disease,- it will add doubt to their doubt, and they will die in a state of Unbelief.

1376 Cf. 2:10 and several similar passages. Just as the light, which to healthy eyes gives enlightenment, causes pain to the diseased eye, which emits unclean matter, so to those spiritually diseased, Allah's grace is unwelcome, and they put forth more doubts to cover their disease. And they die in their disease, and of their disease. Note the aptness of the metaphor.

126. See they not that they are tried every year(1377) once or twice? Yet they turn not in repentance, and they take no heed.

1377 Yet, in spite of their infidelity, one or two chances are given them every year. The door is not closed to them. Yet they deliberately turn away, and take no heed of all the warnings which their own nature and the teaching and example of good men should give them.

127. Whenever there cometh down a Sura, they look at each other, (saying), "Doth anyone see you?" Then they turn aside: Allah hath turned their hearts(1378) (from the light); for they are a people that understand not.

1378 Even the Unbelievers, in their hearts and conscience, feel uncomfortable when they turn aside from Faith and Truth, and therefore their turning aside is figured by furtive glances, such as we may suppose literally to have been cast by the Hypocrites in the assemblies of the Holy Prophet. They thus shrink away feeling superior in their minds. And yet, if they only knew it, their contumacy deprives them of Allah's grace and light. They are turning Grace away, and when Allah withdraws it altogether, they perish utterly.

128. Now hath come unto you a Messenger from amongst yourselves: it grieves him that ye should perish: ardently anxious is he over you: to the Believers is he most kind and merciful.(1379)

1379 The tender heart of the Teacher is grieved that any among his flock should rush headlong to ruin. He watches ardently over them, and whenever any of them show signs of Faith, his kindness and mercy surround him and rejoice over him.

129. But if they turn away, Say: "(Allah) sufficeth me: there is no god but He: On Him is my trust,- He the Lord of the Throne (of Glory) Supremel!(1380)

1380 But if the Message is rejected, he still proclaims the burning Faith of his heart, which is unquestionable, Allah is All in All. To trust Him is to find the accomplishment of all spiritual desire. His grandeur is figured by a lofty Throne, supreme in glory!

Thus have we been led, through a notable incident in al Mustafa's earthly career, to truths of the highest spiritual import, (Cf. 23:80).

10. Yunus (Jonah)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A.L.R.(1381) These are the Ayat(1382) of the Book of Wisdom.

1382 Ayat = Signs, or Verses of the Qur'an. Here both meanings are to be understood. Each verse is a nugget of wisdom. And in the verses immediately following, e.g., 10:36, examples are given of the wonders of Allah's material Creation. If the starry heavens impress us with their sublimity as signs of Allah's wisdom and power, how much more wonderful is it that He should speak to lowly man through His Messengers, in man's language, so that he can understand?

2. Is it a matter of wonderment to men that We have sent Our inspiration to a man from among themselves?-(1383) that he should warn mankind (of their danger), and give the good news to the Believers that they have before their Lord the lofty rank of Truth.(1384) (But) say the Unbelievers: "This is indeed an evident sorcerer!"

1383 Allah's Message was and is not all smooth and agreeable. The first thing is to convince us of our sin and wrongdoing, and warn us of our danger. If we have Faith, we then learn what a high rank we obtain in the sight of Allah, through His glorious Truth, which makes us pure and free. According to another view the word "qudata" here refers to the fact that the acts of a person precede him to his Lord. The word sidq qualifies these acts with sincerity and genuineness. (R).

3. Verily your Lord is Allah, who created the heavens and the earth in six Days,(1385) then He established Himself(1386) on the Throne(of authority), Regulating and governing all things. No intercessor (can plead with Him) except after His leave hath been obtained. This is Allah your Lord; Him therefore serve ye: will ye not then be of warned?(1387)

1384 E.g., 2:29 and 10:11, where the preposition ila after it, means He turned to or He directed Himself by His will, hence, in 2:29.1 have translated, "His design comprehended the heavens," to emphasise the fact that the heavens were not eternal or co-eternal with Him, but were a part of His design, and in a sense, as they appear to man subjectively, a complement to the creation of man's Earth. With the preposition ila after it, as here and in 7:54, 23:28, and 25:59, the meaning seems to be "to mount or ascend," and to be firmly established, to sit firm and unshaken, beyond question" (Cf. 20:5). The Throne of authority represents many ideas: e.g., (1) that Allah is high above all His Creation; (2) that He regulates and governs it, as a king does, whose authority is unquestionably recognised; (3) that He is not, therefore, like the gods of Greece and paganism, who were imagined to be in a world apart, careless of mankind, or jealous of mankind, but on the contrary, He (4) disposes of their affairs and all affairs continuously and with justice; (5) that the authority of His prophets, ministers, and messengers is derived from Him, and such intercession as they can make is by His will and permission. (R).

1385 See note 1031 to 7:54.

1386 E.g., with the preposition ila after it, means He turned to or He directed Himself by His will; hence, in 2:29.1 have translated, "His design comprehended the heavens," to emphasise the fact that the heavens were not eternal or co-eternal with Him, but were a part of His design, and in a sense, as they appear to man subjectively, a complement to the creation of man's Earth. With the preposition ila after it, as here and in 7:54, 23:28, and 25:59, the meaning seems to be "to mount or ascend," and to be firmly established, to sit firm and unshaken, beyond question" (Cf. 20:5). The Throne of authority represents many ideas: e.g., (1) that Allah is high above all His Creation; (2) that He regulates and governs it, as a king does, whose authority is unquestionably recognised; (3) that He is not, therefore, like the gods of Greece and paganism, who were imagined to be in a world apart, careless of mankind, or jealous of mankind, but on the contrary, He (4) disposes of their affairs and all affairs continuously and with justice; (5) that the authority of His prophets, ministers, and messengers is derived from Him, and such intercession as they can make is by His will and permission. (R).

1387 Cf. 6:80.
4. To Him will be your return of all of you. The promise of Allah is true and sure.(1388) It is He Who beginneth the process of Creation,(1389) and repeateth it, that He may reward with justice those who believe and work righteousness; but those who reject Him will have draughts (1390) of boiling fluids, and a penalty grievous, because they did reject Him.

1388 Haqq: true, right, for just ends, in right proportions, sure and certain: all these ideas are implied.
1389 Cf. n. 120 to 2:117. Allah's creation is not a simple act, once done and finished with. It is continuous, and there are many stages, not the least important of which is the Hereafter, when the fruits of our life will be achieved.
1390 Hanutu: boiling fluid; it is associated as in 38:57, with ghassaq, a dark, murky, or intensely cold fluid: both symbols of the grievous penalty that results from rebellion against Allah.

5. It is He Who made the sun to be a shining glory (1391) and the moon to be a light (of beauty), and measured out stages for her; that ye might know the number of years and the count (of time). Nowise did Allah create this but in truth and righteousness.(1392) (Thus) doth He explain His Signs in detail, for those who understand.(1393)

1391 The fitting epithet for the sun is diya'; 'splendour and glory of brightness', and for the moon is 'a light' (of beauty), the cool light that illuminates and helps in the darkness of the night. But the sun and moon also measure time. The simplest observation can keep pace with the true lunar months and lunar years, which are all that is required by a pastoral people. For agriculture solar years are required, as they indicate the changes of the seasons, but ordinary solar years are never exact; even the solar year of 365 1/4 days requires correction by advanced astronomical calculation.
1392 Everything in Allah's creation has use and purpose, and fits into a Design. It is true in every sense of the word and it is good and just. It is not merely a matter of sport or freak. (21:16). Though so varied, it proclaims Allah's Unity; though a limited free will is granted to creatures, the results of evil (which is rebellion) are neutralised and harmony is restored. Cf. 3:191.
1393 Cf. 9:11.

6. Verily, in the alternation of the night and the day, and in all that Allah hath created, in the heavens and the earth, are signs for those who fear Him.(1394)

1394 Cf. 2:164.

7. Those who rest not their hope on their meeting with Us, but are pleased and satisfied with the life of the present, and those who heed not Our Signs,—(1395)

1395 Those who fall from Grace are described by three epithets: (1) the meeting with Allah is not the object of their hope and earnest desire, but something else, viz. (2) the material good of this world, which not only attracts them but apparently gives them complete satisfaction, so that there is no glow of the Future in their horizon, and (3) they are deaf and dead to the resounding and living Message of Allah. (1) and (2) refer to the extinction of Faith in them, and (3) to their falling prey to the evils of this world in their conduct. They are contrasted in 10:9 with the Faith and the Righteousness of those who accept Grace.

8. Their abode is the Fire, because of the (evil) they earned.

9. Those who believe, and work righteousness,— their Lord will guide them because of their Faith:(1396) beneath them will flow rivers in gardens of bliss.

1396 Their Faith is the cause as well as the instrument of their Guidance—the Kindly Light which leads them as well as the Joy which fills their Soul. The usual symbols of Gardens and Fire are again contrasted—in each case the result of Good or Evil in Life.

10. (This will be) their cry therein: "Glory to Thee, O Allah." And "Peace" will be their greeting therein! and the close of their prayer (1397) will be: "Praise be to Allah, the Cherisher and Sustainer of the worlds!"

1397 A beautiful piece of spiritual melody! They sing and shout with joy, but their joy is in the Glory of Allah! The greetings they receive and the greetings they give are of Peace and Harmony! From first to last they realise that it is Allah Who cherished them and made them grow, and His rays are their Light. (Cf. 36:38).

11. If Allah were to hasten for men the ill (they have earned) as they fain hasten on the good,— then would their respite be settled at once. (1398) But We leave those who rest not their hope on their meeting with Us, in their trespasses, wandering in distraction to and fro.

1398 Those who have no spiritual hope for the Future grasp at any temporary advantage, and in their blindness even mockingly ask for immediate punishment for their sins (6:52), thus vainly challenging Allah, in Whom they do not believe. If the beneficent Allah were to take them at their word, they would have no chance at all. Their doom would be sealed. But even the respite they get they use badly. They merely wander about distractedly like men, to and fro. Cf. 2:115.

12. When trouble toucheth a man, He crieth unto Us (in all postures)—lying down (1399) on his side, or sitting, or standing. But when We have solved his trouble, he passeth on his way as if he had never cried to Us for a trouble that touched him! thus do the deeds of transgressors seem fair in their eyes!(1400)

1399 Not only do men fail to use their respite: even those who have a superficial belief in Allah call on Him in their trouble but forget Him when He has relieved their trouble. Their Faith is not strong enough to make them realise that all good proceeds from Allah. But in moments of trouble they use every position, literally and figuratively, to appeal to Him. (Cf. 39:98).
1400 Those without Faith are selfish, and are so wrapped up in themselves that they think every good that comes to them is due to their own merits or cleverness. That is itself a cause of their undoing. They do not see their own faults, and 16:53-54).

13. Generations before you We destroyed when they did wrong: their messengers came to them with clear-signs, but they would not believe! thus do We requite those who sin!

14. Then We made you heirs in the land after them, to see how ye would behave!(1401)

1401 This is addressed to Quraysh in the first instance, for they have succeeded to the heritage of 'Ad and Thamud. But the application is universal, and was true to the Abbasí Empire in the time of Harun al Rashid, or the Muslim Empire in Spain or the Turkish Empire in its palmyest days, and indeed, apart from political power, to the Muslims and non-Muslims of our own days.

15. But when Our Clear Signs are rehearsed unto them, those who rest not their hope on their meeting with Us, Say: "Bring us a Reading (1402) other than this, or change this," Say: "It is not for me, of my own accord, to change it: I follow naught but what is revealed unto me: if I were to disobey my Lord, I should myself fear the penalty of a Great Day (to come)."

1402 Reading, in the Arabic, the word is 'Qur'an', which may mean Reading or in the special sense, the Qur'an. The duty of Allah's Messenger is to deliver Allah's Message as it is revealed to him, whether it please or displease those who hear it. Selfish men want to read their own desires or fancies into religious precepts, and thus they are often willing to use Religion for their own ends. Most of the corruptions of Religion are due to this cause. But Religion is not to be so prostituted.

16. Say: "If Allah had so willed, I should not have rehearsed it to you, nor would He have made it known to you. (1403) A whole life-time before this have I tarried amongst you: will ye not then understand?" (1404)
1402 It is in Allah's Plan that He should reveal Himself in certain ways to His creatures, and His Messengers are the instruments that carry out His Will. It is in itself gracious Mercy that He should thus make His Will known. We should be grateful for His guidance instead of carping at it.

1403 Muhammed al Mustafa had lived his whole life of purity and virtue amongst his people, and they knew and acknowledged it before he received his mission. They knew he loved his nation and was loyal to it. Why should they turn against him when he had to point out under inspiration all their sins and wrongdoings? It was for their own good. And he had to plead again and again with them: "Will you not understand. Kind see what a glorious privilege it is for you to receive true guidance from Allah?"

17. Who doth more wrong than such as forge a lie against Allah, or deny His Signs? But never will prosper those who sin.

18. They serve, besides Allah, things that hurt them not nor profit them, and they say: "These are our intercessors with Allah." Say: "Do ye indeed inform Allah of something He knows not, in the heavens?" (1405) or on earth-? Glory to Him! and far is He above the partners they ascribe (to Him)!

1406 When we shut our eyes to Allah's glory and goodness, and groan after false gods, we give some plausible excuse to ourselves, such as that they will intercede for us. But how can sticks and stones intercede for us? And how can men intercede for us, when they themselves have need of Allah's Mercy? Even the best and noblest cannot intercede as of right, but only with His permission (10:3). To pretend that there are other powers than Allah is to invent lies and to teach Allah. There is nothing in heaven or earth that He does not know, and there is no other "owner" except Allah. A beauty and grace is Allah of something He knows not, in the heavens (1405).

1407 When We shut our eyes to Allah's glory and goodness, and go after false gods, we give some plausible excuse to ourselves, such as that they will intercede for us. But how can sticks and stones intercede for us? And how can men intercede for us, when they themselves have need of Allah's Mercy? Even the best and noblest cannot intercede as of right, but only with His permission (10:3). To pretend that there are other powers than Allah is to invent lies and to teach Allah. There is nothing in heaven or earth that He does not know, and there is no other "owner" except Allah.

19. Mankind was but one nation, (1406) but differed (later). Had it not been for a Word (1407) that went forth before from thy Lord, their differences would have been settled between them.

1408 Their demand for a Sign is disingenuous. All nature and revelation furnishes them with incontestable Signs. What they want is the Book of the Unseen opened out to them like the physical leaves of a book. But they forget that a physical Book is on a wholly different plane from Allah's Mysteries, and that their physical natures cannot apprehend the mysteries. They must wait. Truth will also wait. But the waiting in two cases is in quite different senses. (Cf. 6:1:58 and 9:52).

20. They say: "Why is not a sign sent down to him from his Lord?" Say: "The Unseen is only for Allah (to know), then wait ye: I too will wait with you." (1408)

21. When We make mankind taste of some mercy after adversity hath touched them, behold! they take to plotting against Our Signs! Say: "Swifter to plan is Allah." Verily, Our messengers record all the plots that ye make!(1409)

22. He it is Who enabl eth you to traverse through land and sea; so that ye even board ships,- they sail with them with a favourable wind, and they rejoice thereat; then comes a stormy wind and the waves come to them from all sides, and they think they are being overwhelmed: they cry unto Allah, sincerely offering (their) duty unto Him saying, "If thou dost deliver us from this, we shall truly show our gratitude!" (1410)

23. But when he delivereth them, behold! they transgress insolutely through the earth in defiance of right! 0 mankind! your insolence (1411) is against your own souls,- an enjoyment of the life of the present: in the end, to Us is your return, and We shall show you the truth of all that ye did.

24. The likeness of the life of the present is as the rain which We send down from the skies: (1412) by its mingling arises the produce of the earth- which provides food for men and animals: (It grows) till the earth is clad with its golden ornaments and is decked out (in beauty): the people to whom it belongs think they have all powers of disposal over it: There reaches it Our command by night or by day, and We make it like a harvest clean-mown, as if it had not flourished only the day before! thus do We explain the Signs in detail for those who reflect.

25. But Allah doth call to the Home of Peace: (1413) He doth guide whom He pleaseth to a way that is straight.

26. To those who do right is a goodly (reward)- Yea, more (than in measure)!(1414) No darkness nor shame shall cover their faces! (1415) they are companions of the garden; they will abide therein (for aye)!

1409 Man turns his thoughts in adversity to Allah. But as soon as the trouble is past, he not only forgets Him but actually strives against His cause. But such people are poor ignorant creatures, not realising that the Universal Plan of Allah is swifter to stop their petty plans, and that though they fail, the record of them remains eternally against them, (R).
27. But those who have earned evil will have a reward of like evil: (1416) ignominy will cover their (faces): No defender will they have from (the wrath of) Allah. Their faces will be covered, as it were, with pieces from the depth of the darkness (1417) of night: they are companions of the Fire: they will abide therein (for aye)! (1418)

1416 Note that the evil reward is for those who have "earned" evil, i.e., brought it on themselves by the deliberate choice of evil. Further, in the justice of Allah, they will be required with evil similar to, and not greater in quantity or intensity, than the evil they had done - unlike the good, who, in Allah's generosity, get a reward far greater than anything they have earned or could possibly earn.

1417 Night is the negation of Light and metaphorically of joy and felicity. The intensive is indicated by 'the depth of the darkness of Night.'

28. One day shall We gather them all together. Then shall We say to those who joined gods (with Us): "To your place! ye and those ye joined as 'partners' We shall separate them, and their "Partners" shall say: "It was not us that ye worshipped! (1418)

1418 The false gods are not real: they are only the figments of the imaginations of those who indulged in the false worship. But the prophets or great or good men whose names were vainly taken in competition with the name of Allah, and the personified Ideas or Idols treated in the same way would themselves protest against their names being used in that way, and show that the worship was paid not to them, but to the ignorance or superstition or selfish lusts of the false worshippers. (Cf. 19:81-82, 28:63, and 35:14).

29. "Enough is Allah for a witness between us and you: we certainly knew nothing of your worship of us!" (1419)

1419 See last note. They did not even know that they were being falsely worshipped in that way.

30. There will every soul prove (the fruits of) the deeds it sent before (1420): they will be brought back to Allah their rightful Lord, and their invented falsehoods will leave them in the lurch. (1421)

1420 Cf. 2:295, where the verb used is ٧٣٩. The verb ٧٣٩, used here, is nearly synonymous.

1421 Instead of their false ideas helping them, they will desert them and leave them in the lurch. Cf. 6:24.

31. Say: "Who is it that sustains you (in life) from the sky and from the earth? (1422) or who is it that has power over hearing (1423) and sight? and who is it that rules and brings out the living from the dead and the dead to the sky and from the earth? (1422) or who is it that has power over hearing (1423) and sight? and who is it that rules and brings out the living from the dead and the dead to the sky and from the earth? (1422) or who is it that has power over hearing (1423) and sight? and who is it that rules and brings out the living from the dead and the dead to the sky and from the earth? (1422)

1422 Sustenance may be understood in the sense of all the provision necessary for maintaining physical life as well as mental and spiritual development and well-being. Examples of the former are light and rain from heaven and the produce of the earth and facilities of movement on land and sea and in air. Examples of the latter are the moral and spiritual influences that come from our fellow-men, and from the great Teachers and Prophets.

1423 Just two of our ordinary faculties, hearing and sight, are mentioned, as examples of the rest. All the gifts of Allah, physical and spiritual, are enjoyed and incorporated by us as means of the faculties and capacities with which He has endowed us.

1424 Cf. 3:27 and n. 371; 6:36, 6:35 and n. 928, 30:19, and 36:12.

1425 This is the general summing-up of the argument. The government of the whole Creation and its maintenance and sustenance is in the hands of Allah. How futile then would it be to neglect His true worship and go after false gods?

32. Such is Allah, your real Cherisher and Sustainer: apart from truth, what (remains) but error? (1426) How then are ye turned away?

1426 The wonderful handiwork and wisdom of Allah having been referred to, as the real Truth, as against the false worship and false gods that men set up, it follows that to disregard the Truth must lead us into worthless, not only in our beliefs but in our conduct. We shall err and stray and be lost. How then can we turn away from the Truth? (Cf. 40:69).

33. Thus is the word of thy Lord proved true (1427) against those who rebel: Verily they will not believe.

1427 Disobedience to Allah brings its own terrible consequences on ourselves. The Law, the Word, the Decree, of Allah must be fulfilled. If we go to false gods, our Faith will be dimmed, and then extinguished. Our spiritual faculties will be dead.

34. Say: "Of your 'partners', (1428) can any originate creation and repeat it?" Say: "It is Allah Who originates creation and repeats it: then how are ye deluded away (from the truth)?"

1428 The argument is now turned in another direction. The false gods can neither create out of nothing nor sustain the creative energy which maintains the world. Nor can they give any guidance which can be of use for the future destiny of mankind: on the contrary they themselves (assuming they were men who were defied) stand in need of such guidance. Why then follow vain fancies, instead of going to the source of all knowledge, truth, and guidance, and worship, serve, and obey Allah, the One True God?

35. Say: "Of your 'partners' is there any that can give any guidance towards truth?" Say: "It is Allah Who gives guidance towards truth, is then He Who gives guidance to truth more worthy to be followed, or he who finds not guidance (himself) unless he is guided? what then is the matter with you? How judge ye?"

36. But most of them follow nothing but fancy: truly fancy can be of no avail against truth. Verily Allah is well aware of all that they do.

37. This Qur'an is not such as can be produced by other than Allah. on the contrary it is a confirmation of (revelations) that went before it, and a fuller elucidation of the Book (1429) - wherein there is no doubt - from the Lord of the worlds.

1429 The Book: Cf. 3:233 and n. 366. Allah's revelation throughout the ages is one. The Qur'an confirms, fulfills, completes, and further explains the one true revelation, which has been sent by the One True God in all ages.

38. Or do they say, "He forged it"? say: "Bring then a Sura like unto it, and call (to your aid) anyone you can besides Allah, if it be ye speak the truth!" (1430)

1430 Cf. 2:233 and n. 42, 11:13, and 52:33-34.

39. Nay, they charge with falsehood that whose knowledge they cannot compass, even before the elucidation thereof (1431) hath reached them: thus did those before them make charges of falsehood: but see what was the end of those who did wrong? (1432)

1431 This Qur'an is not such as can be produced by other than Allah. on the contrary it is a confirmation of (revelations) that went before it, and a fuller elucidation of the Book (1429) - wherein there is no doubt - from the Lord of the worlds.

1432 Or do they say, "He forged it"? say: "Bring then a Sura like unto it, and call (to your aid) anyone you can besides Allah, if it be ye speak the truth!" (1430)
41. If they charge thee with falsehood, say: "My work to me, and yours to you! (1433) ye are free from responsibility for what I do, and I for what ye do!"

1433 When the Prophet of Allah is rejected and charged with falsehood, he does not give up his work, but continues to teach and preach his Message. He can well say to those who interfere with him: "Mind your own business: supposing your charge against me is true, you incur no responsibility: I have to answer for it before Allah; and if I do my duty and deliver my Message, your rejection does not make me liable for your wrongdoing; you will have to answer before Allah."

42. Among them are some who (pretend to) listen to thee: But canst thou make the deaf to hear,- even though they are without understanding? (1434)

1434 Cf. 6:25, 36, 39 and notes. Hypocrites go to hear and see some great Teacher, but they get no profit out of it because they are not sincerely seeking the truth. They are like the blind, or the deaf, or the imbeciles. It is impossible to guide them, because they have not the will to be guided.

43. And among them are some who look at thee: But canst thou guide the blind,- even though they will not see?

44. Verily Allah will not deal unjustly with man in aught: It is man that wrongs his own soul. (1435)

1435 Allah cannot be blamed for man's evil, nor will He deal unjustly with man. He has given him faculties and means of guidance. If man goes wrong, it is because he wrongs himself.

45. One day He will gather them together: (It will be) as if they had tarried (1436) but an hour of a day: they will not be wronged.

1436 They will be judged between them with justice, and they will be convinced of its righteousness. The righteous judgement which will be pronounced will be intelligible to us, and we shall be convinced of its righteousness.

46. Whether we show thee (realised in thy life-time) some part of what We promise them,- or We take thy soul (to Our Mercy) (Before that),- in any case, to Us is their return: ultimately Allah is witness, (1438) to all that they do.

1438 The Prophet is assured that the end of evil is evil, just as the end of good is good. Whether this result is made plain before his very eyes in his own lifetime or afterwards, makes no difference. The wicked should not rejoice if they are given rope and seem to have the upper hand for a time, nor should the righteous lose heart: for Allah's promise is sure and must come to pass. And in any case, the scales can only be partially, if at all, adjusted in this life. There is the final and complete adjustment on the Day of Judgement. Allah is All-Knowing, and all truth will be before Him. (Cf. 4:57).

47. To every people (was sent) a Messenger: when their Messenger (1439) comes (before them), the matter will be judged between them with justice, and they will not be wronged.

1439 Every people or generation or nation had its Messenger or Apostle. (Cf. n. 668 and 16:36 , and 35:24b). Allah revealed Himself to it in some way or another. If that Messenger was ignored or rejected, or his Message was twisted or misused, the Day of Reckoning will come, when perfect justice will be done and the whole Truth revealed. The Unbelievers mockingly say: "If that is true, pray tell us when that Day will come?" The answer of the Messenger is: "It will come in good time: no one can either hasten or retard it. If you want me then to save you or if you fear that I shall harm you for your treatment of me, know that this matter is in the hands of Allah alone, Who will do perfect justice. Even in regard to myself, any harm or good that befalls me is by the command and in the power of Allah."
56. It is He Who giveth life and who taketh it, and to Him shall ye all be brought back.

57. O mankind! there hath come to you a direction from your Lord and a healing for the (diseases) (1446) in your hearts,- and for those who believe, a guidance and a Mercy.

1446 Those who do wrong have a disease in their hearts, which will cause their spiritual death. Allah in His Mercy declares His Will to them, which should direct their lives and provide a healing for their spiritual disease. If they accept Faith, the remedy acts; they find themselves in right guidance and receive Allah's forgiveness and mercy. Surely those are far better gifts than material advantages, wealth, or possessions. (CE; n. 2989).

58. Say: "In the bounty of Allah. And in His Mercy,- in that let them rejoice": that is better than the (wealth) they hoard.

59. Say: "See ye what things (1447) Allah hath sent down to you for sustenance? Yet ye hold forbidden some things thereof and (some things) lawful." Say: "Hath Allah indeed permitted you, or do ye invent (things) to attribute to Allah?"

1447 "Bounty" is to be taken in both the literal and the metaphorical sense. In the literal sense, all things and varied things Allah has provided for us on land and in sea and air, in the vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms? Yet narrow minds put artificial barriers against their use. In the metaphorical sense, what enchanting things! How do we distinguish between a gift and a loan? And who is to say that some are lawful and others forbidden? Supposing they were so in special circumstances, is it not right to attribute artificial restrictions of that kind to Allah and falsely erect religious sanctions against them.

60. And what think those who invent lies against Allah, of the Day of Judgment? (1448) Verily Allah is full of bounty to mankind, but most of them are ungrateful. (1449)

1448 People who lie in Religion or invent false gods, or false worship—have they any idea of the Day of Judgement, when they will be called to account, and will have to answer for their deeds?

1449 Allah is most kind, and gracious, and generous with His gifts of all kinds, material and spiritual. But men do not understand, and are ungrateful in forgetting the Giver of all and setting up false objects of worship and false standards of pride.

61. In whatever business thou mayest be, and whatever portion thou mayest be reciting from the Qur' an,- and whatever deed ye (mankind) may be doing,- We are witnesses thereof when ye are deeply engrossed therein. Nor is hidden from thy Lord (so much as) the weight of an atom on the earth or in heaven. And not the least and not the greatest of these things but are recorded in a clear Record. (1450)

1450 There is nothing that men can do but Allah is a witness to it. We may be deeply engrossed in some particular thing and for the time being be quite unconscious of other things. But Allah's knowledge not only comprehends all things, but has all things actively before it. Nothing is hidden from Him. And His knowledge has another quality which human knowledge has not. Human knowledge is subject to time, and is obliterated by time. Allah's knowledge is a Record and endures forever. And His Record has a further quality which human records have not. The most permanent human record may be quite intelligible to those who make it but it may be ambiguous to others and may become unintelligible with the progress of time, as happens almost invariably to the most enduring inscriptions from very ancient times; but in Allah's "Record" or knowledge there is no ambiguity, for it is independent of time, or place, or circumstance. This is the force of Mutlin (clear) here.

62. Behold! verily on the friends of Allah there is no fear, (1451) nor shall they grieve;

1451 Allah's all-embracing knowledge and constant watchful care over all His creatures, maybe a source of fear to sinners, but there is no fear for those whom He honours with His love and friendship - neither in this world nor in the world to come.

63. Those who believe and (constantly) guard against evil;-

64. For them are glad tidings, in the life of the present and in the Hereafter; no change can there be in the words of Allah. This is indeed the supreme felicity.

65. Let not their speech (1452) grieve thee: for all power and honour belong to Allah. It is He Who heareth and knoweth (all things).

1452 Sometimes the words of the unrighteous or their revilings hurt or grieve the righteous man, but there is no occasion for either anger or sorrow: they have no power and they can do no real dishonour, for all power and honour are from Allah.

66. Behold! verily to Allah belong all creatures, in the heavens and on earth. What do they follow who worship as His "partners" other than Allah. They follow nothing but fancy, and they do nothing but lie. (1453)

1453 All creatures are subject to Allah. If, therefore, any false worship is set up, thefalse gods-so called "partners"-are merely creations of imagination or false inventions.

67. He it is That hath made you the night that ye may rest therein, and the day to make things visible (to you). (1454) Verily in this are signs for those who listen (to His Message).

1454 Our physical life-and our higher life in so far as it is linked with the physical-is sustained by the alternation of rest and activity, and the fit environment for this alternation is the succession of Nights and Days in our physical world. The Day makes the things "visible to us", a beautiful symbol, not only of the physical work for which we go about by day, but of the higher activities which are fully associated with seeing, perception and inquiry. Intuition (insight) is a little out of that circle because that may come by night, when our other faculties are resting.

68. They say: "(Allah) hath begotten a son!" - Glory be to Him! He is self-sufficient! His are all things in the heavens and on earth! No warrant have ye for this! say ye about Allah what ye know not?

69. Say: "Those who invent a lie against Allah will never prosper." (1455)

1455 In Qur'anic language "prosperity" refers both to our everyday life and to the higher life within us—to the Present and the Future—health and strength, opportunities and resources, a spirit of contentment and the power of influencing others. Here there seems to be an extra touch of meaning. A liar not only deprives himself of prosperity in all senses, but his "lie" itself against Allah will not succeed: it will and must be found out.

70. A little enjoyment in this world!- and then, to Us will be their return, then shall We make them taste the severest penalty for their blasphemies.

71. Relate to them the story (1456) of Noah. Behold! he said to his people: "O my people, if it be hard on your (mind) that I should stay (with you) and commemat the signs of Allah,—yet I put my trust in Allah, delivered his message, and was saved from the Flood. Get ye then an agreement about your plan and give me no respite.

1456 The reference to Noah's story here is only incidental, to illustrate a special point. The fuller story will be found in 11:25-48, and in many other passages, e.g., 7:59-64, 26:103-122, and 37:75-82. At each place there is a special point in the context. The special point here is that Noah's very life and teaching among his wicked people was a cause of offence to them. But he feared nothing, trusted in Allah, delivered his message, and was saved from the Flood.

1457 Finn in his sense of Truth from Allah, Noah plainly told his people to condemn him to death if they liked, openly and in concert, so that he should at
72. "But if ye turn back, (consider): no reward have I asked (1458) of you: my reward is only due from Allah, and I have been commanded to be of those who submit to Allah's will (in Islam)."

1458 The Prophet of Allah preaches for the good of his people. He claims no reward from them; but, on the contrary, is reviled, persecuted, banished, and often slain. (CF. 34:47 and 36:21).

73. They rejected Him, but We delivered him, and those with him, in the Ark, and We made them inherit the (earth), while We overwhelmed in the flood those who rejected Our Signs (1459). Then see what was the end of those who were warned (but heeded not)!

1459 Cf. 7:92-94.

74. Then after him We sent (many) messengers to their peoples: they brought them Clear Signs, but they would not believe what they had already rejected (1460) beforehand. Thus do We seal the hearts of the transgressors.

1460 I understand the meaning to be that there is a sort of spiritual influence descending from generation to generation, among the Unbelievers as among the men of Faith. In history we find the same spiritual problems in many ages-denial of Allah's grace, defiance of Allah's law, rejection of Allah's Message. These influences cause the hearts of the transgressors to be sealed and impervious to the Truth. Cf. 2:7 and notes. What they do is to prejudge the issues even before the Prophet explains them, (see also 6:46).

75. Then after them sent We Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh (1461) and his chiefs with Our Signs. But they were arrogant: they were a people in sin.

1461 The story of Moses, Aaron, and Pharaoh is fully told in 7:103-137, and there are references to it in many places in the Qur'an. The incidental reference here is to illustrate a special point, viz., that the wicked are arrogant and bound up in their sin, and prefer deception to Truth; they do not hesitate to change the men of Allah, who work unselfishly for them, with mean motives, such as would actuate them in similar circumstances!

76. When the Truth did come to them from Us, they said: "This is indeed evident sorcery!"

77. Said Moses: "Say ye (this) about the truth when it hath (actually) reached you? Is sorcery (like) this? But sorcerers will not prosper." (1462)

1462 Sorcery is the very opposite of Truth—being deception of plausible shows by the powers of evil. But these cannot succeed or last permanently, and Truth must ultimately prevail.

78. They said: "Hast thou come to us to turn us away from the ways we found our fathers following, in order that thou and thy brother may have greatness in the land? (1463) But not we shall believe in you!"

1463 Notice how they attribute evil motives to the men of Allah, motives of ambition and lust for power, which the men of Allah had been sent expressly to put down. The same device was used against Al Mustafah.

79. Said Pharaoh: "Bring me every sorcerer well versed."

80. When the sorcerers came, Moses said to them: "Throw ye what ye (wish) to throw!"

81. When they had had their throw, (1464) Moses said: "What ye have brought is sorcery: Allah will surely make it of no effect: for Allah prospereth not the work of those who make mischief.

1464 When they threw their rods, the rods became snakes by a trick of sorcery, but Moses's miracles were greater than any tricks of sorcery, and had real Truth behind them.

82. "And Allah by His Words (1465) doth prove and establish His truth, however much the sinners may hate it!"

1465 Allah's Words or Commands have real power, while sorcerer's tricks only seem wonderful by deceiving the eye.

83. But none believed in Moses except some children of his People (1466) because of the fear of Pharaoh and his chiefs, lest they should persecute them; and certainly Pharaoh was mighty on the earth and one who transgressed all bounds.

1466 The pronoun "his" in "his People" is taken by some Commentators to refer to Pharaoh. The majority of Pharaoh's people refused to believe at the time, but the sorcerers believed (7:128-129), and so did Pharaoh's wife (66:11), and ultimately Pharaoh himself, though too late (10:90). If we took "his" to refer to Moses, it would mean that the Israelites were hardened and grumbled (7:129) even when they were being delivered from Egypt, and only a few of them had any real faith in Allah's providence and the working of His Law, and they feared Pharaoh even more than they feared Allah.

84. Moses said: "O my people! If ye do (really) believe in Allah, then in Him put your trust if ye submit (your will to His)."

85. They said: "In Allah do we put out trust. Our Lord! make us not a trial for those (1467) who practise oppression;"

1467 A trial for those who practise oppression: the various meanings of Finah have been explained in n. 1198 to 8:25. The prayer is that the righteous people, being weak, should be saved from being used as objects of oppression or punishment at the hands of powerful enemies. Weakness tempts power to practise oppression, and is thus an occasion of trial for the oppressors.

86. "And deliver us by Thy Mercy from those who reject (Thee)."

87. We inspired Moses and his brother with this Message: "Provide (1468) dwellings for your people in Egypt, make your dwellings into places of worship, and establish regular prayers: and give glad tidings to those who believe!"

1468 This instruction, we may suppose, was given when the sorcerers were brought to confusion, and some of the Egyptians believed. Moses was for a little while to remain in Egypt, so that his Message should have time to work, before the Israelites were led out of Egypt. They were to make their houses into places of prayer (Qiblah), as Pharaoh would not probably allow them to set up public places of prayer, and they were now to be only sojourners in Egypt. The Qiblah was to be symbolical of their later wanderings in Arabia, and the still later restoration of Allah's pure worship at the Ka'bah under al Mu'tasa. These were the glad tidings (the Gospel of Islam, which was preached under Noah, Abraham, Moses, and Jesus), and completed under Muhammad.

88. Moses prayed: "Our Lord! Thou hast indeed bestowed on Pharaoh and his chiefs splendour and wealth in the life (1469) of the present, and so, Our Lord, they mislead (men) from Thy Path. Deface our Lord, the features of their wealth (1470) and send hardness to their hearts, so they will not believe until they see the grievous penalty."

1469 Moses's prayer, in which Aaron joined, for he was always with him, may be paraphrased thus: 'O Allah! we understand that the glitter and the wealth of the Egyptians are not to be envied. They are but the ephemeral goods of this life. They are a disadvantage, in that in their pride of possessions the Egyptians mislead themselves and others. Let their pride be their undoing! Turn their wealth into bitterness and their hearts into hardness, for they reject Thee, and they will not believe until they actually see the Punishment of their sins!'
It is said to him): "Ah now! But a little while before, wast thou in rebellion!- and thou didst mischiefs of which I reproved thee through Signs and through inspiration-the latter ("the Word") being even more direct and personal than the former. Those who did not heed the warning found to their cost that it was true, and they perished. Such continuancy in the rejection of Truth only yields when the actual penalty is in sight. Belief then is induced by irresistible facts: it is not efficacious as Faith, as was proved against Pharaoh. See 10:90 and n. 1473.

97. Even if every Sign was brought unto them,—until they see (for themselves) the penalty grievous.

98. Why was there not a single township (among those We warned), which believed,—so its faith should have profited it,—except the People(1478) of Jonah? When they believed, We removed from them the penalty of ignominy in the life of the present, and permitted them to enjoy (their life) for a while.(1479)

1478 Allah in His infinite Mercy points out the contingency or Sin as a warning, and the exceptional case of Nineveh and its Prophet Jonah is alluded to. The story of Jonah is told in 37:139-148, which would be an appropriate place for further comments. (Cf. n. 1480.) Here it is sufficient to note that Nineveh was a very ancient town which is now no longer on the map. Its site is believed to be marked by the two mounds on the left bank of the Tigris, opposite the flourishing city of Mosul on the right bank, about 230 miles north-northwest of Baghdad. One of the mounds bears the name of the "de Tomb of Nebi Yunus." Archaeologists have not yet fully explored its antiquities, but it is clear that it was a very old Semitic town, perhaps older than 3500 B.C. It became the capital of Assyria. The first Assyrian Empire under Shalmaneser I, about 1300 B.C., became the superpower in Western Asia. Babylon, whose tribe Assyria had formerly been, now became tributary to Assyria. The second Assyrian Empire arose about 745 B.C., and Semachertib (703-681 B.C.) beautified the town with many public works. It was destroyed by the Scythians (so-called Medes) in 612 B.C. If the date of the mounds were assumed to be about 800 B.C., it would be between the First and Second Assyrian Empires; when the City was nearly destroyed for its sins, but on account of its repentance was given a new lease of glorious life in the Second Empire.

1479 The point of the allusion here may be thus explained: Nineveh was a great and glorious City; but it became, like Babylon, a city of sin. Allah sent the prophet Yunus (Jonah) to warn it. Full of iniquities though it was, it listened to the warning, perhaps in the person of a few just men. For their sakes, the All-Merciful Allah spared it, and gave it a new lease of glorious life. According to the chronology in the last note the new lease would be for about two centuries, after which it perished completely for its sins and abominations. Note that its new lease of life was for its collective life as a City, the life of the Present, i.e., of this World. It does not mean that individual sinners escaped the spiritual consequences of their sin, unless they individually repented and obtained Allah's mercy and forgiveness.

99. If it had been thy Lord's will, they would all have believed,—all who are on earth! wilt thou then compel mankind, against their will, to believe!(1480)

1480 If it had been Allah's Plan or Will not to grant the limited Free Will that He has granted to man, His omnipotence could have made all mankind alike: all would then have had Faith, but that Faith would have reflected no merit on them. In the actual world as it is, man has been endowed with various faculties and capacities, so that he should strive and explore, and bring himself into harmony with Allah's Will. Hence Faith becomes a moral achievement, and to resist Faith becomes a sin. As a complementary proposition, men of Faith must not be impatient or angry if they have to contend against Turfah, and most important of all, they must guard against the temptation of forcing Faith, i.e., imposing it on others by physical compulsion, or any other forms of compulsion such as social pressure, or inducements held out by wealth or position, or other adventitious advantages. Forced faith is no faith. They should strive spiritually and let Allah's Plan work as He wills.

100. No soul can believe, except by the will of Allah,(1481) and He will place Doubt(1482) (or obscurity) on those who will not understand.

1481 To creatures endowed with Mind, Faith comes out of an active use of that Mind. But we must not be so arrogant as to suppose that is enough. At best, man is weak and in need of Allah's grace and help. If we sincerely wish to understand, He will help us; but if not, our doubts and difficulties will only be increased. This follows as a necessary consequence, and in Qur'anic language all consequences are ascribed to Allah, the Cause of Causes.

1482 Ris (from rajasa, rajasa, or rajasa, rajasa) has various meanings: e.g., (1) filth, impurity, uncleanness, abomination, as in 9:5; (2) hence, filthy deeds, foul conduct, crime, abomination, thus shaming off into (1), as in 5:90; (3) hence punishment for crime, penalty, as in 6:125; (4) a form of such punishment, viz,
101. Say: "Behold all that is in the heavens and on earth": but neither Signs nor Warners profit those who believe not.(1483)

102. Do they then expect (anything) but (what happened in) the days of the men who passed away before them? Say: "Wait ye then: for I, too, will wait with you."(1484)

103. In the end We deliver Our messengers and those who believe: Thus is it fitting on Our part that We should deliver those who believe!

104. Say: "O ye men! Now Truth hath reached you from your Lord! those who receive guidance, do so for the good of their own souls; those who stray, do so to their own loss: and I am not (set) over you to arrange your affairs."

105. "And further (thus): `set thy face towards religion with true piety, and never in any wise be of the Unbelievers;

106. "`Nor call on any, other than Allah.- Such will neither profit thee nor hurt thee: if thou dost, behold! thou shalt certainly be of those who do wrong.`"

107. If Allah do touch thee with hurt, there is none can remove it but He: if He do design some benefit for thee, there is none can keep back His favour: He causeth it to reach whomsoever of His servants He pleaseth. And He is the Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.(1489)

11. Hud (The Prophet Hud)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A. L. R.(1492) (This is) a Book, with verses basic or fundamental(1493) (of established meaning), further explained in detail,- from One Who is Wise and Well-acquainted (with all things):

1492 For the meaning of these Letters, see Introduction to S. 10.
1493 See n. 347 to 3:7. Every basic principle is included in Allah's Revelation, and it is further illustrated and explained in detail.

2. (It teacheth) that ye should worship none but Allah. (Say): "Verily I am(1494) (sent) unto you from Him to warn and to bring glad tidings:

1494 Al Mustafa's Message-as was the Message of all prophets-was to warn against evil, and to bring the glad tidings of Allah's Mercy and Grace to all who would receive it in Faith and trust in Allah. This double Message is preached illustratively in this Surah.

3. "(And to preach thus), `Seek ye the forgiveness of your Lord, and turn to Him in repentance; that He may grant you enjoyment, good (and true), for a term appointed, and bestow His abounding grace on all who abound in merit(1495) But if ye turn away, then I fear for you the penalty of a great day:

1495 See n. 347 to 3:7. Every basic principle is included in Allah's Revelation, and it is further illustrated and explained in detail.
4. "To Allah is your return, and He hath power over all things."

5. Behold! they fold up (1496) their hearts, that they may lie hid from Him! Ah even when they cover themselves with their garments, He knoweth what they conceal, and what they reveal: for He knoweth well the (inmost secrets) of the hearts. (1497)

6. There is no moving creature on earth but its sustenance (1498) dependeth on Allah. He knoweth the time and place of its definite abode and its temporary deposit: (1499) All is in a clear Record. (1500)

7. He it is Who created the heavens and the earth in six Days (1501) - and His Throne was over the Waters - (1502) that He might try you, (1503) which of you is best in conduct. But if thou wert to say to them, "Ye shall indeed be raised up after death", the Unbelievers would be sure to say, (1504) "This is nothing but obvious sorcery!"

8. If we delay the penalty for them for a definite term, they are sure to say, "What keeps it back?" (1505) Ah! On the day it (actually) reaches them, nothing will turn it away from them, and they will be completely encircled by that which they used to mock at!

9. If we give man a taste of Mercy from Ourselves, and then withdraw it from him, behold! he is in despair and (falls into) blasphemy. (1506)

10. But if We give him a taste of (Our) favours after adversity hath touched him, he is sure to say, "All evil has departed from me:" (1507) Behold! he falls into exultation and pride.

11. Not so do those who show patience and constancy, and work (1508) righteousness; for them is forgiveness (of sins) and a great reward.

12. Perchance thou mayest (feel the inclination) to give up a part of what is revealed (1509) unto thee, and thy heart feeleth straitened lest they say, "Why is not a treasure sent down unto him, or why does not an angel come down with him?" But thou art there only to warn! It is Allah that arrangeth all affairs!

13. Or they may say, "He forged it," Say, "Bring ye then ten suras forged, like unto it, and call (to your aid) whomsoever ye can, other than Allah.- If ye speak the truth! (1510)

14. "If then they (your false gods) answer not your call, know ye that this revelation is sent down (replete) with the knowledge of Allah, and that there is no god but He! will ye even then submit (to Islam)?"

15. Those who desire the life of the present and its glitter, - to them we shall pay (the price of) their deeds therein, - without diminution. (1511)

16. They are those for whom there is nothing in the Hereafter but the Fire: vain are the designs they frame therein, and of no effect and the deeds that they do!

17. Can they be (like) those who accept a Clear (Sign) from their Lord, and whom a witness from Himself (1512) doth teach, as did the Book of Moses before it, - a guide (1513) and a mercy? They believe therein; but those of the Sects that reject it, - the Fire will be their promised meeting-place. Be not then in doubt thereon: for it is the truth from thy Lord: yet many among men do not believe!

18. A witness from Hissel", i.e., the Book which was given to al Mustafa, the Holy Qur'an, which is compared to the original Revelation given to Moses. We make no difference between one true and genuine Message and another, not between one prophet and another-for they all come from the One True God.
18. Who doth more wrong than those who invent a life against Allah. They will be turned back to the presence of their Lord, and the witnesses will say, "These are the ones who lied against your Lord! Behold! the Curse of Allah is on those who do wrong!"

19. "Those who would hinder (men) from the path of Allah and would seek in it something crooked: these were they who denied the Hereafter!"(1514)

20. They will in no wise frustrate (His design) on earth, nor have they protectors besides Allah. Their penalty(1515) will be doubled! They lost the power to hear, and they did not see!

21. They are the ones who have lost their own souls: and the (fancies) they invented have left them in the lurch!

22. Without a doubt, these are the very ones who will lose most in the Hereafter!

23. But those who believe and work righteousness, and humble themselves before their Lord,-(1516) They will be companions of the gardens, to dwell therein for aye!

24. These two kinds (of men) may be compared to the blind and deaf, and those who can see and hear well. Are they equal when compared? Will ye not then take heed?

25. We sent Noah to his people (with a mission): "I have come to you with a Clear Warning:

26. "That ye serve none but Allah. Verily I do fear for you the penalty of a Grievous Day."(1517)

27. But the chiefs of the Unbelievers among his people said: "We see (in) thee nothing but a man like ourselves: Nor do we see that any follow thee but the meanest among us, in judgment immature: Nor do we see in you (all) any merit above us: in fact we thing ye are liars!"(1518)

1513 'Guide': the Arabic word here is 7mnz, a leader, a guide, one that directs to the true Path. Such a direction is an instance of the Mercy and Goodness of Allah to man. The Qur'an and the Prophet Muhammad are also called, each, a Guide and a Mercy, and so are these epithets applicable to previous Books and Prophets.

28. He said: "O my people! See ye if (it be that) I have a Clear Sign from my Lord, and that He hath sent Mercy unto me from His own presence, but that the Mercy hath been obscured from your sight?(1519) shall we compel you to accept it when ye are averse to it?

29. "And O my people! I ask you for no wealth in return: my reward is from none but Allah.(1520) But I will not drive away (in contempt) those who believe: for verily I ask you for nothing but to make straight the path to my Lord, and that He may incline some minds to the truth; and that He may guide all those whose hearts are blinded by Satan.

31. "I tell you not that(1522) with me are the Treasures(1523) of Allah, nor do I know what is hidden, nor claim I to be an angel. Nor yet do I say, of those whom your eyes do despise(1524) that Allah will not grant them (all) that is good: Allah knoweth best what is in their souls: I should, if I did, indeed be a wrong-doer."

1520 The fourth point in Noah's address meets their accusation that he was a liar, implying that he was serving some selfish end of his own: on the contrary, he says, he seeks no reward from them but will bear any insults they heap on him, for he looks to Allah rather than men. But, fifthly if they insult the poor and needy who come to him in Faith, and think that he would send them away in order to attract the great ones of the land, he tells them plainly that they are mistaken. In fact, (sixthly), he has no hesitation in telling the blunt truth that they are the ignorant ones, and not the poor who came to seek Allah's Truth!

32. They said: "O Noah! thou hast disputed with us, and (much) hast thou prolonged the dispute with us: now bring upon us what thou threatenest us with, if thou speakest the truth?"(1525)
33. He said: "Truly, Allah will bring it on you if He wills, and then, ye will not be able to frustrate it!" (1526)

34. Of no profit will be my counsel to you, much as I desire to give you (good) counsel, if it be that Allah wills! (1527) He is your Lord! and to Him will ye return!"

35. Or do they say, "He has forged it?" Say: "If I had forged it, on me were my sin! and I am free of the sins of which ye are guilty!" (1528)

36. It was revealed to Noah: "None of thy people will believe(1529) except those who have believed already! So grieve no longer over their (evil) deeds."

37. But Noah's heart bleeds for his people. They are preparing their own undoing! All his efforts are to be vain! Obdurate as they are, Allah's grace must be withdrawn, and then who can help them, and what use is any counsel? But again he will try to remind them of their Lord, and turn their face to Him, for their ultimate return to His Judgement Seat is certain, to answer for their conduct.

38. For al ta'awun. Two interpretations have been given: (1) the fountains or the springs on the surface of the earth bubbled over or gushed forth; or (2) the oven (of Allah's Wrath) boiled over. The former has the weight of the best authority behind it and I prefer it. Moreover, the same phrase occurs in 23:27, where it is a clause coordinated (as here) with the coming of Allah's Command. These two passages may be compared with 54:11-12, where it is said that water poured forth from the skies and gushed forth from the springs. This double action is familiar to anyone who has seen floods on a large scale. The rain from above would saturate the great Ararat Plateau, and give great force to the springs and fountains in the valley of the Tigris below.

39. Zmijaz: the dual number refers to the two individuals in each pair of opposite sexes. Some of the most authoritative Commentators (e.g., Imam Razi) construe it in this sense, though others construe it to mean two pairs of each species.

40. Do they say, "He has forged it?" Say: "If I had forged it, on me were my sin! and I am free of the sins of which ye are guilty!"

41. So he said: "Embark ye on the Ark, In the name of Allah, whether it move or be at rest! For my Lord is, be sure, Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful!"

42. So the Ark floated with them on the waves (towering) like mountains,(1536) and Noah called out to his son, who had separated himself (from the rest): "O my son! embark with us, and be not with the unbelievers!"

43. The wave replied: "I will betake myself to some mountain;(1537) it will save me from the water." Noah said: "This day nothing can save, from the command of Allah, any but those on whom He hath mercy! And the waves came between them, and the son was among those overwhelmed in the Flood.

44. Then the word went forth:(1538) "O earth! swallow up thy water, and O sky! Withhold (thy rain)!", and the water abated, and the matter was ended. The Ark rested on Mount(1539) Judi, and the word went forth: "Away with those who do wrong!"
had no other god but Him.(1545) (Your other gods) ye do nothing but invent!

1545 Of the story of Hud the Messenger to the 'Ad People, in 7:65-72. There was the argument how other Peoples treated their prophets as the Makkans were treating al Mustafa. Here we see another point emphasised: the insouciance of 'Ad in obstinately adhering to false gods after the true God had been preached to them, Allah's long-suffering grace to them, and finally Allah's justice in bringing them to book while the righteous were saved.

1546 The geographical region in which 'Ad flourished is indicated in n. 1040 to 7:55.

51. "O my people! I ask of you no reward for this (Message). My reward is from none but Him who created me: Will ye not then understand?

52. "And O my people! Ask forgiveness of your Lord, and turn to Him (in repentance): He will send you the skies(1546) pouring abundant rain, and add strength to your strength:(1547) so turn ye not back in sin!"

53. They said: "O Hud! No Clear (Sign) that hast thou brought us, and we are not the ones to desert our gods on thy word! Nor shall we believe in thee!(1548)"

54. "We say nothing but that (perhaps) some of our gods may have seized thee(1549) with imbecility!" He said: "I call Allah to witness, and do ye bear witness, that I am free from the sin of ascribing, to Him who hath no other associate besides Him. All the hungry world is His; His Will are freely admitted to Allah's grace. Notwithstanding any human weaknesses in them, they are advanced higher in the spiritual stage on account of their Faith, Trust, and Striving after Right. They are given Allah's Peace, which gives the soul true calmness and strength, and all the blessings that flow from spiritual life. This was given not only to Noah and his family but to all the righteous people who were saved with him. And their descendants were also promised those blessings on condition of righteousness. But some of them fell from grace, as we know in history. Allah's grace is not a social or family privilege. Each people and each individual must earn it, strive for it and earn it.

55. "Other gods as partners! so scheme (your worst) against me, all of you, and give me no respite.(1550)"

56. "I put my trust in Allah, My Lord and your Lord! There is not a moving creature, but He hath grasped of its forelock.(1551) Verily, it is my Lord that is on a straight Path.(1552)"

1546 The geographical region in which 'Ad flourished is indicated in n. 1040 to 7:55.

produced you (1557) from the earth and settled you in your home; you have no other god but Allah. It is He Who hath sent His messengers to all nations in succession, saying, "Unto you is your Lord, so be reconciled to Him; and fear hard惩罚 and you shall inherit the Fire."

62. They said: "O Salih! thou hast been of us! a centre of our hopes! (1558) hitherto! dost thou (now) forbid us the worship of what our fathers worshipped? But we are really in suspicious (dissuading) doubt as to that to which thou invitest us."

63. He said: "O my people! do ye see? if I have a Clear (Sign) from my Lord and He hath sent Mercy unto me from Himself, who (1559) then can help me against Allah if I were to disobey Him? What then would ye add to my (portion) but punishment?"

1559 Allah has been good to me and bestowed on me His light and the inestimable privilege of carrying His mission to you. Don't you see that if I fail to carry out His mission, I shall have to answer before Him? Who can help me in that case? The only thing which you can add to my misfortunes would be total perdition in the spiritual world. Cf. 11:26.

64. "And O my people! This she-camel of Allah is a symbol to you: (1560) leave her to feed on Allah's (free) earth, and inflict no harm on her, or a swift penalty will seize you!"

1560 The story of the Thamud people has been told from another point of view: see Surah 11:60 above and 11:94-95. For the (mighty) Blast (1563) overtook the wrong-doers, and they lay prostrate in their homes before the morning." Cf. 7:78 and n. 1047 also n. 1561 above.

65. But they did ham-string her. So he said: "Enjoy yourselves in your homes for three days: (1561) Then will be your ruin! (Behold) there a promise not to be belied!"

1561 Just three days' time for further thought and repentance! But they paid no heed. A terrible earthquake came by night, preceded by a mighty rumbling blast (probably volcanic), such as is well-known in earthquake-prone areas. It came by night and buried them in their own fortress homes, which they thought such places of security! The morning found them lying on their faces hidden from the light: How the mighty were brought low! For they Lord - He is the Strong One, and able to enforce His Will.

66. When Our Decree issued, We saved Salih and those who believed with him, by (special) Grace (1562) from Ourselves: We saved them from a severe penalty.

67. "If ye turn away,- I (at least) have conveyed the Message with which I was sent to you. My Lord will make another people to succeed you, and you will not harm Him (1553) in the least. For my Lord hath care and watch over all things."

1553 Hud was dealing with a people of pride and obstinate rebellion. He tells them that their conduct will only recoil on themselves. It can do no harm to Allah or in any way frustrate the beneficent Plan of Allah. He will only put some other people in their place to carry out His Plan. That Plan is referred to in the next sentence as 'care and watch' over all His Creation.

68. So when Our decree issued, We saved Hud and those who believed with him, by (special) Grace (1554) from Ourselves: We saved them from a severe penalty.

1554 A few just men might suffer for the iniquities of the many. But Allah's Plan is perfect and eventually saves His own people by special Grace, if they have Faith and Trust in Him.

69. Such were the 'Ad People: they rejected the Signs of their Lord and Cherisher; disobeyed His messengers; and followed the command of every powerful, obstinate Transgressor. (1555)

1555 Instead of following the beneficent Lord who cherished them, they followed every rebel against Allah's Law, if he only obtained a little power to dazzle them, (Cf. 14:15.)

70. And they were pursued by a Curse in this life,- and on the Day of Judgment. Ah! Behold! for the 'Ad rejected their Lord and Cherisher! Ah! Behold! removed (from sight) were 'Ad the people of Hud!

71. To the Thamud People (We sent) Salih, one of their own brethren. (1556) He said: "O my people! Worship Allah. ye have no other god but Him. It is He Who hath produced you (1557) from the earth and settled you therein: then ask forgiveness of Him, and turn to Him (in repentance): for my Lord is (always) near, ready to answer."

1556 The story of Salih and the Thamud people has been told from another point of view: see n. 12:56 to 11:59. Note how the story now is the same, and yet new points and details are brought out to illustrate each new argument. Note, also, how the besetting sin of 'Ad—pride and obstinacy—is distinguished from the besetting sin of Thamud— the oppression of the poor, as illustrated by the test case and symbol of the she-camel: see n. 104 to 7:73. All sin is a sense pride and rebellion; yet sins take particular hues in different circumstances, and these colours are brought out as in a most artistically painted picture—with the greatest economy of words and the most piercing analysis of motives. For the locality and history of Thamud, see n. 1043 to 7:73.

1557 For Anza'a as a process of creation see n. 923 to 6:59 and the further references given there. As to his body, man has been produced from earth or clay, and his settlement on earth is a fact of his material existence. Therefore we must conform to all the laws of our physical being, in order that through our life on this earth we may develop that higher Life which belongs to the other part of our being, our spiritual heritage. Through the use we make of our health, of our tillage, of our pastures, of material facts of all kinds, we will develop our moral and spiritual nature.

1558 Salih's life with his people had been so righteous (like that of al Amin in later times) that he might have been chosen leader or king if he had only conformed to their superstitions and supported their sins. But he was born for a higher mission— that of a preacher of truth and righteousness and an ardent opponent of selfish privilege and a champion of the rights of humanity on Allah's free earth by the symbol of the she-camel: see n. 1044 to 7:73.

1559 "Allah has been good to me and bestowed on me His light and the inestimable privilege of carrying His mission to you. Don't you see that if I fail to carry out His mission, I shall have to answer before Him? Who can help me in that case? The only thing which you can add to my misfortunes would be total perdition in the spiritual world." Cf. 11:28.

1560 Salih does not merely take up a negative attitude, he puts forward the she-camel as a Symbol: see n. 1044 to 8:73. Give up your selfish monopoly. Make Allah's gifts on this free earth available to all. Give the poor their rights, including grazing rights on common lands. Show your penitence and your new attitude by leaving this she-camel to graze freely, She is a Symbol, and therefore sacred to you. But their only reply was to defy the appeal and hamstring the camel. And so they went the way of all sinners—to total perdition.

1561 11:58 above and n. 1554. For 'Aziz, see n. 2818 to 21:40.

1562 Cf. 11:60 above and n. 1554. For Al-Azizi, see n. 1043 to 7:73.

1563 The (mighty) Blast (1563) overtook the wrong-doers, and they lay prostrate in their homes before the morning."

1564 Cf. 7:58 and n. 1047 also n. 1561 above.

great line of Prophets, and the Message is now referred to, (see also 29:31-33). Can we localise Nimrud? If local tradition in place-names can be relied upon, this king must have ruled over the tract which includes the modern Nimrūd, on the Tigris, about twenty miles south of Mosul. This is the site of Assyrian remains of great interest, but the rise of Assyria as an Empire was of course much later than the time of Abraham. The Assyrian city was called Kalakh (or Calah), and archaeological excavations carried out there have yielded valuable results, which are however irrelevant for our Commentary.

70. But when he saw their hands went not towards the (meal), he felt some mistrust of them, and conceived a fear of them.(1565-A) They said: "Fear not: We have been sent against the people of Lut."(1566)

1565A Abraham received the strangers with a salutation of Peace, and immediately placed before them a sumptuous meal of roasted calf. The strangers were embarrassed. They were angels and did not eat. If hospitality is refused, it means that those who refuse it meditate no good to the would-be host. Abraham therefore had a feeling of mistrust and fear in his mind, which the strangers at once set at rest by saying that their mission was in the first place to help Lut as a warner to the Cities of the Plain. But in the second place they had good news for Abraham: he was to be the father of great peoples! ( Cf. 31:24-26). (R).

1566 The people of Lut means the people to whom Lut was sent on his mission of warning, the people of the wicked Cities of the Plain, Sodom and Gomorrah.

71. And his wife was standing (there), and she laughed:(1567) But we gave her glad tidings of Isaac, and after him, of Jacob.

1567 The narrative is very concise, and most of the details are taken for granted. We may suppose that the angels gave the news first to Abraham, who was already, according to Gen. 21:5, a hundred years of age, and his wife Sarah was not far short of ninety (Gen. 17:17). She was probably screened. She could hardly believe the news. In her scepticism (some say in her joy) she laughed. But the news was formally communicated to her that she was to be the mother of Isaac, and through Isaac, the grandmother of Jacob. Jacob was to be a fruitful tree, with his twelve sons. But, Ishmael, Abraham had had no son by her, and Sarah was past the age of childbearing. "How could it be?" she thought. (R).

72. She said: "Alas for me!(1568) shall I bear a child, seeing I am an old woman, and my husband here is an old man? That would indeed be a wonderful thing!"

1568 This is as much a sigh of past regrets as of future wistfulness!

73. They said: "Dost thou wonder at Allah's decree? The grace of Allah and His blessings on you, o ye people of the house!(1569) for He is indeed worthy of all praise, full of all glory!"(1570)

1569 Ahd al bayt = people of the house, a polite form of addressing the wife and members of the family. Blessings are invoked on the whole family.

1570 This little episode of Abraham's life comes on fittingly as one of the illustrations of Allah's wonderful providence in His dealings with man. Abraham had had a struggle with his father on behalf of Truth and Unity (6:74); he had travelled to far countries, and was now ready to receive his great mission as the fountainehead of prophets in his old age. Humanly speaking it seemed impossible that he should have a son at his age, and yet it came to pass and became a cornerstone of sacred history.

74. When fear had passed from (the mind of) Abraham and the glad tidings(1571) had reached him, he began to plead with us for Lut's people.

1571 Glad-tidings: not only that he was to have a son, but that he was to be a fountainehead of prophets. So he now begins to plead at once for the sinful people to whom Lut was sent as a warner.

75. For Abraham was, without doubt, forbearing (of faults), compassionate, and given to look to Allah.(1572)

1572 Like al Mustafa, Abraham had three qualities in a pre- eminent degree, which are here mentioned: (1) he was long-suffering with other people's faults; (2) his sympathies and compassion were very wide; and (3) for every difficulty or trouble he turned to Allah and sought Him in prayer.

76. O Abraham! Seek not this. The decree of thy Lord hath gone forth: for them there cometh a penalty that cannot be turned back!(1573)

1573 This is a sort of prophetic apostrophe. 'All your care and sympathy are useless, O Abraham! All your warning, O Lut, will be unheeded! Also they are so deep in sin that nothing will reclaim them!' This is illustrated in verse 79 below. And now we proceed to Lut and how he was dealt with by the wicked.

77. When Our messengers came to Lut, he was grieved on their account and felt himself powerless (to protect) them. He said: "This is a distressful day."(1574)

1574 The story of Lot, as referred to in 7:80-84, laid emphasis on the rejection of Lot's mission by men who practised unnatural abominations. See n. 1019 to 7:80. Here the emphasis is laid on Allah's dealings with men in mercy for true spiritual service and in righteous wrath and punishment for those who defy the laws of nature established by Him; also, on men's dealings with each other and the contrast between the righteous and the wicked who respect no laws human or divine.

78. And his people came rushing towards him, and they had been long in the habit of practising abominations. He said: "O my people! Here are my daughters: they will remain behind): To her will happen(1575) the decree of thy Lord!"(1576)

1575 The Biblical narrative suggests that the daughters were married and their husbands were close by (Gen. 19:14) and that these same daughters afterwards committed incest with their father and had children by him (Gen. 19:31). The Holy Qur'an nowhere suggests such abominations. Some Commentators suggest that 'my daughters' in the mouth of a venerable man like Lot, the father of his people, may mean any young girls of those towns. "My son" (wālîd) is still a common mode of address in Arabic-speaking countries when an elderly man addresses a young man.

79. They said: "Well dost thou know we have no need of thy daughters: indeed thou knowest quite well what we want!"

80. He said: "Would that I had power to suppress you or that I could betake myself to some powerful support."(1576)

1576 Lot seemed helpless in the situation in which he found himself-alone against a rabble of people inflamed with evil passions. He wished he had had the strength to suppress them himself or had had some powerful support to lean on! But the powerful support was there, though he had not realised it till then. It was the support of Allah. His guests were not ordinary men, but Angels who had come to test the people before they inflicted the punishment. They now declared themselves, and gave him directions to get away before the morning, when the punishment would descend on the doomed Cities of the Plain.

81. (The Messengers) said: "O Lut! We are Messengers from thy Lord! By no means shall they reach thee! now travel with thy family while yet a part of the night remains, and let not any of you look back: but thy wife(1577) will remain behind): To her will happen what happens to the people. Morning is their time appointed: Is not the morning nigh?"

1577 Even in Lot's household was one who detracted from the harmony of the family. She was disobedient to her husband, and he was here obeying Allah's Command. She looked back and shared the fate of the wicked inhabitants of the Cities of the Plain: see also 66:10. The Biblical narrative suggests that she was turned in to a pillar of salt (Gen. 19:26).

82. When Our Decree issued, We turned (the cities) upside down, and rained down on them brimstones(1578) hard as baked clay,(1579) spread, layer on layer,- 1578 Cf. 7:84 and n. 1052, and 51:33-34.

83. Marked as from thy Lord:(1580) Nor are they(1581) ever far from those who do wrong!

84. To the Madyan People(1582) (We sent) Shu`aib, one of their own brethren: he said: "O my people! worship Allah. Ye have no other god but Him. And give not of their own brethren: he said: "O my people! worship ever far from those who do wrong!

85. "And O my people! give just measure and weight, nor withhold from the people the things that are their due:(1584) commit not evil in the land with intent to do mischief.

86. "That which is left you by Allah is best for you,(1585) if ye (but) believed! but I am not set over you to keep watch!"

87. They said: "O Shu`aib! Does thy (religion of) prayer command thee that we leave off the worship which our fathers practised, or that we leave off doing what we like with our property?(1586) truly, thou art the one that forbeareth with faults and is right-minded!"(1587)

88. He said: "O my people! see ye whether I have a Clear (Sign) from my Lord, and He hath given me sustenance (pure and) good(1588) as from Himself? I wish not, in opposition to you, to do that which I forbid you to do. I only desire (your) betterment to the best of my power; and my success (in my task) can only come from Allah. In Him I trust, and unto Him I look.

89. "And O my people! let not my dissent (from you)(1589) cause you to sin, lest ye suffer a fate similar to that of the people of Noah or of Hud or of Salih, nor are the people of Lut far off from you!(1590)

90. "But ask forgiveness of your Lord, and turn unto Him (in repentance): For my Lord is indeed full of mercy and loving-kindness."

91. They said: "O Shu`aib! much of what thou sayest we do not understand!(1591) In fact among us we see that thou hast no strength! Were it not for thy family, we would not understand!(1592) In fact among us we see that thou hast no strength! Were it not for thy family, we would not understand! We do not understand!(1593)

92. He said: "O my people! is then my family of more consideration with you than Allah. For ye cast Him away behind your backs (with contempt). But verily my Lord encompasseth on all sides all that ye do!(1594)
93. "And O my people! Do whatever ye can: I will do (my part): (1594) Soon will ye know who it is on whom descends the penalty of ignominy; and who is a liar! and watch ye! for I too am watching with you!" (1595)

1594 Cf. 6:135 and n. 937, and 11:121.

1595 If the wicked will continue to blaspheme and mock, what can the godly say but this: "Watch and wait! Allah's Plan works without fail! I have faith, and I too will watch with you for its fulfilment." CF. 16:182, and n. 1484.

94. When Our decree issued, We saved Shu‘aib and those who believed with him, by (special) mercy from Ourselves; (1596) But the (mighty) blast did seize the wrong-doers, and they lay prostrate in their homes by the morning,-

1596 Cf. 11:66 and 11:58. n. 1554.

95. As if they had never dwelt and flourished there! (1597) Ah! Behold! How the Madyan were removed (from sight) as were removed the Thamud!

1597 Cf. 11:67-68. The blast was probably the tremendous noise which accompanies volcanic eruptions.

96. And we sent Moses, (1598) with Our Clear (Signs) and an authority manifest, 1598 The story of Moses and Pharaoh is referred to in many places in the Qur’an, each in connection with some special point to be illustrated. Here the point is that Allah’s dealings with man are in all things and at all times just. But man falls under false leadership by deliberate choice and perishes along with his false leaders accordingly. In exercise of the intelligence and choice given him, man should be particularly careful to understand his own responsibilities and to profit from Allah’s Signs, so as to attain to Allah’s Mercy and blessings.

97. Unto Pharaoh and his chiefs: but they followed the Command (1599) of Pharaoh and the command of Pharaoh was no right (guide).

1599 Pharaoh is the type of the arrogant, selfish, and false leader, who poses as a power in rivalry with that of Allah. Such an attitude seems to attract unregenerate humanity, which falls a willing victim, in spite of the teaching and warning given by the Prophets of Allah and the many moral and spiritual forces that beckon man towards Allah’s Grace.

98. He will go before his people on the Day of Judgment, and lead them into the Fire (as cattle are led to water); (1600) But woeful indeed will be the place to which they are led!

1600 Azra’ad — to lead, as cattle, down to their watering place. The metaphor is apt. The true herdsman is trusted by his normal flock, and he leads them in the heat of the day down to pleasant and cool watering places in order that they may slake their thirst and be happy. The false leader does the opposite: he takes them down to the fire of eternal misery! And yet men sin against their own intelligence, and follow the false leader like cattle without intelligence!

99. And they are followed by a curse in this (life) and on the Day of Judgment: and woeful is the gift which shall be given (unto them)!

100. These are some of the stories of communities which We relate unto thee: of them some are standing, (1601) and some have been mown down (by the sickle of time). (1602)

1601 Some are standing, like corn, which is ready to be reaped. Among the communities which remained was, and is, Egypt, although the Pharaoh and his wicked people have been swept away. The simile of standing corn also suggests that at no time can any town or community expect permanency, except in the Law of the Lord.

1602 Nations grow and ripen and are mown down. If they disobeyed Allah, their end is evil; if they were true and godly, their harvest was good.

101. It was not We that wronged them: They wronged their own souls: the deities, other than Allah, whom they invoked, profited them no whit when there issued the decree of thy Lord; (1603) Nor did they add aught (to their lot) but perdition!

1603 All false and fleeting shadows must vanish before the reality and permanence of the decree of Allah. If we worshipped the false, we earned nothing but perdition.

102. Such is the chastisement of thy Lord when He chastises communities in the midst of their wrong: grievous, indeed, and severe is His chastisement.

103. In that is a Sign for those who fear the penalty of the Hereafter: that is a Day for which mankind will be gathered together: that will be a Day of Testimony. (1604)

1604 Yawm mawJud: To suggest the comprehensive meaning of the Arabic I have translated, ‘a Day of Testimony’. I proceed to explain the various shades of meaning implied: (1) A Day to which all testimony points from every quarter; (2) A Day when testimony will be given before Allah’s Judgement Seat, by all who are relevant witnesses, e.g., the Prophets that preached, the men or women we benefited or injured, the angels who recorded our thoughts and deeds, or our thoughts and deeds personified; (3) A Day which will be witnessed, i.e., seen by all, no matter how or where they died.

104. Nor shall We delay it but for a term appointed.

105. The day it arrives, no soul shall speak (1605) except by His leave: of those (gathered) some will be wretched and some will be blessed. (1606)

1604 Speak i.e., either in self-defence or in accusation of others or to intercede for others, or to enter into conversation or ask questions, one with another. It will be a solemn Day, before the Great Judge of all, to whom everything will be known and whose authority will be unquestioned. There will be no room for quibbling or equivocation or subterfuge of any kind, nor can anyone lay the blame on another or take the responsibility of another. Personal responsibility will be enforced strictly.

1605 Wajh (wretched) and Sā‘id (blessed) have become almost technical theological terms. They are explained in the four following verses.

106. Those who are wretched shall be in the Fire: There will be for them therein (nothing but) the heaving of sighs and sobbing: (1607)

1607 The first word, Zafir, translated ‘sighs’, is applied to one part in the process of the braying of an ass, when he emits a deep breath (CF 23:12). The second, Shaliq, translated ‘sobs’, is the other process in the braying of an ass, when he draws in a long breath. This suggestion of an animal proverbial for his folly implies that the wicked, in spite of their arrogance and insolence in this world below, will at last realise that they have been fools after all, throwing away their own chances whenever they got diem. In 67:7 the word Shaliq is applied to the tremendous roaring intake or devouring of Hell-fire.

107. They will dwell therein (1608) for all the time that the heavens and the earth endure, except as thy Lord willeth: for thy Lord is the (sure) accomplisher of what He planneth.

1608 Akhadid: This is the word which is usually translated ‘swell forever’ or ‘swell for ages’. Here it is definitely connected with two conditions, size (1) as long as the heavens and the earth endure, and (2) except as Allah wills. Some Muslim theologians deduce from this the conclusion that the penalties referred to are not eternal, because the heavens and the earth as we see them are not eternal, and the punishments for the deeds of a life that will end should not be such as will never end. The majority of Muslim theologians reject this view. They hold that the heavens and the earth here referred to are not those we see now, but others that will be eternal. They agree that Allah’s Will is unlimited in scope and power, but that it has willed that the rewards and punishments of the Day of Judgement will be eternal. This is not the place to enter into this tremendous controversy.

108. And those who are blessed shall be in the Garden: They will dwell therein (1609) for all the time that the heavens and the earth endure, except as thy Lord willeth: a gift without break.(1610)

1609 Exactly the same arguments apply as in the last note.

1610 The felicity will be uninterrupted, unlike any joy or happiness which we can imagine in this life and which is subject to changes and changes, as our daily experience shows.

109. Be not then in doubt as to what these men worship. They worship nothing(1611) but what their fathers worshipped before (them): but verily We shall pay them back (in full) their portion(1612) without (the least) abatement.

1611 Their worship is not based on any spiritual attitude of mind. They merely follow the ways of their fathers.

1612 Allah will take fully into account all their motives in such munificence as they call worship, and they will have their full spiritual consequences in the future.

110. We certainly gave the Book to Moses, but differences arose therein: had it not been that a word had gone forth before from thy Lord, the matter would have been decided(1613) between them, but they are in suspicious doubt concerning it.(1614)

1613 Cf. 10:19. Previous revelations are not to be denied or dishonoured because those who nominally go by them have corrupted and deprived them of spiritual value by their vain controversies and disputes. It was possible to settle such disputes under the flag, as it were, of the old Revelations, but Allah's Plan was to revive and reestablish His Message through Islam, amongst a newer and younger people, unhampered by the burden of age-old prejudices.

1614 Cf. 11:62. There is always in human affairs the conflict between the old and the new-the worn out system of our ancestors, and the fresh living spring of Allah's inspiration fitting in with new times and new surroundings. The advocates of the former look upon this latter not only with intellectual doubt but with moral suspicion, as did the People of the Book upon Islam, with its fresh outlook and vigorous realistic way of looking at things.

111. And, of a surety, to all will your Lord pay back (in full the recompense) of their deeds: for He knoweth well all that they do.(1615)

1615 Cf. 11:109 above, with which the argument is now connected by recalling the characteristic word (pay back) and leading to the exhortation (in the verses following) to stand firm in the right path freshly revealed.

112. Therefore stand firm (in the straight Path) as thou art commanded,- thou and those who with thee turn (unto Allah,; and transgress not (from the Path): for He seeth well all that ye do.

113. And incline not to those who do wrong, or the Fire will seize you; and ye have no protectors other than Allah, nor shall ye be helped.

114. And establish regular prayers at the two ends of the day(1616) and at the approaches of the night:(1617) For those things, that are good remove those that are evil:(1618) Be that the word of remembrance to those who remember (their Lord):

1616 The two ends of the day: Morning and afternoon. The morning prayer is the Fajr, after the light is up but before sunrise; we thus get up early and begin the day with the remembrance of Allah and of our duty to Him. The early afternoon prayer, Zuhr, is immediately after noon: we are in the midst of our daily life, and again we remember Allah. (R).

1617 Approaches of the night: Zulafin, plural of Zulaffin; an approach, something near at hand. As Arabic has, like Greek, a dual number distinct from the plural, and the plural number is used here, and not the dual, it is reasonable to argue that at least three 'approaches of the night' are meant. The late afternoon prayer, Asr, can be one of these three, and the evening prayer, Maghrib, just after sunset, can be the second. The early night prayer, Isha at supper time when the glow of sunset is disappearing, would be the third of the 'approaches of the night', when we commit ourselves to Allah before sleep. These are the five canonical prayers of Islam, (C.C.n. 3521).

1618 Those things that are good: in this context the words refer primarily to prayers and sacred thoughts, but they include all good thoughts, good words, and good deeds. It is by them that we keep away everything that is evil, whether referring to the past, the present, or the future.

115. And be steadfast in patience; for verily Allah will not suffer the reward of the righteous to perish.

116. Why were they not among, the generations before you, persons possessed of balanced(1619) good sense, prohibiting (men) from mischief in the earth - except a few among them whom We saved (from harm)?(1620) But the wrong-doers pursued the enjoyment of the good things of life which were given them, and persisted in sin.

1619 Balanced: some virtue or faculty that stands assault and is lasting; balanced good sense that stands firm to virtue and is not dazzled by the lutes and pleasures of this world, and is not deterred by fear from boldly condemning wrong if it was fashionable or customary. It is leaders possessed of such character that can save a nation from disaster or perdition. The scarcity of such leaders-and the rejection of the few who stood out-brought ruin among the nations whose example has already been set out to us as a warning. In 11:60 the word has a more literal meaning.

1620 The exceptional men of firm virtue would have been destroyed by the wicked to whom they were an offence, had they not been saved by the Grace and Mercy of Allah. Or perhaps, but for such grace, they might themselves have succumbed to the evil around them, or been overwhelmed in the general calamity.

117. Nor would thy Lord be the One to destroy communities for a single wrongdoing,(1621) if its members were likely to mend.

1621 Diverse shades of interpretation for this verse. I follow Baydawi in construing znih vai here as 'a single wrong'. He thinks that the wrong referred to is shirk, or polytheism; Allah will not destroy for mere wrong belief if the conduct is right. I am inclined to interpret it in more general terms. Allah is Long-Suffering and Oft-Forgiving: He is too Merciful to destroy for a single wrong, if there is any hope of reclaiming the wrongdoers to repentance and amendment or right life. An alternative interpretation is: 'to destroy communities unjustly'.

118. If thy Lord had so willed, He could have made mankind(1622) one people: but they will not cease to dispute.

1622 All mankind might have been one. But in Allah's Plan man was to have a certain measure of free will, and this made differences inevitable. This would not have mattered if all had honestly sought Allah. But selfishness and moral wrong came in, and people's disputations became mixed up with hatred, jealousy, and sin, except in the case of those who accepted Allah's grace, which saved them. The object of their creation was to raise them up spiritually by Allah's grace. But if they will choose the path of evil and fall into sin, Allah's decree must be fulfilled, and His justice will take its course. In the course of that justice Hell will be filled with men and spirits, such is the number of those who go astray.

119. Except those on whom thy Lord hath bestowed His Mercy: and for this did He create them: and the Word of thy Lord shall be fulfilled: "I will fill Hell with jinns and men all together."(1623)

1623 Cf. 7:18 and 7:178. If Satan and his evil spirits tempt men from the path of rectitude, the responsibility of the tempted, who choose the path of evil, is no less than that of the tempters, and they will both be involved in punishment together (see also 32:13).

120. All that we relate to thee of the stories of the messengers,- with it We make firm thy heart: in them there cometh to thee the Truth, as well as an exhortation and a message of remembrance to those who believe.(1624)

1624 The stories of the Prophets in the Qur'an are not mere narratives or histories: they involve three things: (1) they teach the highest spiritual Truth; (2) they give advice, direction, and warning, as to how we should govern our lives, and (3) they awaken our conscience and recall to us the working of Allah's Law in human affairs. The story of Joseph in the next Suras is an illustration in point.
12. Say to those who do not believe: "Do what ever ye can: We shall do our part; (1624-A)

1624-A Cf. 11:93 and 6:135, n. 937. The worst that you can do will not defeat Allah's plan; and for us who believe, our obvious duty is to do our part as taught to us by Allah's revelation (see also 29:59).

122. "And wait ye! We too shall wait." (1625)

1625 Cf. 11:93, n. 1395, and 10:162, n. 1484. If the wicked only wait, they will see how Allah's Plan unfolds itself. As for those who believe, they are glad to wait in perfect confidence, because they know that Allah is good and merciful, as well as just and true.

123. To Allah do belong the unseen (secrets) of the heavens and the earth, and to Him goeth back every affair (for decision): (1626) then worship Him, and put thy trust in Him: and thy Lord is not unmindful of aught that ye do.

1626 Cf. 2:210. There is nothing, secret or open, in our world or in Creation, which does not depend ultimately on Allah's Will and Plan. Every affair goes back to Him for decision. Therefore we must worship Him and trust Him. Worship implies many things: e.g., (1) trying to understand His nature and His Will, (2) realising His goodness and glory, and His working in us as a means to this end, (3) keeping Him in constant remembrance and celebrating His praise, to whom all praise is due; and (4) completely identifying our will with His, which means obedience to His Law, and service to Him and His creatures in all sincerity (see also n. 172).

12. Yusuf (Joseph)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A.L.R. (1627) These are the Symbols (1628) (or Verses) of the perspicuous Book. (1629)

1627 For the meaning of these mystic letters, see Introduction to S. 10.

1628 Ayat Signs, Symbols, verses of the Qur'an. The Symbolic meaning is particularly appropriate here, as the whole of Joseph's story is a Sign or a Miracle—a working exposition of the Plan and Purpose of Allah.

1629 Cf. 5:15, n. 716. The predominant meaning of Mubin here is: one that explains or makes things clear.

2. We have sent it down as an Arabic Qur'an,(1630) in order that ye may learn wisdom.

1630 Qur'an means: something (1) to be read, or (2) recited, or (3) proclaimed. It may apply to a verse, or a Surah, or to the whole Book of Revelation (see I Cor. 16:103 and 41:84).

3. We do relate unto thee the most beautiful of stories,(1631) in that We reveal to thee this portion of the) Qur'an: before this, thou too was among those who knew it not.

1631 Most beautiful of stories: see Introduction to this Surah. Eloquence consists in conveying by a word or hint many meanings for those who can understand and wish to learn wisdom. Not only is Joseph's story "beautiful" in that sense; Joseph himself was renowned for munific beauty: the women of Egypt, called him a noble angel (12:31), and the beauty of his exterior form was a symbol of the beauty of his soul.

4. Behold! Joseph said to his father: "O my father! (1632) I did see eleven stars and the sun and the moon: I saw them prostrate themselves to me!" (1633)

1632 For the Parable that is necessary to know about Joseph is that he was one of the Chosen Ones of Allah. For the story it is necessary to set down a few more details. His father was Jacob, also called Israel, the son of Isaac, the younger son of Abraham, (the elder son having been Isma'il, whose story is told in 2:124-129). Abraham may be called the Father of the line of Semitic prophecy. Jacob had four wives. From three of them he had ten sons. In his old age he had from Rachel (Arabic: Rulal), a very beautiful woman, two sons Joseph and Benjamin (the youngest). At the time this story begins we may suppose that Joseph was about seventeen years of age. The place where Jacob and his family and his flocks were located was in Canaan, and is shown by tradition near modern Nabis (ancient Shechem), some thirty miles north of Jerusalem. The traditional site of the well into which Joseph was thrown by his brothers is still shown in the neighbourhood. Joseph was a mere lad of seventeen. But he was true and frank and righteous; he was a type of manly beauty and rectitude. His father loved him dearly. His half-brothers were jealous of him and hated him. His destiny was prefigured in the vision. He was to be exalted in rank above his eleven brothers (stars) and his father and mother (sun and moon), but as the subsequent story shows, he never lost his head, but always honoured his parents and repaid his brothers' craft and hatred with forgiveness and kindness.

5. Said (the father): "My (dear) little son! relate not thy vision to thy brothers, lest they concoct a plot against thee: (1634) for Satan is to man an avowed enemy!(1635)

1634 The young lad Yusuf was innocent and did not even know of his brothers' guile and hatred, but the father knew and warned him.

1635 The story is brought up at once to its spiritual bearing. These brothers were puppets in the hands of Evil. They allowed their manhood to be subjugated by Evil, not remembering that Evil was the declared opposite or enemy of the true nature and instincts of manhood.

6. "Thy Lord choose thee and teach thee the interpretation of stories (1636) (and events) and perfect His favour to thee and to the posterity of Jacob - even as He perfected it to thy fathers Abraham and Isaac aforetime! for Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom." (1637)

1636 If Joseph was to be of the elect, he must understand and interpret Signs and events alike. The imagination of the pure sees truths, which those not so endowed cannot understand. The dreams of the righteous prefigure great events, while the dreams of the futile are mere idle futili ties. Even things that happen to us are often like dreams. The righteous man receives disasters and reverses, not with blasphemies against Allah, but with humble devotion, seeking to ascertain His Will. Nor does he receive good fortune with arrogance, but as an opportunity for doing good, to friends and foes alike. His attitude to histories and stories is the same: he seeks the edifying material which leads to Allah.

1637 Whatever happens is the result of Allah's Will and Plan. And He is good and wise, and He knows all things. Therefore we must trust Him. In Joseph's case he could look back to his fathers, and to Abraham, the True, the Righteous, who through all adversities kept his Faith pure and undefiled, and won through.

7. Verily in Joseph and his brethren are signs (or symbols) for seekers (after Truth).(1638)

8. They said: "Truly Joseph and his brother are loved more by our father than we: But we are a good body!(1639) really our father is obviously wandering (in his mind)!

9. "Slay ye Joseph or cast him out to some (unknown) land, that so the favour of your father may be given to you alone: (there will be time enough) for you to be righteous after that!"(1640)

10. Said one of them: "Slay not Joseph, but if ye must do something, throw him down to the bottom of the well: he will be picked up by some caravan of travellers."

11. They said: "O our father! why dost thou not trust us with Joseph,- seeing we are indeed his sincere well-wishers?"(1642)

12. "Send him with us tomorrow to enjoy himself and play, and we shall take every care of him."(1643)

13. (Jacob) said: "Really it saddens me that ye should take him away: I fear lest the wolf should devour him while ye attendee(1644) to him."

14. They said: "If the wolf were to devour him while we are (so large) a party, then should we indeed (first) have perished ourselves!"(1645)

15. So they did take him away, and they all agreed to throw him down to the bottom of the well: and We put into his heart(1646) (this Message): 'Of a surety thou shalt (one day) tell them the truth of this their affair while they know (thee) not. ' (1647)

16. Then they came to their father in the early part of the night, weeping.(1648)

17. They said: "O our father! We went racing with one another,(1649) and left Joseph with our things; and the wolf devoured him.... But thou wilt never believe us even though we tell the truth."(1650)

18. They stained his shirt(1651) with false blood. He said: "Nay, but your minds have made up a tale (that may pass) with you,(1652) (for me) patience is most fitting: Against that which ye assert, it is Allah (alone) Whose help can be sought..."

19. They said: "Nay, but your minds have made up a tale (that may pass) with you,(1652) (for me) patience is most fitting: Against that which ye assert, it is Allah (alone) Whose help can be sought..."
19. Then there came a caravan (1653) of travellers: they sent their water-carrier (for water), and he let down his bucket (into the well)... He said: "Ah there! Good news! (1654) Here is a (fine) young man!" So they concealed him (1655) as a treasure! But Allah knoweth well all that they do!(1656)

1653 Then comes the caravan of unknown travellers Midianite or Arab merchants travelling to Egypt with merchandise, such as the balsam of Gilead in Transjordania. In accordance with custom the caravan was preceded by advance parties to search out water and pitch a camp near. They naturally went to the well and let down their bucket.

1654 The water carrier is surprised and taken aback, when he finds a youth of comely appearance, innocent like an angel, with a face as bright as the sun! What is he to make of it? Anyhow, to see him is a delight! And he shoots it out as a piece of good news. Some Commentators think that 'Busira', the Arabic word for 'Good news', is a proper noun, the name of the companion to whom he shouted.

1655 It was a caravan of merchants, and they think of everything in terms of the money to be made out of it! Here was an unknown, unclaimed youth, of surpassing beauty, with apparently a mind as refined as was his external beauty. If he could be sold in the opulent slave markets of Memphis or whatever was the capital of the Hyksos Dynasty then ruling in Egypt (see Appendix IV following S. 7). What a price he would fetch! They had indeed lighted upon a treasure! And they wanted to conceal him lest he was another's slave and had run away from his master who might come and claim him! The circumstances were peculiar and the merchants were cautious. Biozah - stock in trade: capital; money; wealth; treasure (Cf. 12:62).

1656 To different minds the situation appeared different. Joseph must have felt keenly the edge of his brethren's treason. His father Jacob was lost in the sorrow of the loss of his bespoiled son. The brethren were exulting in their plan of getting rid of one whom they hated. The merchants were gloating over their gains. But the horizon of all was limited. Allah knew their deeds and their feelings and motives, and He was working out His own Plan. Neither the best of us nor the worst of us know whether our Destiny is leading us how evil plots are defeated and goodness comes to its own in marvellous ways!

20. They sold him for a miserable price, for a few dirhams (1657) counted out: in such low estimation did they hold him!(1658)

1657 Dirham: from Greek, drachma, a small silver coin, which varied in weight and value at different times and in different States. (R).

1658 And so the most precious of human lives in the age was sold into slavery for a few silver pieces! (R). 1658-A. In popular tradition the wife of the Egyptian courtier is identified as Zulaykha. [Eds.]

21. The man in Egypt (1659) who bought him, said to his wife: "Make his stay (among us) honourable:" (1659) so He ordered(1660) that We might make his sojourn agreeable! truly to no good come those who do right. (1661)

1659 Egyptian capital then) he was exposed for sale by the merchants. The merchants

1660 got him power and knowledge: thus do We reward those who do right. (1663)

1661 Those who do right, those who do good. Both ideas are implied. In following the right conduct, you are necessarily doing good to yourself and to others.

22. When Joseph attained (1664) His full manhood, We gave him power and knowledge: thus do We reward those who do right. (1663)

1662 The 'Aziz had treated Joseph with honour: he was more his guest and son than his slave. In trying to seduce Joseph in these circumstances, his wife was guilty of a crime against Joseph's own honour and dignity. And there was a third fault in her earthly love. True love blots Self out: it thinks more of the loved one than of the Self. The 'Aziz's wife was seeking the satisfaction of her own selfish passion, and was in treason against her husband's pure soul; her high destiny was inevitable that Joseph should repel the advances made by the wife of the courtier. (R).

1663 Joseph's plea in rejecting her advances is threefold: (1) I owe a duty, and so do you to your husband. (2) The 'Aziz's kindness, courtesy, and honour, with which he has treated me entitled him to more than mere gratitude from me; (3) in any case, do you not see that you are harbouring a guilty passion, and that no good can come out of guilt? we must all obey laws, human and divine. (R).

23. But she in whose house he was, sought to seduce him (1666) from his (true) self: she fastened the doors, and said: "Now come, thou (dear one)!" He said: "(Allah) forbid! truly (thy husband) is my lord! he made my sojourn agreeable! truly to no good come those who do wrong!" (1667)

1664 When Joseph left Canaan, he was a young and immature lad of seventeen or eighteen, but his nature was innocent and good. Through the vicissitudes of his fortune in Egypt, he grew in knowledge, judgement, and power.

1665 Midrash: those who do right, those who do good. Both ideas are implied. In following the right conduct, you are necessarily doing good to yourself and to others.

24. And (with passion) did she desire him, and he would have desired her, but that he saw the evidence (1668) of his Lord: thus (did We order) that We (1669) might turn away from him (all) evil and shameful deeds: for he was one of Our servants, sincere and purified.

1666 She was blinded with passion, and his plea had no effect on her. He was human after all, and her passionate love and her beauty placed a great temptation in his path. But he had a sure refuge his faith in Allah. His spiritual eyes saw something that her eyes, blinded by passion, did not see. She thought nothing of the moment when the doors were closed. He knew that Allah was there and everywhere. That made him strong, and proof against temptation.

1667 The credit of our being saved from sin is due, not to our weak earthly nature, but to Allah. We can only try like Joseph, to be true and sincere: Allah will purify us and save us from all that is wrong. Tempted but true, we rise above ourselves.

25. So they both raced each other to the door, and she tore his shirt from the back (1670) they both found her lord near the door. She said: "What is the (fitting) punishment for one who formed an evil design against thy wife, but prison or a grievous chastisement?” (1671)

With his master's wife in her mad passion, the situation became intolerable, and Joseph made for the door. She ran after him to detain him. She tugged at his garment to detain him. As he was retreating, she could only catch hold of the back of his shirt, and in the struggle she tore it. He was determined to open the door and flee the place, as it was useless to argue with her in her mad passion. When the door was opened, it so happened that the 'Aziz was not far off. We need not assume that he was spying, or had any suspicions either of his wife or Joseph. In his narrow limited way he was a just man. We can imagine his wife's consternation. One guilt leads to another. She had resisted. For one in his position it was a dreadful crime. Should he not be consigned to a dungeon or at least scourged? Perhaps she hoped that in either case he would be more pliable to her designs in the future.

26. He said: "It was she that sought to seduce me - (1672) from my (true) self." And one of her household saw (knew) and bore witness, (thus):-(1673) "If it be that his shirt is rent from the front, then is her tale true, and he is a liar!

1672 Joseph bore himself with dignity. He was too great and noble to indulge in angry recrimination. But he had to tell the truth. And he did it with quiet simplicity, without argument or bitterness-and not caring whether he was believed or not. 'The love game was hers, not his, and it went too far in seeking to assault his person.'

1673 In the nature of things there was no eyewitness to what had happened between them. But as there was a scene and the whole household collected, wisdom came through one who was not immediately concerned. They say it was a child. If so, it illustrates the truth that the most obvious things are not noticed by people who are excited, but are plain to simple people who remain calm. Wisdom comes often through babies and sucklings.

27. "But if it be that his shirt is torn from the back, then is she the liar, and he is telling the truth!” (1674)

1674 If Joseph's shirt was torn at the back, he must obviously have been retreating, and the wife of the 'Aziz must have been tugging from behind. No one could doubt who was the guilty party. Everybody saw it, and the 'Aziz was convinced. (R).

28. So when he saw his shirt, - that it was torn at the back,- (her husband) said: "Behold! It is a snare of you women!(1675) truly, mighty is your snare! A snare of women (by a sort of freemasonry) what she would have been if she had known that her husband was a Prophet? You are just as susceptible! You would have done the same thing! Finding encouragement from their passion and their fellow-feelings, she openly avows as a woman amongst women (by a sort of freemasonry) what she would have been ashamed to acknowledge to others before. She falls a step lower and boasts of it. A step lower still, and she sneers at Joseph's innocence, his firmness in saving himself guiltless[(1680)...and now, if he doth not my bidding, he shall certainly be cast into prison, and (what is more) be of the company of the vilest!"

1680 Her speech is subtle, and shows that any repentance or correction she may have felt is blotted out by the collective crowd mentality into which she has deliberately invited herself to fall. Her speech falls into two parts, with a hiatus between, which I have marked by the punctuation mark (. . .) In the first part there is a note of triumph, as much as to say, 'Now you see! Mine was no vulgar passion!' The second part is a note of triumph, as much as to say, 'Now you see! Mine was no vulgar passion!' The words of the 'Aziz now only sound self-exposed! What about your reproaches to me? You have yourselves so lost your self-control that you have cut your rings!' (R).

29. "O Joseph, pass this over! (O wife), ask forgiveness for thy sin, for truly thou hast been at fault!” (1676)

1676 As was only fair, he apologised to Joseph and begged him to give no further thought to the injury that had been done to him, first by the love-scare of his wife, secondly, by the utterly false charge made against him, and thirdly, by the scene, which must have been painful to a man of such spotless character as Joseph. That was not enough. He must ask his wife humbly to beg J. Josef's pardon for the wrong that she had done him. And he must further ask her to consider her unbecoming conduct in itself, apart from any wrong done to Joseph. (R).

30. Ladies said in the City: "The wife of the (great) 'Aziz(1677) is seeking to seduce her slave from his (true) self: Truly hath he inspired her with violent love: we see she is evidently going astray.” (1678)

1677 'Aziz title of a nobleman or officer of Court, of high rank. Considering all the circumstances, the office of Grand Chamberlain or minister may be indicated.

31. When she heard of their malicious talk, she sent for them and prepared a banquet(1679) for them: she gave each of them a knife: and she said (to Joseph), "Come out before them." When they saw him, they did extol him, and (in their amazement) cut their hands: they said, "(Allah) preserve us! no mortal is this! this is none other than a noble angel!"

1679 When her reputation began to be pulled to pieces with sundry exaggerations and distortions and malicious innuendos, the wife of 'Aziz invited all the ladies in society to a grand banquet. We can imagine them reclining at ease after the manner of fashionable banquets. When dessert was reached and the talk flowed freely about the gossip and scandal which made their hostess interesting, they were just about to cut the fruit with their knives, when, behold! Joseph was brought into their midst. Imagine the consternation which his beauty caused, and the horror it played with their hearts! 'Abd, thought the wife of 'Aziz 'now is your hypocrisy self-exposed! What about your reproaches to me? You have yourselves so lost your self-control that you have cut your rings!' (R).

32. She said: "There before you is the man about whom ye did blame me! I did seek to seduce him from his (true) self but he did firmly save himself guiltless[(1680)...and now, if he doth not my bidding, he shall certainly be cast into prison, and (what is more) be of the company of the vilest!"

1680 Her speech is subtle, and shows that any repentance or correction she may have felt is blotted out by the collective crowd mentality into which she has deliberately invited herself to fall. Finding encouragement from their passion and their fellow-feelings, she openly avows as a woman amongst women (by a sort of freemasonry) what she would have been ashamed to acknowledge to others before. She falls a step lower and boasts of it. A step lower still, and she sneers at Joseph's innocence, his firmness in saving himself guiltless! There is a pause. The tide of passion rises still higher, and the dreadful second part of her speech begins. It is a sort of joint consultation, though she speaks in monologue. The women all agree that no man has a right to resist their solicitations. Beauty spurned is the highest crime. And so now she rises to the height of tragic guilt and threatens Joseph. She forgets all her finer feelings, and is overpowered by brute passion. After all, he is a slave and must obey his mistress! Or, there is prison, and the company of the vilest, instead of the caresses and laudation of beauty and fashion in high places! Poor, deceived, fallen creature! She sank lower than herself, in seeking the support of the crowd around her! What pain and suffering and sorrow can expiate the depth of this crime? (R).

33. He said: "O my Lord! the prison is more to my liking than that to which they invite me:(1681) Unless Thou turn away their snare from me, I should (in my youthful folly) feel inclined towards them and join the multitude who do not know man's weakness and Allah's strength! Only the ignorant who do not know man's weakness and Allah's strength! It is I who rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil against the whole assault of evil.

1681 'To reach which they invite me. Notice it is now [they're] not [she]'...Where there was the snare of one woman before, it is now the collective snare of many women- of mankind!

1682 Joseph's speech is characteristic. Like a true Prophet of Allah, he takes refuge in Allah. He knows the weakness of human nature. He would not pit his own strength against the whole assault of evil. He will rely on Allah to turn evil away from him, and praise Him alone for any success he achieves in his fight. It is only the ignorant who do not know man's weakness and Allah's strength!

34. So his Lord hearkened to him (in his prayer), and turned away from him their snare:(1683) Verily He heareth and knoweth (all things).
Joseph was saved from the wiles of the women, which would have degraded him. But more, his truth and character were completely vindicated in the eyes of all concerned by the aroval of the wife of the ‘Aziz. (R).

35. Then it occurred to the men(1684) after they had seen the signs, (that it was best) to imprison him for a time.

36. Now with him there came into the prison two young men.(1685) Said one of them: "I see myself (in a dream) pressing wine." said the other: "I see myself (in a dream) carrying bread on my head, and birds are eating, thereof."(1686) "Tell us" (they said) "The dream of one foreboded good to him, and of the other, evil to him. It it appears as if it might be in his wife's best interests that he should disappear from her view in prison. The decisive factor was the view of the men generally, who were alarmed at the consternation he had caused among the women. They knew that Joseph was righteous: they had seen the Signs of Allah in his wonderful personality and his calm and confident fortitude. But, it was argued, it was better that one man (even if righteous) should suffer in prison rather than that many should suffer from the extraordinary disturbance he was unwittingly causing in their social life. Not for the first nor for the last time did the righteous suffer plausibly for the guilt of the selfish. And so Joseph went to prison—for a time. (R).

37. He said: "Before any food comes (in due course) to feed either of you, I will surely reveal to you the truth and meaning thereof: for we see thou art one of the women, and now, not one woman, but all society women were after him. And so Joseph went to prison—for a time. (R).

But, it was argued, it was better that one man (even if righteous) should suffer in prison rather than that many should suffer from the extraordinary disturbance he was unwittingly causing in their social life. Not for the first nor for the last time did the righteous suffer plausibly for the guilt of the selfish. And so Joseph went to prison—for a time. (R).
But Satan made him forget(1698) to mention him to his lord: and (Joseph) lingered in prison a few (more) years.(1699)

Joseph never mentioned himself in interpreting the dream, nor ever thought of himself in his kindness to his fellow-sufferers in prison. It was afterwards, when the cupbearer's dream came true, and he was being released on being restored to favour, that we can imagine him taking an affectionate leave of Joseph, and even asking him in his elation if he could do anything for Joseph. Joseph had no need of earthly favours—least of all, from kings or their favourites. The divine grace was enough for him. But he had great work to do, which he could not do in prison—work for Egypt and her king, and the world at large. If the cupbearer could mention him to the king, not by way of recommendation, but because the king's own justice was being violated in keeping an innocent man in prison, perhaps that might help to advance the cause of the king and of Egypt And so he said, 'Mention me to King.'

The eternal Plan does not put Allah's Prophets under obligations to men commanding mere worldly favour or earthly power. If they are given a chance, the obligation is on the worldly men, however highly placed. . . In this case, the poor cupbearer was but human. When he was in the midst of the Court, he forgot the poor fellow-prisoner languishing in prison. In this he yielded to the lower part of his nature, which is guided by Satan. (R).

A few (more) years: 'bad' in Arabic signifies a small indefinite number, say up to 3, 5, 7 or 9 years.

43. The king (of Egypt) said:(1700) "I do see (in a vision) seven fat kine, whom seven lean ones devour, and seven green ears of corn, and seven (others) withered. O ye chiefs! Expound to me my vision if it be that ye can interpret visions."

The king is holding a Council. His confidential adviser the cupbearer is present. The king relates his double dream—of seven fat kine being devoured by seven lean ones, and of seven fine full green ears of corn (presumably being devoured by seven dry withered ears.

44. They said: "A confused medley of dreams: and we are not skilled in the interpretation of dreams."(1701)

No one in the Council apparently wanted to take the responsibility either of interpreting the dream, or of carrying out any measures consequent on the interpretation.

45. But the man who had been released, one of the two (who had been in prison) and who now bethought him after (so long) a space of time, said: "I will tell you the truth of its interpretation: send ye me (therefore)."(1702)

At length the cupbearer's conscience was awakened. He thought of Joseph, who had been a truthful man, and the cupbearer knew by personal experience how skilful he was in the interpretation of dreams. Perhaps he could get him released at this juncture by getting him to interpret the king's dream. If he had been frank, straight, and direct, he would have mentioned Joseph at once, and presented him to Pharaoh. But he had worldly subtlety. He wanted some credit for himself, at the same time that he fulfilled an old obligation. His petty conscience would be satisfied if he got Joseph's release, but meanwhile he wanted to see how much attention he could draw to himself in the court. So he just asked permission to withdraw in order to find the interpretation. He went straight to the prison, and addressed himself to Joseph, as in the following verse.

46. "O Joseph!" (he said) "O man of truth! Expound to us (the dream) of seven fat kine whom seven lean ones devour, and of seven green ears of corn and (seven) others withered: that I may return to the people, and that they may understand."(1703)

47. (Joseph) said: "For seven years shall ye diligently sow as is your wont: and the harvests that ye reap, ye shall leave them in the ear,-"(1704) except a little, of which ye shall eat.

Joseph not only shows what will happen, but, unasked, suggests the measures to be taken for dealing with the calamity when it comes. There will be seven years of abundant harvest. With diligent cultivation they should get bumper crops. Of them they should take a little for their sustenance and store the rest in the ear, the better to preserve it from the pests that attack corn heaps when they have passed through the threshing floor.

"Then will come after that (period) seven dreadful years, which will devour what ye shall have laid by in advance for them,- (all) except a little(1705) which ye shall have (specially) guarded.

There will follow seven years of dreadful famine, which will devour all the stores which they will have laid by in the good years. They must be careful, even during the famine, not to consume all the grain; they must by special arrangement save a little for seed, lest they should be helpless even when the Nile brought down abundant waters from the rains at its sources.

"Then will come after that (period) a year in which the people will have abundant water, and in which they will press (wine and oil)."(1706)

This is a symbol of a very abundant year, following the seven years of drought. The Nile must have brought abundant fertilising waters and silt from its upper reaches, and there was probably some rain also in Lower Egypt. The vine and the olive trees, which must have suffered in the drought, now revived, and yielded their juice and their oil; among the annuals, also, the oil seeds, such as linseed, sesame, and the castor oil plant, must have been grown, as there was irrigated land to spare from the abundant grain crops. And the people's spirits revived, to enjoy the finer products of the earth, when their absolute necessities had been more than met in their grain crops.

50. So the king said: "Bring ye him unto me."(1707) But when the messenger came to him, (Joseph) said: "Go thou back to thy lord, and ask him, 'What is the state of mind of the ladies who cut their hands?'(1708) For my Lord is certainly well aware of their snare."(1709)

The cupbearer must have reported Joseph's interpretation to the king, and the king naturally wanted to see Joseph himself. He sent a messenger to fetch him.

The king has been more than met in their grain crops. And the people's spirits revived, to enjoy the finer products of the earth, when their absolute necessities had been more than met in their grain crops.

51. (The king) said (to the ladies): "What was your affair when ye did seek to seduce Joseph from his (true) self?"(1710) The ladies said: "(Allah) preserve us! no evil know we against him!" Said the 'Aziz's wife: "Now is the truth manifest (to all): it was I who sought to seduce him from his (true) self: He is indeed of those who are (ever) true (and virtuous)."(1711)

Joseph's message was conveyed by the messenger to the king, who sent for the ladies concerned. Among them came the wife of 'Aziz. "What was this affair?" said the king 'tell me the whole truth." (R).

The wife of the 'Aziz stood by, while the other ladies answered. Their answer was gravely acknowledging the truth of Joseph's innocence and high principles, but holding a discreet silence about their own part in egging on the 'Aziz's wife to sin, wrongdoing and revenge. When they had done, she began. She did not mince matters. She acknowledged her own guilt, freely and frankly. This was no time for her even to refer to other ladies' her jealousy, their gross mindedness, their encouragement of all that was frail or evil in herself.
52. "This (say I), in order that He may know that I have never been false to him in his absence, and that Allah will never guide the snare of the false ones.(1712)

1712 Construe verses 52 and 53 to be a continuation of the speech of the 'Aziz's wife and have translated accordingly. There is good reason and authority (e.g., Ibn Kathîr) for this. But the majority of Commentators construe verses 52-53 to be spoken by Joseph, in which case they would mean that Joseph was referring to his fidelity to the 'Aziz, that he had never taken advantage of his absence to play false with his wife, although he [Joseph] was human and liable to err. In my view the 'Aziz's wife while fully reproducing her own guilty conduct, claims that she has at least been constant, and that she hopes for mercy, forgiveness, and the capacity to understand at last what true love is. Whatever false charge she made, she made it in a moment of passion and to his face, (never in cold blood, or behind his back). Guide the snare of the false ones, i.e., allow such snare to attain its goal. (R).

53. "Nor do I absolve my own self (of blame): the (human) soul is certainly prone to evil, (1712A) unless my Lord do bestow His Mercy: but surely my Lord is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful."(1713)

1712A Amaryaza: prone, impelling, headstrong, passionate. See n. 5810 to 75:2.

1713 See n. 1712. I construe this verse to be a continuation of the speech of the wife of the 'Aziz. It is more appropriate to her than to Joseph. (R).

54. So the king said: "Bring him unto me;(1714) I will take him specially to serve about my own person." Therefore when he had spoken to him, he said: "Be assured this day, thou art, before our own presence, with rank firmly established, and fidelity fully proved!(1715) 1714 Joseph had not yet appeared before the king. The king's order in the same terms in verse 50 above had led to a message from Joseph and the subsequent public proceedings with the ladies. Now that Joseph's innocence, wisdom, truth, and trustworthiness had been proved, and confirmed by the splendid tributes of the courtier's wife, and Joseph's own mainly bearing before the king, the king was much impressed, and took him specially to serve about his own person as his trusty and confidential Wazir. II, as is probable, the 'Aziz had by this time died for he is never mentioned again) Joseph succeeded to his office, and he is addressed as 'Aziz, in verse 78 below. But Joseph got more than his rank and powers, as specially selected to carry out a great emergency policy to meet the very difficult times of depression that were foretold. He was given plenary powers and the fullest confidence that a king could give to his most trusted and best-proved Wazir or Prime Minister, with special access to his Person, like a Grand Chamberlain. (R).

1715 Who was this Pharaoh, and what approximate date could we assign to him? He was probably a king of the Hyksos Dynasty, somewhere between the 19th and the 17th century B.C. See Appendix IV, on Egyptian Chronology and Israel (printed after S. 7).

55. (Joseph) said: "Set me over the storehouses(1716) of the land: I will indeed guard them, as one that knows (their importance)."

1716 Joseph had been given plenary authority by the king. He could have enjoyed his dignity, drawn his emoluments, put the hard and perhaps unpopular work on the shoulders of others, and kept to himself the glitter and the kudos. But that was not his way, nor can it indeed be the way of anyone who wants to do real service. He undertook the hardest and most unpopular task himself. Such a task was that of organising reserves in times of plenty, against the lean years to come. He deliberately asked to be put in charge of the granaries and storehouses, and the drudgery of establishing them and guarding them, for the simple reason that he understood that need better than anyone else, and was prepared to take upon himself rather than throw on to another the obloquy of restricting supplies in times of plenty.

56. Thus did We give established power to Joseph in the land, to take possession(1717) therein as, when, or where He pleased. We bestowed of our Mercy on whom We please, and We suffer not, to be lost, the reward of those who do good.

1717 What a wonderful example of the working of divine Providence ! The boy whom his jealous brothers got rid of by throwing him down into a well, and late was sold into slavery for a miserable price becomes the most trusted dignitary in a foreign land, chief minister in one of the greatest empires of the world of that day. And this not for himself only, but for his family, for the world at large, and for that noble example of righteousness and strenuous service, which he was to set for all time. According to tradition, Joseph's age was barely 30 at that time.

As, when, or where he pleased; haythu refers to manner, time, or place. He had almost absolute powers, but as his fidelity was fully proved (12:51) these powers were for service rather than for self. (R).

57. But verily the reward of the Hereafter is the best, for those who believe, and are constant in righteousness.(1718)

1718 To die righteous, whatever rewards (if any) that come in this world are welcome for the opportunities of service which they open out. But the true and best reward is in the Hereafter.

58. Then came Joseph's brethren:(1719) they entered his presence, and he knew them, but they knew him not.

1719 Years pass; the times of prosperity go by; famine holds the land in its grip, and it extends to neighbouring countries. Joseph's preparations are complete. His reserves are ample to meet the calamity. Not only does Egypt bless him, but neighbouring countries send to Egypt to purchase corn. All are received with hospitality, and corn is sold to them according to judicious measure. Now there has been one sorrow gnawing at Joseph's heart. His poor father Jacob! How must he have wept, as indeed he did, at the loss of his beloved Joseph! And Joseph's little brother Benjamin, born of the same mother as himself, would the other ten brothers, not by the same mother, have any affection for him, or would they treat him, as they treated Joseph? How would the whole family be in these hard times? A sort of answer came when the ten selfish brothers, driven by famine, came from Canaan to buy corn. Joseph, though so great a man, kept the details of the famine department in his own hands; otherwise there might have been waste. But to the public he was a mighty Egyptian administrator, probably in Egyptian dress, and with all the paraphernalia of his rank about him. When his brothers came, he knew them, but they did not know he was Joseph. In their thoughts Joseph was probably some monastic slave in a remote household, perhaps already starved to death in these hard times! (cf. 12:15).

And when he had furnished them forth with provisions (suitable) for them, he said: "Bring unto me a brother ye have, of the same father as yourselves, (but a different mother): see ye not that I pay out full measure, and that I do provide the best hospitality?(1720)

1720 Joseph treated his brothers liberally. Perhaps he condescended to enter into conversation with these strangers, and enquired about their family. The ten brothers had come. Had they left a father behind them? What sort of a person was he? Very aged? Well, of course he could not come. Had they any other brothers? Doubtless the ten brothers said nothing about their lost Joseph, or told some lie about him. But perhaps their host's kindly insistence brought Benjamin into the conversation. How old was he? Why had they not brought him? Would they bring him next time? Indeed they must, or they would get no more corn, and he—the great Egyptian Wazir—would not even see them.

59. "Now if ye bring him not to me, ye shall have no measure (of corn) from me, nor shall ye (even) come near me."

60. "They said: "We shall certainly seek to get our wish about him from his father;(1721) Indeed we shall do it."

1721 The brother said: "Certainly, we shall try to beg him for our father, and bring him away with us: we shall certainly comply with your desire." In reality they probably loved Benjamin no more than they loved Joseph. But they must get food when the present supply was exhausted, and they must humour the great Egyptian Wazir. Note that they do not call Jacob 'our father' but 'his father': how little they loved their aged father, whom they identified with Joseph and Benjamin! Their trial and their instruction in their duties is now being undertaken by Joseph.

62. And (Joseph) told his servants to put their stock in trade(1722) (with which they had bartered) into their saddle-bags, so they should know it only when they returned to their people, in order that they might come back.(1723)
66. He said: "Shall I trust you with him with any result other than when I trusted you with his brother aforetime? But Allah is the best to take care (of him), and He is the Most Merciful of those who show mercy!"(1725)

67. Then when they opened their baggage, they found their stock-in-trade had been returned to them. They said: "O our father! What (more) can we desire? this camel’s load (of grain to our provisions). This is but a small quantity."(1727)

68. And when they entered in the manner their father had enjoined, it did not profit them in the least against (the plan of) Allah:(1731) It was but a necessity of Jacob’s soul, which he(1732) discharged. For he was, by our instruction, full of knowledge (and experience): but most men know not.(1733)

69. Now when they came into Joseph’s presence,(1734) he received his (full) brother(1735) to stay with him. He said (to him): "Behold! I am thy (own) brother; so grieve not at aught of their doings."(1736)

70. At length when he had furnished them forth with provisions (suitable) for them, he put the drinking cup...
into his brother’s saddle-bag. Then shouted out a crier: "O ye (in) the caravan! behold! ye are thieves, without doubt!" (1737)

1737 Joseph’s plan was to play a practical joke on them, which would achieve two objects. Immediately it would put them into some consternation, but nothing comparable to what he had suffered at their hands. When the plan was unravelled, it would make them thoroughly ashamed of themselves, and dramatically bring home their guilt to them. Secondly, it would give him an excuse to detain Benjamin and bring their aged father into Egypt. He contrived that a valuable drinking cup should be concealed in Benjamin's saddlebag. When it was found after an ostentatious search, he would detain the supposed culprit, and attain his object, as the story relates further on.

71. They said, turning towards them: "What is it that ye miss?"

72. They said: "We miss the great beaker of the king; for him who produces it, is (the reward of) a camel load; I will be bound by it."

73. (The brothers) said: "By Allah. well ye know that we came not to make mischief in the land, and we are no thieves!" (1738)

1738 As strangers in a strange land, they were liable to be suspected as spies or men who meditated some unlawful design, or some crime, such as theft, which would be common in a season of scarcity. The brothers protested against the absurdity of such a suspicion after they had been entertained so royally by the Wazir.

74. (The Egyptians) said: "What then shall be the penalty of this, if ye are (proved) to have lied?" (1739)

1739 "That might be all very well," said the Egyptians, "but what if it is found by a search that you have in fact abused the Wazir’s hospitality by stealing a valuable cup?"

75. They said: "The penalty should be that he in whose saddle-bag it is found, should be held (as bondman) to atone (1740) for the (crime). Thus it is we punish the wrongdoers!" (1741)

1740 We must try to picture to ourselves the mentality of the ten. They understood each other perfectly, in their sins as well as in other things. For themselves, the search held out no fears. Besides they had had no opportunity of stealing. But what of that young fellow Benjamin? They were ready to believe anything against him, the more so as the Wazir’s partiality for him had lent a keen edge to their jealousies. Judging by their own standards, they would not be surprised if he had stolen, seeing that he had had such opportunities — sitting at the high Table and staying with the Wazir. They felt very self-righteous at the same time that they indulged in the luxury of accusing in their thoughts the most innocent of their brothers. They had done a lot to protect him. What about their solemn oath to their father? Oh! that was covered by the practical joke was in furtherance of a great plan (see n. 1745 above); (4) that they were not only ready to believe evil of Benjamin, but they carry their thoughts back to their personal satisfaction in suggesting the penalty, they were unconsciously appropriateness of the words used. The cup was concealed in a saddlebag in which it could not be found, otherwise it would have been a surprise to the Egyptians. As the lawyers say: Qui facit per alium, facit per se (whoever does anything through another, does it himself).

1741 The Arabic word here used is wia’, plural aw’iyah, which includes bags, lockers, boxes, or any receptacles in which things are stored. Notice the appropriateness of the words used. The cup was concealed in a saddlebag (hadīl), verse 70 above. When it comes to searching, they must search all the baggage of every description if the search was to be convincing and effective.

77. They said: "If he steals, there was a brother of his who did steal before (him)." (1747) But these things Joseph kept locked in his heart, revealing not the secrets to them. (1748) He (simply) said (to himself): "Ye are the worse situated; (1749) and Allah know best the truth of what ye assert!"

1747 The hatred of the ten for Joseph and Benjamin comes out again. They are not only ready to believe evil of Benjamin, but they carry their thoughts back to Joseph and call him a thief as well. They had injured Joseph; and by a false charge of this kind they save their conscience. Little did they suspect that Joseph was before them, under another guise, and their falsehood and treachery, would soon be exposed.

1748 They were many secrets: (1) that he was Joseph himself; (2) that his brother, Benjamin, knew him; (3) that there was no guilt in Benjamin, but the whole practical joke was in furtherance of a great plan (see n. 1745 above); (4) that they were giving themselves away, and were unconsciously facilitating the plan, though their motives were not aboveboard.

1749 "Ah!" thought Joseph, "you think that Benjamin is safely out of the way, and that Joseph was got rid of long since! Would you be surprised to know that you have given yourselves away, that you are now in the power of Joseph, and that Joseph is the very instrument of your exposure and (let us hope) of your repentance?"

78. They said: "O exalted one! Behold! he has a father, aged and venerable, (who will grieve for him); so take one of us in his place; for we see that thou art (gracious) in doing good."

1750 I have translated the title of 'Aziz here as ‘the exalted one’ when addressed to Joseph in order not to cause confusion with the other man, the ‘Aziz, the Courtier, who had bought Joseph on arrival in Egypt. See 12:30 above, and notes 1677 and 1714. (R).

79. He said: "(Allah) forbid that we take other than him with whom we found our property: indeed (if we did so), we should be acting wrongly."

1751 There is a little sparring now between the Ten and Joseph. They are afraid of meeting their father's wrath, and he holds them strictly to the bargain which they had themselves suggested.

80. Now when they saw no hope of his (yielding), they held a conference in private. The leader among them said: (1752) "Know ye not that your father did take an oath from you in Allah’s name, and how, before this, ye did fail in your duty with Joseph? Therefore will I..."
not leave this land until my father permits me, or Allah(1753) commands me; and He is the best to command.

1752 Allāh may mean the eldest. But in 12:78 above, Allāh is distinguished from Shālikh, and I have translated the one as 'venerable' and the other as 'aged'. In 20:71, Allāh obviously means 'leader' or 'chief', and has no reference to age. I therefore translate here by the word 'leader', that brother among them who took the most active part in these transactions. His name is not given in the Qur'ān.

1753 The eldest brother was Reuben. But according to the biblical story the brother who had taken the most active part in this transaction was Judah, one of the elder brothers, being the fourth son, after Reuben, Simeon, and Levi, and of the same mother as these. It was Judah who stood surety for Jacob for Benjamin (Gen. 43:9). It is therefore natural that Judah should, as here, offer to stay behind.

1754 He stole in secret and without our knowledge. How could we in the circumstances prevent it? I This may have been a good statement for the other nine brothers, but Judah was himself personally and specially pledged.

1755 To vouch for the truth of the story, the nine brothers are asked by Judah to appeal to their father to enquire at the place where they stayed and the caravan with which they came, and he would find that the facts were as they stated them. The nine brothers came back and told their father as they had been instructed by Judah .

1756 Jacob said: "Nay, but ye have yourselves contrived a story (good enough) for you. (1756)So patience is most fitting (for me). Maybe Allah will bring them (back) all to me (in the end).(1757) For He is indeed full of knowledge and wisdom."

1757 He was absolutely stunned by the story. He knew his darling little Benjamin too well to believe that he had committed theft. He flatly refused to believe it, and called it a cock-and-bull story, which indeed it was, though not in the sense in which he reproached the nine brothers. With the eye of faith he saw clearly the innocence of Benjamin, though he did not see every detail of what had happened.

1758 The eye of faith he clung to even a larger hope. Perhaps all three of his lost sons would come back—Joseph, Benjamin, and Judah. His faith in Allah was unswerving, although alas! the present facts altogether unnerved him. (R).

1759 And he turned away from them, and said: "How great is my grief for Joseph! And his eyes became white(1758) with sorrow, and he fell into silent melancholy.

1760 Jacob now wants to reveal himself and touch their conscience. He had but two reminde them of the true facts as to their treatment of their brother Joseph, whom they pretended to have lost. He had by now also learnt from Benjamin what slights and injustice he too had suffered at their hands after Joseph's protection had been removed from him in their house. Had not Joseph himself seen them but too prone to believe the worst of Benjamin and to say the worst of Joseph? But Joseph would be chari table—not only in the sense which they meant when they asked for a charitable grant of grain, but in a far higher sense. He would forgive them and put the most charitable construction on what they did—that they knew not what they were doing!

1761 They said: "Art thou indeed(1766) Joseph?" He said, "I am Joseph, and this is my brother: Allāh has indeed been gracious to us (all): behold, he that is righteous and patient,—never will Allāh suffer the reward to be lost, of those who do right."
and they ask the direct question, "Art thou Joseph?" They get the direct reply, "Yes, I am Joseph; and if you have still any doubt of my identity, here is Benjamin: ask him. We have suffered much, but patience and right conduct are at last rewarded by Allah!"

91. They said: "By Allah. indeed has Allah preferred thee above us, and we certainly have been guilty of sin!" (1767)

1767 The scales fall from the eyes of the brothers. We may suppose that they had joined Judah at this interview, and perhaps what Judah had seen when he was alone helped in the process of their enlightenment. They are convicted of sin out of their own mouths, and now there is no arder pensee, no reserve thought, in their minds. They freely confess their wrongdoing, and the justice of Joseph's prelurement.

92. He said: "This day let no reproach be (cast) (1768) on you: Allah will forgive you, and He is the Most Merciful of those who show mercy!"

1768 Joseph is most generous. He is glad that they have at last seen the significance of what happened. But he will not allow them at this great moment of reconciliation to dwell on their conduct with reproaches against themselves. There is more urgent work to do. An aged and beloved father is cutting out his heart in far Canaan in love and longing for his Joseph, and he must be told all immediately, and "comforted in body, mind, and estate" and so he tells the brothers to hurry back immediately with his shirt as a sign of recognition, as a proof of these wonderful happenings.

93. "Go with this my shirt, (1769) and cast it over the face of my father: he will come to see (clearly). Then come ye (here) to me together with all your family." (1770)

1769 It will be remembered that they had covered their crime by taking his shirt, putting on the stains of blood, and pretending that he had been killed by a wolf: see above, 12:17-18. Now that they have confessed their crime and been forgiven, and they have joyful news to tell Jacob about Joseph, Joseph gives them another shirt of his to prove the truth of their story. It is a rich shirt, befitting a ruler of Egypt, to prove his good fortune, and yet perhaps its design and many colours (12:18, n. 1654) were reminiscent of the lost Joseph. The first shirt plunged Jacob into grief. This one will now restore him. See the verses following.

94. When the caravan left (Egypt), their father said: "I do indeed scent the presence of Joseph: (1771) Nay, think me not a dotard." (1772)

1771 "They" must be the people around him, before the brothers actually arrived. These same brothers had judicially excommunicated the calamity that their father was an old dotard, and everybody around believed it, even after its authors had to give it up. Thus lies die hard, once they get a start.

95. They (1773) said: "By Allah. truly thou art in thine old wandering mind."

1771 "They" must be the people around him, before the brothers actually arrived. These same brothers had judicially excommunicated the calamity that their father was an old dotard, and everybody around believed it, even after its authors had to give it up. Thus lies die hard, once they get a start.

96. Then when the bearer (1772) of the good news came, He cast (the shirt) over his face, and he forthwith (1773) regained clear sight. (1774) He said: "Did I not say to you, 'I know from Allah that which ye know not?"' (1775)

1772 We may suppose this to have been Judah (see notes 1752 and 1753 above) who was pledged to his father for Benjamin, and who could now announce the good news not only of Benjamin but of Joseph. We can imagine him hurrying forward, to be the first to tell the news, though the plural pronoun for those whom Jacob addresses in this verse, and for those who reply in the next verse, shows that all the others practically arrived together.

1773 Jacob's sight had grown dim; his eyes had become white with much sorrow for Joseph (see 12:84 above). Both his physical and mental vision now became clear and bright as before.

1774 He had said this (12:86) when everything was against him, and his sons were scoffers. Now they themselves have come to say that his faith was justified and his vision was true.

97. They said: "O our father! ask for us forgiveness for our sins, for we were truly at fault."

98. He said: "Soon (1776) will I ask my Lord for forgiveness for you: for he is indeed Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful."

1776 He fully intended to do this, but the most injured party was Joseph, and it was only fair that Joseph should be consulted. In fact Joseph had already forgiven his brothers all their past, and his father could confidently look forward to Joseph joining in the wish of the whole family to turn to Allah through their aged father Jacob in his prophetic office.

99. Then when they entered (1777) the presence of Joseph, he provided a home for his parents with himself, and said: "Enter ye (1778) Egypt (all) in safety if it please Allah."

1777 At length the whole family arrived in Egypt and were reunited with Joseph. They were all entertained and provided with homes. But the parents were treated with special honour, as was becoming both to Joseph's character and ordinary, family ethics. His mother Rachel had long been dead, but he had been brought up by his mother's sister eah, whom his father had also married. Leah was now his mother. They were lodged with Joseph himself.

1778 This is in Arabic in the plural, not in the dual number. The welcome is for all to Egypt, and under the auspices of the Wazir of Egypt. They came, therefore, under Allah's will, to a double sense of security; Egypt was secure from the famine unlike the neighbouring countries; and they were to be cared for by the highest in the land.

100. And he raised his parents high on the throne (of dignity), (1779) and they fell down in prostration, (all) before him. (1779-A) He said: "O my father! this is the fulfillment of my vision of old! Allah hath made it come true! He was indeed good to me when He took me out of prison and brought you (all here) (1780) out of the desert, (even) after Satan had sown enmity between me and my brothers. Verily my Lord understandeth best the mysteries of all that He planneth to do, for verily He is full of knowledge and wisdom.

1779 Certainly metaphorically: probably also literally. By Eastern custom the place of honour at a ceremonial reception is on a seat or a dias, with a special cushion of honour, such as is assigned to a bridegroom at his reception. To show his high respect for his parents, Joseph made them sit on a throne of dignity. On the other hand, his parents and his brothers—all performed the ceremony of prostration before Joseph in recognition of his supreme rank in Egypt under the Pharaoh, and thus was fulfilled the dream or vision of his youth (12:4 above, and n. 1633).

1779-A The ceremony of prostration for paying respect might have been allowed at the time of previous prophets, but with the advent of the complete and final revelation prostration before anyone other than Allah is a grave sin strictly prohibited. (Eds.).

101. "O my Lord! Thou hast indeed bestowed on me some power, and taught me something of the interpretation (1781) of dreams and events.- O Thou Creator of the heavens (1782) and the earth! Thou art my Protector in this world and in the Hereafter. Take Thou my soul (at death) as one submitting to Thy will (as a Muslim), and unite me with the righteous." (1783)
1278 Then he turns to Allah in prayer, and again his modesty is predominant. He held supreme power under the king, but he calls it 'some power' or authority. His reading of events and dreams had saved millions of lives in the great Egyptian famine; yet he refers to it as 'something of the interpretation of dreams and events'. And he takes no credit to himself. 'All this,' he says, 'was Thy gift, O Allah! For such things can only come from the Creator of the heavens and the earth.'

1279 Power in the doing of things as well as power in intelligent forecasts and plans—both must look to Allah; otherwise the deed and the plan would be futile.

1280 Joseph's prayer may be analysed thus: (1) if I am nothing; all power and knowledge are Thine; (2) such things can only come from Thee, for Thou art the Creator of all; (3) none can protect me from danger and wrong, but only Thou; (4) Thy protection I need both in this world and the next; (5) may I live till death remain constant to Thee; (6) may I yield up my soul to Thee in cheerful submission to Thy will; (7) in this moment of union with my family after many partings let me think of the final union with the great spiritual family of the righteous. How marvellously apt to the occasion! (Cf. 13:23).

102. Such is one of the stories of what happened unseen, (1784) which We reveal by inspiration unto thee; nor wast thou (1785) (present) with them then when they concerted their plans together in the process of weaving their plots.

1281 The story is finished. But is it a story? It is rather a recital of forces and moving thoughts and feelings, complications and results, ordinarily not seen by men. However much they concerted their plans and unte their forces, whatever dark plots they back with all their resources—the plan of Allah works irresistibly, and sweeps away all their machinations. The good win through in the end, but not always as they planned; the evil are foiled, and often their very plots help the good. What did the brothers' desire in trying to get rid of Joseph, and what actually happened? How the Courtier's wife, encouraged by the corrupt women of her acquaintance, tried and failed to seduce Joseph and how Allah listened to his prayer and saved him from vile designs? How wrong was it of the cupbearer to forget Joseph, and why his very forgetfulness kept Joseph safe and undisturbed in prison until the day came when he should tackle the great problems of King's kingdom? With every character in the story there are problems, and the whole is a beautifully balanced picture of the working of Allah's Providence in man's chequered destiny. (R).

1282 The Prophet was no actor in those scenes yet by inspiration he was able to experience them in the Divine Light, as they had never been expounded before, whether in the Pentateuch or by any Seer before him. And allegorically they figured his own story—how his own brethren sought to betray and kill him, how by Allah's Providence he was not only saved but he won through. (R).

103. Yet no faith will the greater part of mankind have, however ardently thou dost desire it. (1786)

1283 In spite of such an exposition and such a convincing illustration, how few men really have true faith—such a faith as Jacob had in the old story, or Muhammad the Chosen One had, in the story which was actually unfolding itself on the world's stage when this Surah was revealed, shortly before the Hijrah? Al Mustafa and those who really follow him in the truest sense of the world, call all the world to see this Truth, feel it in all the world's destinies! In some circles, it is idolatry, the worship of stocks and stones. In others, it is Christendom and Mahometanism, or the delibration of heroes and men of renown. In others it is the powers of Nature or of Life, or of the human intellect personified in Science or Art and invention, and this is the more common form of modern idolatry. Others again worship mystery, or imaginary powers of good or evil; greed and fear are mixed up with these forms of worship. Islam calls us to worship Allah, the One True God, and Him only. (R).

107. Do they then feel secure from the coming against them of the covering veil (1790) of the wrath of Allah— or of the coming against them of the (final) Hour all of a sudden (1791) while they perceive not?

1284 Even if people profess a nominal faith in Allah, they corrupt it by believing in other things as if they were Allah's partners, or had some share in the shaping of world's destinies. In some circles, it is idolatry, the worship of stocks and stones. In others, it is Christendom and Mahometanism, or the delibration of heroes and men of renown. In others it is the powers of Nature or of Life, or of the human intellect personified in Science or Art and invention, and this is the more common form of modern idolatry. Others again worship mystery, or imaginary powers of good or evil; greed and fear are mixed up with these forms of worship. Islam calls us to worship Allah, the One True God, and Him only. (R).

1285 Glastrah—covering veil; pall; used for the Judgement to come, which will be so dark and appalling as to hide up all other and petty things, and be the one great reality for the souls that were slaves to evil.

1286 The metaphor is changed, from intensity of darkness to suddenness of time. It will come before they are aware of it. Let them not feel any sense of safety in sin (Cf. 13:66).

108. Say thou: "This is my way: I do invite unto Allah— on evidence clear as the seeing with one 's eyes; (1792) I and whoever follows me. Glory to Allah. and never will I join gods with Allah."

1287 Islam holds fast to the one central fact in the spiritual world—the unity of Allah, and all Reality springing from Him and Him alone. There can be no one and nothing in competition with that one and only Reality. It is the essence of Truth. All other ideas or existences, including our perception of Self, are merely relative—mere projections from the wonderful faculties which He has given to us. This is not, to us, mere hypothesis. It is in our inmost experience. In the physical world, they say that seeing is believing. In our inner world this sense of Allah is as clear as sight in the physical world. Therefore, Al Mustafa and those who really follow him in the truest sense of the world, call all the world to see this Truth, feel this experience, follow this Way. They will never be distracted by metaphysical speculations, whose validity will always be doubtful, nor be deluded with phantoms which lead men astray.

109. Nor did We send before thee (as messengers) any but men, (1793) whom we did inspire— (men) living in human habitations. Do they not travel through the earth, and see what was the end of those before them? But the home of the Hereafter (1794) is best, for those who do right. Will ye not then understand?

1288 I was man that allah sent as His Messengers to explain Him to man. He did not send angels or gods. Into His chosen ones He breathed His inspiration, so that they could see truer than other men. But they were men living with men in men's habitations in town or country; not recluses or cلنوهات, who had no personal experience of men's affairs and could not be teachers of men in the fullest sense. Their deeds tell their own tale.

1289 The righteous, the men of Allah, had, as in Joseph's history, some evidence of Allah's Providence in this very world with all its imperfections as reflecting our imperfections. But this world is of no real consequence of them. Their home is in the Hereafter Joseph's earthly home was in Canaan; but he attained his glory elsewhere; and his spiritual Home is in the great Society of the Righteous. (3:39).

110. (Respite will be granted) until, when the messengers give up hope (of their people) and (come to) think that they were treated as liars, (1795) there reaches them Our help, and those whom We will are delivered into safety. But never will be warded off our punishment from those who are in sin.

1286 Zuww (comes to think): I construe the nominative of this verb to be 'the messengers' in agreement with the best authorities. Kudhibu is the usual reading, though Kudhibah, the alternative reading, also rests on good authority. I construe the meaning to be: that Allah gives plenty of rope to the wicked (as in Joseph's story) until His own Messengers feel almost that it will be hopeless to preach to them and come to consider themselves branded as liars by an unbelieving world; that the breaking-point is then reached; that Allah's help then comes swiftly to His men, and they are delivered from persecution and danger, while the wrath of Allah overtakes sinners, and nothing can then ward it off. This interpretation has good authority behind it, though there are differences of opinion.
III. There is in their stories,(1796) instruction for men endued with understanding. It is not a tale invented, but a confirmation of what went before it,- (1797) a detailed exposition of all things, and a guide and a mercy to any such as believe.

1796 Their stories, i.e., the stories of the Prophets or of the wicked; for the two threads interwine, as in Joseph's story.

1797 A story like that of Joseph is not a purely imaginary fable. The People of the Book have it in their sacred literature. It is confirmed here in its main outline, but here there is a detailed spiritual exposition that will be found nowhere in earlier literature. The exposition covers all sides of human life. If properly understood, it gives valuable lessons to guide our conduct—an instance of Allah's grace and mercy to people who will go to Him in faith and put their affairs in His hands.

13. Al Ra'd (The Thunder)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

I. A.L.M.R.(1798) These are the signs (or verses)(1799) of the Book: that which hath been revealed unto thee from thy Lord is the Truth; but most men believe not.

1798 For Alif, Lam, Mim, see 2:1, n. 25. For Alif, Lam, Ra', see Introduction to S. 10. For abbreviated Letters generally see Appendix I. Here there seems to be a combination of the groups Alif, Lam, Mim and Alif, Lam, Ra'. We consider here not only the beginning (Alif), the middle (Lam), and the end (Mim), of man's spiritual history, but also the immediate future of the interior of our organisation, such as it appeared to our Unnaah towards the close of the Makkan period. But in trying to determine their meaning, we must not be dogmatic. The befitting attitude is to say: Allah knows best. (R).

1799 CT 10:1, n. 1382.

2. Allah is He Who raised the heavens without any pillars(1800) that ye can see; is firmly established on the throne (of Authority);(1801) He has subjected the pillars(1800) that ye can see; is firmly established on 1800 Should we construe the clause 'that ye can see' to refer to 'pillars' or to the heavens'? Either is admissible, but I prefer the former. The heavens are supported on no pillars that we can see. What we see is the blue vault of heaven, but there are invisible forces or conditions created by Allah, which should impress us with His power and glory.

1801 CT 10:3, and n. 1386. We must not think that anything came into being by itself or carries out its functions by itself. Allah is the active Force through which everything has its life and being and through which everything is maintained and supported, even though fixed laws are established for its regulation and government. The 'term appointed' limits the duration of their functioning; its ultimate return is to Allah, as its beginning proceeded from Allah (see also 35:13).

1802 CT 10:31, n. 1425. Where the laws of nature are fixed, and everything runs according to its appointed course, the government and regulation behind it is still that of Allah. Where there is limited free will as in man, yet the ultimate source of man's faculties is Allah. Allah cares for His creatures. He does not, as in the idea of polytheistic Greece, sit apart on Olympus, careless of His creatures (see also 2:1).

1803 One manifestation of His caring for His creatures, even where a limited amount of free will is granted for their development, is that He is careful to explain His Signs both in nature and in express and detailed revelation through His Messengers, lest man should have any doubts whether he has to return ultimately to His Lord and account for all his actions during the 'term appointed,' when he was given some initiative by way of trial and preparation. If man attends carefully to the Signs, he should have no doubt whatever.

3. And it is He who spreadeth out the earth, and seteth thereon mountains standing firm and (flowing) rivers: and fruit of every kind He made in pairs, two and two:(1804) He draweth the night as a veil(1805) o' er the Day. Behold, verily in these things there are signs for those who consider!

1804 I think that this refers to sex in plants, and I see M.P. has translated accordingly. Plants like animals have their reproductive apparatus—male stamens and female pistils. In most cases the same flower combines both stamens and pistils, but in some cases these organs are specialised in separate flowers, and in some cases, even in separate trees. The date palm of Arabia and the Papaya of India, are instances of fruit trees which are unisexual (I.C. 29:53 and 31:19).

1805 CT 7:54 and n. 1832. The whole passage here may be compared with the whole passage here. Both their similarity and their variation show how closely reasoned each argument is, with expressions exactly appropriate to each occasion.

4. And in the earth are tracts (Diverse though) neighbouring, and gardens of food-grains and fields sown with corn, and palm trees—growing(1806) out of single roots or otherwise: watered with the same water, yet some of them We make more excellent than others to eat.(1807) Behold, verily in these things there are signs for those who understand!

1806 Does 'growing out of single roots or otherwise' qualify 'palm trees' or 'vines' and 'corn' as well? The former construction is adopted by the classical Commentators; in which case the reference is to the fact either that two or more palm trees occasionally grow out of a single root, or that palm, trees grow sometimes as odd trees and sometimes in great thick clusters. If the latter construction is adopted, the reference would be to the fact that date palm (and palms generally) and some other plants arise out of a single taproot, while the majority of trees arise out of a network of roots that spread out extensively. Here is adaptation to soil and water conditions—another Sign or wonder of Creation.

1807 The date palm, the crops of food-grains, and the grapevine are all fed by the same kind of water, yet how different the harvests which they yield! And that applies to all vegetation. The fruit or edible produce may vary in shape, size, colour, flavour, etc., in endless variety.

5. If thou dost marvel (at their want of faith), strange is their saying: "When we are (actually) dust,(1808) shall we indeed then be in a creation renewed?" They are those who deny their Lord! They are those round whose necks will be yokes (of servitude):(1809) they will be Companions of the Fire, to dwell therein (for aye)!
11. Allah doth know what every female (womb) doth bear, (1810) by how much the wombs fall short (of their time or number) or do exceed. Every single thing is before His sight, in (due) proportion. (1813)

12. And the Unbelievers say: "Why is not a sign sent down to him from his Lord?" (1811) But thou art truly a warner, and to every people a guide. (1812)

13. Nay, thunder repeateth His praises, (1819) and so do the angels, with awe: (1820) He figneth the loud-voiced thunder-bolts, and therewith He striketh whoseoever He will...yet these (are the men) who (dare to) dispute about Allah, with the strength of His power (supreme)! (1821)

14. For Him (alone) is prayer in Truth: (1822) any others that they call upon besides Him hear them no more than if they were to stretch forth their hands for water to reach their mouths but it reaches them not: for the prayer of those without Faith is nothing but (futile) wandering (in the mind). (1823)

15. Whatever beings (1824) are there in the heavens and the earth do prostrate themselves to Allah (1825) (Acknowledging subjection),- with good-will or in spite of themselves: (1826) so do their shadows: (1827) in the morning and evenings.
18. In spite of themselves: Satan and the Spirits of Evil. They would like to get away from the control of the All-Good Allah, but they cannot, and they have to acknowledge His supremacy and lordship over them.

19. Even the Shadows-creations of the Imagination, or projections from other things and dependent on the other things for their existence, as shadows or to substance-seven such shadows are subject to Allah's Laws and Will, and cannot arise or have any effect on our minds except by His permission. The Shadows are longest and therefore most prominent when the sun is level, and tend to disappear as the sun approaches the zenith. But even when they are longest and most prominent, they are still subject to Allah's Will and Law. (R).

16. Say: "Who is the Lord and Sustainer(1828) of the heavens and the earth?" Say: "(It is) Allah." Say: "Do ye then take (for worship) protectors other than Him, such as have no power either for good or for harm to themselves?" (1829) Say: "Are the blind equal with those who see? Or the depths of darkness equal with light?" Or do they assign to Allah(1830) partners who have created (anything) as He has created, so that the creation seemed to them similar? Say: "(Allah) is the Creator of all things: He is the One, the Supreme and Irresistible."

The meaning of Rabbi is explained in n. 20, to 1:2.

19. This verse may be analysed into six parts, each two parts going together like question and answer. Each except the fifth part is introduced by the word 'Say', which is equivalent in old Arabic to inverted commas. The fifth part, "or do they assign . . . similar?" is not introduced by 'Say', because it is in the indirect form.

(1) Who is the Lord and Sustainer of the Worlds? It is Allah. (2) And yet you worship other gods? No, no one can be equal to Him, any more than darkness is equal to light. (3) Your other gods have created nothing by which you can be misled. No indeed; He is the only Creator, the One and Supreme.

17. He sends down water(1831) from the skies, and the channels flow, each according to its measure: But the torrent bears away to foam that mounts up to the surface. Even so, from that (ore) which they heat(1832) in the fire, to make ornaments or utensils therewith, there is a scum likewise. Thus doth Allah (by parables) show forth Truth and Vanity. For the scum disappears like forth cast out; while that which is for the good of mankind remains on the earth. Thus doth Allah set forth parables.

1831 This verse is full of parables. (1) It is Allah Who sends rain and sends it to all, see how it flows in different channels according to their capacities. Some are sluggish, some have a swift current. Some form great rivers and irrigate wide tracts of country; some are clear crystal streams, perhaps in hilly tracts, with beds of clean pebbles which you can see through the water. Some produce delicious edible fish; and some are infested by crocodiles or infectious monsters. And there are degrees, and degrees among brooks, streams, lakes, rivers, and seas. So with the rain of Allah's mercy and the knowledge and wisdom and guidance which He sends. All can receive it. Different ones will respond according to their capacities. (2) In the physical world, water is pure and beneficial. But froth and scum will gather according to local conditions. As the floods will carry off the scum and purify the water, so will the flood of Allah's spiritual mercy carry away our spiritual scum and purify the water. (3) The froth may make a greater show on the surface, but it will not last. So will there be frothy knowledge which will disappear, but Allah's Truth will endure.

1832 In continuation of the last note, the fourth parable is that of metal ores: (4) the ore is full of baser admixture, but the fire will separate the gold from the dross for ornaments, or (5) some metal of household utility, with which you make everyday utensils, which the fire will separate from admixtures which you do not want. So the fire of Allah's test, either by adversity or by affluence, will search out the true metal in us and reject the dross. It will show us what is valuable or what is useful, all sorts of scum and vanity which we collect and miscall knowledge.

18. For those who respond to their Lord, are (all) good things. But those who respond not to Him,- Even if they had all that is in the heavens and on earth, and as much more, (in vain) would they offer it (1833) for ransom. For them will the reckoning be terrible: their abode will be Hell,- what a bed of misery!

19. Is then one who doth know that that which hath been revealed unto thee from thy Lord is the Truth, like one who is blind?(1834) It is those who are endued with understanding that receive admonition:-

1834 In this section the contrast between Faith and Righteousness on the one hand and Infidelity and Evil on the other is set out. The righteous man is known as one who (1) receives admonition; (2) is true to his covenants; (3) follows the universal Religion of Faith and Practice joined together; (4) is patient and persevering in seeking Allah; and in practical matters he is known to be; (5) regular in prayer; (6) generous in true charity, whether open or secret; and (7) not revengeful, but anxious to turn off evil with good, thus breaking the chain of evil which tends to perpetuate itself.

20. Those who fulfil the covenant of Allah and fail not in their plighted word;

21. Those who join together those things which Allah hath commanded to be joined,(1835) hold their Lord in awe, and fear the terrible reckoning;

22. Those who patiently persevere, seeking the countenance of their Lord; Establish regular prayers; spend, out of (the gifts) We have bestowed for their sustenance, secretly and openly; and turn off Evil with good: for such there is the final attainment of the (Eternal) Home,-(1836)

23. Gardens of perpetual bliss: they shall enter there, as well as the righteous among their fathers, their spouses, and their offspring:(1837) and angels shall enter unto them from every gate (with the salutation):

1835 That is, join faith with practice, love of Allah with love of man, and respect for all Prophets alike, i.e., follow the universal Religion, and not odd bits of it.

1836 Their journey in this life was at best a sojourn. The final Bliss is their eternal Home, which is further prefigured in the two following verses.

24. "Peace unto you for that ye persevered in patience! Now how excellent is the final home!"

25. But those who break the Covenant of Allah, after having plighted their word thereto, and cut asunder those things(1838) which Allah has commanded to be joined, and work mischief in the land;- on them is the curse; for them is the terrible Home!(1839)

1838 This is in contrast to the state of the blessed, described in 13:22-24 above. The Curse is the opposite of the Bliss, and the Terrible Home is the opposite of the Eternal Home, the Gardens of perpetual bliss.

26. Allah doth enlarge, or grant by (strict) measure, the Sustenance(1840) (which He giveth) to whomsoever He pleaseth. (The wordly) rejoice in the life of this world:
But the life of this world is but little comfort in the Hereafter.(1841)

1840 Allah, the Sustainer and Cherisher of all His creatures, gives sustenance to all—the sustenance including all means for their physical, moral, intellectual, and spiritual growth and development according to their needs and capacities. To some He grants it in abundance; to others He gives it in strict measure. No one can question Him, for His Will is supreme, and it is the measure of all good (cf. 29:61-62).

1841 Cf. 9:38. The meaning here may also be: This present life is just a furniture, a convenience, a stepping stone, a probation, for the life to come. In itself it is less important than the Hereafter.

27. The Unbelievers say: "Why is not a sign sent down to him from his Lord?"(1842) Say: "Truly Allah leaveth, to stray, whom He will; But He guideth to Himself those who turn to Him in penitence,— 1842 The question is repeated from 13:7 above: for the line of reasoning there suggested in answer is now completed, and another line of reasoning is now taken up. Allah provides every guidance for those who turn to Him in penitence, but He will leave those to wander astray who deliberately close their eyes and their hearts to His grace and the comfort that comes from remembering Him and celebrating His praises.

28. "Those who believe, and whose hearts find satisfaction in the remembrance of Allah, for without doubt in the remembrance of Allah do hearts find satisfaction.(1843)

1843 The Sign or Miracle is not something external: it is something internal, something in your mind, heart, and soul. It depends on your inner spiritual experience. If you turn to Allah, that light, that experience, will come. If you do not, Allah will not force you.

29. "For those who believe and work righteousness, is (every) blessedness,(1844) and a beautiful place of (final) return."

1844 'Blessedness': Tuba: an internal state of satisfaction, an inward joy which is difficult to describe in words, but which reflects itself in the life of the good man, through good and ill fortune, through good report and evil. And then, there is always the final goal to which his eyes are turned, the beautiful Home of rest in the Hereafter, after this life's struggles are over. That goal is Allah Himself.

30. Thus have we sent thee amongst a People before whom (long since) have (other) Peoples (gone and) passed away;(1845) in order that thou mightest rehearse unto them what We send down unto thee by inspiration; yet do they reject (Him), the Most Gracious! Say: "He is my Lord! There is no god but He! On Him is my trust, and to Him do I turn!"(1846)

1845 Our Prophet came later in time than other Prophets, to complete their Message and universalise Religion. And certainly it is after his age that the process of the unification of the world began. That process is not complete yet, but is proceeding apace.

1846 Faith tells us that no amount of opposition from Unbelievers can ever stop Allah's Plan.

31. If there were a Qur'án with which mountains were moved, or the earth were cloven asunder, or the dead were made to speak, (this would be the one!) But, truly, the command is with Allah in all things!(1847) Do not the Believers know, that, had Allah (so) willed, He could have guided all mankind (to the right)? But the Unbelievers,— never will disaster cease to seize them for their (ill) deeds, or to settle close to their homes, until the promise of Allah come to pass, for, verily, Allah will not fail in His promise.(1848)

1847 Everything is possible and in Allah's power. His Plan is beneficent and all-embracing. But it is not for His creatures to dictate to Him, or demand what He should do, or how He should do it. The Command is with Allah in all things. The Believers know His Omnipotence, and they also know that He will order His world for the best.

1848 Let not the Unbelievers think that if they seem to prosper for a time, that is the end of the matter. They are warned about three things. (1) Their ill deeds must carry evil consequences for them all the time, though they may not perceive them for a certain time. (2) Their homes, their places of resort, the circles in which they move, will also be haunted by their ill deeds and their consequences. For evil makes a complex of its environment. The walls of Jericho, when they fall, must bring down all Jericho in its ruins. (3) The ultimate Disaster, the Final Reckoning, must come, for Allah never fails in His promise. True values must eventually be restored: the good to the good, and the evil to the evil. The Commentators draw illustrations from the life of the Messenger, his exile from Makah, and his restoration. A similar miracle works in all history. But the Command is with Allah.

32. Mocked were (many) Messengers(1849) before thee: but I granted respite to the unbelievers, and finally I punished them: Then how (terrible) was my requital!(1850)

1849 Cf. 6:10 and 36:30.

1850 The punishment was in many cases deferred. But when it did come, how terrible and exemplary it was?

33. Is then He who standeth over every soul (and knoweth) all that it doth, (like any others)? And yet they ascribe partners to Allah. Say: "But name them!(1851) is it that ye will inform Him of something he knoweth not on earth, or is it (just) a show of words?" Nay! to those who believe not, their pretence(1852) seems pleasing, but they are kept back (thereby) from the path. And those whom Allah leaves to stray, no one can guide.

1851 Cf. 12:40. You have but to name your false gods, and you will see that they are nothing but names. There is no reality behind them, whereas Allah is the One great Reality. He penetrates everything through and through and knows all things. Do you dare to tell Him of something on earth that He does not know? Or is it just a trick or a show of words?

1852 All pretences and fancies seem attractive to their inventors, but alas! they are a great obstruction to the Path of Religion and Truth. However, if by their contumacy, they have cut themselves off from Allah's grace, who can guide them or reclaim them from their errors?

34. For them is a penalty in the life of this world,(1853) but harder, truly, is the penalty of the Hereafter: and defender have they none against Allah.

1853 The consequences of sin may be felt in this life itself, but they are nothing compared to the final penalties in the life to come.

35. The parable of the Garden which the righteous are promised-- beneath it flow rivers: perpetual is the enjoyment thereof(1854) and the shade therein;(1855) such is the end of the Righteous; and the end of Unbelievers in the Fire.(1856)

1854 For the comprehensive meaning of the root akila (literally 'to eat'), see 5:66, ii. 776. In its derived meaning, it means fruit and enjoyment of all kinds, spiritual as well as other. The joys of heaven are not like the joys of the earth, which fade away or ely. The joys of heaven are pure, lasting, and without any of the drawbacks which we associate with the joys of the sense.

1855 Zill: literally shade, hence, shelter, protection, security. All these meanings are implied. Shade is one of the delights of a garden. Cf. 4:57; and ii. 379.

1856 In this, as in no other place, the Fire is contrasted with the Garden, as misery is contrasted with bliss. We can also imagine other incidents in contrast with those of the Garden: e.g., with the Fire will be drought, aridity, thirst, instead of beautiful rivers; pain and suffering, instead of perpetual delight; no protection against the fierceness of the heat, as contrasted with the cool shades ever deepening as you proceed in the Garden.

36. Those to whom We have given the Book(1857) rejoice at what hath been revealed unto thee: but there are among the clans(1858) those who reject a part thereof. Say: "I am commanded to worship Allah, and not to join partners with Him. Unto Him do I call, and unto Him is my return.”

1857 The Book: in a general sense, Revelation. "Those to whom the Book hath been given" are both (1) the People of the Book of previous revelations, who study the new Revelation in Arabic without prejudice and find it in confirmation of what their ancestors had received; and (2) the Muslims who receive the Qur'an with such spiritual joy.

1858 Alkab (plural of kab--parties, sects, troops, clans. The reference may be to the clans mentioned in 33:20 and 22 (that whole Surah is called Alkab). But we can understand it in a perfectly general sense, among all the sections of the people there are persons who would receive a portion of Allah's truth but reject whatever does not suit them or fall in with their selfish aims or vain desires. The proper answer to them is: surely, Allah's command is universal—to worship and serve Him and refuse to bend the knee to any other; the man of God finds his staff and support in it; but he must invite all to share in its blessings; it came from Allah, and to Allah shall we all return.

37. Thus have We revealed it to be a judgment of authority (1859) in Arabic. Wert thou to follow their (vain) desires after the knowledge which hath reached thee, then wouldst thou find neither protector nor defender (1860) against Allah.

1859 The Qur'an is in Arabic; therefore the Arabs, among whom it was promulgated, could have no difficulty in understanding its precepts and using it in the judging of right and wrong in all their affairs. But it is also universal; therefore no one should give preference to his own vain fancies against this authoritative declaration.

1860 Cf. 2:120. The variation is in the single word "Way here in place of 'Nasir" in 2:120. In each case the apt word is chosen not only for the rhythm in its own passage but for the general meaning in the argument.

38. We did send messengers before thee, and appointed for them wives and children: (1861) and it was never the part of a messenger to bring a sign except as Allah permitted (1862) (or commanded). For each period is a Book (revealed). (1863)

1861 All the Prophets of whom we have any detailed knowledge, except one, had wives and children. The exception is Jesus, the son of Mary. But his life was incomplete; his ministry barely lasted three years; his mission was limited; and he was not called upon to deal with the many-sided problems that arise in a highly organised society or State. We pay equal respect to him, because he was Allah's Messenger; but that is not to say that his Message covers the same universal ground as that of al Mustafa. There is no reproach for normal human life; there is glory if he beautifies it and sets a nobler example of virtue than other men, as did al Mustafa.

1862 No Prophet performed any miracle or showed forth any "Signs," except as Allah willed. Allah's will (Mash'ah) is an All-Wise, universal Plan, which is not formed for the benefit of one tribe or ummah or of one age or country (see also next verse). The greatest Miracle in history was and is the Qur'an. We can appreciate its beauty and grandeur today as much as did the people of al Mustafa's day—even more, as our collective knowledge of nature and of Allah's creation has increased.

39. Allah doth blot out or confirm what He pleaseth: with Him is the Mother of the Book. (1864)

1864 Umm al Kitab: Mother of the Book: the original foundation of all revelation; the essence of Allah's Will and Law. (Cf. 3:57, n. 347, and 43:4).

40. Whether We shall show thee (within thy life-time) part of what we promised them or take to ourselves thy soul (before it is all accomplished), thy duty is to make (the Message) reach them: it is our part to call them to account.

41. See they not that We gradually reduce the land (in their control) from its outlying borders? (1865) Where) Allah commands, there is none to put back His Command: and He is swift in calling to account.

1865 In the Prophet's ministry at Makkah, the most stiff-necked opposition came from the sear and centre of power in Makkah. The humbler people—the fringe of Makkan society—came in readily, as also did some tribes round about Makkah. After the Hijrah there was a hard struggle between Makkah and Madinah, and at last the bloodless conquest of Makkah in 8 A. H. made the pagan structure finally collapse, though it had already been sapped to its foundations. So, generally, Truth finds easiest entrance through the humble and lowly, and not in the beginning at the headquarters of power, but in the fulness of time it makes its way everywhere with irresistible force.

42. Those before them did (also) devise plots; but in all things the master-plan is Allah's. (1866) He knoweth the doings of every soul: and soon will the Unbelievers know who gets home in the end.

1866 Cf. 3:34, and n. 393.

43. The Unbelievers say: "No messenger (1867) art thou." Say: "Enough for a witness between me and you is Allah, and such as have knowledge of the Book." (1868)

1867 The enemies of Islam have to acknowledge that Al Mustafa was a great and noble character, but they deny his Prophethood. He could point to his credentials from Allah in the work which he achieved, and the Qur'an which he brought.

1868 That is, those who have knowledge of revelation generally will recognise Allah's revelation in the Holy Qur'an. An alternative reading is 'him-indeed'; which is written the same in Arabic, with only three vowel points different. If we adopt that, the last clause will be: 'and from Him is all knowledge of the Book'; i.e., 'as all knowledge of the Book comes from Allah, the Qur'an also bears witness to me.'
14. Ibrahim (Abraham)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A. L. R. (1869) A Book which We have revealed unto thee, in order that thou mightest lead mankind out of the depths of darkness into light - by the leave (1870) of their Lord - to the Way of (Him) the Exalted in power, worthy of all praise! (1871)

1869 For those mystic Letters see Introduction to S. 10.

1870 It is insisted that every Prophet speaks not from himself but from Allah. His leading into the light is but by the Grace and Mercy of Allah, not by any power of his own, or by any merit of those who hear him.

1871 In this and the next verse where the sentence is completed, three qualities of Allah are mentioned, viz., (1) His exalted position above all Creation; (2) His goodness, which entitles Him, and Him alone, to Praise; and (3) His Power in all heaven and earth. Thus He stands in no need of man's worship; His goodness is all for the good of man (and His creatures); and His control over His creatures is complete; so He can carry out His Will and Plan.

2. Of Allah, to Whom do belong all things in the heavens and on earth! But alas for the Unbelievers (1872) for a terrible penalty (their Unfaith will bring them)!-

1872 See the last note. That being the case, in what a sad plight are those who reject the Faith and Grace offered to them, and draw down on themselves all the terrible consequence of that, rejection - the Wrath to come!

3. Those who love the life (1873) of this world more than the Hereafter, who hinder (men) from the Path of Allah and seek therein something crooked: they are astray by a long distance.

1873 The Unbelievers are here characterised in three ways: (1) they love this ephemeral life and its vanities more than the true Life which goes into the Hereafter; (2) they not only harm themselves but mislead others; (3) their own crooked minds search for something crooked in Allah's straight Path (CE 7:45). But in doing so, they go farther and farther from the Truth.

4. We sent not a messenger except (to teach) in the language (1874) of his (own) people, in order to make (things) clear to them. Now Allah leaves straying those whom He pleases: (1875) and guides whom He pleases: and He is Exalted in power, full of Wisdom.

1874 If the object of a Message is to make things clear, it must be delivered in the language current among the people to whom the Messenger is sent. Through them it can reach all mankind. There is even a wider meaning for 'language'. It is not merely a question of alphabets, letters, or words. Each age or people or world in a psychological sense -casts its thoughts in a certain mould or form. Allah's Message - being universal -can be expressed in all moulds and forms, and is equally valid and necessary for all grades of humanity, and must therefore be explained to each according to his or her capacity or receptivity. In this respect the Qur'an is marvellous. It is for the simplest as well as the most advanced.

1875 'Whom He pleases': the usual expression for Mui'min, the universal Will and Plan, which is All-Wise and on the highest plane of goodness and righteousness. (CE 16:93).

5. We sent Moses with Our signs (and the command). "Bring out thy people from the depths of darkness into light, and teach them to remember the Days of Allah." (1876) Verily in this there are Signs for such as are firmly patient and constant,- grateful and appreciative. (1877)

1876 The Days of Allah: the days when Allah's mercy was specially shown to them. Every day and every hour and minute, Allah's Grace flows to us abundantly, but there are special events in personal or national history which may be commemorated as Red-letter Days. Those to the Believers were set out in great detail in 2:3061 and in other places.

1877 Sabbatius the intensive form, and includes all the ideas implied in Safe (2:45 and n. 61 and 2:155 n. 157) in an intensive degree. Shukir u n Shukir have in them the idea of appreciation, recognition, gratitude as shown in deeds of goodness and righteousness. Both terms are applied to Allah as well as to men. A slight distinction in shades of meaning may be noted. Shukir implies the appreciation is even for the smallest favours and response on the other side: it is mental attitude independent of specific facts. Shakir implies bigger and more specific things. (CE 55:39).

6. Remember! Moses said to his people: "Call to mind the favour of Allah to you when He delivered you (1878) from the people of Pharaoh: they set you hard tasks and punishments, slaughtered your sons, and let your women-folk live: therein was a tremendous trial from your Lord."

1878 CE 2:69. The reference back to Israel and Moses serves a double purpose: an appeal to the People of the Book, and as a reminder to Quraysh of the favour now conferred on them by the coming among them of a greater Prophet than Moses.

7. And remember! your Lord caused to be declared (publicly): "If ye are grateful, I will add more (favours) unto you; but if ye show ingratitude, truly My punishment is terrible indeed."

8. And Moses said: "If ye show ingratitude, (1880) ye and all on earth together, yet is Allah free of all wants, (1881) worthy of all praise.

1880 Ingratitude not only in feeling or words, but in disobedience, and willful rejection and rebellion. If the whole of you band together against Allah, you do not detract from Allah's power one atom, because Allah does not depend upon you for anything, and His goodness and righteousness and praise worthiness cannot be called into question by your contumacy.

1881 CE 22:64, 2965, 32:15, and 47:38.

9. Has not the story reached you, (O people!), of those who (went) before you? - of the people of Noah, and 'Ad, and Thamud? - And of those who (came) after them? none knows them (1882) but Allah. To them it can reach all mankind. There is even a wider meaning for "language". 10. Their messengers said: "Is there a doubt about Allah, The Creator of the heavens and the earth? It is He(1885) Who invites you, in order that He may forgive you your sins and give you respite for a term appointed!" They said: "Ah! ye are no more than human, like ourselves! Ye wish to turn us away from the (gods) our fathers used to worship: then bring us some clear authority."(1886)

1885 The Prophets (generally) clear both kinds of doubt. You cannot doubt the existence of Allah! Behold His works! We are not speaking for ourselves or deceiving you. We speak according to the Message of inspiration from Allah." Notice that the doubters had said to the Prophets: "Ye invite us." The Prophets say: "It is Allah Who invites you, and He does it to save you by His grace, and give you plenty of time (but not indefinite time) for penance and amendment."

1886 Infidelity is illogical and argues in a circle. If the Prophet speaks of Allah, the Unbeliever says, 'You are only a man!' But I speak from Allah" "Oh well! Our ancestral ways of worship are good enough for us!" What if they are wrong?" 'What authority have you for saying so?" 'The highest authority, that from Allah!' And so we come back full circle! Then the wicked rely on violence, but it recoils on them, and they perish.

11. Their messengers said to them: "True, we are human like yourselves, but Allah doth grant His grace to such of his servants as He pleaseth. It is not for us to bring you an authority except as Allah permits. And on Allah let all men of faith put their trust.

12. "No reason have we why we should not put our trust on Allah. Indeed He Has guided us to the Ways we (follow). We shall certainly bear with patience all the hurt you may cause us. For those who put their trust should put their trust on Allah."

13. And the Unbelievers said to their messengers: "Be sure we shall drive you out of our land, or ye shall return to our religion."(1887) But their Lord inspired (this Message) to them: "Verily We shall cause the wrong-doers to perish!

1887 The arguments in a circle were explained in the last note. But Infidelity looks upon argument merely as an amusement. Its chief weapon is physical force. As its only belief is in materialism, it thinks that threats of force will put down the righteous. It offers the choice between exile and violence against conformity to its own standards of evil, which it thinks to be good. But Faith is not to be cowed down by Force, Its source of strength is Allah, and it receives the assurance that violence will perish ultimately by violence, and that Faith and Goodness must stand and be established. In fact the good must inherit the earth and the evil ones be blotted out.

14. "And verily We shall cause you to abide in the land, and succeed them. This for such as fear(1888) the Time when they shall stand before My tribunal,- such as fear the punishment denounced."

1888 'Fear' means here "have present before their minds something which should cause fear, so that they should shape their conduct in order to avoid the ill consequences of wickedness."

15. But they sought victory and decision(1889) (there and then), and frustration was the lot of every powerful obstinate transgressor.(1890)

1889 Cf.8:49. I have assumed that 'they' in this verse is the same as 'them' in the preceding verse, i.e., the ungodly. Hoping for victory, they forced a decision, and they got it against themselves. Or they challenged a punishment, and it came in good time. Some Commentators construe 'they' here to mean 'the Prophets'; in that case the verse would mean: 'The Prophets prayed for a victory and decision, and the ungodly were frustrated in their efforts to suppress the Truth.'

1890 Cf.11:59.

16. In front of such a one is Hell, and he is given, for drink, boiling fetid water.

17. In gulps will he sip it, but never will he be near swallowing it down his throat: death will come to him from every quarter, yet will he not die: and in front of him will be a chastisement unrelenting.(1891)

1891 A graphic and deterrent picture, from the preaching of the earlier Prophets, of unredeemed horror of the torments of Hell. The door of escape by annihilation is also closed to them (Cf. 2:2126 and 31:24).

18. The parable of those who reject their Lord is that their works are as ashes,(1892) on which the wind blows furiously on a tempestuous day: No power have they over aught that they have earned: that is the straying far, far (from the goal).

1892 Note the fullness of the parable. The works of the ungodly are in themselves light and unsubstantial like ashes: they are the useless rubbish that remains out of the faculities and opportunities which they have misused by burning them up. Further, the ashes are blown about hither and thither by the wind: the ungodly have no compass, direction, or purpose that can stand. The wind, too, which blows on them is no ordinary wind, nor the day on which they seek to enjoy the fruits of their labours an ordinary tranquil day; a furious gale is blowing, for such is the Wrath of Allah. They have neither internal peace nor external gain. In the scattering of the ashes they lose control even of such things as they might have earned but for their misdeeds. Their whole nature is contaminated. All their wishes go astray. They are carried so far, far away from what was on their minds. What did they aim at, and what did they achieve?

19. Seest thou not that Allah created the heavens and the earth in Truth?(1893) If He so will, He can remove you and put (in your place) a new creation?

1893 Haqq: Truth. Right. Righteousness. True. Reality. Allah's creation is not to be trifled with. It is built on righteousness, and those who do not obey its laws must give place to others who do. This warning is repeated again and again in history and in revelation. C.F. 6:73.

20. Nor is that for Allah any great matter.(1894)

1894 Aziz: great, mighty, excellent, powerful, rare, precious.

21. They will all be marshalled before Allah together: then will the weak say to those(1895) who were arrogant, "For us, we but followed you; can ye then avail us to all against the wrath of Allah." They will reply, "If we had received the Guidance(1896) of Allah, we should have given it to you: to us it makes no difference (now) whether we wage, or bear (these torments) with patience: for ourselves there is no way of escape."

1895 When the time for judgement comes, there are two kinds of disillusionment waiting for the ungodly. (1) Those who were misled and failed to see that each soul bears its own personal responsibility (2:134) and cannot shift it on to others, will turn to those who misled them, in the hope that they might intercede for them or do something to help them. They receive a plain answer as in the latter part of this verse. (2) Those who relied on Satan, the Power of Evil. His answer (in 1:22 below) is frank, cynical and brutal.

1896 Those whose power or spurious intelligence or influence misled them-such as false priests or leaders-will find themselves in a perilous state. How can they help others? They themselves failed to profit from Allah's guidance, and they can add no success to their end. They are left to suffer the weight of sin that they have committed. They have no help, no hope. They must bear the fruits of their own actions.

22. And Satan will say when the matter is decided:(1897) "It was Allah Who gave you a promise of Truth: I too promised, but I failed in my promise to you. I had no authority over you except to call you but ye listened to me; then reproach not me, but reproach your own souls. I cannot listen to your cries, nor can ye listen to mine. I reject(1898) your former act in associating me with Allah. For wrong-doers there must be a grievous penalty."

1897 After the Judgement, Evil declares itself in its true colours. Frankly it says: "I deceived you. The promise of Allah was true, but you believed me rather than
25. But those who believe and work righteousness will be admitted to gardens beneath which rivers flow, to dwell therein for aye with the leave of their Lord. Their greeting therein will be: “Peace!” (1899)

26. It brings forth its fruit (1901) at all times, by the leave of its Lord. So Allah sets forth parables for men, in order that they may receive admonition.

27. Allah will establish in strength those who believe, with the word that stands firm, in this world and in the Hereafter; but Allah will leave to stray, those who have changed the favour of Allah. Into blasphemy and with the word that stands firm, in this world and in goodly word (1900) like a goodly tree, whose root is of its Lord. So Allah sets forth parables for men, in order that they may receive admonition.

28. Hast thou not turned thy vision to those who (1904) have changed the favour of Allah. Into blasphemy and caused their people to descend to the House of Perdition?-

29. Into Hell? They will burn therein,– an evil place to stay in!

30. And they set up (idols) as equal to Allah, to mislead (men) from the Path! Say: "Enjoy (your brief power)! But verily ye are making straightway for Hell!"

31. Speak to my servants who have believed, (1905) that they may establish regular prayers, and spend (in charity) out of the Sustenance (1906) we have given them, secretly and openly, before the coming of a Day in which there will be neither mutual bargaining (1907) nor befriend ing.

And they set up (idols) as equal to Allah, to mislead (men) from the Path! Say: "Enjoy (your brief power)! But verily ye are making straightway for Hell!"

Cf. the New Testament Parable of the Sower, (Matt. 13:1–9), in which there will be neither mutual bargaining nor befriending.
his needs, not only material, but immaterial in the shape of light, health, and other blessings. The sun and the moon together produce titles, and are responsible for atmospheric changes which are of the highest importance in the life of man. The succession of Day and Night is due to the apparent daily course of the sun through the skies; and the cool light of the moon performs other services different from those of warm daylight. Because there are laws here, which men can understand and calculate, he can use all such things for his own service, and in that sense the heavenly bodies are themselves made subject to him by Allah’s command.

34. And He giveth you of all that ye ask for. (1910) But if ye count the favours of Allah, never will ye be able to number them. Verily, man is given up to injustice and ingratitude. (1911)

1910 Sincere and true prayer in faith is answered by Allah. Thus He gives us everything which a wise and benevolent Providence can give.

1911 I have tried to render the intensive forms of the Arabic by what I consider their near equivalent here: the phrase "given up to injustice and ingratitude" suggests habitual ignorance of just values and ingratitude for the innumerable gifts and favours which Allah has showered on mankind.

35. Remember Abraham said: (1912) "O my Lord! make this city one of peace and security: and preserve me and my sons from worshipping idols. (1913)

1912 The Prayer of Abraham, the True in Faith, the progenitor of the Semitic peoples and the Prototype of their Religion, is introduced in this place, to illustrate the points referred to in the preceding section 14:31-34; viz., how the new Revelation through the Ka‘bah bears out the universal Revelation of Prayer and Charity, Love of Allah and man, recognition of Allah’s handiwork in nature, and insistence on man’s turning away from false worship and ingratitude to Allah. Notice the four divisions into which it falls: (1) verses 35-36 are spoken by Abraham on his own behalf ("O my Lord!"); (2) verse 37-38 are spoken on behalf of his progeny ("O our Lord!") but with special reference to the elder branch, the children of Isma‘îl; (3) verses 39-40 are again a personal appeal, but both branches of his family, viz., the sons of Isma‘îl and Isâ‘î, are expressly mentioned; (4) verse 41 is a prayer for himself, his parents, and all believers, typifying that in the universality of Islam all nations are to be blessed, Jerusalem, for the Mosaic Law and the Gospel of Jesus, was the centre and symbol for the Jews, though of course all Allah’s Truth is universal; Makkah, the centre of the Arabs, was to throw off its holy handiwork and forgiveness for such lapses into idolatry as both branches of his family might fall into.

36. "O my Lord! they have indeed led astray many among mankind; He then who follows my (ways) is of me, and he that disobeys me,— but Thou art indeed Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

37. "O our Lord! I have made some of my offspring to dwell in a valley without cultivation, (1914) by Thy Sacred House; in order, O our Lord, that they may establish regular Prayer: so fill the hearts of some among men with love towards them, and feed them with Fruits: (1915) so that they may give thanks.

38. "O our Lord! truly Thou dost know what we conceal and what we reveal: for nothing whatever is hidden from Allah, whether on earth or in heaven. (1916)

1913 CT 2:125-129. Abraham (with Isma‘îl) built the Ka‘bah, and Abraham asks a blessing on his handiwork and forgiveness for such lapses into idolatry as both branches of his family might fall into.

1914 The Makkan valley is enclosed by hills on all sides, unlike Madinah, which has level cultivated plains. But just because of its natural isolation, it is fitted to be a centre for prayer and praise.

1915 CT 2:126, and n. 128. (The "Fruits" are there explained). The righteous, though they have to have sustenance, both in a literal and figurative sense, require also the love and sympathy of their fellow-men.

1916 In Abraham’s prophetic mind was the secret and open enmity or contempt which the Children of Israel were to have for the Children of Isma‘îl (Arabs). He prays to Allah that they may be united in Islam, as indeed they were, except a small remnant.
46. Mighty indeed were the plots which they made, but their plots were (well) within the sight of Allah, even though they were such as to shake the hills!

47. Never think that Allah would fail his messengers in His promise: for Allah is Exalted in power, - the Lord of Retribution.

48. One day the earth will be changed to a different earth, and so will be the Heavens,(1925) and (men) will be marshalled forth, before Allah, the One, the Irresistible;

1925 'A new earth and a new heaven' refers to the entirely changed conditions at the end of things as we know them. Cf. 20:105-110. 29:67-69, 84:1-3. (R).

49. And thou wilt see the sinners that day bound together in fetters;-(1926)

1926 Cf. 36:8, 60:24, 60:30. (Esh).

50. Their garments(1927) of liquid pitch,(1928) and their faces covered with Fire;

1927 Sarabah: plural, Sarabah; a garment or coat of mail, breast plate; something covering the most vital parts of the body; like the shirt or the Indian kurta.

1928 Qutari: black pitch, a resinous substance exuding from certain kinds of trees like the teak or the pines, or distilled from wood or coal. It catches fire readily. Issuing from the upper garments (Sarabah) the flames soon cover the face, the most expressive part of man's essence or being. The metaphor of fetters (in 1926) is now changed to that of pitch, which darkens and sets on fire the soul of man.

51. That Allah may requite each soul according to its deserts;(1929) and verily Allah is swift in calling to account.(1930)

1929 In deserts; i.e., according to what it earned by its own acts, good or evil, in its life of probation.

1930 Swift in calling into account: We understand this in two significations. (1) Let not the wicked think that because Allah, out of His infinite grace and mercy, grants respite, therefore the retribution will be slow in coming. When the time comes in accordance with Allah's Plan and Wisdom, the retribution will come so swiftly that the ungodly will be surprised and they will wish they could get more respite (14:4-44). (2) On the great Day of Reckoning, let it not be supposed that, because there will be millions of souls to be judged, there will be any delay in judgement as in a human tribunal. It will be a new world and beyond the flight of Time. Or if a metaphor from time as we conceive it in this world can be taken, it will be as it were in a twinkling of an eye (16:77).

52. Here is a Message for mankind: Let them take warning therefrom, and let them know that He is (no other than) One God:(1931) Let men of understanding take heed.

1931 Here is another aspect of the Truth of Unity. Allah being One, all justice is of one standard, for Truth is one, and we see it as soon as the scales of phenomenal diversity fall from our eyes. The one true Reality then emerges. Blessed are those who treasured this Truth in their souls already in their life of probation.

15. Al Hijr (The Rocky Tract)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A. L. R.(1932) These are the Ayat(1933) of Revelation,- of a Qur'an that makes things clear.(1934)

1932 For these mystic letters, see Introduction to Surah 10.

1933 Cf. 10:1, and n. 1382.

1934 Note how appropriately the different phrases in which the Qur'an is characterised bring out its different aspects as a Revelation. Let us just consider the phrases used at the beginning of the six Alif, Lam, Mim Surahs of which this is the last in order of arrangement. In 10:1 we read, 'Ayat (or verses or Signs) of the Book of Wisdom', the theme being the wonders of Allah's creation, and its relation to His Revelation. In 11:1 we read, 'a Book, with verses basic or fundamental, further explained in detail': the theme is Allah's Justice and Punishment, to preserve the fundamental scheme of His Laws. In 12:1 we read, 'The Symbols (or verses) of the Perspicuous Book': the wonderful unfolding of Allah's Plan is explained in Joseph's story. In 13:1 we read, 'The Signs (or verses) of the Book': the contrasts in the modes of Allah's Revelation and its reception by man are pointed out, but not illustrated by detailed examples as in Joseph's perspicuous story. In 14:1 we read 'A Book . . . revealed ... to lead ... out of... darkness into light': the theme being Abraham's prayer for man to be rescued from the darkness of false worship into the light of Unity. Here in 15:1 we read, 'Ayat (or verses) of Revelation of a Qur'an that makes things clear for perspicuous': the theme being an explanation of evil, and how Allah's Truth is protected from it.

2. Again and again will those who disbelieve, wish that they had bowed (to Allah's Will) in Islam.(1935)

1935 The time must inevitably come when those who allow themselves to be deceived by falsehood or deliberately break Allah's Law will find themselves in a terrible plight. They will then wish ardently and again and again, that they had sought Allah's Will and walked in the light of Truth. That time may be early or late in this life, or death, or at the Day of Judgment, but it must come. Man's own highest interest requires that he should awake to the Reality before it is too late for repentance.

3. Leave them alone, to enjoy(1936) (the good things of this life) and to please themselves: let (false) hope amuse them: soon will knowledge (undeceive them) and let them know that He is (no other than) One God:(1931) Let men of understanding take heed.

1936 Literally, 'to eat', Cf. 5:66 and n. 776.

1937 The foolish and the wicked set great store by the pleasures of this world. In their pride they think they have all knowledge. In the fullness of knowledge they will see how wrong they were. Meanwhile those who have received the Light should not for a single moment wonder at the apparent prosperity of the ungodly in this world. They should leave them alone, confident in the goodness and justice of Allah.

4. Never did We destroy a population that had not a term decreed and assigned beforehand.(1938)

1938 Kitab ma'lum: literally, 'a writing known'. There are many shades of meaning implied. (1) For every people, as for every individual, there is a definite Term assigned: their faculty of choice gives them the opportunity of moulding their will according to Allah's Will, and thus identifying themselves with Allah's Universal Law. During that Term they will be given plenty of rope: after that Term is past, there will be no opportunity for repentance. £8 Neither the righteous nor the ungodly can hasten or delay the doom: Allah's Will must prevail, and He is All-Wise. (9) The destruction of a people is not an arbitrary punishment from Allah: the people hiring it on themselves by their own choice: for the fixed Law or Decree of Allah is always made known to them beforehand, and in many ways.

5. Neither can a people anticipate its term, nor delay it. (1939)

6. They say: "O thou to whom the Message is being revealed! truly thou art mad (or possessed)!" (1940)

7. "Why bringest thou not angels to us if it be that thou hast the Truth?" (1941)

8. We send not the angels down except for just cause: (1942) if they came (to the ungodly), behold! no respite would they have! (1943)

9. We have, without doubt, sent down the Message; and We have, without doubt, sent down the Message; and We send not the angels down except for just cause. (1941)

10. We did send messengers before thee amongst the religious sects (1945) of old:

11. But never came a messenger to them but they mocked him.

12. Even so do we let it creep into the hearts of the sinners. (1946)

13. That they should not believe in the (Message); but the ways of the ancients have passed away. (1947)

14. Even if We opened out to them a gate from heaven, (1948) and they were to continue (all day) ascending therein,

15. They would only say: "Our eyes have been bewitched by sorcery."

16. It is We Who have set out (1949) The Zodiacal Signs (1950) in the heavens, and made them fair-looking to (all) beholders;

17. And (moreover) We have guarded them (1951) from every evil spirit accused: (1952)

18. But any that gains a hearing by stealth, is a sect, , , a religious division. Mankind sees fragments of the text of the Qur'an through fourteen centuries is a foretaste of the eternal care with which Allah's Truth is guarded through all ages. All corruptions, inventions, and accretions pass away, but Allah's Pure and Holy Truth will never suffer eclipse even though the whole world mocked at it and was bent on destroying it. (80)

19. The purity of the text of the Qur'an through fourteen centuries is a foretaste of the eternal care with which Allah's Truth is guarded through all ages. All corruptions, inventions, and accretions pass away, but Allah's Pure and Holy Truth will never suffer eclipse even though the whole world mocked at it and was bent on destroying it. (80)

20. The purity of the text of the Qur'an through fourteen centuries is a foretaste of the eternal care with which Allah's Truth is guarded through all ages. All corruptions, inventions, and accretions pass away, but Allah's Pure and Holy Truth will never suffer eclipse even though the whole world mocked at it and was bent on destroying it. (80)
20. And We have provided therein means of subsistence, for you and for those for whose sustenance ye are not responsible. (1957)

21. And there is not a thing but its (sources and) treasures (1958) (inexhaustible) are with Us; but We only send down thereof in due and ascertainable measures. (1959)

22. And We send the fecundating (1960) winds, then cause the rain to descend from the sky, therewith providing you with water (in abundance), though ye cause the rain to descend from the sky, therewith providing you with water (in abundance), though ye only send down thereof in due and ascertainable measures. (1959)

23. And verily, it is We Who give (1963) life, and Who give death: it is We Who remain inheritors (1964) (after all else passes away).

24. To Us are known those of you who hasten forward, and those who lag behind. (1965)

25. Assuredly it is thy Lord Who will gather them together: for He is perfect in Wisdom and Knowledge.

26. We created man from sounding clay, (1966) from mud moulded into shape;

27. And the Jinn race, We had created before, from the fire of a scorching wind. (1967)

28. Behold! thy Lord said to the angels: "I am about to create man, from sounding clay from mud moulded into shape;

29. "When I have fashioned him (in due proportion) and breathed into him of My spirit, fall ye down in obeisance unto him." (1968)

30. So the angels prostrated themselves, all of them together:

36. (Iblis) said: "O my Lord! give me then respite (1973) till the Day the (dead) are raised."

1973 What was this respite? The curse on Iblis remained, i.e., he was deprived of Allah's Grace and became in the spiritual world what an outlaw is in a political kingdom. An earthly kingdom may not be able to catch and destroy an outlaw. But Allah is Omnipotent, and such power as BID's may have had can only come through the respite granted by Allah. The respite then is what is expressed in 2:59 below. In Allah's grant of limited free will to man is implied the faculty of choosing between good and evil, and the faculty is exercised through the temptations and allurements put forward by Satan, 'the open enemy' of man. This is for the period of man's probation on this earth. Even so, no temptations have power over the sincere worshippers of Allah, who are purified by His grace.

37. ((Allah)) said: "Respite is granted thee

38. "Till the Day of the Time appointed."

39. (Iblis) said: "O my Lord! because Thou hast put me (1974) in the wrong, I will make (wrong) fair-seeming to them on the earth, and I will put them (1975) all in the wrong,- 1974 Aghwaytani: 'thrown me out of the way, put me in the wrong'; CF. 7:16; Satan as the Power of Evil cannot be straightforward even before Allah. By his arrogance and rebellion he fell; he attributes this to Allah. Between Allah's righteous judgement and Satan's snares and temptations there cannot be the remotest comparison. Yet he presumes to put them on an equal footing. He is taking advantage of therespire.

1975 Iblis the Rebellious is powerless against Allah. He turns therefore against man and becomes Satan (the Enemy).

40. "Except Thy servants among them, sincere and purified (by Thy Grace)."

41. ((Allah)) said: "This (way of My sincere servants) is indeed a way that leads straight to Me. (1976)

1976 To be sincere in the worship of Allah is to obtain purification from all stain of evil and exemption from all influence of evil. It changes the whole nature of man. After that, evil cannot touch him. Evil will acknowledge him to be beyond its power and will not even tempt him. Apart from such purified souls, everyone who worships Allah invites Allah's grace to protect him. But if he puts himself in the way of evil and deliberately chooses evil, he must take the consequences. The blame is not even on Satan, the power of evil; it is on the sinner himself, who puts himself into his power: 14:22; 15:42.

42. "For over My servants no authority shalt thou have, except such as put themselves in the wrong and follow thee."

43. And verily, Hell is the promised abode for them all!

44. To it are seven Gates: (1977) for each of those gates is a (special) class (of sinners) assigned.

1977 The ways of sin are numerous, and if they are classified into seven, each of them points to a Gate that leads into Hell (CF. 19:98).

45. The righteous (will be) amid gardens and fountains (of clear-flowing water).

46. (Their greeting will be): "Enter ye here in peace and security."

47. And We shall remove from their hearts any lurking sense of injury: (1978) (they will be) brothers (joyfully) facing each other on thrones (of dignity).

1978 CF. 7:43, and n. 1021. The hearts and minds will be so purified that all past conceit, jealousy, or sense of injury will be obliterated. The true Brotherhood will be realised there, when each will have his own dignity; there will be no question of invasive comparisons; each will face the others with joy and confidence. There will be no sense of toil or fatigue, and joy will last forever.

48. There no sense of fatigue shall touch them, nor shall they (ever) be asked to leave.

49. Tell My servants (1979) that I am indeed the Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful;

1979 We must realise both sides of Allah's attributes: His Mercy, Grace, and Forgiveness are unbounded; if we reject all this, His justice and punishment will also be beyond all that we can conceive.

50. And that My Penalty will be indeed the most grievous Penalty.

51. Tell them about the guests of Abraham. (1980)

1980 In illustration of the contrasts between Good and Evil, and the consequences that flow from them, we now have a reference to four incidents from the past, viz.: (1) an incident from the story of Abraham; (2) from that of Lot, nephew of Abraham and the end of the Cities of the Plain, which he was sent to warn; (3) the People of the Wood; and (4) the People of the Rocky Tract (Al-Hijj), after whom this Surah is called. As usual, the recital of Allah's abundantly Grace comes first.

52. When they entered his presence and said, "Peace!" He said, "We feel afraid of you!" (1981)

1981 For a full understanding of this reference to the angels who were Abraham's guests and came to announce the birth of a son to him in his old age, read 11:69-73 and notes. The appearance of two strangers of uncommon appearance, who refused to partake of the host's sumptuous hospitality, made Abraham at first suspicious and afraid.

53. They said: "Fear not! We give thee glad tidings of a son endowed with wisdom." (1982)

1982 The birth of a son in old age, to a soundless father was glad tidings to Abraham personally. The birth of a son endowed with wisdom promised something infinitely more. Considering that the angels were divine messengers, the wisdom referred to was divine wisdom, and the event became an event of prime importance in the world's religious history. For Abraham became, through his progeny, the root of the three great universal religions diffused throughout the world.

54. He said: "Do ye give me glad tidings that old age has seized me? Of what, then, is your good news?"

55. They said: "We give thee glad tidings that old age has seized me? Of what, then, is your good news?"

56. He said: "And who despairs of the mercy of his Lord, but such as go astray?" (1983)

1983 CF. 11:69, [Eds.]

57. Abraham said: (1984) "What then is the business on which ye (have come), O ye messengers (of Allah)?"

1984 When cordial understanding was established between Abraham and his guests and probably when the guests were about to depart, Abraham put a question to them, "What is the mission on which you are going?" It was further implied: "Is there anything I can do to help?" But no. The mission was one of punishment for abominable sins. Note that the mention of Allah's Wrath is always linked with that of Allah's Mercy, and the Mercy comes first. The same angels that came to punish Sodom and Gomorrah were charged first to give the good news of Allah's Mercy to Abraham in the shape of a long line of teachers of righteousness.

58. They said: "We have been sent to a people (deep) in sin. (1985)

1985 The Cities of the Plain round the Dead Sea, which to this day is called Bahr Lut. They were given to unspeakable abominations. Read in this connection 11:77-83 and notes.

59. "Excepting the adherents of Lut: them we are certainly (charged) to save (from harm), - All -(1986)

1986 Here, again, Allah's saving Grace is linked with His Wrath, and is mentioned first.
60. "Except his wife, who, We have ascertained, will be among those who will lag behind."(1987)

61. At length when the messengers arrived among the adherents(1988) of Lut,

62. He said: "Ye appear to be uncommon folk."

63. They said: "Yea, we have come to thee to accomplish that of which they doubt.(1989)

64. "We have brought to thee that which is inevitably(1990) due, and assuredly we tell the truth.

65. "Then travel by night with thy household, when a portion of the night (yet remains), and do thou bring up the rear: let no one amongst you look back, but pass on whither ye are ordered."

66. And We made known this decree to him, that the last remnant of those (sinners) should be cut off by the morning.(1991)

67. The inhabitants of the city came in (mad) joy (at news of the young men).(1992)

68. Lut said: "These are my guests: disgrace me not:

69. "But fear Allah, and shame me not."

70. They said: "Did we not forbid thee (to speak) for all and sundry?"(1993)

71. He said: "There are my daughters (to marry), if ye must act (so)."(1994)

72. Verily, by thy life (O Prophet), in their wild intoxication, they wander in distraction, to and fro.(1995)

73. But the (mighty) Blast(1996) overtook them before morning,

74. And We turned (the cities) upside down, and rained down on them brimstones hard as baked clay.(1997)

75. Behold! in this are Signs for those who by tokens do understand.

76. And the (cities were) right on the highroad.(1998)

77. Behold! in this is a sign for those who believe!(1999)

78. And the Companions of the Wood(2000) were also wrong-doers;

79. So We exacted retribution from them. They were both(2001) on an open highway, plain to see.

80. The Companions of the Rocky Tract(2002) also rejected the messengers:

81. We sent them Our Sings, but they persisted in turning away from them.

82. Out of the mountains(2003) did they hew (their) edifices, (feeling themselves) secure.

83. But the (mighty) Blast(2004) seized them of a morning,
84. And of no avail to them was all that they did (with such art and care)!

85. We created not the heavens, the earth, and all between them, but for just ends. And the Hour is surely coming (when this will be manifest). So overlook (any human faults) with gracious forgiveness.

86. For verily it is thy Lord who is the Master-Creator, knowing all things.

87. And We have bestowed upon thee the Seven Oft-repeated Verses (as they please) and the Grand Qur’ān.

88. Strain not thine eyes. (Wistfully) at what We have bestowed on some (or) on them, nor grieve over them: but lower thy wing (in gentleness) to the believers.

89. And say: "I am indeed he that warneth openly and without ambiguity,"—(2012)
16. Al Nahl (The Bee)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. (Inevitable) cometh (to pass) the Command of Allah.(2019) seek ye not then to hasten it: Glory to Him, and far is He above having the partners they ascribe unto Him!

2. He doth send down His angels with inspiration of His Command, to such of His servants as He pleaseth, (saying): “Warn (Man) that there is no god but I: so do your duty unto Me.”(2020)

3. He has created the heavens and the earth for just ends:(2021) Far is He above having the partners they ascribe to Him!

4. He has created man from a sperm-drop; and behold this same (man) becomes an open disputer!(2022)

5. And cattle He has created(2023) for you (men); from them ye derive warmth, and numerous benefits,(2024) and of their (meat) ye eat.

6. And ye have a sense of pride and beauty in them as ye drive them home in the evening, and as ye lead them forth to pasture in the morning.(2025)

7. And they carry your heavy loads to lands that ye could not (otherwise) reach except with(2026) souls distressed: for your Lord is indeed Most Kind, Most Merciful,

8. And (He has created) horses, mules, and donkeys, for you to ride and use for show;(2027) and He has created (other) things of which ye have no knowledge.(2028)

9. And unto Allah leads straight(2029) the Way, but there are ways that turn aside: if Allah had willed, He could have guided all of you.

10. It is He who sends down rain from the sky: from it ye derive warmth, and numerous benefits, and of their (meat) ye eat. Not for sport, or fortuitously and without Design.

11. With it He produces for you corn, olives, date-palms, grapes and every kind of fruit: verily in this is a sign for those who give thought.(2030)

12. He has made subject to you the Night and the Day, and the stars themselves become useful servants to him, all by Allah’s gift and His Command: verily in this are Signs for men who are wise.

The cattle and animals also carry loads, and thus make intercommunication between different lands easy. But for them there would have been many difficulties, not only physical, but psychological. Weary men carrying loads are in no mood for social and spiritual intercourse. This intercourse is made possible by the kindness and mercy of Allah.

And they carry your heavy loads to lands that ye could not (otherwise) reach except with(2026) souls distressed: for your Lord is indeed Most Kind, Most Merciful,
13. And the things on this earth which He has multiplied in varying colours (and qualities): (2032) verily in this is a sign for men who celebrate the praises of Allah (in gratitude). (2033)

(2032) Whose heart has not been moved by the glorious gradation of colours in the sunset clouds? The gradations are infinite, and it is only the eye of an artist that can express their collective beauty. They are but a type of the infinite variety and gradation of qualities in the spiritual sphere even in the little space of our own globe. The big things that can be measured and defined have been spoken of before. Here we have mention of the subtle nuances in the spiritual world which can only be perceived by men who are so high in spiritual insight that their only reaction is to "celebrate the praises of Allah" in gratitude for His infinite Mercies.

(2033) Read again n. 2030 above, and see how subtly we are led up from the perception of the big to the perception of the subtle and delicate colours and qualities in the spiritual world.

14. It is He Who has made (2034) the sea subject, that ye may eat thereof flesh that is fresh and tender, (2035) and that ye may extract therefrom ornaments to wear; (2036) and thou seest the ships therein that plough the waves, that ye may seek (thus) of the bounty of Allah (2037) and that ye may be grateful.

(2034) We have gone up in a climax of material things from the big to the subtle in the sky and the earth. Here we have another climax as regards the things of the sea. We get the delicate flesh of fishes and marine creatures of all kinds; we get the stately ships ploughing the waves, for maritime commerce and intercourse, things that have the stately ships ploughing the waves, for maritime commerce and intercourse, for uniting mankind, and for reaching the spiritual bounty of Allah which can best be expressed by the boundless ocean.

(2035) Connoisseurs know the delicate flavours of sea fish, such as the pomfret of the Indian Ocean, the herring of the North Atlantic, the mullot of Marseilles , and many other kinds. Faith, translated "fresh and tender," also refers to the soft moist nature of fresh fish. It is another wonder of Allah that salt water should produce flesh of such fresh, tender, and delicate flavour.

(2036) Diving for pearls—in both the primitive and the more advanced form—is another instance of man's power over apparently inaccessible depths of the sea.

(2037) After the material benefits which we get from the sea, we are asked to consider things of higher import to the spirit of man. There is the beautiful ship which stands as the symbol of international commerce and intercourse, things that may be of material benefit, but which have a higher aspect in uniting man and making his civilisation more universal. These are first steps in seeking the "bounty of Allah" through the sea. But there are higher aspects. Navigation and international intercourse increase knowledge, which in its higher aspects should clean the mind and make it fitter to approach Allah. The salt water, which covers nearly 72 percent of the surface of the globe, is itself a purifying and sanitary agent, and is a good symbol of the higher bounties of Allah, which are as boundless as the ocean. (Cf. 45:12).

15. And He has set up on the earth mountains (2038) standing firm, lest it should shake with you; and rivers and roads; that ye may guide yourselves; (2039)

(2038) Cf. 13:8 and 15:19. Here and elsewhere the earth is spoken of as a spacious carpet beneath our feet and the hills as a steadying agent to keep the carpet from rolling or shaking about. In 7:87 they are spoken of as pegs or stakes (see also 21:31 and 27:61). (R).

16. And marks and sign-posts; and by the stars (men) guide themselves. (2040)

(2040) See last note. Let us examine the completed allegory. As there are beacons, landmarks and signs to show the way to men on the earth, so in the spiritual world. And it is ultimately Allah Who provides them, and this is His crowning Mercy. Like the mountains, there are spiritual landmarks in the missions of the Great Teachers: they should guide us, or teach us to guide ourselves, and not shake hither and thither like a ship without a rudder or people without Faith. As rivers and streams mark out their channels, smoothing out levels, so we have wholesome laws and customs established, to help us in our lives. Then we have the example of Great Men as further signposts: "Lives of great men all remind us. We can make our lives sublime." In long distance travel, the polestar and the magnetic needle are our guides: so in our long distance journey to the other world, we have ultimately to look to heavenly guidance or its reflections in Allah's Revelations.

17. Is then He Who creates like one that creates not? Will ye not receive admonition? (2041)

(2041) The Supreme Majesty of Allah having been set out in His favors of all kinds, it will be seen at once that the worship of any other than Allah is meaningless and ridiculous. Shall we not take the hint and understand?

18. If ye would count up the favours of Allah, never would ye be able to number them: for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. (2042)

(2042) Of all Allah's favours immeasurable, His Mercy and Forgiveness in the spiritual plane are the greatest, and of eternal value to us in our future Lives.

19. And Allah doth know what ye conceal, and what ye reveal.

(2043) Those whom they invoke besides Allah create nothing and are themselves created.

(2044) Allah is the only Creator and the Ultimate Reality. Everything else is created by Him, and reflects His glory. How foolish then to worship any other Allah!

21. (They are things) dead, lifeless: nor do they know when they will be raised up.

(2045) Everything points to Allah, the One True Eternal God. If so, there is a Hereafter, for He has declared it. Insofar as people do not believe this, the fault is in their Will: they do not wish to believe, and the motive behind is arrogance, the sin which brought about the fall of Bilquis: 2:34. (R).

22. Your Allah is one Allah. as to those who believe not in the Hereafter, their hearts refuse to know, and they are arrogant. (2045)

(2046) Cf. 16:19, where the same words refer to man generally. Whether he conceals or reveals what is in his heart, Allah knows it, and as Allah is Oft- Forgiving, Most Merciful, His grace is available as His highest favour if man will take it. Here the reference is to those who 'refuse to know', who reject Allah's guidance out of arrogance. Allah 'loveth not the arrogant'. Such men deprive themselves of Allah's grace.

23. Undoubtedly Allah doth know what they conceal, and what they reveal: (2046) verily He loveth not the arrogant.

(2047) Cf. 16:19, where the same words refer to man generally. Whether he conceals or reveals what is in his heart, Allah knows it, and as Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful, His grace is available as His highest favour if man will take it. Here the reference is to those who 'refuse to know', who reject Allah's guidance out of arrogance. Allah 'loveth not the arrogant'. Such men deprive themselves of Allah's grace.

24. When it is said to them, "What is it that your Lord (2047) has revealed?" they say, "Tales of the ancients!"

(2048) When the arrogant Unbelievers are referred to some definite argument or illustration from Scripture, they dismiss it contemptuously with the remark, "Tales of the ancients!" In this, they are not only playing with their own conscience, but misleading others, with perhaps less knowledge than themselves. (Cf. 16:30).

25. Let them bear, on the Day of Judgment, their own burdens in full, and also (something) of the burdens of those without knowledge, whom they (2048) misled. Alas, how grievous the burdens they will bear!
26. Those before them did also plot (against Allah's Way): but Allah took their structures from their foundations, and the roof fell down on them from above; and the Wrath seized them from directions they did not perceive. (2049)

2050 Evil will always devise plots against the Prophets of Allah. So was it with al-Mustafá, and so wait with the Prophets before him. But the imposing structures which the ungodly build up (metaphorically) collapse at the Command of Allah, and they are often punished from quarters from which they least expected punishment, (CZ 16:45 and, 59:25). For example, the Quraysh were confident in their number's, their organisation, and their superior equipment. But on the field of Badr they collapsed where they expected victory.

27. Then, on the Day of Judgment, He will cover them with shame, and say: "Where are My 'partners' concerning whom ye used to dispute (with the godly)?" Those endued with knowledge (2050) will say: "This Day, indeed, are the Unbelievers covered with shame and misery,- The worshippers of false gods (the ungodly, the Unbelievers) will be unable to reply when brought before the Judgement Seat. The comment of those 'endued with knowledge'—the Prophets and Teachers whom they had rejected—will be by way of indictment and explanation of the position of those before the Judgement Seat.

28. "(Namely) those whose lives the angels take in a state of wrong-doing to their own souls." (2051) Then would they offer submission (with the pretence), "We did (2052) no evil (knowingly)." (The angels will reply), "Nay, but verily Allah knoweth all that ye did; That is, those who died in a state of kufr, or rebellion against Allah, which was really wrongdoing against their own souls.

2052 The excuse is a mere pretence. At first they were too dazed to reply. When they reply, they cannot deny the facts, but resort to the sinner's excuse of saying that they sinned through ignorance, and that their motives were not wrong. Such a plea raises a question of hidden thoughts which are difficult to appraise before a human tribunal. But here they are before their Divine Author, Who knows every secret of their souls, and before Whom no false plea can be of any value. So they are concerned.

29. "So enter the gates of Hell, to dwell therein. Thus evil indeed is the abode of the arrogant." To the righteous (when) it is said, "What is it that your Lord (2053) has revealed?" they say, "All that is good." To those who do good, there is good in this world, and the Home of the Hereafter is even better (2054) and excellent indeed is the Home of the righteous,- 2053 The contrast and parallelism is with 16:24, where the ungodly in their levity openly and to everyone.

2054 Unlike the ungodly, the good find good everywhere—in this world and in the Hereafter; because they understand and are in accord with the truths around them.

31. Gardens of Eternity which they will enter: beneath them flow (pleasant) rivers: they will have therein all that they wish: thus doth Allah reward the righteous,-

32. (Namely) those whose lives the angels take in a state (2055) of purity, saying (to them), "Peace be on you; enter ye the Garden, because of (the good) which ye did (in the world)."

33. Do the (ungodly) wait until the angels come to them, or there comes the Command of thy Lord (for their doom)? (2056) So did those who went before them. But Allah wronged them not: nay, they wronged their own souls. (2056) That is, until death comes to them, or some Punishment in this life, itself, which precludes them from repentance and the Mercy of Allah.

34. But the evil results of their deeds overtook them, and that very (Wrath) at which they had scoffed hemmed them in.

35. The worshippers of false gods say: "If Allah had so willed, we should not have worshipped aught but Him - neither we (2057) nor our fathers,- nor should we have prescribed prohibitions (2058) other than His." So did those who went before them. But what is the mission of messengers but to preach the Clear Message? (2059)

2057 The age-old argument: if Allah is All-Powerful, why did He not force all persons to His Will? This ignores the limited free will granted to man, which is the whole basis of Ethics. Allah gives man every opportunity of knowing and understanding things, but He does not force him, for that would be against the whole Plan on which our present Life is constituted.

2058 The pagan Arabs prescribed various arbitrary prohibitions in the matter of meat: see 61:143-145. These, of course, are not recognised by Islam, which also removed some of the restrictions of the Jewish Law: 61:46. The general meaning, however, is far wider. Men erect their own taboos and prohibitions, barriers and restrictions, and ascribe them to Religion. This is wrong, and more consonant with Pagan practice than with Islam.

2059 Clear Message: Mubin: in three senses: (1) A Message clear and unambiguous; (2) one that makes all things clear to those who try understand, and guidance. Such persons are then outside Allah's Grace, and therefore they are outside guidance.

36. For We assuredly sent amongst every People a messenger, (2060) (with the Command), "Serve Allah, and eschew Evil": of the People were some whom Allah guided, and some on whom error became (2061) inevitably (established). So travel through the earth, and see what was the end of those who denied (the Truth).

2060 Even though Allah's Signs are everywhere in Nature and in men's own conscience, yet in addition Allah has sent human Messengers to every People to call their attention to the Good and turn them from Evil. So they cannot pretend that Allah has abandoned them or that He does not care what they do. His divine Grace always invites their will to choose the Right.

2061 While some people accept the guidance of the divine Grace, others so surrender themselves to Evil that it must necessarily follow that evil obtains a grip over them. They have only to travel through time or space to see the end of those who abandoned their lights and surrendered to Evil and error. For haqqah and the meaning of haqqah in this connection C.F. 1.564.

37. If thou art anxious for their guidance, yet Allah guideth not such as He leaves to stray. (2062) And there is none to help them.

2062 When once Allah's Grace is rejected by anyone, such a person loses all help and guidance. Such persons are then outside Allah's Grace, and therefore they are outside guidance.

38. They swear their strongest oaths (2063) by Allah, that Allah will not raise up those who die: (2064) Nay, but it is a promise (binding) on Him in truth: but most among mankind realise it not.
The strongest oaths of the Pagan Arabs would be by the Supreme Allah: less strong oaths would be by their subordinate deities, or their ancestors, or other things they valued or held sacred.

The usual Pagan creed is: ‘If there is a God, it does not follow that He will raise us up; why should He?’ The answer is twofold: (1) Allah has promised it, and Allah’s promise is true. (2) He must finally manifest the Truth to them, convict them of their falsehood, and enforce their personal responsibility (16/39).

(They must be raised up), in order that He may manifest to them the truth of that wherein they differ, and that the rejecters of Truth may realise that they had indeed (surrendered to) Falsehood.(2065)

See the last note.

For to anything which We have willed, We but say the word, ‘Be’, and it is.(2066)

Allah’s ‘Word’ is in itself the Deed. Allah’s Promise is in itself the Truth. There is no interposition of Time or Condition between His Will and its consequences, for He is the Ultimate Reality. He is independent of the proximate or material causes, for He Himself creates them and establishes their Laws as He pleases (15/38/62 and 40/38).

To those who leave their homes in the cause of Allah, after suffering oppression-(2067) We will assuredly give a goodly home in this world; but truly the reward after suffering oppression-(2067) We will assuredly give a goodly home in this world; but truly the reward of the Hereafter will be greater. If they only realised (this)! (2067)

There is no merit in suffering exile (hijrah) in itself. To have any merit, it must be: (1) in the cause of Allah, and (2) after such an oppression as forces the sufferer to choose between Allah and man. When these conditions are fulfilled, the exiles are entitled to the highest honour, as having made a great sacrifice in the cause of Allah. Such were the early Muslim exiles to Abyssinia; such were the later exiles to Madinah, before the Prophet himself left his home in Makkah and went to Madinah; and such were the exiles who went with the Prophet or followed him. At all these stages, his approval or advice was always obtained, either specifically or generally (15/29-38).

(They are) those who persevere in patience, and put their trust on their Lord.

And before thee also the messengers We sent were but men,(2068) to whom We granted inspiration: if ye realise this not, ask of those who possess the Message.(2069)

Allah’s prophets were always men, not angels; and their distinction was the inspiration they received.

If the Pagan Arabs, who were ignorant of religious and other history, wondered how a man from among themselves could receive inspiration and bring a Message from Allah, let them ask the Jews, who had also received Allah’s inspired Books earlier through Moses, whether Moses was a man, or an angel, or a god. They would learn that Moses was a man like themselves, but inspired by Allah.

Those who possess the Message may also mean any men of Wisdom, who were qualified to have an opinion in such matters (15/24/7 and 38/61):

(We sent them) with Clear Signs and Scriptures(2070); and We have sent down unto thee (also) the Message; that thou mayest explain clearly to men what is sent for them, and that they may give thought.

As the People of the Book had received ‘Clear Signs’ and inspired Books before, so also Allah’s Message came to the Prophet Muhammad through the Qur’an, which superseded the earlier revelations, already corrupted in the hands of their followers. (50).

Do then those who devise evil (plots) feel secure that Allah will not cause the earth to swallow them up, or that the Wrath will not seize them from directions they little perceive?-(2071)

Ex 16:26. The wicked plot against Prophets of Allah in secret, forgetting that every hidden thought of theirs is known to Allah, and that for every thought and action of theirs they will have to account to Allah. And Allah’s punishment can seize them in various ways. Four are enumerated here. (1) They may be swallowed up in the earth like Qarun, whose story is told in 28/63-82. He was swallowed up in the earth while he was arrogantly exulting on the score of his wealth. (2) It may be that, like Haman, the prime minister of Pharaoh, they are plotting against Allah, when they are themselves overwhelmed by some dreadful calamity: 40/36-38; 29/39-40. The case of Pharaoh is also in point. He was drowned while he was arrogantly hoping to frustrate Allah’s plans for Israel: 10/90-92. For (3) and (4) see the next two notes. (60)

Or that He may not call them to account in the midst of their goings and froings, without a chance of their frustrating Him?- (2072)

Or the punishment may come to people away from their homes and their property. It so happened to Abu Jahl, who came exulting in his pride to the Battle of Badr (A.H.2). His army was three times the size of the Muslim army from Madinah. But it suffered a crushing defeat, and he himself was ignominiously slain.

Or that He may not call them to account by a process of slow wastage – (2073) for thy Lord is indeed full of kindness and mercy.

Do they not look at Allah’s creation, (even) among (inanimate) things-(2074) How their (very) shadows turn round, from the right and the left, prostrating themselves to Allah, and that in the humblest manner?

I take ‘things’ here to be inanimate things, for the next verse speaks of living ‘moving creatures’ and angels. By a metaphor even such inanimate things are spoken of as recognising Allah and humbly worshipping Him. Even their shadows turn around from right and left according to the light from above, and, they humbly prostrate themselves on the ground to celebrate the praises of Allah. The ‘shadows’ suggest how all things in this life are mere shadows of the true Reality in heaven; and they should turn and move in accordance with the divine light, as the shadows of trees and buildings move in one direction or another, and lengthen or shorten according to the light from heaven.

And to Allah doth obesience all that is in the heavens and on earth, whether moving (living) creatures(2075) or the angels: for none are arrogant (before their Lord).

Moving creatures, i.e., living creatures. “All that is in the heaven or earth,” includes every created thing. And created things are mentioned in three classes: inanimate things, ordinary living things, and angels. Even the highest angels are not arrogant: they bow down and serve their Lord, and so does all Creation.

They all revere their Lord,(2076) high above them, and they do all that they are commanded.

Allah is so high above the highest of His creatures, that they all look up to him in awe and reverence. And they joyfully do their duty in serving him. This is the meaning of the ‘fear of the Lord.’

Allah has said: “Take not (for worship) two gods:(2077) for He is Just One Allah. then fear Me (and Me alone).”

The ancient Persians believed in two powers in the Universe, one good and the other evil. The Pagan Arabs also had pairs of deities: e.g., Jibt (Stormy) and Taglut (Evil), referred to in 4/151, n. 573, or the idols on Solh and Marwah referred to in n. 160 to 21/158: their names were Isaf and Naya.

To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and on earth, and to Him is duty due always: then will ye fear other(2078) than Allah.

The Pagans might have a glimmering of the One True God, but they had also a haunting fear of malevolent Powers of Evil. They are told that such fears are groundless. Evil has no power over those who trust in Allah: 15/42. The only fear they should have is that of the Wrath of Allah. To the righteous all good things come from Allah, and they have no fear in their hearts.

53. And ye have no good thing but is from Allah. and moreover, when ye are touched by distress, unto Him ye cry with groans;(2079)

2079 Which shows that the natural tendency of man is to seek Allah, the only Power which can truly relieve distress.

54. Yet, when He removes the distress from you, behold! some of you turn to other gods to join with their Lord-

55. (As if) to show their ingratitude for the favours we have bestowed on them! then enjoy (your brief day): but soon will ye know (your folly)!

56. And they (even) assign, to things they do not know,(2080) a portion out of that which We have bestowed for their sustenance!(2081) By Allah, ye shall certainly be called to account for your false inventions.

2080 Idols and fictitious gods are certainly things of which they have no knowledge, idols being lifeless things of whose life or doings no knowledge is possible, and fictitious gods being but figments of their imagination.

2081 [Q 6:51] Exalting their own selves! when Allah bestowed upon them of His Grace, and how could they patronisingly assign to Him a share of His own gifts?and secondly, because they brought in other gods as sharers, who had no existence whatever! Besides, the cattle and produce were given for their physical sustenance and the children for their social and spiritual sustenance, and how can they, poor creatures, give sustenance to Allah?

57. And they assign daughters(2082) for Allah. - Glory be to Him! - and for themselves (sons,- the issue) they desire!

2082 Some of the Pagan Arabs called angels 'the daughters of Allah'. In their own life they hated to have daughters, as explained in the next two verses. They practised female infanticide. In their state of perpetual war, sons were a source of strength to them; daughters only made them subject to humiliating raids!

58. When news is brought to one of them, of (the birth of) a female (child), his face darkens, and he is filled with inward grief!

59. With shame does he hide himself from his people, because of the bad news he has had! Shall He retain it(2083) on (sufferance and) contempt, or bury it in the dust?(2084) Ah! what an evil (choice) they decide on?(2085)

2083 'It,' in this and the following clause, refers grammatically to the 'news' (fa ma bududabu bihil). In meaning it refers to the 'female child'by the figure of speech known as metonymy.

2084 [Q 30:27] 81:8-9. The practice of female infanticide is condemned in scathing terms. Female children used to be buried alive by the Pagan Arabs.

2085 It was an evil choice to decide on. Either alternative-to keep the poor girl as a thing of sufferance and contempt, bringing disgrace on the family, or to get rid of it by burying it alive-was cruel and indefensible. (See above, 16:57-58 and notes.)

60. To those who believe not in the Hereafter, applies the similitude of evil: to Allah applies the highest(2086) similitude: for He is the Exalted in Power, full of Wisdom.

2086 The word zwalid ordinarily denotes a similitude, but in the context of the present verse, especially with reference to Allah, it signifies His sublime attributes rather than a similitude. Cf. 30:27, (Eds.).

61. If Allah were to punish men for their wrong-doing, He would not leave, on the (earth), a single living creature: but He gives them respite for a stated Term: When their Term expires, they would not be able to delay (the punishment) for a single hour, just as they would not be able to anticipate it (for a single hour).(2087)

2087 Allah's decree works without fail. If He were to punish for every wrong or shortcoming, not a single living creature on earth would escape punishment. But in His infinite mercy and forgiveness, He gives respite: He provides time for repentance. If the repentance is forthcoming, Allah's Mercy is forthcoming without fail. If not, the punishment comes inevitably on the expiration of the Term. The sinner cannot anticipate it by an insolent challenge, nor can he delay it when the time arrives. Let him not think that the respite given him may mean that he can do what he likes, and that he can escape scot-free from the consequences (Q 35:49).

62. They attribute to Allah what they hate (for themselves), (2088) and their tongues assert the falsehood that all good(2089) things are for themselves: without doubt for them is the Fire, and they will be the first to be hastened on into it!

2088 See above, 16:57-58 and notes.

2089 The philosophy of Pleasure (Hedonism) assumes that worldly enjoyment is good in itself and that there is nothing beyond. But it can be shown, even on its own ground, that every act has its inevitable consequences. No good can spring out of evil. For falsehood and wrong the agony of the Fire is waiting, and the boastful votaries of falsehood will be the first to fall into it (Q 37:44 and 52:30).

63. By Allah, We (also) sent (Our messengers) to Peoples before thee, but Satan made, (to the wicked), their own acts seem alluring: He is also their patron today,(2090) but they shall have a most grievous penalty.

2090 In all ages and among all Peoples Allah sent His Messengers to teach the Truth and point the way to righteousness. But the allurements of Evil seemed always attractive, and many men preferred their own ways and the ways of their ancestors to the more difficult path of rectitude. This happened again in the time of Al Mustafa, and will always happen as long as men succumb to Evil.

64. And We sent down the Book to thee for the express purpose, that thou shouldst make clear to them those things in which(2091) they differ, and that it should be a guide and a mercy to those who believe.

2091 But the path of duty before Allah's Messenger is clear. He is sent with the Revelation (the Qur'an) for three express purposes: (1) that he should bring about a new unity among the jarring sects, for the Gospel of Unifi, while preaching the One True God, leads also to the unity of mankind; (2) that the revelation should be a guide to right conduct; and (3) that it should show the path of repentance and salvation, and thus be the highest mercy to erring sinners.

65. And Allah sends down rain from the skies, and gives therewith life to the earth after its death: verily in this is a Sign for those who listen.(2092)

2092 When the earth with all its vegetation is well-nigh dead, parched and shrunken up, a vividly flowing stream of rain from above gives it new life. This natural phenomenon is a sign of Allah's infinite power, especially of His power to resurrect the dead, and thereafter muster them for Judgment. (Eds.).

66. And verily in cattle (too) will ye find an instructive sign.(2093) From what is within their bodies,(2094) between excretions and blood,(2095) We produce, for your drink, milk, pure and agreeable to those who drink it.

2093 The spiritual sustenance which Allah gives is typified by the wonderful ways of sustenance in the physical world, which figure forth Allah's providence and loving care for His creations. And the wonderful transformation in the physical world, which all tend to the benefit of man, are also signs of His supreme wisdom. In the previous verse rain was mentioned, which gives new life to dead nature. In this and the following two verses our attention is drawn to milk, the products of the date and the vine, and honey (Cf. 36:11-13).

70. Their, in the Arabic, it is “in”, in the singular number, for two reasons: (1) cattle is the generic plural, and may be treated as a singular noun; (2) the instructive sign is in cattle collectively, but the milk is the product of each single individual.

70. Milk is a secretion in the female body, like other secretions, but more specialised. Is it not wonderful that the same food, eaten by males and females, produces in the latter, when they have young, the wholesome and complete food, known as milk? Then, when cattle are tamed and specially bred for milk, the supply of milk is vastly greater than is necessary for their young and lasts for a longer time than during the period they give suck to their young. And it is a wholesome and agreeable diet for man. It is pure, as typified by its whiteness.
Yet it is a secretion like other secretions, between the excretions which the body rejects as worthless and the precious blood-stream which circulates within the body and is the symbol of life itself to the animal which produces it.

67. And from the fruit of the date-palm and the vine, ye gout (2096) drink and wholesome food: behold, in this also is a sign for those who are wise.

2096 There are drinks and wholesome foods that can be got out of the date palm and the vine: e.g., non-alcoholic drinks from the date and the grape, vinegar, date sugar, grape sugar, and dates and grapes themselves for eating. If saqar is taken in the sense of fermented wine, it would refer to the time before intoxicants were prohibited, for this is a Makkan Surah and the prohibition came in Madinah. In such a case it would imply a subtle disapproval of the use of intoxicants and mark the first of a series of steps that in time culminated in total prohibition. (R).

68. And thy Lord taught the Bee(2097) to build its cells in hills, on trees, and in (men’s) habitations;

2097 Awha: wafiy, ordinarily means inspiration, the Message put into the mind or heart by Allah. Here the Bee’s instinct is referred to Allah’s teaching, which it undoubtedly is. In 99:5, it is applied to the earth: We shall discuss the precise meaning when we come to that passage. The honey-youth, itself, with its hexagonal cells, geometrically perfect, is a wonderful structure, and is well called baneet, homes. And the way the bee finds out inaccessible places, in the hills, in the trees, and even among the habitations of men, is one of the marvels of nature, i.e., of Allah’s working in His Creation.

69. Then to eat of all the produce (of the earth),(2098) and find with skill the spacious(2099) paths of its Lord: there issues from within their bodies a drink of varying colours, wherein is healing for men: verily in this also is a Sign for those who give thought.

2098 The bee assimilates the juice of various kinds of flowers and fruit, and forms within its body the honey which it stores in its cells of wax. The different kinds of food from which it makes its honey give different colours to the honey, i.e., it is dark-brown, light-brown, yellow, white, and so on. The taste and flavour also varies, as in the case of heather honey, the honey formed from scented flowers, and so on. As food it is sweet and wholesome, and it is used in medicine. Note that while the instinctive individual acts are described in the singular number, the produce of their bodies is described in the plural, as the result of their collective effort.

2099 Ilmad: two meanings are possible: (1) ways easy and spacious, referring to the unerring way in which bees find their way from long distances to their combs; and (2) the idea of humility and obedience in them. From both we can derive a metaphorical and spiritual meaning.

70. It is Allah who creates you and takes your souls at death; and of you there are some who are sent back to a feeble age, so that(2100) they know nothing after having known (much): for Allah is All-Knowing,(2101)
All-Powerful.

2100 Besides the mystery and beauty of the many processes going on in the working of Allah’s Creation, there is the wonderful life of man himself on this earth: how he is created as a child; how he grows in intelligence and knowledge; and how his soul is taken back and his body suffers dissolution. In some cases he lives so long that he falls into a feeble old age like a second childhood; he forgets what he learnt and seems almost to go back in Time. Is not all this wonderful, and evidence of the Knowledge and Power of Allah?

2101 (Cf. 22:5). Our attention having been called to the remarkable transformations in life and nature, by which the Knowledge and Power of Allah work out His beneficent Plan for His creatures, we are reminded that man at best is but a feeble creature, but for the grace of Allah. We then pass on in the next Section to the differences in the gifts which men themselves enjoy, distinguishing them into so many categories. How much greater is the difference between the created things and their Creator?

71. Allah has bestowed His gifts of sustenance more freely on some of you than on others: those more favoured are not going to throw back their gifts to those whom their right hands possess, so as to be equal in that respect. Will they then deny the favours of Allah?(2102)

2102 Even in the little differences in gifts, which men enjoy from Allah, men with superior gifts are not going to abandon them so as to be equal with men of inferior gifts, whom, perhaps, they hold in subjection. They will never deny their own superiority. How then (as the argument is pursued in the two following verses), can they ignore the immense difference between the Creator and created things, and make the latter, in their thoughts, partners with Allah?

72. And Allah has made for you mates (and companions) of your own nature,(2103) and made for you, out of them, sons and daughters and grandchildren,(2104) and provided for you sustenance of the best: will they then believe in vain things, and be ungrateful for Allah’s favours?

2103 Of your nature: or of yourselves. Cf. 4:1 and n. 504. Self, or Personality, or Soul, all imply a bundle of attributes, capacities, predilections, and dispositions, which we may sum up in the word ‘Nafs’, or nature. Roman was made to be (1) a mate or companion for man; (2) except for sex, of the same nature as man, and therefore with the same moral and religious rights and duties; and (3) she is not to be considered a source of all evil or sin, as the Christian monks characterised her but rather as a blessing, one of the favours, (Nisaha) of Allah.

2104 Hujudah: collective plural, daughters, grandchildren, and descendants. The root hadda also implies obedient service and ministration. Just as the sons (first mentioned) should be a source of strength, so daughters and grandchildren should serve and contribute to the happiness of fathers and grandparents, and are to be looked upon as further blessings.

73. And worship others than Allah,- such as have no power of providing them, for sustenance,(2105) with anything in heavens or earth, and cannot possibly have such power?

2105 ‘Sustenance’ hizam in all this passage (16:65-74), as elsewhere, implies all that is necessary for man’s life and growth, physical, mental and spiritual. Milk, fruit, and so on. They are examined as physical gifts, with a metaphorical reference to mental and moral health; family life is an example of moral and social and (ultimately) spiritual opportunities in the life of man; and in 16:65 is an example of rain in the physical world as a type of Allah’s revelation in the spiritual world.

74. Invent not similitudes(2106) for Allah. for Allah knoweth, and ye know not.

2106 Cf. 16:60 above, and n. 2096. One instance of false similitudes is where Pagans say their gods are mere types or symbols, or where men pray to men as intercessors.

75. Allah sets forth the Parable (of two men: one) a slave under the dominion of another;(2107) He has no power of any sort; and (the other) a man on whom We have bestowed goodly favours from Ourselves, and he spends thereof (freely), privately and publicly: are the two equal? (By no means;) praise be to Allah. But most of them understand not.

2107 The first parable is of two men, one of whom is a slave completely under the dominion of another, with no powers of any sort, and another a free man, who is gifted in every way, and is most generous in bestowing out of his opulent wealth (material as well as intangible), privately and publicly, without let or hindrance; for he is his own master and owes no account to anyone. The first is like the imaginary gods which men set up—whether powers of nature, which have no independent existence but are manifestations of Allah, or defined heroes or men, who can do nothing of their own authority but are subject to the Will and Power of Allah; the second describes in a faint way the position of Allah, the Self-Subsistent, to Whom belongs the dominion of all that is in heaven and earth, and Who bestows freely of His gifts on all His creatures.

76. Allah sets forth (another) Parable of two men: one of them dumb, with no power of any sort; a wearisome burden is he to his master; whichever way be directs him, he brings no good:(2108) is such a man equal with one who commands Justice, and is on a Straight Way?(2109)

710 In the second Parable, one man is dumb; he can explain nothing, and he can certainly do nothing; he is only a wearisome burden to his master, no matter what his master asks him to do; or perhaps he is really harmful instead of bringing any good; such are idols (literal and metaphorical) when taken as false gods. The other man is in a position to command, and he commands what is just and righteous; not only his commands but his doings also are on the path of righteousness. Such are the qualities of Allah.

719 The gist of the argument is that those who deviate from the worship of Allah commit twofold treason: (i) They do not recognise the immense difference between the Creator and created things, although, in their own little selfish lives, they are tenacious of any little differences there may be between themselves and other fellow-creatures not so gifted. (ii) They are guilty of gross ingratitude in forgetting that the source of goodness and power is Allah, to Whom alone they owe all the gifts they enjoy in life.

77. To Allah belongeth the Mystery(2110) of the heavens and the earth. And the Decision of the Hour(2111) (of Judgment) is as the twingkling of an eye, or even quicker: for Allah hath power over all things.

710 The key to all things—not only those which we see and understand, but those which we do not see or of which have no idea—is with Allah, Whose knowledge and power are supreme.

711 Luxes of this world and its fleeting pleasures often make man forget that the life of the hereafter is an imminent reality. Many of those who claim to believe in the life to come act and behave as if it belonged to a distant future, and had no relevance to their present activities and mode of living. The Qur'an repeatedly reminds man that the Hour of Reckoning is not a distant possibility, but very close to man, and could come to pass any moment. The wise course for man, therefore, is to be always alert and watchful and steer clear of all forms of sin and impiety, for when the Promised Hour comes it will come all of a sudden and without any prior notice. 78. It is He Who brought you forth from the wombs of your mothers when ye knew nothing; and He gave you hearing and sight and intelligence and affections:(2112) that ye may give thanks (to Allah.\n
712 Literally, hearts, are considered the centres of the affections, and in Arabic idiom, of intelligence also. We should therefore give thanks to Allah, not to imaginary deities or powers or forces.

79. Do they not look at the birds, held poised in the midst of (the air and) the sky? Nothing holds them up but (the power(2113) of) Allah. Verily in this are signs for those who believe.

713 All the wonderful things in creation are due to the artistry, power, and wisdom of Allah. Such as the flight of birds in midair. So also are the inventions and discoveries, due to man's intelligence, in the next verse; for man's intelligence is a gift direct from Allah.

80. It is Allah Who made your habitations homes of rest and quiet(2114) for you; and made for you, out of the skins of animals, (tents for) dwellings, which ye find so light (and handy) when ye travel and when ye stop (in your travels):(2115) and out of their wool, and their soft fibres(2116) (between wool and hair), and their hair, rich stuff and articles of convenience (to serve you) for a time.(2117)

811 Men's social, intellectual, and spiritual gifts make, of his permanent dwellings, homes of rest and quiet, of refinement and the purer affections, which are the types, in this earthly life, of the highest spiritual Good, the Love of Allah.
92. The worshippers of false gods will try to shift the responsibility from their own shoulders to that of the false gods. They will suggest (though they will not have the courage for such a bare-faced lie) that they were misled by the false gods. But their lying suggestions will be contradicted and thrown back at them as explained in the next note.

87. That Day shall they (openly) show(2125) (their) submission to Allah. and all their inventions shall leave them in the lurch.

91. Insofar as the false gods were real things, such as deified men or forces of nature, they will openly disclaim them and then (as always) show their submission to Allah. Insofar as the false gods were the inventions of the fancy of the idolaters, they will leave worshippers in the lurch, for they will be shown non-existent.

88. Those who reject Allah and hinder (men) from the Path of Allah - for them will We add Penalty to Penalty; for that they used to spread mischief.

93. If Allah so willed, He could make you all one people: But He leaves straying(2133) whom He pleases, and He guides whom He pleases: but ye shall certainly be called to account for all your actions.

94. And take not your oaths, to practise deception between yourselves,(2134) with the result that someone's foot may slip after it was firmly planted, and ye may have to taste the evil (consequences) of having hindered (men) from the Path of Allah, and a Mighty Wrath descend on you.

89. One day We shall raise from all Peoples a witness against them, from amongst themselves:(2126) and We shall bring thee as a witness against these (thy people): and We have sent down to thee the Book explaining all things, a Guide, a Mercy, and Glad Tidings to Muslims.

95. Nor sell the covenant of Allah for a miserable price:(2135) for with Allah is (a prize) far better for you, if ye only knew.

92. Nor(2136) for We will give you a new Life, a new Light, and We will bestow, on those who re- turn to Allah with a sincere and a true heart, and act with justice and right conduct, a double Penalty. Perhaps the 'evil consequences' refer to this world, and the 'wrath' to the Hereafter.

93. As returning good for ill, or obliging those who in worldly language "have no claim" as returning good for ill, or obliging those who in worldly language "have no claim" or obliging those who in worldly language "have no claim" on you; and of course a fortiori the fulfilling of the claims of those whose claims are recognised in social life. Similarly the opposites are to be avoided: everything that is recognised as shameful, and everything that is really unjust, and any inward nature, they will openly disclaim them and then (as always) show their submission to Allah. Insofar as the false gods were the inventions of the fancy of the idolaters, they will leave worshippers in the lurch, for they will be shown non-existent.

98. When thou dost read (2139) the Qur'an, seek Allah's protection from Satan the rejected one.

99. No authority has he over those who believe and put their trust in their Lord.

100. His authority is over those only, who take him as patron and who join partners with Allah.

101. When We substitute one revelation (2140) for another,- and Allah knows best what He reveals (in stages),- they say, "Thou art but a forger": but most of them understand not.

102. Say, the Holy Spirit (2141) has brought the revelation from thy Lord in Truth, in order to strengthen those who believe, (2142) and as a Guide and Glad Tidings to Muslims.

103. We know indeed that they say, "It is a man that teaches him." The tongue of him they wickedly point to is notably foreign, while this is Arabic, pure and clear. (2143)

104. Those who believe not in the Signs of Allah,- Allah will not guide them, and theirs will be a grievous Penalty.

105. It is those who believe not in the Signs of Allah, that forge falsehood: it is they who lie! (2144)

106. Any one who, after accepting faith in Allah, utters Unbelief,- (2145) except under compulsion, his heart remaining firm in Faith - but such as open their breast to Unbelief, on them is Wrath from Allah, and theirs will be a dreadful Penalty.

107. This because they love the life of this world better than the Hereafter: and Allah will not guide those who reject Faith.

108. Those are they whose hearts, ears, and eyes Allah has sealed up,(2146) and they take no heed.

109. Without doubt, in the Hereafter they will perish.

110. But verily thy Lord,- to those who leave their homes after trials and persecutions, (2147) and who thereafter strive and fight for the faith and patiently persevere,- Thy Lord, after all this is oft-forgiving, Most Merciful.

111. One Day every soul will come up struggling (2148) for itself, and every soul will be recompensed (fully) for all its actions, and none will be unjustly dealt with.

112. Allah sets forth a Parable: a city enjoying security (2149) and quiet, abundantly supplied with sustenance from every place: Yet was it ungrateful for the favours of Allah. so Allah made it taste of hunger and terror (in extremes) (closing in on it) like a garment (2150) (from every side), because of the (evil) which (its people) wrought.

113. And there came to them a Messenger from among themselves, but they falsely rejected him; so the Wrath seized them even in the midst of their iniquities.

114. So eat of the sustenance which Allah has provided for you, lawful and good; and be grateful for the favours (2151) of Allah, if it is He Whom ye serve.

(2139) The exception refers to a case like that of 'Ammar, whose father Yassir and mother Sumayya, were subjected to unspeakable tortures for their belief in Islam, before they recanted. 'Ammar, suffering under tortures himself and his mind acted on by the sufferings of his parents, uttered a word construed as recantation, though his heart never wavered and he came back at once to the Prophet, who consoled him for his pain and confirmed his faith. (2140) See 2:106, and n. 107. The doctrine of progressive revelation from age to age and time to time does not mean that Allah's fundamental Law changes. It is not fair to charge a Prophet of Allah with forgery because the Message, as revealed to him, is in a different form from that revealed before, when the core of the Truth is the same, for it comes from Allah.

(2141) The title of the Angel Gabriel, through whom the revelation came down.

(2143) The wicked attribute to Prophets of Allah just such motives and springs of action as they themselves would be guilty of in such circumstances. The Pagans and those who were hostile to the revelation of Allah in Islam could not and cannot understand how such wonderful words could flow from the tongue of the Prophet. They must postulate some human teacher. Unfortunately for their postulate, any possible human teacher they could think of would be poor in Arabic speech if he had all the knowledge that the Qur'an reveals of previous revelations. Apart from that, the most eloquent Arabic could not, and cannot, produce anything of the eloquence, width, and depth of Quranic teaching, as is evident from every verse of the Book. (Cf. 4:149.)

(2144) It is clearly those who raise the cry of forgery that are guilty of falsehood, and there is not the least basis or even plausibility in their suggestion.

(2145) Except under compulsion, his heart remaining firm in Faith - but such as open their breast to Unbelief, on them is Wrath from Allah, and theirs will be a dreadful Penalty.
source of the bounty, viz., Allah, (2) by misusing or misapplying the bounty, as by committing excesses in things lawful, or refusing to share them with others of Allah's creatures when the need arises, or (3) by falsely ascribing to Allah any prohibition we may set up for ourselves for special reasons or because of our special idiosyncrasies.

115. He has only forbidden you (2152) dead meat, and blood, and the flesh of swine, and any (food) over which the name of other than Allah has been invoked. But if one is forced by necessity, without wilful disobedience, nor transgressing due limits,- then Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

9159 Cf. 2:173 and notes, 5:3-5 and 6:121 and 138-146.

116. But say not - for any false thing (2153) that your tongues may put forth, "This is lawful, and this is forbidden," so as to ascribe false things to Allah. For those who ascribe false things to Allah, will never prosper.

9158 Men are apt to create taboos for themselves, out of superstition, and often for selfish ends, and enforce them in the name of religion. Nothing can be more reprehensible.

117. (In such falsehood) is but a paltry profit; but they will have a most grievous Penalty.

118. To the Jews We prohibited such things as We have mentioned to thee before: (2154) We did them no wrong, but they were used to doing wrong to themselves.

9154 See 6:146 and nn. 970-971. The further prohibitions to them were a punishment for their hardness of hearts, and not a favour.

119. But verily thy Lord,- to those who do wrong in ignorance, but who thereafter repent and make amends,- thy Lord, after all this, is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. (2155)

9153 See above, 16:110 and n. 2147. The parallelism in construction confirms the suggestion of the alternative reading which is made in that note. The similarity of expression also rounds off the argument, as by a refrain in poetry. What follows now in this Surah is an exhortation to right conduct.

120. Abraham was indeed a model, (2156) devoutly obedient to Allah, and he joined not gods with Allah. (2157)

9156 Um'mah: a model, pattern, example for imitation: but the idea that he was an imitator in himself, standing alone against his world, should not be lost sight of. See next note.

9157 The Gospel of Unity has been the cornerstone of spiritual Truth for all time. In this respect Abraham is the model and fountainhead for the world of western Asia and its spiritual descendants all over the world. Abraham was among a people (the Chaldeans) who worshipped stars and had forsaken the Gospel of Unity. He was among them but not of them. He suffered persecution, and left his home and his people, and settled in the land of Canaan.

121. He showed his gratitude for the favours of Allah, who chose him, and guided him to a Straight Way.

122. And We gave him Good in this world, and he will be, in the Hereafter, in the ranks of the Righteous. (2158)

9158 Cf. 2:130.

123. So We have taught thee the inspired (Message), "Follow the ways of Abraham the True in Faith, and he joined not gods with Allah.

124. The Sabbath was only made (2159) (Strict) for those who disagreed (as to its observance); But Allah will judge between them on the Day of Judgment, as to their differences. (2160)

125. Invite (all) to the Way of thy Lord with wisdom and beautiful preaching; and argue with them in ways that are best and most gracious: (2161) for thy Lord knoweth best, who have strayed from His Path, and who receive guidance. (2162)

126. And if ye do catch them out, catch them out no worse than they catch you out: But if ye show patience, that is indeed the best (course) (2163) for those who are patient.

127. And do thou be patient, (2164) for thy patience is better to thee than the patience of all that are on earth. Lest ye should think that such patience only be for the weak in derring and unfitted to be useful; whereas the patience of the strong and the wise is better, and is more accepted with Allah.

128. For Allah is with those (2165) who restrain themselves, and those who do good.

180
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Glory to (Allah) Who did take His servant for a Journey by night(2166) from the Sacred Mosque(2167) to the Farthest Mosque,(2168) whose precincts We did bless,- in order that We might show him some of Our Signs: for He is the One Who heareth and seeth (all things).(2169)

2. We gave Moses the Book,(2170) and made it a Guide to the Children of Israel, (commanding): "Take not other than Me(2171) as Disposer of (your) affairs."

3. O ye that are sprung from those whom We carried (in the Ark) with Noah!(2172) Verily he was a devotee most grateful.

4. And We gave (Clear) Warning to the Children of Israel(2173) in the Book, that twice(2174) would they do mischief on the earth and be elated with mighty arrogance (and twice would they be punished!)

5. When the first of the warnings came to pass, We sent Our servants given to terrible warfare:(2175) They entered the very inmost parts of the lands, their Temple , and their homes, and carried away the Jews, men and women, into captivity. As regards "the daughters of Zion " see the scathing speech for "more than once", "often". Or it may be that the two occasions refer to (1) the destruction of the Temple by the Babylonian Nebuchadnezzar in 586 B.C., when the Jews were carried off into captivity, and (2) the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus in A.C. 70, after which the Temple was never rebuilt. See n. 2168 above. On both occasions it was a judgement of Allah for the sins of the Jews, their backslidings, and their arrogance.

6. Then did We grant you the Return as against them:(2176) We gave you increase in resources and sons, and made you the more numerous in man-power.

171 Note the transition from 'We' in the first clause to 'Me' in the second clause. The first clause refers to the majesty of Allah as the Heavenly King: the second clause refers to His personal interest in all our affairs.

172 This and the Mosque known as the Farthest Mosque (al Masjid al Aqsa) were completed by the Amir 'Abd al Malik in A.H. 68. Farthest, because it was the place of worship farthest west which was known to the Arabs in the time of the Prophet: it was a sacred place to both Jews and Christians, but the Christians then had the upper hand, as it was included in the Byzantine (Roman) Empire, which maintained a Patriarch at Jerusalem. The chief dates in connection with the Temple arc: it was finished by Solomon about B.C. 1004; destroyed by the Babylonians under Nebuchadnezzar about 586 B.C.; rebuilt under Ezra and Nehemiah about 353 B.C.; turned into a heathen idol-temple by one of Alexander's successors, Antiochus Epiphanes, 167 B.C.; restored by Herod, B.C. 17 to A.D. 29; and completely razed to the ground by the Emperor Titus in A.C. 70. These ups and downs are among the greater Signs in religious history.

173 A good description of the warlike Nebuchadnezzar and his Babylonians. They were servants of Allah in the sense that they were instruments through which the wrath of Allah was poured out on the Jews, for they penetrated through their lands, their Temple , and their homes, and carried away the Jews, men and women, into captivity. As regards 'the daughters of Zion ' see the scathing condemnation in Isaiah, 3:16-24.

174 The Book: the revelation that was given to Moses. It was there clearly laid down that those who followed Moses must consider Allah as all-insall. "Thou shalt have no other gods before me; thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image... . thou shalt not bow down thyself to them nor serve them; for I the Lord the God am a jealous God... ." (Exod. 20:3-5). These are the words of the English Bible. As a matter of fact the spirit of Mosaic teaching went further. It referred all things to the Providence of Allah: Allah is the Disposer of all affairs, and we are to look to none but Him. This is Islam, and the Mi'raj showed that it was the teaching of Allah from the most ancient times, and yet it was violated by the very people who claimed to be its custodians.

175 The return of the Jews from the Captivity was about 520 B.C. They started life afresh. They rebuilt the Temple . They carried out various reforms and built up a new Judaism in connection with Ezra. See Appendix II following S. 5. For a time they prospered. Meanwhile their old oppressors the Babylonians had been absorbed by Persia . Subsequently Persia was absorbed in Alexander's Empire. The whole of western Asia was Hellenized, and the new school of Jews was Hellenized also, and had a strong centre in Alexandria. But their footing in Palestine continued, and under the Amonaean Dynasty (B.C. 167-63), they had a national revival, and the names of the Macabees are remembered as those of heroes. Another dynasty, that of the Idumaeans, (B.C. 63 to B.C. 4), to which Herod belonged, also enjoyed some semi-independent power. The sceptre of
7. If ye did well, ye did well for yourselves; if ye did evil, (ye did it) against yourselves. (2177) So when the second of the warnings came to pass, (We permitted your enemies) to disfigure your faces, (2178) and to enter your Temple (2179) as they had entered it before, and to visit with destruction all that fell into their power. (2180)

2177 This is a parenthetical sentence. If anyone follows Allah's Law, the benefit goes to himself; he does not bestow a favour on anyone else. Similarly evil brings its own recompense on the doer of evil.

2178 The second doom was due to the rejection of the Message of Jesus. "To disfigure your faces" means to destroy any credit or power you may have got; the face shows the personality of the man.

2180 Merivale in his Romans Under the Empire gives a graphic account of the siege and final destruction (ed. 1890, 7:221-255). The population of Jerusalem was then 200,000. According to the Latin historian Tacitus it was as much as 600,000. There was a famine and there were massacres. There was much fanaticism. The judgement of Merivale is: "They (the Jews) were judicially abandoned to their own passions and the punishment which naturally awaited them." (7:221).

8. It may be that your Lord may (yet) show Mercy (2181) unto you; but if ye revert (to your sins), We shall revert (to Our punishments): And we have made Hell a prison for those who reject Faith. (2182)

2181 Now we come to the time of our Holy Prophet. In spite of all the past, the Jews could still have obtained Allah's forgiveness if they had not obstinately rejected the greatest of the Prophets also. If they were to continue in their sins, Allah's punishment would also continue to visit them.

2182 There is such a thing as disgrace in this life, but the final disgrace is in the Hereafter, and that will be irreversible.

Notice that the allegorical reference to Jewish history, when brought into relation with the true meaning of Miqat, refers to the constant struggle of the individual soul against evil. It has its setbacks and its punishments. But if it is true to itself and is true to the Faith in Allah, Allah will give it strength and make it successful in its fight against evil. For Allah's Mercy is unbounded and comes to suffering humanity again and again. (R).

9. Verily this Qur'ân doth guide to that which is most right (or stable), (2183) and giveth the Glad Tidings to the Believers who work deeds of righteousness, that they shall have a magnificent reward;

2183 The instability and crookedness of the Jewish soul having been mentioned, the healing balm which should have cured it is now pointed out. The Message of the Qur'an is for all. Those who have Faith and show that Faith in their conduct must reap their spiritual reward. But those who reject Faith cannot escape punishment. Apart from what is past, apart from questions of national or racial history, there is a spiritual Hope-and a spiritual Danger—for every soul.

10. And to those who believe not in the Hereafter, (it announceth) that We have prepared for them a Penalty Grievous (indeed).

11. The prayer that man should make for good, he maketh for evil; (2184) for man is given to hasty (deeds).

2184 Man in his ignorance or haste mistakes evil for good, and desires what he should not have. The wise and instructed soul has patience and does not put its own desires above the wisdom of Allah. He receives with contentment the favours of Allah, and prays to be rightly guided in his desires and petitions.

12. We have made the Night and the Day two (2185) (of Our) Signs: the Sign of the Night have We obscured, while the Sign of the Day We have made to enlighten you; that ye may seek bounty from your Lord, (2186) and that ye may know the number and count of the years: all things have We explained in detail.

2185 If we were to cry when it is night, we shall look foolish when it is day; for the night is but a preparation or the day: perhaps, as the last verse says, we pray for the day when we want rest for the night. Both are Signs from Allah. Darkness and light stand for ignorance and knowledge. "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." Darkness and light may also stand for shadow and sunshine, sorrow and joy—both may be necessary for our development.

2186 By the physical light we see physical facts. And this physical gift of Allah is good for us in two ways: (1) we can arrange for our livelihood, or we can attain knowledge of the physical sciences and gain some control over the physical forces of nature; and (2) the daily rising and setting of the sun gives us the computation of days and years, for the physical natural year is the solar year. But there is spiritual light even more precious: by it we can similarly attain two objects, viz. (1) our spiritual livelihood and knowledge, and (2) our computation of the stages we reach in our spiritual years. Let us be patient and seek everything as from Allah's joy and in sorrow, in knowledge and in want of knowledge of those things which are above us. Let us rejoice in what Allah has given us, and not be impatient about those things which He in His wisdom has thought fit to withhold from us. But all things should be sought and striven for under the guidance of the All-Knowing Allah.

13. Every man's fate (2187) We have fastened on his own neck: On the Day of Judgment We shall bring out for him a scroll, which he will see spread open. (2188)

2187 Fate: Ta'ir, literally a bird, hence an omen, an evil omen, fate. Cf. 36:19. The Arabs like the ancient Romans, sought to read the mysteries of human fate from the flight of birds. And many of us in our own day seek to read our future fortunes by similar superstitions. We read in the previous verse that there are Signs of Allah, but they are not meant to subserve the vulgar purpose of disclosing our future destiny in a worldly sense. They are meant for quite other purposes, as we have explained. Our real fate does not depend upon birds or omens or stars. It depends on our deeds, good or evil, and they hang round our necks, (see also n. 484). (R).

2188 These deeds, good or evil, will be embodied in a scroll which will be quite open to us in the light of the Day of Judgment, however much we may affect to be ignorant of it now or waste our energies in prying into mysteries that do not concern us.

14. (It will be said to him:) "Read thine (own) record: Sufficient is thy soul this day to make out an account against thee." (2189)

2189 Our true accusers are our own deeds. Why not look to them instead of vainly prying into something superstitious which we call a book of fortune or a book of omens? (Cf. 85:3).

15. Who receiveth guidance, receiveth it for his own benefit: who goeth astray doth so to his own loss: (2190) No bearer of burdens can bear the burden (2191) of another: nor would We visit with Our Wrath until We had sent a messenger (to give warning).

2190 The doctrine of personal responsibility is insisted on, and the basis of ethics is shown to be our own good or evil as furthering or obstructing our highest development.

2191 The doctrine of vicarious atonement is condemned. Salvation for the wicked cannot be attained by the punishment of the innocent. One man cannot bear the burden of another; that would be unjust. Every man must bear his own personal responsibility. Cf. 6:164. But Allah never visits His wrath on anyone until due warning is conveyed to him through an accredited messenger.

16. When We decide to destroy a population, We (first) send a definite order to those among them who are given the good things of this life (2192) and yet transgress; so that the word is proved true (2193) against them: then (it is) We destroy them utterly.

2192 Allah's Mercy gives every chance to the wicked to repent. When wickedness gets so rampant that punishment becomes inevitable, even then Allah's Mercy and Justice act together. Those who are highly gifted from Allah—it may be with wealth or position or it may be with talents and opportunities—are expected to understand and obey. They are given a definite order and warning. If they still transgress there is no further room for argument. They cannot plead that they were ignorant. The command of the Lord is proved against them, and its application is called for beyond doubt. Then it is that their punishment is completed.

17. How many generations have We destroyed after Noah?(2194) and enough is thy Lord to note and see the sins of His servants.(2195)

194 Noah's Flood is taken as a new starting point in history. But even after that hundreds of empires have risen and generations have perished for their wickedness.

195 Let not the wicked think, because they are given a lease of life and luxury for a time, that their wickedness has escaped notice. Allah notes and sees all things, both open and secret. He knows the hidden motives and thoughts of men, and He has no need of any other evidence. His knowledge and sight are all-sufficient.

18. If any do wish for the transitory things (of this life), We readily(2196) grant them - such things as We will, to such person as We will: in the end have We provided Hell for them: they will burn therein, disgraced and rejected.(2197)

196 An explanation is now given of how it is that prosperity sometimes seems to attend the wicked. The explanation is threefold: (1) the transitory things of this life are worth little in the eternal scheme of things; (2) even they are provided, not just because their recipients wish for them, but according to a definite Plan of Allah; and (3) in the end there is for the wicked the eternal misery and deprivation of grace-true Hell which is worse than destruction in the terms of this world.

197 All the pride and insolence will then be brought low. The disgrace and the exclusion from the "sight of the Face of Allah" will by themselves be punishments of which the magnitude cannot be measured in the terms of our present material life.

19. Those who do wish for the (things of) the Hereafter,(2198) and strive therefor with all due striving, and have Faith,-(2199) they are the ones whose striving is acceptable (to Allah).

198 This is in contrast to the last verse. Those who wish for mere earthly good sometimes get it and misuse it. Those whose eyes are fixed on the Hereafter, they too share in their Lord's bounty provided they fulfill the conditions explained in the next note; but their wishes and endeavours are more acceptable in the sight of Allah.

199 A mere wish for moral and spiritual good is not enough. It must be backed up by hard endeavour and supported by a lively Faith. On those conditions the wishes are accepted by Allah.

20. Of the bounties of thy Lord We bestow freely on all—These as well as those: The bounties of thy Lord are not closed (to anyone).(2200)

200 Allah's favours are showered on all—the just and the unjust, the deserving and the undeserving. But there is a difference as explained in the last two verses.

21. See how We have bestowed more on some than on others; but verily the Hereafter is more in rank and gradation and more in excellence.(2201)

201 Nor should man suppose that all gifts are of equal value. The spiritual ones rank far higher in dignity and real worth than the transitory ones. Therefore it is altogether wrong to compare the worldly prosperity of a wicked man with the apparent want of it to a man of spiritual worth. There is no comparison between them when measured by right standards.

22. Take not with Allah another object of worship;(2202) or thou (O man!) wilt sit in disgrace and destitution.(2203)

202 If foolish men turn to false objects of worship, they will not only be disappointed, but they will lose the respect of their own fellow-men, and spiritually they will be reduced to destitution. All their talents and their words will be of no avail.

23. Thy Lord hath decreed that ye worship none but Him, and that ye be kind to parents. Whether one or both of them attain old age in thy life,(2204) say not to them a word of contempt, nor repel them, but address them in terms of honour.

203 The spiritual and moral duties are now brought into juxtaposition. We are to worship none but Allah, because none but Allah is worthy of worship, not because "the Lord thy God is a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate Me". (Exod. 20:5). Note that the act of worship may be collective as well as individual; hence the plural "a"/"b". The kindness to parents is an individual act of piety; hence the singular "a"/"b", etc.

24. And, out of kindness, lower to them the wing(2205) of humility, and say: "My Lord! bestow on them thy Mercy even as they cherished me in childhood."(2206)

204 Cf. 17:15-30 and n. 2011, and 26:215. The metaphor is that of a high-flying bird which lowers her wing out of tenderness to her offspring. There is a double aptness. (1) When the parent was strong and the child was helpless, parental affection was showered on the child; when the child grows up and is strong, and the parent is helpless, can he do less than bestow similar tender care on the parent? (2) But more: he must approach the matter with gentle humility; for does not parental love remain him of the love with which Allah cherished His creatures? There is something here more than simple human gratitude: it goes up into the highest spiritual region.

205 Note that we are asked to honour our father and mother, not 'that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee" (Exod. 20:12), but upon much higher and more universal grounds, such as befit a perfect revelation. In the first place, not merely respect, but cherishing kindness, and humility to parents, are commanded. In the second place this command is bracketed with the command to worship the One True God: Parental love should be to us a type of divine love: nothing that we can do can ever really compensate for that which we have received. In the third place (see next verse) our spiritual advancement is tested by this: we cannot expect Allah's forgiveness if we are rude or unkind to those who unselfishly brought us up.

25. Your Lord knoweth best what is in your hearts: If ye do deeds of righteousness, verily He is Most Forgiving to those who turn to Him again and again (in true penitence).(2207)

206 It is the heart, and its hidden and secret motives, by which we are judged: for Allah knows them all.

26. And render to the kindred their due rights, as (also) to those in want, and to the wayfarer:(2208) But squander not (your wealth) in the manner of a spendthrift.(2209)

208 In the Jewish Decalogue, which was given to a primitive and hard-hearted people, this refinement of kindness—to those in want and to wayfarers (i.e., total strangers whom you come across)—finds no place. Nor was there much danger of their wasting their substance out of exuberance. Even the command ‘to honour thy father and mother’ comes after the ceremonial observance of the Sabbath. With us, the worship of Allah is linked up with kindness—to parents, kindred, those in want, those who are far from their homes though they may be total strangers to us. It is not mere verbal kindness. They have certain rights which must be fulfilled.

209 All charity, kindness, and help are conditioned by our own resources. There is no merit if we merely spend out of hirvado or for idle show. How many families are ruined by extravagant expenses at wedding, funerals, etc., or (as they may call it) to "oblige friends or relatives", or to give à la bodende beggars? To no one was this command more necessary than it is to Muslims of the present day.

27. Verily spendthrifts are brothers of the Evil Ones; and the Evil One is to his Lord (himself) ungrateful.(2210)

210 Spendthrifts are not merely fools. They are of the same family as the Evil Ones. And the chief of the Evil Ones (notice the transition from the plural to the singular) Satan himself/e/ll by his ingratitude to Allah. So those who misuse or squander Allah's gifts are also ungrateful to Allah.
28. And even if thou hast to turn away from them in pursuit of the Mercy from thy Lord which thou dost expect, yet speak to them a word of easy kindness.\(\text{(2211)}\)

\text{2211 You may have to 'turn away' from people for two reasons, (1) You may not have the wherewithal with which to entertain them and give them their rights; or (2) you may have to give them a wide berth because their thoughts are not as your thoughts. In either case there is no need to speak harshly to them. Your words should be those of 'easy kindness', i.e., the sort of kindness (not merely frigid politeness) which flows from pity and understanding and smooths over unnecessary difficulties in human intercourse.}\n
29. Make not thy hand tied\(\text{(2212)}\) (like a niggard's) to thy neck, nor stretch it forth to its utmost reach, so that thou become blameworthy and destitute.

\text{2212 Cf the phrase for miserliness in 5:54. We are not to be so lavish as to make ourselves destitute and incur the just censure of wise men, nor is it becoming to keep back our resources from the just needs of those who have a right to our help. Even strangers have such a right, as we saw in 17:36 above. But we must keep a just measure between our capacity and other people's needs.}\n
30. Verily thy Lord doth provide sustenance in abundance for whom He pleaseth, and He provideth in a just measure,\(\text{(2213)}\) for He doth know and regard all His servants.

\text{2213 If a foolish spendthrift pretends that his generosity, even if it ruins himself, is good for other people, he is reminded that Allah will take care of all. He knows every one's true needs and cares for them. He gives in abundance to some, but in all cases He gives in just measure. Who are we to pretend to greater generosity! (R).}\n
31. Kill not your children\(\text{(2214)}\) for fear of want: We shall provide sustenance for them as well as for you. Verily the killing of them is a great sin.

\text{2214 The Arabs were addicted to female infanticide. In a society perpetually at war a son was a source of strength whereas a daughter was a source of weakness. Even now infanticide is not unknown in other countries for economic reasons. This crime against children's lives is here characterised as one of the greatest of sins.}\n
32. Nor come nigh to adultery: for it is a shameful (deed) and an evil, opening the road\(\text{(2215)}\) (to other evils).

\text{2215 Literally, 'it is evil as a road (or a way).' Adultery is not only shameful in itself and inconsistent with any self-respect or respect for others, but it opens the road to many evils. It destroys the basis of the family; it works against the interests of children born or to be born; it may cause murders and feuds and loss of reputation and property, and also loosens permanently the bonds of society. Not only should it be avoided as a sin, but any approach or temptation should be avoided.}\n
33. Nor take life - which Allah has made sacred - except for just cause. And if anyone is slain wrongfully, we have given his heir authority (to demand Qisas\(\text{(2216)}\) or to forgive): but let him nor exceed bounds in the matter of taking life; for he is helped by the Law.

\text{2216 Qisas has here a generic meaning, and is best translated 'compensation'.}\n
34. Come not nigh to the orphan's property except to improve it,\(\text{(2217)}\) until he attains the age\(\text{(2218)}\) of full strength; and fulfill (Every)\(\text{(2219)}\) engagement, for (every) engagement will be enquired into on the Day of Reckoning.\(\text{(2220)}\)

\text{2217 Cf 6:152, and other passages relating to orphans, e.g., 2:239. If an orphan's property is touched at all, it should be to improve it, or to give him something better than he had before-never to take a personal advantage for the benefit of the guardian. A bargain that may he quite fair as between two independent persons would be, under this verse, unfair as between a guardian and his orphan ward until the latter attains the full age of understanding.}\n
35. Give full measure when ye measure, and weigh with a balance that is straight: that is the most fitting and the most advantageous in the final determination.\(\text{(2221)}\)

\text{2221 Giving just measure and weight is not only right in itself but is ultimately to the best spiritual and material advantage of the person who gives it.}\n
36. And pursue not that of which thou hast\(\text{(2222)}\) no knowledge; for every act of hearing, or of seeing or of (feeling in) the heart will be enquired into (on the Day of Reckoning).

\text{2222 Idle curiosity may lead us to nosy into evil, through our ignorance that it is evil. We must guard against every such danger. We must only hear the things that are known to us to be of good report, and see things that are good and instructive and entertain in our hearts feelings or in our minds ideas that we have reason to expect will be spiritually profitable to us. We shall be called to account for the exercise of every faculty that has been given to us. This goes a little farther than a famous sculpture on a Japanese temple in which three monkeys are shown as putting their hands to their ears, eyes, and mouths, respectively, to show that they were not prepared to hear any evil, see any evil, or speak any evil. Here idle curiosity is condemned. Futility is to be avoided even if it does not reach the degree of positive evil.}\n
37. Nor walk on the earth\(\text{(2223)}\) with insolence: for thou canst not rend the earth asunder, nor reach the mountains in height.

\text{2223 Insolence, or arrogance, or undue elation at our powers or capacities, is the first step to many evils. Besides, it is unjustified. All our gifts are from Allah.}\n
38. Of all such things the evil is hateful in the sight of thy Lord.

\text{2224 These are among the (precepts of) wisdom, which thy Lord has revealed to thee.\(\text{(2224)}\) Take not, with Allah, another object of worship, lest thou shouldst be thrown into Hell, blameworthy and rejected.\(\text{(2225)}\) The moral law, as expounded in 17:23-39 is far in advance of the bare Decalogue in that it searches out motives, and draws pointed attention to the weak and helpless if we are to reach any spiritual understanding of Allah. It begins with a mention of the worship of Allah, the One True God and ends with a similar mention to close the argument, thus emphasizing the fact that the love of Allah embraces the love of man and practical help of our fellow-creatures. (R).}\n
39. These are among the (precepts of) wisdom, which thy Lord has revealed to thee.\(\text{(2224)}\) Take not, with Allah, another object of worship, lest thou shouldst be thrown into Hell, blameworthy and rejected.\(\text{(2225)}\)

\text{2225 Cf. 16:57-59. Insistence on true worship means also exclusion of false worship or worship derogatory to Allah. In circles where daughters were despised}
41. We have explained (things) in various (ways) in this Qur’án, in order that they may receive (admonition), but it only increases their flight (from the Truth).

42. Say: If there had been (other) gods with Him, as they say,- behold, they would certainly have sought out a way to the Lord of the Throne! (2228)

43. Glory to Him! He is high above all that they say!- Exalted and Great (beyond measure)!

44. The seven heavens and the earth, and all beings therein, declare His glory: (2229) there is not a thing invisible: (2230) All Creation, animate and inanimate, sings Allah’s praises and celebrates His glory-animate, with consciousness, and inanimate, in the evidence which it furnishes of the unity and glory of Allah. All Nature bears witness to His power, wisdom, and goodness. It is only ye, i.e., those who reject the whole trend of your nature and deny Faith simply because ye have been given a limited amount of knowledge and free will-it is only such as “ye that understand not what every other creature understands and proclaims with joy and pride. What must be your choice and free will-it is only such as “ye” that understand not what every other creature understands and proclaims with joy and pride. What must be your degradation! And yet Allah bears with you and forgives you! Such is His goodness! (R).

45. When thou dost recite the Qur´án, We put, between thee and those who believe not in the Hereafter, a veil invisible: (2230)

46. And We put coverings over their hearts (and minds) lest they should understand the Qur´án, and deafness (2231) into their ears: when thou dost commendate thy Lord and Him alone in the Qur´án, they turn on their backs, fleeing (from the Truth).

47. We know best why it is they listen, when they listen (2232) to thee; and when they meet in private conference, behold, the wicked say, “Ye follow none other than a man bewitched!”

48. See what similes they strike for thee: but they have gone astray, and never can they find a way. (2233)

49. They do not realise that Allah Who created them once out of nothing can create them again with memories of their past, in order to render to Him an account of how they used or missed the talents and opportunities which they were given. If it is to be a new Creation, what then? Bones and dust or ashes may yet retain something of the personality, which was enshrined in them. But even if they were reduced to stones or iron or anything, which their minds can conceive of as being most unlike them, yet there is nothing impossible to Allah! He has dearly sent a Message that we shall have to render an account of ourselves, and His Message is necessarily true. (Al-17:98 and 75:30-R).

50. Say: "(Nay!) be ye stones or iron,

51. "Or created matter which, in your minds, is hardest (to be raised up),- (Yet shall ye be raised up)" then will they say: “Who will cause us to return?” Say: “He who created you first!” Then will they wag their heads towards thee, (2235) and say, "When will that be?" Say, "May be it will be quite soon!"

52. "It will be on a Day when He will call you, and ye will answer (His call) with (words of) His praise, and ye will (2236) think that ye tarried but a little while!“ (2237)

53. See last note. That being so, the only motive for the ungodly to listen to Allah’s Word, and that it consoles, helps, and elevates many people who receive it in the right spirit. So they pretend that they are superior to such people and laugh at them for listening to someone who is only under the influence of something which they call magic! (see also 2:39).

2227 Things are explained in the Qur’an from all points of view, individual and national, by means of stories, parables, and figures of speech, and by way of categorical commands. But those who are evil, instead of profiting by such instruction, often go farther and farther away from the Truth.

2228 There is only One True God. But if, as polytheists say, there had been subsidiary gods, they would yet have had to go to the Throne of the Supreme God, for they could have done nothing without Him. Thus the Islamic idea of the unity of the Godhead is quite different from the polytheistic ideas of a supreme god, as in the Greek Pantheon, where Jupiter was often defied by the minor deities!

2229 The sceptic shifts his ground when he is cornered in argument. It is no longer tenable for him to say that it cannot happen or that there is no one who can bring him back to life and memory. He now gets shaken, and says, “Well, when is that going to happen?” The actual time no man can tell. Indeed that event will be on a plane in which there will be no Time. Our relative ideas of time and place will have been completely overthrown, and it will appear to us then, not that it has been postponed too long, but that it has come too soon! See the next verse and note.

2230 This command refers to two situations. (1) Even to your enemies and the righteous, you should speak fair; who are you to judge others? (2) Judgment belongs to Allah alone, for He knows you (i.e., all mankind) best, and your personal knowledge is at best imperfect. And Satan is always trying to divide and disrupt, and never will it be easy to take this verse as part of the answer to the sceptic referred to in the last verse.

2231 Whatever may have been your spiritual blindness in this life, the “new creation” will have opened your eyes to the Truth. No one will any longer be in any delusion as regards the Reality of Allah, and will be forced by their new circumstances, to recognise the Truth and sing Allah’s praises. And all will be surprised at the seemingly short flight of time since they had their little ephemeral life on this earth. They will now appraise its true worth.

2232 See last note. That being so, the only motive for the ungodly to listen to Allah’s Word, and that it consoles, helps, and elevates many people who receive it in the right spirit. So they pretend that they are superior to such people and laugh at them for listening to someone who is only under the influence of something which they call magic! (see also 2:39).
punishment: We have not sent thee to be a disposer of their affairs for them.

59. Man should never for a single moment entertain a thought that would imply that he was wiser than Allah, Allah's knowledge is all-encompassing. If He grants mercy to some that you consider wicked or punishment to some that you consider righteous, it is your knowledge or your deductions that are at fault, not Allah's righteous Plan. Even Prophets of Allah are not sent to arrange or dispose of men's affairs, but only to teach Allah's Message. How much less can ordinary men presume to judge other men? The Madhhab-Will and Plan of Allah's above all human wisdom. (R).

55. And it is your Lord that knoweth best all beings that are in the heavens and on earth: We did bestow (and warning from evil). (2247)

54. An example is cited from the story of Thamud. A wonderful she-camel was sent among them as a Portent and a Symbol. In their wickedness they hastened her. So instead of her reclaiming them she was a cause of their destruction, as their sin and rebellion were laid bare. For the story of the she-camel and the reference to the passages in which she is mentioned, see n. 1044 to 7:77.

51. Signs, Miracles, and Portents are sent by Allah as a warning, to strike terror into the hearts of evildoers and reclaim them to the right path. I have discussed Fear as a motive for reclaiming certain kinds of hard hearts, in my note R2 to 2:74. But some hearts are so hard that even this motive does not work. As they have a limited free will given by Allah, they are to that extent free to choose. But when they actually choose evil, Allah in His infinite Mercy delays their punishment and removes the occasion for their immediate self-destruction by withholding the Signs which might make them transgress all the more and compass their total destruction.

60. Behold! We told thee that thy Lord doth encompass mankind round about:(2248) We granted the vision which We showed thee,(2249) but as a trial for men,- as also the Cursed Tree(2250) (mentioned) in the Qur’ an: We put terror (and warning) into them, but it only increases their inordinate transgression!

57. Men's suspicions of each or of the prophets have been condemned in the previous verses. We now have the strongest condemnation of all, that of imagining any other being as being equal or in the same category with One True God. Allah has all power: they have no power. They cannot remove men's troubles. They cannot even mitigate or change them so as to afford the least relief. Why indulge in false worship?

58. There is not a population but We shall destroy it before the Day of Judgment or punish it with a dreadful Penalty:(2244) that is written in the (eternal) Record.

59. These are a commentary on the last clause of the last verse. "The Wrath of thy Lord is something to take heed of." The godless thoughtlessly challenge Allah's Wrath, but do they realise its nature? Even the best of us must be moved with terror when we think of its consequences, were it not for His unbounded Mercy. Those who deny the Hereafter fail to realise its terrible dread. They ask for Portents and Miracles now, but do they realise that their coming means destruction and misery to those who reject faith? They will come soon enough. And the whole world will be convulsed before the Day of Judgment. The part of the wise is to prepare for it.

60. Behold! We said to the angels:(2251) "Bow down unto Adam": They bowed down except Iblis: He said, "Shall I bow down to one whom Thou hast created?" (2252) We said unto him, "Dost thou dispute with My Servant over that whereof I am the Lord?" He said, "I seek a portion of the Hour with My Lord." Allah ordained the Jinn and mankind under My sway - all but a few!" (2252)

59. And We refrain from sending the signs, only because the men of former generations treated them as false:(2245) We sent the She-camel(2246) to the Thamud to open their eyes, but they treated her wrongfully: We only send the Signs by way of terror (and warning from evil).(2247) infantry; mutually share with them wealth and children;(2257) and make promises to them." But Satan promises them nothing but deceit.(2258)

2254 'Do thy worst; but ye are both warned that that path leads to destruction.'

2255 Evil has many snares for mankind. The one that is put in the foreground is the voice-the seductive personal appeal, that 'makes the worse appear the better part.'

2257 If the first assaults are resisted, Evil has other weapons in its armoury. Tangible fruits are dangled before the eyes, ill-gotten gains and children of sin, that follow from certain very alluring methods of indulgence in passion. Or it may be children dedicated to sin or worldly gains, etc. And then there are all kinds of promises for the future.

2258 This is a parenthetical clause inserted to show up what the promises of the Evil One are worth.

65. "As for My servants,(2259) no authority shalt thou have over them:" Enough is thy Lord for a Disposer of affairs.(2260)

2259 This verse should be read along with the two preceding ones to complete their meaning. Evil has no power except over those who yield to its solicitations.

2260 As Evil has no authority over the sincere servants of Allah, they should put their trust completely in Him. For He is All-Sufficient to carry out their affairs, and by His grace, to save them from all harm and danger.

66. Your Lord is He That maketh the Ship go smoothly for you through the sea, in order that ye may seek of His Bounty.(2261) For he is unto you most Merciful.

2261 This illustration of the sea, and the skill with which, by Allah's grace, men pass through it with ease in order to earn material gains by commerce, social gains by human intercourse, and spiritual gains by knowledge, is frequently used to enforce Allah's goodness to man.

67. When distress seizes you at sea, those that ye call upon - besides Himself - leave you in the lurch! but when He brings you back safe to land, ye turn away (from Him). Most ungrateful(2262) is man!

2262 Against Allah's gracious gifts and mercies is contrasted man's ingratitude. In danger he remembers Allah, the One True God, but relapses into his own fancies when the danger is past,. Cf. also 10:22-23. (R).

68. Do ye then feel secure that He will not cause you to be swallowed up beneath the earth(2263) when ye are on land, or that He will not send against you a violent tornado (with showers of stones) so that ye shall find no one to carry out your affairs for you?

2263 Man is safe neither on land nor at sea except by the grace and mercy of Allah. How forcibly this is brought home to us by the Quetta earthquake of 31st May 1935, when tens of thousands of men, women, and children, perished in a few moments, by night, buried in debris! The stories of violent destructive tornadoes in such areas as the southern United States are equally impressive. The destruction is so sudden that the victims have no time to arrange anything. They are simply wiped out.

69. Or do ye feel secure that He will not send you back a second time to sea and send against you a heavy gale to drown you because of your ingratitude,(2264) so that ye find no helper. Therein against Us?

2264 If a man flees from the Wrath of Allah, there is no place secure for him. He may flee from sea to land, and back again from land to sea. But his life depends on the Disposer of all affairs. He may go again and again to sea, and perhaps finally end by being drowned.

70. We have honoured the sons of Adam; provided them with transport on land and sea; given them for sustenance things good and pure; and conferred on them special favours, above a great part of Our Creation.(2265)

71. One day We shall call together all human beings with their (respective) Imams:(2266) those who are given their record in their right hand will read it (with pleasure), and they will not be dealt with unjustly in the least.(2267)

2266 I have discussed various meanings of Imam in 2:124, n, 124. What is the meaning here? The Commentators are divided. Some understand the meaning to be that each People or Group will appear with its Leader, who will bear witness to its virtuous or sins: Cf 16:84. Another view is that the Imam is their revelation, their Book. A third is that the Imam is the record of deeds spoken of in the next clause. I prefer the first.

2267 Literally, by the value of a fatal, a small skin in the cleft of a date stone: this has no value.

72. But those who were blind in this world, will be led in the Hereafter,(2268) and most astray from the Path.

2268 On the Judgement Day the children of light will receive and peruse their record, and will render joyful thanks to Allah for His Mercies. What of the children of darkness? They had already been blind in this world's life, and they will not receive the light of Allah's Countenance then. On the contrary they will find that the longer the time they have travelled, the farther away they have gone from the Path. Notice the association of ideas—blindness, not seeing the light, going farther and farther away from the Path.

73. And their purpose was to tempt thee away from that which We had revealed unto thee, to substitute in our name something quite different;(2269) (in that case), behold! they would certainly have made thee (their) friend!

2269 It happens with men of Allah, and it happened with the Prophet, that they are tempted by the world with many things which appeal to the world generally, if they would make some small concession in their favour. The "small concession" may hold the key of the position, and neutralise the whole teaching sent by Allah. If the Prophet had accepted wealth and position among the Quraysh and "only" become a fatil. A dishonest liar like Musaylama would have jumped at the opportunity and been haled as a friend and associate and made much of, But Prophets of Allah are made of sterner stuff. They are given special strength to resist all plausible deception. (R).

74. And had We not given thee strength, thou wouldst nearly have inclined to them(2270) a little.

2270 From a purely human point of view it may seem policy to make a small concession to men's weakness in order to fulfil a divine mission. But the divine Messenger is given special strength to resist such temptations.

75. In that case We should have made thee taste an equal portion(2271) (of punishment) in this life, and an equal portion in death: and moreover thou wouldst have found none to help thee against Us!(2272)

2271 If such a thing was possible for a true Messenger of Allah, viz: a compromise with evil and a dereliction of his mission, he would be no exception to the law of personal responsibility. Indeed, as the power and the responsibility were greater, the punishment would have been greater too. It would have been double-an exposure in this life and the usual punishment in the other death for a desertion of the Truth.

2272 The motive held out by the world for a compromise with Truth is itself fallacious. The motive is that the compromise may bring influence, position, and opportunity, if not wealth and the other good things of life. But these in themselves (if attained) would not be of use or help if pitted against the command of Allah.
76. Their purpose was to scare thee off the land. (2273) in order to expel thee; but in that case they would not have stayed (therein) after thee, except for a little while.

2273 As happened in the case of the Prophet, the enemies try to frighten the Prophet of Allah away from their midst, so that, once away, they could expel him and keep him out. But they are counting without the Plan of Allah. If they persecute the righteous, they dig their own graves! (R).

77. This was Our way with the messengers We sent before thee: thou wilt find no change in Our ways. (2274)

2274 This was no new thing in history. Allah protects His own, and the ungodly cannot long enjoy the fruits of their unrighteousness even if their punishment be delayed a little while.

78. Establish regular prayers - (2275) at the sun’s decline till the darkness of the night, and the morning prayer and reading: for the prayer and reading in the morning carry their testimony. (2276)

2275 The Commentators understand here the command for the five daily canonical prayers, viz.: the four from the declaration of the sun from the zenith to the fullest darkness of the night, and the early morning prayers, Fajr, which is usually accompanied by a reading of the Holy Qur'an. The four afternoon prayers are: Zuhr, immediately after the sun begins to decline in the afternoon; 'Asr, in the late afternoon; Maghrib, immediately after sunset; and Isha, after the glow of sunset has disappeared and the full darkness of the night has set in. There is difference of opinion as to the meaning of particular words and phrases, but none as to the general effect of this passage. (Cf. n. 3521).

2276 The morning prayer is specially singled out for separate mention, because the morning is a "Holy hour" and special spiritual influences act on the soul awaking from the night’s rest. Special testimony is borne to the prayers of this hour by the angelic host.

79. And pray in the small watches of the morning: (it would be) (2277) an additional prayer (or spiritual profit) for thee: soon will thy Lord raise thee to a Station of Praise and Glory! (2278)

2277 This was held to be addressed specially to the Holy Prophet who usually prayed more than the five canonical prayers. The "Tasajjul" was a prayer after midnight in the small watches of the morning.

2278 To the Prophet was to be assigned in the Hereafter the highest Post of Honour and Glory— the Mansur Muhammad implying his excellence above all other Prophets. The immediate reference may be to the hope that the Makkkan persecution will soon be over and the glorious work in Madinah will begin. (R).

80. Say: "O my Lord! Let my entry be (2279) by the Gate of Truth and Honour, and likewise my exit by the Gate of Truth and Honour; and grant me from Thy Presence an authority to aid (me)." (2280)

2279 The entry and exit here referred to may be interpreted in four senses: (1) entry into death and exit at the resurrection for the righteous, who have purified their souls by prayer (fast verse) and spiritual teaching from the Qur'an (next verse), there is on each occasion a fuller and fuller realisation and enjoyment of truth and honour: for those who are estranged from Allah, the effect is the opposite: the truth becomes bitter and there is ignorance and exposure instead of honour; (2) entry for the Holy Prophet into the new life at Madinah which was still in the womb of mystery, and exit from the life of persecution and the milieu of falsehood, which surrounded him in his native city of Makkah still given up to idolatry; (3) referring to the impending Hijrah again, the prayer may mean, "Let it be from pure motives of truth and spiritual honour, and not from motives of anger against the city of Makkah or its persecutors, or of ambition or worldly power from the city of Madinah, which was ready to lay everything at the Prophet's feet!" (4) generally, entry and exit at every stage of life.

2280 All prayer must be for Allah's aid and authority. However much we may plan, our success must depend on His aid. However noble our motives, we have no right to imperil any lives unless there is authority in the Word of Allah. The Prophet only acts on Allah's commission and inspiration.

81. And say: "Truth has (now) arrived, and Falsehood perished: for Falsehood is (by its nature) bound to perish." (2281)

2281 From its nature falsehood must perish: for it is the opposite of Truth, and Truth must ever prevail. (Cf. n. 3861).
89. And We have explained to man, in this Qur'an, every kind of similitude: (2290) yet the greater part of men refuse (to receive it) except with ingratitude! (2291)

2290 In the Qur'an everything is explained in detail from various points of view, by commands, similitudes, examples, stories, parables, etc. It does not merely narrate stories or lay down vague abstract propositions. It gives very detailed help in outward and inner life.

2291 One form in which it can be received with ingratitude is to pay verbal tribute to it but not study it as it ought to be studied (2:121: haqqath al-mawalihtah, or to disobey its precepts or standards.

90. They say: "We shall not believe in thee, until thou cause a spring to gush forth for us from the earth. (2292)

2292 CE 2:50.

91. "Or (until) thou have a garden of date trees and vines, and cause rivers to gush forth in their midst, carrying abundant water; (2293)

2293 This ill-assorted and crude jumble of the sort of miracles which the Unbelievers wanted is in very appropriate contrast to the sober and reasoned argument which is begun in the last sentence of verse 95 and continued in sections 11 and 12, which close this Surah. It is throughout reminiscent of the materialistic imagination of the Jewish sceptics, which was mainly responsible for the fall of the Jewish nation (see verse 104 below). For a thirty people sojourning in a dry land, the finding of a spring of water as in the story of Moses or of the well of Zamzam is an appropriate miracle. But miracles are not for the faithless crowds to gape at. A beautiful well-watered Garden is a symbol of Felicity; but a sceptic cannot order down a book of parchment which men could handle, are all irreverent suggestions that make no distinction between spiritual and material things.

92. "Or thou cause the sky to fall in pieces, as thou sayest (will happen), against us; (2294) or thou bring Allah and the angels before (us) face to face; (2295)

2294 Contrast the sublime passages with 82:1, or that in 25:25, where the final breaking up of the firmaments as we know is referred to in the world's catastrophe, with the ridiculous demand that it should be done for the sport of the sceptics.

2295 CE 2:53 and 4:138 about the desire of the Israelites to see Allah face to face; and 6:20, about angels coming down to convince men.

93. "Or thou have a house adorned with gold, or thou mount a ladder right into the skies. (2296) No, we shall not even believe in thy mounting until thou send down to us a book that we can read." (2297) Say: "Glory to my Lord! Am I aught but a man,- a messenger?" (2298)

2296 CE 6:35 about the ladder in the skies.

2297 CE 6:67 for the foolish idea of materialistic sceptics that a spiritual revelation could come down from the heavens on a piece of parchment that they can touch.

2298 A prophet or messenger of Allah is a man at the command of Allah, and not to satisfy the disingenuous whims and fancies of Unbelievers. Miracles greater than any that their foolish fancies could devise were before them. The Qur'an was such a miracle, and it is a standing miracle that lasts through the ages. Why did they not believe? The real reason was quite and jealousy like that of Bala. See next verse.

94. What kept men back from belief when Guidance came to them, was nothing but this: they said, "Has Allah sent a man (2299) (like us) to be (His) Messenger?" (2299)

2299 When a man is raised to honour and dignity, his brothers rejoice, for it is an honour that reflects its glory on them. But those with evil in their hearts are jealous like their prototype Bala (17:61, n. 2251). To such men the mere fact that their own brother receives the grace of Allah is enough to turn them against that brother. Any other reasons they may devise are mere make-believe.

95. Say, "If there were settled, on earth, angels walking about (2300) in peace and quiet, We should certainly have sent them down from the heavens an angel for a messenger."

2300 The argument is that if the angels inhabited this earth, an angel from heaven could be sent down as a messenger to them, as they could mutually understand each other, and the Message of Allah could be explained without difficulty. But the earth is inhabited by men, and the men themselves are divided into races, or groups, or nations. To each group is sent a prophet from among their brethren: to Ad, their brother Hud (11:39); to Thamud, their brother Salih (11:101); and so on. As a matter of fact, with wicked men, constituted as they are, the appearance of an angel causes disturbance and an unseemly riot, as in the case of the angels that came to Lot (11:77-80). In any case they cannot carry out an effective mission among men (8:9).

96. Say: "Enough is Allah for a witness between me (2301) and you: for He is well acquainted with His servants, and He sees (all things).

2301 If you want a real witness, it is not these sorts of fancy miracles, but the witness of the true ever-living God. Purify your hearts, and ask Him in true contrition and repentance, and He will guide you and show you the Way." (R).

97. It is he whom Allah guides, that is on true Guidance; but he whom He leaves astray - for such wilt thou find no protector besides Him. (2302) On the Day of Judgment We shall gather them together, prone on their faces, blind, dumb, and deaf: their abode will be Hell: every time it shows abatement, We shall increase from them the fierceness of the Fire. (2303)

2302 All your insinuance subtleties are of no use. The only real guidance is the guidance of Allah. If you do not seek His grace, you will be lost. Besides Him, there is no true friend or protector.

2303 If you still persist in your evil ways, what is to be your evil end? You will become more and more identified with the company of Evil. You will come to shame and ignominy, like men thrown down prone on their faces. You will lose the use of all the faculties of judgement with which Allah had endowed you. Instead of seeing, you will be blind to Allah's Signs. Instead of having the power of seeking Him in prayer and rejoicing in His grace, you will be dumb. Instead of hearing the harmony and music of the spheres, as typified in the pure and harmonious lives of men, you will hear nothing or only hear dull or confused sounds like deaf men. The scorching fire of your punishment will not grow less, but grow more fierce as you go deeper into Hell.

98. That is their recompense, because they rejected Our signs, and said, "When we are reduced to bones and broken dust, should we really be raised up (to be) a new Creation?" (2304)

2304 This phrase is repeated from 17:49. The reminiscence rounds off the argument. After certain moral precepts to which Faith was linked, we have had a discussion of unfaith. Its various motives have been analysed, and its penalties have been allegorically shadowed forth. After this, the example of Pharaoh is held as a type of unfaith in the next section, and the Surah closed with an exhortation to faith and a declaration of the glory of Allah.

99. See they not that Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth, has power to create the like of them (2305) (anew)? Only He has decreed a term appointed, of which there is no doubt. But the unjust refuse (to receive it) except with ingratitude. (2306)

2305 Allah, Who created all that is in the heavens and on earth, has surely the power to receive the life of individual souls after their bodies have perished and revive them with memories of their past life and for a continuation of their spiritual history. Only He has fixed a term for each stage of our existence, which we can neither prolong nor shorten.

2306 This phrase carries us back to 17:89, after we began the argument about the real motives for the rejection of the Qur'an by sceptics. That argument is now closed in a sort of minor circle within the major circle sketched in n. 2304 above.

100. Say: "If ye had control of the Treasures of the Mercy of my Lord, behold, ye would keep them back, for fear of spending them: for man is (ever) miserly!" (2307)
A fresh argument is now addressed to those who confine Allah's revelations to a limited circle of men, such as they themselves belonged to. The reference was to the Jews, who could not understand how any Gentiles could receive revelations and guidance even superior to what they considered their own birthright. But the tendency is widespread in the human race. A particular race, or caste, or a particular kind of culture, claims to be the custodian of Allah's Message, whereas it is universal. Allah's Mercy is universal, and He scatters the priceless Treasures of His Mercy broadcast among His creatures. There are not exhausted by spending. It is only the rulers who hoard their wealth for fear it should be used up by spending. 'Are you spiritual misers going to keep back Allah's holy Message from the multitude? Is that the reason why you deny the advent of the new Teacher, who comes as a Mercy to all men to all Creation?''

101. To Moses We did give Nine Clear Sings:(2308) As the Children of Israel: when he came to them,(2309) Pharaoh said to him: "O Moses! I consider thee, indeed, to have been worked upon by sorcery!(2310)

2308 Nine Clear Signs; see 7:118, n. 1091. The story of Pharaoh (or a phase of it) is here told with a view to exhibiting the decline of a soul on account of pride in outward power and dignity.

2309 To them: i.e., to Pharaoh, as sitting in his Council, with the Chiefs of his People. Cf. 7:183. The whole scene is described in some detail from the point of view of nations or Ummahs in 7:103-103.

2310 At a different and later stage in the scene, Pharaoh's Chief calls Moses a "sorcerer well-versed" (7:109). Here Moses, who had come with Nine Signs but had not yet shown them, is reproached with being the object of sorcery: he is practically told that he is mad!

102. Moses said, "Thou knowest well that these things have been sent down by none but the Lord of the heavens and the earth as eye-opening(2311) evidence: and I consider thee, indeed, O Pharaoh, to be one doomed to destruction!"

2311 We can well suppose Moses to ask Pharaoh to recall all the past history of Moses, for Moses had been brought up in Pharaoh's palace in all the learning of the Egyptians. He could not therefore be mad, or a simpleton worked on by Egyptian magic. What he was going to show was something far greater; it was not the deceptive magic of Pharaoh's sorcerers, but true Signs that came from Allah, the Lord of all power. They were to open the eyes of his people, and if Pharaoh resisted faith, Moses warns him that Pharaoh in that case was doomed to destruction. This is the course of the soul that sinks down by Pride! (R).

103. So he resolved to remove them(2312) from the face of the earth: but We did drown him and all who were with him.

2312 Pharaoh on this tries various subterfuges and plans for removing not only Moses but all those people by doing away with them. The detailed story is not told here but may be read in S. 7. But Allah's Wrath descended on Pharaoh and those who were with him in body and mind. The Egyptians who repented were subject to Pharaoh's wrath but were saved from the Wrath of Allah (Cf. 7:121-129).

104. And We said thereafter to the Children of Israel, "Dwell securely in the land(2313) (of promise): but when the second of the warnings came to pass, We gathered you together in a mingled crowd.(2314)

2313 The Israelites were taken to the Promised Land in Palestine, and they established their own kingdom there, but they forfeited Allah's favour by their sins and backslidings and will have to answer like all souls by the laws of personal responsibility at the Day of Judgement.

2314 The second of the warnings: the first was probably that mentioned above, in 17:5 and the second that mentioned in 17:7 (middle). When this second warning due to the rejection of Jesus came to pass, the Jews were gathered together in a mingled crowd. Some commentators understand the second warning to be the Day of Judgement, the Promise of the hereafter. (R).

105. We sent down the (Qur' an) in Truth, and in Truth(2315) it has descended: and We sent thee but to give Glad Tidings and to warn (sinners).(2316)

2315 The Qur'an was sent down by Allah in Truth: it was not forged by any mortal. It has descended in Truth: it was not falsified or corrupted in the process of being communicated to mankind.

2316 The part of the Prophet was that of a Messenger: he was not responsible if the ungodly rejected it. He fulfilled his mission in pronouncing and explaining it and leaving it as a legacy to the world.

106. (It is) a Qur' an which We have divided (into parts from time to time), in order that thou mightest recite it to men at intervals: We have revealed it by stages.(2317)

2317 The marvel is that these parts, revealed at different times and in different circumstances, should fit together so closely and consistently as they do. All revelation is progressive. The previous revelations were also progressive. Each of them marked a stage in the world's spiritual history. Man's mind does not take in more than his spiritual state will have prepared him for. Allah's revelation comes as a light to illuminate our difficulties and show us the way in actual situations that arise.

107. Say: "Whether ye believe in it or not, it is true that those who were given(2318) knowledge beforehand, when it is recited to them, fall down on their faces in humble prostration, 2318 No one's belief or unbelief affects the beauty or grandeur of Allah's revelation. But those endowed with spiritual knowledge or insight know at once when they hear Allah's Holy Word, and fall down and adore Allah. Those endowed with knowledge include those who had received previous revelations and had kept themselves free from corrupt ideas.

108. "And they say: 'Glory to our Lord! Truly has the promise of our Lord been fulfilled!'" (2319)

2319 Those who had received previous revelations find in the Qur'an and in the Messenger who brought it, the promise of Allah fulfilled. Those who were spiritually prepared for it found in the same way the satisfaction of their spiritual yearnings: to them, also, Allah's promise was sent to be fulfilled.

109. They fall down on their faces in tears, and it increases their (earnest) humility.(2320)

2320 A feeling of earnest humility comes to the man who realises how, in spite of his own unworthiness, he is brought, by Allah's Mercy, into touch with the most sublime Truths. Such a man is touched with the deepest emotion, which finds its outlet in tears.

110. Say: "Call upon Allah, or call upon Al Rahman:(2321) by whatever name ye call upon Him, (it is well); for to Him belong the Most Beautiful Names.(2322) Neither speak thy Prayer aloud, nor speak it in a low tone,(2323) but seek a middle course between."

2321 Cf. 7:180. Rahman describes one of the attributes of Allah—His Grace and Mercy which come to the sinner even before he feels conscious of the need of it: the preventive Grace which saves Allah's servants from sin. See n. 19 to 1:1. Allah can be invoked, either by His simple name, which includes all attributes, or by one of the names implying the attributes by which we try to explain His nature to our limited understanding. The attribute of Mercy in Rahman was particularly repugnant to the Pagan Arabs (see 5:59, and 21:30): that is why special stress is laid on it in the Qur'an. (R).

2322 Cf. 20:8. These Beautiful Names of Allah are many. The Hadith related by Tirmidhi, accepted by some as authentic, mentions 99 names of Allah. Qadi Muhammad Sulaiman has published an Urdu monograph on the subject, published by the Dafar Rahmatul-lil-Mannan, Patiala, India, 1930. Those who wish to see a poetic Commentary on the names in the form of stories in English may consult Sir Edwin Arnold's Truth of the Faith. Sir Edw-in's stories are of unequal merit, but a fine example is furnished by No. 4, al-Malik, "The King," (R).

2323 Cf. 7:205. All prayer should be pronounced with earnestness and humility, whether it be congregational prayer or the private outpouring of one's own soul. Such an attitude is not consistent with an over-loud pronunciation of the words, though in public prayers the standard of permissible loudness is naturally higher than in the case of private prayer. In public prayers, of course, the inshallah or call to prayer will be in a loud voice to be heard near and far, but the chants from the Sacred Book should be neither so loud as to attract the hostile notice of those who do not believe nor so low in tone as not to be heard by the whole congregation.

111. Say: "Praise be to Allah, who begets no son, and has no partner in (His) dominion: Nor (needs) He any to
18. Al Kahf (The Cave)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Praise be to Allah, (2325) Who hath sent to His Servant the Book, and hath allowed therein no Crookedness: (2326)

   Qayyim: A first step towards the understanding of Allah's attributes is to clear our mind from superstitions, such as that Allah begot a son, or that He has partners, or that He is dependent upon other beings to protect Him from harm and humiliation. We must realise that He is the One and Peerless. His greatness and glory are above anything we can conceive; but using our highest spiritual ideas, we must declare forth His greatness and glory. The Surah began with singing the glory and praises of Allah; it ends in the same note, concluding the argument. The next Surah takes up the same theme from another point of view, and opens with the same note, 'Praise be to Allah'. (R).

2. (He hath made it) Straight (2327) (and Clear) in order that He may warn those (also) who say, "(Allah) hath begotten a son"; (2329)

   Qayyim: The attribution of a son 'begotten' to Allah has no basis in fact or in reason. It is only a 'word' or 'saying' that issues out of their mouths. It is not even a dogma that is reasoned out or can be explained in any way that is consistent with the sublime attributes of Allah. (R).

6. Thou wouldst only, perchance, fret thyself to death, following after them, in grief, (2331) if they believe not in this Message.

7. That which is on earth we have made but as a glittering show for the earth, (2332) in order that We may test them - as to which of them are best in conduct.

8. Verily what is on earth we shall make but as dust and dry soil (without growth or herbage). (2333)

9. Or dost thou reflect (2334) that the Companions of the Cave (2335) and of the Inscription (2336) were wonders among Our Sign?

   Qayyim: This world's goods-worldly power, glory, wealth, position, and all that men scramble for are but a fleeting show. The possession or want of them does not betoken a man's real value or position in the spiritual world, the world which it is to endure. Yet they have their uses. They test a man's sterling quality. He who becomes their slave loses rank in the spiritual world. He who uses them if he gets them, and does not fall into despair if he does not get them, shows his true merit and quality. His conduct proclaims him.

   See n. 2324 to 17:111. The theme of the last Surah, that Allah is good and worthy of all praise from His creatures, to whom He has granted a clear revelation, is continued in this Surah. The spirit of man makes gradual progress upwards, through the grace and mercy of Allah.
10. Behold, the youths betook themselves (2337) to the Cave; they said, "Our Lord! bestow on us Mercy from Thyself, and dispose of our affair for us in the right way!" (2338)

2337 The bare Christian story (without the spiritual lessons taught in the Qur'an) is told in Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire (vol. of chapter 33). In the reign of a Roman Emperor who persecuted the Christians, seven Christian youths of Ephesus left the town and hid themselves in a cave in a mountain near by. They fell asleep, and remained asleep for some generations or centuries. When the wall which sealed up the caves was being demolished, the youths awoke. They still thought of the world in which they had previously lived. They had no idea of the duration of time. But when one of them went to the town to purchase provisions, he found that the whole world had changed. The Christian religion, instead of being persecuted was fashionable; in fact it was now the State religion. His dress and speech, and the money which he brought, seemed to belong to another world. This attracted attention. The great ones of the land visited the Cave, and verified the tale by questioning the man's Companions.

When the story became very popular and circulated throughout the Roman Empire, we may suppose that an Inscription was put up at the mouth of the Cave, See verse 9 and n. 2336. inscription was probably to be seen for many years afterwards, as Ephesus was a famous city on the west coast of Asia Minor, about forty to fifty miles south Smyrna. Later on, the Caliph al Wathiq (842-846 A.C.) sent an expedition to examine and identify the locality, as he did about Dhu al Qarnayn barrier in Central Asia (Appendix VI at the end of this Surah).

A popular story circulating from mouth to mouth would necessarily be vague as to details and vary very much in details. Somewhere about the 6th century A.C. a Syrian writer reduced it to writing. He supposed that the youths were seven in number; that they went to sleep in the reign of the Emperor Decius (who reigned from 249-251 A.C., and who was a violent persecutor of Christians); and that they awoke in the reign Theodosius II, who reigned from 408 to 450 A.C. In our literature Decius is known as Daquinus (from the adjective Latin from Dacianus), and the name stands as a symbol of injustice and oppression, and also of things old fashioned and out-of-date, as rex derianae must have been two to three centuries after Decius.

2338 The youths hid in the cave, but they trusted in Allah, and made over their whole case to Him in prayer. Then they apparently fell asleep and knew nothing of what was happening in the world outside.

11. Then We draw (a veil) (2339) over their ears, for a number of years, in the Cave, (so that they heard not):

2339 Draw (a veil) over their ears i.e., sealed their ears so that they heard nothing. As they were in the Cave they saw nothing. So they were completely cut off from all the variations that were current, and rebuked men for disputing about such details (16:22). Most important, he treated the story (under inspiration) as a parable, pointing to spiritual lessons of the highest value. This is Revelation in the highest sense of the term. The story is recapitulated in n. 2337 below.

12. Then We roused them, (2340) in order to test which of the two parties was best (2341) at calculating the term of years they had tarried!:

2340 Roused them; or raised them up from their sleep or whatever condition they had fallen into (18:18), so that they began to perceive the things around them, but only with the memories of the time at which they had ceased to be in touch with the world.

2341 When they awoke to consciousness, they had lost all count of time. Though they had all entered together, and lain together on the same place for the same length of time, their impressions of the time that had passed were quite different. Time is thus related to our own internal experiences. We have to learn the lesson that men as good as ourselves may yet differ as to their reactions to certain facts, and that in such matters disputes are unseemly. It is best to say, 'Allah knows best' (18:19).

13. We relate to thee their story in truth: they were youths who believed in their Lord, and We advanced them in guidance: (2342)

2342 Their Faith carried them higher and higher on the road to Truth. Faith is cumulative. Each step leads higher and higher, by the grace and mercy of Allah.

14. We gave strength to their hearts: (2343) Behold, they stood up (2344) and said: "Our Lord is the Lord of the heavens and of the earth: never shall we call upon any god other than Him: if we did, we should indeed have uttered an enormity!"

2344 So that they were not afraid to speak out openly, and protest the truth of the Unity which they clearly saw in their own minds and hearts.

15. "These our people have taken (2345) for worship gods other than Him: why do they not bring forward an authority clear (and convincing) for what they do? Who doth more wrong than such as invent a falsehood against Allah.

2345 Besides the heathen gods, the cult of the Emperors also became fashionable in the Roman Empire in the first three centuries of the Christian Era. The name of Diana (Artemis) of Ephesus had been one of the wonders of the ancient world. The city was a great seaport and the capital of Roman Asia. We may therefore imagine how the heathen cults must have flourished there. St. Paul spent three years preaching there, and was mobbed and assailed, and compelled to leave (Acts, 15:1-9).

16. "When ye turn away from them and the things they worship other than Allah, betake yourselves to the Cave: Your Lord will shower His mercies on you and disposes of your affair towards comfort and ease." (2346)

2346 That is, 'do not be afraid of anything; put your whole case in the hands of Allah; at present you are being persecuted; he will solve your difficulties and give you ease and comfort.' The public protest ends at verse 15. In verse 16 they are taking counsel among themselves. After they go into the Cave, verse 17 introduces us to the scene where they are lying in the midst of the Cave in tranquil confidence in Allah.

17. Thou wouldst have seen the sun, when it rose, declining to the right (2347) from their Cave, and when it set, turning away from them to the left, while they lay in the open space in the midst of the Cave. Such are among the Signs of Allah. He whom Allah guides (2348) is rightly guided; but he whom Allah leaves to stray, - for him wilt thou find no protector to lead him to the Right Way.

2347 In the latitude of Ephesus, 38° north, i.e. well above the sun's northern declination, a cave opening to the north, would never have the heat of the sun within it, as the sunny side would be the south. If the youths lay on their backs with their faces looking to the north, i.e. towards the entrance of the Cave, the sun would rise on their right side, declining to the south, and set on their left sides leaving them cool and comfortable.

2348 The youths, having faith and trust in Allah, found safety and refuge in the Cave. They were protected from the persecution and violence of the heathen. Their prayer (18:16) was heard.
19. Such (being their state), we raised them up (from sleep), that they might question(2352) each other. Said one of them, "How long have ye stayed (here)?"

They said, "We have stayed (perhaps) a day, or part of a day."

(At length) they (all) said, "(Allah) (alone) knows best how long ye have stayed here.....

Now send ye then one of you with this money of yours(2353) to the town: let him find out which is the best(2354) food (to be had) and bring some to you, that (ye may) satisfy your hunger therewith: And let him behave with care and courtesy, and let him not inform any one about you.

20. "For if they should come upon you, they would stone you or force(2355) you to return to their cult, and in that case ye would never attain prosperity."(2356)

21. Thus(2357) did We make their case known to the people, that they might know that the promise of Allah is true, and that there can be no doubt about the Hour of Judgment. Behold, they dispute among themselves(2358) as to their affair. (Some) said, "Construct a building over them": Their Lord knows best about them: those who prevailed over their affair said, "Let us surely build a place of worship over them."

22. (Some) say they were three, the dog being the fourth among them; (others) say they were five, the dog being the sixth,- doubtfully guessing at the unknown;(2359) (yet others) say they were seven, the dog being the eighth. Say thou: "My Lord knoweth best their number; It is but few that know(2360) their (real case)."

Enter not, therefore, into controversies concerning them, except on a matter that is clear,(2361) nor consult any of them about (the affair of) the Sleepers.(2362)

23. Nor say of anything, "I shall be sure to do so and so tomorrow"-

24. Without adding, "So please Allah."(2363) and call thy Lord to mind when thou forgettest, and say, "I hope that my Lord will guide me ever closer (even) than this to the right road."(2364)

25. So they stayed in their Cave three hundred years, and (some) add nine (more)(2365)

26. Say: "(Allah) knows best how long they stayed: with Him is (the knowledge of) the secrets of the heavens and the earth: how clearly He sees, how finely He Hears (everything)! They have no protector(2366) other than Him; nor does He share His Command with any person whatsoever.(2367)

27. And recite (and teach) what has been revealed to thee of the Book of thy Lord: none can change His Words,(2368) and none wilt thou find as a refuge other than Him.

28. And keep thy soul content with those who call on their Lord morning and evening, seeking(2369) His Face; and let not thine eyes pass beyond them, seeking the pomp and glitter of this Life; no obey any whose heart We have permitted to neglect the remembrance of Us, one who follows his own desires, whose case has gone beyond all bounds.\(2370\)

\(2370\) Cf. 6:52 and n. 870. The true servants of Allah are those whose hearts are turned to Him morning, noon, and night, and who seek not worldly gain, but Allah's Grace, Allah's own Self, His presence and nearness. "Face" is the symbol of Personality or Self. Even if they are poor in this world's goods, their society gives far more inward and spiritual satisfaction than worldly grandeur or worldly attraction.

\(3874\) For those who stray from Allah's path, Allah's Grace is ever anxious: it seeks to reclaim them and bring them back to the path. If such a one resists, and follows his own lusts, a point is reached when his case becomes hopeless. Allah's Grace does not then reach him, and he is abandoned to his pride and insolence. Beware of following the example or advice of such a one or seeking his society, or flattering after his wretched idols.

29. Say, "The truth is from your Lord": Let him who will believe, and let him who will, reject (it):\(2371\) for the wrong-doers We have prepared a Fire whose (smoke and flames), like the walls and roof of a tent, will hem them in: if they implore relief they will be granted and flames), like the walls and roof of a tent, will hem them in: if they implore relief they will be granted, and if they implore recompense! How beautiful a couch to recline will recline therein on raised thrones. How good the garments\(2373\) of fine silk and heavy brocade: They rivers will flow; they will be adorned therein with green is the colour mentioned, the most beautiful clothes to wear; green is the colour mentioned, the most beautiful clothes to wear; the finest and most costly ornaments; the most beautiful clothes to wear; green is the colour mentioned, because it is the most refreshing to the eye, and fits in well with the Garden; the wearer takes the choice of fine silk or heavy brocade; and for rest and comfort, high thrones of dignity on which the blessed ones recline.

30. As to those who believe and work righteousness, verily We shall not suffer to perish the reward of any who do a (single) righteous deed.\(2372\)

\(2372\) Our choice in our limited Free will involves a corresponding personal responsibility. We are offered the Truth: again and again it is pressed on our attention. If we reject it, we must take all the terrible consequences which are prefigured in the Fire of Hell. Its flames and roof will completely enclose us like a tent. Ordinarily there is water to quench the heat of thirst; here the only drink will be like molten brass, thick, heavy, burning, sizzling. Before it reaches the mouth of the unfortunates, drops of it will scald their faces as it is poured out.

31. For them will be Gardens of Eternity; beneath them rivers will flow; they will be adorned therein with bracelets of gold, and they will wear green garments\(2373\) of fine silk and heavy brocade: They will recline therein on raised thrones. How good the recompense! How beautiful a couch to recline on!\(2374\)

32. Set forth to them the parable of two men: for one of them We provided two gardens of grape-vines and surrounded them with date palms; in between the two We placed cornfields.\(2375\)

\(2375\) Here is a simple parable of the contrast between two men. One was pure-hearted, and forgot that what he had was from Allah, by way of a trust and a trial in this life. The other boasted of nothing; his trust was in Allah. The worldly wealth of the first was destroyed, and he had nothing left. The second was the happier in the end.

33. Each of those gardens brought forth its produce, and failed not in the least therein: in the midst of them We caused a river to flow.
foundations, and he could only say, "Woe is me! Would I had never ascribed partners to my Lord and Cherisher!"(2383)

2383 Fruit, spear, twining of the hands, should all be understood in a wide metaphorical sense, as well as the literal sense. He had great income and satisfaction, which were all gone. What resources he had lavished on his property! His thoughts had been engrossed on it; his hopes had been built on it; it had become the absorbing passion of his life, if he had only looked to Allah, instead of to the ephemeral goods of this world!

2383 In this case, in his mind, there was his own Self and his Mammon as rivals to Allah!

43. Nor had he numbers to help him against Allah, nor was he able to deliver himself.(2384)

2384 He had built up connections and obligated dependents, and was proud of having his 'quiver full'. But where were all things when the reckoning came? He could not help himself; how could others be expected to help him?

44. There, the (only) protection comes from Allah, the True One. He is the Best to reward, and the Best to give success.(2385)

2385 All else is vanity, uncertainty, the sport of Time. The only hope or until is from Allah. Other rewards, and other success are illusory; the best Reward and the best Success come from Allah.

45. Set forth to them the similitude of the life of this world: It is like the rain which we send down from the skies: the earth's vegetation absorbs it, but soon it becomes dry stubble, which the winds(2386) do scatter: it is (only) Allah who prevails over all things.

2386 Rainwater is a good thing in and of itself, but it does not last, and you can build no solid foundations on it. It is soon absorbed in the earth, and produces the flourishing appearance of grass and vegetation- for a time. Soon these decay, and become as dry stubble, which the least wind from any quarter will blow about like a thing of no importance. The water is gone, and so is the vegetation which it lent a brave show of luxuriance temporarily. Such is the life of this world, contrasted with the inner and real Life, which looks to the Hereafter. Allah is the only enduring Power we can look to, supreme over all.

46. Wealth and sons are allurements of the life of this world: But the things that endure, good deeds, are best in the sight of thy Lord, as rewards, and best as (the foundation for) hopes.(2387)

2387 Other things are fleeting: but Good Deeds have a lasting value in the sight of Allah. They are best as for joy in rewards in two ways: (1) they flow from us by the Grace of Allah, and are themselves rewards for our Faith; (2) they become the foundation of our hopes for the highest spiritual rewards in the Hereafter (Cf. 19:76).

47. One Day We shall remove the mountains, and thou wilt see the earth as a level stretch,(2388) and We shall gather them, all together, nor shall We leave out any one of them.

2388 On the Day of Judgement none of our present landmarks will remain.

48. And they will be marshalled before thy Lord in ranks, (with the announcement), "Now have ye come to Us (bare) as We created you(2389) first: aye, ye thought We shall not fulfil the appointment made to you to meet (Us)!":(2390)

2389 Personal responsibility, for all deeds in this life, will then be enforced. But it will be done with perfect justice. Expressed in the forms of this world, it will amount to a clear statement of all we did in this life: the record will be put before us to convince us. As it will be a perfect record, with no omissions and no wrong entries, it will be perfectly convincing. Where there is punishment, it has been earned by the wrongdoer's own deeds, not imposed on him unjustly.

2390 Cf. 2:34, where the story is told of the fall of mankind through Adam. Here the point is referred to in order to bring home the individual responsibility of the erring soul. Iblis is your enemy: you have been told his history; will you prefer to go to him rather than to the merciful Allah, your Creator and Cherisher? What a false exchange you would make!

49. Will ye then take him and his progeny(2394) as protectors rather than Me? And they are enemies to you! Evil would be the exchange(2395) for the wrong-doers!

2391 Cf. 6:100, n. 929.

2394 Satan's progeny, we need not take the epithet only in a literal sense. All his followers are also his progeny. (R).

2395 Out of the limited free-will that man has, if he were to choose Evil instead of Good, Satan instead of Allah, what a dreadful choice it would be! It would really be an evil exchange. For man is Allah's creature, cared for and cherished by Him. He abandons his Cherisher to become the slave of his enemy!

51. I called them not to witness the creation of the heavens and the earth, nor (even) their own creation: nor is it for helpers such as Me to take as lead (men) astray!(2396)

2396 Allah wants man's good: how can He take Evil for His partner?

52. One Day He will say, "Call on those whom ye thought to be My partners," and they will call on them, but they will not listen to them; and We shall make for them a place of common perdition.(2397)

2397 Some Commentators construe: 'And We shall make a partition between them'; i.e., the Evil ones will not even be seen by their misguided followers, much as the latter may go on calling on them.

53. And the Sinful shall see the fire and apprehend that they have to fall therein: no means will they find to turn away therefrom.

54. We have explained in detail in this Qur'an, for the benefit of mankind, every kind of similitude: but man is, in most things,(2398) contentious.

2398 If men had not cultivated the habit of contention and obstinacy, they would have found that the parables and similitudes of Scripture had fully met their difficulties, and they would gladly have obeyed the call of Moli.

55. And what is there to keep back men from believing, now that Guidance has come to them, nor from praying for forgiveness from their Lord, but that (they ask that) the ways of the ancients be repeated(2399) with them, or the Wrath be brought to them face to face?

2399 But man's obstinacy or contrariness asks or calls for a repetition of what happened to the wicked and those who rejected Faith in ancient times. Out of curiosity, or by way of challenge, they seem to court the Punishment and ask that it be brought to pass at once. But it will come soon enough, and then they will think it too early! (Cf. 13:36 and n. 1810, and 27:46).

Q u r ’ a n

2405 The most probable geographical location (if any is required in a story that is a parable) is where the two arms of the Red Sea join together, viz., the Gulf of 'Aqabah and the Gulf of Suez. They enclose the Sinai Peninsula , in which Moses and the Israelites spent many years in their wanderings. There is also authority (see Baydawf's note) for interpreting the two seas as the two great streams of knowledge, which were to meet in the persons of Moses and Khidr.

56.

We only send the messengers to give Glad Tidings and to give warnings:(2400) But the unbelievers dispute with vain argument, in order therewith to weaken the truth, and they treat My Signs as a jest, as also the fact that they are warned!
2400 The Prophets of Allah are not sent to humour us with dialectics or satisfy the vulgar curiosity for miracles of dark unusual things. There is no "crookedness" (18:1) in their preaching. They come to preach the Truth-not in an abstract way, but with special reference to our conduct. They give us the good news of salvation lest we despair in the presence of Sin, and to warn us clearly of the dangers of Evil. Vain controversies about words only weaken their mission, or turn it into ridicule. The ungodly have a trick also of treating the earnest preaching to them itself as a jest and ridicule it. (R).

2406 Huqub means a long but indefinite space of time. Sometimes it is limited to 80 years.

61.

But when they reached the Junction,(2407) they forgot (about) their Fish,(2408) which took its course through the sea (straight) as in a tunnel.
2407 Literally, 'the Junction of (the space) between the two,' i e., the point at which the two seas were united.

57. And who doth more wrong than one who is reminded 2408 Moses was to go and find a servant of Allah, who would instruct him in such knowledge as he had not already got. He was to take a fish with him. The place where he was to meet his mysterious Teacher would be indicated by the fact that the fish would disappear when he got to that place. The fish is the emblem of the fruit of secular knowledge, which merges itself in divine knowledge at the point where human intelligence is ready for the junction of the two. But the mere merger of secular knowledge does not in itself produce divine knowledge- The latter has to be sought patiently.

of the Signs of his Lord, but turns away from them, forgetting the (deeds) which his hands(2401) have sent forth? Verily We have set veils over their hearts lest they should understand this, and over their ears, deafness, if thou callest them to guidance, even then will they never accept guidance.
2401 Considering the power of sin, and how it gets hold of the hearts of men, and considering all the wrongs that men have done, it is the height of folly and injustice on their part to turn away from warnings which are given expressly for their good.
But a stage of callousness is reached, when, by their own choice, they have rendered themselves impervious to Allah's Grace. At that stage a veil is put over their hearts and they are left alone for a time, that they may commune with themselves and perhaps repent and seek Allah's Mercy again. If they do not, it is their own loss. See next verse.

62.

When they had passed on (some distance), Moses said to his attendant: "Bring us our early meal; truly we have suffered much fatigue(2409) at this (stage of) our journey."
2409 When they came to the Junction of the Seas, Moses forgot about the fish, and his attendant forgot to tell him of the fact that he had seen the fish escaping into the sea in a marvellous way. They passed on, but the stages now became heavier and heavier, and more fatiguing to Moses. So when our old knowledge is exhausted, and we come to the brink of new knowledge, we have a feeling of strangeness, heaviness, and difficulty, especially when we want to pass the new knowledge by and do not make it our own. Some refreshment even if it be in our old traditional way, is required to sustain us. But we must retrace our steps, and seek the accredited repository of the knowledge which is our quest. It is our business to seek him out. We shall not find him without effort.

58.

But your Lord is Most forgiving, full of Mercy. If He were to call them (at once) to account for what they have earned, then surely He would have earned, then surely He would have hastened their punishment: but they have their appointed time, beyond which(2402) they will find no refuge.
2402 Min duni hi: should we take the pronoun to refer to "the appointed time", or to "your Lord," mentioned at the beginning of the verse? Most Commentators take the former view, and I have translated accordingly. But I agree with those who take the latter view, and the better translation would be: "But they have their appointed time, and except with Allah, they will find no refuge." That means that even during the period allowed them, when they are left to wander astray as they have rejected Allah's Grace, Allah's Mercy is open to them if they will repent and return; but nothing but Allah's Mercy can save them.

63. He replied: "Sawest thou (what happened) when we betook ourselves to the rock? I did indeed forget (about) the Fish: none but Satan made me forget to tell (you) about it:(2410) it took its course through the sea in a marvellous way!"

2410 The attendant actually saw the fish swimming away in the sea, and yet "forgot" to tell his master. In his case the "forgetting" was more than forgetting.
Inertia had made him refrain from telling the important news. In such matters inertia is almost as bad as active spite, the suggestion of Satan. So new knowledge or spiritual knowledge is not only passed by in ignorance, but sometimes by culpable negligence.

Such were the populations we destroyed when they committed iniquities; but we fixed an appointed time for their destruction.(2403) 2403 The instances of exemplary Punishment in former times were also subject to this rule, that Allah gives plenty of rope to the wicked, in case they might turn, repent, and obtain His Mercy.

60. Behold, Moses said(2404) to his attendant, "I will not give up until I reach the junction of the two(2405) seas or (until) I spend years and years in travel."(2406)
2404 This episode in the story of Moses is meant to illustrate four points. (1)
Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians. Even so that wisdom did not comprehend everything, even as the whole stock of the knowledge of the present day, the sciences and the arts, and in literature, (if it could be supposed to be gathered in one individual), does not include all knowledge. Divine knowledge, as far as man is concerned, is unlimited. Even after Moses received his divine mission, his knowledge was not so perfect that it could not receive further additions. (2) Constant effort is necessary to keep our knowledge square with the march of time, and such effort Moses is shown to be making. (3) The mysterious man he meets (18:65 and n. 2411), to whom Tradition assigns the name of Khidr (literally, Green), is the type of that knowledge which is ever in contact with life as it is actually lived. (4) There are paradoxes in life: apparent loss may be real gain; apparent cruelty maybe real mercy; returning good for evil may really be justice and not generosity (18:79-82). Allah's wisdom transcends all human calculation.
(R).

64. Moses said: "That was what we were seeking after:"

So they went back on their footsteps, following (the path they had come).

65.

So they found one(2411) of Our servants, on whom
We had bestowed Mercy from Ourselves and whom
We had taught knowledge from Our own(2412) Presence.

67. (The other) said: "Verily thou wilt not be able to have patience with me!"(2414)

68. "And how canst thou have patience about things about which thy understanding is not complete?"(2415)

69. Moses said: "Thou wilt find me, if Allah so will, (truly) patient: nor shall I disobey thee in aught."(2416)

70. The other said: "If then thou wouldst follow me, ask me no questions about anything until I myself speak to thee concerning it."

71. So they both proceeded: until, when they were in the boat, he scuttled it.(2417) Said Moses: "Hast thou scuttled it in order to drown those in it? Truly a strange thing hast thou done!"

72. He answered: "This is the parting between me and thee: now will I tell thee the interpretation of (those things) over which thou wast unable to hold patience.(2421)

73. Moses said: "Rebuke me not for forgetting, nor grieve me by raising difficulties in my case."

74. Then they proceeded: until, when they met a young man, he slew him.(2418) Moses said: "Hast thou slain an innocent person who had slain none? Truly a foul (unheard of) thing hast thou done!"

75. He answered: "Did I not tell thee that thou canst have no patience with me?"

76. (Moses) said: "If ever I ask thee about anything after this, keep me not in thy company: then wouldst thou have received (full) excuse from my side."

77. Then they proceeded: until, when they came to the inhabitants of a town, they asked them for food, but they refused them(2419) hospitality. They found there a wall on the point of falling down, but he set it up straight. (Moses) said: "If thou hadst wished, surely thou couldst have exacted some recompense for it!"(2420)

78. He answered: "This is the parting between me and thee: now will I tell thee the interpretation of (those things) over which thou wast unable to hold patience.(2421)

79. "As for the boat, it belonged to certain men in dire want: they plied on the water: I but wished to render it unserviceable, for there was after them a certain king who seized on every boat by force.(2422)

80. "As for the youth, his parents were people of Faith, and we feared that he would grieve them by obstinate rebellion and ingratitude (to Allah and man).(2423)

81. "So we desired that their Lord would give them in exchange (a son) better in purity (of conduct) and closer in affection.(2424)

82. "As for the wall, it belonged to two youths, orphans, in the Town; there was, beneath it, a buried treasure, and they refused them hospitality. They found there a wall on the point of falling down, but he set it up straight. (Moses) said: "If thou hadst wished, surely thou couldst have exacted some recompense for it!"(2420)

83. "As for the boat, it belonged to certain men in dire want: they plied on the water: I but wished to render it unserviceable, for there was after them a certain king who seized on every boat by force.(2422)

84. "As for the youth, his parents were people of Faith, and we feared that he would grieve them by obstinate rebellion and ingratitude (to Allah and man).(2423)

85. "So we desired that their Lord would give them in exchange (a son) better in purity (of conduct) and closer in affection.(2424)

86. "As for the wall, it belonged to two youths, orphans, in the Town; there was, beneath it, a buried treasure, and they refused them hospitality. They found there a wall on the point of falling down, but he set it up straight. (Moses) said: "If thou hadst wished, surely thou couldst have exacted some recompense for it!"(2420)
83. They ask thee concerning Dhu al Qarnayn.(2428)
Say, "I will rehearse to you something of his story."

2428 Literally, ‘the Two-horned One’, the King with the Two Horns, or the Lord of the Two Epochs. Who was he? In what age, and where did he live? The Qur’an gives us no material on which we can base a positive answer. Nor is it necessary to find an answer, as the story is treated as a Parable. Popular opinion identifies Dhu al Qarnayn with Alexander the Great. An alternative suggestion is an ancient Persian King, or a prehistoric Hunyarde King. See a brief account of the controversy in Appendix VI printed at the end of this Surah. Dhu al Qarnayn was a most powerful king, but it was Allah, Who, in His universal Plan, gave him power and provided him with the ways and means for his great work. His sway extended over East and West, and over people of diverse civilisations. He was just and righteous, not selfish or grasping. He protected the weak and punished the unlawful and the turbulent. Three of his expeditions are described in the text, each embodying a great ethical idea involved in the possession of kingship or power.

84. Verily We established his power on earth, and We gave him the ways and the means to all ends.(2429)

2429 Great was his power and great were his opportunities (ways and means), which he used for justice and righteousness. But he recognised that his power and opportunities were given to him as a trust by Allah. He had faith, and did not forget Allah.

85. One (such) way he followed,

86. Until, when he reached the setting of the sun,(2430) he found a People: We said: "O Zul-qarnain! (thou hast the power) in which my Lord has established me is better (than tribute):(2440) Help (people) do great mischief on earth: shall we punish him with a punishment unheard-of (people) do great mischief on earth: shall we punish him with a punishment unheard-of 2430 This is the first of the three episodes here mentioned, his expedition to the west. 'Reaching the setting of the sun' does not mean the extreme west, for there is no such thing. West and East are relative terms. It means a western expedition terminated by a 'spring of murky water.' This has puzzled Commentators, and they have understood this to mean the dark, tempestuous sea, If Dhu al Qarnayn is Alexander the Great, the reference is easily understood to be the Lychnitis (now Ochrida), west of Macedonia. It is fed entirely by underground springs in a limestone region, where the water is never very clear. (See Appendix VI at the end of the Surah.)

2431 He had great power and great opportunity. He got authority over a turbulent and unruly people. Was he going to be severe with them and chastise them, or was he going to seek peace at any price, i.e., to wait at violence and injustice so long as it did not affect his power? He chose the better course, as described in the next verse. To protect the weak and the innocent, he punished the guilty and the headstrong, but he remembered always that the true Punishment would come in the Hereafter—the true and final justice before the throne of Allah.

87. He said: "Whoever doth wrong, him shall we punish; then shall he be sent back(2432) to his Lord; and He will punish him with a punishment unheard-of (before).

2432 Though most powerful among kings, he remembered that his power was buttressed and given by Allah. His punishments were but tentative, to preserve the balance of this life as he could appraise it. Even if his punishment was capital (whether sent back to his Lord?) it was nothing compared to the dire consequences of sin, in the final Justice of Allah.

88. "But whoever believes, and works righteousness,— he shall have a goodly reward, and easy will be his task as We order it by our Command."(2433)

2433 He never said like Pharaoh, ‘I am your Lord Most High!’ (79:24). On the contrary, his punishments were humbly regulated as not being final, and he laid more stress on the good he could do to those who lived normal lives in faith and righteousness. His rule was easy to them: he imposed no heavy tasks because of his power, but gave every opportunity to rich and poor for the exercise of virtue and goodness. Such is the spiritual lesson to be learned from the first episode.

89. Then followed he (another) way, and the interstices filled up with molten lead, so as to form an impregnable mass of metal. It may be that there was a stone wall also, but that is not mentioned. There was none in the Iron Gate near Bukhara; see Appendix VI at the end of this Surah.

9442 Made it (ibn) as fire; what does "it" refer to? Probably to the iron, either in sheets or blocks, to be welded with molten lead.

97. Thus were they made powerless to scale it or to dig through it. (2443)

9443 The iron wall and gates and towers were sufficiently high to prevent their being scaled and sufficiently strong with welded metal to resist any attempt to dig through them.

98. He said: "This is a mercy from my Lord: (2444) But when the promise of my Lord comes to pass, He will make it into dust; and the promise of my Lord is true."

2444 After all the effort which Dhu al Qarnayn has made for their protection, he claims no credit for himself beyond that of discharging his duty as a ruler. He turns their attention to Allah, Who has provided the ways and means by which they can be helped and protected. But all such human precautions are apt to become futile. The time must come when they will crumble into dust. Allah has said so in His Revelation; and His word is true.

And so the spiritual lesson from the third episode is: Take human precautions and do all in your power to protect yourselves from evil. But no protection is complete unless you seek the help and grace of Allah. The best of our precautions must crumble to dust when the appointed Day arrives.

99. On that day We shall leave them to surge like waves on one another: (2445) the trumpet will be blown, and We shall collect them all together.

2445 The iron wall and gates and towers were sufficiently high to prevent their being scaled and sufficiently strong with welded metal to resist any attempt to dig through them.

100. And We shall present Hell that day for Unbelievers to see, all spread out. (2446)

2446 If men had scoffed at Faith and the Hereafter, their eyes will be opened now, and they will see the terrible Reality.

101. (Unbelievers) whose eyes had been under a veil from remembrance of Me, and who had been unable even to hear. (2447)

2447 Those very men who refused to see the many Signs of Allah which in this world convey His Message and to hear the Word of the Lord when it came to them, will then see without any mistake the consequences fully brought up before them.

102. Do the Unbelievers think that they can take My servants as protectors besides Me? Verily We have prepared Hell for the Unbelievers for (their) entertainment.

103. Say: "Shall we tell you of those who lose most in respect of their deeds? (2448)

2448 That is, those who prided themselves on their works in this life, and now find that those works are of no avail. Their loss is all the greater because they had a misplaced confidence in their own deeds or in the assistance of false 'protectors'. Allah is the only Protector: no one else's protection is of any use.

104. "Those whose efforts have been wasted in this life, while they thought that they were acquiring good by their works?" (2449)

2449 Many people have such a strong sense of self-righteousness that while they go on doing wrong, they think that they are acquiring merit. So, in charity, all the elements that make for outward show or selfishness (as to get some worldly advantage) nullify the deed of charity. In the same way, hypocrites sometimes affect to be surprised that their declared effort for somebody's good is not appreciated, when they are really seeking some hidden gain or false glory for themselves. The sincere are only those who believe in their spiritual responsibility and act in Allah's sight.

105. They are those who deny the Signs of their Lord and the fact of their having to meet Him (in the Hereafter): vain will be their works, nor shall We, on the Day of Judgment, give them any Weight. (2450)

2450 What weight can be attached to works behind which the motives are not pure, or are positively evil? They are either wasted or count against those who seek to pass them off as meritorious!

106. That is their reward, Hell, because they rejected Faith, and took My Signs and My Messengers by way of jest. (2451)

2451 False motives, pretense, deception, and hypocrisy, flourish because people do not take the higher life seriously. To effect they treat it as a jest. Signs and Messengers are sent as a special and personal Mercy from Allah, and for such things the first person singular is used as in this verse, even when it involves a sudden transition from the first person plural as in the last verse.

107. As to those who believe and work righteous deeds, they have, for their entertainment, the Gardens of Paradise, (2452)

2452 Firdays in Persian means an enclosed place, a park. In technical theological language the word is used for the inner circle of Heaven, or the highest Heaven, the destination of those who perfectly fulfill both requirements, viz., a sound faith, and perfectly righteous conduct. Small faults in either respect are forgiven; the Mercy of Allah steps in. (R).

108. Wherein they shall dwell (for aye): no change will they wish for from them.

109. Say: "If the ocean were ink (wherewith to write out) the words of my Lord, (2453) sooner would the ocean be exhausted than would the words of my Lord, even if we added another ocean like it, for its aid."

2453 The Words and Signs and Mercies of Allah are in all Creation, and can never be fully set out in human language, however extended our means may be imagined to be.

110. Say: "I am but a man like yourselves, (but) the inspiration has come to me, that your Allah is one Allah. whoever expects to meet His Lord, let him work righteousness, and, in the worship of his Lord, admit no one as partner. (2454)

2454 Righteousness and true respect for Allah—which excludes the worship of anything else, whether idols, or defiled men, or forces of nature, or faculties of man, or Self—are the criteria of true worship.
19. Maryam (Mary)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Kaf, Ha, Ya, 'Ain, Sad. (2455)

This is the only Surah which begins with these five Abbreviated Letters, Kaf, Ha, Ya, 'Ain, Sad. For Abbreviated Letters generally, see Appendix I.

As stated in my note 25, such Letters are Symbols, of which the true meaning is known to Allah alone. We should not be dogmatic about any conjectures that we make. According to the interpretation of the last letter Sad, suggested in n. 589 to 7:1, I should be disposed to accept Sad with the meaning of Qabea, i.e., stories of the Prophets. The main figures referred to here are: Zakariya, Yahya, Maryam, Isa, and Ibrahim: the others are mentioned but incidentally. The strong letter in Zakariya, is K; in IbraHim, H; in Yahya and perhaps MarYam, Y; and in Isa—A (Ayah). I also comes in Harun (Aaron), and the Arabic Ay comes in all the names including Isma'il and Idris. I offer this suggestion with some diffidence. The suggestion of the Tahiri Khair is that the letters stand for attributes of Allah: K for Kafa (the One sufficient in Himself); H. for HaD (He who guides); Y. for YaD (Hand as a symbol of Power and Authority; Cf. 48:10, 'The Hand of Allah is above their hands'); A for Alim (the All-Knowing); and S for Saduq (The True One).

2. (This) is a recital (2456) of the Mercy of thy Lord to His servant Zakariya.

The Mercy of Allah to Zakariya was shown in many ways: (1) in the acceptance of his prayer; (2) in bestowing a son like Yahya; and (3) in the love between father and son, in addition to the work which Yahya did as Allah's Messenger for the world. Cf. 3:86-87 and notes. There the public ministry was the point stressed; here the beautiful relations between the son and the father.

3. Behold! he cried to his Lord in secret, (2457)

In secret because he feared that his own family and relatives were going wrong (19:5), and he wanted to keep the lamp of Allah burning bright. He could not very well mention the fear about his colleagues (who were his relations) in public.

4. Praying: "O my Lord! infirm indeed are my bones, and the hair of my head doth glisten with grey: but never am I unblest, O my Lord, in my prayer (2458) to Thee!

This preface shows the fervent faith of Zakariya. Zakariya was a priest of the Most High Allah. His office was the Temple, and his relatives were his colleagues. But he found in them no true spirit of the service of Allah and man. He was filled with anxiety as to who would uphold the godly ideas he had in mind, which were strange to his worldly colleagues.

5. "Now I fear (what) my relatives (and colleagues) (will do) after me: but my wife is barren and I have grown quite decrepit from age! (2459)

His was not merely a vulgar desire for a son. If it had been, he would have prayed much earlier in his life, when he was a young man. He was too full of true piety to put merely selfish things into his prayers. But here was a public need, in the service of the Lord. He was too old, but could he perhaps adopt a child-who would be an heir "as from Allah?" (See n. 380 to 3:38).

6. "(One that) will (truly) represent me, and represent (2460) the posterity of Jacob; and make him, O my Lord! one with whom Thou art well-pleased!"

It is true that, an heir inherits property, but his higher duty is to represent in everything the personality of him from whom he inherits. It is doubtful whether Zakariya had any worldly property. But he had character and virtue, as a man of God, and this he wanted to transmit to his heir as his most precious possession. It was almost the most precious possession of the posterity of Jacob. The people around him had fallen away from Allah's Message. Could his heir, like him, try and renew it?

7. (His prayer was answered): "O Zakariya! We give thee good news of a son: His name shall be Yahya: on none by that name have We conferred distinction before." (2461)

This is John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus. In accordance with his father's prayer he, and Jesus for whom he prepared the way, renewed the Message of Allah, which had been corrupted and lost among the Israelites. The Arabic form Yahya suggests 'Life'. The Hebrew form is Johanan, which means 'Jehovah has been Gracious'. Cf. Haman in verse 13 below. It does not mean that the name was given for the first time, for we read of a Johanan the son of Caresah in II Kings, 25:25, an otherwise obscure man. It means that Allah had, for the first time, called one of His elect by that name.

8. He said: "O my Lord! How shall I have a son, when my wife is barren and I have grown quite decrepit from old age?"

9. He said: "So (it will be): (2462) Thy Lord saith, 'That is easy for Me: I did indeed create thee before, when thou hadst been nothing!'" (2463)

10. (Zakariya) said: "O my Lord! give me a Sign." (2464)

"Thy Sign," was the answer, "Shall be that thou shalt speak to no man for three nights (2465) although thou shalt speak to no man for three nights, (2465) although thou art not dumb."

The 'Sign', I understand, was not in order to convince Zakariya that the Lord's promise was true, for he had faith; but it was a symbol by which he was to show in his conduct that he was to conform to his new destiny as the father of Yahya who was to come. Yahya was to take up the work, and Zakariya was to be silent, although the latter was sound in body and there was nothing to prevent him from speaking.

Compare this verse with 3:41. The variations are interesting. Here it is 'for three nights'; there it is 'for three days'. The meaning is the same, for a day is a period of 24 hours. But the point of view is different in each case. There it was from the point of view of the Unmumah or Congregation, among whom he worked by day; here the point of view is that of his individual soul, which spent the nights in prayer and praise. Notice again that at the end of the next verse, we have here, 'In the morning and in the evening'; and at the end of 3:41, 'In the evening and in the morning'; showing again that the point of view is reversed.

11. So Zakariya came out to his people from him chamber: He told them by signs to celebrate Allah's praises in the morning and in the evening.

12. (To his son came the command): (2466) "O Yahya! take hold of the Book with might": and We gave him Wisdom (2467) even as a youth,

Time passes. The son is born. In this section of the Surah the centre of interest is Yahya, and the Instruction is now given to him. Keep fast hold of Allah's Revelation with all your might: for an unbelieving world had either corrupted or neglected it, and Yahya (John the Baptist) was to prepare the way for Jesus, who was coming to renew and re-interpret it.

14. And piety (for all creatures) as from Us, and purity: (2468) He was devout,

John the Baptist did not live long. He was imprisoned by Herod, the tetrarch (provincial ruler under the Roman Empire), whom he had reproved for his sins, and eventually beheaded at the instigation of a woman with whom Herod was infatuated. But even in his young life, he was granted (1) wisdom by Allah, for he boldly denounced sin; (2) gentle pity and love for all Allah's creatures, for he moved among the humble and lowly, and despised 'soft raiment'; and (3) purity of life, for he renounced the world and lived in the wilderness. All his work he did in his youth. These things showed themselves in his conduct, for he was devout, showing love to Allah and to Allah's creatures, and more particularly to his parents (for we are considering that aspect of his life): this was also shown by the fact that he never used violence, from an attitude of arrogance, nor entertained a spirit of rebellion against divine Law. (R).

15. And kind to his parents, and he was not overbearing or rebellious.

16. So Peace on him the day he was born, the day that he dies, and the day that he will be raised up to life (again)!(2469)

This is spoken as in the lifetime of Yahya. Peace and Allah's Blessings were on him when he was born; they continue when he is about to die an unjust death at the hands of a tyrant; and they will be specially manifest at the Day of Judgement.

17. She placed a screen (to screen herself) from them; then We sent her our angel, and he appeared before her as a man in all respects.

18. She said: "I seek refuge from thee to ((Allah)) Most Gracious: (come not near) if thou dost fear Allah."

19. He said: "Nay, I am only a messenger from thy Lord, (to announce) to thee the gift of a holy son."

20. She said: "How shall I have a son, seeing that no man has touched me, and I am not unchaste?"

21. He said: "So (it will be): Thy Lord saith, `that is easy for Me: and (We wish) to appoint him as a Sign unto men and a Mercy from Us': (2473) It is a matter (so) decreed."

22. So she conceived him, and she retired with him to a remote place.(2475)

The annunciation and the conception, we may suppose, took place in Nazareth (of Galilee), say 63 miles north of Jerusalem. The delivery took place in Bethlehem about 6 miles south of Jerusalem. It was a remote place, not only with reference to the distance of 71 miles, but because in Bethlehem itself the birth was in an obscure corner under a palm tree, from which perhaps the babe was afterwards removed to a manger in a stable.

23. And the pains of childbirth drove her to the trunk of a palm-tree: She cried (in her anguish): "Ah! would that I had died before this! would that I had been a thing forgotten and out of sight!"(2476)

24. But (a voice) cried to her from beneath the (palm-tree): "Grieve not! for thy Lord hath provided a rivulet beneath thee;

25. "And shake towards thyself the trunk of the palm-tree: It will let fall fresh ripe dates upon thee."

26. "So eat and drink and cool (thine) eye.(2478) And if thou dost see any man, say, `I have vowed a fast to ((Allah)) Most Gracious, and this day will I enter into not talk with any human being`"(2479)

27. At length she brought the (babe) to her people, carrying him (in her arms). They said: "O Mary! truly this is a thing amazing, hast thou brought!"(2480)

The amazement of the people knew no bounds. In any case they were ready to think the worst of her, as she disappeared from her kin for some time. But now she comes, shamelessly parading a babe in her arms! She was also to look around, and if any one came near, was to decline all conversations. It was quite true: she was under a vow, and could not talk to any one.

28. "O sister of Aaron!(2481) Thy father was not a man of evil, nor thy mother a woman unchaste!"

29. But she pointed to the babe.(2482) They said: "How can we talk to one who is a child in the cradle?"

For anything that Allah wishes to create, He says 'Be,' and it is (Cf. 3:47). There is no interval between His decree and its accomplishment, except such as He imposes by His decree. Time may be only a projection of our own minds on this world of relativity.
30. He said: "I am indeed a servant of Allah. He hath given me revelation and made me a prophet;
31. "And He hath made me blessed wheresoever I be, and hath enjoined on me Prayer and Charity as long as I live:"(2483)

2483 There is a parallelism throughout the accounts of Jesus and Yahya, with some variations. Both the parallelisms and the variations are interesting. For instance Jesus declares at the very outset that he is a servant of Allah, thus negating the false notion that he was Allah or the son of Allah. The greatness of Yahya is described in 19:12-14 in terms that are not applied to Jesus, but the verses 19:14-15 as applied to Yahya are in almost identical terms with those applied to Jesus here (19:32-33). Devotion in Prayer and Charity is a good description of the Church of Christ at its best, and pity, purity, and devotion in Yahya are a good description of the ways leading to Prayer and Charity, just as John led to Jesus.
32. "(He) hath made me kind to my mother, and not overbearing or miserable;"(2484)

2484 Overbearing violence is not only unjust and harmful to those on whom it is practiced: it is perhaps even more harmful to the person who practices it, for his soul becomes turbid, unsettled, and ultimately unhappy and wretched-the state of those in Hell. Here the negative qualities are "not overbearing or miserable". As applied to John they were "not overbearing or rebellious." John bore his punishment from the State without any protest or drawing back.
33. "So peace is on me the day I was born, the day that I die, and the day that I shall be raised up to life (again)"!(2485) 2485 Cf. 19:15, and n 2469. Christ was not crucified (4:157). (R).

34. Such (was) Jesus the son of Mary: (it is) a statement of truth, about which they (vainly) dispute.(2486)

2486 The disputations about the nature of Jesus Christ were vain, but also persistent and sanguinary. The modern Christian churches have thrown them into the background, but they would do well to abandon irrational dogmas altogether.
35. It is not befitting to (the majesty of) Allah that He should beget a son. Glory be to Him! when He determines a matter, He only says to it, "Be", and it is.(2487)

2487 Begetting a son is a physical act depending on the needs of men's animal nature. Allah Most High is independent of all needs, and it is derogatory to Him to attribute such an act to Him. It is merely a relic of pagan and anthropomorphic materialist superstitions.
36. Verily Allah is my Lord and your Lord: Him therefore serve ye: this is a Way that is straight.(2488)

2488 As opposed to the crooked superstitions which take refuge in all sorts of metaphysical sophistries to prove three in one and one in three. In the Quran there is no crookedness (18:1). Christ's teaching was simple, like his life, but the Christians have made it crooked.
37. But the sects differ among themselves: and woe to the unbelievers because of the (coming) Judgment(2489) of a Momentous Day!

2489 Judgement: the word in the original is Masihad, which implies many things: (1) the time or place where evidence is taken, as in a Court of Judgement; (2) the time or place where people are produced to be judged; and (3) the occasion for such production for the taking of evidence. A very expressive phrase for the Day of Judgement.
38. How plainly will they see and hear, the Day that they will appear before Us! but the unjust today are in error manifest!(2490)

2490 Cf. 50:20-35, and that whole passage, where the Resurrection is described. (R).
39. But warn them of the Day of Distress,(2491) when the matter will be determined: for (behold,) they are negligent and they do not believe!

2491 Hazrat: Sighs, sighing, regrets, distress.
40. It is We Who will inherit(2492) the earth, and all beings thereon: to Us will they all be returned.

2492 Cf. 3:180, n. 48; 1:5-25 n. 1964. Material property passes from one to another when one dies another inherits it. Allah gives life and death, and all that survives after physical death goes back to Allah, the original source of all things (see also 19:20).
41. (Also mention in the Book (the story of) Abraham: He was a man of Truth, a prophet.
42. Behold, he said to his father:(2493) "O my father! why worship which which heareth not and seeth not, and can profit thee nothing?

2493 The reference to Abraham here is in relation to his tender solicitude for his father, who had not received the light of Unity, and to whom Abraham wanted to be a guide and friend.
43. "O my father! to me hath come knowledge which hath not reached thee:(2494) so follow me: I will guide thee to a way that is even and straight.(2495)

2494 Some are more receptive to Light than others. It is their duty and privilege to guide and point to the right Way.
2495 Samun -right, smooth, even complete; perfect; hence the derived meanings, in 19:10, 'in full possession of all the physical senses; in that context, 'not dumb'; in 19:17, when the angel appears in the form of a man, 'completely like' a man, a man 'in all respects.'
44. "O my father! serve not Satan: for Satan is a rebel against ((Allah)) Most Gracious.(2496)

2496 The rebellion is all the more heinous and inexcusable, considering that Allah is Most Just, Most Merciful, Most Gracious.
45. "O my father! I fear lest a Penalty afflict thee, Now get away from me for a good long hand, but firmness on behalf of Truth on the other.
46. (The father) replied: "Dost thou hate my gods, O Abraham? If thou forbear not, I will indeed stone thee: (2498) from ((Allah)) Most Gracious, (2499) now get away from me for a good long while!"(2499)

2498 Note the gentle persuasive tone of Abraham in his speeches in 19:42-45 (for we may suppose those sentences to sum up a long course of argument) and in 19:47-48, contrasted with the brusque and repellant tone of the father's reply in this verse. The one was the outcome of the true Light which had come to Abraham from Allah, as the other was the outcome of Pagan arrogance and the worship of brute force. The spiritual lesson from this episode of Abraham's life may be stated in four propositions: (1) the pious son is dutiful to his father and wishes him well in all things, material and spiritual; (2) if the father refuses Allah's Light, the son will do his utmost to bring such Light to the father; (3) having received the Light, the son will never renounce that Light, even if he has to forfeit his father's love and renounce his home; (4) even if the father repels him and turns him out, his answer will be a soft answer, full of love and forgiveness on the one hand, but firmness on behalf of Truth on the other.
47. Abraham said: "Peace be on thee: I will pray to my Lord for thy forgiveness:(2499) for He is to me Most Gracious.

2499 Cf. 9:114, where this promise of Abraham to pray for his father is referred to, and its limitations pointed out.
48. "And I will turn away from you (all) and from those whom ye invoke besides Allah. I will call on my Lord: perhaps, by my prayer to my Lord, I shall be not unblest."(2500)

2500 Abraham left his father and the home of his fathers ( Ur of the Chaldees) and never returned. He felt because he was turned out, and because it was not possible for him to make any compromise with what was false in religion. In return for abuse, he spoke gentle words. And he expressed his fervent hope that at least he (Abraham) would have Allah's blessing in reply to his prayers. Here was a prefiguration of another Hijrah many centuries later! In both cases the prayer was abundantly fulfilled.

49. When he had turned away from them and from those whom they worshipped besides Allah, We bestowed on him Isaac and Jacob, and each one of them We made a prophet.(2501)

2501 Isaac and Isaac's son Jacob are mentioned here as carrying on one line of Abraham's traditions. The other line was carried on by Ismail, who is mentioned independently five verses lower down, as his line got special honour in the Holy Prophet of Islam. That is why his mention comes after that of Moses CE 21:72.

50. And We bestowed Our Mercy on them, and We granted them lofty honour on the tongue(2502) of truth.

2502 Abraham and his son and grandson Isaac and Jacob, and their line, maintained the banner of Allah's spiritual truth for many generations, and they won deservedly high praise—the praise of truth—the tongues of men. Abraham prayed that he should be praised by the tongue of truth among men to come in later ages: 26:84. Ordinary praise may mean nothing; it may be due to self-flattery on the part of others or artful management by the person praised. Praise on the tongue of sincere truth is praise indeed!

51. Also mention in the Book (the story of) Moses: for he was specially chosen, and he was a messenger (and) a prophet.(2503)

2503 Moses was (1) especially chosen, and therefore prepared and instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, in order that he might free his people from Egyptian bondage; there may also be a reference to Moses's title of Kattim Allah, the one to whom Allah spoke without the intervention of angels: see 4:164, and n. 670; (2) he was a prophet (nabî), in that he received inspiration; and (3) he was a messenger (nasîl) in that he had a Book of Revelation, and an Unmum or organised Community, for which he instilled laws. (R).

52. And we called him from the right side(2504) of Mount (Sinai), and made him draw near to Us, for mystic (converse).

2504 The incident here I think refers to the incidents described more fully in 20:9-36; a reference may also be made to Exod. 3:1-18 and 4:1-17. The time is when Moses (with his family) was travelling and grazing the flocks of his father-in-law Jethro, just before he got his commission from Allah. The place is somewhere near Mount Sinai (habrat Masâ); Moses sees a Fire in the distance, but when he goes there, he hears a voice that tells him it is sacred ground. Allah asked him to put off his shoes and to draw near, and when he went near, great mysteries were revealed to him. He was given his commission, and his brother Aaron was given to him to go with him and aid him. It is after that that he and Aaron went and faced Pharaoh in Egypt, as narrated in 2:103-144, etc. The right side of the mountain may mean that Moses heard the voice from the right side of the mountain as he faced it: or it may have the figurative meaning of ‘right’ in Arabic, i.e., the side which was blessed or sacred ground (see also 28:89). (R).

53. And, out of Our Mercy,(2505) We gave him his brother Aaron, (also) a prophet.

2505 Moses was diffident, and reluctant to go to Pharaoh as he had an impediment in his tongue, and he asked that his brother Aaron should be associated with him in his mission. Allah in His Mercy granted his request: 20:25-36.

54. Also mention in the Book (the story of) Isma'il: He was (strictly) true to what he promised,(2506) and he was a messenger (and) a prophet.

2506 Isma'il was Dhâdhr Allah, i.e., the chosen sacrifice of Allah in Muslim tradition. When Abraham told him of the sacrifice, he voluntarily offered himself for it, and never flinched from his promise, until the sacrifice was redeemed by the substitution of a ram under Allah's commands. He was the fountainhead of the Arabian Unmum, and in his posternity came the Prophet of Allah. The Unmum and the Book of Islam reflect back the prophethood on Isma'il.

55. He used to enjoin on his people Prayer and Charity, and he was most acceptable in the sight of his Lord.(2507) 2507 An acceptable sacrifice: see last note.

56. Also mention in the Book the case of Idris:(2508) He was a man of truth (and sincerity), (and) a prophet:

2508 Idris is mentioned twice in the Qur'an, viz.: here and in 21:85, where he is mentioned among those who patiently preserved. His identification with the Biblical Enoch, who "walked with God" (Gen. 5:21-24), may or may not be correct. Nor are we justified in interpreting verse 37 here as meaning the same thing as in Gen. 5:24 ('God took him'), that he was taken up without passing through the portals of death. All we are told is that he was a man of truth and sincerity, and a prophet, and that he had a high position among his people. It is this point which brings him in the series of men just mentioned: he kept himself in touch with his people, and was honoured among them. Spiritual progress need not cut us off from our people, for we have to help and guide them. He kept to truth and piety in the highest station.

57. And We raised him to a lofty station.

58. Those were some of the prophets on whom Allah did bestow His Grace,—of the posternity of Adam, and of those who We carried (in the Ark) with Noah, and of the posternity of Abraham(2509) and Israel of those whom We guided and chose. Whenever the Signs of ((Allah)) Most Gracious were rehearsed to them,(2510) they would fall down in prostrate adoration and in tears.

2509 The earlier generations are grouped into three epochs from a spiritual point of view: (1) from Adam to Noah, (2) from Noah to Abraham, and (3) from Abraham to an indefinite time, say to the time when the Message of Allah was corrupted and the need arose for the final Messenger of Unity and Truth. Israel is another name for Jacob.

2510 The original is in the Aorist tense, implying that the 'Posternity' alluded to includes not only the messengers but their worthy followers who are true to Allah and uphold His standard.

59. But after them there followed a posternity who missed prayers and followed after lusts soon, then, will they face Destruction,—(2511)

2511 This selfish godless posternity gains the upper hand at certain times but, even then there is always a minority who see the error of their ways, repent and believe, and live righteous lives. They are not penalised in the Hereafter because they were associated with the ungodly in time. They reap the full reward of their faith and righteousness.

60. Except those who repent and believe, and work righteousness: for these will enter the Garden and will not be wronged in the least,—

61. Gardens of Eternity, those which ((Allah)) Most Gracious has promised to His servants in the Unseen: for His promise must (necessarily) come to pass.

62. They will not there hear any vain discourse, but only salutations of Peace:(2512) And they will have therein their sustenance,(2513) morning and evening.

2512 Salam, translated 'Peace', has a much wider signification. It includes (1) a sense of security and permanence, which is unknown in this life; (2) soundness, freedom from defects, perfection, as in the word salidaq (3) preservation, salvation, deliverance, as in the word salama; (4) salutation, accord with those around us; (5) resignation, in the sense that we are satisfied and not disappointed; besides (6) the ordinary meaning of Peace, i.e., freedom from any jarring element. All these shades of meaning are implied in the word Salam. (R).
63. Such is the Garden which We give as an inheritance to those of Our servants who guard against Evil.

64. (The angels say:) (2514) "We descend not but by command of thy Lord: to Him belongeth what is before us and what is behind us, and what is between: and thy Lord never doth forget,- 2514 We are apt to be impatient of the evils we see around us. We may give of our best service to Allah, and yet see no results. In our human short-sightedness we may complain within ourselves. But we must not be impatient. The angels of Grace come not haphazardly, but by command of Allah according to His Universal Will and Purpose. Allah does not forget. If things are delayed, it is in accordance with a wise providence, which cares for all. Our plain duty is to be patient and constant in His service. (R).

65. "Lord of the heavens and of the earth, and of all that is between them; so worship Him, and be constant and patient in His worship: knowest thou of any who is worthy of the same Name as He?" (2515)

2515 The more we taste of the truth and mystery of life, the more do we realise that there is no one to be mentioned in the same breadth as Allah. He is above all names. But when we think of His beautiful qualities, and picture them to ourselves by names which give us some ideas of Him, we can search the whole wide world of our imagination, and we shall not find another to be compared with Him in name or quality. He is the One: praise be to Him!

66. Man says: "What! When I am dead, shall I then be raised up alive?"

67. But does not man call to mind that We created him before out of nothing?

68. So, by thy Lord, without doubt, We shall gather them together, and (also) the Evil Ones (with them); (2516) then shall We bring them forth on their knees round about Hell; (2517)

2516 The disbelief in a future state is not merely a philosophic doubt, but a warped will, a disingenuous obstinacy in face of our inner spiritual instincts and experiences. We were nothing before. Cannot the same Allah who created us out of nothing also continue our personality? But if we refuse to accept His light and guidance, our state will grow worse and worse. We shall be deprived of His grace. We shall be herded with the Evil Ones. In utter humiliation we shall be faced with all the consequences of our refusal of Truth.

2517 Round about Hell: There are many ways leading to evil, and people get to it from all round. Hence the mention of the seven Gates of Hell: see 15:44, and n. 1977. (R).

69. Then shall We certainly drag out from every sect all those who were worst in obstinate rebellion against ((Allah)) Most Gracious.

70. And certainly We know best those who are most worthy of being burned therein.

71. Not one of you but will(2518) pass over it: this is, with thy Lord, a Decree which must be accomplished.

2518 Three interpretations are possible: (1) The general interpretation is that every soul must pass through or by or over the Fire. Those who have had Taqwa (see n. 26 to 22) will be saved by Allah's Mercy, while unrepentant sinners will suffer the torments in ignominy. (2) If we refer the pronoun 'you' to those 'in obstinate rebellion' in verse 69 above, both leaders and followers in sin, this verse only applies to the wicked. (3) Some refer this verse to the Bridge over Hell, the Bridge Sirat, over which all must pass to their final Destination, This Bridge is not mentioned in the Qur'an. (R).

72. But We shall save those who guarded against evil, and We shall leave the wrong-doers therein, (humbled) to their knees.

73. When Our Clear Signs are rehearsed to them, the Unbelievers say to those who believe, "Which of the two sides is best in point of position? Which makes the best show in council?" (2519)

2519 The Unbelievers may, for a time, make a better show in worldly position, or in people's assemblages where things are judged by the counting of heads. But Truth must prevail even in this world, and ultimately the positions must be reversed.

74. But how many (countless) generations before them have we destroyed, who were even better in equipment and in glitter to the eye?

75. Say: "If any men go astray, ((Allah)) Most Gracious extends (the rope) to them, until, when they see the warning of Allah (being fulfilled) - either in punishment(2520) or in (the approach of) the Hour,- they will at length realise who is worst in position, and (who) weakest in forces!

2520 Allah's wanting is that every evil deed must have its punishment, and that there will be a Hereafter, the day of Judgement, or the Hour, as it is frequently called. The punishment of evil often begins in this very life. For instance, over-indulgence and excesses of all kinds bring on their Nemesis quite soon in this very life. But some subtler forms of selfishness and sin will be punished—as every evil will be punished—in its own good time, as the Hour approaches. In either case, the arrogant boasting sinners will realise that their taunts— who is best in position and in forces? (19:73)—is turned against themselves.

76. "And Allah doth advance in guidance those who seek guidance: and the things that endure, Good Deeds, are best in point of position and in respect of (their) eventual returns." (2521)

2521 These lines are the same as in 18:46 (second clause), (where see n. 2387), except that the word maadda (eventual returns) is here substituted for amal (hope). The meaning is practically the same: but "hope" is more appropriate in the passage dealing with this world's goods, and "eventual returns" in the passage dealing with sinner's specific investments and commitments in worldly position and organised charities.

77. Hast thou then seen the (sort of) man who rejects Our Signs, yet says: "I shall certainly be given wealth and children?" (2522)

2522 Besides the man who boasts of wealth and power in actual possession, there is a type of man who boasts of getting them in the future and builds his worldly hopes thereon. Is he sure? He denies Allah, and His goodness and Mercy. But all good is in the hands of Allah. Can such a man then bind Allah to bless him when he rejects faith in Allah? Or does he pretend that he has penetrated the mysteries of the future? For no man can tell what the future holds for him.

78. Has he penetrated to the Unseen, or has he taken a contract with ((Allah)) Most Gracious?

79. Nay! We shall record what he says, and We shall add and add to his punishment. (2523)

2523 Such a man deserves double punishment for rejecting Allah, and for his blasphemies with His Holy Name.

80. To Us shall return(2524) all that he talks of and he shall appear before Us bare and alone.

2524 Literally, 'We shall inherit', Cf. 19:40 and n. 2492. Even if the man had property and power, it must go back to the source of all things, and the man must appear before the Judgement Seat, alone and unaccompanied, stripped of all the things from which he expected so much!

81. And they have taken (for worship) gods other than Allah, to give them power and glory!(2525)

2525 Za' - exalted rank, power, might, the ability to impose one's will or to carry out one's will.
82. Instead, they shall reject their worship, and become adversaries against them. (2526)

821 CT 10:28-30, where the idols deny that they knew anything of their worship, and leave their worshippers in the lurch; and 51:16, where Jesus denies that he asked for worship, and leaves his false worshippers to the punishment or the mercy of Allah.

83. See thou not that We have set the Evil Ones on against the unbelievers, to incite them with fury? (2527)

827 Under the laws instituted by Allah, when evil reaches a certain stage of rebellion and defiance, it is left to gather momentum and to rush with fury to its own destruction. It is given a certain amount of respite, as a last chance: but failing repentance, its days are numbered. The godly therefore should not worry themselves over the apparent worldly success of evil, but should get on with their own duties in a spirit of trust in Allah.

84. So make no haste against them, for We but count out to them a (limited) number (of days).

85. The day We shall gather the righteous to (Allah)) Most Gracious, like a band presented before a king for honours,

86. And We shall drive the sinners to Hell, like thirsty cattle driven down to water,- (2528)

828 Note the contrast between the saved and the doomed. The one march with dignity like honoured ones before a king, and the other rush in anguish to their watering place. Note the metaphor of the water. They rush madly for water but are plunged into the Fire!

87. None shall have the power of intercession, but such a one as has received permission (or promise) from ((Allah)) Most Gracious.

88. They say: “(Allah)) Most Gracious has begotten a son!”

89. Indeed ye have put forth a thing most monstrous! (2529)

829 The belief in Allah begetting a son is not a question of words or of speculative thought. It is a stupendous blasphemy against Allah. It lowers Allah to the level of an animal. If combined with the doctrine of vicarious atonement, it amounts to a negation of Allah’s justice and man’s personal responsibility. It is destructive of all moral and spiritual order, and is condemned in the strongest possible terms.

90. At the skies are ready to burst, the earth to split asunder, and the mountains to fall down in utter ruin,

91. That they should invoke a son for ((Allah)) Most Gracious.

92. For it is not consonant with the majesty of ((Allah)) Most Gracious that He should beget a son. (2530)

830 This basic principle was laid down early in the argument (19:35). It was illustrated by a reference to the personal history of many messengers, including Jesus himself, who behaved justly as men to their kith and kin and humbly served Allah. The evil results of such superstitions were pointed out in the case of many previous generations which went to their ruin by dishonouring Allah. And the argument is now rounded off towards the close of the Surah.

93. Not one of the beings in the heavens and the earth but must come to ((Allah)) Most Gracious as a servant.

94. He does take an account of them (all), and hath numbered them (all) exactly. (2531)

831 Allah has no sons or favourites or parasites, such as we associate with human beings. On the other hand every creature of His gets His love, and His cherishing care. Every one of them, however humble, is individually marked before His Throne of Justice and Mercy, and will stand before Him on his own deserts.

95. And everyone of them will come to Him singly on the Day of Judgment.

96. On those who believe and work deeds of righteousness, will (Allah) Most Gracious bestow love. (2532)

832 His own love, and the love for man’s fellow creatures, in the world and in the Hereafter. Goodness breeds love and peace, and sin breeds hatred and contention.

97. So have We made the (Qur´an) easy in thine own tongue, that with it thou mayest give Glad Tidings to the righteous, and warnings to people given to contention.

98. But how many (countless) generations before them (2533) have We destroyed? Canst thou find a single one of them (now) or hear (so much as) a whisper of them?

833 CT 19:74, from which this sentence is brought up as a reminiscence, showing the progress of sin, the Guidance which Allah gives to the good, the degradation of blasphemy, the respite granted, and the final End, when personal responsibility will be enforced.

20. Ta Ha

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ta-Ha.(2534)
2. We have not sent down the Qur'an to thee to be (an occasion) for thy distress,(2535)

9.9. 9.9.

3. But only as an admonition to those who fear ((Allah)),-

8.8. 8.8.

4. A revelation from Him Who created the earth and the heavens on high.

5. ((Allah)) Most Gracious(2536) is firmly established on the throne (of authority).

10.10. 10.10.

5.10 (Sent to thee).

2.2. 2.2.

2. We have not sent down the Qur'an to thee to be (an occasion) for thy distress,(2535)

9.9. 9.9.

Allah's revelation may cause some human trouble for two reasons: (1) it checks man's selfishness and narrowness of view, and (2) it annoys the wicked and causes them to jeer and persecute. These are mere incidental things, due to man's own shortcomings. As far as the trouble is concerned, the revelation is meant to give a warning, so that persecutors may be reclaimed, and of course for men of faith it is comfort and consolation, though that point does not arise in this context.

3. But only as an admonition to those who fear ((Allah)),-

8.8. 8.8.

3. All the story of Moses(2540) reached thee?

9.9. 9.9.

4. If thou pronounce the word aloud, (it is no matter):

8.8. 8.8.

4. To Him belongs what is in the heavens and on earth, and all between them, and all beneath the soil.(2537)

10.10. 10.10.

5. An exhaustive definition of everything we can conceive of—what is in the heavens, on the earth, or between, or within the earth itself.

6. To Him belongs what is in the heavens and on earth, and all between them, and all beneath the soil.(2537)

10.10. 10.10.

6. But only as an admonition to those who fear ((Allah)),-

8.8. 8.8.

7. If thou pronounce the word aloud, (it is no matter): for verily He knoweth what is secret and what is yet more hidden.(2538)

10.10. 10.10.

7. There are two implications. (1) Whatever you profess, or say aloud, gives no information to Allah: He knows not only what is secret and perhaps unknown to others, but what people take special care to conceal. (2) It does no good to make insincere professions: your hidden motives are known to Him, Who alone matters. (3) If you read the Word of Allah, or if you pray to Allah, it is not necessary to raise your voice; in either case, Allah will judge you by your inner thoughts which are like an open book to Him.

8. Allah, there is no god but He! To Him belong the most Beautiful Names.(2539)

10.10. 10.10.

8. Allah is all-in-all, and the most beautiful things we can think of are referable to Him. His names refer to His attributes which are like titles of Honour and Glory. (R).

9. Has the story of Moses(2540) reached thee?

10.10. 10.10.

9. The story of Moses in its different incidents is told in many places in the Qur'an, and in each case the phrase most appropriate in the context is referred to or emphasised. In 2:49-64, it was a phrase from the story of the 'Ummah (or nation) of Israel, and the story was continued to the times after Moses; in 17:101-103, we have a picture of the decline of a soul in the arrogance of Pharaoh; here, in 20:9-24, we have a picture of the rise of a soul in the commission given to Moses from Allah; in 20:25-36, we have his spiritual relationship with his brother Aaron; in 20:37-40, we have his spiritual relation with his mother and sister, and his upbringing; in 20:41-76, we have his spiritual combat with Pharaoh; and in 20:77-98, we have his spiritual combat with his own people, the Israelites. For other incidents, consult the Index.

10. Behold, he saw a fire:(2541) So he said to his family, "Tarry ye; I perceive a fire; perhaps I can bring you some burning brand therefrom, or find some guidance at the fire."(2542)

10.10. 10.10.

10. A fire: It appeared like an ordinary fire, which always betokens the presence of men in a desert or a lonely place. Moses made for it alone, to fetch the wherewithal for making a fire for his family, and perhaps to find some direction as to the way, from the people he should meet there. But it was not an ordinary fire. It was a Burning Bush; a Sign of the Glory of Allah.

11. But when he came to the fire, a voice was heard: "O Moses!

12. "Verily I am thy Lord! therefore (in My presence)(2543) put off thy shoes: thou art in the sacred valley Tuwa.(2544)

13. "I have chosen thee: listen, then, to the inspiration (sent to thee).

14. "Verily, I am Allah. There is no god but I: So serve thou Me (only), and establish regular prayer for celebrating My praise.

15. "Verily the Hour is coming -(2545) My design is to keep it hidden -(2546) for every soul to receive its reward by the measure of its Endeavour.

16. "Therefore let not such as believe not therein but follow their own lusts, divert thee therefrom,(2547) lest thou perish!"...

17. "And what is that in the right hand, O Moses?"

18. He said, "It is(2548) my rod: on it I lean; with it I beat down fodder for my flocks; and in it I find other uses."

19. ((Allah)) said, "Throw it, O Moses!"

20. He threw it, and behold! It was a snake, active in motion.(2549)

20.10. 20.10.

20. We have not sent down the Qur'an to thee to be (an occasion) for thy distress,(2535)

9.9. 9.9.

Moses, when he grew up, left the palace of Pharaoh and went to the Midianite people, in the Sinai peninsula. He married among them, and was now travelling with his family and his flocks, when he was called to his mission by Allah. He went to look for a fire for comfort and guidance. He found a higher and holier comfort and guidance. The whole passage is full of potent meaning, which is reflected in the short rhymed verses in the original. (R).

11. But when he came to the fire, a voice was heard: "O Moses!

12. "Verily I am thy Lord! therefore (in My presence)(2543) put off thy shoes: thou art in the sacred valley Tuwa.(2544)

13. "I have chosen thee: listen, then, to the inspiration (sent to thee).

14. "Verily, I am Allah. There is no god but I: So serve thou Me (only), and establish regular prayer for celebrating My praise.

15. "Verily the Hour is coming -(2545) My design is to keep it hidden -(2546) for every soul to receive its reward by the measure of its Endeavour.

16. "Therefore let not such as believe not therein but follow their own lusts, divert thee therefrom,(2547) lest thou perish!"...

20. He threw it, and behold! It was a snake, active in motion.(2549) what is most to be impressed on the mind of Moses, for there were no other spectators. So the highest spiritual mysteries can be grasped, with Allah's gift of insight, from the most ordinary things of daily use. Once they are grasped, there is no question of fear. They really are the virtues of this life lifted up to the glorious spiritual plane.

21. ((Allah)) said, "Seize it, and fear not: We shall return it at once to its former condition"...

22. "Now draw thy hand (2550) close to thy side: It shall come forth white (and shining), without harm (or stain), as another Sign,- 2550 The second of the greater Miracles shown to Moses was the "White shining Hand". Ordinarily, when the skin becomes white, it is a sign of disease, leprous or something loathsome. Here there was no question of disease: on the contrary, the hand was glorified, and it shone as with a divine light. Such a miracle was beyond Egyptian or human magic. (Cf. 27:12 and 28:32). (R).

23. "In order that We may show thee (two) of our Greater Signs.

24. "Go thou to Pharaoh,(2551) for he has indeed transgressed all bounds."

2551 Moses, having been spiritually prepared now gets his definite commission to go to Pharaoh and point out the error of his ways. So inordinate was Pharaoh's vanity that he had it in his mind to say: "I am your Lord Most High!" (79:24).

25. (Moses) said: "O my Lord! expand me my breast;(2552)

2552 The breast is reputed to be the seat of knowledge and affections. The gift of the highest spiritual insight is what he prays for first. Cf. 94:1. This was the most urgent in point of time. There are three other things he also asks for: viz., (1) Allah's help in his task, which at first appears difficult to him; (2) the gift of eloquence, and the removal of the impediment from his speech; and (3) the counsel and constant attendance with him of his brother Aaron, whom he loved and trusted, for he would otherwise be alone among the Egyptians.

26. "Ease my task for me;

27. "And remove the impediment (2553) from my speech,

2553 Literally, 'Loosen a knot from my tongue'.

28. "So they may understand what I say:

29. "And give me a Minister from my family,

30. "Aaron, my brother;

31. "Add to my strength(2554) through him,

2554 Literally, 'Strengthen my back with him'. A man's strength lies in his back and backbone so that he can stand erect and boldly face his tasks.

32. "And make him share my task:

33. "That we may celebrate(2555) Thy praise without stint,

2555 The requests that Moses makes are inspired, not by earthly but by spiritual motives. The motive, expressed in the most general terms, is to glorify Allah, not in an occasional way, but systematically and continuously, "without stint." The clauses in this verse and the next, taken together, govern all the requests he makes, from verse 25 to verse 32.

34. "And remember Thee without stint:

35. "For Thou art He that (ever) regardeth us."(2556)

2556 The celebration of Allah's praise and remembrance is one form of showing gratitude on the part of Moses for the Grace which Allah had bestowed upon him.

36. ((Allah)) said: "Granted is thy prayer, O Moses!"

37. "And indeed We conferred a favour on thee another time (before).

38. "Behold! We sent(2557) to thy mother, by inspiration, the message:

2557 The story is not told, but only those salient points recapitulated which bear on the spiritual upbringing' and work of Moses. Long after the age of Joseph, who had been a Wazir to one of the kings, there came on the throne of Egypt a Pharaoh who hated the Israelites and wanted them annihilated. He ordered Israelite male children to be killed when they were born. Moses's mother hid him for a time, but when further concealment was impossible, a thought crossed her mind that she should put her child into a chest and send the chest floating down the Nile. This was not merely a foolish fancy of hers. It was Allah's Plan to bring up Moses in all the learning of the Egyptians, in order that that learning itself should be used to expose what was wrong in it and to advance the glory of Allah. The chest was floated into the river Nile. It flowed on into a stream that passed through Pharaoh's Garden. It was picked up by Pharaoh's people and the child was adopted by Pharaoh's wife. See 26:1-13.

39. "'Throw (the child) into the chest, and throw (the chest) into the river: the river will cast him up on the bank, and he will be taken up by one who is an enemy to Me and an enemy to him': (2558) But I cast (the garment of) love over thee from Me(2559) and (this) in order that thou mayest be reared under Mine eye. (2560)

2558 Pharaoh was an enemy to Allah, because he was puffed up and he blasphemed, claiming to be God himself. He was an enemy to the child Moses, because he hated the Israelites and wanted to have their male children killed; also because Moses stood for Allah's revelation to come.

2559 Allah made the child comely and lovable, and he attracted the love of the people who, on general grounds, would have killed him.

2560 See n. 2558 above. By making the child Moses so attractive as to be adopted into Pharaoh's household, not only was Moses brought up in the best way possible from an earthly point of view, but Allah's special Providence looked after him in bringing his mother to him, as stated in the next verse, and thus nourishing him on his mother's milk and keeping in touch, in his inner growth, with the feelings and sentiments of his people, the Israelites.

40. "Behold! thy sister goeth forth and saith, 'shall I show you one who will nurse and rear the (child)?' (2561) So We brought thee back to thy mother, that her eye(2562) might be cooled and she should not grieve. Then thou didst slay(2563) a man, but We saved thee from trouble, and We tried thee in various ways. Then didst thou tarry a number of years with the people of Midian.(2564) Then didst thou come hither as ordained, O Moses!

2561 We may suppose that the aunts mother, after the child was floated on the water, sent the child's sister to follow the chest from the bank and see where and by whom it was picked up. When it was picked up by Pharaoh's own family and they seemed to love the child, she appeared like a stranger before them, and said, 'Shall I search out a good wet nurse for the child, that she may rear the child you are going to adopt?' That was exactly what they wanted. She ran home and told her mother. The mother was delighted to come and fold the infant in her arms again and feed it at her own breast, and all openly and without any concealment.

2562 The mother's eyes had, we may imagine, been sore with scalding tears at the separation from her baby. Now they were cooled; a phrase meaning that her heart was comforted.

2563 Years passed. The child grew up. In outward learning he was of the house of Pharaoh. In his inner soul and sympathy he was of Israel. One day, he went to the Israelite colony and saw all the Egyptian oppression Under which Israel laboured. He saw an Egyptian smiting an Israelite, apparently with impunity. This was comforted. He felt brotherly sympathy and smote the Egyptian. He did not intend to kill him, but in fact the Egyptian died of the blow. When this became known, his position in Pharaoh's household became impossible. So he fled out of Egypt and was only saved by Allah's grace. He fled to the Sinai Peninsula, to the land of the Midianites, and had various adventures. He marries one of the daughters of the Midianite chief, and lived with the Midianites for many years, as an Egyptian stranger. He had many trials and temptations, but he retained his integrity of character.
41. "And I have prepared thee for Myself (for service)"..

42. "Go, thou and thy brother.(2565) With My Signs, and slacken not, either of you, in keeping Me in remembrance.

43. "Go, both of you, to Pharaoh,(2566) for he has indeed transgressed all bounds;"(2567)

44. "But speak to him mildly; perchance he may take warning or fear (Allah)."(2568)

45. They (Moses and Aaron) said: "Our Lord! We fear lest he hasten with insolence(2569) against us, or lest he not:(2570) with a Sign, indeed, have we come from the Children of Israel with us, and afflict them messengers sent by thy Lord: Send forth, therefore, warning or fear (Allah)."(2568)

46. He said: "Fear not: for I am with you: I hear and see".

47. "So go ye both to him, and say, 'Verily we are thy Lord's messengers sent by thy Lord: Send forth, therefore, the Children of Israel with us, and afflict them not: (2570) with a Sign, indeed, have we come from thy Lord! and peace to all who follow guidance."(2571)

48. "'Verily it has been revealed to us that the Penalty (awaits) those who reject and turn away.'"

49. (When this message was delivered), (Pharaoh) said: "Who, then, O Moses, is the Lord(2572) of you two?"

50. He said: "Our Lord is He Who gave to each (created) thing its form and nature, and further, gave (it) guidance."(2573)

51. (Pharaoh) said: "What then is the condition of previous generations?"(2574)

52. He replied: "The knowledge of that is with my Lord,(2575) duly recorded: my Lord never errs, nor forgets,-

53. "He Who has, made for you the earth like a carpet spread out; has enabled you to go about therein by roads (2576) (and channels); and has sent down water from the sky." With it have We produced(2577) diverse pairs of plants(2578) each separate from the others.

54. Eat (for yourselves) and pasture your cattle: verily, in this are Signs for men endowed with understanding.

55. From the (earth) did We create you, and into it shall We return you, and from it shall We bring you out once again.(2579)

56. And We showed Pharaoh all Our Signs, but he did reject and refuse.(2580)
57. He said: "Hast thou come to drive us out of our land with thy magic? O Moses?

58. The Egyptians accused Moses of a design to deprive them of their land, and of exercising black magic. Both charges were palpably false. What Moses wanted to do was to free his people from bondage. The Egyptians had all the power in their possession; they wished to use the Israelites as untouchable helots: and any one who wanted to mitigate this injustice was branded as a dreadful person who wished to deprive em of their lawful rights. As to magic, the Egyptians judged Moses by themselves. They practised sorcery to deceive the people. They accused the Prophet of Allah of doing the same, though both his outlook and source of his strength were altogether different.

59. "But we can surely produce magic to match thine! So make a tryst between us and thee, which we shall not fail to keep - neither we nor thou - in a place where both shall have even chances." (2582)

60. Moses said: "Your tryst is the Day of the Festival, (2583) and let the people be assembled when the sun is well up."

61. Moses said to him: Woe to you! Forge not ye a lie against Allah, lest He destroy you (at once) utterly by chastisement: the forger must suffer (2585) frustration!"

62. So they disputed, one with another, over their affair, but they kept their talk secret. (2586)

63. They said: "These two are certainly (expert) magicians: their object is to drive you out from your land with their magic, and to do away with your most cherished institutions. (2587)

64. "Therefore concert your plan, and then assemble in (serried) ranks: He wins (all along) today who gains the upper hand." (2588)

65. They said: "O Moses! whether wilt thou throw (first) or that we be the first to throw?"

66. He said, "Nay, throw ye first!" Then behold their ropes and their rods- (2589) so it seemed to him on account of their magic - began to be in lively motion!

67. So Pharaoh withdrew: He concerted his plan, (2584) and then came (back).

68. Moses told them: "Throw that which is in your right hand: Quickly will it swallow up that which they have faked what they have faked is but a magician´s trick: and the magician who faked it hath been thrown down to prostration: his ropes and his rods-(2589)-so it seemed to him."

69. "Throw that which is in thy right hand: Quickly will it swell up that which they have faked but it is a magician`s trick: and the magician fakes it, but he fakes it not with his own hands but with the hands of his magicians."

70. So the magicians were thrown down to prostration: they said, "We believe in the Lord of Aaron and Moses". (2592)

71. (Pharaoh) said: "Believe ye in Him before I give you permission? Surely this must be your leader, who has taught you magic! (2593) be sure I will cut off your hands and feet on opposite sides, and I will have you crucified on trunks of palm-trees: so shall ye know for certain, which of us can give the more severe and the more lasting punishment!"

72. They said: "Never shall we regard thee as more than the Clear Signs (2594) that have come to us, or than Him Who created us! so decree whatever thou desiruest to decree: for thou canst only decree (touching) the life of this world." (2595)

2581 Suwan:.."Mithāl, feminine of Amithāl, most distinguished, honoured, cherished. Tārijah -way of life, institutions, conduct.

2582 A great day of a Temple Festival , when the temples and streets were decorated, and people were on holiday, free from wo rk and business.莫斯 makes this appointment in order to collect as large a number as possible, for his first duty is to preach the Truth. And he apparently did it with some effect with some isolated, and a sort of moral dizziness creeps over his mind. But by Allah's grace falsehood appears and is acclaimed as the trut h. The believer of truth is in the presence of Truth, or (2) that falsehood is isolated, and a sort of moral dizziness creeps over his mind. But by Allah's grace Faith asserts itself, gives him confidence, and points out the specific truths which will dissipate and destroy the teeming brood of falsehood.

2583 The concerted attack of evil is sometimes so well-contrived from all points that falsehood appears and is acclaimed as the trut h. The believer of truth is in the presence of Truth.

2584 That-but not cannot win everywhere, especially in the presence of Truth, or (2) that falsehood is isolated, and a sort of moral dizziness creeps over his mind. But by Allah's grace Faith asserts itself, gives him confidence, and points out the specific truths which will dissipate and destroy the teeming brood of falsehood.

2585 A man with his tricks will stand exposed, and their hopes will be defeated.

2586 They knew that they had here to deal with no ordinary man, but a man with powers above what they could conceive of. But evil always thinks evil. Judging Moses and Aaron by their own standards, they thought that these two were also tricksters, with some tricks superior to their own. All they had to do was to stand together, and they must win. I construe 20: 63-64 to be their private talk among themselves, followed by their open challenge to Moses in 20:65.

2587 Cf. 20:104. 'Your most cherished institutions,' i.e., `your ancestral and time-honoured religion and magic`. Mithāl, feminine of Amithāl, most distinguished, honoured, cherished. Tārijah -way of life, institutions, conduct.

2588 Presumably Pharaoh was in this secret conference, and he promises the most lavish rewards to the magicians if they overcame Moses. See 7:114. That-but I think more than that is implied. That day was to be the crisis: if they won then, they would win all along, and Moses and his people would be crushed.
73. "For us, we have believed in our Lord: may He forgive us our faults, and the magic to which thou didst compel us:(2596) for Allah is Best and Most Abiding."

2596 The magic, mummary, and deceptions which pertained to Egyptian Pagan religion became a creed, a State article of faith, to which all citizens were compelled to bow, and to which its priests were compelled actively to practise. And Pharaoh was at the head of the whole system—the high priest or the supreme god. With justice, therefore, do the converted magicians lay the blame on Pharaoh, effectively negativing Pharaoh's disingenuous charge that they had been in league with Moses. These falsehoods and deceptions—combined in many cases with horrid cruelties, open and secret—were common to many Pagan systems. Some of them have been investigated in detail in Sir John G.Frazer's Golden Bough.

74. Verily he who comes(2597) to his Lord as a sinner (at Judgment),- for him is Hell: therein shall he neither die nor live.

2597 The verses 20:74-76 are best construed as comments on the story of the converted Egyptians who had 'purified themselves (from evil)', But some construe them as a continuation of their speech.

75. But such as come to Him as Believers who have worked righteous deeds,-for them are ranks exalted.-

76. Gardens of Eternity, beneath which flow rivers: they will dwell therein for aye: such is the reward of those who purify themselves (from evil).(2598)

2598 As the Egyptian magicians had done when they confessed the One True God.

77. We sent an inspiration(2599) to Moses: "Travel by night with My servants, and strike a dry path for them through the sea, without fear of being overtaken (by Pharaoh) and without (any other) fear."

2599 Time passes and at last Moses is commanded to leave Egypt with his people by night. They were cross the Red Sea into the Sinai Peninsula. They were told to have no fear of Pharaoh or of the sea or of the unknown desert country of Sinai into which they were going. They crossed dry-shod, while Pharaoh, who came in pursuit with his troops, was overwhelmed by the sea. He and his men all perished. There is no emphasis on this episode here. But the emphasis is laid on the hard task which Moses had with his own people after he had delivered them from the Egyptian bondage.

78. Then Pharaoh pursued them with his forces, but the waters completely overwhelmed them and covered them up.

79. Pharaoh led his people astray instead of leading them aright.(2600)

2600 It is the duty of kings and leaders to give the right lead to their people. Instead of that, the evil ones among them lead them astray, and are the cause of the whole of a people perishing (Cf. 6:123 and 37:24-33).

80. O ye Children of Israel! We delivered you from your enemy, and We made a Covenant with you on the right side of(2601) Mount (Sinai), and We sent down to you Manna and quails:

2601 Right side: Cf. 19:52, and n. 2504, towards the end. The Arabian side of Sinai (Jabal Musa) was the place where Moses first received his commission before going to Egypt, and also where he received the Law after the Exodus from Egypt.

81. (Saying): "Eat of the good(2602) things We have provided for your sustenance, but commit no excess therein, lest My Wrath should justly descend on you: and those on whom descends My Wrath do perish indeed!(2603)

2602 Cf. 2:57 and n. 71; and 7:160.1 should like to construe this not only literally but also metaphorically—Allah has looked after you and saved you. He has given you ethical and spiritual guidance. Enjoy the fruits of all this, but do not become puffed up and rebellious (another meaning in the root Taqhalal; otherwise the Wrath of Allah is sure to descend on you.)

2603 This gives the keynote to Moses' constant trade with his own people, and introduces immediately afterwards the incident of the golden calf.

82. "But, without doubt, I am (also) He that forgives again and again, to those who repent, believe, and do right, who,- in fine, are ready to receive true guidance."

83. (When Moses was up on the Mount,(2604) Allah said:) "What made thee hasten in advance of thy people, O Moses?"

2604 This was when Moses was up on the Mount for forty days and forty nights: 2:51 and n. 66. Moses had left the elders of Israel with Aaron behind him: Exod. 24:14. While he was in a state of ecstatic honour on the Mount, his people were enacting strange scenes down below. They were tested and tried, and they failed in the trial. They made a golden image of a calf for worship, as described below. See also 7:148-150 and notes-

84. He replied: "Behold, they are close on my footsteps: I hastened to thee, O my Lord, to please thee."

85. (Allah) said: "We have tested thy people in thy absence: the Samiri has led them(2605) astray.

2605 Who was this Samiri? If it was his personal name, it was sufficiently near the meaning of the original root word to have the definite article attached to it: Cf. the name of the caliph Mu'tasim (Al-Mu'tasim). What was the root for "Samiri"? If we look to old Egyptian, we have sheqer — a stranger, foreigner (Sir E. A. Wallis Budge's Egyptian Hieroglyphic Dictionary, 1920, p. 815). As the Israelites had just left Egypt, they might quite well have among them an Egyptianised Hebrew bearing that nickname. That the name sheqer was subsequently not unknown among the Hebrews is clear from the Old Testament. In I Kings, 16:24 we read that Omri, king of Israel, the northern portion of the divided kingdoms, who reigned about 908-896 B.C., built a new city, Samaria, on a hill which he bought from Sheemer, the owner of the hill, for two talents of silver. See also Renan: History of Israel, 2:210. For a further discussion of the word, see n. 2608 below.

86. So Moses returned to his people in a state of indignation and sorrow. He said: "O my people! did not your Lord make a handsome(2606) promise to you? Did then the promise seem to you long (in coming)? Or did ye desire that Wrath should descend from your Lord on you, and so ye broke your promise to me?"

2606 There are two promises referred to in this verse, the promise of Allah and the promise of the people of Israel. They form one Covenant, which was entered into through their leader Moses. See 20:80, and 253, n. 78. Allah's promise was to protect and lead them to the Promised Land, and their promise was to obey Allah's Law and His commandments.

87. They said: "We broke not the promise to thee, as far as lay in our power: but we were made to carry the weight of the ornaments(2607) of the (whole) people, and we threw them (into the fire), and that was what the Samiri suggested.(2608)

2607 Cf. Exod. 12:33-36: the Israelites, before they left Egypt, borrowed from the Egyptians 'jewels of silver and jewels of gold, and raiment'; and 'they spoiled the Egyptians' i.e., stripped them of all their valuable jewelry. Note that the 'answer of the backsliders is disingenuous in various ways. (4) The Samiri was no doubt responsible for suggesting the making of the golden calf, but they could not on that account disclaim responsibility for themselves; the burden of the sin is on him who commits it, and he cannot pretend that he was powerless to avoid it. (2) At most the weight of the gold they carried could not have been heavy even if one or two men carried it, but would have been negligible if distributed. (3) Gold is valuable, and it is not likely that if they wanted to disburse themselves of it, they had any need to light a furnace, melt it, and cast it into the shape of a calf.

2608 See n. 2605 about the Samiri. If the Egyptian origin of the root is not accepted, we have a Hebrew origin in 'shomer', a guard, watchman. 'Shomer' is derived from the Arabic 'samir', 'samara, to keep awake by night, to converse by night: otherwise by night: sanah, one who keeps awake by night. The Samiri may have been a watchman, in fact or by nickname (Cf. n. 2917).
88. "Then he brought out (of the fire) before the (people) the image of a calf:(2609) It seemed to low:(2610) so they said: This is your god, and the god of Moses, but (Moses) has forgotten!"(2611)

89. "(Moses) now turns to the Samiri, and the Samiri's reply in the next verse sums up his character in a few wonderful strokes of character-painting. The lesson of the whole of this episode is the fall of a human soul that nominally comes to Allah's Truth in a humble position but makes mischief when and as it finds occasion. It is no less dangerous and culpable than the arrogant soul, typified by pharaoh, which gets into high places and makes its leadership the cause of ruin of a whole nation.

90. He replied: "I saw what they saw not: so I took a handful (of dust) from the footprint of the Messenger, and threw it (into the calf): thus did my soul suggest to me."(2621)

91. This answer of the Samiri is a fine example of unsublimed effrontery, careful evasion of issues, and invented falsehoods. He takes upon himself to pretend that he had far more insight than anybody else; he saw what the vulgar crowd did not see. He saw something supernatural. 'The Messenger' is construed by many Commentators to mean the angel Gabriel. Rasul 'Ibrahim, rasul, is used in several places for 'angels' e.g., in 11:69, 77; 19:19; and 35:1. But if we take it to mean the Messenger Moses, it means that the Samiri saw something sacred or supernatural in his footprints perhaps he thinks a little flattery would make Moses forgive him. The dust became sacred, and his throwing it into the calf's image made the calf utter a lowing sound! As if that was the point at issue! He does not answer the charge of making an image for worship. But finally, with arrogant effrontery, he says, 'Well, that is what my soul suggested to me, and that should be enough!'
101. They will abide in this (state): and grievous will the burden (2626) be to them on that Day, -

102. The Day when the Trumpet will be sounded: that Day, We shall gather the sinful, blear-eyed (with terror). (2627)

103. In whispers will they consult each other: "Yet tarried not longer than ten (Days); (2628)

104. We know best what they will say, when their leader(2629) most eminent in conduct will say: "Ye tarried not longer than a day!"

105. They ask thee concerning (2630) the Mountains: say, "My Lord will uproot them and scatter them as chaff or dust, and (3) winnowing. Its twofold repetition here intensifies the meaning.

106. "He will leave them as plains smooth and level;

107. "Nothing crooked or curved wilt thou see in their place."

108. On that Day will they follow the Caller(2632) (straight): no crookedness (can they show) him: all sounds(2633) shall humble themselves in the Presence of (Allah) Most Gracious: nothing shalt thou hear but the tramp of their feet (as they march).

109. On that Day shall no intercession avail except for those for whom(2634) permission has been granted by (Allah)) Most Gracious and whose word is acceptable to Him.

110. He knows what (appears to His creatures as) before or after or behind them:(2635) but they shall not compass it with their knowledge.

111. (All) faces shall be humbled before (Him) - the Living, the Self-Subsisting, Eternal: hopeless indeed will be the man that carries iniquity (on his back).(2636)

112. But he who works deeds of righteousness, and has faith, will have no fear of harm nor of any curtailment(2637) (of what is his due).

113. Thus have We sent this down - an arabic Qur´an - and explained therein in detail some of the warnings, in order that they may fear Allah, or that it may cause their remembrance (of Him).(2638)

114. High above all is Allah, the King, the Truth! Be not in haste with the Qur´an before its revelation to thee(2639) is completed, but say, "O my Lord! advance me in knowledge."

115. We had already, beforehand,(2640) taken the covenant of Adam, but he forgot: and We found on his part no firm resolve.

116. When We said to the angels, "Prostrate yourselves to Adam", they prostrated themselves, but not Iblis: he refused.
117. Then We said: "O Adam! verily, this is an enemy to thee and thy wife: so let him not give you both out of the Garden, so that thou art landed in misery. (2641)

3641 See last note. The story is referred to, in order to draw attention to man's folly in rushing into the arms of Evil, through he had been clearly forewarned.

118. 'There is therein (enough provision) for thee not to go hungry (2642) nor to go naked, (2643) Not only had the warning been given that Evil is an enemy to man and will effect his destruction, but it was clearly pointed out that all his needs were being met in the Garden of Happiness. Food and clothing, drink and shelter, were amply provided for.

119. "Nor to suffer from thirst, nor from the sun's heat."

120. But Satan whispered evil to him: he said, "O Adam! shall I lead thee to the Tree of Eternity (2643) and to a kingdom that never decays?"

3644 The suggestion of the Evil One is clever, as it always is: it is false, and at the same time plausible. It is false, because (1) that felicity was not temporary, like the life of this world, and (2) they were supreme in the Garden, and a 'Kangalma' such as was dangled before them would only add to their sorrows. It was plausible, because (1) nothing had been said to them about Eternity, as the opposite of 'eternity was not yet known, and (2) the sweets of Power arise from the savour of Self, and Self is an alluring (if false) attraction that misleads the Will.

121. In the result, they both ate of the tree, and so their nakedness appeared (2644) to them: they began to sew together, for their covering, leaves from the Garden: thus did Adam disobey his Lord, and allow himself (2645) to be seduced.

3644 Hitherto they were clothed in the garb of Innocence and knew no evil. Now, when disobedience to Allah had sullied their soul and torn off the garment of their Innocence, their sullied Self appeared to themselves in all its nakedness and ugliness, and they had to resort to external things (leaves of the Garden) to cover the shame of their Self-consciousness.

3645 Adam had been given the will to choose, and he chose wrongly, and was about to be lost in the throng of the evil ones, when Allah's Grace came to his aid, His repentance was accepted, and Allah chose him for His Mercy, as stated in the next verse.

122. But his Lord chose him (for His Grace): He turned to him, and gave him Guidance.

123. He said: "Get ye down, both of you,- all together (2646) from the Garden, with enmity one to another: but if, as is sure, there comes to you Guidance from Me, whosoever follows My Guidance, will not lose his way, nor fail (2647) into misery.

3646 The little variations between this passage and 2:38 are instructive, as showing how clearly the particular argument is followed in each case. Here inbata (get ye down) is in the dual number, and refers to the two individual souls, our common ancestors: in 2:38 inbata is in the plural number, to include all mankind and Satan, for the argument is about the collective life of man. On the other hand, "all together" includes Satan, the spirit of evil, and the enmity 'one to another" refers to the eternal feud between Man and Satan, between our better nature and Evil.

3647 For the same reason as in the last note, we have the consequences of Guidance to the individual, viz.: being saved from going astray or from falling into misery and despair. In 2:38, the consequences expressed, though they apply to the individual, are also appropriate taken collectively: "on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve."

124. "But whosoever turns away from My Message, verily for him is a life narrowed down, and We shall raise him up blind on the Day (2648) of Judgment."

3648 Again, as in the last two verses, there is a variation from the previous passage (2:38). The consequences of the rejection of Allah's guidance are here expressed more individually: a life narrowed down, and a blindness that will persist beyond this life. "A life narrowed down" has many implications: (1) it is a life from which all the beneficent influences of Allah's wide world are excluded; (2) it is a life for Self, not for all; (3) in looking exclusively to the "good things" of this life, it misses the true Reality.

125. He will say: "O my Lord! why hast Thou raised me up blind, while I had sight (before)?" (2649)

3649 Because Allah gave him physical sight in this life for trial, he thinks he should be favoured in the real world, the world that matters! He misused the physical sight and made himself blind for the other world.

126. (Allah) will say: "Thus didst Thou, when Our Signs came unto thee, disregard them: so wilt thou, this day, be disregarded." (2650)

3650 You were deliberately blind to Allah's Signs: now you will not see Allah's favours, and will be excluded from his Grace.

127. And thus do We recompense him who transgresses beyond bounds and believes not in the Sings of his Lord: and the Penalty of the Hereafter is far more grievous and more enduring. (2651)

3651 Blindness in the world of enduring Reality is far worse than physical blindness in the world of probation.

128. Is it not a warning to such men (to call to mind) how many generations before them We destroyed, in whose haunts they (now) move? Verily, in this are Signs for men ended with understanding. (2652)

3652 Cf. 20:54. This phrase concluded the argument of Moses with Pharaoh about Pharaoh's blindness to Allah and the Signs of Allah. Now it concludes the more general argument about men, concerning whom the saying arose: 'none are so blind as those who will not see.'

129. Had it not been for a Word that went forth before from thy Lord, (2653) (their punishment) must necessarily have come; but there is a Term appointed (for respite).

3653 C/10:19 and n. 1407: also 11:110. In Allah's Holy Plan and Purpose, there is a wise adjustment of all interests, and a merciful chance and respite given to all, the unjust as well as the just, and His decree or word abides. The most wicked have a term appointed for them for respite. Had it not been so, the punishment must necessarily have descended on them immediately for their evil deeds.

130. Therefore be patient with what they say, and celebrate (constantly) (2654) the praises of thy Lord, before the rising of the sun, and before its setting; yea, celebrate them for part of the hours of the night, and at the sides (2655) of the day: that thou mayest have (spiritual) joy.

3654 All good men must be patient with what seems to them evil around them. That does not mean that they should sit still and do nothing to destroy evil; for the fight against evil is one of the cardinal points of Islam. What they are told is that they must not be impatient: they must pray to Allah and commune with Him, so that their patience and faith may be strengthened, and they may be able the better to grapple with evil. For they thus not only get strength but inward spiritual joy.

3655 Taraf, plural attraf, may mean sides, ends, extremities. If the day be compared to a tabular figure standing erect, the top and bottom are clearly marked, but the sides are not so clearly marked: they would be attraf (plural), not taraf (dual). Now the prayer before sunset is clearly Fajr that before sunset is 'Asr: 'part of the hours of the night' would indicate Maghrib (early night, just after sunset), and Isha, before going to bed. There is left Zuhur, which is the indefinite side or middle of the day; it may be soon after the sun's decline from noon, but there is considerable latitude about the precise hour. The majority of Commentators interpret in favour of the fiveCanonical prayers, and some include optional prayers. But I think the words are even more comprehensive. A good man's life is all one sweet Song of Praise to Allah (Cf. 33:2).
21. Al Anbiya’ (The Prophets)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Closer and closer to mankind comes their Reckoning: yet they heed not and they turn away.

2. Never comes (aught) to them of a renewed Message from their Lord, but they listen to it as in jest.

3. Their hearts toying as with trifles. The wrong-doers conceal their private counsels, (saying), "Is this (one) more than a man like yourselves? Will ye go to witchcraft with your eyes open?"

4. Say:(2666) "My Lord knoweth (every) word (spoken) in the heavens and on earth: He is the One that heareth and knoweth (all things)."

5. "Nay," they say, "(these are) medleys of dream! Nay, He forged it! - Nay, He is (but) a poet!(2668) Let him who follows it have a livelihood and a witness against himself!"

6. (As to those) before them, not one of the populations believed in former revelations and should have convinced them was what was in their own books.

Thou hast sent us a messenger, we should certainly have followed Thy Signs before we were humbled and put to shame."

If people will not be true to their own lights, what further argument is left? The Prophet of Allah can only say: "Let us wait the issue; my faith tells me that Allah’s Truth must prevail." Cf. 9:52, (R).

The straight and even Way must endure, and show that the man who follows it has received true guidance. All falsehood and crookedness must ultimately disappear.

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

We ask thee not to provide sustenance: We provide it for thee. But the (fruit of) this, they would have said: "Our Lord! If only from his Lord?” Has not a Clear Sign come to them of what they are? We have produced this Revelation. But the one that should have appealed to those who believed in former revelations and should have convinced them was what was in their own books.

And if We had inflicted on them a penalty before this,(2659) they would have said: "Our Lord! If only we had been warned before, and been a nation guided right.

Say: "Each one of (us) is waiting: wait ye, therefore,(2660) and soon shall ye know who it is that is on the straight and even(2661) way, and who it is that has received Guidance.”

If the Signs mentioned in the last note did not convince them, it would mean that they were not true to their own faith. They were not straight with themselves. Injustice they should have been punished for their falsehood. But they were given further respite. Or they would again have argued in a circle, and said: "If only Allah had sent us a living messenger we should have believed!" The living messenger they flout because they want a Sign. The Sign they wish to ignore, because they want a living messenger!

Our Lord is proved to be above them in moral worth, in true insight, in earnestness and power of eloquence, they accuse him of witchcraft, a word which may mean nothing, or perhaps some mysterious deceitful arts.
Nor did We give them bodies that ate no food, nor were they exempt from death. (2671)

As men they were subject to the laws governing the physical bodies of men. They ate and drank, and their bodies perished in death (cf. 7:148 and 2557).

In the end We fulfilled to them Our Promise, and We saved them and those whom We pleased, but We destroyed those who transgressed beyond bounds. (2672)

But, however difficult (or impossible) their mission may have appeared to them, or to the world at first, they won through eventually, even those who seemed to have been defeated. Examples are given in the latter part of this Surah, especially in 21:51-203. They were delivered from the Wrath which overtook the Unbelievers, as were those with them who accepted Allah's Message and placed themselves in conformity with His Will and Plan. That is the meaning of 'whom We pleased'.

We have revealed for you (O men!) a book in which is a Message for you: will ye not then understand?

How many were the populations We utterly destroyed because of their iniquities, setting up in their places other peoples?

Yet, when they felt Our Punishment (coming), behold, they (tried to) flee from it. (2673)

When they had every chance of repentance and reform, they rejected Allah's Message, and perhaps even put up an open defiance. When they actually began to feel the Wrath coming, they began to flee, but it was too late! Besides, where could they flee to from the Wrath of Allah? Hence the ironical appeal to them in the next verse: better go pack your luxuries and what you thought were your permanent homes! Cf. Christ's saying in the present Gospel of St. Matthew (6:37): 'O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the Wrath to come?'

Flee not, but return to the good things of this life which were given you, and to your homes in order that ye may be called to account. (2674)

See last note. You thought your homes so comfortable: why don't you go back to them? You will be called to account. Perhaps there may be rewards to be given you, who knows? This irony is itself the beginning of the Punishment, but the ungodly now see how wrong they had been. But their sighs and regrets now avail them nothing. It is too late. They are lost, and nothing can save them.

They said: "Ah! woe to us! We were indeed wrong-doers!"

And that cry of theirs ceased not, till We made them as a field that is mown, as ashes silent and quenched. (2675)

The two similies present two different aspects of the lamentations of the ungodly. When they really see the Wrath to come, there is a stampede, but where can they go to? Their lamentation is now the only mark of their life. But it dies away, as corn vanished from a field that is being mown, or as a dying fire is slowly extinguished? They do not die. They wish they were dead! (Cf. 36:29 and 78:40).

Not for (idle) sport did We (2676) create the heavens and the earth and all that is between!

The Hindu doctrine of Lila, that all things were created for sport, is here negatived. But more: with Allah we must not associate any ideas but those of Truth. Righteousness, Mercy, Justice, and the other attributes implied in His Beautiful Names. He does not jest nor play with His creatures (cf. 55:26).

If it had been Our wish to take (just) a pastime, We should surely have taken it from the things nearest to Us, if We would do (such a thing)! (2677)

If such an idea as that of play or pastime had been possible with regard to Allah, and if He had wished really to indulge in pastime, He would have done it with creatures of Light nearest to Him, not with the lowly material creation that we see around us (cf. 41:47).

Nay, We hurl the Truth against falsehood, and it knocks out its brain, and behold, falsehood doth perish! Ah! woe be to you for the (false) things ye ascribe (to Us). (2678)

Such as that (1) Allah has partners (21:22), or (2) that He has gotten a son (21:26), or (3) has daughters (16:57), or any other aspersions derogatory to the dignity and glory of Allah.

To Him belong all (creatures) in the heavens and on earth: Even those who are in His (very) Presence are not (2679) too proud to serve Him, nor are they (ever) weary (of His service):

The pure angelic hosts, whom we imagine to be glorious creatures of light, high in the spiritual world, near the Throne of Allah Himself, are yet His creatures, and serve Him without ceasing, and are proud to do so. Such is the majesty of Allah Most High.

They celebrate His praises night and day, nor do they ever flag or intermit.

Or have they taken (for worship) gods from the earth (2680) who can raise (the dead)? (2681)

The different kinds of false gods whom people raise from their imagination are now referred to. In verses 21-23, the reference is to the gods of the earth, whether idols or local godslings, or deified heroes, or animals or trees or forces of the nature around us, which men have from time to time worshipped. These, as deities, have not life except what their worshippers give them.

The answer of course is 'no'. No one but Allah can raise the dead to life. The miracle in the story of Jesus (6:49 and 5:112-115) was 'by Allah's leave' 1. It was a miracle of Allah, not one of Jesus by his own power or will.

If there were, in the heavens and the earth, other gods besides Allah, would there have been confusion in both! but glory to Allah, the Lord of the Throne: (High is He) above what they attribute to Him!

He cannot be questioned for His acts, but they (2683) will be questioned (for theirs).

Allah is Self-Subsisting. All His creatures are responsible to Him and dependent on Him. There is no other being to whom He can be responsible or on whom He can be dependent.

Or have they taken for worship (other) gods (2684) besides him? Say, "Bring your convincing proof: this is the Message of those with me and the Message of those before me. (2685) But most of them know not the Truth, and so turn away.

See above, n. 2682, where two kinds of false worship are noted. Now we are warned against a third danger, the worship of false gods of any sort. Pagan man is prolific of creating abstract images for worship, including Self or abstract
25. And they say: "((Allah)) Most Gracious has begotten (2686) offspring." Glory to Him! they are (but) servants raised to honour.

26. They never say anything before they receive Allah's command to say it, and their acts are similarly conditioned. This is also the teaching of Jesus as reported in the Gospel of St. John (12:49-50): "For I have not spoken of myself: but the Father said unto me, so I speak." If rightly understood, 'Father' has the same meaning as our 'Rabb', Sustainer and Cherisher, not Begetter or Progenitor.

27. He knows what is before them, and what is behind them, and they offer no intercession except for those who do wrong. They never say anything before they receive Allah's command to say it, and their acts are similarly conditioned. This refers both to the Trinitarian superstition that Allah has begotten a son, and to the Arab superstition that the angels were daughters of Allah. All such superstitions are derogatory to the glory of Allah. The prophets and angels are no more than servants of Allah: they are raised high in honour, and therefore they deserve our highest respect, but not our worship.

28. If any of them should say, "I am a god besides Him", and then believe? from water(2691) every living thing. Will they not deserve our highest respect, but not our worship. They never say anything before they receive Allah's command to say it, and their acts are similarly conditioned. This refers both to the Trinitarian superstition that Allah has begotten a son, and to the Arab superstition that the angels were daughters of Allah. All such superstitions are derogatory to the glory of Allah. The prophets and angels are no more than servants of Allah: they are raised high in honour, and therefore they deserve our highest respect, but not our worship.

29. And we have made the heavens as a canopy well guarded:(2694) yet do they turn away from the Signs of Allah in life and spiritual progress.

30. Do not the Unbelievers see that the heavens and the earth were joined together (as one(2690) unit of creation), before we clove them asunder? We made from water(2691) every living thing. Will they not then believe? from water(2691) every living thing. Will they not then believe?

The evolution of the ordered worlds as we see them is hinted at. As man's intellectual gaze over the physical world expands, he sees more and more how Unity is the dominating note in Allah's wonderful Universe. Taking the solar system alone, we know that the maximum intensity of sun-spots corresponds with the maximum intensity of magnetic storms on this earth. The universal law of gravitation seems to bind all mass together. Physical facts point to the throwing off of planets from vast quantities of diffused nebular matter, of which the central condensed core is a sun.

About 72 percent of the surface of our Globe is still covered with water, and it has been estimated that if the inequalities of the surface were all levelled, the whole surface would be under water, as the mean elevation of land sphere-level would be 2,000,000,000 feet below the surface of the ocean (Cf. 11:7). This shows the predominance of water on our Globe. That all life began in the water is also a conclusion to which our latest knowledge in biological science points. Apart from the fact that protoplasm, the original basis of living matter, is liquid or semi-liquid and in a state of constant flux and instability, there is the fact that land animals, like the higher vertebrates, including man, show, in their embryological history, organs like those of fishes, indicating the watery origin of their original habitat.

The constitution of protoplasm is about 80 to 85 percent water (see also 24:30-31 and 24:45).

31. And We have set on the earth mountains standing firm,(2692) lest it should shake with them, and We have made therein broad highways (between mountains) for them to pass through: that they may receive Guidance.(2693)

In both the literal and the figurative sense, literally, these natural mountain highways direct men in the way they should go. Figuratively, these wonderful instances of Allah's providence should turn men's thoughts to the true guidance of Allah in life and spiritual progress.

32. And We have made the heavens as a canopy well guarded:(2694) yet do they turn away from the Signs which these things (point to)!

33. It is He Who created the Night and the Day, and the sun and the moon: all (the celestial bodies) swim along, each in its(2695) rounded course.

34. We granted not to any man before thee permanent life(2696) (here): if then thou shouldst die, would they live permanently?

35. Every soul shall have a taste of death(2697) and We test you by evil and by good by way of trial. to Us must ye return.

36. The constitution of protoplasm is about 80 to 85 percent water (see also 24:30-31 and 24:45).

31. And We have set on the earth mountains standing firm,(2692) lest it should shake with them, and We have made therein broad highways (between mountains) for them to pass through: that they may receive Guidance.(2693)
37. Man is a creature of haste:(2699) soon (enough) will I show you My Signs; then ye will not ask Me to hasten them!

2699 Haste is the very bone and marrow of man. If he is granted respite for his own sake, in order that he may have a further chance of repentance and coming back to Allah, he says impatiently and incredulously: "Bring on the Punishment quickly, that I may see if what you say is true!" Alas, it is too true! When the Punishment actually comes near and he sees it, he will not want it hastened. He will want more time and further delay! Poor creature of haste! (#2:7:5:28).

38. They say: "When will this promise come to pass, if ye are telling the truth?"

39. If only the Unbelievers(2700) knew (the time) when they will not be able to ward off the fire from their faces, nor yet from their backs, and (when) no help can reach them!

2700 They would not be so unreasonable if they only realised the terrible future for them! The Fire will envelop them on all sides, and no help will then be possible. Is it not best for them now to turn and repent? The Punishment may come too suddenly, as is said in the next verse.

40. Nay, it may come to them all of a sudden and confound them: no power will they have then to avert it, nor will they (then) get respite.

41. Mocked were (many) messenger before thee; But their scoffers were hemmed in by the thing that they mocked.(2701)

2701 The same verse occurs at 6:10, where see n n. 843. What they are mocking at now will be in a position to mock them in due time.'

42. Say: "Who can keep you safe by night and by day from (the Wrath of) Allah Most Gracious?"(2702) Yet they turn away from the mention of their Lord.

2702 Allah is most Gracious: if, in spite of His great mercy, you are so rebellious and depraved as to incur His Wrath, who is there who can save you? His Wrath can descend on you at any time, by night or by day.'

43. Or have they gods that can guard them from Us? They have no power to aid themselves, nor can they be defended from Us.(2703)

2703 Isla h=a to join as a companion: with 2a r or min it has also the meaning of to defend or remove from someone. The full signification is best understood if paraphrased: they are not fit to be mentioned in the same breath with Us, nor can they be defended from Us.'

44. Nay, We gave the good things of this life to these men and their fathers until the period(2704) grew long for them; See they not that We(2705) gradually reduce the land (in their control) from its outlying borders? Is it then they who will win?

2704 Tawr, or Tumar: age, generation, period, time, life. Here 'period' is most appropriate, as it covers many generations, these men and their fathers.'

2705 CF 13:11 and n. 1865. The particular signification is that Islam spread from the outer borders, social and geographical, gradually inwards. The social fringe was the humbler people, such as slaves and poor men. The geographical reference is to Makkah and tribes away from the Makkah centre. The proud and unbelieving Quraysh were the last to come in when the circle was gradually drawn tighter and tighter around them. The general signification applies to all times. Allah's Truth makes its way first among the poor and the lowly, those whose minds are unsoiled by prejudices of false pride or false knowledge, but it gradually hinders in the obstinate, until it prevails in the end.

45. Say, "I do but warn you according to revelation": But the deaf will not hear the call, (even) when they are warned!(2706)

2706 According to the English saying, 'none is so deaf as those who will not hear'. When they deliberately shut their ears to the warning from the Merciful Allah, meant for their own good, the responsibility is their own. But their cowardice is shown in the next verse by their behaviour when the first breath of the Wrath reaches them.

46. If but a breath of the Wrath of thy Lord do touch them, they will then say, "Woe to us! we did wrong indeed!"

47. We shall set up scales of justice for the Day of Judgment, so that not a soul will be dealt with unjustly in the least, and if there be (no more than) the weight of a mustard seed,(2707) We will bring it (to account): and enough are We to take account.(2708)

2707 Not the smallest action, word, thought, motive, or predilection but must come into the account of Allah. Cf Browning’s Rabbi Ben Zoco.’But all, the world's coarse thumb and finger failed to plumb, So passed in making up the main account; All instincts immature, All purposes unsure, That weighed not as his work, yet swelled the man's account; Thoughts hardly to be packed Into a narrow act, Fancies that broke through language and escaped; All I could never be, All, men ignored in me, This, I was worth to God, Whose wheel the pitcher shaped.’

2708 The literalism of Sale has here excelled itself: he translates, 'and there will be sufficient accountants with us.' What is meant is that when Allah takes account, His accounting will be perfect: there will be no flaw in it, as there may be in earthly accountants, who require other people's help in some matters of account which they do not understand for want of knowledge of that particular department. They are dealing with Allah. Allah's knowledge is perfect, and therefore his justice will be perfect also; for We will not fail to take into account all the most intangible things that determine conduct and character. See last note. There is no contradiction between this and 18:104-105, where it is said that men of vain words, (i.e., shallow hypocritical deeds, will have no weight attached to their deeds. In fact the two correspond.

48. In the past We granted to Moses and Aaron the criterion (for judgment), a Light and a Message for those who would do right,- 2709 Cf 2:53 and n. 68, where the meaning of Furqan is discussed. Here three things are mentioned as given to Moses and Aaron: (1) The Criterion for judgement; this might well be the wonderful Proofs they saw of Allah's goodness and glory from which they could have no doubt as to Allah's will and command; (2) the Light; this was the inner enlightenment of their soul, such as comes from inspiration; and (3) the Message, the book, the original book of Moses, which Aaron as his lieutenant would also use as a guide for his people.

49. Those who fear their Lord in their most secret thoughts, and who hold the Hour (of Judgment) in awe.(2710)

2710 Note the three kinds of fear mentioned in 21:48-49. Taqra is the fear of running counter to the will of Allah; it is akin to the love of Him; for we fear to offend those we love; it results in right conduct, and those who entertain it are "those who would do right." Then there is Khidra, the fear of Allah, lest the person who entertains it may be found, in his inmost thoughts, to be short of the standard which Allah wished for him; this is also righteous but in a less high degree than Taqra which is akin to love. And thirdly, there is the fear of consequences on the Day of Judgement (qadliq); this also may lead to righteousness, but is on a still lower plane. Perhaps the three correspond to the Criterion, the Light, and the Message (or Warning) of the last verse.

50. And this is a blessed Message which We have sent down: will ye then reject it?(2711)

2711 Here is a Prophet and a Book, greater than Moses and his Book. Are you going to reject him and it? (BR).

51. We bestowed aforetime on Abraham his rectitude(2712) of conduct, and well were We acquainted with him.(2713)

2712 Rodat: right conduct, corresponding in action to the quality expressed in the epithet Hafiz (sound or true in Faith) applied to Abraham in 2:135 and elsewhere.

2713 Hence Abraham's title 'Friend of Allah' (Khadiil Allah): 4:125.
52. Behold! he said to his father and his people, (2714) "What are these images, to which ye are (so assiduously) devoted?"

2714 Reference is made to Abraham in many places. In 19:42-49 it was with reference to his relations to his father: the problem is how a righteous man should deal with his father, when his duty to his father conflicts with his duty to Allah. Here the problem is: how a righteous man should deal with evil and overcome it; how he should fight against evil, and if he is subjected to the fire of persecution, how his firmness draws Allah's Mercy, and the very trouble he is placed in becomes his comfort and joy.

53. They said, "We found our fathers worshipping them."

54. He said, "Indeed ye have been in manifest error - ye and your fathers."

55. They said, "Have you brought us the Truth, or are you one of those who jest?" (2715)

2715 Abraham looked at life with a serious eye, and his people took it lightly. He was devoted to Truth, and they cared more for ancestral custom. In the conflict, he seemed to be in their power. But he was fearless, and he triumphed by Allah's Grace.

56. He said, "Nay, your Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth, He Who created them (from nothing): (2716) and I am a witness to this (Truth)."

2716 For the various words for 'creation' see n. 120 to 2:117, where Fāatara is explained and differentiated from other words of similar meaning.

57. "And by Allah, I have a plan for your idols - after ye go away and turn your backs"... (2717)

2717 He wants to convince them of the powerlessness of their idols. But he does not do it underhandedly. He tells them that he is going to do something when once they are gone and their backs are turned to the idols—as much as to say that the idols are dependent on their care and attention. Apparently the people are amused and want to see what he does, so they leave him to his own devices.

58. So he broke them to pieces, (all) but the biggest of them, that they might turn (and address themselves) to it. (2718)

2718 He was enacting a scene, to make the people ashamed of worshipping senseless sticks and stones. He left the biggest idol untouched and broke the others to pieces, as if a fight had taken place between the idols, and the biggest had smashed the others. Would they turn to the surviving idol and ask him how it all happened?

59. They said, "Who has done this to our gods? He must indeed be some man of impiety!"

60. They said, "We heard a youth talk of them: (2719) He is called Abraham."

2719 Different groups of people are speaking. Those who were not present at Abraham's speech in verse 57 ask, "Who has done this?" Those who were, at once name him, whereupon a formal council of the people was held, and Abraham was arraigned.

61. They said, "Then bring him before the eyes of the people, that they may bear witness."

62. They said, "Art thou the one that did this with our gods, O Abraham?" (2720)

2720 They asked him the formal question. There was no mystery about it. He had already openly threatened to do something to the idols, and people who had heard his threats were there. He now continues his ironic taunt to the idol-worshippers. You ask me! Why don't you ask the idols? Doesn't it look as if this big fellow has smashed the smaller ones in a quarrel? If they do not ask the idols, they confess that the idols have not intelligence enough to answer! This argument is developed in verses 64-67. Note that while the false worshipper laughed at his earnestness, he pays them back with a grim practical joke, which at the same time advances the cause of Truth.

63. He said: "Nay, this was done by - this is their biggest one! ask them, if they can speak intelligently!"

64. So they turned to themselves and said, "Surely ye are the ones in the wrong!" (2721)

2721 Abraham's biting irony cut them to the quick. What could they say? They turned to each other. Some among them thought he had the best of the argument. They were not keen on idolatry, and they told their fellows that it was useless arguing with Abraham. They all hung their heads in shame. But presently they thought they would face out Abraham, and take his words literally. They said, 'You know quite well that idols do not speak!' This was precisely what Abraham wanted them to say, and he delivered his final blow! See n. 2723 below.

65. Then were they confounded (2722) with shame: (they said), "Thou knowest full well that these (idols) do not speak!"

2722 Literally, 'they were turned down on their heads' which may suggest a metaphorical somersault, i.e., they recovered from their damming shame for idolatry and were prepared to argue it out with the youth Abraham. But I think there is a better authority for the interpretation I have adopted.

66. (Abraham) said, "Do ye then worship, besides Allah, things that can neither be of any good to you nor do you harm?"

67. "Fie upon you, and upon (2723) the things that ye worship besides Allah. Have ye no sense?"

2723 As soon as they admitted in so many words that the idols could not speak, Abraham delivered his final attack: 'Then why do you worship useless impotent creatures?' After that, there remains nothing but the argument of violence, which they proceed to exercise, being the party in power. 'Burn him at the stake!' is an easy cry! But it was not Abraham that suffered; it was his persecutors (2:170).

68. They said, "Burn him and protect your gods, If ye do (anything at all)!

69. We said, "O Fire! (2724) be thou cool, and (a means of) safety for Abraham!" (2725)

2724 The nature of fire, by all the physical laws of matter, is to be hot. The supremacy of mind over matter is a phrase much used, but the supremacy of the spiritual over the material is not so commonly understood. And yet it is the greatest factor in the estimate of Reality. The material is ephemeral and relative. The spiritual is eternal and absolute. Through all the fire of persecution and hatred Abraham remained unharmed. The fire became cool, and a means of safety for Abraham.

70. Can we form any idea of the place where he passed through the furnace, and the stage in his career at which this happened? He was born in Ur of the Chaldees, a place on the lower reaches of the Euphrates, not a hundred miles from the Persian Gulf. This was the cradle, or one of the cradles, of human civilisation. Astronomy was studied here in very ancient times, and the worship of the sun, moon, and stars was the prevailing form of religion. Abraham revolted against this quite early in life, and his argument is referred to in 6:7-82. They also had idols in their temples, probably idols representing heavenly bodies and celestial winged creatures. He was still a youth (21:58) when he broke the idols. This was stage No. 2. After this he was marked down as a rebel and persecuted. Perhaps some years passed before the incident of his being thrown into the Fire (21:86-89) took place, or the incident may be only allegorical. Traditionally the Fire incident is referred to a king called Ninurud, about whom see n. 1565 to 21:60. If Ninurud's capital was in Assyria, near Nineveh (site near modern Mosul), we may suppose either that the king's rule extended over the whole of Mesopotamia, or that Abraham wandered north through Babylonia to Assyria. Various stratagems were devised to get rid of him (21:70), but he was saved by the mercy of Allah. The final break came when he was probably a man of mature age and could speak to his father with some authority. This incident is referred to in 19:41-48. He now left his ancestral lands, and avoiding the Syrian desert, came to the fertile lands of Aram or Syria, and so south to Canaan, when the incident of 11:59-67 and the adventures of his nephew Lot took place. It is some years after this that we may suppose he built the Khaiber with Isma'il (21:14-15), and his prayer in 14:35-41 may be referred to the same time. His visit to Egypt (Gen. 12:10) is not referred to in the Qur'an.
7741 As they could not get rid of him by open punishment, they tried secret plans, but were foiled throughout. It was not he that lost, but they. On the contrary, he left them and prospered and became the progenitor of great peoples. (CF 19:49).

71. But We delivered him and (his nephew) Lut (and directed them) to the land (2727) which We have blessed for the nations.

7227 The land of Azram or Syria, which in its widest connotation includes Canaan or Palestine, is a well-watered fertile land, with a Mediterranean sea-coast, on which the famous commercial cities of Tyre and Sidon were situated. Its population is very mixed, as it has been a bone of contention between all the great kingdoms and empires of Western Asia and Egypt, and European interest in it dates from the most ancient times. (R).

72. And We bestowed on him Isaac and, as an additional gift, (2728) (a grandson), Jacob, and We made righteous men of every one of (them).

7228 Nāhilah has many meanings: (1) booty; (2) extra work or prayer; (3) extra or additional gift; (4) grandson. The two last implications are implied here. Not only was Abraham given a son in his old age; he was given not only Isaac (cf. 19:69), but several sons, the chief being Isaac and Isma'il, who both joined in burying him (Gen. 25:9); and he also saw grandsons. Isma'il is specially mentioned later (21:85) apart from Isaac's line, on account of his special importance for Islam.

73. And We made them leaders, guiding (men) by Our Command, and We sent them inspiration to do good deeds, to establish regular prayers, and to practice regular charity; and they constantly served Us (and Us only). (2729)

7229 The spiritual lesson from this passage may be recapitulated. The righteous man makes no compromise with evil. If the avatars of evil laugh at him he pays them in their own coin, but he stands firmly by his principles. His firmness causes some confusion among the followers of evil, and he openly declares the faith that is in him. They try, openly and secretly, to injure or kill him, but Allah protects him, while evil perished from its own excesses.

74. And to Lut, too, We gave Judgment and Knowledge, and We saved him from the town which practised abominations: truly they were a people given to Evil, a rebellious people. (2730)

7230 Lot's people were given to unspeakable abominations. His mission was to preach to them. He withheld Evil, but they rejected him. They were punished, but he and his followers were saved. See 15:101-74, 11:77-82, and 7:80-84.

75. And We admitted him to Our Mercy: for he was one of the Righteous.

76. (Remember) Noah, when he cried (to Us) aforetime: (2730-A) We listened to his (prayer) and delivered him and his family from great distress. (2731)

7231 The contemporaries of Noah were given to Unbelief, oppression of the poor, and vain disputations. He carried Allah's Message to them, and standing fast in faith, built the Ark, in which he was saved with his followers from the Flood, while the wicked were drowned. See 11:25-48.

77. We helped him against people who rejected Our Signs: truly they were a people given to Evil: so We drowned them (in the Flood) all together.

78. And remember David and Solomon, when they gave judgment in the matter of the field into which the sheep of certain people had strayed by night: We did witness their judgment.

79. To Solomon We inspired (2732) the (right) understanding of the matter: to each (of them) We gave Judgment and Knowledge; it was Our power that made the hills and the birds celebrate Our praises (2733) with David: it was We Who did (all these things).

7232 Solomon's merit was that he distinguished between the corpus and income, and though a boy, was not ashamed to put his case before his father. But in either case it was Allah Who inspired the true realisation of justice. He was present and witnessed the affair, as He is present everywhere.

70. It was We Who taught (2734) him the making of coats of mail for your benefit, to guard you from each other's violence: will ye then be grateful? (2735)

81. (It was Our power that made) the violent (unruly) wind flow (tamely) for Solomon (2736) to his order, to the land (2737) which We had blessed: for We do know all things.

7236 CF 34:12, and 38:36-38. This has been interpreted to mean that Solomon had miraculous power over the winds, and could make them obey his order. Rationalists say that he had naval power on the Mediterranean, and through the Gulf of Aqaba on the Red Sea, and that he therefore indirectly commanded the winds, and we may say the same of airmen today. In any case the power behind was, and is, from Allah, Who has granted man intelligence and the faculties by which he can tame the more unruly forces of nature.

7237 Evidently Palestine, in which was Solomon's capital, though his influence extended far north in Syria, and perhaps far south in Arabia and Ethiopia. In the Roman ruins of Baalbek, fifty miles north of Damascus, is still shown a quarry of huge stones supposed to have been cut for Solomon. I have seen them with my own eyes. This local tradition is interesting, even if invented.

82. And of the evil ones, were some who dived for him, and did other work (2738) besides; and it was We Who guarded them.

7238 As in n. 2736, the literalists and the rationalists take different views. The former say that Solomon had power over supernatural beings of evil, whom he compelled to dive for pearls and do other hard tasks. Rationalists refer this to hostile unruly races whom he subjected to his sway. It was Allah's power ultimately, Who granted him wisdom. Solomon tamed evil with Wisdom.

83. And (remember) Job, when He cried to his Lord, "Truly distress has seized me." (2739) But Thou art the Most Merciful of those that are merciful."
roof, but he holds fast to his faith in Allah. As a further calamity he is covered with loathsome sores from head to foot. He loses his peace of mind, and he curse the day he was born. His false friends come and attribute his affliction to sin. These "Job's conforters" are no conforters at all, and he further loses his balance of mind, but Allah recalls to him all His mercies, and he resumes his humility and gives up self-justification. He is restored to prosperity, with twice as much as he had before; his brethren and friends come back to him, he had a new family of seven sons and three fair daughters. He lived to a good old age, and saw four generations of descendants. All this is recorded in the Book of Job in the Old Testament. Of all the Hebrew writings, the Hebrew Book of this comes nearest to Arabic. The account given in the Biblical sources and the image that it projects of Prophet Job is decidedly different from that found in the Qur'an and the Hadith, which present him as a prophet and a brilliant example of dignified patience becoming of a great Prophet of Allah ever trustful in Him and His promises. Nothing could be further from the truth than saying that he lost his peace of mind, or resorted to curses during the period of his trial. (R).

84. So We listened to him: We removed the distress that was on him, and We restored his people to him, and doubled their number, as a Grace from Ourselves, and a thing for commemoration, for all who serve Us. (2740) 8740 Job is the pattern of humility, patience, and faith in Allah. It was with these weapons that he fought and conquered evil.

85. And (remember) Isma'il, Idris, (2742) and Dhu al Kifl, (2743) all (men) of constancy and patience;

8742 For Idris see n. 2508 to 19:36. He was in a high station in life, but that did not spoil him. He was sincere and true, and that was the particular quality of his constancy and patience. Prophet Job is decidedly different from that found in the Qur'an and the Hadith, which present him as a prophet and a brilliant example of dignified patience becoming of a great Prophet of Allah ever trustful in Him and His promises. Nothing could be further from the truth than saying that he lost his peace of mind or resorted to curses during the period of his trial. (R).

8743 Dhu al Kifl would literally mean 'possessor of, or giving, a double requital or portion'; or else, 'one who used a cloak of double thickness,' that being one of the meanings of Kifl. The Commentators differ in opinion as to who is meant, why the title is applied to him, and the point of his being grouped with Isma'il and Idris for constancy and patience. I think the best suggestion is that afforded by Käsem Nölzeh in his Reisebeschreibung nach Arabien, Copenhagen, 1778, 2:84-296, as quoted in the Encyclopaedia of Islam under 'Dhu al Kifl'. He visited Meshed ('Ali in Iraq, and also the little town called Kefl, midway between Najaf and Hillah ('Ali there). Kefl, he says, is the Arabic form of Ezekiel. The shrine of Ezekiel was there, and the Jews came to it on a pilgrimage.

If we accept 'Dhu al Kifl' to be not an epithet, but an Arabised form of 'Ezekiel', it fits the context. Ezekiel was a prophet in Israel who was carried away to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar after his second attack on Jerusalem (about B.C. 599). His Book is included in the English Bible (Old Testament). He was chained and put into prison, and for a time he was dumb, (Ezekiel, 3:25-30). He bore it all with patience and constancy, and continued to reprove boldly the evils in Israel. In a burning passage he denounces false leaders in words which are eternally true: 'Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the flock? Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock. The diseased have ye not looked upon; the弱者 have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken . . .', etc. (Ezekiel, 3:14-20).

Dhu al Kifl is again mentioned in 38:48 along with Isma'il and Elisha.

86. We admitted them to Our mercy: for they were of the righteous ones.

87. And remember Dhu al Nun, (2744) when he departed in wrath: He imagined that We had no power over him! But he cried through the depth of darkness, "There is no god but thou: glory to thee: I was indeed wrong!"

2744 Dhu al Nun, 'the man of the Fish or the Whale', is the title of Jonah (Yunus), because he was swallowed by a large Fish or Whale. He was the prophet raised to warn the Assyrian capital Nineveh. For Nineveh see n. 1478 to 10:98. His story is told in 37:119-141. When his first warning was unheeded by the people, he denounced Allah's wrath on them. But they repented and Allah forgave them for the time being. Jonah, meanwhile, departed in wrath, discouraged at the apparent failure of his mission. He should have remained in the most discouraging circumstances, and relied on the power of Allah for He had power both over Nineveh and over the Messenger. He had sent to Nineveh. He went away to the sea and took a ship, but apparently the sailors threw him out as a man of bad omen in a storm. He was swallowed by a big Fish for Whale), but in the depth of the darkness, he cried to Allah and confessed his weakness. The darkness" may be understood both physically and spiritually: physically, as the darkness of the night and the storm and the Fish's body; spiritually as the darkness in his soul, his extreme distress in the situation which he had brought on himself. Allah Most Gracious forgave him. He was cast out ashore; he was given the shelter of a plant in his state of physical and mental lassitude. He was refreshed and strengthened, and the work of his mission prospered. Thus he overcame all his disappointment by repentance and faith, and Allah accepted him.

88. So We listened to him: and delivered him from distress: and thus do We deliver those who have faith.

89. And (remember) Zakariya, (2745) when he cried to his Lord: "O my Lord! leave me not without offsprings, though thou art the best of inheritors." (2746)

2745 See 19:2-15, and 3:38-41. Zakariya was a priest; both he and his wife were devout and pious in their duties. They were old, and they had no son. He was troubled in mind, not so much by the vulgar desire to have a son to carry on his line, but because he felt that his people were not unselfishly devout, and there would be no sincere work for Allah unless he could train some one himself. He was given a son Yahya (John the Baptist), who added to the devout reputation of the family, for he is called "noble, chaste, and a prophet," (6:39). All three, father, mother, and son, were made worthy of each other, and they repelled evil by their devout emulation in virtue.

2746 It is not that I crave a personal heir to myself; all things go back to Thee, and Thou art the best of inheritors: but I see no one around me sincere enough to carry on my work for Thee; wilt Thou give me one whom I can train?

90. So We listened to him: and We granted him Yahya: We cured his wife's (2747) (Barrenness) for him. These (three) were ever quick in emulation in good works; they used to call on Us with love and reverence, and humble themselves before Us.

2747 Aslaha = to improve, to mend, to reform, to make better. Here, with reference to Zakariya's wife the signification is twofold: (1) that her barrenness would be removed, so that she could become a mother; and (2) her spiritual dignity should be raised in becoming the mother of John the Baptist; and by implication his also, in becoming the father of John.

91. And (remember) her who (2748) guarded her chastity: We breathed into her of Our spirit, and We made her and her son a sign for all peoples.

2748 Mary, the mother of Jesus, chastity was her special virtue: with a son of virgin birth, she and Jesus became a miracle to all nations. That was the virtue with which they (both Mary and Jesus) resisted evil.

92. Verily, this brotherhood of yours is a single Brotherhood, (2749) and I am your Lord and Cherisher: therefore serve Me (and no other).

2749 Ummah: this is best translated by Brotherhood here, 'Community', 'race', and 'nation'; and 'people' are words which import other ideas and do not quite correspond to 'Ummah'. 'Religion' and 'Way of Life' are derived meanings, which could be used in other passages, but are less appropriate here. Our attention has been drawn to people of very different temperaments and virtues, widely different in time, race, language, surroundings, history, and work to be performed, but forming the closest brotherhood as being men and women formed in the highest service of Allah. They pre-figure the final and perfected Brotherhood of Islam.

93. But (later generations) cut off (2750) their affair of (unity), one from another: (yet) will they all return to Us.

2750 Allah's Message was and ever is one; and His Messengers treated it as one. It is people of narrower views who come later and trade on the earlier names, that break up the Message and the Brotherhood into jarring camps and sects (6:35-36).
94. Whoever works any act of righteousness and has faith,- His endeavour will not be rejected: We shall record it in his favour. (2751)

9751 Allah gives credit for every act of righteousness, however small when combined with sincere Faith in Allah, it becomes the stepping stone to higher and higher things. It is never lost.

95. But there is a ban on any population which We have destroyed: that they (2752) shall not return, 9752 But when wickedness comes to such a pass that the Wrath of Allah descends, as it did on Sodom, the case becomes hopeless. The righteous were warned and delivered before the Wrath descended. But those destroyed will not get another chance, as they flouted all previous chances. They will only be raised at the approach of the Day of Judgement.

96. Until the Gog and Magog (people) (2753) are let through (their barrier), and they swiftly swarm from every hill.

9753 For Gog and Magog see n. 2439 to 18:94. Their geographical position was discussed in Appendix VI. Here I do not think we are concerned with their geographical position. The name stands for wild and lawless tribes who will break their barriers and swarm through the earth. This will be one of the prognostications of the approaching Judgement.

97. Then will the true promise draw nigh (of fulfilment): then behold! the eyes of the Unbelievers will (2754) fixedly stare in horror: "Ah! Woe to us! we were indeed heedless of this; nay, we truly did wrong!"

9754 Cf. 17:14-12.

98. Verily ye, (unbelievers), and the (false) gods that ye worship besides Allah, are (but) fuel for Hell! to it will ye (surely) come!

99. If these had been gods, they would not have got there! (2755) but each one will abide therein.

9755 The ultimate proof of Truth and Falsehood will be that Truth will endure and come to its own, while Falsehood will be destroyed. And so the men who worshipped Truth will come to their own, while those who worshipped Falsehood will be in a Fire of Punishment they could scarcely have imagined before. In that state there will be nothing but regrets and sighs and groans, and these evil sounds will drown everything else,

100. There, sobbing will be their lot, nor will they there hear (aught else).

101. Those for whom the good (record) from Us has gone before, will be removed far therefrom. (2756)

9756 In contrast to the misery of those who rejected Truth and Right, will be the happiness of those who accepted it. Their record does not lag behind: in fact it goes before. Our Deeds go before our journey in this life is completed. What then is Judgement? It is instantaneous: it will all be decided in the twinkling of an eye (16:77). The good will not hear the least sound of the groans of evil. Their happiness of those who accepted it. Their record does not lag behind: in fact it goes before. Our Deeds go before our journey in this life is completed. What then is Judgement? It is instantaneous: it will all be decided in the twinkling of an eye (16:77). The good will not hear the least sound of the groans of evil. Their happiness will be the name of the Recording Angel who closes the Book of a man's Deeds after the man's death (Cf. 39:67).

102. Not the slightest sound will they hear of Hell: what their souls desired, in that will they dwell.

103. The Great Terror will (2757) bring them no grief: but the angels will meet them (with mutual greetings): "This is your Day,- (the Day) that ye were promised."

9757 The Judgement and balancing of accounts will be a mighty Terror to the evil doers. But it will cause, to the righteous, not grief or anxiety, but hope and happiness, for now they will be in a congenial atmosphere, and will see the fulfilment of their ideals in the meeting and greeting of the angels, preparatory to their enjoyment of the supreme Bliss—seeing the Face of Allah.

104. The Day that We roll up the heavens like a scroll rolled up for books (completed),- even as We produced the first creation, so shall We produce (2758) a new one: a promise We have undertaken: truly shall We fulfil it.

2758 The world—the universe—as we know it, will be folded up like a scroll of parchment, for it will have done its work. If Allah created all this world out of nothing, He can create an entirely new heaven and a new earth, on a plane of which we can form no conception in our present life. And He will do so, for that is His promise. Some Commentators understand Sinjil to be the name of the Recording Angel who closes the Book of a man's Deeds after the man's death (Cf. 39:67).

105. Before this We wrote in the Psalms, (2759) after the Message (given to Moses): (2760) My servants the righteous, shall inherit the earth."

9759 Zabur, the Book of the Psalms of David. The name of David is expressly mentioned in connection with the Zabur in 4:163 and 17:55, although there the indefinite article is applied to the word as meaning a Book of Scripture. See Psalms 25:13, 'his seed shall inherit the earth': 37:11, 'the meek shall inherit the earth' (quoted by Jesus in Matt. 5:5); and 37:29, 'the righteous shall inherit the land.' (10).

2760 The same promise occurs in the Pentateuch, Exod. 32:13, 'they shall inherit it (the land) forever.'

106. Verily in this (Qur´an) is a Message for people who would (truly) worship Allah. (2761)

2761 The culmination of Allah's Revelation is in the Qur'an, which confirms previous scriptures, corrects the errors which men introduced into them, and explains many points in detail for all who seek right worship and service to Allah—whether they inherit the previous Books (People of the Book) or not. It is a universal Message.

107. We sent thee not, but as a Mercy for all creatures. (2762)

2762 There is no question now of race or nation, of a 'chosen people' or the 'seed of Abraham'; or the 'seed of David'; or of Hindu Arya-varta; Turk or Tjik, European or Asiatic, White or Coloured; Aryan, Semitic, Mongolian, or African; or American, Australian, or Polynesian. To all men and creatures other than men who have any spiritual responsibility, the principles universally apply.

108. Say: "What has come to me by inspiration is that your Allah is One Allah. will ye therefore bow to His Will (in Islam)?" (2763)

2763 "Not my God only, but also your God for there is but One God, the Universal Lord, Who made and loves and cherishes all.'

109. But if they turn back, Say; "I have proclaimed the Message to you all alike and in truth; but I know not whether that which ye are promised is near or far. (2764)

2764 If you do not realise the significance of the Message, I at least have done my duty, I have given the Good News for the Righteous and the Warning for the Unjust, without favour or partiality, and without abating one jot of the truth, openly and squarely for all. Do not ask me when the Good News and the Warning will be fulfilled. That is for Allah to decide, not for me or for you to know.'

110. "It is He Who knows what is open in speech and what ye hide (in your hearts). (2765)

2765 The Messenger of Allah freely and impartially teaches all how to carry out Allah's Will and live a good life. If some of them are hypocrites and come into the Unnah (Brotherhood) from base motives and not the pure motives of the love of Allah, their motives and conduct will be judged by Allah and not by men.

111. "I know not but that it may be a trial for you, and a grant of (worldly) livelihood (to you) for a time." (2766)

2766 In the same way if men who come into the Brotherhood from pure motives and yet feel aggrieved that those outside are better off from a worldly point of view, they are wrong. It may be that the fleeting enjoyment of this world’s goods is but a trial, and they should be grateful for being saved from temptation.

112. Say: (2767) “O my Lord! Judge Thou in truth!” (2768) “Our Lord Most Gracious is the One Whose assistance should be sought against the blasphemies ye utter!” (2769)

2767 See above, n. 2666 to 21:4. The better reading is “Say” in the imperative, rather than “He (the Prophet) said” or “says” in the indicative mood. Note that, on that construction, there are three distinct things which the Prophet is asked to say:

22. Al Hajj (The Pilgrimage)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O mankind! if ye have a doubt about the Hour (of Judgment) will be a thing terrible! (2770)

2770 As an introduction to the spiritual meaning of various symbolic acts in this life, the serious issues involved are indicated by showing how terrible the consequences will be for those who disobey Allah’s Will. The terror will only be for those who rebel and disobey; the righteous will not suffer from it, but on the contrary will be greeted by angels with joy (21:103).

2. The Day ye shall see it, every mother giving suck shall forget her suckling- babe, and every pregnant female shall drop her load (unformed): thou shalt see mankind as in a drunken riot, (2771) yet not drunk: but dreadful will be the Wrath of Allah.

2771 Three metaphors are used for the extreme terror which the Awful Day will inspire. (1) No mother abandons the baby at her breast in the greatest danger; yet that will happen in this Dreadful Hour. (2) An expectant mother carries the young life within her with great pride and hope; “hope” is the actual word used in Urdu for this physical state; yet the terror will overpower the hope at this “Hour”, and nature’s working will be reversed. (3) Men ordinarily retain their self-possession for this physical state; yet the terror will overpower the hope at this “Hour”, and nature’s working will be reversed.

3. And yet among men there are such as dispute about Allah, without knowledge, and follow every evil one obstinate in rebellion!

4. About the (Evil One) it is decreed that whoever turns to him for friendship, him will he lead astray, and he will guide him to the Penalty of the Fire. (2772)

2772 Even after the warnings, there are men who are such fools as to turn away from Allah who created them and cherishes them with His love and care: they become outlaws in His Kingdom, making friends with Evil, which is a rebel in Allah’s Kingdom.

5. O mankind! if ye have a doubt about the Resurrection, (2773) (consider) that We created you out of dust, then out of a leech-like clot, then out of a morsel of flesh, partly formed (2774) and partly unformed, in order that We may manifest (our power) to you; and We cause whom We will (2775) to rest in the wombs for an appointed term, then do We bring you out as babes, then (foster you) that ye may reach your age of full strength; and some of you are called to die, and some are sent back to the feeblest old age, so that they know nothing after having known (much). (2776) And (further), thou seest the earth barren and lifeless, but when We pour down rain on it, it is stirred (to life), growth, and beauty in various forms. The Creator of this great pageant of Beauty can surely create yet another and a newer world.

2773 If they really have doubts in their minds about the life after death, they have only to turn their attention, either to their own nature, or to the nature around. How wonderful is their own physical growth, from lifeless matter, to seed, fertilised ovum, fetus, child, youth, age, and death! How can they doubt that the Author of all these wonderful stages in their life here can also give them another kind of life after the end of this life? Or, if they look at external nature, they see the earth dead and barren, and Allah’s fertilising showers bring it to life, growth, and beauty in various forms. The Creator of this great pageant of Beauty can surely create yet another and a newer world.

2774 That is, a male or a female child, a fair or an ugly child, a good or a rebellious child, etc., involving countless mysteries of genetics and heredity.

2775 Cf. 16:70. In that passage the mystery of our life was used to illustrate Allah’s abundant mercies and favours to us. Here it is used to illustrate Allah’s power in giving us a future Life of even greater promise (see also 40:67).

2776 A beautiful nature passage so pregnant in meaning that the earnest student wonders what magic and truth have been conveyed in so few words. M. P.’s Egyptian colleague, Prof. Ghazzawi (see M. P.’s note on this passage) was but expressing the feelings of every careful student of the Qur’an. The ‘subtlety and wealth of meaning’ are indeed marvellous.

6. This is so, because Allah is the Reality: it is He Who gives life to the dead, and it is He Who has power over all things. (2778)

2777 All these beautiful and well-articulated pageants of life and nature point to the Reality behind them, i.e., Allah. They will perish, but He is eternal. They are but shadows; the substance if such a word may be used is in Him. They are shifting and illusory, in the sense that they have neither permanency nor independent existence. But they have a sort of secondary reality in the sense in which a shadow is a real reflection from substance. No Power or Existence has any meaning except as a reflection of Allah’s ineffable Glory.
7. And verily the Hour will come: there can be no doubt about it, or about (the fact) that Allah will raise up all who are in the graves.

8. Yet there is among men such a one as disputes about Allah, without Knowledge, without Guidance, and without a Book of Enlightenment,—(2779)

9. (Disdainfully) bending his side, in order to lead (men) astray from the Path of Allah. for him there is disgrace in this life, and on the Day of Judgment We shall make him taste the Penalty of burning (Fire).

10. (It will be said): “This is because of the deeds which thy hands sent forth, for verily Allah is not unjust to His servants.(2781)

11. There are among men some who serve Allah, as it were, on the verge(2782) if good befalls them, they are, therewith, well content; but if a trial comes to them, they turn on their faces: they lose both this world and the Hereafter: that is loss for all to see!

12. They call on such deities,(2783) besides Allah, as can neither hurt nor profit them: that is straying far indeed (from the Way)!

13. (Perhaps) they call on one whose harm is nearer(2784) than his profit: evil, indeed, is the patron, and evil the companion (for help)!

14. Verily Allah will admit those who believe and work righteous deeds, to Gardens, beneath which rivers flow: for Allah carries out all that He plans.(2785)

15. If any think that Allah will not help him (His Messenger. in this world and the Hereafter, let him stretch out a rope to the ceiling and cut (himself)(2786) off: then let him see whether his plan will remove that which enrages (him)!

16. Thus have We sent down(2787) Clear Sings; and verily Allah doth guide whom He will!

17. Those who believe (in the Qur’an), those who follow the Jewish (scriptures), and the Sabians,(2788) Christians, Magians,(2789) and Polytheists,— Allah will judge between them on the Day of Judgment: for Allah is witness of all things.

18. Seest thou not that to Allah bow down in worship all things that are in the heavens and on earth,—(2790) the sun, the moon, the stars; the hills, the trees, the animals; and a great number among mankind? But a great number are (also) such as are fit for their skins.(2793)

19. These two antagonists dispute(2792) with each other about their Lord: But those who deny (their Lord),— for them will be cut out a garment of Fire: over their heads will be poured out boiling water.

20. With it will be scaled what is within their bodies, as well as (their) skins.(2793)
24. Profanity or wrong-doing -(2796) them will We cause the country - and any whose purpose therein is men - equal is the dweller there and the visitor from them.(2794)

25. who compass it round,(2798) or stand up, or bow, or worship) with Me; and sanctify My House for those (Sacred) House, (saying): “Associate not anything (in worship) with Me, and shun the word that is false,-

26. All these were enormities of which the Pagan clique in power in Makkah were guilty before and during the Hijrah.

27. Behold! We gave the site,(2797) to Abraham, of the (Sacred) House, (saying): "Associate not anything (in worship) with Me; and sanctify My House for those who compass it round,(2798) or stand up, or bow, or prostrate themselves (therein in prayer).

28. "And proclaim the Pilgrimage among men: they will come to thee on foot and (mounted) on every kind of camel, lean on account of journeys through deep and distant mountain highways;(2799)

29. When the Pilgrimage was proclaimed, people came to it from every quarter, near and far, on foot and mounted. The ‘lean camel’ coming after a fatiguing journey through distant mountain roads typifies the difficulties of travel, which Pilgrims disregard on account of the temporal and spiritual benefits referred to in the next verse.

30. "That they may witness the benefits (provided for them),(2800) and celebrate the name of Allah, through the Days(2801) appointed, over the cattle(2802) which He has provided for them (for sacrifice): then eat ye thereof and feed the distressed ones in want.

31. There are benefits both for this our material life and for our spiritual life. Of the former kind are those associated with social intercourse which further trade and increases knowledge. Of the latter kind are the opportunities of realising some of our spiritual yearnings in sacred associations that go back to the most ancient times. Of both kinds may be considered the opportunities which the Pilgrimage provides for strengthening our international Brotherhood.

32. The three special days of Hajj are the 8th, 9th, and 10th of the month of Dhu al Hijjah, and the two or three subsequent days of Tashriq; the rites explained in n. 217 to 2197. But we may ordinarily include the first ten days of Dhu al Hijjah in the term.

33. The great day of commemorative Sacrifice (Id al A'dha) is the 10th of Dhu al Hijjah; the meat then killed is meant to be eaten for food and distributed to the poor and needy, (R).

34. "Then let them complete the rites prescribed(2803) for them, perform their vows,(2804) and (again) circumambulate the Ancient House.”

35. As to those who have rejected ((Allah)), and would associate with Me; and sanctify My House for those who compass it round,(2798) or stand up, or bow, or worship) with Me; and shun the word that is false,-

36. The spirit of Pilgrimage is not completed by the performance of the outward rites. The Pilgrim should carry in mind some vow or spiritual service and endeavour to perform it. Then comes the final Tawaf.

37. Such (is the Pilgrimage): whoever honours the sacred rites of Allah, for him it is good in the Sight of his Lord. Lawful to you (for food in Pilgrimage) are cattle, except those mentioned to you(2805) (as exception): but shun the abomination of idols, and shun the word that is false,-

38. The great day of commemorative Sacrifice (Id al A'dha) is the 10th of Dhu al Hijjah; the meat then killed is meant to be eaten for food and distributed to the poor and needy, (R).

39. The general food prohibitions will be found in 2:173, 5:4-5, and 6:121, 138-146. They are meant for health and cleanliness, but the worst abominations to shun are those of false worship and false speech. Here the question is about food during Pilgrimage. Lawful meat but not game is allowed.

40. Such as is his state): and whoever holds in honour the Symbols of Allah,(2807) (in the sacrifice of animals), such (honour) should come truly from piety of heart.

41. A parable full of meaning. The man who falls from the worship of the One True God, is like a man who falls from heaven. His being taken up with false objects of worship is like the falling man being picked up in the air by birds of prey. But the false objects of worship cannot hold him permanently in their grip. A fierce blast of wind shall snatch him away and throws him into a place far, far away from any place he could have imagined into the hell of those who defied Allah, (R).

42. Such (is his state): and whoever holds in honour the Symbols of Allah,(2807) (in the sacrifice of animals), such (honour) should come truly from piety of heart.

43. In them(2808) ye have benefits for a term appointed: in the end their place of sacrifice is near(2809) the Ancient House.

44. In them: in cattle, or animals offered for sacrifice. It is quite true that they are useful in many ways to man, e.g., camels in desert countries are useful as mounts or for carrying burdens, or for giving milk, and so for horses and oxen; and camels and oxen are also good for meat, and camel's hair can be woven into cloths; goats and sheep also yield milk and meat, and hair or wool. But if they are used for sacrifice, they become symbols by which men show that they are willing to give up some of their own benefits for the sake of satisfying the needs of their poorer brethren.

45. Bar-towards, near. The actual sacrifice is not performed in the Ka'bah, but at Mina, five or six miles off, where the Pilgrims encamp see n. 217 to 2197.
34. To every people did We appoint rites (of sacrifice), that they might celebrate the name of Allah over the sustenance He gave them from animals (fit for food).(2810) But your Allah is One Allah. submit then your wills to Him (in Islam): and give thou the good news(2811) to those who humble themselves,- 2810 This is the true end of sacrifice, not propitiation of higher powers, for Allah is One, and He does not delight in flesh or blood (2:357), but a symbol of thanksgiving to Allah by sharing meat with fellow-men. The solemn pronunciation of Allah's name over the sacrifice is an essential part of the rite.

2811 The good news: i.e., the Message of Allah, that He will accept in us the sacrifice of self for the benefit of our fellow-men.

35. To those whose hearts when Allah is mentioned, are filled with fear, who show patient perseverance over their afflictions, keep up regular prayer, and spend (in charity) out of what We have bestowed upon them.(2812)

2812 Some qualities of Allah's devotees are mentioned here, in ascending order: (1) Humility before Allah makes them receptive, and prepares them to listen to Allah's Message: (2) fear of Allah, which is akin to love, touches their heart, and penetrates through their inmost being: (3) they are not afraid of anything in mortal life; (4) they take their trials patiently, and they go on in a course of righteousness with constancy: (4) their prayer now is not a matter of form, but a real communion with Allah, with a sense of confidence such as a faithful servant feels in the presence of his Lord; and (5) gratitude to Allah, as shown by practical acts of charity to all fellow-creatures.

36. The sacrificial camels we have made for you as among the symbols from Allah. in them is (much) good for you: then pronounce the name of Allah over them as they line up (for sacrifice):(2813) when they are down on their sides (after slaughter), eat ye thereof, and feed such as (beg not but) live in contentment,(2814) and such as beg with due humility: thus have We made animals subject to you, that ye may be grateful.

2813 See n. 2808 to 22:33 above. What was expressed in general terms is applied here more particularly to camels, the most precious and useful animals of Arabia, whose mode of slaughter for sacrifice is different from that of smaller animals: the special word for such sacrifice is Nafl (10:82).

2814 There are ethics in begging, as in charity. No approval is given to arrogant and insolent begging, though the relief of distress of all kinds, desired and undesired, is included in charity. But those who beg with humility and those who receive gifts with gratitude and contentment are both mentioned for special attention. Charity should not be given for show, or to get rid of importunate demands. It should find out real needs and meet them.

37. It is not their meat nor their blood, that reaches Allah. it is your piety that reaches Him: He has thus made them subject to you, that ye may glorify Allah for His guidance to you:(2815) and proclaim the good news to all who do right.

2815 The essence of sacrifice has been explained in n. 2810. No one should suppose that meat or blood is acceptable to the One True God. It was a Pagan fancy that Allah could be appeased by blood sacrifice, but Allah does accept the offering of our hearts, and as a symbol of such offer, some visible institution is necessary. He has given us power over the brute creation, and permitted us to eat meat, but only if we pronounce His name at the solemn act of taking life, for without this solemn invocation, we are apt to forget the sacredness of life. By the invocation we are reminded that wanton cruelty is not in our thoughts, but only the need of food. Now if we further deny ourselves the greater part of the food some theologians fix the proportion at three-quarters or two-thirds) for the sake of our poorer brethren in solemn assembly in the precincts of the Haram (sacred territory), our symbolic act finds practical expression in benevolence, and that is the virtue sought to be taught. We should be grateful to Allah for His guidance in this matter, in which many Peoples have gone wrong, and we should proclaim the true doctrine, so that virtue and charity may increase among men.

38. Verily Allah will defend (from ill) those who believe: verily, Allah loveth not any that is a traitor to faith, or show ingratitude.

39. To those against whom(2816) war is made, permission is given (to fight), because they are wronged;- and verily, Allah is most powerful for their aid:-

2816 Several translators have failed to notice that yunga tulaha is in the passive voice, 'against whom war is made'—not 'who take arms against the unbelievers' as Sale translates it. The clause 'and verily... their aid' is parenthetical. Verse 40 connects on with 'they are wronged'. The wrong is indicated: 'driven by persecution from their home, for no other reason than that they worshipped the One True God'. This was the first occasion on which fighting-in self-defence was permitted. This passage therefore undoubtedly dates from Madinah.

40. (They are) those who have been expelled from their homes in defiance of right,—(for no cause) except that they say, "our Lord is Allah... Did not Allah check one set of people by means of another,(2817) there would surely have been pulled down monasteries, churches, synagogues, and mosques, in which the name of Allah is commemorated in abundant measure. Allah will certainly aid those who aid his (cause):—for verily Allah is full of Strength, Exalted in Might,(2818) (able to enforce His Will).

2817 Cf. 2:251, where the expression is used in connection with David's fight against the Philistines. To allow a righteous people to fight against a ferocious and mischief-loving people was fully justified. But the justification was far greater here, when the little Muslim community was not only fighting for its own existence against the Makkan Quraysh, but for the very existence of the Faith in the One True God. They had as much right to be in Makkah and worship in the Ka'bah as any other Quraysh; yet they were exiled for their Faith. It affected not the faith of one particular people. The principle involved was that of all worship, Jewish or Christian as well as Muslim, and of all foundations built for pious uses.

2818 Aziz means Exalted in power, rank, dignity; Incomparable; Full of might and majesty; Able to enforce His Will. The last signification is the one that predominates here (Cf. 22:74).

41. (They are) those who, if We establish them in the land, establish regular prayer and give regular charity, enjoin the right and forbid wrong:(2819) with Allah rests the end (and decision) of (all) affairs.

2819 Enjoining the right and forbidding the wrong is an essential duty of the Muslim Ummah and one of the main purposes for which it has been raised. (See 3:104, 110; 9:71, 111-112). (Eds.).

42. If they treat thy (mission) as false, so did the peoples before them (with their prophets),—(2820) the People of Noah, and ’Ad and Thamud; 2820 It is nothing new if the Prophet of Allah is accused of imposture. This was done in all ages: e.g., Noah (7:64): Hid the prophet of the 'Ad people (7:66): Salih prophet of Thamud (7:76): Abraham (21:53): Lot (7:82): Shu‘aib the prophet of the Madyan people (7:95) and also of the Companions of the Wood (3:257): the case of Moses is mentioned apart, as his people survived to the time of our Prophet and survive to the present, and they frequently rebelled against Moses (2:106-111).

43. Those of Abraham and Lut;

44. And the Companions(2821) of the Madyan People; and Moses was rejected (in the same way). But I granted respite to the Unbelievers, and (only) after that did I punish them: but how (terrible) was my rejection (of them))(2822)

2821 Were they the same as the Companions of the Wood? See n. 2000 to 15:78.

2822 My Wrath on them, and the complete reversal of their fortune in consequence (Cf.3:45 and 35:28).
45. How many populations have We destroyed, which were given to wrong-doing? They tumbled down on their roofs. And how many wells are lying idle and neglected, and castles lofty and well-built?

46. Do they not travel through the land, so that their hearts (and minds) may thus learn wisdom and their ears may thus learn to hear? Truly it is not their eyes that are blind, but their hearts which are in their breasts.

47. Yet they ask thee to hasten the Punishments! But Allah will not fail in His Promise. Verily a Day in the sight of thy Lord is like a thousand years of your reckoning.

48. And how to many populations did I give respite, which were given to wrong-doing? in the end I punished them. To me is the destination (of all).

49. Say: "O men! I am (sent) to you only to give a clear warning:"

50. "Those who believe and work righteousness, for them is forgiveness and a sustenance most generous."

51. "But those who strive against Our Signs, to frustrate them,- they will be Companions of the Fire."

52. Never did We send a messenger or a prophet before thee, but, when he framed a desire, Satan threw some (vanity) into his desire: but Allah will cancel anything (vain) that Satan throws in, and Allah will confirm (and establish) His Signs: for Allah is full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

53. That He may make the suggestions thrown in by Satan, but a trial (2833) for those in whose hearts is a disease and who are (2834) hardened of heart: verily the wrong-doers are in a schism far (from the Truth):

54. And that those on whom (2835) knowledge has been bestowed may learn that the (Qur’an) is the Truth from thy Lord, and that they may believe therein, and their hearts may be made humbly (open) to it: for verily Allah is the Guide of those who believe, to the Straight Way.

55. Those who reject Faith will not cease to be (2836) in doubt concerning (Revelation) until the Hour (of Judgment) comes suddenly upon them, or there comes to them the Penalty of a Day of Disaster.

56. On that Day of Dominion will be that of Allah. He will judge between them: so those who believe and work righteous deeds will be in Gardens of Delight.

57. And for those who reject Faith and deny our Signs, there will be a humiliating Punishment.

58. Those who leave their homes in the cause of Allah, and are then slain or die,- On them will Allah bestow a goody Provision: (2838) Truly Allah is He Who bestows the best provision.

59. Verily He will admit them to a place with which they shall be well pleased: for Allah is All-Knowing, Most Forbearing.
60. That (is so). And if one has retaliated to no greater extent than the injury he received, and is again set upon inordinately, Allah will help him: for Allah is One that blots out (sins) and forgives (again and again). (2840)

61. That is because Allah merges night into day, and He merges day into night, and verily it is Allah Who hears and sees (all things). (2841)

62. That is because Allah - He (2842) is the Reality; and those besides Him whom they invoke, - they are but vain Falsehood: verily Allah is He, Most High, Most Great. (2843)

63. Seest thou not that Allah sends down rain from the sky, and forthwith the earth becomes clothed with green? for Allah is He Who understands (2844) the finest mysteries, and is well-acquainted (with them). (2845)

64. To Him belongs all that is in the heavens and on earth: for verily Allah,- He is free of all wants, Worthy of all Praise. (2845)

65. Seest thou not that Allah has made subject to you (men) all that is on the earth, and the ships that sail (2846) through the sea by His Command? He withholdeth the sky (rain) (2847) from failing on the earth except by His leave: for Allah is Most Kind and Most Merciful to man. (2848)

66. It is He Who gave you life, will cause you to die, and will again give you life: Truly man is a most ungrateful creature!

67. To every People have We appointed rites and ceremonies (2848) which they must follow: let them not then dispute with thee on the matter, but do thou invite (them) to thy Lord: for thou art assuredly on the Right Way.

68. If they do wrangle with thee, say, "(Allah) knows best what it is ye are doing." (2849)

69. "(Allah) will judge between you on the Day of Judgment concerning the matters in which ye differ." (2850)

70. Knowest thou not that Allah knows all that is in heaven and on earth? Indeed it is all in a Record, and that is easy for Allah. (2851)

71. Yet they worship, besides Allah, things for which no authority has been sent down to them, and of which they have (really) no knowledge: for those that do wrong there is no helper. (2852)

72. When Our Clear Signs are rehearsed to them, thou wilt notice a denial (2853) on the faces of the
23. Al Mu‘minun (The Believers)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. The believers must (eventually) win through,-(2865)

2. Those who humble themselves(2866) in their prayers;

3. Who avoid vain talk;

4. Who are active in deeds of charity;

5. Who abstain from sex,(2867)

6. Except with those joined to them in the marriage bond, or (the captives) whom their right hands possess,-(2868) for (in their case) they are free from blame,
But those whose desires exceed those limits are transgressors;-

Those who faithfully observe their trusts and their covenants;(2869)

Trusts may be express or implied. Express trusts are those where property is entrusted or duties are assigned by some one to some other whom he trusts, to carry out either immediately or in specified contingencies, such as death, implied trusts arise out of power, or position, or opportunity; e.g., a king holds his kingdom on trust from Allah for his subjects: the Afghan official phrase for their kingdom used to be Darušā-Khanda-dad ('God-given kingdom'). The subject of covenants, express and implied, has been discussed in n. 682 to 5:1. Covenants create obligations, and express and implied trusts and covenants taken together cover the whole field of obligations.

And who (strictly) guard(2870) their prayers;-

In verse 2 we were directed to the spirit of humility and earnestness in our prayers. Here we are told how necessary the habit of regular prayer is to our physical well-being and development, as it brings us closer to Allah, and thus sums up the light of the seven jewels of our Faith, viz.: (1) humility, (2) avoidance of vanity, (3) charity, (4) sex purity, (5) fidelity to trusts, and (6) to covenants, and (7) an earnest desire to get closer to Allah.

These will be the heirs,(2871)

CF 21:105, where it is said that the righteous will inherit the earth. In the first verse of this Surah, the final success or victory is referred to. Truth will prevail even on this earth, but it may not be for any individual men of righteousness to see it: it may be in the time of their heirs and successors. But in the life to come, there is no doubt that every man will see the fruit of his life here, and the righteous will inherit heaven, in the sense that they will attain it after their death here.

Who will inherit Paradise: they will dwell therein (for ever).

Man We did create from a quintessence of clay;(2872)

In this beautiful passage, Allah's creative work, as far as man is concerned, is recapitulated, in order to show man's real position in this life, and the certainty of the future; to which he was referred for his reward in verses 10-11 above. For the various stages of creation, see, 120 to 2:117. Here we are not concerned with the earliest stage, the creation of primeval matter out of nothing. It is also a process of creation when inorganic matter becomes living matter. Thus inorganic constituents of the earth are absorbed into living matter by way of food and living matter reproduces itself by means of sperm. This is deposited in the ovum and fertilises it and rests for a time in security in the mother's womb. The first change in the fertilised ovum is the conversion into a sort of clot of thickly congealed blood; the zygote cells grow by segmentation; then the mass gradually assumes shape in its growth as a foetus. From the lump develop bones and flesh and organs and a nervous system. So far man's growth is like that of an animal, but a further process takes place which makes the infant animal into the infant man. This is the breathing of Allah's spirit into him (15:29): that process need not be precisely at a given point of time. It may be a continuous process parallel to that of physical growth. The child is born: it grows; it decays and dies; but after death another chapter opens for the individual, and it is to remind us of this most momentous chapter that the previous stages are recapitulated.

Then We placed him as (a drop of) sperm in a place of rest,(2873) firmly fixed;

The growth in the foetal stage is silent and unseen. The foetus is protected in the mother's womb like a king in a castle; it is firmly fixed, and gets the protection of the mother's body, on which it depends for its own growth until birth.

Then We made the sperm into a clot of congealed blood; then of that clot We made a (foetus) lump; then we made out of that lump bones and clothed the bones with flesh; then we developed out of it another creature.(2874) So blessed be Allah, the best to create!

From a mere animal, we now consider man as man. Is it not a Sign of wonder in itself that from dry dust (tūrāh; 22:5) or inorganic matter should be made protoplasm (moist clay or organic matter); from it should grow a new animal life; and out of it should grow human life, with all its capacities and responsibilities? Man carries within himself Signs of Allah's wisdom and power, and he can see them every day in the universe around him.

After that, at length ye will die(2875)

Our physical death in this mortal life seems to make a break. But if it were the end of all, our life becomes meaningless. Our own instinct tells us that it cannot be so, and Allah assures us that there will be a resurrection for judgement.

Again, on the Day of Judgment, will ye be raised up.

And We have made, above you, seven tracts;(2876) and We are never unmindful of (our) Creation.(2877)"
22. An on them, as well as in slips, ye side.

23. (Further, We sent a long line of prophets for your instruction). We sent Noah to his people: He said, "O my people! worship Allah. Ye have no other god but Him. Will ye not fear (Him)?" (2884)

24. The chiefs of the Unbelievers among his people said: "He is no more than a man like yourselves: his wish is to assert his superiority over you: if Allah had fountains of the earth gush forth, take thou on the Ark within Our sight and under Our instruction. We sent Noah to his board pairs of every species, male and female, and bones, ye shall be brought forth (again)?"

25. (And some said): "He is(2886) only a man possessed: wait (and have patience) with him for a time." I construe this to be a speech of another group among them. They thought he was mad, and best left alone. His madness would run out, or he would come to an evil end.

26. (Noah) said: "O my Lord! help me: for that they accuse me of falsehood!"

27. So We inspired him (with this message): "Construct the Ark within Our sight(2887) and under Our guidance: then when comes Our Command, and the fountains of the earth(2888) gush forth, take thou on board pairs of every species, male(2889) and female, and thy family- except those of them against whom the Word has already gone forth:(2890) And address Me not in favour of the wrong-doers; for they shall be drowned (in the Flood)."

28. And when thou hast embarked(2891) on the Ark - thou and those with thee,- say: "Praise be to Allah, Who has saved us from the people who do wrong."

29. And say: "O my Lord!(2892) enable me to disembark with thy blessing: for Thou art the Best to enable (us) to disembark."

30. Verily in this there are Signs (for men to understand); (thus) do We try (men). (2893)

31. Then We raised after them another generation.

32. And We sent to them a messenger from among themselves,(2894) (saying), "Worship Allah. ye have no other god but Him. Will ye not fear (Him)?"

33. And the chiefs of his people, who disbelieved and denied the Meeting in the Hereafter, and on whom We had bestowed the good things of this life, said: "He is no more than a man like yourselves: he eats of that of which ye eat, and drinks of what ye drink.

34. "If ye obey a man like yourselves, behold, it is certain ye will be lost.(2895)

35. "Does he promise that when ye die and become dust and bones, ye shall be brought forth (again)?"

36. "Far, very far is that which ye are promised!

37. "There is nothing but our life in this world! We shall die and we live!(2896) But we shall never be raised up again!

38. They seem to say: "There is no future life: that we shall die is certain: that we have this life is certain: some die, some are born, some live; and so the cycle continues: but how can dead men be raised to life?" (23:26)

39. "He is only a man who invents a lie against Allah, but we are not the ones to believe in him!" (2897)

40. He is only a fool, and invents things, and attributes them to Allah's inspiration! We are too wise, to believe such things!

41. (The prophet) said: "O my Lord! help me: for that they accuse me of falsehood." (2898)

42. When the Punishment comes, they will be sorry for themselves, but it will be too late then.

43. Then the Blast(2900) overtook them with justice, and succeeding generations. Will not mankind understand?

44. Then We raised after them other generations.
43. No people can hasten their term, nor can they delay (it).

44. Then sent We our messengers in succession: every time there came to a people their messenger, they accused him of falsehood: so We made them follow each other (in punishment): We made them as a tale (that is told): (2902) So away with a people that will not believe!

2902 Their habitations and their organisation have been wiped out. What remains is merely a vague story of their existence, a tale that is told. Where their name remains, which is not always the case, it is only a byword, suggesting all that is unstable and ephemeral: "to point a moral and adorn a tale".

45. Then We sent Moses and his brother Aaron, with Our Signs and authority manifest, (2903)

2903 Moses and Aaron had a twofold mission: (1) to Pharaoh and his Court, which failed because of Egyptian arrogance; (2) to the Israelites, for whom the Law was received on Mount Sinai, but they repeatedly rebelled against Allah. In both cases there were miracles ("Clear Signs") and other proofs which showed that they came at Allah's command and were inspired by His authority.

46. To Pharaoh and his Chiefs: But these behaved insolently: they were an arrogant people.

47. They said: "Shall we believe in two men like ourselves? And their people are subject (2904) to us!"

2904 Racial arrogance made the Egyptians say, "These men belong to a race which we hold in subjection as our slaves: how can we accept them as messengers of Allah?"

48. So they accused them of falsehood, and they became of those who were destroyed.

49. And We gave Moses the Book, in order that they might receive guidance. (2905) 2905 Here the reference is to the second part of the mission of Moses, that to the Israelites, which the Israelites rendered ineffective by their want of faith. See n. 2903 above.

50. And We made the son of Mary and his mother as a sign: (2906) We gave them both shelter on high ground, affording rest and security and furnished with springs. (2907)

2906 The virgin birth of Jesus was a miracle both for him and his mother. She was falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (19:27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the cal...}

51. O ye messengers! Enjoy (2908) all things good and pure, and work righteousness: for I am well-acquainted with (all) that ye do.

2908 Literally, ‘eat’. See n. 776 to 5:66. The prophets of Allah do not pose as ascetics, but receive gratefully all Allah’s gifts, and show their gratitude by their righteous lives. (R).

52. And verily this Brotherhood of yours is a single Brotherhood. (2909) And I am your Lord and Cherisher: therefore fear Me (and no other).

2909 Cf. 21:92/93. All prophets form one Brotherhood: their Message is one, and their religion and teaching are one: they serve the One True God, Who loves and cherishes them: and they owe their duty to Him and Him alone.

53. But people have cut off their affair (of unity), between them, into sects: each party rejoices in that which is with itself. (2910)

2910 The people who began to trade on the names of the prophets cut off that unity and made sects: and each sect rejoices in its own narrow doctrine, instead of taking the universal teaching of Unity from Allah. But this sectarian confusion is of man’s making. It will last for a time, but the rays of Truth and Unity will finally dissipate it.

54. But leave them in their confused ignorance for a time.

55. Do they think that because We have granted them abundance of wealth and sons,

56. We would hasten them on in every good? Nay, they do not understand. (2911)

2911 Worldly wealth, power, and influence may be but trials. Let not their possessors think that they are in themselves things that will necessarily bring them happiness.

57. Verily those who live in awe for fear of their Lord;

58. Those who believe in the Signs of their Lord;

59. Those who join not (in worship) partners with their Lord;

60. And those who dispense their charity with their hearts (2912) full of fear, because they will return to their Lord:-

2912 Their hearts are full of reverence for Allah and fear lest their charity or their hearts be not good enough for acceptance before their Lord; for they have the certainty of a future life, in which they will stand before the Judgement Seat. They fear for their own worthiness, but they hope in Faith.

61. It is these who hasten in every good work, and these who are foremost in them.

62. On no soul do We place a burden greater than it can bear: (2913) before Us is a record which clearly shows the truth: (2914) they will never be wronged.

2913 Cf. 2:286 and n. 339.

2914 The record speaks clearly, and shows exactly what each soul has done and thought, and what is due to it in justice. The worst will receive full justice. The best will receive far more than their due: 28:84.

63. But their hearts are in confused ignorance (2915) of this; and there are, besides that, deeds of theirs (2916) which they will (continue) to do,-

2915 This is said of the Unbelievers who rejected Faith and rejoiced in the vanities of this world. In spite of the proclamation of Truth, they are doubtful of the future Life and Judgement.

2916 In addition to their rejection of Faith, they have against them positive deeds of wrongdoing, from which, on account of their contempt of the Light from Allah, they will not desist until they are sharply pulled up for punishment: and then repentance will be too late!

64. Until, when We seize in Punishment those of them who received the good things of this world, behold, they will groan in supplication!

65. (It will be said): "Groan not in supplication this day: for ye shall certainly not be helped by Us.

66. "My Signs used to be rehearsed to you, but ye used to turn back on your heels-
67. "In arrogance: talking nonsense about the (Qur’án), like one telling fables by night." (2917)

2917 Samir: one who remains awake by night, one who passes the night in talk or in the recital of stories of romances, a favourite amusement in the Days of Ignorance. (Al qur’án n. 2803 and n. 2608)

68. Do they not ponder over the Word (of Allah,) or has anything (new) come to them that did not come to their fathers of old? (2918)

2918 If they ponder over the matter, they will find that Allah’s Message to humanity is as old as Adam. It is good for all ages. It never grows old, and it is never new.

69. Or do they not recognise their Messenger, that they deny him?

70. Or do they say, "He is possessed"? Nay, he has brought them the Truth, but most of them hate the Truth.

71. If the Truth had been in accord with their desires, truly the heavens and the earth, and all beings therein would have been in confusion (2919) and corruption! Nay, We have sent them their admonition, but they turn away from their admonition.

2919 Allah is All-Wise and All-Good, and His architecture of the universe is on a perfect Plan. If these poor, low, selfish, ignorant creatures were to plan it according to their hearts’ desires, it would be a dreadful world, full of confusion and corruption.

72. Or is it that you ask them for some (2920) recompense? But the recompense of thy Lord is best: He is the Best of those who give sustenance.

2920 This is the last of the questions, beginning with 23:68 above, showing the absurdity of the position taken up by the Unbelievers. (1) The Message of Allah is as old as humanity; why do they fight shy of it? (2) They have known their Prophet to be true and righteous; why do they deny him? (3) Is it madness to bring the bitter Truth before them? (4) Does the Prophet ask any worldly reward from them? If not, why do they reject his unselfish efforts for their own good?

73. But verily thou callest them to the Straight Way;

74. And verily those who believe not in the Hereafter are deviating from that Way.

75. If We had mercy on them and removed the distress (2921) which is on them, they would obstinately persist in their transgression, wandering in distraction to and fro.

2921 The reference is to a very severe famine felt in Makkah, which was attributed by the Unbelievers to the presence of the Prophet among them and his preaching against their gods. As this is a Makkan Surah, the famine referred to must be that described by Ibn Kahf as having occurred in the 8th year of the Mission, say about four years before the Hijrah. There was also a pest-Hijrah famine, which is referred to by Bukhá, but that was a later event.

76. We inflicted Punishment (2922) on them, but they humbled not themselves to their Lord, nor do they submissively entreat (Him)!-

2922 Some Commentators understand the battle of Badr to be meant here; if so, this particular verse would be of the Madinah period. But it is better to understand it as referring to the same “distress” as in the preceding verse, or to punishments in general, which obstinate sinners refuse to take as warnings given to them to mend their ways and turn in repentance to Allah.

77. Until We open on them a gate leading to a severe Punishment: then Lo! they will be plunged in despair therein! (2923)

2923 Cf. 6:44. If the little trials in the present life will not open their eyes, will great trials do so? Unfortunately they only cause in the wicked a feeling of despair. In the final Punishment after the Judgement, it will be too late for them to repent, and despair will be their only lot.

78. It is He Who has created for you (the faculties of) hearing, sight, feeling (2924) and understanding: little thanks it is ye give!

2924 As elsewhere, “heart” is to be understood as the seat both of feeling and intelligence. “All the means by which knowledge can be gathered, judgement formed, and goodness cultivated, are provided for you by Allah. If you were grateful, you would use those in His service, which is expressed in your service to your fellow men. But instead you ignore these gifts, question Allah’s Providence, and blaspheme against Him.

79. And He has multiplied you through the earth, and to Him shall ye be gathered back.

80. It is He Who gives life and death, and to Him (is due) the alternation (2925) of Night and Day: will ye not then understand?

2925 The alternation of Night and Day stands here as a symbol for all the beneficent processes of Nature provided by Allah for the comfort and growth of man’s outer and inner life.

81. On the contrary they say things similar to what the ancients said. (2926)

2926 And they are the more culpable, as they have received a later and more complete revelation. Why should they now stand on the primitive ideas of their ancestors?

82. They say: “What! when we die and become dust and bones, could we really be raised up again?

83. “Such things have been promised to us and to our fathers before! they are nothing but tales of the ancients!”

84. Say: “To whom belong the earth and all beings therein? (say) if ye know!”

85. They will say, “To Allah.” say: “Yet will ye not receive admonition?” (2927)

2927 If their argument is that such things about a future life cannot be known or proved, they are referred to the things which are actually before them. The tangible things of the earth—can they postulate their order or government except by a Power or Force or Energy outside them? They will admit that there is such a Power or Force or Energy, We call it Allah. Go a step further. We see a sublime Universe in the heavens above, stretching far, far beyond our ken. They will admit its existence and its grandeur. We ask them to entertain a feeling of reverence for the Power behind it, and to understand their own littleness and their dependence upon that Power (Cf. 29:51 and 31:25).

86. Say: “Who is the Lord of the seven heavens, and the Lord of the Throne (of Glory) Supreme?” (2928)

2928 Cf. 9:129.

87. They will say, “(They belong) to Allah.” Say: “Will ye not then be filled with awe?” (2929)

2929 See n. 2927 above. ‘If this great and glorious Universe inspires you with awe, surely the Power behind it is more worthy of your awe, especially if you compare your dependence and its dependence upon Him.’

88. Say: “Who is it in whose hands is the governance of all things— who protects (all), but is not protected (of any)? (say) if ye know.”

89. They will say, “(It belongs) to Allah.” Say: “Then how are ye deluded?” (2930)
90. We have sent them the Truth: but they indeed practise falsehood!

91. No son did Allah beget, nor is there any god along with Him: (if there were many gods), behold, each god would have taken away what he had created, and some would have lorded it over others!(2931) Glory to Allah. (He is free) from the (sort of) things they attribute to Him!

92. He knows what is hidden and what is open: too high is He for the partners they attribute to Him!(2932)

93. Say: "O my Lord! if Thou wilt show me (in my lifetime) that which they are warned against,-(2933)

94. "Then, O my Lord! put me not amongst the people who do wrong!"

95. And We are certainly able to show thee (in fulfilment) that against which they are warned.

96. Repel evil with that(2934) which is best: We are well acquainted with the things they say.

97. And say "O my Lord! I seek refuge with Thee from the suggestions of the Evil Ones.(2935)

98. "And I seek refuge with Thee O my Lord! lest they should come near me."

99. (In Falsehood will they be)2936) Until, when death comes to one of them, he says: "O my Lord! send me back(2937) to life),"-

100. "In order that I may work righteousness in the things(2938) I neglected." - "By no means! It is but a word he says."-(2939) Before them is a Partition(2940) till the Day they are raised up.

101. Then when the Trumpet is blown, there will be no more relationships between them that Day, nor will one ask after another!(2941)

102. Then those whose balance (of good deeds) is heavy,- they will attain salvation:(2942)

103. But those whose balance is light, will be those who have lost their souls,(2943) in Hell will they abide.

104. The Fire will burn their faces, and they will therein grin, with their lips displaced.(2944)

105. "Were not My Signs rehearsed to you, and ye did but treat them as falsehood?"

106. They will say: "our Lord! Our misfortune overwhelmed us,(2945) and we became a people astray!

107. "Our Lord! bring us out of this: if ever we return (to Evil), then shall we be wrong-doers indeed!"

108. He will say: "Be ye driven into it (with ignominy)! And speak ye not to Me!(2946)

109. "A part of My servants there was, who used to pray "our Lord! we believe; then do Thou forgive us, and have mercy upon us: For Thou art the Best of those who show mercy!"

110. "But ye treated them with ridicule, so much so that (ridicule of) them made you(2947) forget My Message while ye were laughing at them!

111. Absolutely they make you forget My Message'. The ungodly were so occupied in the backbiting and ridicule of the godly that the godly themselves became the unconscious cause of the ungodly forgetting the warnings declared by Allah against
24. Al Nur (The Light)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A sura which We have sent down and (2953) which We have ordained in it have We sent down Clear Signs, in order that ye may receive admonition.

(2953) It must not be thought that the checking of sex offences or of minor improprieties, that relate to sex or privacy, are matters that do not affect spiritual life in the highest degree. These matters are intimately connected with spiritual teaching such as Allah has sent down in this Surah. The emphasis is on "We": these things are not mere matters of convenience, but Allah has ordained them for our observance in life.

2. The woman and the man guilty of adultery or fornication,- (2954) flog each of them with a hundred stripes: (2955) Let not compassion move you in their case, in a matter prescribed by Allah, if ye believe in Allah and the Last Day: and let a party of the Believers witness their punishment. (2956)

(2953) Zina includes sexual intercourse between a man and a woman not married to each other. It therefore applies both to adultery (which implies that one or both of the parties are married to a person or persons other than the ones concerned) and to fornication, which, in its strict significance, implies that both parties are unmarried. The law of marriage and divorce is made easy in Islam, so that there may be less temptation for intercourse outside the well-defined bonds of marriage.

(2954) This makes for greater self-respect for both man and woman. Other sex offences are also punishable, but this Section applies strictly to Zina as above defined.

(2955) Cf. 4:15, n. 523 and 33:30.

(2956) The punishment should be public, in order to be deterrent.

3. Let no man guilty of adultery or fornication marry but a woman similarly guilty, or an Unbeliever: nor let any but such a man or an Unbeliever marry such a woman: to the Believers such a thing is forbidden. (2957)

(2957) Islam commands sex purity, for men and for women, at all times—before marriage, during marriage, and after the dissolution of marriage. Those guilty of illicit practices are shut out of the marriage circle of chaste men and women.

4. And those who launch a charge against chaste women, and produce not four witnesses (to support their allegations),- flog them with eighty stripes; and reject their evidence ever after: for such men are wicked transgressors:—

(2958) The most serious notice is taken of people who put forward slanders or scandalous suggestions about women without adequate evidence. If anything is said against a woman's chastity, it should be supported by evidence twice as strong as would ordinarily be required for business transactions, or even in murder cases. That is, four witnesses would be required instead of two. Failing such preponderating evidence, the slanderer should himself be treated as a wicked transgressor and punished with eighty stripes. Not only would he be subjected to this disgraceful form of punishment, but he would be deprived of the citizen's right of giving evidence in all matters his life, unless he repents and reforms, in which case he can be readmitted to be a competent witness. (The verse lays down the punishment for slandering "chaste women", which by consensus of opinion also covers slandering chaste men. Chaste women have been specially mentioned, according to Commentators, because slandering them is more abhorrent. (Eds.) (Cf. n. 662).

5. Unless they repent thereafter (2959) and mend (their conduct); for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

2959 The punishment of stripes is inflicted in any case for unsupported slander. But the deprivation of the civic right of giving evidence can be cancelled by the man's subsequent conduct, if he repents, shows that he is sorry for what he did, and that he would not in future support by his statement anything for which he has no fullest evidence. Secular courts do not enforce these principles, as their standards are lower than those which good Muslims set for themselves, but good Muslims must understand and act on the underlying principles, which protect the honour of womanhood. Abu Hanifah considers that neither the stripes nor the incompetence for giving future evidence is cancelled by repentance, but only the spiritual stigma of being 'wicked transgressors'. This of course is the more serious punishment, though it cannot be enforced in the Courts.

6. And for those who launch a charge against their spouses, and have (in support) no evidence but their own, (2960) their solitary evidence (can be received) if they bear witness four times (with an oath) by Allah that they are solemnly telling the truth;

2960 The case of married persons is different from that of outsiders. If one of them accuses the other of unchastity, the accusation partly rests on the accuser as well. Moreover, the link which unites married people even where differences supervene, is sure to act as a stabilizing influence against the concoction of false charges of unchastity particularly where divorce is allowed (as in Islam) for reasons other than unchastity. Suppose a husband catches a wife in adultery. In the nature of things four witnesses or even one outside witness would be impossible. Yet after such an experience it is against human nature that he can live a normal married life. The matter is then left to the honour of the two spouses. If the husband can solemnly swear four times to the fact, and in addition invoke a curse on himself if he lies, that is prima facie evidence of the wife's guilt. But if the wife swears similarly and similarly invokes a curse on herself, she is in law acquitted of the guilt. If she does not take this step, the charge is held proved and the punishment follows. In either case the marriage is dissolved, as it is against human nature that the parties can live together happily after such an incident. (Cf. nn. 525-526).

7. And the fifth (oath) (should be) that they solemnly invoke the curse of Allah on themselves if they tell a lie.

8. But it would avert the punishment from the wife, if she bears witness four times (with an oath) by Allah, that (her husband) is telling a lie;

9. And the fifth (oath) should be that she solemnly invokes the wrath of Allah on herself if (her accuser) is telling the truth.

10. If it were not for Allah's grace and mercy on you, and that Allah is Oft-Returning, full of Wisdom, (Ye would be ruined indeed). (2961) 2961 Cf. 24:11-14, and n. 2962, which illustrates the matter by a concrete instance.

11. Those who brought forward (2962) the lie are a body among yourselves: think it not to be an evil to you; On the contrary it is good (2963) for you: to every man among them (will come the punishment) of the sin that he earned, and to him (2964) who took on himself the lead among them, will be a penalty grievous.

2962 The particular incident here referred to occurred on the return from the expedition to Banu Mustalig, A.H. 5-6. When the march was ordered, 'Aishah was not in her tent, having gone to search for a valuable necklace she had dropped. As her litter was veiled, it was not noticed that she was not in it, until the army reached the next halt. Meanwhile, finding the camp had gone, she sat down to rest, hoping that some one would come back to fetch her when her absence was noticed. It was night, and she fell asleep. Now, when the camp was found, 'Abd Allah b. Mu'ayyad, who had been left behind in the camp expressly to pick up anything inadvertently left behind. He put her on his camel and brought her, leading the camel on foot. This gave occasion to enemies to raise a malicious scandal. The ringleader among them was the chief of the Madinah Hypocrites, 'Abd Allah b. Umayy, who is referred to in the last clause of this verse. He had other sins and enormities to his debit, and he was left to the spiritual punishment of an unrepentant sinner, for he died in that state. The minor tools were given the legal punishment of the law, and after penitence mended their lives. They made good.

923 It is the worse for a scandal to be whispered about with bated breath, than that it should be brought into the light of day and disproved.

12. Why did not the believers - men and women (2965) - when ye heard of the affair, - put the best construction on it in their own minds and say, "This (charge) is an obvious lie"?

2965 Both men and women were involved in spreading the scandal. Their obvious duty was to put the best, not the worst, construction on the acts of one of the "mothers of the Believers".

13. Why did they not bring four witnesses to prove it? (2966) When they have not brought the witnesses, such men, in the sight of Allah, (stand forth) themselves as liars!

2966 If any persons took it seriously, it was their duty to search for and produce the evidence, in the absence of which they themselves became guilty of slander.

14. Were it not for the grace and mercy of Allah on you, in this world and the Hereafter, a grievous penalty would have seized you in that ye rushed glibly into this affair. (2967)

2967 Cf. 24:10 above. It was Allah's mercy that saved them from many evil consequences, both in this life and in the Hereafter-in this life, because the Prophet's wise measures nipped in the bud any incipient estrangements between those nearest and dearest to him, and from a spiritual aspect in that the minor agents in spreading the scandal repeated and were forgiven. No doubts and divisions, no mutual distrust, were allowed to remain in their hearts after the whole matter had been cleared up.

15. Behold, ye received it on your tongues, and said out of your mouths things of which ye had no knowledge; and ye thought it to be a light matter, while it was most serious in the sight of Allah. (2968)

2968 There are three things here reproved by way of spiritual teaching: (1) if one speaks an evil word, that is no reason why you should allow it to defile your tongue; (2) if you get a thought or suspicion which is not based on your certain knowledge, do not give it currency by giving it expression; and (3) others may think it is a small matter to speak lightly of something which blasts a person's character or reputation; in the eyes of Allah it is a most serious matter in any case, but specially when it involves the honour and reputation of pious women.

16. And why did ye not, when ye heard it, say? - "It is not right of us to speak of this: Glory to Allah. this is a most serious slander!" (2969)

2969 The right course would have been to stop any further currency of false slanders by ignoring them and at least refusing to help in their circulation. The exclamation "Sobhhu'aka"; "Praise to Thee (O Allah)"; or "Glory to Allah!" is an exclamation of surprise and disavowal as much as to say, "We do not believe it! And we shall have nothing to do with you, O false slanders!"

17. Allah doth admonish you, that ye may never repeat such (conduct), if ye are (true) Believers.

18. And Allah makes the Signs plain to you: for Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.

19. Those who love (to see) scandal published broadcast among the Believers, will have a grievous Penalty in this life and in the Hereafter: Allah knows, and ye know not. (2970)
20. Were it not for the grace and mercy of Allah on you, and that Allah is full of kindness and mercy, (ye would be ruined indeed).(2971)

21. O ye who believe! follow not Satan’s footsteps: if any will follow the footsteps of Satan, he will (but) command what is shameful and wrong: and were it not for the grace and mercy of Allah on you, not one of you would(2972) ever have been pure: but Allah doth purify whom He pleases:(2973) and Allah is One Who hears and knows (all things).

22. Let not those among you who are endued with grace and amplitude of means(2974) resolve by oath against helping their kinsmen, those in want, and those who have left their homes in Allah’s cause: let them forgive and overlook, do you not wish that Allah should forgive you? For Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

23. Those who slander chaste women, indiscrimreet but believing,(2975) are cursed in this life and in the Hereafter: for them is a grievous Penalty, -

24. On the Day when their tongues, their hands, and their feet will bear witness against them(2976) as to their actions.

25. On that Day Allah will pay them back (all) their just dues, and they will realise that Allah is the (very) Truth, that makes all things manifest.(2977)

26. Women impure are for men impure, and men impure for women impure and women of purity are for men of purity, and men of purity are for women of purity: these are not affected by what people say:(2978) for them there is forgiveness, and a provision honourable.(2979)

27. The pure consort with the pure, and the impure with the impure. If the impure, out of the impurity of their thoughts, or imaginations, impute any evil to the pure, the pure are not affected by it, but they should avoid all occasions for random talk.

28. If ye find no one(2981) in the house, enter not until you obtain the owner’s permission, wherever he may be. The fact of your not receiving a reply does not entitle you to enter without permission. You should wait, or knock twice or three times, and withdraw in case no permission is given to you: if ye are actually asked to withdraw, as the inmates are not in a presentable state. Or, even if the house is empty, you have no right to enter it until you receive a reply does not entitle you to enter without permission. You should wait, or knock twice or three times, and withdraw in case no permission is received. If you are actually asked to withdraw, as the inmates are not in a condition to receive you, you should a. abandon withdrawal, either for a time, or altogether, as the inmates may wish you to do. Even if they are your friends, you have no right to take them by surprise or enter against their wishes. Your own purity of life and conduct as well as of motives is thus tested.

29. It is no fault on your part to enter houses other than your own, until ye have asked permission and saluted those in them: that is best for you, in order that ye may heed (what is seemly).(2980)

30. The rule that strangers are not to enter houses which are open to the public, is not violated by the Muslim householder. In practice the stranger is invited in and treated as a guest. The Muslim practice of showing hospitality to the stranger is of the greatest value in promoting good relations between nations and races.

31. Our own limbs and faculties are the strongest witnesses against us if we misuse them for evil deeds instead of using them for the good deeds for which they were given to us (Cl.7:5-18).
31. And say to the believing women that they should lower their gaze and guard (2984) their modesty; that they should not display their beauty and ornaments (2985) except what (must ordinarily) appear thereof; that they should draw their veils over their bosoms and not display their beauty except to their husbands, their fathers, their husband’s fathers, their sons, their husbands’ sons, their brothers or their brothers’ sons, or their sisters’ sons, or their women, or the slaves whom their right hands possess, or male servants free of physical needs, or small children who have no sense of the shame of sex; and that they should not strike their feet in order to draw attention to their hidden ornaments. (2986) And O ye Believers! turn ye all together towards Allah, that ye may attain Bliss. (2987)

The need for modesty is the same in both men and women. But on account of the differentiation of the sexes in nature, temperaments, and social life, a greater amount of privacy is required for women than for men, especially in the matter of dress and the uncovering of the bosom.

Zina (2988) means both natural beauty and artificial ornaments. I think both are implied here, but chiefly the former. The woman is asked not to make a display of her figure or appear in undress except to the following classes of people: (1) her husband, (2) her near relatives who would be living in the same house, and with whom a certain amount of negotium is permissible: (3) her women, i.e., her maid-servants, who would be constantly in attendance on her; some Commentators include all believing women; it is not good form in a Muslim household for women to meet other women, except when they are properly dressed; (4) slaves, male and female, as they would be in constant attendance (but with the abolition of slavery this no longer applies); (5) old or infirm men-servants; and (6) infants or small children before they get a sense of sex. Cf. also 33:59.

It is one of the tricks of shrewy or unchaste women to twinkle their ankle ornaments, to draw attention to themselves.

While all these details of the purity and good form of domestic life are being brought to our attention, we are clearly reminded that the chief object we should hold in view is our spiritual welfare. All our brief life on this earth is a probation, and we must make our individual, domestic, and social life all contribute to our holiness, so that we can get the real success and bliss which is the aim of our spiritual and temporal life.

32. Marry those among you who are single, (2989) or the virtuous ones among yourselves, male or female: if they are in poverty, Allah will give them means out of His grace: for Allah encompasseth all (2989) and He knoweth all things.

The subject of sex ethics and manners brings us to the subject of marriage. Single (ayami, plural of Ayami) means any one not in the bond of wedlock, whether unmarried or lawfully divorced, or widowed. If we can, we must marry in our own circle, but if we cannot the means, there is no harm if we choose from a lower circle, provided our choice is determined by virtue. Poverty in the other party does not matter if there is virtue and love. A happily married man has the best wealth in a virtuous wife, and his very happiness makes him a better potential carrier of wealth. A slave becomes free by marriage.

Allah’s mercy is for all: it is not confined to a class or grade of people.

33. Let those who find not the wherewithal for marriage keep themselves chaste, until Allah gives them means (2990) out of His grace. And if any of your slaves ask for a deed in writing (to enable them to earn their freedom for a certain sum), give them such a deed (2991) if ye know any good in them: yea, give them something yourselves out of the means which Allah has given to you. But force not your maids (2992) to prostitution when (2993) they desire chastity, in order that ye may make a gain in the goods of this life. But if anyone compels them, yet, after such compulsion, is Allah, Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful (to them). (2994)

A Muslim marriage requires some sort of a dower for the wife. If the man cannot afford that, he must wait and keep himself chaste. It is no excuse for him to say that he must satisfy his natural cravings within or outside marriage. It must be within marriage.

The law of dower in the legal sense of the term is now obsolete. While it had a humane meaning, it was made the slave’s lot as easy as possible. A slave, male or female, could ask for conditional manumission by a written deed fixing the amount required for manumission and allowing the slave meanwhile to earn money by lawful means and perhaps marry and bring up a family. Such a deed was not to be refused if the request was genuine and the slave had character. Not only that, but the master is directed to help with money out of his own resources in order to enable the slave to earn his or her own liberty.

Where slavery was legal, what is now called the ‘white slave traffic’ was carried on by wicked people like Abd Allah ibn Umay, the Hypocrite leader at Madinah. This is absolutely condemned. While modern nations have abolished ordinary slavery, the ‘White Slave Traffic’ is still a big social problem in individual States. Here it is absolutely condemned. No more despotic trade can be imagined. (R).

I have translated ‘un’ (literally, ‘5’ by ‘where’ because this is not a conditional clause but an explanatory clause, explaining the meaning of ‘force’. ‘Forcing’ a person necessarily means that it is against the wish or inclination of the person forced. Even if they were to give a formal consent, it is not valid because the persons concerned are in (legal, or real) economic slavery.

The poor unfortunate girls, who are victims of such a nefarious trade, will yet find mercy from Allah, whose bounties extend to the lowest of His creatures.

34. We have already sent down to you verses making things clear, an illustration from (the story of) people who passed away before you, and an admonition for those who fear (Allah). (2995)

This prepares the way for the magnificent Verse of Light that follows, and its sublime meaning. (R).

Allah is the Light (2996) of the heavens and the earth. (2997) The Parable of His Light is as if there were a Niche and within it a Lamp: the Lamp encased in Glass: (2998) the glass as it were a brilliant star: (2999) Lit from a blessed Tree, (3000) an Olive, neither of the east nor of the West, (3001) whose oil is well-nigh luminous, though fire scarce touched it: (3002) Light upon Light! Allah doth guide whom He will to His Light: (3003) Allah doth set forth Parables for men: and Allah doth know all things.

Embedded within certain directions concerning a refined domestic and social life, comes this glorious parable of Light, which contains layer upon layer of transcendental truths about spiritual mysteries. No notes can do adequate justice to its full meaning. Volumes have been written on this subject, the most notable being al Ghazali’s Mishkat al Anwar. In these notes I propose to explain the simplest meaning of this passage. (R).

The physical light is but a reflection of the true Light in the world of Reality, and that true Light is Allah. We can only think of Allah in terms of our phenomenal experience, and in the phenomenal world, light is the purest thing we know, but physical light has drawbacks incidental to its physical nature: e.g., (1) it is dependent on some source external to itself: (2) it is a passing phenomenon: if we take it to be a form of motion or energy it is unstable, like all physical phenomena; (3) it is dependent on space and time; its speed is 186,000 miles per second, and there are stars whose light takes thousands of millions or billions of years before it reaches the earth. The perfect Light of Allah is free from any such defects. (R).

The first three points in the Parable centre round the symbols of the Niche, the Lamp, and the Glass. (1) The Niche (Miskah) is the little shallow recess in the wall of an Eastern house, fairly high from the ground, in which a light (before the days of electricity) was usually placed. Its height enabled it to diffuse the light in the room and minimise the shadows. The background of the wall and the sides of the niche helped throw the light well into the room, and if the wall was whitewashed, it also acted as a reflector: the opening in front made the way for the light. So with the spiritual Light: it is placed high above worldly things: it has a niche or habitation of its own, in Revelation and other Signs of Allah; its access to men is by a special Way, open to all, yet closed to those who refuse its rains. (2) The Lamp is the core of the spiritual Truth, which is the real illumination: the Niche is nothing without it; the Niche is actually made for it. (3) The Glass is the transparent medium through which the Light passes. On the one hand, it protects the light from moths and other forms of low life (lower motives in man) and from gusts of wind (passions), and on the other, it transmits the light through a medium
36. (Lit is such a Light)\(3004\) in houses, which Allah hath permitted to be raised\(3005\) to honour; for the celebration, in them, of His name: In them is He glorified in the mornings and in the evenings, (again and again).\(3006\)

37. By men whom neither traffic nor merchandise can divert from the Remembrance\(3007\) of Allah, nor from regular Prayer, nor from the practice of regular Charity: Their (only) fear is for the Day when hearts and eyes will be transformed\(3008\) (in a world wholly new).\(3009\)

38. That Allah may reward them according to the best\(3009\) of their deeds, and add even more for them out of His Grace: for Allah doth provide for those whom He will, without measure.\(3010\)

39. But the Unbelievers,- their deeds are like a mirage\(3010\) in sandy deserts, which the man parched with thirst mistakes for water; until when he comes up to it, he finds it to be nothing:\(3011\) But he finds Allah\(3012\) (ever) with him, and Allah will pay him his account: and Allah is swift in taking account.

40. Or (the Unbelievers´ state) is like the depths of darkness in a vast deep ocean, overwhelmed with billow topped by billow, topped by (dark) clouds:\(3013\) depths of darkness, one\(3014\) above another: if a man stretches out his hands, he can hardly see it! for any to whom Allah giveth not light, there is no light!\(3015\)

41. Seest thou that it is Allah Whose praises all beings in the heavens and on earth\(3016\) do celebrate, and the birds (of the air) with wings\(3017\) outspread? Each one knows its own (mode of) prayer and praise. And Allah knows well all that they do.
43. Seest thou not that Allah makes the clouds move gently, then joins them together, then makes them into a heap? - then wilt thou see rain issue forth (3019) from their midst. And He sends down from the sky mountain masses (of clouds) wherein is hail: He strikes therewith whom He pleases and He turns it away from whom He pleases, the vivid flash of His lightning well-nigh blinds the sight.

44. It is Allah Who alternates the Night and the Day: (3020) verily in these things is an instructive example for those who have vision!

45. And Allah has created every animal from water: (3021) of them there are some that creep on their bellies; some that walk on two legs; and some that walk on four. (3022) Allah creates what He wills; (3023) for verily Allah has power over all things.

46. We have indeed sent down signs that make things manifest: and Allah guides whom He wills to a way that is straight.

47. They (3024) say, "We believe in Allah and in the messenger, and we obey"; but even after that, some of them turn away: they are not (really) Believers.

48. When they are summoned to Allah and His messenger, in order that He may judge between them, behold some of them decline (to come).

49. But if the right is (3025) on their side, they come to him with all submission.

50. Is it that there is a disease in their hearts? or do they doubt, or are they in fear, that Allah and His Messenger will deal unjustly with them? Nay, it is they themselves who do wrong. (3026)

51. The answer of the Believers, when summoned to Allah and His Messenger, in order that He may judge between them, is no other than this: they say, "We hear and we obey": (3027) it is such as these that will attain felicity. (3028)

52. It is such as obey Allah and His Messenger, and fear Allah and do right, that will win (in the end),

53. They swear their strongest oaths by Allah that, if only thou wouldst command them, they would leave (their homes). (3029) Say: "Swear ye not; Obedience is (more) reasonable; verily, Allah is well acquainted with all that ye do." (3030)

54. Say: "Obey Allah, and obey the Messenger. but if ye turn away, he is only responsible for the duty placed on him and ye for that placed on you. If ye obey him, ye shall be on right guidance. The Messenger's duty is only to preach the clear (Message). (3030)

55. Allah has promised, to those among you who believe and work righteous deeds, that He (3031) will, of a surety, grant them in the land, inheritance (of power), and establish in authority their religion - the one which He has chosen for them; and that He will change (their state), after the fear (3032) in which they (lived), to one of security and peace: 'They will worship Me (alone) and not associate aught with Me.' 'If any do reject Faith after this, they are rebellious and wicked.

56. Three things are promised here, to those who have Faith and obey Allah's Law: (1) that they will inherit power and authority on the land, not for any selfish purposes of theirs by way of favouritism, but in order that they may maintain Allah's Law; (2) that the Religions of Right, which Allah has chosen for them, will be openly established, and will suppress all wrong and oppression; (3) that the righteous will live in peace and security, instead of having to suffer persecution, or leave their hearths and homes for the cause of Allah, or practise the rites of their Faith in secret.

57. If this verse was revealed about the time of the Battle of the Ditch (al Khandaq), also called the Battle of the Confederates (al Anzah, A.H. 4-5, we can imagine the comfort it gave to the Muslims who were besieged in Madinah be a force ten times their number. The Muslims then lived in a state of great suspense and danger, and under arms for days on end. (See 33:59-60). The security and authority they were promised came to them subsequently in abundant measures.

55. So establish regular Prayer and give regular Charity; and obey the Messenger. that ye may receive mercy.

56. Never think thou that the Unbelievers are going to frustrate ("Allah"’s Plan) on earth: their abode is the Fire,- and it is indeed an evil refuge!

57. O ye who believe!(3033) Let those whom your right hands(3034) possess, and the (children) among you who have not come of age(3035) ask your permission (before they come to your presence), on three occasions: before morning prayer; the while ye doff your clothes for the noonday heat; and after the late-night prayer: these are your three times(3036) of undress: outside those times it is not wrong for you or for them to move about attending to each other: Thus does Allah make clear the Signs to you: for Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.

3033. We now come to rule of decorum within the family circle in refined society. Servants and children have rather more freedom of access, as they come and go at all hours, and there is less ceremony with them. But even in their case there are limitations. During the night, before morning prayer, i.e., before dawn, they must distinctly ask for permission before they enter, partly because they must not unnecessarily disturb people asleep, and partly because the people are then undressed. The same applies to the time for the midday siesta, and again to the time after night prayers, when people usually undress and turn in to sleep. For grown-ups the rule is stricter: they must ask permission to come in at all times (24:39).

3034. This would mean slaves in a regime of slavery. But the principle applies to all personal servants, who have to render personal service to their masters or mistresses by day and by night.

3035. I have translated ‘come of age’ euphemistically for ‘attain the age of puberty’.

3036. It is mark of refinement for ladies and gentlemen not to be slipshod or vulgarly familiar, in dress, manners, or speech; and Islam aims at making every Muslim man or woman, however humble in station, a refined gentleman or lady, so that he or she can climb the ladder of spiritual development with humble confidence in Allah, and with the cooperation of his brothers and sisters in Islam. The principles here laid down apply, if they are interpreted with due elasticity, even if social and domestic habits change, with changes in climate or in racial and personal habits. Punctilious self-respect and respect for others, in small things as well as great, are the keystones in the simple rules of etiquette.

58. But when the children among you(3037) come of age, let them (also) ask for permission, as do those senior to them (in age):(3038) Thus does Allah make clear His Signs to you: for Allah is full of knowledge and wisdom.(3039)

3037. Children among you: i.e., in your house, not necessarily your own children. All in the house, including the stranger within your gate, must conform to these wholesome rules.

3038. Those senior to them: literally, those before them, i.e., those who have already become grown-up before these children attain their age. It is suggested that each generation as it grows up should follow the wholesome tradition of its predecessors. While they were children, they behaved like children; when they grow up, they must behave like grown-ups.

3039. The refrain connects up this verse with the last verse, whose meaning is completed here. The slight variation (‘His Signs’ here, against ‘the Signs’ there) shows that this verse is more personal, as referring to children who have now become responsible men and women.

59. Such elderly women(3040) as are past the prospect of marriage,- there is no blame on them if they lay aside their (outer) garments, provided they make not a wanton display of their beauty: but it is best for them to be modest: and Allah is One Who sees and knows(3041) all things.

3040. For elderly women in the home the rules of dress and decorum are not so exacting as for younger women, but they are also enjoined to study modesty, both because it is good in itself, and as an example to the younger people.

3041. Another example of a refrain: see n. 3039 above. Verses 58 and 59 were closer connected: their refrain was practically identical. This verse, though ancillary, is less closely connected; its refrain comes in like a half note melody.

60. It is no fault in the blind nor in one born lame, nor in one afflicted with illness,(3042) nor in yourselves, that ye should eat in your own houses, or those of your fathers, or your mothers, or your brothers, or your sisters, or your father’s brothers or your father’s sisters, or your mother’s brothers, or your mother’s sisters, or in houses of which the keys are in your presence; or in the houses of a sincere friend of yours: there is no blame on you, whether ye eat in company or separately. But if ye enter houses, salute each other - a greeting of blessing and purity as from Allah,(3043) thus does Allah make clear the signs to you: that ye may understand.(3044)

3042. There were various Arab superstitions and fancies which are combated and rejected here. (1) The blind, or the halt, or those afflicted with serious disease were supposed to be objects of divine displeasure, and as such not fit to be associated with in meals in our houses; we are not to entertain such a thought, as we are not judges of the causes of people’s misfortunes, which deserve our sympathy and kindness. (2) It was considered unbecoming to take meals in the houses of near relatives: this taboo is not approved. (3) A simple superstition about houses in our possession but not in our actual occupation is disapproved. (4) If people think they should not fall under obligation to casual friends, that does not apply to a sincere friend, in whose company a meal is not to be rejected, but welcomed. (5) If people make a superstition either that they should always eat separately, or that they must always eat in company, as some people weary of their own company think, either of them is wrong. Man is free and should regulate his life according to needs and circumstances. (R).

3043. The shades of meaning in Salam are explained in n. 2512 to 1562. Here, we were first told that we might accept hospitality and good fellowship in each other’s houses. Now we are told what spirit should animate us in doing so. It should not be a spirit of self-satisfaction in a worldly sense. It should rather be a spirit of good will in the highest spiritual sense of the term-purity of motives and purity of life, as in the sight of Allah. Cf. Dante in the Paradiso g. 837: “In His will is our Peace.”

3044. See notes 3039 and 3041 above. The refrain comes again, in a different form, closing the argument from a different point of view.

61. Only those are believers, who believe in Allah and His Messenger. when they are with him on a matter requiring collective action,(3045) they do not depart until they have asked for his leave; those who ask for thy leave are those who believe in Allah and His Messenger. so when they ask for thy leave, for some business of theirs, give leave to those of whom thou wilt,(3046) and ask Allah for their forgiveness:(3047) for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

3045. Matter requiring collective action: anything that affects the Community as a whole: fumah and ‘Id prayers are periodic occasions of this kind, but what is meant here is, I think, joint consultations with a view to joint undertakings, such as Jihad, or some kind of organisation in peace.

3046. That is, those to whom, in the exercise of your impartial discretion, you think it expedient to give leave. ‘Will’, unless the context shows otherwise, means ‘right will’, not a will without any definite principle behind it.

3047. In important matters of general consultation, even though leave of absence is given on sufficient excuse, it implies some defect in duty on the part of the person to whom the leave is given, and therefore the need of forgiveness from Him to Whom we owe duty is a perfect measure.

62. Deem not the summons of the Messenger among yourselves like the summons of one(3048) of you to another: Allah doth know those of you who slip away under shelter of some excuse: then let those beware who withstand the Messenger’s order, lest some trial beful them,(3049) or a grievous penalty be inflicted on them.

2. Three significations are possible. One is that adopted in the Translation, which agrees with the view of most Commentators. Another would be: Do not think that the prayer of the Prophet of Allah is like your ordinary requests to another; the Prophet's prayer will be about serious matters and will be accepted by Allah. A third interpretation would be: Do not address the Prophet familiarly as you would address another; use proper terms of respect for him.'

4. The "trifl" is understood to be some misfortune in this life, and the "grievous Penalty" to be the punishment in the Hereafter.

64. Be quite sure that to Allah doth belong whatever is in the heavens and on earth. Well doth He know what ye are intent upon:(3050) and one day they will be brought back to Him, and He will tell them the truth of what they did:(3051) for Allah doth know all things.

3. The condition or position you are in, the motives which actuate you, and the ends you have in view.

5. Things misunderstood or maligned, falsely praised or held in honour, or fraudulently shown to be good when they are evil-everything will be revealed in its true light on the Day of Final Judgement.

25. Al Furqan (The Criterion)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Blessed(3052) is He who sent down the Criterion(3053) to His servant, that it(3054) may be an admonition to all creatures;

Tabaraka: the root meaning is "increase' or 'abundance.' Here that aspect of Allah's dealing with His creatures is emphasised, which shows his abundant goodness to all His creatures, in that he sent the Revelation of his Will, not only in the unlimited Book of Nature, but in a definite Book in human language, which gives clear directions and admonitions to all. The English word 'blessed' hardly conveys that meaning, but I can find no other without departing far from established usage. To emphasise the meaning I have explained, I have translated 'Blessed is ...', but 'Blessed be ...' is also admissible, as it brings out another shade of meaning, that we praise and bless His Holy Name.

That by which we can judge clearly between right and wrong. Here the reference is to the Qur'an, which has already been symbolised by Light. This symbol is continued here, and many contrasts are shown, in the midst of which we can distinguish between the true and false by Allah's Light, especially the contrast between rightousness and sin.

The pronoun in yakuna may refer to Furqan (the Criterion) or the Âbd( the Holy Prophet). In either case the ultimate meaning is the same. The Qur'an is the standing Criterion for judgement between right and wrong.

2. He to whom belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth: no son has He begotten, nor has He a partner in His dominion: it is He who created all things, and ordered them in due proportions.

The majesty of Allah and His independence of all wants or help are mentioned, to show how exceedingly great is His goodness in revealing His Will to us.

3. Yet have they taken,(3056) besides him, gods that can create nothing but are themselves created; that have no control of hurt or good to themselves; nor can they control death nor life nor resurrection.

This is the first great distinction taught by the Criterion: to know the attribute of the True God, as against the false fancies of men. (R).

4. But the misbelievers say: "Naught is this but a lie(3057) which he has forged, and others have helped him at it." In truth it is they who have put forward an iniquity and a falsehood.

6. Be quite sure that to Allah doth belong whatever is in the heavens and on earth. Well doth He know what ye are intent upon:(3050) and one day they will be brought back to Him, and He will tell them the truth of what they did:(3051) for Allah doth know all things.

9. See what kinds of comparisons they make for thee! But they have gone astray, and never a way will they be able to find!(3063)

10. Blessed is He Who,(3064) if that were His will, could give thee better (things) than those,- Gardens beneath which(3065) rivers flow; and He could give thee palaces (secure to dwell in).

11. Nay they deny the hour (of the judgment to come):(3066) but We have prepared a blazing fire for such as deny the hour:

12. When it sees them from a place far off, they will hear its fury and its ranging sigh.(3067)

13. And when they are cast, bound together into a constricted place therein, they will plead for destruction there and then!(3068)

14. "This day plead not for a single destruction: plead for destruction oft-repeated!"

15. Say: "Is that best, or the eternal garden, promised(3069) to the righteous? for them, that is a reward as well as a goal (of attainment).(3070)

16. "For them there will be therein all that they wish for: they will dwell (there) for aye: A promise to be prayed for from thy Lord."(3071)

17. The day He will gather them together as well as those whom they worship besides Allah, He will ask:(3072) "Was it ye who let these My servants astray, or did they stray from the Path themselves?"

18. They will say: "Glory to Thee! not meet was it for us that we should take for protectors others besides Thee:(3073) But Thou didst bestow, on them and their fathers, good things (in life), until they forgot the Message: for they were a people (worthless and lost)."

19. ((Allah) will say): "Now have they proved you liars in what ye say: so ye cannot avert (your penalty)(3074) nor (get) help." And whoever among you does wrong, him shall We cause to taste of a grievous Penalty.

20. And the messengers whom We sent before thee were all (men) who ate food and walked through the streets:(3075) We have made some of you as a trial for others:(3076) will ye have patience? for Allah is One Who sees (all things).

21. Such as fear not the meeting with Us(3077) (for Judgment) say: "Why are not the angels sent down to us, or (why) do we not see(3078) our Lord?" Indeed they have an arrogant conceit of themselves, and mighty is the insolence of their impiety!

22. The blasphemers who have given up all Faith and laugh at the Hereafter: nothing is sacred to them: their arrogance and insolence are beyond all bounds.

23. The Israelites in the time of Moses demanded to see Allah. But they were dazed with thunder and lightning even as they looked on. Indeed death would have been their fate, had it not been for the mercy of Allah.
22. The Day they see the angels,—no joy will there be to the sinners that Day: The (angels) will say: "There is a barrier forbidden (to you) altogether!" (3079) 3079 They will not be allowed to enjoy any of the felicity or peace which will be the normal state of the new world of Reality. Their own past will stand as a barrier to shut them off.

23. And We shall turn to whatever deeds they did (in this life), and We shall make such deeds as floating dust scattered about. (3080)

3080 The false hopes they built on in this life, and the deeds they did under the shadow of such false hopes will be dissipated as if they were dust flying about in the wind. They will have no value whatever (9:2:167).

24. The Companions of the Garden will be well, that Day, in their abode, and have the fairest of places for repose. (3081)

3081 The barrier which will shut out the evil ones will not exist for the righteous, who will have an abode of bliss and repose, for they will be in the Garden of Allah’s Good Pleasure.

25. The Day the heaven shall be rent asunder with clouds, (3082) and angels shall be sent down, descending (in ranks),— 3082 It will be a new world, and the symbolism to describe it must necessarily draw upon our present experience of the finest things in nature. The sky, which now appears remote and unpeopled will be rent asunder. There will appear clouds of glor-angels and spiritual Lights of all grades and ranks—and the true majesty and goodness of Allah will be visible as it should be in reality, and as it is not now, on account of “our mudly vesture of decay” (10).

26. That Day, the dominion as of right and truth, shall be (wholly) for (Allah) (3083) Most Merciful: it will be a Day of dire difficulty for the Misbelievers.

3083 See last note.

27. The Day that the wrong-doer will bite at his hands, he will say, "Oh! would that I had taken a (straight) path with the Messenger! (3084)

3084 The words are general, and for us the interest is in a general sense. A man who actually receives the Truth and is on the right path is all the more culpable if he is diverted from that path by the machinations of a worldly friend. The particular person whom some Commentators mention in this connection was one Uqba who received the light of Islam, but was misled afterwards by a worldly friend into apostasy and blasphemy. He came to an evil end afterwards.

28. "Ah! woe is me! Would that I had never taken such a one for a friend!

29. "He did lead me astray from the Message (of Allah. after it had come to me! Ah! the Evil One is but a traitor to man!" (3085)

3085 The seductive wiles of the Evil One are merely meant for snares. There is fraud and treachery in them. The deceived ones are left in the lurch after the way of escape is made impossible for them

30. Then the Messenger will say: "O my Lord! Truly my people took this Qur’ an for just foolish nonsense.” (3086)

3086 My people “are of course the unbelieving Quraysh. They treated the Qur’an as foolish nonsense i.e., something to be discarded. But they were only a handful of people whose vested interests were touched by the beneficent reforms initiated by Islam. They soon passed away, and all Arabic-speaking or Arabic-understanding people have considered the Qur’an as a treasury of Truths expressed in the most beautiful possible language, with a meaning that grows deeper with research. (86).

31. Thus have We made for every prophet an enemy among the sinners: but enough is thy Lord to guide and to help. (3087)

3087 It is the nature of sin to be hostile to truth and righteousness, but such hostility will not harm the righteous and need cause no misgiving because Allah will guide and help those who work in His cause. And what could be better or more effective than His guidance and help?

32. Those who reject Faith say: "Why is not the Qur’an revealed to him all at once? Thus (is it revealed), that We may strengthen thy heart (3088) thereby, and We have rehearsed it to thee in slow, well-arranged stages, gradually.

3088 Three reasons are given for the gradual revelation of the Qur’an. (1) To strengthen thy heart: the tremendous task of winning the Arab nation, and, through them, the whole world, to Islam, required superhuman patience, constancy, and firmness, and these qualities were strengthened by the gradual proclamation of solutions to each difficulty as it arose. (2) ‘Mon, well-arranged stages”: though the stages were gradual, as the occasion demanded from time to time, in the course of twenty-three years, the whole emerged, when completed, as a well-arranged scheme of spiritual instruction, as we have seen in following the arrangement of the Surahs. (3) Questions put and answers given: see next note.

33. And no question do they bring to thee but We reveal to thee the truth and the best explanation thereof. (3089)

3089 Divine knowledge is a fathomless ocean. But glimpses of it can be obtained by any individuals sincerely searching for the Truth. Their progress will be in grades. If they ask questions, and answers are then furnished to them, they are more likely to apprehend the Truth, as they have already explored the part of the territory in which they are interested. In the same way, when concrete questions are raised by the logic of events, and they are answered not only for the occasion, but from a general standpoint, the teaching has a far greater chance of penetrating the human intelligence and taking shape in practical conduct. And this is the usual way of instruction in the Qur’an.

34. Those who will be gathered to Hell (prone on their faces, (3090) they will be in an evil plight, and, as to Path, most astray. (3091)

3090 That is, in ignominy.

3091 This verse may be compared and contrasted with 25:24 above. Here the argument is rounded off about the distinction between the Good and Evil in their final Destiny. The Good are to have “the fairest of places for repose”, and in contrast, the Evil are, “as to Path, most astray”. They have no repose, and their wanderings lead nowhere.

35. (Before this,) We sent Moses The Book, and appointed his brother Aaron with him as Minister; (3092)

3092 Cf. 30:29, and the whole passage there, which is merely referred to here, to show how previous Prophets were treated, but how they stuck fast to the Criterion given, to distinguish between Good and Evil.

36. And We command: “Go ye both, to the people who have rejected our Signs:” And those (people) We destroyed with utter destruction.

37. And the people of Noah,—when they rejected the messengers, We drowned them, and We made them as a Sign for mankind; (3093) and We have prepared for (all) wrong-doers a grievous Penalty;—

3093 The stories of Noah, of the prophets of ‘Ad and Thamud (and of other prophets), in the reactions of their communities to their teaching are told in 26:105-139, below. Here they are just mentioned to illustrate how little respect past ages paid for their prophets and teachers of Truth. But Allah’s Truth did not suffer: it was the blind rejecters of spiritual Truth who were wiped out.

38. As also ‘Ad and Thamud, and the Companions (3094) of the Rass, and many a generation between them.
39. To each one We set forth Parables and examples; and each one We broke to utter annihilation (for their sins).

40. And the (Unbelievers) must indeed have passed by the town on which was rained (3095) a shower of evil: did they not then see it (with their own eyes)? But they fear not the Resurrection.

41. When they see thee, they treat thee no otherwise than in mockery: "Is this the one whom Allah has sent as a messenger?"

42. "He indeed would well-nigh have misled us from our gods, had it not been that we were constant to them!" - Soon will they know, when they see the Penalty, who it is that is most misled in Path! (3096)

43. Seest thou such a one as taketh for his god his own passion (or impulse)? Couldst thou be a disposer of affairs for him? (3097)

44. Or thinkest thou that most of them listen or understand? They are only like cattle; nay, they are worse astray in Path.

45. Hast thou not turned (3098) thy vision to thy Lord? - How He doth prolong (3099) the shadow! If He willed, passion (or impulse)? Couldst thou be a disposer of affairs for him? (3097)

46. Then We draw it in (3101) towards Ourselves,- a contraction by easy stages. (3102)

47. And He it is Who makes the Night as a Robe for you, and Sleep as Repose, and makes the Day (as it were) a Resurrection. (3103)

48. And He it is Who sends the winds as heralds of glad tidings, going before (3104) His mercy, and We send down pure water from the sky,- (3105)

49. That with it We may give life to a dead land, and slake the thirst of things We have created,- (3106) cattle and men in great numbers.

50. And We have distributed the (water) amongst them, in order (3107) that they may celebrate (our) praises, but (3108) most men are averse (to aught) but (rank) ingratitude.
51. Had it been Our Will, We could have sent a warner to every centre of population. (3109)

52. Therefore listen not to the Unbelievers, but strive against them with the utmost strenuousness, with the (Qur’an). (3110)

53. It is He Who has let free the two bodies of flowing water: (3111) One palatable and sweet, and the other salt and bitter; yet has He made a barrier between them, a partition that is forbidden to be passed. (3112)

54. It is He Who has created man from water: (3113) then has He established relationships of lineage (3114) and marriage: for thy Lord has power over all things.

55. Yet do they worship, besides Allah, things that can neither profit them nor harm them: and the Misbeliever is a helper (of Evil), against his own Lord! (3115)

56. But thee We only sent to give glad tidings and admonition.

57. Say: “No reward do I ask of you for it but this: that each one who will may take a (straight) Path to his Lord.”

58. And put thy trust in Him Who lives and dies not; and celebrate his praise; and enough is He to be acquainted with the faults of His servants.—(3116)

59. He Who created the heavens and the earth and all that is between, in six days, (3117) and is firmly established on the Throne (of authority): (3118) Allah Most Gracious: ask thou, then, about Him of any acquainted (with such things). (3119)

60. When it is said to them, “Adore ye ((Allah)) Most Gracious!”, they say, “And what is ((Allah)) Most Gracious?” Shall we adore that which thou commandest us?” And it increases their flight (from the Truth). (3120)

61. Blessed is He Who made constellations in the skies, and placed therein a Lamp (3121) and a Moon giving light;

62. And it is He Who made the Night and the Day to follow each other: for such as have the will (3122) to celebrate His praises or to show their gratitude.

63. The scenes of the phenomenal world are Signs of the Self-Revelation of Allah, for those who understand and who have the will to merge their wills with His. Thus they do (1) by praising Him, which means understanding something of His nature, and (2) by gratitude to Him, which means carrying out His Will, and doing good to their fellow creatures. These two attitudes of mind and heart give rise to various consequences in their lives, which are detailed in the following verse.

64. And the servants of ((Allah)) Most Gracious are those who walk on the earth in humility, and when the ignorant (3123) address them, they say, “Peace!”;

65. Ignorant: in a spiritual sense. Address: in the aggressive sense. Their humility is shown in two ways: (1) to those in real search of knowledge, they give such knowledge as they have and as the recipients can assimilate; (2) to those who merely dispute, they do not speak harshly, but say “Peace”, as much as to say, “May it be well with you, may you repent and be better”; or “May Allah give me peace from such wrangling”; or “Peace, and Good-bye: let me leave you!”.
64. Those who spend the night in adoration of their Lord prostrate and standing;(3124)

   3124  Humble prayer brings them nearer to Allah.

65. Those who say, "Our Lord! avert from us the Wrath of Hell, for its Wrath is indeed an affliction grievous,- 3125  This is a prayer of humility, such a person relies, not on any good works which he may have done, but on the Grace and Mercy of Allah; and he shows a lively sense of the Day of Judgement, when every action will weigh for or against a soul.

66. "Evil indeed is it as an abode, and as a place to rest in";(3126)

   3126  The misery which results from sin is not only grievous to live in (an abode) but also grievous to "rest in" or "stand in", if it be only for a short time.

67. Those who, when they spend, are not extravagant and not niggardly, but hold a just (balance) between those (extremes);(3127)

   3127  In ordinary spending, this is a wise rule. But even in charity, in which we give of our best, it is not expected that we should be extravagant, i.e., that we should either do it for show (to impress other people), or do it thoughtlessly, which would be the case if we "rob Peter to pay Paul". We should certainly not be miserly, but we should remember everyone's rights, including our own, and strike a perfectly just balance between them.

68. Those who invoke not, with Allah, any other god, nor slay such life as Allah has made sacred except for just cause, nor commit(3128) fornication; - and any that does this (not only) meets punishment.

   3128  In judicial punishment for murdering, this is a wise rule. But even in charity, in which we give of our best, it is not expected that we should be extravagant, i.e., that we should either do it for show (to impress other people), or do it thoughtlessly, which would be the case if we "rob Peter to pay Paul". We should certainly not be miserly, but we should remember everyone's rights, including our own, and strike a perfectly just balance between them.

69. (But) the Penalty on the Day of Judgment will be doubled to him, and he will dwell therein in ignominy,- 3129  The three crimes just mentioned are specially detestable and infamous, and as ignominy will be added to other punishments, the penalty will be double that of ordinary punishment (cf. 7:38 , 11:20 , and 33:68).

70. Unless he repents, believes, and works righteous deeds, for Allah will change the evil of such persons into good, and Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful,(3130)

   3130  But even in the case of great crimes, if there is true repentance as tested by a changed life in conduct, Allah's Mercy is available, and it will transform the repentant's nature from evil to good (cf. 64:9).

71. And whoever repents and does good has truly turned to Allah with an (acceptable) conversion;-

72. Those who witness no falsehood,(3131) and, if they pass by futility,(3132) they pass by it with honourable (avoidance);

   3131  Witness no falsehood has two significations, both implied in this passage: (1) those who give no evidence that is false; and (2) those who do not assist in anything which implies fraud or falsehood.

   3132  There is not only condemnation of positive falsehood or of being mixed up with things implying falsehood, but futilites-vain random talk, unedifying jokes, useless show, etc.-are all condemned. If a good man finds himself in such an affair, he must withdraw from it in an honourable, dignified way, not in a fussy arrogant way.

73. Those who, when they are admonished with the Signs of their Lord, droop not down(3133) at them as if they were deaf or blind;

   3133  Kharra may mean: to fall down, to sink, to droop down as if the person were bored or inattentive, or did not wish to see or hear or pay attention.

74. And those who pray, "Our Lord! Grant unto us wives and offspring who will be the comfort of our hands, and offspring who will be the comfort of our souls.

75. Those who spend the night in adoration of their Lord, pass by futility,(3134) they pass by it with honourable (avoidance);

   3134  The misery which results from sin is not only grievous to live in (an abode) but also grievous to "rest in" or "stand in", if it be only for a short time.

76. Dwelling therein; - how beautiful an abode and place of rest!

77. Say (to the Rejecters): "My Lord is not uneasy because of you if ye call not on Him:(3136) But ye have indeed rejected (Him), and soon will come the inevitable (punishment)!

   3136  Let not the wicked think that it causes Allah any annoyance or uneasiness if they do not serve or worship Him. He is high above all needs. But He turns in His Mercy to all who call on Him. For those who arrogantly reject Him, the evil consequences of their rejection are inevitable, and must soon come to pass. (R).
26. Al Shu'ara (The Poets)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ta. Sin. Mim.(3137)

This is a combination of three Abbreviated Letters, as to which, generally, see Appendix I, printed at the end of S. 2. This combination occurs here and at the head of S. 28, while the intervening Surah 27 has it in the synopsized form Ta’ Sin. None of the explanatory conjectures which I have carried conviction for me. If the letters stand for Tar Sinai (Mount Sinai) and Musa (Moses), whose story fills a large part of this Surah, why is the letter M missing omitted in S. 27, where the same meaning would apply? There is, however, one fact to which I should like to draw attention. There are eleven sections in this Surah, and eight of them end with the word ‘Rahim’ both the final ‘Mim’. The three exceptions are sections 2 and 3, and section 11. But sections 2 and 3 are part of the story of Moses, which is completed in section 4, and that ends with ‘Rahim’. The main argument in section 11 ends at verse 217, which ends with ‘Rahim’. We can say that the whole Surah is based on a refrain in the word ‘Rahim’. Whether this has any bearing on our present enquiry I cannot say. My own position is that where we have material, we should pursue our researches, but we should never be dogmatic in such matters, as some Mysteries can never be solved by mere research.

2. These are verses of the Book that makes (things) clear.(3138)

CT 5:15 , and n. 716. The comparison of Allah's revelations with Light is continued.

3. It may be thou fretteth thy soul with grief, that they(3139) do not become Believers.

They are the Pagans of Makkah. From a human point of view it was a great disappointment to Allah's Messenger in the middle period of his Makkah ministry that the Makkans could not be brought to believe in the Truth.

4. If (such) were Our Will,(3140) We could send down to them from the sky a Sign, to which they would bend their necks in humility.

If it had been Allah's Will and Plan to force people's will, He could quite easily have forced the Makkans to believe. But His Will and Plan work differently. His revelation is meant to train man's own will so that it conforms to Allah's beneficent purpose.

5. But there comes not to them a newly-revealed Message from ((Allah)) Most Gracious, but they turn away from therefrom.

6. They have indeed rejected (the Message): so they will know soon (enough) the truth of what they mocked at!(3141)

They may laugh at Allah's Message of righteousness, but they will soon see the power of Truth and realise the real significance of the movement which they opposed. Where were the Pagans of Makkah after Badr, and still more, after the bloodless surrender of Makkah? The meaning may be applied universally throughout history.

7. Do they not look at the earth,- how many noble things of all kinds We have produced therein?(3142)

They have only to look around at the physical and moral world round them, and they would be undeceived. But they are blind and without the Faith (the Light) which would open their eyes.

8. Verily, in this is a Sign: but most of them do not believe.

9. And verily, thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might,(3143) Most Merciful.

One Who is able to carry out all His Will and Plans. See n. 2818 to 22:40.

10. Behold, thy Lord called(3144) Moses: "Go to the people of iniquity,-"

The part of the story of Moses told here is how Moses felt difficult about undertaking his commission; how Allah reassured him; how he went to Pharaoh with 'the Signs'; how Pharaoh and his people rejected him; how their blasphemy recoiled on themselves, but the cause of Allah triumphed; in other words, the point here is the reaction of a wicked people to the Light that was held up to them, considered in its relation to the mind of Allah's Messenger.

11. "The people of the Pharaoh: will they not fear Allah."

12. He said: "O my Lord! I do fear that they will charge me with falsehood:

"And (further), they have a charge of crime against me;(3146) and I fear they may slay me."

Moses was brought up in the palace of Pharaoh, as narrated in his personal story in 20:39 -40 and n. 2563. When he was grown-up he saw an Egyptian smiting an Israelite, and as the Israelites were being generally oppressed by the Egyptians, Moses's anger was roused, and he slew the Egyptian. He then fled to the Midianite country in the Sinai peninsula, where he received the divine commission. But the charge of slaying the Egyptian was hanging against him. He was also apparently irascible. But Allah's grace cured his temper and he became wise; his impediment of speech, for he stood up boldly to speak to Pharaoh; and his fear, for he feared the Egyptians with Allah's Signs, and they were afraid of him.

15. Allah said: "By no means! proceed then, both of you, with Our Signs; We are with you, and will listen (to your call)."

16. "So go forth, both of you, to Pharaoh, and say: 'We have been sent by the Lord and Cherisher of the worlds;

17. ' 'Send thou with us the Children of Israel.'"

18. (Pharaoh) said: "Did we not(3147) cherish thee as a child among us, and didst thou not stay in our midst many years of thy life?"

There is a little play of wit here on the part of Pharaoh. When Moses speaks of the 'Lord and Cherisher of the Worlds', Pharaoh says: "Who cherished you? Did we not bring you up as a child? Did you not grow up among us?" By implication Pharaoh suggests that he is the cherisher of Moses, and in any case Pharaoh laid claim to godhead himself.

19. "And thou didst a deed of thine which (thou knowest)(3148) thou didst, and thou art an ungrateful (wretch)!

Further, Pharaoh reminds Moses of his having slain the Egyptian, and taunts him: "You are not only a murderer: you are an ungrateful wretch" (using kafir again in a double sense) 'to have killed one of the race that brought you up!'"
20. Moses said: "I did it then, when I was in error."(3149)

3149 What is Moses's reply? He is no longer afraid. He tells the whole truth, extenuating nothing in his own favour. "Yes, I did it; but I did it under an error.

There are three implications in this:(1) I was wrong in doing it in a temper and in being hasty: (2) I was wrong in taking the law into my own hands, but I repented and asked for Allah's pardon (28:1,5-16): (3) that was a time when I was under your influence, but since then I am a changed man, as Allah has called me.

21. "So I fled from you (all) when I feared you;"(3150) but my Lord has (since) invested me with judgment (and wisdom) and appointed me as one of the messengers.

3150 He accounts for all his movements, much more than Pharaoh had asked for. He has nothing to hide. At that time, he was under the influence of fear, and he had fled from him. Now he is serving Allah, the Lord of the Worlds. He has no fear; he is a messenger.

22. "And this is the favour (3151) with which thou dost reproach me,—that thou hast enslaved the Children of Israel!"

3151 Pharaoh had called Moses ungrateful and reproached him with all the favours which Moses had received from the Egyptians. "What favours?" he says: "Do you count it also as a favour to me that you have enslaved my brethren the Children of Israel?" Moses was now speaking as a Prophet of Allah, not as an individual. Any individual favours he may have received were blotted out by the oppression of his people. (R).

23. Pharaoh said: "And what is the Lord and Cherisher of the worlds?"(3152)

3152 Moses having eliminated all personalities, the argument now comes up to the highest plane of all the attributes of Allah and His mercies. Moses had put forward this before, as implied in verse 16 above, but Pharaoh had twisted it into personalities. Now we come back to the real issue. It may have been in the same sitting, or it may have been in a later sitting. (R).

24. (Moses) said: "The Lord and Cherisher of the heavens and the earth, and all between,—if ye want to be quite sure."

25. (Pharaoh) said to those around: "Did ye not listen (to what he says)?"(3153)

3153 Moses had stirred up the wrath of Pharaoh, both by putting forward the name of the One True God as against Pharaoh's pretended godhead, and by suggesting that any man of judgement would understand Allah's majesty. While Pharaoh turns to his people in indignation, Moses drives the nail in further: "He is the God of the heavens and the earth and all between; therefore He is also your God, and the God of your fathers from the beginning. Any other pretensions are false!"

26. (Moses) said: "Your Lord and the Lord of your fathers from the beginning!"

27. (Pharaoh) said: "Truly your messenger who has been sent to you is a veritable madman!"(3154)

3154 Pharaoh is further perturbed. In reply to Moses's statement that Allah, the One True God is also the God of the Egyptians and Pharaoh also, Pharaoh says sarcastically to his Court: "Look at this 'Messenger' of yours; he seems to be mad!" But Moses is not abashed. He boldly says what is the truth: "It is you who are mad! The God of Whom I preach is the Universal Lord of the East and of the West. He reigns wherever you go." (R).

28. (Moses) said: "Lord of the East and the West, and all between! if ye only had sense!"

29. (Pharaoh) said: "If thou dost put forward any god other than me, I will certainly put thee in prison!"(3155)

3155 Now we come to the crisis. Pharaoh threatens Moses with prison for treason. Moses remains calm and still argues: "What if I show you a miracle? Will it convince you that I am not mad, and that I have behind me the Lord of all the Worlds?"

30. (Moses) said: "Even if I showed you something clear (and convincing)?"(3156)

3156 The Egyptians were addicted to magic and sorcery, which was mostly false. It was a miracle that was shown to them, would they believe? Perhaps they would see the hollowness of their own magic. In fact this actually happened with the Egyptian sorcerers themselves and perhaps with the commonalty. But Pharaoh and his Court were too arrogant, and batten too much on frauds to yield to Truth.

31. (Pharaoh) said: "Show it then, if thou tellest the truth!"

32. So (Moses) threw his rod, and behold, it was a serpent, plain (for all to see)!

33. And he drew out his hand, and behold, it was white to all beholders!(3157)

3157 Cf. 7:107-8. See the whole passage there, and the notes thereon.

34. (Pharaoh) said to the Chiefs(3158) around him: "This is indeed a sorcerer well-versed:

3158 In 7:109 it is the Chiefs who say this. The fact is that it was a general consultation, and this was the general feeling, expressed in words by each to the others.

35. "His plan is to get you out of your land by his sorcery; then what is it ye counsel?"

36. They said: "Keep him and his brother in suspense (for a while), and dispatch to the Cities heralds to collect-

37. "And bring up to thee all (our) sorcerers wellversed."

38. So the sorcerers were got together for the appointment of a day well-known,(3159)

3159 A day well-known: a solemn day of festival: see 20:59. The object was to get together as large a concourse of people as possible. It was confidently expected that the Egyptian sorcerers with all their organisation would win with their tricks against these amateur Israelites, and so the State cult of the worship of Pharaoh would be fastened on the necks of the people more firmly than ever.

39. And the people were told: "Are ye (now) assembled?-

40. "That we may follow(3160) the sorcerers (in religion) if they win?"

3160 See the last note. The people are to come and witness the triumph of the State religion, so that they may become the more obedient to Pharaoh and more compliant with the demands of the priests. The State religion included magic and the worship of Pharaoh.

41. So when the sorcerers arrived, they said to Pharaoh: "Of course - shall we have a (suitable) reward(3161) if we win?"

3161 There was no such thing as pure loyalty to an exploiting ruler like this Pharaoh. The sorcerers, who were probably also priests, were venal, and they hoped to establish their own hold on both king and people by further enrichment of themselves and their order.

42. He said: "Yea, (and more),—for ye shall in that case be (raised to posts) nearest (to my person)."

43. Moses said to them: "Throw ye - that which ye are about to throw!"(3162)
So they threw their ropes and their rods, and said: "By the might of Pharaoh, it is we who will certainly win!" (3163)

Though Pharaoh claimed to be a god, it is not likely that those nearest to him—his priests and sorcerers—believed such a thing! But it was a game of mutual pretence before the world. And so they appeal to his 'divine' power.

Then Moses threw his rod, when, behold, it straightway swallowed up all the falsehoods which they fake! (3164)

The sorcerers' ropes and rods seemed to have become serpents, but the rod of Moses was mightier than all of them and quickly swallowed them up. So truth is more powerful than tricks and will expose and destroy them.

Then did the sorcerers fall down, prostrate in adoration,

Saying: "We believe in the Lord of the Worlds,

"The Lord of Moses and Aaron."

Said (Pharaoh): "Believe ye in Him before I give you permission? surely he is your leader, who has taught you sorcery! but soon shall ye know!" (3165) "Be sure I will cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and I will cause you all to die on the cross!"

The sorcerers knew that they had met something very different from their tricks. Allah's spirit worked on them and they professed the True God. As they represented the intelligence of the community, it may be presumed that they carried the intelligence of Egypt with them and perhaps some of the commonalty, who were impressed by the dramatic scene! Hence Pharaoh's anger, but it is the beginning of his decline!

They said: "No matter! for us, we shall but return to our Lord!

"Only, our desire is that our Lord will forgive us our faults, that we may become foremost among the believers!" (3166)

This is the core of the lesson enforced on this passage. What was the reaction of the environment to the Light or Message of Allah? (1) It transformed Moses so that he became a fearless leader, one of the foremost in faith. (2) From the reaction of the environment to the Light or Message of Allah? (1) It transformed Moses so that he became a fearless leader, one of the foremost in faith. (2) From the reaction of the environment to the Light or Message of Allah? (1) It transformed Moses so that he became a fearless leader, one of the foremost in faith. (2) From the reaction of the environment to the Light or Message of Allah? (1) It transformed Moses so that he became a fearless leader, one of the foremost in faith.

By inspiration we told Moses: "Travel by night with your servants; for surely ye shall be pursued." (3167)

The rest of the story of the plagues of Egypt is passed over as not germane to the present argument. We come now to the story of the Israelites leaving Egypt, pursued by Pharaoh. Here again there are three contrasts: (1) the blind arrogance of the Egyptians, against the development of Allah's Plan; (2) the faith of Moses, against the fears of his people; and (3) the final deliverance of the seed of rightousness, against the destruction of the host of brute force. (EZ 2:38).

Then Pharaoh sent heralds to (all) the Cities,

(Saying): "These (Israelites) are but a small band,

"And they are raging furiously against us;

"But we are a multitude amply forewarned."

So We expelled them (3168) from gardens, springs,
71. They said: "We worship idols, and we remain constantly(3176) in attendance on them."

7176 They want to show their true and assiduous devotion, but Abraham goes at once to the heart of the matter by asking: "To whom is your devotion paid? Is the object worthy of it?"

72. He said: "Do they listen to you when ye call (on them), or do you good or harm?"

73. Or do you good or harm?"

74. They said: "Nay, but we found our fathers doing thus (what we do)."

75. He said: "Do ye then see whom ye have been worshipping,-

76. "Ye and your fathers before you?-

77. "For they are enemies to me;(3177) not so the Lord and Cherisher of the Worlds;

7177 The things that you worship are enemies to mankind: let me testify from my own personal experience: they are enemies to me: they can do me no good, but would lead me astray. Contrast with their importance or their power of mischief the One True God Whom I worship: He created me and all the Worlds; He cherishes me and guides me; He takes care of me; and when I die, He will give me new life; He will forgive me and grant me final Salvation. Will you then come to this true worship? How can you doubt, after seeing the contrast of the one with the other? Is it not as the contrast between Light and Darkness?

78. "Who created me, and it is He Who guides me;

79. "Who gives me food and drink,

80. "And when I am ill, it is He Who cures me;

81. "Who will cause me to die, and then to life (again);

82. "And who, I hope, will forgive me my faults on the day of Judgment.

83. "O my Lord! bestow wisdom(3178) on me, and join me with the righteous;

8178 Having shown clearly the distinction between the False and the True, Abraham now shows in the form of a Prayer what his inmost wishes are: (1) He wants his soul enlightened with divine wisdom, and (2) his heart and life filled with righteousness; (3) he will not be content with working for himself or his own generation; his view extends to all future generations; (4) and of course he wishes to attain the goal of the righteous, the Garden of the Bliss of the Divine Countenance; but he is not content with this; for (5) he wants his father and relatives to share in his spiritual joy, so that he can proudly see all whom he can reach, in an honourable station (contrasted with disgrace) on the Day of Judgment.

84. "Grant me honourable mention on the tongue of truth(3179) among the latest (generations);

8179 Cf. 19:50. The whole of the passage about Abraham there may be compared with this passage.

85. "Make me one of the inheritors of the Garden of Bliss;

86. "Forgive my father, for that he is among those astray;

87. "And let me not be in disgrace on the Day when (men) will be raised up;-

88. "The Day whereon neither(3180) wealth nor sons will avail,

3178 Now we have a vision of the Day of Judgement. Nothing will then avail except a pure heart; all sorts of the so-called 'good deeds' of this world, without the motive of purity, will be useless. The contrast of the Garden of Bliss with the Fire of Misery will be plainly visible. Evil will be shown in its true colours—isolated, helpless, cursing and despairing, and all chances will then have been lost.

89. "But only he (will prosper) that brings to Allah a sound heart;

90. "To the righteous, the Garden will be brought near,(3181)

3181 The Good will only see good (the Garden of Bliss), and the Evil will only see evil (the Fire of Misery). This type of contrast is shown to us in the world of our spiritual sense even in this life.

91. "And to those straying in Evil, the Fire will be placed in full view;

92. "And it shall be said to them: 'Where are the (gods) ye worshipped-

93. "'Besides Allah. Can they help you or help themselves?'

94. "Then they will be thrown headlong into the (Fire),—

3182 They are enemies to mankind, and (2) his heart and life filled with righteousness; (3) he will not be content with working for himself or his own generation; his view extends to all future generations; (4) and of course he wishes to attain the goal of the righteous, the Garden of the Bliss of the Divine Countenance; but he is not content with this; for (5) he wants his father and relatives to share in his spiritual joy, so that he can proudly see all whom he can reach, in an honourable station (contrasted with disgrace) on the Day of Judgment.

3183 Error manifest: our error is now plainly manifest, but it should have been manifest to us before it was too late, because the Signs of Allah were always around us. This will be said by the ungodly, whose eyes will then be fully opened.

95. "And the whole hosts of Iblis together.

96. "They will say there in their mutual bickerings:

97. "'By Allah, we were truly in an error manifest,(3183)

3183 Error manifest: our error is now plainly manifest, but it should have been manifest to us before it was too late, because the Signs of Allah were always around us. This will be said by the ungodly, whose eyes will then be fully opened.

98. "'When we held you as equals with the Lord of the Worlds;

99. "'And our seducers were only those who were steeped in guilt.(3184)

3184 They now see that the people who seduced them were themselves evil and subject to the penalties of evil, and their seductions were frauds. They feel that they ought to have seen it before, for who would deliberately follow the paths of those condemned to misery and punishment? How simple they were not to see the true character of their seducers, though they had been warned again and again against them! It was their own folly that made them accept such obviously false guidance!

100. "'Now, then, we have none to intercede (for us),

101. "'Nor a single friend to feel (for us).

102. "'Now if we only had a chance of return we shall truly be of those who believe! "(3185)

3185 This apparent longing for a chance of return is dishonest. If they were sent back, they would certainly return to their evil ways: 6:27-28. Besides, they have had numerous chances already in this life, and they have used them for mischief or evil.

103. Verily in this is a Sign but most of them do not believe.

104. And verily thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

105. The people of Noah rejected the messengers.
106. Behold, their brother Noah (3186) said to them: "Will ye not fear (Allah)?"

3186 Noah's generation had lost all faith and abandoned themselves to evil. They had rejected the Message of messengers previously sent to the world. Noah was sent to them as one of themselves (Their brother). His life was open before them; he had proved himself pure in heart and conduct (like the Prophet of Arabia long after him), and worthy of every trust. Would they fear Allah and follow his advice? They could see that he had no ends of his own to serve. Would they not listen to him?

107. "I am to you a messenger worthy of all trust:(3187)

3187 Amir-ul-a'lam one to whom a trust had been given, with several shades of meaning implied: e.g., (1) worthy of trust, (2) bound to deliver his trust, as a prophet is bound to deliver his Message, (3) bound to act entirely as directed by the trust, as a prophet is bound to give only the Message of Allah, and not add anything of his own, and (4) not seeking any interest of his own ( Cf. n. 3224).

108. "So fear Allah, and obey me.

109. "No reward do I ask of you for it: my reward is only from the Lord of the Worlds:

110. "So fear Allah, and obey me."

3188 Note the repetition rounds off the argument. See n. 3186 above.

111. They said: "Shall we believe in thee when it is the meanest that follow thee?"

3189 The leaders of the people are speaking, as the Quraysh leaders spoke in the time of the Holy Prophet. "We know that thou hast been trustworthy in thy life. But look at the rag tag and bob tail that follow thee! Dost thou expect us to be like them or to be classed with them?" His answer was: "I know nothing against them; if they have done any wrong, or are only hypocrites, they are answerable to Allah; how can I drive them away from me, seeing that I am expressly sent to admonish all people?"

112. He said: "And what do I know as to what they do?

113. "Their account is only with my Lord, if ye could (but) understand.

114. "I am not one to drive away those who believe."

3190 Cf. 31:29 : All people who have faith have the right to come and listen to Allah's Word and receive Allah's Mercy, whether they are publicans and sinners, 'Harijans' and 'low-caste' men, men of 'superior' or 'inferior' races. The Prophet of Allah welcomes them all, as His Message had to shine before the whole world. (R).

115. "I am sent only to warn plainly in public."

116. They said: "If thou desist not, O Noah! thou shalt be stoned (to death)."

3191 Two other cases occur to me where prophets of Allah were threatened with death by stoning: one was Abraham (19:46), and the other was Shu'ayb (11:91). In neither case did the threats deter them from carrying out their mission. On the contrary, the threats recoiled on those who threatened. So also did it happen in the case of Noah and the Prophet.

117. He said: "O my Lord! truly my people have rejected me.

118. "Judge Thou, then, between me and them openly, and deliver me and those of the Believers who are with me."

119. So We delivered him and those with him, in the Ark filled (with all creatures).

3192 The story of Noah's Flood is told in 11:36-48. Here, the point emphasised in Noah's patience and constancy against threats, and the triumph and preservation of Allah's truth even though the world was ranged against it.

120. Thereafter We drowned those who remained behind.

121. Verily in this is a Sign: but most of them do not believe.

3193 This and the following verse run like a refrain throughout this Surah, and give the keynote to the subject matter: how the Message of Allah is preached, how it is rejected in all ages, and how it triumphs at last, through the Mercy of Allah. See 26:9-76, 103, 114, here (121-122), 139-140, 138-139, 174-175, and 190-191, (R).

122. And verily thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

123. The 'Ad (people) rejected(3194) the messengers.

3194 See n. 1040 to 7:65 for the 'Ad people and their location. Here, the emphasis is on the fact that they were materialists believing in brute force, and felt secure in their fortresses and resources, but were found quite helpless when Allah's Message came and they rejected it.

124. Behold, their brother Hud said to them: "Will ye not fear (Allah)?"

3195 See n. 3187 to 26:107 above.

126. "So fear Allah and obey me.

127. "No reward do I ask of you for it: my reward is only from the Lord of the Worlds.

128. "Do ye build a landmark on every high place to amuse yourselves?

3196 Any merely material civilization prides itself on show and parade. Its votaries scatter monuments for all sorts of things in conspicuous places-monuments which commemorate deeds and events which are forgotten in a few generations! Cf. Shelley's poem on Ozymandias: 'I am Ozymandias, King of Kings! Look on my works, ye mighty, and despair!...Boundless and bare the lonely and level sands stretch far away?'

129. "And do ye get for yourselves fine buildings in the hope of living therein (for ever)?

130. "And when ye exert your strong hand, do ye do it like men of absolute power?

3197 Without any responsibility or consideration for those who come within your power?

131. "Now fear Allah, and obey me.

3198 See n. 3188 above.

132. "Yea, fear Him Who has bestowed on you freely all that ye know.

3199 The gifts are described generally, immaterial and material. 'All that ye know' includes not only material things, but knowledge and the faculties by which knowledge may be used for human well-being, all that makes life beautiful and refined. 'Cattle' means wealth generally, and 'sons' means population and man-power. 'Gardens and Springs' are things that contribute to the delight and pleasure of man.

133. "Freely has He bestowed on you cattle and sons,-

135. "Truly I fear for you the Penalty of a Great Day."

3200 'But you have misused all those gifts, and you will suffer the inevitable penalties for your misuse and for your ingratitude.'
136. They said: "It is the same to us whether thou admonish us or be not among (our) Admonishers!(3201)

3201 They said, as many of our modern enemies of religion say, "you are only reviving an ancient superstition, a dope of the crowd; there is no such thing as a Heretic, or the sort of punishments you announce."

137. "This is no other than a customary device of the ancients,(3202)

3202 For the Thamud people see n. 1043 to 7:73. They were great builders in stone and a people with agricultural wealth, but they were an exclusive people and oppressed the poor. The point emphasised here is: 'How long will your wealth last, especially if you depres your own people and dishonour Allah's Signs by sacrilege?' The inscriptions on Thamud remains of rock-cut buildings in Al Hijr are described in Appendix VII at the end of this Surah.

138. "And we are not the ones to receive Pains and Penalties!"

139. So they rejected him, and We destroyed them. Verily in this is a Sign: but most of them do not believe.

140. And verily thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

141. The Thamud (people) rejected(3203) the messengers.

3203 The date palm flowers on a long spathe: when the flowers develop into fruit, the heavy ones hang with the load of fruit. Thamud evidently were proud of their skill in producing corn and fruit and in hewing fine dwellings out of rocks, like the later dwellings of Roman times in the town of Petra .

142. Behold, their brother Salih said to them: "Will you not fear ((Allah))?

143. "I am to you a messenger worthy of all trust.

144. "So fear Allah, and obey me.

145. "No reward do I ask of you for it: my reward is only from the Lord of the Worlds.

146. "Will ye be left secure, in (the enjoyment of) all that ye have here?--

147. "Gardens and Springs,

148. "And corn-fields and date-palms with spathes near breaking(3204) (with the weight of fruit)?

3204 The date palm flowers on a long spathe: when the flowers develop into fruit, the heavy ones hang with the load of fruit. Thamud evidently were proud of their skill in producing corn and fruit and in hewing fine dwellings out of rocks, like the later dwellings of Roman times in the town of Petra .

149. "And ye carve houses out of (rocky) mountains with great skill.

150. "But fear Allah and obey me;

151. "And follow not the bidding of those who are extravagant,-(3205)

3205 They are told: 'All your skill is very well; but cultivate virtue and do not follow the ways of those who put forward extravagant claims for men's powers and material resources, or who lead lives of extravagance in luxury and self-indulgence; that makes mischief: but the door to repentance is open: will you repent?"

152. "Who make mischief in the land, and mend not (their ways)."

153. They said: "Thou art only one of those bewitched!(3206)

3206 They think he is talking like a madman, and they say so.

154. "Thou art no more than a mortal like us: then bring us a Sign, if thou tellest the truth!"

155. He said: "Here is a she-camel: she has(3207) a right of watering, and ye have a right of watering, (severally) on a day appointed.

3207 For this she-camel, see n. 1044 to 7:73. The she-camel was to be a Sign and a test case. Would they respect her rights of watering (and pasturage)?

156. "Touch her not with harm, lest the Penalty of a Great Day seize you."

157. But they ham-strung her: then did they become full of regrets.(3208)

3208 Their regrets were too late. They had themselves asked for a Sign. The Sign had been given them in the she-camel, which their prophet Salih had put forward as a test case. Would they, through that symbol, respect the law of equity by which all people had rights in water and in the gifts of nature? They refused to respect that law, and committed sacrilege by deliberately killing the she-camel. They themselves came to an evil end.

158. But the Penalty seized them. Verily in this is a Sign: but most of them do not believe.

159. And verily thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

160. The people of Lut rejected(3209) the messengers.

3209 The story of Lut (Lot) will be found in 7:80-84; see n. 1049. Here the point is that the people of theCities of the Plain were shamelessly addicted to vice against nature, and Lot's warning only exasperated them, until they were destroyed by a shower of brimstone.

161. Behold, their brother Lut said to them: "Will ye not fear ((Allah))?"

162. "I am to you a messenger worthy of all trust.

163. "So fear Allah and obey me.

164. "No reward do I ask of you for it: my reward is only from the lord of the Worlds.

165. "Of all the creatures in the world, will ye approach males,

166. "And leave those whom Allah has created for you to be your mates? Nay, ye are a people transgressing (all limits))"

167. They said: "If thou desist not, O Lut! thou wilt assuredly be cast out!"(3210)

3210 Their threat to cast him out has a grim significance in what actually happened. They were destroyed where they were, and he was glad to escape the dreadful Punishment according to the warning he had received.

168. He said: "I do detest(3211) your doings."

3211 He was only among them from a stern sense of duty. The whole atmosphere there was detestable to him, and he was glad to escape when duty no longer demanded his presence there. He prayed for deliverance from such surroundings.

169. "O my Lord! deliver me and my family from such things as they do!"

170. So We delivered him and his family,- all
171. Except an old woman (3212) who lingered behind.

3212 This was Lu‘t’s wife, who lingered behind and was among those who perished. See n. 1031 to 7:83.

172. But the rest We destroyed utterly.

173. We rained down on them a shower of brimstone:(3213) and evil was the shower on those who were admonished (but heeded not)!

3213 See n. 1052 to 7:84.

174. Verily in this is a Sign: but most of them do not believe.

175. And verily thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might Most Merciful.

176. The Companions of the Wood (3214) rejected the messengers.

3214 See n. 2000 to 15:78.

177. Behold, Shu‘ayb (3215) said to them: "Will ye not fear ((Allah))?

3215 For Shu‘ayb see n. 1054 to 7:85.

178. "I am to you a messenger worthy of all trust.

179. "So fear Allah and obey me.

180. "No reward do I ask of you for it: my reward is only from the Lord of the Worlds.

181. "Give just measure,(3216) and cause no loss (to others by fraud).

3216 They were a commercial people, but they were given to fraud, injustice, and wrongful mischief (by intermeddling with others). They are asked to fear Allah and follow His ways: it is He Who also created their predecessors among mankind, who never prospered by fraud and violent wrongdoing, but only justice and fair dealing.

182. "And weigh with scales true and upright.

183. "And withhold not things justly due to men, nor do evil in the land, working mischief.

184. "And fear Him Who created you and (who created) the generations before you (you)"

185. They said: "Thou art only one of those bewitched!

186. "Thou art no more than a mortal like us, and indeed we think thou art a liar! (3217)

3217 They deny that he is a prophet or that they are doing wrong, or that any former generations behaved differently. They think they are the true exponents of human nature, and that such as he-idealists-are mere madmen.

187. "Now cause a piece of the sky to fall on us, if thou art truthful!"(3218)

3218 If you really claim any real contact with Allah, let us see if you can bring down a piece of the sky to fall on us! (Cf. 52:41).

188. He said: "My Lord knows best what ye do."(3219)

3219 The challenge to bring down a piece of the sky was merely empty bravado, on the part of those who had called him a liar. But Shu‘ayb does not insult them. He merely says: "Allah is the best judge of your conduct: what more can I say?" And Allah did punish them.

189. But they rejected him. Then the punishment of a day of overshadowing gloom(3220) seized them, and that was the Penalty of a Great Day.(3221)

3220 Perhaps a shower of ashes and cinders accompanying a volcanic eruption. If these people were the same as the Melanites, there was also an earthquake. See 7:91 and n. 1063.

3221 It must have been a terrible day of wholesale destruction-earthquake, volcanic eruption, lava, cinders and ashes and rumbling noises to frighten those whose death was not instantaneous.

190. Verily in that is a Sign: but most of them do not believe.

191. And verily thy Lord is He, the Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

3222 See above, n. 3193 to 26:121.

192. Verily this is a Revelation(3223) from the Lord of the Worlds:

3223 The hostile reception of some of the previous Messengers having been mentioned, the special characteristics of the Qur’an are now referred to, to show (1) that it is true, and (2) that its rejection by the Makkan Pagans was of a piece with the previous experience in the history of mankind that resisted Truth, but it conquers.

193. With it came down the spirit of Faith and Truth-(3224)

3224 Al Ruh al Amin, the epithet of Gabriel, who came with the inspired Messages to the Holy Prophet, is difficult to render in a single epithet in translation. In n. 3187 to 26:107 I have described some of the various shades of meaning attached to the adjective Amin as applied to a Prophet. A further signification as attached to the Spirit of Inspiration is that it is the very quintessence of Faith and Truth, unlike the lying spirits which delude men with falsehood. On the whole, I think, ‘the Spirit of Faith and Truth’ will best represent the original here.

194. To thy heart and mind,(3225) that thou mayest believe.

3225 Qalb (Heart) signifies not only the seat of the affections, but also the seat of the memory and understanding. The process of inspiration is indicated by the impression of the divine Message on the inspired one’s heart, memory, and understanding, from which it was promulgated in human speech to the world. In this case the human speech was the perspicuous Arabic tongue, which would be plainly intelligible to the audience who would immediately hear it and be through it transmitted to all the world.

195. In the perspicuous Arabic tongue.

196. Without doubt it is (announced) in the mystic Books(3226) of former peoples.

3226 The word Zabur, used here, is plural of Zabur, which is mentioned in the Qur’an as the Book revealed to the Prophet Dawud. It has also been used in the Qur’an in the generic sense of ‘Book’ (41:52). Here the word refers to the earlier Revelations. (Eds.). IC1 n. 27:59.

197. Is it not a Sign to them that the Learned of the Children of Israel knew it (as true)?(3227)

3227 Many of the Jewish Doctors recognised the Prophet’s Message as a Message from Allah, e.g., ‘Abdullah ibn Salam and Mukhayriq. The latter was a man of property, which he left for Islam. (There were also Christian monks and learned men who recognised the Prophet’s mission.)

198. Had We revealed it to any of the non-Arabs,

199. And had he recited it to them, they would not have believed in it.(3228)

3228 The turn of Arabia having come for receiving Allah’s Revelation, as was foretold in previous Revelations, it was inevitable that it should be in the Arabic tongue through the mouths of an Arab. Otherwise it would have been Thus have We caused it to enter the hearts of the Sinners.(3229)

224.224.224.224.

3229 ‘Thus’ I think means through the medium of the Arabic language and the Arab people. The Qur’an penetrated through their language and their hearts. If the hardhearted among them did not believe, they will see when the Penalty comes, how grievous a mistake they made. For the Penalty must come; even when they least expected it. They will be caught saying or thinking, ‘There is plenty of time; we can get another respite;’ when already it will have become too late for them to turn over a new leaf.

201. They will not believe in it until they see the grievous Penalty;

202. But the (Penalty) will come to them of a sudden, while they perceive it not;

203. Then they will say: "Shall we be respited?"

204. Do they then ask for Our Penalty to be hastened on?(3230)

3230 While some sinners out of negligence postpone the day of repentance till it is too late, others more bold actually ask out of hatred that Allah’s Punishment should be brought down on them at once, as they do not believe in Allah or His Punishment! The answer to them is: It will come soon enough—toon! they will think, when it comes! Cf. 22:47 and notes, 37:176, and 38:16.

205. Seest thou? If We do let them enjoy (this life) for a few years,

206. Yet there comes to them at length the (Punishment) which they were promised!

207. It will profit them not that they enjoyed (this life)!

208. Never did We destroy a population, but had its warners -

209. By way of reminder; and We never are unjust.(3231)

3231 Allah will grant much respite to sinners, for He is Most Gracious and Merciful. But all this respite will profit them nothing if they are merely immersed in the vanities of this world. Again and again, in spite of their rebellion and their rejection, does Allah send warnings and warners before the final Punishment of Justice. For Allah knows human weakness, and He will never be unjust in the least.

210. No evil ones have brought(3232) down this (Revelation):

3232 When anything extraordinary happens, there are always people desirous of putting the worst construction on it, and saying that it is the work of the evil ones, the devils. So when the Qur’an came with its Message in wondrous Arabic, its enemies could only account for its power by attributing it to evil spirits! Such a beneficent message can never suit the purposes of the evil ones, nor would it be in their power to produce it. In fact Good and Evil are poles asunder, and Evil cannot even hear words of Good, of tender Pity for sinners and Forgiveness for the penitent!

211. It would neither suit them nor would they be able (to produce it).

212. Indeed they have been removed far from even (a chance of) hearing it.

213. So call not on any other god with Allah, or thou wilt be among those under the Penalty.

214. And admonish thy nearest kinsmen,

215. And lower thy wing(3233) to the Believers who follow thee.

3233 That is, be kind, gentle, and considerate with them, as a highflying bird is when she lowers her wing to her offspring. Cf. 17:24 and n. 2265, and 15:88 and n. 2011.

216. Then if they disobey thee, say: "I am free (of responsibility) for what ye do!”(3234)

3234 ‘Disobey thee’ implied that they did something wrong, for the Prophet commanded what was right and forbade what was wrong. If, then, any of his flock did wrong the responsibility was not his, for he, like a good shepherd, tried to keep them right. What was he then to do? He would continue his teaching. But if any of them went so far wrong as to try to injure their own Teacher, Leader and guide, there was nothing for him to fear, His trust was only in Allah and Allah sees and appraises all men’s actions at their true worth.

217. And put thy trust on the Exalted in Might, the Merciful,-

218. Who seeth thee standing forth (in prayer),

219. And thy movements among those who prostrate themselves.(3235)

3235 Literally, the standing and prostration are postures of Muslim prayer: the Holy Prophet was equally earnest, sincere, and zealous in prayer for himself and for all his people. The Prophet's behaviour was exemplary in all the turns of fortune, and however foolish men may cavi, his purity and uprightness are fully known to Allah. (R).

220. For it is He Who heareth and knoweth all things.

221. Shall I inform you, (O people!), on whom it is that the evil ones descend?(3236)

3236 To people who maliciously suggested that the Prophet was possessed or inspired by evil spirits (26:210 above) the reply had already been made, but it is now declared that the suggestion is itself the work of Evil. Behind such suggestions are lying and wickedness, or at best same half-truths caught up in hearsay and twisted so as to show Allah in an evil light.

222. They descend on every lying, wicked person,

223. (Into whose ears) they pour hearsay vanities, and most of them are liars.

224. And the Poets,-(3237) It is those straying in Evil, who follow them:

3237 The Poets to be read along with the exceptions mentioned in verse 227 below. Poetry and other arts are not in themselves evil, but may, on the contrary, be used in the service of religion and righteousness. But there is a danger that they may be prostituted for base purposes. If they are insincere (They say what they do not) or are divorced from actual life or its goodness or its serious purpose, they may become instruments of evil or futility. They then wander about without any set purpose, and seek the depths (valleys) of human folly rather than the heights of divine light.

225. Seest thou not that they wander distracted in every valley?-

226. And that they say what they practise not?-

227. Except those who believe,(3238) work righteousness, engage much in the remembrance of Allah, and defend themselves only after they are unjustly attacked. And soon will the unjust(3239) assailants know what vicissitudes their affairs will take!

3238 Poetry and the fine arts which are to be commended are those which emanate from minds steeped in the Faith, which try to carry out in life the fine sentiments they express in their artistic work, aim at the glory of Allah rather than at self-glorification or the fulsome praise of men with feet of clay, and do not (as in Jihadd) attack anything except aggressive evil. In this sense a perfect artist should be
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ta Sin. (3240) These are verses of the Qur’an, a book that makes (things) clear.

2. A guide: and glad tidings for the believers, (3241)

 Revelation is here presented in three aspects: (1) it explains things, the attributes of Allah, our own position, and the spiritual world around; (2) it directs us to right conduct and keeps us from evil; and (3) to those who have Faith and accept its guidance, it gives the good news of forgiveness, purification, and the achievement of salvation. (B).

3. Those who establish regular prayers and give in regular charity, and also have (full) assurance of the hereafter.

4. As to those who believe not in the Hereafter, We have made their deeds pleasing (3242) in their eyes; and so they wander about in distraction.

5. Such are they for whom a grievous Penalty is (waiting); and in the Hereafter theirs will be the greatest loss. (3243)

6. As to thee, the Qur’an is bestowed upon thee from the presence of one who is wise and all-knowing.

7. Behold! Moses said (3244) to his family: "I perceive a fire; soon will I bring you from there some information, or I will bring you a burning brand to light our fuel, that ye may warn yourselves.

8. But when he came to the (fire), a voice was heard: "Blessed are those (3245) in the fire and those around: and glory to Allah, the Lord of the worlds."

9. "O Moses! verily, I am Allah, the exalted in might, the Most Gracious, Most Merciful."

10. "Now do thou throw thy rod)!" (3246) But when he saw it moving (of its own accord) as if it had been a snake, he turned back in retreat, and retraced not his steps: "O Moses!" (it was said), "Fear not: truly, in My presence, those called as messengers have no fear,- (3247)

11. "But if any have done wrong and have thereafter substituted good to take the place of evil, (3248) truly, I am Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

12. "Now put thy hand into thy bosom, and it will come forth white without stain (3249) (or harm): (these that makes) good to take the place of evil, (3248) truly, I am Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

Cf. 20:9-24. Both there and here there is a reference to the dawn of Revelation in the heart of Moses. The points there emphasised will be found in the notes to that passage. Here the emphasis is on the wonderful nature of the Fire and the wonderful way in which Moses was transformed at the touch of spiritual Light. He was travelling in the Sinai desert with his family. Seeking ordinary light, he came upon a Light which took him to the highest mysteries of Allah. No doubt all his inner history had prepared him for his great destiny. It is the inner history that matters, and not the place of the position of a man in the eyes of his ordinary fellows.
14. The difference of expression has little spiritual significance. The bosom here stands for his innermost being, which was being so transformed with divine light as to lend the radiance to his hand also, his instrument of action. The hand comes out white and radiant without a stain. Ordinarily if the skin becomes white it is a sign of disease or leprosy. Here it was the opposite. It was a sign of radiance and glory from the higher Light.

15. But when Our Signs came to them, that should have(3251) opened their eyes, they said: “This is sorcery manifest!”

16. We gave (in the past) knowledge to David and Solomon:(3252) And they both said: “Praise be to Allah, Who has favoured us above many of his just men and prophets of Allah. The Bible, as we have it, is inconsistent: on the one hand it calls David ‘a man after God’s own heart’ (I Samuel, 13:14 and Acts 13:22); and the Christians acclaim Christ as a son of David; but on the other hand, horrible crimes are ascribed to him, which, if he had committed them, would make him a monster of cruelty and injustice. About Solomon, too, while he is said to have compassed (territory) which thou hast assigned to the Sawasses, he has been bestowed (a little) of all things: this is indeed Grace manifest (from Allah).”(3253)

17. And Solomon was David’s heir.(3254) He said: “O ye people! We have been taught the speech(3255) of birds, and on us has been bestowed (a little) of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude he referred them to son.

18. And before Solomon were marshalled his hosts, of Jinns and men and birds, and they were all kept in order and ranks.(3257)

19. So he smiled, amused at her speech; and he said: “O my Lord! so order me that I may be grateful for Thy favours, which thou hast bestowed on me and(3259) on my parents, and that I may work the righteousness that will please Thee:(3260) And admit me, by Thy Grace, to the ranks of Thy righteous Servants.”(3261)

20. And he took a muster of the Birds; and he said: “Why is it I see not the Hoopoe? Or is he among the absentees? (3262)

21. I will certainly punish him with a severe penalty, or execute him, unless he bring me a clear reason (for absence)."

22. But the Hoopoe tarried not far: he (came up and) said: “I have compassed (territory) which thou hast not compassed, and I have come to thee from Saba’(3263) with tidings true.

23. I found (there) a woman(3264) ruling over them and provided(3265) with every requisite; and she has been taught the speech(3255) of birds, and on us has been bestowed (a little) of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude she referred them to God, the Giver of all gifts.

24. At length, when they came to a (lowly) valley of ants, one of the ants one: “O ye ants, get into your

25. habitations, lest Solomon and his hosts crush you (under foot) without knowing it.”(3258)

26. This verse and the next, read together, suggest the symbolic meaning as predominant. The ant, to outward appearances, is a very small and humble creature. In the great pomp and circumstances of the world, it may be neglected or even trampled on by a people who mean it no harm. Yet, by its wisdom, it carries on its own little world within its own sphere (habitations) un molested, and makes a useful contribution to the economy of the world. So there is room for the humblest people in the spiritual world.

27. And coordination, as they were a well disciplined army, thus getting the best

28. And the nine Signs:

29. The signs should have clearly opened the eyes of any persons who honestly examined them and thought about them. Those who rejected them were perverse and were going against their own light and inner conviction. That was the aggravating feature of their sin.

30. And they rejected those Signs in iniquity and arrogance, though their souls were convinced thereof: so see what was the end of those who acted corruptly!

31. Where the Signs should have clearly opened the eyes of any persons who honestly examined them and thought about them. Those who rejected them were perverse and were going against their own light and inner conviction. That was the aggravating feature of their sin.

32. And they said: “This is a light, graceful creature, with elegant plumage of many colours, and a beautiful yellow crest on his head, which entitles him to be called a royal bird.

33. Solomon was not idle or easy-going king. He kept all his organisation strictly up to the mark, both his armies literally and his forces (metaphorically). His most mobile arm was the Birds, who were light on the wing and flew and saw everything like efficient scouts. One day he missed the Hoopoe in his muster. The hoopoe is a light, graceful creature, with elegant plumage of many colours, and a beautiful yellow crest on its head, which entitles him to be called a royal bird.

34. We have been taught the speech(3255) of birds, and on us has been bestowed (a little) of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude he referred them to son.

35. And Solomon was David’s heir. (3254) He said: “O ye people! We have been taught the speech(3255) of birds, and on us has been bestowed (a little) of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude he referred them to son.

36. Solomon was David’s heir. (3254) He said: “O ye people! We have been taught the speech(3255) of birds, and on us has been bestowed (a little) of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude he referred them to son.

37. And Solomon was David’s heir. (3254) He said: “O ye people! We have been taught the speech(3255) of birds, and on us has been bestowed (a little) of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude he referred them to son.
33. They said: "We are ended with strength, and given to vehement war: but the command is with thee; so consider what thou wilt command."

34. She said: "Kings, when they(3271) enter a country, despoil it, and make the noblest of its people its meanest thus do they behave.

35. "But I am going to send him a present, and (wait) to see with what (answer) return (my) ambassadors."

36. Now when (the embassy) came to Solomon, he said: "Will ye give me abundance in wealth? But that which Allah has given me is better than that which He has given you! Nay it is ye who rejoice in your gift!(3272)

37. Poor Bilquis! she thought she had arranged with wantonly tact to conciliate Solomon, and at the same time pacify her warlike subjects! But the effect of the embassy with presents was the very opposite. Solomon took it as an insult that she should send her presents instead of her submission to the true Religion! He flung back the presents at her, as much as to say, "Let these baubles delight your own hearts! Allah has blessed me with plenty of worldly goods, and something infinitely better, viz.: His Light and Guidance! Why do you say nothing about that? Will you only understand the argument of armies and violence?" Or perhaps his speech was only meant for the Sabaeans crowd. For when she actually came, he treated her kindly, and she accepted the religion of Unity.

37. "Go back to them, and be sure we shall come to them with such hosts as they will never be able to meet: We shall expel them from there in disgrace, and they will feel humbled (indeed)."

38. He said (to his own men): "Ye chiefs! which of you can bring me her throne(3273) before they come to me in submission?"

39. Said an `Ifrit,(3274) of the Jinnns: "I will bring it to thee before thou rise from thy council: indeed I have full strength for the purpose, and may be trusted."

40. Said one who had knowledge(3275) of the Book: "I will bring it to thee within the twinkling of an eye!" Then when (Solomon) saw it placed firmly before him, he said: "This is by the Grace of my Lord!-(3276) to test me whether I am grateful or ungrateful! and if any is grateful, truly his gratitude is (a gain) for his own soul; but if any is ungrateful, truly my Lord is Free of all Needs, Supreme in Honour!"(3277)

32. She said: "Ye chiefs! advise me in (this) my affair: no affair have I decided except in your presence."
of Allah. Even if worldly power and common honesty may be able to effect some good, it will take a comparatively long time, while the magic of spiritual love acts transparently. Solomon was thankful to Allah for he had men endowed with such power, and he laid thethrone of Bilqis transported to Jisr Court and transformed as he desired, without Bilqis even knowing it. (R).

4727 If Solomon had been ungrateful to Allah, i.e., if he had worked for his own selfish or worldly ends, he could have used the brute strength of the "Bil'ar to add to his worldly strength and glory. Instead, he uses the higher magic of the Book or the Spirit to transform the throne of Bilqis for her highest good, which means also the highest good for her subjects, by the divine Light. He had the two alternatives, and he chooses the better, and he thus shows his gratitude to Allah for the Grace
He had given him.

4727 Man's gratitude to Allah is not a thing that benefits Allah, for Allah is high above all needs; it benefits a man's soul and gives him higher rank in the spiritual world. Per contra, man's ingratitude will not detract from Allah's Glory and Honour and the value of Allah's generous gifts to man for Allah as supreme in honour, glory and generosity. Ka'nin in Arabic involved all three significations.

41. He said: "Transform her throne out of all recognition by her: let us see whether she is guided (to the truth)(3278) or is one of those who receive no guidance."

4727 The throne having been transformed, it will be a test to see whether Bilqis recognises it as her own and accepts it as her own free will as her own, or rejects it as something alien to her, something she will not accommodate herself to. So in our life. We get used to certain habits and customs and certain ways of thought.
Allah's message comes to transform us and set us on a different kind of throne, with our own active and willing consent. If we are wise, we feel honoured and grateful. If we are "obstinately rebellious", we reject it as not our own, and pine for the old slavery, as the Israelites pined for Egypt when they were under Allah's guidance in the wilderness.

42. So when she arrived, she was asked, "Is this thy throne?" She said, "It was just like this;(3279) and knowledge was bestowed on us in advance of this, and we have submitted to Allah (in Islam)."

4727 Bilqis stands the test. She knows it was her throne, yet not exactly the same, for it was now much better. And she is proud of her good fortune, and acknowledges, for herself and her people, with gratitude, the light which was given to them by Allah, by which they recognised Allah's prophet in Solomon and received the true Religion with all their will and heart and soul.

43. And he diverted her(3280) from the worship of others besides Allah. for she was (sprung) of a people that had no faith.

4729 Some Commentators and Translators adopt an alternative construction for the last clause of the last verse and the first clause of this verse. They understand the former to be spoken by Solomon and to mean, 'we had knowledge of Allah's Message and accepted it before her.' They understand the latter to mean, 'the worship of others besides Allah diverted her (from the true Religion)'. If we accept the construction adopted in this Translation, the visit to Solomon confirmed the true Faith of Bilqis and prevented her from lapsing into her ancestral false worship.

44. She was asked to enter(3281) the lofty Palace: but when she saw it, she thought it was a lake of water, and she (tucked up her skirts), uncovering her legs.
He said: "This is but a palace paved smooth with slabs of glass." She said: "O my Lord! I have indeed wronged(3282) my soul: I do (now) submit (in Islam), with Solomon, to the Lord of the Worlds."

4729 Bilqis, having been received with honour on her arrival, and having accepted the transformation of her throne, placed presumably in an outer building of the Palace, is asked to enter the great Palace itself. Its floor was made of slabs of smooth polished glass, that glittered like water. She thought it was water, and tucked up her clothes to pass through it, showing her bare feet and ankles. This was a very undignified position for a woman, especially one of the position of a Queen. Solomon immediately undeceived her, and told her the real facts, when she felt grateful, and joined herself with Solomon in praising Allah.

4744 In symbolic language, a new entrant into the Palace of divine knowledge, may yet carry in his mind many of the illusions of the lower world, the transparent crystal of Truth he may yet mistake for the unstable water of worldly vanity, which soils the vestments of those who parade in it. This leads to many undignified positions and mistakes. But a gentle leader points out the truth. Instead of resenting it, the new entrant is grateful, acknowledges her own mistake freely and frankly, and heartily joins with the 'Teacher in the worship of Allah, the Source of all truth and knowledge.

45. We sent (aforetime), to the Thamud, their brother(3283) Salih, saying, "Serve Allah.: But behold, they became two factions quarrelling with each other.

3283 The main story of Thamud, who were broken into two factions, the rich oppressing the poor and keeping them out of the good things of life and the test of the She-camel, will be found in 26:141-159 and the notes thereon. The point here is the secret plot of the nine men against the Prophet of Allah, whose teaching, they thought, brought them ill-luck; but what they called ill-luck was the just punishment from Allah for their own ill-deeds. Their plot was foiled, and the whole community, which was involved in evil, was destroyed. (R).

46. He said: "O my people! why ask ye to hasten on the evil in preference to the good?(3284) If only ye ask Allah for forgiveness, ye may hope to receive mercy.

3284 Cf. 17:6. The evildoers were really hastening on their own punishment by their fists against the poor. The advocates of justice were not bringing ill-luck to them. They were showing the way to ward it off. Their own injustice was bringing on them disaster.

47. They said: "Ill omen do we augur from thee and those that are with thee". He said: "Your ill omen is with Allah. yea, ye are a people under trial."(3285)

3285 All evil unpunished is not evil comboned, but evil given a chance for reform.
They are on trial, by the mercy of Allah. What they call 'ill omen' is really the just punishment for their ill-deeds, and that punishment rests with Allah. (Cf. 36:18-19).

48. There were in the city nine men of a family, who made mischief in the land, and would not reform.(3286)

3286 They had made up their minds to wage a relentless war against justice. They did not destroy justice, but justice destroyed them.

49. They said: "Swear a mutual oath by Allah that we shall make a secret night attack on him and his people,(3287) and that we shall then say to his heir (when he seeks vengeance): ' We were not present at the slaughter of his people, and we are positively telling the truth. "

3287 A most dastardly plot, because (1) it was to be secret, (2) by night, (3) taking their victims unawares, and (4) because careful provision was made that they should all tell lies together, saying that they knew nothing about it, in order to evade the vengeance which Salih's heirs (if any were left) or his tribe might want to exact! And yet such were exactly the plots laid against the Holy Prophet himself.

50. They plotted and planned,(3288) but We too planned, even while they perceived it not.

3288 Cf. 3:54. Their secret plotting is all known to Allah, but of Allah's just and beneficent plans they know nothing. And the wicked must come to an evil end.

51. Then see what was the end of their plot!- this, that We destroyed them and their people, all (of them).

52. Now such were their houses, - in utter ruin, - because they practised wrong- doing. Verily in this is a Sign for people of knowledge.

53. And We saved those who believed and practised righteousness.

54. (We also sent) Lut(3289) (as a messenger): behold,
He said to his people, "Do ye do what is shameful though ye see (its iniquity)?

3289 The story of Lut is referred to elsewhere. The passages to which reference may be made here are 26:160-175, and 7:90-84. But the point emphasised here is that the crime of the Cities of the Plain was against their own nature, and they saw its enormity, and yet they indulged in it. Can degradation go further? His wife was not apparently a Believer. Her previous sympathy with the sinful people "destined her" (verse 37 below) to a miserable end, as she lagged behind and shared in the destruction of her kinsfolk.

55. Would ye really approach men in your lusts rather than women? Nay, ye are a people (grossly) ignorant!(3290)

The ignorance referred to here is the spiritual ignorance, the ignorance of how grossness and sins that bring shame on their own physical and moral nature are doomed to destroy them; it is their own loss. That they knew the iniquity of their sins has already been stated in the last verse. That knowledge makes their spiritual ignorance all the more culpable, just as a man consciously deceiving people by half-truths is a greater liar than a man who tells lies inadvertently.

56. But his people gave no other answer but this: they said, "Drive out the followers of Lut from your city: these are indeed men who want to be clean and ignorant!"(3291)

3291 Cf. 7:92/84. Instead of being ashamed on account of the consciousness of their own guilt, they attack the pure ones with their sarcasm, as if not they but the pure ones were in the wrong, trying to set them on the right way.

57. But We saved him and his family, except his wife; her We destined to be of those who lagged behind.

58. And We rained down on them a shower (of brimstone): and evil was the shower on those who were admonished (but heeded not)!

59. Say: Praise be to Allah, and Peace on his servants(3292) whom He has chosen (for his Message). (Who) is better?- Allah or the false gods they associate (with Him)?

3292 Allah's revelation having been described as Light, Guidance, and Mercy, we ought all to be grateful to Allah for vouchsafing His revelation. We ought also to appreciate the services of Allah's Messengers, who are chosen to deliver His Message; we ought to send salutations of Peace on them, instead of plotting, as the wicked do, for their removal or persecution, or banishment or death, for these Prophets of Allah undergo every kind of hardship and forego every kind of advantage or pleasure in life for serving mankind. And Allah is truth and goodness, and all our fancies of false worship are falsehoods and evils. Shall we prefer falsehood and evil to truth and goodness? (R).

60. Or, Who has created(3293) the heavens and the earth, and Who sends the winds as heralds(3299) of glad tidings, going before His Mercy? (Can there be another) god besides Allah. Nay it is that ye heed!

3299 Besides the evidence of external nature, there is still more intimate evidence in man's inner conscience and heart. Allah listens to man's cry of agony and relieves his suffering, and He has given him superiority over other creation on this earth, through his mind and soul. Is man then going to run after inferior beings and forget Allah?

61. Or, Who has made the earth firm to live in; made rivers in its midst; set thereon mountains immovable;(3295) and made a separating bar between the two bodies(3296) of flowing water? (can there be another) god besides Allah. Nay, most of them know not.

3295 Cf. 16:15 and notes 2038 and 2039. The terra firma, the flowing water, and the cycle of water circulation-sea, vapour, clouds, rain, rivers, and sea again-all one and yet all distinct, with a sort of wonderful barrier between salt water and fresh water: can man see all this and yet be ignorant of Allah?

62. Or, Who listens to the (soul) distressed when it calls on Him, and Who relieves(3297) its suffering, and makes you (mankind) inheritors of the earth?(3298) (Can there be another) god besides Allah. Little it is that ye heed!

3297 Besides the evidence of external nature, there is still more intimate evidence in man's inner conscience and heart. Allah listens to man's cry of agony and relieves his suffering, and He has given him superiority over other creation on this earth, through his mind and soul. Is man then going to run after inferior beings and forget Allah?

63. Or, Who guides you through the depths of darkness on land and sea, and Who sends the winds as heralds(3299) of glad tidings, going before His Mercy? (Can there be another) god besides Allah.- High is Allah above what they associate with Him!

64. Or, Who originates creation, then repeats it,(3300) and who gives you sustenance from heaven and earth?(3301) (Can there be another) god besides Allah, Say, "Bring forth your argument, if ye are telling the truth!"(3302)

3300 Cf. 25:48, n. 3104. After external nature, our attention was drawn to our inner consciousness; after that, it is drawn here to our social and collective life, in which we use the forces of nature for international intercourse, trade, agriculture, production, and economic well-being generally. In the next verse, we are asked to contemplate creation from its primeval stages, through its intermediate processes, to the final Destiny in a new creation—a new heaven and a new earth.

65. Say: None in the heavens or on earth, except Allah, knows what is hidden:(3303) nor can they perceive when they shall be raised up (for Judgment).

3303 The existence of Allah is certain. But nothing else can be known with certainty to our knowledge. He has told us of the Hereafter, and therefore we know it is true. But those who do not believe in Allah—what knowledge or certainty can they have? Even when it is actually coming, they will not have the sense to perceive it.

66. Still less can their knowledge comprehend the Hereafter: Nay, they are in doubt and uncertainty thereon; nay, they are blind thereunto!(3304)

3304 The Unbelievers are generally materialists, who cannot go beyond the evidence of their physical senses. As to a spiritual vision of the future, their physical senses would only leave them in doubt and uncertainty, while their rejection of the spiritual Light makes them blind altogether to the spiritual world.

67. The Unbelievers say: "What! when we become dust,- we and our fathers,- shall we really be raised (from the dead)?

68. "It is true we were promised this,—we and our fathers before (us): these are nothing but tales of the ancients."

69. Say: "Go ye through the earth and see what has been the end of those guilty (of sin)."(3305)
3306. Even if the Unbelievers are willing to take any mystic doctrine, they have only to observe what has actually happened on the earth, and they will see that evil always came to an evil end, and that Truth and righteousness ultimately won.

70. But grieve not over them, nor distress thyself because of their plots. (3306)

3306. Cf. 16:127, and n. 2164. The righteous need not worry over the unjust. The plots of the unjust can never defeat or deflect the purpose of Allah.

71. They also say: "When will this promise (come to pass)? (Say) if ye are truthful."

72. Say: "It may be that some of the events which ye wish to hasten on may be (close) in your pursuit!"(3307)

3307. The Unbelievers—or even men of half-hearted faith—say, "Why worry over distant future events! Take the day as it comes!" But that is a fallacy. Judgement is certain, and it may be that this very hour may be the hour of doom for any given individual. This is the hour of repentance and amendment. For Allah wishes well to all mankind in spite of their ingratitude.

73. But verily thy Lord is full of grace to mankind: Yet most of them are ungrateful.

74. And verily thy Lord knoweth all that their hearts do hide. As well as all that they reveal.

75. Nor is there aught of the unseen, in heaven or earth, but is (recorded)(3308) in a clear record.

76. Verily this Qur’án doth explain to the Children of Israel most of the matters in which they disagree.(3309)

3309. The Jews had numerous sects. Some were altogether out of the pale, e.g., the Samaritans, who had a separate Tawrah of their own: they hated the other Jews and were hated by them. But even in the orthodox body, there were several sects, of which the following may be mentioned: (1) the Pharisees, who were literalists, formalists, and fatalists, and had a large body of traditional literature, with which they overlaid the Law of Moses; (2) the Sadduccees, who were rationalists, and seemed to have doubted the doctrine of the Resurrection or of a Hereafter; (3) the Essenes, who practised a sort of Communism and Asceticism and prohibited marriage. About many of their doctrines they had bitter disputes, which were settled by the Qur’án, which supplemented and perfected the Law of Moses. It also explained clearly the attributes of Allah and the nature of Revelation, and the doctrine of the Hereafter.

77. And it certainly is a Guide and a Mercy to those who believe.

78. Verily thy Lord will decide between them by His Decree: He is Exalted in Might, All-Knowing.

3310. ‘Decree’: līkāz: the disputes between rival sects can only be settled by the Decree of Allah. (1) In the form of a Revelation, as was done by the Qur’an, or (2) by the logic of events, for hundreds of sects have been extinguished and forgotten in the course of time, and (3) in the Decree of Judgement in the Hereafter, when all warring sects will at length see their errors.

79. So put thy trust in Allah. for thou art on (the path of) manifest Truth.

80. Truly thou canst not cause the dead to listen, nor canst thou cause the deaf to hear the call, (especially) when they turn back in retreat.(3311)

3311. The Prophet’s responsibility was to preach and show the way. Men and women of good will had faith and accepted the Message. But he was not responsible for the obstinacy and perversity of men who turned away from Allah’s Signs and rejected the Truth.

81. Nor canst thou be a guide to the blind, (to prevent them) from straying: only those wilt thou get to listen who believe in Our Signs, and they will bow in Islam.

82. And when the Word is fulfilled against them (the unjust), we shall produce from the earth a beast to (face) them:(3312) He will speak to them, for that mankind did not believe with assurance in Our Signs.

3312. The Word: the Decree or Sentence, the Decision to end the respite and restore the true values of right and wrong in a new world; their cup of iniquity will then have been full.

3313. The Beast will be one of the Signs of the Last Day to come, before the present World passes away and the new World is brought into being. In symbolic language it would represent gross Materialism. It will be the embodiment of fat worldly triumph, which would appeal to a misguided and degenerate world, because such a corrupt world will have no assured belief in the Signs of Allah or in spiritual Light. It will itself be a Sign or Portent, closing the door of repentance. I do not know whether this Beast has any reference to the symbolisms in chapter 12 of the Book of Revelation, which closes the New Testament. If taklimuhum is read instead of takallumuhum, it would mean that the Beast would wound them, symbolically, that Materialism would produce its own Nemesis.

83. One day We shall gather together from every people a troop of those who reject Our Signs, and they will be kept in ranks,-

84. Until, when they come (before the Judgment-seat), (Allah) will say: "Did ye reject My Signs, though ye(3314) comprehended them not in knowledge, or what was it ye did?"

3314. The charge against them will be: You had no knowledge, and yet you arrogantly rejected My Signs; is that true, or have you any plea in your defence?

85. And the Word will be fulfilled against them, because of their wrong-doing, and they will be unable to speak (in plea).

3315. There will be no plea, because the charge will be only too true. The Decree will be passed and executed.

86. See they not that We have made the Night for them to rest in and the Day to give(3316) them light? Verily in this are Signs for any people that believe!

3316. Night, Day, Rest, and Light: both in the literal and the symbolic sense. Any one with a scrap of faith or spiritual insight could see that the Night is a blessing when used for rest and a curse when used to cover ignorance or sin; and that the Day is for work and enlightenment, and its misuse is gross ingratitude to Allah. Or, understand Truth and practise Righteousness while it is yet Light and the Message of Allah is here to guide you: for there comes the Night when Endeavour will cease and there will be no room for Repentance.

87. And the Day that the Trumpet will be sounded - then will be smitten with terror those who are in the heavens, and those who are on earth, except such as Allah will please (to exempt): and all shall come to His (Presence) as beings conscious of their own lowness.(3317)

3317. Arrogance will flee with Ignorance, and Self will see itself in its true place - that of humility and lowness-when the scales of ignorance fall from its eyes.

88. Thou seest the mountains and thinkest them firmly fixed:(3318) but they shall pass away as the clouds pass away: (such is) the artistry of Allah, who disposes of all things(3319) in perfect order: for he is well acquainted with all that ye do.

3318. This is so in the present phase of phenomenal things, both literally and figuratively. There seems nothing more firm or fixed or permanent than the 'eternal hills'; yet when the new order of things comes and the new World is brought into being, they will be as flimsy and insubstantial as clouds. So, in the revelation of things in the spiritual World, persons or things or ideas that seem so great and so firmly established now will pass away like mere fancies and give way to the Reality of Allah.

3321 _Agana;_ to arrange or dispose of things with art, or so as to obtain the most perfect results. The present phenomenal world and the Future that is to be, all have a definite object and purpose in the Plan of Allah, Who knows perfectly what we are, what we do, what we think, and what we need. Who can praise His artistry enough?

89. If any do good, good will (accrue) to them therefrom; and they will be secure from terror that Day.

90. And if any do evil, their faces will be thrown headlong into the Fire: "Do ye receive a reward other than that which ye have earned by your deeds?" (3321)

90. _Headlong: It may be that the very things of which we were proudest, which we considered foremost in our present order of the world, will be the first to go into the Fire, as they are but the window-dressing (i.e., faces) of Evil.

91. For me, I have been commanded to serve the Lord (3322) of this city, Him Who has sanctified it and to Whom (belong) all things: and I am commanded to do of those who bow in Islam to Allah's Will,-

92. And to rehearse the Qur'an: (3323) and if any accept guidance, they do it for the good of their own souls, and if any stray, say: "I am only a Warner".

92. _The duty of the Prophet and his adherents was, first, to accept Islam and become themselves shining examples of Allah's grace and mercy, as they in fact were, and secondly to preach that message and spread that Light to all around. It was not for them to force it on unwilling people: for any who rejected it would find their own spiritual loss in such rejection. But they must clearly warn them of the consequences.

93. And say: "Praise be to Allah, Who will soon show you (3324) His Signs, so that ye shall know them"; and thy Lord is not unmindful of all that ye do. (3325)

93. _In a few years after that, many wonderful things happened that removed the doubts of the doubters and confirmed the faith of the Believers. They showed how the logic of events proved the true mission of the holy Prophet. Other things some minds may not be able to grasp. But the logic of events is for all to see.

28. Al Qasas (The Narrations)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. _Ta. Sin. Mim._ (3326)

3326 See n. 3137 to 26:1.

2. _These are Verses of the Book that makes (things) clear._ (3327)

3327 See n. 3138 to 26:2.

3. _We rehearse to thee some of the story of Moses and Pharaoh in Truth, for people who believe._ (3328)

3328 The part of the story of Moses told here is how Moses and his mother were guided in the child's infancy, that even as he grew up, he might be prepared for his high destiny; how in youth he trusted Allah in the most awkward situations and sought his help; how he fled into exile, and yet found love and support because of his well-doing; and how, when he was called to his mission, he received Allah's favour, which defeated all the plots of his enemies. Thus Allah's Plan works continuously in the web of events. Those who have faith will thus see the land of Allah in everything and welcome the light that comes to them by Revelation. With such a Faith there is no room for Chance or blind Fate. (R).

4. _Truly Pharaoh elated himself in the land and broke up its people into sections, (3329) depressing a small group among them: their sons he slew, but he kept alive their females: for he was indeed a maker of mischief._

3329 For a king or ruler to make invidious distinctions between his subjects, and specially to depress or oppress any particular class of his subjects, is a dereliction of his kingly duties, for which he is responsible to Allah. Pharaoh and his clique were intoxicated with pride of race and pride of material civilisation, and grievously oppressed the Israelites. Pharaoh decreed that all sons born to his Israelite subjects should be killed, and the females kept alive for the pleasure of the Egyptians. Moses was saved in a wonderful way, as related further.

5. _And We wished to be Gracious to those who were being depressed on the land._ (3330) To make them leaders (in Faith) and make them heirs, 3330 What Pharaoh wished was to crush them. But Allah's Plan was to protect them as they were weak, and indeed to make them custodians and leaders in His Faith, and to give them in inheritance a land 'flowing with milk and honey'. Here they were established in authority for such time as they followed Allah's Law. As regards Pharaoh and his ministers and hosts, they were to be shown that they would suffer, at the hands of the Israelites, the very calamities against which they were so confidently taking precautions for themselves.

6. _To establish a firm place for them in the land, and to show Pharaoh, Haman, (3331) and their hosts, at their hands, the very things against which they were taking precautions._ (3332)
The wife of Pharaoh said: "(Here is) joy of the river," but fear not nor grieve: for We shall restore him to thee, and We shall make him one of Our messengers."

Then the people of Pharaoh picked him up (from the river), had orders to kill Israelite babies, Moses was saved from them, and his mother nursed the infant at her breast herself. But when the danger of discovery was imminent, she put him into a chest or basket, and floated him on the river Nile. It flowed by the King's palace, and the chest with the baby was picked up, as related further on. The mother had no cause to fear or grieve afterwards, as the child grew up under her tender care and became afterwards one of the Prophets of Allah.

Then the people of Pharaoh picked him up (from the river): (It was intended) that (Moses) should be to them an adversary and a cause of sorrow; for We shall restore him to thee, and We shall make him one of Our messengers.

This was the Plan of Providence; that the wicked might cast a net round him: for He is the Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. Do Thou then forgive me! So ((Allah)) forgave him on your behalf. Thus Moses got the benefit of his mother's kindness, but most of them do not understand.(3339)

This was the Plan of Providence; that the wicked might cast a net round him: for He is the Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. Do Thou then forgive me! So ((Allah)) forgave him on your behalf. Thus Moses got the benefit of his mother's kindness, but most of them do not understand.(3339)

So he saw the morning in the city, looking about, in a general idea, but no plan had yet shaped itself in his mind, until a second catastrophe brought matters to a head, and he was plunged in adventure.

His object was apparently to strike him so as to release the Israelite, not to slay him. He said: "This is a work of Evil (Satan): for he is a quarrelsome fellow!"(3344)

And they perceived not (what they were doing)! (3336)

He was a darling to look at, and Pharaoh had apparently no son, but only a daughter, who afterwards became his wife. In all life Providence so orders things that Evil is defeated by its own offspring. If there were not a child to show itself, the efforts would be vain. And this child's being saved was the comfort to his mother. That she might know that the promise of Allah is true: but most of them do not understand.(3339)

Allah's promise is always true, but short-sighted people, if they are a little thwarted in their plan, do not understand that Allah's wisdom, power, and goodness are far more comprehensive than any little plans which they may form.

When he decided to lay hold of the man who was (3345) an enemy to both of them, that man said: "0 Moses! Is it thy intention to slay me as thou slewest a man yesterday? Thy intention is none other than to become a powerful violent man in the land, and not to be one who sets things right!"(3346)

When Moses considered further that the Egyptian was unjust and that the people (3338) were not watching: and he found there was the comfort to his mother. But when the danger of discovery was imminent, she put him into a chest or basket, and floated him on the river Nile. It flowed by the King's palace, and the chest with the baby was picked up, as related further on. The mother had no cause to fear or grieve afterwards, as the child grew up under her tender care and became afterwards one of the Prophets of Allah.

And they perceived not (what they were doing)! (3336)

And they perceived not (what they were doing)! (3336)

And they perceived not (what they were doing)! (3336)

And they perceived not (what they were doing)! (3336) or Egyptian who was friendly to him, as explained below. We may suppose that after the first day's fight, there had been a great deal of talk in the bazaars, both among Indians and Egyptians. Probably the Indians were elated at finding a champion—perhaps more elated than they should have been, and in a provocative mood, which deserved Moses' rebuke. Probably the Egyptians had discussed who this new champion was, and had already appraised the Palace, to which Moses had not dared to return.

20. And there came a man, running, from the furthest end of the City, and said: "O Moses! The Chiefs are taking counsel together about thee, to slay thee; so get thee away, for I do give thee sincere advice."

21. He therefore got away therefrom, looking back (their flocks); And our father is a very old man. "(3348)

22. Then, when he turned his face towards (the land of) Midyan,(3349) he said: "I do hope that my Lord will show me the smooth and straight Path."(3350)

23. And when he arrived at the watering (place) in Midyan,(3350) he found there a group of men watering (their flocks), and besides them he found two women who were keeping back (their flocks). He said: "What is the matter with you?" They said: "We cannot water (our flocks) until the shepherds take back (their flocks): And our father is a very old man."(3351)

24. So he watered (their flocks) for them; then he turned back to the shade, and said: "O my Lord! truly am I in desperate need of any good that Thou dost send me!"(3352)

25. Afterwards one of the (damsels) came (back) to him, walking bashfully. She said: "My father invites thee that he may reward thee for having watered(3353) (our flocks) for us." So when he came to him and narrated the story, he said: "Fear thou not: (well) hast thou escaped from unjust people."(3354)

26. Said one of the (damsels): "O my (dear) father! engage(3355) him on wages: truly the best of men for thee to employ is the (man) who is strong and trustworthy"....(3356) he turned back in retreat, and retraced not his steps: Lord of the Worlds.

"Tarry ye; I perceive a fire; I hope to bring you from moving (of its own accord) as if it had been a snake, travelling with his family, he perceived a fire in ye may warm yourselves." (3360) wicked.

He said: "O my Lord! I have slain a man among them, how it was punished, and with what instruments in the hands of Moses and Pharaoh. The notes on the earlier passage should be read, as explanations already given need not now be repeated. (R).

Note how the transition is effected from the happy earthly life of Moses (with its previous earthly storm and stress) to the new spiritual storm and stress of his prophetic mission.

when he came to the (fire), a voice was heard from the right bank of the valley, from a tree(3361) in hallowed ground: "O Moses! Verily I Am Allah, the Lord of the Worlds...

We are to suppose the appearance of a bush burning but not consumed (Exod, 3:2), a device adopted by the Scottish Church in its arms-bearing, Scotland apparently took that emblem and motto (Nes tan consummatur, nevertheless it was not consumed) from the Synod of the Reformed Church of France, which had adopted it in 1583. (I am indebted for this information to the Rev. D.Y. Robertson, Chaplain of the Church of Scotland in Simla, India.). The real explanation of the Burning Bush will be found in 27:8. n. 3245: it was not a real explanation of the Burning Bush will be found in 27:8. n. 3245: it was not a fire, but a reflection of the Glory of God.

"Now do thou throw thy rod!" but when he saw it moving (of its own accord) as if it had been a snake, he turned back in retreat, and retracted not his steps: O Moses!" (It was said), "Draw near, and fear not: for thou art of those who are secure.(3362)

The verbal meaning is: 'you have nothing to fear from what appears to be a snake: it is a snake, not for you, but for Pharaoh." But there is a deeper meaning besides, Moses had now been called to a higher and spiritual mission. He had to meet the hatred of the Egyptians and circumvent their trickery and magic. He had now the security of Faith in all dangers and difficulties Allah would guide and protect him, for he was actually in Allah's service, one of the Elect.

"Move thy hand into thy bosom, and it will come forth white without stain (or harm), and draw thy hand close to thy side (to guard) against fear.(3363) Those are the two credentials from thy Lord to Pharaoh and his Chiefs: for truly they are a people rebellious and wicked."

Latterly, 'draw thy wing close to thy side, (away) from fear'. When a bird is frightened, it ruffles its wings and prepares to fly away, but when it is calm and composed, it sits with its wings drawn close to its sides, showing a mind secure from danger: CE also n. 25/30 to 20/22.

He said: "O my Lord! I have slain a man among them, and I fear(3364) lest they slay me.

It is not that Moses is not reassured from all fear on account of the apparent snake which his rod had become, or from the sacred and unfamiliar surroundings in which he found himself. On this point his heart had been completely assured. But he is still new to his mission, and the future is obscure to his mind. Pharaoh was after him, to take his life, and apparently with good cause, because one of Pharaoh's men had been slain at his hands. And now he is commanded to go to Pharaoh and rebuke him and his Chiefs. The inner doubts and difficulties of his human mind he frankly lays before his Lord, and asks for a little human and visible support, which is granted him at once, viz. the help of his brother Aaron.

"And my brother Aaron - He is more eloquent in speech than I: so send him with me as a helper, to confirm (and strengthen) me: for I fear that they may accuse me of falsehood."

He said: "We will certainly strengthen thy arm through thy brother, and invest you both with authority, so they shall not be able to touch you: with Our Sign shall ye triumph,- you two as well as those who follow you." (3366)

To touch you: to approach you anywhere near, in the wonders and Signs that you will show them under the divine authority with which you are invested.

The potency of Allah's Light is such that its divine rays reach the humblest of those who seek after Him. The Prophets can certainly work wonders, but their sincere followers in Faith can do so also in their spheres. Wonderers may appeal to people, but they are not the highest Signs of Allah's workings and they are around us every day in our lives.

When Moses came to them with Our clear signs, they said: "This is nothing but sorcery(3367) faked up: never did we head the like among our fathers of old!" (3368)

This is what Moses was thinking of when he had said: 'They may accuse me of falsehood'. To accuse the purest Truth of lying is a favorite trick of those whose chief stock in trade is deception and sorcery and catching the attention of the vulgar by arts adapted to their ignorant minds!

'As to this higher talk of the worship of the One true God, why, our ancestors have worshipped power and patronage, as concentrated in Pharaoh, from the most ancient times!

Moses said: "My Lord knows best who it is that comes with guidance from Him and whose end will be best in the Hereafter: certain it is that the wrong-doers will not prosper." (3369)

The only argument in such a case is an appeal to Allah and to the ultimate Future. Both of these appeals require Faith. But even if you do not rely on anything so high, you can see that Falsehood or evils crystallized in ancestral customs are not going to do any one any good.

Pharaoh said: "O Chiefs! no god do I know for you(3370) but myself; therefore, O Haman! light me a (kiln to bake bricks) out of clay, and build me a lofty(3371) palace, that I may mount up to the god of their hosts were drowned in the sea in their pursuit of the Israelites: see 7:130-136. They are the type of men who lead-only to Destruction. They invite, not to Peace and Happiness, but to the Fire of Wrath, mutual Envy, and Hatred.

And he was arrogant and insolent in the land, beyond reason,- He and his hosts: they thought that they would not have to return to Us!(3372)

They did not believe in the Hereafter. They did not understand that every deed must have its inevitable consequence, good, or evil, unless the Grace of Allah intervenes to save us from ourselves!

So We seized him and his hosts, and We flung them into the sea:(3373) Now behold what was the end of those who did wrong!

Pharaoh and his hosts were drowned in the sea in their pursuit of the Israelites: see 7:138-139. They are the type of men who lead-only to Destruction. They invite, not to Peace and Happiness, but to the Fire of Wrath, mutual Envy, and Hatred.

And we made them (but) leaders inviting to the Fire; and on the Day of Judgment no help shall they find.
42. in this world We made a curse to follow them: (3374)
And on the Day of Judgment they will be among the loathed and despised.

3374 Power and patronage may be bought by sorcerers and selfish place-hunters but when they are misused, and when their exposure causes their fall, they suffer indignity even in this life. If they manage to escape exposure while alive, it often happens that they are found out after their death, and the curses of many generations follow those whose oppressions and wrong-doing spoilt the fair face of Allah’s earth. But even this is nothing to the true Punishment that will come in the Hereafter. There, true values will be restored, and some of the highest and mightiest will be in the lowest depths of degradation.

43. We did reveal to Moses the Book after We had destroyed the earlier generations, (to give) Insight to men, and guidance and Mercy, that they might receive admonition. (3375)

3375 After the destruction of the Pharaonic Tyranny and other similar Tyrannies before them, Allah began a new age of Revelation, the age of Moses and his Book, Humanity began as it was with a clean slate again. It was a full Revelation for Shari’ah which may be looked at from three points of view: (1) as Light or Insight for men, so that they should not grope in darkness; (2) as a Guide to show them the Truth, so that they should not be misled into wrong Paths; and (3) as a Mercy from Allah, so that by following the Way they may receive Allah’s Forgiveness and Grace. In 6:91, we have a reference to Light and Guidance in connection with the Revelation of Moses, and in 6:154 we have a reference to Guidance and Mercy in the Hereafter. Here all are combined, with the substitution of Rasûl for Nabi. Rasûl is the plural of Rasîdah, and also be translated Proofs, as I have done in 6:104. Cf. also 7:205, n. 1175, where the word is translated ‘Lights’.

44. Thou wast not on the Western (3376) side when We decreed the Commission to Moses, nor wast thou a witness of those events).

3376 The Sinai Peninsula is in the northwestern corner of Arabia. But the reference here is, I think, to the western side of the valley of Kawa, Mount Tur, where Moses received his prophetic commission, is on the western side of the valley.

45. But We raised up (new) generations, and long were the ages (3377) that passed over them; but thou wast not a dweller among the people of Madyan, rehearsing
Our Signs to them; but it is We Who send messengers
(with inspiration). (3378)

3377 That is, there were many generations that passed between Moses and the Prophet. Yet he knew by inspiration of the events of those times. Even if he had lived then, he could not have known the events that took place among the Midianites, except by inspiration, as he did not dwell among them.

3378 Though thou was not among the Midianites, Our inspiration has told thee of the momentous events that took place among them when Moses was with them. This is itself a Sign that should make thy people understand.

46. Nor wast thou at the side of (the Mountain of) Tur when we called (to Moses). Yet (art thou sent) as Mercy from thy Lord, to give warning to a people (3379) to whom no warner had come before thee: in order that they may receive admonition.

3379 This people was Quraysh. Though thou didst not see how Moses was invested with the prophetic office at Mount Tur, thou hast had similar experience thyself, and We have sent thee to Quraysh to warn them of all their sins, and to repent and come into the Faith;

47. If (We had) not (sent thee to the Quraysh),—in case a calamity should seize them for (the deeds) that their hands have sent forth, they might say: “Our Lord! why didst Thou not (3380) send us a messenger? We should then have followed Thy Signs and been amongst those who believe!”

3380 Now that a warner has co me among them with all the authority that previous Messengers possessed and with all the knowledge which can only come by divine inspiration, they have no excuse left whatever. They cannot say, “No warner came to us.” If any evil comes to them, as the inevitable result of their ill-deeds, they cannot blame Allah and say that they were not warned. Cf. 20:134.

48. But (now), when the Truth has come to them from Ourselves, they say, “Why are not (Signs) sent to him, like those which were sent to Moses?” (3381) Do they not then reject (the Signs) which were formerly sent to Moses? They say: “Two kinds of sorcery, each assisting the other!” (3382) And they say: “For us, we reject all (such things)!“

3381 When a Revelation is sent to them, in the Qur’an, adapted to all their needs and the needs of the time they live in, they hark back to antiquity. The Prophet was in many respects like Moses, but the times in which he lived were different from the times of Moses, and his age did not suffer from the deceptions of sorcery, like that of Moses. The remedies which his age and future ages required for his Message was universal were different. His miracle of the Qur’an was different and most permanent than the Rod and the Radiant White Hand of Moses. But supposing that Quraysh had been humoured in their insincere demands, would they have believed? Did they believe in Moses? They were only put up by the Jews to make objections which they themselves did not believe in.

3382 Moses was called a sorcerer by the Egyptians, and the wonderful words of the Qur’an were called sorcery by Quraysh. As the Qur’an confirmed the Message of Moses, Quraysh objectors said that they were in collaboration. Quraysh did not believe in Allah’s Revelation at all.

49. Say: “Then bring ye a Book from Allah, which is a better guide than either of them, that I may follow it!
(do), if ye are truthful!”

50. But if they hearken not (3383) to thee, know that they only follow their own lusts: and who is more astray than one who follow his own lusts, devoid of guidance from Allah. For Allah guides not people given to wrong-doing.

3383 They were challenged to produce something better, to be a guide in life. But as they could not, it was evident that their objections were fractionary. They were only following their own selfish lusts of power, monopoly, and exploitation of the poor and ignorant. How can such people receive guidance?

51. Now have We caused the Word to reach them themselves, in order that they may receive
admonition. (3384)

3384 Before this Quraysh might have said that the Word of Allah had come to the Hebrews in their tongue or in Greek, which was used by the Hebrews in the time of Jesus. Now that Word is brought to their own doors, in their own Arabic tongue, by a man of their own race and family. Surely they have no excuse now for remaining strangers to the highest moral and spiritual law.

52. Those to whom We sent the Book before this— they do believe in this (revelation):

53. And when it is recited to them, they say: “We believe therein, for it is the Truth from our Lord: indeed we have been Muslims (bowing to Allah’s Will) from before this.” (3385)

3385 There were Christians and Jews who recognised that Islam was a logical and natural development of Allah’s revelations as given in earlier ages, and they not only welcomed and accepted Islam, but claimed, and rightly, that they had always been Muslims. In that sense Adam, Noah, Abraham, Moses, and Jesus had all been Muslims. (R).

54. Twice will they be given (3386) their reward, for that they have persevered, that they avert Evil with Good, and that they spend (in charity) out of what We have given them.

58. And how many populations We destroyed, which exulted in their life, (of ease and plenty)! now those habitations of theirs, after them, are deserted,- All but a (miserable) few! and We are their heirs! (3390)

(3390) A life of ease and plenty is nothing to boast of. Yet people or cities or civilizations grow insolently proud of such things. There were many such in the past, which are now mere names! Their very sites are deserted in most cases, or buried in the debris of ages. Indo-Pakistan subcontinent is full of such sites nearly everywhere. The sites of Harappa and Mohenjo Daro are the most ancient litheiros unearthed in Pakistan, and they are themselves in layers covering centuries of time! And how many more there may be, of which we do not know even names! Fatehpur-Sikri was a magnificent ruin within a single generation. And there are thousands of Qasbas once flourishing and now reduced to small villages or altogether deserted. But Allah is merciful and just. He does not destroy or degrade a people until they have had full opportunities of turning in repentance to Him and they have deliberately rejected His Law and continued in the practice of iniquity.

59. Nor was thy Lord the one to destroy a population until He had sent to its centre a messenger, rehearsing to them Our Signs; nor are We going to destroy a population except when its members practise iniquity.

60. The (material) things which ye are given are but the conveniences of this life and the glitter thereof; (3391) but that which is with Allah is better and more enduring: will ye not then be wise?

(3391) The good things in this life have their uses and serve their convenience. But they are fleeting and their value is infinitely lower than that of Truth and Justice and Spiritual Well-being, the gifts which come as it were from the very Presence of Allah. No wise soul will be absorbed in the one and neglect the other, or will hesitate for a moment if it comes to a choice between them.

61. Are (these two) alike? - one to whom We have made a goodly promise, and who is going to reach its (fulfilment), (3392) and one to whom We have given the good things of this life, but who, on the Day of Judgment, is to be among those brought up (for punishment)?

(3392) The two classes of people are: (1) those who have faith in the goodly promise of Allah to the righteous, and who are doing everything in life to reach the fulfilment of that promise, i.e., those who believe and work righteousness, and (2) those who are ungrateful for such good things in this life as Allah has bestowed on them, by worshipping wealth or power or other symbols or idols of their fancy, i.e., those who reject Faith and lead evil lives, for which they will have to answer in the Hereafter. The two classes are poles asunder, and their future is described below.

62. That Day (Allah)) will call to them, and say "Where are my 'partners' - whom ye imagined (to be such)?"

63. Those against whom the charge (3393) will be proved, will say: "Our Lord! These are the ones whom we led astray: we led them astray, as we were astray ourselves: we free ourselves (from them) in Thy presence: it was not us they worshipped." (3394)

(3394) This and the next verse are concerned with the examination of those who neglected truth and righteousness and went after the worship of false gods, viz., their own hosts. These were the 'partners' they associated with Allah. Insofar as they were embodied in false or wicked leaders, the leaders will disown responsibility for them. We ourselves went wrong, and they followed our example, because it suited them: they worshipped, not us, but their own hosts' (CC. a. 4017)

64. It will be said (to them): "Call upon your 'partners' (for help)" : they will call upon them, but they will not listen to them; and they will see the Penalty (before them); (how they will wish) 'if only they had been open to guidance!'

65. That Day (Allah) will (3395) call to them, and say: "What was the answer ye gave to the messengers?"

(3395) Now we come to the examination of those who rejected or persecuted Allah's Messengers on the earth. It may be the same men as those mentioned in 28/62/64, but this is a different count in the charge.

66. Then the (whole) story that Day will seem obscure to them (3396) (like light to the blind) and they will not be able (even) to question each other.

(3396) In their utter confusion and despair their minds will be blank. The past will seem to them unreal, and the present unintelligible, and they will not even be able to consult each other, as every one's state will be the same.

67. But any that (in this life) had repented, believed, and worked righteousness, will have hopes to be among those who achieve salvation.

68. Thy Lord does create and choose as He pleases: (3397) no choice have they (in the matter): Glory to Allah. and far is He above the partners they ascribe (to Him)!

(3397) As He pleases: according to His own Will and Plan. Allah is not dependent on other people for advice or help. He has no partners. All creation is an act of His Will, and no one can direct Him how or why certain things should be, because He is supreme in wisdom and knowledge. He chooses His messengers also by His own unlettered choice. Inspiration or spiritual knowledge and dignity cannot be judged by our relative or temporary standards. Worldly greatness or even wisdom do not necessarily go with spiritual insight.

69. And thy Lord knows all that their hearts conceal and all that they reveal. (3398) (3398) Men may form all sorts of vain wishes or conceal their designs. But Allah's Will is supreme, and nothing can withstand its fulfilment.

70. And He is Allah. There is no god but He. To Him be praise, at the first and at the last: for Him is the Command, and to Him shall ye (all) be brought back.

71. Say: See ye? If Allah were to make the Night (3399) perpetual over you to the Day of Judgment, what god is there other than Allah, who can give you enlightenment? Will ye not then hearken?

(3399) In the physical world the Night and Day are both blessings, the one for rest and the other for work, and the alternation itself is one of the mercies of Allah, and none but He can give us these blessings. If we were perpetually resting, or screened from the light, our faculties would be blunted and we should be worse than dead. If we were perpetually working, we should be tired, and we should also be dead in another way. This daily miracle keeps us alive and prepares us, in this our probationary life, for our final destiny in the Hereafter. So in the spiritual world, some kinds of ignorance-such as ignorance of what is coming in the future-are necessary to conserve our powers and give rest to our minds and spirits, but if we were to remain ignorant perpetually, we should be spiritually dead. In the same way our spiritual strivings require periodical alternations to rest in the form of attention to our temporal concerns, hence the justification of a good and pure life on the plane of this earth also. Also, in the world's history, there are periods when a living messenger stimulates intense spiritual activity, and periods when it is comparatively quiescent (the so-called Dark Ages); but both are examples of the working of Allah's Plan of wisdom and mercy. But this applies only up to the Day of Judgement. After that we shall be on another plane altogether.

72. Say: See ye? If Allah were to make the day perpetual over you to the Day of Judgment, what god is there other than Allah, who can give you a night in which ye can rest? Will ye not then see?(3400) Inverse 71 was mentioned a "perpetual Night," for which the faculty of "hearing" was appropriate, as all light was shut out. In this verse a perpetual Day is mentioned, for which the faculty of "seeing" is appropriate. Through many doors can the higher knowledge enter our souls. Shall we not use each of them as the occasion demands?

73. It is out of His Mercy that He has made for you Night and Day,- that ye may rest therein, and that ye may seek of his Grace,- and in order that ye may be grateful.

74. The Day that He will(3401) call on them, He will say: "Where are my ´partners´? whom ye imagined (to be as Allah has been good to thee, and seek not thy portion in this World: "Oh! that we had the like of what Qarun had got! for he is truly a lord of mighty good fortune!"(3410) But those who had been granted (true) knowledge said: "Alas for you! The reward of Allah (in the Hereafter) is best for those who believe and work righteousness: but this none shall attain, save those who steadfastly persevere (in good)."

75. And from each people shall We draw a witness,(3402) and We shall say: "Produce your Proof"; then shall they know that the Truth is in Allah (alone), and the (lies) which they invented will leave them in the lurch.(3403)

76. Qarun was doubtless,(3404) of the people of Moses; but he acted insolently towards them: such were the treasures We(3405) had bestowed on him that their greater in the amount (of riches) they had collected? but the wicked are not called (immediately) to account(3409) for their sins.

80. But those who had been granted (true) knowledge said: "Alas for you! The reward of Allah (in the Hereafter) is best for those who believe and work righteousness: but this none shall attain, save those who steadfastly persevere (in good)."

81. Then We caused the earth(3411) to swallow up him and his house; and he had not (the least little) party to help him against Allah, nor could he defend himself.

82. And those who had envied his position the day before began to say on the morrow: "Ah! it is indeed Allah Who enlarges the provision(3412) or restricts it, to any of His servants He pleases! had it not been that Allah was gracious to us, He could have caused the earth to swallow us up! Ah! those who reject Allah will assuredly never prosper."

(occasions for) mischief in the land: for Allah loves not those who do mischief."

3402 That is, 'spend your wealth in charity and good works. It is Allah Who has given it to you, and you should spend it in Allah's cause. Nor should you forget the legitimate needs of this life, as misers do, and most people become misers who think too exclusively of their wealth. If wealth is not used properly, there are three evils that follow: (1) its possessor may be a miser and forget all claims due to himself and those about him; (2) he may forget the higher needs of the poor and needy, or the good causes which require support; and (3) he may even misspend on occasions and cause a great deal of harm and mischief.' Apparently Qarun had all three vices.

3408 He was so blind and arrogant that he thought that his own merit, knowledge, and skill or cleverness had earned him his wealth, and that now, on account of it, he was superior to everybody else and was entitled to ride rough-shod over them. Foo! he was soon pulled up by Allah.

3409 Even Qarun was given a long run of enjoyment with his fabulous wealth before he had to be removed for the mischief he was doing.
29. Al 'Ankabut (The Spider)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A.L.M. (3422)

3422 For these Abbreviated Letters see n. 25 to 21. We are asked to contrast, in our present life the real inner life against the outer life, and learn from the past about the struggles of the soul which uphold Allah's Truth, against the environment of evil which resists it, and to turn our thoughts to the Man, or man's future destiny in the Hereafter.

2. Do men think that they will be left alone on saying, "We believe", (3423) and that they will not be tested?

3423 Mere lip profession of Faith is not enough. It must be tried and tested in our real turmoil of life. The test will be applied in all kinds of circumstances, in individual life and in relation to the environment around us, to see whether we can strive constantly and put Allah above Self. Much pain, sorrow, and self-sacrifice may be necessary, not because they are good in themselves, but because they will purify us, like fire applied to a goldsmith's crucible to burn out the dross.

3. We did test those before them, and Allah will certainly know (3424) those who are true from those who are false.

3424 The word 'know' is used here more in the sense of testing than of acquiring knowledge. Allah is All-Knowing; He needs no test to increase His own knowledge, but the test is to burn out the dross within ourselves, as explained in the last note.

4. Do those who practise evil think that they will get the better of Us? Evil is their judgment!(3425)

3425 If the enemies of Truth imagine that they will 'be first' by destroying Truth before it takes root, they are sadly at fault, for their own persecution may help to plant Allah's Truth more firmly in men's hearts.

5. For those whose hopes are in the meeting with Allah (3426) (in the Hereafter, let them strive); for the term (appointed) by Allah is surely coming (3427) and He hears and knows (all things).

3426 The men of Faith look forward to Allah. Their quest is Allah, and the object of their hopes is the meeting with Allah. They should strive with might and main to serve Him in this life, for this life is short, and the Term appointed for their probation will soon be over.

3427 The Term (jannah) may signify: (1) the time appointed for death, which ends the probation of this life; (2) the time appointed for this life, so that we can prepare for the Hereafter; the limit will soon expire. In either case the ultimate meaning is the same. We must strive now and not postpone anything for the future. And we must realise and remember that every prayer we make to Allah is heard by Him, and not every unspoken wish or motive of our heart, good or bad, is known to Him, and goes to swell our spiritual account.

6. And if any strive (with might and main), they do so for their own souls:(3428) for Allah is free of all needs from all creation.

3428 All our striving ensures to our own spiritual benefit. When we speak of serving Allah, it is not that we confer any benefit on Him. For He has no needs, and is independent of all His Creation. (Cf. 14:30). In conforming to His Will, we are seeking our own good, as in yielding to evil we are doing harm to ourselves.

7. Those who believe and work righteous deeds,- from them shall We blot out all evil (that may be) in them,(3429) and We shall reward them according to the best of their deeds.

3429 In striving to purify our Faith and Life, we are enabled to avoid the consequences of our misdeeds for Allah will forgive any evil in our past, purify any tendencies towards evil which we may have inherited from that past, and help to the attainment of a Future based on the best of what we have done rather than on the poor average of our own merits. The atonement or expiation is by Allah's Mercy, not by our merits or the merits or sacrifices of anyone else (Cf. 46:16). (R).

8. We have enjoined on man kindness to parents: but if they (either of them) strive (to force) thee to join others in worship, obey them not. Ye have (all) to return to me, and I will tell you (the truth) of all that ye did.(3431)

3431 That is, no certainty, in virtue of the spiritual light. In matters of faith and worship, even parents have no right to force their children. They cannot and must not hold up before them any worship but that of the One True God.

8. Children and parents must all remember that they all have to go before Allah's tribunal, and answer, each for his own deeds. In cases where one set of people have lawful authority over another set of people (as in the case of parents and children), and the two differ in important matters like that of Faith, the latter are justified in rejecting authority; the apparent conflict will be solved when the whole truth is revealed to all eyes in the Final Judgement. (Cf. 31:14-15 and 46:13).

9. And those who believe and work righteous deeds,- them shall We admit to the company of the Righteous.(3432)

3432 The picking up again of the words which began verse 7 above shows that the same subject is now pursued from another aspect. The expiation or reward which was first spoken of is not so much a tangible thing as a restoration of status. The striving in righteous deeds will restore fallen man to the society of the Righteous; the ideal Fellowship described in 40:9 and n. 586.

10. Then there are among men such as say, "We believe in Allah; but when they suffer affliction in (the cause of) Allah, they treat men’s oppression as if it were the Wrath of Allah. And if help comes (to thee) from thy Lord, they are sure to say,(3433) "We have (always) been with you!" Does not Allah know best all that is in the hearts of all creation?

3433 Cf. 9:56, and other passages where the cunning of the Hypocrites is exposed. The man who turns away from Faith in adversity and only claims the friendship of the Faithful when there is something to be gained by it, is worthy of a double condemnation: first because he rejected Faith and Truth, and secondly because he falsely pretended to be one of those whom he feared or hated in his heart. But nothing in all Creation is concealed from Allah.

11. And Allah most certainly knows those who believe, and as certainly those who are Hypocrites.(3434) 3434 Cf. 29:3 above. The general opposition between Truth and Falsehood is now brought down to the specific case of the Hypocrites, who are against the Faith when struggling but swear friendship with it when it seems to be gaining ground. The argument is rounded off with the next two verses.

12. And the Unbelievers say to those who believe: "Follow our path, and we will bear (the consequences)(3435) of your faults." Never in the least will they bear their faults: in fact they are liars!

3435 Besides the hypocrite there is another type of man who openly scoffs at Faith. "Take life as we take it," he says: "we shall bear your sins." As if they could! Each soul bears its own burdens, and no one else can bear them. The principle also applies to the type of man who preaches vicious atonement, for, if followed to its logical conclusion, it means both injustice and irresponsibility, and puts quite a different complexion on the nature of sin.

13. They will bear their own burdens, and (other) burdens along with their own,(3436) and on the Day of Judgments they will be called to account for their falsehoods.

3436 Besides the burdens of their own infidelity, they will bear the burden of debasing others with falsehood.

14. We (once) sent Noah to his people, and he tarried among them a thousand years(3437) less fifty: but the Deluge overwhelmed them while they (persisted in) sin.

3437 The story of Noah and his Flood is not told here. It is told in other places: e.g., see 11:25-48 or 26:105-122. His only referred to here to point out that Noah's period lasted a long time, 950 years. (Cf. Gen. 9:28-29, where his whole age is declared to have been 930 years, of which 330 years were after the Flood). In spite of this long period, his contemporaries failed to listen, and they were destroyed but the story of the Ark remains an everlasting Sign and Warning to mankind's Sign of deliverance to the righteous and of destruction to the wicked.

15. But We saved him and the companions of the Ark, and We made the (Ark) a Sign for all peoples!

16. And (We also saved) Abraham: behold, he said(3438) to his people, "Serve Allah and fear Him: that will be best for you- If ye understand!

3438 The story of Abraham has been told in various phases in different passages. The ones most germane to the present passage are: 21:51-72 (his being cast into the fire and being saved from it); and 19:41-50 (his voluntary exile from the home of his father). Here the story is not told but is referred to in order to stress the following points: (1) Abraham's people only responded to his preaching by threatening to burn him (29:16-18, 249); (2) evil consorts with evil but will have a rude awakening (29:23); (3) the good adhere to the good, and are blessed (29:26-27). Note that the passage 29:19-23 is a parenthetical comment, though some Commentators treat a portion of it as part of Abraham's speech.

17. "For ye do worship idols besides Allah, and ye invent falsehood. The things that ye worship besides Allah have no power to give you sustenance: then seek ye sustenance(3439) from Allah, serve Him, and be grateful to Him: to Him will be your return.

3439 Sustenance: in the symbolic as well as the literal sense. Seek from Allah all that is necessary for your upkeep and development, and for preparing you for your future Destiny. Lay all your hopes in Him and in no one else. Dedicate yourselves to His worship. He will give you all that is necessary for your growth and well being, and you should show your gratitude to Him by conforming your own will entirely to His (Cf. n. 3412).

18. "And if ye reject (the Message), so did generations before you: and the duty of the messenger is only to preach publicly (and clearly)."

19. See they not how Allah originates creation, then(3440) repeats it: truly that is easy for Allah.
25. Ye shall have none to help.

26. But Lut had faith in Him: (3446) He said: "I will leave home for the sake of my Lord: for He is Exalted in Might, and Wise."

Allah did save him from the Fire. (3444) Verily in this later creation: for Allah has power over all things.

27. And We gave (Abraham's) Isaac and Jacob, and ordained among his progeny Prophecyhood (3447) and Revelation, and We granted him his reward in this life; and he was in the Hereafter (of the company) of the Righteous. (3448)

28. And (remember) Lut: behold, he said to his people: "Ye do commit lewdness, such as no people in Creation (3449) (ever) committed before you.

29. "Do ye indeed approach men, and cut off the highway? (3450) and practise wickedness (even) in your councils?" But his people gave no answer but this: they said: "Bring us the Wrath of Allah if thou tellst the truth." (3451)

30. They infested highways and committed their horrible crimes not only secretly, but openly and publicly, even in their assemblies. Some Commentators understand 'cutting off the highway' to refer to highway robberies; this is possible, and it is also possible that the crimes in their assemblies may have been injustice, rowdiness, etc. But the context seems to refer to their own special horrible crime, and the point here seems to be that they were not ashamed of it and that they practised it publicly. Degradation could go no further.

31. When Our Messengers came to Abraham with the good news, (3452) they said: "We are indeed going to destroy the people of this township: (3453) for truly they are (addicted to) crime."

32. He said: "O my Lord! help Thou me against people who do mischief!

33. So naught was the answer of (Abraham's) people except that they said: "Slay him or burn him." But Allah did save him from the Fire. (3444) Verily in this are Signs for people who believe.

34. And he said: "For you, ye have taken (for worship) idols besides Allah, out of mutual love and regard (3445) between yourselves in this life; but on the Day of Judgment ye shall disown each other and curse each other: and your abode will be the Fire, and ye shall have none to help."

34.45 This part of the story may be read in greater detail in 11:77-83.

35. And We have left thereof an evident Sign,(3457) for any people who (care to) understand.

36. To the Madyan (people) (We sent) their brother Shu´aib. Then he said: "O my people! serve Allah, and fear the Last Day: nor commit evil on the earth, with intent to do mischief."

37. But they rejected him: Then the mighty Blast(3458) seized them, and they lay prostrate in their homes by the morning.

38. (Remember also) the `Ad and the Thamud (peoples);(3459) clearly will appear to you from (the traces) of their buildings (their fate): the Evil One made their deeds alluring(3460) to them, and kept them back from the Path, though they were gifted with intelligence and skill.

39. (Remember also) Qarun,(3461) Pharaoh, and Haman: there came to them Moses with Clear Signs, but they behaved with insolence on the earth; yet they could not overreach (Us).

40. Each one of them We seized for his crime: of them, against some We sent a violent tornado (with showers(3462) of stones); some were caught by a (mighty) Blast;(3463) some We caused the earth(3464) to swallow up; and some We drowned (in the waters):(3465) It was not Allah Who injured (or oppressed) them:" They injured (and oppressed) their own souls.

41. The parable of those who take protectors other than Allah is that of the spider, who builds (to itself) a house; but truly the filmiest of houses(3466) is the spider’s house;-(3467) if they but knew.

42. Verily Allah doth know of (everything) whatever(3468) that they call upon besides Him: and He is Exalted (in power), Wise.

43. And such are the Parables We set forth for mankind, but only those understand them who have Knowledge.(3469)
44. Allah created the heavens and the earth in true (proportions): (3470) verily in that is a Sign for those who believe.

45. Recite what is sent (3471) of the Book by inspiration to thee, and establish regular Prayer: for Prayer restrains from shameful and unfruitful deeds; and remembrance of Allah is the greatest (thing in life) without doubt. And Allah knows the (deeds) that ye do.

46. And dispute ye not with the People of the Book, except with means better (3472) (than mere disputation), unless it be with those of them who inflict wrong (and injury): (3473) but say, "We believe in the revelation which has come down to us and in that which has come down to you: Our Allah and your Allah is one; and it is to Him we bow (in Islam)." (3474)

47. And thus (3475) (it is) that We have sent down the Book to thee. So the People of the Book believe therein, (3476) as also do some of these (3477) (pagan) Arabs: and none but Unbelievers reject our Signs.

48. And thou wast not (able) to recite a Book before this (Book came), nor art thou (able) to transcribe it with thy right hand: (3478) In that case, indeed, would the talkers of vanities have doubted.

49. Nay, here are Signs self-evident in the hearts of those endowed with knowledge: (3479) and none but the unjust reject Our Signs. (3480)

50. Ye they say: "Why are not Signs sent down to him from his Lord?" Say: "The signs are indeed with Allah. And I am indeed a clear Warner." (3481)

51. And is it not enough for them that We have sent down to thee the Book which is rehearsed to them? Verily, in it is Mercy and a Reminder to those who believe.

52. Say: "Enough is Allah for a witness between me and you: He knows what is in the heavens and on the earth. And it is those who believe in vanities and reject Allah, that will perish (in the end)." (3484)
53. They ask thee to hasten on the Punishment (3485) for them: had it not been for a term of respite appointed, the Punishment would certainly have come to them: and it will certainly reach them—of a sudden, while they perceive not!

54. They ask thee to hasten on the Punishment: (3486) but, of a surety, Hell will encompass the Rejecters of Faith!

55. On the Day that the Punishment shall cover them from above them and from below them, (3487) and (a Voice) shall say: "Taste ye (the fruits) of your deeds!" (3488)

56. O My servants who believe! truly, spacious is My Earth: (3489) therefore serve ye Me—(and Me alone)!

57. Every soul shall have a taste of death: (3490) In the end to Us shall ye be brought back.

58. But those who believe and work deeds of righteousness— to them shall We give a Home in Heaven,— (3491) lofty mansions beneath which flow rivers,— to dwell therein for aye,— an excellent reward for those who do (good)!

59. Those who persevere in patience, and put their trust, in their Lord and Cherisher.

60. How many are the creatures that carry not their own (3492) sustenance? It is Allah who feeds (both) them and you: for He hears and knows (all things).

61. If indeed thou ask them (3493) who has created the heavens and the earth and subjected (3494) the sun and the moon (to His Law), they will certainly reply, "(Allah)". How are they then deluded away (from the truth)?

62. Allah enlarges the sustenance (which He gives) to whichever of His servants He pleases; (3495) and He (similarly) grants by (strict) measure, (as He pleases): for Allah has full knowledge of all things.

63. And if indeed thou ask them (3496) who it is that sends down rain from the sky, and gives life therewith to the earth after its death, they will certainly reply, "(Allah)!" Say, "Praise be to Allah." But most of them understand not.

64. What is the life of this world but amusement and play? (3497) but verily the Home in the Hereafter,— that is life indeed, if they but knew.

65. How many are the creatures that carry not their own (3492) sustenance? It is Allah who feeds (both) them and you: for He hears and knows (all things).

66. If we look at the animal creation, we see that many creatures seem almost helpless to find their own food or sustain their full life, being surrounded by many enemies. Yet in the Plan of Allah they find full sustenance and protection. So does man, Man's needs—as well as helplessness—are by many degrees greater. Yet Allah provides for him as for all His creatures. Allah listens to the wish and cry of all His creatures and He knows their needs and how to provide for them all. Man should not therefore hesitate to suffer exile or persecution in Allah's Cause.

67. The challenge of the wicked for Punishment was answered in the last verse. Here the approach is a reproach, a justification of the Punishment. "It is you who brought it on yourselves by your evil deeds; blame none but yourselves. Allah's Mercy gave you many chances; His Justice has now overtaken you."

68. There is no excuse for any one to plead that he could not do good or was forced to evil by his circumstances and surroundings, or by the fact that he lived in evil times. We must shun evil and seek good, and Allah's Creation is wide enough to enable us to do that; provided we have the will, the patience, and the constancy to do it. It may be that we have to change our village or city or country; or that we have to change our neighbours or associates; or to change our habits or our hours, our position in life or our human relationships, or our callings. Our integrity before Allah is more important than any of these things, and we must be prepared for exile for Hijrah in all these senses. For the means with which Allah provides us for His service are ample, and it is our fault if we fail (Cf. 39:10).

69. This is not merely a reproach, but a justification of the Punishment. "It is you who brought it on yourselves by your evil deeds; blame none but yourselves. Allah's Mercy gave you many chances; His Justice has now overtaken you."

70. There is no excuse for any one to plead that he could not do good or was forced to evil by his circumstances and surroundings, or by the fact that he lived in evil times. We must shun evil and seek good, and Allah's Creation is wide enough to enable us to do that; provided we have the will, the patience, and the constancy to do it. It may be that we have to change our village or city or country; or that we have to change our neighbours or associates; or to change our habits or our hours, our position in life or our human relationships, or our callings. Our integrity before Allah is more important than any of these things, and we must be prepared for exile for Hijrah in all these senses. For the means with which Allah provides us for His service are ample, and it is our fault if we fail (Cf. 39:10).

71. On the Day that the Punishment shall cover them from above them and from below them, (3487) and (a Voice) shall say: "Taste ye (the fruits) of your deeds!" (3488)

72. O My servants who believe! truly, spacious is My Earth: (3489) therefore serve ye Me—(and Me alone)!

73. Every soul shall have a taste of death: (3490) In the end to Us shall ye be brought back.

74. But those who believe and work deeds of righteousness— to them shall We give a Home in Heaven,— (3491) lofty mansions beneath which flow rivers,— to dwell therein for aye,— an excellent reward for those who do (good)!

75. Those who persevere in patience, and put their trust, in their Lord and Cherisher.
physical dangers of the sea, which are but an incident in the phenomenal world, he actually and sincerely seeks the help of Allah; but when he is safely back on land, he forgets the Realities, plunges into the pleasures and vanities of fleeting phenomena, and his devotion, which should be given exclusively to Allah, is shared by idols and vanities of his own imagination. (R).

66. Disdaining ungratefully Our gifts, and giving themselves up (3499) to (worldly) enjoyment! But soon will they know.

3499 Such folly results in the virtual rejection (even though it may not be express) of Allah and His Grace. It plunges man into the pleasures and vanities that merely delude and are bound to pass away. This delusion, however, will come to an end when the true Reality of the Hereafter will shine forth in all its splendour.

67. Do they not then see that We have made a sanctuary secure, and that men are being snatched away from all around them? (3500) Then, do they believe in that which is vain, and reject the Grace of Allah.

3500 If they want evidences of their folly in the phenomenal world itself, they will see sacred Sanctuaries where Allah's Truth abides safely in the midst of the world around. The immediate reference was to the Sanctuary of Makkah and the gradual progress of Islam in the districts surrounding the Quraysh in the midst of the tryng Makkan period. But the general application holds good for all times and places.

68. And who does more wrong (3501) than he who invents a lie against Allah or rejects the Truth when it reaches him? Is there not a home in Hell for those who reject Faith?

3501 Cf. 6:21. Even from a worldly point of view those who reject Allah's Truth are at a disadvantage. But those who deliberately invent lies and set up false gods for worship what punishment can we imagine for them except a permanent deprivation of Allah's grace, and a home in Hell? (R).

69. And those who strive (3502) in Our cause. We will certainly guide them to Our Paths: (3503) For verily Allah is with those who do right.

3502 Strive in Our Cause. All that man can do is to strive in Allah's Cause. As soon as he strifes with might and main, with constancy and determination, the Light and Mercy of Allah come to meet him. They cure his defects and shortcomings. They provide him with the means by which he can raise himself above himself. They point out the Way, and the all the Paths leading up to it. See next note.

3503 The Way of Allah (al Sirat al Mustaqim) is a Straight Way. But men have strayed from it in all directions. And there are numerous Paths by which they can get back to the Right Way, the way in which the purity of their own nature, and the Will and Mercy of Allah, require them to walk. All these numerous Paths become open to them once they give their hearts in keeping to Allah and work in right Endeavour (Ijihad) with all their mind and soul and resources. Thus will they get out of the Spider's web of this frail world and attain to eternal Bliss in the fulfilment of their true Destiny.

30. Al Rum (The Romans)

3504 See n. 25 to 2:1 and Introduction to this Surah.

3505 The remarkable defeats of the Roman Empire under Heraclius and the strains to which it was reduced are reviewed in Appendix VIII (to follow this Surah). It was not merely isolated defeats; the Roman Empire lost most of its Asiatic territory and was hemmed in on all sides at its capital, Constantinople. The defeat, "in a land close by" must refer to Syria and Palestine. Jerusalem was lost in 614-15 A.C., shortly before this Surah was revealed.

3506 The Pagan Quraysh of Makkah rejoiced at the overthrow of Rome by Persia. They were pro-Persian, and in their heart of hearts they hoped that the nascent movement of Islam, which at that time was, from a worldly point of view, very weak and helpless, would also collapse under their persecution. But they misread the true Signs of the times. They are told here that they would soon be disillusioned in both their calculations, and it actually so happened at the battle of Issus in 622 A.C. (the year of Hijrah) and in 624 A.C., when Heraclius carried his campaign into the heart of Persia (see Appendix VIII) and the Makkah Quraysh were beaten off at Badr.

3507 "Net" in the text means a short period—a period of from three to nine years. The period between the loss of Jerusalem (614-15 A.C.) by the Romans and their victory at Issus (622 A.C.) was seven years, and that to the penetration of Persia by Heraclius was nine years. See last note.

3508 See n. 3506 and Appendix VIII. The battle of Badr (2 A.H. = 624 A.C.) was a real time of rejoicing for the Believers and a time of disillusionment for the arrogant Quraysh, who thought that they could crush the whole movement of Islam in Madinah as they had tried to do in Makkah, but they were signaly repulsed. See 3:52 to 3:13.

5. With the help of Allah. He helps whom He will, (3509) and He is exalted in might, most merciful.

3509 Whom He will As explained elsewhere, Allah's Will or Plan is not arbitrary; it is full of the highest wisdom. His Plan is formed in mercy, so as to safeguard the interests of all his creatures, against the selfish aggrandizement of any section against them. And He is able to carry out His Plan in full, and there is no power that can stop or delay His Plan.

6. (It is) the promise of Allah. (3510) Never does Allah depart from His promise: but most men understand not.

3510 The promise refers to the Decision of all things by the Command of Allah. Who will remove all troubles and difficulties from the path of His righteous Believers, and help them to rejoice over the success of their righteous Cause. This refers to all times and all situations. The righteous should not despair in their darkest moments, for Allah's help will come. Ordinary men are pulled up if they score a seeming temporary success against the righteous, and do not realise that Allah's Will can never be thwarted.

7. They know but the outer (3511) (things) in the life of this world: but of the End of things (3512) they are heedless.
Men are misled by the outward show of things, though the inner reality may be quite different. Many seeming disasters are really good sends if we only understood.

Alkhali: I have usually translated "Hereafter". Here the context is perfectly general, and refers to the End of things or enterprises in history as well as the Hereafter in the technical theological sense.

8. Do they not reflect in their own minds? Not but for just ends(3513) and for a term appointed, did Allah create the heavens and the earth, and all between them: yet are there truly many among men who deny the meeting(3514) with their Lord (at the Resurrection!)

3512 Cf. 15:85. Here the argument is about the ebb and flow of worldly power, and the next clause is appropriately added, "and for a term appointed". Let not any one who is granted worldly power or advantage run away with the notion that it is permanent. It is definitely limited in the high Purpose of Allah, which is just and true. And an account will have to be given of it afterwards on the basis of strict personal responsibility.

3514 It is therefore all the more strange that there should be men who not only forget themselves but even deny that there is a return to Allah or an End or Hereafter, when a full reckoning will be due for this period of probation. They are asked to study past history, as in the next verse.

9. Do they not travel through the earth, and see what was the end of those before them? They were superior to them in strength: they tilled the soil and populated it in greater numbers than these have done: there came to them their messengers with Clear (Signs).(3515) (Which they rejected, to their own destruction): It was not Allah Who wronged them, but they wronged their own souls.

3515 Let not any generation think that it is superior to all the went before it. We may be heirs to all the ages, in the mostorm files of times," That is no reason for arrogance, but on the contrary adds to our responsibility. When we realise what flourishing cities and kingdoms existed before, how they flourished in numbers and prosperity, what chances they were given, and how they perished when they disobeyed the law of Allah, we shall feel a sense of humility, and see that it was rebellion and self-will that brought them down. Allah was more than just. He was also merciful. But they brought about their own ruin and rebellion and self-will that brought them down. Allah was more than just. He was also merciful. But they brought about their own ruin.

10. In the long run evil in the extreme(3516) will be the End of those who do evil; for that they rejected the Signs of Allah, and held them up to ridicule.

3516 The Arabic superlative feminine, referring to the feminine noun 'Aqilah, I have translated by 'Evil in the extreme'. In this life good and evil may seem to be mixed up, and it may be that some things or persons that are evil get what seem to be good rewards or blessings, while the opposite happens to the good. But this is only a temporary appearance. In the long run Evil will have its own evil consequences, multiplied cumulatively. And this, because Evil not only rejected Allah's Message of Good but laughed at Good and misled others.

11. It is Allah Who begins (the process of) creation;(3517) then repeats it; then shall ye be brought back to Him.

3517 Nothing exists of its own accord or forominous. It is Allah Who originates all creation. What appears to be death may be only transformation; for Allah can and does recreate. And His creative activity is continuous. Our death is but a phenomenal event. What we become after death is the result of a process of recreation by Allah, Who is both the source and the goal of all things.

12. On the Day that the Hour will be established,(3518) the guilt will be struck dumb with despair.

3518 The Hour will be established: in due time the Hour will come when Judgement will be established, and the seeming disturbance of balance in this world will be redressed. Then the Good will rejoice, and the Guilty, faced with the Realities, will lose all their illusions and be struck dumb with despair.

13. No intercessor will they have among their "Partners",(3519) and they will (themselves) reject their "Partners".

3519 False worship will then appear in its true colours. Anything to which we offered the worship due to Allah alone, will vanish instead of being of any help. Indeed the deluded false worshippers, whose eyes will now be opened, will themselves reject their falsehoods, as the Truth will now shine with unquestioned splendour.

14. On the Day that the Hour will be established,- that Day shall (all men)(3520) be sorted out.

3520 In the fullness of time good and evil will all be sorted out and separated. The good will reach their destination of felicity in rich and luicious, well-watered meadows, which stand as the type of all that is fair to see and pleasant to feel. The evil will no longer imagine that they are enjoying good fortune; for the testing time will be over, and the grim reality will stare them in the face. They will receive their just Punishment. (R).

15. Then those who have believed and worked righteous deeds, shall be made happy in a Mead of Delight.

16. And those who have rejected Faith and falsely denied our Signs and the meeting of the Hereafter,- such shall be brought forth to Punishment.

17. So (give) glory to Allah, when ye reach eventide(3521) and when ye rise in the morning;

3521 - The special times for Allah's remembrance are so described as to include all our activities in life-when we rise early in the morning, and when we go to rest in the evening; when we are in the midst of our work, at the decline of the sun, and in the late afternoon. It may be noted that these are all striking stages in the passage of the sun through our terrestrial day, as well as stages in our daily working lives. On this are based the hours of the five canonical prayers afterwards prescribed in Madina: sz.; (1) early morning before sunrise (Fajr): (2) when the day begins to decline, just after noon (Zuhur); (3) in the late afternoon, say midway between noon and sunset (Asr); and (4) and (5) the two evening prayers, one just after sunset (Maghrib), and the other after the evening twilight has all faded from the horizon, the hour indicated for rest and sleep (Isha). Cf. 11:114, nn. 1616-17; 17:78-79, n. 2275; 20:130, n. 2655.

18. Yea, to Him be praise, in the heavens and on earth; and in the late afternoon and when the day begins to decline.

19. It is He Who brings out the living from the dead, and brings out the dead(3522) from the living, and Who gives life to the earth(3523) after it is dead: and thus shall ye be brought out (from the dead).

3522 Cf. 10:31 . From dead matter Allah's creative act produces life and living matter, and even science has not yet been able to explain the mystery of life. Life and living matter again seems to reach maturity and again die, as we see every day. No material thing seems to have perpetual life. But again we see the creative process of Allah constantly at work, and the cycle of life and death seems to go on, (see also 36:12).

3523 Cf. 2:164. The earth itself, seemingly so inert, produces vegetable life at once from a single shower of rain, and in various ways sustains animal life. Normally it seems to die in the winter in northern climates, and in a drought everywhere, and the spring revives it in all its glory. Metaphorically many movements, institutions, organisations, seem to die and then to live again, all under the wonderful dispensation of Allah. So will our personality be revived when we apparently die on this earth, in order to reap the fruit of this, our probationary life, (see also 36:20).

20. Among His Signs in this, that He created you(3524) from dust; and then,- behold, ye are men scattered (far and wide)!

3524 Cf. 18:37 and n. 2379. In spite of the lowly origin of man's body, Allah has given him a mind and soul by which he can almost compass the farthest reaches of Time and Space. Is this not enough for a miracle or Sign? From a physical point of view, see how man, a creature of dust, scatters himself over the farthest corners of the earth!
21. And among His Signs is this, that He created for you mates from among (3525) yourselves, that ye may dwell in tranquillity with them, (3526) and He has put love and mercy between your (hearts): verily in that are Signs for those who reflect.

3525 This refers to the wonderful mystery of sex. Children arise out of the union of the sexes. And it is always the female sex that brings forth the offspring, whether female or male. And the father is as necessary as the mother for bringing forth daughters.

3526 Cf. 7:189. Unregenerate man is pugnacious in the male sex, but rest and tranquillity are found in the normal relations of a father and mother dwelling together and bringing up a family. A man's chivalry to the opposite sex is natural and God-given. The friendship of two men between each other is quite different in quality and temper from the feeling which unspoilt nature expects as between men and women. There is a special kind of love and tenderness between them. And as woman is the weaker vessel, that tenderness may from a certain aspect be likened to mercy, the protecting kindness which the strong should give to the weak, (see also 4:1).

22. And among His Signs is the creation of the heavens and the earth, and the variations (3527) in your languages and your colours: verily in that are Signs for those who know.

3527 The variations in languages and colours may be viewed from the geographical aspect or from the aspect of periods of time. All mankind was created of a single pair of parents; yet they have spread to different countries and climates and developed different languages and different shades of complexions. And yet their basic unity remains unaltered. They feel in the same way, and are all equally under Allah's care. Then there are the variations in time. Old languages die out and new ones are evolved. New conditions of life and thought are constantly evolving new words and expressions, new syntactical structures, and new modes of pronunciation. Even old races die, and new races are born.

23. And among His Signs is the sleep that ye take by night and by day, (3528) and the quest that ye (make for livelihood) out of His Bounty: verily in that are signs for those who hearken. (3529)

3528 From verse 20 to verse 25 are mentioned a series of Signs or Miracles, which show thereby to our souls and lead us to true Reality if we try to understand Allah.

24. And among His Signs, He shows you the lightning, by way both of fear (3530) and of hope, and He sends down rain from the sky and with it gives life to the earth after it is dead: verily in that are Signs for those who are wise.

3530 See last note, item (5). Cf. 13:12. To cowards lightning and thunder appear as terrible forces of nature; lightning seems to kill and destroy whereas its irresistible progress is not assisted by proper lightning-conductors. But lightning is also a herald of rain-bearing clouds and showers that bring fertility and prosperity in their train. This double aspect is also symbolical of spiritual fears and hopes-lures that may not be found receptive or worthy of the irresistible peremptory Message of Allah, and hopes that we may receive in the right spirit and be blessed by its mighty power of transformation to achieve spiritual well-being. Note that the repetition of the phrase "gives life to the earth after it is dead" connects this verse with verse 19 above; in other words, the Revelation, which we must receive with wisdom and understanding, is a Sign of Allah's own power and mercy, and is consecrated in order to safeguard our own final Future.

25. And among His Signs is this, that heaven and earth stand by His Command: (3531) then when He calls you, by a single call, from the earth, behold, ye (straightway) come forth.

3531 In the physical world, the sky and the earth, as we see them, stand unsupported, by the artistry of Allah. They bear witness to Allah, and inculcate our physical life depends on them-the earth for its produce and the sky for rain, the heat of the sun, and other phenomena of nature-they call to our mind our relation to Allah Who made them and us. How can we then be so dense as not to realise that our higher Future-our Ma’ad, bound up with the call and the mercy of Allah!

26. To Him belongs every being that is in the heavens and on earth: all are (3532) devoutly obedient to Him.

3532 All nature in Creation not only obeys Allah, but devoutly obeys Him, e., c., glories in its privilege of service and obedience. Why should we not do likewise? It is part of our original unspoilt nature, and we must respond to it, as all beings do, by their very nature.

27. It is He Who begins (the process of) creation; (3533) then repeats it; and for Him it is most easy. To Him belongs the loftiest (3534) similitude (we can think of) in the heavens and the earth: for He is Exalted in Might, full of wisdom.

3533 Cf. 30:11 above, where the same phrase began the argument about the beginning and end of all things being with Allah. This has been illustrated by reference to various Signs in Creation, and now the argument is rounded off with the same phrase.

3534 Allah's glory and Allah's attributes are above any names we can give them. Human language is inadequate to express them. We can only form some idea of them at our present stage by means of Similitudes and Parables. But even so, the highest we can think of falls short of the true Reality. For Allah is higher and wiser than the highest and wisest we can think of (Cf. 16:60).

28. He does propound to you a similitude from your own (experience): (3535) do ye have partners among those whom your right hands possess, to share as equals in the wealth We have bestowed on you? Do ye fear (3537) them as ye fear each other? Thus do we explain the Signs in detail to a people that understand. (3538)

3535 One way in which we can get some idea of the things higher than our own plane is to think of Parables and Similitudes drawn from our own lives and experience. And such a Similitude or Parable is offered to us now about false worship. See next note.

3536 Allah is far higher above His Creation than any, the highest, of His creatures. And yet would a man share his wealth on equal terms with his dependents? Even what he calls his wealth is not really his own, but given by Allah. It is "his" in common speech by reason merely of a plane is to think of Parables and Similitudes drawn from our own lives and experience. And such a Similitude or Parable is offered to us now about false worship. See next note.

3537 Men fear each other as equals in a state of society at perpetual warfare. To remove this fear they appoint an authority amongst themselves-a King or sovereign authority whom they consider just-to preserve them from this fear and give them an established order. But they must obey and revere this authority and depend upon this authority for their own tranquillity and security. Even with their equals there is always the fear of public opinion. But men do not fear, or obey, or revere those who are their slaves or dependents. Man is dependent on Allah. And Allah is the Sovereign authority in an infinitely higher sense. He is in no sense dependent on us, but we must honour and revere Him and fear to disobey His Will or His Law, "The fear of Allah is the beginning of wisdom."

3538 Cf. 6:55, and 7:32, 174, etc.
29. Nay, the wrong-doers (merely) follow their own lusts, being devoid of knowledge. But who will guide those whom Allah leaves astray? (3539) To them there will be no helpers.

30. So set thou thy face steadily and truly to the Faith: (3540) establish Allah's handiwork according to the pattern on which He has made mankind: no change (let there be) in the work (wrought) (3541) by Allah. that is the standard Religion: (3542) but most among mankind understand not.

31. Turn ye back in repentance (3543) to Him, and fear Him: establish regular prayers, and be not ye among those who join gods with Allah,-

32. Those who split up their Religion, and become (mere) Sects,- each party rejoicing in that which (3544) is with itself!

33. When trouble touches men, they cry to their Lord, (3545) turning back to Him in repentance: but when He gives them a taste of Mercy as from Himself, behold, some of them pay part-worship to other god's besides their Lord,-

34. (As if) to show their ingratitude for the (favourites) We have bestowed on them! Then enjoy (your brief day); but soon will ye know (your folly). (3546) one of these things? Glory to Him! and high is He above the partners (3555) they attribute (to him)!

3554 The person or thing or ideas to which we give part-worship, while our whole and exclusive worship is due to Allah, are the 'Partners' we set up. Do we owe our existence to them? Do they sustain our being? Can they take or give back to us? Certainly not. Then how foolish of us to give them part-worship!

3555 Cf. 10:18 and similar passages.

41. Mischief has appeared on land and sea because of (the meed) that the hands of men have earned (3556) that (Allah) may give them a taste of some of their deeds: in order that they (3557) may turn back (from Evil).

3556 Allah's Creation was pure and good in itself. All the mischief or corruption was introduced by Evil, viz., arrogance, selfishness, etc. See n. 3544 to 30:30 above. As soon as the mischief has come in, Allah's mercy and goodness step in to stop it. The consequences of Evil must be evil, and this should be shown in such partial punishment as "the hands of men have earned," so that it may be a warning for the future and an invitation to enter the door of repentance (see also n. 3560).

3557 The ultimate object of Allah's justice and punishment is to reclaim man from Evil, and to restore him to the pristine purity and innocence in which he was created. The Evil introduced by his possession of a limited free will should be eliminated by the education and purification of man's own will. For, with his will and motives purified, he is capable of much greater heights than a creature not endowed with any free will (Cf. 2:6 and 2:13).

42. Say: "Travel through the earth and see what was the end of those before you: Most of them worshipped (3558) others besides Allah."

3558 If you contemplate history and past experience (including spiritual experience), you will find that evil and corruption tended to destroy themselves, because they had false idols for worship, false standards of conduct, and false goals of desire.

43. But set thou thy face to the right Religion before there come from Allah the Day which there is (3559) no chance of averting: on that Day shall men be divided (in two). (3560)

3559 We should recover the balance of what has been upset by Evil and Falsehood before it is too late. For a Day will surely come when true values will be restored and all falsehood and evil will be destroyed. Nothing but repentance and amendment can avert the consequences of Evil. When the Day actually comes, repentance will be too late: for the impenetrable barrier between Evil and Good will have been fixed, and the chance of return to Allah's pattern will have been lost.

3560 The sharp division will then have been accomplished between the unfortunate ones who rejected Truth and Faith and will suffer for their rejection, and the righteous ones who will attain Peace and Salvation; see next verse. Note that the state of the Blessed will not merely be a passive state. They will actively earn and contribute to their own happiness; they will spread their couch of repose for themselves.

44. Those who reject Faith will suffer from that rejection: and those who work righteousness will spread their couch (of repose) for themselves (in heaven):

45. That He may reward those who believe and work righteous deeds, out of his Bounty. (3561) For He loves not those who reject Faith. (3562)

3561 Though the repose and bliss will have been won by the righteous by their own efforts, it must not be supposed that their own merits were equal to the reward they will earn. What they will get will be due to the infinite Grace and Bounty of Allah.

3562 In form this clause is (there as elsewhere) negative, but it has a positive meaning: Allah loves those who have faith and trust in Him, and will, out of His Grace and Bounty, reward them in abundant measure.

46. Among His Signs is this, (3563) that He sends the Winds, as heralds of Glad Tidings, giving you a taste of His (Grace and) Mercy. (3564) that the ships may sail (majestically) by His Command and that ye may seek (3565) of His Bounty: in order that ye may be grateful.

3563 The theme of Allah's artistry in the physical and spiritual world was placed before us above in 30:20-27. Then, in verses 28-40, we were shown how man and nature were pure as they came out of the hand of Allah, and how we must restore this purity in order to fulfil the Will and Plan of Allah. Now we are told how the restorative and purifying agencies were sent by Allah Himself in both the physical and the spiritual world.

3564 Cf. 7:57 and n. 10:36 and 25:48 and n. 3104.

3565 In the physical world, the winds not only cool and purify the air, and bring the blessings of rain, which fertilises the soil, but they help international commerce and intercourse among men through seaways and now by airways. Those who know how to take advantage of these blessings of Allah prosper and rejoice, while those who ignore or fail to understand these Signs perish in storms. So in the spiritual world: heralds of glad tidings were sent by Allah in the shape of Messengers: those who profited by their Message prospered in spiritual gain, and those who ignored or opposed the Clear Sign perished spiritually; see next verse.

47. We did indeed send, before thee, messengers to their (respective) peoples, and they came to them with Clear Signs: then, to those who transgressed, We sent out Retribution: and it was due from Us to aid those who believed.

48. It is Allah Who sends the Winds, and they raise (3566) the Clouds: then does He spread them in the sky as He wills, and break them into fragments, and if We (but) send a Wind from which (3569) they seek of His Bounty: in order that ye may be grateful.

3566 Again the Parable of the Winds is presented from another aspect, both physical and spiritual. In the physical world, see their play with the Clouds: how they suck up the moisture from terrestrial water, carry it about in dark clouds as needed, and break it up with rain as needed. So Allah's wonderful Grace draws up men's spiritual aspirations from the most unlikely places and suspends them as dark mysteries according to His Holy Will and Plan; and when His Message reaches the hearts of men even in the smallest fragments, how its recipients rejoice, even though before it, they were in utter despair!

3567 See last note.

49. Even though, before they received (the rain) - just before this - they were dumb with despair!

50. Then contemplate (O man!) the memorials of Allah's Mercy!- how He gives life (3568) to the earth after its death: verily the same will give life to the men who are dead: for He has power over all things.

3568 After the two Parables about the purifying actions of the Winds and their fertilising action, we now have the Parable of the earth that dies in winter or drought and lives again in spring or rain, by Allah's Grace: so in the spiritual sphere, man may be dead and may live again by the Breath of Allah and His Mercy if he will only place himself in Allah's hands.

51. And if We (but) send a Wind from which (3569) they see (their tillth) turn yellow,- behold, they become, thereafter, Ungrateful (Unbelievers)!

3569 Another Parable from the forces of nature. We saw how the Winds gladdened, vivified, and enriched those who utilised them in the right spirit. But a wind might be destructive to tillth in certain circumstances: so the blessings of Allah may—by the wrongdoers resisting and blasphemying—bring punishment to the wrongdoers. Instead of taking the punishment in the right spirit—in the spirit in which Believers of Allah take their misfortunes—the Unbelievers curse and deepen their sin.

52. So verily thou canst not make the dead to hear, (3570) nor canst thou make the deaf to hear the call, when they show their backs and turn away.

3570 The marvels of Allah's creation can be realised in a general way by every one who has a disposition to allow such knowledge to penetrate his mind. But if men, out of perversity, kill the very faculties which Allah has given them, how can they then understand? Besides the men who deafen their spiritual sense, there are men who may be likened to the deaf, who lack one faculty but to whom an appeal can be made through other faculties, such as the sense of sight: but if they turn their backs and refuse to be instructed at all, how can the Truth reach them?

53. Nor canst thou lead back the blind from their straying:(3571) only those wilt thou make to hear, who believe in Our signs and submit (their wills in Islam).

3571 See last note. Then there is the case of men about whom the saying holds true, that none are so blind as those who will not see. They prefer to stay in the paths of wrong and of sensuous pleasures. How can they be guided in any way? The only persons who gain by spiritual teaching are those who bring a mind to it—who believe and submit their wills to Allah's Will. This is the central doctrine of Islam (Cf. 43:49).

54. It is Allah Who created you in a state of (helpless) weakness, then gave (you) strength after weakness, then, after strength, gave (you weakness and a hoary head):(3572) He creates as He wills, and it is He Who has all knowledge and power.

3572 What was said before about the people who make Allah's teaching 'of none effect' does not mean that Evil will defeat Allah. On the contrary, we are asked to contemplate the mysteries of Allah's wisdom with another Parable. In our physical life we see how strength is evolved out of weakness and weakness out of strength. The helpless babe becomes a lusty man in the pride of manhood, and then sinks to a feeble old age; and yet there is wisdom in all these stages in the Universal Plan. So Allah carries out His Plan in the spiritual world 'as He wills', i.e., according to His Will and Plan, and none can gain it. And His Plan is wise and can never be frustrated.

55. On the Day that the Hour (of Reckoning) will be established,(3573) the transgressors will swear that they tarried not but an hour: thus were they used to straying:(3571) only those wilt thou make to hear, who believe in Our signs and submit (their wills in Islam).

3573 Whatever the seeming inequalities may be now—when the good appear to be one another's counters,—the truth is that Allah's Message to every class is the same. What was said before about the people who make Allah's teaching 'of none effect' does not mean that Evil will defeat Allah. On the contrary, we are asked to contemplate the mysteries of Allah's wisdom with another Parable. In our physical life we see how strength is evolved out of weakness and weakness out of strength. The helpless babe becomes a lusty man in the pride of manhood, and then sinks to a feeble old age; and yet there is wisdom in all these stages in the Universal Plan. So Allah carries out His Plan in the spiritual world 'as He wills', i.e., according to His Will and Plan, and none can gain it. And His Plan is wise and can never be frustrated.

56. But those endued with knowledge and faith will say: "Indeed ye did tarry, within Allah's Decree, to the Day of Resurrection, and this is the Day(3574) of Resurrection: but ye - ye were not aware!"

3574 The men of knowledge and faith knew all along of the true values of the things of this ephemeral life and the things that will endure and face them at the End unlike the wrongdoers who were content with falsehoods and were taken by surprise, like ignorant men, when they faced the Realities.

57. So on that Day no excuse of theirs will avail the Transgressors,(3575) nor will they be invited (then) to seek grace (by repentance).

3575 It will be no use for those who deliberately rejected the clearest warnings in Allah's Message to say: 'Oh we did not realise this!' The excuse will be false, and it would be unreasonable to suppose that they would then be asked to seek Grace by repentance. It will then be too late (Cf. 16:84).

58. verily We have propounded for men, in this Qur' an every kind of Parable: But if thou bring to them any Sign, the Unbelievers(3576) are sure to say, "Ye do nothing but talk vanities."

3576 Things of the highest moment have been explained in the Qur'an from various points of view, as in this Surah itself, by means of parables and similitudes drawn from nature and from our ordinary daily life. But whatever the explanation, however convincing it may be to men who earnestly seek after Truth, those who deliberately turn their backs to Truth can find nothing convincing. In their eyes the explanations are mere 'vain talk' or false arguments.

59. Thus does Allah seal up(3577) the hearts of those who understand not.

3577 When an attitude of obstinate resistance to Truth is adopted, the natural consequence (by Allah's Law) is that the heart and mind get more and more hardened with every act of deliberate rejection. It becomes more and more impervious to the reception of Truth, just as a sealed envelope is unable to receive any further letter or message after it is sealed (Cf. 2:7 and n. 31, 6:46 , and 16:108).

60. So patiently persevere: for verily the promise of Allah is true: nor let those(3578) shake thy firmness, who have (themselves) no certainty of faith.

3578 The Prophet of Allah does not slacken in his efforts or feel discouraged because the Unbelievers laugh at him or persecute him or even seem to succeed in blocking his Message. He has firm faith, and he knows that Allah will finally establish His Truth. He goes on in his divinely entrusted task, with patience and perseverance, which must win against the levity of his opponents, who have no faith or certainty at all to sustain them. (R).
31. Luqman

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A. L. M. (3579)

3579 See n. 25 to 2:1 and Introduction to S. 30.

2. These are Verses of the Wise Book, (3580)

3580 This Surah relates to Wisdom and the Qur'an is appropriately called the West Book, or the Book of Wisdom. In verse 12 below there is a reference to Luqman the Wise. 'Wise' in this sense 'Hikam' means not only a man versed in knowledge human and divine, but also one carrying out in practical conduct ('amad) the right course in life to the utmost of his power. His knowledge is correct and practical, but not necessarily complete: for no man is perfect. Such an ideal involves the conception of a man of heroic action as well as of deep and workman-like knowledge of nature and human nature—not merely dreams or speculations. That ideal was fulfilled in a most remarkable degree in the Prophet, and in the sacred Book which was revealed through him. 'The Wise Book' (al-Hikam) is one of the title of the Qur'an.

3. A Guide and a Mercy to the Doers of Good, (3581)

3581 A guide to all, and to those who accept its guidance, a source of mercy leading them to Salvation.

4. Those who establish regular Prayer, and give regular Charity, and have (in their hearts) the assurance of the Hereafter. (3582)

3582 The righteous are distinguished here by three marks, which are summed up in the phrase 'doers of good', viz.: (1) they yearn towards Allah in duty, love and prayer, (2) they love and serve their fellow-men in charity, (3) they win peace and rest for themselves in the assured hope of the Future.

5. These are on (true) guidance (3583) from their Lord: and these are the ones who will prosper.

3583 They get the blessings because they submit their will to Allah's Will and receive His guidance. They will do well in this life (from the highest standpoint) and will reach their true Goal in the Future.

6. But there are, among men, those who purchase idle tales, (3584) without knowledge (or meaning), to mislead (men) from the Path of Allah and throw ridicule on (the Path): for such there will be a Humiliating Penalty.

3584 Life is taken seriously by men who realise the issues that hang upon it. But there are men of a frivolous turn of mind who prefer idle tales to true Realities and they are justly rebuked here. In the time of the Prophet there was a pagan Nadir ibn al Harith who preferred Persian romance to the Message of Allah, and he is justly rebuked by Allah. Luqman:(3593) "Show (thy) gratitude to Allah." Any one who is (so) grateful does so to the profit of his own soul.

7. When Our Signs are rehearsed to such a one, he turns (3585) away in arrogance, as if he heard them not, as if there were deafness in both his ears: announce to him a grievous Penalty.

3585 Such men behave as if they had heard nothing of serious import, or laugh at serious teaching. The loss will be their own. They will miss the higher things of life and be left out of Allah's blessings. Ignorance and arrogance are in most cases the causes of their fall.

8. For those who believe and work righteous deeds, there will be Gardens of Bliss,

9. To dwell therein. The promise of Allah is true: and He is Exalted in power, 3586 He is Exalted in power, and can carry out His Will, and nothing can stop the carrying out of His promise. He is also infinitely Wise: His promise is therefore full of meaning: it is not merely without purpose; it has a place in the Universal Plan.

10. He created the heavens without any pillars that ye (3587) can see; He set on the earth mountains (3588) standing firm, lest it should shake with you; and He scattered through it beasts of all kinds. (3589) We send down rain (3590) from the sky, and produce on the earth every kind of noble creature, in pairs. (3591)

3587 Cf. 13:2 and n. 1800.
3588 Cf. 16:15 and n. 2038.
3589 Cf. 2:164 and n. 166.
3590 Note the change of the pronoun at this stage in the verse. Before this, Allah was spoken of in the third person, 'He', and the acts of Creation referred to were acts that, in the main, were completed when the universe as we see it came into being, though its slow age-long evolution continues. After this, Allah speaks in the first person: 'We'—the plural of honour, as explained before (see n. 36 to 2:38)—and the processes spoken of are those that go on continually before us, as in the case of rain and the growth of the vegetable kingdoms. In some way the creation of the heavens and the earth and animal life on it may be considered impersonal to man, while the processes of rain and vegetation may be considered in special personal relationship to him.

3591 I think that sex life in plants is referred to, as in 13:3, where see n. 1804, though the pair here may refer to animals also. 'Noble' (zāhir) may refer to the more beneficent plants and trees (and animals), which Allah has created for man's use.

11. Such is the Creation of Allah, now show Me (3592) what is there that others besides Him have created: nay, but the Transgressors are in manifest error.

3592 The transition from 'We' in the last verse to 'Me' in this verse means a still more personal relation to Allah; (see n. 56 to 2:38): as we are now asked about the true worship of Allah, as against the false worship of others besides Allah.

12. We bestowed (in the past) Wisdom on Luqman: (3593) "Show (thy) gratitude to Allah." Any who is (so) grateful does so to the profit of his own soul: but if any is ungrateful, verily (3594) Allah is free of all wants, Worthy of all praise.

3593 The sage Luqman, after whom this Surah is called, belongs to Arab tradition. Very little is known of his life. He is usually associated with a long life, and his title is 'Mu'ammar (the long-lived). He is referred by some to the age of the Ad people, for whom see n. 1040 to 7:65. He is the type of perfect wisdom. It is said that he belonged to a humble station in life, being a slave or a carpenter, and that he refused worldly power and a kingdom. Many instructive analogies are credited to him, similar to Aesop's Fables in Greek tradition. The identification of Luqman and Aesop has no historical foundation, though it is true that the traditions about them influenced each other.

3594 Cf. 14:8. The basis of moral Law is man's own good, and not any benefit to Allah, for Allah is above all needs, and 'worthy of all praise'; i.e., even in praising Him, we do not advance His glory. When we obey His Will, we bring our position into conformity with our own nature as made by Him.

13. Behold, Luqman said (3595) to his son by way of instruction: "O my son! join not in worship (others) with Allah. for false worship is indeed the highest wrong-doing."

3595 Luqman is held up as a pattern of wisdom, because he realised the best in a wise life in this world, as based upon the highest Hope in the inner life. To him, as in Islam, true human wisdom is also divine wisdom: the two cannot be separated. The beginning of all wisdom, therefore, is conformity with the Will of Allah (31:12). That means that we must understand our relations to Him and
And We have enjoined on man (to be good) to his parents: in travail upon travail did his mother bear him, and in years twain (3596) was his weaning: (hear the command), "Show gratitude to Me and to thy parents: to Me is (thy final) Goal."

15. "But if they strive (3597) to make thee join in worship with Me things of which thou hast no knowledge, obey them not; yet bear them company in this life with justice (and consideration), and follow the way of those who turn to me (in love):(3598) in the end the return of you all is to Me, and I will tell you the truth (and meaning) (3599) of all that ye did."

16. "O my son!" (said Luqman), (3600) "If there be (but) the weight of a mustard-seed and it were (hidden) in the lands or in the heavens or on the earth, Allah will bring it forth: for Allah is All-omniscient.

17. "O my son! establish regular prayer, enjoin what is just, and forbid what is wrong: and bear with patient constancy whatever betide thee; for this is firmness (of purpose) in (the conduct of) affairs.

18. "And swell not thy cheek (3603) (for pride) at men, nor walk in insolence through the earth; for Allah loveth not any arrogant boaster.

19. "And be moderate in thy pace, and lower (3604) thy voice; for the harshest of sounds without doubt is the braying of the ass."

20. Do ye not see that Allah has subjected (3605) to your (use) all things in the heavens and on earth, and has made his bounties flow to you in exceeding measure, (both) seen and unseen?(3606) Yet there are among men those who dispute about Allah, without knowledge and without guidance, and without a Book (3607) to enlighten them!

21. When they are told to follow the (Revelation) that Allah has sent down, they say: " Nay, we shall follow the ways that we found our fathers following." (3608) What! even if it is Satan beckoning them to the Penalty of the (Blazing) Fire?

22. Whoever submits his whole self to Allah, and is a doer of good, has grasped indeed the most trustworthy handhold: (3609) and with Allah rests the End (3610) and Decision of (all) affairs.

23. But if any reject Faith, let not his rejection grieve thee: to Us (3611) is their return, and We shall tell them the truth of their deeds: for Allah knows well all that is in (men's) hearts.
25. If thou ask them, who it is that created the heavens and the earth, (3613) They will certainly say, "(Allah)». Say: "Praise be to Allah." (3614) But most of them understand not.

26. To Allah belong all things in heaven and earth: verily Allah is He (that is) free of all wants, worthy of all praise. (3615)

27. And if all the trees on earth were pens and the ocean (were ink), with seven oceans behind it to add to its (supply), yet would not the Words of Allah be exhausted (in the writing): for Allah is Exalted in Power, full of Wisdom.

28. And your creation or your resurrection is in no wise but as an individual soul: (3617) for Allah is He Who hears and sees (all things).

29. Seest thou not that Allah merges Night into Day (3618) and he merges Day into Night; that He has multiplied seven times, were made into ink. Any Book of His Revelation would be inadequate to describe His power, glory, and wisdom.

30. That is because Allah is the (only) Reality, and because whatever else they invoke (3619) besides Him is Falsehood; and because Allah, — He is the Most High, Most Great.

31. Seest thou not that the ships sail through the ocean by the Grace of Allah, — that He may show you of His Signs? Verily in this are Signs for all who constantly persevere (3620) and give thanks.

32. When a wave covers them like the canopy (of clouds), they call to Allah, offering Him sincere devotion (3621) But when He has delivered them safely to land, there are among them those that halt (3622) between (right and wrong). But none reject Our Signs except only a perfidious ungrateful (wretch)!

33. O mankind do your duty to your Lord, and fear (the coming of) a Day when no father can avail aught for his son, nor a son avail aught for his father. (3623) Verily, the promise of Allah is true: let not then this present life deceive you, nor let the Chief Deceiver (3624) deceive you about Allah.

34. Verily the knowledge of the Hour is with Allah (alone). It is He Who sends down rain, and He Who knows what is in the wombs. (3625) Nor does any one know what it is that he will earn on the morrow. (3626) Nor does any one know in what land he is to die. Verily with Allah is full knowledge and He is acquainted (with all things).

35. The question of Knowledge or Mystery governs both clauses here, viz.: Rain and Wombs. In fact it governs all the five things mentioned in this verse; viz.: (1) The Hour; (2) Rain; (3) the Birth of a new Life (Wombs); (4) our Physical Life from day to day; (5) our Death. See n. 3627 below. As regards Rain we are asked to contemplate how and when it is sent down. The moisture may be sucked up by the sun's heat in the Arabian Sea or the Red Sea or the Indian Ocean near East Africa, or in the Lake Region in Central Africa. The winds drive it hither and thither across thousands of miles, or it may be, only short distances. 'The wind bloweth where it listeth.' No doubt it obeys certain physical Laws established by Allah, but how these Laws are interlocked, one with another! Meteorology, gravity, hydrostatics and dynamics, climatology, hygrometry, and a dozen other sciences are involved, and no man can completely master all of them, and yet this relates to only one of the millions of facts in physical nature, which are governed by Allah's Knowledge and Law. The whole vegetable kingdom is primarily affected by Rain.
The mention of Wombs brings in the mystery of animal life, embryology, sex, and a thousand other things. Who can tell-to take man alone-whether the child conceived is male or female, how long it will remain in the womb, whether it will be born alive, what sort of new individual it will bea blessing or a curse to its parents, or to Society?

32. Al Sajdah (The Prostration)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A. L. M. (3628)

3628 See 1:25 to 2:1, and Introduction to S. 30.

2. (This is) the Revelation of the Book in which there is no doubt,- (3629) from the Lord of the Worlds.

3629 By the time of Prophet the earlier Book of Revelation had been corrupted by human ignorance or falsehood, or misinterpreted or lost altogether. There were sects violently disputing with each other as to their true meaning. Such doubts had to be set at rest and they were set at rest by the revelation of the Quran. The Quranic inspiration came directly from Allah, the Lord of the Worlds, and did not consist merely of human conjecture or a reconstructed philosophy, in which there is always room for doubt or dispute. Cf. also 2:2.

3. Or (3630) do they say, "He has forged it"? Nay, it is the Truth from thy Lord, that thou mayest admonish a people to whom no warner has come before thee: in order that they may receive guidance.(3631)

3630 The force of "or" (tan in Arabic) is that the only alternative to the acceptance of the Book as a divine revelation is the supposition that it was a forgery by the Prophet. But this supposition is absurd on the face of it because (1) Quraysh, his critics, knew him to be an honest and truthful man; (2) he was unlettered, and such a Book would have been beyond his powers as a simple unlettered Arab, unless Allah inspired it; and (3) there was a definite reason for its coming as it did, because the Arabs had received no Messenger before him and Allah has sent Messengers to every nation.

3631 The Arabs very much needed guidance for themselves, and the advent of a World Prophet through them was what might have been expected in view of the past course of Allah's Revelations.

4. It is Allah Who has created the heavens and the earth, and all between them, in six Days,(3632) and is firmly established on the Throne (of authority);(3633) ye have none, besides Him, to protect or intercede (for you): will ye not then receive admonition?

3632 Six Days: see n. 1031, to 7:54. The "Day" does not mean a day as we reckon it, i.e., one apparent course of the sun round the earth, for it refers to conditions which began before the earth and the sun were created. In verse 5 below, a Day is compared to a thousand years of our reckoning, and in 70:4 to 30,000 years. These figures "as we reckon" have no relation to "timeless Time", and must be taken to mean very long Periods, or Ages, or Aeons. See further 41:9-12, and notes.

3633 See the five Mysteries summed up in n. 3625 above. The Argument is about the mystery of Time and Knowledge. We are supposed to know things in ordinary life, But what does that knowledge amount to in reality? Only a superficial acquaintance with things. And Time is even more uncertain. In the case of rain, which causes vegetable life to spring up, or in the case of new animal life, can we answer with precision questions as to When or How or Wherefore? So about questions of our life from day to day or of our death. These are great Mysteries, and full knowledge is with Allah only: How much more so in the case of the Ma'ad, the Final House, when all true values will be restored and the balance redressed? It is certain, but the When and the How are known to Allah alone.

3634 Cf. 1:23, n. 1386. Allah created the World as we see it in six great Stages. But after the initial creation, He is still in authority and directs and controls all affairs. He has not delegated His powers to others, and Himself retired. Also see 7:54.

5. He rules (all) affairs from the heavens to the earth: in the end will (all affairs) go up (3634) to Him, on a Day, the space whereof will be (as) a thousand years of your reckoning.

3635 See the five Mysteries summed up in n. 3625 above. The Argument is about the immense mystery of Time behind our ideas of it how it is enforced on our minds better? Our Day may be a thousand or fifty thousand years, and our years in proportion. In the immense Past was Allah's act of creation: it still continues, for He guides, rules, and controls all affairs: and in the immense Future all affairs will go up to Him, for He will be the Judge, and His restoration of all values will be as a Day or an Hour or the twinkling of an eye; and yet to our idea it will be a thousand years!

6. Such is He, the Knower of all things, hidden and open, the Exalted (in power), the Merciful;-(3635)

3636 Allah's attributes, then, may be summed up with reference to knowledge, Power, and Mercy. Where our knowledge is partial and uncertain, His is complete and certain. Where our power often falls short of the carrying out of our will, or needs the help of Time, His is complete and counters ours with His Will. Where our mercy seems to be bounded by or opposed to justice, His is absolute and unconditioned.

7. He Who has made everything which He has created(3636) most good: He began the creation of man with (nothing more than) clay,(3637)

3636 Allah's creation in itself is good: it is beautiful in proper proportions, and adapted for the functions it has to perform. There is no evil or disorder in it. Such evil or disorder as creeps in is due to man's will (as far as the world of man is concerned), and spiritual Teaching is directed to train and cure that will and bring it into conformity with the Universal Order and Plan.

3637 Man is asked to contemplate his own humble beginning. His material body (apart from life) is a piece of earth or clay, which is another term for primate matter. Matter is therefore the first stage, but even matter was not self-created. It was created by Allah.

8. And made his progeny from a quintessence of the nature of a fluid despised:(3638)

3638 Then comes life and the reproduction of life. We are still looking at the purely physical aspect, but it is now a stage higher; it is an animal. Its reproduction is through the sperm or semen, which is a quintessence of every part of the body of man. Yet it issues from the same part of his body as the urine, and is therefore despisable in man's sight. It is a living cell or cells, springing up so much ancestral life-history, Cf. 23:12, and n. 2872.
9. But He fashioned him in due proportion, and breathed into him something of (3639) His spirit. And He gave you (the faculties of) hearing and sight and feeling (3640) (and understanding): little thanks do ye give!

3639 The third stage is indicated by "fashioned him in due proportion", C.F. 15:29. After the fertilization of the ovum by the sperm, an individual life comes into existence, and it is gradually fashioned into shape; its limbs are formed; its animal life begins to function; all the beautiful adaptations come into play. The fourth stage here mentioned is that of distinctive Man, into whom Allah's spirit is breathed. Then he rises higher than animals.

3640 As a complete man he gets the higher faculties. The five animal senses I understand to be included in the third stage. But in the fourth stage he rises higher and is addressed in the second person, "you," instead of the third person "him". He has now the spiritual counterpart of hearing (i.e., the capacity to hear Allah's Message) and seeing (i.e., the inner vision), and feeling the nobler heights of love and understanding the bearings of the inner life (both typified by the Heart). Yet with all these gifts, what thanks does unregenerate or corrupted man give to Allah? (C.F. 2:124-14 and 32:7-9)

10. And they say: "What! when we lie, hidden and lost, in the earth, shall we indeed be in a Creation renewed? (3641) Nay, they deny the Meeting with their Lord.

3641 C.F. 13:5. It has been the cry of Materialists and Sceptics through the ages not only to bound their horizon with this brief life, but to deny dogmatically that there can be a future life. Here 'they' refers to those who give little thanks to Allah, mentioned in the last verse. The argument used against them is: if Allah can produce such a wonderful creation the first time, why can He not make it again? That points to the possibility: our own general inner hope and expectation of a future life, coupled with Faith in Allah's work, is the ground of our certainty. (R).

11. Say: "The Angel of Death, put in charge of you, will (duly) take your souls (3642) then shall ye be brought back to your Lord."

3642 If death is certain, as it is, and this life by itself in no way satisfies our instincts and expectations, we may be sure that the agency which separates our souls from our bodies will bring us into a higher world. If we believe in a soul at all, the very foundation of Religion—we must believe in a Future, without which the soul has no meaning.

12. If only thou couldst see when the guilty ones will bend low their heads before their Lord, (saying): "Our Lord! We have seen and we have heard: (3643) Now then send us back (to the world): we will work righteousness: for we do indeed (now) believe."

3643 If death is certain, as it is, and this life by itself in no way satisfies our instincts and expectations, we may be sure that the agency which separates our souls from our bodies will bring us into a higher world. If we believe in a soul at all, the very foundation of Religion—we must believe in a Future, without which the soul has no meaning.

13. If We had so willed, (3644) We could certainly have brought every soul its true guidance: but the Word from Me (3645) will come true, "I will fill Hell with Jinns and men all together."

3644 Could evil have been averted? Certainly everything is in Allah's power. If it had been His Will and Plan, He could have created a world in which there would have been no choice or will in any of His Creatures. But that was not His Will and Plan. In the world as we see it, man has a certain amount of choice and free will. That being so, He has provided Sams and means of instruction for man, in order that man's will may be straight and pure. A necessary corollary will be Punishment for the infractions of His Law. That Punishment must come to pass, for Allah's Word is true and must be fulfilled (C.F. n. 38 and n. 3557).

3645 C.F. 11:119, n. 1628, and 7:18; and see last note. Jinns are the evil spirits that tempt men, and the men who will suffer punishment will be those who have succumbed to their temptations.

14. "Taste ye then - for ye forgot the Meeting (3646) of this Day of yours, and we too will forget you - taste ye the Penalty of Eternity for your (evil) deeds!"

3646 Cf. n. 1029 to 7:51. 'Forget' here is in the sense of "to ignore deliberately, to reject with scorn". In the sense of mistake or defect of knowledge it is inapplicable to the All-Perfect Being, for we are expressly told, 'My Lord never errs, nor forgets'; 20:32.

15. Only those believe in Our Signs, who, when they are recited to them, fall down in adoration. (3647) and celebrate the praises of their Lord, nor are they (ever) puffed up with pride.

3647 In adoration: Sulhajad, or in a posture of prostration, expressive of deep humility and faith. This is the keyword of the Surah, which bears the title of Al Sulhajad. All the Signs of Allah lead our thoughts upwards towards Him, and when they are expounded, our attitude should be one of humble gratitude to Allah. In this passage it is usual to make a prostration. (R).

16. Their limbs do forsake (3648) their beds of sleep, the while they call on their Lord, in Fear and Hope: (3649) and they spend (in charity) out of the sustenance which We have bestowed on them.

3648 Jinn as sides, on which men sleep and turn in their sleep; I have translated this "limbs" for shortness. Holy men and women "breatheless with adoration" shun soft, comfortable beds, and luxurious sleep. Their limbs are better exercised in offices of devotion and prayer, especially by night. Commentators specially refer this to Prayers called "Takajad", which are offered after midnight in the small hours of the morning, in twelve Rak'as.

3649 In Fear and Hope: in spiritual fear lest their dedication to Allah should not be sufficiently worthy to be accepted, and a spiritual longing or hope that their shortcomings will be overlooked by the Mercy of Allah. And their adoration is not shown only in Prayer, but also in practical Service and Charity, out of whatever gifts they may have received from Allah.

17. Now no person knows what delights of the eye (3650) are kept hidden (in reserve) for them - as a reward for their (good) deeds.

3650 Delights of the eye: an idiom for that which pleases most and gives most satisfaction. In our present state we can scarcely imagine the real Bliss that will come to us in the Future.

18. Is then the man who believes no better than the man who is rebellious and wicked? (3651) Not equal are they.

3651 The Future of the two classes—the Blessed and the Wicked—as described in verses 19-22.

19. For those who believe and do righteous deeds are Gardens as hospitable (3652) homes, for their (good) deeds.

3652 A home brings before our minds a picture of peace and happiness. When to it are added honour and hospitality, it adds further to the idea of happiness.

20. As to those who are rebellious and wicked, their abode will be the Fire: every time (3653) they wish to get away therefrom, they will be forced thereinto, and it will be said to them: "Taste ye the Penalty of the Fire, the which ye were wont to reject as false."

3653 C.F. 22:22. Just as the Garden is a type of Bliss, so is the Fire a type of Penalty and suffering. There will be no getting away from it. What will be the thoughts of those who had earned it? "We used to reject the idea of the Consequences as mere chimeras: and now we find it to be true? What will be their feelings then? How will they like it?

21. And indeed We will make them taste of the Penalty of this (life) prior to (3654) the supreme Penalty, in order that they may (repent and) return.

3654 The final Penalty is to come in the Hereafter. There is no doubt about it. But before it comes, a minor Penalty comes in this very life. It may be in some kind of misfortune, or it may be in the pangs of a tortured conscience or secret sorrow. But this minor Penalty may be really a mercy, as it gives them a chance of repentance and amendment.
22. And who does more wrong than one to whom are recited the Signs of his Lord, and who then turns away (3655) therefrom? Verily from those who transgress We shall exact (due) Retribution.

3655 The worst and most hardened sinner is the man to whom Allah's Signs are actually brought home and who yet prefers Evil and turns away from the Light of Allah. The Signs may be in the words and guidance of a great Teacher or in some minor sorrow or warning, which he disregards with contumely. Or it may be a catastrophic blow to his conscience, which should open his eyes, but from which he deliberately refuses to profit. The penalties--the Nemesis--must necessarily come eventually.

23. We did indeed aforetime give the Book to Moses (3656) be not then in doubt of its reaching (thee) (3657) and We made it a guide to the Children of Israel.

3656 The Book is not here co-extensive with Revelation. Moses had, revealed to him, a Law, a shari'ah, which was to guide his people in all the practical affairs of their life. Jesus, after him, was also inspired by Allah: but his Injil or Gospel contained only general principles and not a Code or shari'ah. The Prophet was the next one to have a shari'ah or 'Book' in that sense: for the Quran contains both a Code and general principles. This Surah is a Makkan Surah. The Code came later in Madinah. But he is given the assurance that he will also have a Code, to supersede the earlier Law, and complete the Revelation of Allah.

3657 Its reaching (thee): liqa'ihim Commentators differ as to the construction of the pronoun hi, which may be translated either 'its' or 'his'. I construe it to refer to 'the Book', as that gives the most natural meaning, as explained in the last note.

24. And We appointed, from among them, leaders, giving guidance (3658) under Our command, so long as they persevered with patience and continued to have faith in Our Signs.

3658 The series of Judges, Prophets, and Kings in Israel continued to give good guidance, in accordance with Allah's Law, as long as the people continued in Faith and Constancy (persevering patience). When that condition ceased, Allah's grace was withdrawn and the people broke up into wrangling sects and practically suffered national annihilation.

25. Verily thy Lord will judge between them on the Day of Judgment, in the matters wherein they differ (among themselves) (3659)

3659 These wrangles and disputes among them will continue until the Day of Judgement, but meantime a new Ummah (that of Islam) will arise and take its place, with a universal and unified Message for mankind.

26. Does it not teach them a lesson, how many generations We destroyed before them, in whose dwellings they (now) go to and fro?(3660) Verily in that are Signs: Do they not then listen?(3661) 3660 If a nation goes astray could only learn from the history of earlier nations that were destroyed for their evil? They could see vestiges of them in their daily going to and fro; the Jews could see vestiges of the Philistines, Amalekites, etc., in Palestine, and the pagans Arabs, of the 'Ad and Thamud in Arabia.

3661 Listen: i.e., listen to the warnings conveyed in Allah's Signs. Notice how naturally the transition is effected from the physical to the spiritual--from the ruined physical vestiges of ungodly nations on this earth to the more intangible signs conveyed by History and Revelation. Here the sense of Hearing is mentioned, both in its physical and its metaphysical or spiritual aspect. In the next verse the sense of Sight is mentioned in both aspects.

27. And do they not see that We do drive Rain (3662) to parched soil (bare of herbage), and produce therewith crops, providing food for their cattle and themselves? Have they not the vision?(3663)

3662 Again, as in the last verse, there is an easy transition from the physical to the spiritual. In physical nature there may be parched soil, which is to all intents and purposes dead. Allah sends rain, and the dead soil is converted into living land producing rich crops of fodder and corn, nuts and fruits, to satisfy the hunger of man and beast. So in the spiritual world. The dead man is revivified by Allah's grace and mercy through His Revelation. He becomes not only an asset to himself but to his dependents and those around him.

3663 The verse begins with 'do they not see?' (a was lana saray'), a physical act. It ends with 'have they not the vision?' (alda yahsunu') a matter of spiritual insight. This is parallel to the two kinds of 'hearing' or 'listening', explained in n. 3661 above.

28. They say: "When will this decision be, if ye (3664) are telling the truth?"

3664 The Unbelievers may say: 'If all this which you say is true, tell us when this final restoration of Realities, Life and true Values will come about.' The answer is: 'If you mean that you will postpone your repentance and reform till then, it will be no use: it will be too late for repentance, and no respite will be granted then: this is the Respite, and this is your chance.'

29. Say: "On the Day of Decision, no profit will it be to Unbelievers if they (then) believe! nor will they be granted a respite."

30. So turn away from them, and wait: they too (3665) are waiting.

3665 Read 6:158 and n. 984 as commentary on this. There it is said to the Unbelievers: "Wait ye: we too are waiting. Here the Righteous one is told: "Wait thou: they too are waiting." The reversal of the order is appropriate: in each case the person (or persons) addressed is mentioned first. Cf. also 7:71.

33. Al Ahzab (The Confederates)

I. O Prophet! Fear Allah, and hearken not to the Unbelievers (3666) and the Hypocrites: verily Allah is full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

3666 The fifth year A.H. was a critical year in the external history of early Islam, and this Surah must be read in the light of the events that then took place. As explained in the Introduction, the Grand Confederacy against Islam came and invested Madinah and failed utterly. It consisted of the Makkan Unbelievers, the desert Arabs of Central Arabia, the Jews previously expelled for treachery from Madinah, the Jews remaining in Madinah, and the Hypocrites led by Abu Ahf Allah Ibn Ubayy, who have already been described in 9:43-110. Their bond of union was the common hatred of Islam and it snapped under the reverses they met. It is important to note three points. (1) The Jews as a body now lost their last chance of bearing the standard of Islam: the best of them had already accepted the renewal of Allah's Message. (2) A definite status was given to the Prophet's household, after the slanders on 'Aishah had been settled (2:11:20), and the true position of the Mothers of the Believers had been cleared. (3) A further exposition of the purity of sexual relations was given, based on the story of Zaynab, the "Mother of the Poor". These points will be referred to in later notes.

2. But follow that which comes to thee by inspiration from thy Lord: for Allah is well acquainted (3669) with all that ye do.

2.667 In the most adverse circumstances, in the midst of the assaults of Evil, the plots of treason and hypocrisy, the darts of slander and false charges, and stupid superstitions and taboos, the Prophet of Allah should steer his course steadily according to Allah's Law and not fear human evil, in whatever form it appears. Men may misjudge, but Allah knows all. Men may try to overthrow Good, but Wisdom is with Allah. (R).

3. And put thy trust in Allah, and enough is Allah (3668) as a disposer of affairs.

3.669 We must wholly trust Allah: He is the true and efficient Guardian of all interests. (Cf. 4:81, and n. 600).

4. Allah has not made for any man two hearts (3669) in his (one) body: nor has He made your wives whom ye divorce by Zihar (3670) your mothers: nor has He made your adopted sons (3671) your sons. Such is (only) your (manner of) speech by your mouths. But Allah tells (you) the Truth, and He shows the (right) Way.

4.669 Two hearts in his (one) breast: two inconsistent attitudes: such as serving Allah and Mammon; or subscribing to both Truth and Superstition; or hypocritically pretending one thing and intending another. Such a thing is against Allah's Law and Will. Apart from the condemnation of general hypocrisy, two pagan customs of the Times of Ignorance are mentioned, and their iniquity pointed out. See the notes 3670 and 3671. Nor can a man love two women with equal love: hence the injustice of marrying more than one wife; see the second clause in 4:3. (R).

4.670 This was an evil Arab custom, by which the husband selfishly deprived his wife of her conjugal rights and yet kept her to himself like a slave without her being free to remarry. He pronounced words importing that she was like his mother. After that she could not demand conjugal rights but was not free from his control and could not contract another marriage. See also 5:1-5, where this is condemned in the strongest terms and punishment is promised for it. A man sometimes said such words in a fit of anger: they did not affect him, but they degraded her position.

4.671 If a man called another's son 'his son', it might create complications with natural and normal relationships if taken too literally. It is pointed out that it is only in men's mouths, and should not be taken literally. The truth is the truth and cannot be altered by men's 'adopting sons'. Adoption in the technical sense is not allowed in Muslim Law. Those who have been 'wives of your sons proceeding from your loins' are within the Prohibited Degrees of marriage; 4:23; but this does not apply to 'adopted sons'.

5. Call them by (the names of) their fathers: that is juster in the sight of Allah. But if ye know not (3672) their father's names, call them your Brothers in faith, or your maulas. But there is no blame on you if ye make (3673) a mistake therein: (what counts is) the intention of your hearts: and Allah is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful.

5.672 Freedmen were often called after their master's name as the 'son of so and so'. When they were slaves, perhaps their fathers' names were lost altogether. It is more correct to speak of them as the Master of so and so. But Master in Arabic might also imply a close relationship of friendship; in that case, too, it is better to use the right term instead of the term 'son'. 'Brother' is not objectionable because Brotherhood is used in a wider sense than 'fatherhood', and is not likely to be misunderstood.

5.673 What is aimed at is to destroy the superstition of erecting false relationships to the detriment or loss of true blood relations. It is not intended to penalise an unintentional slip in the matter, and indeed even if a man deliberately calls another his son or father, who is not his son or father, out of politeness or affection, 'Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful'. It is the action of miscellaneous parties which is chiefly reprehended, if they intend false insinuations. A mere mistake on their part does not matter. (R).

6. The Prophet is closer to the Believers than their own selves, (3674) and his wives are (3675) their mothers. Blood-relations among each other have closer personal ties, in the Decree of Allah. Than (the Brotherhood of) Believers and Muhajirs: (3676) nevertheless do ye what is just to your closest friends: such is the writing in the Decree of Allah.

6.671 In spiritual relationships the Prophet is entitled to more respect and consideration than blood-relations. The Believers should follow him rather than their fathers or mothers or brothers, where there is conflict of duties. He is even closer to the real interest of their own selves. In some Quranic phrases, like that of 'Ubayy ibn Ka'ab, occur also the words 'and he is a father of them', which imply his spiritual relationship and connection with the words 'and his wives are their mothers'. Thus his spiritual fatherhood would be contrasted pointedly with the repudiation of the vulgar superstition of calling any one like Zayd ibn Harithah by the appellation Zayd ibn Muhammad (53:49): such an application is really disrespectful of the Prophet.

6.673 See last note. This Surah establishes the dignity and position of the Prophet's wives, who had a special mission and responsibility as Mothers of the Believers. They were not to be like ordinary women; they had to instruct women in spiritual matters, visit and minister to those who were ill or in distress, and do other kindly offices in aid of the Prophet's mission.

6.676 No man should deprive his blood-relations of such rights of maintenance and property as they might have. The community of Believers, inhabitants of Madinah and those who had migrated to Madinah from Makkah, also had their mutual rights, but they were not to be put forward as an excuse to defeat the prior rights of natural relationships. In the early Madinah days, Ansar were allowed to inherit from Muhajirs whose natural relations had not emigrated, but this practice was discontinued when normal relations were re-established between Makkah and Madinah.

7. And remember We took from the prophets their Covenant: (3677) As (We did) from thee: from Noah, Abraham, Moses, and Jesus the son of Mary: We took from them a solemn covenant:

7.677 Cf. 3:81. There is an implied covenant on all created things to follow Allah's Law, which is the law of their being seen 5:4. But there is a special implied covenant with all Prophets, strict and solemn, that they shall carry out their mission, proclaim Allah's Truth without fear or favour, and be ever ready in His service in all circumstances. That gives them their position and dignity as explained in the last verse, and their tremendous responsibilities in respect of the people whom they come to instruct and lead to the right Path.

8. That (Allah) may question the (custodians) of Truth concerning the Truth they were charged with: (3678) And He has prepared for the Unbelievers a grievous Penalty.

8.678 The men to whom Allah's Truth has been committed for proclamation will be asked in the Hereafter how the Truth fared in the world when it was received, who possessed it, and who assisted it. Like all trustees, they will have to give an account of their trust. Allah knows all, and it will not add to His information. But it will be evidence for and against those to whom it was preached, so that the responsibility of those who dishonoured it may be duly enforced. The primary custodians of spiritual Truth are the Prophets, but in descending degrees all men to whom Allah's Message comes are included.

9. O ye who believe! Remember the Grace of Allah, (bestowed) on you, when there came down on you hosts (to overwhelm you): (3679) But We sent against them (3680) a hurricane and forces that ye saw not: but Allah sees (clearly) (3681) all that ye do.

9.679 In this verse is summed up the beginning and the end of the fatal struggle of the Suiace of Makkah in A.H. 5. The composition of the unhallowed Confederacy that came to destroy Islam is referred to in the Introduction. They came with a force of ten to twelve thousand fighting men, an unprecedented army for that time and country. The battle is known as the Battle of the Trench.

9.680 After a close investment of two to four weeks, during which the enemy were disheartened by their ill success, there was a piercing blast of the cold east wind. It was a severe winter, and February can be a very cold month in Madinah, which is about 3,000 feet above the sea level. The enemy's tents were torn up, their fires were extinguished, the sand and rain beat in their faces, and they were terrified by the portents against them. They had already well nigh fallen out amongst themselves, and beating a hasty retreat, they rushed away. The Muhajirs fighting strength was no more than 3,000, and the Jewish tribe of the Banu Qurayzah who were in their midst was a source of weakness as they were treacherously intriguing with the enemy. And furthermore there were the Hypocrites: see n. 3666 above. But there were hidden forces that helped the Muslims. Besides the forces of nature there were moral forces—mutual distrust and bickering in the enemy camp, and on the other side, perfect discipline among the real Muslims, and the superb leadership of the Prophet.

16. Allah sees everything. Therefore we may conclude that the discipline and moral fervour of the Muslims, as well as the enemy’s insincerities, intrigues, and reliance on brute force, were all contributory causes to his repulse, under Allah’s dispensation. There were many hidden causes which neither party saw clearly.

17. Behold! they came on you from above you and from below you, and behold, the eyes became dim and the hearts gaped (3682) up to the throats, and ye imagined various (vain) thoughts about Allah.

18. In that situation were the Believers tried: they were shaken as by a tremendous shaking.

19. And behold! The Hypocrites and those in whose hearts is a disease (even) say: "(Allah) and His Messenger promised us nothing but delusion!" (3683)

20. Before this year’s mass attack on Madinah, the Muslims had successfully reached the Syrian border on the north, and there were hopes of reaching Yemen in the south. The Prophet had seen signs of expansion and victory for the Muslims. Now that they were shut within the Trench on the defensive, the Hypocrites taunted them with having indulged in delusive hopes. But the event showed that the hopes were not delusive. They were realised beyond expectations in a few years.

21. Behold! A party among them said: "Ye men of Yathrib! ye cannot stand (the attack)! therefore go back!" And a band of them ask for leave of the Prophet, saying, "Truly our houses (3684) are bare and exposed," though they were not exposed they intended nothing but to run away.

22. All the fighting men of Madinah had come out of the City and camped in the open space between the City and the Trench that had been dug all round. The disaffected Hypocrites sowed defeatist rumours and pretended to withdraw for the defence of their homes, though their homes were not exposed, and were fully covered by the vigilant defensive forces inside the Trench.

23. And if an entry had been effected to them (3685) from the sides of the city, and they had been invited to sedition, they would certainly have brought it to pass, with none but a brief delay!

24. The brunt of all the fighting was on the north side, but the whole Trench was guarded. At one or two points enemy warriors did break within the circuit of the Trench, but they were soon disposed of. All particularly distinguished himself in many fights, wearing the Prophet’s own sword and armour. If any of the enemy had been able to penetrate into the City, the disaffected element, which was only sitting on the fence, would have risen against the Muslims at once—with no delay except what might have been necessary to put on their armour and arms.

25. And yet they had already covenanted with Allah not to turn their backs, and a covenant (3686) with Allah must (surely) be answered for.

26. Apparently, after the battle of Uhud, certain men who had then shown cowardice were forgiven on undertaking that they would behave better next time. A solemn promise made to the Messenger of Allah is a promise to Allah, and it cannot be broken with impunity.

27. Say: "Running away will not profit you if ye are running away from death (3687) or slaughter; and even if (ye do escape), no more than a brief (respite) will ye be allowed to enjoy!"

28. The coward in a fight does not usually save himself from death. He is subject, after desertion, to the fury both of the enemy and of his own side for cowardice and desertion. Assuming that he did escape with his life, where could he go to? The brand of cowardice will be on him, and he will be subject to the vengeance of his own people. In any case, his life would be ignominious and would be brief, and he would have lost irrevocably the meed of valour.

29. They think that the Confederates have not withdrawn; and if the Confederates should come (again), they would wish they were in the deserts (wandering) among the Bedouins, and (3693) seeking news about you (from a safe distance); and if they were in your midst, they would fight but little.

30. The coward in a fight does not usually save himself from death. He is subject, after desertion, to the fury both of the enemy and of his own side for cowardice and desertion. Assuming that he did escape with his life, where could he go to? The brand of cowardice will be on him, and he will be subject to the vengeance of his own people. In any case, his life would be ignominious and would be brief, and he would have lost irrevocably the meed of valour.

31. Verily Allah knows those among you who keep back (men) and those who say to their brethren, “Come along to us”, but come not to the fight except for just a little while.

32. Covetous over you (3689) Then when fear comes, thou wilt see them looking to thee, their eyes revolving, like (those of) one over whom hovers death: but when the fear is past, they will smite you with sharp tongues, covetous (3690) of goods. Such men have no faith, and so Allah has made their deeds (3691) of none effect: and that is easy for Allah. (3692)

21. Ye have indeed in the Messenger of Allah a beautiful pattern (of conduct) for any one whose hope is (3694) in Allah and the Final Day, and who engages much (3695) in the Praise of Allah.

22. When the Believers saw the Confederate forces, they said: "This is what Allah and His Messenger (3696) had promised us, and Allah and His Messenger told us what was true." And it only added to their faith and their zeal in obedience.

23. Among the Believers are men who have been true to their covenant with Allah. of them some have completed (3697) their vow (to the extreme), and some (still) wait: but they have never changed (their determination) in the least:

24. That Allah may reward the men of Truth for their Truth, and punish the Hypocrites if that be (3698) His Will, or turn to them in Mercy: for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

25. And Allah turned back the Unbelievers for (all) their fury: no advantage (3699) did they gain; and enough is Allah for the believers in their fight. And Allah is full of Knowledge, (3700) determination) in the least:

26. And those of the people (3701) of the Book who aided them - Allah did take them down from their strongholds (3702) and cast terror into their hearts. (So that) (3703) some ye slew, and some (3704) ye made prisoners.

27. And He made you heirs of their lands, their houses, and their goods, and of a land which (3705) ye had not frequented (before). And Allah has power over all things.

28. O Prophet! Say to thy Consorts: "If it be that ye desire the life of this World, and its glitter,- then comel (3706) I will provide for your enjoyment and set you free in a handsome manner.

29. But if ye seek Allah and His Messenger, and the Home of the Hereafter, verily Allah has prepared for the well-doers amongst you (3707) a great reward.
3701 They were all well-doers. But being in their exalted position, they had extra responsibility, and they had to be specially careful to discharge it. In the same way, their reward would be "great", for higher services bring higher spiritual satisfaction, though they were asked to deny themselves some of the ordinary indulgences of life.

30. O Consorts of the Prophet! If any of you were guilty of evident unseemly conduct,(3708) the Punishment would be doubled to her, and that is easy for Allah.(3709)

3707 Evident unseemly conduct: i.e., proved misconduct, as opposed to false slanders from enemies. Such slanders were of no account, but if any of them had behaved in an unseemly manner, it would have been a worse offence than in the case of ordinary women, on account of their special position. (Cf. 33:29). Of course none of them were in the least guilty.

3708 Cf. 33:19 and n. 3692. The punishment in this life for a married woman's unchastity is very severe: for adultery, public flogging with a hundred stripes, under 24:2; or for lewdness (see 4:15) imprisonment; or stoning to death for adultery, according to certain precedents established in Canon Law. But here the question is not about this kind of punishment or this kind of offence. Even minor indiscretions, in the case of women who were patterns of decorum, would have been reprehensible; and the punishment in the Hereafter is on a higher plane, which we can scarcely understand. But Allah can appreciate every shade of motive in us. More or less is possible there, which might not be possible in the rough and ready law which we administer here, (see also n. 525-526 and n. 2954-2960).

31. But any of you that is devout in the service of Allah and His Messenger, and works righteousness,- to her shall We grant her reward twice:(3710) and We have prepared for her a generous Sustenance.(3711)

3710 Twice, i.e., once as a righteous woman and again as a Mother of the Believers, serving the believing women and thus showing her devotion to Allah and His Prophet.

3711 Sustenance: in the spiritual sense: all that is necessary to sustain her in happiness in her future life.

32. O Consorts of the Prophet! Ye are not like any of the (other) women:(3712) if ye do fear ((Allah)), be not too complacent of speech, lest one in whose heart is a disease should be moved with desire: but speak ye a speech (that is) just.(3713)

3712 This is the core of the whole passage. The Prophet's Consorts were not like ordinary women, nor was their marriage an ordinary marriage, in which only personal or social considerations enter. They had a special position and special responsibilities, in the matter of guiding and instructing women who came into the fold of Islam. Islam is a Way of Life, and the Muslims are a family: women have as much place in Islam as men, and their intimate instruction must obviously be through women.

3713 While they were to be kind and gentle to all, they were to be guarded on account of their special position lest people might misunderstand or take advantage of their kindness. They were to make no vulgar worldly displays as in the times of Paganism.

33. And stay quietly in your houses, and make not a dazzling display, like that of the former Times of Ignorance; and establish regular Prayer, and give regular Charity; and obey(3714) Allah and His Messenger. And Allah only wishes to remove all abomination from you, ye Members(3715) of the Family, and to make you pure and spotless.

3714 Obedience to Allah's Law sums up all duties. Regular Prayer (seeking nearness to Allah) and Regular Charity (doing good to fellow-creatures) are mentioned as specially symbolic of our Religion.

3715 Notice the transition in this clause to the masculine gender, while before this the verbs and pronouns were in the feminine gender as referring to the Consorts. The statement in this clause is now more general including (besides the Consorts) the whole family, namely Fatimah the daughter, "All the sons-in-law, and their sons Al Hasan and Al Husayn, the beloved grandsons of the Prophet. The masculine gender is used generally, in speaking of a mixed assembly of men and women.

34. And recite(3716) what is rehearsed to you in your homes, of the Signs of Allah and His Wisdom: for Allah understands the finest mysteries and is well-acquainted (with them).(3717)

3716 The verb is al-khawara. feminine gender, as referring to the Arawaj again. It means not only 'remember' but 'recite', 'teach', 'make known', 'publish', the Message which ye learn at home from the Prophet, the fountain of spiritual knowledge. The 'Signs of Allah' refer specifically to the verses of the Qur'an, and Wisdom to the resulting instruction derived therefrom.

3717 Cf. 22:63 and n. 2844. Allah's understanding is perfect in every detail, however minute. Therefore use His Revelation for every phase of life.

35. For Muslim men and women,- for believing men and women-(3718) for devout men and women, for true men and women, for men and women who are patient and constant, and for men and women who humble themselves, for men and women who give(3719) in Charity, for men and women who fast (and deny themselves), for men and women who guard their chastity, and for men and women who engage much in Allah's praise,—(3720) for them has Allah prepared forgiveness and great reward.

3718 Islam, or submitting our will to Allah's Will, includes all the virtues, as particularly specified in this verse. See n. 3720.

3719 A number of Muslim virtues are specified here, but the chief stress is laid on the fact that these virtues are as necessary to women as to men. Both sexes have spiritual as well as human rights and duties in an equal degree, and the future "reward" of the Hereafter, viz., Spiritual Bliss, is provided for the one as for the other.

3720 The virtues referred to are: (1) Faith, hope, and trust in Allah, and in His benevolent government of the world; (2) devotion and service in practical life; (3) love and practice of truth, in thought and intention, word and deed; (4) patience and constancy, in suffering and in right endeavour; (5) humility, the avoidance of an attitude of arrogance and superiority; (6) charity, i.e., to help to the poor and unfortunate ones in life, a special virtue arising out of the general duty of service (No. 2); (7) self-denial, typically in food, but generally in all appetites; (8) chastity, purity in sex life, purity in motive, thought, word, and deed; and (9) constant attention to Allah's Message, and cultivation of the desire to get nearer to Allah.

36. It is not fitting for a Believer, man or woman, when a matter has been decided by Allah and His Messenger to have any option about their decision:(3721) if any one disobeys Allah and His Messenger, he is indeed on a clearly wrong Path.

3721 We must not put our own wisdom in competition with Allah's wisdom. Allah's decree is often known to us by the logic of facts. We must accept it loyally, and do the best we can to help in our own way to carry it out. We must make our will consonant to Allah's Will, (8).

37. Behold! Thou didst say to one who had received the grace of Allah(3722) and thy favour: "Retain thou (in wedlock) thy wife, and fear Allah." But thou didst hide in thy heart(3723) that which Allah was about to make manifest: thou didst fear the people, but it is more fitting that thou shouldst(3724) fear Allah. Then when Zaid had dissolved (his marriage) with her, with the necessary(3725) (formality), We joined her in marriage to thee: in order that (in future) there may be no difficulty to the Believers in (the matter of) marriage with the wives(3726) of their adopted sons, when the latter have dissolved with the necessary (formality) (their marriage) with them. And Allah's command must be fulfilled.

3722 This was Zayd, son of Hazirah, one of the first to accept the faith of Islam. He was freedman of the Prophet, who loved him as a son and gave him in marriage to his own cousin Zaynab. The marriage however turned out unhappy. See next note.

3723 Zayd's marriage with the Prophet's cousin Zaynab, daughter of J abal, did not turn out happy. Zaynab the high-born looked down upon Zayd the freedman.

3724 When Zaid dissolved his marriage with her, with the necessary formality (their marriage) with her. And Allah's command must be fulfilled.

3725 Cf. 22:63 and n. 2844. Allah's understanding is perfect in every detail, however minute. Therefore you unravel for every phase of life.
who had been a slave. And he was not comely to look at. Born were good people in their own ways, and both loved the Prophet, but there was mutual incomparability, and this is fatal to married life. Zayd wished to divorce her, but the Prophet asked him to hold his hand, and he obeyed. She was closely related to the Prophet; he had given a handsome marriage gift on her marriage to Zayd; and people would certainly talk if such a marriage was broken off. But marriages are made on earth, not in heaven, and it is no part of Allah's Plan to torture people in a bond which should be a source of happiness but actually is a source of misery. Zayd wished indeed the mutual wish of the couple was for the time being put away, but it became eventually an established fact, and everybody came to know of it. (R).

3724 All actual facts are referred to Allah. When the marriage is unhappy, Islam permits the bond to be dissolved, provided that all interests concerned are safeguarded. Apparently there was no issue here to be considered. Zaynah had to be considered, and she obtained the dearest wish of her heart in being raised to be a Mother of the Believers, with all the dignity and responsibility of that position. See n. 3706 to 35/28 above.

3725 The Iddah or period of waiting after divorce (2:228, and n. 254) was duly completed.

3726 The Pagan superstition and taboo about adopted sons had to be destroyed. See 33:4-5 and notes 3671-3672 above.

38. There can be no difficulty to the Prophet in what Allah has indicated to him (3727) as a duty. It was the practice (approved) of Allah amongst those of old that have passed away, (3728) And the command of Allah is a decree determined. (3729)

3727 See n. 3724 above.

3728 The next clause is parenthetical. Those words then connect on with verse 39. Among the people of the Book there was no taboo about adopted sons, as there was in Pagan Arabia.

3729 Allah's ordering of the world is always full of wisdom. Even our unhappiness and misery may actually have a great meaning for ourselves or others or both. If our first Plan seems to fail, we must not murmur and repine, but retrieve the position by adopting a course which appears to be the best position in the light of our duties as indicated by Allah. For Allah's Plan is framed on universal principles that cannot be altered by human action.

39. (It is the practice of those) who preach the Messages of Allah, and fear Him, and fear none but Allah. And enough is Allah to call (men) to account. (3730)

3730 Our responsibility is to Allah, not to men. Men's opinions may have a bearing in our own interpretation of duty, but when that duty is clear, our only course is to obey Allah rather than men.

40. Muhammad is not the father of any of your men, but (he is) the Messenger of Allah, and the Seal of the Prophets: (3731) and Allah has full knowledge of all things.

3731 When a document is sealed, it is complete, and there can be no further addition. The Prophet Muhammad closed the long line of Messengers. Allah's teaching is and will always be continuous, but there has been and will be no Prophet after Muhammad. The later ages will want thinkers and reformers, not Prophets. This is not an arbitrary matter. It is a decreed full of knowledge and wisdom, 'for Allah has full knowledge of all things.'

41. O ye who believe! Celebrate the praises of Allah, and do this often;

42. And glorify Him morning and evening.

43. He it is Who sends blessings on you, as do His angels, that He may bring you out from the depths of Darkness into Light: and He is Full of Mercy to the Believers. (3733)

3732 Blessings: good wishes and mercies. Allah wishes well to all His creatures, and His angels carry out His work, for their will is in all things His Will. His chief and everlasting blessing is that He gives us a knowledge of the spiritual world, and helps us towards its attainment. For the symbolic meaning of Light and Darkness, see 21:33-45, and notes.

3733 His Mercies are for all His creatures, but for those who believe and trust in Him, there are special mercies, 'a generous Reward' as in the next verse.

44. Their salutation on the Day they meet Him will be "Peace!"; and He has prepared for them a generous Reward.

45. O Prophet! Truly We have sent thee as a Witness, a Bearer (3734) of Glad Tidings, and Warner,- 3734 The Prophet was sent by Allah in five capacities. Three are mentioned in this verse, and the other two in the verse following. (1) He comes as a Witness to all men about the spiritual truths which had been obscured by ignorance or superstition, or by the dust of sectarian controversy. He did not come to establish a new religion or sect. He came to teach Religion. He is also a witness to Allah about men's doings and how they receive Allah's Message; see 4:41 and n. 560. (2) He comes as a Bearer of the Glad Tidings of the Mercy of Allah. No matter how far men may have transgressed, they have hope if they believe, repent, and live a good life. (3) He also comes as a Warner to those who are heedless. This life will not last. There is a Future Life, and that is all-important. See next note.

46. And as one who invites to Allah's (grace) by His leave, (3735) and as a lamp spreading light.

3735 See last note. The two other capacities in which the Prophet was sent are here specified. (4) He comes as one who has a right to invite all men to repentance and the forgiveness of sins; but he does this, not of his own authority, but by the permission and authority given to him by Allah. This is said test people may deny the Prophet as they did with other Prophets before him. The personal responsibility of each individual remains, but the Prophet can lead him on to the Right and help him. (5) The Prophet also comes as a Light of a Lamp (Siraj) to illuminate the whole world. In 71:16 and elsewhere the same word (Siraj) is used for the sun. The comparison is apt. When the sun appears, all the lesser lights pale before his light. And the Message of Islam, i.e., of the Universal Religion, is to diffuse Light everywhere.

47. Then give the Glad Tidings to the Believers, that they shall have from Allah a very great Bounty. (3736)

3736 The light of Islam is the Biggest Bounty possible and if they truly understand it, they should glory in it.

48. And obey not (the behests) of the Unbelievers and the Hypocrites, and heed not their annoyances, (3737) but put thy Trust in Allah. For enough is Allah as a Disposer of affairs.

3737 Men of little or no Faith will often lay down the law and tell better men than themselves what to do. In case of refusal they shower insults and injuries. No attention is to be paid to them. It is their way. All will be right under the government of Allah.

49. O ye who believe! When ye marry believing women, and then divorce them before ye have touched them, no period of 'Iddah(3738) have ye to count in respect of them: so give them a present. (3739) And set them free in a handsome manner. (3740)

3738 See n. 254 to 2:228. The Iddah counts for three monthly courses, or if there are no courses, for three months (see 2:234 and 65:4).

3739 This present is held, some to be in addition to the half dowry due to them under 2:217. If the dowry had not been fixed, the gift would presumably be larger, and it would absorb the gift prescribed n 2:236.

3740 The gift should be given with good grace, and the freedom of the woman should not be interfered with in any way. If she chooses to marry again immediately, no obstacle should be placed in her path. On no pretext should she be allowed to remain doubtful about her freedom.

50. O Prophet! We have made lawful to thee(3741) thy wives to whom thou hast paid their dowers; (3742) and those whom thy right hand possesses out of the monies of war whom (3743) Allah has assigned to thee; and daughters of thy paternal uncles and aunts, and daughters of thy maternal uncles and aunts, who migrated (3744) (from Makka) with thee; and any believing woman who dedicates her soul to the Prophet(3745) if the Prophet wishes to wed her:- this only for thee, and not for the Believers (at large); We know what We have appointed for them as to(3746) their wives and the captives whom their right hands possess- in order that(3747) there should be no difficulty for thee. And Allah is Oft- Forgiving, Most Merciful.(3748)

3741 This introduces no new exemption or privilege. Verses 36-52 merely declare the points in which, on account of the special circumstances (see n. 3706 above), the Prophet's marriages differed from those of ordinary Muslims. This is considered under four heads, which we shall examine in the four notes following.

3742 Head 1. Marriage with divorcer (4:4): this is the universal Muslim marriage. The difference in the Prophet's case was that there was no limitation to the number of four (4:3), and women of the People of the Book (4:5) were not among his wives, but only Believers. These points are not expressly mentioned here, but are inferred by his actual practice. Obviously women who are expected to instruct other women in Islam must be Muslims.

3743 Head 2. Women Prisoners of War: the same remark as the last note. The point does not now arise, as the whole condition and incidents of war have been altered and slavery has been abolished by international agreement.

3744 Head 3. These are first cousins, and not within the Prohibited Degrees of Marriage (see 4:23-24). These are specially mentioned here by way of limitation. None of them could marry the Prophet unless she had performed the Hijrah with him. If she had not so performed it in spite of her close relationship, she could not be credited with any great fervour for Islam, or be considered suitable for instructing other women in Islam.

3745 Head 4. A believing woman who dedicates her soul to the Prophet: obviously this case, like the last, is only applicable to the Prophet, and is hedged around with the limitations that the Prophet considers it a suitable and proper case of true service to the community, and not merely a sentimental woman's freak. Some Commentators think there was no such case. But others, with whom I agree, think that this applies to Zaynab bint Khuzaymah, who had dedicated herself to the poor and was called the Mother of the Poor (Umm al miskin). Similarly, the last head might possibly refer to Zaynab bint Jahsh, who was a daughter of the Prophet's paternal aunt, herself a daughter of ’Abd al Mutallab.

3746 The ordinary law of Muslim marriage will be found chiefly in 2:221-235, 4:17-23, 4:34-35, and 5:5.

3748 Marriage is an important relationship not only in our physical life, but in our moral and spiritual life, and its effects extend not only to the parties themselves but to children and future generations. A number of special problems arise according to special circumstances. Every man and woman must seriously consider all sides of the question and must do the best in his or her power to temper instincts and inclinations with wisdom and guidance from Allah. Allah wishes to make every one's path easy, for He is indeed 'Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful'.

51. Thou mayest defer (the turn(3749) of) any of them that thou pleasest, and thou mayest receive any thou pleasest: and there is no blame on thee if thou invite one whose (turn)(3750) thou hadst set aside. This were nigher to the cooling of the eyes,(3751) the one whose (turn)(3750) thou hadst set aside. This difficulty for thee. And Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

52. It is not lawful for thee (to marry more) women(3754) after this, nor to change them for (other) wives, even though their beauty attract thee, except any thy right hand should possess (as handmaids); and Allah doth watch over all things.

3751 Cooling the eyes: an Arabic idiom for cheering and comforting eyes which yeant to see those they love. A verse of Zeb al Nisa', daughter of the Mughal Emperor Aurangzeb, may be rendered thus:

"My heart is glad whenever lover-wise I dwell upon thy beauties and thy grace! But how can I content my hungry eyes, That ask continually to see thy face?"

3752 There was not much in the way of worldly goods or satisfaction that the Prophet could give them: see 33:28 above. But he was kind, just, and true—she best of men to his family, and they all cling to him.

3753 Our human hearts, however good on the whole, may, yet in their motives, have possibly some baser admixture. The feminine hearts are not more immune in this respect than the masculine. But everything is known and understood by Allah, Who will in His Mercy make allowances for our human weaknesses. His title of 'Most Forgiving' (Nhilaf) also gives His devoted worshippers the cue: why should we not also forbear with the faults and weaknesses of our neighbours and fellow-creatures?

53. O ye who believe! Enter not the Prophet's houses,- until leave is given you,- (3755) for a meal, and (then) not (so early as) to wait for its preparation: but when ye are invited, enter; and when ye have taken your food, dismiss you, but Allah is not ashamed (to tell you) the truth. And when ye ask (his ladies) (3756) for anything ye want, ask them from before a screen: that ye are invited, enter; and when ye have taken your food, dismiss you, but Allah is not ashamed (to tell you) the truth. And when ye ask (his ladies) (3756) for anything ye want, ask them from before a screen: that makes for greater purity for your hearts and for theirs. Nor is it right for you(3757) that ye should annoy (3758) Allah's Messenger, or that ye should marry his widows after him at any time. Truly such a thing is in Allah's sight an enormity.

3754 This was revealed in A.H. 7. After that the Prophet did not marry again, except the handmaiden, Mary the Coit, who was sent as a present by the Christian Muqawqas of Egypt. She became the mother of Ibrahim, who died in his infancy.

3755 The rules of refined social ethics are as necessary to teach today as it was with the rude Arabs whom the Prophet had to teach in his day. Those mentioned in this verse may be briefly recapitulated thus: (1) Enter not a friend's house without permission; (2) if invited to dine, don't go too early; you are asked to dine, not to wait for the preparation of the food; (3) be there at the time appointed, so that you enter when you are expected and invited; (4) after the meal, don't get familiar with your host, especially if there is a great distance between him and you; (5) don't waste time in little-tattle, causing inconvenience and perhaps annoyance to your host; (6) understand what is proper behaviour for you, he may be too polite to ask you to depart. All this has a spiritual as well as a social bearing: respect and delicate consideration for others are among the highest virtues.

3756 The actual manner of showing respect to ladies may be different in different circumstances. But it is an essential principle of good society to show the greatest deference to them. To the 'Mothers of the Believers' this respect was due in an exceptional degree.

3757 Considering his position, the Prophet deserved to be respected before all other men and nothing should be done to cause him the least harm and annoyance. This applied not only during his lifetime, but it applies now, because his teaching and personality are alive to us. It was not fitting that his widows, both for their own position and for the position of the Prophet, should be married by other men after him. And this mark of respect was duly observed in history.

3758 'Ummy': Aisha may equally mean to vex, to cause hurt or injury, to insult by slander or unfair conduct, or hurt the feelings of (or to cause). The Prophet came with a divine mission to teach and reclaim the world, and he is entitled to the respect of all, even of those who do not consciously acknowledge his mission, for his mission works constantly like the forces of nature. In a minor degree the 'Mothers of the Believers' are also entitled to respect.
54. Whether ye reveal anything (3759) or conceal it, verily Allah has full knowledge of all things.

3759 Respect or opposition may be shown overtly or in devious hidden ways. All good and evil are open before Allah, and He will take due account of everything.

55. There is no blame (on these ladies if they appear) before their fathers (3760) or their sons, their brothers, or their brother’s sons, or their sisters’ sons, or their women, or the (slaves) whom their right hands possess. And, (ladies), fear Allah. for Allah is Witness to all things.

3760 This refers back to the Hijab (screen) portion of verse 53 above. The list of those before whom the Prophet's wives could appear informally without a screen is their fathers, sons, brothers, brothers 1 or sisters’ sons, serving women, and household slaves or servants. Commentators include uncles (paternal and maternal) under the heading of 'fathers'. Their women is held to mean all women who belonged to the Muslim community; other women were in the position of strangers, whom they received not so intimately, but with the formality of a screen as in the case of men. Compare with this list and the wording here the list and the wording in 24:31, which applies to all Muslim women. In the list here, husbands and husbands' relatives are not necessary to be mentioned, as we are speaking of a single household, that of the central figure in Islam, nor men-servants nor children, as there were none. In the wording note that for Muslim women generally, no screen or Hijab (Parliah) is mentioned, but only a veil to cover the bosom, and modesty in dress. The screen was a special feature of honour for the Prophet's household, introduced about five or six years before his death.

56. Allah and His angels send blessings on the Prophet:(3761) O ye that believe! Send ye blessings on him, and salute him with all respect.

3761 Allah and His angels honour and bless the Prophet as the greatest of men. We are asked to honour and bless him all the more because he took upon himself to suffer the sorrow and afflictions of this life in order to guide us to Allah's Mercy and the highest inner Life.

57. Those who annoy (3762) Allah and His Messenger - Allah has cursed them in this World and in the Hereafter, and has prepared for them a humiliating Punishment.

3762 Cf. n. 3758 above.

58. And those who annoy believing men and women undeservedly, bear (on themselves) (3763) a calumnny and a glaring sin.

3763 Cf. 4:112. In that passage we were told that anyone who was himself guilty but accused an innocent man of his guilt, was obviously placing himself in double jeopardy; first, for his own original guilt, and secondly for the guilt of a false accusation. Here we take two classes of men instead of two individuals. The men who annoy them, women or otherwise, are not taking upon themselves the responsibility of proving their charges. Instead of treating the preaching of Truth, they should welcome it and profit by it.

59. O Prophet! Tell thy wives and daughters, and the believing women, (3764) that they should cast their outer garments over (3765) their persons (when abroad): that is most convenient, that they should be known (3766) (as such) and not molested. And Allah is Oft-Forgiving, (3767) Most Merciful.

3764 This is for all Muslim women, those of the Prophet's household, as well as the others. They were asked to cover themselves with outer garments when walking around. (R).

3765 J. abib, plural Jalabib: an outer garment: a long gown covering the whole body, or a cloak covering the neck and bosom.

3766 The object was not to restrict the liberty of women but to protect them from harm and molestation. In the East and the West a distinctive public dress of some sort or another has always been a badge of honour or distinction, both among men and women. This can be traced back to the earliest civilisations. Assyrian Law in its palmiest days (say, 7th century B.C.), enjoined the veiling of married women and forbade the veiling of slaves and women of ill fame; see Cambridge Ancient History, III, 107.

3767 That is, if a Muslim woman sincerely tries to observe this rule, but owing to human weakness falls short of the ideal, then 'Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful' (C 24:30-31). (R).

60. Truly, if the Hypocrites, and those in whose hearts is a disease, and those who stir up sedition in the City,(3768) desist not, We shall certainly stir thee up against them: Then will they not be able to stay in it as thy neighbours for any length of time:

3768 It was necessary to put down all kinds of unseemly conduct in the Prophet's City. And here is the warning in the plainest terms. And the warning had its effect. The 'Hypocrites' were men who pretended to be in Islam but whose manners and morals were anti-Islamic. Those 'with diseased hearts' may have been the ones that molested innocent women. "Those who stirred up sedition" put false rumours in circulation to excite the crowd. Alas! we must ask ourselves the question: Are these conditions present among us today?""
"Our Lord! Give them double Penalty (3773) and curse them with a very great Curse!"

The people of Moses often vexed him and rebelled against him and against Allah's Law. Here the reference seems to be to Num. 12:1-15. It is there said that Moses's own sister Miriam and his brother Aaron spoke against Moses because Moses had married an Ethiopian woman. Allah cleared Moses of the charge of having done anything wrong: "My servant Moses is not so, who is faithful in all mine house." Miriam was afflicted with leprosy for seven days as a punishment, after which she was forgiven, as also was Aaron. This is the Old Testament story. The Prophet was also attacked because of his marriage with Zaynab bint Jahsh, but not by his own circle; his motives were of the highest and were completely vindicated as we have seen above.

O ye who believe! Be ye not like those who vexed and insulted Moses (3774) but Allah cleared him of the calumnies they had uttered: and he was honourable in Allah's sight.

O ye who believe! Fear Allah, and (always) say a word directed to the Right: (3775)

We must not only speak the truth as far as we know it, but we must always try to hit the right point; i.e., we must not speak unseasonably, and when we do speak, we must not beat about the bush, but go straight to that which is right, in deed as well as in word. Then Allah will make our conduct right and cure any defects that may be in our knowledge and character. With our endeavour directed straight to the goal, we shall be forgiven our errors, shortcomings, faults, and sins of the past.

That He may make your conduct whole and sound and forgive you your sins: He that obeys Allah and His word directed to the Right, (3776)

We did indeed offer the Trust (3777) to the Heavens and the Earth and the Mountains: (3778) but they refused (3779) to undertake it. (3780) being afraid thereof: but man undertook it;— (3781) He was indeed unjust (3782) and foolish;

The Trust is something given to a person, over which he has a power of disposition: he is expected to use it as directed or expected, but he has the power to use it otherwise. There is no trust if the trustee has no power, and the trust implies that the giver of the trust believes and expects that the trustee would use it according to the wish of the creator of the trust, and not otherwise.

What is the meaning of the offer of the Trust to the Heavens, the Earth, and the Mountains? (3781-3782) We may therefore take the Mountains, the Earth, and the Heavens as symbolical. The mountains stand for firmness and stability: they have been created for this quality, and they are always true to that quality. An earthquake or a volcano has to do with movements within the earth's crust: it has nothing to do with the Mountain's will. In fact it has no free will of any kind: there is no question of any Trust here. If we take the Earth as a whole, as a part of the solar system or a compendium of the terrestrial Nature we see around us, it obeys the fixed laws of Allah, and there is no Will or Trust. If we take the Heavens either as celestial space, or as symbolical of the Angels, they absolutely obey Allah's Will and law: they have no will of their own.

The Heavens, the Earth, and the Mountains, i.e., other creatures of Allah, besides man, refused to undertake a Trust or a responsibility, and may be imagined as happy without a choice of good or evil being given through their will. In saying that they refused, we imply a will, but we limit it by the statement that they did not undertake to be given a choice between good and evil. They preferred to submit their will entirely to Allah's Will, which is All-Wise and Perfect, and which would give them far more happiness than a faculty of choice, with their imperfect knowledge. Man was too audacious and ignorant to realise this, and the result has been that man as a race has been disrupted: the evil ones have betrayed the trust and brought Punishment on themselves, though the good have been able to rise far above other Creation, to be among the magnificatins, the nearest ones to Allah: 56:11 and 56:88. What can be higher than this for any creature?

It follows incidentally from this that the Heavens and the Earth were created before man was created, and this is in accordance with what we know of the physical world in science; man came on the scene at a comparatively late stage.

Hunadi: to undertake, bear (the Trust or responsibility), to be equal to it. This is the ordinary meaning, and the majority of Commentators construe so. But some understand it to mean 'to carry away, run away with, to embezzle (the thing entrusted); hence to be false to the Trust, to betray the Trust.' In that case the sense of verses 72-73 would be: 'Allah offered the Trust to other creatures, but they refused, lest they should betray it, being afraid from that point of view; but man was less fair to himself: in his ignorance he accepted and betrayed the trust, and the result is that some of his race became hypocrites, Unbelievers and were punished, though others were faithful to the Trust and received Allah's Mercy.' The resulting conclusion is the same under both interpretations.

That man should undertake the God-like attributes (in however small a degree) of Will, Forbearance, Love, and Mercy, brought him nearer to Allah than was possible for any other creature of Allah. This was part of Allah's Will and Plan, but little did man realise then what a tremendous task he was undertaking or question himself whether he would be equal to it. Zulmau translated 'unjust' (translated 'ignorant') and 'ignorant' are both in the Arabic intensive form; as much as to say, 'man signal' failed to measure his own powers or his own knowledge'. But Allah's Grace came to his assistance. Where man did his best, he won through by Allah's Grace, even though man's Best was but a poor Good.

How did man generically undertake this great Responsibility, which made him Viceregent of Allah (3781)? Here comes in the mystic doctrine of a Covenant, expressed or implied, between Allah and Humanity. See 7:172-73 and notes 1146-1148, also 5:1 and n. 682. A Covenant (Mithaq) necessarily implies Trust, and its breach necessarily implies Punishment.

(With the result) that Allah has to punish (3783) the Hypocrites, men and women, and the Unbelievers, men and women, and Allah turns in Mercy to the Believers, (3784) men and women: for Allah is Most-Forgiving, Most Merciful.
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Praise be to Allah,(3785) to Whom belong all things in the heavens and on earth: to Him be Praise in the Hereafter: and He is Full of Wisdom, acquainted with all things.

3782 All Creation declares His Praises, i.e., manifests His Mercy and Power, Goodness and Truth—all the sublime attributes summed up in His Most Beautiful Names (7:180 and 17:110 and notes). For man, to contemplate these is in itself a Revelation. This sentiment opens five Surahs of the Qur'an evenly distributed, viz., 1, 6, 18, 34, and 35. Here the point most emphasised is that His wisdom and mercy comprehend all things, extended in space or in time—here and everywhere, now and evermore. (R).

2. He knows all that goes(3786) into the earth, and all that comes out thereof; all that comes down from the sky(3787) and all that ascends thereto and He is the Most Merciful, the Oft-Forgiving.

3786 An ignorant man may think that water absorbed in the soil or seed sown beneath the soil is lost, but it replenishes numerous rills and streams, and feeds and sustains numerous roots and forms of life, and throws up all kinds of vegetable life. So with things that come out of the earth who can count the myriad forms of herbs and trees that grow and perish, and yet sustain a continuous life for ages and ages? Yet these are symbolic of other things or entities beyond time or space, and beyond physical form. We see the birth and death of the animal part of man when he is buried beneath the soil, the ignorant man thinks there is an end of him. But what countless stages still lie before him for his inner and spiritual life? And so with the Platonic Forms of Things: Goodness, Virtue, Mercy, and the various functions of the soul. They are never lost, but go up to Allah.

3787 The vapours that rise from the earth and ascend to the sky descend again as rain and snow and as symbols of Allah's Mercy. So are the prayers of the devout man: when he is buried beneath the soil, the ignorant man thinks there is an end of him, but must not only suffer defeat, but go farther and farther from Realities and thus suffer the worst hallucinations about the spiritual world.

3. The Unbelievers say,(3788) "Never to us will come the Hour": Say, "Nay! but most surely, by my Lord,(3789) it will come upon you,—by Him Who knows the unseen,—from Whom is not hidden the least little atom in the heavens or on earth: Nor is there anything less than that, or greater, but is in the Record Perspicuous:(3790)

3788 This is a taunt against the Prophet, and it is applicable to all who preach the doctrine of a Future Life. How is it possible, say the Unbelievers, that when a man's body is reduced to dust and scattered about, the man should rise again and become a new Creation? They add that such a preacher is inventing a deliberate falsehood or is demented.

3789 The Unbelievers say (in ridicule): "Shall we point out to you a man(3794) that will tell you, when ye are all scattered to pieces in disintegration, that ye shall (then be raised) in a New Creation?

3790 "Has he invented a falsehood against Allah, or has a spirit (seized) him?"—(3795) Nay, it is those who believe not in the Hereafter, that are in (real) Penalty, and in farthest error.

4. That He may reward those who believe and work deeds of righteousness: for such is Forgiveness and a Sustenance(3791) Most Generous."

3791 Sustenance, Spiritual in things spiritual, and physical in things physical. It implies not only the satisfaction of desire, but the provision of means for sustaining the ground won and for winning more ground in the march of progress.

5. But those who strive against Our Signs, to frustrate(3792) them,—for such will be a Penalty,—a Punishment most humiliating.

3792 Cf. 2:251. Allah’s Plan cannot be frustrated. It is those who work against it, who will be eliminated and destroyed.

6. And those to whom(3793) knowledge has come see that the (Revelation) sent down to thee from thy Lord - that is the Truth, and that it guides to the Path of the Exalted (in might), Worthy of all praise.

3793 Against the doubts and vain imaginings of the Ignorant is the certainty of knowledge of the Exalted (in might), that He is the One True God who neither needs nor stands in need of any intermediary. (R).

7. The Unbelievers say (in ridicule): "Shall we point out to you a man(3794) that will tell you, when ye are all scattered to pieces in disintegration, that ye shall (then be raised) in a New Creation?

3794 Against the doubts and vain imaginings of the Ignorant is the certainty of knowledge of the Exalted (in might), that He is the One True God who neither needs nor stands in need of any intermediary. (R).

8. "Has he invented a falsehood against Allah, or has a spirit (seized) him?"—(3795) Nay, it is those who believe not in the Hereafter, that are in (real) Penalty, and in farthest error.

3795 The answer is: the Future Life is the trust of all Truths; so far is the man who teaches it from being demented, that it is those who deny it, that lack knowledge and are in real jeopardy for their souls; for they persecute Truth and must not only suffer defeat, but go farther and farther from Realities and thus suffer the worst hallucinations about the spiritual world.

9. See they not what is before them and behind them, of the sky and the earth?(3796) If We wished, We could cause the earth to swallow(3797) them up, or cause a piece of the sky to fall upon them.(3798) Verily in this is a Sign for every devoutee that turns to Allah (in repentance).

3796 The men who walk in spiritual darkness and laugh at a Hereafter have but to observe the Power of Allah in the nature around them. He Who created the heavens and the earth sustains them can surely make a new Creation! And the cosmic Laws which are so just and inevitable should surely give them an idea of the inexorable Justice that must redress all balance.

3797 Cf. 16:45 , and n. 2071. Who are these puny creatures—sceptics that question the might and majesty of Allah?

3798 Cf. 26:187, this was actually a challenge hurled at Shu'ayb and a shower of ashes and cinders came from above and overwhelmed the challengers!
11. (Commanding), “Make thou coast of mail, balancing well (3801) the rings of chain armour, and work ye righteousness (3802) for be sure I see (clearly) all that ye do.”

9001 Coats of chain armour have to be made with cunning art, if the chains are to fit into each other and the whole garment is to be worn in comfort in fierce warfare.

9002 Note the transition from the singular, ‘make them coats of mail’, to the plural ‘and work ye righteousness’. The first is addressed to David, who was the artificer of defensive armour; and the second is addressed to him and his whole people. He made the armour, but it was to be worn not only by him but all the warriors. But he and his people were to be careful to see that they did not deviate from the paths of righteousness. Fighting is a dangerous weapon and may well degenerate if it is often done into mere violence. They were to see that this should not happen, and they were told that Allah was watching over them all with personal solicitude implied in the singular pronoun ‘I’.

12. And to Solomon (We made) the Wind (obedient): (3803) Its early morning (stride) was a month’s (journey); and We made a Font (3804) of molten brass to flow for him; and there were Jinns (obedient): Its early morning (stride) was a month’s (journey); and We made a Font (3804) of molten brass to flow for him; and there were Jinns (obedient) whose evening (stride) was a Blazing Fire.

9003 Cf. 21:81-82, n. 2736; and 38:36-38, See also 27:38-39. The winds are swift and can cover in a short morning’s or evening’s flight the distance it takes a whole month to cover on foot or by bullock cart. In our own day, with air speeds of 400 miles and more per hour, this seems a moderate statement.

9004 In the Old Testament, 2 Chronicles, Chapters 3, and 4, are described the various costly materials with which Solomon’s Temple was built, and it was furnished with vessels, candlesticks, lamps, censers, etc. Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of the brass could not be found out” (2 Chronicles, 4:30). “Also he made a molten sea oft cubic from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubits the height thereof; and a line of thirty cubits did compass it round about” (2 Chronicles, 4:2). The receptacle or ‘sea’ or Font was made of molten brass presumably it contained flowing water for washing with.

9005 See 27:17, and n. 3257. (R).

13. They worked for him as he desired, (making) Arches (3806) images, basons as large as reservoirs, and (cooking) cauldrons fixed (in their places): “Work ye, (3807) sons of David, with thanks! but few of My servants are grateful!”

9006 Mihrab (plural Makhrab), translated ‘arch’, may be applied to any fine, elevated, spacious architectural structure. As the reference here is to the Temple of Solomon, the word ‘arches’ is I think most appropriate. ‘Arches’ would be structure Ornaments in the Temple. Images would be like the images of even and Cherubim mentioned in 2 Chronicles, 4:3 and 3:14; the Basins 2 Chronicles 4:22 were perhaps huge dishes round which many men could sit together and eat, according to ancient Eastern custom, while the cooking Cauldrons or Pots (2 Chronicles, 4:10) were fixed in one place, being so large in capacity that they could not be moved about. (R).

9007 The building of the Temple was a great event in Israelite history. The motto here given is “Work!”: for only that would justify the maintenance of the Kingdom of David, which reached its zenith under Solomon. Without work, both literally, and figuratively for “righteous deeds”, all that glory and power would be out of place, and it fell away in a few generations, with the decline of the moral spirit which was at its back.

14. Then, when We decreed (Solomon’s) death, nothing showed them his death except a little of the earth, which kept (slowly) gnawing away at his staff: so when he fell down, the Jinns saw (3809) plainly that if they had known the unseen, they would not have tarried in the humiliating Penalty (of their Task).

9008 This allegory illustrates three points: (1) however great and glorious human power and grandeur may be, it is only for a time, and it may fade away even before people know of its decline; (2) the most remarkable events may be brought to light, not by a flourish of trumpets, but by a humble individual, unknown and unseen, who works unobtrusively, even so strong a work as a staff, on which a great man may lean; (3) work done by men merely on the basis of brute strength or fear, as in the case of the Jinns, will not endure. This is brought up in strong contrast against the Power and Majesty of Allah, which will endure, which cannot be sapped, and which can only be fully appreciated by a training of the will and heart. In the same way, in David’s story above, his mighty strength as a warrior, (see 2:251), and his skill in making armour are only to be valued when used, as it was used, in the service of Allah, in righteous works (34:11).

9009 The Jinns looked upon their work as a Penalty, and so it became to them. The people who worked at the Temple of Solomon as the People of David worked and gloried in their work as a thanksgiving to Allah, and their work became sanctified. The Jinns knew nothing of hidden secrets; they only saw the obvious, and had not even the significance of the little worm that slowly gnawed away Solomon’s staff.

15. There was, for Saba’, (3810) aforetime, a Sign in their home-land - two Gardens to the right and to the left. “Eat of the Sustenance (provided) by your Lord, and be grateful to Him: a territory fair and happy, and a Lord Off-Forgiving (3811)

9010 This is the same city and territory in Yemen as is mentioned in 27:22: see note there as to its location. There the period was the time of Solomon and Queen Bekas. Here it is some centuries later. It was still a happy and prosperous country, amply irrigated from the Ma‘arib dam, its roads perhaps its canals, were skirted by gardens on both sides, right and left at any given point you always saw two gardens. It produced fruit, spices, and frankincense, and got the name of Araby the Blest for that part of the country.

9011 The land was fair to look upon: the people happy and prosperous: and they enjoyed the blessings of Allah. Who is Gracious and does not punish small human faults or weaknesses.

16. But they turned away (from Allah, and We sent against them the Flood (3812) (released) from the Dams, (3813) and We converted their two garden (rows) into “gardens” producing bitter fruit, and tamarisks, and some few (stunted) Lote-trees. (3814)

9012 Into that happy Garden of Eden in Arabia Felix (Araby the Blest) came the insidious snake of Unaith and Wounding. Perhaps the people became arrogant of their prosperity, or of their science, or of their skill in irrigation engineering, in respect of the wonderful works of the Dam which their ancestors had constructed. Perhaps they got broken up into rich and poor, privileged and unprivileged, high-caste and low-caste, disregarding the gifts and closing the opportunities given by Allah to all His creatures. Perhaps they broke the laws of the very Nature which fed and sustained them. The Nemesis came. It may have come suddenly, or it may have come slowly. The pent-up waters of the eastern side of the Yemen highlands were collected in a high lake confined by the Dam of Ma‘arib. A mighty flood came: the dam burst and it has never been repaired since. This was a spectacular crisis it may have been preceded and followed by slow desiccation of the country.

9013 “Arim” (= Dams or Embankments) may have been a proper noun, or may simply mean the great earthworks lined with stone, which formed the Ma‘arib dam, of which traces still exist. The French traveller TJ. Arnaud saw the town and ruins of the Dam of Ma‘arib in 1843, and described its gigantic works and its inscriptions: See Journal Asiatique for January 1847: the account is in French. For a secondary account in English, see W.B. Harris, Journey Through Yemen, Edinburgh, 1893. The dam as measured by Arnaud was two miles long and 120 ft. high. The date of its destruction was somewhere about 120 A.C., though some authorities put it much later.

9014 The flourishing “Garden of Arabia” was converted into a waste. The boskun fruit trees became wild, or gave place to wild plants with bitter fruit. The feathered leaved tamarisk, which is only good for twigs and wattle-work, replaced the fragrant plants and flowers. Wild and stunted kinds of thorny bushes, like the wild olive tree, which was good for neither fruit nor shade, grew in place of the pomegranates, the date palms, and the grapevines. The lote tree belongs to the family Rhamnaceac, Zizyphus Spinosa Christi, of which (it is supposed) Christ's crown of thorns was made, allied to the Zizyphus Jujuba, or bettree of India. Wild, it is shrubly, thorny and useless. In cultivation it bears good fruit, and some shade, and can be thorny, thus becoming a symbol of heavenly bliss: 36:28.

17. That was the Requital We gave them because they ungratefully rejected Faith:(3815) and never do We give (such) requital except to such as are ungrateful rejecters.

18. Between them and the Cities(3816) on which We had poured our blessings, We had placed Cities in prominent positions, and between them We had appointed stages of journey in due proportion: "Travel therein, secure, by night and by day."

21. But he had no authority over them,- except that We might test the man who(3821) believes in the Hereafter from him who is in doubt concerning it: and thy Lord doth watch over all things.

22. Say: "Call upon other (gods)(3822) whom ye fancy, besides Allah. They have no power,- not the weight of an atom,- in the heavens or on earth:(3823) No (sort of) share have they therein, nor is any of them a helper to Allah.

23. "No intercession can avail in His Presence, except for those(3824) for whom He has granted permission. So far (is this the case) that, when terror is removed from their hearts(3825) (at the Day of Judgment, then) will they say, 'what is it that your Lord commanded?' (3826) they will say, 'That which is true and just; and He is the Most High Most Great .'

24. Say: "Who gives you(3827) sustenance, from the heavens and the earth?" Say: "It is Allah. and certain it is that either we or ye(3828) are on right guidance or in manifest error!"

25. Say: "Ye shall not be questioned as to our sins,(3829) nor shall we be questioned as to what ye do."
26. Say: "Our Lord will gather us together and will in the end decide the matter between us (and you) in truth and justice: (3830) and He is the one to decide, the One Who knows all."

27. Say: "Show me those whom ye have joined with Him as partners: by no means (can ye). Nay, He is Allah, (3831) the Exalted in Power, the Wise."

28. We have not sent thee but as a universal (Messenger) (3832) to men, giving them glad tidings, and warning them (against sin), but most men understand not.

29. They say: "When will this promise (come to pass) if ye are telling the truth?"

30. Say: "The appointment to you is for a Day, which ye cannot put back for an hour (3833) nor put forward."

31. The Unbelievers say: "We shall neither believe in this scripture nor in (any) that (came) before it. (3834) Couldst thou but see when the wrong-doers will be made to stand before their Lord, throwing back the word (of blame) (3835) on one another! Those who had been despised will say to the arrogant ones: (3836) "Had it not been for you, we should certainly have been believers!"

32. The arrogant ones will say to those who had been despised: "Was it we who kept you back from Guidance after it reached you? Nay, rather, it was ye who transgressed. (3837)

33. Those who had been despised will say to the arrogant ones: "Nay! it was a plot (of yours) by day and by night: (3838) Behold! Ye (constantly) ordered us to be ungrateful to Allah and to attribute equals to Him! (3839) They will declare (their) repentance (3840) when they see the Penalty: We shall put yokes on the necks of the Unbelievers: It would only be a requital for their (ill) Deeds.

34. Never did We send a Warner to a population, but the wealthy ones among them (3841) said: "We believe not in the (Message) with which ye have been sent."

35. They said: "We have more in wealth and in sons, (3842) and we cannot be punished."

36. Say: "Verily my Lord enlarges and restricts the Provision (3843) to whom He pleases, but most men understand not."

37. It is not your wealth nor your sons, that will bring you nearer to Us (3844) in degree: but only those who believe and work righteousness - these are the ones for whom there is a multiplied Reward (3845) for their deeds, while secure they (reside) in the dwellings on high (3846).

38. In the mutual reproaches between the misleaders and the misled ones, there will be a grain of truth on both sides, and yet both were guilty in not realising their own personal responsibility.

39. All worldly goods are but a shadow that will pass away. Its intrinsic value is small and its intrinsic distribution is in accordance with the Universal Plan and Purpose, which is All-Wise and All-Good, but ignorant people cannot understand this (Cf. n. 3794).
38. Those who strive against Our Signs, to frustrate them,(3847) will be given over into Punishment.

3847 CE 34:5, where the argument was urged that human efforts to defeat Allah's Plan will only bring humiliation to those who indulge in them. Here the argument is rounded off by the statement that such efforts, besides their failures, will land them in an abyss of punishment contrasted with the 'dwellings on high' of the blessed ones.

39. Say: "Verily my Lord enlarges and restricts the Sustenance(3848) to such of his servants as He pleases: and nothing do ye spend in the least (in His cause) but He replaces it: for He is(3849) the Best of those who grant Sustenance.

3848 CE 34:36, above, and n. 3843.

3849 Even in the seeming inequality of distribution of the good things of life, Allah has a wise and merciful purpose: for nothing arises by chance. He is the best to give us, now and evermore, just those things which subserve our real needs and advance our inner development.

40. One Day He will gather them all together, and say to the angels,(3850) "Was it you that these men used to worship?"

3850 Here we have the case of the worship of angels or supposed Powers of Allah, or supposed beneficent spirits that men turn to instead of worshipping the true God. In fact these are mere names to the false worshippers. It is not the Good that they worship but the Evil, which leads them astray.

41. They will say, "Glory to Thee! our (tie) is with Thee - as Protector(3851) - not with them. Nay, but they worshipped the Jinns:(3852) most of them believed in them."

3851 Walt in Arabic may mean Friend either in the sense of Protector and Benefactor or in the sense of the Beloved. The tie of benevolence, confidence, and friendship is implied, either active or passive. The angels first proclaim their dependence on Allah and their need of His protection, and then disclaim any idea of their having protected or encouraged the false worshippers to worship beings other than Allah. They go further, and suggest that when men pretended to worship angels, they worshipped not angels, but Jinns. See next note.

3852 Jinns see 6:100 and n. 929. The false worshippers pretended to worship the bright and radiant angels of good, but in reality worshipped the dark and hidden forces of evil the devils hidden within themselves or in the life around them. They trusted and believed in such forces of evil, although such forces of evil had really no power.

42. So on that Day no power shall they have over each other, for profit or harm: and We shall say to the wrong-doers, "Taste ye the Penalty(3853) of the Fire,- the which ye were wont to deny!"

3853 The supposed 'rivals' of Allah—the false things wherein men set their hopes and fears—will have no power whatever when true values are restored; and the Fire—the Penalty which they doubted or derided, will become the dominating thing in their experience (Cf. 35:13-14).

43. When Our Clear Signs are rehearsed to them, they say, "This is only a man who wishes to hinder you from the (worship)(3854) which your fathers practised." And they say, "This is only a falsehood invented!" and the Unbelievers say of the Truth when it comes to them, "This is nothing but evident magic!"

3854 Apart from the worship of Evil in the guise of the Powers of Light, there is another form of false worship, which depends on ancestral tradition. 'Why? it is said 'Should we not do as our fathers did?' They reject a new prophet of Truth simply because his teaching does not agree with the ways of their ancestors. The answer to this is given in verse 44 below. But meanwhile the rejectors' objection to new Truth is stated in three forms: (1) our ancestors knew nothing of this; (2) The story of inspiration is false; it is merely an invention; we do not believe in inspiration; (3) when in some particular points, the new Truth does work wonders in men's hearts, they account for it by saying it is magic. The third objection is merely traditional. What is magic? If it is merely deception by the fact that the Messenger who comes with new spiritual Truth is acknowledged to be truthful in other relations of life: why should he be false where his preaching brings him no gain but much sorrow and persecution? For the ancestral objection see next note.

44. But We had not given them Books which they could study, nor sent messengers(3855) to them before thee as Warners.

3855 The ancestors (as in the case of the Arabs of the Times of Ignorance) had received no revelation of the clear kind which a messenger and a Book bring them. This is a reason for welcoming, not for rejecting, new Truth.

45. And their predecessors rejected (the Truth); these have not received a tenth of what We had granted(3856) to those: yet when they rejected My messengers, how (terrible) was My rejection (of them)!

3856 Passing to Peoples before the immediate ancestors, the People of the Book, or the People of Saba' and 'Ad and Thamoud, had received favours and gifts, power and wealth, ten times more than were enjoyed by the Pagan Quraysh. Yet when they turned away from them, and what terrible consequences descended on them when they lost Allah's Grace! This should make everyone humble, not least the posterity of Muhammad the Messenger if they forsake Allah's Truths! For they have received a higher Teaching!

46. Say: "I do admonish you on one point: that ye do stand up before Allah,- (It may be) in pairs,(3857) or (it may be) singly,- and reflect (within yourselves): your Companion is not(3858) possessed: he is no less than a warner to you, in face of a terrible Penalty."

3857 A crowd mentality is not the best for the perception of the final spiritual truth. For these, it is necessary that each soul should commune within itself with earnest sincerity as before Allah. If it requires a Teacher, let it seek out one, or it may be that it wants the strengthening of the inner convictions that dawn on it, by the support of a sympathiser or friend. But careful and heartfelt reflection is necessary to appraise the higher Truths.

3858 Note that in verses 46, 47, 48, 49 and 50, arguments are suggested to the Prophet, by which he can convince any right-thinking man of his sincerity and truth. Here the argument is that he is not possessed or out of his mind. If he is different from ordinary men, it is because he had to give a warning of a terrible spiritual danger to the men whom he loves but who will not understand his Message.

47. Say: "No reward do I ask of you: it is (all) in your interest: my reward(3859) is only due from Allah. And He is witness to all things."

3859 CE 10:72. The second argument is that he has nothing to gain from them. His message is for their own good. He is willing to suffer persecution and insult, because he has to fulfill his mission from Allah.

48. Say: "Verily my Lord doth cast the (mantle of) Truth (over His servants),(3860) He that has full knowledge of (all) that is hidden."

3860 Allah's Truth is so vast that no man in this life can compass the whole of it. But Allah in His mercy selects His servants on whom it cast like a mantle. They are so honest as to be able to teach their fellow men. It is through that mantle that man received from Allah that a messenger can speak with authority to men. He cannot explain the exact mystery of inspiration, but he knows it is from Allah, and this is his third argument.

49. Say: "The Truth has arrived, and Falsehood neither creates(3861) anything new, nor restores anything."

3861 The fourth argument is that the Truth is final: it does not come and go: it creates new situations and new developments, and if by chance it seems to be defeated for a time, it comes back and restores the true balance rather than Falsehood, which by its very nature is doomed to perish: 17:81. The Prophet's credentials are known by the test of Time. This was already becoming apparent to discerning eyes when this Surah was revealed in Makkah, but it became clear to the whole world with the story of Islam's progress in Madinah.

50. Say: "If I am astray, I only stray to the loss of my own soul: but if I receive guidance, it is(3862) because of the inspiration of my Lord to me: it is He Who hears all things, and is (ever) near."

3862 If it could possibly be supposed that the Prophet was a self-deceived visionary, it would affect him only, and could not fail to appear in his personality. But in fact he was steady in his constancy and Faith, and he not only went from strength to strength, but won the enduring and wholehearted love and devotion of his nearest and dearest and of those who came into contact with him. How was this possible, unless he had the Truth and the inspiration of Allah behind him? This is the fifth and last argument in this passage.

51. If thou couldst but see when they will quake with terror; but then there will be no escape (3863) (for them), and they will be seized from a position (quite) near.

3863 After the arguments for the reality and triumph of Truth, we are asked to contemplate the position of the opposers of Truth when Truth is established. They will be struck with terror: For Truth is all-compelling. They will wish they could get away from that position, but that would be impossible. They will not be able to move far; they will be held fast to the consequences of their own earlier conduct. They will be caught quite close to the point of their departure from Truth.

52. And they will say, "We do believe (now) in the (Truth)"; but how (3864) could they receive (Faith) from a position (so far off),- 3864 They will now profess their faith in Truth, but of what value will such a profession be? Faith is a belief in things unseen; now everything is plain and open before them. The position in which they could have received Faith is left far off behind them, when Truth was struggling and asked for help or asylum, and they cruelly, arrogantly, insultingly repudiated Truth.

53. Seeing that they did reject Faith (entirely) before, and that they (continually) cast (3865) (slanders) on the unseen from a position far off?

3865 Not only did they reject the Truth of the Unseen (the true Reality), but they spread all sorts of false and malicious insinuations at the preachers of Truth, calling them dishonest men, liars, hypocrites, and so on. They did it like a coward taking up a sneaking position far from the fight and speeding arrows at a distant target.

54. And between them and their desires, is placed a barrier, (3866) as was done in the past with their partisans: (3867) for they were indeed in suspicious (disquieting) doubt. (3868)

3866 What they desire is to suppress Truth and to indulge in the satisfaction of their own evil, selfish motives. They will be hankered in both, and that itself will be their anguish and punishment. That had always been the law in the eternal struggle between Right and Wrong. Cf. Shakespeare, (Troilus and Cressida, i. 3. 116). "Right and wrong. Between whose endless jar justice resides." All partisans of such cliques have always suffered the same fate.

3867 Note that verses 51-54 are a powerful description of the conflict between right and wrong, and may be understood in many meanings. (1) The description applies to the position in the final Hereafter, as compared with the position in this life. (2) It applies to the position of triumphant Islam in Madinah and later, as compared with the position of persecuted Islam in its early days in Makkah. (3) It applies to the reversal of the position of right and wrong at various phases of the world's history, or of (4) individual history.

3868 Cf. 14:9, and see n. 1884.

35. Fatir (The Originator or Creation)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

I. Praise be to Allah, (3869) Who created (out of nothing) (3870) the heavens and the earth, Who made the angels, (3871) messengers with wings,- two, or three, or four (pairs): He adds to Creation (3872) as He pleases: for Allah has power over all things.

3869 See n. 3785 to 34:1. When we praise Allah, it means that we understand and bring to mind that His glory and power are exercised for the good of His Creation, and this is the subject matter of the Surah.

3870 As man's knowledge of the processes of nature advances, he sees how complex is the evolution of matter itself, leaving out the question of Life and the spiritual forces, which are beyond the ken of experimental science. But this knowledge itself becomes a sort of "veil of Light"; man becomes so conscious of spiritual forces, which are beyond the ken of experimental science. But this knowledge brings with it the realization of the "foundation of light" (3864), wherein the unseen from a position far off? 3865 3865 3865 3865 and that they (continually) cast (3865) (slanders) on the unseen from a position far off? 3865 Not only did they reject the Truth of the Unseen (the true Reality), but they spread all sorts of false and malicious insinuations at the preachers of Truth, calling them dishonest men, liars, hypocrites, and so on. They did it like a coward taking up a sneaking position far from the fight and speeding arrows at a distant target. 3866 What they desire is to suppress Truth and to indulge in the satisfaction of their own evil, selfish motives. They will be hankered in both, and that itself will be their anguish and punishment. That had always been the law in the eternal struggle between Right and Wrong. Cf. Shakespeare, (Troilus and Cressida, i. 3. 116). "Right and wrong. Between whose endless jar justice resides." All partisans of such cliques have always suffered the same fate. 3867 Note that verses 51-54 are a powerful description of the conflict between right and wrong, and may be understood in many meanings. (1) The description applies to the position in the final Hereafter, as compared with the position in this life. (2) It applies to the position of triumphant Islam in Madinah and later, as compared with the position of persecuted Islam in its early days in Makkah. (3) It applies to the reversal of the position of right and wrong at various phases of the world's history, or of (4) individual history. 3868 Cf. 14:9, and see n. 1884.

3871 They will now profess their faith in Truth, but of what value will such a profession be? Faith is a belief in things unseen; now everything is plain and open before them. The position in which they could have received Faith is left far off behind them, when Truth was struggling and asked for help or asylum, and they cruelly, arrogantly, insultingly repudiated Truth.

3872 As the description of the creative processes is referred to, Allah's creation did not stop at some past time: it continues, for He has all power, and His mercies are ever poured forth without stint.

3873 See n. 3870 above, where the complexities of the creative processes is referred to. Allah's creation did not stop at some past time: it continues, for He has all power, and His mercies are ever poured forth without stint.

2. What Allah out of his Mercy doth bestow on mankind there is none can withhold: what He doth withhold, there is none can grant, (3873) apart from Him: and He is the Exalted in Power, full of Wisdom.

3874 As Allah is the Creator and Sustainer of all beings and things, so does His Kindness extend to all Creatures. No one can intercept Allah's mercies and gifts. Whatever is His Will and Plan and Purpose He can and does carry out. And if from any creature He withholds any particular gifts, there is no other person or power that can give those gifts. But such withholding is not arbitrary. He is full of wisdom and goodness, and every act of His, whether He withholds or gives, is full of kindness and mercy to His creatures.

3. O men! Call to mind the grace of Allah unto you! is there a creator, other (3874) than Allah, to give you sustenance from heaven or earth? There is no god but He: how then are ye deluded away from the Truth?
4. And if they reject thee, so were messengers rejected (3875) before thee: to Allah back for decision all affairs.

5. O men! Certainly the promise of Allah (3876) is true. Let not then this present life deceive you, (3877) nor let the Chief Deceiver deceive you about Allah.

6. Verily Satan is an enemy to you: so treat him (3878) as an enemy. He only invites his adherents, that they may become Companions of the Blazing Fire.

7. For those who reject Allah, (3879) is a terrible Penalty: but for those who believe and work righteous deeds, is Forgiveness, and a magnificent Reward.

8. Is he, then, to whom the evil of his conduct is made alluring, so that he looks upon it (3880) as good, (equal to one who is rightly guided)? For Allah leaves to stray whom He wills, and guides whom He wills. So let not thy soul go out in (vainly) sighing after them: let not thy soul be void (of result).

9. It is Allah Who sends forth the Winds, so that they raise up the Clouds, (3881) and We drive them to a far-off ocean, and clouds are formed; winds arise; it is really Allah's Providence that drives it to the dead land; the rain falls, and behold! mere is life and motion and beauty everywhere! So in the spiritual world, Allah's Revelation is His Mercy and His Rain; there may be the individual resurrection (Nislah) or unfolding of a soul. (2) So again, may be the general Resurrection (Nislah), the unfolding of a new World in the Hereafter, out of an old World that is folded up and dead (Takwir, S. 81).

10. If any do seek for glory and power, (3882) to Allah belong all glory and power. To Him mount up (all) Words of Purity: It is He Who exalts each Deed of Righteousness. Those that lay Plots (3883) of Evil, for them is a Penalty terrible; and the plotting of such will be void (of result).

11. And Allah did create (3884) you from dust; then from a sperm-drop; then (3885) He made you in pairs. And (3886) He raised up the Clouds, and We drive them to a far-off ocean, and clouds are formed; winds arise; it is really Allah's Providence that drives it to the dead land; the rain falls, and behold! mere is life and motion and beauty everywhere! So in the spiritual world, Allah's Revelation is His Mercy and His Rain; there may be the individual resurrection (Nislah) or unfolding of a soul. (2) So again, may be the general Resurrection (Nislah), the unfolding of a new World in the Hereafter, out of an old World that is folded up and dead (Takwir, S. 81).

12. Nor are the two bodies (3888) of flowing water alike,-the one palatable, sweet, and pleasant to drink, and the other, salt and bitter. Yet from each (kind of water) do ye eat flesh fresh and tender, (3889) and ye extract ornaments (3890) to wear; and thou seest the two sorts of unexpected ways, as in the allegory in the next verse. (R). New World in the Hereafter, out of an old World that is folded up and dead (Takwir, S. 81).
Praise is the One Free of all wants, worthy of all acquaintance with all things. Can tell thee (the Truth) like the One Who is not your “Partnership”. and none, (O man!) as fear their Lord unseen and establish regular Prayer. And whoever purifies himself does so as a normal condition in the universe. If He so pleased, He could blot you out and bring in a new Creation. Whosoever is to Allah. Allah has no need of him, and has need of Him every moment of his life. Allah has no need of him, but He bestows His Grace on him as on all His creatures, out of His unbounded Mercy and loving kindness. If it were Allah’s Will, He could blot out man for his faults, and none can tell thee (the Truth) like the One Who is acquainted with all things. False or imaginary objects of worship serve no purpose whatever. They cannot hear; if they could hear, they could not grant prayers or petitions. In fact, if they are real creatures, such as angels or deified human beings, they will obey Allah and renounce such worship as brings them into competition or “partnership” with Allah. See next note. None can tell you the Truth better than He Who is All-Wise and All-Knowing, Why not accept His Message and receive His guidance? What is man that Allah should care for him, instruct him, and send him special messengers to warn him of danger and harm? Is it man that depends on Allah and has need of Him every moment of his life, Allah has no need of him, but He bestows His Grace on him as on all His creatures, out of His unbounded Mercy and loving kindness. It if were Allah’s Will, He could blot out man for his rebellion and create an entirely new world. If He so pleased, He could blot you out and bring in a New Creation. There is no limit to Allah’s creative power, nor is His creative energy anything rare or unusual. This is the force of the word ‘aziz here. Allah’s creative energy is exercised every moment, and it is the normal condition in the universe. 18. Nor can a bearer (3900) of burdens bear another’s burdens if one heavily laden should call another to (bear) his load. Not the least portion of it can be carried (by the other). Even though he be nearly (3901) related. Thou canst but admonish such as fear their Lord unseen (3902) and establish regular Prayer. (3903) And whoever purifies himself does so for the benefit of his own soul; and the destination (of all) is to Allah. Bearer: waqāyatun feminine in Arabic, as referring to the soul (nafs), as in 6:164 and 5:38. Natural relationship may be considered as a reasonable cause or opportunity for bearing each other’s burdens. For example, a mother or a father might offer to die for her or his child, and vice versa. But this does not apply to spiritual matters. There the responsibility is strictly personal and cannot be transferred to another. In 3901:13 we are told that the nucleolus “will bear other burdens along with their own”, but the context shows that the “other” burdens are the burdens of deluding the others with their falsehoods. Both sins are their own, riz, their original sin, and the sin of deluding the others. But the responsibility will be doubled. (Cf. n. 1019, n. 1515, and n. 3778.) B’il ghayb: unseen in the adverbial sense. The man, who, though he does not see Allah, so realizes Allah’s Presence in himself as if he saw Him, is the man of genuine Faith, and for him Allah’s Revelation comes through many channels and is always fruitful. (Cf. 36:11.) Prayer is one of the means of purifying ourselves of lower motives in life, for in prayer we seek the Presence of Allah; but the purity which we seek for is our own souls: we confer no favour on Allah or on any Power in the spiritual world, as some imagine who make “gifts” to Allah. In any case the destination of all is to Allah. If ye invoke them, they will not listen to your call, and if (3895) they were to listen, they cannot answer your (prayer). On the Day of Judgment they will reject (3896) your “Partnership”, and none, (O man!) can tell thee (3897) (the Truth) like the One Who is acquainted with all things. If He so pleased, He could blot you out and bring in a new Creation. For example, a mother or a father might offer to die for her or his child, and vice versa. But this does not apply to spiritual matters. There the responsibility is strictly personal and cannot be transferred to another. In 3901:13 we are told that the nucleolus “will bear other burdens along with their own”, but the context shows that the “other” burdens are the burdens of deluding
28. And so amongst men and crawling creatures and cattle, are they of various colours.(3912) Those truly fear Allah, among His Servants, who have knowledge:(3913) for Allah is Exalted in Might, Oft-Forgiving.

29. Those who rehearse the Book of Allah, establish regular Prayer, and spend (in Charity)(3914) out of what We have provided for them, secretly and openly, hope for a commerce(3915) that will never fail:

30. For He will pay them their meed, nay, He will give them (even) more out of His Bounty: for He is Oft-Forgiving,(3916) Most Ready to appreciate (service).(3917)

31. That which We have revealed to thee of the Book is the Truth,- confirming what was (revealed) before it: for Allah is assuredly- with respect to His Servants - well acquainted and(3918) Fully Observable.

32. Then(3919) We have given the Book for inheritance to such of Our Servants as We have chosen: but there are among them(3920) some who wrong their own souls; some who follow a middle course; and some who are, by Allah's leave, foremost in good deeds; that is the highest Grace.

33. Gardens of Eternity will they enter: therein will they(3921) be adorned with bracelets(3922) of gold and pearls; and their garments there will be of silk.

34. And they will say: "Praise be to Allah, Who has removed from us (all) sorrow: for our Lord is indeed Oft-Forgiving Ready to appreciate (service):(3923)

35. "Who has, out of His Bounty, settled us in a Home that will last: no toil nor sense of weariness(3924) shall touch us therein."

36. But those who reject (Allah) - for them will be the Fire of Hell:(3925) No term shall be determined for them, so they should die, nor shall its Penalty be abated. Instead of there being dignity there will be humiliation. And there will be pain, suffering and anguish. Instead of there being dignity there will be humiliation. And there will be no hope of its termination or abatement, not even a hope of annihilation.

37. Therein will they cry aloud (for assistance): "Our Lord! Bring us out:(3926) we shall work righteousness,(3927) not the (deeds) we used to do!" "Did We not give you long enough life so that he that would should receive admonition? and (moreover) the warner came to you. So taste ye (3928) (the fruits of your deeds): for the wrong-doers there is no helper."

3941 Allah's world goes on according to the laws and decrees established by Him. There are occasional lapses and deviations on the part of His creatures, but He does not punish every petty fault. One of His merciful qualities is that of repeated forbearance and forgiveness.

42. They swore their strongest oaths by Allah that if a warner came to them, they would follow his guidance better (3935) than any (other) of the Peoples: But when a warner came to them, it has only increased their flight (from righteousness),-

43. On account of their arrogance in the land and their plotting of Evil (3936) But the plotting of Evil will hem in only the authors thereof. Now are they but looking for the way the ancients (3937) were dealt with? But no change wilt thou find in Allah's way (of dealing) (3938) no turning off wilt thou find in Allah's way (of dealing).

44. Do they not travel through the earth, and see (3939) what was the End of those before them? though they were superior to them in strength? Nor is Allah to be frustrated by anything whatever in the heavens or on earth: for He is All-Knowing. All-Powerful.

45. If Allah were to punish (3940) men according to what they deserve. He would not leave on the back of the (earth) a single (3941) living creature: but He gives them respite for a stated Term: when their Term expires, verily Allah has in His sight (3942) all His Servants.
36. Ya Sin

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ya Sin.(3943)

3943 Some Commentators take _empresa to be the vocative article, and Sin to be the abbreviation of Insan, Sin being the only "Firm Letter" in the word. In that case it would be an address to man, "O man!" But "man" in this connection is understood to mean the Leader of man, the noblest of mankind, Muhammad, the Prophet of Allah. For this Surah deals mainly with the Prophet and his Message. But no dogmatic assertion can be made about the Abbreviated Letters, for which see Appendix I, following S. 2. Ya Sin is usually treated as a title of the Prophet.

2. By the Qur´an,(3944) full of Wisdom,-

3944 The best credentials of the Prophet are: (1) the revelation which he brought("the Qur'an"), and the heroic unselfish life which he led (on a Straight Way''). The appeal is therefore made on the testimony of these two facts.

3. Thou art indeed one of the messengers,

4. On a Straight Way.

5. It is a Revelation(3945) sent down by (Him), the Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

3945 The Revelation again is characterised by two attributes which we find most helpful in contemplating about Allah. It has force and power: for Allah is Exalted in Might and able to enforce His Will. And it brings a Message of hope and mercy; for Allah is Most Merciful. By its characteristics we know that the Qur'an is from Allah. (R).

6. In order that thou mayest admonish a people, whose fathers had received(3946) no admonition, and who therefore remain heedless (of the Signs of Allah).

3946 Quraysh had received no Prophet before, and therefore, (of the Signs of Allah.)

7. The Word is proved true(3947) against the greater part of them: for they do not believe.

3947 Cf. 7:30 ; and n. 1012; also 17:36, and n. 2193. If people deliberately and obstinately refuse "to believe", i.e., to receive guidance and admonition, the result must be that Allah's grace and mercy are withdrawn from them. Their own perversity inevitably blocks up all channels for their correction.

8. We have put yokes(3948) round their necks right up to their chins, so that their heads are forced up (and they cannot see).

3948 Man's misdeeds inevitably call forth the operation of Allah's Law, and therefore the result is in Qur'anic language attributed to Allah. The result of man's willful disobedience is now described in a series of metaphors. (1) Refusal of Allah's Light means less and less freedom of action for man: the yoke of sin is fastened round man's neck, and it gets more and more tightened, right up to the chin. (2) The head is forced up and kept in a stiff position, so that the mind becomes befogged. Moral obliquity taints the intellect. According to the Sanskrit proverb, "When destruction comes near, understanding is turned upside down."

9. And We have put a bar in front of them(3949) and a bar behind them, and further, We have covered them up; so that they cannot see.

3949 Their retreat is cut off and their progress is impossible. Further the Light that should come from above is cut off, so that they become totally devoid of any hope, and the last gleam of any spiritual understanding is extinguished in them.

10. The same is it to them(3950) whether thou admonish them or thou do not admonish them: they will not believe.

3950 When the stage just described is reached, revelation or spiritual teaching ceases to have any value for them. Why then preach? The answer is given in the verses following.

11. Thou canst but admonish(3951) such a one as follows the Message and fears the (Lord) Most Gracious, unseen:(3952) give such a one, therefore,(3953) good tidings, of Forgiveness and a Reward most generous.

3951 Cf. 35:18. As far as those are concerned, who have obstinately delivered themselves to evil, the preaching of Allah's Message has no appeal, because their own will shuts them out. But there are others who are anxious to hear Allah's Message and receive Allah's grace. They love Allah and fear to offend against His Holy Law, and their fear is not merely superficial but deep-seated: for while they do not yet see Allah, nor do other people see them, they have the same sense of Allah's presence as if they saw Him, and their religion is not a mere pose, 'to be seen of men'.

3952 See n. 3902 to 35:18. Unseen here adverbial: their reverence for Allah is unaffected by the fact that they do not see him, or that other people do not observe them, because their attitude arises out of a genuine love for Allah.

3953 To such persons the Messenger of Allah comes as a gospel or good news: because it shows them the way of forgiveness for anything wrong in their past, and it gives them the promise of a full reward in the future-generous beyond any deserts of their own, but arising out of Allah's unbounded Bounty.

12. Verily We shall give life(3954) to the dead, and We record that which they send before and that which they leave(3955) behind, and of all things have We taken account in a clear Book(3956) (of evidence).

3954 Cf. 6:62; 30:19.

3955 Our deeds, good and bad, go to Allah's Judgement Seat before us. They will of course be brought to our account but our account will also be weighed by the example we left behind us and the consequences of our deeds, that will come into play or continue to operate after our earthly life had ceased. Our moral and spiritual responsibility is therefore much wider than as affects our own person.
13. Set forth to them, by way of a parable, the (story of) the Companions (3957) of the City. Behold!, there came messengers to it.

Many of the classical Commentators have supposed that the City referred to was Antioch. Now Antioch was one of the most important cities in North Syria in the first century of the Christian era. It was a Greek city founded by Seleucus Nicator, one of the successors of Alexander, about 300 B.C. in memory of his father Antiochus. It was close to the sea, and had its seaport at Seleucia. Soon after Christ his disciples successfully preached there, and they were called Christians first in Antioch,” Acts, 11:20. It afterwards became the seat of one of the most important Bishoprics of the Christian Church. In the story told here “by way of a parable,” the City rejected the Message, and the City was destroyed: 36:29.

Following Ibn Kathir, I reject the identification with Antioch decisively. No name, or period, or place is mentioned in the text. The significance of the story is in the lessons to be derived from it as a parable, for which see the next note. That is independent of name, time, or place.

When We (first) sent to them two messengers, they rejected them: But We strengthened them (3958) with a third: they said, "Truly, we have been sent on a mission to you."

Allah sends His messengers or teachers of Truth by ones and twos, and where the opposition is great and He considers it necessary, He supports them with others. Their mission is divine, but they do not claim to be more than men. This is used by the unjust and the ungodly as if it were a reproach, whereas it is clearly expressed in human language, should commend them to men, for mankind is glorified by such commission and the Message is perfectly expressed in human language, where the opposition is great and He considers it necessary, He supports them with others. Their mission is divine, but they do not claim to be more than men. This is used by the unjust and the ungodly as if it were a reproach, whereas it is clearly expressed in human language, should commend them to men, for mankind is glorified by such commission and the Message is perfectly expressed in human language, whereas it is clearly expressed in human language, should commend them to men, for mankind is glorified by such commission and the Message is perfectly expressed in human language, whereas it is clearly expressed in human language.

The (people) said: "Ye are only men like ourselves; (3959) and (Allah) Most Gracious sends no sort of revelation; (3960) ye do nothing but lie."

They not only reject the mission of the particular messengers, but they deny the possibility of Allah’s sending such mission. Note how they contrive themselves of inconsistency by using Allah’s name “Most Gracious,” even though they may mean it ironically!

They said: "Our Lord doth know that we have been sent on a mission to you; (3961)"

Just as a Messenger whose credentials are doubted can refer to the authority granted by his Principal, as the highest proof of his mission, so these messengers of Allah invoke the authority of Allah in proof of their mission. In effect they say: “The knowledge of Allah is perfect, and He knows that our mission is from Him; if you do not, it is your own misfortune.” (R).

"And our duty is only to proclaim the clear Message.” (3962)"

Then they proceed to explain what their mission is. It is not to force them but to convince them. It is to proclaim openly and clearly Allah’s Law, which they were break ing, to show them the better path. If they were obstinate, it was their own loss. If they were rebellious against Allah, the punishment rested with Allah.

The (people) said: "for us, we augur an evil omen (3963) from you: if ye desist not, we will certainly stone you. And a grievous punishment indeed will be inflicted on you by us."

Tā’ir means a bird. Like the Roman augurs, the Arabs had a superstition about deriving omens from birds. Cf. the English word auspicious, from the Latin avis, a bird, and specie, I see. From Tā’ir (bird) came tatayyara, or ittayyara, to draw evil omens. Because the prophets of Allah denounced evil, the evildoers thought that they brought ill-luck to them. As a matter of fact any evil that happened to them was the result of their own ill-deeds. Cf. 17:13, where the Egyptians ascribed their calamities to the ill-luck brought by Moses: and 27:47, where Thamud ascribed ill-luck to the preaching of Sahih.

They said: "Your evil omens are with yourselves; (3964) (deem ye this an evil omen). If ye are admonished? Nay, but ye are a people transgressing all bounds!" (3965)

What ye call omens arise from your own ill-deeds. Do you suppose that a man who comes to warn you and teach you the better way brings you ill-luck? Fear upon you. (Cf. 17:13).

To call Good evil and accuse of falsehood of men of truth who come unselfishly to bring the message of the beneficent Mercy of Allah, is the very height of extravagance and transgression.

Then came running, from the farthest part of the City, a man, (3966) saying, “O my people! Obey the messengers:"

While the wealthy, influential, and fashionable men in the City were doubtful of Allah’s providence and superstitiously believed in Chance and evil omens, the Truth was seen by a man in the outskirts of the City, a man held in low esteem by the arrogant, He had believed, and he wanted His City to believe. So, in Arabia, when the arrogant chiefs of Quraysh exiled the Prophet, it was men from Madinan and from the outskirts, who welcomed him, believed in him, and supported his mission in every way.

"Obey those who ask no reward of you (for themselves), and who have themselves received Guidance. (3967)"

Prophets do not seek their own advantage. They serve Allah and humanity. Their hope lies in the good pleasure of Allah, to Whose service they are devoted. Cf. 10:72; 12:104; etc.

"It would not be reasonable in me if I did not serve Him Who created me, (3968) and to Whom ye shall ascribe their calamities."

The argument throughout is that of intense personal conviction for the individual himself, coupled with an appeal to his people to follow that conviction and get the benefit of the spiritual satisfaction which He has himself achieved. He says in effect: how is it possible for me to do otherwise than to serve and adore my Maker? I shall return to Him, and so will you, and all this applies to you as much as to me. Note how effective is the transition from the personal experience to the collective appeal.

"Shall I take (other) gods besides Him? If ((Allah)) Most Gracious should intend some adversity for me,(3969) of no use whatever will be their intercession for me, nor can they deliver me."

The next plea is that for exclusive service to Allah. Suppose it were proper to worship other gods-Mammon, Self, or imaginary deities set up as idols—yet of what benefit would that be? All power is in Allah. In His universal Plan, He may think fit to give me some sorrow or punishment: would these subordinate deities be able to help me or intercede for me with Him? Not at all. What use would they be? In fact I should obviously be going as way-wandering from the true Path.

"I would indeed, if I were to do so, be in manifest Error.

"For me, I have faith in the Lord of you (all): (3970) listen, then, to me!"

Again a transition from the assured personal conviction to the appeal to all to profit by the speaker’s experience. I have found the fullest satisfaction for my soul in Allah. He is my God, but He is your God also. My experience can be yours also. Will you not follow my advice, and prove for yourselves that the Lord is indeed good?"

It was said: "Enter thou (3971) the Garden.” He said: "Ah me! Would that my People knew (what I know)!"
and obtain salvation, but they were obdurate and suffered for their sins as we learn from verses 28-29 below.

27. "For that my Lord (3972) has granted me Forgiveness and has enrolled me among those held in honour!"

3972 This man was just a simple honest soul, but he heard and obeyed the call of the prophets and obtained his dignity and honour for himself and did his best to obtain salvation for his people. For he loved his people and respected his ancestral traditions as far as they were good, but had no hesitation in accepting the new Light when it came to him. All his past was forgiven him and he was raised to dignity and honour in the Kingdom of Heavens.

28. And We sent not down against his People, after him, any hosts from heaven, nor was it needful for Us so to do.

29. It was no more than a single mighty Blast (3973) and behold! they were (like ashes) (3974) quenched and silent.

3973 Allah's Justice or Punishment does not necessarily come with pomp and circumstance, nor have the forces of human evil or wickedness the power to require the exertion of mighty spiritual forces to subdue them. A single mighty Blast—either the rumbling of an earthquake, or a great and violent wind—was sufficient in this case. Cf. 11:67 and n. 1561 (which describes the fate of Thammud); also, n. 3463 to 29:40, also 36:49.

3974 Cf. 21:15. They had made a great deal of noise in their time, but they were reduced to silence, like spent ashes.

30. Ah! Alas for (My) Servants! There comes not a messenger to them but they mock him! (3975)

3975 Cf. 6:19 and many other passages of similar import. Ignorant men mock at Allah's prophets, or anyone who takes Religion seriously. But they do not reflect that such levity reacts on themselves. Their own lives are ruined and they cease to count. If they study history, they will see that countless generations were destroyed before them because they did not take Truth seriously and undermined the very basis of their individual and collective existence.

My servants is here equivalent to 'men'. Allah regrets the folly of men, especially as He cherishes them as His own servants.

31. See they not how many generations before them we destroyed? Not to them (3976) will they return:

3976 Not to them will they return. What do the pronouns them and they refer to? Commentators and translators have construed them differently, and some of them evade the question. To my mind the best construction seems to be: the generations which we have destroyed before the people addressed (do they not see?) will not be restored to the people addressed; generations (qurun) stand for the periods of prosperity and good fortune enjoyed by the ancestors. They have all been wiped out; they will never be restored, but all people will be brought before the Judgement Seat for giving an account of their deeds.

32. But each one of them all - will be brought before Us (for judgment).

33. A Sign for them is the earth that is dead (3977) We do give it life, and produce grain therefrom, of which ye do eat.

3977 Lest anyone should say, 'if they are destroyed, how can they be brought before the Judgement Seat? a symbol is pointed to. The earth is to all intents and purposes dead in the winter, but Allah revives it in the spring. Cf. 2:216, 39:19, and many other passages to that effect.

34. And We produce therein orchard with date palms (3978) and vines, and We cause springs to gush forth therein:

3978 Date palms and vines stand as symbols for fruit trees of all kinds, these being the characteristic fruits of Arabia. Grain was mentioned in the last verse; fruit is mentioned now. All that is necessary for food and the satisfaction of the choicest palate is produced from what looks like inert soil, fertilised by rain and springs. Here is wonderful evidence of the artistry and providence of Allah.

35. That they may enjoy (3979) the fruits of this (artistry): It was not their hands (3980) that made this: will they not then give thanks?

3979 Literally, eat (fikadul. Cf. 7:19, n. 1004 and 5:66, n. 776. The same wide meaning of profit, satisfaction, and enjoyment may be attached to the word 'eat' in verse 33 above.

3980 Man may till the soil and sow the seed, but the productive forces of nature were not made by man's hands. They are the handiwork and artistry of Allah, and are evidence of Allah's providence for His creatures. See n. 3978 above.

36. Glory to Allah, Who created in pairs all things that (3981) the earth produces, as well as their own (human) kind and (other) things of which they have no knowledge.

3981 The mystery of sex runs through all creation—in man, in animal life, in vegetable life and possibly in other things of which we have no knowledge. Then there are pairs of opposite forces in nature, e.g., positive and negative electricity, etc. The atom itself consists of a positively charged nucleus of protons, surrounded by negatively charged electrons. The constitution of matter itself is thus referred to pairs of opposite energies.

37. And a Sign for them is the Night: We withdraw (3982) therefrom the Day, and behold they are plunged in darkness;

3982 Withdrawing the Day from the Night is a striking phrase and very apt. The Day or the Light is the positive thing. The Night or Darkness is merely negative. We cannot withdraw the negative. But if we withdraw the real thing, the positive, which filled the void, nothing is left but the void. The whole of this section deals with Signs and Symbols—things in the physical world around us, from which we can learn the deepest spiritual truths if we earnestly apply ourselves to them.

38. And the sun runs his course for a period determined (3983) for him: that is the decree of (Him), the Exalted in Might, the All-Knowing.

3983 Mostaqqar may mean: (1) a limit of time, a period determined, as in 6:67, or (2) a place of rest or quiescence; or (3) a dwelling place, as in 2:36. I think the first meaning is best applicable here; but some Commentators take the second meaning, (R).

39. And the Moon— We have measured for it mansions (3984) (to traverse) till she returns like the old (and withered) lower part of a date stalk. (3985)

3984 The lunar mansions are the 28 divisions of the Zodiac, which are supposed to make the daily course of the moon in the heavens from the time of the new moon to the time when the moon fades away in its 'inter-lunar woon', an expressive phrase coined by the poet Shelley.

3985 Geying a race of dates or of a date palm; or the base or lower part of the raceme. When it becomes old, it becomes yellow, dry, and withered, and curves up like a sickle. Hence the comparison with the sickle-like appearance of the new moon. The moon runs through all its phases, increasing and decreasing, until it disappears, and then reappears as a little thin curve.

40. It is not permitted to the Sun to catch up (3986) the Moon, nor can the Night outstrip the Day: Each (just) swims along (3987) in (its own) orbit (according to Law).

3986 Though the sun and the moon both traverse the belt of the Zodiac, and their motions are different, they never catch up each other. When the sun and the moon are on the same side and on a line with the earth there is a solar eclipse, and when on opposite sides in a line, there is a lunar eclipse, but there is no clash.

Their Laws are fixed by Allah, and form the subject of study in astronomy. Similarly Night and Day follow each other, but being opposites cannot coincide, a fit emblem of the opposition of Good and Evil, Truth and Falsehood; see also n. 20982 above.

3987 Cf. 21:33, and n. 2895. How beautifully the rounded courses of the planets and heavenly bodies are described, “swimming” through space, with perfectly smooth motion! As Shakespeare expresses it, each “in his motion like an angel sings, Still quiring to the young-eyed cherubins!”

41. And a Sign for them is that We bore (3988) their race (through the Flood) in the loaded Ark;
48. Further, they say, "When will this promise (come to pass), (3996) if what ye say is true?"

49. They will not (have to) wait for aught but a single Blast: it will seize them while they are yet disputing among themselves!

50. No (chance) will they then have, by will, to dispose (of their affairs), nor to return to their own people!

51. The trumpet shall be(3997) sounded, when behold! from the sepulchres (men) will rush forth to their Lord!

52. They will say: "Ah! Woe unto us! Who hath raised us up from our beds of repose?"...(3998) (A voice will say:) "This is what (Allah)) Most Gracious had promised. And true was the word of the messengers!"

53. It will be no more than a single Blast,(3999) when lo! they will all be brought up before Us!

54. Then, on that Day, not a soul will be wronged in the least,(4000) and ye shall but be repaid the meeds of your past Deeds.

47. Besides the beauty of the Night, with the stars and the planets 'swimming' in their rounded courses according to perfect Law, suggesting both symmetry and harmony, there are other Signs touching closely the life of man himself, projected through Time, in the past history of his race and in his own personal experience.

The past history of his race takes us to the story of the Flood, which is symbolical of the deliverance of man from the forces of nature. Noah's Ark is the symbol of that deliverance. But the symbol still remains as a memorial: the Ark was a 'Sign to all People'; 2:9-15. Man's own personal experience is appealed to in every ship illusat; see next note.

44. Except by way of Mercy from Us, and by way of (world) convenience (to serve them) for a time.(3991)

46. Not a Sign comes to them from among the Signs(3993) of their Lord, but they turn away therefrom.

47. And when they are told, "Spend ye of (the bounties)(3994) with which Allah has provided you," the Unbelievers say to those who believe: "Shall we then feed those whom, if Allah had so willed,(3995) He would have fed, (Himself)?—Ye are in nothing but manifest error."

57. (Every) fruit (enjoyment) (4003) will be there for them; they shall have whatever they call for;

4003 Thirdly, besides any external conditions of bliss, the Bliss in the Hereafter has inner quality, expressed by the word fakihah. The root fakihah means 'to rejoice greatly', to be full of meritment. The ordinary meaning of 'fruit' attached to fakihah is derived from the idea that the flavour of choice, ripe fruit, delights the heart of man (2: n. 4062). Just as akab (too eat) is used for 'enjoyment', (4066, n. 1776 and 13/35 , n. 1834), so fakihah, 'fruit', stands here for that specially choice enjoyment, which goes with a fastidious and well-cultivated taste. In other words, it suggests that highest kind of joy which depends upon the inner faculty rather than any outward circumstance. This is further emphasised by the second clause: 'they shall have whatever they call for'. Again using the language of this life, the musician's heaven will be full of music; the mathematician's will be full of mathematical symmetry and perfection; the artist's will be full of beauty from form, and so on.

58. "Peace!" - a Word (4004) (of salutation) from a Lord Most Merciful!

4004 Fourthly, we reach the highest grade of bliss, the mystic salutation 'Peace!' from Allah Most Merciful. Cf. 10:10. The words sum up the attainment of the final Goal. For it explains the nature of the most High-He is not only a Lord and Cherisher, but a Lord Whose supreme glory is Mercy, Peace, and Harmony!

59. "And O ye in sin! (4005) Get ye apart this Day!

4005 Notice how this finely balanced passage, after reaching the summit of sublimity in describing the state of the Blessed, in the word Salam, gradually takes it down to contemplate the state of the Sinners in a graduated descent. In the first place, it refers to their negative state, their state of isolation. From this Day of Judgement, they will no longer have the chance of being with the Blessed and perhaps of profiting spiritually by that proximity. The first feature of the Day of Judgement is that it is a Day of Separation-of sorting out. Each soul now finds its own true level, as the period of probation is over.

60. "Did I not enjoin (4006) on you, O ye Children of Adam, that ye should not worship Satan; for that he was to you an enemy avowed?"

4006 Secondly, there is a gentle reproach to the wrongdoers, more in sorrow than in anger. They are addressed as 'children of Adam', to emphasise two facts, (1) that they have disgraced their ancestry, for Adam after his Fall repented and was forgiven, and the high Destiny of mankind has been the prize open to all his descendants, and (2) that Allah Most Merciful has throughout the ages continued to warn mankind against the snares laid by Satan, the awed enemy of man; and that Allah's Grace was ever on the watch to help all to freedom from those snares.

61. "And that ye should (4007) worship Me, (for that) this was the Straight Way!"

4007 Thirdly, besides the negative warning, a positive Way was shown to them-the Straight Way, the Ways of those who receive Allah's Grace and attain to Bliss, the Rope which would save them from shipwreck, the Shield which would save them from assault, the key to the door of proximity to Allah.

62. "But he did lead astray a great multitude of you. Did ye not, then, understand? (4008)

4008 Fourthly, it is pointed out that they were given Understanding ( jadil), so that by their own faculties they could have judged their own best interests, and yet they betrayed or missed those faculties, and deliberately threw away their chance! And not only a few, but so many! They went gregariously to ruin in spite of the individual care which their Lord and Cherisher bestowed on them!

63. "This is the Hell (4009) of which ye were (repeatedly) warned!"

4009 Fifthly, the naked fact is now placed before them-the Hell—the state of Damnation, which they could so easily have avoided.

64. "Embrace ye the (Fire) (4010) this Day, for that ye (persistently) rejected (Truth)."

4010 As they deliberately and persistently rejected all teaching, guidance, and warnings, they are now told to experience the Fire of Punishment, for it is but the consequence of their own acts.

65. That Day shall We set a seal on their mouths. (4011) But their hands will speak to us, and their feet bear witness, to all that they did.

4011 The ungodly will now be dumbfounded. They will be unable to speak or offer any defence. The consequences of all acts, which follow according to Allah's Law, are, in Quranic language, attributed to Allah. But their silence will not matter. Their own hands and feet will speak against them. "Hands and feet" in this connection are symbolical of all the instruments for action which they were given in this life, including their faculties and opportunities. The same extended meaning is to be understood for 'eyes' in the following verse. Cf. also 41:20-21, where eyes, ears, and skins are all mentioned as bearing witness against such as missed them.

66. If it had been our Will, (4012) We could surely have blotted out their eyes; then should they have run about groping for the Path, but how could they have seen?

4012 If it had been Our Will: i.e., if such had been the Will and Plan of Allah. If Allah had not intended to give man his limited free will, or power of choice, the case would have been different: there would have been no moral responsibility which could have been enforced. They could have had no sight or intelligence, and so on could not have been blamed for not seeing or understanding. But such is not the case.

67. And if it had been Our Will, We could have transformed them (to remain) in their places; (4013) then should they have been unable to move about, nor could they have returned (after error).

4013 If Allah's Plan had been to grant no limited freedom of choice or will to men, He could have created them quite different, or could have transformed them into stationary creatures, either in physical form as in the case of trees, or in moral or spiritual qualities, where there was no possibility either of progress or deterioration. Man would then have been unable to reach the heights of grandeur which are now open to him, or, if he goes wrong, to return through the door of repentance and mercy, and still pursue his path of ascent. But it was Allah's Plan to give man all these privileges, and man must shoulder all the responsibilities that go with them.

68. If We grant long life to any, We cause him to be reversed in nature. (4014) Will they not then understand?

4014 This connects on with the last verse. Everything is possible with Allah. If you doubt how man can be transformed from his present nature, contemplate the transformations he already undergoes in his present nature at different ages. As a child, his powers of mind and body are still undeveloped. As he grows, they grow, and certain moral qualities, such as courage, daring, the will to conquer, unfold themselves. In external things these are again obscured, and a second childhood supervenes. The back of the man who walked proudly straight and erect is now bent. If the transformations take place even in his present nature and constitution, how much easier was it for Allah to cast him in an immobile mould? But Allah granted him instead the high possibilities and responsibilities referred to in the last note.

69. We have not instructed the (Prophet) in Poetry, (4015) nor is it meet for him: this is no less than a Message and a Qur'an making things clear: (4016)

4015 Cf. 26:224 and n. 3237. Here 'Poetry' is used as connoting fairy tales, imaginary descriptions, things futile, false, or obscure, such as decadent Poetry is, whereas the Qur'an is a practical guide, true and clear.

70. That it may give admonition to any (who are) alive, (4016) and that the charge (4017) may be proved against those who reject (Truth).

4016 'Alive', both in English and Arabic, means not only "having physical life", but having all the active qualities which we associate with life. In religious language, those who are not responsive to the realities of the spiritual world are no better than those who are dead. The Message of Allah penetrates the hearts of those who are alive in the spiritual sense.

4017 Cf. 28:63. If people reject Truth and Faith after they have been admonished and warned, the charge against them, of willful rebellion, is proved. They cannot then plead either ignorance or inadvertence.
71. See they not that it is We Who have created for them - among the things which Our hands have fashioned - cattle, which are under(4018) their dominion?-

4018 If they are blind to other Signs of Allah, they can at least see the simple honestly things of life in which they receive so many benefits from Allah's mercy. How is it that wild animals can be domesticated, and in domestication can be so useful to man? Man can use them for riding or for draught; he can use their flesh for food and drink their milk; he can use their hair or wool. Cf. 16:66, 80; and 29:51-52.

72. And that We have subjected them to their (use)? of them some do carry them and some they eat:

73. And they have (other) profits(4019) from them (besides), and they get (milk) to drink. Will they not then be grateful?(4020)

4019 Such as skins for leather, furs for warmth, sheep's wool or camel's hair for blankets or textiles, musk for perfume, and so on.

4020 The whole argument turns on this. "Our teaching is for your own benefit. We confer all these blessings on you, and yet you turn away from the Giver of all, and run after your own vain imagination!"

74. Yet they take (for worship) gods other than Allah, (hoping) that they might be helped!

75. They have not the power to help them: but they will be brought up (before Our Judgment-seat) as a troop (to be condemned).(4021)

4021 There is some difference of opinion among Commentators as to the exact meaning to be attached to this clause. As I understand it, the meaning seems to be this. Man is apt to forget or turn away from the true God, the source of all the good which he enjoys, and to go after imaginary powers in the shape of gods; heroes, men, or abstract things like Science or Nature or Philosophy, or superstitions things like Magic, or Good Fortune or Ill-Fortune, or embodiments of his own selfish desires. He thinks that they might help him in his Life or in the Hereafter (if he believes in a Hereafter). But they cannot help him: on the contrary all things that are false will be brought up and condemned before Allah's Judgement Seat, and the worshippers of the Falsehoods will also be treated as a troop favouring the Falsehoods and therefore worthy of condemnation. The Falsehoods, therefore, instead of helping them, will contribute to their condemnation.

76. Let not their speech, then,(4022) grieve thee. Verily We know what they hide as well as what they disclose.

4022 If men are so foolish as to reject Allah, let not the men of Allah grieve over it. They should do their duty, and leave the rest to Allah. Allah knows all the open and secret motives that sway the wicked and His Plan must ultimately prevail, however much appearances may be against it at any given time.

77. Doth not man see that it is We Who created him from sperm?(4023) Yet behold! he (stands forth) as an open adversary!

4023 Man's disobedience and folly are all the more surprising, seeing that apart from Allah's greatness and mercy-man is himself such a puny creature, created out of something that is less than a drop in the vast ocean of Existence. Yet man has the hardihood to stand out and dispute with his Maker, and institute idle comparisons as in the next verse!

78. And he makes comparisons(4024) for Us, and forgets his own (origin and) Creation: He says, "Who can give life to (dry) bones and decomposed ones (at that)?"

4024 That is, man thinks that Allah is like His creatures, who at best have very limited powers, or man draws idle parallels like that mentioned at the end of this verse. "Who can give life to dry bones, and decomposed ones at that?" Man certainly cannot, and no power in nature can do that. But why compare the powers and capacities of Allah's creatures with the powers and capacities of the Creator? The first creation out of nothing is far more difficult for us to imagine than a second or subsequent process for which there is already a basis. And Allah has power over all things.

79. Say, "He will give them life Who created them for the first time!(4025) for He is Well-versed in every kind of creation!"

4025 Allah's creative artistry is evident in every phase of nature, and it works every minute or second. The more man understands himself and the things within his reach, the more he realises this. How foolish, then, for anyone to set imaginary limits to Allah's power? There are more ways of creation than are dreamt of in man's imagination.

80. "The same Who produces for you fire out of(4026) the green tree, when behold! ye kindle therewith (your own fires)!

4026 Even older and more primitive than the method of striking fire against steel and flint is the method of using twigs of trees for the purpose. In the I.E.R. 14th edition, 9:262, will be found a picture of British Guyana boys making a fire by rotating a stick in a round hole in a piece of wood lying on the ground. The Arab method was to use a wooden instrument called the Zinad. It consisted of two pieces to be rubbed together. The upper was called the Azar or Zand, and the lower the Markh. The Markh is a twig from a kind of spreading tree, the Cynanchium viminale, of which the branches are bare, without leaves or thorns. When they are tangled together, and a wind blows, they get ignited and strike fire. (Lane's Arabic Lexicon). In modern Arabic Zinad is by analogy applied to the flint piece used for striking fire with steel.

81. "Is not He Who created the heavens and the earth able to create like(4027) thereof?" - Yea, indeed! for He is the Creator Supreme, of skill and knowledge (infinite)!

4027 Cf. 79:27. Which is the more difficult to create-man, or the heavens and the earth, with all creatures? Allah created the heavens and the earth, with all creatures, and He can create worlds and worlds like these in infinitum. To him it is small matter to raise you up for the Hereafter!

82. Verily, when He intends(4028) a thing, His Command is, "be!", and it is!

4028 And His creation is not dependent on time, on instruments or means, or any conditions whatsoever. Existence waits on His Will, or Plan, or Intention. The moment He wills a thing, it becomes His Word or Command, and the thing forthwith comes into existence. Cf. 2:177; 16:40 , n. 2006; etc.

83. So glory to Him in Whose hands is the dominion of all things: and to Him will ye(4029) be all brought back.

4029 All things were created by Allah; are maintained by Him; and will go back to Him. But the point of special interest to man is that man will also be brought back to Allah and is answerable to Him, and to Him alone. This Message is the core of Revelation; it explains the meaning of the Hereafter; and it fittingly closes a Surah specially connected with the name Ya Sin of the Prophet.
37. Al Saffat (Those Ranged in Ranks)

In the name of Allah Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By(4030) those who range themselves in ranks,(4031)

4030 At a later stage, we shall study the general meaning of the adjurations in the Qur'an indicated by the particle wa. See App. XI, p. 1094. Here we may note that the last Surah (Reh XIX) practically began with the adjuration 'by the Qur'an, full of wisdom', emphasizing the fact that Revelation was the evidence by which we could learn the highest wisdom of the spiritual world. Here our attention is called in three verses or clauses, to three definite attitudes which illustrate the triumph of Good and the frustration of Evil. See the notes following.

4031 Two questions arise: (1) are the doers of the three things noted in verses 1-3 the same persons, whose actions or qualities are differently described, or are they three distinct sets of persons? (2) in either case, who are they? As to (1) the most authoritative view is that the three clauses describe the same set of persons in different aspects. As to (2) some take them to refer to angels, and others understand by them the good men, the men of God, who strive and range themselves in Allah's service. The words are perfectly general, and I interpret them to refer to both classes. The feminine form is grammatically used in Arabic to mean that angels or good men (1) are ever ready to range themselves in Allah's service. The words are perfectly general, and I interpret them to mean that angels and good men (2) are ever ready to range themselves in ranks; and (3) that this service furthered the Kingdom of Allah and proclaims His Message and His glory to all creation.

2. And so are strong in repelling (evil),(4032)

4032 The three acts in verses 1-3 are consecutive, as shown by the particle fa. I understand them to mean that angels and good men (1) are ever ready to range themselves in ranks in the service of Allah and work in perfect discipline and accord at all times; (2) that they check and frustrate evil wherever they find it and they are strengthened in doing so by their discipline and their rangings themselves in ranks; and (3) that this service furthered the Kingdom of Allah and proclaims His Message and His glory to all creation.

3. And thus proclaim the Message (of Allah!)

4. Verily, verily, your Allah is one!-(4033)

4033 That divine Message is summed up in the gospel of Divine Unity, on which the greatest emphasis is laid: 'verily, verily, your God is One'. It is a fact intimately connected with our own life and destiny. Your Lord is one Who cares for you and cherishes you; you are dear to Him. And He is One; it is only He that you have to look to, the source of all goodness, love, and power. You are not the sport of many contending, forces or blind chances. There is complete harmony and unity in heaven and you have to put yourselves into unison with it. In discipline in ranks, by unity of plan and purpose in repelling evil, and by concerted action in promoting the Kingdom of God. Here is the mystery of the manifold variety of creation pointing to the absolute Unity of the Creator.

5. Lord of the heavens and of the earth and all between them, and Lord of every point at the rising of the sun!(4034)

4034 Allah is the Lord of everything that exists: the heavens and the earth, and all between them. He is the Lord of the Masharif of every point at the rising of the sun. As the Commentators tell us, there are in the solar year only two equinoctial days, when the sun rises due east: on every other the sun rises at a shifting point either north or south of due east. In 7:137 we have mashaariq al ardi wa masharif al 'ard, where the plural of the words for East and West is negligible, as the conjunction of the two embraces all points. The same may be said of 70:40, where Allah is called 'Lord of all points in the East and the West'. If we are speaking of longitudes, they may embrace all latitudes. In 55:17 Allah is called 'Lord of the two Easats and the two Wests', referring to the extreme points in either case. A cursory reader may ask, why is only the East referred to here? The reply is that it is not so much the East as the rising of the sun, on which stress is laid. The Arabic mashaariq or mashaari is close enough to the root word sharaga, to suggest, not so much the East as the rising of the sun, especially when the plural form is used. The glorious sun rises from different points, as seen by us, but it illuminates the whole heaven and earth. It is an emblem of Unity.

6. We have indeed decked the lower heaven(4035) with beauty (in) the stars,~(4036)

4035 Cf. 67:3-5.

4036 Stars' may be taken here in the popular sense, as referring to fixed stars, planets, comets, shooting stars, etc. On a clear night the beauty of the starry heavens is proverbial. Here they are meant to illustrate two points: (1) their marvellous beauty and their groupings and motions (apparent or real) manifest and typify the Design and Harmony of the One true Creator; and (2) the power and glory behind them typify that there is a guard against the assaults of Evil (see verse 7 below).

7. (For beauty) and for guard(4037) against all obdurate rebellious evil spirits, 4037 Verses 7-11 seem to refer to shooting stars. Cf. 6:1-18, and notes 1951-53. The heavens typify not only beauty but power. The Good in Allah's world is guarded and protected against every assault of Evil. The Evil is not part of the heavenly system: it is a thing in outlawry, merely a self-willed rebellion-‘cast away on every side, repulsed under a perpetual penalty’ (verses 8-9).

8. (So) they should not strain their ears in the direction of the Exalted Assembly(4038) but be cast away from every side, 4038 We can form a mental picture of the Court of the Most High, in the highest heaven, conforming to the highest idea we can form of goodness, beauty, purity, and grandeur. The Exalted Assembly of angels is given some knowledge of the Plan and Will of Allah. Evil is altogether foreign to such an atmosphere, but is acted out by feelings of jealousy and curiosity. It tries to approach by stealth and overhears something from the august Assembly. It is repulsed and pursued by a flaming fire, of which we can form some idea in our physical world by the piercing trail of a shooting star.

9. Repulsed, for they are under a perpetual penalty,

10. Except such as snatch away something by stealth, and they are pursued by a flaming(4039) fire, of piercing brightness.

4039 See last note and Cf. 1.5:18 and notes 1953-54.

11. Just ask their(4040) opinion: are they the more difficult to create, or the (other) beings We have created? Them have We created out of a sticky clay!(4041)

4040 Their; 'they' are the doubters, the evil ones, the deniers of Allah's grace and mercy, who laugh at Revelation and disobey in a Hereafter. Are they more important or more difficult to create than the wonderful variety of beings in Allah's spacious Creation? Do they forget their own lowly state, as having been created from muddy clay?

4041 Cf. 6:41; 7:12; 9:27, etc.

12. Truly dost thou marvel,(4042) while they ridicule,

4042 It is indeed strange that unregenerate man should forget, on the one hand, his lowly origin, and on the other hand, his high Destiny, as conferred upon him by the grace and mercy of Allah. The indictment of him here comprises four counts: (1) they ridicule the teaching of Truth; (2) instead of profiting by admonition, they pay no heed; (3) when Allah's Signs are brought home to them, they ridicule them as much as they ridiculed the teaching of Truth; and (4) when they have to acknowledge incontestable facts, they give them false names like 'sorcery', which imply fraud or something which has no relation to their life, although the facts touch the inner springs of their life intimately (Cf. 46:2).

13. And, when they are admonished, pay no heed,-

14. And, when they see a Sign, turn it to mockery,

15. And say, "This is nothing but evident sorcery!"
16. "What! when we die, and become dust and bones, shall we (then) be raised up (again)?"

17. "And also our fathers(4043) of old?"

Although the Hereafter, and the spiritual life of which it is a corollary, are the most solid facts in our intelligent existence, materialists deny them. They cannot believe that they could have any existence beyond the grave still less their ancestors who died ages and ages ago: how could they ever come to life again?

18. Say thou: "Yea, and ye shall then be humiliated (on account of your evil)."(4044)

They are assured that the future life is a solid fact, but that it will be in very different conditions from those they know now. All their present arrogance will have been humbled in the dust. There will be another plane, in which souls will have experiences quite different from those in their probationary life here. In that life the virtues they lacked will count, and the arrogance they haggled will be brought low. ( Cf. 40:58).

19. Then it will be a single (compelling) cry;(4045) and behold, they will begin to see!(4046)

Their spiritual blindness will then leave them. But they will be surprised at the sinnerliness of their disillusion.

20. They will say, "Ah! Woe to us! This is the Day of Judgment!"

(A voice will say,) "This is the Day(4047) of Sorting Out, whose truth ye (once) denied!"

The Day of Judgement is the day of sorting out. (Cf. 36:59). Good and evil will finally be separated, unlike the apparently inexplicable conditions in the present probationary life, when they seem to be mixed together (see also n. 4718).

22. "Bring ye up", it shall be said, "The wrong-doers and their wives,(4048) and the things they worshipped—besides Allah, and lead them to the Way to the (Fierce) Fire!"

That is, if their wives were also wrongdoers. They are separately mentioned, because the Arabic phrase for “wrongdoers” is of the masculine gender. All the associates in wrongdoing will be marshalled together. There will be personal responsibility: neither husband nor wife can lay the blame on the other.

23. "Besides Allah, and lead them to the Way to the (Fierce) Fire!

24. "But stop them,(4049) for they must be asked:

That is, if the prisoners were asked why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, so here those who are proved to have been guilty of wrong are allowed to consider if anything or anyone can help them. Then comes the exposure of the misleaders.

25. "What is the matter with you that ye help not each other?"(4050)

26. Nay, but that day they shall submit (to Judgment);(4051)

All the previous arrogance of this life will be gone, but they will face each other, and those who were given a false lead, as in the story of Pharaoh (Cf. 20:79), will question their misleaders as in the following verses.

27. And they will turn to one another, and question one another.

28. They will say: "It was ye who used to come to us from the right hand (of power and authority)!"(4052)

This is the mutual recrimination of the sinners—those who sinned, against those whose instigation or evil example led them into sin. The misleaders in the life below often used their power and influence to spread evil. The “right hand” is the hand of power and authority. Instead of using it for righteous purposes, they used it for evil, selfishly for their own advantage, and mischievously for the degradation of others. (Cf. 37:50).

29. They will reply: "Nay, ye yourselves had no Faith!(4053)

But the fact that others mislead, or that evil example is before us, does not justify us in falling from right conduct. Faith should save us from the fall. But if we have ourselves no Faith in righteousness, or a future life, or the reality of Allah's Law, how can we blame others? The misleaders can well say, You will be judged according to your misdeeds? The responsibility is personal, and cannot be shifted on the other. The others may get a double punishment—for their own evil, and for misleading their weaker brethren. But the weaker brethren cannot go free from responsibility of their own deeds; for evil means a personal rebellion against Allah, if we believe in a personal God. Evil has no authority over us, except insofar as we deliberately choose it.

30. "Nor had we any authority over you. Nay, it was ye who were a people in obstinate rebellion!

31. "So now has been proved true,(4054) against us, the word of our Lord that we shall indeed (have to) taste (the punishment of our sins).

32. "We led you astray: for truly(4055) we were ourselves astray."

Further, the misleaders can well urge against those who reproach them for misleading them: “How could you expect anything better from us? You were warned by Allah's Message that we were astray.”

33. Truly, that Day, they will (all) share in the Penalty.

34. Verily that is how We shall deal with Sinners.

35. For they, when they were told that there is no god except Allah, would puff themselves up with Pride,(4056)

Selfish arrogance was the seed of sin and rebellion: 2:54 (of Satan); 28:39 (of Pharaoh); etc. It is that kind of arrogance which prevents man from mending his life and conduct. When he speaks of amoral ways, or public opinion, or national honour, he is usually thinking of himself or of a small clique which thrives on injustice. The recognition of Allah, the one true God, as the only standard of life and conduct, the Eternal Reality, cuts out Self, and is therefore disagreeable to Sin. If false gods are imagined, who themselves would have weaknesses that fit in with sin, they give countenance to evils, and it becomes difficult to give them up, unless Allah's grace comes to our assistance. (R).

36. And say: "What! shall we give up our gods for the sake of a Poet possessed?”(4057)

Possessed of an evil spirit, or mad. Such was the charge which the Unbelievers sometimes levelled at the Prophet in the early stages of his preaching.

37. Nay! he has come with the (very) Truth, and he confirms (the Message of) the messengers (before him).(4058)

The message of Islam, so far from being “mad” or in any way peculiar, is eminently conformable to reason and the true facts of nature as created by Allah. It is the Truth in the purest sense of the term, and confirms the Message of all true Messengers that ever lived.

38. Ye shall indeed taste of the Grievous Penalty;-

39. But it will be no more than the retribution(4059) of (the Evil) that ye have wrought;-

Justice demands that those who sow evil should reap the fruit, but the punishment is due to their own conduct and not to anything external to themselves.
40. But the sincere (and devoted) Servants of Allah,-

41. For them is a Sustenance (4060) determined, (4061)

4060 Cf. 7:50. Sustenance; metaphorical sense, correlated with the Fruits mentioned below; see next verse.

4061 Determined: Makram: the reward of the Blessed will not be a chance or a fleeting thing. It will follow a firm Decree of Allah, on principles that can be known and understood.

42. Fruits (Delights); (4062) and they (shall enjoy) honour and dignity, 4062 Fruits: Cf. 36:37, and n. 4003. The spiritual Delights are figured forth from parallel experiences in our present life, and follow an ascending order: Food and Fruits; Gardens of Bliss, with all their charm, design, greenery; birds’ songs, fountains, etc.; the Home of Happiness and Dignity, with congenial company seated on Thrones; Delicious Drinks from crystal Springs, for social pleasure; and the society of Companions of the opposite sex, with beauty and charm but none of the grossness too often incidental to such companionship in this life.

43. In Gardens of Felicity,

44. Facing each other on Thrones (of Dignity):

45. Round will be passed to them a Cup from a clear-flowing fountain,

46. Crystal-white, of a taste delicious to those who drink (thereof),

47. Free from headiness; (4063) nor will they suffer intoxication therefrom.

4063 The passing round of the social cup, as in the case of other pleasures, is without any of the drawbacks and evil accompaniments of the pleasures of this world, which are taken as types. In drink there is no intoxication: in fruit there is flowing fountain, Crystal-white, of a taste delicious to those who drink (thereof),

48. And besides them will be chaste women, restraining their glances, with big eyes (4064) (of wonder and beauty).

4064 In the emblem used here, again, the pure type of chaste womanhood is figured. They are chaste, not hold with their glances: but their eyes are big with wonder and beauty, prefiguring grace, innocence, and a refined capacity of appreciation and admiration.

49. As if they were (4065) (delicate) eggs closely guarded.

4065 This is usually understood to refer to the delicate complexion of a beautiful woman, which is compared to the transparent shell of eggs in the nest, closely guarded by the mother-bird; the shell is warm and free from stain. In 55:58 the phrase used is “like rubies and coral”, referring to the red or pink of a beautiful complexion.

50. Then they will turn to one another and question one another. (4066)

4066 C; above, 37:37, where the same phrase is used in the reverse conditions. In each case there is going back to the earlier memories or experiences of this life.

51. One of them will start the talk and say: “I had an intimate companion (on the earth),” (4067)

4067 This companion was a sceptic, who laughed at Religion and a Hereafter. How the tables are now turned! The devout man backed up his Faith with a good life and is now in Bliss; the other was a cynic and made a mess of his life, and is now burning in the Fire.

52. “Who used to say, ‘what! art thou amongst those who bear witness to the Truth (of the Message)?

53. “When we die and become dust and bones, shall we indeed receive rewards and punishments?’”

54. (A voice) said: “Would ye like to look down?”

55. He looked down and saw him in the midst of the Fire. (4068)

4068 He is allowed a peep into the state which he so narrowly escaped by the grace of Allah.

56. He said: “By Allah. thou wast little short of bringing me to perdition!

57. “Had it not been for the Grace of my Lord,(4069) I should certainly have been among those brought (there)!

4069 And he gratefully acknowledges his shortcomings: “I should have been a sinner just like this, but for the grace of Allah!” He sees that if he had erred it would have been no excuse to plead the other man’s example. He had Faith and was saved, to walk in the path of righteousness.

58. “Is it (the case) that we shall not die,

59. “Except our first death, and that we (4070) shall not be punished?”

4070 After he realises the great danger from which he narrowly escaped, his joy is so great that he can hardly believe it! Is the danger altogether past now? Are the portals of death closed forever? Is he safe now from the temptations which will bring him to ruin and punishment? (Cf. 44:56)

60. Verily this is the supreme achievement! (4071)

4071 The answer is: Yes. “Beyond the flight of Time, Beyond the realm of Death. There surely is some blessed clime, Where Life is not a breath!” In the words of Longfellow this was an aspiration on this earth. In the Hereafter it is a realisation! Some interpret verses 60-62 as a continuation of the speech of the man in heaven. The meaning would in that case be the same.

61. For the like of this let all strive, who wish to strive.

62. Is that the better entertainment or the Tree of Zaqqum (4072)?

4072 C; 17:69, n. 2259. This bitter tree of Hell is a symbol of the contrast with the beautiful Garden of heaven with its delicious fruits.

63. For We have truly made it (as) a trial (4073) for the wrong-doers.

4073 Cf. 44:43-46: This dreadful bitter Tree of Hell is truly a trial to the wrong-doers. (1) It grows at the bottom of Hell; (2) even its fruit-stalks, which should have been tender, are like the heads of devils; (3) its produce is eaten voraciously; (4) on top of it is a boiling mixture to cut up their entrails (see next note); and (5) every time they complete this round of orgies they return to the same game. A truly lurid picture, but more lurid in reality are the stages in spiritual Evil. (1) It takes its rise in the lowest depths of corrupted human nature; (2) its tendril affections are degraded to envy and hate; (3) the appetite for Evil grows with what it feeds on; (4) its “cures” serve but to aggravate the disease; and (5) the chain of evil is unending; one round is followed by another in innumerable succession.

64. For it is a tree that springs out of the bottom of Hell-Fi re:

65. The shoots of its fruit-stalks are like the heads of devils:

66. Truly they will eat thereof (4074) and fill their bellies therewith.

4074 The parable of fruits and drinks in the contrasted fortunes of the Good and the Evil is further
67. Then on top of that they will be given a mixture made of boiling water.

68. Then shall their return (4075) be to the (Blazing) Fire.

4075 When they eat of the zaqqum in the lowest depths of hell, they are apparently brought up to drink of the mixture as a further punishment, after which they go back to repeat the round.

69. Truly they found their fathers on the wrong Path;

70. So they (too) were rushed (4076) down on their footsteps!

4076 A grim reproach. You found your fathers doing wrong; and you must rush headlong in their footsteps to perdition!

71. And truly before them, many of the ancients went astray;-

72. But We sent aforetime (4077) among them, (messengers) to admonish them;-

4077 It is human to err. The error is forgiven if there is repentance and amendment. The point is that Allah in His mercy at all times in history sent messengers and teachers to give His Message, and men deliberately rejected that Message.

73. Then see what was the end of those who (4078) were admonished (but heeded not).-

4078 It is on the reception or rejection of Allah's teachings and guidance that judgement will come. In this world itself, see what is the teaching of history. Unrighteousness and wrongdoing never prosper in the long run.

74. Except the sincere (and devoted) (4079) Servants of Allah.

4079 But there is always a band of sincere and devoted men who serve Allah, and the highest spiritual life is open to them (C. 37:46).

Note that this verse occurs at 37:40 above, where the argument of the difference between the fates of the righteous and the unrighteous was begun. Here it is rounded off with the same phrase, and now we proceed to take illustrations from the early Prophets.

75. (In the days of old), Noah cried to Us (4080) and We are the best to hear prayer.

4080 Cf. 21:76-77. The story of Noah occurs in many places; here the point is that when men gird themselves against evil, Allah protects them, and Evil cannot triumph against Allah's Plan.

76. And We delivered him and his people from the Great Calamity, (4081) 4081 The Deluge, the Flood of Noah. The main story will be found in 11:25-48.

77. And made his progeny to endure (on this earth); (4082)

4082 Noah's posterity survived the Rood in the Ark, while the rest perished.

78. And We left (this blessing) for him among generations (4083) to come in later times:

4083 His name is remembered forever, commencing a new era in religious history. Note that the words in verses 78-81, with slight modifications, form a sort of refrain to the following paragraphs about Abraham, Moses, and Elias, but not about Lot and Jonah. Lot was a nephew of Abraham, and may be supposed to belong to the story of Abraham. Jonah's career nearly ended in a tragedy for himself, and his people got a further lease of power for a time (37:148). And both Lot and Jonah belong to a limited local tradition.

79. "Peace and salutation to Noah among the nations!" (4084)

4084 The story of the Flood is found in some form or other among all nations, and not only among those who follow the Mosaic tradition. In Greek tradition the hero of the flood is Dodeschnon, with his wife Pyrrha; in Hindu tradition (Shatapatha Brahmana and Mahabharata) it is the sage Manu and the Fish. The Chinese tradition of a great Flood is recorded in Shu-King. Among American Indians the tradition was common to many tribes.

80. Thus indeed do we reward those who do right.

81. For he was one of our believing Servants.

82. Then the rest we overwhelmed in the Flood.

83. Verily among those who followed his Way was Abraham. (4085) 4085 The main story will be found in 21:31-73; but the episode about his readiness and that of his son to submit to the most extreme form of self-sacrifice under trial (in verses 192-197 below) is told here for the first time, as this Surah deals with the theme, "Not my will, but Thine be done!" In "followed his way", the pronoun "his" refers to Noah, "he", of verse 81 above.

84. Behold! he approached his Lord with a sound heart. (4086)

4086 "A sound heart"; qabb salin; a heart that is pure, and unaffected by the diseases that afflict others. As the heart in Arabic is taken to be not only the seat of feelings and affections, but also of intelligence and resulting action, it implies the whole character. Cf. Abraham's title of Hand (the True); 2:135 and n. 134. Cf. also 26:89: "only he will prosper who brings to Allah a sound heart."

85. Behold! he said to his father and to his people, "What is that which ye worship?"

86. "Is it a falsehood- gods other than Allah, that ye desire? (4087)

4087 False worship—worship of idols or stars or symbols, or Mammon or Self-interest—either to false and degrading conceptions of Allah, or to a sort of make-believe, where practice is inconsistent with knowledge or ignores the inner promptings of Conscience. Abraham's challenge to his people is: 'Are you fools or hypocrites?'

87. "Then what is your idea about the Lord of the Worlds?" (4088)

4088 Do you not realise that the real Creator is One-above all the forms and suppositions that you associate with Him?"

88. Then did he cast a glance at the Stars.

89. And he said, "I am indeed sick (at heart)!" (4089)

4089 The grief was really preying on his mind and soul, that he should be associated with such falsehoods. His father himself was among the chief supporters of such falsehoods, and his people were given up wholly to them. He could not possibly share in their mummeries, and they left him in disgust. Then he made his practical protest in the manner narrated in 21:56-64.

90. So they turned away from him, and departed.

91. Then did he turn to their gods and said, "will ye not eat (of the offerings before you)?..."

92. "What is the matter with you that ye speak not (intelligently)?"

93. Then did he turn upon them, striking (them) (4090) with the right hand. (4091)

4090 See the reference in the last note.

4091 With the right hand: as the right hand is the hand of power, the phrase means that he struck them with might and main and broke them (C. 37:28).

94. Then came (the worshippers) with hurried steps, and faced (him).
95. He said: "Worship ye that which ye have (yourselves) carved? (4092)

4092 His action was a challenge, and he drives home the challenge now with argument. Do you worship your own handiwork? Surely worship is due to Him Who made you and made possible your handiwork!

96. "But Allah has created you and your handwork!"

97. They said, "Build him a furnace, and throw him (4093) into the blazing fire!"

4093 The argument of Abraham was so sound that it could not be met by argument. In such cases Evil resorts to violence, or secret plotting. Here there was both violence and secret plotting. The violence consisted in throwing him into a blazing Furnace. But by the mercy of Allah the fire did not harm him (21:69), and so they resorted to plotting. But the plotting, as the next verse (37:98) shows, was a boomerang that recoiled on their own heads.

98. (This failing), they then sought a stratagem against him, (4094) but We made them the ones most humiliated!

4094 Cf. 21:71. Their plot against the righteous Abraham failed. Abraham migrated from the country (Chaldea, Babylon, and Assyria) and prospered in Syria and Palestine. It was his persecutors that suffered humiliation.

99. He said: "I will go to my Lord! He will surely guide me! (4095)

4095 This was the Hijrah of Abraham. He left his people and his land, because the Truth was dearer to him than the ancestral falsehoods of his people. He trusted himself to Allah, and under Allah's guidance he laid the foundations of great peoples. See n. 2767 to 21:69.

100. "O my Lord! Grant me a righteous (son)!

101. So We gave him the good news (4096) of a boy ready to suffer and forbear. (4097)

4096 This was in the fertile land of Syria and Palestine. The boy thus born was, according to Muslim tradition, the first-born son of Abraham, viz., Isma'il. The name itself is from the root Sam-a', to hear, because Allah had heard Abraham's prayer (verse 100). Abraham's age when Isma'il was born was 86 (Gen. 16:16). (R).

4097 The boy's character was to be Ha'il, which I have translated "ready to suffer and forbear". This title is also applied to Abraham (in 9:114 and 11:73). It refers to the patient way in which both father and son cheerfully offered to suffer any self-sacrifice in order to obey the Command of Allah. See next verse.

102. Then, when (the son) reached (the age of) (serious) work with him, he said: "O my son! I see in vision (4098) that I offer thee in sacrifice: (4099) Now see what is thy view!" (The son) said: "O my father! Do as thou art commanded: thou wilt find me, if Allah so wills one practising Patience and Constancy!"

4098 Where did this vision occur? The Muslim view is that it was in or near Makkah. Some would identify it with the valley of Mina, six miles north of Makkah, where a commemoration sacrifice is annually celebrated as a rite of the Hajj on the tenth of Dhu al-Hijjah, the 'Id of Sacrifice, in memory of this Sacrifice of Abraham and Isma'il (see n. 217 to 2:158). Others say that the original place of sacrifice was near the hill of Marwah (the companion hill to Safa, 2:158), which is associated with the infancy of Isma'il.

4099 At what stage in Abraham's history did this occur? See n. 2725 to 21:69. It was obviously after his arrival in the land of Canaan and after Isma'il had grown up to years of discretion. Was it before or after the building of the Ka'bah (2:127)?

There are no data on which this question can be answered. But we may suppose it was before that event, and that event may itself have been commemorative.

103. So when they had both (4100) submitted their wills (to Allah), and he had laid him prostrate on his forehead (for sacrifice), (4101)

4100 Note that the sacrifice was demanded of both Abraham and Isma'il. It was a trial of the will of the father and the son. By way of trial the father had the command conveyed to him in a vision. He consulted the son. The son readily consented, and offered to stand true to his promise if his self-sacrifice was really required. The whole thing is symbolical. Allah does not require the flesh and blood of animals (2:257), much less of human beings. But He does require the giving of our whole being to Allah, the symbol of which is that we should give up something very dear to us, if Duty requires that sacrifice, (R).

4101 Our version may be compared with the Jewish-Christian version of the present Old Testament. The Jewish tradition, in order to glorify the younger branch of the family, descended from Isma'il, ancestor of the Jews, as against the older branch, descended from Isma'il, ancestor of the Arabs, refers this sacrifice to Isma'il (Gen. 22:18-18). Now Isma'il was born when Abraham was 100 years old (Gen. 21:3), while Isma'il was born to Abraham when Abraham was 86 years old (Gen. 16:16). Isma'il was therefore 14 years older than Isaac. During his first 14 years Isma'il was the only son of Abraham; at no time was Isaac the only son of Abraham. Yet, in speaking of the sacrifice, the Old Testament says (Gen. 22:2): And He said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isma'il, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah : and offer him there for a burnt offering... This slip shows at any rate which was the older version; and how it was overlaid, like the present Jewish records, in the interests of a tribal religion. The 'land of Moriah' is not clear; it was three days journey from Abraham's place (Gen. 22:4). There is less warrant for identifying it with the hill of Moriah on which Jerusalem was afterwards built than with the hill of Marwah which is identified with the Arab tradition about Isma'il.

104. We called out to him, (4102) "O Abraham!

4102 In the Biblical version Isaac's consent is not taken: in fact Isaac asks, where is the lamb for sacrifice? and is told that 'God would provide it.' It is a complete human sacrifice like those to Moloch. In our version it is as much a sacrifice by the will of Isma'il as by that of Abraham. And in any case it is symbolic: 'this was obviously a trial,' 'thou hast already fulfilled thy vision,' etc.

105. "Thou hast already fulfilled the vision!" - thus indeed do We reward those who do right.

106. For this was obviously a trial-

107. And We ransomed him with a momentous sacrifice: (4103)

4103 The adjective qualifying 'sacrifice' here, pásim, (great, momentous) may be understood both in a literal and a figurative sense. In a literal sense it implies that a fine sheep or ram was substituted symbolically. The figurative sense is even more important. It was indeed a great and momentous occasion, when two men, with concerted will, 'ranged themselves in the ranks' of those to whom self-sacrifice in the service of Allah was the supreme thing in life. In this sense, said Jesus, 'he that loveth his life shall lose it,' (Matt. 10:39). (R).

108. And We left him (this blessing) (4104) for him among generations (to come) in later times:

4104 Cf. above, 37:78-81 and n. 4083, also 43:28.

109. "Peace and salutation to Abraham!"

110. Thus indeed do We reward those who do right.

111. For he was one of our believing Servants.

112. And We gave him (4105) the good news of Isma'il - a prophet,- one of the Righteous.

4105 Isaac was Abraham's second son, born of Sarah, when Abraham was 100 years of age. See n. 4101. He was also blessed and became the ancestor of the Jewish people. See next note.

113. We blessed him and Isma'il: but of their progeny are (some) that do right, and (some) that obviously (4106) do wrong, to their own souls.

4106 So long as the Children of Israel upheld the righteous banner of Allah, they enjoyed Allah's blessing and their history is a portion of sacred history. When they fell from grace, they did not stop Allah's Peace; they injured their own souls.

114. Again (of old) We bestowed Our favour on Moses and Aaron, (4107)

4107 The story of Moses is told in numerous passages of the Qur'an. The passages most illustrative of the present passage will be found in 28:4 oppression of the Israelites in Egypt) and 20:77-79 (the Israelites triumphant over their enemies when the latter were drowned in the Red Sea).

115. And We delivered them and their people from (their) Great Calamity; (4108)

4108 What could have been a greater calamity to them than that they should have been held in slavery by the Egyptians, that their male children should have been killed and their female children should have been saved alive for the Egyptians?

116. And We helped them, so they overcame (their troubles); (4109)

4109 The Israelites were delivered by three steps mentioned verses 114,115, and 116 respectively; but the consummation of Allah's favor on them was the Revelation given to them, which guided them on the Straight Way, so long as they preserved the Revelation intact and followed its precepts. The three steps were: (1) the divine commission to Moses and Aaron; (2) the deliverance from bondage; and (3) the triumphant crossing of the Red Sea and the destruction of Pharaoh's army.

117. And We gave them the Book which helps (4110) to make things clear;

4110 Mustahin has a slightly different force from Mubin. I have translated the former by "which helps to make things clear" and the latter by "which makes things clear"-apt descriptions as applied to the Tawrah and the Qur'an.

118. And We guided them to the Straight Way.

119. And We left (this blessing) (4111) for them among generations (to come) in later times:

4111 See above, 37:78-81 and n. 4083.

120. "Peace and salutation to Moses and Aaron!"

121. Thus indeed do We reward those who do right.

122. For they were two of our believing Servants.

123. So also was Elias (4112) among those sent (by Us).

4112 See note 905 to 6:85. Elias is the same as Elijah, whose story will be found in 1 Kings 17:19 and 2 Kings 2:11. Elias lived in the reign of Ahab (B.C. 896-874) and Ahaziah (B.C. 874-872), kings of the northern kingdom of Israel or Samaria. He was a prophet of the desert, like John the Baptist— unlike our Prophet, who took part in, controlled, and guided all the affairs of his people. Both Ahab and Ahaziah were prone to lapse into the worship of Baal, the sun-god worshipped in Syria. That worship also included the worship of nature-powers and procreative powers, as in the Hindu worship of the Lingam, which may be a fish or perhaps a crocodile. If it were in an open northern river, mentioned by some of our Commentators, is more likely, and it contains some fishes of extraordinary size.

124. Behold, he said to his people, "Will ye not fear (Allah)?"

125. "Will ye call upon Ba'l (4113) and forsake the Best of Creators?"

4113 For Ba'l-worship see last note.

126. "(Allah), your Lord and Cherisher and the Lord and Cherisher of your fathers of old?"

127. But they rejected him (4114) and they will certainly be called up (for punishment).

4114 They persecuted him and he had to flee for his life. Eventually he disappeared mysteriously; see n. 4112.

128. Except the sincere and devoted Servants of Allah (among them).

129. And We left (this blessing) (4115) for him among generations (to come) in later times:

4115 See above, 37:78-81, and n. 4083.

130. "Peace and salutation to such as Elias!" (4115-A) 4115-A Ilyasin may be an alternative form of Ilyas.

131. Thus indeed do We reward those who do right.

132. For he was one of our believing Servants.

133. So also was Lut (4116) among those sent (by Us).

4116 The best illustration of this passage about Lut will be found in 7:90-94. He was a prophet sent to Sodom and Gomorrah, Cities of the Plain, by the Dead Sea. The inhabitants were given over to abominable crimes, against which he preached. They insulted him and threatened to expel him. But Allah in His mercy saved him and his family, with one exception, (see the following note), and then destroyed the Cities.

134. Behold, We delivered him and his adherents, all

135. Except an old woman who was among those who lagged behind: (4117)

4117 Ca. 7:83, and n. 1051. Lot's wife had no faith: she lagged behind, and perished in the general ruin.

136. Then We destroyed the rest.

137. Verily, ye pass (4118) by their (sites), by day-

4118 Ca. 1:576, and n. 1998. The tract where they lay is situated on the high way to Syria where the Arab caravans travelled regularly, 'by day and by night'. Could not future generations learn wisdom from the destruction of those who did wrong?

138. And by night: will ye not understand?

139. So also was Jonah (4119) among those sent (by Us).

4119 For illustrative passages, see 21:87-88, n. 2744, and 68:48-50. Jonah's mission was to the city of Nineveh, then steeped in wickedness. He was rejected and he denounced Allah's wrath on them, but they repented and obtained Allah's forgiveness. But Jonah "departed in wrath" (21:87), forgetting that Allah has Mercy as well as forgiveness. See the notes following, Ca. 10:98, n. 1478.

140. When he ran away (like a slave from captivity) (4120) to the ship (fully laden), 4120 Jonah ran away from Nineveh like a slave from captivity. He should have stuck to his post and merged his own will in Allah's Will. He was hasty, and went off to take a ship. As if he could escape from Allah's Plan!

141. He (agreed to) cast lots (4121) and he was condemned:

4121 The ship was fully laden and met foul weather. The sailors, according to their superstition, wanted to find out who was responsible for the ill-luck: a fugitive slave would cause such ill-luck. The lot fell on Jonah, and he was cast off.

142. Then the big Fish (4122) did swallow him, and he had done (4123) acts worthy of blame.

4122 The rivers of Mesopotamia have some huge fishes. The word used here is Hul, which may be a fish or perhaps a crocodile. If it were in an open northern sea, it might be a whale. The locality is not mentioned: in the Old Testament it is said to have taken ship in the port of Joppa (now Jaffa) in the Mediterranean (Jonah, 1:3), which would be not less than 600 miles from Nineveh. The Tigris river, mentioned by some of our Commentators, is more likely, and it contains some fishes of extraordinary size.

4123 See n. 4120.

143. Had it not been that he (repented and) glorified Allah, (4124)
4194 'But he cried through the depths of darkness, 'There is no god but Thee; glory to Thee! I was indeed wrong' (21:87).

144. He would certainly have remained inside the Fish (4125) till the Day of Resurrection.

4195 This is just the idiom. This was to be the burial and the grave of Jonah. If he had not repented, he could not have got out of the body of the creature that had swallowed him, until the Day of Resurrection, when all the dead would be raised up.

145. But We cast him forth on the naked shore in a state of sickness, (4126)

4196 Cf. 37:89 above. His strange situation might well have caused him to be ill. He wanted fresh air and solitude. He got both in the open plain, and the abundantly shady Gourd Plant or some fruitful tree like it gave him both shade and sustenance. The Gourd is a creeper that can spread over any roof or ruined structure.

146. And We caused to grow, over him, a spreading plant of the gourd kind.

147. And We sent him (on a mission) to a hundred thousand (4127) (men) or more.

4197 The city of Nineveh was a very large city. The Old Testament says: "Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey" (Jonah, 3:3); "wherein were more than six score thousand persons" (Jonah, 4:11). In other words its circuit was about 45 miles, and its population was over a hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants.

148. And they believed; so We permitted them to enjoy (their life) (4128) for a while.

4198 They repented and believed, and Nineveh got a new lease of life. For the dates to which Jonah perhaps referred, and the vicissitudes of the City's history as the seat of the Assyrian Empire, see notes 1478-1479 to 10:98.

The lessons from Jonah's story are: (1) that no man should take upon himself to judge of Allah's wrath or Allah's mercy; (2) that nevertheless Allah forgives true repentance, whether in a righteous man, or in a wicked city; and (3) that Allah's Plan will always prevail, and can never be defeated.

149. Now ask them their opinion: (4129) Is it that thy Lord has (only) daughters, and they have sons?

4199 We begin a new argument here. The Pagan Arabs called angels daughters of Allah. They themselves were ashamed of having daughters, and preferred to have sons.

150. Or that We created the angels female, and they are witnesses (thereof)?

151. Is it not that they say, from their own invention,

152. "(Allah) has begotten children" (4130) but they are liars!

4130 Any attribution to Allah of ideas derogatory to His Oneness and His supreme height above all creatures is likely to degrade our own conception of Allah’s Universal Plan, and is condemned in the strongest terms.

153. Did He (then) choose (4131) daughters rather than sons?

4131 There is the strongest irony in this passage.

154. What is the matter with you? How judge ye?

155. Will ye not then receive admonition?

156. Or have ye an authority manifest?

157. Then bring ye your Book (of authority) if ye be truthful!

158. And they have invented a blood-relationship (4132) between Him and the Jinns: but the Jinns know (quite well) that they have indeed to appear (before His Judgment-Seat)!

4132 The angels are at least pure beings engaged in the service of Allah. But the Pagan superstitions not only connect them with Allah as daughters but even connect Allah by relationship with all kinds of spirits, good or evil! In some mythologies the most evil powers are gods or goddesses as if they belonged to the family of Allah the Creator and had some semblance of equality with Him! This, too, is repudiated in the strongest terms. For Jinn see n. 929 to 6:100.

159. Glory to Allah. (He is free) from the things they ascribe (to Him)!

160. Not (so do) the Servants of Allah, sincere and devoted. (4133)

4133 Those sincere in devotion to Allah never ascribe such degrading ideas to Allah (Cf. 37:74).

161. For, verily, neither ye nor those ye worship-

162. Can lead (any) (4134) into temptation concerning Allah,

4134 Evil has no power over faith, truth, and sincerity. Such power as it has is over those who deliberately put themselves in the way of Destruction. It is their own will that leads them astray. If they were fortified against Evil by Faith, Patience, and Constancy, Evil would have no power to hurt them. Allah would protect them.

163. Except such as are (themselves) going to the blazing Fire!

164. (Those ranged in ranks say): (4135) "Not one of us but has a place appointed;

4135 To round off the argument of the Surah we go back to the idea with which it began. Those who range themselves in ranks for the united service of Allah (see above, 37:1 and n. 4031)—whether angels or men of God—are content to keep their ranks and do whatever service is assigned to them. It is not for them to question Allah's Plan, because they know that it is good and that it will ultimately triumph. Any seeming delays or defeats do not worry them. Nor do they ever break their ranks.

165. "And we are verily ranged in ranks (for service);

166. "And we are verily those who declare ((Allah)´s) glory!"

167. And there were those (4136) who said,

4136 There were the sceptics or Unbelievers—primarily the Pagan Arabs, but in a more extended sense, all who doubt Allah's providence or revelation.

168. "If only we had had before us a Message from those of old,

169. "We should certainly have been Servants of Allah, (4137) sincere (and devoted)!"

4137 Such men take refuge in ancestral tradition. If our forefathers had had an inkling of Revelation or miracles, or had worshipped as we are now taught to worship, we should gladly have accepted. Or if they had had anything of the miracles which other nations of old are said to have received, we could then have accepted. But now stronger and more convincing proofs have come to them in the Qur'an in their own tongue, and they doubt and reject it.

170. But (now that the Qur´an has come), they reject it: But soon will they know! (4138) 4138 Allah's Truth will manifest itself against all odds, and the whole world will see.

171. Already has Our Word been passed before (this) to our Servants sent (by Us),
172. That they would certainly be assisted,
173. And that Our forces-(4139) they surely must conquer.

4139 The victory will be the victory of Allah's Truth by the forces of Allah, but every soldier in the army of Truth, who has done his duty, will be entitled to claim a share in the victory.

174. So turn thou away(4140) from them for a little while, 4140 Addressed in the first instance to the Prophet, but good for all time. He was not to be discouraged by his initial failures. Soon came victory to him from Allah. So is it always in the struggles of truth and righteousness. The righteous can afford to ignore opposition, confident in the strength which comes from the Grace of Allah.

175. And watch them (how(4141) they fare), and they soon shall see (how thou farest)!

4141 Watch and wait, for the Right must come to its own. 176. Do they wish (indeed)(4142) to hurry on our Punishment?

4142 The last verse enjoined Patience under the attacks of Evil, in the knowledge that evil must be conquered at last. Evil may perhaps turn back scoffingly and say: If a punishment is to come, why not bring it on now? Why indeed? The answer is: when it comes, it will come like a rush by night when the enemy is overpowered, when he least expects it: when the day dawns, it is a sorry plight in which the enemy finds himself. Cf. 22:47, and n. 2826 and 26:204, n. 3239.

177. But when it descends into the open space(4143) before them, evil will be the morning for those who were warned (and heed ed not)!

4143 See last note. The parable is that of an enemy camp in a plain, which is surprised and destroyed by a night attack from the hills. Evil is the plight of any survivors in the morning. Their regrets will be all the more poignant if they had had some sort of a warning before hand and had paid no heed to it.

178. So turn thou away(4144) from them for a little while, 4144 This and the following verse repeat verses 174-175 (with a slight verbal alteration). The argument in verses 176-177 brought in a new point. When that is finished, the repetition carries us back to the main argument, and rounds off the whole Surah.

179. And watch (how they fare) and they soon shall see (how thou farest)!

180. Glory to thy Lord,(4145) the Lord of Honour and Power! (He is free) from what they ascribe (to Him)!

4145 This and the following two verses recapitulate: (1) Glory, Honour, and Power belong to Allah; (2) No one is equal to Him; (3) He sends Messengers and revelations, and His aid will overcome all obstacles; for (4) He loves and cherishes all His Creation.

181. And Peace on the messengers!

182. And Praise to Allah, the Lord and Cherisher of the Worlds.

38. Sad

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Sad:(4146) By the Qur' an, Full of Admonition:(4147) (This is the Truth).

4146 Sad is a letter of the Arabic alphabet. It is used here as an Abbreviated Letter, for which see Appendix I (at the end of Surah 23). See also the second para, of n. 989 to 7:1 for this particular letter. No dogmatism is permissible in trying to interpret Abbreviated Letters. But it is suggested that it may stand for Qur' an (Stories), in which the dominant consonant is s. For this Surah is concerned mainly with the stones of David and Solomon as illustrative of the relative positions of spiritual and worldly power. Sale´s note: "It may stand for Solomon"; is a real howler: for in Arabic the letter Sad does not occur at all in the name of Solomon.

4147 Full of admonition: the word dālakr is far more comprehensive than any single word or phrase that lean think of in English: it implies (1) remembrance in a spirit of reverence; (2) recital, celebrating the praises of Allah; (3) teaching, admonition, warning: (4) Message, Revelation, as in Aid at dālakr, 'those who possess the Message' 16:45, and n. 2069. In Sufi phraseology it implies mystical enlightenment, both the aspiration and the attainment, for in the highest spiritual atmosphere, the two are one. Devotional exercises are also called dālakr, with reference to meaning (2) above.

2. But the Unbelievers (are steeped) in Self-glory(4148) and Separatism.

4148 The great root of Evil and Unbelief is Self-glory or Arrogance, as is pointed out in several places with regard to Satan: cf., below, 38:74-76. This leads to Envy and Separatism, or a desire to start a peculiar doctrine or sect of one's own, instead of a desire to find common grounds of belief and life, which lead to the Religion of Unity in Allah. This teaching of Unity was what the Pagans objected to in the Prophet (verse 5 below).

3. How many generations before them did We destroy? In the end they cried(4149) (for mercy)- when there was no longer time for being saved!

4149 Teaching, Warning, Signs have been given by Allah to all nations and at all times, and yet nations have rebelled and gone wrong and suffered destruction. If only later generations could learn that wrongdoing results in self-destruction! For the justice of Allah merely carries out the result of their own choice and actions. At any time during their probation they could repent and obtain mercy, but their 'Self-glory and Separatism' stand in the way. Ultimately they do cry for a way of escape, but it is then too late.

4. So they wonder that a Warner has come to them from among Themselves!(4150) and the Unbelievers say, "This is a sorcerer telling lies!"

4150 Their wonder is only stimulated. They are full of envy and spite against one of themselves who has been chosen by Allah to be His Messenger, and they went their spite by making all sorts of false accusations. The man who was pre-eminent for truth and conscientious consideration, they call "a sorcerer and a liar"! (Cf. 31:32,

317
5. "Has he made the gods (4151) (all) into one Allah. Truly this is a wonderful thing!"

4151 And what is the offence of the Messenger of Unity? That he has made all their fantastic gods disappear; that in place of chaos he has brought harmony; that in place of conflict he brings peace! It is a wonderful thing, but not in the sarcastic sense in which the Unbelievers scoff at it!

6. And the leader among them go away (impatiently), (saying), (4152) "Walk ye away, and remain constant to your gods! For this is truly a thing designed (against you)!

4152 When the message of Islam was being preached in its infancy, and the Prophet and his followers were being persecuted by the Pagans, one of the devices adopted by the Pagan raiders was to get the Prophet's uncle Abu Talib to denounce or renounce his beloved nephew. A conference was held with Abu Talib for this purpose. On its failure the leaders walked away, and began to discredit the great movement by falsely giving out that it was designed against their personal influence, and to throw power into the hands of the Prophet. Umar's conversion occurred in the sixth year of the Mission (seven years before the Hijrah). The circumstances connected with it (see Introduction to S. 20) greatly alarmed the Quraysh, chiefs, who, greedy of autocracy themselves, confused the issue by accusing the righteous Preacher of plotting against their power.

7. "We never heard (the like) of this among the people of these latter days: (4153) this is nothing but a made-up tale!"

4153 Whatever may have been the case in the past, they said, 'our own immediate ancestors worshipped these idols in Makka, and why should we give them up?' Self-complacency was stronger with them than Truth; and so they call Truth 'a made-up tale.' Some Commentators interpret al Millat al Akhirah to refer to the last religion preached before Islam, viz. Christianity, which had itself departed from Monotheism to Trinity. (R).

8. "What! has the Message been sent to him (4154) (of all persons) among us?"...but they are in doubt concerning My (Own) Message!(4155) Nay, they have not yet tasted My Punishment!

4154 Here comes in envy. If a Message had to come, why should it come to him, the son of 'Abd Allah, and not to one of our own good men?" 4155 They have no clear idea of how Allah's Message comes! It is not a worldly thing to be given to anyone. It is a divine thing requiring spiritual preparation. If they close their eyes to it now, it will be brought home to them when they taste the consequences of their folly!

9. Or have they the treasures of the mercy of thy Lord,- (4156) the Exalted in Power, the Grantor of Bounties without measure?

4156 If they set themselves to judge Allah, have they anything to show comparable to Allah's Mercy and Power? He has floods in infinite measure. What are they to question the grant of His Mercy and Revelation to His Own Chosen One?

10. Or have they the dominion of the heavens and the earth and all between? If so, let them mount up (4157) with the ropes and means (to reach that end)!

4157 Weak and puny creatures though they are, they dare to raise their heads against the Omnipotent, as if they had dominion over Creation and not He! If they had any power, let them mount up to heaven and use all the means they have to that end, and see how they can frustrate Allah's Purpose!

11. But there - will be (4158) put to flight even a host of confederates.

4158 Of course they cannot frustrate Allah's Purpose. In that world—the spiritual world—they will be ignominiously routed, even if they form the strongest confederacy of the Powers of Evil that ever could combine. Cf. the last clause of verse 13 below.

12. Before them (were many who) rejected messengers,- (4159) the people of Noah, and 'Ad, and Pharaoh, the Lord of Stakes,(4160)

4159 In their day, Noah's contemporaries, or 'Ad and Thamud, so frequently mentioned, or Pharaoh the mighty king of Egypt, or the people to whom Lot was sent (Cf. 37:73-82; 7:55-79; 7:103-137; 7:90-84) were examples of arrogance and rebellion against Allah: they rejected the divine Message brought by their messengers, and they all came to an evil end. Will not their posterity learn their lesson?

4160 The title of Pharaoh, 'Lord of the Stakes,' denotes power and arrogance, in all or any of the following ways: (1) the stake makes a tent firm and stable, and is a symbol of firmness and stability; (2) many stakes mean a large camp and a numerous army to fight; (3) impaling with stakes was a cruel punishment resorted to by the Pharaohs in arrogant pride of power.

13. And Thamud, and the people of Lut, and the Companions(4161) of the Wood; - such were the Confederates.(4162) 4162 Cf. above, verse 11, and n. 4158.

14. Not one (of them) but rejected the messengers, but My punishment came justly and inevitably(4163) (on them).

4163 Cf. 15:64, n. 1999; and 22:18.

15. These (today) only wait for a single mighty Blast,(4164) which (when it comes) will brook no delay.(4165)

4164 Cf. 36:29, n. 3073.

4165 Faraag, delay, the interval between one milking of a she-camel, and another, either to give her a breathing space or to give her young time to suck—or perhaps the walker to adjust his fingers. Such an interval will be quite short. The derived meaning is that when the inevitable punishment for sin arrives, it will not tarry, but do its work without delay.

16. They say: "Our Lord! hasten to us our sentence(4166) (even) before the Day of Account!"

4166 Cf. 26:204 and n. 3230. Those who do not believe in the Hereafter say ironically: 'Let us have our punishment and sentence now: why delay it?' The last verse and the next verse supply the commentary. As to those who mock, they will find out the truth soon enough, when it is too late for repentance or mercy. As to the prophets of Allah, who are mocked, they must wait patiently for Allah to fulfil His Plan: even men who had worldly strength and power, like David, had to exercise infinite patience when mocked by their contemporaries.

17. Have patience at what they say, and remember our servant David, the man of strength:(4167) for he ever turned (to Allah).

4167 David was a man of exceptional strength, for even as a raw youth, he slew the Philistine giant Goliath. See 2:249-252, and notes 286-287. Before that fight, he was mocked by his enemies and chidden even by his own elder brother. But he relied upon Allah, and won through, and afterwards became king.

18. It was We that made the hills declare,(4168) in unison with him, Our Praises, at eventide and at break of day, 4168 See n. 2743 to 21:79. All nature sings in unison and celebrates the praises of Allah. David was given the gift of music and psalmody, and therefore the hills and birds are expressed as singing Allah's praises in unison with him. The special hours when the hills and groves echo the songs of birds are in the evening and at dawn, when also the birds gather together, for those are respectively their roosting hours and the hours of their concerted flight for the day.

19. And the birds gathered (in assemblies): all with him did turn (to Allah).(4169)

4169 Note the mutual echo between this verse and verse 17 above. The Arabic aswab is common to both, and it furnishes the rhyme or rhythm of the greater part of this Surah, thus echoing the main theme: 'Turn to Allah in Prayer and Praise, for that is more than any worldly power or wisdom.'

20. We strengthened his kingdom, and gave him wisdom and sound judgment(4170) in speech and decision.
21. Has the Story of the Disputants reached thee? (4171) Behold, they climbed over the wall of the private chamber; (4171) This story or Parable is not found in the Bible, unless the vision here described be considered as equivalent to Nathan's parable in II Samuel, 11 and 12. Baydawi would seem to favour that view, but other Commentators reject it. David was a pious man, and he had a well-guarded private chamber (talaqab) for Prayer and Praise.

22. When they entered the presence of David, (4172) and he was terrified of them, they said: "Fear not: we are two disputants, one of whom has wronged the other: Decide now between us with truth, and treat us not with injustice, but guide us to the even Path. (4172) David was used to retiring to his private chamber at stated times for his devotions. One day, suddenly, his privacy was invaded by two men, who had obtained access by climbing over a wall. David was frightened at the apparition. But they said: "We have come to seek thy justice as king we are brothers, and we have a quarrel, which we wish thee to decide."

23. "This man is my brother: (4173) He has nine and ninety ewes, and I have (but) one: Yet he says, 'commit her to my care,' and is (moreover) harsh to me in speech. (4173) The brother who was most aggrieved said: 'This my brother has a flock of ninety-nine sheep, and I have but one; yet he wants me to give up my one sheep to his keeping; and moreover he is not even fast-spoken. He talks like one meditating mischief, and he has not even the grace to ask as an equal, of one sharing in a business or inheritance. What shall I do?"

24. (David) said: 'He has undoubtedly wronged thee (4174) in demanding thy (single) ewe to be added to his (flock of) ewes: truly many are the partners (in business) (4175) who wrong each other: Not so do those who believe and work deeds of righteousness, and how few are they?... and David gathered that We had tried him: he asked forgiveness of his Lord, (4176) fell down, bowing (in prostration), and turned (to Allah in repentance). (4176-A) (4174) The circumstances were mysterious, the accusation was novel; it was not clear why the unjust brother should also have come with the complaintant, risking his life in climbing the wall to evade the guard, a nd he certainly said nothing. David took them literally, and began to preach about the falsehood and the fraud of men, who should be content with what they have, but who always covet more. David was a pious man, and he had a well-guarded private chamber (talaqab) for Prayer and Praise.

25. So we forgave him this (lapse): he enjoyed, indeed, a Near Approach to Us, and a beautiful place of (Final) Return. (4176) (4175) Especially, said David, is it wrong for brothers or men in partnership to take advantage of each other; but how few are the men who are righteous? He had in mind his own devotions and justice. But lo and behold! the men disappeared as mysteriously as they had come. It was then that David realised that his visions had been a trial or temptation: a test of his moral or spiritual fibre? Great though he was as a king, and just though he was as a judge, the moment that he thought of these things in self-pride, his merit vanished. In himself he was as other men; it was Allah's grace that gave him wisdom and justice, and he should have been humble in the sight of Allah.

26. O David! We did indeed make thee a vicegerent (4177) on earth: so judge thou between men in truth (and justice): Nor follow thou the lusts (of thy heart), for they will mislead thee from the Path (4178) of Allah. for those who wander astray from the Path of Allah, is a Penalty Grievous, for that they forget the Day of Account. (4177) (4178) As stated in 4171 above, this vision and its moral are nowhere to be found in the Bible. Those who think they see a resemblance to the Parable of the prophet Nathan (2 Samuel, 12:1-17) have nothing to go upon but the mention of the 'one ewe' here and the 'one little ewe-lamb' in Nathan's Parable. The whole story is here different, and the whole atmosphere is different. The Biblical tide given to David, 'a man after God's own heart' is refuted by the Bible itself in the scandalous tale of heinous crimes attributed to David in chapters 11 and 12 of 2 Samuel, viz., adultery, fraudulent dealing with one of his own servants, and the contriving of his murder. Further, in chapter 13, we have the story of rapes, incest, and fratricide in David's own household! The fact is that passages like these are mere chronicles scandaclouses, i.e., narratives of scandalous crimes of the grossest character. The Muslim idea of David is that of a man just and upright, endowed with all the virtues, in whom even the least thought of self-elevation has to be washed off by repentance and forgiveness.

27. Not without purpose did We (4179) create heaven and earth and all between! that were the thought of Unbelievers! but woe to the Unbelievers because of the Fire (of Hell)! (4179) The reference to the Hereafter at the end of verse 26 above is of a piece with the whole tenor of this Surah, which deals with the superiority of the spiritual kingdom and the Hereafter. If there were no Hereafter, how could you reconcile the inequalities of this world? Would not the Unbelievers be right in acting as if all Creation and all life were futile? But there is a Hereafter and Allah will not treat the Good and Evil alike. He is just and will fully restore the balance disturbed in this life.

28. Shall We treat those who believe and work deeds (4180) of righteousness, the same as those who do mischief on earth? Shall We treat those who guard against evil, the same as those who turn aside from the Path? (4180) The reference to the Hereafter at the end of verse 26 above is of a piece with the whole tenor of this Surah, which deals with the superiority of the spiritual kingdom and the Hereafter. If there were no Hereafter, how could you reconcile the inequalities of this world? Would not the Unbelievers be right in acting as if all Creation and all life were futile? But there is a Hereafter and Allah will not treat the Good and Evil alike. He is just and will fully restore the balance disturbed in this life.

29. (Here is) a Book which We have sent down unto thee, full of blessings, (4181) that they may meditate on its Signs, and that men of understanding may receive admonition. (4181) Revelation is not a mere chance or haphazard thing. It is a real blessing-among the greatest that Allah has bestowed on man. By meditation on it in earnest a man may learn of himself, and his relation to nature around him and to Allah the Author of all. Men of understanding may, by its help, resolve all genuine doubts that there may be in their minds, and learn the true lessons of spiritual life.

30. To David We gave Solomon (for a son), (4182) How excellent in Our service! Ever did he turn (to Us)! (4182) The greatest in this life have yet need of this spiritual blessing without it all worldly good is futile. Referring back to the story of David, we are now introduced to Solomon, who was a great king but greater still because he served Allah and turned to Him. The Qur'an, unlike the Old Testament, represents Solomon as a righteous king, not as an idolater, doing 'evil in the sight of the Lord' (1 Kings, 11:6).

31. Behold, there were brought (4183) before him, at eventide coursers of the highest breeding, (4184) and swift of foot; (4183)
32. And he said, "Truly do I love the love (4185) of Good, with a view to the glory of my Lord,"- until (the sun) was hidden in the veil (of Night):(4186)

The story is not found in the Old Testament. I interpret it to mean that, like his father David, Solomon was also most meticulous in not allowing the least motive of self to be mixed up with his spiritual virtues. He was fond of horses: he had great armies and wealth, but he used them all in Allah's service. Cf. 27:19, n. 3259; 27:40, n. 3276, etc. His battles were not fought for lust of blood, but as Jihad in the cause of righteousness. His love of horses was not like that of a mere race-goer or of a warrior; there was a spiritual element in it. He loved by a kind of love which was spiritual—the love of the highest Good. Some commentators interpret this verse saying that Solomon, peace be upon him, was so engrossed in the inspection of his fine horses that he completely forgot to say his 'Asr prayer before the sunset. In the light of this interpretation the verse may be translated: 'And he said, Truly did I prefer the good things (of this world) to the remembrance of my Lord'. (R).

33. "Bring them back to me." then began he to pass (4187) his hand over (their) legs and their necks.

Like all lovers of horses, he patted them on their necks and passed his hand over their forelegs and was proud of having them—not as vanity but as a 'lover of Good'.

34. And We did try (4188) Solomon: We placed on his throne a body (4189) (without life); but he did turn to Us in true devotion.

The body (without life) on his throne has been variously interpreted. The interpretation that appeals to me most is that his earthly power, great as it was, was like a body without a soul, unless it was vivified by Allah's spirit. But Solomon did not lose Faith but turned to Allah (see verse 44 below), and the recuperative process began.

35. He said, "O my Lord! Forgive me, (4190) and grant me (4191) a kingdom which, (it may be), suits not another after me: for Thou art the Granter (4192) of Bounties (without measure).

The seeking of worldly Power, even if intended to be used for Allah's service, has a little of Self in it. It may be quite legitimate and even meritorious in ordinary men, but even the thought of it in a Prophet is to be apologised for. See a similar idea in the case of David explained in n. 4176 to 3824 above.

36. Then We subjected the Wind (4193) to his power, to flow gently to his order, Whithersoever he willed,-

As also the evil ones, (4194) (including) every kind of builder and diver,-

Cf. 21:82, and n. 2738. Cf. also 34:12-13 and notes there: in the latter passage the spirits mentioned are called Jinns. The divers were probably those employed in pearl fisheries.

38. As also others bound (4195) together in fetters.

Cf. 14:49, where the same expression 'bound together in fetters' is applied to Sinners on the Day of judgement.

39. "Such are Our Bounties: whether thou bestow (4196) (on others) or withhold them, no account will be asked."

Allah bestowed such abundant powers and bounties on Solomon that they could not be counted or measured: and he was free to give away anything he liked or keep anything he liked. In this was great temptation for an ordinary man. Solomon as a prophet withstood it and asked to be forgiven for power and such a kingdom as others might not be able to use lawfully. His earthly kingdom went to pieces after his death. But his name and fame endure. And what is more, he obtained a place among the Nearest Ones to Allah. See next verse.

40. And he enjoyed, indeed, (4197) a Near Approach to Us, and a beautiful Place of (Final) Return.

The same words are used of David in 38:25 above, thus symmetrically closing the argument about the two greatest kings in Israel.

41. Commemorate Our Servant Job. (4198) Behold he cried to his Lord: "The Evil One has afflicted me with distress (4199) and suffering!"

For this passage, verses 41-44, Cf. 21:83-84.

The distress was of many kinds, physical, mental, and spiritual. See n. 2739 to 2733. He suffered from leprous sores he lost his home, his possessions, and his family; and almost his balance of mind. But he did not lose Faith but turned to Allah (see verse 44 below), and the recuperative process began.

42. (The command was given:) "Strike with thy foot (4200) here is (water) wherein to wash, cool and refreshing, and (water) to drink."

The recuperative process having begun, he was commanded to strike the earth or a rock with his foot, and a fountain or fountains gushed forth—to give him bath and clean his body, to refresh his spirits, and to give him drink and rest. This is a fresh touch, not mentioned in S. 21 or in the Book of Job, but adding beautifully to our realisation of the picture.

43. And We gave him (back) his people, and doubled their number,- as a Grace (4201) from Ourselves, and a thing for commemoration, for all who have Understanding.

Cf. 21:84, and notes 2739-2740.

44. "And take in thy hand a little grass, and strike (4202) therewith: and break not (thy oath)." Truly We found him full of patience and constancy. How excellent in Our service (4203) ever did he turn (to Us)!

In his worst distress Job was patient and constant in faith, but apparently his wife was not. According to the book of Job (2:9-10), "Then said his wife unto him, dost thou still retain thine integrity? Curse God, and die. But he said unto her, thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh, What? Shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips." He must have said in his haste to the woman that he would beat her: he is asked now to correct her with only a whip of grass, to show that he was gentle and humble as well as patient and constant.

45. And commemorate Our Servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, possessors of Power and Vision. (4204)
46. Verily We did choose them for a special (purpose)-proclaiming the Message of the Hereafter.

47. They were, in Our sight, truly, of the company of the Elect and the Good.

48. And commemorate Isma'îl, (4205) Elisha, and Zul-Kifl; Each of them was of the Company of the Good.

49. This is a Message (of admonition); and verily, for the Righteous,(4206) a beautiful Place of (Final) Return,-

50. Gardens of Eternity, whose doors will (ever) be open to them;(4207)

51. Therein will they recline (at ease): Therein can they call (at pleasure) for fruit in abundance,(4208) and (delicious) drink;

52. And beside them will be chaste women restraining(4209) their glances, (companions) of equal age.(4210)

53. Such is the Promise made, to you for the Day of Account!

54. Truly such will be Our Bounty (to you); it will never fail;-

55. Yea, such! but - for the wrong-doers will be an evil place(4211) of (Final) Return!-

56. Hell!- they will burn therein, - an evil bed (indeed, to lie on)!(4212)

57. Yea, such! - then shall they taste it,- a boiling fluid, and a fluid(4213) dark, murky, intensely cold!-

58. And other Penalties of a similar kind, to match them!

59. Here is a troop rushing headlong with you!(4214) No welcome for them! truly, they shall burn in the Fire!

60. (The followers shall cry to the misleaders:) "Nay, ye (too)! No welcome for you! It is ye who have brought this upon us!(4215) Now evil is (this) place to stay in!"

61. They will say: "Our Lord! whoever brought this upon us,- Add to him a double(4216) Penalty in the Fire!

62. And they will say: "What has happened to us that we see not men whom we used to number among the bad ones?(4217)

63. "Did we treat them (as such) in ridicule, or have (our) eyes failed to perceive them?"

64. Truly that is just and fitting,-(4218) the mutual recriminations of the People of the Fire!

65. Say: "Truly am I a Warner: no god is there but the one Allah, Supreme and Irresistible,-(4219)

66. "The Lord of the heavens and the earth, and all between,- Exalted in Might, able to enforce His Will,(4220) forgiving again and again."(4221)
68. "From which ye do turn away!(4222)

4222 The Message which is of supreme import to mankind-from that they turn away. Instead of profiting by it, they turn away to side issues, or unprofitable speculation: such as what is the origin of Evil; when will Judgement come; etc.

69. "No knowledge have I of the Chiefs on high, when they discuss (matters) among themselves.(4223)

4223 The hierarchy in Heaven, under Allah's command, discuss questions of high import in the Universe. Those are not necessarily revealed to men, except insofar as it is good for men to know, as in verses 71:85 below. But the chief thing for man is to know that Allah is Most Merciful, that He forgives again and again, and that Evil has no power over those who trust in Allah.

70. 'Only this has been revealed to me: that I am to give warning plainly and publicly.'(4224)

4224 Two things are implied in Mattic (1) that the warning should be clear and perspicuous: there should be no mincing of matters, no ambiguity, no compromise with evil, 7:184; (2) that the warning should be delivered publicly, before all people, in spite of opposition and persecution, 26:1:5. Both these ideas I have tried to express in this passage.

71. Behold, thy Lord said(4225) to the angels: "I am about to create man from clay:(4226)

4225 Cf. n. 1968 to 15:29, where the spiritual significance of this is explained.

4226 Two passages may be compared with this: viz. : (1) 2:30-39, where merely the first stages of the Rebellion against Allah and its consequences to mankind are mentioned, and (2) 15:29-49, where the further intrusion of evil in man's life here below is referred to, and an assurance is given that Evil will have no power except over those who yield to it. The latter is the passage most relevant here, as we are now dealing with the power of Revelation to defeat the machinations of Evil.

4227 This shows that the material world round us was created by Allah before Allah fashioned man and breathed of His soul into him. Geology also shows that man came on the scene at a very late stage in the history of this planet.

72. "When I have fashioned him (in due proportion) and breathed into him of My spirit,(4227) fall ye down in obeisance unto him."(4228)

4228 Arrogance (self-love) is thus the root of Evil and of Unfaith.

4229 Not so Iblis: he was haughty, and became(4228) one of those who reject Faith.

73. The angels prostrated themselves, all of them together:

74. Not so Iblis: he was haughty, and became(4228) one of those who reject Faith.

75. (Allah)) said: "O Iblis! What prevents thee from prostrating thyself to one whom I have created with My hands?(4229) Art thou haughty? Or art thou one(4230) of the high (and mighty) ones?"

4229 Man, as typified by Adam, is in himself nothing but frail clay. But as fashioned by Allah's creative power into something with Allah's spirit breathed into him, his dignity is raised above that of the highest creatures.

4230 If, then, Satan refuses, it is a rebellion against Allah. It arises from arrogance or haughtiness, an exaggerated idea of Self. Or, it is asked, are you really sufficiently high in rank to dispute with the Almighty? Of course he was not.

76. (Iblis) said: "I am better than he: thou createstd me from fire, and him thou createstd from clay."

77. (Allah)) said: "Then get thee out from here: for thou art rejected, accursed.

78. "And My curse shall be on thee till the Day(4231) of Judgment."

4231 See n. 1972 to 15:35, where it is explained why the respite is to the Day of Judgement. The whole of that passage in S. 15 forms a good commentary on this.

79. (Iblis) said: "O my Lord! Give me then respite(4232) till the Day the (dead) are raised."

4232 For the significance of the respite see n. 1973 to 15:36.

80. (Allah) said: "Respite then is granted thee-

81. "Till the Day of the Time Appointed."(4233)

4233 It is not an indefinite respite. It is for a period definitely limited, while this our Evolution lasts in this world. It is part of the text as to how we use our limited free will. After that, our whole existence will be on a different plane. The good will have been sorted out, the chain of consequences of the present world will be broken, and 'a new Creation' will have taken the place of the present World.

82. (Iblis) said: "Then, by Thy Power,(4234) I will put them all in the wrong,-(4235)

4234 This phrase, this oath of Satan, is a fresh point introduced in this passage, because here we are dealing with Power—the Power of Good contrasted with Evil—the spiritual Power of Allah as contrasted with the power that we see in our earthly affairs. Satan acknowledges that even his power, such as it is, has no reality except insofar as it is permitted to operate by Allah in Allah's wise and universal Plan, and that it cannot harm the true and sincere worshippers of Allah.

4235 Seen. 1974 to 15:39.

83. "Except Thy Servants amongst them, sincere and purified (by Thy Grace)."

84. (Allah) said: "Then it is just and fitting-(4236) and I say what is just and fitting-4236 Cf. n. 1990 to 15:64.

85. "That I will certainly fill(4237) Hell with thee and those that follow thee,- every one."

4237 Cf. 7:18 ; 7:179, and 11:119. n. 1623. The punishment of defiance, and rebellion is inevitable and just, and the followers who chose to identify themselves with the disobedience must suffer as well as the leaders. Cf. 10:33

86. Say: "No reward do I ask(4238) of you for this (Qur'an), nor am I a pretender.(4239)

4238 Cf. 25:57; 26:109; and many other passages. The prophet of Allah neither seeks nor expects any reward from men. On the contrary he suffers much at their hands. He is unselfish and offers his services under Allah's inspiration. He is satisfied with the hope 'that each one who will may take a straight Path to his Lord.' That is his reward. And the reward he hopes for from Allah is similarly unselfish. He earnestly hopes to win His Good Pleasure—or, to use another metaphor, 'to see His Face.'

4239 Mutatallif, a man who pretends to things that are not true, or declares as facts things that do not exist, one who takes upon himself tasks to which he is not equal. True prophets are not people of that kind.

87. "This is no less than a Message to (all)(4240) the Worlds.

4240 So far from there being any false or selfish motive in the Message proclaimed in Revelations, it is a healing mercy to all mankind. More, it is in accord with all parts of Allah's Creation, and makes us kin with all Creation, the handiwork of the One True God.

88. "And ye shall certainly know the truth of it (all)(4241) after a while."

4241 There may be many things which we in our 'muddy vesture of decay' may not fully understand or take in. If we only follow the right Path, we shall arrive at the Goal in the Hereafter, and then everything will be clear to us.
39. Al Zumar (Crowds)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. The revelation of this Book is from Allah,(4242) the Exalted in Power, full of Wisdom.

4242 In connection with Revelation two qualities of Allah are mentioned: (1) that He is All-Powerful and can carry out His Will in spite of all opposition; and (2) that He is full of knowledge and wisdom. The first answers those who question how Allah can send Revelation to man; the second explains that true wisdom consists in carrying out Allah's Will as revealed to us.

2. Verily it is We Who have revealed the Book to thee in Truth: so serve Allah, offering Him sincere devotion.

3. Is it not to Allah(4243) that sincere devotion is due? But those who take for protectors other than Allah (say): "We only serve them in order that they may bring us nearer(4244) to Allah." Truly Allah will judge between them in that wherein they differ.(4245) But Allah guides not such as are false and ungrateful.

4243 In many Signs in Creation as described below, there yet is a clear indication of the unity of Plan, pointing to the Unity of the Creator. Worship of service is due to none but Him. And He wants exclusive and sincere devotion.

4244 Worshippers of Idols or of deities other than Allah, e.g., saints or perhaps Wealth and Power, Science or Selfish Desire, may pretend that these are symbols that may get them nearer to their self-development, nearer to the goal of their life, nearer to Allah, but they are altogether on the wrong track.

4245 This departure of theirs from true worship, this divergence from the right way, produces endless dissensions and sects. Allah will judge between them. But if they are determined to go after falsehoods and forget the gratitude and service which they owe to Allah, and Allah alone, they are putting themselves on a Path where they will get no guidance. They are cutting themselves off from revealed Truth.

4. Had Allah wished to take to Himself a son, He could have chosen whom He pleased out of those whom He(4246) doth create: but Glory be to Him! (He is above such things.) He is Allah, the One, the Irresistible.

4246 (Cf. 2:110). It is blasphemy to say that Allah begot a son. If that were true, He should have had a wife (6:101), and His son would have been of the same kind as Himself; whereas Allah is One, with no one else like unto Him (112:4). Begotting is an animal act which goes with sex. How can it be consistent with our conception of One who is above all Creatures? If such a blasphemous thought were possible, as that Allah wanted some one else to help Him, He could have chosen the best of His creatures instead of lowering Himself to an animal act. But glory to Allah! He is above such things! His Unity is the first thing that we have to learn about Him. As He is Omnipotent, He requires no creatures to help Him or bring other creatures to Him.

5. He created the heavens and the earth in true (proportions):(4247) He makes the Night overlap the Day, and the Day overlap the Night: He has subjected the sun and the moon (to His law): Each one follows a course for a time appointed. Is not He the Exalted in Power - He Who forgives(4248) again and again?

4247 Cf. 6:73, and n. 896.

4248 His Power is equalled by His Mercy. Who can there be like unto Him?

6. He created you (all) from a single Person:(4249) then created, of like nature, his mate; and he sent down for you eight head(4250) of cattle in pairs: He makes you, in the wombs of your mothers, in stages, one after another,(4251) in three veils of darkness.(4252) such is Allah, your Lord and Cherisher: to Him belongs (all) dominion. There is no god but He: then how are ye turned away(4253) (from your true Centre)?

4249 Cf. 4:1, and n. 504.

4250 See 6:143-144, where four kinds of cattle are mentioned in pairs in connection with certain Arab superstitions which are there condemned. Here the same four kinds are mentioned as representative of domesticated cattle given by Allah as useful to man. These are sheep, goats, camels, and oxen. In Arabic idiom the horse is not included among ‘cattle’.

For the wisdom and goodness of Allah in granting man dominion over cattle, see 36:71-73.

4251 See 22:5, where the gradual physical growth of man in several successive stages is mentioned as one of the Signs of Allah's creative Power and cherishing care.

4252 The three veils of darkness which cover the unborn child are: the caul or membrane, the womb, and the hollow in which the womb is enclosed. But we might understand 'three' in a cumulative rather than a numerical sense.

4253 It is clear that you owe your very existence and your maintenance, growth, and preservation, to Allah; how is it that you are turned away by chance things from Him? (R).

7. If ye reject (Allah), Truly Allah hath no need of you; but He liketh not(4254) ingratitude from His servants: if ye are grateful, He is pleased with you. No bearer of burdens(4255) can bear the burden of another. In the end, to your Lord is your Return, when He will tell you the truth of all that ye did (in this life). for He knoweth well all that is in (men’s) hearts.

4254 Allah is independent of all wants, and therefore man's ingratitude does not affect Allah. But Allah cares for man, and therefore man's gratitude and service earn Allah's Good Pleasure, and man's ingratitude and rebellion are displeasing to Allah.

4255 Cf. 6:164. The account is between you and Allah. No one else can take your burdens or carry your sins. Vicarious atonement would be unjust. You have to return to Allah in the Hereafter. You will find that He knows all that you did in this life, and its full significance. He will explain to you even better than you can understand yourself, because all your secret hidden motives which you sometimes tried to ignore yourself, are fully known to Him.

8. When some trouble toucheth man,(4256) He crieth unto His Lord, turning to Him in repentance: but when He bestoweth a favour upon him as from Himself, (man) doth forget what he cried and prayed for before, and he doth set up rivals unto Allah, thus misleading others from Allah's Path. Say, "Enjoy thy blasphemy(4257) for a little while: verily thou art (one) of the Companions of the Fire!!"

4256 Cf. 10:12. Trouble and adversity often bring a man to his bearings. But if he is not firm and constant, he forgets the lessons which life is meant to teach him. As soon as he gets a little prosperity, he forgets that it is from Allah, and attributes it to something which may only be a secondary cause, e.g., his own efforts or the Powers of Nature, or something which he has invented and made into a god, e.g., idols or fate. Allah is the Ultimate Cause of all things. To set up rivals to Him in this way is not only wrong and degrading to the false word-slinger himself, but misleads countless ignorant people, who may not be able to make allowances for the figures of speech or the symbolism by which subtler minds can explain away falsehoods.

4257 Those who practise and those who teach evil and blasphemy may seem to flourish in this world. But their satisfaction will be of very short duration. They are treading all the while the Path that leads to the Fire of Perdition.
9. Is one who worships devoutly during the hour of the night (4258) prostrating himself or standing (in adoration), who takes heed of the Hereafter, and who places his hope in the Mercy of his Lord - (like one who does not) Say: "Are those equal, those who know and those who do not know? Is it those who are endued with understanding that receive admonition? (4259)

4258 Cf. 3:113-117. It is a great thing when a man gets into the attitude of humble devotion to Allah. To him the Hereafter is a real thing, and he prepares for it with good works. He does not build his hopes on the vanities of this world, but on Allah's Grace and Mercy. Such a man is 'endued with understanding' and receives Allah's Message with fervour and alacrity. He is not to be compared with the cynic or the unbeliever, who knows nothing of the real value of the inner life.

4259 Cf. 13:19.

10. Say: "O ye my servants who believe! Fear your Lord, (4260) good is (the reward) for those who do good in this world. Spacious is Allah's earth! (4261) those who patiently persevere will truly receive a reward without measure!" (4262)

4260 The 'fear of Allah' (Taqwa) is explained in n. 26 to 2/2. See also n. 2912 to 2:2. The fear of Allah is akin to love, for it means that we are afraid to displease Him.

4261 Cf. 29:56 and n. 3480. We must always do right. We cannot plead that the circumstances in which we find ourselves force our hands. If our home conditions do not allow us to act according to the Faith that is in us, we must be prepared to suffer ostracism or even exile.

11. Say: "Verily, I am commanded to serve Allah with sincere devotion;

12. "And I am commanded to be the first (4262) of those who bow to Allah in Islam."

4262 Cf. 6:14. 'The first' need not necessarily be chronological: it may also refer to the first rank in zeal, and in readiness to suffer for the Cause.

13. Say: "I would, if I (4263) disobeyed my Lord, indeed have fear of the Penalty of a Mighty Day."

4263 Cf. 6:15. The worst penalty in a spiritual sense is the Displeasure of Allah, just as the highest achievement, the fulfillment of all desire, is the attainment of Allah's Good Pleasure: 6:16.

14. Say: "It is Allah I serve, with my sincere (and exclusive) devotion:

15. "Serve ye what ye will (4264) besides him." Say: "Truly, those in loss are those who lose their own souls and their People (4265) on the Day of Judgment: Ah! that is indeed the (real and) evident Loss!"

4264 This is not a command or permission but a reproach and warning. The address of the Prophet of Allah may be paraphrased thus: 'Whatever happens I will follow the command of Allah. He has revealed Himself, and I know that He is One, supreme over all creatures. Him alone will I serve. Is there any so ignorant as to seek anyone else? Let him do so and see the results. The loss will be his own. For he falls from Grace into Evil.' (R).

4265 The cult of Evil results in the destruction of all that is best and most valuable in us, as well as poisons all the affections which link us to our families, and people, in the Final Adjustment, which we call the Day of Judgement.

16. They shall have Layers (4266) of Fire above them, and Layers (of Fire) below them: with this doth Allah warn off (4267) his servants: "O My Servants! then fear ye Me!"

4266 The consequence of Sin when Judgement comes are aptly figured by Layers upon Layers of Fire, which hem in the sinners above and below. It is also suggested that the Layers, though of Fire, have something dark in them—the scorching quality of Sin.

4267 But Allah does not leave mankind without warning. Man has been granted a limited amount of free will, and in order to help him in its right use, all the consequences of his action are clearly explained to him. To those who will listen to Reason are given arguments which can be apprehended by their own intelligence; to those who are swayed by affections and emotions, an appeal is made in the name of the Love of Allah; to those who understand nothing but fear, the warning is conveyed by a portrayal of the dreadful consequences of wrongdoing.

17. Those who eschew Evil, and fall not into (4268) its worship, - and turn to Allah (in repentance), - for them is Good News: so announce the Good News to My Servants,- 4268 There is always the danger that Evil may seize us even if we approach it out of mere curiosity. If we take an interest in it we may become its worshippers or slaves. The wise man eschews it altogether, and so he enrols among the Servants of Allah, and gets the good news of His Mercy and Good Pleasure.

18. Those who listen to the Word, and follow the best (meaning) in it: (4269) those are the ones whom Allah has guided, and those are the ones endued with understanding.

4269 The Commentators construe this clause in two alternative ways. (1) If 'word' be taken as any word, the clause would mean that good men listen to all that is said and choose the best of it. (2) If 'word' be taken to mean Allah's Word, it would mean that they should listen reverently to it, and where permissive and alternative courses are allowed for those who are not strong enough to follow the higher course, those 'endued with understanding' should prefer to attempt the higher course of conduct. For example, it is permitted (within limits) to punish those who wrong us, but the nobler course is to repel evil with good (23:96), we should try to follow the nobler course. I prefer the latter construction: it accords better with my interpretation of the last verse: see n. 4268.

19. Is, then, one against whom the decree of Punishment is justly due (equal to one who eschews Evil)? (4270) Wouldst thou, then, deliver one (who is) in the Fire?

4270 If a man is already steeped in sin and has rejected Allah's Grace, how can we expect Revelation to work in his soul?

20. But it is for those who fear their Lord. That lofty mansions, (4271) one above another, have been built: beneath them flow rivers (of delight): (such is) the Promise of Allah. never doth Allah fail in (His) promise. (4272)

4271 Cf. 2:29, 58, and 34:37. The idea of heaven here is that of a Home of sublimity and beauty, with a picturesque outlook, such as we would describe in this life by the type of a palace by gently-flowing streams. The mansions will also suggest generous space and architectural beauty, tiers upon tiers piled one upon another.

4272 My/Build the time, place and manner of the fulfilment of a Promise. Allah's promise will be fulfilled in all particulars better than we can possibly imagine.

21. Seest thou not that Allah sends down rain from the sky, and leads it through springs in the earth? (4273) Then He causes to grow, therewith, produce of various kinds: then it withers; thou wilt see it grow yellow; then He causes it to dry up and crumble away. Truly, in this is a Message of remembrance to men of understanding.

4273 Cf. 2:29, 58, and 34:37. The circuit of water, by which the rain falls from the clouds, is absorbed through the earth, and flows through rivers or underground streams to the sea, where it again rises as vapour and forms clouds, was explained in notes 311-312 to 25:53. Here our attention is drawn to one portion of the process. The rain fructifies the soil and the seeds. Produce of various kinds is raised. The harvest ripens and is gathered in. The plants wither, dry up, and crumble away. Men and animals are fed. And the circuit starts again in another season.

22. Is one whose heart Allah has opened to Islam, (4274) so that he has received Enlightenment from Allah, (no better than one hard-hearted)? Woe to those whose hearts are hardened against celebrating (4275) the praises of Allah. they are manifestly wandering (in error!)

472 Those who listen to Allah's Message find at each stage Allah's Grace helping them more and more to expand their spiritual understanding and to receive Allah's light, so that they travel farther and farther to their Goal in the Path of Truth and Righteousness. They are not to be compared to those who shut out Allah's Light from their hearts. See next note.

473 Just as there is spiritual progress for those who seek Allah, so there is more and more spiritual retrogression for those who close their hearts to Allah. Their hearts get hardened, and they allow less and less Allah's Grace to penetrate within. But it is obvious that they wander on the Way, and cannot walk with the firm steps of those of assured Faith.

23. Allah has revealed (from time to time) the most beautiful Message in the form of a Book, consistent with itself,(4276) (yet) repeating (its teaching in various aspects): (4277) the skins of those who fear their Lord tremble (4278) thereof; then their skins and their hearts do soften to the celebration of Allah's praises. Such is the guidance of Allah. He guides therewith whom He pleases,(4279) but such as Allah leaves to stray, can have none to guide.

476 Is Mutashabihah here to be understood in the same sense as in 3:7? See n. 517. The better opinion is that there is a slightly different shade of meaning here, as suggested by the context. In the earlier passages, it was opposed to Makkan: here it is contrasted or compared to Mathani. The root meaning is: 'having something similar; working by analogy or allegory, or parable; having its parts consistent with each other'. The last meaning I adopt here. The Qur'an was revealed in parts at different times. And yet its parts all conform to each other.

477 There is no contradiction or inconsistency anywhere, (R).

478 Mathani: Cf. 15:87, where we have translated 'opposed'; 'The seven opposed (verse)'. See n. 3096 to that passage. Here the meaning is similar, but the context gives a different colour to it, as seen in the translation.

479 The skin is the outer integument of the body. It receives the first shock from the impact of anything unusual, and it trembles and its hair stands on end under excitement. So in spiritual matters the first stimulation from Allah's Message is external. Those who receive Faith do it as it were with tremor and not with apathy. So in spiritual matters the first stimulation from Allah's Message is external. Those who receive Faith do it as it were with tremor and not with apathy.

So in spiritual matters the first stimulation from Allah's Message is external. Those who receive Faith do it as it were with tremor and not with apathy.

481 'Whom He pleases' and 'leaves to stray' are explained fully in n. 2133 to 16:50. See also 14:4 and n. 1875.

24. Is, then, one who has to fear the brunt of the Penalty on the Day of Judgment (and receive it) on his face,(4280) (like one guarded thereof)? It will be said to the wrong-doers: "Taste ye (the fruits of) what ye earned!" (4281)

482 The unpunished Sinners will receive the full Penalty on the Day of Judgement. They will receive it full in the face, i.e., their whole being will be affected by it. Their hands (figuratively) will be tied, and they cannot therefore use their hands to ward off the Penalty of the Fire: in any case their hands will not have the power to ward it off. Are such helpless people to be compared for a moment with people who have received Grace and are therefore guarded from all harm and danger? Certainly not. To the evil the fruit of their deed, and to the good the grace of their Lord!

483 That is, of all their misdeeds, all the evil which they did in the world.

25. Those before them (also) rejected (revelation), and so the Punishment came to them from directions they did not perceive.(4282)

484 Cf. 2:114. Sin often brings disgrace and humiliation in this life, but the greater and truer punishment is in the Hereafter. But men often do not know the inwardness of this matter. If they flourish here for a time, they think they will escape the real consequences in the Hereafter. Or if they suffer little harm here, they think that will make up the Penalty, and they will escape the Hereafter. Both ideas are wrong.

27. We have put forth for men, in this Qur`an an every kind of Parable,(4284) in order that they may receive admonition.

485 Men can only understand high spiritual truths by parables and similitudes and these are given abundantly in the Qur'an. The object is, not merely to tell stories, but to teach lessons of spiritual wisdom.

28. (It is) a Qur`an in Arabic,(4285) without any crookedness (therein):(4286) in order that they may guard against Evil.

486 Previous revelations had been in other languages. Now the revelation was given in Arabic in Arabic itself, the language of the country which all could understand. And it is a beautiful language, straight and flexible, and fit to be the vehicle of sublime truths. Cf. C. 12.

29. Allah puts forth a Parable a man belonging to many(4287) partners at variance with each other, and a man belonging entirely to one master: are those two equal in comparison? Praise be to Allah!(4288) But most of them have no knowledge.

487 The difference between the creed of Polytheism and the Gospel of Unity is explained by the analogy of two men. One belongs to many masters; the masters disagree among themselves, and the poor man of many masters has to suffer from the quarrel of his many masters: it is an impossible and unnatural position. The other serves only one master, his master is good, and does all he can for his servant; the servant can concentrate his attention on his service; he is happy himself and his service is efficiently performed. Can there be any doubt as to (1) which of them is the happier, and (2) which of them is in a more natural position? No man can serve two, still less, numerous masters.

488 Allah is praised that He has put us, not under gods many and lords many, but has, out of His infinite Mercy, allowed us direct approach to Him, the One, the True, the Eternal.

30. Truly thou wilt die(4289) (one day), and truly they (too) will die (one day).

489 Even the prophets are not exempt from bodily death, much less the righteous, but they live in their beneficent work and the memories they leave behind them. All men have to die, good and evil. But there is a life after death, and in that life all the unexplained things about which people dispute in this world will be made clear in the presence of Allah.

31. In the end will ye (all), on the Day of Judgment, settle your disputes(4290) in the presence of your Lord.

490 See last note.

32. Who, then, doth more wrong than one who uttereth a lie concerning Allah,(4291) and rejects the Truth when it comes to him; is there not in Hell(4292) an abode for blasphemers?

491 When the creature deliberately adopts and utters falsehoods against his own Creator, in spite of the Truth being brought, as it were, to his very door by Allah's Signs, what offence can we imagine more heinous than this? In Christian theology this is the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost spoken of in Matt. xxi. 31-32: 'whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man', (Christ), 'shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come'.

492 Cf. C. 3:151; 16:29 [Eds.].

33. And he who brings the Truth and he who confirms(4293) (and supports) it - such are the men who do right.
34. They shall have all that they wish for,(4294) in the presence of their Lord: such is the reward of those who do good:

34A At that stage their wills will have been purified, and they could wish for nothing that they could not or should not have. And it will be as 'in the presence of their Lord'. If an earthly king gives a decoration, how much greater is the honour when the investiture takes place by the king himself personally?

35. So that Allah will turn off from them (even) the worst in their deeds(4295) and give them their reward according to the best of what they have done.

35A The conjunction (Lam in Arabic, translated 'so that') indicates here the results, not the purpose. Allah's Reward is so bounteous, that if we truly and sincerely put our will into His keeping, He will remove the consequences not only of our minor faults but also of the worst of our sins, and judge us according to the very best of our deeds.

36. Is not Allah enough(4296) for his Servant? But they try to frighten thee with other (gods) besides Him! for such as Allah leaves to stray, there can be no guide.

36A Revelation is sent by Allah through His messenger, but it is for all. It is given in order that men and women may be taught Righteousness. It is given in Truth: there is no pretence about it. It is for their own good. If they reject it and follow Evil, the loss is their own.

37. And such as Allah doth(4297) guide there can be none to lead astray. Is not Allah Exalted in Power, (Able to enforce His Will), Lord of Retribution?(4298)

37A On the other hand if anyone holds fast to Allah's Truth, nothing can mislead or betray him.

38. If indeed thou ask them who it is that created,(4299) the heavens and the earth, they would be sure to say, "(Allah)". Say: "See ye then? the things that ye invoke besides Allah,- can they, if Allah wills some Penalty for me, remove His Penalty? Or if He wills some Grace for me, can they keep back(4300) his Grace?" Say: "Sufficient is Allah for me! In Him trust those who put their trust."

38A This is true of the Prophets, and all men of God and all righteous persons. Anyone who preaches the Truth and brings home Allah's Signs to men is performing the duty of a right and noble life. In this he confirms the teaching of all previous men of God. Anyone who supports and confirms such a teacher is also doing his duty and on the right way. (R).

40. "Who it is to whom comes a Penalty(4303) of ignominy, and on whom descends a Penalty that abides."

40A Cf. 11:93. The two clauses, about those who suffer a Penalty of ignominy and those on whom descends a lasting Penalty, apparently refer to the same person in two different aspects: (1) they suffer shame, and (2) their punishment endures.

41. Verily We have revealed the Book to thee in Truth, for (instructing) Mankind.(4304) He, then, that receives guidance benefits his own soul: but he that strays injures his own soul. Nor art thou set(4305) over them to dispose of their affairs.

41A Revelation is sent by Allah through His messenger, but it is for all. It is given in order that men and women may be taught Righteousness. It is given in Truth: there is no pretence about it. It is for their own good. If they reject it and follow Evil, the loss is their own.

42. It is Allah that takes the souls (of men) at death;(4306) and those that die not (He takes) during their sleep:(4307) those on whom He has passed the decree of death, He keeps back(4308) (from returning to life), but the rest He sends (to their bodies) for a term appointed verily in this are Signs(4309) for those who reflect.

42A The mystery of life and death, sleep and dreams, is a fascinating enigma, of which the solution is perhaps beyond the ken of man. A vast mass of superstition as well as imaginative and psychological literature has grown up about it. But the simplest and most religious doctrine is laid down here in a few words. In death we surrender our physical life, but our soul does not die; it goes back to a plane of existence in which it is more conscious of the realities of the spiritual world: "Allah takes the soul".

43. What! Do they take for intercessors others(4310) besides Allah. Say: "Even if they have no power whatever and no intelligence?"

43A Cf. 11:121 and n. 1624-A. Cf. 12:67, and 14:12. Allah alone is He Who will and can discharge any command He leads to do, and no one can be led to do it at all if He leaves it unwilled. This is true of the Prophets, and all men of God and all righteous persons. Anyone who preaches the Truth and brings home Allah's Signs to men is performing the duty of a right and noble life. In this he confirms the teaching of all previous men of God. Anyone who supports and confirms such a teacher is also doing his duty and on the right way. (R).

The mysteries of life and death, of worship and spiritual growth, are matters of high moment, which it may be difficult for us to apprehend in this present life.
It is no use arguing about them and plunging in endless controversies. The proper attitude is to appeal to Allah humbly to accept our purified hearts and Faith, in the firm hope that everything which is now vague to us will be cleared up in the Hereafter, and to pray to Him for His guidance and mercy.

come when they will wish they had sacrificed everything in the cause of Truth and Righteousness. It will be too late then. Why not examine the matter seriously now and accept Allah's Grace and Light?

This something will be beyond anything they can conceive of in this life. Just as the righteous will then attain a bliss which no human imagination can conceive of now, so the unrighteous will be in a misery of which they can form no conception now. See next note.

For the evils of their Deeds will confront them, and they will be (completely)(4317) encircled by that which they used to mock at!

How humiliating it will be for them to realise that the things they used to mock at are realities all around them, and the things they were so eager to pursue are mere falsehoods or vanities!

conception now. See next note.

For the evils of their Deeds will confront them, and they will be (completely)(4317) encircled by that which they used to mock at!

How humiliating it will be for them to realise that the things they used to mock at are realities all around them, and the things they were so eager to pursue are mere falsehoods or vanities!

Now, when trouble touches man, he cries to Us:(4318) But when We bestow a favour upon him(4319) as from Ourselves, he says, "This has been given to me because of a certain knowledge (I have)!"(4320) Nay, but this is but a trial, but most of them understand not!

Say: "O Allah, Creator of the heavens and the earth!
Know the Knower of all that is hidden and open!(4314) it is for ransom from the pain of the Penalty on the Day of judgment: but something will confront them from other than He are mentioned, behold, they are filled with joy!

When Allah, the One and Only, is mentioned, the hearts of those who believe not in the Hereafter are filled with disgust and horror;(4313) but when (gods) other than He are mentioned, behold, they are filled with joy!

Say: "O Allah, Creator of the heavens and the earth!
Knower of all that is hidden and open!(4314) it is Thou that wilt judge between Thy Servants in those matters about which they have differed."

The mysteries of life and death, of worship and spiritual growth, are matters of high moment, which it may be difficult for us to apprehend in this present life.
It is no use arguing about them and plunging in endless controversies. The proper attitude is to appeal to Allah humbly to accept our purified hearts and Faith, in the firm hope that everything which is now vague to us will be cleared up in the Hereafter, and to pray to Him for His guidance and mercy.

Even if the wrong-doers had all that there is on earth, as much more,(4315) (in vain) would they offer it for ransom from the pain of the Penalty on the Day of Judgment: but something will confront them from Allah, which they could never have counted upon!(4316)

Those who reject Allah's Message must realise that the time will come when they will wish they had sacrificed everything in the cause of Truth and Righteousness. It will be too late then. Why not examine the matter seriously now and accept Allah's Grace and Light?

This something will be beyond anything they can conceive of in this life. Just as the righteous will then attain a bliss which no human imagination can conceive of now, so the unrighteous will be in a misery of which they can form no conception now. See next note.

For the evils of their Deeds will confront them, and they will be (completely)(4317) encircled by that which they used to mock at!

How humiliating it will be for them to realise that the things they used to mock at are realities all around them, and the things they were so eager to pursue are mere falsehoods or vanities!

Now, when trouble touches man, he cries to Us:(4318) But when We bestow a favour upon him(4319) as from Ourselves, he says, "This has been given to me because of a certain knowledge (I have)!"(4320) Nay, but this is but a trial, but most of them understand not!
"Or (lest) it should say (4329) when it (actually) sees the penalty: 'If only I had another chance, I should certainly be among those who do good!' (4331)

The reply explains how all such pleas have been anticipated and met. It was deliberate rejection that will deserve and meet its consequences. It is further explained that the motive of sin, as with Satan, was haughtiness and Self. (R).

The example of the arch-sinner illustrates what happens, to a minor degree, to every kind of sinner.

On the Day of Judgment wilt thou see those who told lies against Allah,- their faces will be turned black; (4332) Is there not in Hell an abode for the Haughty?

As spotless white is the symbol of purity, honour and truth, so black is the symbol of evil, disgrace, and falsehood. Perhaps 'black' in connection with Hell also refers to the scorching punishment of the Fire.

CT. above, 39:32, and n. 4292, where the subtle implication of the interrogative form is explained.

But Allah will deliver the righteous to their place (4334) of salvation: no evil shall touch them, nor shall they grieve.

Allah is the Creator of all things, and He is the Guardian and Disposer (4334) of all affairs.

To Him belong the keys of the heavens and the earth: no evil shall touch them, nor shall they grieve.

Allah is the Creator of all things, and He is the Guardian and Disposer of all affairs.

65. But Allah will deliver the righteous to their place (4334) of salvation: no evil shall touch them, nor shall they grieve.

Allah is the Creator of all things, and He is the Guardian and Disposer of all affairs.

To Him belong the keys of the heavens and the earth: no evil shall touch them, nor shall they grieve.

Allah is the Creator of all things, and He is the Guardian and Disposer of all affairs.

63. To Him belong the keys of the heavens and the earth: and those who reject the Signs of Allah,- it is they who will (4336) be in loss.

64. Say: "Is it some one other than Allah that ye order me (4337) to worship, O ye ignorant ones?"

Order me, there is great irony here. The Prophet of Allah turns to his critics and says: 'You arrogate to yourselves the right to order me, how to worship! But who are you? You are only ignorant men! My commission is from Allah. It is the same as came to Prophets of Allah before me in all ages, i.e., (1) that the only Truth is in the Gospel of Unity; and (2) that if you worship other things and turn away from Allah, your life will be wasted and all your probation will have been of no account. (R).

But it has already been revealed to thee; (4338) as it was to those before thee,- "If thou wert to join (gods with Allah, truly fruitless (4339) will be thy work (in life), and thou wilt surely be in the ranks of those who lose (all spiritual good)". (R).

66. Nay, but worship Allah, and be of those who give thanks. (4340)

To 'give thanks' is to show by our conduct that we esteem the gifts of Allah and will use them in His service.

67. No just estimate have they made of Allah, (4341) such as is due to Him: On the Day of Judgment the whole of the earth will be but His handful, (4342) and the heavens will be rolled up in His right hand: Glory to Him! High is He above the Partners they attribute to Him!

68. The Trumpet will (just) be sounded, when all that are in the heavens and on earth will swoon, (4343) except such as it will please Allah (to exempt). Then will a second one be sounded, when, behold, they will be standing and looking on!

69. And the Earth will shine with the Glory of its Lord; (4344) the Record (of Deeds) will be placed open; the prophets and the witnesses will be brought forward and a just decision (4345) pronounced between them; and they will not be wronged (in the least).

70. And to every soul will be paid in full (the fruit) of its Deeds; and (Allah) knoweth best all that (4346) they do.

71. The Unbelievers will be led to Hell in crowd; (4347) until, when they arrive, there, its gates will be opened. And its keepers will say, (4348) "Did not messengers come to you from among yourselves, rehearsing to you the Signs of your Lord, and warning you of the Meeting of This Day of yours?" The answer will be: "True: but the Decree of Punishment has been proved true (4349) against the Unbelievers!"
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ha Mim (4356)

2. The revelation of this Book is from Allah, Exalted in Power, Full of Knowledge, (4357)

3. Who forgiveth sin, accepteth Repentance, (4358) is strict in punishment, and hath a long reach in all things, there is no god but He: to Him is the final goal.

4. None can dispute about the Signs of Allah (4359) but the Unbelievers. Let not, then, their strutting about (4360) through the land deceive thee!

74. They will say: "Praise be (4353) to Allah, Who has truly fulfilled His Promise to us, and has given us (this) land in heritage: (4354) We can dwell in the Garden as we will: how excellent a reward for those who work (righteousness)!"

75. And thou wilt see the angels surrounding the Throne (Divine) on all sides, singing Glory and Praise to their Lord. The Decision between them (at Judgment) will be in (perfect) justice, and the cry (on all sides) will be, "Praise be to Allah, (4355) the Lord of the Worlds!"

4352 The angels in heaven are not surprised at the advent of the good and righteous souls. They are glad; they greet them with the salutation of Peace; they congratulate them; and they welcome them in.

4359 Allah's knowledge and attributes are perfect, and everything around us proclaims this. We are surrounded by His Signs. It is only want of Faith that will make people dispute about them.

4360 Cf. 3:196. Their strutting about shows how little they can read the signs.

5. But (there were people) before them, who denied (the Signs)- the People of Noah, and the Confederates (4361) (of Evil) after them; and every People plotted against their prophet, to seize him, and disputed by means of vanities, (4362) therewith to condemn the Truth; but it was I that seized them! and how (terrible) (4363) was My Requital!

4361 Cf. 38:11-13, and n. 4158. All the hosts of wickedness collected together from history will have no power against Allah's Truth, or the Messenger of that Truth, or Allah's Holy Plan for all His Creation.

4362 Whenever a great or vital Truth is proclaimed and renewed, there are always shallow minds that are ready to dispute about it! And what petty and vain arguments they advance! They think they can discredit or condemn the Truth in this way, or render 'of none effect' Allah's Plan. But they are mistaken. If they seem to succeed for a time, that is merely their trial. They may try to plan and plot this way, or render 'of none effect' Allah's Plan. But they are mistaken. If they seem to succeed for a time, that is merely their trial. They may try to plan and plot against Allah's men. But their plots will fail in the long run. They will themselves be caught in their own snares. And then, how terrible will be their Punishment!

4363 Cf. 13:32.

6. Thus was the Decree of thy Lord proved true against the Unbelievers; (4364) that truly they are Companions of the Fire!

4364 Cf. 39:71. The Decree, or Word, of Allah, by which Evil was to be judged and condemned, was proved true against these men. They are 'Companions of the Fire'; in other words, they are fit to live only in the environment of Evil!
7. Those who sustain (4365) the Throne (of Allah) and those around it Sing Glory and Praise to their Lord; believe in Him; and implore Forgiveness for those who believe: "Our Lord! Thy Reach (4366) is over all things, in Mercy and Knowledge. Forgive, then, those who turn in Repentance, and follow Thy Path; and preserve them from the Penalty of the Blazing Fire!

8. "And grant, our Lord! that they enter the Gardens of Eternity, which Thou hast promised to them, and to the righteous among their fathers, (4367) their wives, and their posterity! For Thou art (He), the Exalted in Might, Full of Wisdom.

9. "And preserve them from (all) ills; and any whom Thou dost preserve from ills (4368) that Day,- on them wilt Thou have bestowed Mercy indeed: and that will be truly (for them) the highest Achievement". (4369)

10. The Unbelievers will be addressed: 'Greater was the aversion of Allah to you (4370) than (is) your aversion to yourselves, seeing that ye were called to the Faith and ye used to refuse.'

11. They will say: 'Our Lord! twice hast Thou made us (4371) without life, and twice hast Thou given us Life! Now have we recognised our sins: Is there any way out (of this)'

12. (The answer will be:) "This is because, when Allah was invoked as the Only (object of worship), (4372) ye did reject Faith, but when partners were joined to Him, ye believed! the Command is with Allah, (4373) Most High, Most Great!"

13. He it is Who sheweth you his Signs, and sendeth down sustenance for you (4374) from the sky; but only those receive admonition who turn (to Allah). (4374)

14. Call ye, then, upon Allah with sincere devotion to Him, even though the Unbelievers (4375) may detest it.

15. Raised high above ranks (or degrees), (4376) (He is) the Lord of the Throne (of Authority): by His Command doth He send the Spirit (of inspiration) to any of His servants (4377) that He pleases, that it may warn (men) of the Day of Mutual Meeting, (4378)

16. The Day whereon they will (all) come forth: not a soul will say: 'My Lord! Why didst Thou not give me further chances? But in any case Allah is High above all things, Great above all that we can conceive of, both in Mercy and injustice. The Decision will be with Him, and Him alone.

17. That Day will every soul be required for what it earned; no injustice will there be that Day, for Allah is Swift in taking account.

18. Warn them of the Day that is (ever) drawing near, when the hearts will (come) right up to the Throats (4381) to choke them; No intimate friend (4382) nor intercessor will the wrong-doers have, who could be listened to.

19. He it is Who sent the Spirit (of inspiration) to the Children of Israel, and it was a goodly Word of guidance to them! And they were not wrongdoers.

20. 'This is a test which We shall send to you, and that success may be yours, if only ye keep my command!'

21. 'And if We take thee (O Moses) and (the Children of Israel) with thee, and We cast Satan out of you, and We give thee the Book (the Taurat) and the Clear Signs, and the Commandments, and (the Command of) the Unbelievers, and We give thee a firm Support!'

22. 'This is the Book; in it is guidance without error, without extremity, from thy Lord, a manifest guidance! Keep it and let none despise it, for that will be better for you, if ye knew!'
19. ((Allah)) knows of (the tricks) that deceive with the eyes, (4383) and all that the hearts of (men) conceal. (4384)

4383 Men may be taken in by tricks that deceive with the eyes, but Allah's perfect knowledge penetrates through all mysteries. 'Deceive with the eyes' may mean several things: (1) a sleight of hand (literally or figuratively) may deceive in respect of the eyes of beholders, for the things that they see do not actually happen; (2) it may be the deceiter's own eyes that play false, because, for example, they show love when hatred is meant; or (3) it may be that the eyes of the beholder play him false, in that he sees things that he should not see, and thus sins with his eyes.

4384 Here we come into the region of evil motives and thoughts which may be concealed in the hearts, breast, or mind, and which are all perfectly known to Allah.

20. And Allah will judge with (justice and) Truth: but those whom (men) invoke besides Him, will not (be in a position) to judge at all. Verily it is Allah (alone) Who hears and sees (4385) (all things).

4385 If men build their hopes or their faith in anything except the Divine Grace, they will find themselves deserted. Any pretences that they make will be known to Allah. On the other hand every single good act, or word, or motive, or aspiration of their will, will reach Allah's Throne of Mercy.

21. Do they not travel through the earth and see what was the End of those before them? (4386) They were even superior to them in strength, and in the traces they left behind in the land; but Allah did call them to account for their sins, and none had they to defend them against Allah.

4386 Cf. 30:9, and several other similar passages.

4387 See n. 3515 to 30:9. We can learn from the history of previous nations. Many of them were more powerful, or have left finer and more imposing monuments and made a deeper impression on the world around them than any particular generation addressed. "Traces" in the text may be taken in that extended sense. And yet all this did not save them from the consequences of their sins. They were called to account and punished. None of the power or pomp or skill of which they boasted could for a moment ward off the punishment when it came in Allah's good time. (Cf. 40:82).

22. That was because there came to them their messengers (4388) with Clear (Signs), but they rejected them: So Allah called them to account: for He is Full of Strength, Strict in Punishment.

4388 But Allah in His Mercy always sends a Message of warning and good news through his messengers, and He gives His messengers Clear Signs and an authority that can be recognised. Among the Clear Signs are: (1) the pure and unselfish lives of the messengers; (2) the revelation of truth which they bring; (3) their influence on the course of events in their own and succeeding generations; etc. Some of these may be so remarkable that they merit the name of Miracles.

23. Of old We sent Moses, (4389) with Our Signs and an authority manifest, 4389 This is not the story of Moses himself, so much as an introduction to the story of the one just man who believed, in the court of Pharaoh: see verse 28 below. This Sura's alternate title ('The Believer') refers to him.

24. To Pharaoh, Haman, (4390) and Qarun; but they called (him) a sorcerer telling lies!..."...

4390 Here are three types of Unfaith, each showing a different phase, and yet all united in opposition to the Truth and Mission of Moses: (1) Pharaoh is the type of arrogance, cruelty, and reliance on brute force; (Cf. 26:36-39. (2) Haman was Pharaoh's minister (n. 3331 to 28:6; also 28:380); he was the type of a sycophant who would pander to the vanity of any man in power. (3) Qarun excelled in his unselfish lives of the messengers; (2) the revelation of truth which they bring; (3) through his messengers, and He gives His messengers Clear Signs and an authority that can be recognised. Among the Clear Signs are: (1) the pure and unselfish lives of the messengers; (2) the revelation of truth which they bring; (3) their influence on the course of events in their own and succeeding generations; etc. Some of these may be so remarkable that they merit the name of Miracles.

25. Now, when he came to them (4391) in Truth, from Us, they said, "Slay the sons of those who believe (4392) with him, and keep alive their females," but the plots of Unbelievers (end) in nothing but errors (and delusions)!

4391 Verse 24 described the opposition of three types of Unfaith, which opposed Faith, in different ways, as described in the last note. Quran, in his overweening insolence, may well have called Moses and Aaron 'sorcerers telling lies' in the Sinai desert, as he despised priests and men of God, and might cast the Egyptian reproach in their teeth as a reminiscence. Here, in verse 25, we have an episode about the time of the birth of Moses: 'them' and 'they' refer to Pharaoh and his Court; the 'coming' of Moses here refers to the time of his birth. On that construction, 'with him', lower down in their speech would be elliptical, referring to 'Slay the sons', as if they had said, 'Kill all Israelite male children: the unknown Prophet to be born will be amongst them: so kill them all with him.' In verse 26 we again skip some years and recall an episode when Moses, having got his mission, stood in Pharaoh's Court, and some of the Egyptian Commonalty were almost ready to believe in him.

4392 That is, the Israelites, for they were the custodians of Allah's Faith then. For the slaughter of Israelite children by Pharaoh, see 27:4-6, and notes.

26. Said Pharaoh: "Leave me to slay Moses; and let him call on his Lord!(4393) What I fear is lest he should change your religion,(4394) or lest he should cause mischief to appear in the land!"

4393 This is an episode that occurs when Moses, invested with his mission, confronts Pharaoh in his Court and preaches to him: see 20:49 and following verses; also 20:37, 63.

4394 Some of Pharaoh's people did afterwards give up the worship of Pharaoh and of the Egyptian gods and believed 'in the Lord of Aaron and Moses' and in fact suffered martyrdom for the Faith of Unity: 20:70-73.

27. Moses said: "I have indeed called upon my Lord and your Lord (4395) (for protection) from every arrogant one who believes not in the Day of Account!"

4395 The whole point of the Gospel of Unity which Moses preached was that the God of Moses and the God of Pharaoh, of Israel and Egypt, the Lord of all the Worlds, was One-Allah, the only True God. See 20:49-50 and notes 2572 and 2573, (b). (b).

28. A believer, a man (4396) from among the people of Pharaoh, who had concealed his faith, said: "Will you slay a man because he says, 'My Lord is Allah?-' when he has indeed come to you with Clear (Signs) from your Lord? and if he be a liar, on him is (the sin of) his lie: but, if he is telling (4397) the Truth, then will fall on you something of the (calamity) of which he warns you: Truly Allah guides not one (4398) who transgresses and lies!

4396 There is nothing to justify the identification of this man with the man mentioned in 28:20, who warned Moses long before Moses had received his mission. On the contrary, in this passage, the man is evidently speaking after Moses had received his mission, preached to Pharaoh, and got a certain amount of success, for which Pharaoh and his people were trying to seek his life. Moses had evidently already brought his Clear Signs.

4397 A commonsense view is put before them by an Egyptian who loves his own people and does not with them to perish in sin. "Will you kill this man for calling on Allah? Have you not seen his character and behaviour? Do you not see the 'Clear Signs' about him that bespeak his credentials? Suppose for a moment that he is a liar and pretender: he will suffer for his falsehood, but why should you turn against Allah? But suppose that he is really inspired by Allah to tell you the truth and warn you against evil, what will be your fate when Allah's Wrath descends? For it must descend if he is a true Messenger sent by Allah." (b).

4398 This is with reference to the 'Clear Signs'. 'They are Signs of Allah's guidance, for Allah would never guide a man who exceeds the bounds of truth and tells you lies! Such a man is bound to be found out!"
30. Then said the man who believed: "O my people! Truly I do fear for you something like(4401) the Day (of disaster) of the Confederates (in sin)!-(4402)

31. "Something like the fate of the People of Noah, the Ad, and the Thamud, and those who came after them: but Allah never wishes injustice(4403) to his Servants.

32. "And O my people! I fear for you a Day (4404) when there will be Mutual calling (and wailing),- 33. "A Day when ye shall turn your backs and flee: No defender shall have ye from Allah. Any whom Allah leaves to stray, there is none to guide...

34. "And to you there came Joseph in times gone by,(4405) with Clear Signs, but ye ceased not to doubt of the (Mission) for which he had come: At length, when he died, ye said: 'No messenger will Allah send(4406) after him.' thus doth Allah leave to stray such as transgress and live in doubt,-

35. "(Such) as dispute against the Signs of Allah, without any authority that hath reached them, grievous and odious (is such conduct) in the sight of Allah and of the Believers. Thus doth Allah seal up(4407) every heart - of arrogant and obstinate Transgressors."

36. Pharaoh said: "O Haman! Build me a lofty palace,(4408) that I may attain the ways and means-

37. "The ways and means of (reaching) the heavens, and that I may mount up to the Allah of Moses: But as far as I am concerned, I think (Moses) is a liar!" Thus was made alluring,(4409) in Pharaoh's eyes, the evil of his deeds, and he was hindered from the Path; and the plot(4410) of Pharaoh led to nothing but perdition (for him).

38. The man who believed said further: "O my people! Follow me: I will lead you to the Path of Right.(4411)

39. "O my people! This life of the present is nothing but (temporary) convenience: It is the Hereafter that is the Home that will last.(4412)

40. "He that works evil will not be requited but by the like thereof: and he that works a righteous deed - whether man or woman - and is a Believer- such will enter the Garden (of Bliss): Therein will they have abundance(4413) without measure.

41. "And O my people! How (strange) it is(4414) for me that Allah's punishment befall me, and not the Children of Israel! I am but a plain Caliph, and afactor with thee a prophet of Allah's (Prophet of the Believers)!

42. "Ye do call upon me to blaspheme against Allah,(4415) and to join with Him partners of whom I have no knowledge; and I call you to the Exalted in Power, Who forgives again and again!"
4416 Faith is not content with its own inner vision and conviction. It can give ample arguments. Three are mentioned here: (1) nothing but Allah is worthy of worship, either in this world of sense or in the spiritual world; (2) our Return will be to Allah, the Eternal Reality; and (3) the worship of Falsehood must necessarily lead to the Penalty of Falsehood, unless Allah's Mercy intervenes and forgives on our sincere repentance. (R).

44. "Soon will ye remember what I say to you (now). (4417) My (own) affair I commit to Allah. for Allah (ever) watches over His Servants."

4417 The wording suggests as if there was a plot to kill him, but he was saved, as the next verse shows. His thought to the last is with his People. "No matter what you do to me: you will have cause to remember my admonition, when perhaps it is too late for you to repent. For my part I commit myself to the care of Allah, and my Faith tells me that all will be right."

45. Then Allah saved him (every) ill that they plotted (against him), but the burnt of the Penalty (4418) encompassed on all sides the People of Pharaoh.

4418 The Pharaoh of the time of Moses, and his people, suffered many calamities in this world: 7:130-136. But those were nothing to the spiritual Penalties mentioned in the next verse.

46. In front of the Fire will they be brought, morning and evening: (4419) And (the sentence will be) on the Day that Judgment will be established: "Cast ye the People of Pharaoh into the severest Penalty!"

4419 When the Judgement really comes, it is not like an ordinary physical disaster, The Fire of Punishment is ever present-morning and evening i.e., at all times. The sentence becomes final and there is no mitigation.

47. Behold, they will dispute with each other in the Fire! (4420) The weak ones (who followed) will say to those who had been arrogant, "We but followed you: Can ye then take (on yourselves) from us some share of the Fire?"

4420 Just as Unity, Harmony, and Peace are symbols of Truth, Bliss, and Salvation, so Repreaches, Disputes, and Disorders are symbols of Hell.

48. Those who had been arrogant will say: "We are all (4421) in this (Fire)! Truly, Allah has judged between (his) Servants!"

4421 Note the evasion and cynicism of the answer, belittling the character of spiritual misleaders! "What are we not suffering with you in the same Fire! Pray to Allah if you like! He has pronounced His Judgement!" Cf. 14:21-22.

49. Those in the Fire will say to the Keepers of Hell: (4422) "Pray to your Lord to lighten us the Penalty for a day (at least)!

4422 Cf. 39:74: The poor misguided ones will turn to the angels who are their Keepers, asking them to pray and intercede for them. But the angels are set there to watch over them, not to intercede for them. In their innocence they ask, "Did you have no warnings from messengers, men like yourselves, in your past life?

50. They will say: "Did there not come to you your messengers with Clear Signs?" They will say, "Yes. They will reply, "Then (4423) pray (as ye like)! But the prayer of those without Faith is nothing but (futile wandering) in (mazes of) error!"

4423 The answer being in the affirmative, they will have to tell the dreadful truth: This is neither the time nor the place for prayer, for mercy! And in any case, Prayer without Faith is Delusion, and must pass its mark. Cf. 15:14.

51. We will, without doubt, help our messengers and those who believe, (both) in this world's life and on the Day when the Witnesses (4424) will stand forth,- 4424 The Day of Judgement is described as 'the Day when Witnesses will stand forth'. This description implies two things: (1) that there will be judged justly; his past actions and his faculties and opportunities will be witnesses as to the use he made of them (24:24); intact he will himself be a witness against himself (6:130); and the prophets and just men will bear witness to the fact that they preached and warned men (59:69; 2:130).

52. The Day when no profit will it be to Wrong-doers to present their excuses, (4425) but they will (only) have the Curse and the Home of Misery.

4425 After the testimony mentioned in the last note, there will be no room for excuses, and if any were made, they could serve no purpose, unlike the state of matters in this world, where there is much make-believe, and Falsehood often masquerades as Truth and is accepted as such even by those who should know better.

53. We did aforetime give Moses the (Book of) Guidance, (4426) and We gave the book in inheritance to the Children of Israel,--

4426 Moses was given a Revelation, and it was given in heritage to the Children of Israel, to preserve it, guide their conduct by, and hold aloft its Message; but they failed in all these particulars.

55. Patiently, then, persevere: (4427) for the Promise of Allah is true: and ask forgiveness (4428) for thy fault, and celebrate the Praises of thy Lord in the evening and in the morning. (4429)

4427 The Israelites corrupted or lost their Book: they disobeyed Allah's Law; and failed to proclaim and exemplify Allah's Message. That is why the new Revelation came to the Prophet. If, in the beginning, it was rejected and persecuted, there was no cause for discouragement; on the contrary, there was all the greater need for patience and perseverance.

4428 Every mortal according to his nature and degree of spiritual enlightenment falls short of the perfect standard of Allah (16:61), and should therefore ask Allah for forgiveness. What is merit in an ordinary man may be a human shortcoming in one nearest to Allah see 38:24-25, and notes 4175-4176. Prophets have a further responsibility for their People or their Ummah, and they ask in a representative capacity.

4429 Cf. 3:41 : Evening and morning are the best times for contemplation and spiritual effort. But the phrase 'evening and morning' may mean 'at all times'. (R).

56. Those who dispute about the signs of Allah without any authority bestowed on them,-- there is (4430) nothing in their breasts but (the quest of) greatness, and their desire is not likely to receive fruition, but others should take warning from it.

4430 The Disputes are actuated by nothing but the desire for self-glory and self-aggrandizement. Their desire is not likely to receive fruition, but others should take warning from it.

57. Assuredly the creation (4431) of the heavens and the earth is a greater (matter) than the creation of men: Yet most men understand not.

4431 The heavens and the earth include mankind and all other creatures and millions of stars. Man is himself but a tiny part of creation. Why should he be so egocentric? The whole is greater than a tiny part of it. And Allah Who created the whole of the Worlds is able to do much more wonderful things than can enter the imagination of man. Why should man be arrogant and doubt the Resurrection, and take upon himself to doubt the possibility of Allah's Revelation? It is only because he has made himself blind. See next verse.

58. Not equal are the blind and those who (clearly) see: (4432) Nor are (equal) those who believe and work deeds of righteousness, and those who do evil. Little do ye learn by admonition!

4432 The man of Faith who backs his faith by righteous conduct is like the man of clear vision, who sees things in their true perspective and walks with firm steps in the Way of Allah. The man who does evil is like a blind man: the Light of Allah is all around him, but the man has made himself blind, and he can see nothing. He has rejected Faith and cannot even learn by other people's admonition.
59. The Hour will certainly come: (4433) Therein is no doubt: Yet most men believe not.

4433 ‘The Hour’ is the crown and consummation of man’s life on this earth—the gateway to the Hereafter.

60. And your Lord says: "Call on Me; I will answer your (Prayer): (4434) but those who are too arrogant to serve Me will surely find themselves in Hell — in humiliation!"

4434 As this life is not the end of all things, and we are to have its fulfillment in the Hereafter, we have only to pray to the Lord of the Present and the Hereafter, and He will hear us, forgive us, guide us, and make our Path smooth. But Pride will have its fall and its humiliating Punishment. Cf. 3:57-18.

61. It is Allah Who has (4435) made the Night for you, that ye may rest therein, and the days as that which helps (you) to see. Verily Allah is full of Grace and Bounty to men: yet most men give no thanks.

4435 The succession of Day and Night in our physical life is frequently appealed to, as a symbol to draw our attention to the Mercy and Bounty of Allah. If we viewed these things aright, we should serve Allah and seek Light from Him and Rest from Him, and celebrate His praises with gratitude.

62. Such is Allah, your Lord, the Creator of all things, there is no god but He: Then how ye are deluded (4436) away from the Truth!

4436 If we worship false gods, i.e., go after vanities, what is it that deludes us and leads us astray? What could it be but our rank ingratitude and failure to use the understanding which Allah has given us?

63. Thus are deluded those (4437) who are wont to reject the Signs of Allah.

4437 See the last two notes. If men are deluded by Falsehoods, it is because they reject Revelation and refuse to learn from the Signs of Allah all around them.

64. It is Allah Who has (4438) made for you the earth as a resting place, (4439) and the sky as a canopy, and has given you shape— (4440) and made your shapes beautiful,— and has provided for you Sustenance, (4441) of things pure and good;— such is Allah your Lord. So Glory to Allah, the Lord of the Worlds!

4438 The argument in the last two verses was from man’s personal experience of his physical life. In this and the next verse a parallel argument is addressed to man on a much higher plane: look at the spacious earth and the canopy of the sky; look at the special position you occupy above other animals that you know, in shape and form, and moral and spiritual capacities; consider your refinements in food and fruits and the higher spiritual Sustenance of which your physical food is a type; would you not indeed say that the Lord is good, and would you not glorify His Holy Name?

4439 A resting place: I understand this to imply a temporary place of rest or serenity, a period of probation, to be followed by the eternal Home.

4440 Cf. 7:11 and n. 996. The shape and form refer to the physical form as well as to the inborn moral and spiritual capacities of man. As regards physical form, Cf. Milton’s description of Adam and Eve, “Two of far noble shape, erect and tall” (Paradise Lost, 4:288). As regards moral and spiritual capacities, they are typified by the bestowing of Allah’s spirit into man: 15:29 (see also 64:3).

4441 ‘Sustenance’—all that is necessary for growth and development, physical, moral, and spiritual (Cf. n. 2103 and 16:73).

65. He is the Living (One): (4442) There is no god but He: Call upon Him, giving Him sincere devotion. Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds!

4442 The real, self-subsisting Life is only in Him. Cf. 2:253, and n. 296. All other forms of life are but shadows compared to His perfect Light.

66. Say: “I have been forbidden (4443) to invoke those whom ye invoke besides Allah,— seeing that the Clear Sings have come to me from my Lord; and I have been commanded to bow (in Islam) to the Lord of the Worlds.”

4443 All objects of worship besides Allah are mere delusions. To anyone who sees this clearly, through Allah’s Self-revelations, the only possible course is to give up everything else, which his own inner experience as well as outer Revelation tell him is false or of a temporary nature, and to bring his own will and actions into complete union with Allah’s Will: for that is the meaning of Islam, bowing to the Will of Allah. When we bow to the Real and Everlasting, we are automatically saved from falling victans to the False and Evanescent. (R).

67. It is He Who has (4444) created you from dust then from a sperm-drop, then from a leech-like clot; then does he get you out (into the light) as a child: then lets you grow (and) reach your age of full strength; then lets you become old,— though of you there are some who die before:— and lets you reach a Term appointed; in order that ye may learn wisdom.

4444 Cf. this passage with 22:5 and notes 2773 and 2774. The various stages of man’s physical life are: (1) first, simple matter (dust); (2) the sperm-drop in the father; (3) the fertilised ovum in the mother’s womb; (4) out into the light, as a human child; (5) youth and full maturity; (6) decay; and (7) death. In some cases the late stages are curtailing or cut off; but in any case, a Term appointed is reached, so that the higher purpose of Allah’s Will and Plan may be fulfilled in each given case, that man ‘may learn wisdom’.

68. It is He Who gives Life (4445) and Death; and when He decides upon an affair, He says to it, "Be", and it is.

4445 The keys of life and death are in Allah’s hands. But He is not dependent on time or place or instruments or materials. All that He has to do is to say ‘Be’, and it comes into existence. Cf. 16:40, and n. 2066; 36:82, and n. 1042. Conversely, His Will or Command is sufficient to annulate Existence into Non-Existence (Life into Death) or determine the limits or conditions of Existence or Non-Existence.

69. Seest thou not those who dispute concerning the Sings of Allah. How are they turned away (4446) (from Reality)?

4446 Those who dispute about the Signs of Allah which are clear to all who care to see, are merely in the mists of Unreality: Cf. 10:32.

70. Those who reject the Book (4447) and the (revelations) with which We sent our messengers: but soon shall they know,— 4447 ‘The Book’ may refer to the Holy Qur’an or to the fundamental Revelation, the ‘Mother of the Book’ (13:39), while the Books revealed to the messengers are the definite Revelations that came down to men from time to time.

71. When the yokes (shall be) (4448) round their necks, and the chains; they shall be dragged along-

4448 The rejection of Allah’s Message, however brought, carries its own penalty. The voice of spiritual slavery to Sin and Evil is fastened more and more firmly round the rejecter’s neck, because there is no one to safeguard his freedom, and the chains of superstitions and the ugly consequences of evil restrict his freedom and the limited faculty of choice which was given by Allah to man. This process receives its climax at the Hour of Judgement.

72. In the boiling fetid fluid (4449) then in the Fire shall they be burned;

4449 The sinner gets dragged further and further in the disgusting consequences of his evil actions, until the fire of destruction closes in upon him.

73. Then shall it be said to them: "Where are the (deities) to which ye gave part— worship—

74. "In derogation of Allah.” They will reply: “They have (4450) left us in the lurch: Nay, we invoked not, of old, anything (that had real existence).” Thus does Allah leave the Unbelievers to stray.
All falsehood will vanish: Cf. 7:37. The only Reality will be fully manifest even to those to whom Evil was made to seem alluring in the lower life. They will feel in their inmost souls that they had been pursuing mere shadows, things of no real existence. This was the result of their rejecting the Light and the Grace of Allah: they got entangled in theazes of error.

"That was because ye were wont to rejoice on the earth in things other than the Truth, and that ye were wont to be insolent.

Allah does not withhold His grace from any unless (1) they actively and deliberately take a delight in things that are vain or false, and (2) they insolently reject the things that are true in other words, unless men are deliberately false to their own lights, as illuminated by the Light of Allah.

"Enter ye the gates of Hell, to dwell therein: and evil is (this) abode of the arrogant!"

So persevere in patience; for the Promise of Allah is sure. Who is that can ever change Allah's Decision when it has been decided in truth and justice, and there is no difference if good and evil meet their deserts in this very life or not.

And there are (other) advantages in them for you (besides); that ye may through them attain to any need (there may be) in your hearts; and on them and on ships ye are carried.

And He shows you (always)(His Signs: then which of the Signs of Allah will ye deny?"

The Signs of Allah's goodness and mercy are so numerous that it is impossible to enumerate them. Which of them can any mortal deny? This is the theme of that highly poetical Surah, _Al Rūm_ (S. 55).

Do they not travel through the earth and see what was the End of those before them? They were more numerous than these and superior in strength and in the traces (they have left) in the land: Yet all that they accomplished was of no profit to them.

So persevere in patience; for the Promise of Allah is sure. Who is that can ever change Allah's Decision when it has been decided in truth and justice, and there is no difference if good and evil meet their deserts in this very life or not.

For when their messengers came to them with Clear Signs, they persisted in their disbelief. That was of no use. Allah does not accept unmeaning things of that sort.

And there are (other) advantages in them for you (besides); that ye may through them attain to any need (there may be) in your hearts; and on them and on ships ye are carried.

"Enter ye the gates of Hell, to dwell therein: and evil is (this) abode of the arrogant!"

When domesticated, so useful to man, is itself one of the great and standing Signs of Allah's care for man. The great usefulness of cattle is very instructive. They serve for riding, and many of them for food; further, they are used for the plough, and they produce milk, or wool or hair; and from their carcasses man derives bones and horns for many industrial uses; but passing on to the higher aspects of life, they further social, moral, and spiritual uses as draught-animals, in that transport serves one of the fundamental purposes of civilisation, being in this respect like ships for international commerce; 30:46, and n. 3365. It is by means of human intercourse through transport that we can carry out the highest needs of our culture, 'any need there may be in our hearts', i.e., in our inner being.

For when their messengers came to them with Clear Signs, they exulted(4459) in such knowledge (and skill) as they had; but that very (Wrath) at which(4460) they were wont to scoff hemmed them in.

Arrogance and an exaggerated idea of Self were at the bottom of the Evil to which(4461) they succumbed (Cf. n. 4350).

Nothing could stop the Justice of Allah punishing Evil. What they had ridiculed came as an inexorable fact. None of their grandeur or art or science or skill was of any use when they lost their souls!

But when they saw Our Punishment, they said: "We believe in Allah,- the one Allah - and we reject the partners we used to join with Him."

But their professing the Faith(4461) when they (actually) saw Our Punishment was not going to profit them. (Such has been) Allah's Way of dealing with His Servants (from the most ancient times). And even thus did the Rejecters of Allah perish (utterly)!

Again and again were they given chances, and again and again did they reject them. When it was too late, and in fact when it had no meaning, they offered to profess Faith. That was of no use. Allah does not accept unmeaning things of that kind. He wants to train and purify our will. For their disobedience and rebellion they perished utterly.
41. Fussilat (Expounded) or Ha Mim

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ha Mim:(4462)

4462 Abbreviated Letters: See Introduction to S. 40. See also n. 4382 to 40:8, and n. 4395 to 41:34.

2. A Revelation from (Allah),(4463) Most Gracious, Most Merciful;-

4463 In the last Surah (40:2-3) the revelation was described with reference to some of the qualities of Allah from Whom it came. Here it is described mainly with reference to its subject matter. (1) It brings the Message of Grace and Mercy; (2) it is not merely a book of Dark Sayings, but everything is explained clearly and from various points of view; (3) it is in Arabic, the language of the people among whom it was first promulgated, and therefore easily intelligible to them if they take the trouble to understand; and (4) it opens the way to Forgiveness through Repentance and gives warning of all spiritual Dangers.

3. A Book, whereof the verses are explained in detail; a Qur´an in Arabic, for people who understand;-

4. Giving good news and admonition: yet most(4464) of them turn away, and so they hear not.

4464 With all the qualities mentioned in the last note, if men do not profit by its blessings, the fault lies in their will: they turn away, and thus fail to hear the voice that calls to them.

5. They say: "Our hearts are(4465) under veils, (concealed) from that to which thou dost invite us, and in our ears a deafness, and between us and thee is a screen: so do(4466) thou (what thou wilt); for us, we shall do (what we will)"

4465 The consequence of their wilful rejection is that a distance is created between Revelation and those for whom it is meant; their ears become deaf, so that the voice falls fainter and fainter on their ears: they feel a bar between Revelation and those for whom it is meant; their ears become deaf, so that the voice falls fainter and fainter on their ears; they feel a bar between themselves and the Messenger who comes to teach them (CF. 6:25).

4466 This is either a superiority complex adopting the sarcastic tone of an inferiority complex, or it expresses calculated indifferrence to spiritual teaching. In effect it says: "Our hearts and minds are not intelligent enough to understand your noble ideas, nor our ears sufficiently acute to hear their exposition: you and we are quite different; there is a gulf between us. Why worry about us? You go your way, and we shall go ours!"

6. Say thou: "I am but a man like you:(4467) It is revealed to me by Inspiration, that your Allah is one Allah. so stand true to Him, and ask for His Forgiveness."(4468) And woe to those who join gods with Allah,- 4467 The reply is in effect: that the bringer of the Message is not an angel nor a god, and so there can and ought to be no barrier between him and his hearers; but he has been chosen to bring a Message of Truth and Hope to them; they should accept the Gospel of Unity, and by Repentance obtain Allah's Grace and Forgiveness.

4468 There is nothing but pity for those who reject Truth, run after false worship, have no sympathy or charity for their fellow-men, and even deny that there is any future Life.

7. Those who practise not regular Charity, and who even deny the Hereafter.

8. For those who believe(4469) and work deeds of righteousness is a reward that will never fail.

4469 But blessed are those who have Faith. They will have a Future and a Bliss that will never fail.

9. Say: Is it that ye deny Him Who created the earth in two Days?(4470) And do ye join equals with Him? He is the Lord of (all) the Worlds.

4470 This is a difficult passage, describing the primal creation of our physical earth and the physical heavens around us. If we count the two Days mentioned in this verse, the four Days, mentioned in verse 10, and the two Days mentioned in verse 12, we get a total of eight Days, while in many passages the creation is stated to have taken place in six Days: see 7:54 , n. 1031; and 32:4, n. 3632. The Commentators understand the 'four Days' in verse 10 to include the two Days in verse 9, so that the total for the universe comes to six Days. This is reasonable, because the processes described in verses 9 and 10 form really one series. In the one case it is the creation of the formless matter of the earth; in the other case it is the gradual evolution of the form of the earth, its mountains and seas, and its animal and vegetable life, with the 'nourishment in due proportion', proper to each. Cf also 15:19-20.

10. He set on the (earth), mountains standing firm,(4471) high above it, and bestowed blessings on it; the earth and measure therein all things to give them nourishment in due proportion, in four Days,(4472) in accordance with (the needs of) those who seek (Sustenance).(4473)

4471 Cf. 13:3 and 16:15 , n. 2038. High above it: the highest mountains are 29,000 feet above sea level, and the lowest depths of the bottom of the ocean are 31,600 feet below sea level, so that the vertical difference between the highest and lowest points on the solid crust of the earth is about 11.2 miles. The highland areas are the main sources of the water supply in all the regions of the earth, and vegetable and animal life depends on water supply.

4472 See n. 4470 above.

4473 سَلَامُ ِ may mean either (1) those who seek, or (2) those who ask or enquire. If the former meaning is adopted, the clause means that everything is apportioned to the needs and appetites of Allah's creatures, If the latter, it means that the needs of enquirers are sufficiently met by what is stated here.

11. Moreover He comprehended(4474) in His design the sky,(4475) and it had been (as) smoke: He said to it and to the earth: "Come ye together,(4476) willingly or unwillingly." They said: "We do come (together), in willing obedience."

12. So He completed them as seven firmaments in two Days,(4477) and He assigned to each heaven its duty and command. And We adorned the lower heaven with lights, and (provided it)(4478) with guard. Such is the Decree of (Him) the Exalted in Might, Full of Knowledge.

4477 For ‘Days’, which may include thousands of years, see 7:54, and n. 1031. They refer to stages in the evolution of physical nature. In the Biblical cosmogony, (Gen. 1, and 2:1-7), which reflects old Babylonian cosmogony, the scheme is apparently to be taken literally as to days and is as follows: the first day: Allah created light; the second, the firmament; the third, the earth and vegetation; the fourth, the stars and planets; the fifth, fish and fowl from the sea and the sixth, cattle, creeping things, beasts on land, and man; on the seventh day He ended His work and rested. Our scheme is wholly different. (1) Allah did not rest, and never rests. ‘His Throne doth extend over the heavens and the earth, and He feeleth no fatigue in guarding and preserving them’; (2) Allah’s work has not ended; His activity still goes on (32:2-1; 7:54); (3) man in our scheme does not come in with land animals; his advent is much later; (4) our stages are not sharply divided from each other, as in the above scheme, where the stars and planets having been created on the fourth day, it is not intelligible how the first three days were counted, nor how vegetation grew on the third day. Our stages for earth and heavens are not in sequence of time for the heavens and the earth. Our six stages are broadly speaking, (1) the throwing off of our planet from cosmic matter; (2) its cooling and condensing; (3) and (4) the growth of vegetable and animal life; (5) and (6) the parallel growth of the starry realm and our solar system.

4478 Cf. 1:17, and n. 1931; also 37:6,9. The transition from the third person (‘He completed,’ etc.) to the first person (‘We adorned,’ etc.) may be noted. The act of creation is an impersonal act: the act of adornment and guarding is a personal favour to Allah’s creatures.

13. But if they turn away, say thou: ‘I have warned you of a stunning Punishment (as of thunder and lightning)(4479) like that which (overtook) the ‘Ad and the Thamud!’

4479 See verse 17, below.

14. Behold, the messengers came to them, from before them(4480) and behind them, (preaching): ‘Serve none but Allah.’ They said, ‘If our Lord had so pleased, He would certainly have sent down angels(4481) (to preach). Now we reject your mission (altogether).’

4480 ‘From before them and behind them’: i.e., from every side. They were warned from every point of view.

4481 Cf. 15:17, and n. 1941; 7:8,9; 84:1,8. The ‘Ad had more power and material civilization than the Pagan Arabs contemporary with the Prophet. But the greater the material civilization, the greater the arrogance as the besetting sin.

15. Now the ‘Ad behaved arrogantly through the land, against (all) truth and reason,(4482) and said: ‘Who is superior to us in strength?’ What! did they not see that Allah, Who created them, was superior to them in strength? But they continued to reject Our Signs!

4482 Against (all) truth and reason: Cf. 7:38. Their estimate of their own strength was greater than was justified by facts, but if they had all the strength which they arrogated to themselves, yet how could they stand before Allah?

16. So We sent against them a furious Wind through days(4483) of disaster, that We might give them a taste of a Penalty of humiliation in this life; but the Penalty of a Hereafter will be more humiliating still: and they will find no help.

4483 The detailed story of ‘Ad and their besetting sin, and the preaching of their Prophet Hud to them will be found in 26:125-140; also 7:65-72, and n. 1040. For the furious Wind, Cf. 54:19.

17. As to the Thamud,(4484) We gave them Guidance, but they preferred blindness (of heart) to Guidance: so the stunning Punishment(4485) of humiliation seized them, because of what they had earned.

4484 The story of Thamud usually goes with that of ‘Ad. Cf. 36:40-59; also 7:73-79, and n. 1043.

4485 ‘The stunning Punishment’: i.e., deafening noises like those of thunder and lightning; or the rumbling of a terrible earthquake. In 7:28, an earthquake is suggested, see n. 1047 to that verse. Cf. also above, 41:13.

18. But We delivered those who believed and practised righteousness.

19. On the Day that the enemies of Allah will be gathered together to the Fire, they will be marched in ranks.(4486)

4486 ‘Marched in ranks’: to show their further humiliation; for they will be like prisoners going to Punishment.

20. At length, when they reach the (Fire), their hearing, their sight, and their skins(4487) will bear witness against them, as to (all) their deeds.

4487 All the members of their bodies and the faculties of their minds, which they misused, will bear witness against them. Similarly, in 36:65, their hands and their feet bear witness against them. The ‘skin’ not only includes the sense of touch (which is so often misused in sex), but also the sense of taste and the sense of smell, which are specialised forms of the organ of touch. All the sensory organs, and all their intellectual and emotional counterparts advance us by their use and pull us down by their misuse. They become tell-tale witnesses against us if abused.

21. They will say to their skins:(4488) ‘Why bear ye witness against us?’ They will say: ‘(Allah) hath given us speech,‘ (He) Who giveth speech to everything: He created you for the first time, and unto Him were ye to return.

4488 A new phase of their existence will now dawn on them. They used to think that if they concealed their evil deeds from the rest of the world, nothing would happen to them! But Allah can give ‘outposts to trees’, and can make every fact in life, known and unknown to the world, contribute to the elucidation of truth and justice. ‘Speech’ on behalf of their senses and faculties should of course be understood figuratively. When we succumb to evil, our limbs and faculties betray us.

22. ‘Ye did not seek(4489) to hide yourselves, lest your hearing, your sight, and your skins should bear witness against you! But ye did think that Allah knew not many of the things that ye used to do!

4489 ‘Ye did not seek to hide your evil from us: in fact you used us for your evil, because we were in your power. Did you not know that Allah knew everything and that our knowledge would be evidence against you?’

23. ‘But this thought of yours(4490) which ye did entertain concerning your Lord, hath brought you to destruction, and (now) have ye become of those utterly lost!’

4490 ‘You now see the situation! We were given for your use and service. You misused us, to your own utter and irretrievable destruction!’

24. If, then, they have patience,(4491) the Fire will be a home for them! and if they beg to be received into favour, into favour will they not (then) be received.

4491 If they have patience: there is sarcasm in the meaning. ‘Let them not be impatient; they will soon find a home in the Fire of Hell! If they ask for grace and forgiveness then, it will be too late.’

25. And We have destined for them intimate companions(4492) (of like nature), who made alluring to them what was before them and behind them;(4493) and the sentence among the previous generations of Jinns(4494) and men, who have passed away, is proved against them; for they are utterly lost.(4495)

4492 Just as the idea of happiness in heaven is expressed, not only by individual satisfaction, but by congenial society, so the idea of Punishment in hell is deepened by the fact that Evil will be made to meet evil: those who made sin fair-
33. Who is better in speech (4503) than one who calls (men) to Allah, works righteousness, and says, "I am of those who bow in Islam"?

34. Nor can goodness and Evil (4504) be equal. Repel (Evil) with what is better: Then will he between whom and thee was hatred become as it were thy friend and intimate (4505)

35. And no one will be (4506) granted such goodness except those who exercise patience and self-restraint,- none but persons of the greatest good fortune.

36. And if (at any time) an incitement to discord (4507) is made to thee by the Evil One, seek refuge in Allah. He is the One Who hears and knows all things.

37. Among His Signs are (4508) the Night and the Day, and the Sun and the Moon. Adore not the sun and the moon, but adore Allah, Who created them, if it is Him ye wish to serve.

38. But is the (Unbelievers) are arrogant, (no matter:) (4509) for in the presence of thy Lord are those who celebrate His praises by night and by day. And they never flag (nor feel themselves above it).

39. And among His Signs in this: thou seest the earth barren and desolate (4510) but when We send down rain to it, it is stirred to life and yields increase. Truly, He Who gives life (4511) to the (dead) earth can surely give life to (men) who are dead. For He has power over all things.
46. Whoever works righteousness benefits his own soul; whoever works evil, it is against his own soul: nor is thy Lord ever unjust (in the least) to His Servants.

47. To Him is referred (4519) the Knowledge of the Hour (of Judgment: He knows all): No date-fruit comes out of its sheath, nor does a female conceive (within her womb) nor bring forth the Day that (Allah) will propound to them the (question). (4520) "Where are the partners (ye attributed to Me?)" They will say, "We do assure thee not one of us can bear witness!"

4519 There are profound mysteries which the knowledge of man cannot fathom but which are all open knowledge to Allah, because He plans, guides and controls all things. The precise time of the Hour of Judgement is one of these. We are not to dispute about matters like these, which are matters of speculation as far as human intelligence is concerned. Such speculations ruined the Unmullahs of Moses, and set them on the arid path of doubts and controversies. Our task is to do our duty and love Allah and man (see the last two verses). Cf. also 21:14.

4512 To Him is referred the Knowledge of the Hour (of Judgment) and the Book (of the Hereafter) and the Gracious Goodness (and) the Unseen. (39:7) But the Unbelief of the Unbelievers is not hidden from Us. Which is better?- he that is cast into the Fire, or he that comes safe through, on the day of rising?

4513 Mere rejection by men will not silence the Signs of Allah, which will work unintermittently and with the fullest potency.

4514 Allah's Truth is fully guarded on all sides. No one can get the better of it by attacking it from before or behind it, openly or secretly, or in any way whatever.

4515 They (the unfaithful) would have said: "Why are not your verses explained in detail? What! (a Book) not in Arabic and (a Messenger an Arab)?" Say: "It is a Guide and a Healing to those who believe; and for those who believe not, there is a deafness in their ears, (4517) and it is blindness in their (eyes): They are (as it were) being called from a place far distant!"

4516 Cf. 16:103-105; 12:2; etc. It was most natural and reasonable that the Messenger being Arab, the Message should be in his own tongue, that he might explain it in every detail, with the greatest power and eloquence. Even though it was to be for the whole world, its initial exposition was thus to be in Arabic. But if people had no faith and were spiritually deaf or blind, it would not matter in what language it came.

4517 Cf. 41:5, and f:25. They pretended that it was too deep for them, when they meant that they were superior to it! The fact was that by putting themselves in an artificially false position, they rendered themselves impervious to the Message. The voice of Revelation or the voice of conscience sounded to them as if it came from a far-off place! They themselves made themselves strangers to it.

4518 Callousness and self-sufficiency in religion are often illustrated by sects like the Pharisees and Sadducees among the Jews. Where there are honest differences of opinion, they can, in Allah's Plan, lead to greater enquiry and emulation. Where the differences are fractions, there is often even then time left for repentance. In any case the Word of the Messengers of Allah is for the best good of all, and should not disturb Faith. Cf. 10:19: A good life, of faith and truth, is in our own interests, and the opposite against our own interests. Allah is never unjust.

50. When we give him a taste (4522) of some Mercy from Ourselves, after some adversity has touched him, he is sure to say, "This is due to my (merit): I think not that the Hour (of Judgment) will (ever) be established; but if I am brought back to my Lord, I have (much) good (stored) in His sight!" But We shall show the Unbelievers the truth of all that they did, and We shall give them the taste of a severe Penalty.

51. When We bestow favours (4523) on man, he turns away, and gets himself remote on his side (instead of (4524) coming to Us); and when evil seizes him, (he comes) full of prolonged prayer!

4519 The last verse and note dealt with men's distortion of the values of life. Here we come to men's ingratitude and hypocrisy. If they receive good, they go farther away from Allah, instead of coming nearer to him. If they suffer ill, they call on Allah and offer prolonged prayers, but it is not sincere devotion and therefore worthless.
An argument is now addressed, of a most searching nature. Examine your convictions. If you resist the convictions of the whole world, you are only forming a narrow sect or schism, which serves no purpose, and is unfit to live in the broad light of Universal Religion. Cf. 2:176, n. 176.

Soon will We show them our Signs in the (furthest) regions (of the earth), and (4524-A) far (from any purpose)?

Arg: An argument is now addressed, of a most searching nature. Examine your

The heavens are almost rent asunder from above
To Him belongs all that is in the heavens and on earth:

And those who take as protectors others besides Him, (4532) Allah doth watch over them; and thou art not the disposer of their affairs.

Thus have We sent by inspiration to thee an Arabic
Qur’an: (4533) that thou mayest warn the Mother of Cities and all around her,- and warn (them) of the Day of Assembly, of which there is no doubt: (when) some will be in the Garden, and some in the Blazing Fire.

And those who take as protectors others besides Him, (4532) Allah doth watch over them; and thou art not the disposer of their affairs.

The City of Makkah. See n. 913 to 6:92. This is undoubtedly a Makkan portion of the Qur’an being in Arabic is that it is plain and intelligible to the people through whom and among whom it was promulgated; see next clause.

And those who take as protectors others besides Him, (4532) Allah doth watch over them; and thou art not the disposer of their affairs.

Cf. 5:48, and n. 761. It is one of the Signs of Allah that He has made us capable of also understanding the Arabic language.

We now come to the contrast, the folly and ingratitude of man. But that cannot escape its final doom in the Universal Plan of Allah. Only Judgement rests with Allah. A Prophet is not responsible for the conduct of men, in a system which permits some limited free will and personal responsibility.

The two sets of attributes are complementary. They thus proclaim in their own being and in their prayers the Greatness and unbounded Goodness of Allah.

And those who take as protectors others besides Him, (4532) Allah doth watch over them; and thou art not the disposer of their affairs.

Thou art not the disposer of their affairs.

There can be no greater ingratitude or blasphemy than to worship false gods, or to seek protection from things that have no power, when Allah—Who has power over all things—is always seeking to protect and cherish His creatures, and placing in their way all the means for attaining the best in them.

10. Whatever it be wherein ye differ, the decision thereof is with Allah. (4538) such is Allah my Lord: In Him I trust, and to Him I turn.

4539 In the highest issues of life men may see things differently. If their differences arise merely from selfish motives, or narrowness of vision, they are sinning against their own souls. If their differences arise from sincere but mistaken notions, their proper course is not to form divisions and sects, or to increase contention and hatred among men, but to leave all things to Allah, trusting in Him and turning to Him in all difficulties. The final decision in all things is with Him.

11. (He is) the Creator of the heavens and the earth: He has made for you pairs from among yourselves, and among the animals, as having special relations with man and specially subserving his needs, not only in the physical sphere, but also in the matter of transport, which is the key to all civilisation and culture: CE 36:71-78: also 25:21-22, where they are compared to ships, the symbol of international intercourse.

12. To Him belong the keys of the heavens and the earth: He enlarges and restricts. (4540) The Sustenance to whom He will: for He knows full well all things.

4541 “Sustenance”, here as elsewhere, stands for all things that support every phase of life, physical, social, intellectual, or spiritual. Cf. 10:59, n. 1447. The source of all gifts is Allah; His bounty is inexhaustible, and He gives to all; but He does not give to all in the same measure, because, out of the fullness of His knowledge and wisdom, He can judge best what is best for any of His creatures (see also n. 4534 and n. 4740).

13. The same religion has He established for you as that which He enjoined on Noah (4541) the which We gave to Abraham, Moses, and Jesus: Namely, that ye should remain steadfast in religion, and make no divisions therein: (4542) to those who worship other things than Allah, hard is the (way) to which thou callest them. (4543) Allah chooses to Himself those whom He pleases, and guides to Himself those who turn (to Him).

4544 Allah’s Religion is the same in essence, whether given, for example, to Noah, Abraham, Moses, or Jesus, or to our Prophet. The source of unity is the revelation from Allah. In Islam it is “established” as an institution, and does not remain merely a vague suggestion.

4545 Faith, Duty, or Religion, is not a matter to dispute about. The formation of sects is against the very principle of Religion and Unity. What we should strive for is steadfastness in duty and faith, and unity among mankind.

4546 Unity, selflessness, love for Allah and man—these things are inconsistent with selfish aggrandizement, unjust suppression of our fellow-creatures, false worship, and false conduct to our brethren. Hence the Gospel of Unity, though it is in complete accord with the pure pattern after which Allah made us, is yet hard to those who love self and falsehood. But Grace is free to all, and in His wise Plan, He will specially select Teachers to show the Way to humanity, and no one who turns to Him will lack guidance.

14. And they became divided (4544) only after Knowledge reached them,- through selfish envy as between themselves. Had it not been for a Word that went forth before (4545) from thy Lord, (tending) to a Term appointed, the matter would have been settled between them: But truly those who have inherited the Book after them are in suspicious (disquieting) (4546) doubt concerning it.

4547 How beautifully the mission of Islam is commended in this verse! (1) the more sectarianism and division there is in the world, the more need is there for the Gospel of Unity. (2) It must steadily pursue its way. (3) It must not be deflected by worldly or political motives. (4) Its faith must be directly in Allah and in Allah’s Revelation. “The Book”, mentioned here, covers all the revelations sent by Allah to His prophets. (5) It must judge justly between warring factions, as the Religion of Peace and Unity.

4548 The mission of Islam is further described. (6) The God whom it preaches is not an exclusive God: He is the Lord of the Worlds: to any given person, of whatever faith, He is your Allah, as well as mine? (7) Our faith is not a question of words; it is deeds which decide; each one of us has personal responsibility for his own conduct. (8) There is no cause of contention whatever, when we preach Unity, Truth, and the Hereafter. (9) If you have doubts, the final arbiter is Allah, and His Throner is our Goal.

15. Now then, for that (reason), (4547) call (them to the Faith), and stand steadfast as thou art commanded, nor follow thou their vain desires; but say: “I believe in the Book which Allah has sent down; and I am commanded to judge justly between you. Allah is our Lord (4548) and your Lord: for us (is the responsibility for) our deeds, and for you for your deeds. There is no contention between us and you. Allah will bring us together, and to Him is (our) Final Goal.

16. But those who dispute concerning Allah after He has been accepted, (4549) futile is their dispute in the Sight of their Lord: on them will be a Penalty terrible.

4549 After He has been accepted. The disputants are the Unbelievers who pugnaciously assault the minds of Believers after the Believers have by conviction accepted Faith in Allah as leading to spiritual Light. Such disputations is futile. An inner spiritual experience can never be shaken by dialectical assaults. On the contrary such disputations recoil on the heads of those who indulge in them. Allah’s Wrath is on them in this life, and the terrible Penalty of the Hereafter must inevitably follow their evil plots against Truth.

17. It is Allah Who has sent down the Book in Truth, and the Balance (4550) (by which to weigh conduct). And what will make thee realise that perhaps the Hour is close at hand?

4550 Revelation is like a balance, an instrument placed by Allah in our hands, by which we can weigh all moral issues, all questions of right and wrong in conduct. We must do so constantly. For the Judgement in any given case may come at any time it may be quite near, and we must always be prepared. The Balance may also refer to the God-given faculty by which man can judge between right and wrong.

18. Only those wish to (4551) hasten it who believe not in it: those who believe hold it in awe, and know that it is the Truth. Behold, verily those that dispute concerning the Hour are far astray.

4551 The Unbelievers do not believe in Judgement and laugh at it. They say defiantly, “If there is to be a punishment, let it come at once!” The threefold answer to this will be found in n. 1810 to 13:6. With those who believe, the case is different. They know that the Hereafter is an awful Reality, and prepare for it. They see clearly on what a wrong track the scoffers are!
19. Gracious is Allah (4552) to His servants (4553). He gives Sustenance (4554) to whom He pleases: and He has power and can carry out His Will.

20. To any that desires the tilth of the Hereafter, We give increase in his tilth, and to any that desires the tilth of this world, We grant somewhat thereof, but he (4555) has no share or lot in the Hereafter.

21. What! have they partners (4556) (in godhead), who have established for them some religion without the permission of Allah. Had it not been for the Decree of Judgment, the matter would have been decided between them (at once). But verily the Wrong-doers will have a grievous Penalty.

22. Thou wilt see the wrongdoers (4557) in fear on account of what they have earned, and (the burden of) that must (necessarily) fall on them. But those who believe and work righteous deeds will be in the luxuriant meads (4558) of the Gardens: they shall have, before their Lord, all that they wish for. That will indeed be the magnificent Bounty of Allah.

23. That is (the Bounty) whereof (4559) Allah gives Glad Tidings to His Servants who believe and do righteous deeds. Say: "No reward do I ask of you for this except the love of those near of kin." (4560) And if any one earns any good, We shall give him an increase of good in respect thereof: for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Ready (4561) to appreciate (service).

24. What! Do they say, "He has forged a falsehood against Allah? But if Allah willed, He could seal up (4562) thy heart. And Allah blots out Vanity, and proves the Truth by His Words. For He knows well the secrets of all hearts.

25. He is the One that accepts (4563) repentance from His Servants and forgives sins: and He knows all that ye do.

26. And He listens to (4564) those who believe and do deeds of righteousness, and gives them increase of His Bounty: but for the Unbelievers their is a terrible Penalty.

27. If Allah were to enlarge (4565) the provision for His Servants, they would indeed transgress beyond all bounds through the earth; but he sends (it) down in due measure as He pleases. (4566) For He is with His Servants well-acquainted, Watchful.

28. He is the One that sends down rain (even) after men have given up all hope,(4567) and scatters His Mercy (far and wide). And He is the Protector, Worthy of all Praise.

29. And among His Signs is the creation of the heavens and the earth, and the living creatures (4568) that He has scattered through them:(4569) and He has power to gather them together when He wills.
30. Whatever misfortune happens to you, is because on the things your hands (4570) have wrought, and for many (of them) He grants forgiveness.

4571 All evil, all sorrow, all pain and affliction, are things normal, things twisted from the pure and holy nature as created by Allah's hands. As far as man is concerned, his misfortunes are but the consequences of the things he has done, he must bear personal responsibility for them and not throw the blame on others.

31. Nor can ye frustrate (aught), (fleeing) through the earth; (4571) nor have ye, besides Allah, any one to protect or to help.

4571 Every evil deed or word or thought must have its evil consequences; but if Allah forgives anything and He forgives much; let no one imagine that he has defeated or can defeat Allah's Will or Plan. The only help or protection that is possible is from Allah. Cf. 2:29-22.

32. And among His Signs are the ships, smooth-running (4572) through the ocean, (all) as mountains.

4572 The great and stately ships are appealed to again and again as being among the Signs of Allah, from many aspects. The aspect referred to here is how the great sailing ship runs prosperously as long as "the breath of heaven fill the sail," and what a miserable helpless creature she becomes when she once becomes becalmed. Students of English literature will remember the striking picture which Coleridge draws in his "Rime of the Ancient Mariner." The becalmed ship is as it were in the grip of Death because of the crime which the sailor had committed, and his mind feels psychologically the full force of the Sign. By analogy we can apply this to other craft: the steamer is not free from other dangers of the sea, nor aircraft from numerous dangers of the air.

33. If it be His Will He can still the Wind: then would they become motionless on the back of the (ocean). Verily in this are Signs for everyone who patiently (4573) perseveres and is grateful.

4573 If we study such Signs in the right spirit, we learn the highest lessons for our spiritual life: on the one hand, patient perseverance with reliance on Allah, and on the other a feeling or attitude of grateful thanks to Allah, that He enables us to achieve so much in spite of our shortcomings, and forgives us so much that deserves punishment and disaster.

34. Or He can cause them to perish because of the (evil) which (the men) have earned; but much doth He forgive.

35. But let those know, who(4574) dispute about Our Signs, that there is for them no way of escape.

4574 If we treat Allah's Signs in the wrong spirit, i.e., contumaciously reject them or constantly dispute about them instead of trying to understand them, we are told that such tactics will avail us nothing: we cannot escape the consequences of our sins. The only way to escape is by repentance on our part and the grant of mercy by Allah.

36. Whatever ye are given (here) is (but) a convenience (4575) of this life: but that which is with Allah is better and more lasting: (it is) for those who believe (4576) and put their trust in their Lord:

4575 Any good (or ill) which is our lot is only a temporary phase to serve the convenience of this life. But there is a higher good, which comes from Allah's own Presence. Such good is both superior in quality, and more permanent. In the same way, any ills that we may suffer in this life, have reference only to the conditions of this our life of probation. The ills that we "earn" in our spiritual Life—such as deprivation of Allah's Grace—are far more momentous and permanent.

4576 The higher and more permanent gifts which come from Allah's Presence are for those who truly worship and serve Allah. These are described by nine of their characteristics: viz. (1) they have Faith; and it follows that (2) they trust in Allah, instead of running after false standards or values; (3) they eschew the more serious offences against Allah's Law, and of course keep clear of any offences against sex ("shameful deeds"); (4) while knowing that they are not themselves perfect, they are ready to forgive others, even though they are sorely tried with anger and provocation; for the rest see n. 4578.

37. Those who avoid the greater (4577) crimes and shameful deeds, and when they are angry even then forgive;

4577 Here we are speaking of the ordinary man or woman who tries to follow Allah's Law: he or she is not perfect, but at least eschews the major breaches of conduct. For those higher in spiritual degree there is of course a stricter standard. But all are entitled to the blessing of Islam, whatever their degree.

38. Those who hearken (4578) to their Lord, and establish regular Prayer; who (conduct) their affairs by mutual Consultation; (4579) who spend out of what We bestow on them for Sustenance;

4578 Continuing the enumeration of the characteristics described in n. 4576, above, we have the following further qualities in those who wish to serve Allah. (5) They are ready at all times to hearken to Allah's Signs, or to listen to the admonitions of prophets of Allah, and to follow the true Path, as they understand it: (6) they keep personal contact with Allah, by habits of Prayer and Praise; (7) their conduct in life is open and determined by mutual Consultation between those who are entitled to a voice, e.g., in private domestic affairs, as between husband and wife, or other responsible members of the household: in affairs of business, as between partners or parties interested; and in State affairs, as between rulers and ruled, or between different departments of administration, to secure the unity of the administration: (8) they do not forget Charity, or the help due to their weaker brethren, out of the wealth or gifts or talents or opportunities, which Allah had provided for themselves: and (9) when other people use them despitely, they are not cowed down or terrorised into submission and acceptance of evil, but stand up for their rights within the limits mentioned in verse 40. (R).

4579 Consultation. This is the keyword of the Surah, and suggests the ideal way in which a good man should conduct his affairs, so that, on the one hand, he may not become too egotistical, and, on the other, he may not lightly abandon the responsibilities which devolve on him as a Personality whose development counts in the sight of Allah. See the points in head (7) under n. 4578 above. This principle was applied to its fullest extent by the Prophet in his private and public life, and was fully acted upon by the early rulers of Islam. Modern representative government is an attempt by no means perfect to apply this principle in State affairs. See for Religion Policy of Islam.

39. And those who, when an oppressive wrong is inflicted on them, (are not cowed but) help and defend themselves. (4580)

4580 This follows from the high value attached to an individual soul's Personality in Islam. Cf. last note. There are four possible situations that may arise: an individual may have to stand up against an oppressor (1) for his own trampled rights, or (2) for the rights of other within his kins; or (3) a community may similarly to stand up for its own rights collectively; or (4) for the rights of others. Nos. 2, 3, and 4 are considered highly meritorious for all, though few have the courage or the spirit to rise to so high a standard. No. 1 is specially liable to abuse on account of man's selfishness; Nos. 2, 3, and 4 are also abused by men pretending to motives of public good when they are serving their own personal interests or idiosyncrasies; hence the qualifications mentioned in the next four verses and the notes thereto.

40. The recompense for an injury is an injury equal thereto (4581) (in degree): but if a person forgives and makes reconciliation, his reward is due (4582) from Allah. for (Allah) loveth not those who do wrong. (4583)

4581 See last note. When you stand up for rights, either on private or public grounds, it may be through processes of law, or by way of private defence insofar as the law permits private action, but in all cases you must not seek a compensation greater than the injury suffered. The most you can do is to demand equal redress, i.e., a harm equivalent to the harm done to you. Even this may serve to curb your unregenerate soul, or a community bent on revenge. But the ideal mode is not to slake your thirst for vengeance, but to follow better ways leading to the reform of the offender or his reconciliation. See 11:141, and 23:96. You can take steps to prevent repetition, by physical or moral means; the best moral means would be to turn hatred into friendship by forgiveness and love. In that case the compensation or reward (if we must use such terms) is infinitely greater, for it wins the good pleasure of Allah.

But this active righting of wrongs, whether by physical or by moral or spiritual means, which are commended as better, is an antithesis to the monkish doctrine, when you are smitten on one cheek, to turn the other also. This would not suppress, but encourage wrongdoing. It is practised by none but poltroons, and is preached only by hypocrites, or men who want to make slaves or others by depriving them of the power of self-defence. It occurs in two of the four canonical Gospels (Matt. 5:39, and Luke 6:29), but we need not therefore assume that it was preached by Jesus.

4582 To love Allah is the highest motive of our conduct, for it leads to the love of Allah’s creatures: to win the approbation and love of Allah, is the highest reward, far transcending any compensation or satisfaction we can obtain in this life.

4583 Allah does not love those who do wrong. If, therefore, we tolerate wrong, or encourage wrong by allowing it to run rampant when we can prevent it, we fail in our duty to Allah.

41. But indeed if any do help and defend themselves after a wrong (done) to them, against such(4584) there is no cause of blame.

4584 Such people are not to be blamed, though they are following the lower law. The blame is on those who arrogantly ride roughshod over the land, oppressing people with grievous wrong. See next verse.

42. The blame is only(4585) against those who oppress men and wrong-doing and insolently transgress beyond bounds through the land, defying right and justice: for such there will be a penalty grievous.

4585 The fact that men seek the lower rather than the higher Law is itself a result of arrogant wrongdoing of which the type was the Pharaoh who claimed to be “Your Lord Most High” and oppressed the Israelites, and kept his own people under slavery and subjection, and the false glamour of magic and deception.

43. But indeed if any show patience and forgive,(4586) that would truly be an exercise of courageous will and resolution in the conduct of affairs.

4586 It is harder to be patient and forgive, and yet to get wrongs righted, as was done by the Prophet, than to bluster about and “punish the guilty” or “teach them a lesson”. It may look like futility or lack of purpose, but in reality it is the highest and noblest form of courage and resolution. And it may carry out the purpose of reform and the suppression of evil even better than stern punishment. The gentleness of innocence often “persuades where stronger measures fail.” But of course circumstances alter cases, and there is some allowance also to be made for the personal equation of the men you have to deal with: in some cases severity may be called for, but it should be from a strict judicial motive, and not merely from personal anger or spite or lower motive in disguise.

44. For any whom Allah leaves astray, there is no protector thereafter. And thou wilt see the Wrong-doers, when in sight of the Penalty, Say: “Is there any way(4587) (to effect) a return?”

4587 When the actual consequences of evil are in sight, the foolish sinner wishes that it were possible to get back to the life of probation. But he neglected or abused it and rejected Allah’s Grace all the time. How can he then be restored to a closed chapter of his life?

45. And thou wilt see them brought forward to the (Penalty), in a humble frame of mind because of (their) disgrace,(4588) and looking with a stealthy glance. And the Believers will say: “Those are indeed(4589) in loss, who have given to perdition their own selves and those belonging to them on the Day of Judgment. Behold! Truly the Wrong-doers are in a lasting Penalty!”

4588 They were very arrogant in their probationary life. Now will they be humbled to the dust. And they will be in utter despair and misery. They will not be able to see the favours and good things of the other life (cf. 20:124-126). Even their misery, which will face them as a terrible Reality, they will only be able to look at askance, so thoroughly cowed will be their spirit.

4589 This will be their thought, and their realised experience: after all, anything troubles and sorrows, any persecutions and taunts which they suffered in the life of probation from the enemies of truth, were of no consequence; the real loss was that revealed at the Judgement at the restoration of true values; the wicked and the arrogant have lost their own souls, and have brought to perdition all who attached themselves to them and followed their evil ways; and this Penalty is one that will endure! How much more real it is!

46. And no protectors have they(4590) to help them, other than Allah. And for any whom Allah leaves to stray, there is no way (to the Goal).

4590 The argument began in verse 44 above is here rounded off. If once men finally cut themselves off from Allah’s guidance and care, they will have no protection whatever. All their false objects of worship will only mislead them further and further. How they will wish the fact blotted out when they are in sight of Judgement, and vainly wish for time to be reversed! They will be in the Fire, while the men whom they despised and rejected will have reached the final Goal! For them there will be no such way!

47. Hearken ye to your Lord, before there come a Day which there will be no putting back, because(4591) of (the Ordainment of) Allah, that Day there will be for you no place of refuge nor will there be for you any room for denial(4592) (of your sins)!

4591 The Day of Judgement is inevitable. Allah has ordained it, and it cannot in any way be put back.

4592 At Judgement no one can escape the consequences of his crimes or deeds. And no one can disavow them or deny them, or by any chance pretend that they do not apply to him.

48. If then they run away, We have not sent thee as a guardian over them.(4593) Thy duty is but to convey (the Message). And truly, when We give man a taste of a Mercy(4594) from Ourselves, he doth exult thereat, but when some ill happens to him, on account of the deeds which his hands have sent forth, truly then is man ungrateful!

4593 The warning is now given, that men may repent and do good, and pray for Allah’s Mercy and Grace. If the warning is not heeded or is rejected, the prophet of Allah is not responsible for bringing about the Penalty or for forcing people to come to the right Path. He is not a guard set over them to free them from the need of exercising their limited free will. (R).

4594 Cf. 30:36: It is a sad reflection that men, when they receive some gift out of Allah’s Mercy, exult in their good fortune and attribute it to some merit in themselves, instead of to the Grace and Mercy of Allah, thus missing the real lesson of Life. On the other hand, when they are in trouble, due to their own errors and shortcomings, they fall into despair and blame Allah, instead of blaming themselves. This is rank ingratitude. So they miss the true lesson of Life in that case also.

49. To Allah belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth. He creates what He wills(4595) (and plans). He bestows (children) male or female according to His Will (and Plan), 4595 Verses 49-50 deal, in their ordinary meaning, with Allah’s creative power replete with knowledge and continued purpose, contrasted with man’s instincts and gropings after knowledge. The mystery of sex and parenthood is referred to in a new light. With reference to children, a parent is often spoken of as the “author” of their being. The growth of population and the proportion of males and females in it have various sociological and psychological implications; yet how little do parents really know about them? The knowledge of science as regards the determination of sex in the embryo is practically nothing. Even if advancing knowledge threw light on what may be called the mechanical aspects of the question, the profounder problems touched by it are beyond the reach of man. Yet they are not governed by chance. Allah has a meaning and purpose in all things, and His power is complete to carry out His purpose.

50. Or He bestows both males(4596) and females, and He leaves barren who He will: for He is full of Knowledge and Power.

4596 To parents themselves it is a mystery why a male or female child is given at any birth, or how the balance of the two sexes is made up in a family or in large groups of mankind, or why in some cases the womb is barren and the would-be parents are denied the joys and responsibilities of parenthood. But each individual human soul is precious in the Plan of Allah, and all these variations, besides their reactions on parents and on society, have a purpose to fulfil in the large Plan of Allah.
51. It is not fitting (4597) for a man that Allah should speak to him except by inspiration, (4598) or from behind a veil, (4599) or by the sending of a Messenger (4600) to reveal, with Allah's permission, what Allah wills: for He is Most High, Most Wise.

4597 This leads us on to the higher spiritual meaning of verses 45-50, as leading up to verses 51-53. Man is but a speck in Allah's creation. His growth and family relationships are not by any means comparable to Allah's creative acts, whose various stages are referred to in n. 120 to 2:117, n. 516 to 6:94, and n. 928 to 6:98.

4598 That being so in the mysteries of man's daily life, how much more profound is the contrast between man and Allah in the apprehension of the higher spiritual problems concerned with Revelation? How can man be fit to speak to Allah? He is not fit. But there are three ways in which Allah, in His infinite Mercy, communicates with man, as described in verses 51-53.

4599 Allah is Most High, Most Wise: man is, in spite of his high destiny, often the lowest of the low (55:5). Yet Allah, out of His infinite Mercy and Grace, has bestowed His Revelation on man. How does it come about? Three ways are mentioned: (1) Wahi; Inspiration: (2) from behind a veil; and (3) by the sending of a Messenger: see the notes following.

Wahi; Inspiration, is interpreted to be of two kinds: (1) a suggestion thrown by Allah into the heart or mind of man, by which man understands the substance of the Message, whether it is a command or prohibition, or an explanation of a great truth; and (2) verbal or literal inspiration, by which the actual words of Allah are conveyed in human language. (R).

4600 Behind a veil: not of course a material veil, but the mystic veil of Light. (R).

Al-Wahab, Muslim relates a tradition that the Prophet said: 'His veil is Light: were He to withdraw it, then would the august splendors of His countenance surely consume everything that comes within His Sight.' (R).

4601 Before the receipt of his mission in his fortieth year, the Prophet, though a man of steadfast virtue and purity and uprightness in his search for Truth (see C. 22:23), was yet unacquainted with Revelation in the highest sense of the term and with the certainty that comes from perfected Faith, or realised nearness to Allah. Rah, which I have here translated Inspiration has also been understood by some Commentators to refer to the angel Gabriel, the vehicle of Revelation. The Light of the Qur'an made all things clear to man, and to the world.

4602 The Qur'an and the inspired Prophet who proclaimed it, are here identified. They were a Guide to men, showing the Straight Way. This Way is described in various ways: for example, see 1:6, and n. 22; 18:1-2, and notes 2026-2027; and 90:11-18.

4603 The most comprehensive description of the Straight Way is that it is the Way of Allah, the Way of the Universal Law: for Allah is the source, centre, and goal of all things in heaven and earth. Everything goes back to Him. According to our own understanding we make our own laws, our own standards, and our own institutions. But the ultimate test of their validity or authority is Allah's Will, as revealed to us by His Revelation.

43. Al Zukhruf (The Gold Adornments)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ha Mim (4604)

4604 Abbreviated Letters: see Introduction to S. 40, paragraphs 2-4.

2. By the Book that makes things clear,-

3. We have made it a Qur´án in Arabic, (4605) that ye may be able to understand (and learn wisdom).

4605 Cf. 12:7, n. 4533.

4. And verily, it is in the Mother of the Book, (4606) in Our Presence, high (in dignity), full of wisdom.

4606 Cf. 3:7, n. 347; and 11:39, n. 1864. The Mother of the Book, the Foundation of Revelation, the Preserved Tablet (al Luthlawi Madaba, 85:22, is the core or essence of Revelation, the original principle or fountainhead of Allah's Eternal and Universal Law. From this fountainhead are derived all streams of knowledge and wisdom, that flow through Time and feed the intelligence of created minds. The Mother of the Book is in Allah's own Presence, and its dignity and wisdom are more than all we can think of in the spiritual world.

5. Shall We then (4607) take away the Message from you and repel (you), for that ye are a people transgressing beyond bounds?

4607 In vouchsafing Revelation, what an inestimable Mercy has Allah conferred on mankind! Yet so many debased souls are ungrateful, and ignore or oppose its teaching. If it were not for His attributes of Forgiveness and Forbearing He would be justified in withdrawing that Light, but He continues to shed it, that all who will may come and be blessed by it.

6. But how many were (4608) the prophets We sent amongst the peoples of old?

4608 In spite of, or because of, man's obstinate and rebellious nature, Allah sent prophet after prophet to the peoples of old, but there was among them always a party that ridiculed them and treated Allah's Signs as naught.

7. And never came there a prophet to them but they mocked him.

8. So We destroyed (them) -- stronger in power than these; -- and (thus) has passed on (4609) the Parable of the peoples of old.

4609 The result of rebellion was destruction. And the pagan Makkan generation contemporary with the Prophet are reminded that the peoples of old who were destroyed were, many of them, more powerful than they, and that they, in disobeying Allah's Law, were inviting the same fate for themselves. The events of the past have become Parables for the present and the future.
9. If thou wert to question them, 'Who created the heavens and the earth?' (4610) They would be sure to reply, 'they were created by (Him), the Exalted in Power, Full of Knowledge' - (4611)

10. (Yea, the same that) (4612) has made for you the earth (like a carpet) (4613) spread out, and has made for you roads (and channels) therein, in order that ye may find guidance (on the way);

11. That sends down (from time to time) rain from the sky in due measure; (4614) and We raise to life therewith a land that is dead; even so will ye be raised from the dead' - (4615)

12. That has created pairs (4616) in all things, and has made for you ships and cattle (4617) on which ye ride,

13. In order that ye may sit firm and square on their backs, and when so seated, ye may celebrate the (kind) favour (4618) of your Lord, and say, "Glory to Him Who has subjected these to our (use), for we could never have accomplished this (by ourselves),

14. "And to our Lord, surely, (4619) must we turn back!"

15. Yet they attribute (4620) to some of His servants a share with Him (in His godhead)! truly is man a blasphemous ingrate avowed!

16. What! has He taken (4621) daughters out of what He himself creates, and granted to you sons for choice?

17. When news is brought (4622) to one of them of (the birth of) what he sets up as a likeness to (Allah) Most Gracious, his face darkens, and he is filled with inward grief!

18. Is then one brought up (4623) among trinkets, and unable to give a clear account in a dispute (to be associated with Allah)?

19. And they make into females angels who themselves serve (4624) Allah. Did they witness their creation? Their evidence will be recorded, and they will be called to account!

20. ("Ah!") they say, 'if it had been the Will of (Allah) Most Gracious, we should not have worshipped such (deities)! Of that they have no knowledge! they do nothing but lie!' (4626)

21. What! have We given them a Book before this, to which they are holding fast?

22. Nay! they say: "We found (4627) our fathers following a certain religion, and we do guide ourselves by their footsteps."

23. Just in the same way, whenever We sent a Warner before thee to any people, the wealthy ones among them (4628) said: "We found our fathers following a certain religion, and we will certainly follow in their footsteps."

24. He said: "What! (4629) Even if I brought you better guidance than that which ye found your fathers following?" They said: "For us, we deny that ye (prophets) are sent (on a mission at all)."

The Warner or messenger pointed out the merits and the truth of his teaching, and how superior it was to what they called their ancestral customs. But they denied his mission itself or the validity of any such mission. In other words they did not believe in inspiration or revelation, and went on in their evil ways, with the inevitable result that they brought themselves to destruction.

25. So We exacted retribution from them: now see what was the end of those who rejected (Truth)!

26. Behold! Abraham said(4630) to his father and his people: "I do indeed clear myself of what ye worship:

The plea of ancestral ways is refuted by the example of Abraham, in two ways: (1) he gave up the ancestral cults followed by his father and his people, and followed the true Way, even at some sacrifice to himself; and (2) he was an ancestor of the Arabs, and if the Arabs stood on ancestral ways, why should they not follow their good ancestor Abraham, rather than their bad ancestors who fell into evil? See n. 4627 above. The incident in Abraham's story referred to here will be found in 21:31-70.

27. "(I worship) only Him Who made me, and He will certainly guide me."

28. And he left it as a Word(4631) to endure among those who came after him, that they may turn back (to Allah)

29. Yea, I have given(4632) the good things of this life to these (men) and their fathers, until the Truth has come to them, and a messenger making things clear.

Note the first person singular, as showing Allah's personal solicitude and care for the descendants of Abraham in both branches. The context here refers to the prosperity enjoyed by Makkah and the Makkans until they rejected the truth of Islam when it was preached in their midst by a messenger whose Message was as clear as the light of the sun.

30. But when the Truth came to them, they said: "This is sorcery, and we(4633) do reject it."

31. Also, they say: "Why is not this Qur´an sent down to some leading man in either of the two(4634) (Chief) cities?"

32. Is it they who would portion out the Mercy of thy Lord?(4635) It is We Who portion out between them their livelihood in the life of this world: and We raise some of them above others in ranks, so that some may command work from others. But the Mercy of thy Lord is better than the (wealth) which they amass.

33. And were it not that(4636) (all) men might become of one (evil) way of life, We would provide, for everyone that blasphemes against ((Allah)) Most Gracious, silver roofs for their houses and (silver) stair-ways on which to go up,

34. And (silver) doors to their houses, and thrones (of silver) on which they could recline,

35. And also adornments(4637) of gold. But all this were nothing but conveniences of the present life: The Hereafter, in the sight of thy Lord is for the Righteous.

36. If anyone withdraws himself(4638) from remembrance of ((Allah)) Most Gracious, We appoint for him an evil one, to be an intimate companion to him.

37. Such (evil ones) really hinder them from the Path,(4639) but they think that they are being guided aright!

38. At length, when (such a one)(4640) comes to Us, he says (to his evil companion): "Would that between me and thee were the distance of East and West!"(4641) Ah! evil is the companion (indeed)!

39. When ye have done wrong,(4642) it will avail you nothing, that Day, that ye shall be partners in Punishment!

40. Canst thou then make(4643) the deaf to hear, or give direction to the blind or to such as (wander) in manifest error?(4644)
4542 CT. 90:52-53. The evil go headlong into sin, and sink deeper and deeper until their spiritual faculties are deadened, and no outside help can bring them back. Allah's grace they have rejected.

4543 There is hope for a person who wanders in quest of truth, and even for one who wanders through mistake or by weakness of will. But there is none for one who, by deliberate choice, plunges into "manifest error," i.e., error which anyone can see.

41. Even if We take thee away, We shall be sure to exact retribution from them, 4544 CT. 8:30 : "how the Unbelievers plotted against thee, to keep thee in bonds, or slay thee, or get thee out of thy home." They were always plotting against the Prophet in his Makkah period. But even if their plots had succeeded against human beings, they could not defeat Allah's Plan, nor escape the just punishment of their deeds. CT. also 10:46 , and n. 1438.

42. Or We shall show thee that (accomplished) which We have promised them: for verily We shall prevail over them.

43. So hold thou fast to the Revelation sent down to thee; verily thou art on a Straight Way.

4546 Let the wicked rage, say what they like, or do their worst: the Prophet of Allah is encouraged to go forward steadfastly in the Light given him, for he is on a Path that leads straight to Allah. (R).

44. The (Qur'an) is indeed the message, for thee and for thy people; and soon shall ye (all) be brought to account.

4547 Dhikr. Message, Remembrance, Cause of remembrance, Memorial, Title for remembrance to posterity. Thus two meanings emerge, not necessarily mutually exclusive. (i) The Qur'an brings a Message of Truth and Guidance to the Prophet, and his people; (ii) The Revelation of the Qur'an raises the rank of the Prophet, and the people among whom, and in whose language, it was promulgated, making them worthy of remembrance in the world's history for all time. But the honour also carried its responsibilities. All who hear it must give an account of how far they profit by it spiritually.

45. And question thou our messengers(4648) whom We sent before thee; did We appoint any deities other than ((Allah)) Most Gracious, to be worshipped? (4654) That is, by examining their Message, and asking the learned among their real followers. It will be found that no Religion really teaches the worship of other than Allah. (R).

46. We did send Moses(4649) aforetime, with Our Signs, to Pharaoh and his Chiefs: He said, "I am a messenger of the Lord of the Worlds."

4549 For the story of Moses in detail, see 7:103-137, especially 7:104, 130-136.

47. But when he came to them with Our Signs, behold they ridiculed them.(4650)

4550 For the mockery of Moses and his Signs see 17:101; also below, 43:49, 52-53.

48. We showed them Sign(4651) after Sign, each greater than its fellow, and We seized them with Punishment, in order that they might turn (to Us).

4551 Moses showed them nine Clear Signs: see n. 1091 to 7:133; also 17:101.

49. And they said, "O thou(4652) sorcerer! Invoke thy Lord for us according to His covenant with thee; for we shall truly accept guidance."

4552 This speech is half a mockery, and half a ruse. In spite of their unbelief, they had fear in their minds, and in order to stop the plagues, one after another, they promised to obey Allah, and when the particular plague was removed, they again became obdurate. See 7:133-135.

50. But when We removed the Penalty from them, behold, they broke their word.

51. And Pharaoh proclaimed among his people, saying: "O my people! Does not the dominion of Egypt belong to me, (witness)(4653) these streams flowing underneath my (palace)? What! see ye not then?"

4653 The raw here in Arabic is the Wara khalat: the abundant streams from the Nile flowing beneath his palace being evidence of his power, prosperity, and sovereignty. The Nile made (and made) Egypt , and the myth of the god Osiris was a compound of the myths of the Nile and the sun. The Pharaoh, therefore, as commanding the Nile, commanded the gods who personified Egypt. He boasted of water, and he perished in water—a fitting punishment!

52. "Am I not better than this (Moses), who is a contemptible wretch(4654) and can scarcely express himself clearly?"

4654 Being a despised Israelite in any case, and having further an impediment in his speech. See 20:27 , and notes 2552-2553.

53. "Then why are not(4655) gold bracelets bestowed on him, or (why) come (not) with him angels accompanying him in possession?"

4655 Gold bracelets and gold chains were possibly among the insignia of royalty. In any case they betokened wealth, and the materialists judge a man's worth by his wealth and his following and equipage. So Pharaoh wanted to see Moses, if he had any position in the spiritual kingdoms, invested with gold bracelets, and followed by a great train of angels as his Knights-companions? The same kind of proofs were demanded by the materialistic Quraysh of our Prophet. These were puerilities, but such puerilities go down with the crowd. Barring a few Egyptians who believed in Allah and in the Message of Moses, the rest of Pharaoh's entourage followed Pharaoh in his pursuit of revenge, and were drowned in the Red Sea.

54. Thus did he make fools of his people, and they obeyed him: truly were they a people rebellious (against Allah).

55. When at length they(4656) provoked Us, We exacted retribution from them, and We drowned them all.(4657)

4656 Allah is long-suffering, and gives many and many opportunities to the most hardened sinners for repentance. But at length comes a time when His justice is provoked, and the inevitable punishment follows.

4657 CT. 7:136.

56. And We made them (a people) of the Past(4658) and an Example to later ages.

4658 Pharaoh and his hosts were blotted out, and became as a tale of the past. Their story is an instructive warning and example to future generations. The later course of Egyptian religion after the Exodus is referred to in Appendix V.

57. When (Jesus) the son(4659) of Mary is held up as an example, behold, thy people raise a clamour thereat (in ridicule)!

4659 Jesus was a man, and a prophet to the Children of Israel, 'though his own received him not.' Some of the churches that were founded after him worshipped him as 'God' and as 'the son of God,' as do the Trinitarian churches to the present day. The orthodox churches did so in the time of the Prophet. When the doctrine of Unity was renewed, and the false worship of others besides Allah was strictly prohibited, all false gods were condemned, e.g., at 21:59. The pagan Arabs looked upon Jesus as being in the same category as their false gods, and could not see why a foreign cult, or a foreign god, as they viewed him, should be considered better than their own gods or idols. There was no substance in this, but mere mockery, and verbal quibbling. Jesus was one of the greater prophets: he was not a god, nor was he responsible for the quibbling subdities of the Athanasian Creed.
58. And they say, "Are our gods best, or he?" This they set forth to thee, only by way of disputation: yea, they are a contentious people.

59. He was no more than a servant: We granted Our favour to him, and We made him an example to the Children(4660) of Israel.

4660 A reference to the limited mission of the prophet Jesus, whose Gospel to the Jews only survives in uncertain fragmentary forms.

60. And if it were Our Will,(4661) We could make angels from amongst you, succeeding each other on the earth.

4661 If it were said that the birth of Jesus without a father sets him above other prophets, the creation of angels without either father or mother would set them still higher, especially as angels do not eat and drink and are not subject to physical laws. But angels are not higher.

61. And (Jesus) shall be(4662) a Sign (for the coming of) the Hour (of Judgment): therefore have no doubt about the (Hour), but follow ye Me: this is a Straight Way.

4662 This is understood by some commentators to refer to the second coming of Jesus in the Last Days before Resurrection. (R).

62. Let not the Evil One hinder you: for he is to you an enemy avowed.

63. When Jesus came with Clear Signs, he said: "Now have I come to you with Wisdom,(4663) and in order to make clear to you some of the (points) on which ye dispute: therefore fear Allah and obey me.

4663 True wisdom consists in understanding the unity of the Divine purpose and the Unity of the Divine Personality. The man Jesus came to reconcile the jarring sects in Israel, and his true teaching was just the same as that which was expounded in a wider form by Islam. He did not claim to be God; why should not the Christians follow the doctrine of Unity rather than what has become their ancestral and traditional custom?

64. "For Allah, He is my Lord(4664) and your Lord: so worship ye Him: this is a Straight Way."

4664 In verses 26-28 an appeal is made to the pagan Arabs, that Islam is their own religion, the religion of Abraham their ancestor; in verses 46-54, an appeal is made to the Jews that Islam is the same religion as was taught by Moses, and that they should not allow their leaders to make fools of them; in verses 57-65 an appeal is made to the Christians that Islam is the same religion as was taught by Jesus, and that they should give up their sectarian attitude and follow the universal religion, which shows the Straight Way.

65. But sects from among themselves fell into disagreement: then woe to the wrong-doers, from the Penalty of a Grievous Day!

66. Do they only wait(4665) for the Hour - that it should come on them all of a sudden, while they perceive not?

4665 Cf. 12:107. What is there to wait for? The Hour of Judgement may come at any moment. It will come all of a sudden before they realise that it is on them. They should make up their minds to give up misleading disputations and come to the Straight Path (see also 47:18).

67. Friends on that Day(4666) will be foes, one to another,- except the Righteous.

4666 The hatred and spite, which are associated with evil, will be felt with peculiar intensity in that period of agony. That itself would be a punishment, from which the righteous will be free. The righteous will have passed all perils of falling into wrong frames of mind.

68. My devotees! No fear shall be on you that Day, nor shall ye grieve,- 4677 The devotion and service to Allah result in the soul being made free from all fear and sorrow, as regards the past, present, and future, if we may take an analogy from Time for a timeless state. Such devotion and service are shown by (1) believing in Allah's Signs, which means understanding and accepting His Will, and (2) by merging our will completely in His universal Will, which means being in tune with the Infinite, and acting in all things to further His Kingdom.

69. (Being) those who have believed in Our Signs and bowed (their wills to Ours) in Islam.

70. Enter ye the Garden,(4668) ye and your wives, in (beauty and) rejoicing.

4669 The Garden is the type of all that is beautiful to eye, mind, and soul; all that is resplendent and in tune, a complete state of bliss, such as we can scarcely conceive of in this troubled world. Several metaphors indicate how we can try to picture that bliss to ourselves in 'this muddy venture of decay.'

71. To them will be passed(4669) round, dishes and goblets of gold: there will be there all that the souls could desire, all that their ayes could delight in: and ye shall abide therein (for eye).

4669 We shall have all our near and dear ones ('wives') with us; perfected Love will not be content with Self, but like a note of music will find its melody in communion with others. The richest and most beautiful vessels will minister to our purified desires, and give complete and eternal satisfaction to our souls in every way.

72. Such will be the Garden of which ye are made(4670) heirs for your (good) deeds (in life).

4670 We shall be there, not as strangers, or temporary guests, but as heirs-made heirs in eternity because of the good lives we had led on earth.

73. Ye shall have therein abundance of fruit,(4671) from which ye shall have satisfaction.(4672)

4671 The 'fruit' here links on with the last words in the last verse (72): 'ye are made heirs for your (good) deeds (in life). It is not a doctrine of "rewards", strictly so called. A reward is measured by merit, but here the bliss is beyond all merits or deserts. It is a doctrine of works and their fruits: every deed must have its inevitable consequences. At first sight it may be compared to the doctrine of "Karma", but it differs from it in postulating Allah's unbounded Mercy, and the efficacy of Repentance. (R).

4672 Literally, "shall eat". But the word ahabah is used in many places in the comprehensive sense of "enjoy", "have satisfaction". For example, see n. 776 to 5:69. Cf. also 7:19 and n. 1084.

74. The sinners will be in the Punishment of Hell, to dwell therein (for eye):

75. Nowise shall the (Punishment) be lightened for them, and in despair will they be there overwhelmed.

76. Nowise shall We(4673) be unjust to them: but it is they who have been unjust themselves.

4673 The wrong-doers suffer not because Allah is unjust or cruel, nor as a deterrent to others, for the probationary period will then have passed, but because their evil deeds must bear their inevitable fruit. Allah's Grace was ever ready to offer opportunities for Repentance and Forgiveness. But they rejected them. They were unjust to themselves. This is complementary to the doctrine of works and their fruits, as explained in n. 4671 above.

77. They will cry: "O Malik!(4674) would that thy Lord put an end to us!" He will say, "Nay, but ye shall abide!"(4675)

4674 Malik: one who is lord or possessor; one who is in charge; applied to the Angel in charge of Hell.

4675 Cf. 20:74. Annihilation is better than agony. But wrong-doers cannot destroy the 'fruits' of their actions, by asking for annihilation.
78. Verily We have brought (4676) the Truth to you: but most of you have a hatred for Truth.

4676 We come back now to the Present—primarily to the time when Islam was being preached in Makkah, but by analogy the present time or any time. Truth is often bitter to the taste of those who live on Falsehoods and Shamms and profit by them. They hate the Truth, and plot against it. But will they succeed? See next verse and note.

79. What! have they settled (4677) some plan (among themselves)? But it is We Who settle things.

4677 Men cannot settle the high affairs of the Universe. If they plot against the Truth, the Truth will destroy them, just as, if they accept the Truth, the Truth will make them free. It is Allah Who disposes of affairs.

80. Or do they think (4678) that We hear not their secrets and their private counsels? Indeed (We do), and Our messengers are by them, to record.

4678 However secretly men may plot, everything is known to Allah. His recording Angels are by, at all times and in all places, to prepare a Record of their Deeds for their own conviction when the time comes for Judgement (Cf. 45:29).

81. Say: "If (Allah) Most Gracious had a son, I would (4679) be the first to worship."

4679 The prophet of Allah does not object to true worship in any form. But it must be true: it must not supersticiously attribute derogatory things to Allah, or foster false ideas.

82. Glory to the Lord of the heavens and the earth, the Lord of the Throne (4680) (of Authority)! (He is free) from the things they attribute (to him)!

4680 Cf. 7:54 and n. 1032. All Power, Authority, Knowledge, and Truth are with Allah. He neither begets nor is begotten. Glory to Him!

83. So leave them to babble and play (with vanities) until they meet that Day (4681) of theirs, which they have been promised.

4681 That Day of theirs: they had their Day on earth; they will have a different sort of Day in the Hereafter, according to the promise of Allah about the Resurrection and Judgement, or perhaps about Retribution in this very life! So leave them to play about with their fancies and vanities. Truth must eventually prevail!

84. It is He Who is Allah in heaven and Allah on earth; and He is full of Wisdom and Knowledge.

85. And blessed is He (4682) to Whom belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth, and all between them: with Him is the Knowledge of the Hour (of Judgment): and to Him shall ye be brought back.

4682 We glorify Allah, and we call His name blessed, because He has not only supreme power and authority, but because we shall return to Him and see the Light of His Countenance” (30:38).

86. And those whom they invoke besides Allah have no power of intercession;—only He (4683) who bears witness to the Truth, and they know (him).

4683 The classical Commentators construe this clause differently. According to their construction, the clause would be translated, “except those who bear witness to the Truth, and with full knowledge.” “Truth” they would construe to be the Gospel of Unity. According to them, while idols and false gods have no power of intercession, persons like Jesus, who is falsely worshipped by his misguided followers, but who himself preached the Gospel of Unity with full understanding, will have the power of intercession. This implies that we construe the singular ilm shalidah to refer to the same person or persons as the plural ilm vailanim. This difficulty is removed if we construe as I have translated it. In that case “he who bears witness to the Truth” is the Prophet, who came to renew the Gospel of Unity, and “they know him” would refer to the Quraysh, amongst whom he was brought up and among whom he earned the reputation of being a man of probity (Amin).

87. If thou ask them, Who (4684) created them, they will certainly say, Allah. How then are they delded away (from the Truth)?

4684 Cf. 31:25, and n. 3618; and 39:38; and n. 4299.

88. (Allah) has knowledge (4685) of the (Prophet’s) cry, “O my Lord! Truly these are people who will not believe!” (4686)

4685 Commentators are divided in opinion as to the construction. The best opinion is that which I have adopted, referring back qilihi to verses 85. An alternative construction is to construe the mawla here as the saw qasamah in that case we should have to suppose some other clause as understood, in order to complete the sense.

89. But turn away from them, and say "Peace!" (4687) But soon shall they know!

4687 Cf. 25:63, and n. 3123.

44. Al Dukhan (The Smoke)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ha Mim.(4688)

4688 These Abbreviated Letters are discussed in the Introduction to S. 40, paragraphs 2-4.

2. By the Book that(4689) makes things clear;—

4689 The Qur'an is its own evidence. In the last Surah (11:3) stress was laid on the fact that everyone could understand it. Here the stress is on the fact that it is a Message of Mercy from Allah in that it warns mankind against evil.
4. In the (Night) is made distinct every affair of wisdom.(4691)

4691 Such an occasion is one on which divine Wisdom places before us, through Revelation, the solution of spiritual problems of the highest import to mankind.

5. By command, from Our Presence. For We (ever) send (revelations),

6. As Mercy from thy Lord: for He hears and knows(4692) (All things); He gives death,- The Lord and Cherisher to you and your earliest ancestors.

7. The Lord of the heavens and the earth and all between them, if ye (but) have an assured faith.(4693)

4692 It is because Allah is the friend of the friendless and the help of the helpless that He hears all sincere prayers, and as His knowledge embraces all things, He grants to us whatever is best for us, not as we see it, but as He knows it in His perfect knowledge.

8. There is no god but He: It is He Who gives life and gives death,- The Lord and Cherisher to you and your earliest ancestors.

9. Yet they play about(4694) in doubt.

4694 The story is mainly about the Quraysh. But there is a wider meaning behind it, applicable to men generally, and at all times. As a body the Quraysh, especially in the earlier stages of the preaching of Islam, before they started persecution, received the Message with more amusement than hatred. They played about with it, and expressed doubts about it, whereas the Prophet was most earnest about it, with all his heart and soul in it, as he loved his people and wished to save them from their wickedness and folly.

10. Then watch thou for the Day(4695) that the sky will bring forth a kind of smoke (or mist)(4696) plainly visible, 4695 What Day is this? It obviously refers to a great calamity, and from the wording it is to be a great calamity in the future, seen with the prophetic eye. The word yaghsha in verse 11 may be compared to al ghashiyah in 88:1, which obviously refers to the final Day of Judgement. But verse 15 below (“We shall indeed remove(4699) the Penalty for a while, (but) truly ye will revert (to your ways).”) says that it is not the final Judgement referred to here, but some calamity that was to happen soon afterwards. Perhaps it was a famine, about which see the next note.

4696 The “smoke” or “mist” is interpreted on good authority to refer to a severe famine in Makkah, in which men were so pinched with hunger that they saw mist before their eyes when they looked at the sky. But Kithfur in his Tarikh mentions two famines in Makkah, one in the 8th year of the Mission, and the fourth year before the Hijrah, and another about the 8th year after the Hijrah. But as either or both of these famines lasted as many as seven years, the dates are to be taken very roughly. It is even possible that the two famines were continuous, of varying severity from year to year. Bukhari mentions only the post-Hijrah famine, which was apparently so severe that men began to eat bone and carrion. Abu Sufyan about 8 A.H. approached the Prophet to intercede and pray for the removal of the famine, as the Pagans attributed it to the curse of the Prophet. Surah 135, which is also Makkian, but of later date than the present Surah, also refers to a famine: see 23:75, and n. 2921. As Surahs were not all revealed entire, but many came piecemeal, it is possible that particular verses in a given Surah may be of different dates from the Surah as a whole.

11. Enveloping the people: this will be a Penalty Grievous.

12. (They will say:) “Our Lord! remove the Penalty from us, for we do really believe!”

13. How shall the message be (effectual) for them,(4697) seeing that a Messenger explaining things clearly has (already) come to them,- 4697 Quraysh had before them a prophet whose purity of life was openly known to them; they themselves called him Al Amin (worthy of all trust); he preached in their own language in words of burning eloquence and transparent clearness; yet they turned away from him and called him a madman, or one whose Message was not inspired by Allah, but written by some hidden hand (see next note)! How will the teaching of spiritual Truth make way among such unreasonable people?

14. Yet they turn away from him and say: “Tutored (by others), a man possessed!”(4698)

4698 Tutored: see 16:103, and n. 2143. Possessed: see 1.56, and n. 1940.

15. We shall indeed remove(4699) the Penalty for a while, (but) truly ye will revert (to your ways).

4699 Allah gives every chance to all His creatures, however rebellious. He gives them a little trial, perhaps personal, perhaps economic, to see if that would bring them to their bearings, and train their will in the right direction. Some are thus reclaimed, and some do not learn. Perhaps, for the latter, He gives them a chance by removing the trial; some are reclaimed, and some still remain obdurate. And so, in His wisdom, He allows His grace to work, again and again, until, at the last, Judgement must seize the last and irreclaimable remnant ‘with a mighty onslaught’.

Such working of Allah’s Providence is clearly visible in the story of Quraysh. It is a pity that the economic conditions of Makkah have not been studied in detail in any of the standard biographies of the Prophet. The so-called biographies by non-Muslims, e.g., Mui’s Life, do not even mention any Makkan famine or its reactions on Quraysh mind!

16. One Day We shall seize you with a mighty onslaught: We will indeed (then) exact Retribution!

17. We did, before them, try the people of Pharaoh:(4700) there came to them a messenger most honourable,(4701)

4700 This reference is to the pride of Pharaoh and his Egyptians, and their fall, rather than to the story of Moses himself; just as in 44:38-39 the reference is to the blessings bestowed on Israel , contrasted with their pride, unbelief, and fall; and in 44:37, to the ancient Himyar kingdom in Yemen , which similarly fell for its sins.

4701 Most honourable: this epithet is specially applied to Moses here, as expressing the truth, in contrast to the Pharaoh’s false characterisation of him as a contemptible wretch(44:52).

18. Saying: “Restore to me(4702) the Servants of Allah. I am to you a messenger worthy of all trust;(4703)

4702 This argument of Moses and his ‘authority manifest’ will be found at 7:104-105, 129-130, 133-137. Notice how frequently he assumes the authority of his office here. He claims all ‘servants of Allah’, i.e., true worshippers, as under his protection, for his mission was both to the Egyptians and the Israelites; he asks that they should be restored to hana’t and he boldly denounces the Pharaoh’s arrogance ‘as against Allah’.

4703 ‘Worthy of all trust’: Amin, a title that applied to prophets in S. 26, e.g., see 26:107. As the Prophet had historically earned that title among his own people, the reminiscences of the story of Moses apply to him in his relations with the arrogant Quraysh.

19. “And be not arrogant as against Allah. for I come to you with authority manifest.

20. “For me, I have sought(4704) safety with my Lord and your Lord, against your injuring me.(4705)

4704 It is no use their plotting his death or his vilification; for his safety is in Allah. As he truly says, “Allah is not only my Lord, but your Lord also; your responsibility arises apart from my preaching, but I preach in order to remind you of it.”

4705 ‘Injuring me’: literally ‘stoning me’. ‘Stoning may be here symbolical of any injury or vilification.”

21. “If ye believe me not,(4706) at least keep yourselves away from me.”

4706 If you do not believe me, at least go your ways; do not add to your sins by trying to suppress me and the Message of Truth which I bring; keep out of my way.
22. (But they were aggressive):(4707) then he cried to his Lord: "These are indeed a people given to sin."

4707 They would not even leave him alone to do his duty. So he cried to Allah, not indeed to destroy them, for a Prophet does not judge, but only Allah judges; he justified himself in prayer, that he had done his best, but they were obdurate in sin, and they were trying to oppress and injure the believers, Then came the order to march. They were to march under the cover of night, because the enemy was sure to pursue. They were to march with all believers, presumably believing Egyptians (such as were not martyred) as well as Israelites, for some Egyptians had believed: 7:21.

23. (The reply came:) "March forth with My Servants by night: for ye are sure to be pursued."

4708 For the passage of Moses and his following, the sea had divided: they were to pass through the gap or furrow and leave it alone, to lure on the Egyptian host, on which the sea afterwards closed in, totally destroying them.

25. How many were the gardens(4709) and springs they left behind, 4709 There follows a word picture of all the fine and enjoyable things which the ruling caste had monopolised. Now these proud monopolists were drowned in the sea, and the inheritance went to other hands.

26. And corn-fields and noble buildings,

27. And wealth (and conveniences of life), wherein they had taken such delight!

28. Thus (was their end)! And We made other people inherit (those things)!

29. And neither heaven(4710) nor earth shed a tear over them: nor were they given a respite (again).

4710 They died, 'unsweet, unhonoured, and unsung'. They were too inordinate to be given another chance: Pharaoh had claimed to be their supreme god; and they had followed him!

30. We did deliver aforetime the Children of Israel from humiliating Punishment,(4711)

4711 The Israelites were held in bondage prior to the Exodus. Their hard taskmaster placed every indignity on them, and by Pharaoh's decree their male children were to be killed, and their females were to be kept alive for the Egyptians.

31. Inflicted by Pharaoh, for he was arrogant (even) among inordinate transgressors.

32. And We chose them aforetime above the nations, knowingly,(4712)

4712 From degrading servitude, Israel was delivered, and taken, in spite of many rebellions and backslidings on the way, to 'a land flowing with milk and honey', where later they established the glorious kingdom of David and Solomon. This was not merely fortuitous. In Allah's presence it was to be a link in furthering the great universal Plan. But their being chosen did not mean that they could do what they liked. In that sense there is no 'chosen race' before Allah. But Allah gives every race and every individual a chance, and when the race or individual fails to live up to it, he or it must fall and give place to others.

33. And granted them Signs(4713) in which there was a manifest trial 4713 Among the 'Signs' given to Israel were their own Revelation under Moses, their prosperous land of Canaan, their flourishing kingdom under David and Solomon, their prophets and teachers of Truth, and the advent of Jesus to reclaim the lost ones among them. All these were trials. When they failed in the trials, they were left to wander desolate and suffer.

34. As to these (Quraish),(4714) they say soorth:

4714 The cases of the Egyptians and the Israelites have been cited as great nations which fell through inordinate vanity and wrongdoing, the case is now pressed home against the Quraish leaders in their arrogance to the Prophet himself. They deny Revelation; they deny a future life, as the Sadducees did among the Jews before them; they persecute the Prophet of Allah, and those who believe in him: and they mockingly demand that their ancestors should be brought back to life, if it is true that there is a future life. They are reminded that better men than they lived in their own country of Arabia, men who had knowledge of Allah's revelation under the earliest Dispensation. See next note, They perished because of their unbelief and wrongdoing. What chance have they unless they turn and repent?

35. "There is nothing beyond our first death, and we shall not be raised again.

36. "Then bring (back) our forefathers, if what ye say is true!"

37. What! Are they better than the people of Tubba(4715) and those who were before them? We destroyed them because they were guilty of sin.(4716)

4715 ‘Tubba’ is understood to be a title or family name of Himyar kings in Yemen, of the tribe of Hamdan. The Himyar were an ancient race. At one time they seem to have extended their hegemony over all Arabia and perhaps beyond, to the East African Coast. Their earliest religion seems to have been Sabianism, or the worship of the heavenly bodies. They seem at different times, later on, to have professed the Jewish and the Christian religion. Among the Embassies sent by the Prophet in A.H. 9-10 was one to the Himyar of Yemen, which led to their coming into Islam. This was of course much later than the date of this Surah.

4716 In historic time the Himyar and Yemen seem to have played a large part in Arabia and even beyond; see last note. But when they were intoxicated with power, they fell into sin, and gradually they ceased to count, not only in Arabia but even in Yemen.

38. We created not the heavens, the earth, and all between them, merely in (idle) sport:(4717)

4717 Cf. 21:16; and n. 2676. All creation is for a wise and just purpose. But men usually do not realise or understand it, because they are steeped in their own ignorance, folly, or passions.

39. We created them not except for just ends: but most of them do not understand.

40. Verily the Day of(4718) sorting out is the time appointed for all of them,-

4718 Day of Sorting Out, or the Day of Decision. Cf. 37:21, and n. 4047. Ignorance, prejudice, passion, spite, and selfishness, seem sometimes to flourish in this probationary life. In any case they are mixed up with knowledge, justice, common sense, love and regard for others. But the good and the evil will be sorted out and separated at the Day of Judgement. There is a time appointed for it. In Allah's good time all will come right.

41. The Day when no protector(4719) can avail his client in aught, and no help can they receive, 4719 When that Day comes, the strictest justice will prevail. No man, however prominently he may have walked on the world's stage, can help another. He himself will need help, not the sort of logrolling help which high and low render to each other in this life, but which in the conditions of reality will be of no avail. The only things which will help will be the Mercy of Allah.

42. Except such as receive(4720) Allah's Mercy: for He is Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

4720 Allah's Mercy will be the only thing of any efficacy; for He is both able to help ('Exalted in Might') and willing to forgive ('Most Merciful').

43. Verify the tree(4721) of Zaqqum(4722)

4721 Now follows a word-picture of the horrors to which Evil must lead us. What human language and what figures of speech can adequately describe them?

4722 The opposite of 'delicious Fruits' is the terrible tree of Zaqqum, which is further described in 37:62-68, where see n. 4073. Also see 17:60, n. 2250.
44. Will be the food of the Sinful,—
45. Like molten brass; it will boil in their insides.
46. Like the boiling of scalding water.
47. (A voice will cry: "Seize ye him and drag him into the midst of the Blazing Fire!
48. "Then pour over his head the Penalty of Boiling Water,
49. "Taste thou (this)! Truly wast thou mighty, full of honour!"
50. "Truly this is what ye used to doubt!"
51. As to the Righteous (they will be) in a position of Security,
52. Among Gardens and Springs;
53. Dressed in fine silk and in rich brocade, they will face each other;
54. So; and We shall join them to Companions with beautiful, big, and lustrous eyes.

4734 This is our idea of Salvation: the negative avoidance of all the consequences of evil, and the positive attainment of all—and more than all—that our hearts could possibly desire. For Allah's Bounty outruns anything that our eyes have seen, or our ears have heard of, or our imagination can conceive. (Cf. 4:13.)

55. There can they call for every kind of fruit in peace and security;
56. Nor will they there taste Death, except the first and He will preserve them from the Penalty of the Blazing Fire,—
57. As a Bounty from thy Lord! that will be the supreme achievement!
58. Verily, We have made this (Qur'an) easy, in thy tongue, in order that they may give heed.
59. So wait thou and watch; for they (too) are waiting.

45. Al Jathiyah (The Kneeling Down)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ha Mim. (4735)
2. The revelation of the Book is from Allah the Exalted in Power, Full of Wisdom.

3. Verily in the heavens and the earth, are Signs for those who believe.

4. And in the creation of yourselves and the fact that animals are scattered (through the earth), are Signs for those of assured Faith.
5. And in the alternation(4739) of Night and Day, and the fact that Allah sends down Sustenance(4740) from the sky, and revives therewith the earth after its death, and in the change of the winds,- are Signs for those that are wise.

4739 (9) These are our daily experiences from external things, but they affect us and our lives intimately: here are questions of deductions 'for those that are wise.'

4740 ‘Sustenance’ is almost equivalent here to ‘rain’ itself, and its revival of a dead earth, which refer symbolically to Revelation and its putting new life into a dead soul. Similarly the alternation of Night and Day, and the change of the winds, besides being Signs as wonderful phenomena of Nature, refer to spiritual ignorance and knowledge, rest and activity, and the constant beneficent changes that are going on in the world, making for the spread of the blessing of Allah’s Revelation. (Cf. n. 4540 and n. 4558).

6. Such are the Signs(4741) of Allah, which We rehearse to thee in Truth; then in what exposition will they believe after (rejecting) Allah and His Signs?

4741 If there are any to whom the Signs from Nature, from within their own heart and conscience, and from the voice of Revelation, are not enough to convince them, what possible kind of exposition will they accept?

7. Woe to each sinful dealer in Falsehoods:(4742)

4742 A soul so dead, as described in the last note, is indeed wretched. It will resort to falsehoods, in worship, in conduct, and in its attitude towards Allah. It will be obstinate, and pretend to be ‘above such things’. It will hear the most beautiful Message but not profit by it. The loss or punishment is its own, and grievous it is!

8. He hears the Signs of Allah rehearsed to him, yet is obstinate and lofty, as if he had not heard them: then announce to him a Penalty Grievous!

9. And when he learns something of Our Signs, he takes them in jest: for such there will be a humiliating Penalty.(4743)

4743 Note that in each of the verses 8-11 the Penalty is characterised by a certain description, which accrues with the crime. (1) In verse 8, the man is arrogant about the Signs of Allah’s love and care all around him, and his Penalty is ‘grievous’. (2) In verse 9, he ridicules Allah’s Signs, and his Penalty is ‘humiliating’: he makes himself a ridiculous fool. (3) and (4) are described in the two following notes.

10. In front of them is Hell: and of no profit to them is anything they may have earned, nor any protectors they may have taken to themselves besides Allah. for them is a tremendous Penalty.(4744)

4744 (3) In verse 10 the sinner has piled up all the good things of this life, and thinks he has got plenty of helpers and protectors but all these things are of no use. On the contrary, his Penalty will be ‘tremendous’, to correspond with the great pains which he has taken to multiply the gods of his worship.

11. This is (true) Guidance and for those who reject the Signs of their Lord, is a grievous Penalty of abomination.(4745)

4745 (4) In verse 11, he has floated and rejected the specific guidance that came to him from the Word of Allah, or from the admonition of a Prophet of Allah. His Penalty is a penalty of abomination: he earns unspeakable horror and abomination from all the Righteous, and is an unclean object in the Kingdom of Heaven.

12. It is Allah Who has subjected the sea to you,(4746) that ships may sail through it by His command, that ye may seek of his Bounty, and that ye may be grateful.

4746 Cf. 16:14 and notes thereon, especially n. 2037. The one encircling ocean of our globe is one of the most significant facts in our physical geography. Its salt water is an agent of global sanitation. The salubrious effects of sea air, with its ozone, are well known to everyone who has resocped his health by its means. Thanks to ships, the sea unites rather than divides communications, and have always been, more active between seacoast towns than further inland. They thus further human intercourse, and help us to seek the ‘Bounty of Allah’, not only in a commercial but in an intellectual and spiritual sense. All this is through ‘Allah’s command’ i.e., by His beneficent ordering of the universe, and we should be grateful.

13. And He has subjected to you, as from Him, all that is in the heavens(4747) and on earth: Behold, in that are Signs indeed for those who reflect.

4747 Cf. 31:20, and n. 3903. The sea was only one example of Allah’s cherishing care in making all things in nature available for the use of man, through the genius and faculties which He has given to man. Man should never forget that it is all ‘as from Him’, i.e., from Allah. For is not man Allah’s viceroy on earth? (2:50?)

14. Tell those who believe, to forgive those who do not look forward to the Days of Allah:(4748) It is for Him to recompense(4749) (for good or ill) each People(4750) according to what they have earned.

4748 Cf. 7:54, n. 1031. The Days of Allah I interpret to mean not periods of twenty-four hours, but the stages through which Allah’s Purpose works in us on bringing home to us a sense of sin and a sense of Allah’s Mercy. We must be patient with those who have not yet acquired that sense. ‘Days of Allah’ may also mean the Days of the Kingdom of Allah, when evil will be destroyed and Allah’s authority will reign unquestioned.

4749 Allah will give due recompense for good or evil according to His own full Knowledge and righteous Plan, and in His own good time. (R).

4750 ‘People’ here may be taken to be a group of common characteristics, e.g., the righteous in contrast with the unrighteous, the oppressed in contrast with the oppressors, and so on.

15. If any one does(4751) a righteous deed, it ensures to the benefit of his own soul; if he does evil, it works against (his own soul). In the end will ye (all) be brought back to your Lord.

4751 Ordinary good and evil come to their own even in this world; but in any case there is the final Judgment before Allah.

16. We did aforetime grant to the Children(4752) of Israel the Book the Power of Command, and Prophethood; We gave them, for Sustenance, things(4753) good and pure; and We favoured them above the nations.

4752 The argument here is similar to that in 44:32-33 but; it is more particularised here. Israel had the Revelation through Moses, the power of judgement and command through the Kingdom of David and Solomon, and numerous prophetic warnings through such men as Isaiah and Jeremiah.

4753 ‘Sustenance’, here as elsewhere is to be understood both in a physical and metaphorical sense. The Mosaic Law laid down rules of diet, excluding unclean, and it laid down rules for a pure and honourable life. In this way Israel became the standard-bearer of Allah’s law, thus ‘favoured above the nations.’

17. And We granted them Clear Signs in affairs (of Religion): it was only(4754) after knowledge had been granted to them that they fell into schisms, through insolent envy(4755) among themselves. Verily thy Lord will judge between them on the Day of Judgment as to those matters in which they set up differences.

4754 Cf. 10:93, The Jews were the more to blame that they fell from Grace after all the divine favours which they had enjoyed. Their schisms and differences arose from mutual envy, which was rebellious insolence against Allah. As the next verse shows, some of them (not all) rejected the mission of the Prophet, also through envy that a Prophet had come among the Arabs.

4755 Cf. 2:50, and that whole passage, with its notes.

18. Then We put thee on the (right) Way(4756) of Religion: so follow thou that (Way), and follow not the desires of those who know not.
24. And when Our Clear Signs are rehearsed to them their argument is nothing but this: They say, "Bring(4764) (back) our forefathers, if what ye say is true!"

4764 Cf. 44:36. It is no argument to say, "If there is a future life, bring back our forefathers and let us see them here and now!" It is not for a man to raise the dead when and where he pleases. It is for Allah to command. And His promise is about the general Resurrection for the Day of Judgement. In His hands are the keys of life and death.

25. Say: "It is Allah Who gives you life, then gives you death; then He will gather you together for the Day of Judgement about which there is no doubt": But most men do not understand.

26. To Allah belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth, and the Day that the Hour of Judgment is established,- that Day will the dealers(4765) in Falsehood perish!

4765 These vain wranglers about the future life and deniers of the Truth may have a run in this fleeting world; but the moment the world of Reality is established, they will see what they now deny. The facts will destroy their fancies, and they themselves will find themselves humiliated and lost, for having deliberately ignored Allah's Signs and acted in opposition to His Holy Will.

27. And thou wilt see every sect bowing the knee:(4766) Every sect will be called to its Record: "This Day shall ye be recompensed for all that ye did!"

4766 Bowing the knee: the key phrase of the Surah, and its title. Cf. 19:72. Whatever the arrogance of the wicked may be in this life, whatever exclusive sects and divisions they may form in this life, the time will come when they will humbly submit and bow the knee of the Truth. Before the Judgement Seat, when their Record is produced, they must necessarily be dumb.

28. "This Our Record speaks about you with truth: For We were wont(4767) to put on Record all that ye did."

4767 Cf. 43:80. Nothing misses the Recording Angel, and whatever is said in the Record is true.

29. "Then, as to those who believed and did righteous deeds, their Lord will admit them to His Mercy that will be the Achievement(4768) for all to see.

4768 The attainment and satisfaction of all hopes and desires; the reaching of the final goal of Bliss. Cf. 44:57, and n. 4733.

30. But as to those who rejected Allah, (to them will be said): "Were not Our Signs rehearsed to you? But ye were arrogant, and were a people given to sin!

31. And when it was said that the promise of Allah was true, and that the Hour- there was no doubt about its (coming), ye used to say, "We know not what is(4769) the hour: we only think it is an idea, and we have no firm assurance." "

4769 There is arrogance as well as untruth in this pretence. The coming of Judgement has been proclaimed times out of number by every Prophet of Allah. They cannot dismiss it as a mere idea or superstition. Their object is merely an ostentatious and lofty rejection of Faith.

32. Then will appear to them the evil (fruits) of what they did, and they will be(4770) completely encircled by that which they used to mock at!

4770 Cf. 11:8. Their mockery will be turned against themselves, for they will be humiliated in by the very Realities which they had ignored or doubted or laughed at, (see also n. 4006 to 46:26).
46. Al Ahqaf (Winding Sand-tracts)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Ha Mim. (4774)

   4774 See introduction to S. 40, paragraphs 2-4.

2. The revelation (4775) of the Book is from Allah the Exalted in Power, Full of Wisdom.

   4775 This verse is the same as the second verse of the last Surah, but the theme is worked out differently in the two Surahs. In S. 45 was shown how deniers of Revelation will at last be humbled until they can no longer deny its truth and power. In this Surah is shown how Truth and Revelation will be vindicated by patience and constancy (46:35).

3. We created not (4776) the heavens and the earth and all between them but for just ends, and for a Term Appointed: But those who reject Faith turn away from that whereof they are warned.

   4776 Cf. 45:22. Many things may appear to us in the present world as strange and inexplicable. But everything made by Allah has a just purpose which must be fulfilled. Nothing in this world is permanent; everything is for an appointed term.

4. Say: "Do ye see (4777) what it is ye invoke besides Allah. Show me what it is they have created on earth, or have they a share in the heavens bring me a Book (4778) (revealed) before this, or any remnant of knowledge (ye may have), if ye are telling the truth!

   4777 Some people may rush thoughtlessly into false worship, because it is the fashion or an ancestral custom, etc. They are asked to pause and see for themselves. Have the false gods or falsehood created anything? (They destroy much.) Or have they any share or lot in the things we associate with the heavens-spiritual well-being, etc.?

   4778 Or is there any warrant for you from any earlier revelation, assuming that you do not believe in this Revelation? Or can you point to the least scrap or remnant of real knowledge on which you can base what we condemn as your false life? No, you cannot.

5. And who is more astray (4779) than one who invokes besides Allah, such as will not answer him to the Day of Judgment, and who (in fact) are unconscious of their call (to them)?

   4779 See introduction to S. 40, paragraphs 2-4.

6. And when mankind are gathered together (at the Resurrection), they will be hostile to them and reject their worship (altogether)!

7. When Our Clear Signs are rehearsed to them, the Unbelievers say, of the Truth when it comes to them: (4780) "This is evident sorcery!"

   4780 When the truth is actually brought to their doors, they call it sorcery! Cf. 37:12-15, and n. 4042.

8. Or do they say, "He has forged it"? Say: "Had I forged it, then can ye obtain (4781) no single (blessing) for me from Allah. He knows best of that whereof ye talk (so glibly)! Enough is He for a witness between me and you! And He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful."

   4781 Cf. 25:17-18. If you worshipped evil, your own misused faculties will witness against you at the last (41:20-23). If you worshipped good men or prophets, like Jesus, they will disown you (5:119).

9. Say: "I am no bringer (4782) of new-fangled doctrine among the messengers, nor do I know what will be done with me or with you. I follow but that which is revealed to me by inspiration; I am but a Warner open and clear."

356
10. Say: "See ye? (4783) If (this teaching) be from Allah, and ye reject it, and a witness from among the Children of Israel testifies to its similarity (4784) (with earlier scripture), and has believed while ye are arrogant, (how unjust ye are!) truly, Allah guides not a people unjust."

11. The Unbelievers say of those who believe: "If (this Message) were (4785) a good thing, (such men) would not have gone to it first, before us!" And seeing that the Message) were (4786) a good thing, (such men) would accept Islam as an (old,) falsehood!

12. And before this, was (4786) the Book of Moses as a guide and a mercy: And this Book confirms (it) in the Arabic tongue; to admonish the unjust, and as Glad Tidings to those who do right.

13. Verily those who say,(4787) "Our Lord is Allah," and remain firm (on that Path),— on them shall be no fear,(4788) nor shall they grieve.

15. We have enjoined on man (4789) kindness to his parents: In pain did his mother bear him, and in pain did she give him birth. The carrying of the (child) to his weaning is (a period of) thirty months. (4790) At length, when he reaches the age of full strength (4791) and attains forty years, he says, "O my Lord! Grant me that I may be grateful for Thy favour which Thou has bestowed upon me, and upon both my parents, and that I may work righteousness such as Thou mayest approve; and be gracious to me in my issue. Truly have I turned to Thee and truly do I bow (to Thee) in Islam."

4782 What is there to forge? All prophets have taught the Unity of Allah and our duty to mankind. I bring no new-fangled doctrine, but eternal truths that have been known to good men through the ages. I come to reclaim you that I have come. I do not know what will be your fate for all this callousness, nor what you will do to me. But this I know, that I am preaching truth and righteousness, as inspired by Allah. My duty is only to proclaim aloud and clearly the Message entrusted to me by Allah. The rest I leave to Allah."

4783 Another side of the argument is now presented, You pagan Arabs! You are pulled up with pride, though you are an ignorant nation. Among Israel there are men who understand the previous scriptures, and who find the Qur'an and its Preacher a true confirmation of the previous scriptures. They accept Islam as a fulfillment of the revelation of Moses himself! (See Deut 18:18 -19). And yet you hold back, though the Qur'an has come in your own language, in order to help you to understand. How unjust and how shamefaced! In that case, with what face can you seek guidance from Allah?"

4784 There were learned Jews (and Christians) who saw in the Prophet the Messiahs of Egypt, foretold in previous Revelations, and accepted Islam. As this is a Makkah Surah we need not construe this as a reference to Abil. Abil ibn Salam, whose conversion was in Madinah only two years before the Prophet's death, unless we accept this particular verse to be so late in date. The sincere Jews were in a position to understand how this Revelation fitted in with all they had learnt about Revelation.

4785 A great many of the early Muslims were in humble positions, and were despised by the Quraysh leaders. If such men could see any good in Islam,' they said, 'there could be no good in it: if there had been any good in it, we should have been the first to see it! The spiritually blind have such a good conceit of their own judgment.

4786 The last revealed Book which was a Code of Life (Shari'ah) was the Book of Moses: for that of Jesus was not such a Code, but merely moral precepts to sweep away the corruptions that had crept in. The Qur'an has the same attitude to it as the teaching of Jesus had to the Law. Jesus said (Matt. 5:17): "Think not that I came to destroy the Law or the prophets; I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill." But the corruptions took new forms in Christian Churches: an entirely new Shari'ah became necessary, and this was provided in Islam.

4787 To say, 'Our Lord is Allah' is to acknowledge that we owe no service to any creature, and shall render none: Allah shall have our exclusive devotion. 'To remain firm on that Path' is shown by our conduct: we prove that we love Allah and His creatures, and will unflinchingly do our duty in all circumstances.

4788 The phrase occurs in numerous other places, with a new application on each occasion. Here, if our claim is true that 'our Lord is Allah,' what fear can possibly be to us, or what calamity can there be to cause us grief? For our Lord is our Cherisher, Defender, and Helper, our Hope and our Comfort, which can never fail.

4789 This verse is in balanced contrast to verse 16 above.

4790 In 31:14 the age of weaning was stated to be at the age of two years, i.e., 24 months. See also 2:253. That leaves six months as the minimum period of human gestation after which the child is known to be viable. This is in accordance with the latest ascertained scientific facts. The average period is 280 days, or ten times the inter-menstrual period, and of course the average period of weaning is much less than 24 months.

The maximum period of breast-feeding (2 years) is again in accordance with the time that the first dentition is ordinarily completed in a human child. The lower milk incisors come in the centre come out between the 6th and 9th months; then come the teeth at intervals, until the canines appear. The second molars come out at about 24 months, and with them the child has a complete apparatus of milk teeth. Nature now expects him to chew and masticate and be independent of his mother's milk completely. On the other hand it hurts the mother to feed from the breast after the child has a complete set of milk teeth. The permanent teeth begin at the sixth year, and the second molars come out at 12 years. The third molars are the wisdom teeth, which may appear at 18 to 20 years, or not at all.

4791 The age of full strength (ashudd) is held to be between 18 and 30 or 32. Between 30 and 40 the man is in his best manhood. After that he begins to look to his growing issue, and rightly commends the new generation to Allah. Perhaps his spiritual faculties also gain the upper hand after 40.

16. Such are they from whom We shall accept the best (4792) of their deeds and pass by their ill deeds: (They shall be) among the Companions of the Garden: a promiseful of truth, which was made to them (in this life).

4792 Cf. 29:7 and n. 3429.

4793 But (there is one) (4793) who says to his parents, "Fie on you! Do ye hold out the promise to me that I shall be raised up even though generations have passed before me (without rising again)"? And they two seek Allah's aid, (and rebuke the son): "Woe to thee! Have faith! for the promise of Allah is true." But he says, "This is nothing but tales of the ancients!"

4794 A godly man often has an ungodly son, who floats all that the father held sacred, and looks upon his father himself as old-fashioned and unworthy of respect or regard. The contrast in an individual family may be matched by the contrast in the passing and the rising generations of mankind. All this happens as a passing phase in the normal evolution of mankind, and there is nothing in this to be despondent about. What we have to do is for the mature generations to bring up their successors in godly ways, and for the younger generations to realise that age and experience count for something, especially in the understanding of spiritual matters and other matters of the highest moment to man.

18. But are they against whom (4794) is proved the sentence among the previous generations of Jinns and men, that have passed away; for they will be (utterly) lost.

4794 Cf. 41:25 and n. 4494. Each individual, each generation, and each people is responsible for its own good deeds or misdeeds. The law of actions and their fruits applies: you cannot blame one for another. The only remedy lies in seeking Allah's Grace and Mercy, not only for ourselves but for others in brotherly or fatherly love.

19. And to all (4795) are (assigned) degrees according to the deeds which they (have done), and in order that
23. (Allah) may recompense their deeds, and no injustice be done to them.

4795 There is fine grading in the spiritual Kingdom. Every deed, good or bad, is judged and weighed to the minutest degree, with its motives, intentions, results, and relevant circumstances. It is not a mere rough classification. The fruits of evil will be exactly according to the degree of evil. But, as stated in other passages (e.g., 29:84), the reward of good deeds will be far beyond their merits, on account of the Mercy and unbounded Bounty of Allah.

20. And on the Day that the Unbelievers will be placed before the Fire, (It will be said to them): "Ye received your good things(4796) in the life of the world, and ye took your pleasure out of them: but today shall ye be recompensed(4797) with a Penalty of humiliation: for that ye were arrogant on earth without just cause, and that ye (ever) transgressed."

4796 Received your good things implies (in Arabic) grabbing at them, being greedy of them, seeking them as fleeting pleasures rather than the most serious things of life, sacrificing the spiritual for the material.

4797 They will be told: You took your choice, and you must pay the price. You did wrong in a rebellious spirit, and prided yourselves on your wrongdoing, not occasionally, but of set purpose and constantly. Now will you be humbled in the dust, as a fitting punishment.

21. Mention (Hud) one of 'Ad’s (own) brethren:(4798) Behold, he warned his people about the winding Sand-tracts:(4799) but there have been warners before him and after him: "Worship ye none other than Allah. Truly I fear for you the Penalty of a Mighty Day."

4798 Cf. 7:65, and note 1040. The point is that the Warner who was raised among 'Ad people-as among other peoples-was not a stranger, but one of their own brethren, even as the Prophet began his preaching with a call to his own brethren Quraysh.

4799 Winding Sand-tracts: Ahqaf: Introduction to this Surah. The very things, which, under irrigation and with Allah’s Grace, gave them prosperity and power, were to be their undoing when they broke Allah’s Law and defied His Grace. See verses 24-26 below.

22. They said: "Hast thou come(4800) in order to turn us aside from our gods? Then bring upon us the (calamity) with which thou dost threaten us, if thou art telling the truth?"

4800 They were too much wedded to their evil ways—to the false gods that they worshipped—to appreciate the sincere advice of the Prophet of Allah. They defied him and defied Allah Who had sent him. Mockingly they challenged him to bring on the threatened punishment! For they did not believe a word of what he said.

23. He said: "The Knowledge(4801) (of when it will come) is only with Allah. I proclaim to you the mission on which I have been sent: But I see that ye are a people in ignorance!”.

4801 The coming of the Punishment for evil was (and is always) certain. At what particular time it would come he could not tell. It is not for the prophet, but for Allah, to bring on the Penalty. But he saw that it was useless to appeal to them on account of the ignorance in which they were content to dwell.

24. Then, when they saw(4802) the (Penalty in the shape of) a cloud traversing the sky, coming to meet their valleys, they said, "This cloud will give us rain!" "Nay, it is the (Calamity) ye were asking to be hastened! A wind wherein is a Grievous Penalty!

4802 The clouds came suddenly, and when they least expected it. They wanted rain, and they saw a cloud and rejoiced. Behold, it was coming towards their own tracts, winding through the hills. Their irrigation channels would be full, their fields would be green, and their season would be fruitful. But no! What is this? It is a tremendous hurricane, carrying destruction on its wings! A violent blast, with dust and sand! Its fury destroys everything in its wake! Lives lost! Fields covered with sandhills! The morning dawns on a scene of desolation! Where were the men who boasted and defied their Lord? There are only the ruins of their houses to witness to the past!

25. "Everything will it destroy by the command of its Lord!" Then by the morning they (4803) nothing was to be seen but (the ruins of) their houses! thus do We recompense those given to sin!

4803 Here is the figure of speech known in rhetoric as apopiosis, to heighten the effect of the suddenness and completeness of the calamity. In the Arabic text, the verb asbhah, in the third person plural, leads us to expect that we shall be told what they were doing in the morning. But no! They had been wiped out, and any small remnant had fled (see n. 1040 to 7:563). Nothing was to be seen but the ruins of their houses.

26. And We had firmly established them in a (prosperity and) power which We have not given to you (ye Quraisht!) and We had endowed them with (faculties of) hearing, seeing, heart and intellect: but of no profit to them were their (faculties of) hearing, sight, and heart and intellect, when they went on rejecting the Signs(4805) of Allah, and they were (completely) encircled(4806) by that which they used to mock at!

4805 The highest talents and faculties of this world are useless in the spiritual world if we reject the laws of the spiritual world and thus become outlaws there.

27. We destroyed aforetime populations round about you;(4807) and We have shown the Signs in various ways, that they may turn (to Us).

4807 In Arabian history and tradition alone, to say nothing of Allah’s Signs elsewhere, sin inevitably suffered its Punishment, and in various ways. Would not the later people take warning?

28. Why then was no help forthcoming to them from those whom they worshipped as gods, besides Allah, as a means of access (to Allah.? Nay, they left them in the lurch: but that was their falsehood and their invention.(4808)

4808 The false things that they worshipped were figments of their imagination. If they had had any existence in fact, it was not of the kind they imagined.

29. Behold, We turned towards thee a company(4809) of Jinns (quietly) listening to the Qur´an: when they stood in the presence thereof, they said, "Listen in silence!" When the (reading) was finished, they returned to their people, to warn (them of their sins).

4809 A company: Jumaa, Nafar (companm) may mean a group of from three to ten persons. For Jums see n. 929 to 6:100. They listened to the reading of the Qur’an with great respect. The next verse shows that they had heard of the Jewish religion, but they were impressed with the Message of Islam, and they seem to have gone back to their people to share the Good News with them (see also n. 3727). (R).

30. They said, "O our people! We have heard a Book revealed after Moses, confirming what came before it: it guides (men) to the Truth and to a Straight Path.

31. "O our people, hearken to the one who invites(4810) you to Allah, and believe in him: He will forgive you your faults, and deliver you from a Penalty Grievous.

4810 The one who invites all to Allah is the Prophet. He invites us to Allah if we believe in Allah and His Prophet, Allah will forgive us our sins on our repentance and amendment of our lives, and save us the Penalty of the future life.
32. "If any does not hearken to the one who invites (us) to Allah, he cannot frustrate (Allah)´s Plan on earth, and no protectors can he have besides Allah. such men (wander) in manifest error."

4811 If a person refuses to believe the Truth, or opposes it, it has not the least effect on Allah's Holy Plan, which will go on to its completion; but it will deprive such a person of Grace and of any protection whatever; he will wander about as an outlaw in manifest helplessness.

33. See they not that Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth, and never wearied with their creation,(4812) is able to give life to the dead? Yea, verily He has power over all things.

4812 Cf. 2:255 (Verse of the Throne): "His Throne doth extend over the heavens and the earth, and He feedeth no fatigue in guarding and preserving them." He Whose power is constant and unwearied in creating and preserving all things in heaven and earth can surely give life to the dead at the Resurrection.

34. And on the Day that(4813) the Unbelievers will be placed before the Fire, (they will be asked,) "Is this not the Truth?" they will say, "Yea, by our Lord!" (One will say:) "Then taste ye(4814) the Penalty, for that ye were wont to deny (Truth)!"

4813 Cf. 46:20, where the argument was closed about the unfaithful son of a good father. After that the example of 'Ad and of the believing Jinns was cited, and now is closed that argument in similar terms.

4814 The Truth which they denied is now all too clear to them. They are out of the Light of Truth, out of the Light of Allah's Countenance. And that in itself is a terrible Penalty.

35. Therefore patiently persevere, as did (all) messengers of inflexible purpose; and be in no haste about the (Unbelievers). On the Day that they see the (Punishment)(4815) promised them, (it will be) as if they had not tarried more than an hour in a single day. (Thine but) to proclaim the Message:(4816) but shall any be destroyed except those who transgress?

4815 All spiritual work proceeds in its own good time. We should never be impatient about its success or about the punishment which is bound to come for those who oppose it or wish to suppress it. The inevitable punishment is spoken of as the Punishment promised. It will come so soon and so suddenly that it will appear as if there was not the delay of a single hour in a single day! Time is a great factor in our affairs in this world, but it hardly counts in the spiritual Kingdom.

4816 The Preacher's duty is to proclaim the Message in unmistakable terms. If any human beings come in the way, it will be to their own destruction; but none but rebellious transgressors will be punished. There is always hope and forgiveness for repentance and amendment.

47. Muhammad

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Those who reject Allah and hinder (men) from the Path of Allah,- their deeds will Allah render astray(4817) (from their mark).

4817 Whatever they do will miss its mark, because Allah is the source of all energy and life. If the wicked try to persecute men or seduce them from the Truth, the result will be the opposite of what they intend.

2. But those who believe and work deeds of righteousness, and believe in the (Revelation) sent down to Muhammad - for it is the Truth from their Lord,- He will remove from them their ills and improve their condition.(4818)

4818 Bal means state or condition, whether external, or of the heart and mind. Both meanings apply here. The more the wicked rage, the better will be the position of the righteous, and Allah will make it easier and easier for the righteous to love and follow the Truth.

3. This because those who reject Allah follow vanities, while those who believe follow the Truth from their Lord: Thus does Allah set forth(4819) for men their lessons by similitudes.

4819 We learn the greatest spiritual lessons by parables and similitudes from things that happen in the outer world. If a man goes after a mirage or a thing that has no real existence, he can never reach his goal, while the man that follows the kindly Light from Allah that leads him on must be happier in mind, sounder in heart, and firmer in life, generally for every moment that he lives.

4. Therefore, when ye meet(4820) the Unbelievers (in fight), smite at their necks; At length, when ye have thoroughly subdued them, bind a bond(4821) firmly (on them): thereafter (is the time for) either forgiveness for repentance and amendment.

4820 When once the fight (Jihad) is entered upon, carry it out with the utmost vigour, and strike home your blows at the most vital points (samite at their necks), both literally and figuratively. You cannot wage war with kid gloves.

4821 In the first onset there must necessarily be great loss of life; but when the enemy is fairly beaten, which means, in a Jihad, that he is not likely to seek again the persecution of Truth, firm arrangements should be made to bring him under control. I thus construe the words "bind a bond firmly (on them)", but others have construed the words to mean, "after the enemy's numbers are fairly thinned down, prisoners may be taken". With this passage may be compared 8:67, and n. 1234.

4822 Until the war lays down its burdens. Thus (are ye commanded): but if it had been Allah's Will, He could certainly have exacted retribution from them (Himself); but (He lets you fight) in order to test you,(4823) some with others. But those who are slain(4824) in the Way of Allah,- He will never let their deeds be lost.

4823 Cf. 8:67, which is in accordance with the text of the Royal Egyptian edition.
5. Soon will He guide them (4825) and improve their condition, 4825 If we read 'who are slain' in the last clause but one of verse 4, [see last note], 'guide' would mean 'guide them in their spiritual journey after death'. Improve their condition: see n. 4818 above. If after death, their minds and hearts will be more and more settled and at rest, and their spiritual satisfaction greater.

6. And admit them to the Garden which He (4826) has announced for them.

4826 The Garden which He has announced for them: the state of Bliss which is declared in Revelation to be destined for those who serve Allah.

7. O ye who believe! If ye will aid (the cause of) Allah, He will aid you, and plant your feet firmly.

8. But those who reject (Allah)- for them is destruction, and (Allah) will render their deeds astray (4827) (from their mark).

4827 See above, 47:1 and n. 4817.

9. That is because they hate the Revelation of Allah. so He has made their deeds fruitless. (4828)

4828 Their deeds are fruitless in the sense that they are in vain; they do not produce the results intended by their doers. But they will not be exempt from producing the natural consequences of evil, viz., further degradation and misery for the soul.

10. Do they not travel (4829) through the earth, and see what was the End of those before them (who did evil)? Allah brought utter destruction on them, and similar (fates await) those who reject Allah.

4829 The end of evil is evil. All past history and tradition shows that. Will not men of every generation learn that lesson? Allah helps His servants, but those who rebel against Allah have no one to help them.

11. That is because Allah is the Protector of those who believe, but those who reject Allah have no protector.

12. Verily Allah will admit those who believe and do righteous deeds, to Gardens beneath which rivers flow; while those who reject Allah will enjoy (this world) (4830) and eat as cattle eat; and the Fire will be their abode.

4830 An apt simile. Beasts of the field eat their fill, but have no higher interests. Men who worship the world exclusively are no better; their pleasures and enforcements rise no higher than those of the beasts of the field. They have no inkling of spiritual happiness. On the contrary, as they were endowed with spiritual faculties which they misused, they will not escape the Fire of Punishment, the Penalty of Sin.

13. And how many cities, with more power than thy city which has driven thee out (4831) have We destroyed (for their sins)? and there was none to aid them.

4831 A reference to Pagan Makkah, which drove out the Prophet because of his righteousness and because he preached Repentance. The date of this Surah must therefore be after the Hijrah.

14. Is then one who is on a clear (4832) (Path) from his Lord, no better than one to whom the evil of his conduct seems pleasing, and such as follow their own lusts?

4832 Clear, or enlightened; a Path on which shines the Light of Allah.

15. (Here is) a Parable of the Garden which the righteous are promised: in it are rivers of water income, of which the taste never changes; rivers of milk of which the taste never changes; rivers of wine, a joy to those who drink; and rivers of honey pure and clear. In it there are for them all kinds of fruits; (4834) and Grace from their Lord. (4835) (Can those in such Bliss be compared to such as shall dwell for ever in the Fire, and be given, to drink, boiling water, so that it cuts up (4836) their bowels (to pieces)?

4834 In this symbolism there are four kinds of drinks and all kinds of fruits; and the summing up of all spiritual delights in the 'Grace from their Lord'. The four kinds of drinks are: (1) delicious, cool, pure water, not like earthly water, for it never suffers corruption; (2) milk which never turns sour, whose taste is like that of fresh warm milk drawn from the udder; (3) wine, not like any wine on earth, for it leaves no headaches behind, and causes no intoxication, which is a kind of madness or poison, but is ever sweet and pleasant; and (4) honey, pure and clear, with no admixture of wax or any foreign substance. These drinks, again speaking metaphorically, will cool the spirit, feed the heart, warm the affections, and sweeten life. (R).

4835 Grace from their Lord: that is the covering up or blotting out of sin and all that was sad or unsatisfactory in the lower life; the pure Light from the Coun treenance of Allah Most High: 92:29.

4836 Cf. 37:66-67, and n. 4074. Just as the Bliss of the Blessed will penetrate their being through and through, so the agony of the condemned ones will penetrate their being through and through. 'Bowels' besides meaning their innmost being, also suggests the seat of their feelings and affections.

16. And among them are men who listen to thee, but in the end, when they go out from thee, (4837) they say to those who have received Knowledge, 'What is it he said just then?' Such are men whose hearts Allah has sealed, and who follow their own lusts.

4837 Cf. 10:42, and n. 1434; also 6:25, 36, and n. 837. The case here referred to is that of the Hypocrites who came to the assemblies of Islam in Madinah and pretended to listen to the Prophet's teaching and preaching. But their heart and mind were not in learning righteousness, but in carping at things they saw and heard. When they got out, they knew nothing of the teaching, but on the contrary asked foolish and ignorant questions, such as might raise doubts.

17. But to those who receive (4838) Guidance, He increases the (light of) Guidance, and bestows on them their Piety and Restraint (from evil).

4838 Spiritual advancement is progressive: each step makes the next ones easier and more complete.

18. Do they then only wait (4839) for the Hour,- that it should come on them of a sudden? But already have come some tokens (4840) thereof, and when it (actually) is on them, how can they benefit then by their admonition?

4839 Cf. 43:66, and n. 4665.

4840 The sands of time are always running, and when a wrong is done, the time for its punishment is approaching every moment. No one should therefore wait. The time for repentance is now at any given time. When the punishment comes, it is too late for repentance, and all admonition would be useless.

Looking to the particular time when this Surah was revealed, viz., about a year after the Hijrah, already there were Signs that the plans of the Pagans to crush Islam were crumbling to pieces. The Hijrah showed how much good will there was in Madinah for the Prophet of Allah, and how many people from Makkah adhered to him. The battle of Badr showed that they could hold their own against odds of three to one.

19. Know, therefore, that there is no god but Allah, and ask forgiveness for thy fault (4841) and for the men and women who believe: for Allah knows how ye (4842) move about and how ye dwell in your homes.

4841 Cf. 40:55, and n. 4428.

4842 The time and manner of our conducting ourselves at home and when we move about on our business are all material to the judgement of our conduct, and for every minute in our moral and spiritual progress, we must seek Allah's help and guidance.
20. Those who believe say,(4843) "Why is not a sura sent down (for us)?" But when a sura of basic or categorical(4844) meaning is revealed, and fighting is mentioned therein, thou wilt see those in whose hearts is a disease(4845) looking at thee with a look of one in swoon at the approach of death. But more fitting for them—

4843 The men of faith and loyalty are eager and anxious to get a command to serve the Cause even if it be at the sacrifice of their lives. Not so the Hypocrites, ‘those in whose hearts is a disease’. They are mortally afraid as mentioned below.
4844 Cf. 3:37, and n. 347. The defence of truth and righteousness at all sacrifice, when a definite and categorical command issues from Allah, is a fundamental condition of enlistment in the cause of Allah. It is true that Punishment and Judgement belong to Allah alone; but our mettle and fidelity have to be tested, (see verse 4 above), and Allah uses human agency in human affairs. (R).
4845 Cf. 2:10. The disease is hypocrisy, disloyalty to the Cause, want of courage and of the spirit of self-sacrifice, want of true understanding.

21. Were it to obey and say what is just, and when a matter(4846) is resolved on, it were best for them if they were true to Allah.

4846 The resolution is not taken except under guidance from Allah. Those, therefore, who fail to implement it by their own effort and sacrifice, are not true to Allah. And such disloyalty or cowardice is not even  good for them from a worldly point of view. With what face can they meet their friends after their disgraceful conduct?

22. Then, is it(4847) to be expected of you, if ye were put in authority, that ye will do mischief in the land, and break your ties of kith and kin?

4847 It is no use to say, as the Quraysh said, that it is not seemly to fight against kith and kin. From one point of view the stand against sin brings 'not peace, but a sword'. It is a case of either subduing evil or being subdued by evil. If evil gets the upper hand, it is not likely to respect ties of kith and kin. It did not in the case of the Prophet and his adherents, and had to be suppressed, to bring about the conditions necessary for peace.

23. Such are the men whom Allah has cursed(4848) for
He has made them deaf and blinded their sight.

4848 Cursed: i.e., deprived of His Grace: left them straying, because they deliberately rejected His guidance. The result is that what they hear is as if they had not heard, and what they see is as if they had not seen. They have no desire to understand Allah's Will or Allah's Revelation—or is it that they have themselves locked and bolted their hearts and minds, so that nothing can penetrate them?

24. Do they not then earnestly seek to understand the Qur' an, or are their hearts locked up by them?

25. Those who turn back(4849) as apostates after Guidance was clearly shown to them,— the Evil One has instigated them and busied them up with false hopes.

4849 Such men are entirely in the hands of Evil. They follow its suggestions, and their hopes are built on its deceptions.

26. This, because they said(4850) to those who hate what Allah has revealed, "We will obey you in part of (this) matter"; but Allah knows their (inner) secrets.

4850 They have become so insipid to facts and truths, because, without the courage to oppose Allah's Cause openly, they secretly intrigue with Allah's enemies, and say that they will follow them part of the way; and by remaining partly in the other camp, they will be far more useful as spies and half-hearted doubters than by going over altogether. If they think that this game will be successful, they are mistaken. All the inner secrets and motives of their hearts are known to Allah. Cf. 39:11.

27. But how (will it be)(4851) when the angels take their souls at death, and smite their faces(4852) and their backs?

4851 It is all very well for them to practise hypocrisy in this life. How will they feel at death, when they find that the angels know all, and touch the very spots they had taken such care to conceal?

4852 Their faces and their backs: there is a subtle metaphor. The face is what looks to the front, the side you present to the outer world; the back is what is not shown, what is hidden from the world. The hypocrites will be hit at both points.
Or, the face is what they boast of, what they are proud of; the back is the skeleton in the cupboard, the things they dare not utter, but which yet haunt them. The hypocrites are hit on ever! 7 side. Cf. 8:30.

28. This because they followed that which called forth the Wrath of Allah, and they hated Allah's good pleasure; so He made their deeds of no effect.

29. Or do those in whose(4853) hearts is a disease, think that Allah will not bring to light all their rancour?

4853 Cf. verse 20 above, and n. 4845. Being diseased at the very core of their being, they do not understand the simplest facts of spiritual life.

30. Had We so willed, We could have shown them up to thee, and thou shouldst have known them(4854) by their marks: but surely thou wilt know them by the tone of their speech! And Allah knows all that ye do.

4854 Evil is not always necessarily branded in this life with a distinguishing mark or brand. But the discerning ones know. Evil is betrayed by its speech and behaviour.

31. And We shall try you(4855) until We test those among you who strive their utmost and persevere in patience; and We shall try your reported (mettle). (4856)

4855 Cf. 34:21, and n. 3821. The test and trial is for our own psychological development, to help in the exercise of such choice as has been given to us in our free will. Cf. also 8:154, and n. 467.

4856 Akhbar: the things reported of you; reputation for courage and constancy, which has to be brought to the test of facts and experience. In an epigram of Tacitus we are told of a Roman Emperor that he would have been considered in every way to have been worthy of being a ruler if only he had never ruled! So in life people may think us courageous, true, noble, and self-sacrificing; and we may consider ourselves as possessing all such virtues; but it is actual experience that will bring them to the test.

32. Those who reject Allah, hinder (men) from the Path of Allah, and resist the Messenger, after Guidance has been clearly shown to them,(4857) will not injure Allah in the least, but He will make their deeds of no effect.

4857 Cf. verse 25 above, and verse 34 below; in verse 25 was shown the source of the evil, viz., yielding to the deceptions of the Evil One; in this verse are shown the proximate consequences of such yielding to evil, viz., failure of all we do; and in verse 34 below are shown the eternal consequences, viz., our deprivation of Allah's Grace and Mercy.

33. O ye who believe! Obey Allah, and obey the messenger, and make not vain your deeds!

34. Those who reject Allah,(4858) and hinder (men) from the Path of Allah, then die rejecting Allah,— Allah will not forgive them.

4858 See last note.

35. Be not weary and faint-hearted, crying for peace, when ye should be(4859) uppermost: for Allah is with you, and will never put you in loss for your (good) deeds.

4859 To those who are trying to root out evil, and have authority to do so, the question is not of peace or conflict, but of whether Good or Evil is to prevail.
They must remember the Good must ultimately prevail, and Allah's help is with those who, as far as men can, are trying to further the universal Plan. Cf. n. 4847 to verse 22 above.
36. The life of this world is but play and amusement: (4860) and if ye believe and guard against Evil, He will grant you your recompense, and will not ask you (to give up) your possessions. (4861)

4860 Cxx. 6:22, and n. 8455, and 29:64, and n. 3497. Amusement and play are not bad things in themselves. As preparations for the more serious life, they have their value. But if we concentrate on them, and neglect the business of life, we cannot prosper. So we must use our life in this world as a preparation for our spiritual or inner life.

4861 Complete self-sacrifice, if voluntarily offered, has a meaning: it means that the person's devotion is exclusively and completely for the Cause. But no law or rule can demand it. And a mere offer to kill yourself has no meaning. You should be ready to take risks to your life in fighting for the Cause, but you should aim at life, not death. If you live, you should be ready to place your substance and your acquisitions at the disposal of the Cause. But it is not reasonable to pamperise yourself and become a hangover for the Cause. Moreover, the inborn tendency to self-preservation in an average man would lead to concealment and miserliness if all were asked for the Cause, by Law, and there would further be a feeling of bitterness and rebellion.

37. If He were to ask you for all of them, and press you, ye would covetously withhold, and He would (4862) bring out all your ill-feeling. (4861)

4860 Cx. 3:180.

4861 Complete self-sacrifice, if voluntarily offered, has a meaning: it means that the person's devotion is exclusively and completely for the Cause. But no law or rule can demand it. 38. Behold, ye are those (4864) invited to spend (of your substance) in the Way of Allah. But among you are some that are niggardly. But any who are niggardly are so at the expense of their own souls. But Allah is free of all wants, and it is ye that are needly. If ye turn back (4865) (from the Path), He will substitute in your stead another people; then they would not be like you!

4864 Here the cases of the special devotee and of the average man with his human foibles are distinguished. Stinginess is not a virtue; it hurts more the finer nature of the individual practising it than it hurts the Cause. Allah is free of all wants and independent of any need that we can meet. His Cause is similarly independent of human aid. But it uses human agency for our own human advancement. The need to be able to serve Allah's cause is ours. We are the needy beggars who should claim the privilege before the Lord of Bounties unbounded. (R).

4865 If we desert the Cause, the Cause will not fail. Better men than we will uphold the flag. But we should fall, and others will take our place, who are not so timid, half-hearted, or stingy. In Wordsworth's words, 'High Heaven rejects the lore of nicely calculated less or more.'

48. Al Fath (The Victory)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Verily We have granted thee a manifest Victory: (4866)

4866 This is best referred to the Treaty of Hudaybiyah, for which see the Introduction to this Surah. By this Treaty the Makkah Quraysh, after many years of unremitting conflict with Islam, at length recognised Islam as (what they thought) an equal power with themselves. In reality the door was then opened for the free spread of Islam throughout Arabia and thence through the world.

2. That Allah may forgive thee (4867) thy faults of the past and those to follow; fulfil His favour to thee; and guide thee on the Straight Way:

4867 See n. 4428 to 4655, and Cx. 47:19. Any mistakes of the past were now rectified, and any future ones prevented by the free scope now offered, by the act of the Quraysh Pagans themselves, to the recognition and free propagation of Islam.

3. And that Allah may help thee with powerful help. (4869)

4869 The results were achieved by tranquillity, calmness, and cool courage among the 1,400 to 1,500 unarmed men who accompanied the Prophet to Hudaybiyah and who were threatened with violence by the excited Quraysh leaders of Makkah.

4. It is He Who sent down Tranquillity (4869) into the hearts of the Believers, that they may add faith to their faith; (4870) for to Allah belong the Forces of the heavens (4871) and the earth; and Allah is Full of Knowledge and Wisdom;

4869 The results were achieved by tranquillity, calmness, and cool courage among the 1,400 to 1,500 unarmed men who accompanied the Prophet to Hudaybiyah and who were threatened with violence by the excited Quraysh leaders of Makkah.

4870 It is a casuistical question to ask, are there degrees in Faith? The plain meaning is that Believers will see one Sign of Allah after another, and with each their Faith is confirmed. During all the long years of persecution and conflict they had Faith, but when they see their old enemies actually coming out to negotiate with them, their Faith is justified, fulfilled, and confirmed: and they turn in gratitude to Allah.

4871 There are visible forces which you see in the physical world. Men fight with armed forces, and the Muslims had to defend themselves with arms also, and not without success. But social, moral, and spiritual forces were fighting for them under Allah's command, and they were the real forces that established the Message of Islam and the position of its Leader and Preacher.

5. That He may admit (4872) the men and women who believe, to Gardens beneath which rivers flow, to dwell therein for aye, and remove their ills from them; and that is, in the sight of Allah, the highest achievement (for man).

4872 This clause is coordinated to the previous clause, 'That they may add Faith to their Faith'. The intervening words, 'To all the Believers ... and Wisdom' are parenthetical. The third co-ordinate clause comes in the next verse. And that He... may punish ..." The skeleton construction will be, 'Allah sends down calm courage to believers in order that they may be convinced in their Faith; that they may qualify for the Bliss of Heaven; and that the evil ones may receive the punishment they deserve.'

6. And that He may punish the Hypocrites, men and women, and the Polytheists men and women, who imagine an evil opinion of Allah. On them is a round (4873) of Evil: the Wrath of Allah is on them: He has cursed (4874) them and got Hell ready for them: and evil is it for a destination.

4872 They will be encircled (or hemmed in) by Evil.

4874 That, is, deprived them of His Grace, on account of their continued rejection of it.

7. For to Allah belong (4875) the Forces of the heavens and the earth; and Allah is Exalted in Power, Full of Wisdom.

4872 These words are repeated (with a slight change) from the parenthetical clause in verse 4, to emphasize the assertion as a substantive proposition, that fighting and visible forces in the physical world are not the only forces with which Allah works out His Plan. The invisible forces are more important as they were at Hudaybiyah. The slight difference is instructive; in the parenthetical clause, Allah's Knowledge was emphasized, and in the substantive clause it is Allah's Power: Knowledge plans, and Power executes.

8. We have truly sent thee (4876) as a witness, as a Messenger, that ye may assist and honour Him, (4876- AA) and celebrate His praise morning and evening.

4878 The Prophet came in order to establish Faith in Allah and true worship. We can view him in three capacities: (1) as a witness to help the weak if they were oppressed and check the strong if they did wrong; (2) as a giver of the Glad Tidings of Allah's Grace and Mercy to those who repented and lived good lives; and (3) as one who warned sinners of the consequences of their sin.

9. In order that ye (O men) may believe in Allah and His Messenger, that ye may assist and honour Him (4876- A) and celebrate His praise morning and evening.

4876A Assist and honour Him: most commentators agree that the pronoun 'Him' refers to Allah, while a few believe it refers to the Prophet. [Eds.]

10. Verily those who plight (4877) their fealty to thee do no less than plight their fealty to Allah. The Hand of Allah is over their hands: then any one who violates his oath, does so to the harm of his own soul, and any one who fulfils what he has covenanted with Allah,-Allah will soon grant him a great Reward.

4877 In the Hudaybiyah negotiations, when it was uncertain whether Quraysh would treat well or ill the Prophet's delegate to Makka, there was a great wave of feeling in the Muslim camp of 1400 to 1500 men. They came with great enthusiasm and swore their fealty to the Prophet, by placing hand on hand according the Arab custom: see paragraph 3 of the Introduction to this Surah. This in itself was wonderful demonstration of moral and material strength, a true Victory; it is called Bayat alHilala (Fealty of Allah's Good Pleasure) in Islamic History. They placed their hands on the Prophet's hand, but the Hand of Allah was above them, and He accepted their Fealty. [R].

11. The desert Arabs who (4878) lagged behind will say to thee: "We were engaged in (looking after) our flocks and herds, and our families: do thou then ask forgiveness for us.(4879)" They say with their tongues what is not in their hearts. Say: "Who then has any power at all (to intervene) on your behalf with Allah, if His Will is to give you some loss(4880) or to give you some profit? But Allah is well acquainted with all that ye do.

4879 When the Prophet started from Madinah on the Makka journey which ended in Hudaybiyah, he asked all Muslims to join him in the pious undertaking, and he had a splendid response. But some of the desert tribes hung back and made excuses. Their faith was but lukewarm, and they did not want to share in any trouble which the Makkans might give to the unarmed Muslims on pilgrimage. Their excuse that they were engaged in looking after their flocks and herds and their families was an afterthought, and in any case made after the return of the Prophet and his party with enhanced prestige to Madinah.

4872 They said this with their tongues, but no thought of piety was in their hearts.

4880 Their false excuse was based on a calculation of worldly profit and loss. But what about the spiritual loss in detaching themselves from the Prophet or spiritual profit in joining in the splendidly loyal feelings of service and obedience which were demonstrated at Hudaybiyah? And in any case they need not think that all their real and secret motives were not known to Allah.

12. "Nay, ye thought that the Messenger and the Believers would never return to their families; this seemed pleasing in your hearts,(4881) and ye conceived an evil thought, for ye are a people lost (in wickedness)."

4881 Their faith was so shaky that they thought the worst would happen, and that the Makkan Quraysh would destroy the unarmed band. In their heart of hearts they would not have been sorry, because they were steeped in wickedness and rejoiced in the sufferings of others. But such persons will burn in the fire of their own disappointment.

13. And if any believe not in Allah and His Messenger, We have prepared, for those who reject Allah, a Blazing Fire!

14. To Allah belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth: He forgives whom He wills,(4882) and He punishes whom He wills: but Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

4882 Evil must inevitably have its punishment, but there is one way of escape, viz., through repentance and the Mercy of Allah. Allah's Justice will punish, but Allah's Mercy will forgive; and the Mercy is the predominant feature in Allah's universe: 'He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.'

16. Say to the desert Arabs (4887) who lagged behind: "Ye shall be summoned (to fight) against a people given to(4888) vehement war: then shall ye fight, or they shall submit.(4889) Then if ye show obedience, Allah will grant you a goodly reward, but if ye turn back as ye did before, He will punish you with a grievous Penalty."
17. No blame is there on the blind, nor is there blame on the lame, nor on one ill (if he joins not the war): But he that obeys Allah (4890) and his Messenger, - (Allah) will admit him to Gardens beneath which rivers flow; and he who turns back, ((Allah)) will punish him with a grievous Penalty.

18. Allah's Good Pleasure (4891) was on the Believers when they swore Fealty to thee under the Tree: (4892) He knew (4893) what was in their hearts, and He sent down Tranquillity (4894) to them; and He rewarded them with a speedy Victory; (4895)

19. And many gains will they acquire (besides): and Allah is Exalted in Power, Full of Wisdom.

20. Allah has promised you many gains that ye shall (4896) acquire, and He has given (4897) you these beforehand; and He has restrained the hands of men from you; that it may be a Sign for (4898) the Believers, and that He may guide you to a Straight Path;

21. And other gains (there are), which are not within (4899) your power, but which Allah has compassed: and Allah has power over all things.

22. If the Unbelievers should fight you, they would (4900) certainly turn their backs; then would they find neither protector nor helper.

23. (Such has been) the law (4901) of Allah already in the past: no change will thou find in the practice (approved) of Allah.

24. And it is He Who has restrained their hands from you and your hands from them in the midst (4902) of Makka, after that He gave you the victory over them. And Allah sees well all that ye do.

25. They are the ones who denied Revelation and hindered you from the Sacred Mosque and the sacrificial animals, (4903) detained from reaching their place of sacrifice. Had there not been believing men and believing women whom ye did not know that (4904) ye were trampling down and on whose account a crime would have accrued to you without (your) knowledge, ((Allah) would have allowed you to force your way, but He held back your hands) that He may admit to His Mercy whom He will. (4905) If they had been (4906) apart, We should certainly have punished the Unbelievers among them with a grievous Punishment.

26. While the Unbelievers got up in their hearts heat and cant - the heat (4907) and cant of ignorance,- Allah sent down His Tranquillity (4908) to his Messenger and to the Believers, and made them stick close to the Command of self-restraint; and well were they entitled to it (4909) and worthy of it. And Allah has full knowledge of all things.
49. Al Hujurat (The Chambers)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O Ye who believe! Put not yourselves forward before Allah and His Messenger, but fear Allah. For Allah is He Who hears and knows all things.

2. O ye who believe! Raise not your voices above the voice of the Prophet, nor speak aloud to him in the sowers with wonder and delight. As a result, it fills the Unbelievers with rage at them. Allah has promised those among them who believe and do righteous deeds forgiveness, and a great reward.

27. Truly did Allah fulfil the vision for His Messenger. ye shall enter the Sacred Mosque, if Allah wills, with minds secure, heads shaved, hair cut short, and without fear. For He knew what ye knew not, and He granted, besides this, a speedy victory.

28. It is He Who has sent His Messenger with Guidance and the Religion of Truth, to proclaim it over all religion: and enough is Allah for a Witness.
4. Those who shout out (4923) to thee from without the Inner Apartments - (4923-A) most of them lack understanding.

4923 To shout aloud to your Leader from outside his Chambers shows disrespect both for his person, his time, and his engagements. Only ignorant fools would be guilty of such unseemly behaviour. It is more seemly of them to wait and hide their time until he is free to come out and attend to them. But, in the Court of a spiritual King, much is forgiven that is due to lack of knowledge and understanding. In the earthly Court, ignorance of the Law excuseth no man. If a man behaved in that way to the General of an army or the Governor of a Province, not to speak of an earthly King, he would be laid hands on by the Guard, and could never gain the access he desires.

4923A Al Hijazah: 'The Inner Apartments' or 'The Chambers.'

5. If only they had patience until thou couldst come out to them, it would be best for them: but Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

6. O ye who believe! If a wicked person comes (4924) to you with any news, ascertain the truth, lest ye harm people unwittingly, and afterwards become full of repentence for what ye have done.

4924 All little-tattle or reports—especially if emanating from persons you do not know—are to be tested, and the truth ascertained. If they were believed and passed on, much harm may be done, of which you may have cause afterwards to repent heartily. Scandal or slander of all kinds is here condemned. That about women is especially denounced: 24:11-20; 23-26.

7. And know that among you (4925) is Allah's Messenger. were he, in many matters, to follow your (wishes), ye would certainly fall into misfortune: But Allah has endeared (4926) the Faith to you, and has made it beautiful in your hearts, and He has made hateful to you Unbelief, wickedness, and rebellion: such indeed are those who walk in righteousness:

4925 The messenger of Allah, if he consults his friends and associates, should not be expected to follow their advice in all matters. The judgement and responsibility are his: he sees farther than the rest, and he is not swayed by personal feeling as others may be.

4926 Fortunate indeed was the generation among whom the Prophet of Allah walked in his daily life. His example was inspiring. Their inner Faith was dear to him. He sees farther than the rest, and he is not swayed by personal feeling as others may be.

8. A Grace and Favour from Allah. and Allah is full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

9. If two parties among (4927) the Believers fall into a quarrel, make ye peace between them: but if one of them transgresses beyond bounds against the other then fight ye (all) against the one that transgresses until it complies with the command of Allah; but if it complies then make peace between them with justice and be fair: for Allah loves those who are fair (and just).

4927 Individual quarrels are easier to compose than group quarrels, or, in the modern world, national quarrels. But the collective community of Islam should be supreme over groups or nations. It would be expected to act justly and try to compose the quarrel, for peace is better than fighting. But if one party is determined to be the aggressor, the whole force of the community is brought to bear on it. The essential condition of course is that there should be perfect fairness and justice and respect for the highest principles; for Islam takes account of every just and legitimate interest without separating spiritual from temporal matters. The League of Nations failed because these essentials were absent and today the United Nations fails for the same reason. (R).

10. The Believers are but a single Brotherhood: (4928) So make peace and reconciliation between your two (contending) brothers; and fear Allah, that ye may receive Mercy.

4928 The enforcement of the Muslim Brotherhood is the greatest social ideal of Islam. On it was based the Prophet's Sermon at his last pilgrimage, and Islam cannot be completely realised until this ideal is achieved.

11. O ye who believe! Let not some men among you laugh at others: (4929) It may be that the (latter) are better than the (former): Nor let some women laugh at others: It may be that the (latter) are better than the (former): Nor defame nor be sarcastic to each other, nor call each other by (offensive) nicknames: Ill-seeming is a name connoting wickedness, (to be used of one) after he has believed: And those who do not desist are (indeed) doing wrong.

4929 Mutual ridicule ceases to be fun when there is arrogance or selfishness or malice behind it. We may laugh with people, to share in the happiness of life: we must never laugh at people in contempt or ridicule. In many things the may be better than ourselves!

4930 Defamation may consist in speaking ill of others by the spoken or written word, or in acting in such a way as to suggest a charge against some person whom we are not in a position to judge. A cutting, biting remark or taunt of sarcasm is included in the word lanaaza. An offensive nickname may amount to defamation, but in any case there is no point in using offensive nicknames, or names that suggest some real or fancied defect. They ill accord with the serious purpose which Muslims should have in life. For example, even if a man is lame, it is wrong to address him as 'O lame one!' It causes him pain, and it is bad manners. So in the case of the rude remark, 'the black man'.

12. O ye who believe! Avoid suspicion as much (4931) as possible: for suspicion in some cases is a sin: And spy not on each other behind their backs. Would any of you like to eat the flesh of his dead (4932) brother? Nay, ye would abhor it...but fear Allah. For Allah is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful.

4931 Most kinds of suspicion are baseless and to be avoided, and some are crimes in themselves: for they do cruel injustice to innocent men and women. Spying, or enquiring too curiously into other people's affairs, means either idle curiosity, and is therefore futile, or suspicion carried a stage further, which almost amounts to sin. Back-biting also is a brood of the same genus. It may be either futile but all the same mischievous, or it may be poisoned with malice, in which case it is a sin added to sin.

4932 No one would like even to think of such an abomination as eating the flesh of his brother. But when the brother is dead, and the flesh is carrion, abomination is added to abandonment. In the same way we are asked to refrain from hurting people's feelings when they are present; how much worse is it when we say things, true or false, when they are absent!

13. O mankind! We created (4933) you from a single (pair) of a male and a female, and made you into nations and tribes, that ye may know each other (not that ye may despise (each other). Verily the most honoured of you in the sight of Allah is (he who is) the most righteous of you. And Allah has full knowledge and is well acquainted (with all things).

4933 This is addressed to all mankind and not only to the Muslim brotherhood, though it is understood that in a perfected world the two would be synonymous. As it is, mankind is descended from one pair of parents. Their tribes, races, and nations are convenient labels by which we may know certain differing characteristics. Before Allah they are all one, and he gets most honour who is most righteous.

14. The desert Arabs say, (4934) "We believe," Say, "Ye have no faith; but ye (only)say, 'We have submitted (4935) our wills to Allah.' For not yet has Faith entered your hearts. But if ye obey Allah and His Messenger, He will not be little aught of your deeds: for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful."
The desert Arabs were somewhat shaky in their faith. Their hearts and minds were petty, and they thought of petty things, while Islam requires the complete submission of one's being to Allah. See next verse. Some of the failings of the desert Arabs are described in 48:14-15. But the reference here is said to be to the BanuAsad, who came to profess Islam in order to get charity during a famine.

This is what ye ought to prove if your faith has any meaning, but ye only say it with your tongues.

15. Only those are Believers who have believed in Allah and His Messenger, and have never since doubted, but have striven with their belongings and their persons in the Cause of Allah: Such are the sincere ones.

16. Say: 'What! Will ye instruct Allah about your religion? But Allah knows all that is in the heavens and on earth: He has full knowledge of all things.

17. They impress on thee(4937) as a favour that they have embraced Islam. Say, "Count not your Islam as a favour upon me: Nay, Allah has conferred a favour upon you that He has guided you to the faith, if ye be true and sincere.

18. "Verily Allah Knows(4938) the secrets of the heavens and the earth: and Allah Sees well all that ye do."

Islam in itself is a precious privilege. By accepting it we confer no favour on its preacher or on any community. If the acceptance is from the heart, it is a great favour done to those who accept, that the Light of Allah has entered their hearts and they have received guidance.

50. Qaf

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Qaf:(4939) By the Glorious(4940) Qur'an (Thou art Allah's Messenger).

This is an Abbreviated Letter. For Abbreviated letters generally, see Appendix I. This particular Abbreviated Letter Qaf occurs only here as a single letter, and in combination at the beginning of S. 42, where I was unable to explain the full combination. Here the Qaf is taken by several Commentators to represent Quliyah al Amr, 'the matter has been decreed,' with reference to the eschatological trend of the Surah. Allah knows best.

Majid (translated 'Glorious') is one of the beautiful appellations of the Qur'an. Its glory is that of the rising sun: the more it rises on your mental and spiritual horizon, the more you are lost in admiration of its glory. Its meanings are manifest and inexhaustible. The greater your experience, the more light is your spiritual eye able to bear. And in that glory is a beauty that none can tell who has not experienced it in his soul. It is itself the proof of the mission of the Prophet.

2. But they wonder that(4941) there has come to them a Warner from among themselves. So the Unbelievers say: "This is a wonderful thing!

In a sense their wonder is natural: do we wonder at the glorious sun? In another sense it is unnatural: what should we say of a man who fails to see in broad daylight?

3. "What! When we die(4942) and become dust, (shall we live again?) That is a (sort of) return far (from our understanding)."

4. We already know how much of them(4943) the earth takes away: With Us is a record guarding (the full account).

The earth only corrupts and takes away the body when they are dead; it has no power over the soul. The full account of the soul's doings is in Allah's Record.

5. But they deny the Truth when it comes to them: so they are in a confused state(4944)

6. Do they not look at the sky above them?- How We have made it(4945) and adorned it, and there are no flaws in it?

7. And the earth- We have spread it out,(4946) and set thereon mountains standing firm, and produced therein every kind of beautiful growth (in pairs)-

8. To be observed and commemorated by every devotee(4948) turning (to Allah..
9. And We send down from the sky rain charted with blessing, and We produce therewith gardens and Grain for harvests;

10. And tall (and stately) (4949) palm-trees, with shoots of fruit-stalks, piled one over another:-

4949 A beautiful nature passage. How graphic and unforgettable to anyone who has seen a spring and summer in an Arabian oasis!

11. As sustenance for ((Allah’s) servants; and We give (new) life therewith to land that is dead: Thus will be the Resurrection.

12. Before them was denied (the Hereafter) by the People (4950) of Noah, the Companions of the Rass, the Thamud, 4950 Just the names of the peoples of Arabian tradition who were punished for their sins are mentioned; their stories will be found elsewhere. For the People of Noah, see 11:25-48 and other passages. For the Companions of the Rass, see 25:38 and n. 3094; for Ad and Thamud, see 26:125-138, and other passages; for Pharaoh and his People, see 2:19-30 and other passages; for the Brethren of Lut, see 7:60-84, and other passages; for the Companions of the Wood, see 15:78-79, and n. 2000; and for the People of Tubba, see 44:37 and n. 4715.

13. The Ad, Pharaoh, the brethren of Lut,

14. The Companions of the Wood, and the People of Tubba’; each one (of them) rejected the messengers, and My warning was duly fulfilled (in them).

15. Were We then weary with the first Creation, that they should be in confused doubt (4951) about a new Creation?

4951 Cf. 46:33, and n. 4812.

16. It was We Who created man, and We know what dark suggestions his soul (4952) makes to him: for We are nearer to him than (his) jugular vein.

4952 Allah created man, and gave him his limited free will. Allah knows inmost desires and motives of man even better than man does himself. He is nearer to a man than the man’s own jugular vein. The jugular vein is the big trunk vein, one on each side of the neck, which brings the blood back from the head to the heart. The two jugular veins correspond to the two carotid arteries which carry the blood from heart to the head. As the blood-stream is the vehicle of life and consciousness, the phrase ‘nearer than the jugular vein’ implies that Allah knows more truly the innermost state of our feeling and consciousness than does our own ego.

17. Behold, two (guardian angels) (4953) appointed to learn (his doings) and noted them, one sitting on the right and one on the left.

4953 Two angels are constantly by him to note his thoughts, words, and actions. One sits on the right side and notes his good deeds and the other on the left, to note his bad deeds; corresponding to the Companions of the Right and the Companions of the Left mentioned in 56:27 and 56:41. (R)

18. Not a word does he (4954) utter but there is a sentinel by him, ready (to note it).

4954 Then each ‘word’ spoken is taken down by a ‘sentinel’ (raqi’ul). This has been construed to mean that the sentinel only records words, not thoughts which are not uttered. Thoughts may be forgiven if not uttered, and still more if they do not issue in action. At the stage at which we clothe a thought in words, we have already done an action. The Recorders mentioned in the last verse make a complete Record, in order to supply motives and springs of action, which will affect the degrees or status in the spiritual Hereafter. The three together, individuals or kinds, make the honourable Recorders, Kiraman Katibin, (plural, not dual number) mentioned in 82:11.

19. And the stupor of death (4955) will bring Truth (before his eyes): “This was the thing which thou wast trying to escape!”

4955 What is stupor or unconsciousness to this probationary life will be the opening of the eyes to the spiritual world: for Death is the Gateway between the two. Once through that Gateway man will realise how the things which he neglected or looked upon as remote are the intimate Realities, and the things which seemed so loom large in his eyes in this world were shadows that have fled. The things we wanted to avoid are the things that have really come to pass. Both Good and Evil will realise the Truth now in its intensity.

20. And the Trumpet (4956) shall be blown: that will be the Day whereof Warning (had been given).

4956 The next stage will be the Judgement, heralded with the blowing of the Trumpet. Every soul will then come forth.

21. And there will come forth every soul: with each will be an (angel) to drive, (4957) and an (angel) to bear witness.

4957 Several interpretations are possible, leading to the same truth, that the Judgement will be set up; the Record will be produced; the good and bad deeds will speak for and against; and complete justice will be done, each act leading to its own due fruit. (1) The (angel) to drive and the (angel) to bear witness may be the Recording Angels of the left and the right (verse 17); or (2) it may not be angels, but the evil deeds will drive like task-masters, and the good deeds will bear witness for the soul on trial; or (3) his misplaced limbs and faculties will drive him to his doom, while his well-used limbs and faculties will witness for him.

22. (It will be said:) “Thou wast heedless of this; now have We removed thy veil, and sharp is thy sight (4958) this Day!”

4958 The clearness of vision will now be even greater: see n. 4955 above.

23. And his Companion (4959) will say: “Here is (his Record) ready with me!”

4959 Qur’an. Companion. If we take No. 1 of the constructions suggested in n. 4957, the Companion will be one of the Recording Angels mentioned above, in verse 21, perhaps the one that drives; or perhaps the third one mentioned in verse 18, for he has the Record ready with him. If we take any of the other constructions mentioned in n. 4957, it will be the evil deeds or the misplaced faculties. In any case it will be the factors on whose testimony his conviction will be based.

24. (The sentence will be:) “Throw, throw (4960) into Hell every contumacious Rejector (of Allah).”

4960 The original for ‘throw’, here and in verse 26 below, is in the dual number, which some Commentators explain by saying that the dual form is used for emphasis, as if the verb (‘throw, throw’) were twice repeated. Examples of this are found in Arabic. But is it possible that the dual refers to the two angels mentioned in verses 17 and 21? In that case the Companions in verse 27 will be the third one mentioned in verses 18 and 23. In any case the third one will be the one on whose Record the sentence will be passed.

25. “Who forbade what was good, transgressed all bounds, cast doubts and suspicions;”

26. “Who set up another god beside Allah. Throw him into a severe penalty.”

27. His Companion (4961) will say: “Our (4962) Lord! I did not make him transgress, (4963) but he was (himself) far astray.”

4961 See last note. But some people understand by ‘Companion’ here an evil associate in the world, an evil one who misled.

4962 Our Lord. One man speaks: ‘I did not’, etc. Yet he uses the plural pronoun in saying, ‘Our Lord’. This is beautifully appropriate, as he is speaking so as to include the person to be judged: as if he were to say, ‘Thou art my Lord, or the Lord of us angels or of all Creation, but Thou art his Lord also, for Thou didst cherish him and warn him, and he owed duties to Thee.”
28. He will say: "Dispute not (4964) with each other in My Presence: I had already in advance sent you (4965) Warning.

4964 It is suggested that sinners whose Record is black, driven into a corner, accuse others of misleading them; the others may be Recorders, or their faculties or opportunities or surroundings or their associates in the world, or anything but themselves. Such recriminations are not allowed in the Court of Judgement.

4965 Besides, personal responsibility had already been clearly preached to them in Allah’s Message, and they had been warned of the consequences. ‘You’ is in the plural number: all of you who are before the Judgement Seat had clear warning of the consequences of your conduct.

29. "The Word changes not before Me, and I do not the least injustice to My Servants."

4966 Abul has two phrases: (1) ‘Abul, as here, means all Servants of Allah, i.e., all his creatures; (2) ‘Has’ has the further connotation of Servants of Allah, devoted to his service; I have translated it in many cases by the word ‘devotees’. The Sentence before the Judgement Seat is pronounced with perfect justice; it does not change, and requires no change; the inevitable consequences of sin must follow; the time for Mercy is past.

30. One Day We will ask Hell, "Art thou filled to the full?" (4967) It will say, "Are there any more (to come)?"

4967 As the capacity of Good is unlimited, so is the capacity of Evil-unlimited. Hell is personified and asked, ‘Art thou sated to the full?’ It replies, ‘If there are more to come, let them come.’ It is not satisfied.

31. And the Garden (4968) will be brought nigh to the Righteous,- no more a thing distant.

4968 In this life, the ideals of the spirit, the accomplishments of the things in our hearts and our hopes, seem to be ever so far, seem even to recede as we think we come nearer. Not so in the Hereafter. The fruits of righteousness will no longer be in the distance. They will be realised. They will seem themselves to approach the Righteous.

32. (A voice will say:) "This is what was promised for you,- for every one who turned (4969) (to Allah, in sincere repentance, who kept (His Law), 4969 The description of the Righteous is given in four masterly clauses: (1) those who turned away from Evil in sincere repentance; (2) those whose new life was good and righteous; (3) those who in their innermost hearts and in their most secret doings were actuated by God-loving love, the fear that is akin to love in remembering Allah under His title of ‘Most Gracious’; and (4) who gave up their whole heart and being to Him.

33. "Who feared (Allah) Most Gracious unseen,(4970) and brought a heart turned in devotion to Him:"

4970 Cf. 36:11 and n. 3952; and 35:18, and n. 3902.

34. "Enter ye therein in Peace and Security;(4971) this is a Day of Eternal Life!"

4971 The true meaning of Islam: peace, security, salvation, and accord with Allah’s Plan in all Eternity.

35. There will be for them therein all that they wish,- and more besides in Our Presence. (4972)

4972 To get all that our purified wishes and desires comprehend may seem to sum up final Bliss; but there is something still wanting, which is supplied by the Presence of Allah, the Light of His Countenance.

36. But how many generations before them did We destroy (for their sins),- stronger in power(4973) than they? Then did they wander through the land: was there any place of escape (for them)?

4973 While virtue and righteousness will accomplish their final goal, what will be the End of Sin? Let the past tell its story. Many powerful and arrogant generations were swept away, to stray in the paths of misery, without any way of escape from the consequences of their sin. This was already seen in the life of this world. In the world to come, it will be worse, as already stated in verses 24-26 above.

37. Verily in this (4974) is a Message for any that has a heart and understanding or who gives ear and earnestly witnesses (the truth).

4974 As Christ said (Matt. 11:17), ‘he that hath ears to hear, let him hear’. These are matters of high moment. Many spiritual lessons can be learnt from these things by anyone who has the heart and understanding to apply to Allah’s teaching and can give genuine thought to what he sees, as a witness does who has to swear to the facts on his oath.

38. We created the heavens (4975) and the earth and all between them in Six Days, (4976) nor did any sense of weariness touch Us,(4977)

4975 Allah’s creation of the heavens and the earth in long stages or periods of time, as we count time, shows how things evolve in their own good time. We must therefore be patient if Good does not seem to come to its own according to our ideas. Our will should merge itself in Allah’s Will, and we should praise Him, realising that He is All-Good and that all adjustments will be in the Hereafter.

4976 Cf. 7:54, n. 1031; and 41:12, n. 4477.

4977 Cf. 35:35.

39. Bear, then, with patience, all that they say, and celebrate the praises of thy Lord, before(4978) the rising of the sun and before (its) setting.

4978 Allah should be remembered at all times. But the best time for individual adoration is early in the morning before sunrise, late in the day before sunset, and a portion of the night, when there is stillness in the air, and man’s spirit loves to commune with things spiritual. Those who would connect this with the five canonical prayers, instituted at a later stage in Madina, could think of the Fajr for the prayer before sunrise, the Zuhur and the ‘Asr for the afternoon prayers before sunset and the Maghrib and the ‘Isha’ for the night prayers.

40. And during part of the night, (also,) celebrate His praises, and (so likewise) after the postures (4979) of adoration.

4979 The general meaning of after the postures of adoration would be the conclusion and remembrance of Allah after prayers. Those who would connect this passage with the five canonical prayers understand these further prayers ‘following the sujud or postures of adoration’ to mean the extra or supernumerary prayers known as nafl, also the use of the Rosary or the fingers in remembering the Names of Allah.

41. And listen for the Day (4980) when the Caller will call out from a place quiet near, -(4981)

4980 The Day of Resurrection, when the Call to the souls to arise and come to the Judgement Seat will be immediately answered, and they will arise and come forth. Cf. 36:49-53, and notes 3997 and 3999.

4981 In the life of this world it seemed all so remote. In the new life at the Resurrection it will all be so near; for there will be neither time nor space as we know them here.

42. The Day when they will hear a (mighty) Blast(4982) in (very) truth: that will be the Day of Resurrection.

4982 The word al Sayyad (mighty Blast) is used for the Resurrection (as here) or for the sudden punishment of the guilty on this earth, as in 11:67, where see further references.

43. Verily it is We Who give Life and Death; and to Us is the Final Goal-
Men will hurry out from all corners of the earth to answer the call, and the earth itself will be rent asunder. In 2:25 the imagery used was the heaven being rent asunder, and angels coming out in ranks: seen. 3828 Cl. also 84:1-4.

It may seem to our material imaginations a difficult task to collect together the souls of all sorts of men, who died in all sorts of conditions at different times, but it will be a different kind of world and creation altogether, and to Allah all things are not only possible but easy.

51. Al Dhariyat (The Winds That Scatter)

_In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful._

1. By the (Winds)(4986) that scatter broadcast;(4987)

Four agencies are mentioned in verses 1 to 4 as evidences or types or symbols of the certainty and unity of a Truth described in verses 3-6. What these names are is described by certain adjectival participles, the noun understood being usually taken to be "Winds": the word for Wind (Rah) being feminine in Arabic. Some Commentators however understand other nouns as being implied, e.g., angels in all four verses, or different things in each of the four verses. Whatever the agencies are, their different modes of working are evidence of the power and goodness of Allah, the Unity of His Plan, and the certainty of Good and Evil reaching their own destined ends, when Judgement and Justice will have given each one his due. (R).

Winds may blow strong, and scatter particles of dust far and wide; but they do not diminish by one jot the substance of Allah's material creation; on the contrary they help to readjust things. They reshape the configuration of the earth; in the vegetable kingdom they carry seeds about and plant new seeds in old soils; in the region of air they produce mighty changes in temperature and pressure that affect animal and vegetable life; they carry the moisture of equatorial Africa to the parched plains of India; and so on. Yet they are just one little agency showing Allah's working in the material world. So in the spiritual world. Revelation works mighty changes; it may be resisted, but the resistance will be swept away; it ever sweeps away the burdens of custom, superstition, or man's inertia, and ever leads onwards to the destined End.

2. And those that(4988) lift and bear away heavy weights;

The things that lift and bear away heavy weights may be the Winds that carry the heavy rain clouds or that sweep off every resistance from their path, or it may be the heavy moisture-laden clouds themselves. So works Revelation: it lifts and sweeps away the burdens of custom, superstition, or man's inertia, and ever leads onwards to the destined End.

3. And those that(4989) flow with ease and gentleness;

These may be Winds that fill the sails of ships with gentle and favourable breezes, that carry men and merchandise to their destinations. Or they may be the ships themselves, whose smooth motion through the waters is described in many places by the verb jām, "to flow", e.g., Cf. 2:164.

4. And those that(4990) distribute and apportion by Command:-

These may be Winds (or other agencies) that distribute and apportion moisture or rain or atmospheric pressure to other blessings of Allah—not haphazard but by fixed laws, according to the Command of their Lord. So with Revelation. Its blessings are distributed all around, and it produces its marvelous effects sometimes in the most unlikely places and ways.

5. Verily that which ye(4991) are promised is true;

That which ye are promised: the Promise of Allah about Mercy and Forgiveness to the Penitent, and Justice and Penalty to the Rebellious; the promise of the Hereafter; the promise that all does not end here, but that there is a truer and more lasting world to come, for which this is but a preparation.

6. And verily Judgment(4992) and Justice must indeed come to pass.

Div-the giving to each person his precise and just due; this is implied in Judgement and Justice. All the inequalities of this life are to be redressed.

7. By the Sky with its(4993) numerous Paths,(4993)

The study of the numerous regular orbits of the planets and irregularly regular orbits of comets, and the various motions, visible or invisible, of the fixed stars or revolving stars, form in themselves a network of knowledge or science, of a highly technical nature; the highest astronomy or mathematics can only barely reach its fringe. But here a fixed Plan and Purpose under Allah's Dispensation. In them variety leads to Unity. In contrast look at the confused medley of doctrines, views, and dicta put forward by the Sceptics, as described in the next verse.

8. Truly ye are in a doctrine discordant,(4994)

Quot = saying, word, theory, doctrine. Mukhtalif= differing, various, inconsistent with itself, discordant. No theory or doctrine based on a denial of a Hereafter can be consistent with spiritual facts as we know them, or with Allah's Goodness, Justice, and Mercy.

9. Through which are deluded (away from the Truth) such as would be deluded.(4995)

Some Commentators draw from this a rigid doctrine of Calvinistic Predestination or Determinism, which I do not think is fairly deducible from the words. 'Yu'fak' should I think be translated "will be or would be deluded", meaning "have the wish or desire to be", and not "must necessarily be deluded by eternal predestination". The word occurs in many places in the Qur'an: e.g., Cf. 5:77, or 9:30.

10. Woe to the falsehood-mongers,-

11. Those who (flounder) heedless(4996) in a flood of confusion:

They are in great spiritual danger: yet they care not.

12. They ask, "When will be the Day of Judgment and Justice?"

(4997) They are in great spiritual danger: yet they care not.

13. (It will be) a Day when they will be tried (and tested) over the Fire!
14. "Taste ye your trial! This is what ye used to ask to be hastened!" (4997)

4997 They used to say scoffingly, "If there is to be punishment for our sins, let it come at once!" When it comes, they will know what a terrible thing it is! Cf. 26:204 n. 3230.

15. As to the Righteous, they will be in the midst of Gardens and Springs (4998)

4998 Gardens and Springs are the two most frequent symbols for the highest satisfaction and bliss.

16. Taking joy in the things which their Lord gives them, because, before then, they lived a good life.

17. They were in the habit (4999) of sleeping but little by night, 4999 They were engaged most of the night in worship and in the planning of good deeds. They preferred activity to idleness, the service of Allah and His creatures to the indulgence of Self.

18. And in the hour of early dawn, they (were found) praying for Forgiveness; (5000)

5000 They were up early before dawn, ready for their devotions. The praying for Forgiveness and Mercy does not necessarily imply that they had committed fresh sins. Indeed they began the day with such devotions, showing their great humility before Allah and their anxious care for others, for whom they prayed as much as for themselves. See the last sentence of n. 21 to 1:5.

19. And in their wealth and possessions (was remembered) the right of the (needy,) him who asked, and him who (for some reason) was (5001) Prevented (from asking).

5001 True charity remembers not only those in need who ask, but also those who are prevented by some reason from asking. The man of true charity seeks out the latter. There may be various reasons which prevent a man from asking for help: (1) he may be ashamed to ask, or his sense of honour may prevent him from asking; (2) he may be so engrossed in some great ideal that he may not think of asking; (3) he may even not know that he is in need, especially when we think of wealth and possessions in a spiritual sense, as including spiritual gifts and talents; (4) he may not know that you possess the things that can supply his needs; and (5) he may be a dumb and helpless creature, whether a human being or a dumb animal, or any creature within your ken or power. Charity in the higher sense includes all help, from one better endowed to one less well endowed. Cf. n. 179 to 2:117; also 2:273-274, and notes 322 and 323.

20. On the earth are signs for those of assured Faith,

21. As also in your own (5002) selves: Will ye not then see?

5002 The Signs and Evidence of Allah are in all nature and within the body and soul of man, if man has but the spiritual eyes to see. Cf. 41:53.

22. And in heaven is (5003) your Sustenance, as (also) that which ye are promised.

5003 'Sustenance', here as elsewhere, includes physical sustenance, as well as spiritual sustenance. Similarly heaven or sky has both the physical and the spiritual meaning. The physical sustenance grows from rain from the sky; the spiritual sustenance comes from divine aid, grace, and mercy, and includes the Good News and the Warning which come from Revelation about the Hereafter. (Cf. n. 4534).

23. Then, by the Lord (5004) of heaven and earth, this is the very Truth, as much as the fact that ye can speak intelligently to each other.

5004 Attention having been called to the Signs or Evidences of Allah's working on the earth, within ourselves, and in the heavens, in verses 29-22, an appeal is made to our own inner conscience, in the name of the Lord of heaven and earth, to acknowledge and act up to the truth of Revelation, and turn to the spiritual Realities. For they are as real as our own conscious and self-intelligent existence, on which is based all our knowledge. As a philosopher (Descartes) has said: "I think; therefore I am."

24. Has the story (5005) reached thee, of the honoured guests of Abraham?

5005 Cf. 11:69-73 and notes, where further details of the story will be found. Cf. also 15:53-56.

25. Behold, they entered (5006) his presence, and said: "Peace!" He said, "Peace!" (and thought, "These seem) unusual people."

5006 They were angels, who appeared suddenly before him at his tent door in the guise of men, and saluted him with the salutation of peace. He returned the salutation, but felt, from their appearance and their manner, that they were unusual, not ordinary, strangers.

5007 Munkar, unknown, uncommon, unusual, not customary, figure by derived meaning, not applicable here, not fair or just: opposite in both primary and secondary meanings to nazla, well-known, usual, customary, just. Cf. 15:53.

26. Then he turned quickly (5008) to his household, brought out a fattened calf, 5008 They seemed unusual strangers, but he said nothing and quietly proceeded to perform the rites of hospitality. He brought a roast fattened calf and placed it before them to eat. But the strangers did not eat (11:70-71). This disconcerted him. According to the laws of hospitality, a stranger under your roof is under your protection, but if he refuses to eat, he refuses your hospitality and keeps himself free from any ties of guest and host. "What were their designs?" thought Abraham, and he felt some distrust. But they were angels and could not eat. They declared themselves, and announced the birth to Abraham of a son endowed with wisdom—in other words that Abraham was to be the head of a long line of Prophets (1:53).

27. And placed it before them... he said, "Will ye not eat?"

28. (When they did not eat). He conceived a fear of them. They said, "Fear not," and they gave him glad tidings of a son endowed with knowledge.

29. But his wife came forward (5009) (laughing) aloud: she smote her forehead and said: "A barren old woman!"

5009 Abraham's wife Sarah was old and barren. This news seemed to her too good to be true. She came forward, laughed aloud (11:71), struck her forehead, indicative of her amusement and incredulity as 'a barren old woman'; 11:72.

30. They said, "Even so (5010) has thy Lord spoken: and He is full of Wisdom and Knowledge."

5010 The angels said: "What may sound improbable to human beings will yet come to pass if Allah commands. And Allah thy Lord has spoken. So shall it be. For all His promises are full of wisdom and knowledge." But the application is for all time and to all human affairs. Never despair. However much Truth may be in the shade, it will shine with full splendour. And the Judgement will come, when good will come to its own. [Erk.]

31. (Abraham) said: "And what, O ye Messengers, is your errand (now)?"

32. They said, "We have been sent to a people (deep) in sin:"

33. "To bring on, on them, (a shower of) stones of clay (brimstone). (5011)

5011 Cf. 11:82, and n. 1032 to 7:84. The angels' errand of mercy to Abraham (to announce the succession of godly men in his line) was coupled with their errand of justice and punishment to the people of Lot, the people of Sodom and Gomorrah, who were deep in the most abominable and unnatural sins. So Allah's Mercy and Justice go hand in hand in all human affairs. Faith has nothing to fear, and wickedness has only to turn and repent, to obtain Allah's Mercy.

34. "Marked as from thy Lord (5012) for those who trespass beyond bounds."

5012 This verse contains the terms introducing the prophecy of punishment to the people of Lot. It is a warning that must not be taken lightly. The consequences of the Lord's judgment to the Lotites are the sternest possible. The spot where it fell is a place of desolation to this day. They were a strange people, and not of usual type (11:72). There was an unusual group of angels here, round about the tent of Lot, who beheld the wickedness of the Lotites, and thought that Allah's Mercy and Justice should be shown to them. Lot, therefore, sent his wife Sarah to the angels to announce the birth to Abraham of a son endowed with knowledge. The application is for all time and to all human affairs. Never despair. However much Truth may be in the shade, it will shine with full splendour. And the Judgement will come, when good will come to its own.
35. Then We evacuated those of the Believers who were there,

36. But We found not there any just (Muslim) persons except in one house:(5014)

37. And We left there a Sign for such as fear the Grievous Penalty.(5015)

38. And in Moses (was another Sign): Behold, We sent him to Pharaoh, with authority manifest.

39. But (Pharaoh) turned back with his Chiefs, and said, "A sorcerer, or one possessed!"

40. So We took him and his forces, and threw them into the sea; and his was the blame.(5017)

41. And in the ´Ad (people)(5018) (was another Sign): Behold, We sent against them the devastating Wind:

42. It left nothing whatever that it came up against, but reduced it to ruin and rottenness.

43. And in the Thamud(5019) (was another Sign): Behold, they were told, "Enjoy (your brief day)(5020) for a little while!"

44. But they insolently defied(5021) the Command of their Lord: So the stunning noise(5022) (of an earthquake) seized them, even while they were looking on.

5012 CT 11:83, and n. 1580. Every crime has its due punishment as marked out in the decrees of Allah.

5013 The only just or righteous persons found in Sodom and Gomorrah (Cities of the Plain by the Dead Sea) were in the house of Lot, who was the Prophet sent to call them to repentance. He and his believing family and adherents were told to leave in due time, and the wicked were destroyed in a shower of brimstone.

5014 That was the house of Lut; and even there, his wife had no faith: she disobeyed the Command and perished: 11:81, n. 1577.

5015 The Grievous Penalty: that is, the Final Judgement. The destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah in this life is taken as the type of the Final Judgement. The vestiges can be seen—as a Sign and a Warning—in the sulphury plain round the Dead Sea : CT 1:579.

5016 CT 44:17-31. The story of Moses and Pharaoh is here just referred to. The points emphasised here are: (1) that Moses had manifest authority, yet Pharaoh doubted; (2) that Pharaoh's reliance was on his Chiefs and his forces, but they could not help when his doom came; and (3) that in the most extraordinary and incredible ways (judged by ordinary human standards), his arrogance and his reliance on his Chiefs and forces were his undoing.

5017 The ungodly Egyptians were all destroyed, but the chief blame lay on Pharaoh for misleading them. Pharaoh's punishment was just. He could not blame anyone else. And certainly no one can blame the course of Allah's Justice, for Allah was long-suffering, and gave him many chances to repent.

5018 Given them talents and material wealth: but when they defied Allah, they and all their belongings were destroyed in a night, by a hurricane which they thought was bringing them the rain to which they were looking forward. How marvelously Allah's Providence works, to help the good and destroy the wicked!

5019 See (3) in the last note.

5020 If you understand Nature and yourselves aright, you will know that Allah is all-knowing, and you will fly at once to Him. This is the teaching which the Prophet of Allah has come to give you, in clear terms and openly to all.

5022 Sa'iqah: a stunning sound like that of thunder and lightning (2:55); such a sound often accompanies an earthquake, (see 41:17, n. 4485, and 7:78 and n. 1047).

5023 They were swept off in the earthquake.

5024 Of Noah for their sins: 7:39-64. The point is that such a flood seemed so unlikely to them that they thought Noah was "wandering in his mind" when he delivered Allah's Message: 7:60.

5025 If you do not wish to go back to the wonderful things of the past, which show the power and goodness of Allah, and His justice supreme over all wrongdoing, look at the wonderful things unfolding themselves before your very eyes! (1) The space in the heavens above! Who can comprehend it but He Who made it and sustains it? (2) The globe of the earth under your feet! How great its expanse seems over sea and land, and spread out for you like a wonderful carpet or bed of rest! (3) All things are in twos: sex in plants and animals, by which one individual is complementary to another; in the subtle forces of nature, Day and Night, positive and negative electricity, forces of attraction and repulsion; and numerous other opposites, each fulfilling its purpose, and contributing to the working of Allah's Universe: and in the moral and spiritual world, Love and Aversion, Mercy and Justice, Striving and Rest, and so on—all fulfilling their functions according to the Artistry and wonderful Purpose of Allah. Everything has its counterpart, or pair, or complement. Allah alone is One, with none like Him, or needed to complement Him. These are noble things to contemplate. And they lead us to a true understanding of Allah's Purpose and Message.

5026 See (3) in the last note. CT 36:36, n. 3981.

5027 If you understand Nature and yourselves aright, you will know that Allah is all-knowing, and you will fly at once to Him. This is the teaching which the Prophet of Allah has come to give you, in clear terms and openly to all.

5028 An object of worship with Allah. I am from Him a Warner to you, clear and open!

5029 If you understand Nature and yourselves aright, you will know that Allah is all-knowing, and you will fly at once to Him. This is the teaching which the Prophet of Allah has come to give you, in clear terms and openly to all.

would have no effect, were it not that the generation following them is itself ungodly, transgressing beyond bounds.

54. So turn away (5031) from them: not thine is the blame.

5031 When the Prophet freely proclaims his Message, it is not his fault if obstinate wickedness refuses to listen. He can leave them alone, but he should continue to teach for the benefit of those who have Faith.

55. But teach (thy Message) for teaching benefits the Believers.

56. I have only created (5032) Jinns and men, that they may serve Me.

5032 Creation is not for idle sport or play; 21:16. Allah has a serious Purpose behind it, which, in our imperfect state, we can only express by saying that each creature is given the chance of development and progress towards the Goal, which is Allah. Allah is the source and centre of all power and all goodness, and our progress depends upon our putting ourselves into accord with His Will. This is His service. It is not of any benefit to Him (see the next two verses)—it is for our own benefit.

57. No Sustenance do I require (5033) of them, nor do I require that they should feed Me.

5033 Sustenance, in both the literal and the figurative sense; so also 'Feed Me' at the end of the verse. Allah is independent of all needs. It is therefore absurd to suppose that He should require any Sustenance, and still more absurd to suppose that we can feed Him! The gifts, the Sustenance, the goodness, all come from His side.

58. For Allah is He Who gives (all) Sustenance,—Lord of Power,—(5034) Steadfast (for ever).

5034 Allah commands all power; therefore any power we seek must be from Him. And His power is steadfast, the same today as yesterday, and forever. Therefore His help is always sure.

59. For the Wrong-doers, their portion is like unto the portion of their (5035) fellows (of earlier generations): then let them not ask Me to hasten (that portion)!

5035 Each generation, that acts like any of its predecessors, must meet a similar fate. If the wicked came to an evil end in the past, the same results will follow in the present and the future. The punishment will come suddenly enough: let them not in mockery ask that it should be hastened.

60. Woe, then, to the Unbelievers, on account of that Day (5036) of theirs which they have been promised!

5036 That is, their eternal Punishment in the Hereafter, as well as any punishment that may come to them in this life.

52. Al Tur (The Mount)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the Mount (of Revelation); (5037)

5037 The adjuration is by five things which we shall presently explain. An appeal is made to these five Signs in verses 1 to 6, and the certainty of future events is asserted in the most emphatic terms in verses 7 to 28, in three parts, viz., the coming of judgement and the passing away of this phenomenal world (verses 7-11); the future ill consequences of ill deeds done (verses 11-16); and future attainment of bliss and complete realisation of Allah's love and mercy (verses 17-28).

2. By a Decree inscribed (5038)

5038 See last note. The five Signs to which appeal is made are: (1) the Mount (of Revelation), verse 1; (2) the Decree, inscribed, verses 2-3; (3) The Much-frequented Fane, verse 4; (4) the Canopy Raised High, verse 5; and (5) the Ocean filled with Swell, verse 6.

Let us examine these in detail. Each of them has a figurative and a mystic meaning. (1) The Mount is the sublime world of Revelation. In the case of Moses it is typified by Mount Sinai; Cf. 9:52, where it is mentioned in juxtaposition to the sacred territory of Makkah; 9:39. In the case of Jesus it is the Mount of Oliver; Cf. 19:51, and also Matt. 24:35-31, where Jesus made his striking pronouncement about the Judgement to come. In the case of Muhammad, it is the Mountain of Light, where the divine inspiration made him one with the spiritual world; Cf. C. 31, and n. 11 62. The Decree Inscribed is Allah's Eternal Decree. When it becomes Revelation to man, it is further described as 'inscribed', reduced to writing; and as it is made clear to the intelligence of man, it is further described as 'in a scroll unfolded', that is, spread out so that everyone who has the will can seek its guidance.

3. In a Scroll unfolded;

4. By the much-frequented Fane; (5039)

5039 See the last two notes. (3) 'The much-frequented Fane' (or House) is usually understood to mean the Ka'bah, but in view of the parallelism noted in the last note, it may be taken generally to mean any Temple or House of Worship dedicated to the true God. It would then include the Tabernacle of the Israelites in the wilderness, the Temple of Solomon, the Temple in which Jesus worshipped, and the Ka'bah which the Prophet purified and rededicated to true worship. These would be only illustrations. Other concrete places of worship would be included, and in a more abstract meaning, the heart of man, which craves, with burning desire, to find and worship Allah. The Fane is 'much-frequented' as there is a universal desire in the heart of man to worship Allah, and his sacred Temples draw large crowds of devotees.

5. By the Canopy Raised High; (5040)

5040 (1) 'The Canopy Raised High' is the canopy of heaven, to whose height or sublimity no limit can be assigned by the mind of man. It is Nature's Temple, in which all Creation worships Allah's Symbol in which the material and the visible merges into the spiritual and the intuitional.

6. And by the Ocean filled with Swell; (5041)

5041 (5) The Ocean—the vast, limitless, all encircling Ocean—is the material symbol of the universal, unlimited, comprehensive nature of the invisible spiritual world. It is expressed to be vast, full of a mighty swell, boiling over, poured forth all over the earth, as if overwhelming all landmarks; Cf. 81:5-a fitting description of the final disappearance of our temporal world in the supreme establishment of the Reality behind it.

5042 This completes the five Signs or Symbols by which man may know for certain of the Judgement to come. Note that they are in a descending order—the highest, or most remote from man's consciousness, being mentioned first, and that nearest to man's consciousness being mentioned last. The truth of Revelation; its embodiment in a Prophet's Message given in human language; the universal appeal of divine worship; the starry world above; and the encircling Ocean, full of life and motion below—all are evidences that the Day of Allah will finally come, and nothing can avert it. (R).
7. Verily, the Doom of thy Lord will indeed come to pass;-

8. There is none can avert it;-

9. On the Day when (5043) the firmament will be in dreadful commotion.

   (4044) The Day of judgement is typified by two figures. (1) "The firmament will be in dreadful commotion." The heavens as we see them suggest us peace and tranquility, and the power of fixed laws which all the heavenly bodies obey. This will all be shaken in the rise of the new spiritual world. Q. Matt. 26:52:
"Immediately after the tribulation of these days... the powers of the heavens shall be shaken." For (2) see next note.

10. And the mountains will fly hither and thither. (5044)

   (5045) (2) The mountains are a type of firmness and stability. But things that we think as firm and stable in this material life will be shaken to pieces, and will be no more substantial than a mirage in a desert. E. C. 7:80.

11. Then woe that Day to those that treat (Truth) as Falsehood;-(5045)

   (5046) That Day will be a Day of Woe to the wrongdoers described in two aspects, the rebels against Allah and Allah's Truth, just as it will be a Day of Joy and Thanksgiving to the Righteous, who are described in three aspects in verses 17 to 28. The rebels are here described as being those who openly defied Truth and plunged into wrongdoing, or who trifled with truth, who jested with serious matter, who had not the courage to plunge openly into wrongdoing but who secretly took profit out of it, who wasted their life in doubts and petty quibbles. It is difficult to say which attitude did more harm to themselves and to others. Both are aspects of deep-seated sin and rebellion. But the mercy of Allah was open to all if they had repented and amended their lives.

12. That play (and paddle) in shallow trifles.

13. That Day shall they be thrust down to the Fire of Hell, irresistibly.

14. "This; it will be said, (5046) "Is the Fire,- which ye were wont to deny!

15. "Is this then a fake, (5047) or is it ye that do not see?"

   (5047) Perhaps they had said that the Hereafter was a fake, mere old wives' tales! If they had given serious thought to the Signs of Allah, they would have been saved from that serious spiritual blindness; then they will see that the fault was their own, and that the warnings of the messengers of Truth were nothing but true Truth.

16. "Burn ye therein: the same is it to you whether ye bear it with patience, or not?: Ye but receive the recompense of your (own) deeds."

   (5048) At that stage they will have no justification for anger or impatience; for their whole position will have been due to their own conduct and their rejection of Allah's Grace. Nor will there be time for patience or repentance, for their period of probation will then have been over.

17. As to the Righteous, (5049) they will be in Gardens, and in Happiness,-

18. Enjoying the (Bliss) which their Lord hath bestowed on them, and their Lord shall deliver them from the Penalty of the Fire.
25. They will advance(5059) to each other, engaging in mutual enquiry.

30. They have no faith!(5068)

26. They will say: "Aforetime, we were not without fear for the sake of our people.(5060)

27. "But Allah has been good to us, and has delivered us from the Penalty of the Scorching Wind.(5061)

60. A man may be good, and may with limits have found goodness in his own spiritual life, but may have anxieties about his family or friends whom he loves. All such shadows are removed in heaven by the Grace of Allah, and he is free to dwell in it in this confidential converse with other men similarly circumstanced.

28. "Truly, we did call unto Him from of old: truly it is He, the Beneficent, the Merciful!"(5062)

29. Therefore proclaim thou(5063) the praises (of thy message) and render them due to Allah the One True God? Every argument points to the negative. A series of questions has been asked pointing to the negative of the superstitions of the fallible world, and then the conclusion is drawn that there is no reason for men to shun the teachings of the inspired Word of Allah. They cannot ( Cf. 6:50, and n. 867. The Treasures of Allah's Knowledge are infinite. But the children and unbelievers manage the wonders of this world. Must they not therefore seek grace and revelation from Allah?

30. Or have they a ladder,(5072) by which they can (climb up to heaven and) listen (to its secrets) Then let (such a) listener of theirs produce a manifest proof.

31. Say thou: "Await ye! I too will wait(5065) along with you!"

32. Is it that their faculties of understanding urge them(5066) to this, or are they but a people transgressing(5067) beyond bounds?

33. Or do they say, "He fabricated the (Message)"? Nay, they have no faith!(5068)

34. Let them then produce a recital like unto it,- If (it be) they speak the truth!

35. Were they created of nothing,(5069) or were they themselves the creators?

36. Or did they create the heavens and the earth? Nay, they have no firm belief.(5070)

37. Or are the Treasures of thy Lord with them,(5071) or are they the managers (of affairs)?

38. Or have they a ladder,(5072) by which they can (climb up to heaven and) listen (to its secrets) Then let (such a) listener of theirs produce a manifest proof.

39. Or has He only daughters(5073) and ye have sons?

40. Or do they say: "A Poet! we await for him some proof."

41. Or have they a god(5076) other than Allah. Exalted is Allah far above the things they associate with Him!

42. Or do they intend a plot (against thee)?(5076) But those who defy Allah are themselves involved in a Plot!

43. Or have they a god(5077) other than Allah. Exalted is Allah far above the things they associate with Him!

53. Al Najm (The Star)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the Star (5085) when it goes down,-

   (5085) Najm is interpreted in various ways. As most commonly accepted, it means either a Star genetically, or the close cluster of seven stars known as the Pleiades in the Constellation Taurus, which the sun enters about the 21st of April every year. In mid-April, or a little later, the beautiful cluster would set just after the sun, after having gradually ascended the sky in the winter months. In late May, or a little later, it would rise just before the sun. In its western aspects, it might be considered a spring constellation. To open-air nations (including the Arabs) whose climate usually presents starry skies, this is an object of great interest, and many folklore tales gather round it. When so glorious a cluster is content to bow down in the horizon and merge its light in the greater light created by Allah (see the last three lines of C. 228), it becomes a symbol of humility in beauty and power before the Most High, Whose revelation discloses the sumnut of beauty, power and wisdom. Huna in the text may mean either 'goes down (or sets) or 'rises'. Whichever meaning we take, it makes no difference to the symbolic interpretation given above.

2. Your Companion is neither (5086) astray nor being misled.

   (5086) 'Your Companion' is the Prophet Muhammad, who had lived among the Quraysh all his life. He is defended from three kinds of charges that the Unbelievers brought against him: (1) that he was going astray, either through defect of intelligence or through carelessness; (2) that he was being misled or deceived by evil spirits; and (3) that he spoke out of a whim or impulse, or from a selfish desire to impress his own personality. None of these charges were true. On the contrary he had direct inspiration from Allah.

48. Now await in patience the command of thy Lord: for verily thou art in Our eyes: (5081) and celebrate the praises of thy Lord the while thou standest forth, (5082)

(5081) The messenger of Allah must strive his utmost to proclaim the Message of Allah: as for results, it is not for him to command them. He must wait patiently, in the knowledge that he is not forgotten by Allah, but is constantly under Allah's eyes—under His loving care and protection. And he must glorify Allah's name, as he is a standard-bearer of Allah's Truth.

(5082) The translators and Commentators nearly all understand yaquant in the sense of rising up from sleep. But the rendering I have given is consistent with Qur'anic usage. In 26:218, we have the same two words hana yaquant, meaning 'standing forth in prayer'. In 57:25, we have hana yaquant al tas hid al qita, which obviously means 'that men may stand forth in justice;' i.e., do all their business injustice. On my rendering the meaning will be: 'celebrate Allah's praises when you stand forth in prayer, or at all times when you go about your business; but also for part of the night and at early dawn when worldly life is at a standstill.'

49. And for part of the night (5083) also praise thou Him, and at the retreat (5084) of the stars!

(5083) It is not necessary to understand this for any particular canonical prayers. It is good to spend a part of the night in prayer and praise: Cf. 7:178-79. And the Dawn is a daily recurring miracle of nature, full of spiritual influences and 'testimony': Cf. 17:76-79.

(5084) Idar al najm: the retreat of the stars: the glorious hour of early dawn. In 11:81, we seek Allah's protection as 'Lord of the Dawn.'
10. So did (Allah) convey (5090) the inspiration to His Servant- (conveyed) what He (meant) to convey.

5090 Gabriel would be just a messenger, to do no more than convey Allah's Message to Allah's Messenger.

11. The (Prophet's) (mind and) heart in no way falsified (5091) that which he saw.

5091 'Heart' in Arabic includes the faculty of intelligence as well as the faculty of feeling. The impression conveyed was pure truth; there was no illusion in it.

12. Will ye then dispute with him concerning what he saw?

13. For indeed he saw him at a second descent (5092)

5092 The first occasion when Gabriel appeared in a visible form was at the Mountain of Light, when he brought his first revelation beginning with {Ilayka;} see C. 20:33. The second was at the Prophet's Mi'raj or Ascension; see Introduction to S. 17, paras. 2-4. These were the only two occasions when Gabriel appeared in visible form. (R).

14. Near the Lote-tree (5093) beyond which none may pass:

5093 For the Lote-tree in its literal meaning, see n. 3814 to 34:16. The wild Lote is thorny; under cultivation it yields good fruit and shade, and is symbolic of heavenly bliss, as here and in 56:26.

15. Near it is the Garden of Abode (5094)

5094 The 'Garden of Abode' (Jannat al-Ma'wa) lies close to the Lote-tree and, in the opinion of some authorities, is so called because the souls of believers will find their abode therein. (Eds.).

16. Behold, the Lote-tree was shrouded (in mystery unspeakable)!

17. (His) sight never swerved, nor did it go wrong!

18. For truly did he see, of the Signs of his Lord, the Greatest!

19. Have ye seen (5095) Lat. and 'Uzza,

5095 From the heights of divine Glory, we come back again to this sorry earth, with its base idolatries. We are asked to 'look at this picture, and at that!' The three principal idols of Pagan Arab Idolatry were the goddesses Lat, 'Uzza, and Manat. Opinions differ as to their exact forms: one version is that Lat was in human shape, 'Uzza had its origin in a sacred tree, and Manat in a white stone. (R).

20. And another, the third (goddess), Manat?

21. What! For you (5096) the male sex, and for Him, the female?

5096 To show Allah in human shape, or imagine sons or daughters of Allah, as if Allah were flesh, was in any case a derogation from the supreme glory of Allah, high above all creatures, even if the human shapes were invested with great beauty and majesty as in the Greek Pantheon. But when we consider in what low opinion Pagan Arabia held the female sex, it was particularly degrading to show Allah, or so-called daughters of Allah, in female shapes. Cf. 16:57-59, and n. 2082; also 52:39, and n. 5073.

22. Behold, such would be indeed a division most unfair!

23. These are nothing but names which ye have devised, - (5097) ye and your fathers,- for which Allah has sent down no authority (whatever). They follow nothing but (5098) conjecture and what their own souls desire! Even though there has already come to them Guidance from their Lord!

5097 Cf. 7:71; 12:20, n. 1093. The divine names which they give to stocks and stones, or to heroes living or dead, or even to prophets and men of God, are but the creatures of their own fancy. Whatever they were, they were not gods.

5098 Cf. 6:116. Conjecture is a dangerous thing in speaking of divine things. It follows lines which reflect the lusts of men's own hearts. Why not follow the divine guidance which comes through the prophets of Allah?

24. Nay, shall man have (just) anything he hankers after? (5099)

5099 The unpurified desires of men's hearts often lead to destruction, for they are dictated by 'Evil. The true source of guidance and light is Allah, just as He is also the goal to which all persons and things-sall existence-re turn.

25. But it is to Allah that the End and the Beginning (of all things) belong.

26. How many-so-ever be the angels in the heavens, (5100) their intercession will avail nothing except after Allah has given (5101) leave for whom He pleases and that he is acceptable to Him.

5100 We are apt to imagine the angelic host of heaven as beings of immense power. But their power is all derived from Allah. Men, when they attain to the highest spiritual dignities, may have even more power and position than angels in the sight of Allah, as is typified by angels hidden to bow down to Adam 2:54. The Quraysh superstition about angels being intermediaries and intercessors for man with Allah is condemned.

5101 Cf. 20:109 and 21:28. No one can intercede except with the permission of Allah, and that permission will only be given for one who is acceptable to Allah. For a possible different shade of meaning, see n. 2634 to 20:109.

27. Those who believe not in the Hereafter, name the angels with female names. (5102)

5102 Cf. 5:32 above, and n. 5096. The Pagan Quraysh had no firm belief in the Hereafter. Their prayers for intercession to angels and deities was on account of their worldly affairs.

28. But they have no knowledge therein. They follow nothing but conjecture; and conjecture (5103) avails nothing against Truth.

5103 Cf. 5:32-33 above, and n. 5098.

29. Therefore shun those who turn away from Our Message and desire nothing but the life of this world.

30. That is as far as (5104) knowledge will reach them. Verily thy Lord knoweth best those who stray from His Path, and He knoweth best those who receive guidance.

5104 Men with a materialist turn of mind, whose desires are bounded by sex and material things, will not go beyond those things. Their knowledge will be limited to the narrow circle in which their thoughts move. The spiritual world is beyond their ken. While persons with a spiritual outlook, even though they may fail again and again in attaining their full ideals, are on the right Path. They are willing to receive guidance and Allah's Grace will find them out and help them.

31. Yea, to Allah belongs all that is in the heavens and on earth: so that He rewards those who do (5105) evil, according to their deeds, and He rewards those who do good, with what is best.

5105 All deeds have their consequences, good or ill. But this is not an iron law, as the Determinists in philosophy, or the preachers of bare Karma, would have us believe. Allah does not sit apart. He governs the world. And Mercy as well as Justice are His attributes. In His Justice every deed or word or thought of evil has its consequence for the doer or speaker or thinker. But there is always in this life room for repentance and amendment. As soon as this is forthcoming, Allah's Mercy comes into action. It can blot out our evil, and the 'reward' which it gives is nearly always greater than our merits.

32. Those who avoid great sins and shameful deeds, only (falling into) small faults, - verily thy Lord is ample (5106) in forgiveness. He knows you well when He brings you out of the earth, And when ye are hidden in your mothers’ wombs. Therefore justify not yourselves; (5107) He knows best who it is that guards against evil.

41. Allah’s attributes of Mercy and Forgiveness are unlimited. They come into action without our asking, but on our bringing our will as offerings to Him. Our asking or prayer helps us to bring our minds and wills as offering to Him. That is necessary to frame our own psychological preparedness. It informs Allah of nothing for He knows all.

42. As Allah knows our inmost being, it is absurd for us to justify ourselves either by pretending that we are better than we are or by finding excuses for our conduct. We must offer ourselves unreservedly such as we are: it is His Mercy and Grace that will cleanse us. If we try, out of love for Him, to guard against evil, our striving is all that He asks for.

33. Seest thou one (5108) who turns back,

43. That is He Who granteth Laughter and Tears;
44. That it is He Who granteth Death and Life;
45. That He did create in pairs,- male and female, (5116)

5116 The seventh aphorism relates to the mystery of sex: all things are created in pairs: each sex performs its proper function, and yet its wonderful working is part of the creative process of Allah; the living seed fructifies, but contains within itself all the factors disclosed in its later development and life.

46. From a seed when lodged (in its place);

47. That He hath promised a Second Creation (Raising of the Dead); (5117)

5117 No less wonderful is the promise He has made about the raising of the dead, and a new life in the Hereafter, and this is the subject of the eighth aphorism.

48. That it is He Who giveth wealth and satisfaction; (5118)

5118 Wealth and material gain are sought by most men, in the hope that they will be a source of enjoyment and satisfaction. But this hope is not always fulfilled. There is a perichal and spiritual side to it. But both the material and the spiritual side depend upon the working of Allah’s Plan. This is referred to in the ninth aphorism.

49. That He is the Lord of Sirius (the Mighty Star); (5119)

5119 The tenth aphorism refers to a mighty phenomenon of nature, the magnificent star Sirius, which is such a prominent object in the skies, in the early part of the solar year, say, from January to April. It is the brightest star in the firmament, and its bluish light causes wonder and terror in Pagan minds. The Pagan Arabs worshipped it as a divinity. But Allah is the Lord, Creator and Cherisher, of the most magnificent part of Creation, and worship is due to Him alone.

50. And that it is He Who destroyed the (powerful) ancient ‘Ad (people), (5120)

5120 The eleventh and last aphorism refers to the punishment of the most powerful ancient peoples for their sins. For the ‘Ad people, see n. 1040 to 7:65, and for Thamud, see n. 1043 to 7:73. They were strong; and they were talented: but their strength and their talents did not save them from being destroyed for their sins. The same may be said about the earlier generation of Noah, who were destroyed in the Flood: they “rejected Our Signs; they were indeed a blind people” (7:64); see also n. 1039 to 7:59; and 11:25-49. Ancient ‘Ad people: see some Commentators construe, First ‘Ad people, distinguishing them from the later ‘Ad people, a remnant that had their day and passed away.

51. And the Thamud nor gave them a lease of perpetual life.

52. And before them, the people of Noah, for that they were (all) most unjust and most insolent transgressors,

53. And He destroyed the Overthrown Cities (5121) (of Sodom and Gomorrah).

5121 Verses 53-60 may be construed as a commentary on the aphorisms. The story of the Overthrown Cities, to which Lot was sent for a warning, will be found in 11:74-83 and the notes thereon. This story may well be treated as separate from the aphorisms as it refers to events that happened in the later life of Abraham.

54. So that (ruins unknown) have covered them up.

55. Then which of the gifts (5122) of thy Lord, (O man,) wilt thou dispute about?

5122 With a slight modification this forms the refrain of the next Surah but one, the highly poetical Surah of Al-Baladun. In S. 54:15, 17 etc., there is a similar refrain in different words. Every gift and benefit you have is from Allah, and to save you from the just punishment of your sins, Allah at all times sends revelations and Messengers to warn you. Why not accept Allah’s Grace instead of disputing about it?
56. This is a Warner,(5123) of the (series of) Warners of old!

4194 The Prophet before Quraysh (and before us) continues the line of messengers of Allah who have come to teach mankind and lead men into purity and righteousness. Shall we not listen to his voice? Every day that passes, the Judgement approaches nearer and nearer. But Allah alone can say at what precise hour it will come to any of us. It is certain, and yet it is a mystery, which Allah alone can lay bare.

57. The (Judgment) every approaching draws nigh:

58. No (soul) but Allah can lay it bare.

59. Do ye then wonder(5124) at this recital?

60. And will ye laugh(5125) and not weep,-

4195 The higher issues of Life and the Hereafter are serious, and therefore all that we do in this life is serious and important. We must shun inanities and frivolities. It is no laughing time. If we only realised our own shortcomings, we should weep, with our good angels who weep for us. But weeping by itself will not help. We must try and understand Allah and adore Him. Thus shall we be able to understand ourselves and our fellow-men.

61. Wasting your time in vanities?

62. But fall ye down in prostration to Allah, and adore (Him)!(5126)

3196 And so we are invited to prostrate ourselves and adore Him. For this is the true end of Revelation and the true attitude when we understand the world, Nature, History and the working of Allah's Plan.

54. Al Qamar (The Moon)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. The Hour (of Judgment)(5127) is nigh, and the moon is cleft asunder.(5128)

5197 See paragraph 2 of the Introduction to S. 53. The idea of the judgement being nigh at the beginning of this Surah connects it with the same idea at the end of the last Surah (verse 57), though the actual words used in the two cases are different.

5198 Three explanations are given in the Mutta'id, and perhaps all three apply here: (1) that the moon once appeared cleft asunder in the valley of Makkah within sight of the Prophet, his Companions, and some Unbelievers; (2) that the prophetic past tense indicates the future, the cleft asunder of the moon being a Sign of the Judgement approaching; and (3) that the phrase is metaphorical, meaning that the matter has become clear as the moon. That the first was noticed by contemporaries, including Unbelievers, is clear from verse 2. The second is an incident of the disruption of the solar system at the New Creation: Cf. 7:53-59. And the third might well be implied as in eastern allegory, based on the other two.

2. But if they see a Sign, they turn away, and say, "This is (but) transient magic."(5129)

5199 Transient, or powerful: either meaning will apply. The Unbelievers acknowledge the unusual appearance, but call it magic. They do not therefore profit by the spiritual lesson.

3. They reject (the warning) and follow their (own) lusts but every matter has(5130) its appointed time.

5130 The prevalence of sin and the persecution of truth may have its day, but it must end at last.

4. There have already come to them Recitals wherein(5131) there is (enough) to check (them), 5131 The stories of the sins of past generations having been visited with exemplary punishments were already in their possession, and should, if they had been wise, have opened their eyes and checked them in their mad career of sin. Five of these stories are again referred to later in this Surah by way of illustration.

5. Mature wisdom:- but (the preaching of) Warners profits them not.

6. Therefore, (O Prophet)(5132) turn away from them. The Day that the Caller(5133) will call (them) to a terrible affair, 5132 For a time godlessness seems to triumph, but the triumph is short-lived. And in any case there is the great Reckoning of the Day of Judgement.

5133 The angel whose voice will call at the Resurrection and direct all souls. Cf. 29:108-111.

7. They will come forth,- their eyes humbled - from (their) graves, (torpid)(5134) like locusts scattered abroad, 5134 At one stage in the invasion of locust swarms, the locusts are torpid and are scattered abroad all over the ground. I have seen them on railway tracks in 'Iraq , crushed to death in hundreds by passing trains. The simile is apt for the stunned beings who will rise up in swarms from their graves and say, 'Ah! woe unto us! who had raised us up?' (06:52).

8. Hastening, with eyes transfixed, towards the Caller!-"Hard is this Day!", the Unbelievers will say.

9. Before them the People of Noah rejected (their messenger): they rejected Our servant,(5135) and said, "Here is one possessed!", and he was driven out.

5135 The story of Noah and the Flood is frequently referred to in the Qur'an. The passage which best illustrates this passage will be found in 11:25-48. Note in that passage how they first insult and abuse him arrogantly; how he humbly argues with them; how they laugh him to scorn, as much as to say that he was a madman possessed of some evil spirit; and how the Flood comes and he is saved in the Ark, and the wicked are doomed to destruction.

10. Then he called on his Lord: "I am one overcome: do Thou then help (me)!"(5136)

5136 He did not call down punishment. He merely asked for help in his mission, as he felt himself overpowered by brute force and cast out, which prevented the fulfilment of his mission. But the wicked generation were past all repentance, and they were wiped out.
11. So We opened the gates of heaven, with water pouring forth.

12. And We caused the earth to gush forth with springs, so the waters met (and rose) (5137) to the extent decreed.

13. But We bore him on an (Ark) made of broad planks and caulked (5138) with palm-fibre:

14. She floats under our eyes (and care): a recompense (5139) to one who had been rejected (with scorn)!

15. And We have left this as a Sign (5140) (for all time): then is there any that will receive admonition? (5141)

16. But how (terrible) was (5142) My Penalty and My Warning?

17. And We have indeed made the Qur’an easy (5143) to understand and remember: then is there any that will receive admonition?

18. The `Ad (people) (too) rejected (Truth): then how terrible was My Penalty and My Warning?

19. For We sent against them (5144) a furious wind, on a Day of violent Disaster,

20. Plucking out men as if they were roots of palm-trees torn up (from the ground).

21. Yea, how (terrible) was My Penalty and My Warning! (5145)

22. But We have indeed made the Qur’an easy to understand and remember: then is there any that will receive admonition?

23. The Thamud (also) rejected (their) Warners.

24. For they said: “What? (5146) a man! a Solitary one from among ourselves! shall we follow such a one? (5147) Truly should we then be straying in mind, and mad!

25. “Is it that the Message is sent to him, of all people amongst us? Nay, he is a liar, an insolent one!” (5148)

26. Ah! they will know on the morrow, which is the liar, the insolent one!

27. For We will send the she-camel (5149) by way of trial for them. So watch them, (O Salih), and possess thyself in patience!

28. And tell them that the water is to be divided between them: (5150) Each one’s right to drink being brought forward (by suitable turns).

29. But they called to their companion, and he took a sword in hand, and hamstrung (her).

30. Ah! how (terrible) was My Penalty and My Warning!

31. For We sent against them (5151) a single Mighty Blast, and they became like the dry stubble used by one who pens cattle. (5152)

32. And We have indeed made the Qur’an easy to understand and remember: then is there any that will receive admonition?

33. The people of Lut (5153) rejected (his) warning.

34. We sent against them a violent Tornado with showers of stones, (5154) (which destroyed them), except Lut’s household: them We delivered by early Dawn,

---

Notes:
- The torrents of rain from above combined with the gush of waters from underground springs, and caused a huge flood which inundated the country (Cf. 11:14 and 25:27).
- Duras, plural of dasar, which means the palm fibre with which boats are caulked; from dasara, to ram in, to spear. A derived meaning is “nails”, (which are driven into planks); this latter meaning also applies, and is preferred by translators not familiar with the construction of simple boats.
- The psychology of Thamud is more searchingly analysed here than in 41:17, to show up the contrast between shallow men’s ideas about Revelation, and the real sanity, humanism, social value, and truth of Revelation. To them the Revelation was brought by Salih.
- Because the Preacher is one among so many, and different from them, although brought up among themselves, it is made a cause of reproach against him, when it should have been an index leading to a searching of their hearts and an examination of their ways.
- The story of Lot (Lut) and the Cities of the Plain has been frequently referred to. See 11:74-83.
- Hastily a violent tornado bringing a shower of stones. The word occurs here; in 17:68 (without reference to any particular place); in 29:40 (where it seems to
35. As a Grace from Us: thus do We reaward those who give thanks. (5155)

5155 "Giving thanks" to Allah in Quranic phrase is to obey Allah's Law, to do His Will, to practise righteousness, to use all gifts in His service.

36. And (Lut) did warn them (5156) of Our Punishment, but they disputed about the Warning. (5156) Cf. 11:78-79.

37. And they even sought to snatch away his guests (5157) from him, but We blinded their eyes. (They heard:) "Now taste ye My Wrath and My Warning."

5157 Lot had been preaching to them some time against their iniquities. The crisis of their fate came when the two angels came to Lot in the guise of handsome young men. The men of the whole City came in an uproar, assaulted his house, and tried to snatch away the two handsome men. Lot tried to prevent them, but was powerless. Darkness fell on their eyes, as the first stage in their punishment, and before next morning the wicked cities were buried under a shower of brimstone. Lot and his believing household were saved.

38. Early on the morrow an abiding Punishment seized them:

39. "So taste ye My Wrath and My Warning."

40. And We have indeed made the Qur' an easy to understand and remember: then is there any that will receive admonition?

41. To the People (5158) of Pharaoh, too, aforetime, came Warners (from Allah).

5158 The Egyptian people of old are the last people mentioned in this Surah as an example of iniquity meeting with punishment. And the moral is driven home to the Pagan Quraysh, to warn them of their fate if they persisted in their evil lives. The Egyptians had many Signs given them. They were gifted people and had made much progress in the sciences and the arts. They could have learnt from history that when the highest virtues disappear, the nation must fall. Moses was brought up among them and commissioned to give Allah's Message to them. But they were arrogant; they were unjust to Allah's creatures; they followed debasing forms of worship; they mocked at Truth; and were at last punished with destruction in the Red Sea for their arrogant leaders and army. See 10:75:98 for a narrative.

42. The (people) rejected all Our Signs; but We seized them with such Penalty (as comes) from One Exalted in Power, able to carry out His Will.

43. Are your Unbelievers, (O Quraysh), better than they? (5159) Or have ye an immunity in the Sacred Books?

5159 If the Egyptians with all their power and science were unable to resist the punishment of their sins, the Pagan Quraysh are asked, how will you fare when you come to a trial of strength against Allah's Truth? You are not specially favoured so as to be immune from Allah's Law. And if you rely on your numbers, they will be a broken reed when the trial comes, as indeed happened at the Battle of Badr.

44. Or do they say: "We acting together can defend ourselves"?

45. Soon will their multitude be put to flight, and they will show their backs.

46. Nay, the Hour (of Judgment) is the time promised them (for their full recompense); (5160) And that Hour will be most grievous and most bitter.

5160 The calculations of unjust men—on their science, their resources, their numbers, etc.—will in many cases be falsified even in this world, as stated in the last two verses, but their real Punishment will come with Judgment, i.e., when they find their real place in the spiritual world at the restoration of true values. It will then be a most grievous and bitter experience for them, throwing into the shade any calamities they may suffer in this life.

47. Truly those in sin are the ones straying in mind, and mad. (5161)

5161 Cf. 2:114-117.

48. The Day they will be dragged through the Fire on their faces, (5162) (they will hear:) "Taste ye the touch of Hell!"

5162 On their faces: the Face is the symbol of Personality. Their whole Personality will be subverted and degraded—in the midst of the Fire of Suffering.

49. Verily, all things have We created in proportion and measure. (5163)

5163 Allah's Creation is not haphazard. Everything goes by law, proportion, and measure. Everything has its appointed time, place, and occasion, as also its definite limitation. Nothing happens but according to His Plan, and every deed, word, and thought of man has its fullest consequences, except insofar as the Grace and Mercy of Allah intervenes, and that is according to law and plan. (Cf. 2:2117.)

50. And Our Command is but a single (Act),—(5164) like the twinkling of an eye.

5164 While in the life of created things there is "proportion and measure", and a lag of time or distance or circumstance, in Allah's Command, the Design, the Word, the Execution, and the Consequences are but a single Act. The similar given is that of the twinkling of an eye, which is the shortest time that a simple man can think of: the cause which occasions the twinkling, the movement of the muscles connected with it, the closing of the eyelids, and their reopening, are all almost like a simultaneous act. Be way of contrast take an illustration like that of a man writing a book. He must form the design in his mind; he must prepare himself by research, collection of knowledge, or of personal experience: he must use or acquire the art of writing; he must collect the material for writing, viz., paper, ink, pen, etc., and this will connect with a chain of manufacturing processes in which he is dependent upon other people's work and experience; then his book may have to be printed or lithographed or bound, and sold, or taken to a library, or presented to a friend, which will bring into play numerous other chains of processes, and dependence upon other people's work or skill; and the lag of Time, Space, and Circumstance will occur at numerous stages. In Allah's Command, the word 'Be' (kun) includes everything, without the intervention, of or dependence upon any other being or thing whatever. And this is also another phase of the philosophy of Unity.

51. And (of) in the past, have We destroyed gangs (5165) like unto you: then is there any that will receive admonition? (5166)

5165 Ashya 'akum: "gangs or parties or collection of men like you"—addressed to the former: 'will ye not learn and repent?'

5166 Adha 'akuma: gangs or parties or collection of men like you—addressed to wicked men who arrogantly rely upon their own strength or combination, neither of which can stand for a moment against the Will of Allah.

5167 The cases of Pharaoh's men of old and the Pagan Quraysh are considered as parallel, and an appeal is addressed to the latter from the experience of the former: 'will ye not learn and repent?'

52. All that they do is noted in (their) Books (of Deeds); (5167)

5167 Everything gives rise to an inevitable chain of consequences, from which a release is only obtained by the intervention of Allah's Grace acting on an act, a striving of the human will to repent and turn to Allah. (R).

53. Every matter, small and great, is on record.

54. As to the Righteous, they will be in the midst of Gardens and Rivers. (5168)
55. In an Assembly of Truth, (5169) in the Presence of (5170) a Sovereign Omnipotent. (5171)

5169. While we possess our bodily senses, the best conceptions we can form are through our sense-perceptions, and the Garden is a good symbol from that point of view. The next higher understanding of spiritual truth is through our intellect and social satisfaction. This is best symbolised by the Assembly of Truth—the gathering in which we sit with our fellows and enjoy the realisation of Truth and the dissipation of falsehoods and half-truths.

5170. But there is a higher conception still, something so intensely spiritual that it can only be expressed by reference to the Presence of Allah. (R).

5171. Mangtayt, which is translated Omnipotent, implies something more: the eighth-declension form denotes not only complete mastery, but the further idea that the mastery arises form Allah's own nature, and depends on nothing else whatever. (R).

55. Al Rahman (The Most Gracious)

I n t h e n a m e o f A l l a h, M o s t G r a c i o u s, M o s t M e r c i f u l.

1. (Allah) Most Gracious!

2. It is He Who has (5172) taught the Qur’ān.

3. He has created man:

4. He has taught him speech (5173) (and intelligence).

5. The sun and the moon follow courses (exactly) computed; (5174)

6. And the herds (5175) and the trees—both (alike) bow in adoration. (5176)

7. And the Firmament has He raised high, and He has set up the Balance (of Justice). (5177)

8. In order that ye may not transgress (due) balance.

9. So establish weight with justice (5178) and fall not short in the balance.

5172. “The Revelation comes from Allah Most Gracious, and it is one of the greatest Signs of His grace and favour. He is the source of all Light, and His light is diffused throughout the universe.

5173. “In the great astronomical universe there are exact mathematical laws, which bear witness to Allah's Wisdom and also to His favours to His creatures; for we all profit by the heat and light, the seasons, and the numerous changes in the tides and the atmosphere, on which the constitution of our globe and the maintenance of life depend.

5174. “In the great astronomical universe there are exact mathematical laws, which bear witness to Allah's Wisdom and also to His favours to His creatures; for we all profit by the heat and light, the seasons, and the numerous changes in the tides and the atmosphere, on which the constitution of our globe and the maintenance of life depend.

5175. “Najm: may mean stars collectively, or herbs collectively; perhaps both meanings are implied.

5176. “The sun and the moon follow courses (exactly) computed; and the herds (5175) and the trees—both (alike) bow in adoration.

5177. “The 'balance of justice' in this verse is connected with 'the Balance' in the next two verses, that men may act justly to each other and observe due balance in all their actions, following the golden mean and not transgressing due bounds in anything. But the Balance is also connected figuratively with the heavens above in three symbols: (1) Justice is a heavenly virtue; (2) the heavens themselves are sustained by mathematical balance; and (3) the constellation Libra (the Balance) is entered by the sun at the middle of the zodiacal year.

5178. “To be taken both literally and figuratively. A man should be honest and straight in every daily matter, such as weighing out things which he is selling; and he should be straight, just and honest, in all the highest dealings, not only with other people, but with himself and in his obedience to Allah's Law. Not many do either the one or the other when they have an opportunity of deceit. Justice is the central virtue, and the avoidance of both excess and defect in conduct keeps the human world balanced just as the heavenly world is kept balanced by mathematical order.
14. He created man from sounding clay (5181) like unto pottery, 5181 See n. 1966 to 15:26. The creation of man and Jinns is contrasted. Man was made of sounding clay, dry and brittle like pottery. The Jinns (see next note) was made from a clear flame of fire. Yet each has capacities and possibilities which only Allah's Grace bestows on them. How can they deny Allah's favours?

15. And He created Jinns (5182) from fire free of smoke:

5182 For the meaning of Jinns, see n. 929 to 6:100. They are spirits, and therefore subtile like a flame of fire. Their being free from smoke implies that they are free from grossness, for smoke is the grosser accompaniment of fire. (R.)

16. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny? (5183)

5183 Part of the idea of this refrain will be found in 16:71, 72; 40:81; and 53:55 (where see n. 5122).

17. (He is) Lord of the two Easts (5184) and Lord of the two Wests:

5184 The two Easts are the two extreme points where the sun rises during the year, and includes all the points between. Similarly the two Wests include the two extreme points of the sun's setting and all the points between. The Dual Number fits in with the general atmosphere of Duality in this Surah. Allah is Lord of every region of the earth and sky, and He scatters His bounties everywhere. See also n. 4611 to 43:88, and n. 4034 to 37:5.

18. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

19. He has let free (5185) the two bodies of flowing water, meeting together:

5185 See 25:58 and 33:31-32, where it is explained how the two bodies of salt and sweet, meet together, yet keep separate, as if there was a barrier or partition between them. This is also one of the favours of Allah. Sea water is a sanitating agent, while fresh water is sweet and palatable to drink. For the allegorical interpretation, see notes 2404 to 18:59; also n. 5180 (refd.) below.

20. Between them is a Barrier which they do not transgress:

21. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

22. Out of them come Pearls and Coral: (5186)

5186 Pearls are produced by the oyster and coral by the polyp, a minute marine creature which, working in millions, has by its secretions produced the reefs, islands, and banks in and on both sides of the Red Sea and in other parts of the world. The pearl has a translucent lustre, usually white, but sometimes pink or black. Coral is usually opaque, red or pink, but often white, and is seen in beautiful branching or cup-like shapes as visitors to Port Sudan will recall. Both are used as gems and stand here for gems generally. Mineral gems, such as agate and cornelian, are found in river-beds. Pearl oysters are also found in some rivers. Taken allegorically, the two kinds of gems would denote the jewels of this life and the jewels of the spiritual world. The jewels of this world—like coral—are hard, widely spread over the world, comparatively cheap, and less absorbent of the light from above. The spiritual jewels—like pearls—are soft, rare, costly, and translucent, absorbent of light and showing the more lustre the more they are in light. The analogy can be carried further to the two seas—the two bodies of flowing water—mentioned in verses 19-20 above. They are the two kinds of knowledge—human and divine—referred to in the story of Moses and Khidr; see notes 2404 to 18:60.

23. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

24. And His are the Ships (5187) sailing smoothly through the seas, lofty as mountains: (5188)

5187 The Ships—sailing ships and steamers, and by extension of the analogy, aeroplanes and airships majestically navigating the air—are made by man, but the intelligence and science which made them possible are given by man's Creator; and therefore the Ships also are the gifts of Allah.

5188 Lofty as mountains: both in respect of the high sails, or masts, and in respect of the height to which the top of the ship towers above the surface of the sea. The Queen Mary II—the biggest ship afloat in 2004—has a height, from the keel to the top of the funnel of 216 feet. (Eds.)

25. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

26. All that is on earth will perish:

27. But will abide (for ever) the Face of thy Lord,—(5189) full of Majesty, Bounty and Honour. (5190)

5189 The most magnificent works of man—such as they are—are but fleeting. Ships, Empires, the Wonders of Science and Art, the splendours of human glory or intellect, will all pass away. The most magnificent objects in outer Nature—the mountains and valleys, the sun and moon, the Constellation Orion and the star Sirius—will also pass away in their appointed time. But the One that will endure forever is the 'Face' of Allah. 'Face' expresses Personality, Glory, Majesty, Inner Being, Essence, Self—all the noble qualities which we associate with the Beautiful Names of Allah. See n. 114 to 2:112; also n. 1154 to 7:180; and n. 2322 to 17:110.

5190 Brah: two ideas are prominent in the word, (1) the idea of generosity, as proceeding from the person whose attribute it is, and (2) the idea of honour, as given by others to the person whose attribute it is. Both these ideas are summed up in 'nobility'. To make the meaning quite clear, I have employed in the translation the two words 'Bounty and Honour' for the single word Brah. The same attributes recur in the last verse of this Surah. In the Fact of Allah's Eternity is the Hope of our Future.

28. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

29. Of Him seeks (its need) (5191) every creature in the heavens and on earth: every day in (new) Splendour (5192) doth He (shine)!

5191 Every single creature depends on Allah for its needs: of all of them the Checker and Sustainer is Allah. Seek (its need): does not necessarily mean 'seek them in words'; what is meant is the dependence: the allusion is to the Source of supply.

5192 Shahr: state, splendour; aim, work, business, momentous affair. Allah's is still the directing hand in all affairs. He does not sit apart, careless of mankind or of any of His creatures. But His working shows new Splendour every day, every hour, every moment.

30. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

31. Soon shall We settle your affairs, O both ye worlds! (5193)

5193 Thiqa: weight; something weighty, something weighed with something else. The two thiqa are Jinns and men who are burdened with responsibility or, as some commentators hold, with sin. They are both before Allah, and the affairs of both are conducted under His Command. If there are inequalities or apparent disturbances of balance, that is only for a season. Allah gives to both good and evil men a chance in this period of probation; but this period will soon be over, and Judgment will be established. To give you this chance, this probation, this warning, is itself a favour, by which you should profit, and for which you should be grateful. (R.)

32. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

33. O ye assembly of Jinns (5194) and men! If it be ye can pass beyond the zones of the heavens and the earth, pass ye! not without authority shall ye be able to pass!

5194 Cf. 6:35 and 6:130, where the Jinns and men are addressed collectively. That whole passage, 6:130-134, should be read as a commentary on this verse. If you think that because you do things in secret, or because some of your sins do not seem to meet their inevitable punishment or some of your good deeds seem to go unnoticed, do not be deceived. Judgment will soon come. You cannot possibly escape out of the zones in which your lives have been cast, without authority from Allah. Be grateful to Allah for the chances He has given you. 'All that hath been promised unto you will come to pass: nor can ye frustrate it in the least bit' (6:134).

34. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?
4193 Note how gradually we have been led up in the Argument. The Signs of Allah are all about you, in revelation, in your intelligence, and in nature around you. Your creation; the mystic light and heat typified by the sun in all directions; the cycle of waters in the physical earth and of Knowledge in the world of Intelligence; the help and cherishing care of Allah Himself; all these things should teach you the Truth and warn you about the Future, which is more particularly referred to in the remainder of the Surah.

35. On you will be sent (O ye evil ones twain!) (5196) a flame of fire (to burn) and a smoke (to choke): (5197) no defence will ye have:

6196 The Dual is with reference to the two worlds explained above in n. 5493.

6197 We now come to the terrors of the Judgement on the evil ones.

36. Then which of the favours (5198) of your Lord will ye deny?

5198 Here and in some of the verses that follow, verses 40, 42, and 45 below), the refrain applies with an ironical meaning. It is as if it was said: ‘You used to laugh at Revelation, and at the warnings which were given for your own benefit in order to draw you to repentance and Allah’s Mercy; what do you find now? Is not all that was said to you true?’ To reject Allah’s Law is in itself to deny Allah’s Mercies.

37. When the sky is rent asunder, and it becomes red like ointment: (5199)

5199 Melting away like grease or ointment. The red colour will be due to the flames and the heat. The whole of the world as we know it now will dissolve.

38. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

39. On that Day no question will be asked (5200) of man or Jinn as to his sin.

5200 This does not of course mean that they will not be called to account for their sin. They will certainly be called to account for all their deeds: 15:92-93. The meaning of this whole passage is that their personal responsibility will be enforced.

40. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

41. (For) the sinners will be known by their Marks: (5201) and they will be seized by their forelocks and their feet.

5201 By their Marks: see last note.

42. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

43. This is the Hell which the Sinners deny: (5202)

5202 It will then become too real to them. ‘Oft! that this too, too solid flesh would melt,’ as Hamlet said to his Queen-Mother (Hamlet, i. 2. 129).

44. In its midst and in the midst of boiling hot water will they wander round! (5203)

5203 They will apparently have no rest. The fire will burn but not consume them, and their drink will be only boiling water.

45. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

46. But for such as fear the time when they will stand before (the Judgment Seat (5204) of) their Lord, there will be two Gardens—(5205)

5204 The reference to the Punishment of Sin having been dismissed in a few short lines, we now come to a description of the state of the Blessed. (R).

5004 Here two Gardens are mentioned, and indeed four, counting the other two mentioned in 55:62-76. Opinions are divided about this, but the best opinion is that the two mentioned in verses 46-61 are for the degree of those Nearest to Allah (Maghabarah), and those in verses 62-76 for the Companions of the Right Hand: Why two for each? The Duality is to express variety, and the whole scheme of the Surah runs in twos. There will be no dullness of uniformity; as our minds can conceive it now, there will be freshness in change, but it will be from Bliss to Bliss, and there will be Unity. (R).

47. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

48. Containing all kinds (of trees and delights);—

49. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

50. In them (each) will be two Springs flowing (free); (5206)

5206 Two Springs, for the same reasons as there will be two Gardens. See last note.

51. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

52. In them will be Fruits of every kind, two and two. (5207)

5207 The Duality of Fruits is for the same reason as the Duality of the Gardens. See n. 5205.

53. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

54. They will recline on Carpets, whose inner linings will be of rich brocade: the Fruit of the Gardens will be near (and easy of reach). (5208)

5208 The toil and fatigue of this life will be over: (R). 35:35 and n. 5654 to 69:23.

55. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

56. In them will be (Maidens), (5209) chaste, restraining their glances, (5210) whom no man or Jinn before them has touched;—

5209 See notes 4728-4729 to 44:54. (R).

5210 37:48 and n. 4064. Their purity is the feature chiefly symbolised.

57. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

58. Like unto Rubies and coral. (5211)

5211 Delicate pink, with reference to their complexions and their beauty of form. The gems also indicate their worth and dignity (R).

59. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

60. Is there any Reward for Good—other than Good? (5212)

5212 This is the summing up of all the symbolism used to express the Fruit of Goodness or Good. The symbolism must necessarily resort to comparative terms, to subjective ideas of Bliss. But the fullest expression can only be given in abstract terms: ‘Is there any reward for Good—other than Good?’ Can anything express it better?

61. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

62. And besides these two, there are two other Gardens,— (5213)

5213 See n. 5205 above.

63. Then which of the favours of your Lord will ye deny?

64. Dark-green in colour (5214) (from plentiful watering).
56.

Al Waqiah (The Inevitable)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. When the Event Inevitable (5222) cometh to pass,
   - The Event Inevitable is the Hour of Judgement. People may doubt now whether it will come. But when it comes, as it will come, suddenly upon them, it will come with such tremendous reality that it will be burnt deep into the experience of every soul. No one can then be deceived or entertain false notions about it.

2. Then will no (soul) entertain falsehood concerning its coming.

3. (Many) will it bring low; (5223) (many) will it exalt;
   - There will be a sorting out of Good and Evil. Or rather, (verse 7 below), there will be three main classes. Among the Good there will be the specially exalted class, those nearest to Allah (al-muqarrabun), 56:11-26, and the righteous people generally, called the Companions of the Right Hand (Ashab al-ma'samah, 56:48-56). And there will be those in agony, the Companions of the Left Hand (Ashab al-mas'amah, 56:27-40). And there will be those in agony, the Companions of the Left Hand.

4. When the earth shall be shaken to its depths,
   - The mountains shall be crumbled to atoms, (5224)

5. And the mountains shall be crumbled to atoms, (5224)
   - The old physical world will disappear in the New Creation.

6. Becoming dust scattered abroad,

7. And ye shall be sorted out into three classes, (5225)
   - See n. 5223 above.

8. Then (there will be) the Companions of the Right Hand.—What will be the Companions of the Right Hand?

9. And the Companions of the Left Hand,—what will be the Companions of the Left Hand?

10. And those Foremost (in Faith) will be Foremost (in the Hereafter), (5226)
    - Foremost (in Faith): There are two meanings, and both are implied. (1) Those who have reached the highest degree in spiritual understanding, such as the great prophets and teachers of mankind, will also take precedence in the Hereafter. (2) Those who are the first in time—the quickest and readiest—to accept Allah's Message—will have the first place in the Kingdom of Heaven. Verses 8, 9 and 10 mention the three main categories or classifications after Judgement. In the subsequent verses their happiness or misery are symbolised. This category, Foremost in Faith, is nearest to Allah.
11. These will be those Nearest to Allah:(5227)

5227 See n. 5225 above. Nearness to Allah is the test of the highest Bliss, (see also n. 3779), (R).

12. In Gardens of Bliss:

13. A number of people from those of old,(5228)

5228 Of great Prophets and Teachers there were many before the time of the Prophet Muhammad. As he was the last of the Prophets, he and the great Teachers under his Dispensation will be comparatively fewer in number, but their teaching is the sum and flower of all mankind's spiritual experience.

14. And a few from those of later times.

15. (They will be) on Thrones(5229) encrusted (with gold and precious stones),

5229 Cf. 15:47 ; 37:44, 52:20, and 88:13, (Eds.),

16. Reclining on them, facing each other.(5230)

5230 But they will not be separate each in his own corner. They will face each other. For they are all one, and their mutual society will be part of their Bliss.

17. Round about them will (serve)(5231) youths of perpetual (freshness), 5231 Cf. 52:24, and n. 5038. The youth and freshness with which the attendants will serve is a symbol of true service such as we may expect in the spiritual world. That freshness will be perpetual and not subject to any moods, or chances, or changes.

18. With goblets, (shining) beakers, and cups (filled) out of clear-flowing fountains:

19. No after-ache will they receive therefrom, nor will they suffer intoxication:(5232)

5232 The Feast of Reason and the Flow of Soul are typified by all that is best in the feasts in this imperfect world, but there will be none of the disadvantages incident to such feasts in this world, such as satiety, aches, excess, a sense of exhaustion, or loss of senses, etc. Cf. 37:47, and n. 4063. A goblet is a bowl without handles; a beaker has a 'lip' and a stem; 'cup' is a general term.

20. And with fruits, any that they may select:

21. And the flesh of fowls, any that they may desire.

22. And (there will be) Companions with beautiful, big, and lustrous eyes,-(5233)

5233 Cf. 44:54, and n. 4729. The companionship of Beauty and Grace is one of the highest pleasures of life. In this bodily life it takes bodily form. In the higher life it takes a higher form. (R).

23. Like unto Pearls(5234) well-guarded.

5234 Cf. 52:24, where this description is applied to the youths who serve. See also n. 5038 there. In 56:78 below the adjective mak'nun is applied to the Qur'an, 'the well-guarded Book'.

25. Not frivolity will they(5235) hear therein, nor any taint of ill,- 5235 Cf. 52:23. Apart from the physical ills, worldly feasts or delights are apt to suffer from vain or frivolous discourse, idle boasting, foolish flattery, or phrases pointed with secret venom or moral mischief. The negation of these from spiritual Bliss follows as a matter of course, but it is specially insisted on to guard against the perversities of human nature, which likes to read ill into the best that can be put in words.

26. Only the saying,(5236) "Peace! Peace".

5236 Qf is best translated 'saying', rather than 'word'. For the saying is an act, a thought, a fact, which may be embodied in a word, but which goes far beyond the word. The 'Peace of Allah' is an atmosphere which sums up Heaven even better than 'Bliss'.

27. The Companions of the Right Hand,- what will be the Companions of the Right Hand?

28. (They will be) among(5237) Lote-trees without thorns, 5237 Lote trees: see 34:16 n. 3814. (R).

29. Among Talh trees(5238) with flowers (or fruits) piled one above another,- 5238 Talh: some understand by this the plantain or banana tree, of which the fruit is borne in bunches, one tier above another; but the banana tree does not grow in Arabia and its ordinary Arabic name is Mave; perhaps it is better to understand a special kind of Acacia tree, which flowers profusely, the flowers appearing in tiers one above another.

30. In shade long-extended,

31. By water flowing constantly,

32. And fruit in abundance.

33. Whose season is not limited, nor (supply) forbidden,(5239)

5239 As it is not like earthly fruit, its season is not limited, nor is there any prohibition by law or custom or circumstance as to when or how it is to be consumed. (R).

34. And on Thrones (of Dignity), raised high.

35. We have created (their Companions)(5240) of special creation.

5240 Cf. n. 5228 to 56:13 above. Such is the unbounded Bounty of Allah.

36. And made them virgin - pure (and undefiled), -

37. Beloved (by nature), equal in age,-

38. For the Companions of the Right Hand.

39. A (goodly) number from those of old,(5241)

5241 This class—the righteous—will be a large company in Heaven, belonging to all the ages of the world. Cf. n. 5228 to 56:15 above. Such is the unbounded Bounty of Allah.

40. And a (goodly) number from those of later times.

41. The Companions of the Left Hand,— what will be the Companions of the Left Hand?

42. (They will be) in the midst of a Fierce Blast of Fire(5242) and in Boiling Water, 5242 Notice the parallelism in the contrast between those in Bliss and those in Misery. The allegory in each case pursues the idea of contrast, and the allegories about Misery lose nothing by their terse brevity. The fierce Blast of Fire and the Boiling Water are contrast to the happy Lote tree and the flowers and fruits in verses 28-29 above.

43. And in the shades of Black Smoke:(5243)

5243 Even the Shades get a different quality in the Abode of Misery: shades of black smoke in contrast to the cool and refreshing long extended shades of trees by brooks in verses 30-31 above.
44. Nothing (will there be) to refresh, nor to please:

45. For that they were wont to be indulged, before that, in wealth (and luxury). (5244)

5244 Cf. 34:34, and 43:23. We must read verses 43-46 together. They had wealth and the good things of life, but they used them in self-indulgence and shameless crime, and now they are in humiliation.

46. And persisted obstinately in wickedness supreme! (5244-A)

52444 A Wickedness supreme: i.e., their associating others with Allah in His divinity. [Eds.]

47. And they used to say, "What! when we die and become dust and bones, (5245) shall we then indeed be raised up again? -

5244 Their want of belief and ridicule of Allah's Message contrasts with the stern reality which they see around them now.

48. "(We) and our fathers of old?"

49. Say: "Yea, those of old and those of later times, -

50. "All will certainly be gathered together for the meeting appointed for a Day well-known. (5246)

5246 In 26:38 see n. 31:59 the phrase a day well-known is used for a solemn day of festival, when the multitude of people gather together. The Day of Judgement is such a day in the supreme sense of the word.

51. "Then will ye truly,- O ye that go wrong, and treat (Truth) as Falsehood! -

52. "Ye will surely taste of the Tree of Zaqqum. (5247)

5247 This is the Cursed Tree mentioned in 17:60, see n. 2250. Cf. also 57:62, n. 4072; and 44:43-46 and n. 4722.

53. "Then will ye fill your insides therewith,

54. "And drink Boiling Water on top of it:

55. "Indeed ye shall drink like diseased camels raging with thirst!" (5248)

5248 A terrible picture of Misery in contrast to the Companionship of the Good, the True, and the Beautiful, on Thrones of Dignity, for the Companions of the Right Hand, in verses 34-38 above.

56. Such will be their entertainment on the Day of Requital! -

57. It is We Who have created you: why do ye (5249) not testify to this truth?

5249 Man is apt to forget his Creator, and even the fact that he, man, is a created being. The seed of his body, out of which his physical life starts, is not created by man, but by Allah in the process of the unfolding of the world. Why will not man recognise and bear witness of this fact by a life of obedience to Allah's Law?

58. Do ye then see?- The (human Seed) that ye throw out,-

59. Is it ye who create it, or are We the Creators?

60. We have decreed Death to be your common lot, (5250) and We are not to be frustrated 5250 Just as Allah has created this life that we see, so He has decreed that Death should be the common lot of all of us. Surely, if He can thus give life and death, as we see it, why should we refuse to believe that He can give us other forms when this life is over? The Future Life, though indicated by what we know now, is to be on a wholly different plane. (R).

61. from changing your Forms and creating you (again) in (forms) that ye know not.

62. And ye certainly know already the first form of creation: why then do ye not celebrate His praises?

63. See ye the seed that (5251) ye sow in the ground?

5251 Having appealed to our own nature within us, He appeals now to the external nature around us, which should be evidence to us (1) of His loving care for us, and (2) of its being due to causes other than those which we produce and control. Three examples are given: (1) the seed which we sow in the soil: it is Allah's processes in nature, which make it grow; (2) the water which we drink: it is Allah's processes in nature, that send it down from the clouds as rain, and distribute it through springs and rivers; (3) the fire which we strike: it is again a proof of Allah's Plan and Wisdom in nature.

64. Is it ye that cause it to grow, or are We the Cause?

65. Were it Our Will, We could crumble it to dry powder, and ye would be left in wonderment,

66. (Saying), "We are indeed left with debts (for nothing):"

5252 The Cultivator contracts debts for seed and gives labour for ploughing, sowing, watering, and weeding, in the hope of reaping a harvest. Should he not give thanks to Allah when his harvest is in?

67. "Indeed are we shut out (of the fruits of our labour)"

68. See ye the water which ye drink?

69. Do ye bring it down (in rain) from the cloud or do We?

70. Were it Our Will, We could make it salt (and unpalatable): (5253) then why do ye not give thanks?

5253 The mystery of the two streams of water, one sweet and the other salt, constantly mingling, and yet always separate, is referred to more than once. The never-ending circuit is established by streams and rivers mingling with the ocean, the ocean sending forth mists and steam through a process of evaporation which forms clouds, and the clouds by condensation pouring forth rain to feed the streams and rivers again: see notes 3111-3112 to 25:53, and n. 5145 to 53:19, and the further references given there.

71. See ye the Fire which ye kindle?

72. Is it ye who grow the tree which feeds (5254) the fire, or do We grow it?

5254 The relation of Fire to Trees is intimate. In nearly all the fire that we burn, the fuel is derived from the wood of trees. Even mineral coal is nothing but the wood of prehistoric forests petrified under the earth through geological ages. Fire produced out of green trees is referred to in 36:80; and n. 4026 there gives instances.

73. We have made it a memorial (of Our handiwork), (5255) and an article of comfort and convenience for the denizens of deserts. (5256)

5255 Fire is a fit memorial of Allah's handiwork in nature. It is also an emblem of man's earliest civilisation. It can stand as a symbol of physical comfort and convenience to man, of the source of spiritual light, and also of the warning to Evil about its destruction. In the same way the sower's seed has a symbolical meaning in the preaching of the Message: see 48:29, and n. 4917; and the Rain and the Streams of water have a symbolical meaning: see notes 2494-5 to 18:60.

5256 Cf. 20:10, and n. 2544, where the mystic meaning of the Fire which Moses saw in the desert is explained. Even ordinarily, a fire in a desert is a sign of human habitation; by following it you may get human society and human comfort. A fire, or light, or beacon in many places directs a traveller on the way. Lighthouses at sea and beacons in modern aerodromes serve the same purpose for mariners and airmen. Another parable about fire will be found in 2:17-18, and n. 38.
74. Then celebrate with praises (5257) the name of thy Lord, the Supreme!

5257 Seeing all these Signs in nature and their symbolic meaning in the spiritual world, man must turn to Allah and do His Will.

75. Furthermore I call to witness the setting (5258) of the Stars,- 5258 The setting of the Stars: a number of mystic meanings are attached. Here are three: (1) Cf. 43:1 and n. 5085; the setting of a glorious star is a symbol of humility before the power, beauty, and goodness of Allah. (2) It may refer to the extinction of the stars at the Day of Judgement, betokening the establishment of Allah's Justice and the Truth of His Revelation. (3) What is bright or beautiful to our senses may disappear from our ken within a few hours, even though its own existence may continue. All light is relative except the Light of Allah.

76. And that is indeed a mighty adjuration (5259) if ye but knew,- 5259 The glory of the firmament as it exists, and the wonder of its passing away, are both evidence, to the discerning mind, of the Future which Allah has prepared, but this evidence can only be effective if men 'but knew', i.e., turned their earnest attention to it.

77. That this is indeed a Qur'ān most honourable, (5260)

5260 Your attention is drawn to the momentous issues of the Future by the Qur'ān. It is a Revelation described by four characteristics. (1) It is most honourable, karim, which implies, besides the fact that it is worthy of receiving honour, that it confers great favours on those who receive it. (2) It is well-guarded, muṣannaf: precious in itself, and well-preserved in its purity; see n. 5260 to 56:23. (3) None but the clean shall touch it—clean in body, mind, thought, intention, and soul; only such can achieve real contact with its full meaning. (4) It is a Revelation from the Lord of the Worlds, and therefore universal for all.

78. In Book well-guarded,

79. Which none shall touch but those who are clean:

80. A Revelation from the Lord of the Worlds.

81. Is it such a Message that ye would hold (5261) in light esteem?

5261 The Message being such as is described in the last note, how can anyone ignore it or treat it with contempt or refuse to allow it to improve his life?

82. And have ye made it (5262) your livelihood that ye should declare it false?

5262 The worst indictment of an enemy of Revelation would be that he should make Falsehood a source of filthy lucre for himself, or that he should let his precious life be corrupted by such unholy occupation.

83. Then why do ye not (5263) (intervene) when (the soul of the dying man) reaches the throat,- 5263 There is a hiatus after why do ye not?-and two parenthetical clauses-after which clause why do ye not? is resumed again in verse 86 below, with its complement in verse 87. It is permissible to the translator to add some such word as intervene here, to make the translation run smoothly.

84. And ye the while (sit) looking on, -(5264)

5264 The dying man's friends, relatives and companions may be sitting round him and quite close to him in his last moments, but Allah is nearer still at all times for He is nearer than the man's own jugular vein (50:16), and one of Allah's own titles is 'Ever Near' (34:50).

85. But We are nearer to him than ye, and yet see not,-

86. Then why do ye not, -(5265) If you are exempt from (future) account,- 5265 These words resume the sentence begun at verse 83 above and interrupted by the two parenthetical clauses in verses 84 and 85. See n. 5263 above.

87. Call back the soul, (5266) if ye are true (in the claim of independence)?

5266 The sentence may now be briefly paraphrased. 'If you disbelieve in Revelation and a future Judgement, and claim to do what you like and be independent of Allah, how is it you cannot call back a dying man's soul to his body when all of you congregate round him at his death-bed? But you are not independent of Judgement. There is a Day of Accounts, when you will have to be judged by your deeds in this life.'

88. Thus, then, if he be of those Nearest to Allah, (5267)

5267 See above, 56:11-26 and notes.

89. (For him is the salutation), "Peace be unto thee", (5270) from the Companions of the Right Hand.

5270 In 56:28 above the salutation of 'Peace, Peace!' is addressed to those Nearest to Allah. Here used as symbolical of complete Satisfaction and Delight.

90. And if he be of the Companions of the Right Hand, (5269)

5269 See above, 56:27-38 and notes.

91. For him is Entertainment with Boiling Water.

92. And if he be of those who treat (Truth) as Falsehood, (5271) who go wrong, 5271 Cf. above 56:51-55.

93. For him is Rest and Satisfaction, (5268) and a Garden of Delights.

94. And burning in Hell-Fire.

95. Verily, this is the Very Truth and Certainly. (5272)

5272 'The assurance of the Hereafter' is one of the strongest features of Faith. For without it the apparent inequalities and injustices of this Life cannot be satisfactorily explained.

96. So celebrate with praises (5273) the name of thy Lord, the Supreme.

5273 Cf. 56:74 above. That was the conclusion of the argument about the Future from the examples of Allah's goodness in nature. Now we have the conclusion of the same argument from Allah's revelation through His inspired Messengers.
57. Al Hadid (Iron)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Whatever is in the heavens and on earth,—let it declare the Praises and Glory of Allah:(5275) for He is the Exalted in Might, the Wise.

5275 A connecting thought between this and the last Surah, of which see verse 96. See also paragraph 3 of the Introduction to S. 53.

2. To Him belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth: It is He Who gives Life and Death; and He has Power over all things.

3. He is the First and the Last, the Evident and the Hidden:(5276) and He has full knowledge of all things.

5276 Allah is Evident insofar as there is ample evidence of His existence and providence all around us. On the other hand, Allah is Hidden insofar as intellect cannot grasp His essence nor can He be seen in the present world. The following tradition in Sahih Muslim is also significant for an understanding of this verse. The Prophet (peace be on him) said: "Thou art the First, so that there was nothing before Thee; and Thou art the Last, so that there is nothing after Thee; and Thou art Evident, (or Ascendant) so that there is nothing above Thee, and Thou art the Hidden, the Knower of hidden things, so that there is nothing hidden from Thee." [Bk.]

4. He it is Who created the heavens and the earth in six Days,(5277) and is moreover firmly established on the Throne (of Authority),(5278) He knows what enters and what comes down from heaven and what mounts up to it. And He is with you wheresoever ye(5279) may be. And Allah sees well all that ye do.

5277 In six Days: see 41:5-12, and notes; also more briefly, n. 1031 to 7:54.

5278 Cf. 7:103, and n. 1386. It is not that Allah completed His Creation in six days and rested on the seventh day, or rests now. Certain external forms of the universe were by Allah's Command completed in six periods of evolution. But His creative process still goes on, and He is still, and will always be, in full control, knowing all and guiding all affairs. (R).

5279 Allah watches over man and observes his deeds. His knowledge comprehends all, the earth, heavens, what is in them or above them or whatever is in between them, comes out of them or goes into them, for "not a leaf doth fall but with His knowledge", and "there is not a grain in the darkness for depths) of the earth, nor anything fresh of dry (green or withered), but is inscribed in a Record". (6:69; [Rdz].)

5. To Him belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth:(5280) and all affairs are referred back to Allah.

5280 See 57:2 above, where this phrase referred to Allah's complete authority over the whole of the external universe: the same phrase now refers to His complete authority over the abstract world—of thoughts and affairs. Every affair must finally go back to Him, whether it comes out here from Darkness into Light, or hides itself from Light into Darkness. Allah's knowledge penetrates into the inmost recesses of all Hearts.

6. He merges Night into Day, and He merges Day into Night; and He has full knowledge of the secrets of (all) hearts.

7. Believe in Allah and His messenger, and spend (in charity) out of the (substance) whereof He has made you(5281) heirs. For, those of you who believe and spend (in charity)—for them is a great Reward.

5281 Whenever power or wealth or influence or any good thing is transferred from one person or group of persons to another, it involves added responsibilities to the persons receiving these advantages. They must be the more zealous in real charity and all good works, for that is a part of the evidence which they give of their faith and gratitude. And, besides, their good deeds, under the general law in the spiritual world, carry their own reward.

8. What cause have ye(5282) why ye should not believe in Allah,—and the Messenger invites you to believe in your Lord, and has indeed taken your Covenant,(5283) if ye are men of Faith.

5282 What cause have ye why should not . . . ? A figure of speech implying a far wider meaning than the words express. It is equivalent to saying: "There is every reason why ye should believe in Allah", etc. The same construction applies to verse 10 below.

5283 There are two shades of meaning. (1) There is the implied Covenant in a man who accepts the Gospel of Unity that He will bring forth all the fruits of that Gospel, i.e., believe in Allah, and serve Allah and humanity. See n. 682 to 5:1. (2) There were at various times express Covenants entered into by the Muslims to serve Allah and be true to the Prophet, comparable to the Covenants of the Jewish nation about the Message of Moses; e.g., the two Covenants of ‘Aqabah (5:8, and n. 705) and the Pledge of Hudaybiyah (48:10, n. 4875). For the Covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai, see 2:63, n. 78.

9. He is the One Who sends to His Servant(5284) Manifest Signs, that He may lead you from the depths of Darkness into the Light and verily Allah is to you most kind and Merciful.

5284 The Prophet Muhammad, The Signs sent to him were: (1) The Ayahs of the Qur’an, and (2) his life and work, in which Allah’s Plan and Purpose were unfolded.

10. And what cause have ye why ye should not spend in the cause of Allah,—For to Allah belongs(5285) the heritage of the heavens and the earth. Not equal among you are those who spent (freely) and fought, before the Victory,(5286) (with those who did so later). Those are higher in rank than those who spent (freely) and fought afterwards. But to all has Allah promised a goodly (reward). And Allah is well acquainted with all that ye do.

5285 To Allah belongs the heritage of . . . : see n. 485 to 3:180; also n. 988 to 6:165; and n. 1964 to 15:23.

5286 This is usually understood to refer to the Conquest of Makkah, after which the Muslims succeeded to the power and position which the Pagan Quraysh had so mistused at Makkah. Thereafter the Muslims had the hegemony of Arabia, and in a few centuries, for a time, the hegemony of the world. But the words are perfectly general, and we must understand the general meaning also: that the people who fight and struggle in Allah's Cause and give of their best to it at any time are worthy of praise: but those are worthy of special distinction who do it when the Cause is being persecuted and in most need of assistance, before victory comes.

11. Who is he that will loan to Allah a beautiful(5287) loan? for (((Allah))) will increase it manifold to his credit, and he will have (besides) a liberal Reward.

5287 Cf. 2:245, n. 276.

12. One Day shalt thou see the believing men and the believing women—how their Light runs(5288) forward before them and by their right hands: (their greeting will be): "Good News for you this Day! Gardens beneath which flow rivers! to dwell therein for aye! This is indeed the highest Achievement!"(5289)
13. One Day will the Hypocrites - men and women - say to the Believers: "Wait for us! Let us borrow (a Light) from your Light!" (5290) It will be said: "Turn ye back to your rear! then seek a Light (where ye can)!" So a wall (5291) will be put up between them, with a gate therein. Within it will be Mercy throughout, and without it, all alongside, will be (Wrath and) Punishment!

14. (Those without) will call out, "Were we not with you?" (5292) (The others) will reply, "True! but ye led yourselves into temptation; ye looked forward (to our ruin); ye doubted (Allah’s) Promise; and (your false) desires deceived you; until there issued the Command of Allah. And the Deceiver deceived you in respect of Allah. (5293)

15. "This Day shall no ransom be accepted of you, nor of those who rejected Allah. (5294) Your abode is the Fire: that is the proper place to claim you: and an evil refuge it is!"

16. Has not the time arrived (5295) for the Believers that their hearts in all humility should engage in the remembrance of Allah and of the Truth which has been revealed (to them), and that they should not become like those to whom was given Revelation aforetime, (5296) but long ages passed over them and their hearts grew hard? For many among them are rebellious transgressors.

17. Know ye (all) that Allah giveth life to the earth after its death! (5297) already have We shown the Signs plainly to you, that ye may learn wisdom.

18. For those who give in Charity, men and women, and loan to Allah (5298) a Beautiful Loan, it shall be increased manifold (to their credit), and they shall have (besides) a liberal reward.

19. And those who believe in Allah and His messengers - they are the Sincere (5299) (lovers of Truth), and the witnesses (who testify). (5300) In the eyes of their Lord: They shall have their Reward and their Light. (5301) But those who reject Allah and deny Our Signs,- they are the Companions of Hell-Fire.

In the Darkness of the Day of Judgement there will be a Light to guide the pure Life and the good Works. Perhaps the Light of the Right Hand mentioned here is the Light of their Good Works: for the Blessed will receive their Record in their right hand (69:19-24).

The highest Achievement, the highest felicity, the attainment of Salvation, the fulfillment of all desires. See n. 4733 to 44:57.

Watchful preparation in Life, and the light of Faith, which reflects the divine Light, are matters of personal Life, and cannot be borrowed from another. So, in Christ’s parable of the Ten Virgins (Matt. 25:1-13), when the foolish ones had let their lamps go out for want of oil, they asked to borrow oil from the wise ones, but the wise ones answered and said, ‘Not so; ... but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves’.

The wall of Personality, or Record of Deeds, will divide the Good from the Evil. But the Gateway in it will show that communication will not be cut off. Evil must realise that Goodness, Mercy and Feculency had been within its reach, and that the Wrath which envelops it is due to its own rejection of Mercy.

The evil will now claim same right of kinship or association or proximity with the good in earthly life; but in fact they had been arrogant and had selfishly despised them before. The reply will be: (1) you yourselves chose temptation and evil; (2) when you had power in your earthly life, you hoped for ruin to the good, and perhaps plotted for it; (3) you were warned by prophets of Allah, but you doubted Allah’s very existence and certainly His Mercy and Justice, and the Hereafter; (4) you followed your own lusts and neglected Reason and Truth; (5) you were given plenty of rope, but you followed your mad career, until Judgement came upon you, and now it is too late for repentance.

The Arch-Deceiver (Satan) deceived you in respect of Allah in many ways: for example, he made you oblivious of Allah’s Mercy and loving-kindness; he made you reject His Grace; he made you think that Allah’s Justice may not overtake you; etc.

In personal responsibility there is no room for vicarious ransom or for ransom by payments of gold or silver or by sacrifice of possessions. Nor can the crime be expiated for after Judgement ‘You’ and ‘those who rejected Allah’ are two ways of looking at the same persons, ‘You are rejected because you rejected Allah.’

In the after-life people not only play and amuse themselves and each other, but they show off, and boast, and pile up riches and manpower and influence, in rivalry with one another.

In the present passage the idea is further amplified. In this life people not only play and amuse themselves and each other, but they show off, and boast, and pile up riches and manpower and influence, in rivalry with each other.

Here the Parable is meant to teach a slightly different lesson. Allah’s mercies are free and open to all, like His rain. But how do men make use of them? The good men take the real spiritual harvest and store the spiritual grain. The men who are in love with the ephemeral are delighted with the ephemeral things. But the wise ones, who practise charity (verse 18 above), but they themselves become sources of light and leading.

Know ye (all), that the life of this world is but play and amusement, (5302) pomp and mutual boasting and multiplying, (in rivalry) among yourselves, riches and children. Here is a similitude: (5303) How rain and the growth which it brings forth, delight (the hearts of) the tillers; (5304) soon it withers; thou wilt see it grow yellow; then it becomes dry and crumbles away. But in the Hereafter is a Penalty severe (for the devotees of wrong). And Forgiveness from Allah and (His) Good Pleasure (for the devotees of Allah... And what is the life of this world, but goods and chattels of deception? (5305)

The righteous are the Companions of Hell-Fire. The evil will now claim same right of kinship or association or proximity with the good in earthly life; but in fact they had been arrogant and had selfishly despised them before. The reply will be: (1) you yourselves chose temptation and evil; (2) when you had power in your earthly life, you hoped for ruin to the good, and perhaps plotted for it; (3) you were warned by prophets of Allah, but you doubted Allah’s very existence and certainly His Mercy and Justice, and the Hereafter; (4) you followed your own lusts and neglected Reason and Truth; (5) you were given plenty of rope, but you followed your mad career, until Judgement came upon you, and now it is too late for repentance.

21. Be ye foremost (in seeking) Forgiveness from your Lord, and a Garden (of Bliss), the width whereof is as the width of heaven and earth, (5306) prepared for those who believe in Allah and His messengers: that is the Grace of Allah, which He bestows on whom (5307) he pleases: and Allah is the Lord of Grace abounding.

22. No misfortune can happen on earth or in your souls (5308) but is recorded in a decree before We bring (5309) it into existence: That is truly easy for Allah.

23. In order that ye may not despair over matters that pass you by, nor exult over favours bestowed upon you. For Allah loveth not any vainglorious boaster,- (5310)

24. Such persons as are (5311) covetous and commend covetousness to men. And if any turn back (5312) bring it into existence: That is truly easy for Allah. The Covetous are particularly insidious, as their avarice and miserliness he shares them with other people, as he considers them not due to his own merits, but as gifts from Allah. (R).

25. We sent aforetime our messengers with Clear Signs and sent down with them the Book and the Balance (5313) (of Right and Wrong), that men may stand forth in justice; and We sent down (5314) Iron, (5315) in which is (material for) mighty war, as well as many benefits for mankind, that Allah may test who it is that will help, Unseen, (5316) Him and His messengers: (5317) For Allah is Full of Strength, Exalted in Might (5318) (and able to enforce His Will).

26. And We sent Noah and Abraham, and established in their line Prophethood and Revelation: and some of them (5319) were on right guidance. But many of them became rebellious transgressors.

27. Then, in their wake, We followed them up with (others of) Our messengers: We sent after them Jesus the son of Mary, and bestowed on him the Gospel; and (others of) Our messengers: We sent after them Jesus son of Mary, and bestowed on him the Gospel; and (5320) (We commanded) only the monasticism: but the Covetous and the Boasters have no place in the Good Pleasure of Allah. The Covetous are particularly insidious, as their avarice and miserliness he shares them with other people, as he considers them not due to his own merits, but as gifts from Allah. (R).

28. The chief characteristic of the teaching in the Gospels is humility and other-worldliness. The first blessings in the Sermon on the Mount are on ‘the poor in spirit’, ‘they that mourn’, and ‘they that are meek’ (Matt. 5:3-5). Christ’s disciples were enjoined to ‘take no thought for the morrow’, and told: ‘Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof’ (Matt. 6:34). They were also commanded ‘that ye resist not evil; but whatsoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also’ (Matt. 5:39). These are fragmentary presents of an imperfect philosophy as seen through monastic eyes. Insofar as they represent pity, sympathy with suffering, and deeds of mercy, they represent the spirit of Christ.

29. But Allah’s Kingdom requires also courage, resistance to evil, the firmness, law, and discipline which will enforce justice among men. It requires to mingle with men, so that they may uphold the standard of Truth, against ills if necessary. These were lost sight of in Monasticism, which was not prescribed by Allah.

30. Allah certainly requires that men shall renounce the idle pleasures of this world, and turn to the Path which leads to Allah’s Good Pleasure. But that does not mean gloomy lives, (‘they that mourn’), nor perpetual and formal prayers in isolation. Allah’s service is done through pure lives in the turmoil of this world. This spirit was lost, or at least not fostered by monastic institutions. On the contrary, a great part of the ‘struggle and striving’ for noble lives was suppressed.

31. Many of them lost true Faith, or had their Faith corrupted by superstitions. But those who continued firm in Faith saw the natural development of Religion in Islam. Their previous belief was not a disadvantage to them, but helped them, because they kept it free from false and selfish prejudices. These are the ones who are further addressed at the beginning of verse 28 below.

32. The corruptions in the Christian Church, the hair-splitting disputes, and mutual strife and hatred of sects have become a scandal by the time that the light of Islam came into the world. The pages of Gibbon’s great History bear witness. Not only had the religion become void of grace, but the lives of the people, priests and laity, had fallen into great depths of degradation. See remarks in my Appendix V, and the general picture in Kingley’s Hypatia.

33. O ye that believe! (5325) Fear Allah, and believe in His Messenger, and He will bestow on you a double (5326) portion of His Mercy: He will provide for you a Light by which ye (5327) shall walk (straight in your path), and He will forgive you (your past):(5328) for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5328 From the context before (see n. 5323 above) and after (see next note), this is held to refer to the Christians and People of the Book who kept their Faith true and undefiled.

5329 The double portion refers to the past and the future. As noted in the last note, this passage is addressed to the Christians and People of the Book, who, when honestly facing the question of the new Revelation in Islam, find in it the fulfillment of previous revelations, and therefore believe in Allah's Messenger Muhammad, and walk by the new Light. Their previous merits will be duly recognised, and they will be treated on fully equal terms in the new Unnaah. This is their double share, not necessarily more in quantity than that of their brethren in Islam who passed through no other gate, but having a twofold aspect.

5330 As this refers to the Christians and the People of the Book, the following saying of Christ in his last days may interest them: "Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you . . . While ye have the light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them". (John, 12:35-36). The light of Christ's Gospel soon departed; his Church was enveloped in darkness; then came the light again, in the fuller light of Islam. And they are asked to believe in the Light, and to walk in it. Cf. also 57:12, and n. 5288 above.

5331 Any wrongs they may have committed through ignorance or misconceptions in their previous religion will be forgiven them, as they have seen the new Light and walk by it.

29. That the People of the Book may know that they have no power (5329) whatever over the Grace of Allah, that (His) Grace is (entirely) in His Hand, to bestow it on whomsoever He wills. For Allah is the Lord of Grace abounding.

5332 Let not any race, or people, or community, or group, believe that they have exclusive possession of Allah's Grace, or that they can influence its grant or its withholding. Allah's Grace is free, and entirely controlled by Him, independently of any pieces and privileged people. He dispenses it according to His own wise and Holy Will and Plan; and to His Grace there is no limit.

58. Al Mujadilah (The Woman who Pleads)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Allah has indeed heard (and accepted) the statement of the woman who pleads(5330) with thee concerning her husband and carries her complaint (in prayer) to Allah. and Allah (always) hears the arguments between both(5331) sides among you; for Allah hears and sees (all things).

5333 Cf. 4:99 and 22:69. Were it not that Allah in His Mercy makes allowances for our weaknesses and the various grades of motives that actuate us, such conduct would be inexcusable. But He prescribes expiation as in the next verse, because He wishes to blot out what is wrong and give us a chance to reform by His forgiveness.

3. But those who divorce their wives by Zihar, then wish to go back(5335) on the words they uttered,- (It is ordained that such a one) should free a slave before they touch each other: Thus are ye admonished to perform: and Allah is well-acquainted with (all) that ye do.

5334 If Zihar were to be ignored as if the words were never uttered, it would mean that men may foolishly resort to it without penalty. It is therefore recognised in respect of the penalty which the man incurs, but safeguards the woman's rights. She can sue for maintenance for herself and her children, but her husband could not claim his conjugal rights. If it was a hasty act and he repented of it, he could not claim his conjugal rights until after the performance of his penalty as provided below. If she loved him, as in Khawlah's case, she could also herself sue for conjugal rights in the legal sense of the term and compel her husband to perform the penalty and resume marital relations.

4. And if any has not (the wherewithal),(5336) he should fast for two months consecutively before they touch each other. But if any is unable to do so, he should feed sixty indigent ones.(5337) This, that ye may show your faith in Allah(5338) and His Messenger. Those are limits (set by) Allah. For those who reject (Him), there is a grievous Penalty.(5339)

5335 Cf. 4:92. The penalty is: to get a slave his freedom, whether it is your own slave or you purchase his freedom from another; if that is not possible, to fast for two months consecutively (in the manner of the Ramadan fast); if that is not possible, to feed sixty poor. See next note.

5336 Cf. 4:92. The penalty is: to get a slave his freedom, whether it is your own slave or you purchase his freedom from another; if that is not possible, to fast for two months consecutively (in the manner of the Ramadan fast); if that is not possible, to feed sixty poor. See next note.

5337 There is a great deal of learned argument among the jurists as to the precise requirements of Canon Law under the term 'feeding' the indigent. For example, it is laid down that half a 'Mudd' measure equivalent to about 9 lbs. of wheat, or a full 'Mudu' of dates or their equivalent in money would fulfil the requirements, a 'Mud' being a measure corresponding roughly to about 9 lbs. of wheat in weight. Others hold that a 'Mudd' measure equivalent to about 2 1/4 lbs. would be sufficient. This would certainly be nearer the daily ration of a man. It is better to take the spirit of the text in its plain simplicity, and say that an indigent man should be given enough to eat for two meals a day. The sixty indigent ones fed for a day would be equivalent to a single individual fed for sixty days, or two for thirty days, and so on. But there is no need to go into minutiae in such matters.

5388 These penalties in the alternative are prescribed, that we may show our repentance and Faith and our renunciation of "iniquity and falsehood" (verse 2 above), whatever our circumstances may be.

5389 It would seem that this refers to the spiritual Penalty in the Hereafter for not complying with the small penalty here prescribed. The next verse would then refer to the bigger 'humiliating Penalty' for 'resistance' to Allah's Law generally.

5. Those who resist Allah and His Messenger will be humbled to dust, as were those before them: for We have already sent down Clear Signs. And the Unbelievers (will have) a humiliating Penalty, -

6. On the Day that Allah will raise them all up (again) and show them the Truth (and meaning) (5340) of their conduct. Allah has reckoned its (value), though they may have forgotten it, for Allah is Witness to all things.

5340 This phrase, "Allah will tell them the truth of their deeds for their doings or their conduct" occurs frequently. See 4:81, n. 762; 5:105, n. 811; 6:69; 9:54; etc.

5341 In this life there is a certain mist or illusion in our spiritual sight. We see things from different angles and despise about them; we hide real motives, and pretend to virtues which we do not possess; others may attribute such virtues to us, and we may come to believe it ourselves; we conceive likes and hatreds on insufficient grounds; we forget what we should remember, and remember what we should forget. Our vision is narrow, and our values are false. On the Day of Account all this will be remedied. Not only will true values be restored, but we shall ourselves see the inwardness of things in our own lives, which we never saw before.

7. Seest thou not that Allah doth know (all) that is in the heavens and on earth? There is not a secret consultation between three, but He makes the fourth - nor between fewer nor more, but He is in their midst, wheresoever they be: In the end will He tell them the truth of their conduct, on the Day of Judgment. For Allah has full knowledge of all things.

5341 Secrecy is a relative and limited term among ourselves. There is nothing hidden or unknown to Allah. Usually secrecy implies fear or distrust, plotting or wrongdoing. But all is open before Allah's sight.

8. Turnest thou not thy sight towards those who were forbidden secret counsels (5342) yet revert to that which they were forbidden (to do)? And they hold secret counsels among themselves, for iniquity and hostility, and disobedience to the Messenger. And when they come to thee, they salute thee, (5343) not as Allah salutes thee, (but in crooked ways): And they say to themselves, "Why does not Allah punish us for our words?" (5344) Enough for them is Hell: In it will they burn, and evil is that destination!

5342 When the Muslim Brotherhood was acquiring strength in Madinah, and the forces of disunion were being disconcerted in open fight against the Messenger of Righteousness, the wicked resorted to duplicity and secret intrigues, in which the ringleaders were the disaffected Jews and the Hypocrites, whose machinations have been frequently referred to in the Qur'an. E.g., see 2:8; 16; and 4:42-4:145.

5343 The salutation of Allah was (and is) "Peace!" But the enemies, who had not the courage to fight openly twirled the words, and by using a word like Salam, which meant 'Death!' or 'Destruction!' instead of Salam (Peace), they thought they were secretly venting their spite and yet apparently using a polite form of salutation. Cf. 2:104, and n. 107, where another similar trick is exposed.

5344 The enemies derisively enjoyed their trick (see last note) according to their own perverted mentality. They asked blithely, "Why does not Allah punish us?" The answer is given; there is a Punishment, far greater than they imagine; it will come in good time; it will be the final Punishment after Judgment; it is delayed in order to give them a chance of repentance and reformation.

9. O ye who believe! When ye hold secret counsel, do it not for iniquity and hostility, and disobedience to the Prophet; but do it for righteousness and self-restraint; (5345) and fear Allah, to Whom ye shall be brought back.

5345 Ordinarily secrecy implies deeds of darkness, something which men have to hide; see the next verse. But there are good deeds which may be concerted and done in secret: e.g., charity, or the prevention of mischief, or the defeat of the dark plots of evil. The determining factor is the motive. Is the man doing some wrong or venting his spite, or trying to disobey a lawful command? Or is he doing some good, which out of modesty or self-renunciation he does not want known, or is he in a righteous cause defeating the machinations of Evil, which may involve great sacrifice of himself?

10. Secret counsels are only (inspired) by the Evil One, in order that he may cause grief to the Believers; but he cannot harm them in the least, except as (5346) Allah permits; and on Allah let the Believers put their trust.

5346 Evil can harm no one who is good, except insofar as (1) there is some question of trial in Allah's Universal Plan, or (2) what appears to be harm may be real good. Nothing happens without Allah's will and permission. And we must always trust Him, and not our cleverness or any adventures circumstances that draw us the least bit from the path of rectitude.

11. O ye who believe! When ye are told to make room in the assemblies, (5347) (spread out and) make room: (ample) room will Allah provide for you. And when ye are told to rise up, (5348) rise up Allah will rise up to (suitable) ranks (and degrees), those of you who believe and who have been granted (mystic) Knowledge. (5349) And Allah is well-acquainted with all ye do.

5347 Even when a great man or a Leader comes into an Assembly, we are not to press forward without discipline, as it causes inconvenience to him and detriment to public business. Nor are we to shut out other people who have equal rights to be in the Assembly. We must spread out, for Allah's earth is spacious, and so are our opportunities.

5348 Rising up is a mark of respect. Just as those who obey soon become worthy of command, so those who honour where honour is due, become themselves worthy of honour, in various degrees according to their capacities. 'Rise up!' may also here imply: 'when the Assembly is dismissed, do not loiter about.'

5349 Faith makes all people equal in the Kingdom of Allah, as regards the essentials of citizenship in the Kingdom. But there is leadership, and rank and degree, joined with greater or less responsibility, and that depends on true knowledge and insight. (810).

12. O ye who believe! When ye consult the Messenger in private, (5350) spend something in charity before your private consultation. That will be best for you, and most conducive to purity (of conduct). (5351) But if ye find not (the wherewithal), Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5350 In the Kingdom of Allah all instruction or consultation is open and free. But human nature is weak. And people want special instruction or private consultation with the Teacher from one of several motives: (1) they may have, or think they have, a special case, which they are not willing to disclose to their brethren in general; (2) they may have some sense of delicacy or dignity, which can only be satisfied by a private interview; (3) they may even be selfish enough to want to monopolise the Teacher's time. These motives are, in an ascending order, worth discouraging; and yet, considering the weakness of human nature, they cannot be reproved to the extent of shutting out their victims from chances of improvement. It is therefore recommended that they spend something in charity for the good of their poorer brethren before they indulge in such weaknesses.

5351 The charity is a sort of expiation for their pardonable weakness. Having made some monetary sacrifice for their poorer brethren they could face them with less shame, and the charity would direct their attention to the need for purifying their motives and conduct. At the same time, this special charity is not made obligatory, lest such persons should be shut out altogether from chances of the higher teaching on account of their pardonable foibles.

13. Is it that ye are afraid of spending sums (5352) in charity before your private consultation (with him)? If, then, ye do not so, and Allah forgives you, then (at least) establish regular prayer; practise (5353) regular
19. Indeed are their deeds. They have made them lose the remembrance of Allah. They must learn the worthlessness of their falsehood. Falsehood is falsehood, much less will they have then—any footing to stand upon. Falsehood is falsehood, think (as now) that some oaths or excuses will save them. But they have not now—Turnest thou not thy attention to those who turn (in friendship) to such as have the Wrath of Allah upon them? They are neither of you nor of them, and they swear to falsehood knowingly.

14. Those who resist Allah and His Messenger will be among those most humiliated. Allah has decreed: "It is I and My messengers who have written Faith (5364) in their hearts, for such He has written Faith (5364) in their hearts, and strengthened them with a spirit (5365) from Himself. And He will admit them to Gardens beneath the Throne of the Most High. For Allah is One full of strength, able to make manifest His will as He pleases. He is the Most High, the Princely One (5367).

21. Allah has decreed: "It is I and My messengers who must prevail": For Allah is One full of strength, able to enforce His Will. Thou wilt not find any people who believe in Allah and the Last Day, loving those who resist Allah and His Messenger, even though they were their fathers or their sons, or their brothers, or their kindred. For such He has written Faith in their hearts, and strengthened them with a spirit from Himself. And He will admit them to Gardens beneath which Rivers flow, to dwell therein (for ever). Allah will be well pleased with them, and they will have with Him. They are the Party of Evil that will achieve Felicity.

15. Allah has prepared for them a severe Penalty: evil indeed are their deeds.

16. They have made their oaths a screen (for their misdeeds): thus they obstruct (men) nor their sons: they will be Companions of the Fire, to dwell therein (for aye)!

17. Of no profit whatever to them, against Allah, will be their riches nor their sons: they will be Companions of the Fire, to dwell therein (for aye)!

18. One day will Allah raise them all up (for Judgment): then will they swear to Him as they swear to you: And they think that they have something (to stand upon). No, indeed! they are but liars!

19. The Evil One has got the better of them: so he has made them lose the remembrance of Allah. They are the Party of the Evil One. Truly, it is the Party of the Evil One that will perish! Men's original nature as created by Allah is good (30:30, and n. 3541). It is because man, in spite of the warnings he has received, allows Evil to get the mastery over him, that man forgets Allah and the divine qualities which Allah gave him. The result of the perversion is that man becomes a partisan of Evil, and as such dooms himself to perdition (see also n. 3555).
59. Al Hashr (The Mustering)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Whatever is in the heavens and on earth, let it declare the Praises and Glory of Allah. For He is the Exalted in Might, the Wise.

2. It is He Who got out the Unbelievers among the People of the Book from their homes at the first gathering (of the forces). Little did ye think that they would get out:(5370) And they thought that their fortresses would defend them from Allah. But the Wrath of Allah Came to them from quarters(5371) from which they little expected (it), and cast terror into their hearts, so that they destroyed their dwellings by their own(5372) hands and the hands of the Believers, take warning, then, O ye with eyes (to see)!

3. And had it not been that Allah had decreed banishment for them,(5373) He would certainly have punished them in this world: And in the Hereafter they shall (certainly) have the Punishment of the Fire.

4. That is because they resisted Allah and His Messenger, and if any one resists Allah,(5374) verily Allah is severe in Punishment.

5. Whether ye cut down (O ye Muslim!) The tender palm-trees, or ye left them standing on their roots, it was(5375) by leave of Allah, and in order that He might(5376) cover with shame the rebellious transgressors.

6. What Allah has bestowed on His Messenger (and taken away) from them - for this ye made no expedition with either cavalry or camelry(5377) but Allah gives power to His messengers over any He pleases: and Allah(5378) has power over all things.

7. What Allah has bestowed(5379) on His Messenger (and taken away) from the people(5380) of the townships,- belongs to Allah, to His Messenger(5381) and to kindred and orphans, the needy and the wayfarer; In order that it may not (merely) make a circuit between the wealthy among you. So take what the Messenger assigns to you, and deny yourselves that which he withdraws from you.(5381-A) And Fear Allah, for Allah is strict in Punishment.

8. The punishment of Banu al Nadir was because in breaking their plighted vow with the Messenger and in actively resisting Allah’s Message and supporting the enemies of that Message, they rebelled against His Holy Will. For such treason and rebellion the punishment is severe, and yet in this case it was seasoned with Mercy.

9. The unnecessary cutting down of fruit trees or destruction of crops, or any wanton destruction whatever in war, is forbidden by the law and practice of Islam. But some destruction may be necessary for putting pressure on the enemy, and to that extent it is allowed. But as far as possible, consistently with that objective of military operations, such trees should not be cut down. Both these principles are in accordance with the Divine Will, and were followed by the Muslims in their expedition.

10. The arrogance of Banu al Nadir had to be humbled, and their power for mischief destroyed.

11. What Allah has bestowed on His Messenger (and taken away) from the people(5380) of the townships,— belongs to Allah, to His Messenger(5381) and to kindred and orphans, the needy and the wayfarer; In order that it may not (merely) make a circuit between the wealthy among you. So take what the Messenger assigns to you, and deny yourselves that which he withdraws from you.(5381-A) And Fear Allah, for Allah is strict in Punishment.
8. (Some part is due) to the indigent Muhajirs,\(^{5382}\) those who were expelled from their homes and their property, while seeking Grace from Allah and (His) Good Pleasure, and aiding Allah and His Messenger. Such are indeed the sincere ones:-

\(^{5382}\) The Muhajirs are those who forsook their homes and property in Makkah in order to assist the Prophet in his migration to Madinah (Hijrah). Their devotion and sincerity were proved beyond doubt by their self-denial, and they were now to be rewarded.

9. But those who before them, had homes\(^{5383}\) (in Medina) and had adopted the Faith,\(^{7}\) show their affection to such as came to them for refuge, and entertain no desire in their hearts for things given to the (latter), but give them preference over themselves, even though poverty was their (own lot). And those saved from the covetousness of their own souls,\(^{7}\) they are the ones that achieve prosperity.

\(^{5383}\) This refers to the Ansar (the Helpers), the people of Madinah, who accepted Islam when it was persecuted in Makkah, and who invited the Prophet to join them and become their Leader in Madinah. The Hijrah was possible because of their good will and their generous hospitality. They entertained the Prophet and all the refugees (Muhajirs) who came with him. The most remarkable ties of full brotherhood were established between individual members of the one group and the other. Until the Unmahan got its own resources, the Helpers regularly gave and the Refugees regularly received. The Helpers counted it a privilege to entertain the Refugees, and even the poor vied with the rich in their spirit of self-sacrifice. When the confiscated land and property of Banu Nadir was divided, and the major portion was assigned to the refugees, there was not the least jealousy on the part of the Helpers. They rejoiced in the good fortune of their brethren. And incidentally, they were themselves relieved of anxiety and responsibility on their behalf.

10. And those who came\(^{(5384)}\) after them say: "Our Lord! Forgive us, and our brethren who came before us into the Faith, and leave not, in our hearts, rancour or jealousy on account of their successes or good fortune.

\(^{(5384)}\) Those that came after them: the immediate meaning would refer to later arrivals in Madinah or later accessions to Islam, compared with the early Muhajirs. But the general meaning would include all future comers into the House of Islam. They pray, not only for themselves, but for all their brethren, and above all, they pray that their hearts may be purified of any desire or tendency to disparage the work or virtues of other Muslims or to feel any jealousy on account of their successes or good fortune.

11. Hast thou not observed the Hypocrites say to their misbelieving brethren among the People of the Book?\(^{(5386)}\) "If ye are expelled, we too will go out with you, and we will never hearken to any one in your affair; and if ye are attacked (in fight) we will help you". But Allah is witness\(^{(5387)}\) that they are indeed liars.

\(^{(5386)}\) An apt simile. Evil tempts man in all sorts of ways, and presents seductive promises and alliances to delude him into the belief that he will be saved from the consequences, The Evil One says, "Deny Allah"; which means not merely denial in words, but denial in acts—disobedience of Allah's Law, deviation from the path of rectitude. When the sinner gets well into the mire, the Evil One says cynically: "How can I help you against Allah? Don't you see I am afraid of Him? All our alliances and understandings were moonshine. You must bear the consequences of your own folly."

\(^{(5387)}\) The Jews of Banu al Nadir had been assured by the Hypocrites of Madinah of their support to their cause. They had thought that their defection from the Prophet's Cause would so weaken that cause that they would save their friends. But they never intended to undertake any act involving self-sacrifice on their part; if they had helped their Jewish friends, it was not likely that they would have succeeded; and if they had actually gone to the fight, they had neither valour nor fervour to support them, and they would have fled ignominiously before the discipline, earnestness, and Faith of the men of Islam.

12. If they are expelled, never will they go out with them; and if they are attacked (in fight), they will never help them; and if they do help them, they will turn their backs; so they will receive no help.\(^{(5388)}\)

\(^{(5388)}\) All hopes founded on iniquity and treachery are vain and illusory. There may be honour among thieves. But there is no honour as between dishonest intriguers, and they are not likely to get any real help from any quarter.

13. Of a truth ye are More feared in their hearts, then Allah.\(^{(5389)}\) This is because they are men devoid of understanding.

\(^{(5389)}\) Being Unbelievers they fear you more than they fear Allah, because your valour they see, but in Allah they do not believe. An alternative construction would yield the meaning: 'Ye Muslims, even if ye are weak numerically, or they may have other seeming advantages, ye are really stronger than they are, because they have a wholesome fear in the minds, and Allah sends such fear into the hearts of wrongdoers!' (R).

14. They will not fight you (even) together, except in fortified towns, or from behind walls.\(^{(5390)}\) Strong is their fighting (spirit) amongst themselves; thou wouldst think they were united, but their hearts are divided:\(^{(5391)}\) that is because they are men devoid of wisdom.

\(^{(5390)}\) They have not sufficient self-confidence or elan to sustain them in a fight except under material advantages or defences. Even if they join forces, they have not sufficient trust in each other to expose themselves to open fighting.

\(^{(5391)}\) It may be that they have a strong fighting spirit among themselves, but they have no Cause to fight for and no common objective to achieve. The Makkan Pagans want to keep their own unjust autocracy; the Madinah Hypocrites wish for their own domination in Madinah; and the Jews want their racial superiority established over the Arabs, of whose growing union and power they are jealous. Their pretended alliance could not stand the strain of either a defeat or a victory. If they had been wise, they would have accepted the Cause of Unity, Faith, and Truth.

15. Like those who lately\(^{(5392)}\) preceded them, they have tasted the evil result of their conduct; and (in the Hereafter there is) for them a grievous Penalty:-

\(^{(5392)}\) The immediate reference was probably to the Jewish goldsmith tribe of Banu Qaynuqa', who were also settled in a fortified township near Madinah. They were also punished and banished for their treachery, about a month after the battle of Badr, in which the Makkan Pagans had suffered a signal defeat, in A.H. 2. Banu al Nadir evidently did not take that lesson to heart. The general meaning is that we must learn to be on our guard against the consequences of treachery and sin. No fortuitous alliances with other men of iniquity will save us.

16. (Their allies deceived them), like the Evil One, when he says to man, "Deny Allah.: but when\(^{(5393)}\) (man) denies Allah, (the Evil One) says, "I am free of thee: I do fear Allah, the Lord of the Worlds!"

\(^{(5393)}\) A human condition. The Trouble is simply to delude him into the belief that he will be saved from the consequences. "How can I help you against Allah? Don't you see I am afraid of Him? All our alliances and understandings were moonshine. You must bear the consequences of your own folly."

17. The end of both will be that they will go into the Fire, dwelling therein for ever. Such is the reward of the wrong-doers.

18. O ye who believe! Fear Allah,\(^{(5394)}\) and let every soul look to what (provision) it has\(^{(5394)}\) sent forth for the morrow. Yea, fear Allah.\(^{(5395)}\) for Allah is well-acquainted with (all) that ye do.

\(^{(5394)}\) The "fear of Allah" is akin to love; for it means the fear of offending Him or doing anything wrong that will forfeit His Good Pleasure. This is Taqwa, which implies self-restraint, guarding ourselves from all sin, wrong, and injustice, and the positive doing of good. See 2:2, and n. 26.

\(^{(5395)}\) The "fear of Allah" is akin to love; for it means the fear of offending Him or doing anything wrong that will forfeit His Good Pleasure. This is Taqwa, which
The repetition emphasises both sides of Tapry: “let your soul fear to do wrong and let it do every act of righteousness; for Allah observes both your inner motives and your acts, and in His scheme of things everything will have its due consequences.

19. And be ye not like those who forgot Allah; (5396) and He made them forget their own souls! Such are the rebellious transgressors!

20. Not equal are the Companions of the Fire and the Companions of the Garden: it is the Companions of the Garden, that will achieve Felicity. (5397)

21. Had We sent down this Qur'an on a mountain, (5398) verily, thou wouldst have seen it humble itself and cleave (5399) asunder for fear of Allah. Such are the similitudes which We propound to men, that they may reflect.

22. Allah is He, than Whom there is no other god; (5400) Who knows (all things) both secret and open; He, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

23. Allah is He, than Whom there is no other god; (5401) the Sovereign, the Holy One, the Source of Peace (and Perfection), the Guardian of Faith, the Preserver of Safety, (5402) the Exalted in Might, the Irresistible, the Supreme: (5403) Glory to Allah. (High is He) above the partners (5404) they attribute to Him.

5396 To forget Allah is to forget the only Eternal Reality. As we are only reflected realities, how can we understand or do justice to or remember ourselves, when we forget the very source of our being? (R).

5397 The others, the Companions of the Fire, will find their lives wasted and nullified. Their capacities will be rendered inert and their wishes will end in futility.

5398 Here follows a passage of great sublimity, summing up the attributes of Allah. In this verse, we have the general attributes, which give us the fundamental basis on which we can form some idea of Allah. We start with the proposition that there is nothing else like Him. We think of His Unity; all the varying and conflicting forces in Creation are controlled by Him and look to Him, and we can never get a true idea of Him unless we understand the meaning of Unity. His knowledge extends to everything seen and unseen, present and future, near and far, in being and not in being; in fact these contrasts, which apply to our knowledge, do not apply to Him. His Grace and His Mercy are unbounded: see 1:1, and n. 19; and unless we realise these, we can have no true conception of our position in the working of His Will and Plan. (R).

5400 Here follows a passage of great sublimity, summing up the attributes of Allah. We think of His Unity; all the varying and conflicting forces in Creation are controlled by Him and look to Him, and we can never get a true idea of Him unless we understand the meaning of Unity. 5401 This phrase is repeated from the last verse in order to lead us to the contemplation of some other attributes of Allah, after we have realised those which form our fundamental conceptions of Allah. See the preceding and the following note.

5402 How can a translator reproduce the sublimity and the comprehensiveness of the magnificent Arabic words, which mean so much in a single symbol? (1) “The Sovereign” in our human language implies the one undisputed authority which is entitled to give commands and to receive obedience, and which in fact receives obedience; the power which enforces law and justice. (2) Human authority may be missused, but in the tide “the Holy One”, we postulate a Being free from all stain or evil, and replete with the highest Purity. (3) “Salam” has not only the idea of Peace as opposed to Conflict, but wholeness as opposed to defects: hence our paraphrase “Source of Peace and Perfection”. (4) Musnun, one who entertains Faith, who gives Faith to others, who is never false to the Faith that others place in him; hence our paraphrase “Guardian of Faith”. (5) “Preserver of Safety”: guarding all from danger, corruption, loss, etc.; the word is used for the Qur’an in 5:48. These are the attributes of kindness and benevolence: in the next note are described the attributes of power.

5403 See last note. (6) Allah is not only good, but He can carry out His Will. (7) And if anything resists or opposes Him, His Will prevails. (8) For He is Supreme, above all things and creatures. Thus we come back to the Unity with which we began in verse 22.

5404 Such being Allah’s attributes of Goodness and Power, how foolish is it of men to worship anything else but Him? Who can approach His glory and goodness?

24. He is Allah, the Creator, (5405) the Evolver, the Bestower of Forms (5406) (or Colours). To Him belong (5407) the Most Beautiful Names: whatever is in the heavens and on earth, doth declare His Praises and Glory: (5408) and He is the Exalted in Might, the Wise.

5405 Allah’s attributes of Goodness and Power having been referred to, we are now told of His creative energy, of which three aspects are here mentioned, as explained in the following note. The point is emphasised that He does not merely create and leave alone; He goes on fashioning, evolving new forms and colours, and sustaining all the energies and capacities which He has put into His Creation, according to various laws which He has established.

5406 The act or acts of creation have various aspects, and the various words used in this connection are summarised in n. 120 to 2:117, as supplemented by n. 916 to 6:94 and n. 923 to 6:98. Khalaqa B a’ ra’ a implies a process of evolving from previously created matter or state; the Author of this process is B a’ r, the Evolver. Sarwara implies giving definite form or colour, so as to make a thing exactly suited to a given end or object: hence the title Musarwar, Bestower of Forms or Colours: for this shows the completion of the visible stage of creation.

5407 Cf. 7:180, n. 1154; and 17:110, n. 2322.

5408 Thus the argument of the Surah is rounded off on the same note as was struck at the beginning, 59:1. The first verse and the last verse of the Surah are the same, except as regards the tense of the verb sabhala. In the first verse it is the optative form of the preterite sabhala: ‘let everything declare the Glory of Allah’. After the illustrations given, the declaratory form of the aorist is appropriate, sabhabhu: ‘everything doth declare the Glory of Allah’.
60. Al Mumtahinah (That Which Examines)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O ye who believe! Take not my enemies and yours as friends (or protectors),- offering them (your) love, even though they have rejected the Truth that has come to you, and have (on the contrary) driven out the Prophet and yourselves (from your homes), (simply) because ye believe in Allah your Lord! If ye have come out to strive in My Way and to seek My Good Pleasure, (take them not as friends), holding secret converse of love (and friendship) with them: for I know full well all that ye conceal and all that ye reveal. And any of you that does this has strayed from the Straight Path.

4.4. 4.4. 4.4. 4.4.
5409 The immediate occasion for this was a secret letter sent by one Hubah, a Muhajir, from Madinah, to the Pagans at Makkah, in most friendly terms, seeking for their protection on behalf of his children and relatives left behind in Makkah. The letter was intercepted, and he confessed the truth. He was forgiven as he told the truth and his motive did not appear to be heretical, but this instruction was given for future guidance. This was shortly before the conquest of Makkah, but the principle is of universal application. You cannot be on terms of secret intimacy with the enemies of your Faith and people, who are persecuting your Faith and seeking to destroy your Faith and you. You may not do so even for the sake of your relatives as it compromises the life and existence of your whole community.

5410 Such was the position of the Muslim community in Madinah after the Hijrah and before the conquest of Makkah.

2. If they were to get (your) better of you, they would behave to you as enemies, and stretch forth their hands and their tongues against you for evil: and they desire that ye should reject the Truth.

5411 Besides the question of your fidelity to your own people, even your own selfish interests require you to beware of secret intrigue with the enemies. They will welcome you as cat's paws. But what will happen when they have used you and got the better of you and your people? Then they will show you their hand. And a heavy band it will be! Not only will they injure you with their hands but with their tongues! The only words they will use for you will be "Traitors to their own"! If they intrigue with you now, it is to pervert you from the path of truth and righteousness and to win you over to their evil ways.

3. Of no profit to you (your) better of you is (the) benefit of your relatives and your children on the Day of Judgment: He will judge for I know full well all that ye conceal and all that ye reveal. The Judgement will be in the hands of Allah, and He has full knowledge of all your overt and hidden acts and motives.

5412 The plea of children and relatives (seen in n. 5409 above) will be no excuse for treachery when the Day of Judgement comes. Your children and family will not save you. The Judgement will be in the hands of Allah, and He has full knowledge of all your overt and hidden acts and motives.

4. There is for you an excellent example (to follow) in Abraham and those with him (5413) when they said to their people: "We are clear of you and of whatever ye worship besides Allah. We have rejected you, and there has arisen, between us and you, enmity (5414) and hatred for ever,- unless ye believe in Allah and Him alone": But not when Abraham said to his father: "I will pray for forgiveness (5415) for thee, though I have no power (to get) aught on thy behalf from Allah." (They prayed): "Our Lord! (5416) In Thee do we trust, and to Thee do we turn in repentance: to Thee is (our) Final Goal.

5413 See 9.114. Abraham was tender-hearted, and loyal to his father and his people. He warned them against idolatry and sin, and prayed for his father, but when his father and his people became open enemies of Allah, Abraham entirely dissociated himself from them, and left his home, his father, his people, and his country. Those with him were his believing wife and nephew Lot and any other Believers that went into exile with him.

5414 The enemies of Allah are enemies of the righteous, and they hate the righteous. Therefore the righteous must cut themselves off eternally from them, unless they repent and come back to Allah. In that case they receive Allah's mercy and are entitled to all the rights of love and brotherhood. This shows that our detestation is for evil, not for men as such so long as there is a chance for repentance. See also verse 7 below. But we must give no chance to Evil for working evil on our Brotherhood at any time.

5415 Refer again to 9.114. n. 1365; and n. 5413 above, Abraham's conduct is not condemned: it was a special case, and is not to be imitated by weaker men, who may fall into sin by thinking too much of sinners.

5416 This prayer indicates what our attitude should be. We must trust to Allah, and not to Allah's enemies to protect and befriend ourselves, our families, or those near and dear to us.

5. "Our Lord! Make us not a (test and) trial (5417) for the Unbelievers, but forgive us, our Lord! for Thou art the Exalted in Might, the Wise."

5417 In n. 1198 to 8:25, I have explained the shades of meaning in the word Fana. In 2:102 Harut and Marut were a trial to test the righteous who trusted in Allah from the unrighteous who resorted to evil and superstition. Here the prayer to Allah is that we should be saved from becoming so weak as to tempt the Unbelievers to try to attack and destroy us.

6. There was indeed in them (5418) an excellent example for you to follow,- for those whose hope is in Allah and in the Last Day. But if any turn away, truly Allah is Free of all (5419) Wants, Worthy of all Praise.

5418 In them: i.e., in their attitude of prayer and reliance on Allah, and of dissociation from evil.

5419 If anyone rejects Allah's Message or Law, the loss is his own. It is not Allah Who needs him or his worship or his sacrifice or his praise. Allah is independent of all wants, and His attributes are inherently deserving of all praise, whether the wicked give such praise or not, in word or deed.

7. It may be that Allah will grant love (and friendship) (5420) between you and those whom ye (now) hold as enemies. For Allah has power (over all things); And Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5420 Apparent religious hatred or enmity or persecution may be due to ignorance or over-zeal in a soul, which Allah will forgive and use eventually in His service, as happened in the case of 'Umar, who was a different man before and after his conversion. As stated in n. 5414 above, we should hate evil, but not men as such.

8. Allah forbids you not, with regard to those who fight you not for (your) Faith nor drive you out of your homes, from dealing kindly and justly (5421) with them: for Allah loveth those who are just.

5421 Even with Unbelievers, unless they are rampant and out to destroy us and our Faith, we should deal kindly and equitably, as is shown by our Prophet's own example.

9. Allah only forbids you, with regard to those who fight you for (your) Faith, and drive you out of your homes, and support (others) in driving you out, from turning to them for friendship and protection. It is such as turn to them (in these circumstances), that do wrong.
10. O ye who believe! When there come to you believing women refugees, (5422) examine (and test) them: Allah knows best as to their Faith: if ye ascertain (5423) that they are Believers, then send them not back to the Unbelievers. They are not lawful (wives) for the Unbelievers, nor are the (Unbelievers) lawful (husbands) for them. But pay the Unbelievers what they have spent (on their dowers), and there will be no blame on you if ye marry them (5424) on payment of their dower to them. But hold not to the guardianship of (5425) unbelieving women: ask for what they have spent on their dowers, and let the (Unbelievers) ask for what they have spent (on the dowers of women who come over to you). Such is the command of Allah. He judges (with justice) between you. And Allah is Full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

5422 Under the treaty of Hudaybiyah [see Introduction to S. 48, paragraph 4, condition (5)], women under guardianship (including married women), who fled from Quraysh in Makkah to the Prophet's protection at Madinah were to be sent back. But before this Ayah was issued, Qurash had already broken the treaty, and some instruction was necessary as to what the Madinah Muslims should do in those circumstances. Muslim women married to Pagan husbands in Makkah were oppressed for their Faith, and some of them came to Madinah as refugees. After this, they were not to be returned to the custody of their Pagan husbands at Makkah, as the marriage of believing women with non-Muslims was held to be dissolved if the husbands did not accept Islam. But in order to give no suspicion to the Pagans that they were badly treated as they lost the dower they had given on marriage, that dower was to be repaid to the husbands. Thus helpless women refugees were to be protected at the cost of the Muslims.

5423 The condition was that they should be Muslim women. How were the Muslims to know? A non-Muslim woman, in order to escape from her lawful guardians in Makkah, might pretend that she was a Muslim. The true state of her mind and heart would be known to Allah alone. But if the Muslims, on an examination of the woman, found that she professed Islam, she was to have protection. The examination would be directed (among other things) to the points mentioned in verse 12 below.

5424 As the marriage was held to be dissolved (see n. 5422 above), there was no bar to the remarriage of the refugee Muslim woman with a Muslim man on the payment of the usual dower to her.

5425 Unbelieving women in a Muslim society would only be a clog and a handicap. There would be neither happiness for them, nor could they condone in any way to the healthy life of the society in which they lived as aliens. They were to be sent away, as their marriage was held to be dissolved; and the dowers paid to them were to be demanded from the guardians to whom they were sent back, just as in the contrary case the dowers of believing women were to be paid back to their Pagan ex-husbands (n. 5422 above).

11. And if any of your wives deserts you to the Unbelievers, (5426) and ye have an accession (by the coming over of a woman from the other side), then pay to those whose wives have deserted the equivalent of what they had spent (on their dower). And fear Allah, in Whom ye believe.

5426 A very unlikely contingency, considering how much better position the women occupied in Islam than under Pagan custom. But all contingencies have to be provided for equitably in legislation. If a woman went over to the Pagans, her dower would be recoverable from the Pagans and payable to the deserted husband. If a woman came over from the Pagans, her dower would be payable to the Pagans. Assuming that the two dowers were equal, the one would be set off against the other as between the two communities; but within the communities the deserted individual would be compensated by the individual who gains a wife. If the dowers were unequal, the balance would be recoverable as between the communities, and the adjustment would then be made as between the individuals. In practice the common Fund compensated the deserted husband in anticipation of any necessary adjustments.

12. O Prophet! (5427) When believing women come to thee to take the oath of fealty to thee, that they will not associate in worship any other thing whatever with Allah, that they will not steal, that they will not commit adultery (or fornication), that they will not kill their children, that they will not utter slander, intentionally forging Falsehood, (5427-A) and that they will not disobey thee in any just matter, then do thou receive their fealty, and pray to Allah (5428) for the forgiveness (of their sins): for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5427 Now come directions as to the points on which women entering Islam should pledge themselves. Similar points apply to men, but here the question is about women, and especially such as were likely, in those early days of Islam, to come from Pagan society into Muslim society in the conditions discussed in notes 5422 and 5423 above. A pledge on these points would search out their real motives; (1) to worship none but Allah; (2) not to steal; (3) not to indulge in sex outside the marriage tie; (4) not to commit infanticide; (the Pagan Arabs were prone to female infanticide); (5) not to indulge in slander or scandal; and (6) generally, to obey locally the law and principles of Islam. The last was a comprehensive and sufficient phrase, but it was good to indicate also the special points to which attention was to be directed in those special circumstances. Obedience was, of course, to be in all things just and reasonable. Islam requires strict discipline but not slavishness. (R).

5427-A "That they will not utter slander, intentionally forging falsehood": Literally, "... nor produce any lie that they have devised between their hands and feet". These words mean that they should not falsely attribute the paternity of their illegitimate children to their lawful husbands thereby adding to the monstrous sin of their original sin of infidelity. [Eds.]

5428 If pledges are sincerely given for future conduct, admission to Islam is open.

13. O ye who believe! Turn not (for friendship) to people on whom is the Wrath of Allah, (5429) or the Hereafter they are already in despair, just as the Unbelievers are in despair about those (buried) in graves. (5430)

5429 So we come back to the theme with which we started in this Surah: that we should not turn for friendship and intimacy to those who break Allah's Law and are outlaws in Allah's Kingdom. The various phases of this question, and the legitimate qualifications, have already been mentioned, and the argument is here rounded off. Cf. also 58:14.

5430 The Unbelievers, who do not believe in a Future Life, can therefore have no hope beyond this life. Miserable indeed is this life to them; for the ills of this life are outlaws in Allah's Kingdom. The various phases of this question, and the legitimate qualifications, have already been mentioned, and the argument is here rounded off. Cf. also 58:14.
61. Al Saff (The Battle Array)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Whatever is\(^{(5431)}\) in the heavens and on earth, let it declare the Praises and Glory of Allah. For He is the Exalted in Might, the Wise.

\(^{5431}\) This verse is identical with \(39:1\). The latter illustrated the theme of the wonderful working of Allah's providence in defeating the wiles of His enemies. Here the same theme is illustrated by showing the need of unshaken discipline if we are to receive the help of Allah.

2. O ye who believe! Why say ye that which ye do not?\(^{(5432)}\)

\(^{5432}\) At Uhud there was some disobedience and therefore breach of discipline. People had talked much, but had failed to back up their resolutions in words with firmness in action. See \(n. 442\) to \(3:121\). But on all occasions when men's deeds are not commensurate with their words, their conduct is odious in the sight of Allah, and it is only due to Allah's Mercy if they are saved from disaster.

3. Grievously odious is it in the sight of Allah that ye say that which ye do not.

4. Truly Allah loves those who fight in His Cause in battle array, as if\(^{(5433)}\) they were a solid cemented structure.

\(^{5433}\) A battle array, in which a large number of men stand, march, or hold together against assault as if they were a solid wall, is a striking example of order, discipline, cohesion, and courage. A solid cemented structure is even a better image than the usual "solid wall" as the structure or building implies a more diversified organisation held together in unity and strength, each part contributing strength in its own way, and the whole held together not like a mass but like a living organism. Cf. also \(37:1\) and \(n. 4091\).

5. And remember, Moses said\(^{(5434)}\) to his people: "O my people! why do ye vex and insult me, though ye know that I am the messenger of Allah (sent) to you?" Then when they went wrong,\(^{(5435)}\) Allah let their hearts go wrong. For Allah guides not those who are rebellious transgressors.

\(^{5434}\) The people of Moses often rebelled against him, vexed his spirit, and insulted him. See \(33:69\), \(n. 3774\), and (in the Old Testament) Num 12:1-15. They did not through ignorance, but from a selfish, perverse, and rebellious spirit, for which they received punishment. The Univals of Islam should remember and take note of it, and should avoid any deviation from the Law and Will of Allah.

\(^{5435}\) The sinner's own will deviates, i.e., goes off from the right way, and he does wrong. That means that he shuts off Allah's grace, Allah then, after the sinner's repeated rebellion, withdraws the protecting Grace from him, and the sinner's heart is tainted: there is 'a disease in his heart', which is the centre of his being: his spiritual state is ruined. Allah's guidance is withdrawn from him.

6. And remember, Jesus, the son of Mary, said: "O Children of Israel! I am the messenger of Allah (sent) to you,\(^{(5436)}\) confirming\(^{(5437)}\) the Law (which came) before me, and giving Glad Tidings of a Messenger to come after me, whose name shall be Ahmad."\(^{(5438)}\) But when he came to them with Clear Signs,\(^{(5439)}\) they said, "this is evident sorcery!"

\(^{5436}\) The mission of Jesus was to his own people, the Jews. Cf. \(Matt. 10:5-6\). See also \(Matt. 15:24\): "I am not sent but to the lost sheep of Israel." Also \(Matt. 15:26\): "It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to the dogs."

\(^{5437}\) Cf. \(Matt. 3:17\).

\(^{5438}\) "Ahmad", or "Muhammad", the Praised One, is almost a translation of the Greek word \textit{Prophetos}. In the present Gospel of John, \(14:16\), \(15:20\), and \(16:17\), the word \"Comforter\" in the English version is for the Greek word \textit{Paracletos}, which means \"Advocate\", \"one called to the help of another, a kind friend\", rather than \"Comforter\". Our doctors contend that \textit{Paracletos} is a corrupt reading for \textit{Prophetos}, and that in their original saying of Jesus there was a prophecy of our Prophet \textit{Ahmad} by name. Even if we read \textit{Paracletos}, it would apply to the Prophet, who is \"a Mercy for all creatures\" (\textit{21:107}) and \"most kind and merciful to the Believers\" (\textit{9:128}). See also \(n. 416\) to \(3:81\).

\(^{5439}\) Our Prophet was foretold in many ways; and when he came, he showed forth many Clear Signs, for his whole life from beginning to end was one vast miracle. He fought and won against odds. Without learning from men he taught the highest wisdom. He melted hearts that were hard, and he strengthened hearts that were tender and required support. In all his sayings and doings men of discernment could see the working of Allah's hand; yet the ignorant Unbelievers called it all Sorcery!Scattered that unreal which became the most solid fact of human history!

7. Who doth greater wrong than one who invents falsehood against Allah, even as he is being invited\(^{(5440)}\) to Islam? And Allah guides not those who do wrong.

\(^{5440}\) It is wrong in any case to uphold falsehoods and debasing superstitions, but it is doubly wrong when these are put forward in rivalry or opposition to the light of eternal Unity and Harmony which is Islam. See \(C. 7:11\). Allah sends His guidance freely, but withdraws His Grace from those who willfully do wrong.

8. Their intention is to extinguish Allah's Light (by blowing) with their mouths:\(^{(5441)}\) But Allah will complete (the revelation of) His Light, even though the Unbelievers may detest it.

\(^{5441}\) Allah's Light is unquenchable. A foolish, ignorant person who thinks of extinguishing it is like a rustic who wants to blow out electric light as he might blow out a rush candle! \textit{With their mouths also} implies the babble and cackle of Ignorance against Allah's Truth. The more the foolish ones try to quench Allah's Light, the clearer it shines, to shame them!

9. It is He Who has sent His Messenger with Guidance and the Religion of Truth, that he may proclaim it over all religion,\(^{(5442)}\) even though the Pagans may detest it.

\(^{5442}\) Over all religion: in the singular: not over all other religions, in the plural. There is really only one true Religion, the \textit{Message of Allah}, submission to the Will of Allah: this is called Islam. It was the religion preached by Moses and Jesus; it was the religion of Abraham, Noah, and all the prophets, by whatever name it may be called. If people corrupt that pure light, and call their religions by different names, we must bear with them, and we may allow the names for convenience. But Truth must prevail over all. See also \(9:33\), \(n. 1290\), and \(48:28\), \(n. 4912\).

10. O ye who believe! Shall I lead you to a bargain\(^{(5443)}\) that will save you from a grievous Penalty?

\(^{5443}\) \textit{Tijarah}: bargain, trade, traffic, transaction: something given or done, in return for something which we desire to get. What we give or do on our part is described in verse 11 below, and what we get is described in verse 12. It is truly a wonderful bargain: what we are asked to give is so little; what we are promised in return is so much. There comes Allah's unbounded Bounty and Munificence. Cf. also \(9:111\), where the bargain is stated in another way.

11. That ye believe in Allah and His Messenger, and that ye strive (your utmost) in the Cause of Allah, with your property and your persons: That will be best for you, if ye but knew!\(^{(5444)}\)

\(^{5444}\) It would indeed be a great and wonderful bargain to give so little and get so much, if we only knew and understood the comparative value of things!
12. He will forgive you your sins, and admit you to Gardens beneath which Rivers flow, and to beautiful mansions in Gardens of Eternity: that is indeed the Supreme Achievement.

13. And another (favour will He bestow,) which ye(5445) do love,- help from Allah and a speedy victory. So give the Glad Tidings to the Believers.

5443 The supreme Achievement has already been mentioned, viz: the Gardens of Eternity in the Presence of Allah. But lest that seem too remote or abstract for the understanding of men not spiritually advanced, another type or symbol or metaphor is mentioned which the men who first heard this Message could at once understand and appreciate—“which ye do love”: viz: Help and Victory. For all striving in a righteous Cause we get Allah's help and however much the odds against us may be, we are sure of victory with Allah's help. But all life is a striving or struggle—the spiritual life even more than any other; and the final victory there is the same as the Garden of Eternity.

14. O ye who believe! Be ye helpers of Allah:(5446) As said Jesus the son of Mary,(5447) to the Disciples, "Who will be my helpers to (the work of) Allah." Said the disciples, "We are Allah's helpers!" then a portion of the Children of Israel believed, and a portion disbelieved: But we gave power to those who believed, against their enemies, and they became the ones that prevailed. (5448)

62. Al Jumu’ah (Friday)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Whatever is in the heavens and on earth, doth declare(5449) the Praises and Glory of Allah,- the Sovereign,(5450) the Holy One, the Exalted in Might, the Wise.

5449 See n. 5,408 to 39:24, where I have explained the difference in signification between sabibahu and rasabibahu. The latter form is used here to express an actual fact. Everything declares the Praises and Glory of Allah, because Allah's mercies extend to all His creatures; He sends His Revelation for the benefit of the ignorant and unlettered as well as for those who have learning in their midst, especially as the latter are apt, by the very weight of their ponderous learning, to miss the real point and spirit of Allah's Message.

5450 See n. 39:23, and n. 5,402. Here we have two of the divine attributes repeated from 39:23 and two from the end of 39:24, implying a reminiscence of all the beautiful divine attributes mentioned in that passage.

2. It is He Who has sent amongst the Unlettered(5451) a messenger from among themselves, to rehearse to them His Signs,(5452) to sanctify them, and to instruct them in Scripture(5453) and Wisdom,—although(5454) they had been, before, in manifest error—

5451 The Unlettered: as applied to a people, it refers to the Arabs, in comparison with the People of the Book, who had a longer tradition of learning, but whose failure is referred to in verse 5 below. As applied to individuals, it means that Allah's Revelation is for the benefit of all men, whether they have worldly learning or not.

5452 His Signs: Allah's wonderful Signs in His Creation and in His ordering of the world. It may include the Verses of the Qur'an, but they are more specifically referred to as "Scripture" in the next line but one.

5453 Cf. 2:129, and n. 129. Read again the attributes in the last verse. Allah is full Sovereign, and therefore cares for all His subjects, including the meanest and most ignorant, and sends His prophets or messengers to them. He is the Holy One, and therefore purifies and sanctifies those who were steeped in superstition and wickedness. He is Exalted in Power, and therefore He can confer all these benefits on the most unlikely people (verse 3), and no one can stay His hand. He is wise, and therefore He instructs in wisdom, both through written Scriptures, and in other ways, e.g., by means of a knowledge of life and its laws, and an understanding of His wonderful universe.

5454 Previous ignorance or error is no bar to a person or nation receiving the blessings of Allah's revelation, provided such person or nation has the will to come to Allah and the capacity to bear His Message. For an instance of incapacity through arrogance, see verse 6 below. For some remarks on the Arabs as vehicles of the new Light, see. C. 12-15.

3. As well as (to confer all these benefits upon) others of them,(5455) who have not already joined them: And He is Exalted in Might, Wise.

5455 Others of them: refers to other persons or peoples who may be ignorant, i.e., other than those among whom the Prophet came as a messenger. In other words his Message is for his Arab people and his non-Arab contemporaries as well as those who live in other ages, and have no personal contact with him or his Companions.
4. Such is the Bounty of Allah, which He bestows on whom He will:\((5456)\) and Allah is the Lord of the highest bounty.

\((5456)\) That is, according to His wise Will and Plan, and also as a result of His unbounded generosity to all.

5. The similitude of those who were charged with the (obligations of the) Mosaic Law, but who subsequently failed in those (obligations), is that of a donkey\((5457)\) which carries huge tomes (but understands them not). Evil is the similitude of people who falsify the Signs of Allah, and Allah guides not people who do wrong.

\((5457)\) The Children of Israel were chosen as special vehicles for Allah's Message early in history. When their descendants corrupted the Message and became guilty of all abominations against which prophets like Isaiah inveighed with such zeal and fire, they merely became like beasts of burden that carry learning and wisdom on their backs but do not understand or profit by it.

6. Say: "O ye that stand on Judaism!\((5458)\) If ye think that ye are friends to Allah, to the exclusion of (other) men, then express your desire for Death, if ye are truthful!"\((5459)\)

\((5458)\) Standing on Judaism is a very different thing from following the Law and Will of Allah. An arrogant claim to be a chosen people, to be the exclusive possessors of divine teaching, to be exempt from any punishment for breaches of the divine law, \((\text{Ctf. } 2:88)\), is presumptuous blasphemy. It may be Judaism, but it is not in the spirit of Moses.

\((5459)\) \(2:94-96.\) If they claimed to be special friends of Allah, why do they not eagerly desire death, which would bring them nearer to Allah? But of all people, they are the most tenacious of this life and the good things of this life! And they know that their grasping selfish lives have run up a score of sin against them, which will meet its recompense.

7. But never will they express their desire (for Death), because of the (deeds) their hands have sent on before them! and Allah knows well those that do wrong!

8. Say: "The Death from which ye flee will truly overtake you: then will ye be sent back to the Knower of things secret and open: and He will tell you (the truth\((5460)\) of) the things that ye did!"

\((5460)\) Before Allah's Judgement Seat, when Judgement is established, we shall see the full inwardness of all deeds in this world. The veil of illusion and delusion will be torn off. All our secret motives will be laid bare. The results of all our little plots and plans and their reactions on our spiritual and eternal welfare will be clearly visible to us. All make-believe will disappear.

9. O ye who believe! When the call is proclaimed to prayer on Friday\((5461)\) (the Day of Assembly), hasten earnestly to the Remembrance of Allah, and leave off business (and traffic):\((5462)\) That is best for you if ye but knew!\((5463)\)

\((5461)\) Friday, is primarily the Day of Assembly, the weekly meeting of the Congregation, when we show our unity by sharing in common public worship, preceded by a Khutbah, in which the Imam (or Leader) reviews the week's spiritual life of the Community and offers advice and exhortation on holy living. Notice the gradations of social contact for Muslims if they followed the wise ordinances of their Faith. (1) Each individual remembers Allah for himself or herself five or more times everyday in the home or place of business, or local mosque, or open air; as the case may be. (2) On Friday in every week there is a local meeting in the central mosque of each local centre-it may be a village, or town, or ward of a big city. (3) At the two Ihs every year, there is a large local area meeting in one centre. (4) Once at least in a lifetime, where possible, a Muslim shares in the vast international assemblage of the world, in the centre of Islam, at the Makkah Pilgrimage. A happy combination of decentralisation and centralisation, of individual liberty and collective meeting, and contact at various stages or grades. The mechanical part of this ordinance is easy to carry out. Are we carrying out the more difficult part? the spirit of unity, brotherhood, mutual consultation, and collective understanding and action? \(\text{Iro.}\)

\((5462)\) The idea behind the Muslim weekly 'Day of Assembly' is different from that behind the Jewish Sabbath (Saturday) or the Christian Sunday. The Jewish Sabbath is primarily a commemoration of Allah's ending His work and resting on the seventh day \((\text{Gen. } 2:2; \text{Exod. } 20:11)\): we are taught that Allah needs no rest, nor does He feel fatigue \((2:255)\). The Jewish command forbids work on that day but says nothing about worship or prayer \((\text{Exod. } 20:10)\); our ordinance lays chief stress on the remembrance of Allah, Jewish formalism went so far as to kill the spirit of the sabbath, and call forth the protest of Jesus: 'the sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath' \((\text{Mark, } 2:27)\). But the Christian Church, although it has changed the day from Saturday to Sunday, has inherited the Jewish spirit; witness the Scottish Sabbath; except insofar as it has been secularised. Our teaching says: 'When the time for \(Jumu'ah\) Prayer comes, close your business and answer the summons locally and earnestly, meet earnestly, pray, consult and learn by social contact when the meeting is over, scatter and go about your business'.

\((5463)\) The immediate and temporal worldly gain may be the ultimate and spiritual loss, and nay versa.

10. And when the Prayer is finished, then may ye disperse through the land, and seek of the Bounty of Allah. and celebrate the Praises of Allah often (and without stint): that ye may prosper.\((5464)\)

\((5464)\) Prosperity is not to be measured by wealth or worldly gains. There is a higher prosperity the health of the mind and the spirit.

11. But when they see some bargain or some amusement, they disperse headlong to it, and leave thee standing. Say: "The (blessing) from the Presence of Allah is better than any amusement or bargain! and Allah is the Best to provide (for all needs)."\((5465)\)

\((5465)\) Do not be distracted by the craze for amusement or gain. If you lead a righteous and sober life, Allah will provide for you in all senses, better than any provision you can possibly think of.
63. Al Munafiqun (The Hypocrites)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. When the Hypocrites (5466) come to thee, they say, "We bear witness that thou art indeed the Messenger of Allah." Yea, Allah knoweth that thou art indeed His Messenger, and Allah beareth witness that the Hypocrites are indeed liars.

5466 The hypocrite element, if one exists in any society, is a source of weakness and a danger to its health and its very existence. When the Prophet came to Madinah in Hijrah, his arrival was welcome to all the patriotic citizens: it not only united them in common life and healed their old differences, but it brought honour and light to them in the person of the greatest living Teacher of Truth. But there were some baser elements filled with envy. Such hopes as they had entertained of attaining power and leadership by playing on the animosities of the factions were now dashed to the ground. They now began to work underground. For fear of the majority they dared not oppose the new growing Brotherhood of Righteousness. They tried to undermine it by intriguing secretly with its enemies and swearing openly its loyalty to the Prophet. They were thoroughly unmasked and discredited at the battle of Uhud. See 3:167, and n. 476.

2. They have made their oaths (5467) a screen (for their misdeeds): thus they obstruct (men) from the Path of Allah. truly evil are their deeds.

5467 Cf. 58:16 and n. 5357. When they say that Muhammad is the Prophet of Allah, it is Allah’s own truth: but what is in their hearts? Nothing but falsehood.

3. That is because they believed, then they rejected Faith: So a seal was set (5468) on their hearts: therefore they understand not.

5468 Cf. 2:27. Their double-dealing has fogged their understanding. In Arabic the heart is taken to be the seat of understanding as well as of affection.

4. When thou lookest at them, their exteriors (5469) please thee; and when they speak, thou listest to their words. They are as (worthless as hollow) pieces of timber propped up (5470) (unable to stand on their own). They think that every cry is against them. (5471) They are the enemies; so beware of them. The curse of Allah be on them! How are they deluded (away from the Truth)!

5469 The Hypocrites at all times are plausible people, and so were the Hypocrites of Madinah. They present a fine exterior; they dress well; they can usually afford fine equipages; they try to win the confidence of everyone, as they have no scruples in telling lies, and apparently expressing agreement with everyone. Their words are fair-spoken, and as truth does not check their tongues, their flattery and sincerity, nothing that they say or do is worth anything.

5470 Good timber is strong in itself and can support roofs and buildings. Hollow timber is useless, and has to be propped up against other things. The Hypocrites are like rotten timber. They have no firm character themselves, and for others they are unsafe props to rely upon.

5471 Their conscience always troubles them. If any cry is raised, they immediately get alarmed, and think it is against themselves. Such men are worse than open enemies.

5. And when it is said to them, "Come, the Messenger of Allah will pray for your (5472) forgiveness", they turn aside their heads, and thou wouldst see them turning away their faces in arrogance.

5472 Even hypocrisy like other sins can be forgiven by repentance and amendment, provided there is a will and earnest desire to turn from evil and seek the Grace of Allah. In this case there was none.

6. It is equal to them whether thou pray for their forgiveness or not. (5473) Allah will not forgive them. Truly Allah guides not rebellious transgressors.

5473 The stiff-necked rejecters of Allah’s Truth have made a wide gulf between themselves and Allah’s Grace. No prayer for them will help them. In the attitude of rebellion and transgression they cannot obtain Allah’s forgiveness.

7. They are the ones who say, " Spend nothing on those who are with Allah’s Messenger, (5474) to the end that they may disperse (and quit Medina)." But to Allah belong the treasures of the heavens and the earth; but the Hypocrites understand not.

5474 The Muhajirun, who had come to be with the Prophet in Madinah in exile, were received, helped, entertained by the Ansar (Helpers). The Hypocrites in Madinah did not like this, and tried in unfeeling ways to dissuade the good folk of Madinah from doing all they could for the exiles. But their tricks did not succeed. The small Muslim community grew from strength to strength until they were able to stand on their own resources and greatly to augment the resources of their hosts as well. It is goodness that produces strength and prosperity, and Allah holds the keys of the treasures of man’s well-being. It is not for Allah’s enemies to dole out or withhold the unbounded treasures of Allah.

8. They say, "If we (5475) return to Medina, surely the more honourable (element) will expel therefrom the meaner." But honour belongs to Allah and His Messenger, and to the Believers; but the Hypocrites know not.

5475 Words of this import were spoken by ‘Abd Allah Ibn Ubayy, the leader of the Madinah Hypocrites to or about the Exiles, in the course of the expedition against the Banu Mustaliq in the fourth or fifth year of the Hijrah. He had hopes of leadership which were disappointed by the coming to Madinah of a man far greater than he. So he arrogated to himself and his clique the title of “the more honourable (element)” and slightingly spoke of the Emigrants as the “meaner” element that had intruded from outside.

9. O ye who believe! Let not your riches or your children divert you from the remembrance of Allah. If any act thus, the loss is their own. (5476)

5476 Riches and human resources of all kinds are but fleeting sources of enjoyment. They should not turn away the good man from his devotion to Allah. "Remembrance of Allah" includes every act of service and goodness, every kind thought and kind deed, for this is the service and sacrifice which Allah requires of us. If we fail in this, the loss is our own, not anyone else’s: for it stunts our own spiritual growth.

10. and spend something (in charity) out of the substance (5477) which We have bestowed on you, before Death should come to any of you and he should say, "O my Lord! why didst Thou not give me respite for a little while? I should then have given (largely) in charity, and I should have been one of the doers of good".

5477 "Substance" or "Sustenance", in every sense, literal and metaphorical. Whatever good we enjoy comes from Allah, and it is our duty to use some of it in the service of others, for that is Charity and the service of Allah. Every unselfish act is Charity. And we must not postpone our good resolutions to the future. Death may come suddenly on us, and we cannot then be allowed to plead for more time. Every present moment calls urgently for its good deed.

11. But to no soul will Allah grant respite (5478) when the time appointed (for it) has come; and Allah is well acquainted with (all) that ye do.

5478 When our limited period of probation is over, we cannot justly ask for more time, nor will more time be given to us then. Procrastination is itself a fault, and Allah knows every hidden thought and motive in our minds.
64. Al Taghabun (The Mutual Loss and Gain)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Whatever is in the heavens and on earth, doth declare (5479) the Praises and Glory of Allah. to Him belongs dominion, and to Him belongs praise: and He has power over all things.

2. It is He Who has created you; and of you are some that are Unbelievers, and some (5480) that are Believers: and Allah sees well all that ye do.

3. He has created the heavens and the earth in just proportions, and has given you shape, (5481) and made your shapes beautiful; and to Him is the final Goal. (5482)

4. He knows what is in the heavens and on earth; and He knows what (5483) ye conceal and what ye reveal: yea, Allah knows well the (secrets) of (all) hearts.

5. Has not the story reached you, of those who rejected Faith aforetime? So they tasted the evil result of their conduct; (5484) and they have a grievous Penalty.

6. That was because there came to them messengers with Clear Signs, but they said: "Shall (mere) human beings (5485) direct us?" So they rejected (the Message) and turned away. But Allah can do without (them); and Allah is (5486) free of all needs, worthy of all praise.

7. The Unbelievers think that they will not be raised up (for Judgment). (5487) Say: "Yea, By my Lord, Ye shall surely be raised up: then shall ye be told (the truth) of all that ye did. And that is easy for Allah."

8. Believe, therefore, in Allah and His Messenger, and in the Light which We (5488) have sent down. And Allah is well acquainted with all that ye do.

9. The Day that He assembles you (all) for a Day of Assembly,- that will be a Day of mutual loss (5489) and gain (among you), and those who believe in Allah and work righteousness,- He will remove from them (5490) their ills, and He will admit them to Gardens beneath which Rivers flow, to dwell therein for ever: that will be the Supreme Achievement.

10. But those who reject Faith and treat Our Signs as falsehoods, they will be Companions of the Fire, to dwell therein for aye: and evil is that Goal.

11. No kind of calamity can occur, except by the leave of Allah. and if anyone believes (5492) in Allah, (Allah) guides his heart (aright): for Allah knows all things.

---

Notes:

5479: Cf. 62:1, and n. 3449. All things by their very existence proclaim the Glory and the Praises of Allah. He has dominion over all things, but He uses His dominion for just and praiseworthy ends. He has power over all things; therefore He can combine justice with mercy, and His Plan and Purpose cannot be frustrated by the existence of Evil along with Good in His Kingdom.

5480: It is not that He does not see Rebellion and Evil, nor that He cannot punish them. He created all things pure and good, and if evil crept in by the grant of a limited free will by Him, it is not unforeseen; it is in His wise and universal Plan, for giving man a chance of rising higher and ever higher.

5481: Cf. 49:64, and n. 7111 and n. 996. In addition to the beauty and grandeur of all God's Creation, He has endowed man with special aptitudes, faculties and capacities, and special excellencies which raise him at his best to the position of Allah's vicegerent on earth. "Beautiful" also includes the idea of 'adapted to the ends for which they were created'.

5482: The final Goal: not only of mankind, but of all things created, whether material or in the realm of ideas and events. All things return to Allah: as they derive their origin from Him, so is the return or destination of all of them to Allah.

5483: Not only does He create and develop and sustain all things; but all thoughts, motives, feelings, ideas, and events are known to Him. Therefore we must not imagine that, if some evil seems to go unpunished, it is not known to Him or has escaped His notice. His Plan is wise and good in its fullest compass: sometimes we do not see its wisdom and goodness because we see only a broken fragment of it, as our own intelligence is narrow.

5484: "The evil result of their conduct" begins to manifest itself in this very life, either in external events, or in internal restlessness and agoniues of conscience. But its culminating force will be seen in the "grievous Penalty" of the Hereafter.

5485: This is referred to in a more expanded form in 14:9-11.

5486: Their obedience is not necessary to Allah, nor will their rejection of Truth affect the validity of Truth or injure the progress of Truth. Allah is free of all needs or dependence on any circumstance whatever. He sends His Message for the good of mankind, and it is man who suffers by ignoring, rejecting, or opposing it.

5487: In other words, they think that there is no future life, and no responsibility for our actions beyond what we see in the present life. If that were true, all the profits of fraud and nugacity, which remain unpunished in this world—and many do remain unpunished in this world—will remain with the wicked; and all the losses and pain suffered by integrity and righteousness, if they find no compensation in this life, will never find any compensation. This would be an odd result in a world of justice. We are taught that this is not true—that it is certain that the balance will be redressed in a better future world; that there will be a resurrection of what we call the dead; and that on that occasion the full import of all we did will be made plain to us, and our moral and spiritual responsibility will be fully enforced.

5489: The final Goal: only not of mankind, but of all things created, whether material or in the realm of ideas and events. All things return to Allah: as they derive their origin from Him, so is the return or destination of all of them to Allah.

5490: Remove from them their ills. The ills may be sins, faults, mistakes, or evil tendencies; Allah will of His grace cover them up, and blot out the account against them; or they may be sorrows, sufferings, or disappointments: Allah may even change the evil of such persons into good, their apparent calamities into opportunities for spiritual advancement; 2:257. This is because of their sincere Faith as evidenced by their repentance and amendment.

5492: "Gardens" the symbol of the highest Bliss, see 2:25, n. 44; 13:35; 47:15. (R).
duty is to find out our own shortcomings and remedy them. If we try to do so in all sincerity of heart, Allah will give us guidance.

12. So obey Allah, and obey His Messenger. But if ye turn back, the duty of Our Messenger is but to proclaim (the Message) (5493) clearly and openly.

5493 The Messenger comes to guide and teach, not to force and compel. The Messenger's teaching is clear and unambiguous, and it is open and free to all. Cf. also 5:92.

13. Allah. There is no god but He: and on Allah, therefore, let the Believers put their trust.

14. O ye who believe! Truly, among your wives and your children are (some that are) enemies to (5494) yourselves: so beware of them! But if ye forgive and overlook,(5495) and cover up (their faults), verily Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5494 In some cases the demand of families, i.e., wife and children may conflict with a man's moral and spiritual convictions and duties. In such cases he must guard against the abandonment of his convictions, duties, and ideals to their requests or desires. But he must not treat them harshly. He must make reasonable provision for them, and if they persist in opposing his clear duties and convictions, he must forgive them and not expose them to shame or ridicule, while at the same time holding on to his clear duty. Such cases occurred when godly men undertook exile from their native city of Makkah to follow the Faith in Madinah. In some cases their families murmured, but all came right in the end.

5495 For the different words for “forgiveness” see n. 110 to 2:109.

15. Your riches and your children may be but a trial: (5496) but in the Presence of Allah, is the highest, Reward.

5496 Children may be a trial in many senses: (1) their different ways of looking at things may cause you to reflect, and to turn to the highest things of eternal importance; (2) their relationship with you and with each other may confront you with problems far more complicated than those in separate individual lives, and thus become a test of your own strength of character and sense of responsibility; (3) their conflict with your ideals (see n. 5494 above) may vex your spirit, but may at the same time search out your fidelity to Allah; and (4) their affection for you and your affection for them, may be a source of strength for you if it is pure, just as it may be a danger if it is based on selfish or unworthy motives. So also riches and worldly goods have their advantages as well as dangers.

16. So fear Allah (5497) as much as ye can; listen and obey and spend in charity for the benefit of your own souls. (5498) And those saved from the covetousness of their own souls,- they are the ones that achieve prosperity. (5499)

5497 Fear Allah combined with as much as you can obviously means: 'lead lives of self-restraint and righteousness': the usual meaning of Taqwa: see n. 26 to 2:2.

5498 Charity is meant to help and do good to other people who need it. But it has the highest subjective value for the person who gives it. Like mercy, it blesseth him that gives and him that takes. It purifies the giver's soul: the affection that he pours out is for his own spiritual benefit and progress. Cf. Coleridge: 'He prayeth best who loveth all that worketh good within him, Who made and loveth all'.

5499 Cf. 5:99. Our worst enemy is within ourselves—the grasping selfishness which would deprive others of their just rights or seize things which do not properly belong to it. If we can get over this covetous selfishness, we achieve real Prosperity in justice and truth.

17. If ye loan to Allah, (5500) a beautiful loan, He will double it to your (credit), and He will grant you Forgiveness for Allah is most Ready to appreciate (service), (5501) Most Forbearing.

5500 Cf. 2:245 and n. 276. Our Charity or Love is called a loan to Allah, which not only increases our credit account manifold, but obtains for us the forgiveness of our sins, and the capacity for increased service in the future.

5501 Cf. 14:5, n. 1877; and 35:30, n. 3917. Allah's appreciation of our service or our love goes far deeper than its intrinsic merits or its specific expression on our side. His reward is beyond our deserts, and passes over our defects. He judges by our motives, which He can read through and through; see next verse.

18. Knower of what is open, Exalted in Might, Full of Wisdom. (5502)

5502 Allah's Appreciation and Forbearing Kindness can reach so far beyond our merits, because (1) His universal knowledge comprehends hidden motives, which others cannot see in us; (2) His power is so great that He can afford to reward even the unworthy; and (3) His Wisdom is so great that He can turn even our weakness into our strength.

65. Al Talaq (Divorce)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O Prophet! (5503) When ye do divorce women, (5504) divorce them at their prescribed periods, (5505) and count (accurately), their prescribed periods: And fear Allah your Lord: (5506) and turn them not out of their houses, nor shall they (themselves) leave,(5507) except in case they are guilty of some open lewdness, those are limits set by Allah. And any who transgresses the limits of Allah, does verily wrong his (own) soul: thou knowest not if perchance Allah will bring about thereafter some new situation. (5508)

5503 Note that in the first instance the Prophet is himself addressed individually, as the Teacher and representative of the Community. Then the actual directions: 'when ye . . .' are addressed to the Community collectively.

5504 'Of all things permitted by law, Divorce is the most hateful in the sight of Allah': see Introduction to this Surah. The general directions and limitations of Divorce may be studied in 2:228-232, 236-237, 241, and notes; also 4:35.

5505 Iblah, as a technical term in divorce law, is explained in n. 254 to 2:228. Its general meaning is 'a prescribed period'; in that general sense it is used in 2:185 for a prescribed period of fasting.

5506 The prescribed period (see last note) is in the interests of the wife, of the husband, of an unborn child (if there is any), and of sex laws in nature, and therefore the elementary dictates of refined human society. In English Law the six months interval between the decree nisi and the decree absolute in divorce attains the same purpose in a round-about way. The Commentators suggest that the divorce should not be pronounced during the courses. Read with 2:222, this implies that any incipient differences between husband and wife should not be forced to an issue at a time when sex is least attractive and almost repulsive.
Everything should be done to strengthen the social and spiritual aspects of marriage and keep down stray impulses of animal instinct. The parties are to think seriously in a mood of piety, keeping the fear of Allah in their minds.

As Islam treats the married woman as a full juristic personality in every sense of the term, a married woman has a right, in the married state, to a house or apartment of her own. And a house or apartment implies the reasonable expenses for its upkeep and for her own and her children's maintenance. And this is obligatory not only in the married state, but during the ‘iddah, which is necessarily a most trying period for the woman. During this period she must not only not be turned out, but it is not decent for her to leave of her own accord, lest the chances of reconciliation should be diminished: see the next note.

A reconciliation is possible, and is indeed recommended at every stage. The first serious differences between the parties are to be submitted to a family council on which both sides are represented (4:33); divorce is not to be pronounced when mutual physical attraction is at an ebb (n. 5506); when it is pronounced, there should be a period of probationary waiting; dower has to be paid and due provision has to be made for many things on equitable terms; every facility has to be given for reconciliation till the last moment, and impediments are provided against hasty impulse leading to rupture. Thou knowest not if perchance Allah will bring about thereafter some new situation.

Thus when they fulfil their term appointed, either take them back on equitable terms (5509) or part with them on equitable terms; and take for witness two persons from among you, ended with justice, and establish the evidence (5510) (As) before Allah. Such is the admonition given to him who believes in Allah and the Last Day. And for those who fear Allah, He (ever) prepares (5511) a way out.

Everything should be done fairly and squarely, and all interests should be safeguarded.

Publicity and the establishment of proper evidence ensure that no one will act unjustly or selfishly. All should remember that these are matters of serious import, affecting our most intimate lives, and therefore our position in the spiritual kingdom.

In these very delicate and difficult matters, the wisdom of jurists provides a less satisfactory solution than a sincere desire to be just and true, which is described as the 'fear of Allah'. Where such a desire exists, Allah often provides a solution in the most unexpected ways or from the most unexpected quarters; e.g., the worst enemies may be reconciled, or the cry or the smile of an infant baby may heal seemingly irreparable injuries or unite hearts seemingly alienated forever. And Faith is followed at once by a psychological feeling of rest for the troubled spirit.

And He provides for him from (sources) he never could imagine. And if any one puts his trust in Allah, sufficient is (Allah) for him. For Allah will surely accomplish his purpose: (5512) verily, for all things has Allah appointed a due proportion.

Our anger and our impatience have to be curbed. Our friends and our mates or associates may seem to us ever so weak and unreasonable, and the circumstances may be ever so disheartening; yet we must trust in Allah. How can we measure our own weakness or perhaps blindness? He knows all. His universal Purpose is always good. His Will must be accomplished, and we should wish for its accomplishment. His ordering of the universe observes a due, just, and perfect proportion.

Such of your women as have passed the age of monthly courses, for them the prescribed period, if ye have any doubts, is three months, and for those who have no courses (it is the same): (5513) for those who carry (life within their wombs), their period is until they deliver their burdens: and for those who fear
Allah, He will make their path easy. (5514)

CT n. 5511 above. If there is a true and sincere desire to obey the Will of Allah and do right the difficulties will vanish, and these delicate matters will be settled for the greatest happiness of all.

That is the Command of Allah, which He has sent down to you: and if any one fears Allah, He will remove his ills, (5515) from him, and will enlarge his reward.

Allah's ordinance is nothing arbitrary. It is to help us, and to lead us on to our highest good, temporal and spiritual. If we obey Allah, His wisdom will not only solve our difficulties, but it will remove other ills that we may have, subjective and objective. Like a good shepherd, He will lead us on to more and more happier pastures. With each step higher, our position becomes more and more sure and our reward more and more precious.

Let the women live (in 'iddat) in the same style as ye live, according to your means: Annoy them not, so as to restrict them. (5516) And if they carry (life in their wombs), then (5517) spend (your substance) on them until they deliver their burden: and if they suckle your (offspring), give them their recompense: and take mutual counsel together, according to what is just and reasonable. And if ye find yourselves (5518) in difficulties, let another woman suckle (the child) on the (father's) behalf. (5519)

A selfish man, because he has divorced his wife, may, in the probationary period before the divorce becomes absolute, treat her with continually, and while giving her residence and maintenance, may so restrict it as to make her life miserable. This is forbidden. She must be provided on the same scale as he is, according to his status in life. There is still hope of reconciliation, and if not, yet the parting must be honourable.

If there is a pregnancy, a sacred third life comes on the scene, for which there is added responsibility (perhaps added hope for reconciliation) for both parents. In any case no separation is possible until after the child is born. Even after birth, if no reconciliation between parents is possible, yet for the nursing of the child and for its welfare the care of the mother remains the duty of the father, and mere must be mutual counsel between him and the mother in all truth and sincerity.

If ye find yourselves in difficulties: e.g., if the mother's milk fails, or if her health fails, or if any circumstance arises which bars the natural course of the mother nursing her own child. There may be psychological difficulties also.

That is, the father must stand all expenses, without cutting down the reasonable allowance to which the mother is entitled.

Let the man of means spend according to his means:
and the man whose resources are restricted, let him spend according to what Allah has given him. Allah puts no burden on any person beyond what He has given him. After a difficulty, Allah will soon grant relief. (5520)

We must trust in Allah, and do whatever is possible for us in the interests of the young life for which we are responsible. We must not be frightened by difficulties. Allah will give us relief and provide a solution if we act with honest integrity. CT 94:5-6.

How many populations that insolently opposed (5521)
the Command of their Lord and of His messengers, did We not then call to account- to severe account?- and We imposed on them an exemplary Punishment. (5522)

Insolent iniquity consists not only in the breach of the rites of religion. Even more vital is the defiance of the laws of nature which Allah has made for us.
These laws, for us human beings include those which relate to our fellow-beings in society to whom kindness and consideration form the basis of our social duties.
Our duties to our families and our children in intimate matters such as were spoken of in the last Section, are as important as any in our spiritual life. Peoples who forget the moral law in marriage or family life perished in this world and will have no future in the Hereafter. The lessons apply not only to individuals but to whole nations or social groups.

This refers to the present life: apparently the Hereafter is implied in verse 10 below.
9. Then did they taste the evil result of their conduct, and the End of their conduct was Perdition.

10. Allah has prepared for them a severe Punishment (5523) (in the Hereafter). Therefore fear Allah, O ye men of understanding - who have believed!- for Allah hath indeed sent down to you a Message,-(5524)

5523 See last note.

5524 There is no excuse for us to go astray, seeing that Allah in His infinite Mercy has explained to us His Message by His many Signs around us and clearly by means of the human Teachers and Messengers whom He has sent for our instruction; see next verse.

11. An Messenger, who rehearses to you the Signs of Allah containing clear explanations, that he may lead forth those who believe and do righteous deeds from the depths of Darkness (5525) into Light. And those who believe in Allah and work righteousness, He will admit to Gardens beneath which Rivers flow, to dwell therein for ever: Allah has indeed granted for them a most excellent Provision.

66. Al Tahrim (Prohibition)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O Prophet! Why holdest thou to be forbidden that which Allah has (5529) made lawful to thee? Thou seest to please (5530) thy consorts. But Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5529 The Prophet's household was not like other households. The Consorts of Purity were expected to hold a higher standard in behaviour and reticence than ordinary women, as they had higher work to perform. See n. 3706 to 35528. But they were human beings after all, and were subject to the weaknesses of their sex, and they sometimes failed. The behavior of 'A'ishah once caused serious difficulties: the Prophet's mind was sore distressed, and he denounced the society of his wives for some time. This renunciation seems to be referred to here. The situation was none the less difficult for him because she was a daughter of Abu Bakr, one of the truest and most intimate of his Companions and lieutenants. The commentators usually cite the following incident in connection with the revelation: It is narrated from 'A'shah, the wife of the Prophet (peace be on him) by al Bukhari, Muslim, al Nasa'i. Abu Dawud and others that the Prophet (peace be on him) spoke to one of his consorts, and she then held back a part. Then when he told her thereof, she divulged it (to another), and Allah made it known to us.

5530 But in all spheres of life and Creation, whatever conception we are able to form of them, it is certain that the Command or Law of Allah runs through them all, for His knowledge and power extend through all things.

5529 Cf. 24:40: the unbelievers' state is "like the depths of darkness in a vast deep ocean, overwhelmed with billow topped by billow, topped by dark clouds; depths of darkness, one above another." Cf. 2:257: "Allah is the Protector of those who have Faith: from the depths of darkness He will lead them forth into light."

12. Allah is He Who created seven Firmaments (5526) and of the earth a similar number, (5527) Through the midst of them (all) descends (5528) His Command: that ye may know that Allah has power over all things, and that Allah comprehends, all things in (His) Knowledge.

5527 As there are grades one above the other in the spiritual kingdom, there are similar grades in our life on this earth. If we take the literal meaning as we see the heavenly spheres one above another, over our heads, so we can see that the crust of the earth is built up of geological strata one above another (Cf. n. 5559). (R).

5528 But in all spheres of life and Creation, whatever conception we are able to form of them, it is certain that the Command or Law of Allah runs through them all, for His knowledge and power extend through all things.

5529 Cf. 2:224. If your vows prevent you from doing good, or acting rightly, or making peace between persons, you should expiate the vow, but not refrain from your good deed.

2. Allah has (already) prescribed (5531) for you, (O Muslims), Method for absolution from your oaths: and Allah is your protector, and He is Full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

5531 Cf. 2:224. If your vows prevent you from doing good, or acting rightly, or making peace between persons, you should expiate the vow, but not refrain from your good deed.

3. When the Prophet disclosed a matter in confidence (5532) to one of his consorts, and she then divulged it (to another), and Allah made it known to him, he Confronted (5533) her with part thereof and held back a part. Then when he told her thereof, she said, "Who told thee this? "He said, "He told me Who knows and is well-acquainted (With all things)."

5532 Who these two consorts were, and what was the matter in confidence which was disclosed, we are not expressly told, but the facts mentioned in n. 5529 above will help us to understand this passage. The sacred words imply that the matter was of great importance to the principle involved, but that the details were not of sufficient importance for permanent record. For the lessons to be drawn, see the notes following.

5533 The moral we have to draw is manifold. (1) If anything is told to us in confidence, especially by one at the head of affairs, we must not divulge it to our closest friend. (2) If such divulgence is made in the most secret whispers, Allah's Plan is such that it will come to light and expose those guilty of breach of confidence. (3) When the whispered version is compared with the true version and the actual facts, it will be found that the whispered version is in great part untrue, due to the misunderstanding and exaggeration inevitable in the circumstances. (4) The breach of confidence must inevitably redound to the dishonor of the guilty party, whose surprise only covers a sense of humiliation. See next note.

4. If ye two turn in repentance (5534) to Him, your hearts are indeed so inclined; But if ye back up each other against him, truly Allah is his Protector, and Gabriel, and (every) righteous one among those who believe; and furthermore, (5535) the angels - will back (him) up.

5534 There are further lessons. (5) Both the party betraying confidence and that encouraging the betrayal must purge their conduct by repentance. (6) Frank repentance would be what their hearts and conscience themselves would dictate and they must not resist such anures on account of selfish obstinacy. (7) If they were to resist frank repentance and amend, they are only abetting each other's wrong, and they cannot prevail against all the spiritual forces which will be ranged on the side of the right.

5535 Do not forget the dual meaning: immediate, in application to the Prophet, and general, being the lesson which we ought all to learn. The Prophet could not be injured by any persons doing anything against him even though they might unconsciously put him in greater jeopardy; for Allah, the Angel Gabriel, (who was the Messenger to him), and the whole Community, would protect him; to say nothing of the army of angels or hidden spiritual forces that always guarded him.
6. The general lesson for us is that the good man's protection is that of the spiritual forces around him; it is divine protection, against which human weakness or folly will have no power.

5. It may be, if he divorced you (all), (5536) that Allah will give him in exchange Consorts better than you-who submit (their wills), who believe, who are devout, who turn to Allah in repentance, who worship (in humility), who are given to fasting (5537) previously married or virgins.

5536 From the case of two in verse 4, we now come to the case of all the Consorts generally, in verse 5. Cf. 33:28-30. Their duties and responsibilities were higher than those of other women, and therefore their failure would also be more serious. This is only hypothetical, in order to show us the virtues expected of them: faith and devotion, worship and service, readiness for travel or hijrah; whether they were young or old, new to married life or otherwise. From them again the more general application follows to all women in Islam.

5537 Sihalat literally, those who travel about for the Faith, renouncing earth and home; hence those who go on pilgrimage, who fast, who deny themselves the ordinary pleasures of life. Note that the spiritual virtues are named, in the descending order: submitting their wills (Islam), faith and devotion, turning ever to worship and faith, and performing other rites, or perhaps being content with asceticism. And this applies to all women, maiden girls or women of mature experience who were widows or separated from previous husbands by divorce.

6. O ye who believe! (5538) save yourselves and your families from a Fire whose fuel is Men (5539) and Stones, over which are (appointed) angels stern (and) severe, (5540) who flinch not (not from executing) the Commands they receive from Allah, but do (precisely) what they are commanded.

5538 Note how we have been gradually led up in admonition from two Consorts to all Consorts, to all women, to all Believers, and to all men and women including Unbelievers. We must carefully guard not only our own conduct, but the conduct of our families, and of all who are near and dear to us. For the issues are most serious, and the consequences of a fall are most terrible.

5539 A Fire whose fuel is Men and Stones. Cf. 2:24. This is a terrible Fire: not merely like the physical fire which burns wood or charcoal or substances like that, and consumes them. This spiritual Fire will have for its fuel men who do wrong and are as hardhearted as stones, or stone Idols as symbolical of all the unbinding Falsehoods in life.

5540 Cf. 74:31. We think of angelic nature as gentle and beautiful, but in another aspect perfection includes justice, fidelity, discipline, and the firm execution of duty according to lawful Commands. So, in the attributes of Allah Himself, Justice and Mercy, Kindness and Correction are not contradictory but complementary.
An earthly ruler will be unequal to his royal subjects if he does not punish evildoers.

7. (They will say), "O ye Unbelievers! Make no excuses this Day! Ye are being (5541) but required for all that ye did!"

5541 This is no hardship or injustice imposed on you. It is all but the fruit of your own deeds; the result of your own deliberate choice.

8. O ye who believe! (5542) Turn to Allah with sincere repentance: In the hope that your Lord will remove (5543) from you your ills and admit you to Gardens beneath which Rivers flow, - the Day that Allah will not permit to be humiliated the Prophet and those who believe with him. Their Light will run (5544) forward before them and by their right hands, while they say, "Our Lord! Perfect our Light for us, and grant us Forgiveness: for Thou hast power over all things."

5542 The opposition of sex against sex, individual or concerted, having been condemned, we are now exhorted to turn to the Light, and to realise that the good and righteous can retain their integrity even though their own mates, in spite of their example and precept, remain in evil and sin.

5543 Whatever may have been the faults of the past, unite in good deeds, and abandon petty sectional jealousies, and Allah will remove your difficulties and distresses, and all the evils from which you suffer. Indeed He will grant you the Bliss of Heaven and save you from any humiliation which you may have brought on yourselves by your conduct and on the revered Prophet and Teacher whose name you professed to take.

5544 See 57:12, and n. 3288. The darkness of evil will be dispelled, and the Light of Allah will be realised by them more and more. But even so they will not be content: for they will pray for the least taint of evil to be removed from them, and perfection to be granted to them. In that exalted state they will be within reach of perfection not by their own merits, but by the infinite Mercy and Power of Allah.

9. O Prophet! Strive hard (5545) against the Unbelievers and the Hypocrites, and be firm against them. Their abode is Hell! - an evil refuge (indeed).

5545 See 9:73, where the same words introduce the argument against the Hypocrites. Here they introduce the argument against wickedness, which, though given the privilege of association with goodness and piety, persisted in wicked deeds, and in favour of those noble souls, which, though tied to wickedness, retained their purity and integrity. Two examples of each kind are given of women, as this Surah is mainly concerned with women.

10. Allah sets forth, for an example to the Unbelievers, the wife of Noah (5546) and the wife of Lut (5547) they were (respectively) under two of our righteous servants, but they were false to their (husbands) (5548) and they profited nothing before Allah on their account, but were told: "Enter ye the Fire along with (others) that enter!"

5546 Read Noah's story in 11:26-48. Evidently his contemporary world had got so corrupt that it needed a great Flood to purge it. 'None of the people will believe except those who have believed already. So grieve no longer over their evil deeds.'
But there were evil ones in his own family. A foolish and unprofitable son is mentioned in 11:42-46. Poor Noah tried to save him and pray for him as one 'of his family!'; but the answer came: "he is not of thy family; for his conduct is unrighteous'. We might expect such a son to have a mother like him, and here we are told that it was so. Noah's wife was also false to the standards of her husband, and perished in this world and the Hereafter.

5547 The wife of Lut has already been mentioned more than once. See 11:81, and n. 1051; etc. The world around her was wicked and she sympathised with and followed that wicked world, rather than her righteous husband. She suffered the fate of her wicked world.

5548 False to their husbands: not necessarily in sex, but in the vital spiritual matters of truth and conduct. They had the high privilege of the most intimate relationship with the noblest spirits of their age; but if they failed to rise to the height of their dignity, their relationship did not save them. They could not plead that they were the wives of pious husbands. They had to enter Hell like any other wicked women. There is personal responsibility before Allah. One soul cannot claim the merits of another, any more than one pure soul can be injured by association with a corrupt soul. The pure one should keep its purity intact. See the next two examples.
11. And Allah sets forth, as an example to those who believe the wife of Pharaoh:

67. Al Mulk (The Dominion)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Blessed (5554) be He in Whose hands is Dominion; (5555) and He over all things hath Power;-

5554 What do we mean when we bless the name of Allah, or proclaim (in the optative mood) that the whole Creation should bless the name of the Lord? We mean that we recognise and proclaim His beneficence to us, for all increase and happiness is through Him, in His hands; the hands of Him Who also holds Dominion or Power. In our human affairs we sometimes see the separation of Dominion or Power from Goodness or Beneficence; in the divine nature we recognise that there is no separation or antithesis.

5555 Mulk: Dominion, Lordship, Sovereignty, the Right to carry out His Will, or to do all that He wills. Power (in the clause following) is the Capacity to carry out His Will, so that nothing can resist or neutralise it. Here is beneficence completely identified with Lordship and Power; and it is exemplified in the verses following. Note that Mulk here has a different shade of meaning from Malakut in 36:83. Both words are from the same root, and I have translated both by the word 'Dominion'. But Malakut refers to Lordship in the invisible World, while Mulk to Lordship in the visible World. Allah is Lord of both.

2. He Who created Death (5556) and Life, that He may try which of you is best in deed: (5557) and He is the Exalted (5558) in Might, Oft-Forgiving;-

5556 Created Death and Life. Death is here put before Life, and it is created. Death is therefore not merely a negative state. In 2:28 we read 'Seeing that ye were without life (literally, dead); and He gave you life; then will He cause you to die, and will again bring you to life; and again to Him will ye return.' In 55:44, again, Death is put before Life. Death then is: (1) the state before life began, which may be non-existence or existence in some other form; (2) the state in which Life as we know it ceases, but existence does not cease; a state of Barbara (28:109), or Barrier or Partition, after our visible Death and before Judgement; after that will be the new Life, which we conceive of under the term Eternity.

5557 Creation, therefore, is not in mere sport, or without a purpose with reference to man. The state before our present Life, or the state after, we can scarcely understand. But our present Life is clearly given to enable us to strive by good deeds to reach a nobler state.

5558 All this is possible, because Allah is so Exalted in Might that He can perfectly carry out His Will and Purpose, and that Purpose is Love, Mercy, and Goodness to His creatures.

3. He Who created the seven heavens (5559) one above another: No want of proportion wilt thou see in the Creation of (Allah) Most Gracious. So turn thy vision again: seest thou any flaw?

5559 Cf. 65:12, and n. 5526-5527. The heavens as they appear to our sight seem to be arranged in layers one above another, and ancient astronomy accounted for the motions of the heavenly bodies in an elaborate scheme of spheres. What we are concerned with here is the order and beauty of the vast spaces and the marvellous bodies that follow regular laws of motion in those enormous spaces in the visible world. From these we are to form some conception of the vastly greater Invisible World, for which we want special spiritual vision.

4. Again turn thy vision (5560) a second time: (thy) vision will come back to thee dull and discomfited, in a state worn out.

5560 Reverting to the symbolism of the external or visible world, we are asked to observe and study it again and again, and as minutely as our powers will allow. However closely we observe it, we shall find no flaw in it. Indeed the region of enquiry is so vast and stretches so far beyond our ken, that our eyes, aided with the most powerful telescopes, will confess themselves defeated in trying to penetrate to the ultimate mysteries. We shall find no defect in Allah's handiwork: it is our own powers that we shall find fail to go beyond a certain compass.

5. And we have, (from of old), adorned the lowest heaven (5561) with Lamps, and We have made such (Lamps) (as) missiles to drive (5562) away the Evil Ones, and have prepared for them the Penalty of the Blazing Fire.

5561 Imran was traditionally the name of the father of Mary the mother of Jesus: see n. 375 to 3:35. She was herself one of the purest of women, though the Jews accused her falsely of uncleanness. CE 19:27-28.

5562 CE 21:91. As a virgin she gave birth to Jesus: 19:16-29. In 32:9, it is said of Adam's progeny, man, that Allah fashioned him in due proportion, and breathed into him something of His spirit. In 1:52, similar words are used with reference to Adam. The virgin birth should not therefore be supposed to imply that Allah was the father of Jesus in the sense in which Greek mythology makes Zeus the father of Apollo by Leto or of Minos by Europa. And yet that is the doctrine to which the Christian idea of 'the only begetter: Son of God' leads.

5563 Mary had true faith and testified her faith in the Prophet Jesus and in his revelation as well as in the revelations which he came to confirm (and to foreshadow). She was of the company of the Devout of all ages. The fact that Qaauri (devout) is not here in the feminine gender implies that the highest spiritual dignity is independent of sex. And so we close the lesson of this Surah, that while sex is a fact of our physical existence, the sexes should act in harmony and cooperation in the highest spiritual matters we are all one. 'We made her and her son a Sign for all peoples. Verily this Brotherhood of yours is a single Brotherhood, and I am your Lord and Cherisher: therefore serve Me and no other' (21:91-92).
6. For those who reject their Lord (and Cherisher)\(^{(5563)}\) is the Penalty of Hell: and evil is (such), Destination.

7. They will say: "Yes indeed; a Warner did come to us, almost bursting with fury: Every time a Group is cast down any (Message): ye are nothing but an egregious blazes forth,\(^{(5564)}\) of its breath even as it institutes,\(^{(5565)}\) its Keepers\(^{(5566)}\) will ask, "Did no Warner come to you?"

8. When they are cast therein, they will hear the (terrible) drawing in\(^{(5567)}\) of its breath even as it constitutes,\(^{(5568)}\), for slaming see n. 1607 to 11:106. There slaming (sob) was contrasted with \(\text{fara}^{(5569)}\); in the one case it is the drawing in of breath, and in the other the emission of a deep breath. Here the latter process is represented by the verb \(\text{fara}\), to swell, to blaze forth, to gush forth. In 11:40, the verb \(\text{fara}\) was applied to the gushing forth of the waters of the Flood: here the verb is applied to the blazing forth of the Fire of Punishment. Fire is personified; in its intake it has a fierce appetite: in the flames which it throws out, it has a fierce aggressiveness. And yet in ultimate result evil meets the same fate, whether typified by water or fire.

13. And whether ye hide your word or publish it, He certainly has (full) knowledge, of the secrets of (all) hearts.

14. Should He not know,- He that created\(^{(5570)}\) and He is the One that understands the finest mysteries (and) is well-acquainted (with them).\(^{(5571)}\)

15. It is He Who has made the earth manageable\(^{(5572)}\) for you, so traverse ye through its tracts and enjoy of the Sustenance which He furnishes: but unto Him is the Resurrection.\(^{(5573)}\)

16. Do ye feel secure that He Who is in Heaven will not cause you to be swallowed up\(^{(5574)}\) when it shakes (as in an earthquake)?

17. Or do ye feel secure that He Who is in Heaven will not send against you a violent tornado\(^{(5575)}\) (with showers of stones), so that ye shall know how (terrible) was My warning?\(^{(5576)}\)

18. But indeed men before them rejected (My warning): then how (terrible) was My rejection (of them)?\(^{(5577)}\)

19. Do they not observe the birds above them,\(^{(5578)}\) spreading their wings and folding them in?\(^{(5579)}\) None can uphold them except (Allah) Most Gracious: Truly (Allah) Most Gracious: Truly it is He that watches over all things.

10. They will further say: "Had we but listened or used our intelligence\(^{(5567)}\) we should not (now) be among the Companions of the Blazing Fire!"

11. They will then confess\(^{(5568)}\) their sins: but far will be (Forgiveness) from the Companions of the Blazing Fire!

12. As for those who fear their Lord unseen,\(^{(5569)}\) for them is Forgiveness and a great Reward.

5562 The phenomenon of the shooting stars has been explained in 15:16-18, notes 15:1-34; and in 37:6-10 and notes thereon. (R).

5567 Dhalul is used in 2:71 for an animal trained and tractable; here it is used to qualify the earth, and I have translated 'manageable'. Man has managed to make paths through deserts and over mountains; through rivers and seas by means of ships; through the air by means of airways; he has made bridges and tunnels and other means of communication. But this he has only been able to do because Allah has given him the necessary intelligence and has made the earth tractable to that intelligence.

5568 Cf. 17:68 and n. 2263. Also Cf. the story of Qarun in 28:76-82. If we feel safe on land, it is because Allah has made this earth amenable, manageable and serviceable to us (verse 15 above). But if we defy Allah and break His Law, have we any security, that even this comparatively unimportant safety in a fleeing world will last? Looking at it from a purely physical point of view, have there not been dreadful earthquakes, typhoons, and tornadoes?

5569 Allah's Signs were not only rejected or defied, but their very existence was denied. Nay, more, even their possibility was denied, and alas! righteous people and spiritual Teachers were persecuted or mocked (36:30). They were called fools and madmen, or men under a delusion!

5570 Allamah, the One that understands the finest mysteries (and) is well-acquainted (with them).

5571 In describing Allah's gifts and mercies and watchful care in this our temporary sojourn on this earth, it is made clear that the ultimate end is the Hereafter. The real Beyond, which is the goal, is the life after the Resurrection.

5572 Cf. 17:68-69 and n. 2263. Also Cf. the story of Qarun in 28:76-82. If we feel safe on land, it is because Allah has made this earth amenable, manageable and serviceable to us (verse 15 above). But if we defy Allah and break His Law, have we any security, that even this comparatively unimportant safety in a fleeing world will last? Looking at it from a purely physical point of view, have there not been dreadful earthquakes, typhoons, and tornadoes?

5573 Cf. 17:68; and 29:40, n. 3462. Such a violent wind destroyed the wicked Ones which defied Lu'ts warning.

5574 They will then have passed through the fire of Judgement and will now be in the fire of Punishment. The Reality will not only now be clear to them, but after the questionings of the angels they cannot even pretend to make any excuses. They will freely confess, but that is not repentance, for repentance implies amendment, and the time for repentance and amendment will have long been past.

5575 Cf. 2:2-42 and, n. 2822.

5576 They will then have passed through the fire of Judgement and will now be in the fire of Punishment. The Reality will not only now be clear to them, but after the questionings of the angels they cannot even pretend to make any excuses. They will freely confess, but that is not repentance, for repentance implies amendment, and the time for repentance and amendment will have long been past.

5577 To fear the Lord is to love Him so intensely that you fear to do anything which is against His Will, and you do it because you realise Him intensely in your hearts, though you do not see Him with your bodily senses. Nor is it of any consequence whether other people see your love or the consequences that flow from your love, for your good deeds are for the love of Allah and not for show in the eyes of men. Such intensity of love obtains forgiveness for any past, and is indeed rewarded with Allah's love, which is immeasurably precious beyond any merits you may possess.
20. Nay, who is there that can help you, (even as) an army,(5578) besides (Allah) Most Merciful? In nothing but delusion are the Unbelievers.

5578 Not the greatest army that man can muster is of any use against the Wrath of Allah: while the constant watchful care of Allah is all-in-all to us, and we can never do without it. If the godless wander about in search for blessings otherwise than in the Mercy and Grace of Allah, they are wandering in vain delusions.

21. Or who is there that can provide you(5579) with Sustenance if He were to withhold His provision? Nay, they obstinately persist in insolent impiety and flight (from the Truth).

5579 "Sustenance" here, as elsewhere, (e.g., in 16:73, n. 2103), refers to all that is necessary to sustain and develop life in all its phases, spiritual and mental, as well as physical. Allah Most Gracious is the Source of all our Sustenance, and if we persist in looking to Vanities for our Sustenance, we are pursuing a mirage, and, if we examine the matter, we are only following obstinate impulses of rebellion and impiety.

22. Is then one who walks headlong, with his face(5580) grovelling, better guided,— or one who walks(5581) evenly on a Straight Way?

5580 Cf. 27:90, and n. 3320. The man of probity is the man who walks evenly on a Straight Way, his feet guided by Allah's Light and his heart sustained by Allah's Mercy. The man who chooses evil grovels, with his face down, in paths of Darkness, stumbling on the way, and in constant distrust and fear, the fear of Evil. The two kinds of men are poles apart, although they live on the same earth, see the same Signs, and are fed with the same Mercies from Allah.

5581 Like Abraham trying to guide his unbelieving father: CT. 19:43.

23. Say: "It is He Who(5582) has created you (and made)(5583) you grow), and made for you the faculties of hearing, seeing, feeling and understanding: little thanks it is ye give.

5582 The Teacher is asked to draw constant attention to Allah, the source of all growth and development, the Giver of the faculties by which we can judge and attain to higher and higher spiritual dignity. And yet, such is our self-will, we use our faculties for wrong purposes and thus show our ingratitude to Allah.

5583 For and also see n. 923 to 6:98.

24. Say: "It is He Who has multiplied you through the earth,(5584) and to Him shall ye be gathered together."

5584 Mankind, from one set of parents, has been multiplied and scattered through the earth. Men have not only multiplied in numbers, but they have developed different languages and characteristics, inner and outer. But they will all be gathered together at the End of Things, when the mischief created by the wrong exercise of man's will will be cancelled, and the Truth of Allah will reign universally.

25. They ask: When will this promise be (fulfilled)? - If ye are telling(5585) the truth.

5585 The Unbelievers are sceptical, but they are answered in the next two verses.

26. Say: "As to the knowledge of the time, it is with Allah alone:(5586) I am (sent) only to warn plainly in public."

5586 The Judgement is certain to come. But when it will exactly come, is known to Allah alone. The Prophet's duty is to proclaim that fact openly and clearly. It is not for him to punish or to hasten the punishment of evil. CT. 22:47-49.

27. At length, when they see it close at hand,(5587) grieved will be the faces of the Unbelievers, and it will be said (to them): "This is (the promise fulfilled),(5588) which ye were calling for!"

5587 "If", i.e., the fulfilment of the promise, the Day of Judgement. When it is actually in sight, then the Unbelievers realise that those whom they used to laugh at for their Faith were in the right, and that they themselves, the sceptics, were terribly in the wrong.

5588 They had defiantly asked for it. Now that it has come near, and it is too late for repentance, there is "weeping and gnashing of teeth".

28. Say: "See ye?- If Allah were to destroy me, and those with me,(5589) or if He bestows His Mercy on us,— yet who can deliver the Unbelievers from a grievous Penalty?"

5589 The sceptics might say and do say to the righteous: "Ah well! if calamities come, they involve the good with the bad, just as you say that Allah showered His mercies on both good and evil"! The answer is: "Don't you worry about us: even supposing we are destroyed, with all who believe with us, is that any consolation to you? Your sins must bring on you suffering, and nothing can ward it off. If we get any sorrows or sufferings, we take them as a mere trial to make us better, for we believe in Allah's goodness and we put our trust in Him." See next verse.

29. Say: "He is ((Allah)) Most Gracious: We have believed in Him, and on Him have we put our trust: So, soon will ye know(5590) which (of us) it is that is in manifest error."

5590 See the end of the last note. "Our Faith tells us that Allah will deliver us from all harm if we sincerely repent and lead righteous lives. You, Unbelievers, have no such hope. When the real adjustment of values is established, you will soon see whether we were in the wrong or you!"

30. Say: "See ye?- If your stream be some morning(5591) lost(5591) (in the underground earth), who then can supply you with clear-flowing water?"

5591 The Surah is closed with a parable, taken from a vital fact of our physical life, and leading up to the understanding of our spiritual life. In our daily life, what would happen if we woke up some fine morning to find that the sources and springs of our water supply had disappeared and gone down into the hollows of the earth? Nothing could save our life. Without water we cannot live, and water cannot rise above its level, but always seeks a lower level. So in spiritual life. Its sources and springs are in the divine wisdom that flows from on high. Allah is the real source of that life, as He is of all forms of life. We must seek His Grace and Mercy. We cannot find grace or mercy or blessing from anything lower. His Wisdom and Mercy are like fresh clear-flowing spring water, not like the muddy murky wisdom and goodness of this lower world which is only relative, and which often hampers life rather than advances it.
68. Al Qalam (The Pen)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Nun (5592-A) By the Pen (5593) and the (Record) which (men) write,-

By the Pen (5593)

2. Thou art not, by the Grace of thy Lord, mad or possessed. (5594)

People usually call anyone mad whose standards are different from their own. And madness is believed by superstitious people to be due to demonical possession, an idea distinctly in the minds of the New Testament writers: for Luke speaks of a man from whom the 'devils' were cast out, as being then 'clothed, and in his right mind.' (Luke, 8:53). (R).

3. Nay, verily for thee is a Reward unfailing: (5595)

Instead of being out of his right mind, the Prophet of Allah had been raised to a great spiritual dignity, a reward that was not like an earthly reward that passes away, but one that was in the very core of his being, and would never fail him in any circumstances. He was really granted a nature and character far above the shafts of grief or suffering, slander or persecution.

4. And thou (standest) on an exalted standard of character.

5. Soon wilt thou see, (5596) and they will see,

Though Al Mustafa's nature raised him above the petty spirit of his contemporaries, an appeal is made to their reason and to the logic of events. Was it not his accusers that were really mad? What happened to Al Walid ibn Al Mughiyrah, or Abu jahl, or Abu Lahab? and to Allah's Messenger and those who followed his guidance? The world's history gives the answer. And the appeal is not only to his contemporaries, but for all time.

6. Which of you is afflicted with madness.

The enemies of Allah's truth are sometimes self-deceived. But quite often they have a glimmering of the truth in spite of their desire to shut their eyes. Then they compromise, and they would like the preachers of inconvenient truths to compromise with them. On those terms there would be mutual non-action. This easy path of making the best of both worlds is a real danger or temptation to the best of us, and we must be on our guard against it if we would really enter into the company of the Righteous who submit their wills to the Will of Allah. Abu Jahl freely offered impossible compromises to the Prophet.

7. Verily it is thy Lord that knoweth best, which (among men) hath strayed from His Path: and He knoweth best (5597) those who receive (true) Guidance.

Men set up false standards of judgement. The right standard is that of Allah. For His Knowledge is complete and all-embracing: He reads hidden motives as well as things that appear before men's sight; and He knows the past history in which the roots of present actions are embedded, as well as the future consequences of present actions.

8. So hearken not to those who deny (the Truth). (5598)

The enemies of Allah's truth are sometimes self-deceived. But quite often they have a glimmering of the truth in spite of their desire to shut their eyes. Then they compromise, and they would like the preachers of inconvenient truths to compromise with them. On those terms there would be mutual non-action. This easy path of making the best of both worlds is a real danger or temptation to the best of us, and we must be on our guard against it if we would really enter into the company of the Righteous who submit their wills to the Will of Allah. Abu Jahl freely offered impossible compromises to the Prophet.

9. Their desire is that thou shouldst be pliant: so would they be pliant.

10. Heed not the type of despicable men,- (5599) ready with oaths, (5600)

The type of each of these hateful qualities is not uncommon, though the combination of all in one man makes him peculiarly despicable, as was Al Walid ibn Al Mughiyrah, who was a ringleader in calumniating our Prophet and who came to an evil end not long after the battle of Bade, in which he received injuries.

5601 Besides the self-deceiver and the easy-going man, there is a third type, even more degraded. He has no idea of truth or sincerity. He is ready to swear friendship with everyone and fidelity to every cause. But at the same moment he will slander and backbite, and cause mischief even between good but credulous persons. Evil seems to be his good, and good his evil. He will not only pursue evil courses himself but prevent other people from doing right. When checked, he resorts to violence. In any case, he will intrude where he has no right, claiming friendship with everyone and fidelity to every cause. Then he will do his best (5597) to win the respect of all, and to win the confidence of the people. The appeal is not his accusers that were really mad? What happened to Al Walid ibn Al Mughiyrah, who was a ringleader in calumniating our Prophet and who came to an evil end not long after the battle of Bade, in which he received injuries.

5602 It is only liars who swear on all occasions, small or great, because their ordinary word is not believed in: the true man's word, according to the proverb, is as good as his bond.

5603 Allah's Signs, by which He calls us, are everywhere—in nature and in our very heart and soul. In Revelation, every verse is a Sign, for it stands symbolically for far more than it says. "Signs" (Ayah) thus becomes a technical term for a verse of the Qur'an.

16. Soon shall We brand (the beast) on the snout! (5605)

Literally, proboscis, the most sensitive limb of the elephant. The sinner makes himself a beast and can only be controlled by his snout.

17. Verily We have tried them as We tried the People of the Garden, (5606) when they resolved to gather the fruits of the (garden) in the morning.

If the right answer is not simple, it must refer to (1) the choice left to man's will, (2) the moral responsibility, (3) the need of his tuning his will to Allah's Will, (4) the long suffering of quality of Allah, which allows the widest possible chance for the operation of (5) His Mercy, and (6) in the last resort, to the nature of spiritual Punishment, which is not a merely abrupt or arbitrary act, but a long, gradual process, in which there is room for repentance at every stage. All these points are illustrated in the remarkable Parable of the People of the Garden, which also illustrates the greed, selfishness, and heedlessness of man, as well as his tendency to throw the blame on others if he can but think of a scapegoat. All these foibles are shared, but the Mercy of Allah is boundless, and even after the worst sins and punishments, there may be hope of an even better or change for them.
18. But made no reservation, ("If it be Allah's Will").(5607)

5607 We must always remember, in all our plans, that they depend for their success on how far they accord with Allah's Will and Plan. His universal Will is supreme over all affairs. These foolish men had a secret plan to defraud the poor of their just rights, but they were put into a position where they could not do so. In trying to frustrate others, they were themselves frustrated.

19. Then there came on the (garden) a visitation from thy Lord,(5608) (which swept away) all around, while they were asleep.

5608 It was a terrible storm that blew down and destroyed the fruits and the trees. The whole place was changed out of all recognition.

20. So the (garden) became, by the morning, like a dark and desolate spot, (whose fruit had been gathered).

21. As the morning broke, they called out, one to another,-

22. "Go ye to your tilth (betimes) in the morning,(5609) if ye would gather the fruits."

5609 Awakening from sleep, they were not aware that the garden had been destroyed by the storm overnight. They were in their own selfish dreams of getting very early, they thought they could cheat the poor of their share. See next note.

23. So they departed, conversing in secret low tones, (saying)-

24. "Let not a single indigent(5610) person break in upon you into the (garden) this day."

5610 The poor man has a right in the harvest—whether as a gleaner or as an artisan or a menial in an Eastern village. The rich owners of the orchard in the Parable wanted to steal a march at an early hour and defeat this right, but their greed was punished, so that it led to a greater loss to themselves. They wanted to cheat but had not the courage to face those they cheated, and by being in the field before anyone was up they wanted to make it appear to the world that they were unconscious of any rights they were trampling on.

25. And they opened the morning, strong in an (unjust) resolve.

26. But when they saw the (garden), they said: "We have surely lost our way:(5611)

5611 Their fond dreams were dispelled when they found that the garden had been changed out of all recognition. It was as if they had come to some place other than their own smiling garden. Where they had expected to reap a rich harvest, there was only a howling wilderness. They reflected. Their first thought was of their own personal loss, the loss of their labour and the loss of their capital. They had plotted to keep out others from the fruits now, as it happened, the loss was their own.

27. "Indeed we are shut out (of the fruits of our labour)"

5612 Cf. 56.67. Also see last note.

28. Said one of them, more just (than the rest):(5613)

5613 This was not necessarily a righteous man, but there are degrees in guilt. He had warned them, but he had joined in their unjust design.

29. They said: "Glory to our Lord! Verily we have been doing wrong!"

30. Then they turned, one against another, in reproach.(5614)

5614 When greed or injustice is punished people are ready to throw the blame on others. In this case, one particular individual may have seen the moral guilt of defying the Will of Allah and the right of man, but if he shared in the enterprise in the hope of profit, he could not get out of all responsibility.

31. They said: "Alas for us! We have indeed transgressed!

32. "It may be that our Lord will give us in exchange a better (garden) than this: for we do turn to Him (in repentance)!(5615)

5615 If the repentance was true, there was hope. For Allah often turns a great evil to our good. If not true, they only added hypocrisy to their other sins.

The Parable presupposes that the garden came into the possession of selfish men, who were so puffed up with their good fortune that they forgot Allah. That meant that they also became harsh to their fellow-creatures. In their arrogance they plotted to get up early and defeat the claims of the poor at harvest time. They found their garden destroyed by a storm. Some reproached others, but those who sincerely repented obtained mercy. The 'better garden' may have been the same garden, flourishing in a future season under Allah's gift of abundance.

33. Such is the Punishment (in this life); but greater is the Punishment(5616) in the Hereafter,- if only they knew!

5616 Even in this life the punishment for heedless or selfish arrogance and sin comes suddenly when we least expect it. But there is always room for Allah's Mercy if we sincerely repent. If the Punishment in this life seems to us so stupifying, how much worse will it be in the Hereafter, when the Punishment will not only be for a limited time, and the time for repentance will have passed?

34. Verily, for the Righteous, are Gardens of Delight,(5617) in the Presence of their Lord.

5617 All symbols of delight, expressed in terms of sense, are spiritualized by their being referred to the presence of Allah. The Garden is a joy, but the joy of this spiritual Garden is the sense of nearness to Allah.

35. Shall We then treat the People of Faith like the People of Sin?(5618)

5618 The spiritual arrogance which rejects faith in Allah is perhaps the worst Sin, because it makes itself impervious to the Mercy of Allah, as a bed of clay is impervious to the absorption of water. It sets up its own fetishes—idols, priests, gods, or godlings. The fetishes may be even God-given gifts or faculties. Intellect or Science, if pushed up to the position of idols. If they are made rivals to Allah, question them: Will they solve Allah's mysteries, or even the mysteries of Life and Soul?

36. What is the matter with you? How judge ye?

37. Or have ye a book through which ye learn-

38. That ye shall have, through it whatever ye choose?(5619)

5619 It is clearly against both logic and justice that men of righteousness should have the same end as men of sin. Even in this life, man cannot command whatever he chooses, though he is allowed a limited freedom of choice. How can he expect such a thing under a reign of perfect Justice and Truth?

39. Or have ye Covenants with Us to oath,(5620) reaching to the Day of Judgment, (providing) that ye shall have whatever ye shall demand?

5620 Nor can the Pagans plead that they have any special Covenants with Allah which give them a favoured position above other mortals. The 'Chosen Race' idea of the Jews is also condemned. It is quite true that a certain race or group, on account of special aptitude may be chosen by Allah to uphold His truth and preach it. But this is conditional on their following Allah's Law. As soon as they become arrogant and selfish, they lose that position. They cannot have a perpetual and unconditional lease till the Day of Judgement.

40. Ask thou of them, which of them will stand surety for that!
41. Or have they some "Partners" (in Godhead)? (5621)
Then let them produce their "partners", if they are truthful!

5621 'Partners' in Godhead: as in the doctrine of the Trinity, or indeed in any form of polytheism. Such a doctrine destroys the cardinal doctrine of the Unity of Allah.

42. The Day that the shank (5622) shall be laid bare, and they shall be summoned to prostrate in adoration, but they shall not be able,- 5622 The Day that the Shin shall be laid bare, that is, when men are confronted with the stark reality of the Day of Judgement. On that occasion men will be summoned to adoration, not necessarily in words, but by the logic of facts, when the Reality will be fully manifest: the Glory will be too dazzling for the Unbelievers, whose past deliberate refusal, when they had freedom to choose, and yet rejected, will stand in their way. (R).

43. Their eyes will be (5623) cast down, ignominy will cover them; seeing that they had been summoned aforesetime to prostrate in adoration, while they were in good shape, (5624) (and had refused).

5623 Their past memories, combined with their present position, will then fill them with a sense of the deepest dismay and humiliation. See last note.
5624 Sulaiman: whole, in full possession of the power of judgement and will; not constrained, as they now will be, by the Punishment staring them full in the face.

44. Then leave Me (5625) alone with such as reject this Message: by degrees shall We punish them from directions they perceive not. (5626)

5625 Notice the transition between 'Me' and 'We' in this verse, and again to 'I' and 'My' in the next verse. The first person plural ordinarily used in the Holy Qur'an as Allah's Word, is the plural of respect. In Royal decrees the first person singular is used, it marks some special personal relation, either of Mercy or favours (as in 2:38 or 2:150) or of punishment, as here. (Cf. n. 56 to 2:38).
5626 Cf. 7:182. We must not be impatient if we see the wicked flourish. It may be that the very appearance of flourishing here may be a part of the Punishment. There may be an eventual punishment by a sort of Cataclysm; but evolutionary punishment is gradual and sure, Allah may punish wicked people by granting them respite and providing them worldly benefits in abundance, which encourages them in sin and transgression. So when they are finally seized by the Wrath of Allah they are caught suddenly and utterly unprepared, as it were, red-handed while engrossed in disbelief, a life of impiety and open revolt against their Lord! (R).

45. A (long) respite will I grant them: truly powerful is My Plan.

46. Or is it that thou dost ask them for a reward, (5627) so that they are burdened with a load of debt?-

5627 Cf. 52:40 n. 5074. It costs the Unbelievers nothing to hear the Preacher, for the Preacher asks for no reward, and indeed suffers for their benefit. The Preacher need not look even for appreciation or conversions. Al Mustafa is addressed in the first instance, but there is always a universal interpretation. The righteous man asks for no reward for his preaching or example: if he did, the value would be too great for the world to pay for. The Unbelievers behave as if they had the secret of the Unseen, but they are empty trillers, for, if they only tried to formulate spiritual laws, they would fail.

47. Or that the Unseen (5628) is in their hands, so that they can write it down?

5628 Cf. 52:41, n. 5075. The Unseen is certainly not within their knowledge or control. If it were, they could clearly write it down for their own guidance or the guidance of others. They should listen to the words of inspiration, sent by the Knower of all things.

48. So wait with patience for the Command of thy Lord, and be not like the Companion (5629) of the Fish, when he cried out in agony.

5629 This was Dhu al Nun, or Jonah, for whom see n. 2744 to 21:87-88. Cf. also 37:139-148 and the notes there. Jonah was asked to preach to the people of Nineveh, a wicked city. He met with hostility and persecution, fled from his enemies, and took a boat. He was caught in a storm and thrown into the sea. He was swallowed by a fish or whale, but he repeated in his living prison, and was forgiven. But the people of Nineveh were also forgiven, for they, too, repented. Here is a double allegory of Allah's mercy and forgiveness, and a command to patience, and complete and joyful submission to the Will of Allah.

49. Had not Grace from his Lord reached him, he would indeed have been cast off on the naked (5630) shore, in disgrace.

5630 Cf. 37:45-46, and n. 4126.

50. Thus did his Lord (5631) choose him and make him of the Company of the Righteous. (5632)

5631 Jonah was chosen by Allah's Grace and Mercy to be Allah's Prophet to Nineveh. If in his human frailty he lost a little patience, he suffered his punishment, but his true and sincere repentance and recognition of Allah's goodness and mercy restored him from his physical and mental distress, and from the obscuration of the spiritual Light in him.
5632 Cf. 4:69, n. 586. In the beautiful Fellowship of the Righteous there is room for all, of every grade of spiritual advancement, from the highest to the most ordinary. But, as in democratic politics every citizen's rights and status have complete recognition, so, in the spiritual Fellowship, the badge of Righteousness is the bond, even though there may be higher degrees of knowledge or experience.

51. And the Unbelievers would almost trip thee up (5633) with their eyes when they hear the Message; and they say: "Surely he is possessed!"

5633 The eyes of evil men look at a good man as if they would "eat him up", or trip him up or disturb him from his position of stability or firmness. They use all sorts of terms of abuse—"madman" or "one possessed by an evil spirit", and so on. Cf. 68:2 above, and n. 5594. But the good man is unmoved, and takes his even course. The Message of Allah is true and will endure, and it is a Message to all Creation.

52. But it is nothing less than a Message (5634) to all the worlds.

5634 This is the extreme antithesis to madness or demoniacal possession. So far from the Prophet uttering words disjointed or likely to harm people, he was bringing the Message of true Reality, which was to be cure of all evil, in every kind of world. For the different kinds of worlds see n. 20 to 1:2.
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. The Sure Reality!(5635)

Gracious, Most Merciful.

69. Al Haqqah (The Sure Reality)

The whole picture is painted in graphic poetical images, to indicate that which cannot be adequately described in words, and which indeed our human faculties with their present limited powers are not ready to comprehend. The angels will be on all sides, arrayed in ranks upon ranks, and the Throne of the Lord on high will be borne by eight angels (or eight rows of angels). That will be another description of the terrible Day of Judgment. This word Qari'ah also occurs as the title of S. 101.

2. What is the Sure Reality?

8. And disobeyed (each) the messenger of their Lord; so He punished them with an abundant Penalty.

10. And what will make thee realise what the Sure Reality is?

4. The Thamud(5636) and the 'Ad People (branded) as false the Stunning Calamity!(5637)

Another description of the terrible Day of Judgement. This word Qari'ah also occurs as the title of S. 101.

5. But the Thamud,- they were destroyed by a terrible Storm(5638) of thunder and lightning!

Thamud were addicted to class arrogance. They oppressed the poor. The prophet Salih preached to them, and put forward a wonderful she-camel as symbol of the rights of the poor, but they hamstrung her. See n. 1044 to 7:73.

8. And the 'Ad-(5639) they were destroyed by a furious Wind, exceedingly violent;

A graphic simile. Dead men all lying about like hollow trunks of palm trees with their roots exposed! The 'Ad were reputed to be of a tall stature.

14. And the earth is moved, and its mountains,(5649) and that ears (that should hear the tale and) retain its memory should bear its (lessons) in remembrance.(5647)

17. And the angels will be on its sides,(5650) and eight Trumpet,(5648)

The whole of our visible world, as we now know it, will pass away, and a new world will come into being. The mountains are specially mentioned, because they stand as a type of hardness, size, and durability. They will be 'crushed to powder', i.e., lose their form and being at one stroke (Cf. 89:21).

15. On that Day shall the (Great) Event come to pass.

16. And the sky will be rent asunder, for it will that Day, bear the Throne(5651) of thy Lord

13. Then, when one blast is sounded on the Trumpet,(5648)

We now come to the Inevitable Event, the Day of Judgement, the theme of this Surah. This is the first Blast referred to in 39:68, n. 4343.

14. And the earth is moved, and its mountains,(5649) and they are crushed to powder at one stroke,-

The Earth will be rent asunder, and the mountains will be crushed to powder, and the angels will be on all sides, arrayed in ranks upon ranks, and the Throne of the Lord on high will be borne by eight angels (or eight rows of angels). That will be the Day when Justice will be fully established and man be mustered to his Lord for reckoning. (R).

17. And the angels will be on its sides,(5650) and eight will, that Day, bear the Throne(5651) of thy Lord above them.

The Cities Overthrown:

Pharaoh's Messenger was Moses. See the story in 7:103-137 and the notes there. Pharaoh was inordinately proud, and his fall was proportionately great: it was a widespread Flood. Cf. 7:59-64; also 11:25-49. Noah was ridiculed for his preparations for the Flood: see 11:38, n. 1531. But Allah had commanded him to build an Ark, in order that mankind should be saved from perishing in the Flood. But only those of Faith got into the Ark and were saved. As the Ark was built to Allah's command, Allah 'carried you (mankind) in the floating (Ark)'. (R).

12. That We might make it a Message(5646) unto you, and that ears (that should hear the tale and) retain its memory should bear its (lessons) in remembrance.(5647)

19. But the Thamud,- they were destroyed by a terrible Storm(5638) of thunder and lightning!

Thamud were addicted to class arrogance. They oppressed the poor. The prophet Salih preached to them, and put forward a wonderful she-camel as symbol of the rights of the poor, but they hamstrung her. See n. 1044 to 7:73.

6. And the Ad-(5639) they were destroyed by a furious Wind, exceedingly violent;

Ad were unjust people spoilt by their prosperity. The prophet Had preached to them in vain. They were apparently destroyed by a terrific blast of wind. See n. 1040 to 7:65. See also 41:15-16, n. 4483, and 54:19, n. 5144.

7. He made it rage against them seven nights and eight days in succession: so that thou couldst see the (whole) people lying prostrate in its (path), as they were destroyed by a terrible blast of wind. See n. 1040 to 7:65. See also 41:15-16, n. 4483, and 54:19, n. 5144.

6. And the Ad-(5639) they were destroyed by a furious Wind, exceedingly violent;

Ad were unjust people spoilt by their prosperity. The prophet Had preached to them in vain. They were apparently destroyed by a terrific blast of wind. See n. 1040 to 7:65.

8. And the Ad-(5639) they were destroyed by a furious Wind, exceedingly violent;

Ad were unjust people spoilt by their prosperity. The prophet Had preached to them in vain. They were apparently destroyed by a terrific blast of wind. See n. 1040 to 7:65.

13. Then, when one blast is sounded on the Trumpet,(5648)

We now come to the Inevitable Event, the Day of Judgement, the theme of this Surah. This is the first Blast referred to in 39:68, n. 4343.

14. And the earth is moved, and its mountains,(5649) and they are crushed to powder at one stroke,-

The whole of our visible world, as we now know it, will pass away, and a new world will come into being. The mountains are specially mentioned, because they stand as a type of hardness, size, and durability. They will be 'crushed to powder', i.e., lose their form and being at one stroke (Cf. 89:21).

15. On that Day shall the (Great) Event come to pass.

16. And the sky will be rent asunder, for it will that Day be flimsy, mention. But Noah is alluded to last, and 'Ad and Thamud mentioned first, because the latter two belong to Arab tradition, and this is specially addressed to the Pagans of Makka. Pharaoh is mentioned rather than Moses for the same reason, and any others are 'those before Pharaoh'.
18. That Day shall ye be brought to Judgment: not an act of yours that ye hide will be hidden.

19. Then he that will be given his Record in his right hand (5652) will say: "Ah here! Read ye my Record!

5652 Q. 17:71, where the righteous are described as those who are given their record in their right hand at judgment. In 56:27, 38, and other passages, the righteous are called "Companions of the Right Hand."

20. "I did really understand (5653) that my Account would (One Day) reach me!"

5653 The righteous one rejoices that the faith he had during this world’s life was fully justified, and is now actually realised before him. He quite understood and believed that good and evil must meet with their due consequences in the Hereafter, however much appearances may have been against it in the life in the lower world, "in the days that are gone."

21. And he will be in a life of Bliss,

22. In a Garden on high,

23. The Fruits whereof (5654) (will hang in bunches) low and near.

5654 The symbolism is that of ripe, juicy grapes, hanging low in heavy bunches, so near that they could be gathered and enjoyed in dignified ease. Cf. also 55:34 and 76:14.

24. "Eat ye and drink ye, with full satisfaction; because of the (good) that ye sent before you, (5655) in the days that are gone!" (5656)

5655 Q. 2:110: "Whatever good ye send forth for your souls before you, ye shall find it with Allah; for Allah sees well all that ye do."

5656 Q. 54:36: "The stern command will say: 'Seize ye him, and bind ye him', (5660)

5660 Perhaps the word for 'bind' should be construed: 'bind his hands round his neck, to remind him that his hands when they were free were closed to all acts of charity and mercy; Cf. 17:29.

25. And he that will be given his Record in his left hand, (5657) will say: "Ah! Would that my Record had not been given to me!

5657 Q. 56:32: "This was he that would not believe in Allah and His Messenger; (5662) this was he that would not encourage the feeding of the poor in the visible world, in which falsehood in the long run gives place to truth, and what we may form here will be found to have become wholly obsolete by them.

26. "And that I had never realised how my account (stood)!

27. "Ah! Would that (Death) (5658) had made an end of me!

5658 The death as from this life was but a transition into a new world. They would wish that that death had been the end of all things, but it will not be.

28. "Of no profit to me has been my wealth!

29. "My power has perished from me!" ... (5659)

5659 The intensest agony is when the soul loses power over itself, when the personality tries to realise itself in new conditions and cannot: this is life in death.

30. (The stern command will say): "Seize ye him, and bind ye him, (5660)

32. "Further, make him march in a chain, whereof (5661) the length is seventy cubits!

5661 The sinful men who will be given their record on the Day of Judgement in their left hands will be in utter despair. Their power and authority which they misused to perpetrate injustice and oppression will be gone. The wealth that had made them turn a deaf ear to the call of truth will be no more. They will cry out in agony, 'O would that we were never raised again! O would that death had obliterated us once for all! But these cries will be of no avail. They will be seized, bound in chains and thrown into the Blazing Fire for their crimes against Allah and man. [Eds.]

33. "This was he that would not believe (5662) in Allah Most High.

5662 The grip of sin was fastened on sinners because they forsook Allah. They ran after their own lusts and worshipped them or they ran after Allah’s creatures, ignoring Him Who is the cause and source of all good.

34. "And would not encourage (5663) the feeding of the indigent!

5663 Cf. 55:54 and 76:14.

35. "So no friend hath he here this Day.

36. "Nor hath he any food except the corruption (5664) from the washing of wounds, 5664 They wounded many people by their cruelty and injustice in this life, and it is befitting that they should have no food other than 'the corruption from the washing of wounds'. (B).

37. "Which none do eat but those in sin."

38. So I do call to witness (5665) what ye see,

5665 This is an adoration in the same form as that which occurs in 36:75, 70:40, 55:34, and elsewhere. Allah’s Word is the quintessence of Truth. But what if someone doubts whether a particular message is Allah’s Word communicated through His Messenger, or merely an imaginary tale presented by a poet, or a soothsayer’s vain prophecy? Then we have to examine it in the light of our highest spiritual faculties. The witness to that Word is what we know in the invisible world, in which falsehood in the long run gives place to truth, and what we know in the invisible world, through our highest spiritual faculties. We are asked to examine and test it in both these ways.

39. And what ye see not,

40. That this is verily the word of an honoured messenger; (5666)

5666 Honoured messenger: one that is worthy of honour on account of the purity of his life, and may be relied upon to invent things but to give the true inner experiences of his soul in Revelation.

41. It is not the word of a poet: (5667) little it is ye believe!

5667 A poet draws upon his imagination, and the subjective factor is so strong that though we may learn much from him, we cannot believe as facts the wonderful tales he has to tell. And the poet who is not a Seer is merely a vulgar votary of exaggerations and falsehoods.

42. Nor is it the word of a soothsayer: (5668) little admonition it is ye receive.

5668 A soothsayer merely pretends to foretell future events of no profound spiritual consequence. Most of his prophecies are frauds, and none of them is meant to teach lessons of real admonition. Such admonition is the work of an honoured prophet.

43. (This is) A Message sent down from the Lord of the Worlds.
44. And if the messenger were to invent any sayings in Our name,
45. We should certainly seize him by his right hand, (5669)

5669 The right hand is the hand of power and action. Anyone who is seized by his right hand is prevented from acting as he wishes or carrying out his purpose. The argument is that if an imposter were to arise, he would soon be found out. He could not carry out his fraud indefinitely. But the prophets of Allah, however much they are persecuted, gain more and more power every day, as did the Prophet, whose truth, earnestness, sincerity, and love for all, were recognised as his life unfolded itself. (R).

46. And We should certainly then cut off the artery of his heart: (5670)

5670 This would effectually stop the functioning of his life.

47. Nor could any of you withhold him (5671) (from Our wrath).

5671 The protection which the prophets of Allah enjoy in circumstances of danger and difficulty would not be available for impostors. (R).

48. But verily this is a Message for the Allah-fearing.
49. And We certainly know that there are amongst you those that reject (it).
50. But truly (Revelation) is a cause of sorrow (5672) for the Unbelievers.

5672 The Message of Allah is glad tidings for those who believe in Him and follow His Law, for it is a message of Mercy and Forgiveness through repentance and amendment. But in the case of the wicked it is a cause of sorrow, for it denounces sin and proclaims the punishment of those who do not turn from evil (Cf. 2:187).

51. But verily it is Truth (5673) of assured certainty.

5673 All Truth is in itself certain. But as received by men, and understood with reference to man's psychology, certainty may have certain degrees. There is the probability or certainty resulting from the application of man's power of judgement and his appraisement of evidence. This is Hid al yaqin, certainty by reasoning or inference. Then there is the certainty of seeing something with our own eyes. "Seeing is believing." This is 'ain al yaqin, certainty by personal inspection. See 102:5, 7. Then, as here, there is the absolute Truth, with no possibility of error of judgement or error of the eye, (which stands for any instrument of sense-perception and any ancillary aids, such as microscopes, etc.). This absolute Truth is the haqq al yaqin spoken of here.

52. So glorify the name (5674) of thy Lord Most High.

5674 As Allah has given us this absolute Truth through His Revelation, it befores us to understand it and be grateful to Him. We must celebrate His praises in thought, word and deed.

70. Al Ma'arij (The Ways of Ascent)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. A questioner asked (5675) about a Penalty to befall-

5675 Any one might ask. When will Judgement come? That question usually implies doubt. The answer is: the mystery of Time is beyond man's comprehension. But there is something which touches him closely and concerns his conduct and his future welfare; and that is explained in four propositions: (1) Judgement is sure to come, and none can ward it off; (2) it will exact a dreadful penalty from Unbelievers, but the righteous have nothing to fear; (3) it will be a penalty from Allah; the Lord of both Justice and Mercy, it will not be merely a danger and difficulty would not be available for impostors. (R).

2. The Unbelievers, the which there is none to ward off,-

3. (A Penalty) from Allah, Lord of the Ways of Ascent. (5676)

5676 Ma'arij: stairways, ways of ascent. In 43:33, the word is used in its literal sense: 'silver stairways on which to go up'. Here there is a profound spiritual meaning. Can we reach up to Allah Most High? In His infinite grace He gives that privilege to angels and spiritual beings, man being such in his highest aspect. But the way is not easy, nor can it be travelled in a day. See the next two notes.

4. The angels and the Spirit (5677) ascend unto him in a Day (5678) the measure whereof is (as) fifty thousand years:

5677 Ruh: 'The Spirit', Cf. 78:38, 'the Spirit and the angels'; and 97:4, 'the angels and the Spirit'. In 16:2, we have translated 'Ruh' by 'Inspiration'. Some Commentators understand the angel Gabriel by 'the Spirit'. But I think a more general meaning is possible, and fits the context better. (R).

5678 Cf. 32:4-5, and notes 3632 and 3634.

5. Therefore do thou hold Patience,- a Patience of beautiful (contentment) (5679)

5679 The Prophet of Allah, persecuted and in trouble with the world, should yet hold Patience not the sort of patience which goes with complaints expressed or suppressed, but the sort of patience that is content with the ordering of Allah's world, for he believes and knows it to be good, as did the Prophet Muhammad. Such a patience is akin to Good Pleasure, for it arises from the purest faith and trust in Allah. (R).

6. They see the (Day) indeed as a far-off (event):

5680 The men of evil may see the just retribution for their sins so far off that they doubt whether it would ever come. But in Allah's sight, and on the scale of the Universal Plan, it is quite near; for time as we know it hardly exists in the spiritual world. It may come even in this life: but it is bound to come eventually.

8. The Day that the sky will be like molten brass (5681)
And the mountains will be like wool,(5682)

And no friend will ask after a friend,(5683)

And niggardly when good reaches him;- (5689)

Fretful when evil touches him;

Inviting (all) such as turn their backs (5687) and turn Plucking out (his being) right to the skull!-(5686)

By no means! for it would be the Fire of Hell!-

His kindred who sheltered him,

And all, all that is on earth,—so it could deliver something ugly and dreadful. The sinners will be so overcome with terror that they will desert their most intimate friends, and indeed their very sight of each other will add to their agony.

Though they will be put in sight of each other,—the sinner’s desire will be: Would that he could redeem himself from the Penalty of that Day(5684) by (sacrificing) his children,

The sinner will offer his children, his family, his kinsmen, who had sheltered and protected him in fact everything on earth that he could—as a ransom for himself. Such would be his selfishness and his agony.

His wife and his brother,

13. His kindred who sheltered him,

And all, all that is on earth,—so it could deliver him:(5685)

What would not the sinner give for his own deliverance! But nothing could save him. The Fire of Hell would be roaring for him!

By no means! for it would be the Fire of Hell!-

Plucking out (his being) right to the skull!-(5686)

It would be a Fire not only burning his body, but reaching right up to his brains and his understanding and—as is said in 104:7—his heart and affections also.

Plucking out (his being) right to the skull!-(5686)

In other words the Penalty typified by the Fire will burn into his inmost being.

Inviting (all) such as turn their backs(5687) and turn away their faces (from the Right).

The analysis of sin is given in four masterstrokes, of which the first two refer to the will or psychology of the sinner, and the last two to the use he makes of the good things of this life. (1) Sin begins with turning your back to the Right, refusing to face it squarely, running away from it whether from cowardice or indifference. (2) But Conscience and the sense of Right will try to prevent the flight; the Grace of Allah will meet the sinner at all corners and try to reclaim him; the hardened sinner will deliberately turn away his face from it, insult it, and reject it. (3) The result of this psychology will be that he will abandon himself to greed, to the collection of riches, and the acquisition of material advantages to which he is not entitled; this may involve hypocrisy, fraud, and crime. (4) Having acquired the material advantages, the next step will be to keep others out of them, to prevent hoarded wealth from fructifying by circulation, to conceal it from envy or spite.

And collect (wealth) and hide it (from use)!

Truly man was created very impatient;-(5688)

Man, according to the Plan of Allah, was to be in the best of moulds (95:4).

But in order to fulfil his high destiny he was given free will to a limited extent. The wrong use of this free will makes his nature weak (4:28), or lazy (17:11), or impatient, as here. That becomes his nature by his own act, but he is spoken of as so created because of the capacities given to him in his creation.

Fretful when evil touches him;

In adversity he complains and gets into despair. In prosperity he becomes arrogant and forgets other people’s rights and his own shortcomings. Cf. 41:49-50.

Not so those devoted to Prayer;-(5690)

The description of those devoted to Prayer is given in a number of clauses that follow, introduced by the words “Those who . . .”. “Devoted to Prayer” is here but another aspect of what is described elsewhere as the Faithful and the Righteous. Devotion to prayer does not mean merely a certain number of formal rites or prostrations. It means a complete surrender of one’s being to Allah. This means an earnest approach to and realisation of Allah’s Presence (steadfastness in Prayer); acts of practical and real charity; and attempt to read this life in terms of the Hereafter; the seeking of the Peace of Allah and avoidance of His displeasure; charity; probity; true and firm witness; and guarding the sacredness of the Presence (verse 34).

Those who remain steadfast to their prayer;

And those in whose wealth is a recognised right.

For the (needy) who asks and him who is prevented (for some reason from asking);(5691)

See n. 5001 to 51:19. True charity consists in finding out those in real need, whether they ask or not. Most frequently those who ask are idle men who insolently wish to live upon others. But all cases of those who ask should be duly investigated, in case a little timely help may set the erring on the way. But the man with wealth or talent or opportunity has the further responsibility of searching out those in need of his assistance, in order to show that he holds all gifts in trust for the service of his fellow creatures.

And those who hold to the truth of the Day of Judgment;

And those who fear(5692) the displeasure of their Lord,-

A true fear of Allah is the fear of offending against His Holy Will and Law, and is therefore akin to the love of Allah. It proceeds from the realisation that all true peace and tranquillity comes from attuning our will to the Universal Will, and that sin causes discord, disharmony, and displeasure—another name for the Wrath of Allah.

For their Lord´s displeasure is the opposite of Peace and Tranquillity;-(5693)

Some would construe this verse: ‘And their Lord’s displeasure is one against which there is no security’; meaning that the punishment of sin may come suddenly at any time, when you least expect it.

And those who guard their chastity,

Except with their wives and the (captive) whom they marry;(5694) their right hands possess,- for (then) they are not to be blamed,

Captive of war may be married as such: see 4:25: but their status is inferior to that of free wives until they are free. This institution of the captives of war is now obsolete. Such inferiority of status as there was, was in the status of captivity, not in the status of marriage as such, in which there are no degrees except by local customs, which Islam does not recognise.

But those who trespass beyond this are transgressors;-

For obligations of trusts and covenants, express or implied, see n. 682 to 3:1. They are just as sacred in ordinary everyday life as they are in special spiritual relationships. In addition, our life itself, and such reason and talents as we possess, as well as our wealth and possessions are trusts, of which we must fulfil the duties punctiliously.

And those who stand firm in their testimonies;(5696)

If we know any truth of any kind, to that we must bear witness, as affecting the lives or interests of our fellow beings firmly, not half-heartedly, without fear or favour, even if it causes loss or trouble to us, or if it loses us friends or associates,
And those who guard (the sacredness) of their worship;-(5697)

Worship or prayer includes honest work, charity, and every good deed. To guard the sacredness of this ideal is to sum up the whole duty of man. We began with 'steadfastness in prayer' in verse 23 above, and after a review of various aspects of the good man's life, close with the sacredness of worship, i.e., living as in the sight of Allah.

Such will be the honoured ones in the Gardens (of Bliss).

Now what is the matter with the Unbelievers that they rush madly before thee-(5698)

Before thee. The Unbelievers did not believe in a Hereafter. When the Bless of the Hereafter was described, as in the last verse, they ridiculed it and pretended to be running in for it as in a race. They are here rebuked in the same tone of sarcasm.

From the right and from the left, in crowds?

Does every man of them long to enter the Garden of Bliss?

By no means! For We have created them out of the (base matter) they know!(5699)

The animal part of man is nothing to be proud of, and they know it. It is by spiritual effort, and long preparation through a good life that a man can rise above the mere animal part of him to his high dignity as a spiritual being, and his noble destiny in the Hereafter.

Now I do call to witness(5700) the Lord of all points in the East and the West(5701) that We can certainly-for a stated Term: for when the Term given by Allah is accomplished, it cannot be put forward:

Three aspects of man's duty are emphasised: (1) true worship with heart and soul; (2) God-fearing recognition that all evil must lead to self-deterioration and Judgement; (3) hence repentance and amendment of life, and obedience to good men's counsels.

"So He may forgive you your sins and give you respite for a stated Term: for when the Term given by Allah is accomplished, it cannot be put forward:(5708) if ye only knew."

Allah gives respite freely; but it is for Him to give it. His command is definite and final; neither man nor any other authority can alter or in any way modify it. If we could only realise this to the full in our inmost soul, it would be best for us and lead to our happiness.

"But my call only increases (their) flight (from the Right).(5709)

When convincing arguments and warnings are placed before sinners, there are two kinds of reactions. Those who are wise receive admonition, repent, and bring forth fruits of repentance, i.e., amend their lives and turn to Allah. On the other hand, those who are callous to any advice take it up as a reproach, fly farther and farther from righteousness, and shut out more and more the channels through which Allah's healing Grace can reach them and work for them.

7. "And every time I have called to them, that Thou mightest forgive them, they have (only) thrust their fingers into their ears, covered themselves up with (5710) their garments, grown obstinate, and given themselves up to arrogance.

(5710) The literal meaning would be that, just as they thrust their fingers into their ears to prevent the voice of the admonisher reaching them, so they covered their bodies with their garments that the light of truth should not penetrate to them and that they should not even be seen by the Preacher. But there is a further symbolic meaning. Their garments are the adornments of vanities, their evil habits, customs, and traditions, and their ephemeral interests and standards. They drew them closer round them to prevent the higher Light reaching them. They grew obstinate and gave themselves up to the grossest form of selfish arrogance.

8. "So I have called to them aloud;

9. "Further I have spoken to them in public (5711) and secretly in private,

(5711) Noah used all the resources of the earnest preacher: he dinned the Message of Allah into their ears; he spoke in public places; and he took individuals into his confidence and appealed to them; but all in vain.

10. "Saying, 'Ask forgiveness from your Lord; for He is Oft-Forgiving;

11. "'He will send rain (5712) to you in abundance;

(5712) They had perhaps been suffering from drought or famine. If they had taken the message in the right way, the rain would have been a blessing to them. They took it in the wrong way, and the rain was a curse to them, for it flooded the country and drowned the wicked generation. In the larger Plan, it was a blessing all the same; for it purged the world, and gave it a new start, morally and spiritually.

12. "'Give you increase in wealth and sons; and bestow on you gardens and bestow on you rivers (of flowing water). (5713)

(5713) Each of these blessings—rain and crops, wealth and manpower, flourishing gardens, and perennial streams—are indications of prosperity, and have not only a material but also a spiritual meaning. Note the last point, "rivers of flowing water". The perennial springs make the prosperity as it were permanent; they indicate a settled population, honest and contented, and enjoying their blessings here on earth as the foretaste of the eternal joys of heaven.

13. "'What is the matter with you, that ye place not your hope for kindness and long-suffering in Allah,—(5713-A) (5713-A) An alternative translation would be "... that ye fear Allah's Message"; i.e., why don't you fear Allah's Majesty, His greatness, and consequent punishment for your sinfulness and hope for His mercy, kindness, and reward for your faith and good deeds? The words of the verse contain the twin strands—fear and hope—simultaneously. (IR).

14. "'Seeing that it is He that has created you in diverse stages?(5714)

(5714) Cf. 22:5, and notes 2771-2777; also 28:12-17, and notes 2872-2873. The meaning here may be even wider. Man in his various states exhibits various wonderful qualities or capacities, mental and spiritual, that may be compared with the wonderful workings of nature on the earth and in the heavens. Will he not then be grateful for these Mercies and turn to Allah, Who created all these marvels?

15. "'See ye not how Allah has created the seven heavens one above another,(5715)

(5715) See n. 5559 to 67:3.

16. "'And made the moon a light in their midst, and made the sun as a (Glorious) Lamp?(5716)

(5716) Cf. 25:61, where the sun is referred to as the glorious Lamp of the heavens: 'Blessed is He Who made the Constellations in the skies, and placed therein a lamp, and a moon giving light.'

17. "'And Allah has produced you from the earth growing (gradually),(5717)

(5717) Cf. 3:37, where the growth of the child Mary the Mother of Jesus is described by the same word nabi, ordinarily denoting the growth of plants and trees. The simile is that of a seed sown, that germinates, grows, and dies, and goes back to the earth. In man, there is the further process of the Resurrection. Cf. also 20:155.

18. "'And in the End He will return you into the (earth), and raise you forth (again at the Resurrection)?

19. "'And Allah has made the earth for you as a carpet (spread out),(5718)

(5718) Cf. 20:55.

20. "'That ye may go about therein, in spacious roads. '"(5719)

(5719) Fajr implies valley roads or passes between mountains. Though there are mountain chains on the earth, Allah's artistry has provided even in such regions, valleys and channels by which men may go about. Mountain roads usually follow the valleys.

21. Noah said: "O my Lord! They have disobeyed me, but they follow (men) whose wealth and children give them no increase but only Loss.

(5719-A) Sinners always resent it as a reproach that righteous men should speak to them for their own good. They prefer smooth flatterers, and they worship power even though the depositories of power are selfish men, who neither profit themselves nor profit others by the wealth and manpower that they collect round themselves. They forget that mere material things may be a delusion and a snare unless the moral and spiritual factor behind them sanctifies them.

22. "And they have devised a tremendous Plot.(5720)

(5720) Having got material resources the wicked devise plots to get rid of the righteous whose presence is a reproach to them. For a time their plots may seem tremendous and have the appearance of success, but they can never defeat Allah's Purpose.

23. "And they have said (to each other), 'Abandon not your gods:(5721) Abandon neither Wadd nor Suwa´, neither Yaguth nor Ya `uq, nor Nasr´: - (5721) For an account of how these Pagan gods and superstitions connected with them originated, and how they became adopted into the Arabian Pagan Pantheon, see Appendix X at the end of this Surah.

24. "They have already misled many; and grant Thou no increase to the wrong-doers but in straying (from their mark)."(5722)

(5722) Such Pagan superstitions and cults do not add to human knowledge or human well-being. They only increase error and wrongdoing. For example, how much lewdness resulted from the Greek and Roman Saturnalia! And how much lewdness results from ribād Holy songs! This is the natural result, and Noah in his bitterness of spirit prays that Allah's grace may be cut off from men who hug them to their hearts. They mislead others; let them miss their own mark! See also verse 28 below.

25. Because of their sins they were drowned (in the flood),(5723) and were made to enter the Fire (of Punishment): and they found— in lieu of Allah. none to help them.

(5723) The Punishment of sin seizes the soul from every side and in every form. Water (drowning) indicates death by suffocation, through the nose, ears, eyes, mouth, throat, and lungs. Fire has the opposite effects; it burns the skin, the limbs, the flesh, the brains, the bones, and every part of the body. So the destruction wrought by sin is complete from all points of view. And yet it is not death (20:74); for death would be a merciful release from the Penalty, and the soul steeped in sin has closed the gates of Allah's Mercy on itself. There they will abide, unless and Gracious, Most Merciful.

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

26. And Noah, said: "O my Lord! Leave not of the Unbelievers, a single one on earth! (5724)

5724 The Flood was sent in order to purge all sin. The prayer of Noah is not vindictive. It simply means, 'Cut off all the roots of sin'. See next note.

27. "For, if Thou dost leave (any of) them, they will but mislead Thy devotees, and they will breed none but wicked ungrateful ones.

72. Al Jinn (The Spirits)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Say: It has been revealed (5727) to me that a company of Jinn (5728) (to the Qur’an). They said, 'We have really heard a wonderful Recital! (5729)

5727 Revelation may be through various channels, and one of the channels may be a vision, by which the Prophet sees and hears events clearly passing before him. This particular vision may be the same as that referred to more briefly in 46:29-32, where see n. 4809. The Jinn had evidently heard of previous revelations, that of Moses (46:30), and the error of Trinitarian Christianity (72:3). The people from whom they come have all sorts of good and bad persons, but they are determined to preach the good Message of Unity which they have heard and believed in.

5728 For Jinn, see n. 929 to 6:100. (R).

5729 The Holy Qur'an would be to them a wonderful Recital—both in subject matter and in the circumstance that it had come in Arabia among a pagan and ignorant nation.

2. 'It gives guidance to the Right, and we have believed therein: we shall not join (in worship) any (gods) with our Lord.

3. 'And Exalted is the Majesty of our Lord: He has taken neither a wife nor a son. (5730)

5730 They abjure paganism and also the doctrine of a son begotten by Allah, which would also imply a wife of whom he was begotten. Cf. 6:101.

4. 'There were some foolish ones among us, who used to utter extravagant lies against Allah.

5. 'But we do think that no man or spirit should say aught that untrue against Allah. (5731)

5731 No one ought to entertain false notions about Allah. For by joining false gods in our ideas of worship, we degrade our conception of ourselves and the duty we owe to our Creator and Cherisher, to Whom we have to give a final account of life and conduct. If we worship idols or heavenly bodies, or human beings, or any creature, or false fancies born of self or foolish abstractions, or the lusts and desires of our own hearts, we are not only doing violence to Truth, but we are causing discord in the harmony of the world.

6. 'True, there were persons among mankind who took shelter with persons among the Jinn, but they increased them in folly. (5732)

5732 If human beings think that by a resort to some mysterious spirits they can shelter themselves from the struggles and actualities of their own lives, they are sadly mistaken. They must 'dye their own weird', as the Scots would say. It is folly to try to escape from the duties which they can understand in their own natural surroundings, or to try to avoid the consequences of their own acts. Only such persons do so as do not realise that they will ultimately have to answer at the Judgement Seat of Allah, whose first outpost is in their own conscience.

7. 'And they (came to) think as ye thought, that Allah would not raise up any one (to Judgment).

8. 'And we pried into the secrets of heaven; but we found it filled with stern guards and flaming fires. (5733)

5733 See notes 1951, 1953, and 1954 to 15:17-18. See also n. 5562 to 67:5. The speakers here have repented of sin and evil; but they recognise that there are evil ones among them, who love stealth and prying, but their dark plots will be defeated by vigilant guardians of the Right, whose repulse of the attacks of evil is figured by the shafts of meteoric light in the heavens.

9. 'We used, indeed, to sit there in (hidden) stations, to (steal) a hearing; but any who listen now will find a flaming fire watching him in ambush. (5734)

5734 What is the force of 'now'? It refers to the early Makkan period of Revelation. It means that whatever excuse there may have been before, for people to try to seek out the hidden truths of the Unseen World through spirits, there was none now, as the perspicuous Qur'an had restored the Message of Unity and cleared religion of all the cobwebs, mysteries, and falsehoods with which priestcraft and pious fraud had overlaid it. The result is that such seekers after false hidden knowledge will find themselves confronted now by the flaming fire of the Qur'an, which, like the shafts of meteoric light (see last note), will lie in wait for and nip such priestcraft and black magic in the bud.

10. 'And we understand not whether ill is intended to those on earth, (5735) or whether their Lord (really) intends to guide them to right conduct.

5735 To these spirits this revolutionary gospel is yet new, and appears like a flaming sword which destroys falsehood while it protects Truth. They frankly confess that they do not clearly understand whether on the whole it will be a mercy to mankind or a punishment for mankind forsaking the paths of Allah. But they rightly feel that it must be a blessing if all seek right Guidance.
11. "There are among us some that are righteous, and some the contrary; we follow divergent paths.

12. "But we think that we can by no means frustrate Allah throughout the earth, nor can we frustrate Him by flight."

13. "And as for us, since we have listened to the Guidance, we have accepted it: and any who believes in his Lord has no fear, either of a short (account) or of any injustice.

14. "Amongst us are some that submit their wills (to Allah), and some that swerve from justice. Now those who submit their wills - they have(5738) sought out the (path) of right conduct:

15. "But those who swerve,- they are (but) fuel for Hell-fire'. (5739)

16. (And Allah's Message is): "If they (the Pagans) had (only) remained on the (right) Way, We should certainly have bestowed on them Rain(5740) in abundance.

17. "That We might try them by that (means), But if any turns away from the remembrance(5741) of his Lord, He will cause him to undergo a severe Penalty.

18. "And the places of worship(5742) are for Allah (alone): So invoke not any one along with Allah.

19. "Yet when the Devotee(5743) of Allah stands forth to invoke Him, they(5744) just make round him a dense crowd."

20. Say: "I do no more than invoke my Lord, and I join not with Him any (false god).

21. Say: "It is not in my power to cause(5745) you harm, or to bring you to right conduct."

22. Say: "No one can deliver me from Allah(5746) (If I were to disobey Him), nor should I find refuge except in Him,

23. "Unless I proclaim what I receive from Allah and His Messages: for any that disobey Allah and His Messenger,- for them is Hell: they shall dwell therein for ever."

24. At length, when they see (with their own eyes) that which they are promised,(-5747) then will they know who it is that is weakest in (his) helper and least important in point of numbers.

25. Say: "I know not whether the (Punishment) which ye are promised is near,(5748) or whether my Lord will appoint for it a distant term.

26. "He (alone) knows the Unseen, nor does He make any one acquainted with His Mysteries,-(5749)"

5750 Rain: literally, water: stands for all kinds of blessings, material, moral, and spiritual. Among the spiritual blessings, is the insight into higher things, which results from our will and endeavour to stand firm on the right Way, the natural, moral, and spiritual Law established by Allah. All blessings come by way of trial: the more we have, the more is expected of us. A man of gifts, talents, or insight is expected to show a higher standard of love and unselfishness than one less gifted, just as a rich man is expected to give more in charity than a poor man.

5751 To remember Allah is to realise His presence, acknowledge His Goodness, and accept His guidance. If we fail to do so, by deliberately turning away, He will withdraw His Grace, and that will be a severe Penalty indeed.

5752 This is a Makkan Surah, and Masjid must be understood, not in the later technical sense of a Mosque, but in the root meaning, of any place, or occasion of worship or humble prostration in the service of Allah, or any limbs of faculties or accessories used in such worship, e.g., hands and feet, lips and voice, understanding or organisation. A number of meanings therefore follow: (1) No place of worship whatever should be used for the worship of any other but Allah the true God. The Ka'bah was then full of idols, but the idols and their votaries were usurpers. (2) Worship should not be mixed up with vain objects, but should be reserved for the sincere service of Allah. (3) All our gifts are for Allah's service, which includes the service of His creatures, and not for our vainglory. (R).

5753 See last note. In any case, they know that Allah's Truth and Allah's Plan must prevail, and no one can frustrate Allah's Purpose, or escape from it. Why not then bring the human will into conformity with it, and find Peace, as they have found, by the acceptance of Faith?
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O thou folded in garments! (5754)

Muzzammil: Some Commentators understand this, 'properly dressed for prayer', or 'folded' in a short, as one renouncing the vanities of this world. Muzzammil is one of the titles of our Prophet. But there is a deeper mystic meaning in this and the address 'Thou wrapped up' of the next Surah. Human nature requires warm garments and wrappings to protect the body from cold or heat or rain. But in the spiritual world these wrappings are useless; the soul must stand bare and open before Allah, in the silence of the night, but not too austere, as the following verses show.

2. Stand (to prayer) by night, but not all night, (5755)

The Prophet was prone to austerities in the cave of Hira', both before and after he received his mission, spending days and nights in prayer and contemplation. See C. 29. Midnight and aftermidnight prayers have technically received the name of Tahajjud. See also verse 20 below; also 17:59. (R).

3. Half of it, or a little less,

4. Or a little more; and recite the Qur'an (5756) in slow, measured rhythmic tones.

At this time there was only S. 96, S. 68, and possibly S. 74, and the opening Surah (Al Hadid) but the heart of the Messenger had received enlightenment, and that Light was gradually finding expression in the verse of the Qur'an. For us, now, with the whole of the Qur'an before us, the injunction is specially necessary. The words of the Qur'an must not be read hastily, merely to get through so much reading. They must be studied, and their deep meaning pondered over. They are themselves so beautiful that they must be lovingly pronounced in tones of rhythmic music.

5. Soon shall We send down to thee a weighty Message. (5757)

The Qur'an as completed by degrees, after the Fatrah (see Introduction to this Surah).

6. Truly the rising by night is most potent for governing (the soul), and most suitable for (framing) the Word (5758) (of Prayer and Praise).

For contemplation, prayer, and praise, what time can be so suitable as the night, when calm and silence prevail; the voices of the marketplace are still, and the silent stars pour forth their eloquence to the discerning soul.

7. True, there is for thee by day prolonged occupation with manifold engagements: (5759)

A prophet of Allah, as a man, a member of a family, or a citizen, has many manifold duties to perform; and his work may be made difficult and irksome in protecting those who listen to his preaching and are therefore molested and persecuted by the world. But while discharging all his manifold duties, he should work as in the presence of Allah, and in all matters and at all times retain the sense of Allah's nearness. His work may be on earth, but his heart is in Heaven.

8. But keep in remembrance the name of thy Lord and devote thyself to Him whole-heartedly.

9. (He is) Lord of the East and the West: there is no god but Allah. Those who are in the rank of Allah's enemies, none can refer to the Prophet who receives the Message from the 'watchers'.

Ahata: Men who enjoy the good things of life have special cause for gratitude to Allah, Who bestowed them. When they are in the ranks of Allah's enemies, none but Allah can adequately deal with them.

10. And have patience with what they say, and leave them with noble (dignity).

11. And leave Me (alone to deal with) those in My own possession and control, and does not allow to be corrupted or debased.

12. With Us are Fetters (to bind them), and a Fire (to burn them),
13. And a Food that chokes,(5764) and a Penalty
Grievous.(5765)

5764 Cf. 44:43-44; 56:52; 69:36-37, and 886. [Eds.]
5765 In general terms, the Penalty of sin may be described as a Penalty Grievous, an Agony. It may come in this very life, but that in the Hereafter is certain! See next verse.

We can also consider punishments from another aspect. The first object of punishment is to protect the innocent from the depredations of the criminal; we have to bind him. The next object is to produce in his heart the fire of repentance, to consume his evil proclivities and to light his conscience. Where that is not even, a more drastic punishment for the callous is something which causes him pain in things which ordinarily cause him pleasure, such as food, drink, and the satisfaction of physical needs. People in whom the higher spiritual faculties are dead may perceive be awakened through the lower physical features of their life, which appeal to them. Where this also fails, there is finally the complete Agony, a type or symbol too terrible to contemplate.

14. One Day the earth and the mountains will be in violent commotion. And the mountains will be as a heap of sand poured out and flowing down.(5766)

5766 The Judgement is described as a violent commotion which will change the whole face of nature as we know it. Even the hard rock of mountains will be like loose sand running without any cohesion.

15. We have sent to you, (O men!) a messenger, to be a witness concerning you,(5767) even as We sent a messenger to Pharaoh.

5767 Our Prophet has to warn his age, i.e., the present age, reclaim it from sin, and he a witness for the righteous and against evil, as Moses did his office in his age. Pharaoh, his arrogance, and his punishment, see 10:75-92.

16. But Pharaoh disobeyed(5768) the messenger; so We seized him with a heavy Punishment.

5768 Pharaoh the earthly king faces Moses the Prophet of Allah. In earthly eyes it was Moses who disobeyed Pharaoh. In spiritual relations, it was Pharaoh who disobeyed Moses. Pharaoh represented an ancient and mighty kingdom, with a long history behind it, and a pride in its learning and science, art, organisation, and power. Moses led a depressed people, hewers of wood and drawers of water. But the might of Allah was behind him. What became of the wisdom, power, and armies of Pharaoh? They were rent asunder when the day came, and the terror and surprise must have been the same as if the heavens had been rent asunder, and children's hair had turned grey! But formidable revolutions turn children grey-haired in another way. Nations that were as children became wise before they in their turn decayed, and from similar disobedience to the laws of Allah. For Allah's law must stand and be fulfilled when all else is swept away.

17. Then how shall ye, if ye deny (Allah), guard yourselves against a Day that will make children hoary-headed?-(5769)

5769 If already you deny and disobey Allah in this life of probation, how can you stand up to the Day of Judgement, the Day of the terrible Reality? That Day is described in two metaphors: (1) It will be a time of such stress that even children will become like hoary-headed men; (2) What we look upon as the eternal sky, ev'ery the same, will be cleft asunder. Cf. §82.1. In other words, the shape of things will be completely altered, both within man and in outer nature, and all true values will be restored. For the Promise of Allah, in this as in all other respects, cannot but be fulfilled.

18. Whereon the sky will be cleft asunder? His Promise needs must be accomplished.

19. Verily this is an Admonition:(5770) therefore, whoso will, let him take a (straight) path to his Lord!

5770 This is no empty threat. It is an admonition for your good. If you have the will, you can at once come for the Grace and Mercy of Allah, and obtain it. For Repentance and Amendment are the straight Way to the nearness of Allah.

20. Thy Lord doth know that thou standest forth (to prayer) nigh two-thirds of the night, or half the night, or a third(5771) of the night, and so doth a party of those with thee. But Allah doth appoint night and day due measure He knoweth that ye are unable to keep count thereof.(5772) So He hath turned to you (in mercy): read ye, therefore, of the Qur'an(5773) as much as may be easy for you. He knoweth that there may be (some) among you in ill-health; others travelling through the land, seeking of Allah's bounty; yet others fighting(5774) in Allah's Cause, read ye, therefore, as much of the Qurán as may be easy (for you); and establish regular Prayer and give regular Charity; and loan to Allah a Beautiful Loan.(5775) And whatever good ye send forth for your souls,(5776) ye shall find it in Allah's Presence,— yea, better and greater, in Reward and seek ye the Grace of Allah: for Allah is(5777) Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

5771 Cf. above, 73:2-4. The Prophet, and a zealous band of his disciples, were ofter up, two-thirds of the night, or a half, or a third, rejecting sleep and giving themselves up to Prayer and Praise and the reading of the Qur'an. They are told that this was too severe a tax on them, especially if their health was affected, or they were on a journey, or they were striving, with might and main, in other ways, for the cause of Allah. See the lines following.

5772 The usual meaning taken is that the counting of the exact hours of night and day may not be possible for ordinary people, in order to determine exactly the half, or the third, or the two-thirds of a night. The length of the night and day depends upon the day and night varies everyday of the solar year, and the precise hour of midnight can only be determined by exact observation in clear skies or by chronometers, which is not possible for everyone. But I understand it in a wider meaning. Allah fixes night and day in due proportions; for rest and work, and according to seasonal variations. For prayer and praise no meticulous observations of that kind are necessary or possible. Allah's service can be done in many ways as detailed below.
But we must give some time to devotion, as may be most easy and convenient to us, in various circumstances of health, travel, and the performance of various duties.

5773 The reading of the Qur'an here is a part of Prayer and religious devotion.
This is not to be made into an obsession or a burden. Cf. 20:2: "We have not sent down the Qur'an to thee to be an occasion for thy distress." We must do it wholeheartedly, but not by formal mechanical computations.

5774 This refers to Jihad. The better opinion is that this particular verse was revealed in Madina, long after the greater part of the Surahs. The reference, finally on, to canonical Prayers and regular Charity (Zakah), points to the same conclusion.

5775 Cf. 2:245, and n. 276, where the meaning of "a Beautiful Loan" is explained.
See also 57:18. The "Beautiful Loan" should be that of our own souls. We should expect no returns in kind, for that is not possible. But the reward we shall find with Allah will be infinitely greater and nobler. Cf. the biblical phrase, 'Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven?' (Matt. vi. 20).

5776 Any good that we do raises our own spiritual status and dignity. We must not think that when we speak of Allah's service or Allah's Cause, we are doing anything for His benefit; He is independent of all needs whatsoever.

5777 This emphasizes the need of Allah's Grace. Whatever good we do, our own merits are comparatively small. Allah's Grace must lift us up and blot out our shortcomings. Even in piety there may be an arrogance which may become a sin.
We should always seek Allah's Mercy in all humility.
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. O thou wrapped up (5778) (in the mantle)!

In these wonderful early mystic verses there is a double thread of thought; (1) A particular occasion or person is referred to; (2) a general spiritual lesson is taught. As to (1), the Prophet was now past the stage of personal contemplation, lying down or sitting in his mantle; he was now to go forth; boldly to deliver his Message and publicly proclaim the Lord; his heart had always been purified, but now all his outward doings must be dedicated to Allah, and conventional respect for ancestral customs or worship must be thrown aside; his work as a Messenger was the most generous gift that could flow from his personality, but no reward or appreciation was to be expected from his people, but quite the contrary; there would be much call on his patience, but his contentment would arise from the good pleasure of Allah. As to (2), similar stages arise in a minor degree in the life of every good man, for which the Prophet's life is to be a universal pattern. (R).

2. Arise and deliver thy warning!

3. And thy Lord do thou magnify!

4. And thy garments (5779) keep free from stain!

Possibly, in its immediate application, there is a reference to the dirt and filth which the Pagans used to throw at the Prophet to insult and persecute him.

5. And all abomination shun (5780)

Abomination; usually understood to refer to idolatry. It is even possible that there was an idol called Raja. But it has a wider signification, as including a mental state opposed to true worship, a state of doubt or indecision.

6. Nor expect, in giving, any increase (for thyself)!

The spiritual consideration is that you give, but expect nothing from the receiver. You serve Allah and Allah's creatures.

7. But, for thy Lord's (Cause), (5782) be patient and constant!

Our zeal for Allah's Cause itself requires that we should not be impatient, and that we should show constancy in our efforts for His Cause. For we have faith, and we know that He is All-Good, All-Wise, and All-Powerful, and everything will ultimately be right.

8. Finally, when the Trumpet is sounded,

The Sinner's course is now shown in contrast to the Seeker's. The Sinner may be self-complacent now; but what will be his position when the Reckoning comes? Not easy; indeed a Day of Distress!

9. That will be- that Day - a Day of Distress, -(5783)

The Sinner takes Allah's gifts as if they were his right. The more he gets, the more he greedy. Yet to Allah's Signs and revelations he is willfully deaf or even openly rebellious. But he is only preparing the way for his own undoing.

10. Far from easy for those without Faith.

11. Leave Me alone, (to deal) (5784) with the (creature) whom I created (bare and alone)!

These verses refer to the Sinner's perversity can only end in the Fire of Punishment. It enters his very being. See next note.

12. To whom I granted resources in abundance,

13. And sons to be by his side!-(5786)

The great ones of the earth may have wealth, a large following, sons by their side to defend them and do their bidding and manpower to help them in their battles. Life may be smooth and agreeable to them. But their responsibility is to Allah.

14. To whom I made (life) smooth and comfortable!

15. Yet is he greedy- that I should add (Yet more);-

The Sinner's perversity can only end in the Fire of Punishment. It enters his very being. See next note.

16. By no means! For to Our Signs he has been refractory!

17. Soon will I visit him with a mount of calamities!

A mount of calamities” or disasters: may be understood as a phrase for cumulative disasters. (R).

18. For he thought and he plotted;-

19. And woe to him! (5789) How he plotted!-

20. Yea, Woe to him; How he plotted!-

21. Then he looked round;

22. Then he frowned and he scowled;

23. Then he turned back and was haughty;

24. Then said he: (5790) "This is nothing but magic, derived from of old;

The Commentators understand the reference to be to Walid ibn Mughayrah, who was a wealthy Sybarite, Pagan to the core, and an inveterate enemy to the Prophet. He and Abu Jahl did all they could, from the beginning of the preaching of Islam, to abuse and persecute the Preacher, to run down his doctrine, and to injure those who believed in it. But the meaning for us is much wider. There are Walids in all ages. They cannot understand divine inspiration, and seek to explain its wonderful influence over the lives of men by some such meaningless formula as "magic". The eternal Hope is to them mere human delusion!

25. "This is nothing but the word of a mortal!"

26. Soon will I cast him into Hell-Fire!

The Sinner's perversity can only end in the Fire of Punishment. It enters his very being. See next note.

27. And what will explain to thee what Hell-Fire is?

28. Naught doth it permit to endure, and naught (5792) doth it leave alone!-

He is in a state in which he neither lives nor dies (87:13). Looked at in another way, the things that in a good man are meant to last and grow, are for the sinner destroyed, and no part of his nature is left untouched. The brightness of his very manhood is darkened and extinguished by sin.

29. Darkening and changing the colour of man!

30. Over it are Nineteen.(5793)

5793 The figure nineteen refers to angels appointed to guard Hell. See verse 31 below and the corresponding note. [Eds.]

31. And We have set none(5794) but angels as Guardians of the Fire; and We have fixed their number(5795) only as a trial for Unbelievers,- in order that the People of the Book may arrive at certainty, and the Believers may increase in Faith,- and that no doubts may be left for the People of the Book and the Believers, and that those in whose hearts is a disease and the Unbelievers may say, "What symbol doth Allah intend by this?"(5796) Thus doth Allah leave to stray whom He pleaseth, and guide whom He pleaseth: and none can know the forces of thy Lord, except He.(5797) And this is no other than a warning to mankind.

5794 Cf. 66:6, and n. 55:40.

There was a great volume of angelology in the religious literature of the People of the Book, i.e., the Jews and Christians, to whom (among others) an appeal is made in this verse. The Essenes, a Jewish brotherhood with highly spiritual ideas, to which perhaps the Prophet Jesus himself belonged, had an extensive literature of angology. In the Midrash also, which was a Jewish school of exegesis and mystical interpretation, there was much said about angels. The Eastern Christian sects contemporary with the birth of Islam had borrowed and developed many of these ideas, and their mystics owed much to the Gnostics and the Persian apocalyptic systems. In the New Testament the relation of the angels with Fire is referred to more than once. In Rev. 9:11 we have the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollonion. In Rev. 14:18 there is an 'angel which had power over fire', and in Rev. 16:18 an angel has 'power... given unto him to scorch men with fire'. In the Old Testament (Daniel 7:9-10) the essence of all angels is fire; thousands of them issued as a fiery stream from before the Ancient of Days, whose 'throne was like the fiery flame, and His wheels as burning fire'.

5795 The mystic significance of numbers is a favourite theme with some writers, but I lay no stress on it. In Christian theology the number of the Beast, 666, in Rev. 13:18 has given rise to much controversy, and may refer only to the numerical value of the letters in the name of the Roman Emperor Nero. In our own literature I think that we ought to avoid too much insistence on speculative conjectures. (R).

5796 There are four classes of people mentioned here: (1) the Muslims will have their faith increased, because they believe that all revelation is from Allah Most Merciful, and all His forces will work in their favour; (2) the People of the Book, those who had received previous revelations of an analogous character, the Jews and Christians, had numerous sects disputing with each other on minute points of doctrine; but they will now, if they believe, find rest from controversies in a broad understanding of scripture; (3) those in whose hearts is a disease (see 2:8-10, notes 38:3-4), the insincere ones, the hypocrites, will only be mystified, because they believe nothing and have rejected the grace and mercy of Allah; (4) the Unbelievers have frankly done the same and must suffer similar consequences. (R).

5797 It is a necessary consequence of moral responsibility and freedom of choice in man, that he should be left free to stray if he chooses to do so, in spite of all the warning and the instruction he receives. Allah's channels of warning and instruction—His spiritual forces—are infinite, as are His powers. No man can know them. But this warning or reminder is addressed to all mankind.

All things are referred to Allah. But we must not attribute evil to Him. In 4:79 we are expressly told that the good comes from Allah, and the evil from ourselves.

32. Nay, verily: By the Moon,(5798)

5798 An oath in human speech calls in evidence something sacred in the heart of man. In Allah's Message, also, when delivered in human language, solemn emphasis is indicated by an appeal to something striking among the Signs of Allah, which will go straight to the human heart which is addressed. In each case the symbol of the appeal has reference to the particular point enforced in the argument. Here we are asked to contemplate three wonderful phenomena, and they lead up to the conclusion in verse 38. (4) The moon, next after the sun, is the most striking luminary to our sight. Its reflected light has for us even a greater mystery than the direct light of the sun, which looks to us like pure fire. The moon was worshiped as a deity in times of darkness. But in reality, though she rules the night, her rays are only reflections, and are wanting in warmth and vitality. So every soul which looks up to a mere creature of Allah for a sort of vicarious salvation is in spiritual darkness of error; for the true source of spiritual light and life is Allah, and Allah alone. For (2) the Night and (3) the Dawn, see the following note.

33. And by the Night(5799) as it retreatheth,

5799 (6) The Night when it is illuminated by the Moon is light in a sense, but it is really dark and must give place to (3) the Dawn when it comes, as the harbinger of the Sun. So in spiritual matters, when every soul realises its own responsibility, it will look less and less to reflected lights, and through the beauty of a dawn-like awakening, will be prepared more and more for the splendour of the light of Allah Himself, the goal of the Heavens of our dreams.

34. And by the Dawn as it shineth forth,-

35. This is but one(5800) of the mighty (portents),

5800 This is but one, etc. There are numerous Signs of Allah, of which Judgement is one, and one of the mightiest portents. Or the reference may be to the waning of the Moon, the decline of the night, and the glorious sunrise, as tokens or symbols of the world renewed when the present transitory world passes away. According to some commentators 'This' here refers to Hell. (R).

36. A warning to mankind,-

37. To any of you that chooses to press forward, or to follow behind;-(5801)

5801 Three interpretations are possible. (1) Those pressing forward may be the Righteous, and those following behind may be the saggards, the Unbelievers, who reject Allah's love, care, and mercy. (2) Men of two kinds of temperament may be referred to; those who are always in the van and those who are always in the rear. Allah's Message is open to both. But there may be a danger to both; in the one case, overconfidence, or hope in wrong things; in the other case, missing great opportunities so that their spiritual lives may be 'bound in shallows and in miseries'. Extremes should be avoided. (3) Or it may mean that the warning is effective only for those willing to move forwards or backwards, as the case may be, but is lost on the inert or the lethargic. For our moral and spiritual progress, we have in some cases to go forward, but in some cases we have to retreat from false positions. The hopeless case is that of the obstinate man, whose heart is so dead that he dares not advance to the right or withdraw from the wrong.

38. Every soul will be (held) in pledge for its deeds.(5802)

5802 Cf. 32:21. Man cannot shift his responsibility to vicarious saviours or saints. His redemption depends upon the grace of Allah, for which he should constantly and wholeheartedly strive by means of right conduct. If he does so he will be redeemed and he will join the Companions of the Right Hand.

39. Except the Companions of the Right Hand,(5803)

5803 Cf. n. 32:23 to 56:3, and see 36:27-38. The Companions of the Right Hand will be the Righteous or the Blessed in the Hereafter. Their grounds of merit will be Prayer, Charity, Earnestness, and Faith in Allah's just Judgement; all which are within the reach of the humblest Seeker: They are not separate acts of virtue, but are all interconnected. At Judgement, the pledge of their soul will be redeemed by Allah's Grace at the Taking of the Account.

40. (They will be) in Gardens (of Delight): and will ask,

41. Of the Sinners:

42. "What led you into Hell—Fire?"

43. They will say: "We were not of those who prayed;"

44. "Nor were we of those who fed the indigent;"

45. "But we used to talk vanities with vain talkers;"

46. "And we used to deny the Day of Judgement;"
47. “Until there came to us (the Hour) that is certain.”(5804)

48. Then will no intercession of (any) intercessors profit them.

49. Then what is the matter with them that they turn away from admonition?—(5805)

50. As if they were affrighted asses,

51. Fleeing from a lion!

52. Forsooth, each one of them wants to be given scrolls (of revelation) spread out!

53. By no means! But they fear not the Hereafter,

54. Nay, this surely is an admonition:

55. Let any who will,(5807) keep it in remembrance!

56. But none will keep it in remembrance except as Allah wills: He(5808) is the Lord of Righteousness, and the Lord of Forgiveness.

75. Al Qiyamah (The The Ressurection)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. I do call to witness the Resurrection Day;

2. And I do call to witness the self-reproaching spirit:

3. Does man think that We cannot assemble his bones?

4. Nay, We are able to put together in perfect order the very tips of his fingers.

5. But man wishes to do wrong (even) in the time in front of him.

6. He questions: "When is the Day of Resurrection?"

7. At length, when the sight is dazed,

8. And the moon is buried in darkness.

9. And the sun and moon are joined together,

10. That Day will Man say: "Where is the refuge?"

11. By no means! No place of safety!
12. Before thy Lord (alone), that Day will be the place of rest.

13. That Day will Man be told (all) that he put forward, and all that he put back.(5818)

5818 All good and bad deeds, positive and negative, i.e., all sins of commission and omission, and all the good that a man did and all the evil that he omitted, all the influence that he radiated before him and all that he left behind him.

14. Nay, man will be evidence against himself,(5819)

5819 Cf. 24:24, and n. 2976: "On the Day when their tongues, their heads, and their feet will bear witness against them as to their actions." It is not what a man says about himself, or what others say of him, that determines judgment about him. It is what he is in himself. His own personality betrays him or commends him.

15. Even though he were to put up his excuses.

16. Move not thy tongue concerning the (Qur’án) to make haste therewith.(5820)

5820 Cf. 20: 114, and n. 2639: "Be not in haste with the Qur’ân before its revelation to thee is completed." S. 7: 5. is an earlier revelation, and the shade of meaning is slightly different. The immediate meaning was that the Prophet was to allow the revelation conveyed to him to sink into his mind and heart and not to be impatient about it; Allah would certainly complete it according to His Plan, and see that it was collected and preserved for men, and not lost; that the inspired one was to follow it and recite it as the inspiration was conveyed to him; and that it carries its own explanation according to the faculties bestowed by Allah on man. The general meaning follows the same lines; we must not be impatient about the inspired Word; we must follow it as made clear to us by the faculties given to us by Allah.

17. It is for Us to collect it and to promulgate it:

18. But when We have promulged it, follow thou its recital (as promulgated):

19. Nay more, it is for Us to explain it (and make it clear):

20. Nay, (ye men!) but ye love the fleeting life,(5821)

5821 Cf. 21:37. Man loves haste and things of haste. For that reason he pins his faith on transitory things that come and go, and neglects the things of lasting moment, which come slowly, and whose true import will only be fully seen in the Hereafter.

21. And leave alone the Hereafter.

22. Some faces, that Day,(5822) will beam (in brightness and beauty):-

5822 This passage (especially with reference to verses 26-28) would seem to refer to what our Doctors call the Lesser Judgement (at Qiyamah al Saghirah), which takes place immediately after death, and not to the Greater or General Judgement, which may be supposed to be referred to in such passages as occur in S. 56. There are other passages referring to the Lesser Judgement immediately after death, e.g., 7:37 etc. If I understand aright, the punishment of sin takes place in three ways; (1) it may take place in this very life, but this may be deferred, to give the sinner respite; (2) it may be an agony immediately after death, with the Partition or Barzakh (23:100) separating the sinner from the final Resurrection; and (3) in the final Resurrection, when the whole of the present order gives place to a wholly new World: 14:48.

23. Looking towards their Lord;

24. And some faces, that Day, will be sad and dismal,

25. In the thought that some back-breaking calamity was about to be inflicted on them;

26. Yea, when (the soul)(5823) reaches to the collarbone (in its exit), 5823 A symbolic picture of the agony of death.

27. And there will be a cry, "Who is a magician (to restore him)?"

28. And he(5824) will conclude that it was (the Time) of Parting;

5824 He = the dying man, whose soul is referred to in verse 26 above.

29. And one leg will be(5825) joined with another:

5825 When the soul has departed, the legs of the dead body are placed together in position, in preparation for the rites preliminary to the burial. Say literally, leg may also be taken metaphorically to mean a calamity: calamity will be joined to calamity for the poor departed sinner's soul, as his life story in this world is now done. Wilfully, he will now have to go before the Throne of Judgement.

30. That Day the Drive will be (all) to thy Lord!

31. So he gave nothing in charity, nor did he pray!-(5826)

5826 His indictment in this and the succeeding verse consists of four counts: (1) he neglected prayer; (2) he neglected charity; (3) he rejected Truth; and (4) he turned away. In 7:45-46, the four counts are: (1) neglecting prayer; (2) neglecting charity; (3) talking vanities; (4) denying the Day of Judgement; see n. 2803, Nos. (1) and (2) are identical in both places, and Nos. (3) and (4) are analogous. Rejecting the truth is equivalent to talking vanities and making an alliance with falsehoods. Denying the Day of Judgement means behaving as if no account was to be given of our actions, i.e., turning away from right conduct. An additional touch is found here in verse 33. See next note.

32. But on the contrary, he rejected Truth and turned away!

33. Then did he stalk to his family in full conceit!(5827)

5827 Conceit or arrogance is the root cause of most Evil. By that cause fell Iblis: see 2:34.

34. Woe to thee, (O men!), yea, woel

35. Again, Woe to thee, (O men!), yea, woel

36. Does man think that he will be left uncontrolled, (without purpose)?(5828)

5828 Sada  has many implications; (1) uncontrolled, free to do what he likes; (2) without any moral responsibility; not accountable for his actions; (3) without a purpose, useless; (4) forsaken.

37. Was he not a drop of sperm emitted (in lowly form)?(5829)

5829 Cf. 22:5, where the argument is developed in greater detail. The briefer argument here may be stated thus. His lowly animal origin makes him no higher than a brute; his foetal development is still that of a brute animal; then at some stage come human limbs and shape; the divine spirit is poured into him, and he is fashioned in due proportion for his higher destiny. In spite of that the mystery of sex remains in his nature: we are living souls, yet men and women. Allah Who creates these wonders has He not the power to bring the dead to life at the Resurrection? (see also n. 5116).

38. Then did he become a leech-like clot; then did ((Allah)) make and fashion (him) in due proportion.

39. And of him He made two sexes, male and female.

40. Has not He, (the same), the power to give life to the dead?
76. Al Insan (Man) or Al Dahr (The Time)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Has there not been over Man a long period of Time,(5830) when he was nothing - (not even) mentioned?

That is, they prepare for the Judgement to come, where the effects of Sin will not be transitory but far-reaching.

2. Verily We created Man from a drop of mingled sperm,(5832) in order to try him: So We gave him (the gifts), of Hearing and Sight.

3. We showed him the Way: whether he be grateful or ungrateful (rests)(5833) on his will.

Consequently a right attitude of mind is necessary to receive instruction.

4. For the Rejecters we have prepared chains, yokes, and a Blazing Fire.(5834)

Cf. 13:5; 34:33 and 40:71. [Eds.]

5. As to the Righteous, they shall drink of a Cup (of Wine) mixed with Kafur,-(5835)

Kafur is Camphor.

6. A Fountain where the Devotees of Allah do drink, making it flow in unstinted abundance.

7. They(5836) perform (their) vows,(5837) and they fear a Day whose evil flies far and wide.(5838)

They, i.e., the Righteous: they are known in the present life by the virtues symbolically described in verses 7-10, and in the life of the Hereafter they will enjoy the Bliss symbolically described in verses 11-22.

8. And they feed, for the love of Allah, the indigent, the orphan, and the captive,-(5839)

The captive: when taken literally, it refers to the old state of things when captives of war had to earn their own food, or their own redemption; even ordinary prisoners in jail for criminal offences often starved unless food was provided for them by private friends or from their own earnings. But there is a further symbolic meaning, which applies to the indigent, the orphans, and the captives, viz., those who are so in a spiritual sense: those have no mental or moral resources, or have no one to look after them, or are held down in social or moral or economic captivity. They hunger for spiritual food, or perhaps their appetite is deadened, but the Righteous understand and supply their real needs. It has also been held that "captives" include dumb animals who are under subjection to man; they must be properly fed, housed, and looked after; and the righteous man does not forget them.

9. (Saying),"We feed you for the sake of Allah alone: no reward do we desire from you, nor thanks.(5840)

These words need not be actually uttered. They express the true motives of pious and unpretentious Charity.

10. "We only fear a Day of distressful Wrath from the side of our Lord."(5841)

5840 Cf. 75:22-23.

5841 It is a Day of Wrath for sin and evil. But the truly righteous are not self-righteous. They have the fear of Allah in their minds: they know they are human, and they fear lest they should be found wanting in the sight of Allah. But Allah in His Mercy gives them a bountiful Reward.

11. But Allah will deliver them from the evil of that Day, and will shed over them a Light(5842) of Beauty and (blissful) Joy.

5842 Cf. 22:23.

5843 Cf. 22:23.

12. And because they were patient and constant, He will reward them with a Garden and (garments of) silk.(5843)

13. Reclining in the (Garden) on raised thrones,(5844) they will see there neither the sun’s (excessive heat) nor (the moon’s) excessive cold.(5845)

5844 Cf. 18:31.

5845 The sun and the moon as we know them will be no longer there. It will be a new world on a different plane. But to give us an idea of comfort we recall the excessive heat of the sun especially in tropical climates, and the excessive cold of the moon especially in northern climates, and we negate them both. That is, the temperature will be just that delightful one that is most agreeable to our sensations as we know them now. The moon is not mentioned, but Zamharir (excessive cold) is sometimes used for the moon. (R).

14. And the shades of the (Garden) will come low over them, and the bunches (of fruit), there, will hang low in humility.(5846)

5846 Without sun and moon there will of course be no shade in the literal sense of the word. But for full comfort, there will be sheltering shade for rest and change from whatever light there be. But the whole idea here is that of humility. Even the shadows show humility: cf. 18:13.5. So does the fruit in hanging low for man. Man has now reached the height of his dignity. (R).

15. And amongst them will be passed round vessels of silver(5847) and goblets of crystal,-
16. Crystal-clear, made of silver; (5848) they will determine the measure thereof (according to their wishes).

17. And they will be given to drink there of a Cup (of Wine) mixed (5849) with Zanjabil,-

18. A fountain there, called Salsabil.(5850)

19. And round about them will (serve) youths of perpetual (freshness); (5851) If thou seest them, thou wouldst think them scattered Pearls.(5852)

20. And when thou lookest, it is there thou wilt see a Bliss and a Realm Magnificent.

21. Upon them will be green Garments of fine silk and heavy brocade, and they will be adorned with Bracelets of silver; (5853) and their Lord will give to them to drink there of a Cup (of Wine) pure and holy. (5854)

22. "Verily this is a Reward for you, and your Endeavour is accepted and recognised."

23. It is We Who have sent down the Qur’an to thee by stages. (5855)

24. Therefore be patient with constancy to the Command of thy Lord, and hearken not to the sinner or the ingrate among them.

25. And celebrate the name (5856) or thy Lord morning and evening,

Three methods of Prayer and Devotion are mentioned: (1) to remember and celebrate the Holy Name of Allah always; (2) to spend a part of the night in humble prostration; and (3) to glorify Him in the long hours of a weary night of waiting and watching. As to (1), "morning and evening" means all the waking hours of our life, but in the special hours of morning and evening the physical world without us, and the inner world within us, combine to make us specially receptive of spiritual influences. The "name" of Allah includes His attributes, as a locked golden casket might include priceless jewels. Anyone may carry the casket, even though he may not be worthy to handle the jewels. If he carries the casket, he is in potential possession of the jewels, and he hopes some time to get the key which opens the jewels to him. So the tyro, who celebrates the Holy Name of Allah, hopes some day to see the "Face" of Allah and be blessed with the privilege of proximity to His Person. For (2) and (3) see next note. (R).

26. And part of the night, prostrate thyself to Him; and glorify Him (5857) a long night through.

27. As to these, they love the fleeting life, and put away behind them (5858) a Day (that will be) hard.

28. As to these, they love the fleeting life, and put away behind them (5858) a Day (that will be) hard.

29. But ye will not, except as Allah wills; (5861) for Allah has not only created men, but "made their joints strong" (R).

30. But ye will not, except as Allah wills; (5861) for Allah is full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

31. He will admit to His Mercy whom He will; (5862) But the wrong-doers,- for them has He prepared a grievous Penalty.
77. Al Mursalat (Those Sent Forth)

1. By the (Winds) Sent Forth (5863) one after another (to man’s profit); (5864)

2. Which then blow violently in tempestuous Gusts, (5865)

3. And scatter (things) far and wide;

4. Then separate them, one from another,

5. Then spread abroad a Message, (5866)

6. Whether of Justification or of Warning;

7. Assuredly, what ye are promised must come to pass.

8. Then when the stars become dim; (5867)

9. When the heaven is cleft asunder;

10. When the mountains are scattered (to the winds) as dust;

11. And when the messengers are (all) appointed a time (to collect); (5868)

12. For what Day are these (portents) deferred?

13. For the Day of Sorting out. (5869)

14. And what will explain to thee what is the Day of Sorting out?

15. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

16. Did We not destroy the men of old (5870) (for their evil)?

17. So shall We make later (generations) follow them.

18. Thus do We deal with men of sin.

19. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

20. Have We not created you from a fluid (held) despicable? (5871)

21. The which We placed in a place of rest, firmly fixed, (5872)

22. For a period (of gestation), determined (according to need)? (5873)

23. For We do determine (according to need); for We (5874) are the best to determine (things).
24. Ah woe, that Day! to the Rejecters of Truth!

25. Have We not made the earth (as a place) to draw together.

26. The living and the dead,(5875)

5875 What a wonderful parable! The earth is a place where death and life, decay and growth and decay, green grass, stubble, and fuel, corruption and purification jostle together—often leading to the other. The drama which we see with our own eyes in this world should enable us to appreciate the wonders in the spiritual world where the desirous and rejected receive the highest honour. Lazarus rests in Abraham's bosom, and the Pharaoh is led in chains for his arrogance and his sin.

27. And made therein mountains standing firm,(5876) lofty (in stature); and provided for you water sweet (and wholesome)?

5876 See n. 2038 to 16:15. The solid mountains are frequently referred to: cf. 53:5. The parable here is that the mountains are hard, solid rock, and yet they act as sponges to collect, store up, and filter sweet and wholesome water, which on account of their altitude they are able to distribute by gravity to the lower, dry land by means of rivers or springs. Anyone who has seen the parched Makkan valleys and the delicious springs in the mountains around, or the Zuhayrah Canal, which is the main source of Makkan's water supply, will appreciate the aptness of the metaphor, but it applies to any country, though not to so striking a degree. If the wisdom and power of Allah can do such things before your eyes, how can you reject His teaching of a still more wonderful future Life?

28. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

29. (It will be said:) "Depart ye to that which ye used to reject as false!

30. "Depart ye to a Shadow(5877) (of smoke ascending) in three columns, 5877 The Sinners, instead of reposing in cool shades, will only see the blazing Fire. The only shadow they will see will be that of Smoke, ascending in three columns, right, left, and above, i.e., completely enveloping them. But it will give no comfort or coolness. On the contrary, it will contain huge sparks. (R).

31. "(Which yields) no shade of coolness, and is of no use against the fierce Blaze.

32. "Indeed it throws about sparks (huge) as Forts,(5878)

5878 Qasar: Fort, big building, palace. An alternative reading is Qasarat (run), plural of Qasrat (run), meaning bundles of wood used for fuel: Ibn 'Abbas reported by Bukhari. I almost prefer this latter reading.

33. "As if there were (a string of) yellow camels (marching swiftly)."(5879)

5879 The yellow sparks flying swiftly one after another suggest a string of camels marching swiftly, such as the Arabs of Najd and central Arabia are so proud of. There is a double allegory. It refers not only to the colour and the rapid succession of sparks, but to the vanity of worldly pride, as much as to say: "your fine yellow camels in which you took such pride in the world are but sparks that fly away and even sting you in the Hereafter!" Smoke with sparks may also assume fantastic shapes like long-necked camels.

34. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

35. That will be a Day when they shall not be able to speak.(5880)

5880 They will be dumbfounded; i.e., (when read with the next verse), they will not be in a position to put forward any valid defence or plea. Facts will speak too plainly against them. They might perversely try to deny false worship: 6:23; but their own tongues and limbs will bear witness against them: 24:24. Nor does the fighting out or settling of doctrinal disputes in the Hereafter (39:31) amount to putting forward pleas in defence.

36. Nor will it be open to them to put forth pleas.

37. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

38. That will be a Day of Sorting out! We shall gather you together and those before (you).(5881)

5881 We may suppose this as spoken primarily to the Quraysh who were plotting against the Prophet. You may use all your wisdom and that of your ancestors, but you will not be able to defeat Allah or His Plan. See next verse.

39. Now, if ye have a trick (or plot), use it against Me!(5882)

5882 The plots against the Prophet were plots against Allah's Truth, and therefore against Allah. Can anyone hope to profit by such plots? Can anyone defeat Allah's Plan and Purpose? Let them try. They will only ruin themselves, as the Pagan leaders did. There can only be pity for such men. What will be their state in the Hereafter? "Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Allah's Truth!"

40. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

41. As to the Righteous, they shall be amidst (cool) shades and springs (of water).(5883)

5883 This is in contrast to the triple shade of smoke and sin for the sinners, which neither gives them coolness nor protects them from the Blazing Fire. The Shade, i.e., Covering, of Allah's Good Pleasure, will be the greatest Boon of all, and the Spring of Allah's Love will be inexhaustible. (R).

42. And (they shall have) fruits,- all they desire.(5884)

5884 Fruits: see n. 4671 to 46:73. (R).

43. "Eat ye and drink ye to your heart's content: for that ye worked (Righteousness).(5885)

5885 The fruits of righteousness are contentment in this life and the supreme Bliss in the next.

44. Thus do We certainly reward the Doers of Good.

45. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

46. (O ye unjust!) Eat ye and enjoy yourselves (but) a little while,(5886) for that ye are Sinners.

5886 'Eat' is symbolical of having the good things of life in this world. It may be that they are only given for a trial. Because their minds and wishes run to wrong things, the opportunities for wrong are multiplied, as the impetus for good or for evil increases progressively. They are to believe and repent. But if they do not, they are to be pitied, even for the good things of this life, for they will come to an evil End in the Hereafter.

47. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

48. And when it is said to them, "Prostrate yourselves!" they do not so.(5887)

5887 Prostration is a symbol of humility and a desire to get nearer to Allah by Prayer and a good life. Those who refuse to adopt this Path are to be pitied; how will they fare at Judgement?

49. Ah woe, that Day, to the Rejecters of Truth!

50. Then what Message, after that,(5888) will they believe in?

5888 That may refer to verse 48; they were given plain and clear Guidance, and they refused to accept it: after that what kind of Message will they accept? The Guidance referred to is obviously that of Islam or the Qur'an.
78. Al Naba' (The Great News)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Concerning what are they disputing?

2. Concerning the Great News,(5889)

Great News may also be translated Great Message or a Message Supreme as I have translated at 38:67. In that case it would refer to the Qur'an, or the Message of the Prophet, about which there was great contention in those days. As this Message also lays great stress on the Day of Judgement and the Resurrection, the practical result by either mode of interpretation amounts to the same.

3. About which they cannot agree.

4. Verily, they shall soon (come to) know!

5. Verily, verily they shall soon (come to) know!

6. Have We not made the earth as a wide(5890) expanse,

See n. 2038 to 16:15. Cf. also 13:3 and 15:19. The spacious expanse of the earth may be compared to a carpet, to which the mountains act as pegs. The Signs of Allah are thus enumerated: the great panorama of outer nature (verses 6-7); the creation of Man in pairs, with the succession of rest and work fitting in with the succession of night and day (verses 8-11); the firmaments above, with their splendid lights (verses 12-13); and the clouds and rain and abundant harvests, which knit sky and earth and man together (verses 14-16). These point to Allah, and Allah's Message points to the Future Life.

7. And the mountains as pegs?

8. And (have We not) created you in pairs,

9. And made your sleep for rest,

10. And made the night as a covering,(5891)

The darkness of the night is as a covering. Just as a covering protects us from exposure to cold or heat, so this covering gives us spiritual respite from the buffets of the material world, and from the tiring activities of our own inner exertions. The rest in sleep (in verse 9) is supplemented by the covering of the night with which we are provided by Allah.

11. And made the day as a means of subsistence?(5892)

*Subsistence in English only partly covers the idea of ma' ash, which includes every kind of life activity. The Day is specially illuminated, so runs the figure of speech, in order that these life activities of all kinds may be fully exercised.*

12. And (have We not) built over you the seven firmaments,(5893)

See n. 5526 to 65:12 and n. 2876 to 23:17, also 37:6 and notes there.

13. And placed (therein) a Light of Splendour?(5894)

That is, the sun. Cf. 25:61; 33:46 (where it is used metaphorically for the Prophet); and 71:16.

14. And do We not send down from the clouds water in abundance,(5895)

Note how the evidences of Allah and His beneficence are set out in four groups. (1) Look to external nature on the earth around you (verses 6-7); (2) your own nature, physical, mental and spiritual (verses 8-11); (3) the starry heavens, and the glory of the sun (verses 12-13); and (4) the interdependence of earth, air, and sky in the cycle of water, clouds, rain, corn and gardens, all serving in their several ways to further the whole plan of the World as it affects us. Can you not then believe that a Creator who does this will sort out Good and Evil on an appointed Day with real justice and power?

15. That We may produce therewith corn and vegetables,

16. And gardens of luxurious growth?

17. Verily the Day of Sorting Out(5896) is a thing appointed,

See n. 37:21, n. 4047, and 36:59, n. 4005 (end). The Day of J udgement is the Day of Sorting Out, as between Good and Evil.

18. The Day that the Trumpet(5897) shall be sounded, and ye shall come forth in crowds;

The angel charged with the sounding of the Trumpet is Israfil. It will herald Judgement, Cf. 39:20: also 39:68, and n. 4343; and 69:13, n. 5648.

19. And the heavens shall be opened as if there were doors,(5898)

A sign that the present order of things will have ceased to exist, and a new world will have come into being. Such a figure applies to the heavens in this verse and to the earth in the next verse. The mystery of what is beyond the heavens will have vanished through the doors which will then be opened. The solid mountains, as we suppose them to be, will have vanished like an unsubstantial mirage.

20. And the mountains shall vanish, as if they were a mirage.

21. Truly Hell is as a place of ambush-(5899)

*Hell, the embodiment of evil, is lying in wait like an ambush for everyone. We should be on our guard. For the transgressors, those who have wilfully rebelled against Allah, it will be a definite destination, from which there is no return, except, it may be, after ages i.e., unless Allah so wills: Cf. 6:128, and n. 5931.*

22. For the transgressors a place of destination:

23. They will dwell therein for ages.

24. Nothing cool shall they taste therein, nor any drink,

25. Save a boiling fluid and a fluid, dark, murky, intensely cold-—(5900)

Cf. 10:4, and n. 1306; also 38:57, and n. 4213.

26. A fitting recompense (for them).—(5901)

Their transgressions go on progressively as they refuse to repent and turn to Allah. The fire of misery begins to blaze forth more and more fiercely, and there is nothing to cool that blaze; their food and drink themselves are tainted with the disorder of contradictory elements—boiling hot drink, with intensely cold, murky, and disgusting fluids. These are fitting punishments for their crimes, which are inconsistent with the pure and gentle mould in which Allah had originally cast their nature.

27. For that they used not to fear any account (for their deeds),(5902)
28. But they (impudently) treated Our Signs as false.

29. And all things have We preserved on record.

30. "So taste ye (the fruits of your deeds); for no increase shall We grant you, except in Punishment."

31. Verily for the Righteous there will be a fulfilment of (the heart’s) desires;

32. Gardens enclosed, and Grapevines;

33. Companions of Equal Age;

34. And a cup full (To the Brim).

35. No vanity shall they hear therein, nor Untruth:-

36. Recompense from thy Lord, a gift, (amply) sufficient-

37. (From) the Lord of the heavens and the earth, and all between, (Allah) Most Gracious: None shall have power to argue with Him.

38. The Day that the Spirit and the angels will stand forth in ranks, none shall speak except any who is permitted by ((Allah)) Most Gracious, and He will say what is right.

39. That Day will be the sure Reality:

40. Verily, We have warned you of a Penalty near-the Day when man will see (the deeds) which his hands have sent forth, and the Unbeliever will say, "Woe unto me! Would that I were (metre) dust!"

41. Is Judgement very near? Yes. There are three stages of Judgement (1) Many of our sins and wrongdoings find their penalty in this very life. It may not be an open or striking event, but it corrodes the soul and conscience all the time. Let us therefore turn back to Allah in repentance and ask for forgiveness (2) Where the Penalty is not actually perceived or is not visible in this life, Death is considered the Lesser Judgement for each individual soul: see n. 5822 to 75:22. Death may come to anyone at any time, and we must all be ready for it. (3) Then there is the final Judgement, when the whole of the present order passes away, and there is a New World. Time as we know it will not exist. Fifty thousand years as we reckon now will be but as a Day. 76:4. According to those standards even this Final Judgement is quite near, and we must prepare for it. For it will be too late then for repentance.
79. Al Nazi‘at (Those Who Tear Out)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the (angels)(5916) who tear out (the souls of the wicked) with violence;(5917)

2. By those who gently draw out (the souls of the blessed);(5918)

3. And by those who glide along (on errands of mercy),(5919)

4. Then press forward as in a race,

5. Then arrange to do (the Commands of their Lord),

6. One Day everything that can be in commotion will be in violent commotion,(5920)

7. Followed by oft-repeated (Commotions):(5921)

8. Hearts that Day(5922) will be in agitation;

9. Cast down will be(5923) (their owners’) eyes.

10. They say (now): "What! shall we indeed be(5924) returned to (our) former state?

11. "What! - when we shall have become rotten bones?"

12. They say: "It would, in that case, be a return with loss!"

13. But verily, it will be but a single (Compelling) Cry,(5925)

14. When, behold, they will be in the (full) awakening (to Judgement).(5926)

15. Has the story(5927) of Moses reached thee?

16. Behold, thy Lord did call to him in the sacred valley of Tuwa:-(5928)

17. "Go thou to Pharaoh for he has indeed transgressed all bounds:(5929)

18. "And say to him, ¿Wouldst thou that thou shouldst be purified (from sin)?-

19. ’ And that I guide thee to thy Lord, so thou(5930) shouldst fear Him?´"

20. Then did (Moses) show him the Great Sign.(5931) that became a 'snake active in motion': see 20:20, n. 2549. These were among the Greater Signs: 20:23. In 17:101 there is a reference to nine clear Signs given to Moses, and these are specified in detail in n. 1091 to 7:133, the fact is, there were many Signs given, 'openly well-explained,' but Pharaoh and his men 'were steeped in arrogance-some people given to sin' (7:133), the pre-eminent Great Sign was therefore the fact of Moses being sent to Pharaoh, which subsequently converted the magicians and the more learned Egyptians to the true God (20:70-73), though Pharaoh and his Chiefs resisted and suffered for their sins. (R).

21. But (Pharaoh) rejected it and disobeyed (guidance);
22. Further, he turned his back, striving hard (against Allah).
23. Then he collected (his men) and made a proclamation,
24. Saying, "I am your Lord, Most High".
25. But Allah did punish him, (and made an) example of him, - in the Hereafter, as in this life. (5932)

26. Verily in this is an instructive warning (5933) for whosoever feareth (Allah).

27. What! Are ye the more difficult to create or the proclamation, its night doth He endow with darkness, and its day with light. (5936)

28. On high hath He raised its canopy, and He hath given it order and perfection. (5935)

29. Its night doth He endow with darkness, and its splendour doth He bring out (with light). (5936)

30. And the earth, moreover, (5937) hath He extended (to a wide expanse);
31. He draweth out therefrom its moisture and its pasture; (5938)
32. And the mountains hath He firmly fixed; - (5939)

33. For use and convenience (5940) to you and your cattle.

34. Therefore, when there comes the great, overwhelming (Event), - (5941)

35. The Day when man shall remember (all) that he strove for, (5942)

36. And Hell-Fire shall be placed in full view (5943) for (all) to see,-

37. Then, for such as had transgressed all bounds,
38. And had preferred (5944) the life of this world,
39. The Abode will be Hell-Fire;
40. And for such as had entertained the fear of standing before (5945) their Lord's (tribunal) and had restrained (their) soul from lower desires,
41. Their abode will be the Garden.
42. They ask thee (5946) about the Hour, -' When will be its appointed time?
43. Wherein art thou (concerned) with the declaration thereof?
44. With thy Lord in the Limit (5947) fixed therefor.
45. Thou art but a Warner for such as fear it. (5948)
46. The Day they see it, (It will be) as if they had tarried but a single evening, or (at most till) the following morn! (5949)
80. 'Abasa (He Frowned)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. (The Prophet) frowned and turned away, (5950)

See the Introduction to this Surah for the incident to which this refers. The lesson is that neither spiritual worth nor the prospect of effective spiritual guidance is to be measured by a man's position in life. The poor, or the blind, the halt, or the maimed, may be more susceptible to the teaching of Allah's Word than men who are apparently gifted, but who suffer from arrogance and self-sufficiency.

2. Because there came to him the blind man (interrupting).

3. But what could tell thee but that perchance he might grow (in spiritual understanding)?-

4. Or that he might receive admonition, and the teaching might profit him? (5951)

It may be that the poor blind man might, on account of his will to learn, be more likely to grow in his own spiritual development or to profit by any lessons taught to him even in reproof than a self-sufficient leader. In fact it was so. For the blind man became a true and sincere Muslim and lived to become a governor of Madinah.

5. As to one who regards Himself as self-sufficient, (5952)

Such a one would be a Pagan Quraysh leader, whom the Prophet was anxious to get into his fold, in order that the work of preaching Allah's Message might be facilitated. But such a Message works first amongst the simple and lowly, the poor and despised folk, and the mighty ones of the earth only come in when the stream rushes in with irresistible force.

6. To him dost thou attend;

7. Though it is no blame to thee if he grow not (5953) (in spiritual understanding).

Allah's Message is for all, but if the great ones arrogantly keep back from it, it is no fault of the Preacher, so long as he has proclaimed the Message. He should attend to all, and specially to the humble and lowly.

8. But as to him who came to thee striving earnestly,

9. And with fear (in his heart), (5954)

The fear in the blind man's heart may have been twofold. (1) He was humble and God-fearing, not arrogant and self-sufficient; (2) being poor and blind, he feared to intrude: yet his earnest desire to learn the Qur'an made him bold, and he came, perhaps unreasonably, but was yet worthy of encouragement, because of the purity of his heart.

10. Of him wast thou unmindful.

11. By no means (should it be so)! For it is indeed a Message of instruction: (5955)

Allah's Message is a universal Message, from which no one is to be excluded—rich or poor, old or young, great or lowly, learned or ignorant. If anyone had the spiritual craving that needed satisfaction, he was to be given precedence if there was to be any question of precedence at all.

12. Therefore let whoso will, keep it in remembrance.

13. (It is) in Books held (greatly) in honour, (5956)

At the time this Surah was revealed, there were perhaps only about 42 or 45 Surahs in the hands of the Muslims. But it was a sufficient body of Revelation of high spiritual value, to which the description given here could be applied. It was held in the highest honour; its place in the hearts of Muslims was more exalted than that of anything else: as Allah's Word, it was pure and sacred; and those who transcribed it were men who were honourable, just and pious. The legend that the early Surahs were not carefully written down and preserved in books is a pure invention. The recensions made later in the time of the first and the third Khalifahs were merely to preserve the purity and safeguard the arrangement of the text at a time when the expansion of Islam among non-Arabic-speaking peoples made such precautions necessary.

14. Exalted (in dignity), kept pure and holy,

15. (Written) by the hands of scribes-

16. Honourable and Pious and Just.

17. Woe to man! What hath made him reject Allah.

18. From what stuff hath He created him?

19. From a sperm-drop: (5957) He hath created him, and then mouldeth him in due proportions;

20. Then doth He make His path smooth for him;

21. Then He causeth him to die, and putteth him in his Grave; (5958)

Death is an inevitable event after the brief life on this earth, but it is also in a sense a blessing. The Gare may be understood to be the period between physical death and immortal Life, whatever may be the mode of disposal of the dead body. This intermediate period is the Barzakh or Partition: see n. 2940 to 23:101.
22. Then, when it is His Will, He will raise him up (again).

23. By no means hath he fulfilled what Allah hath commanded him.(5959) (5959) Though all these blessings and stages have been provided by Allah's Grace for the good of man, yet unregenerate man fails in carrying out the purpose of his creation and life.

24. Then let man look at his Food,(5960) (and how We provide it):

(5960) After a reference to man's inner history, there is now a reference to just one item in his daily outer life, his food: and it is shown how the forces of heaven and earth unite by Allah's Command to serve man and his dependants, 'for use and convenience to you and your cattle' (verse 32 below). If that is the case with just one item, food, how much more comprehensive is Allah's beneficence when the whole of man's needs are considered?

25. For that We pour forth water in abundance,

26. And We split the earth in fragments,(5961) (5961) The water comes from the clouds in plentiful abundance; the earth is ploughed, and the soil is broken up in fragments, and yields an abundant harvest of cereals (Corn), trellised fruit (Grapes), and vegetable food (nutritious Plants), as well as fruit that can keep for long periods and serve many uses, like olives and dates.

27. And produce therein (5962) corn,

(5961) We not only get field crops such as were mentioned in n. 5961 above, but we have the more highly cultivated garden crops, both in the way of lofty trees, and in the way of carefully tended fruits like the fig; and then we have grass and all kinds of fodder.

28. And Grapes and nutritious plants,

29. And Olives and Dates,

30. And enclosed Gardens,(5963) dense with lofty trees,

(5963) We not only get field crops such as were mentioned in n. 5961 above, but we have the more highly cultivated garden crops, both in the way of lofty trees, and in the way of carefully tended fruits like the fig; and then we have grass and all kinds of fodder.

31. And fruits and fodder,-

32. For use and convenience to you and your cattle.(5964)

(5964) The same verse occurs at 79:33, where n. 5940 explains the wider meaning in that context.

33. At length, when there comes the Deafening Noise,- (5965)

(5965) Preliminary to the establishment of the Final Judgement.

34. That Day shall a man flee from his own brother,

35. And from his mother and his father,

36. And from his wife and his children.(5966)

(5966) Even those who were nearest and dearest in this life will not be able or willing to help each other on that awful Day. On the contrary, if they have to receive a sentence for their sins, they will be anxious to avoid even sharing each other's sorrows or witnessing each other's humiliation; for each will have enough of his own troubles to occupy him. On the other hand, the Righteous will be united with their righteous families: 52:21; and their faces will be "beaming, laughing, rejoicing" (80:38-39).

37. Each one of them, that Day, will have enough concern (of his own) to make him indifferent to the others.(5967)

(5967) Cf. 70:10-14. No friend will ask after a friend that Day. On the contrary the sinner will desire to save himself at the expense even of his own family and benefactors.

38. Some faces that Day will be beaming,

39. Laughing, rejoicing.

40. And other faces that Day will be dust-stained,(5968) (5968) The dust on the faces of the sinners will be in contrast to the beaming light on the faces of the righteous; and the blackness in contrast to the "laughing, rejoicing" faces of the righteous. But the dust also suggests that being Rejecters of Allah, their faces and eyes and faculties were choked in dust, and the blackness suggests that being Doers of Iniquity they had no part or lot in purity or Light. Another contrast may possibly be deduced: the humble and lowly may be "in the dust" in this life, and the arrogant sinners in sunshine, but the roles will be reversed at Judgement.

41. Blackness will cover them:

42. Such will be the Rejecters of Allah, the doers of iniquity.
81. Al Takwr (The Folding Up)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. When the sun (5969) (with its spacious light) is folded up; (5970)

Verses 1 to 13 are conditional clauses, and the substantive clause is in verse 14. The time will come when nature's processes as we know them will cease to function, and the soul will only then know by self-conversion the results of its actions. With reference to an individual soul, its resurrection is its supreme crisis; the whole world of sense, and even of imagination and reason, melts away, and its whole spiritual scroll is laid bare before it.

2. When the oceans (5971) boil over with a swell; (5972)

The conditional clauses are twelve, in two groups of six. The first six affect the outer or physical life of man; the last six, his immortal spiritual life. Let us take them one by one. (1) The biggest factor affecting us in the external physical World is the light, heat, and perhaps electric or magnetic energy of the sun. The sun is the source of all the light, heat, and energy, and indeed the source and support of all physical life that we know. It is the biggest factor and yet most remote from us in our solar system. Yet the sources of our inner spiritual life will be greater and more lasting, for they will survive it. The sun as the centre of our solar system also stands as a symbol of the present order of things. The physical forces, as defined in Newton’s laws of Matter and Attraction, will also break up with the break-up of the sun. Is folded up is folded up, or twisted up, like a sheet or garment.

3. When the mountains vanish (like a mirage); (5973)

(3) Next after the sun, we can derive faint lights from the innumerable stars in the firmament. For all the ages of which we have any record, these stars have remained fixed. Nothing can be more fixed: yet they can and will fail.

4. When the she-camels, ten months with young, are left untended; (5974)

(4) The type of Arab property, as well as the type of the Arab pet, was the camel, and the most precious camel was the she-camel just about to be delivered of her young. She would in normal times be most sedulously cared for. But when all our landmarks of this life vanish, even she would be left untended. Nothing would then be as it is now.

5. When the wild beasts are herded together (in the human habitations); (5975)

(5) In the present world, the wild animals fear each other, and they all fear man and normally keep away from human habitations. But when this order passes away, there will be scarcely any differentiation between human habitations and the wilds of the forests.

6. When the oceans (5976) (being joined, like with like); (5977)

Verses 17 to 20, (8) Next the sun, we can derive faint lights from the innumerable stars in the firmament. For all the ages of which we have any record, these stars have remained fixed. Nothing can be more fixed: yet they can and will fail.

7. When the souls are sorted out; (5978) (being joined, like with like);

(9) In this world of sin and sorrow, much unjust suffering is caused, and innocent lives sacrificed, without a trace being left, by which offenders can be brought to justice. A striking example before the Quraysh was female infanticide: cf. 16:38-39, and n. 2084. The crime was committed in the guise of social plausibility in secret collusion, and no question was asked here. But in the spiritual world of Justice, full questions will be asked, and the victim herself-dumb here-will be able to give evidence, for she had committed no crime herself. The proofs will be drawn from the very means used for concealment.

8. When the female (infant), buried alive, is questioned - (5979)

(10) The soul's spiritual Skies the things it held high or sacred will be stripped of the thin blue that gave rest-and partly illusion-to its spiritual eye in the world of illusions. Just as when an animal is skinned, its real flesh and blood and inner organs become visible, without any outer coating to hold them together, so the inmost state of the spiritual world will then become plain.

9. For what crime she was killed; (5980)

(11) Then will burn the Blazing Fire of the Hell, worse than the fiercest fire.

10. When the scrolls are laid open; (5981)

(12) Next after the sun, we can derive faint lights from the innumerable stars in the firmament. For all the ages of which we have any record, these stars have remained fixed. Nothing can be more fixed: yet they can and will fail.

11. When the world on High (5982) is unveiled;

See 75:22, n. 5822; 78:40, n. 5914; and 79:14, n. 5926. [Eds.]

12. When the Blazing Fire (5983) is kindled to fierce heat;

(13) Then will burn the Blazing Fire of the Hell, worse than the fiercest fire.

13. And when the Garden (5984) is brought near; (5985)

(14) Then shall each soul know what it has put forward.

14. (Then) shall each soul know what it has put forward. (5986)

This is the conclusion. It is only on such conditions that the soul reaches its full realisation. Put forward: cf. "the Deeds which his hands have sent forth" in 78:40.

15. So verily I call (5987) to witness the Planets -(5988) that replete,

(16) Go straight, or hide;

(17) And the Night as it dissipates (5989)

How the Night gradually declines after its height at midnight! It seems gradually to steal away, and as Dawn approaches, to merge into Day. So a soul in spiritual darkness gradually awakes to its spiritual Dawn through Revelation.
18. And the Dawn as it breathes away the darkness;-(5987)

5987 The slow "breathing out" of the darkness by the Dawn, shown us, by beautiful imagery, that these mysterious operations, of which people in their ignorance are frightened if they have to do with darkness, are really beneficient operations of Allah. They have nothing to do with evil spirits, or witches, or magic. For three questions were actually raised about the Prophet's Ministry by the ignorant (1) Did his wonderful works come from himself and not from Allah? (2) Was he possessed of an evil spirit? In other words, was he mad? For that was the theory of madness, then current. (3) Was he a soothsayer, or necromancer, or magician? For he had virtues, powers, and eloquence, so extraordinary that they could not understand him.

19. Verily this is the word of a most honourable Messenger,(5988)

5988 They are told here that all their three theories were foolish. The Revelation was really from Allah. Their wonder should cease if they observe the daily miracles worked round them in nature. The bringer of Allah's Message was the angel Gabriel, and not an evil spirit.

20. Endued with Power, with rank before the Lord of the Throne,(5989)

5989 Not only was the bringer of the Revelation, Gabriel, an honourable Messenger, incapable of deceit, but he had, in the angelic kingdom, rank and authority before Allah's Throne, and he could convey an authoritative divine Message. He was, like the Prophet, faithful to his trust; and therefore there could be no question of the Message being delivered in any other way than exactly according to the divine Will and Purpose. These epithets could apply to the Prophet himself, but in view of verse 23 below, it is best to understand them of Gabriel.

21. With authority there, (and) faithful to his trust.

22. And (O people!) your companion is not one possessed;(5990)

5990 After describing the credentials of the Archangel Gabriel, the Text now appeals to the people to consider their own 'Companion', the Prophet, who had been born among them and had lived with them, and was known to be an honourable, truthful, and trustworthy man. If Gabriel was the one who brought the Message to him, then there was no question of demoniacal possession. And the Prophet had seen him in his inspired vision "in the clear horizon".

23. And without doubt he saw him in the clear horizon.(5991)

5991 Read along with this the whole passage in 53:1-18 and notes there; specially n. 5092, where the two occasions are mentioned when there was a vision of inspiration: 'For truly did he see, of the Signs of his Lord, the Greatest' (53:18).

24. Neither doth he withhold grudgingly a knowledge of the Unseen.(5992)

5992 Such would be the words of a soothsayer, guarded, ambiguous, and misleading. Here everything was clear, sane, true, and under divine inspiration.

25. Nor is it the word of an evil spirit accused.(5993)

5993 Such as evil suggestions of envy, spite, greed, selfishness, or other vices. On the contrary, the teaching of the Qur'an is beneficent, pointing to the Right Way, and Way of Allah. "Rajjû" literally, driven away with stones, rejected with complete ignominy. Cf. 1:167. The rite of throwing stones in the valley of Mina at the close of the Makkân Pilgrimage [see n. 217 (6) to 2:197] suggests symbolically that the Pilgrim emphatically, definitely, and finally rejects all Evil.

26. When whither go ye?(5994)

5994 It has been shown that this is no word of a mortal, but that it is full of divine wisdom; that its teaching is not that of a madman, but sane to the core and in accordance with human needs: that it freely and clearly directs you to the right Path and forbids you the Path of evil. Why then hesitate? Accept the divine Grace; repent of your sins; and come to the higher Life.

27. Verily this is no less than a Message to (all) the Worlds:(5995)

5995 It is not meant for one class or race; it is universal, and is addressed to all the Worlds. For the meaning of 'Worlds', see n. 29 to 1:2.

28. (With profit) to whoever among you wills to go straight:(5996)

5996 Cf. 7:45.56. Allah is the Cherisher of the Worlds, Lord of Grace and Mercy, and His guidance is open to all who have the will to profit by it. But that will must be exercised in conformity with Allah's Will (verse 29). Such conformity is Islam. Verse 28 points to human free will and responsibility; verse 29 to its limitations. Both extremes, viz: cast-iron Determination and an iles of chaotic Free Will, are condemned.

29. But ye shall not will except as Allah wills,- the Cherisher of the Worlds.

5997 CT the passage 81:1-14 and notes. For the three parallel interpretations, see the Introduction to this Surah. There are four conditional clauses here, and the substantive clause is in verse 5. In S. 81, there were 12 conditional clauses, and the conclusion was similar, but not expressed in precisely the same terms. See 72:5, n. 6002 below. The physical world as we see it now will be destroyed before the final Day of Judgement, establishing the true spiritual Reality. In the following four clauses we have a reference to the Lesser Judgement, the individual dawn of the true Reality at Death. (R).

2. When the Stars are scattered;-(5999)

5999 CT 81:2, where the word for 'stars' (Najdun) is different, and the verb is different. Najdun has reference to brightness, and the verb 'losing their lustre' was appropriate there, to show the opposite. Kawkab (used here) has more the meaning of a star as fixed in a constellation; and the opposite of a fixed and definite order is 'scattered', the verb used here. In fact, throughout this passage, the dominating idea is the disturbance of order and symmetry. The metaphor behind the scattering of the constellations is that in the present order of things we
3. When the Oceans are suffered to burst forth;(6000)

6000 Cf. 81:6, "when the oceans boil over with a swell". Here, "are suffered to burst forth" expresses the end of the present order of things. This may be in two ways: (1) The barrier, which keeps within their respective bounds the various streams of salt and fresh water (55:20, n. 5185), will be removed; (2) the Ocean will overwhelm the whole Globe. (R).

4. And when the Graves are turned upside down;-(6001)

6001 This item is not mentioned in 81:1-14. Here it is introduced to show that the whole order of things will be so reversed that even Death will not be Death. We think there is tranquility in Death, but there will be no tranquility. Literally, and figuratively, Death will be the beginning of a new Life. What we think to be Death will bring forth Life.

5. (Then) shall each soul know what it hath sent forward(6002) and (what it hath) kept back.

6002 Sent Forward and kept back: may mean: the deeds of commission and omission in this life. Or the Arabic words may also be translated: sent forward and left behind; i.e., the spiritual possibilities which it sent forward for its other life, and the physical things on which it prided itself in this life, but which it had to leave behind in this life. Or else, the things it put first and the things it put last in importance may change places in the new world of Reality. "The first shall be last and the last shall be first".

6. O man! What has seduced thee from thy Lord Most Beneficent?-

7. Him Who created thee. Fashioned thee in due proportion,(6003) and gave thee a just bias;(6004)

6003 Cf. 15:29. Allah not only created man, but fashioned him in due proportions, giving him extraordinary capacities, and the means wherewith he can fulfil his high destiny.
6004 See n. 834 to 6:1. Having given a limited free will, He gave us a just bias through our reason and our spiritual faculties. If we err, it is our will that is at fault.

8. In whatever Form(6005) He wills, does He put thee together.

6005 (Cf. 7:11). By 'Form' (Surah) here I understand the general shape of things in which any given personality is placed, including his physical and social environments, his gifts of mind and spirit, and all that goes to make up his outer and inner life. The Grace of Allah is shown in all these things, for His Will is formed from perfect knowledge, wisdom, and goodness.

9. Day! nit ye do reject Right and Judgment(6006)

6006 The goodness and mercies of Allah, and His constant watchful care of all His creatures should make men grateful, instead of which they turn away from the Right and deny the Day of Sorting Out, the Day when every action performed here will find its fulfillment in just reward or punishment.

10. But verily over you (are appointed angels)(6007) to protect you,- 6007 Besides the faculties given to man to guide him, and the Form and Personality through which he can rise by stages to the Presence of Allah, there are spiritual agencies around him to help and protect him, and to note down his Record, so that perfect justice may be done to him at the end. For these Guardian Angels, see 30:17-18, and n. 4954.

11. Kind and honourable,- Writing down (your deeds):

12. They know (and understand) all that ye do.

13. As for the Righteous, they will be in bliss;

14. And the Wicked - they will be in the Fire,

15. Which they will enter(6008) on the Day of Judgement,

6008 I understand this relative clause to govern 'the Fire', i.e., the Punishment. It will be postponed as long as possible, to give the Sinner every chance of repentance and amendment. But once the period of probation is past, it will be irrevocable. There will be no going back from it. By inference, the Righteous may individually reach some stage of Bliss at once, possibly in this life, possibly after death, though the Final Judgement will be the general and complete cessation of this fleeting world and the creation of the world of Eternity.

16. And they will not be able to keep away therefrom.

17. And what will explain to thee what the Day of Judgment is?

18. Again, what will explain to thee what the Day of Judgment is?(6009)

6009 We can speak of Rewards and Punishments, the Fruits of Actions, the Resurrection and the Tribunal, the Restoration of True Values, the Elimination of all Wrong, and a hundred other phrases. They might serve to introduce our minds vaguely to a new World, of which they cannot possibly form any adequate conception under present conditions. The question is repeated in verses 17-18 to emphasise this difficulty, and a simple answer is suggested, as explained in the next note.

19. (It will be) the Day when no soul shall have power (to do) aught for another:(6010) For the command, that Day, will be (wholly) with Allah.

6010 The answer is suggested by a negative proposition: 'No soul shall have power to do aught for another'. This is full of meaning. Personal responsibility will be fully enforced. In this world we all depend on one another proximately, though our ultimate dependence is always on Allah, now and forever. But here a father helps a son forward; husband and wife influence each other's destinies; human laws and institutions may hold large masses of mankind under their grip; falsehood and evil may seem to flourish for a time, because a certain amount of limited free will has been granted to man. This period will be all over then. The good and the pure will have been separated from the evil and the rebellious; the latter will have been rendered inert, and the former will have been so perfected that their wills will be in complete consonance with Allah's Universal Will. The Command, henceforward, will be wholly with Allah.
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Woe to those who deal in fraud, (6011)

Fraud must here be taken in a widely general sense. It covers giving short measure or short weight, but it covers much more than that. The next two verses make it clear that it is the spirit of injustice that is condemned-giving too little and asking too much. This may be shown in commercial dealings, where a man exacts a higher standard in his own favour than he is willing to concede as against him. In domestic or social matters an individual or group may ask for honour, or respect, or services which he or they are not willing to give on their side in similar circumstances. It is worse than one-sided selfishness: for it is double injustice. But it is worst of all in religion or spiritual life: with what face can a man ask for Mercy or Love from Allah when he is unwilling to give it to his fellow-men? In one aspect this is a statement of the Golden Rule. 'Do as you would be done by.' But it is more completely expressed. You must give in full what is due from you, whether you expect or wish to receive full consideration from the other side or not.

2. Those who, when they have to receive by measure from men, exact full measure, Legal and social sanctions against Fraud depend for their efficacy on whether there is a chance of being found out. Moral and religious sanctions are of a different kind. Do you wish to degrade your own nature? 'Do you not consider that there is a Day before you, a Day of account?' (2:201), and He knows all, and He sifts all secrets, and safeguards all interests, for He is the Lord and Cherisher of the Worlds? Whether other people know anything about your wrong or not, you are guilty before Allah.

3. But when they have to give by measure or weight to men, give less than due.

4. Do they not think that they will be called to account?

They will be called to account, and to do more justice in all their dealings. The Register of the Righteous is complete, so that there is no escape for the sinner.

5. On a Mighty Day,

On a Day when (all) mankind will stand before the Lord of the Worlds.

6. A Day when (all) mankind will stand before the Lord of the Worlds.

7. Day! Surely the record of the wicked is (preserved) in Sijjin. (6013)

Sijjin is the name of the Place where is kept the Register of Black Deeds, though verse 9 may be elliptical and may only describe the place by the significance of its contents.

8. And what will explain to thee what Sijjin is?

9. (There is) a Register (fully) inscribed. (6014)

If we take Sijjin to be the Register itself, and not the place where it is kept, the Register itself is a sort of Prison for those who do wrong. It is inscribed fully, i.e., no one is omitted who ought to be there, and for every entry there is a complete record, so that there is no escape for the sinner. (2).

10. Woe, that Day, to those that deny-

The fact of Personal Responsibility for each soul is so undeniable that people who deny it are to be pitied, and will indeed be in a most pitiable condition on the Day of Reckoning, and none but the most abandoned sinner can deny it, and he only denies it by playing with Falsehoods.

11. Those that deny the Day of Judgement. (6015)

12. And none can deny it but the Transgressor beyond bounds the Sinner!

13. When Our Signs are rehearsed to him, he says, "Tales of the ancients!" (6016)

14. By no means! but on their hearts is the stain of the (ill) which they do! (6017)

(6017) The heart of a man, as created by Allah, is pure and unsullied. Every time that a man does an ill deed, it marks a stain or rust on his heart. But on repentance and forgiveness, such stain is washed off. If there is no repentance and forgiveness, the stains deepen and spread more and more, until the heart is sealed (2:271), and eventually the man dies a spiritual death. It is such stains that stand in the way of his perceiving Truths which are obvious to others. That is why he mocks at Truth and hugs Falsehood to his bosom.

15. Verily, from (the Light of) their Lord, that Day, will they be veiled. (6018)

16. Further, they will enter the Fire of Hell.

17. Further, it will be said to them: "This is the (reality) which ye rejected as false!"

18. Day, verily the record of the Righteous is (preserved) in 'Illyin. (6019)

(6019) / Illyin: the oblique form of the nominative Illyin, which occurs in the next verse. It is in contrast to the Sijjin which occurs in verse 7 above, where see n. 6013. Literally, it means the 'High Places', but it is probably not the same as the 'Heights' (Ard) mentioned in 7:46. Nor need we necessarily identify it with the 'dwellings on high' (ghurufat) mentioned in 3:34/37. Applying the reasoning parallel to that which we applied to Sijjin, we may interpret it as the Place where is kept the Register of the Righteous.

19. And what will explain to thee what 'Illyin is?

20. (There is) a Register (fully) inscribed. (6020)

This repeats verse 9 above, where see n. 6014. But the Register is of the opposite kind, that of the Righteous. It contains every detail of the Righteous. (2).

21. To which bear witness those Nearest (to Allah). (6021)

See 56:11, n. 5227; also n. 5223. Those Nearest to Allah will be witnesses to this Righteous Record; or as it may also be rendered, they will be present at the Record, and watch this Record. Metaphorically, the highest spiritual dignitaries are always helping and assisting at the piling up of the good record of every soul that strives for good, however humble in rank that soul may be.

22. Truly the Righteous will be in Bliss:

23. On Thrones (of Dignity) (6022) will they command a sight (of all things):

24. Thou wilt recognise in their Faces (6023) the beaming brightness of Bliss.

Cf. 36:56.

Cf. 7:52/22, and 76:11.
25. Their thirst will be slaked with Pure Wine sealed:(4024)

6024 The Wine will be of the utmost purity and flavour, so precious that it will be protected with a seal, and the seal itself will be of the costly material of musk, which is most highly esteemed in the East for its perfume. Perhaps a better interpretation of the 'seal' is to take it as implying the final effect of the drink: just as a seal closes a document, so the seal of the drink will be the final effect of the delicious perfume and flavour of musk, heightening the enjoyment and helping in the digestion. (R).

26. The seal thereof will be Musk: And for this let those aspire, who have aspirations:(4025)

6025 If you understand true and lasting values, this is the kind of pure Bliss to aspire for, and not the fleeting enjoyments of this world, which always leave a sting behind.

27. With it will be (given) a mixture of Tasnim:(4026)

6026 Tasnim literally indicates height, fulness, opulence. Here it is the name of a heavenly Fountain, whose drink is superior to that of the Purest Wine. It is the nectar drunk by Those Nearest to Allah (n. 5227 to 56:11), the highest in spiritual dignity; but a flavour of it will be given to all, according to their spiritual capacity. See n. 3853 to 76:5 (Kahur fountain), and n. 3849 to 76:17-28 (Salsabil), (R).

28. A spring, from (the waters) whereof drink those Nearest to Allah.

29. Those in sin used to laugh at those who believed,

30. And whenever they passed by them, used to wink at each other (in mockery);

31. And when they returned to their own people, they would return jesting;

32. And whenever they saw them, they would say, "Behold! These are the people truly astray!"(4027)

6027 The wicked laugh at the righteous in this world in many ways. (1) They inwardly laugh at their Faith, because they feel themselves so superior. (2) In public places, when the righteous pass, they wink at each other and insult them. (3) In their own houses they run them down. (4) Whenever and wherever they see them, they reproach them with being fools who have lost their way, when the boot is really on the other leg. In the Hereafter all these tricks and falsehoods will be shown for what they are, and the tables will be reversed.

33. But they had not been sent as keepers over them!(4028)

6028 But the wicked critics of the Righteous have no call in any case to sit in judgement over them. Who set them as Keepers or guardians over the Righteous? Let them look to their own condition and future first.

34. But on this Day the Believers will laugh at the Unbelievers:(4029) 6029 The tables will then be reversed, and he laughs best who laughs last.

35. On Thrones (of Dignity) they will command (a sight)

(4030) A repetition of verse 23 above, but with a different shade of meaning. The Righteous on their Thrones of Dignity will be able to see all the true values restored in their own favour; but they will also see something else: they will also see the arrogant braggarts brought low, who brought about their own downfall by their own actions.

36. Will not the Unbelievers have been paid back for what they did?

84. Al Inshiqaq (The Rending Asunder)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. When the sky is rent asunder,(4031)

6031 The passing away of this world of sense to make way for a new World of Reality is here indicated by two Facts, which are themselves Symbols for a complete revolution in our whole knowledge and experience. At the beginning of S. 82 and S. 81, other Symbols were used, to lead up to the arguments there advanced. Here the Symbols are: (1) the Sky being rent asunder and giving up its secrets, and (2) the Earth being flattened out from the globe it is, and giving up its secrets (Cf. 25:25 and 50:44). See the following notes.

2. And hearkens (4032) to (the Command of) its Lord, and it must needs (do so) ;- (6032)

6032 We may think that the heavens we see above us—high and sacred, seemingly vast and limitless, eternal and timeless—are not created matter. But they are. And they remain just so long as Allah wills it so, and not a moment longer. As soon as His Command issues for their dissolution, they will obey and vanish, and all their mystery will be emptied out. And it must necessarily be so; their very nature as created beings requires that they must hearken to the voice of their Creator, even to the extent of their own extinction.

3. And when the earth is flattened out,(4033)

6033 The Earth is a globe, enclosing within it many secrets and mysteries—gold and diamonds in its mines, heat and magnetic forces in its entrails, and the bodies of countless generations of men buried within its soil. At its dissolution all these contents will be disgorged: it will lose its shape as a globe, and cease to exist.

A more mystic meaning lies behind the ordinary meaning of the vanishing of the heavens and the earth as we see them. Our ideas of them—their subjective contents with reference to ourselves will also lose all shape and form and vanish before the eternal verities.

4. And casts forth what is within it and becomes (clean) empty,

5. And hearkens to (4034) (the Command of) its Lord,- and it must needs (do so); - (then will come Home the full reality).(4035)

6034 See n. 6032. We think the earth so solid and real. All our perishable things dissolve into the earth. But the earth itself will dissolve into a truer Reality.

6035 The substantive clause, to follow the two conditional clauses preceding, may be filled up from the suggestion contained in 82:5.
6. O thou man! Verily thou art ever toiling on towards thy Lord-(6036) painfully toiling,- but thou shalt meet Him.

6038 This life is ever full of toil and misery, if looked at as empty of the Eternal Hope which Revelation gives us. Hence the literature of pessimism in poetry and philosophy, which thinking minds have poured forth in all ages, when that Hope was obscured to them. "Our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought." "To each his suffering; all are men condemned alike to groan!" It is the noblest men that have to 'sow delights and live labious days' in this life. The good suffer on account of their very goodness: the evil on account of their Evil. But the balance will be set right in the end. Those that went shall be made to rejoice, and those that went about thoughtlessly rejoicing, shall be made to weep for their folly. They will all go to their account with Allah and meet Him before His Throne of Judgement.

7. Then he who is given his Record in his Right hand,(6037)

6037 Right Hand: Cf. 17:71. These will be the fortunate ones, who spent their lives in goodness and truth: for them the account will be made easy; for even after the balancing, they will receive more than their merits deserve, on account of the infinite grace and mercy of Allah.

8. Soon will his account be taken by an easy reckoning,

9. And he will turn to his people,(6038) rejoicing!

6038 His People: should be understood in a large sense, including all righteous persons of his category, (including of course all those nearest and dearest to him), who are spiritually of his family, whether before him or after him in time.

10. But he who is given his Record behind his back,- 6039 In 69:24, the wicked are given the Record in their left hand. But their hands will not be free. Sin will have tied their hands behind their back; and thus they can only receive their Records in their left hand, behind their back.

11. Soon will he cry for Perdition,(6040)

6040 The wicked will cry for death and annihilation: but they will neither live nor die: 2074.

12. And he will enter a Blazing Fire.

13. Truly, did he go about among his people, rejoicing!(6041)

6041 The tables are now turned. His self-complacency and self-conceit in his lower life will now give place to weeping and gnashing of teeth! Cf. n. 6036 above.

14. Truly, did he think that he would not have to return (to Us)(6042)

6042 Most of the Evil in this world is due to the false idea that man is irresponsible, or to a mad and thoughtless indulgence of self. Man is not irresponsible. He is responsible for every deed, word, and thought of his, to his Maker, to Whom he has to return, to give an account of himself. To remember this and act accordingly is to achieve salvation; to forget or flout that responsibility is to get into the Fire of self-deception and misery.

15. Nay, nay! for his Lord was (ever) watchful of him!

16. So I do call(6043) to witness the ruddy glow of Sunset;(6044)

6043 The same form of adscription as in 69:37. The substantive statement is in verse 19 below: 'Ye shall surely travel from stage to stage'. Nothing in this life is fixed, or will last. Three things are mentioned which on the one hand have remained from age to age for as far back as the memory of man can go, and yet each of them is but a short phase, gone as it were in the twinkling of an eye. See the following notes: So our life here is but a fleeting show. Its completion is to be looked for elsewhere.

6044 (1) The sun seems such a great reality that people worshipped it as a divinity. The beautiful glow it leaves when it sets is but momentary: it changes every moment and vanishes with the twilight.

17. The Night and its Homing;(6045)

6045 (2) The Night is a phenomenon you see during almost half of every twenty-four hours in ordinary latitudes. At midnight, all the wandering flocks and herds come home. The men scattered abroad for their livelihood return home to rest and sleep. The Night collects them in their homes, and yet this phase of Homing lasts but a little while. Presently all is silent and still. So will it be with our souls when this life is ended with our death. We shall be collected in a newer and larger Homing.

18. And the Moon in her Fullness;(6046)

6046 (3) The astronomical Full Moon does not last a moment. The moment the moon is full, she begins to decline, and the moment she is in her 'inter-lunar swan', she begins her career anew as a growing New Moon. So is man's life here below. It is neither fixed or permanent, either in its physical phases, or even more strikingly, in its liner phases, intellectual, emotional, or spiritual.

19. Ye shall surely travel from stage to stage.(6047)

6047 Man travels and ascends stage by stage. In 67:3 the same word in the form tibaqa was used of the heavens, as if they were in layers one above another. Man's spiritual life may similarly be compared to an ascent from one heaven to another.

20. What then is the matter with them, that they believe not?-(6048)

6048 Considering man's high destiny, and the fact that this life is but a stage or a sojourn for him, it might be expected that he would eagerly embrace every opportunity of welcoming Allah's Revelation and ascending by Faith to heights of spiritual wisdom. There is something wrong with his will if he does not do so. Notice the transition from the second person in verse 19, where there is a direct appeal to Allah's votaries, to the third person in verses 20-21, where men who are rebels against Allah's Kingdom are spoken of as if they were alien.

21. And when the Qur `an is read to them, they fall not prostrate,(6049)

6049 Prostrate: out of respect and humble gratitude to Allah.

22. But on the contrary the Unbelievers reject (it).

23. But Allah has full knowledge of what they secrete in (their breasts)

24. So announce to them a Penalty Grievous,

25. Except to those who believe and work righteous deeds: For them is a Reward that will never fail.(6050)

6050 Cf. 41:8.
In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the sky, (displaying) the Zodiakal Signs;

2. By the promised Day (of Judgment);

3. By one that witnesses, and the subject of the witness;

4. Woe to the makers of the pit (of fire),

5. Fire supplied (abundantly) with fuel:

6. Behold! They sat over against the (fire),

7. And they witnessed (all) that they were doing against the Believers.

8. And they ill-treated them for no other reason than that they believed in Allah, Exalted in Power, Worthy of all Praise!

9. Him to Whom belongs the dominion of the heavens and the earth! And Allah is Witness to all things.

10. Those who persecute (or draw into temptation) the Believers, men and women, and do not turn in repentance, will have the Penalty of the Burning Fire.

11. For those who believe and do righteous deeds, will be Gardens beneath which rivers flow: That is the great Salvation, (the fulfilment of all desires).

12. Truly strong is the Grip (and Power) of thy Lord.

13. It is He Who creates from the very beginning, and He can restore (life).

14. And He is the Oft-Forgiving, Full of Loving-Kindness,

15. Lord of the Throne of Glory,

16. Doer (without let) of all that He intends.

17. Has the story reached thee, of the forces?

18. Of Pharaoh and the Thamud?

19. And yet the Unbelievers (persist) in rejecting (the Truth)?

20. But Allah doth encompass them from behind!
21. Day, this is a Glorious Qur’an,
22. (Inscribed) in a Tablet Preserved!(6066)

86. Al Tariq (The Night Star)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the Sky(6067) and the Night-Visitant(6068) (therein);-

The appeal here is to a single mystic Symbol, viz., the Sky with its Night Visitant and the substantive proposition is in verse 4: "There is no soul but has a protector over it'. In the last Surah we considered the persecution of Allah's votaries, and how Allah protects them. Here the same theme is presented in another aspect. In the darkest sky shines our most brilliantly the light of the most brilliant star. So in the night of spiritual darkness-whether through ignorance of distress-shines the glorious star of Allah's revelation. By the same token the man of Faith and Truth has nothing to fear, Allah will protect His own.

2. And what will explain to thee what the Night-Visitant is?-

The 'Star of piercing brightness’ is understood by some to be the Morning Star, by others again to be Sirius, or the Pleiades or shooting stars. I think it is best to take 'Star' in the collective or generic sense, for stars shine on every night in the year, and their piercing brightness is most noticeable on the darkest night.

3. (It is) the Star of piercing brightness;-

4. There is no soul but has a protector over it.(6069)

This is explained in verse 3 below. The 'Star of piercing brightness” is the Night Visitant who can mingle the forces of psychic and physical muscular action in the creation of man, as explained in the last note, can surely give a new life after physical death here, and restore man's personality in the new world that will open out in the Hereafter.

5. Now let man but think from what he is created!

6. He is created from a drop emitted-(6070)

See n. 5832 to 762. See also last note.

7. Proceeding from between the backbone and the ribs;(6071)

A man's seed is the quintessence of his body. It is therefore said metaphorically to proceed from his loins, i.e., from his back between the iliums and his ribs. His backbone is the source and symbol of his strength and personality. In his spinal cord and in the brain is the directive energy of the central nervous system, and this directs all action, organic and psychic. The spinal cord is continuous with the Medulla Oblongata in the brain.

8. Surely (Allah) is able to bring him back (To life)!(6072)

The Creator who can mingle the forces of psychic and physical muscular action in the creation of man, as explained in the last note, can surely give a new life after physical death here, and restore man's personality in the new world that will open out in the Hereafter.

9. The Day that (all) things secret will be tested,
10. (Man) will have no power, and no helper.(6073)

In that new world, all our actions, motives, thoughts, and imaginations of this life, however secret, will be brought into the open, and tested by the standards of absolute Truth, and not by false standards of custom, prejudice, or partiality. In that severe test, any adventitious advantages of this life will have no strength or force whatever, and cannot help in any way.

11. By the Firmament(6074) which returns (in its round),

The Firmament above is always the same, and yet it performs its diurnal round, smoothly and punctually. So does Allah's Revelation show forth the Truth, which like a circle is ever true to its centre which is ever the same, though it revolves through the changing circumstances of our present life.

12. And by the Earth which opens out(6075) for the gushing of springs or the sprouting of vegetation),-

The earth seems hard, but springs can gush forth and vegetables sprout through it and make it green and soft. So is Truth hard perhaps to mortals, but through the fertilising agency of Revelation, it allows our inner personality to sprout and blossom forth.

13. Behold this is the Word that distinguishes (Good from Evil): (6076)

See the last two notes. Revelation-Allah's Truth-can pierce through the hardest crusts, and ever lead us back to the centre and goal of our spiritual life: for it separates Good from Evil definitely. It is not mere play or amusement, any more than the Sky or the Earth is. It helps us in the highest issues of our life.

14. It is not a thing for amusement.
15. As for them,(6077) they are but plotting a scheme,

Though Allah in His Mercy has provided a piercing light to penetrate our spiritual darkness, and made our beings responsive to the growth of spiritual understanding, just as the hard earth is responsive to the sprouting of a seed or the gushing of a stream, yet there are evil, unregenerate men who plot and scheme against the beneficent purpose of Allah. But their plots will be of no avail, and Allah's Purpose will prevail. It happened so with the Quraysh who wanted to thwart the growth of Islam. It will be so in all ages.

16. And I am planning a scheme.(6078)

Makara is applied both to plotting with an evil purpose and planning with a good purpose. C.7.354, and n. 393 "And the unbelievers plotted and planned, and Allah too planned, and the best of planners is Allah."

17. Therefore grant a delay to the Unbelievers: Give respite to them gently (for awhile).(6079)

Gentle forbearance with Evil shows our trust in Allah and Allah's Plan; for it can never be frustrated. This does not mean that we should assist or compromise with evil, or fail to put it down where we have the power. It means patience and humility where we have no visible power to prevent Evil.
87. Al A'la (The Most High)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Glorify the name of thy Guardian-Lord (6080) Most High,

The word 'Lord' by itself is an inadequate rendering here for Rabb. For it implies cherishing, guarding from harm, sustaining, granting all the means and opportunities of development. See n. 20 to 1:2. For shortness, perhaps 'Guardian-Lord' will be sufficient in the Text.

2. Who hath created (6081) and further, given order and proportion;

The story of Creation is wonderful and continuous. There are several processes which we contemplate in glorifying Allah's name. First, He brings us into being. Secondly, He endows us with forms and faculties exactly suited to what is expected of us, and to the environments in which our life will be cast, giving to everything due order and proportion.

3. Who hath ordained laws (6082) And granted guidance;

Thirdly, He has ordained laws and decrees, by which we can develop ourselves and fit ourselves into His whole scheme of evolution for all His Creation. He has measured exactly the needs of all, and given us instincts and physical and psychic predispositions which fit into His decrees. Fourthly, He gives us guidance, so that we are not the sport of mechanical laws. Our reason and our will are exercised, so that we may reach the highest destiny of man.

4. And Who bringeth out (6083) the (green and luscious) pasture,

Filthily, after maturity comes decay. But even in that decay, as when green pasture turns to stubble, we subserve other ends. Insofar as we are animals, we share these processes with other forms of material. Creation, animal, vegetable, and even mineral, which all have their appointed laws of growth and decay. But man's higher destiny is referred to in subsequent verses.

5. And then doth make it (but) swarthy stubble.

6. By degrees shall We teach thee to declare (6084) (the Message), so thou shalt not forget (6085)

The soul, as it reaches the Light of Allah, makes gradual progress, like a man going from darkness into light. So the Qur'an was revealed by stages. So all revelation from Allah comes by stages.

As usual, there are two parallel meanings: (1) that connected with the occasion of direct inspiration to the Prophet; and (2) the more general Message to mankind for all time. Everyone who understands the Message must declare it, in words, and even in silence, in his conduct.

7. Except as Allah willeth (6086) For He knoweth what is manifest and what is hidden.

There can be no question of this having any reference to the abrogation of any verses of the Qur'an, for this Surah is one of the earliest revealed, being placed about eighth according to the most accepted chronological order. While the basic principles of Allah's Law remain the same, its form, expression, and application have varied from time to time, e.g., from Moses to Jesus, and from Jesus to Muhammad. It is one of the beneficent mercies of Allah that we should forget some things of the past, lest our minds become confused and our development is retarded. Besides, Allah knows what is manifest and what is hidden, and His Will and Plan work with supreme wisdom and goodness.

8. And We will make it easy for thee (to follow the simple (Path). (6087)

The path of Islam is simple and easy. It depends on no abstruse mysteries or self-mortifications, but on straight and manly conduct in accordance with the laws of man's nature as implanted in him by Allah (30:30). On the other hand, spiritual perfection may be most difficult, for it involves complete surrender on our part to Allah in all our affairs, thoughts, and desires; but after that surrender Allah's Grace will make our path easy.

9. Therefore give admonition in case the admonition (6088) profits (the hearer).

This is not so strong as the Biblical phrase, 'Cast not pearls before swine' (Matt. 7:6) The cases where admonition does produce spiritual profit and where it does not, are mentioned below in verses 10 and 11-13 respectively. Allah's Message should be proclaimed to all; but particular and personal admonitions are also due to those who attend and in whose hearts is the fear of Allah; in the case of those who run away from it and disdiumer it, such particular and personal admonition is useless. They are the unfortunate ones who prepare their own ruin.

10. The admonition will be received by those who fear (6089) (Allah):

11. But it will be avoided by those most unfortunate ones,

12. Who will enter the Great Fire, (6089)

The Great Fire is the final Penalty or Disaster in the Hereafter, as contrasted with the minor Penalties or Disasters from which all evil suffers from within in this very life.

13. In which they will then neither die nor live (6090)

A terrible picture of those who ruin their whole future by evil lives here below. They introduce a discord into Creation, while life should be one great universal concord. And their past clings to them as part of their own will. They are not even like the dry swarthy stubble mentioned in verse 5 above, which grew naturally out of the luscious pasture, for they have grown harmful, in defiance of their own nature. 'Neither die nor live': Cf. 20:74.

14. But those will prosper (6091) who purify themselves, (6092)

Proper; in the highest and spiritual sense; attain to Bliss or Salvation; as opposed to 'enter the Fire'.

The first process in godliness is to cleanse ourselves in body, mind, and soul. Then we shall be in a fit state to see and proclaim the Glory of Allah. That leads us to our actual absorption in Praise and Prayer.

15. And glorify the name of their Guardian-Lord, and (lift their hearts) in prayer.

16. Day (behold), ye prefer the life of this world;

17. But the Hereafter is better and more enduring.

18. And this is in the Books of the earliest (Revelation), - (6093)

The law of righteousness and godliness is not a new law, nor are the vanity and short duration of this world preached here for the first time. But spiritual truths have to be renewed and reiterated again and again.

19. The Books of Abraham (6094) and Moses. (6095)

No Book of Abraham has come down to us. But the Old Testament recognizes that Abraham was a prophet (Gen. 20:7; 18:17-19). There is a book in Greek, which has been translated by Mr. G.H. Box, called the Testament of Abraham (published by the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge, London, 1927). It seems to be a Greek translation of a Hebrew original. The
88. Al Ghashiyah (The Overwhelming Event)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Has the story reached thee of the overwhelming (Event)? (6096)

   «Al Ghashiyah: the thing or event that overshadows or overwhelms, that covers over or makes people lose their senses. In 12:107, it is described as the 'covering veil of the Wrath of Allah'; where see n . . . . 1777790. The Day of Judgement is indicated, as the Event of overwhelming importance in which all our petty differences of this imperfect world are covered over and overwhelmed in a new world of perfect justice and truth.»

2. Some faces, that Day, (6097) will be humiliated,

   «On the faces of the wicked will appear the hard labour and consequent fatigue of the task they will have in battling against the fierce Fire which their own Deeds have kindled.»

3. Labouring (hard), weary,- (6098)

4. The while they enter the Blazing Fire,-

5. The while they are given, to drink, of a boiling hot spring,

6. No food will there be for them but a bitter Dhali' (6099)

   «The root meaning implies again the idea of humiliation. It is a plant, bitter and thorny, loathsome in smell and appearance, which will neither give fattening nourishment to the body nor in any way satisfy the burning pangs of hunger—a fit plant for Hell, like Zuqqum (50:52; or 17:60, n. 2250).»

7. Which will neither nourish nor satisfy hunger.

8. (Other) faces that Day will be joyful,

9. Pleased with their Striving,- (6100)

   «Notice the parallelism in contrast, between the fate of the Wicked and that of the Righteous. In the one case there was humiliation in their faces; in the other, there is joy; where there was labour and weariness in warding off the Fire, there is instead a healthy Striving, which is itself pleasurable—a Striving which is a pleasant consequence of the spiritual Endeavour in the earthly life, which may have brought trouble or persecution from without, but which brought inward peace and satisfaction.»

10. In a Garden on high, (6101)

   «The most important point is their inward state of joy and satisfaction, mentioned in verses 8-9. Now are mentioned the outer things of bliss, the chief of which is the Garden. The Garden is in contrast to the Fire. Its chief beauty will be that they will hear there nothing unbecoming, or foolish, or vain. It will be a Garden on high, in all senses—fit for the best, highest, and noblest. (R).»

11. Where they shall hear no (word) of vanity:

12. Therein will be a bubbling spring: (6102)

   «Instead of the boiling hot spring (verse 5) there will be a bubbling spring of sparkling water. Instead of the grovelling and grumbling in the place of Wrath, there will be Thrones of Dignity, with all the accompaniments of a brilliant Assembly.»

13. Therein will be Thrones (of dignity), raised on high,

14. Goblets placed (ready),

15. And cushions set in rows,

16. And rich carpets (all) spread out.

17. Do they not look at the Camels, (6103) how they are made?-

   «In case men neglect the Hereafter as of no account, they are asked to contemplate four things, which they can see in everyday life, and which are full of meaning, high design, and the goodness of Allah to man. The first mentioned is the domesticated animal, which for Arab countries is par excellence the Camel. What a wonderful structure has this Ship of the Desert? He can store water in his stomach for days. He can live on dry and thorny desert shrubs. His limbs are adapted to his life. He can carry men and goods. His flesh can be eaten, Camel's hair can be used in weaving. And wthal, he is so gentle! Who can sing his praises enough?»

18. And at the Sky, (6104) how it is raised high?-

   «The second thing they should consider is the noble blue vault high above them with the sun and moon, the stars and planets, and other heavenly bodies. This scene is full of beauty and magnificence, design and order, plainness and mystery. And yet we receive our light and warmth from the sun, and what would our physical lives be without these influences that come from such enormous distances?»

19. And at the Mountains, (6105) how they are fixed firm?-

   «From everyday utility and affection in the Camel, to the utility in grandeur in the heavens above us, we had two instances touching our individual as well as our social lives. In the third instance, in the Mountains we come to the utility of mankind generally in the services the Mountains perform in storing water, in moderating climate, and in various other ways which it is the business of Physical Geography to investigate and describe.»

20. And at the Earth, (6106) how it is spread out?
21. Therefore do thou give admonition, for thou art one to admonish.

22. Thou art not one to manage (men’s) affairs. (6107)

5. Is there (not) in these (6112) an adjuration (or evidence) for those who understand?

9. The like of which were not produced in (all) the land? (6115)

23. But if any turn away and reject Allah, -

24. Allah will punish him with a mighty Punishment,

25. For to Us will be their return;

26. Then it will be for Us to call them to account.

3. By the break of Day;(6108)

4. The fourth and last instance given is that of the Earth as a whole, the habitation of mankind in our present phase of life. The Earth is a globe, and yet how marvellously it seems to be spread out before us in plains, valleys, hills, deserts, seas, etc.? Can man, seeing these things, fail to see a Plan and Purpose in his life, or fail to turn to the great Creator before Whom he will have to give an account after this life is done?

4. By the even and odd (contrasted); (6110)

5. And by the Night(6111) when it passeth away;-

6. Seest thou not how thy Lord dealt with the ‘Ad (people), (6113)

7. Of the (city of) Iram,(6114) with lofty pillars,

8. The like of which were not produced in (all) the land? (6115)

9. And with the Thamud(6116) (people), who cut out (huge) rocks in the valley? -

10. And with Pharaoh, Lord of Stakes? (6117)
11. (All) these transgressed beyond bounds in the lands,
12. And heaped therein mischief (on mischief).
13. Therefore did thy Lord pour on them a scourge of diverse chastisements:
14. For thy Lord is (as a Guardian) on a watchtower. (6118)

6118 Even though Allah's punishment is delayed, it is not to be supposed that He does not see all things: Allah's providence is ever vigilant: His punishment of evildoers is a form of justice to the weak and the righteous whom they oppress. It is part of the signification of His title as Rabb (Cherisher). (R).

15. Now, as for man, (6119) when his Lord trieth him, giving him honour and gifts, then saith he, (puffed up), "My Lord hath honoured me."

6119 Contrast with Allah's justice and watchful care, man's selfishness and pettiness. Allah tries us both by prosperity and adversity: in the one we should show humility and kindness; and in the other patience and faith. On the contrary, we get puffed up in prosperity and depressed in adversity, putting false values on this world's goods.

16. But when He trieth him, restricting his subsistence (6120) for him, then saith he (in despair), "My Lord hath humiliated me!"

6120 Subsistence, in both the literal and the figurative sense, Allah provides for all, but people complain if the provision is measured and restricted to their needs, circumstances, and antecedents, and does not come up to their desires or expectations, or is different from that given to people in quite different circumstances.

17. Nay, nay! But ye (6211) honour not the orphans!

6211 Even at our own valuation, if we are favoured with superfluities, do we think of the fatherless children, or the struggling poor? On the contrary, too many men are but ready to embroil the helpless orphan's inheritance, and to waste their own substance in worthless riot instead of supplying the people's real needs.

18. Nor do ye encourage one another (6212) to feed the poor!-

6212 Kindness and generosity set up standards which even worldly men feel bound to follow out of social considerations even if they are not moved by higher motives. But the wicked find plausible excuses for their own hard-heartedness, and by their evil example choke up the springs of charity and kindness in others. (Cf. 69:74 and n. 6282).

19. And ye devour inheritance - (6213) all with greed,

6213 Inheritance is abused in two ways. (1) Guardians and trustees for the inheritance of minors or women or persons unable to look after their own interests should fulfil their trusts with even more care than they devote to their own interests. Instead of that they selfishly "devour" the property. (2) Persons who inherit property in their own rights should remember that in that case, too, it is a sacred trust. They must use it for the purposes, objects, and duties which they also inherit. It gives them no licence to live in idleness or waste their days in motious show.

20. And ye love wealth with inordinate love!

21. Nay! When the earth is pounded to powder, (6124)

6124 Our attention is now called to the Day of Reckoning. Whether we failed to respect the rights of the helpless here or actually suppressed those rights in our mad love for the good things of this life, we shall have to answer in the realm of Reality. This solid earth, which we imagine to be so real, will crumble to powder like dust before the real Presence, manifested in glory. (Cf. 69:14).

22. And thy Lord cometh, and His angels, rank upon rank,

23. And Hell, that Day, (6125) is brought (face to face), - on that Day will man remember, but how will that remembrance profit him?

6125 The Retribution will at last come, and we shall realise it in our inmost being, all the illusions of this fleeting world having been swept away. Then we shall remember, and wish, too late, that we had repented. Why not repent now? Why not bring forth the fruits of repentance now, as a preparation for the Hereafter?

24. He will say: "Ah! Would that I had sent forth (good deeds) for (this) my (Future) Life!"

25. For, that Day, His Chastisement will be such as none (else) can inflict, (6126)

6126 "Chastisement" in this verse and the "binding in bonds" in the next verse are two distinct phases of the Penalty. "Chastisement" involves pain and agony, such as cannot be imagined anywhere else, or from any other source, for it touches our inmost soul and cannot be compared with anything our bodies may suffer or others may inflict. "Bonds" imply confinement, want of freedom, the closing of a door which was once open but which we deliberately passed by. We see that others accepted in faith and entered that door. This shutting out of what might have been is worse than any other bonds or confinement we can imagine, and may be worse than actual chastisement.

26. And His bonds will be such as none (other) can bind.

27. (To the righteous soul will be said:) "O (thou) soul, (6127) in (complete) rest and satisfaction!

6127 The righteous enter into their inheritance and receive their welcome with a tide that suggests freedom from all pain, sorrow, doubt, struggle, disappointment, passion, and even further desire: at rest, in peace: in a state of complete satisfaction.

In Muslim theology, this stage of the soul is the final stage of bliss. The unregenerate human soul, that seeks its satisfaction in the lower earthly desires, is the Ammarah (12:50). The self-reproaching soul that feels conscious of sin and resists it is the Lawwanah (67:52), and n. 6810).

28. "Come back thou to thy Lord,- (6128) well pleased (thysel), and well-pleasing unto Him!

6128 Note that Evil finds itself isolated, and cries out in lonely agony (verse 24), while Good receives a warm welcome from the Lord of Goodness Himself also that it is the soul which enters heaven, and not the gross body which perishes.

29. "Enter thou, then, among My devotees!

30. "Yea, enter thou My Heaven! (6129)

6129: The climax of the whole is: "Enter My Heaven!" Men may have imagined all kinds of heaven before, and many types and symbols are used in the sacred Word itself. But nothing can express the reality itself better than "My Heaven": Allah's own Heaven! May we reach it through Allah's grace! (R).
90. Al Balad (The City)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. I do call to witness(6130) this City:-

   6130 The appeal to the mystic ties between the Prophet and his parent city of Makkah has been explained in the Introduction to this Surah. It is a symbol of man's own history. Man is born for toil and struggle, and this is the substantive proposition in verse 4 below, which this appeal leads up to.

2. And thou art a freeman(6131) of this City:-

   6131 Hillun: an inhabitant, a man with lawful rights, a man freed from such obligations as would attach to a stranger to the city, a freeman in a wider sense than the technical sense to which the word is restricted in modern usage. The Prophet should have been honoured in his native city, He was actually being persecuted. He should have been loved, as a parent loves a child. Actually his life was being sought, and those who believed in him were under a ban. But time was to show that he was to come triumphant to his native city after having made Madinah sacred by his life and work.

3. And (the mystic ties of) Parent and Child;-(6132)

   6132 A parent loves a child ordinaril y: the father is proud and the mother, in spite of her birth pangs, experiences supreme joy when the child is born. But in abnormal circumstances there may be misunderstandings, even hatred between parent and child. So Makkah cast out her most glorious son, but it was only for a time. Makkah was sound at heart; only her power had been usurped by an ignorant autocracy which passed away, and Makkah was to receive back her glory at the hands of the son whom she had rejected but whom she welcomed back later. And Madinah retains for all time her sacred character as the centre of Islam.

4. Verily We have created man into toil and struggle.(6133)

   6133 Cf. "Man is born unto troubles as the sparks fly upward" (Job, 5:7); "For all his days are sorrow, and his turmoil grief" (Ecclesiastes, 2:20). Man's life is full of sorrow and vexation; but our text has a different shade of meaning: man is born to sorrow and vexation; but our text has a different shade of meaning: man is born to toil and struggle, and this is the substantive proposition in verse 4 below, which this appeal leads up to.

5. Thinketh he, that none hath power over him?(6134)

   6134 See the end of last note. If a man has wealth, influence, or power, he should not behave as if it is to last forever, or as if he has no responsibility for his acts and can do what he likes. All his gifts and advantages are given to him for trial. Allah, Who bestowed them on him, can take them away, and will do so if man fails in his trial.

6. He may say (boastfully); Wealth have I squandered in abundance!(6135)

   6135 The man who feels no responsibility and thinks that he can do what he likes in life forgets his responsibility to Allah. He boasts of his wealth and scatters it about, thinking that he can thus purchase the support of the world. For a time he may. But a rude awakening must come soon, for he bases his hopes on unsubstantial things. Or if he spends his substance on self-indulgence, he is weakening himself and putting himself into snares that must destroy him.

7. Thinketh he that none beholdeth him?(6136)

   6136 Allah watches him, and sees all his acts and motives, and all the secret springs of his follies. But lest he should think the higher spiritual forces too remote for him, let him look within himself and use the faculties which Allah has given him. See the next verses following.

8. Have We not made for him a pair of eyes?-

9. And a tongue,(6137) and a pair of lips?-

   6137 The eyes give us the faculty of seeing, and may be taken in both the literal and the metaphorical sense. In the same way the tongue gives us the faculty of tasting in both senses. Along with the lips, it also enables us to speak, to ask for information and seek guidance, and to celebrate the praises of Allah.

10. And shown him the two highways?(6138)

   6138 The two highways of life are: (1) the steep and difficult path of virtue, which is further described in the verses following, and (2) the easy path of vice and the rejection of Allah, referred to in verses 19-20 below. Allah has given us not only the faculties implied in the eyes, the tongue, and the lips, but also given us the judgement by which we can choose our way; and He has sent us Teachers and Guides, with Revelation, to show us the right and difficult way.

11. But he hath made no haste on the path that is steep.(6139)

   6139 In spite of the faculties with which Allah has endowed man and the guidance which He has given him, man has been remiss. By no means has he been eager to follow the steep and difficult path which is for his own spiritual good. Cf. Matt. 7:14; "Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it" (see also 1:6 and n. 22).

12. And what will explain to thee the path that is steep?-

13. (It is): freeing the bondman;(6140)

   6140 The difficult path of virtue is defined as the path of charity or unselfish love, and three specific instances are given for our understanding: viz. (1) freeing the bondman, (2) feeding the orphan, and (3) feeding the indigent down in the dust. As regards the bondman, we are to understand not only a reference to legal slavery but many other kinds of slavery which flourish especially in advanced societies. There is political slavery, industrial slavery, and social slavery. There is the slavery of conventions, of ignorance, and of superstition. There is slavery to wealth or passions or power. The good man tries to liberate men and women from all kinds of slavery, often at great danger to himself. But he begins by first liberating himself. (R).

14. Or the giving of food in a day of privation(6141)

   6141 Feed those who need it, both literally and figuratively; but do so especially when there is privation or famine, literal or figurative, i.e., when or where the sources of sustenance, physical, moral, or spiritual,

15. To the orphan with claims of relationship,(6142)

   6142 All orphans should be fed and helped. But ordinary orphans will come under the indigent in verse 16 below. The orphans related to us have a special claim on us. They should be near and dear to us, and if charity begins at home, they have the first claim on us.

16. Or to the indigent (down) in the dust.(6143)

   6143 Persons down in the dust can only be helped from motives of pure charity, because nothing can be expected of them—neither praise nor advertisement nor any other advantage to the helper. Such help is help indeed. But there may be various degrees, and the help will be suited to the needs.

17. Then will he be(6144) of those who believe, and enjoin patience, (constancy, and self-restraint), and enjoin deeds of kindness and compassion.

   6144 Such practical charity and love will be the acid test of Faith and the teaching of all virtues; The virtues are summed up under the names of Patience (the Arabic word includes constancy and self-restraint) and compassionate kindness. Not only will they be the test by which the sincerity of their Faith will be judged: they will be the fruit which their Faith will constantly produce.

18. Such are the Companions of the Right Hand.(6145)

   6145 Cf. 56:27-40, also n. 3233. They will be those who achieve salvation.

19. But those who reject Our Signs, they are the (unhappy) Companions of the Left Hand.(6146)

   6146 Cf. 56:41-56, also n. 3233. They will be the unfortunate ones enveloped in the Fire of lasting Penalty, heaped over them and all round them.
20. On them will be Fire vaulted over (all round).

91. Al Shams (The Sun)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the Sun (6147) and his (glorious) splendour;

6147 Six types are taken in three pairs, from Allah's mighty works in nature, as tokens or evidence of Allah's providence and the contrasts in His sublime creation, which yet conduce to cosmic harmony (verses 1-6). Then verses 7-8 the soul of man, with internal order and proportion in its capacities and faculties, as made by Allah, is appealed to as having been endowed with the power of discriminating between right and wrong. Then the conclusion is stated in verses 9-10, that man's success or failure, prosperity or bankruptcy, would depend upon his keeping that soul pure or his corrupting it.

2. By the Moon (6148) as she follows him;

6148 The first pair is the glorious sun, the source of our light and physical life, and the moon which follows or acts as second to the sun for illuminating our world. The moon, when she is in the sky with the sun, is pale and inconspicuous; in the sun's absence she shines with reflected light and may metaphorically be called the sun's viceroy. So with Revelation and the great Prophets who brought it; and the minor Teachers who derive their light reflected, or perhaps doubly reflected, from the original source.

3. By the Day as it (6149) shows up (the Sun's) glory;

6149 The next contrasted pair consists, not of luminaries, but conditions, or periods of time, Day and Night. The Day reveals the sun's glory and the Night conceals it from our sight. So there may be contrasts in our subjective reception of divine light, but it is there, working all the time, and must reappear in its own good time.

4. By the Night as it conceals it;

5. By the Firmament (6150) and its (wonderful) structure (6151)

6150 The next contrasted pair is the wonderful firmament on high, and the earth below our feet, stretching away to our wide horizons. The sky gives us rain, and the earth gives us food. Yet both work together: for the rain is moisture sucked up below our feet, stretching away to our wide horizons. The sky gives us rain, and the earth gives us food. Yet both work together: for the rain is moisture sucked up below our feet, stretching away to our wide horizons. The sky gives us rain, and the earth gives us food. Yet both work together: for the rain is moisture sucked up below our feet, stretching away to our wide horizons. The sky gives us rain, and the earth gives us food. Yet both work together: for the rain is moisture sucked up below our feet, stretching away to our wide horizons.

6151 The word masdariyah in Arabic, in this and the subsequent clauses, is best translated in English by nouns. Thus what would literally be 'and the (wonderful) making or construction of it' or 'the fact of its (wonderful) construction' is, idiomatically, 'its (wonderful) structure.' "The (wide) spreading out" of the earth is rendered 'its (wide) expanse,' and so on.

6. By the Earth and its (wide) expanse:

7. By the Soul, and the proportion and order given to it (6152)

6152 Allah makes the soul, and gives it order, proportion, and relative perfection, in order to adapt it for the particular circumstances in which it has to live its life, Cl. 32:29. See also n. 120 to 2:117. He breathes into it an understanding of what is sin, impurity, wrongdoing and what is piety and right conduct, in the special circumstances in which it may be placed. This is the most precious gift of all to man, the faculty of distinguishing between right and wrong. After the six external evidences mentioned in verses 1-6 above, this internal evidence of Allah's goodness is mentioned as the greatest of all. By these various tokens man should learn that his success, his prosperity, his salvation depends on himself; on his keeping his soul pure as Allah made it; and his failure, his decline, his perdition depends on his soiling his soul by choosing evil.

8. And its enlightenment as to its wrong and its right;-

9. Truly he succeeds that purifies it,

10. And he fails that corrupts it! (6153)

6153 This is the core of the Surah, and it is illustrated by a reference to the story of Thamud in the following verses.

11. The Thamud (people) rejected (their prophet) through their inordinate wrongdoing (6154)

6154 The allusion to the story of Thamud will be understood by a reference to 7:73-79; see specially n. 1044. Their prophet was Salih but he had to deal with an arrogant people, who oppressed the poor and denied them their rights of watering and pasture for their cattle.

12. Behold, the most wicked man among them was deputed (for impiety) (6155)

6155 The prophet Salih made a certain she-camel a Sign or Symbol, a test case, This she-camel of Allah is a Sign unto you; so leave her to graze in Allah's earth and let her drink!" (6156) said to them: "It is a She-camel of Allah. And (bar her not from) having her drink!"

6156 That is, Salih see last note.

13. But the Messenger of Allah (6157) said to them: "It is a She-camel of Allah. And (bar her not from) having her drink!"

14. Then they rejected him (as a false prophet), and they hamstrung her. (6157) So their Lord, on account of their crime, obliterated their traces and made them equal (in destruction, high and low)!

6157 The man who was deputed to do the impious deed of hamstringing the she-camel had, of course, the sympathy and cooperation of the whole people. Only he was more daring than the rest.

15. And for Him (6158) is no fear of its consequences.

6158 This verse has been variously construed. I follow the general opinion in referring the pronoun 'Him' to 'their Lord' in the last verse and the pronoun 'its' to the Punishment that was meted out to all, high and low, equally. In that case the meaning would be: God decreed the total destruction of Thamud in the case of creatures any such destruction might cause a loss to them, and they might fear the consequences of such loss or destruction, but Allah has created and can create at will, and there can be no question of any such apprehension in His case. An alternative view is that 'him' refers to the prophet Salih, mentioned in verse 13. Then the interpretation would be: Salih had no fear of the consequences for himself; he had warned the wicked according to his commission; he was saved by Allah's mercy as a just and righteous man, and he left them with regrets (7:79). Yet
92. Al Layl (The Night)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the Night as it conceals (the light); (6159)

1.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

1.2. The mystery of the sexes runs through all life. There is attraction between opposites; each performs its own functions, having special characters, primary and secondary, within limited spheres, and yet both have common characteristics in many other spheres. Each is indispensable to the other. Love in its noblest sense is the type of heavenly love and the highest good; in its debasement it leads to the lowest sins and the worst crimes. Here, then, striving is necessary for the highest good.

2. By the Day as it appears in glory;

3. By (the mystery of) (6160) the creation of male and female; (6161)

3.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

3.2. The mystery of the sexes runs through all life. There is attraction between opposites; each performs its own functions, having special characters, primary and secondary, within limited spheres, and yet both have common characteristics in many other spheres. Each is indispensable to the other. Love in its noblest sense is the type of heavenly love and the highest good; in its debasement it leads to the lowest sins and the worst crimes. Here, then, striving is necessary for the highest good.

4. Verily, (the ends) ye strive for are diverse. (6162)

4.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

4.2. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. 5. So he who gives (in charity) and fears (6163)

5.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

6. And (in all sincerity) testifies to the Best. (6164)

6.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

7. We will indeed make smooth for him the path to Bliss. (6164)

7.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

8. But he who is a greedy miser and thinks himself self-sufficient,

8.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

9. And gives the lie to the Best. (6165)

9.1. The evidence of three things is invoked, viz., Night, Day, and the mystery of Sex, and the conclusion is stated in verse 4, that men's aims are diverse. But similarly there are contrasts in nature. What contrast can be greater than between Night and Day? When the Night spreads her veil, the sun's light is hidden, but not lost. The sun is in its place all the time, and will come forth in all its glory again in its own good time.

10. We will indeed make smooth for him the path to Misery;

11. Nor will his wealth profit him when he falls headlong (into the Pit). (6166)

12. Verily We take(6167) upon Ourselves to guide,

13. And verily unto Us (belong) the End and the Beginning. (6168)

14. Therefore do I warn you of a Fire blazing fiercely;

15. None shall reach it(6169) but those most unfortunate ones

16. Who give the lie to Truth and turn their backs.

17. But those most devoted to Allah shall be(6170) removed far from it -

18. Those who spend their wealth(6171) for increase in self-purification,
19. And have in their minds no favour from anyone for which a reward is expected in return, (6173)

20. But only the desire to seek for the Countenance of their Lord Most High; (6174)

21. And soon will they attain (complete) satisfaction.
8. And He found thee in need, and made thee independent. (6184)

9. Therefore, treat not (6185) the orphan with harshness,

10. Nor repulse the petitioner (Unheard); (6186)

11. But the bounty of the Lord - rehearse and proclaim! (6187)

Al Sharh or Al Inshirah (The Expansion of the Breast)

94. Al Sharh or Al Inshirah (The Expansion of the Breast)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Have We not expanded thee thy breast?-(6188)

2. And removed from thee thy burden (6189)

3. The which did gall thy back?-

4. And raised high the esteem (in which) thou (art held)? (6190)

5. So, verily, with every difficulty, there is relief: (6191)

6. Verily, with every difficulty there is relief.

7. Therefore, when thou art free (from thine immediate task), still labour hard, (6192)

8. And to thy Lord turn (all) thy attention. (6193)
95. Al Tin (The Fig)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the Fig (6194) and the Olive, (6195)

6194 The substantive proposition is in verse 4-8, and it is clinched by an appeal to four sacred symbols, viz., the Fig, the Olive, Mount Sinai, and the sacred City of Makkah. About the precise interpretation of the first two symbols, and especially of the symbol of the Fig, there is much difference of opinion. If we take the Fig literally to refer to the fruit or the tree, it can stand as a symbol of man's destiny in many ways. Under cultivation it can be one of the finest, most delicious, and most wholesome fruits in existence; in its wild state, it is nothing but tiny seeds, and is insipid, and often full of worms and maggots. So man at his best has a noble destiny; at his worst, he is "the lowest of the low," Christ is said to have cursed a fig tree for having only leaves, and not producing fruit (Matt. 21:18-29), enforcing the same lesson. There is also a parable of the fig tree in Matt. 24:32-35. See also the parable of the good and evil figs in Jeremiah, 24:1-10. But see n. 6198 below.

6195 For the sacred symbolism of the Olive, see n. 2880 to 23:20, and notes 2800-3002 to 24:35, where the parable of Allah's Light includes a reference to the Olive. But it is possible that the Olive here refers to the Mount of Olives, just outside the walls of the City of Jerusalem (see n. 5038 to 52:2), for this is the scene in the Gospel story (Matt. 24:3-4) of Christ's description of the Judgement to come.

2. And the Mount of Sinaí,(6196)

6196 This was the Mountain on which the Law was given to Moses. See 19:32, and n. 2504. The Law was given, and the glory of Allah was made visible. But did Israel faithfully obey the Law thereafter?

3. And this City (6197) of security, -(6198)

6197 "This City of security" is undoubtedly Makkah. Even in Pagan times its sacred character was respected, and no lighting was allowed in its territory. But the same City, with all its sacred associations, persecuted the greatest of the Prophets and gave itself up for a time to idolatry and sin, thus presenting the contrast of the best and the worst.

6198 Having discussed the four symbols in detail, let us consider them together. It is clear that they refer to Allah's Light or Revelation, which offers man the highest destiny if he will follow the Way. Makkah stands for Islam, Sinai for Israel, and the Mount of Olives for Christ's original and pure Message. It has been suggested that the Fig stands for the Ficus Indica, the Bo-tree, under which Gautama Buddha obtained Nirvana. I hesitate to adopt the suggestion, but if accepted it would cover pristine Buddhism and the ancient Vedic religions from which it was an offshoot. In this way all the great religions of the world would be indicated. But even if we refer the Fig and the Olive to the symbolism in their fruit, and not to any particular religion, the contrast of Best and Worst in man's destiny remains, and that is the main thing.

This raises a doctrinal question of considerable importance: how does Islam view the ancient vedic religions and Buddhism, or for that matter, any other religion?

As Muslims we are not in a position to affirm whether Budha was a prophet or not. Although the Qur'an states that Allah sent Prophets to every people (53:24), it does not mention the names of all of them. In fact it mentions by name relatively few of the Prophets of the Semitic tradition, or only such as with whom its first audience, the Arabs were generally familiar. As to its present form, we find the doctrines of Buddhism clearly at variance with monotheism and cardinal Principles of the True Religion as explained in the Qur'an. This may have been the result of distortion or loss by the followers of its original teachings.

As a general rule, we cannot describe anyone as a Prophet or Messenger of Allah unless explicitly mentioned in the Qur'an, or Hadith. The Message as brought by Prophet Muhammad preserves in itself all that was essential in the earlier revelations or scriptures; it abrogates all the previous messages sent through earlier Prophets (6195), (R).

4. We have indeed created man in the best of moulds, (6199)

6199 Taqwil: mould, symmetry, form, nature, constitution. There is no fault in Allah's creation. To man Allah gave the purest and best nature, and man's duty is to preserve the pattern on which Allah has made him: 30:30. But by making him His viceroy, Allah exalted him in posse even higher than the angels, for the angels had to make obeisance to him (2:30-34, and n. 48). But man's position as viceroy also gives him will and discretion, and if he uses them wrongly he falls even lower than the beasts. See next note.

5. Then do We abase him (to be) the lowest of the low,- (6200)

6200 This verse should be read with the next. If man rebels against Allah, and follows after evil, he will be abased to the lowest possible position. For Judgement is sure. Those who use their faculties aright and follow Allah's Law will reach the high and noble destiny intended for them. That reward will not be temporary, but unfailing.

6. Except such as believe and do righteous deeds: For they shall have a reward unfailing.

7. Then what can, after this, contradict thee, (6201) as to the judgment (to come)?

6201 Thee: may refer to the Prophet, or to man collectively. After this: i.e., when it is clearly shown to you that Allah created man true and pure, that He guides him, and that those who rebel and break His law will be punished and brought down in the Hereafter, who can doubt this, or contradict the Prophet when he gives warning?

8. Is not Allah the wisest of Judges? (6202)

6202 Allah is wise and just. Therefore the righteous have nothing to fear, but the evil ones cannot escape punishment.
96. Al Alaq (The Clinging Clot) or Iqra’ (Read!)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Proclaim! (or Read!)(6203) in the name(6204) of thy Lord and Cherisher, Who created-

- Iqra’ may mean ‘read’, or ‘recite or rehearse’, or ‘proclaim aloud’, the object understood being Allah’s Message. For an account of the circumstances in which this first revelation—the divine commission to preach and proclaim Allah’s Message—came to the Prophet, in the cave of Hira’, see C. 27-31. In worldly letters he was versed, but with spiritual knowledge his mind and soul were filled, and now had come the time when he must stand forth to the world and declare his mission.

- The declaration or proclamation was to be in the name of Allah the Creator. It was not for any personal benefit to the Prophet: to him there was to come bitter persecution, sorrow, and suffering. It was the call of Allah for the benefit of erring humanity. Allah is mentioned by his title of ‘thy Lord and Cherisher’, to establish a direct nexus between the source of the Message and the one addressed. The Message was not merely an abstract proposition of philosophy, but the direct concrete message of a personal Allah to the creatures whom He loves and cherishes. Thy addressed to the Prophet is appropriate in two ways: (1) he was in direct contact with the divine Messenger (Gabriel) and Him Who sent the Messenger; (2) he represented the whole of humanity, in a fuller sense than that in which Christ Jesus is the ‘Son of Man’.

2. Created man, out of a (mere) clot of congealed blood:(6205)

- The lowly origin of the animal in man is contrasted with the high destiny offered to him in his intellectual, moral, and spiritual nature by his ‘most bountiful’ Creator. No knowledge is withheld from man. On the contrary, through the faculties freely given to him, he acquires it in such measure as outstrips his immediate understanding, and leads him ever to strive for newer and newer meaning.

3. Proclaim! And thy Lord is Most Bountiful,-

4. He Who taught (the use of) the Pen,(-)(6206)

- The symbol of a permanent revelation is the mystic Pen and the mystic Record. See n. 3509 to 48:1. The Arabic words for ‘teach’ and ‘knowledge’ are from the same root. It is impossible to produce in a Translation the complete orchestral harmony of the words for ‘read’, ‘teach’, ‘pen’ (which implies reading, writing, books, study, research), ‘knowledge’ (including science, self-knowledge, spiritual understanding), and ‘proclaim’, an alternative meaning of the word for ‘to read’. This proclaiming or reading implies not only the duty of blazoning forth Allah’s message, as going with the prophetic office, but also the duty of proclamation and wide dissemination of the Truth by all who read and understand it. The comprehensive meaning of qara’ refers not only to a particular person and occasion but also gives a universal direction. And this kind of comprehensive meaning, as we have seen, runs throughout the Qur’an—for those who will understand.

5. Taught man that which he knew not.(6207)

- Allah teaches us new knowledge at every given moment. Individuals learn more and more day by day; nations and humanity at large learn fresh knowledge at every stage. This is even more noticeable and important in the spiritual world.

6. Day, but man doth transgress all bounds,(6208)

- All our knowledge and capacities come as gifts from Allah. But man, in his inordinate vanity and insoucience, mistakes Allah’s gifts for his own achievements. The gifts may be strength or beauty, wealth, position, or power, or the more subtle gifts of knowledge or talents in individuals—Science, or Art, or Government, or Organisation for mankind in general.

7. In that he looketh upon himself as self-sufficient.

8. Verily, to thy Lord is the return (of all). (6209)

- Man is not self-sufficient, either as an individual, or in his collective capacity. If he arrogates Allah’s gifts to himself, he is reminded backwards, of his lowly physical origin (from a drop of animal matter), and forwards, of his responsibility and final return to Allah.

9. Seest thou one who forbids-(6210)

- The words, may be applied generally to perverseness of human nature, which seeks not only to rebel against Allah’s Law, but also to prevent others from following it. There may however be a reference here to Abu Jahl, an inveterate enemy of Islam, who used, in its early days, to insult and persecute the Prophets and those who followed his teaching. He used, in particular, to use shameful methods to prevent the Prophet from going to the Ka’bah for devotions, and forbade any who came under his influence, from offering prayers or performing devotions. He was arrogant and purge-prudent and met his end in the battle of Badr.

10. A votary when he (turns) to pray?

11. Seest thou if (6211) he is on (the road of) Guidance?-

- Men’s insouciance leads to two results: (1) self-destruction through self-misleading; (2) a false example or false guidance to others. The righteous man must therefore test human example or human guidance by the question, ‘Is there Allah’s guidance behind it?’ And risible light would be thrown on it by the question, ‘Does it lead to righteousness?’ A blustering of Allah and Allah’s truth answers the first question in the negative, and conduct which turns back from the eternal principles of Right answers the second.

12. Or enjoins Righteousness?

13. Seest thou if he(6212) denies (Truth) and turns away?

- The usual trick of the ungodly is to refuse to face Truth. If they are placed in a corner, they deny what is obvious to reasonable men, and turn their backs.

14. Knoweth he not that Allah doth see?

15. Let him beware! If he desist not, We will drag him by his forelock,-(6213)

- The Pagan Quraysh, who formed an oppressive junta or council to manage the Ka’bah were in sympathy with Abu Jahl, though they did not go to the unbridled lengths to which Abu Jahl went. But they could not, all combined, resist the onward march of the divine mission, though they did all they could to check it.

16. A lying, sinful forelock!

17. Then, let him call (for help) to his council(6214) (of comrades):

- The usual trick of the ungodly is to refuse to face Truth. If they are placed in a corner, they deny what is obvious to reasonable men, and turn their backs.

18. We will call on the angels of punishment (to deal with him)(6215)

- All the combined forces of evil, though they may have worldly appearances in their favour, and though they may seem to be successful for a time, cannot stand against Allah. He has but to command His forces of punishment to exert themselves, and they will subdue evil, protect Allah’s votaries and justify the faith for which the votaries suffer.

19. Day, heed him not: But bow down in adoration, and bring thyself the closer (to Allah)(6216)

- The righteous man has no fear. He can disregard all the forces of evil that are brought against him. But he must learn humility: that is his defence. He will bow down in adoration to Allah. He must have the will to bring himself closer to Allah. For Allah is always close to him, closer to him than his life blood in the jugular vein. (50:16). Man's humility and adoration remove him from being an insolent rebel on the one hand and, on the other, prepare his will to realise his nearness to Allah.

97. Al Qadr (The Night of Power or Honour)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. We have indeed revealed this (Message) in the Night of Power: (6217)

   Cf. 44:3 and n. 4690. The 23rd, 25th or 27th night of Ramadan, as well as other nights, have been suggested as the Night of Power. See, however, the Introduction to this Surah. It is best to take this in the mystic sense, which also accords with verse 3 below, which says that the Night of Power is better than a thousand Months. It transcends Time: for it is Allah's Power dispelling the Darkness of Ignorance, by His Revelation, in every kind of affair. (R).

2. And what will explain to thee what the Night of Power is?

3. The Night of Power is better than a thousand Months. (6218)

   "A thousand" must be taken in an indefinite sense, as denoting a very long period of time. Cf. notes 3632 and 3634 to 32:4-5, and n. 5678 to 70:4. This does not refer to our ideas of time, but to "timeless Time". One moment of enlightenment under Allah's Light is better than thousands of months or years of animal life, and such a moment converts the night of darkness into a period of spiritual glory.

4. Therein come down the angels and the Spirit (6219) by Allah's permission, on every errand:

   The Spirit: usually understood to be the angel Gabriel, the Spirit of Inspiration. (R).

5. Peace!...This until the rise of Morn! (6220)

   When the Night of spiritual darkness is dissipated by the glory of Allah, a wonderful Peace and a sense of Security arise in the soul. And this lasts on until this life closes, and the glorious Day of the new spiritual world dawns, when everything will be on a different plane, and the chequered nights and days of this world will be even less than a dream.

98. Al Bayyinah (The Clear Evidence)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Those who reject (Truth), among the People of the Book (6221) and among the Polytheists, (6222) were not going to depart from their ways until there should come to them Clear Evidence; (6223)

   The People of the Book immediately referred to are the Jews and the Christians, who had received scriptures in the same line of prophecy in which came our Prophet. Their scriptures should have prepared them for the advent of the greatest and last of the Prophets. For the Jewish scriptures promised to the Jews, cousins or brethren to the Arabs, a prophet like Moses: "The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken" (Deut. 18:15). And Christ promised a Comforter (John, 14:16; 15:26; and 16:7; see my n. 5438 to 61:6) almost by name. The People of the Book fell from the true, straight, and standard religion, into devious ways, and would not come to the true Path until (they said) they were convinced by the arrival of the promised Prophet. But when the promised Prophet came in the person of Muhammad, they rejected him, because they really did not seek for Truth but only followed their own fancies and desires.

2. An messenger from Allah, rehearsing scriptures (6224) kept pure and Holy: (6225)

   Cf. 2:151.

   Cf. 80:13-16.

3. Wherein are laws (or decrees) right and straight. (6226)

   Qayyimah: straight, as opposed to crooked; standard as opposed to irregular; definite and permanent, as opposed to casual or temporary. Cf. 7:36; 12:40, etc.

4. Nor did the People of the Book make schisms, (6227) until after there came to them Clear Evidence.
6997 The responsibility of the People of the Book is greater than that of Pagans, because the People of the Book had been prepared for the standard and straight Religion by the revelations which they had already received. Yet, when the clear evidence came in Islam, they resisted it. And what is this standard and straight Religion, free of all ambiguity, and free of all casual rights and ceremonies? They are summed up in three eternal principles, as explained in the next verse and the next note.

5. And they have been commanded no more than this: (6228) To worship Allah, offering Him sincere devotion, being true (in faith); (6229) to establish regular prayer; and to practise regular charity; and that is the Religion Right and Straight. (6230)

6228 The three eternal principles of Religion are: (1) sincere devotion to Allah; (2) Prayer and Praise as drawing man nearer to Allah and to the spiritual world; and (3) the service of Allah's creatures by deeds of practical charity.

6229 Hai! see n. 134 to 2:135.

6230 See n. 6226 above.

6. Those who reject (Truth), among the People of the Book and among the Polytheists, will be in Hell-Fire, to dwell therein (for aye). They are the worst of creatures.

6231 To be given the faculty of discrimination between right and wrong, and men to reject truth and right, is the worst folly which a creature endowed with will can commit. It must necessarily bring its own punishment, whether the creature calls himself one of the children of Abraham or one of the redeemed of Christ, or whether he goes by the mere light of nature and reason as a Pagan. Honour in the sight of Allah is not due to race or professions of faith, but to sincere and righteous conduct (49:13).

7. Those who have faith and do righteous deeds,- they are the best of creatures.

6232 Contrast this with the preceding verse. Human beings who live a life of faith and good justify the purpose of their probation here. They attain the fulfillment of their highest hopes. (8).

8. Their reward is with Allah. Gardens of Eternity, beneath which rivers flow; they will dwell therein for ever; Allah well pleased with them, and they with Him: (6233) all this for such as fear their Lord and Cherisher.

6234 The Good Pleasure of Allah is the final Bliss of Salvation. The good pleasure is mutual; the truly saved is he whose will has become completely identified with Allah's Universal Will. (8).

6235 The fear of Allah is the fear to offend against His Holy Law, the fear to do anything which is against His Holy Will. Such fear is akin to love; for with it dawns the consciousness of Allah's loving care for all His creatures.

99. Al Zalzalah (The Earthquake)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. When the earth is shaken to her (utmost) convulsion.

6235 To the ordinary human observer a violent earthquake is a terrifying phenomenon, in its suddenness, in its mysterious origin, and in its power to destroy and uproot the strongest buildings and to bring up strange materials from the bowels of the earth. The Overwhelming Event (S. 88) which ushers in the Judgement will be a bigger and more far-reaching convulsion than any earthquakes that we know. And yet the incidents of earthquakes may give us some idea of that supreme world-shaking Event.

2. And the earth throws up her burdens (from within).

6236 An earthquake, if accompanied by a volcanic eruption, throws up enormous boulders and lava from beneath the crust of the earth. They are thrown up as if they were a burden to the Earth personified. They may be all kinds of minerals, or treasures buried for secrecy. So in the great and final Convulsion, the dead who had been buried and forgotten will rise; matters and motives which had been secretly hidden and metaphorically buried will be brought to the light of day, and justice will be done in the full glare of absolute Truth.

3. And man cries (distressed): 'What is the matter with it?' (6237)

6237 The puzzled agony suffered by the victims of violent earthquakes is as nothing compared to the experience of the new and wonderful world which will then open out to the gaze of man.
100. Al 'Adiyat (Those That Run)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By the (Steeds)(6241) that run, with panting (breath), 6241 The substantive proposition is in verses 6-8 below, and the metaphors and symbols enforcing the lesson are in verses 1-5 here. These symbols have at least three layers of mystic meaning: (1) Look at the chargers (mares or swift camels) panting for war on behalf of their masters. Off they go, striking fire with their hoofs by night at the behest of their riders; they push home the charge in the morning, chivalrously giving the enemy the benefit of daylight; and regardless of flashing steel or the weapons of their enemies they boldly penetrate into the midst of their foe, risking their lives for the Cause. Does unregenerate man show that fidelity to his Lord Allah? On the contrary he is ungrateful to Allah; he shows that by his deeds; he is violently in love with wealth and gain and things that perish. (2) By the figure of metonymy the brave fidelity of the war horse may stand for that of the brave and true men who rally to the standard of Allah and carry it to victory, contrasted with the poltroonery and pettiness of unregenerate man. (3) The whole conflict, fighting, and victory, may be applied to spiritual warfare against those who are caught and overwhelmed by the camp of Evil.

2. And strike sparks of fire,(6242)

   6242 With their hoofs. If we suppose the march to be in the dead of night, the sparks of fire would be still more conspicuous.

3. And push home the charge in the morning,(6243)

   6243 We may suppose a surprise attack, but yet a chivalrous attack by daylight.

4. And raise the dust in clouds the while,(6244)

   6244 The clouds of dust typify the ignorance and confusion in the minds of those who oppose Truth.

5. And penetrate forthwith into the midst (of the foe) en masse;-(6245)

   6245 The forces of evil mass themselves for strength, but their massing itself may become a means of their speedy undoing.

6. Truly man is, to his Lord,(6246) ungrateful;

   6246 Man, i.e., unregenerate man, in contrast to those who receive guidance and wage unceasing war with Evil, is ungrateful to his Lord and Cherisher, Him Who created him and sustains him, and sends His blessings and favours at all times. The ingratitude may be shown by thoughts, words, and deeds-by forgetting or denying Allah and His goodness, by misusing His gifts, or by injustice to His creatures. He is in this respect worse than the war horse that risks his life in the service of his master.

7. And to that (fact) he bears witness (by his deeds);(6247) 6247 Man himself, by his conduct, proves the charge of treason against himself.

8. And violent is he in his love of wealth.(6248)

   6248 What an evil choice he makes in committing treason against his own Benefactor by going after the petty baubles of this world's wealth of fleeting gains?

9. Does he not know,- when that which is in the graves is scattered abroad(6249)

   6249 Dead bodies, secret plots, evil thoughts and imaginings, long since buried, will yet stand forth before the Judgement Seat of Allah. Instead of being closely hidden or blotted out as they will have been from the consciousness of mankind they will stand out as from the consciousness of Allah, which is all-embracing and never suffers from sleep or fatigue.

10. And that which is (locked up) in (human) breasts is made manifest-

11. That their Lord had been Well-acquainted with them, (even to) that Day.? (6250)

   6250 Allah's knowledge is full and vigilant at all times. But on that day it will reveal to men secrets which they had long forgotten; for the Book of their Deeds will be made manifest at Judgement.

101. Al Qari'ah (The Great Calamity)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. The (Day) of Noise and Clamour:(6251)

   6251 The Day of Noise and Clamour is the Day of Judgement, when the whole of the present order of things will be overthrown with a tremendous convulsion. Cf. n. 6233 to 99:1, and n. 6096 to 88:1. All our present landmarks will be lost. It will be a stunning experience to begin with, but it will inaugurate a new world of true and permanent values, in which every human deed will have its true and just consequences, as if weighed in the balance. See verses 6-11 below.

2. What is the (Day) of Noise and Clamour?

3. And what will explain to thee what the (Day) of Noise and Clamour is?

4. (It is) a Day whereon men will be like moths scattered abroad,(6252)

   6252 Moths are frail light things. To see them scattered about in a violent storm gives some idea of the confusion, distress, and helplessness in which men will be at first overwhelmed on the Day of Account. Old memories will be like a book almost blotted out. New hopes will be vague in a new world just rising on the horizon. But it will be a perfectly just world, and no good action will be lost and no evil one but will have its compensating value estimated.

5. And the mountains will be like carded wool.(6253)

6253 Cf. n. 5682 to 769. The mountains are solid things, which seem as if nothing could move them. But in that tremendous cataclysm they will be scattered about like flakes of teased or carded wool. This is a metaphor to show that what we consider very substantial in this life will be as an airy nothing in the spiritual world.

6. Then, he whose balance (of good deeds)(6254) will be (found) heavy, 6254 The Good Deeds will be weighed and appraised. This appraisement will be of the nicest and justest kind: for it will take into account motives, temptations, provocations, surrounding conditions, antecedents, subsequent amends, and all possible connected circumstances. Against them, presumably, will be deeds of the opposite kind, appraised in the same way. If the good predominates, the judgement will be in the man's favour, and he will be ushered into a life of good pleasure and satisfaction. This will of course be on another plane. (R).

7. Will be in a life of good pleasure and Satisfaction.(6255)

6255 Cf. 98:8, and n. 6233, but perhaps the Bliss is not of the same grade for all men. In every case it is bliss, but bliss suited to the particular nature of the individual concerned.

8. But he whose balance (of good deeds) will be (found) light,-

9. Will have his home in a (bottomless) Pit.(6256)

6256 Just as grades of bliss are indicated for the righteous, so apparently we are to understand grades of punishment suited to the sins of the individual sinners concerned.

10. And what will explain to thee what this is?

11. (It is) a Fire Blazing fiercely!

102. Al Takathur (The Piling Up)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. The mutual rivalry for piling up (the good things of this world) diverts you(6257) (from the more serious things), 6257 Acquisitiveness, that is, the passion for seeking an increase in wealth, position, the number of adherents or followers or supporters, mass production and mass organisation, may affect an individual as such, or it may affect whole societies or nations. Other people's example or rivalry in such things may aggravate the situation. Up to a certain point it may be good and necessary. But when it becomes inordinate and monopolises attention, it leaves no time for higher things in life, and a clear warning is here sounded from a spiritual point of view. Man may be engrossed in these things till death approaches, and he looks back on a wasted life, as far as the higher things are concerned.

2. Until ye visit the graves.(6258)

6258 That is, until the time comes when you must lie down in the graves and leave the pomp and circumstance of an empty life. The true Reality will then appear before you. Why not try to strive for a little understanding of that Reality in this very life?

3. But nay, ye soon shall know (the reality).

4. Again, ye soon shall know!

5. Nay, were ye to know with certainty of mind,(6259) (ye would beware!)

6259 Three kinds of yaqin (certainty of knowledge) are described in n. 5673 to 69:51. The first is certainty of mind or inference mentioned here: we hear from someone, or we infer from something we know: this refers to our own state of mind. If we instruct our minds in this way, we should value the deeper things of life better, and not waste all our time in ephemeral things. But if we do not use our reasoning faculties now, we shall yet see with our own eyes, the Penalty for our sins. It will be certainty of sight. We shall see Hell. See next verse. But the absolute certainty of assured Truth is that described in 69:51. That is not liable to any human error or psychological defect.

6. Ye shall certainly see Hellfire!(6260)

6260 See 19:71-72, and n. 2518.

7. Again, ye shall see it with certainty of sight!

8. Then, shall ye be questioned that Day about the joy(6261) (ye indulged in!).

6261 We shall be questioned, i.e., we shall be held responsible for every kind of joy we indulge in; whether it was false pride or delight in things of no value, or things evil, or the enjoyment of things legitimate-the last, to see whether we kept this within reasonable bounds.
103. Al 'Asr (Time Through the Ages)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. By (the Token of) Time (through the Ages),(6262)

By (the Token of) Time (through the Ages), which was sometimes deified by the Pagan Arabs (see Introduction to S. 76); (2) or the late afternoon, from which the 'Asr canonical prayer takes its name (see n. 271 to 2:238). A mystic use of both these ideas is understood here. An appeal is made to Time as one of the creations of Allah, of which everyone knows something but of which no one can fully explain the exact significance. Time searches out and destroys everything material. No one in secular literature has expressed the tyranny of "never-resting Time" better than Shakespeare in his Sonnets. For example, see Sonnets 5 ("never-resting Time"), 12 ("Nothing 'gainst Time's scythe can make defense"), and 64 ("When I have seen by Time's fell hand defaced, the rich proud cost of outworn buried age"). If we merely run a race against Time, we shall lose. It is the spiritual part of us that conquers Time. See verse 3 below. For the "afternoon" idea see next note.

2. Verily Man is in loss,(6263)

If life be considered under the metaphor of a business bargain, man, by merely attending to his material gains, will lose. When he makes up his day's account in the afternoon, it will show a loss. It will only show profit if he has Faith, leads a good life, and contributes to social welfare by directing and encouraging other people on the Path of Truth and Constancy.

3. Except such as have Faith, and do righteous deeds,(6264) and (join together)(6265) in the mutual teaching of Truth, and of Patience and Constancy.

Faith is his armour, which wards off the wounds of the material world; and his righteous life is his positive contribution to spiritual ascent.

4. Who pileth up wealth and layeth it by,

Thinking that his wealth would make him last for ever!

5. By no means! He will be sure to be thrown into That which Breaks to Pieces,(6267)

That which Breaks to Pieces: an apt description of the three antisocial vices condemned. For scandalmongering and backbiting make any sort of cohesion or mutual confidence impossible; and the miser's hoards block up the channels of economic service and charity, and the circulation of goodwill among men.

104. Al Humazah (The Scandalmonger)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Woe to every (kind of) scandal-monger and backbiter,(6266)

Three vices are here condemned in the strangest terms: (1) scandalmongering, talking or suggesting evil of men or women by word or innuendo, or behaviour, or mimicry, or sarcasm, or insult; (2) detracting from their character behind their backs, even if the things suggested are true, where the motive is evil; (3) piling up wealth, not for use and service to those who need it, but in miserly hoards, as if such hoards can prolong the miser's life or give him immortality: miserliness is itself a kind of scandal.

2. Who pileth up wealth and layeth it by,

3. Thinking that his wealth would make him last for ever!

4. By no means! He will be sure to be thrown into That which Breaks to Pieces,(6267)

This Fire of Punishment mounts right up to the hearts and minds of such men, and shuts them out of the love of their fellow. "Heart" in Arabic means not only the seat of affection, pity, charity, etc., but also of understanding and intelligent appreciation of things.

5. It shall be made into a vault over them,

6. In columns outstretched.(6269)

Those guilty of these vices will be choked and suffocated, for this Vault of Fire will cover them all over, and its scorching columns will extend over a far wider area than they imagine.
105. Al Fil (The Elephant)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Seest thou not how thy Lord dealt with the Companions of the Elephant?(6271)

6270 Seest thou not? i.e., with thy mental vision. The incident happened in the very year of the Prophet's birth, barely two months before it.

6271 These were the troops of Abrahah the Abyssinian, who invaded Makkah with a large army, in which were some elephants. See Introduction to this Surah.

2. Did He not make their treacherous plan go astray?

3. And He sent against them Flights of Birds,(6272)

6272 The miracle consisted in the birds coming in large flights and flinging stones at the army which caused a great pestilence to arise and destroy the whole of Abrahah's army.

4. Striking them with stones(6273) of baked clay.

6273 Sijjil: See n. 1579 to 11:82. The word also occurs at 15:74. Stones of baked clay, or hard as baked clay, are part of the miracle in the story.

5. Then did He make them like an empty field(6274) of stalks and straw, (of which the corn) has been eaten up.(6275)

6274 A field, from which all the corn has been eaten up and only straw with stalks is left, is a field dead and useless. Another possible rendering would be: 'like eaten straw and stubble found in the dung of animals'. The meaning would be the same, but much more emphatic.

6275 The lesson to be drawn is twofold. For the Pagan Quraysh of Makkah it was: Allah will protect His own; if you persecute the Prophet, he is greater than the mere building of the Ka'bah: will not Allah protect him? For men in all ages it is: ‘a man intoxicated with power can prepare armies and material resources against Allah’s Holy Plan; but such a man's plan will be his own undoing; he cannot prevail against Allah.

106. Quraysh (The Tribe of Quraysh)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. For the covenants (of security and safeguard enjoyed) by the Quraysh,(6276)

6276 Quraysh were the noblest tribe of Arabia, the tribe to which belonged the Prophet himself. They had the custody of the Ka'bah, the central shrine of Arabia, and their possession of Makkah gave them a triple advantage: (1) they had a commanding influence over other tribes; (2) their central position facilitated trade and intercourse, which gave them both honour and profit; and (3) the Makkah territory being, by Arabian custom, inviolable from the ravages of war and private feuds, they had a secure position, free from fear of danger. This honour and advantage they owed to their position as servants of the sacred shrine of the Ka'bah. They owed it to Allah. Was it not therefore right and fitting that they should adore the One True God, and listen to His Message of Unity and Purity, brought by His Prophet?

In those days of general insecurity, their prestige as custodians of Makkah enabled them to obtain Covenants of security and safeguard from the rulers of neighbouring countries on all sides—Syria, Persia, Yemen, and Abyssinia—protecting their trade journeys in all seasons.

2. Their covenants (covering) journeys by winter and summer,-(6277)

6277 See last note, especially section (2). On account of their trade journeys to the warmth of Yemen in the winter and the cooler regions of Syria and the north in the summer, Quraysh became practised travellers and merchants, acquired much knowledge of the world and many arts, and perfected their language as a polished medium of literary expression.

3. Let them adore the Lord of this House,(6278)

6278 The Ka'bah.

4. Who provides them with food against hunger,(6279) and with security against fear (of danger).(6280)

6279 Their trade caravans enriched them, and drew people from distant parts to visit Makkah and bring their merchandise and gifts thither.

6280 Their territory being inviolable, they did not suffer from the dangers of constant warfare nor from private feuds of vengeance or breaches of the peace in their secure homes.
107. Al Ma’un (The Neighbourly Assistance)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Seest thou one who denies the Judgment (to come)?
6281 Din may mean either (1) the Judgment to come, the responsibility in the moral and spiritual world, for all actions done by men, or (2) Faith, Religion, the principles of right and wrong in spiritual matters, which often conflict with selfish desires or predilections. It is men who deny Faith or future responsibility, that treat the helpless with contempt and lead arrogant selfish lives.

2. Then such is the (man) who repulses the orphan (with harshness).

3. And encourages not the feeding of the indigent.
6282 The Charity or Love which feeds the indigent at the expense of Self is a noble form of virtue, which is beyond the reach of men who are so callous as even to discourage or forbid or look down upon the virtue of charity or kindness in others.

4. So woe to the worshippers

5. Who are neglectful of their Prayers, (6283)

6283 True worship does not consist in the mere form of prayer, without the heart and mind being earnestly applied to seek the realisation of the presence of Allah, and to understand and do His Holy Will.

6. Those who (want but) to be seen (of men), (6284)

6284 Cf. 4:142: "When they stand up to prayer, they stand with out earnestness, to be seen of men, but little do they hold Allah in remembrance."

7. But refuse (to supply) (even) neighbourly needs. (6285)

6285 Hypocrites make a great show of hollow acts of goodness, devotion, and charity. But they fail signaly if you test them by little acts of neighbourly help or charity, the thousand little courtesies and kindnesses of daily life, the supply of needs which cost little but mean much.

108. Al Kawthar (The Abundance)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. To thee have We granted the Fount (of Abundance). (6286)

6286 Kawthar literally means "good in abundance". It is the abundant bounty which Allah bestowed on Prophet Muhammad (peace be on him). This includes a river (or fountain) in heaven of this name which Allah has promised the Prophet (peace be on him). [Eds.]

2. Therefore to thy Lord turn in Prayer and Sacrifice. (6287)

6287 He who grants these blessings is Allah, and to Allah alone must we turn in adoration and thanksgiving, and in sacrifice. Nahr = sacrifice; in a restricted ritual sense, the sacrifice of camels; see n. 2813 to 22:36. But the ritual is a mere Symbol. Behind it is a deep spiritual meaning: the meat slaughtered feeds the poor, and the slaughter is a symbol of the self-sacrifice in our hearts. "It is not their meat nor their blood, that reaches Allah; it is your piety that reaches Him" (22:37).

3. For he who hateth thee, (6288) he will be cut off (from Future Hope).

6288 Hatred and spite are not constructive contributions to the work of this world, but its opposites. Abu Jahl and his Pagan confederates vented their personal spite and venom against the Prophet by taunting him with the loss of his two infant sons by Khadijah, but where were these venomous detractors a few years afterwards, when the divine Light shone more brilliantly than ever? It was these that were cut off from all future hope, in this world and the next.
109. Al Kafirun (Those Who Reject Faith)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Say: O ye that reject Faith!(6289)

Faith is a matter of personal conviction, and does not depend on worldly motives. Worship should depend on pure and sincere Faith, but often does not: for motives of worldly gain, ancestral customs, social conventions or imitative instincts, or a lethargic instinct to shrink from enquiring into the real significance of solemn acts and the motives behind them, reduce a great deal of the world's worship to sin, selfishness, or futility. Symbolic idols may themselves be merely instruments for safeguarding the privileges of a selfish priestly class, or the ambitions, greed, or lust of private individuals. Hence the insistence of Islam and its Teacher on the pure worship of the One True God. The Prophet firmly resisted all appeals to worldly motives, and stood firm to his Message of eternal Unity.

2. I worship not that which ye worship,

3. Nor will ye worship that which I worship.(6290)

Verses 2-3 describe the conditions as they were at the time when this Surah was revealed, and may be freely paraphrased: I am a worshipper of the One True God, the Lord of all, of you as well as of myself; but you on account of your vested interests have not the will to give up your false worship, of idols and self. Verses 4-5 describe the psychological reasons; 'I, being a prophet of Allah do not and cannot possibly desire to follow your false ancestral ways; and you, as custodians of the false worship, have not the will to give up your ways of worship, which are wrong.' The 'will' in the translation represents less the future tense than the will, the desire, the psychological possibility; it tries to reproduce the Arabic noun-agent.

4. And I will not worship that which ye have been wont to worship,

5. Nor will ye worship that which I worship.

6. To you be your Way, and to me mine.(6291)

T, having been given the Truth, cannot come to your false ways; you, having your vested interests, will not give them up. For your ways the responsibility is yours: I have shown you the Truth. For my ways the responsibility is mine: you have no right to ask me to abandon the Truth. Your persecutions will be in vain; the Truth must prevail in the end'. This was the attitude of Faith then: but it is true for all time. Hold fast to Truth, 'in scorn of consequence'.

110. Al Nasr (The Help)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. When comes the Help of Allah, and Victory,

2. And thou dost see the people enter Allah's Religion in crowds,(6292)

The Prophet migrated from Makkah to Madinah, a hunted and persecuted man. In Madinah all the forces of truth and righteousness rallied round him, and the efforts by the Makkans and their confederates to destroy him and his community recoiled on their own heads. Gradually all the outlying parts of Arabia ranged themselves round his standard and the bloodless conquest of Makkah was the crown and prize of his patience and constant endeavour. After that, whole tribes and tracts of country gave their adhesion to him collectively, and before his earthly ministry was finished, the soil was prepared for the conquest of the wide world of Islam. What was the lesson to be learnt from this little epitome of the world's history? Not man's self-glory, but humility; not power but service; not an appeal to man's selfishness or self-sufficiency, but a realisation of Allah's Grace and Mercy, and the abundant outpouring of Allah's Praises in word and conduct.

3. Celebrate the praises of thy Lord, and pray for His Forgiveness:(6293) For He is Oft-Returning (in Grace and Mercy).

Every man should humble himself before Allah, confess his human frailties, and seek Allah's grace-attirbuting any success that he gets in his work, not to his own merits, but to the goodness and mercy of Allah. But the Prophet of Allah had also another duty and privilege-to pray for grace and forgiveness for his people in case any of them had erred in their victory or done anything that they should not have done.
111. Al Lahab (The Flame)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Perish the hands of the Father of Flame!(6294) Perish he!

   Abu Lahab, 'Father of Flame', was the nickname of an uncle of the Prophet, from his fiery hot temper and his ruddy complexion. He was one of the most inveterate enemies of early Islam. When the Prophet called together Quraysh and his own kith and kin to come and listen to his preaching and his warning against the sins of his people, the 'Father of Flame' flared up and cursed the Prophet, saying 'Perdition to thee!' According to the English saying, 'the causeless curse will not come'. His words were futile, but his power and strength were equally futile. The star of Islam rose higher and higher every day, and its persecutors dwindled in strength and power. Many of the leaders of persecution perished at Badr, and Abu Lahab himself perished a week after Badr, consumed with grief and his own fiery passions. Verse 3 was prophetic of his end in this very life, though it also refers to the Hereafter.

2. No profit to him from all his wealth, and all his gains!

3. Burnt soon will he be in a Fire of Blazing Flame!

4. His wife shall carry the (crackling) wood - As fuel!-

   Abu Lahab's wife was a woman of equally passionate spite and cruelty against the sacred person of the Prophet. She used to tie bundles of thorns with ropes of twisted palm-leaf fibre and carry them and strew them about on dark nights in the paths which the Prophet was expected to take, in order to cause him bodily injury. "To carry firewood" may also be symbolical for carrying tales between people to embroil them. This was also one of her vices. But she was laying up for herself another kind of Fire and another kind of Rope, the Fire of Punishment, and the Rope of Slavery to Evil. Thus does Evil prepare its own fate. This is the general lesson of sustained craft and cruel wrongdoing recoiling on the wrongdoer's head. See also Introduction to this Surah.

5. A twisted rope of palm-leaf fibre round her (own) neck!

112. Al Ikhlas (The Purity of Faith)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Say: He is Allah, (6296) the One and Only;(6297)

   The nature of Allah is here indicated to us in a few words, such as we can understand. The qualities of Allah are described in numerous places elsewhere, e.g., in 39:22-24, 62:1, and 2:255. Here we are specially taught to avoid the pitfalls into which men and nations have fallen at various times in trying to understand Allah. The first thing we have to note is that His nature is so sublime, so far beyond our limited conceptions, that the best way in which we can realise Him is to feel that He is a Personality, 'He', and not a mere abstract conception of philosophy. He is near us; He cares for us; we owe our existence to Him. Secondly, He is the One and Only God, the Only One to Whom worship is due; all other things or beings that we can think of are His creatures and in no way comparable to Him. Thirdly, He is Eternal, without beginning or end, Absolute, not limited by time or place or circumstance, the Reality before which all other things or places are mere shadows or reflections. Fourthly, we must not think of Him as having a son or a father, for that would be to import animal qualities into our conception of Him. Fifthly, He is not like any other person or thing that we know or can imagine; His qualities and nature are unique.

2. Allah, the Eternal, Absolute;(6298)

   Suuna is difficult to translate by one word. I have used two, 'Eternal' and 'Absolute'. The latter implies: (1) that absolute existence can only be predicted of Him; all other existence is temporal or conditional; (2) that He is dependent on no person or things, but all persons or things are dependent on Him, thus negating the idea of gods and goddesses who ate and drank, wrangled and plotted, depended on the gifts of worshippers, etc.

3. He beggeth not, nor is He begotten;(6299)

   This is to negate the Christian idea of the godhead, 'the Father', 'the only-begotten Son' etc.

4. And there is none like unto Him.(6300)

   This sums up the whole argument and warns us specially against Anthropomorphism, the tendency to conceive of Allah after our own pattern, an insidious tendency that creeps in at all times and among all peoples.
113. Al Falaq (The Daybreak)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Say: I seek refuge with the Lord of the Dawn.

2. From the mischief of created things;

3. From the mischief of Darkness as it overspreads;

4. From the mischief of those who practise Secret Arts;

5. And from the mischief of the envious one as he practises envy.

114. Al Nas (Mankind)

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

1. Say: I seek refuge with the Lord and Cherisher of Mankind;

2. The King (or Ruler) of Mankind,

3. The Allah (for judge) of Mankind,

4. From the mischief of the Whisperer (of Evil), who withdraws (after his whisper),

5. (The same) who whispers into the hearts of Mankind,

6. Among Jinns and among Men.

Evil insinuates itself in all sorts of insidious ways from within so as to sap man's will, which was given to man by Allah. This power of evil may be Satan or his host of evil ones, or evil men or the evil inclinations within man's own will; for there are "evil ones among men and Jinns, inspiring each other with flowery discourses by way of deception" (6:112). They secretly whisper evil and then withdraw, to make their net the more subtle and alluring (see also n. 941).

Among Jinns and among Men. (This last clause amplifies the description of the sources from which the whisperer of evil may emanate: they may be men whom you may see or invisible spirits of evil working within. See last note. So long as we put ourselves in Allah's protection, and trust in Allah, evil cannot really touch us in our essential and inner life.)

Man's relation to Allah may be viewed in three aspects: (1) Allah is his Lord, Maker, and Cherisher; Allah sustains him and cares for him; He provides him with all the means for his growth and development, and for his protection against evil; (2) Allah is his king or ruler; more than any earthly king, Allah has authority to guide man's conduct, and lead him to ways which will make for his welfare; and He has given him laws; and (3) Allah is He to Whom mankind must return, to give an account of all their deeds in this life (2:156); Allah will be the Judge; He is the goal of the Hereafter, and the only Being entitled to man's worship at any time. From all these aspects man could and should seek Allah's protection against evil.

The darkness of the night, physical darkness, is a good type of physical dangers and difficulties. Many people are afraid of physical darkness, and all are afraid of physical injuries, accidents, and calamities. We should not fear, but having taken reasonable precautions, trust in Allah.

Among Jinns and among Men. (6310) These who practise Secret Arts literally, 'those (feminine) who blow on knots', this having been a favourite form of witchcraft practiced by perverted women. Such secret arts cause psychological terror. They may be what is called magic, or secret plottings, or the display of false and seductive charms (3:14), or the spreading of false and secret rumours or slanders to frighten men or deter them from right action. There is fraud in such things, but men are swayed by it. They should cast off fear and do their duty.

The King (or Ruler) of Mankind,

The Allah (for judge) of Mankind,

From the mischief of the Whisperer (of Evil), who withdraws (after his whisper),

And from the mischief of the envious one as he practises envy.

From the mischief of created things;

The Lord of the Dawn (6301) In Allah's created world, there are all kinds of forces and counterforces, especially those put in motion by beings who have been endowed with some sort of will. The forces of good may be compared to light, and those of evil to darkness. Allah can cleave the depths of darkness and produce light (6:96), and therefore we should cast off fear and take refuge in divine guidance and goodness.

From the mischief of the Whisperer (of Evil), (The same) who whispers into the hearts of Mankind,-

From the mischief of Darkness as it overspreads;

The darkness of the night, physical darkness, is a good type of physical dangers and difficulties. Many people are afraid of physical darkness, and all are afraid of physical injuries, accidents, and calamities. We should not fear, but having taken reasonable precautions, trust in Allah.

3. From the mischief of Darkness as it overspreads;

6304 The darkness of the night, physical darkness, is a good type of physical dangers and difficulties. Many people are afraid of physical darkness, and all are afraid of physical injuries, accidents, and calamities. We should not fear, but having taken reasonable precautions, trust in Allah.

4. From the mischief of those who practise Secret Arts;

6305 Those who practise Secret Arts literally, 'those (feminine) who blow on knots', this having been a favourite form of witchcraft practiced by perverted women. Such secret arts cause psychological terror. They may be what is called magic, or secret plottings, or the display of false and seductive charms (3:14), or the spreading of false and secret rumours or slanders to frighten men or deter them from right action. There is fraud in such things, but men are swayed by it. They should cast off fear and do their duty.
